On May 16, the third grade classes from Willet Avenue School culminated their studies on nutrition by having lunch at the Asparagus Restaurant on South Oyster Bay Road in Plainview. Barry Gochman, the owner, arranged a tour of the kitchen for the students, their parents, guests and teachers Mrs. Koenig, Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Herzlinger. The children enjoyed a nutritious lunch in a delightful setting.

Assemblyman Lewis J. Yevoll participated in a recent rally outside the Town of Oyster Bay Landfill in Old Bethpage, which has been declared the #1 toxic landfill in the State of New York and threatens the region's drinking water. June 12 Hearing On U Haul Permit

A public hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday, June 12, by the Oyster Bay Town Board on an application for a special use permit to operate a U-Haul in Hicksville, according to Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

"The applicants, U-Haul of Long Island and Brooklyn Avenue Associates, are seeking a special use permit to conduct a U-Haul business on a parcel of land located at the corner of Hicksville-Massapectua Road and Lauman Lane which is located in an Industrial "H" (light industry) zone," Clark stated. "Along with the rental of U-Haul trucks, trailers and recreational vehicles, the business operation would include the rental and sale of related items such as parts and accessories, minor repairs and maintenance of the vehicles, underground storage and dispensing of petroleum products, and the open/outside display and storage of the rental vehicles."

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. on June 12 in the Hearing Room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Athletic Field For Chlumsky

The Hicksville Public Schools will honor the memory of the man known to this community as "Uncle Frank" by designating the field at the Junior High School as the Frank Chlumsky Athletic Field at a special ceremony scheduled for Wednesday, May 30.

Superintendent of Schools Catherine J. Fenton, members of the Board of Education, and representatives of the Chamber of Commerce and other local service organizations will join Chlumsky family members in paying tribute to Mr. Chlumsky, who devoted his life to serving his community. His active participation with the Salvation Army, the Kiwanis Club, the Board of Education, the Republican Club, and the Town of Oyster Bay Council earned the respect and admiration of all, and the Hicksville Board of Education wanted to create a lasting memorial to "Uncle Frank" and his devotion to his community.

Members of the public are invited to attend the dedication ceremony to be held at 1:30 p.m. on the Junior High School field on May 30. In the event of rain, the program will take place on the following day, May 31, at 1:30 p.m.

Memorial Day Parade Set For Monday At 9 A.M.

Hicksville's Combined Veterans Memorial Day Program Committee has announced that this year's parade on Monday, May 28, will start in Parking Field #1, between East Nicholas and East Marie Street, at 9 a.m. All participating community groups are urged to be prompt in gathering for the parade at 8:30 a.m.

With a view to reducing traffic congestion on Broadway and Old Country Road and in order to bring the parade to other areas of Hicksville, the parade route has been altered this year. The line of march will proceed east on Nicholas Street to Plainview Road; eastward on Plainview Road to East Street; north on East Street to Woodbury Road; west on Woodbury to Barclay Street; west on Barclay to Broadway; south on Broadway to East Nicholas Street and east on Nicholas Street past the Reviewing Stand to the dispersal point in Parking Field #1.

This year's Memorial Day Parade is being organized by the Charles Wagner Post 521 of the American Legion under Commander Louis Braun. Parade Grand Marshal will be Golda Lapiner, County Commander, Nassau-Suffolk District - Jewish War Veterans.

Principal speaker for the memorial services, beginning immediately after the parade, will be Major John Mullarkey, United States Army Reserve Corps. Student speakers from the Hicksville High School will be Kenneth Dircks and Sabrina Arnold.

Music for the parade and ceremonies will be provided by eight Hicksville School Bands and the crack New Images Drum Corps, formerly the St. Ignatius Girls Cadet Corps. It is hoped that this Memorial Day tribute to the nation's deceased defenders will call forth a large turn out of residents to view the parade and to observe the ceremonies afterwards.

School Election Regis. May 31

Registration for Hicksville School District elections will be held on Thursday, May 31, from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. in the seven local election districts.

Anyone who has voted at an annual or special meeting of the district within the last four years need not register. Persons registered to vote in general elections are eligible to vote in school elections also.

