On Tuesday, May 29, the primary grades at East Street School were entertained by Chris Fotopoulos, Markella Neamonitis, Sofi Michalakis, and Nadine Fotopoulos (left to right). The first grade curriculum in social studies includes a unit to develop an awareness and appreciation of the various ethnic backgrounds in our rich cultural heritage as Americans. What better way to demonstrate it than by dancing?

The dancers wore colorful Greek costumes, and performed three Greek dances to the accompaniment of Greek music. The performers are part of a group of approximately 200 dancers called the Hellenic Dancers from the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church in Hicksville.

After the performance, children enjoyed a special taste treat. Mrs. Neamonitis baked Greek cookies for her daughter's first grade class. We all felt that we had seen, heard, and tasted a little bit of Greece! Dancers below are: Chris Fotopoulos, Markella Neamonitis, Sofi Michalakis and Nadine Fotopoulos.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond, center, presents a citation to Seymour B. Forman, who is retiring from the Plainview-Old Bethpage School District after serving seventeen years as Assistant Superintendent for Business. Forman was honored by family, friends and colleagues, including, left to right, his wife, Beverly, Board of Education president Miriam Ravad and Schools Superintendent Louis F. Ferraro, at a retirement dinner held at the Crest Hollow Country Club.

Local Resident New CPA

Annette Gennaro, Hicksville, a semi-senior staff accountant at Israeloff, Trattner & Co., CPA's of Valley Stream, has passed the New York State examination which qualifies her as a certified public accountant.

Gennaro, a 1980 graduate of the State University of New York at Binghamton, joined the firm in 1983. Israeloff, Trattner is the largest independent certified public accounting firm on Long Island.

Scholarship Winner

The Council of Administrators and Supervisors announces that John Rubins of Hicksville High School was selected as a recipient of a $500 scholarship award by the CAS to June 1984 high school graduates. These awards are given to children of active members of CAS. The scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic record, extra-curricular activities, civic achievements, school recommendations, and candidate's personal statements.

Summer Exhibitions At Gregory Museum

The Hicksville Gregory Museum will be offering two unusual exhibits for visitors' viewing this summer. For rock and mineral collectors and those people whose esthetic senses are attuned to the wonders and beauties of nature, the museum is exhibiting its newest collection, the spectacular mineral specimens of the late Leonard Zarin. Mr. Zarin and his wife Marion, are well remembered in mineralogical circles for their zeal in seeking out unusually large and striking mineral crystals during digging trips which encompassed much of North America.

On display, also, in the upper hall of the Gregory Museum at Heitz Place is the photographic exhibit which pleased so many Hicksville residents and Long Island Railroad buffs when shown in April at the Hicksville Public Library, "Hicksville Railroad Crossing Vistas: 1942-1984". Included in the nostalgic exhibition, on display again by popular request, are many large framed photographs of the monumental construction which elevated the Long Island Railroad in Hicksville during 1962-64. Edward Bady's superb photographs trace the elevation work by Hendrickson Brothers, step by step, mirroring views of Hicksville streets in transition.

Both exhibits and many other attractions are a part of the program planned by the Museum for local residents and summer visitors. The Hicksville Gregory Museum: Long Island Earth Science Center is open 9:30 - 4:30, Tuesday through Friday and 1-5 on Saturday and Sunday. Suggested general admissions: $1.25 adults and 75¢ for school children. Hicksville residents are admitted without charge.

Hicksville Budget, School Bd. Voting Next Wednesday

Hicksville residents will vote next Wednesday, June 13, on the 1984-85 school budget in the amount of $37,622,487. The figure represents an increase of $1,380,518 over last year with an estimated tax rate increase of $1.49 per $100 assessed valuation.

Also on the ballot is Proposition #2 which asks the public if the Board of Education should reinstate as official policy the moment of silent meditation to open the school day. This practice was eliminated under threat of a civil law suit in February. The Board is now asking the public to voice their opinion in this regard.

In addition, three seats on the Board of Trustees are expiring on June 30. All incumbents are seeking re-election. Jay Schwartz, presently acting as President of the Board of Education is being challenged by John Montalto and Bernard Goldman; Honey Singer, the current Secretary to the Board is being opposed by Daniel MacBride; and the seat of Trustee John P. Ayres is being sought by Lawrence Moor. All positions carry a three year term.

Voting takes place in the seven elementary schools in the district between the hours of 10 a.m. and 10 p.m. A meeting of the Board of Education is scheduled at the Senior High School for that evening to begin at 9 p.m. Results of voting tallies are expected by 10:30 p.m. The District Clerk has advised that no absentee ballots will be allowed.

Library Exhibits During June

The Hicksville Public Library will have a variety of exhibits on display during the month of June.

In the Lobby Case there will be a collection of drawings by Tom Brown, a young Hicksville artist.

The Fiction Room Case will contain an exhibit of Model Ships provided by the Long Island Ship Model Society.

The Rotating Arts Exhibits provided by the Town of Oyster Bay Arts Council has given the Hicksville Public Library the opportunity to display the watercolors of Dan DeGrassi.

All of these exhibits are worth a visit. The cases may be seen during regular library hours and the Community Room exhibit is available from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and Saturday.

Arrest Man For Bank Robbery

A 32 year old Connecticut man was arrested by Robbery Squad Detectives in Manhattan on May 31 charged with two counts of Robbery First Degree-Banks.

John Ryan, 32, unemployed, of 82 Maplewood Drive, Monroe, Connecticut, was arrested in the World Trade Center, with the assistance of the Port Authority Police, around 9 p.m., by Detectives Raymond Mayberry and Peter Blum. He had been visiting a friend.

Ryan allegedly robbed the Beacon Federal Savings Bank, at 169 Old Country Road, Hicksville, at gunpoint, of $18,000 in 1982 and again on May 11 of $11,000.

The investigation is continuing by the Robbery Squad of past bank robberies committed in the New York, New Jersey and Connecticut areas.

letters to the editor...

Not all letters received have been published this week. Those that appear to be copies of material circulated elsewhere have been omitted and those with personal attacks have also not been published. Letters expressing similar views have been selected in place of running duplicate ideas. For coverage of the views of the candidates in their own words questions are carried on pages 8 and 9 of this issue.

To the Editor:

In the closing days of the School Board election: Challenge the authenticity of any statement made. Question those who sound false. Watch those who are trying to deceive.

Many sit in the armchair of life. I urge all Hicksville residents to exercise their voting privilege; to indicate their preference at the polls on Wednesday, June 13.

Schwartz, Moor and MacBride will get my vote and I am pulling the Yes lever for Proposition 2.

Whatever your choice, clip this article and place it on the dashboard of your car as a reminder to Vote on Wednesday. Dictate the future of Hicksville.

Sincerely,
Carole Wolf

To the Editor:

Next Wednesday our community is faced with a school district election that sees a slate of "single issue" candidates against the pro-education, experienced and committed team of Montalto, Ayres, Singer, who have combined for over 40 years of dedicated service to the Hicksville community. My personal commitment is to continue to serve your interests without favor or fear. Because of my continued faith in our school system and the quality of my children's education, I am purchasing another home here in Hicksville that better satisfies the needs of my growing family and further cements this ongoing commitment.

John P. Ayres
Board Trustee

To the Editor:

Last week, in this newspaper, several inaccuracies and untruths were stated as fact. I would like to take a moment to separate fantasy from fact in this week's letter.

Fantasy: I have been accused of having no commitment to Hicksville because I am seeking an elective office on the Town board in 1984.

Fact: There are no seats on the Town board up for election in 1984. My commitment is solely to service on the school board.

Fantasy: A board member needs experience and knowledge before representing the community.

Fact: Mr. Ayres himself voted only in one election prior to his running for office in 1975. Mr. Montalto, a resident all his life, never voted prior to 1981. Mr. Goldman, a long-time resident, never voted in an election before he ran for office in 1982.

Fantasy: Policy decisions were never discussed with the community prior to December 1983.

Fact: Most changes in policy were conducted at regular board meetings with the community in attendance to allow input from all sides. Special policy committee meetings were begun only when special interest groups wanted to set policy relevant to their own needs. Mr. Bennett, while acting as policy chairman, never initiated policy committee meetings separate from the board as a whole.

Fantasy: Mrs. Rudin claims I voted to reduce guidance support services in the district.

Fact: The record indicates that I abstained on the reduction of that service. The record also shows that Mr. Ayres voted no to adding these two propositions to the ballot when he was unable to have them restored to the budget. I voted yes on the propositions so the community could make their wishes known.

Fantasy: It has been suggested that the community had no involvement in the reorganization at the secondary level.

Fact: The truth of the matter is that the board, as the representative of the community, received a recommendation, asked many questions, and deliberated many hours. When all of us came to a decision, it was unanimous because it was based upon educational reasons and not personal preferences.

Sincerely yours,
Jay Schwartz

To the Editor:

As you know the majority of the school board has dropped the "moment of silence" from our schools after a single challenge. At the open meetings they continue their actions when the majority appeared to demand its retention - even though the N.Y. Law allows a moment of silence in the schools.

Many of the concerned residents formed the Hicksville Coalition to Maintain a Moment of Silence. We consist of taxpayers and parents in varied jobs, professions, social, fraternal and veteran groups.

We are concerned about the rights of the majority. In a democracy, when there is a free choice - no force- or infringement on one's moral belief or attitudes where is the wrong?

We feel the majority of the God-fearing-loving people of our community want the 'moment of silence' in our schools. No one is forced to participate.

This country is founded by religious people who thanked God for their survival - a day still celebrated today.

When the Constitution was written, it protected religious freedom - freedom to worship as you saw fit or not to. Now we have finite interpreters of this, saying varied versions of what they think our early founders meant.

The very mention of God is a no-no. We believe differently and say Stop! You have taken prayer, meditation away with your battle to eliminate the spoken word. We want the children to have their 'moment' to contemplate their day, to thank God or seek His guidance or to think. Who is to search their thoughts and say this is against what the founding fathers established?

Even if Proposition 2 is passed, the Board of Education is not mandated to put back the 'moment'. So it was necessary to seek candidates who would not only support the moment of silence, but also approach this position with sincerity and dedication to our children's educational needs. We support the following for positions on the school board: Jay Schwartz, Larry Moor, Danny Mac Bride.

Please support the democratic way to show that the majority has rights too.

Vote June 13. Yes Proposition 1 for the budget. Yes Proposition 2 for the Moment of Silence and Row A all the way for our candidates.

Sincerely,
Charles P. Cunningham
Hicksville Coalition

To the Editor:

May I say with all sincerity, our school board needs stability and members that have respect and confidence in each other. It lacks that now, but it can be corrected by electing those that I now endorse:

I feel Larry Moor has those qualities that we expect in board members, namely, integrity, honesty and a clear vision to understand the many intricate details of being a board member. Larry as vice president of a Brokerage firm, has the necessary background in evaluating the financial affairs of the District, he is responsive to human needs, both individual and to the community. He is a respected family man, and will strive for quality education, and see to it that our children will receive a well rounded education.

Daniel Mac Bride, is a product of our school system, is currently a Republican Committeeman, and is now employed by the Town of Oyster Bay. He relates well to people and their problems. I have known Danny for a number of years, and I have confidence that he will be a credit to the Board and our community, especially to our new young home owners that are just starting out.

Jay Schwartz has earned our support and confidence, he is an experienced board member and its current president. It is unfortunate that he is being criticized unjustly by those that supported him only a few years ago. I can attest to the fact that

Jay has, and will continue to serve education and this community with dignity as in the past.

Prior experience and knowledge of educational issues is not a precondition to serve on the Board, as some letter writers of last week contend, nor are the above endorsed candidates one issue candidates, as charged. All board members, present and past started out with little understanding of the complex role of board members. It requires almost three years to obtain an understanding of the issues and problems involved in the decision making. All that is, initially required is a willingness to serve many long hard hours, without pay, and be ready and able to learn quickly.

Let us now elect board members that can and will work together as a team, not two boards going in opposite directions as now is the case. This community has too long been subjected to bitter school board campaigns that attack the personal character of those running. Please help us achieve stability and order to the Hicksville Board of Education, so the energies applied can be put toward education and not to unnecessary distractions and bitterness.

Vote Row A, and for Proposition 1 and 2, so as to achieve our aim of stability and order.

Sincerely,
Bill Bennett

THE OFFICE CAT By Gabby Tabby

IT LOOKS like the L.I. Savings Bank is going to put up its building in the middle of Syosset for sale. The building was only built eight years ago amidst fanfare and some grumbling. The bank is going to move to Melville in about two years....NOW THE county wants to keep the entire one cent sales tax increase that it said was only temporary when it started. County Executive Purcell said that without the one cent he would have to increase the property tax or cut the budget (He ought to put that to a vote)....THE COUNTY has turned a great thing into a loss with the International Games for the Disabled starting in Mitchel Field on June 16. The county is being stuck with 80% of the $8 Million bill because it did not organize enough private support. Most publicity for the games consists of pictures of political figures and did nothing to generate financial help. Another great idea ruined with government "help".....MORE THAN 30 percent of the deposits placed on bottles and cans is never redeemed and the money remains in the hands of the bottling companies. No noticeable improvement in littering has occurred in this area and the cost of sanitation has not decreased to compensate the public for the extra work, time and money used for the deposit law. A local observation is that now more bottles are broken by people who litter. The broken bottles cannot be returned.....THE CRIME REPORT is published each week as a public service to acquaint residents of where crime is taking place in the area and as an aid in the Neighborhood Watch program. Anyone seeing suspicious activity should phone 911.....THERE were only four burglaries reported in precincts for this area in the past week....ON MAY31 burglars broke through the front window of a house at 100 Rockland Drive, Jericho. Burglars entered and stole a necklace....CASH and jewelry were stolen from the Kelly residence, 31 16th Street, Hicksville on June 5. Entry was through an open front door....BURGLARS broke into Howard Johnson's 4300 Hempstead Turnpike, Bethpage on May 29. They pried open a door and stole food supplies and oil....BURGLARS broke into the Rudin residence, 1 Cary St., Syosset on June 5. There was no loss reported. That's all the news for now...G.T.