Voting will take place June 13 on the $37,622,487 budget for the 1984-85 school year. In addition three seats on the Board of Trustees expire and all incumbents, John Ayres, Jay Schwartz and Honey Singer are seeking re-election. Bernard Goldman and John Montalto are challenging Jay Schwartz for the three year term; Lawrence Moor is opposing John Ayres and Honey Singer's place on the Board is being sought by Daniel McBride.

Mercy League Sponsors Trip

The Glen Cove-Hicksville-Syosset League of Mercy Hospital is sponsoring a trip to the South Street Seaport in New York City. You will visit the South Street Seaport-Museum where you will visit one of the world's last and largest square-riggers, "The Peking" and see an actual film of that ship rounding Cape Horn in one of the stormiest voyages ever recorded.

You will learn about New York Harbor while sailing on the schooner, "Pioneer", a part of the museum's collection of historic ships. You will visit the largest fish market in America "The Fulton Market" as it is today in its new surroundings.

You will also see an award winning film showing the market when it is at its busiest - in the early hours of the morning.

You will be taken on a complete tour of the seaport area. We will be going to the Trans-Lux Seaport Theatre where we will be shown a multi-screen presentation called "South Street Ventures". This less than an hour long epic traces the history of South Street and the world it serves. A sea worthy extravaganza in film. For lunch, you will be on your own. There are so many places to eat in the market, you will have difficulty deciding where to go.

The cost of the trip is $20. This covers the cost of transportation, theatre and the museum. Husbands are invited to attend. Date: June 11. We will leave by bus in back of Sears automotive center parking lot in Hicksville at 8:30 a.m. We will return home by the same bus at approximately 3:30 p.m.

Everyone is welcome to come. If you are interested in joining us, please call 796-9235.

letters to the editor...

To the Editor:

Since declaring my candidacy for Jay Schwartz's seat on the Hicksville School Board, I have been asked what my position is on the issues facing the Board. I would like to take a few minutes to respond to that question.

Perhaps one of the most emotional issues to face the School Board and the voters of Hicksville is the question of silent meditation in the public schools. The debate on this issue has been heated with both proponents and opponents making valid points concerning their positions. Personally, I view the issue as a legal question rather than a moral one. I sincerely feel that the ultimate decision will rest in the hands of the Supreme Court. However, this does not mean that I do not support Proposition No. 2 on June 13. I intend to vote Yes on the referendum and urge everyone to vote their own minds on the issue.

Whatever the outcome, the Board will then be obligated to enact the mandate of the community. No matter what their individual feelings are, they must listen to the voices of the people. I know that I would! Although extremely important, silent meditation is not the only issue facing the Board.

Let's shift our focus to look at the budget. Since I was not privy to the formulation process of the proposed budget it is difficult for me to have a concrete position. I do, however, raise several questions about it. With declining enrollment and no substantial increase in programs, why are we faced with a record increase in the tax rate? Although I do not have the answer, I am sure that a lot of us are asking the same question.

Another area of concern is discipline in our public schools. Given my profession, I am especially sensitive to acts of violence and wantonly destructive vandalism. As parents and taxpayers this should also be a major concern of ours. Every effort should be made to develop a systematic program to combat acts of violence which affect our children, teachers, and education in our school.

As a prospective "new comer" to the School Board, I not only need but welcome input from the members of our community. Let's get the School Board back in tune with the taxpayers of Hicksville. The time is right for a change for the better.

Sincerely,
John M. Montalto

To the Editor:

Modesty has never been one of Jay Schwartz's virtues. In his recent "Letter to the Editor", he somehow manages to take sole credit for five of the Board of Education's accomplishments that were achieved during his three year term. The truth of course is that Mr. Schwartz is one seventh of a corporate body, and the accomplishments he cites were the product of group effort. As a matter of fact, Mr. Schwartz has been notably lacking in inspiration and leadership during his term as Board President. In many instances the much maligned board members have had to prod him into taking positive action (where the responsibility was clearly his.)

As far as his claim to being "responsive to the people's views", Mr. Schwartz has, in fact, shown a marked inclination towards arrogance and disregard in dealing with segments of the community; hardly a good recommendation for re-election.

Sincerely,
Lawrence I. Wolfson

To the Editor:

On February 29 of this year our community was forced to eliminate a moment of silent meditation from our schools.

On this date four members of our School Board; John P. Ayres, Honey J. Singer, Arlene Rudin and Lawrence Wolfson, voted for eliminating this long standing practice, a vote which I feel was against the will of the majority of our community.

On that same date the voices and votes of three of our board members, William P. Bennett, Jay M. Schwartz and Thomas F. Nagle, spoke for the majority.

In every issue there is always that one voice that speaks louder than the rest. This does not necessarily mean that that one voice speaks for the people. Those voices that are silent are too often the voices of the majority. It's time for those silent voices to be heard.

A vote for me on June 13 will assure our community a voice for the majority on all issues brought before our School Board. It's time for a change.

Lawrence A. Moor

To the Editor:

This letter is directed to the graduates in the class of 1983. Graduates:

Did you feel you had little or no say in the workings of the educational process? Well, in the upcoming school board election, there will be a chance for you to have an impact on the Hicksville school system. Your vote on June 13 will show which candidates' educational goals and objectives have earned your support. Your vote can really make a difference, but in order to vote you must be registered. Registration takes place at your local school between 3 and 8 on Thursday, May 31. I urge you to register on May 31 and vote on June 13. You can have a say!

Beth Rudin
Class of '83

To the Editor:

I am writing on behalf of the candidacy of Mr. John Ayres, an educational leader who has served this community well as a School Board Trustee for the past nine years.

As a man of experience who has dedicated his life to the education of all children, he has my endorsement for re-election. I ask you to vote for John Ayres, and make your vote count by supporting the pro-education candidates Montalto-Ayres-Singer.

Yours truly,
Cathy Manna

To the Editor:

I was so happy to sign an endorsement for a new candidate for our school Board - John Montalto.

I have known Mr. Montalto for the last eighteen years and find him to be a person of integrity and intelligence. He is above all, interested in the quality of Hicksville education.

John, himself, is an alumnus of the Hicksville School System and now has three children attending the Hicksville Schools.

Through the years, John has demonstrated devotion in his work; rising through the ranks of the Police Department. He places a high value on education - holding a B.S. degree and now completing his Master's Thesis in Criminal Law.

John has always been active in community service. He has been active in the Boy Scouts and a former commissioner of Hicksville Soccer. John helped to organize the Parents Association of the Hicksville H.S. Marching Comets and was a member of that organization's Constitutional Committee.

I feel that John Montalto would be a refreshing addition to our school board. His leadership, devotion, and honesty have all been evident in the past - now let them flourish on the Hicksville School Board.

Sincerely,
Geraldine Cusumano

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter in support of Honey Singer, candidate for the Hicksville School Board.

Mrs. Singer has been a valuable member of the Board of Education for nearly three years. As a member of that Board, she has served with dedication and fairness as a child advocate. I sincerely believe she has strived tirelessly to meet the needs of the children of Hicksville, the staff of our schools and the community as a whole. This has not always been an easy task, as the decisions made by a Board of Education are often difficult and complex in nature. I have personally attended many school board meetings while she has been a Trustee and have found her to be honest and fair in her decision making. She has maintained an open mind on all issues, judging them on their individual merits. I have worked with her on other school-related projects and programs where she has always demonstrated a high regard for excellence in our educational programs and a true concern for our children.

Mrs. Singer has the background and ability to carry out the responsibilities of a Trustee with integrity and intelligence; she brings with her the knowledge and experience gained over the past several years; and she is a parent with a child currently attending our public schools. I urge you to re-elect Mrs. Singer to our Board of Education on June 13.

Sincerely,
Nancy Staron

To all the Residents of Hicksville:

In my last letter to the community I said that I would speak about the issues which affect us and our children. In making policy, the Board of Education does just that. It chooses to speak on an issue, formulate its thinking, and fix its decisions in policy on a variety of concerns important to its function serving the community.

Over the last three years, I have served on the Board as policy chairman. I have studied policies and policy-making extensively, and brought to the Board many policies for their approval. The entire structure of the policy manual itself was changed. Policies were rewritten, making them easier to find, read and follow. During this time, 30 new policies have been adopted, 25 policies have been revised, and 30 out-of-date policies have been deleted. Almost all of these actions were made with the interests of the community in mind.

Some of the positive changes resulted in improved and strengthened diploma requirements for our kids--2 years ahead of the new Regents Plan. New policies on student behavior and responsibilities were adopted, covering 21 aspects of activities, some never before discussed. Policies on curriculum, budgeting senior citizens' privileges and school-community relations were adopted - just to name a few.