Campaign Ends For Coalition

Almost every seat in the house was taken when Jay Schwartz, Larry Moor, and Danny MacBride candidates supported by the Hicksville Coalition to Maintain a Moment of Silence, were introduced at the May 30 rally.

Faces, some familiar and some not, from all walks of life in Hicksville, came through the door at the VFW Hall that night to talk with the candidates and to discuss their mutual desire...success for Proposition 2.

Several nights later, on Monday, June 4, Schwartz, Moor and MacBride appeared at candidates night, giving honest answers to the variety of questions asked of them. Mr. Moor said his campaign, "Attacks the issues, not other people."

All three candidates pledge to "make up their minds at the board table and not before, by consulting others on the phone."

In Assemblyman Fred Parola's 1984 Constituency Poll, 79% of those who responded "favor a moment of silence for meditation in our public schools." Now, in the closing days of the campaign, the Coalition is anxiously awaiting the final tabulation.

"The Coalition urges everyone to vote in the June 13 election from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. in your local schools", said a spokesperson. "And if you believe as we do, in Proposition 2, vote Yes, and cast a lever for the 'A' team, Moor, Schwartz and MacBride, who are sincere, dedicated, and have a high quality of character," the spokesperson concluded.

Memorial Day Speech Omitted

Printed here is the text of a speech by Sabine Arnold, Senior at Hicksville High School. This speech was supposed to be made at the Memorial Day Ceremonies but due to a mix up it was not read.

Ladies and Gentlemen:
It is difficult for people who are younger to grasp the solemnity and true meaning of a celebration like Memorial Day because they have never experienced the emotion of war. Fortunately, most people of my generation have never had to cope with the horror of losing a loved one or a home to the violence of warfare. Until this year, I myself have never truly appreciated the purpose of Memorial Day. However, with the deaths of over 260 young men who died for this country in Lebanon lingering over our heads, the sorrow has finally hit a little closer to home.

We remember today the men and women who felt so strongly about the ideals of democracy and loved their country so much that they were willing to commit the ultimate sacrifice - giving their own lives.

Some of those who live to tell war stories are worse off than their dead comrades. Wounded and crippled veterans, former soldiers and even civilians who must endure the daily trauma of living with chemical burns or radiation exposure, people who are psychologically disturbed because they had to sit helplessly by and watch their comrades being blown to bits and who developed guilt complexes because they themselves lived and their brothers in uniform were ruthlessly murdered - these people must also be honored today for their sacrifice to us. They were forced to surrender peace of mind.

It is a shame that the nations of this world cannot compromise on their wants and needs, thus preventing the senseless slaughter of their futures. As Herbert Hoover stated:
"Older men declare war, But it is youth that must fight and die. And it is youth who must inherit the tribulation, the sorrow and the triumphs that the aftermath of war."

But if we ourselves cannot get along with the neighbors across the street, how can we expect entire nations to tolerate one another's policies?

None of the war memorials, the rows upon rows of white crosses on well manicured lawns, or the tears can make up for the astronomical loss of life inflicted by war. Hopefully, they will serve as reminders to our leaders of the consequences of belligerent national policies. Perhaps the fear that comes with remembering the tragedy of wasteful death may prevent future worldwide conflagrations.

Thank you.

Third Annual 'Tune-A-Thon'

Kevin O'Connor of Broad Channel led a top field of 283 runners to the finish of the 3rd annual Bethpage "Tune-A-Thon" 5 Mile Run last Sunday morning, June 3, as the weatherman cooperated to help make the Bethpage event one of the best of this year's road racing calendar. O'Connor crossed the finish line at the Bethpage High School track in 26 minutes 10 seconds, only nine seconds of the course record of 26:01 set by John McCorry last year. Ed Gonsalves of Bethpage was second in 26:27 and Long Island Masters' champion Herb Kahl of Bohemia was third in 26:45.

Jean Marie Davis of Dix Hills was the first woman finisher for the second year in a row, finishing in 29:25, while Nancy Grever of POBRRC's Fast Feet Women's Racing Team was second in 33:26. 55 year old Jeanne Ofenloch of POBRRC/Fast Feet continued to dominate the women's masters category with an impressive 35:38, good for 5th place overall and an easy first place win in the women's 50 to 59 age group.

Continuous music provided by strategically placed school bands provided inspiration for the runners as they sped through the streets of Bethpage on a beautiful sunny morning. Race Directors Ed and Sunny Fishkind, Steve Shushan and Maureen Buck did a fine job of coordinating the race once again this year, with technical assistance from David Katz and his crew from Finish Line Promotions.

Special thanks go to Campaigne Trucking without whose most generous support the Tune-A-Thon would not be possible. Other race sponsors included Woodbury Super Star Sneakers and Sports, ABC Sports, and C&C Cola. Proceeds of the race went to Moms and Dads for Music in support of the Bethpage School District Music Programs.

Plans are already underway for an even bigger and better 4th annual Bethpage Tune-A-Thon in June of 1985.

Our Children

A beef from a kid

By Willard Abraham Ph.D.

Q. Will you listen to a kid once in a while? It seems you always have an ear out for parents, so for once can one of us have equal time? We deserve and need it. You bet!

My beef is the nagging of my mother. She's always on top of my brother and me. I'm a boy too, 13 years old. He's 15, and he's just given up, ignoring her, I mean.

I wish I could, but she just goes on and on, about my room, being on time for meals, doing my homework, getting off the telephone, seeing my friends. It never stops.

She's always after my father too, but he just ignores her like my brother does. In fact, I've noticed he doesn't spend much time at home anymore.

How can I turn her off? Your advice would be worth a lot to me.

A. Have you ever tried to sit down with her to work out some rules with which both you and she could live? All the items you mentioned (your room, meals, homework, telephone and friends) can be part of your conversation.

The more I listen to parents and their children the more I realize that many of their conflicts are due to one major cause — lack of communication.

Even when they use the same words they might not mean the same thing. For example, "coming home early" may mean 10 or 11 o'clock to parents of teenagers and something entirely different to the young people themselves.

As a wise person once said, "If anything can be misunderstood, it will be."

You and your mother's goal can be quite clear — an understanding of an agreement on times and expectations related to all the conflict areas that exist. A first step might be for you and her to agree on a list of those areas. Then you can move into a discussion of what will satisfy you and her.

Compromises will no doubt be necessary, so get ready to expect some. I hope she will expect them too.

Q. My high school son is so fortunate, and he knows it. He has a fantastic English teacher who has instilled in him (kind of late, I know) a love for reading that he never had until now.

She obviously enjoys books herself, and shares with her students the pleasure she derives from them. The stories and characters seem to come to life when she talks about them in her classes.

One of her techniques is to get them to read without caring much what it is. Just so they read something seems to be her attitude.

Her enthusiasm, ability to listen to her students, and the lack of pressure and emphasis on grades all combine to make her a delight to them — and to me too.

I just had to share with you the pleasure this teacher is bringing to young people.

A. Yes, he is fortunate, and I was too when I had a high school English teacher who possessed many of the qualities of your son's teacher.

She had such an influence on me that I not only treasure her memory and the books she brought to life for us, but through all the years have managed to keep in touch with her.