Many policies were revised in Board operations, designed to make the Board meetings shorter and still keep the public fully informed. Action items were placed on the agenda first - the community now had an opportunity to speak directly before a decision or an action was made. In fact, several business items could be acted on in one motion if desired. Time limits, as well, were extended, so that all of the residents could speak to an issue, no matter how much time it took. Referendums on important issues were accepted by the Board, allowing the entire community the opportunity to cast a vote in an advisory capacity to the Board. In addition, policies from an earlier period (which was full of strife and in-fighting) were deleted, because they cast doubts on the ethics and motivations of all future Boards.

All of these changes, however, as important as they are, pale in comparison to an issue which is still with us today. It is, I believe, an issue that was decided contrary to the will of the people. I speak of the retention of the Moment of Silence, so much in demand by the people who hold the values of their children so close to their hearts. It did not matter how many times a suggestion was made to keep the Moment of Silence with us in some form. The powerful voice of the people was not heard by the majority. This majority of the Board, placed the costs or the question of illegality before their duty to the citizens who elected them. I maintain that the Board should listen to the people; that the moment of silence should be our policy because, in my opinion, it is the policy of a majority of our residents. If the Board is sued, I'll see that the town's policy has its day in court. I'll defend the community's right to have their voices heard in our educational system.

Respectfully,
Jay M. Schwartz

Coalition Chooses School Candidates

All school board candidates were invited to attend the May 21 meeting of the Hicksville Coalition to Maintain a Moment of Silence.

Jay Schwartz, Lawrence Moor and Daniel MacBride were the unanimous choices selected to be the candidates whom the Coalition will support in the June 13 election.

Mr. Schwartz, an articulate, thoughtful man, told the Coalition that he "hopes to give the public back what was taken from them." He urged for a positive vote for Proposition 2. In answer to questions concerning long-range planning, Schwartz said that the district has just hired consultants, and after their fact finding is completed in September, he hopes that the board will have several options from which to choose. Schwartz was described as, "looking out for the community interests, cordial, open and a fair board president."

Larry Moor, a vice president of a Wall Street firm, said that he took a look at the budget and felt that there were some areas that could be cut. He is definitely "against laying off teachers, except through attrition." Moor believes in listening to the community and to professionals before making a decision. His oldest daughter attends Lee Avenue and she finds "school enjoyable." He believes that basics are the most important but says that an education including music and art makes a "child well-rounded."

"I am not in favor of closing any neighborhood schools," said Daniel MacBride, the third candidate chosen by the Coalition. Danny, a man in his 20's wanting to settle down in Hicksville after he marries next April, said he is "willing to listen to the community," and was described as having the "time, drive, determination and enthusiasm" to handle the rigors of being a school board trustee. The Coalition felt that Danny was a mature individual when he stated that he "refuses to attack the opposing candidate on a personal level and wishes to gear the campaign to the issues and only the issues."

The Coalition then finalized plans for the "Moment of Silence" Rally which will be held at the VFW Hall on May 30 from 8 to 10 p.m. A spokesman urged that members of the Hicksville Community meet the candidates, ask questions and speak to members of the Coalition on next Wednesday night. Tickets can be purchased at the door. Light refreshments will be served.

Don't forget to register on Thursday, May 31 from 3 to 8 p.m.

Hans Buchner, seated, and Peter Chichichomo, both Hicksville, hear Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs nutritionist Rosemary Klein, explain the nutritional value of various foods, on the "Senlormobile", the Department's office on wheels, visiting Grand Union Shopping Center, Jerusalem Avenue. The "Senlormobile" visits Nassau County communities with a specially trained staff who assist seniors and their families in areas of benefit entitlements, tax relief, employment and volunteer opportunities and crime prevention.

Memorial Day Parades Over The Years

By Richard Evers

Memorial Day observances in Hicksville have a long history going back over sixty years, to a time when the holiday was known as Decoration Day, an occasion for placing flowers on deceased veterans' graves. For many years the annual services were held at the World War I monument which stood, for almost thirty years, north of Herzog Place, west of Broadway.

After the Second World War, the World War I monument was carried down to a newly landscaped plot at the south end of the Jerusalem Avenue school, where the World War II monument was placed. For over twenty years, Memorial Day services were conducted in front of the adjoining monuments to Hicksville patriots, the great parades of the 'fifties and 'sixties marching along Jerusalem Avenue to the monuments' site.

During the decade of the 'seventies, in order to accommodate the large attendance of the public at the Memorial Day services and to facilitate the participation of the many Hicksville school bands taking part in the parade, the Combined Veterans Memorial Day Program Committee accepted the School Board's offer of the new high school playing field area and grandstand.

In recent years, public participation in the parade and in attendance for the Memorial Day services has declined, unfortunately, due in part to the considerable drop in Hicksville's younger population in the decade 1970-1980, a loss of some 7,000 residents, in general, according to U.S. Census figures. The 1984 change in parade route and in location of the Memorial Day services near the American Legion Clubhouse is an effort to reduce traffic congestion during the parade, to bring the parade to other portions of the village, and to encourage a larger assemblage for the formal Memorial Day services.

East St. Last General Meeting

On Thursday evening, May 31 at 8 p.m. East Street's PTA will hold its last general meeting of the school year.

A film entitled "Kids For Sale" will be shown. This film provides a thought-provoking analysis of some of the critical issues concerning children and television. The film examines the roles of broadcasters and advertisers, and parents and consumers. It depicts the world according to kid-video: marriage is the puerile match of the Flintstones; age is a reversion to childish churlishness, and violence is the easiest, quickest and most effective solution to a variety of video problems. This should prove to be an interesting and informative movie, on a topic most relevant.

We will also be installing the newly elected PTA Officers for the 1984-85 school year.

Our Children

Swimming lesson should start early

By Willard Abraham
Ph.D.

Q. Do you think it is too early for a child 4 years old to learn how to swim? My husband and I disagree on this subject.

He thinks that we'd be pushing things if we start now, and I feel that her safety in the water is very important.

We really argue about a lot of things pertaining to her, but that's another story that I don't want to go into right now.

So on this swimming lesson topic let me ask your opinion. Should we or shouldn't we?

A. That's an easy one — you should.

You reminded me of an old story about the mother of a young child who sat next to a famous psychologist at a dinner party. She figured it was a chance to get some good advice, so she started to pump him for answers, on discipline, reading to children, eating habits and a lot of others.

"How old is your little girl?" he asked her.

"Five years old."

"Madam, don't even finish your soup. Go home. You've wasted the best years of her life."

Swimming lessons and many other child development factors can, and should, begin in the earliest years, from birth on. Learning and habit formation are part of a pattern that emerges during those important early months and years.

Q. Is it normal for a 12-year-old boy to talk in his sleep?

It bothers me for two reasons. One is that I wonder whether he has a serious problem on his mind. The other is that he mumbles, and I can't understand one word he says.

Awake he is a delightful kid — good student, lots of friends, happy, good sense of humor.

But at night there's that continuous unintelligible chatter.

Should I take him to a doctor, wake him up when he starts or just ignore the whole thing? That latter approach isn't easy to do, but I'd try if you think I should.

A. A physical checkup may not be a bad idea, to help find out whether there is a nasal or other problem involved.

Your medical doctor will then perhaps be in a position to tell you what to do (or not to do) about this situation.

Q. Some time ago I had the pleasure of reading your article on the subject of youth fitness.

As a junior high instructor of physical education I wonder whether you can provide some additional information.

I plan on making fitness a major part of the curriculum, and your help would be very much appreciated.

A. How about referring you to some experts in this specific area, like (1) P.E. faculty members of a nearby college or university concerned about this important subject, and (2) pediatricians and family medicine physicians who are deep into the "wellness," preventive aspects of their profession?

Your senator and/or congressman can perhaps provide you with government publications prepared to help professionals like you, as well as parents, cope with this important subject.

Your Social Security

Marriage won't affect benefits

Q. I'm 54 and receive Social Security benefits because I am a disabled widow. If I remarry now will my benefits be stopped? — H.K.

A. No. The law was changed last year to permit continued payments to disabled widows under 60 who remarry.

Q. I just recently turned 62 years old. I have not had a job outside the home. My husband is retired and is receiving Social Security.

I would like to know if I am entitled to receive Social Security, and if I am would my amount be subtracted from what my husband is receiving? — B.D.