At our only high school reunion, held recently, she was there and received the tribute she deserved from her students of long ago. I want to add one more — for Margaret Helen Cain, now long retired from Senn High School in Chicago.

Q. My husband is a constant tease. That is nothing new to me because I was aware of this trait even before I married him 15 years ago.

He invents strange-sounding nicknames for each of our three children, develops little rhyming couplets to tell them their friends have telephoned, and leaves notes in their rooms to remind them to take out the garbage or help with the dishes.

I don't pay any attention to all this teasing and nagging approaches of his, and the children just laugh about them. But I wonder if there's any harm in such silly practices of his.

A. "Silly," "teasing," "nagging?" Perhaps there is a pertinent question to bring up, like, "Do they work?"

If they do, fine. If not, what's lost? It sounds as though both he and your children enjoy what he does.

I don't see any particular harm in his practices, but I wonder if you do and what that harm could possibly be.

Your Social Security

No mystery to benefits

Q. I have listened to a lot of discussion about Social Security but no one ever seems to understand how it is figured.

Why the big mystery? — M.V.D.

A. No mystery. A pamphlet titled "Estimating Your Social Security Retirement Check" is available at every Social Security office.

Basically retirement benefits are based on all but the five lowest years of earnings from 1951 (or age 22) up to age 62. Starting in 1991 this means that benefit amounts will be averaged out over a 35-year period. For more details, contact your local Social Security office.

Q. I am a widow who will be 60 this November. I recently read an article that said as of January 1985 a widow's Social Security would be determined in a different way than it is at present.

Can you please enlighten me? — L.L.

Q. There is an alternate method for calculating widow's benefits that could result in a larger benefit for the widow. This provision is effective for all widows or widowers who are entitled to benefits after December 1984.

Q. I was getting SSI. Then they put me on Social Security and reduced my SSI benefits. Is this legal?

I understood they were two separate programs. — R.M.

A. They are two separate programs. However, SSI is based on need and is paid to aged, blind, and disabled people who have limited income and assets.

In your case your SSI payment had to be reduced because you became entitled to a Social Security benefit.

Q. Since I am not a sponsored alien, drug addict, disabled, blind or a student is there any chance of me receiving SSI payment? I receive widow's Social Security benefits of $361 per month. The only asset I have is about $300 in a bank account. I am 66 years old. — M.I.

A. In your state it is possible to receive SSI benefits. Some states pay substantially higher SSI benefits because they add to the basic federal SSI payment level. Check with your local Social Security office.

Why should we help El Salvador?
 They're fighting our war, too—the prevention of another Soviet-proxy nation at our doorstep.
Do you see a communist behind every tree?
 No—behind every revolution in Central America.
Why not stay out of El Salvador's internal affairs?
 Other than concern for our own security, is our national conscience willing to accept the bloodbath and refugees that result when we abandon allies to Marxist aggressors—or have we already forgotten that after the Vietnam pullout, millions in Indochina were slaughtered, and 1.5 million became refugees?
Why not a diplomatic rather than military solution?
 When they think they can win with guns, Marxists spurn any reasonable diplomatic solution.
What's your answer to the Central American problem?
 Support the survival and democratization of El Salvador through economic and military aid, and try to convince opponents of such aid in Congress and the media that they are unwittingly promoting a Marxist slogan.
What slogan?
 "Make the world safe for Soviet expansionism."

Op. 'Safe Child' At Woodland School

On Monday, June 11, at 8 p.m. in the All Purpose Room, the Woodland Avenue PTA will be presenting a program "Operation Safe Child" sponsored by the Crime Resistance Unit of the Nassau County Police Department.

This should be a very worthwhile program for parents on helpful hints for child safety and preventing runaways. It is especially timely with summer coming and our children spending more free time outside.

This is a very powerful program aimed at an adult audience, therefore, children will not be permitted to attend.

We urge you and any of your friends, relatives or neighbors to attend this important program, our increased knowledge may help us save a child.

Any Questions? Call Patricia Rooney at 822-4476.

Hicksville School Board Candidates Give Their Views

Incumbent: John P. Ayres
Opposed by: Lawrence Moor

John P. Ayres

Question: How long have you lived in the district and what have you been active in?

Answer: I have lived in Hicksville for the past 17 years. My wife is a long-time resident having graduated from the Hicksville Public Schools and is an active member of the High School Alumni Association. My son is a student at the high school, a daughter attends the junior high school, and I also have a pre-schooler. In addition to being an extremely active School Board Trustee for the past nine years, we have been active members of the Dutch Lane, Junior High, and Senior High PTA units. I am a member of Holy Family Parish and have coached for the Hicksville American Soccer Club, program presenter for Gregory Museum, an officer of Hicksville Citizens for Better Education, and I've chaired several Board of Education citizen advisory committees. I have eight years service in the active and reserve army, attaining the rank of captain. Active membership is maintained in the 77th Infantry Division Reserve Officers Association.

Question: What weight would you give, if elected, to the results of voting on Proposition #2 relating to the Moment of Silent Meditation?

Answer: I view the results of the voting on Proposition #2 as a mandate from the community and I will adhere to their wishes.

Question: What special qualifications do you have for serving on the School Board?

Answer: I believe my nine years experience as a School Board Trustee is the best qualifications anyone could have. Since being elected in 1975 I have held the leadership positions of President, Vice-President, and Secretary as well as chairmanship of several Board Committees. My qualifications include active involvement in all phases of our school system; the budgetary process, contract negotiations, policy development, curriculum, special education, gifted and talented, reorganization of the schools, and personnel matters. In addition to my studies and advanced degrees from Hofstra and St. John's University, I am employed in the field of education by a neighboring school district and I work part-time as the treasurer of a credit union having complete control of all lending and investments for the entire $1.25 million operation.

Question: Since most school board members (and candidates) have children in the schools and directly benefit from the system, how can they effectively represent the entire community?

Answer: I have always been considered a child advocate and will continue to support the maintenance and/or expansion of educational programs and services. I see the high quality and strength of Hicksville's educational programs as our communities most valuable asset. All residents benefit from the fine reputation our school system enjoys. Hicksville is a great place to live and raise a family. In addition to the educational programs, I have always supported to the fullest those programs the School Board funds that service the segment of the community that may not have children in the schools. Examples of these programs are: Adult Education, the Opportunity High School, organizations and community use of the buildings and grounds, and the five Senior Citizen clubs that we support with funds and facilities. I pledge my continued support to these fine groups and the entire Hicksville community.

Lawrence A. Moor

Question: How long have you lived in the district and what have you been active in?

Answer: I have lived in the community for seven years. I have three small children. The oldest is only seven years old. Up until now, although I have always been a member and strong supporter of the PTA, my interests, duties and activities have always been in my home, bringing up my children to the best of my ability. Now that my oldest is going into third grade in September and my five year old is starting kindergarten, I feel that I must go further with my activities to assure that my children always have the best, I believe that it is imperative to now become immersed, personally, in their education.

Question: What weight would you give, if elected, to the results of voting on Proposition #2 relating to the Moment of Silent Meditation?