A. You are eligible to file for benefits on your husband's account. The amount you receive will have no effect on your husband's benefit amount.

Bring your birth certificate, Social Security number and your marriage certificate when you go file your application.

Q. I filed for Social Security when I was 62. Now I am 66 and for the past couple of months I have been working. If I continue at my present pace I will have earned about $10,000 by the end of the year.

Should I wait until the end of the year to notify Social Security or should I tell them now? — V.J.

A. Tell them now. You can avoid an overpayment by promptly reporting your estimated earnings. Benefits will be withheld based on your estimated earnings.

It's easier on you to have benefits withheld while you are earning other income rather than having to refund an overpayment when there is no other income available to you.

Q. I've been getting disability payments from Social Security. I just received a notice that my claim is being reviewed. Will my checks be stopped while the review is being processed? — N.D.

A. No. Under the law if you receive Social Security disability, your claim must be reviewed periodically. This is required to see if you are still unable to perform substantial gainful work.

Police Arrest Two For Burglary

The Eighth Squad reports the arrest of two Levittown youths for the charges of Burglary Second Degree and Attempted Burglary Second Degree.

A concerned neighbor observed two youths walk into the rear yard of 21 Elmira Street, Hicksville, at 1:15 p.m. on May 14. He called the police and Eighth Precinct Police Officers Leo Brandino and William Hammond responded. At the scene, the officers apprehended two youths. They were taken to the Eighth Precinct Stationhouse.

After an investigation by Eighth Squad detectives, police said the pair had committed a burglary at 64 Arrow Lane in Hicksville at 12 p.m. on May 14. The detectives also closed out 12 other burglary cases.

Hearing June 26 On Office Building

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca announced that the Town Board has set a June 26 public hearing on a request for a change of zone from a "D" residence district to an "F" business district (Neighborhood Business), on property located in Hicksville.

Mosca stated, "The petitioner, Rockwell Realty Co., is seeking the change of zone in order to construct a three-story office building to be located on the north side of West John Street, east of Myers Street in Hicksville."

Mosca noted that the hearing had originally been scheduled for April 24, but was postponed at the request of the applicant's attorney.

The hearing has now been scheduled for June 26, at 10 a.m. in the hearing room of the Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

THE OFFICE CAT

ONCE AGAIN motorists are the ones politicians give the worst deals to. With the photo licenses every driver will have to wait for hours in line to have a picture taken and then pay $1.50 more for the license when the cost of the photo is costing the state 40 cents. Why can't politicians be pressured to force the motor vehicles bureau to allow the photos to be made at many commercial places? (The answer is that motor vehicle bureaus care only about making jobs for political appointees).....IT COST $70,000 to get a report that electrifying the LIRR from Hicksville to Ronkonkoma will have no environmental impact. Construction will begin later this year.....TWO MEMBERS resigned and two have been appointed to the controversial incinerator authority, TOBIDA, which will develop an incinerator in Bethpage of the Town of Oyster Bay and Huntington. Gildersleeve and Maurino have resigned. McLean and Reali, both with public relations experience in the Town, have been added to the Board.....THE CRIME REPORT is published each week as a public service to acquaint residents with where crime is taking place in the area and as an aid in the Neighborhood Watch Program.....BURGLARS broke into the Dugan Country Store, 8027 Jericho Turnpike, Woodbury between May 16 and 17. A rear wall fan was pried loose to gain entry. No loss has yet been reported to police.....A VCR computer was stolen from a Nassau County Dept. of Public Works trailer on Convent Rd., Syosset between May 18 and 21. Entry was through a rear window.....BURGLARS entered the Bellmore Engraving Co., 18 Werman Ct., Plainville between May 18 and 21. Entry was through a rear window. Cash was stolen.....A REAR DOOR was pried at 100 Jericho Tpke., Jericho between May 18 and 19. Tools were taken.....METAL etchings were stolen from the Art Line Wholesale Co., 16 Max Ave., Hicksville between May 20 and 21. Entry was through a side window.....BURGLARS broke into the Stone residence, 20 Canterbury Rd., Woodbury on May 16. Jewelry and cash were stolen.....A REAR door was pried at the Trentacosta residence, 18 Evers St., Hicksville on May 18. Burglars entered and stole cash and jewelry.....BURGLARS kicked in the front door of the Heravi home, 70 Ruby Lane, Jericho on May 15. The loss is unknown.....THE BURGLARS who broke into the Bethpage H.S. between May 20 and 21 must have been archery fans. They stole 12 bows, 72 arrows and straw targets. They entered the school by removing the pins from the door.....BURGLARS attempted to enter the offices of the Aquacada Pool Service, 260 S. Broadway, Hicksville on May 18. A rear door was pried but no entry was made.....ON MAY 19 burglars broke into a residence at 171 Evergreen Ave., Bethpage. They pried open a rear window and stole a camera and jewelry.....That's all the news for now. G.T.