Answer: I would give a tremendous amount of weight, if elected, to the results of voting on Proposition #2. Whether Proposition #2 is passed or defeated, I would know that the majority of Hicksville had been heard from and that this was their wish. If elected, as a school board member, I would, of course, follow the will of the people.

Question: What special qualifications do you have for serving on the School Board?

Answer: An obvious qualification would be that I have children in the school system. I am also a Vice President of a major Wall Street brokerage firm and a regular working member of the American Stock Exchange. I am an advocate of quality education and I feel that the financial and administrative decisions that I render on a daily basis can only enhance the complex workings of our school board.

Question: Since most school board members (and candidates) have children in the schools and directly benefit from the system, how can they effectively represent the entire community?

Answer: A school board member can and should effectively represent the community by first listening to that community. A school board member should, as I have done, go out and meet with the people and remain accessible and open minded and when a majority of the people are in favor of a particular issue he or she must, as a member of the school board, accept the will of the majority.

Incumbent: Jay M. Schwartz

Opposed by: John Montalto & Bernard Goldman
(Mr. Goldman chose not to respond to the questionnaire)

Jay M. Schwartz

Question: How long have you lived in the district and what have you been active in?

Answer: My family and I have lived in this district for five years. We selected Hicksville because of its superior education system and its strong tax base. Our second child was born during our first year here. Our first child attends the Fork Lane School.

I first became involved with the Hicksville American Soccer Club as a coach. I have remained a coach for three full years, teaching 4, 5, 6 and 7 year-olds. I have been asked to become a commissioner, but declined due to the workload of the trustee for the Board of Education.

In my second year here, I became interested in the workings of the board. Since my life was dedicated to education, I was asked by several neighbors to become a candidate and represent their concerns about the board. I have fulfilled my promise to them and will continue to be the representative of the whole community; my record clearly shows that my votes are responsive to the needs of the taxpayers.

Question: What weight would you give, if elected, to the results of voting on Proposition #2 relating to the Moment of Silent Meditation?

Answer: In regard to the issue of the Moment of Silence, my record clearly indicated that I have supported the public's right to have this policy for our schools. I will support the results on this issue after the election has given the community an opportunity to register their votes in a democratic procedure—that is, the majority rule.

Question: What special qualifications do you have for serving on the School Board?

Answer: I believe that there are few qualifications which make someone eligible to be a member of the school board. I feel that knowledge of areas important to Board operations can be learned. One does not have to know budgeting, contracts, and curriculum before coming into board service. Indeed, the administrators, paid to act as our agents, prepare all the budgets and the financial papers. The State of New York mandates the curriculum in most subject areas. The attorney advises and negotiates contracts and handles grievances.

What is important to board service is an openness, an honest approach to problem-solving, and beyond everything—integrity. The board member who has the willingness to listen and compromise is the perfect candidate. The board member who is responsive to the community is the best representative. The board member who attacks the issues, and not other board members is the "qualified" person. The board member who conducts business at board meetings, and not over the telephone with some of the board, is the choice to elect. I possess these qualities. If these are the ones that serve a person well in life, then a harmonious board can't be impossible.

Question: Since most school board members (and candidates) have children in the schools and directly benefit from the system, how can they effectively represent the entire community?

Answer: A board member must effectively represent the whole community. The senior citizens, parochial students, families with graduated children, and business interests in the community, have the same motivation toward a sound educational system. Although these groups no longer have a direct connection through "having children in the schools", they still have a voice on the issues and a sincere desire for Hicksville schools to offer the best to its students.

Through its policies and mandated services, the board services the needs of many. It is incumbent upon me, a trustee, to listen to all separate interests and consider their needs. Since these are all interrelated, it is impossible to discount them simply because "they don't have children in the schools". When I consider that all those mentioned above pay considerable taxes, I realize that I must heed their opinions and be their agent when decisions are made. To do less, is not to fulfill the oath a trustee takes.

John Montalto

Question: How long have you lived in the district and what have you been active in?

Answer: I have lived in Hicksville for most of my life. My three children all attend Hicksville Public Schools, Teresa and John are in the Senior High School and my youngest, Joseph, attends the Dutch Lane School. In fact, I attended the same schools and graduated from Hicksville Sr. High School in 1964.

I have been actively involved in many community organizations including: The Hicksville American Soccer Club where I served as a past Executive Board member, Commissioner and Coach. I am also a co-founder of the Hicksville High School Marching Comets Parents Association and am an active troop committee member with Boy Scout Troop 172 located here in Hicksville.

Question: What weight would you give, if elected, to the results of voting on Proposition #2 relating to the Moment of Silent Meditation?

Answer: With respect to Proposition #2, I feel that an effective school board must be responsive to the community which it serves. This being the case I would give a weight of 100% to the results of the voting on Proposition #2. In other words, I am committed to and will abide by the vote of the people.

Question: What special qualifications do you have for serving on the School Board?

Answer: You don't have to be an educator, a financier or a business person to be an active and successful school board member. You do have to be able to listen to both sides of an argument and come to a reasonable conclusion. I am a Police Sergeant by profession. My academic qualifications include an Associate of Science Degree from Nassau Community College in Criminal Justice, a Bachelor of Science Degree from Adelphi University in Management and Communications, and I am currently completing a Master's Degree at L.I.U. C.W. Post Center. Furthermore, I hold a N.Y.S. Police Instructor's Certificate.

Question: Since most school board members (and candidates) have children in the schools and directly benefit from the system, how can they effectively represent the entire community?

Answer: The community which a school board serves is not limited to students but also included parents, teachers and employees, and taxpayers. Senior citizens, working and single parents, and private school parents are also directly or indirectly affected by the decisions of the school board. Therefore, it is imperative that a board member must be cognizant of the ramifications of his or her decisions upon the community as a whole.

Honey Singer

Question: How long have you lived in the district and what have you been active in?

Answer: I have lived in Hicksville for more than thirty years, during which time I have been active in many areas. I taught Church School at the Levittown Community Church and later at the Parkway Community Church for a total of fifteen years and sang in both of their Chancel choirs for almost twenty years. I am also a long time member of the Hicksville Community Chorus. When my sons were younger I put in four years as a Den mother in the Cub Pack at Holy Family church.

With a background in journalism, I have served as editor of the Levittown Community Church newsletter, the Lee Avenue and Senior High school PTA newsletters, the Hicksville Co-op Nursery School Newsletter and also was Publicity Chair of the Hicksville Council of PTAs for two years.

However, the bulk of my community work (before becoming a Board member) had been concentrated in the PTA. With four children in the Hicksville schools, over the years, I gradually assumed a leadership role, becoming president of the Lee Avenue PTA for two years and later vice-president and then president of the PTA Council. While serving in that position, I was appointed by the Board of Education to fill a Board vacancy. I later ran for that seat and was elected.

Before joining the School Board, I served on the Community Relations Advisory Committee. As a Trustee I have chaired that committee for two years. I am also serving, presently, as Board Secretary.

Question: What weight would you give, if elected, to the results of voting on Proposition #2 relating to the Moment of Silent Meditation?

Answer: I have previously stated in print and publicly at Board meetings that I would abide by the decision of the community. If the community votes to accept Proposition #2 (relating to the Moment of Silent Meditation) I would most certainly vote to make it Board Policy.

It was I who suggested the referendum at the February 29 meeting, long before Mr. Bennett made his motion to put it to the voters on the ballot. And it was I who cast the fourth and deciding vote on that motion.

Question: What special qualifications do you have for serving on the School Board?

Answer: Probably the most important qualification that I have is my intense desire to continue serving on the Board, after having worked for twenty years for good education in Hicksville.

I am keenly aware that we are facing a crisis in this election; and that the future of public school education in our community is in jeopardy.

Experience, know-how and commitment form the backbone of my candidacy. I know the schools, the staff, the administrators. I have been intimately connected (through my PTA leadership role and as a Board trustee), with the policies, plans and problems in our district. There is no substitute for this kind of involvement. It grows with the years and with commitment; and I assure you being an effective Board member does require total commitment. As I have stated before, the workload is staggering and the hours are long. To do it right you've got to give it your all. I have been doing just that and would like to continue to do so.

I received my education at Brooklyn College, majoring in Spanish and minoring in Journalism. Perhaps because of this I have always believed that the study of Foreign Language should be a must for our youngsters; and I also am deeply concerned about the weakness in writing ability of many students.

Question: Since most school board members (and candidates) have children in the schools and directly benefit from the system, how can they effectively represent the entire community?

Answer: First I would like to say that I hope everyone in Hicksville cares about our children's education, whether or not they have children in the schools. Educating our children to the best of our community's ability to pay is the very first policy in the Board's policy book. Education is our prime concern.

However, I am pleased to speak to this question because it relates directly to the work of the Board's Community Relations Committee. Hicksville, like many other communities now has more residents without children in school than with school age youngsters. Some are parents whose children have grown, some are single adults; many are senior citizens. We are all part of the "greying of suburbia". Our committee has been trying to get the message out that good schools benefit everyone in Hicksville. Having a reputation as a good school district increases the resale value of our homes. (And the direct opposite is true. A district that devalues education devalues its homes as well.)

Good schools are also good for business. If our youngsters are well trained they will be successful employees; many of them finding jobs right in our local businesses. Our Hicksville Chamber of Commerce and Kiwanis have been sharing expertise with our students. We are working to expand this area.

Of course our adult education program and senior citizens activities are all supported with funds from the school district. Our schools are truly community schools.

Daniel C. MacBride

Question: How long have you lived in the district and what have you been active in?

Answer: I have been in the district since 1972, and have been active in the Ernest F. Franke Republican Club. I was President of the teenclub and later Vice President of the Young Republicans. Currently I am a Committeeman.

During the past six years I have been active in local school board elections, and have participated in the preparation and organization of the campaigns.

Since I am getting married next year and plan to raise a family in Hicksville, I will become more involved with community organizations.

Question: What weight would you give, if elected, to the results of voting on Proposition #2 relating to the Moment of Silent Meditation?

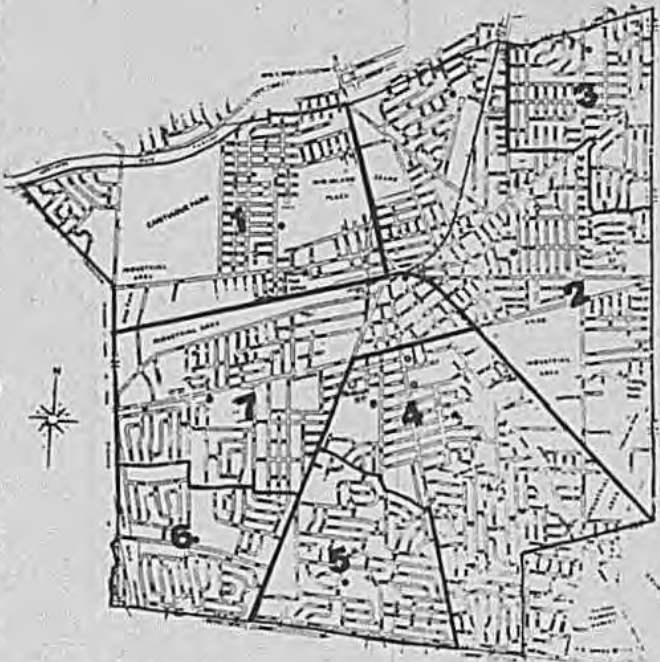

Answer: I will support the outcome of the voting of Proposition 2. The will of the people will always be uppermost in my mind. I feel that Mrs. Singer's claim that she was the deciding factor to place Proposition 2 on the ballot is not totally true. She was one of four votes, but she did not initiate the motion for the referendum. And she does not say that if she followed the will of the people, did not vote hastily, and stood up for what she believes in, there would be no need for a referendum.

Question: What special qualifications do you have for serving on the School Board?

Answer: As a recent graduate of the Hicksville school system, I feel I can give the board insights on many proposed programs, and can help them to succeed. Since I am 23 years of age, I can relate to the needs of the students, for the students are our primary concern in the schools. Because of my recent school education I can come to the Board with a fresh mind and fresh viewpoints, and I am willing to learn and be part of a team effort.

Question: Since most school board members (and candidates) have children in the schools and directly benefit from the system, how can they effectively represent the entire community?

Answer: My aim is to represent the entire community. Although I have no children in the school system, I plan to be married next April and we intend to raise a family in Hicksville. Because of my current status I will not give a biased view of the need of any programs that may involve my children. I will be totally impartial, and will not be under any pressures to favor one program over the other because of personal family or student involvement.

Summer Blood Donors Needed

There is a silent and unseen problem that affects Long Island each summer. As the warm weather returns and residents leave the area for vacations, a seasonal condition menaces thousands of lives. Although it remains tightly locked behind the doors of hospitals, it doesn't cease to endanger the lives of every man, woman, and child on Long Island.

While most people look forward to summer vacation and additional outdoor activities, officials from Long Island Blood Services must concern themselves with severe shortages of blood during the warmer months. Less blood donors are available. Schools that normally hold blood drives during the year are closed and corporations are less likely to hold blood drives because of employee vacations.

Meanwhile, patients needing transfusions continue to use blood at the same rate which often results in a depleted supply. Each day Long Island hospitals require the donations of 600 people. Open heart surgery, cancer therapies, RH births, the treatment of leukemia, blood disorders, and many other medical procedures require large amounts of blood.

In addition, blood must be available for the victims of car, train, or plane accidents. Hospital emergency, operating, and delivery rooms utilize blood and blood components around the clock. Blood must be available before an accident occurs if it is to save a life. The only source of blood is a healthy blood donor, weighing a minimum of 110 pounds, and between the ages of 17 and 65 inclusive.

Long Island Blood Services, a division of the Greater New York Blood Program, is the main collector, processor, and distributor of blood to the 41 Long Island hospitals. To find out where to donate blood this summer call LIBS at 752-7300. Residents can also call the Nassau County Red Cross Chapter at 747-3500 or the Suffolk County Red Cross Chapter at 289-1414.

Colby To Visit Bethpage GOP

Club President Kevin Galloway has announced that Town of Oyster Bay Supervisor Joseph Colby will be welcomed as the "Special Guest of Honor" at the next meeting of the Theodore Roosevelt Republican Club of Bethpage.