Fork Lane Cookie Sale

A Cookie Sale was held on May 10 by the children of Mrs. Schmitt's second grade class at Fork Lane School. It was a huge success! Proceeds will be used for a donation to the Red Cross and a class picnic.

Grandparents Day At Fork Lane

Fork Lane bridged the generation gap recently, by holding its first annual Grandparents Day. Senior citizens (relatives or a special neighbor of the student) began their day by visiting their grandchild's class and observing work in progress. Many classes prepared for the event by writing poems, letters, etc. honoring their grandparents. Next, to the All-Purpose Room for refreshments and get-acquainted time!

Principal Richard R. Jennett and Chairperson of Grandparents Day, Ginny Romano, welcomed the overflow crowd. Special mementoes were awarded to the "grandparent who traveled furthest to get to Fork Lane", "oldest", "youngest", "most grandchildren", etc. Grandparents were then escorted to the auditorium for their next surprise...

What better way to welcome spring than by listening to Fork Lane's chorus and orchestra in concert? Seniors were treated to many lovely vocal arrangements, thanks to Mary Milidanti and assisted by Marilyn Abt. The orchestra, directed by Dan Distefano, did an outstanding job of entertaining the audience. Additionally, John Maiorino, Fork Lane's math wizard, presented awards to students who competed in Math Olympiads during the year.

Thanks to Ginny Romano, Chairperson of the event; Lisa Amoscatto who designed the award pins presented to each and every guest, and to the tireless efforts of those too numerous to mention, the behind-the-scenes crew, for making Grandparents Day a joyous event which could become part of Fork Lane's curriculum!

Words of Welcome....Principal Richard R. Jennett and Chairperson Ginny Romano (l.) welcome overflow crowd at Fork Lane Grandparents Day.

Spanning the Age Gap....Kindergartners pay rapt attention to Mrs. Welas (pinch-hitting for Mrs. Davan) as senior citizens, relatives and friends observe in background.

Hearing Tests In Hicksville Dist.

Hicksville School District again was the recipient of the services of the Mill Neck Manor Van, a specially outfitted bus providing facilities for hearing testing. Students whom the District school nurses felt needed a more extensive test than readily available were recommended.

The program was held at the Woodland Avenue School, under the supervision of school nurse-teacher Mary Macklin. The Van provided a sound proof booth for the hearing evaluation done by Janet Parker, the audiologist.

Miss Parker displayed a combination of expertise, patience and kindness. She explained to all parents who were with their children the present status of their hearing and suggested follow-up care where indicated.

Hicksville extends a sincere thank you to the Mill Neck Manor School for the Deaf, who provided this service and who also offer programs to the totally deaf with the help of modern telecommunications using the latest electronic equipment.

School nurse-teacher Mary Macklin explains the hearing procedure to Pattil Woods, one of the students being tested at the Woodland Ave. School.

Pattil Woods, a student from Woodland Ave. School, one of the many being tested, is in the sound-proof booth working with Audiologist Janet Parker.

Home Health Visits On Rise

Nurses from the Plainview office of the Visiting Nurse Association of Oyster Bay-Glen Cove, Inc., made a record 6818 visits in 1983, an increase of 1651 over 1982.

Home health aides, who provide personal care of a less technical character to the home-bound sick, made 3592 visits, an increase of 529 over 1982's 3063.

These figures were announced by Plainview Supervisor Janet Brown at the VNA's recent annual meeting at the Plainview Community Center on April 11.

"The Hospitals are discharging patients sicker and they're sending them home sooner", said Supervisor Brown.

"Now we look to an exciting future, with expanding areas, with new techniques in the home and with more problems to solve" she concluded.

The Plainview Nursing Office is one of three making up the Oyster Bay-Glen Cove VNA, which is in turn one of six local agencies making up the Visiting Home Health Services of Nassau, Inc. It is the most easterly of the group, administering non-profit home nursing services in an area running east from Glen Cove and Sea Cliff to the county line, and south from the South to Plainedge, and most recently, Massapequa.

The Association's Annual Meeting was also the occasion for the election of officers and board members. Area representatives include Mrs. Gregory Criscione of Massapequa, recording secretary and Mrs. Anthony Rose of Farmingdale; Mrs. Malvin Golder of Seaford; Mrs. Joseph Chermes of Plainview; Mrs. Edgar Bang and Mrs. John Kyle of Syosset; Mrs. Jack Weliksen of Jericho; and Mrs. Louis Yasen of Hicksville.

Business concluded, the meeting adjourned to hear guest Daniel MacGowan, Executive Director of the Nassau-Suffolk Health Systems Agency, speak on "Nursing Homes without Walls". This developing concept aims at mobilizing community resources and adapting Medicare, Medicaid and other insurance provisions in order to keep the sick in their own homes as long as possible and thus prevent premature institutionalization.

Spring Concert At Willet Ave.

Willet Avenue's annual Spring Concert is always a festive occasion, with young musicians and singers dressed in their finest and performing like troopers for a capacity audience of beaming parents and friends. Their music teacher, Theresa Spammato, trains the students in both vocal and instrumental music.

Despite the school's small size, there were 58 members of the chorus and 62 musicians. Special features this year were a modern dance number by sixth grade girls, and a spectacular "Break Dance" by Craig Falk, Jason Inkpen and Kyle Richards. The dances were choreographed under the supervision of Physical Education, Teacher Janet Bergholtz.

Roselyn Katz, who "officially" retired last June, was at her customary place as piano accompanist.

Warming up for their performance as "Beginning Strings" are Willet Ave. third graders Danielle Stampfi, Kristin Sciafani, Alan Watson, Debbie Westman, and Lori De Riso.

Among Willet Avenue's fifth and sixth grade performers, shown with Mrs. Spammato and Mrs. Katz, are Shilpa Patel, Brian Garnets, Andrea Zarou, and Master of Ceremonies Michael Hlady, whose tuxedo provided the final touch of elegance!

Fund Drive For Trinity

Members of Aid Association for Lutherans (AAL) Branch 3329, Hicksville, are launching a $5,015 fund drive to benefit Trinity Lutheran School in Hicksville.

Branch members hope to raise enough money through a variety of fund-raising activities to provide the facility with a needed microcomputer and related equipment.

Branch volunteers are participating in AAL's Co-op

Benevolence Program, through which AAL supplements the money raised locally to help AAL volunteers reach their financial goals.

AAL is the nation's largest fraternal benefit society, enabling 1.3 million Lutherans and their families to help themselves and others through insurance and other fraternal benefits. There are approximately 39,000 members living in New York.

Town Approves 140 Sr. Citizen Units

The Oyster Bay Town Board has announced approval of an application for a change of zone for the purpose of constructing 140 units of Senior Citizen Housing on property located in Old Bethpage.

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby said that "after a public hearing held on May 22, the Board has approved the application submitted by the Oyster Bay Housing Authority for a zone change in order to permit the construction of 140 senior citizen housing units to be located on approximately six acres of property on the east side of Round Swamp Road, north of Claremont Road in Old Bethpage."

The project will provide for the construction of 98 efficiency apartments, 37 one-bedroom units, four two-bedroom units for handicapped or brother/sister occupancy and one apartment with three bedrooms for the use of the Superintendent of the senior citizens housing complex.

Colby noted that under the terms of the authorization from the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development the construction must begin by June 20, 1984, or funding for the project would have been recaptured by the Federal Office of Management and Budget. "Given that time constraint," Colby said, "this Town Board acted as quickly as possible to insure that the estimated $5,700,000 funding for more Oyster Bay senior citizen housing would not be lost, since we had also been advised that this was possibly the last funding for this type of senior housing to be made available in the country."

The project will be the 10th Senior Citizen Housing complex in the Town of Oyster Bay, bringing the total of units to 910. It is anticipated that the new 140 units will be available for occupancy by mid-summer 1985.