The meeting is being billed as a "good, old-fashioned GOP get-together," and will take place on Monday evening, June 11, at the American Legion Hall on Washington Street, beginning at 8 p.m.

George Yochmann, Executive Leader of the Bethpage GOP Organization, added that "this meeting is really more of a social gathering, where our members can get together at an informal party, before we part for our annual "Summer Recess." I can't think of a better guest than Supervisor Joe Colby to help us make it a really fun evening. We're all very much enthused about his visit to our Club."

With the Club not meeting in July or August, the Officers of the Theodore Roosevelt Republican Club and the members of the Bethpage Republican Committee extend their best wishes for a safe, healthy, and happy Summer Season to the Bethpage community, with a reminder that new members are always welcome to come aboard and be a part of it!

THE QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Do you think the Russian pullout will ruin the Olympics?

"Let's keep track of the number of countries dropping out.. Maybe we can break the record set in 1980."

Call 931-0027 24 Hrs. a Day

Ground Rules

but may talk on any subject of interest to readers.

•One subject to a caller per week•

Simply dial 931-0027-24 Hours a Day and follow these simple rules:

1. Wait for the beep.
2. Confine your INPUT to one subject.
3. Limit your opinion to five minutes (make notes before calling)
4. Leave your name and telephone, or simply use a pen name. (your message can be anonymous)

Input Callers Have Mixed Ideas On Polls

Callers to Input are divided on whether TV election projections change the outcome of contests in answer to this question: "Do you think that TV Election Day projections of winners affect voting preference of those who have not yet cast ballots?"

Here are some of the answers:

WEST COAST

This question is one that has more to do with the West Coast than N.Y. because our results are the ones being used to flash projections that are used in California. Although the idea sounds possible I really do not believe that many people are that superficial about voting for the Presidency that they would just follow the trend. Unless someone can really prove the cause-effect relationship I see no reason to change the system. J.G.

WHAT'S USE

The projections have a very definite effect on voters. They make people who have not voted yet say "what's the use" and stay away from the polls. This means that what might have been a close race can turn into a landslide. The projections should be halted and returns should not be made available until all polls are closed. N.G.

SPORTS CONTESTS

For some reason we seem to be obsessed with elections as though they are sports contests and the citizens sit around viewing the grand show. It would be better if the results were all held a day and announced all at once. It would keep people from being stampeded into following the crowd and it would add the needed dignity to elections which befit so important a process.

LITTLE CHANGE

No, the projections do little to change someone's mind. Polls show that the voters have made up their minds long before the campaign ends and therefore some of the last minute advertising is a waste. With this in mind there is little need to worry about projections on Election night changing the totals in places that vote later. H.D.

ALL OVER

I think that the show that has been made out of the Election is very bad. I wish we could have a two day election and announce the winners all at once. Perhaps a weekend would be the best time to hold elections so that everyone could find time to vote. We have a very low turnout for elections and we should be trying to find ways to increase interest in this process. Projections that show that it is all over before you get to the polls will just make people stay away. C.T.

CHANGE PROJECTION

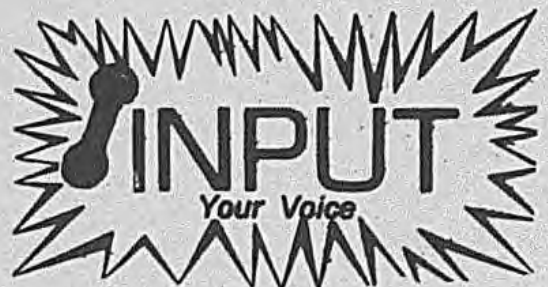

There is probably no difference in the outcome of elections that are projected before the polls close. If there was a difference it would show up in the projection. The reason is that in making the projection the anticipated voting pattern of those areas that have not yet voted is included and if the projection itself changed that pattern then the projection would be wrong. So far that has not happened. K.Y.

NOT AS MUCH

I think it does but not to the same extent as it did in Harry Truman - Tom Dewey upset so many years ago. Today, there are plenty of serious issues involved which affect the lives of millions of people in the great American melting pot. For perhaps the first time, huge voting blocs have already been formed motivated by the thought that their vote can affect their individual and collective fortunes affirmatively. The Democratic primaries have already crystalized and hardened their intention to vote and I don't believe that TV election day projections will affect the determination nor the direction of this constituency. The only thing which I believe could be swayed by such projections would be the sheer laziness of potential voters who adopt the "What's the use!" attitude or who are so sure of the outcome that they feel that their one vote isn't important. All of us who have firm beliefs about the things which are vital to our way of life should make up our minds as to the candidates we feel are best equipped to achieve or maintain those ends and let nothing interfere with our decision to vote for them. TV commentators appear to many as erudite translators of political and social motivation and trends but they are not always correct. Only the individual and not the commentator can make the important decisions as to which candidate will best benefit that citizen and the nation. P.G.S.

RUN WITH FLOCK

I believe that people follow each other on TV election coverage. They follow a carrot on a convenient stick - projection. Some feel that if "they" are all doing it their vote won't be wasted so they run with what they believe is the flock. Yes I think that TV Election Day coverage has a great deal of influence on people who have not yet cast their ballot. H.S.

DISCOVERY

Searching For Summer Jobs

By Linda Bauer

"The early bird catches the worm," applies to teens who are seeking summer employment. It is not too early to begin planning to make the lazy days of summer productive and rewarding. Students from junior high through college will be looking for jobs to earn money, gain experience and attempt to achieve a sense of independence.

Summer jobs tend to fall into three categories: volunteer, self-initiated and salaried. Youngsters often begin with volunteer jobs in order to gain valuable experience in the world of work. After deciding your area of interest, check into local internships or apprenticeships. Brainstorm the various businesses in your area to glean the existing programs. Hospitals, museums, child care centers, camps, parks and political organizations offer excellent opportunities. Be sure to get a letter of reference from your supervisor at the end of your volunteer program. It should outline your duties and capabilities, and it will aid you in obtaining a salaried job in the future. Volunteering helps to gain an insight into a career field and develops the satisfaction of giving selflessly to others. Do not omit such important experience on an application for a salaried job.

Self-initiated jobs are the ones that you seek by yourself. Many teens begin by assessing their skills and interests, then they decide to start a small business of their own. One former student printed cards giving his name and phone number for lawnmowing, shrub trimming and pruning. He advertised in local papers and his business grew dramatically. Within a year he had hired employees and purchased a used truck. The flexibility of the business enabled him to earn money for college while attending school. I doubt that with such ambition, he will have a difficult time finding and keeping an excellent job in his chosen field.

A business may be developed by thinking of the needs of others in your area. The old axiom, "Find a need and fill it," applies to self-initiated jobs. Tutoring, dog sitting, catering, mother's helpers and helping people pack and move are all interesting forms of work. One advantage is that you have control of your own work schedule. You may decide to try a variety of jobs to increase your skills and references.

Older teens are often in search of salaried positions. Again, try to seek employment in your area of interest, even if it means less pay. One teen wanted to become a lawyer and found employment in a local firm. He began with menial tasks, but his enthusiasm and dedication soon enabled his boss to delegate more responsibility to him. The job actually lasted throughout his college years.

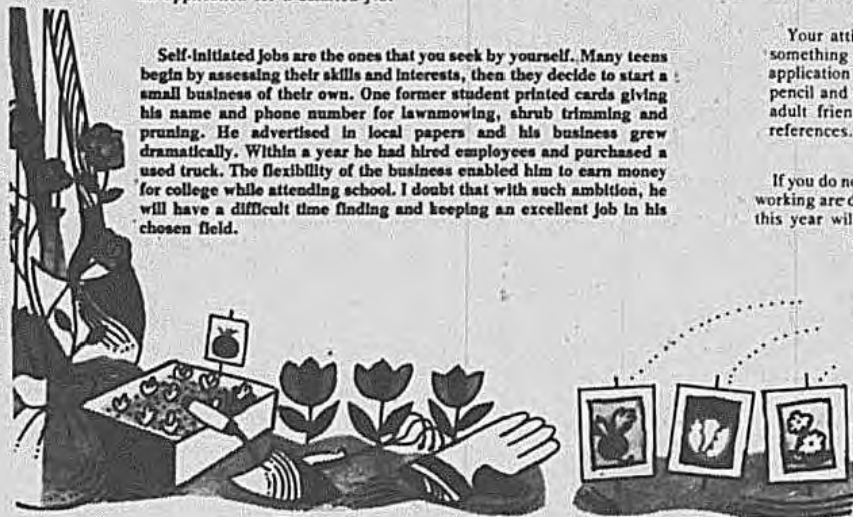

When you are searching for a summer job, be sure to remember the three A's - appearance, attitude and application. Dress as if you are making a first impression on a date. Do not wear sneakers or jeans. Employers want and need workers who will promote, not detract from their business. Do not bring friends or relatives to the interview.

Your attitude is extremely important. Demonstrate that you know something about the business and are eager to learn more. Your application must be neat and legible. Remember to bring a pen or pencil and a list of references. If you have never worked before, use adult friends, clergy, doctors, teachers or guidance counselors as references. Be sure to ask them before you use their names.

If you do not get the first job, do not be discouraged. The rewards of working are definitely worth the effort. Start planning early and maybe this year will be your best summer ever!

Q. When you desire service at your table, how do you call for it?
A. If a man is serving you and he is within earshot, call out "Waiter" softly (or "Waitress" if a woman is doing the honors). Do the summoning with a pleasant tone of voice; not like a sergeant barking orders in a boot camp. If the waiter or waitress is already occupied taking someone's order, wait patiently before interrupting that person's time at the other table.

Q. Is it all right to ask for a doggie bag from the waiter if one is unable to eat a particular wonderful piece of meat or dessert, for example?

A. In a restaurant, it's all right (but not in a private home). If the staff in the restaurant is frantically busy, without enough people to handle the job, don't ask for a doggie bag; it is an imposition in such a case.

Q. Why do some restaurants require a jacket and tie for men or prohibit jeans for women? After all, if one is neat and clean - or in designer jeans - one should be allowed to eat in a public place, C.A.

A. Expensive restaurants are able to charge those prices partly because of the quality of the food that it's served, and the quality of the service, but also because of the nature of the atmosphere. If a restaurant has a luxurious ambience, it is completely shattered by someone who arrives too casually dressed. If people have made an effort to look their most attractive best, their spirit of festiveness can be broken if others look as though they've been walking through the woods. Dressing up for an expensive restaurant is as much a question of being considerate of the other patrons as it is of assuring you and your friends an attractive scene to gaze upon during the meal.

"One thing I'm sure of, you're going to like the way DEVINS looks, the owners' goal was to achieve the feel of Edwardian England, but it is sufficiently eclectic to include echoes of New Orleans and Paris....The fish here is properly fresh and the meat is properly aged, and great care is taken in their presentations. Here, I must pause to compliment the service. No matter how good the main dishes..... the desserts are better."

RECOMMENDED

We recently attended a wedding at the George Washington Manor in Roslyn. After going to this fine place, which does everything in style, we decided that it should come highly recommended to your readers.

On several times we have gone to the George Washington Manor for dinner and found the food to be superb. The service is great and the decor fine. There may be a number of people who do not know that this restaurant is available for group parties. We inquired and are now going to have a small family party there very soon. H.G.

READER RATINGS

OLD LANDMARK

I had forgotten that we wanted to go to that new restaurant, the Davenport Press, which has been around as a printing shop but never a restaurant for many years.

They must have performed a miracle to change the old Davenport Press building on Main Street, Mineola into a restaurant. But let me tell you it is a good one.

There are several large intimate rooms. The large one we were in contains a real fireplace. There is a long bar at one end of the building. The menu is a good one. We had prime ribs that were juicy and tender with an appetizer called "Davey Jones Locker". It contained different types of seafood, shrimp, oysters and other choice pieces. We recommend the Davenport Press.

R.H.

NEW FISH RESTAURANT

New Hyde Park has a number of good restaurants. It was good to see that the "new Surfside Restaurant on Hillside Ave. can join the list. The "Surfside" is a pleasant, clean, new restaurant that specializes in seafood. They have the freshest seafood available. We had filet of sole and scallops which were served with potato and salad. It is good to have fresh fish at moderate prices and the Surfside is one that we would recommend to everyone.

GOOD SEAFOOD
Williston Park has a good seafood restaurant now named Pappas. The fish is fresh and the food very good. We went there last week and found that their scrod is a great buy and it is the freshest fish you can imagine. The service is good at Pappas and the price is not high for first quality food. H.Y.

HOMEMADE ITALIAN
The restaurant called Stay Go on Glen Cove Ave., in Glen Cove has an odd name particularly since it features Italian food. We say forget about the name whether you like it or not. The Stay Go has wonderful homemade Italian food. They make their own pasta and the veal is so tender that you will be surprised at the difference in this restaurant and many other Italian restaurants. We went there last Thursday and found it to be exceptional. It now is the Italian restaurant we will always go to for homemade Italian food. H.M.

FAVORITE RESTAURANTS

Last week our party of three celebrated a birthday at La Cisterna's, on Mineola Blvd. in Mineola. This happens to be one of our favorite restaurants. Mr. Angelo, the host gave a warm welcome which set the tone for a delightful evening. The menu, we think is quite different from the usual, for instance, we had three different appetizers, namely: Artichoke hearts in a special dressing, Shrimp Cocktail, and Shrimps in a Marinara Sauce. The entrees were: Veal rolled with Prosciutto and a Stuffing; a Veal with Mushroom; and a Veal in a Special Lemon Sauce. String beans with almonds were served with each of the entrees. This delightful repast was topped off with Cafe Espresso. Both the dinners and the service were excellent and it will be a birthday we will all remember as being particularly special. J.S.

READER RATINGS

Q. Who is served first at table and when is the proper time to begin eating? F.G.P.
A. The hostess is not served first unless she is the only lady at the table or is alone with her husband and children. If Grandmother of even a young girl guest is present, she is served next to last and her husband last. For her to serve herself earlier will mean her food will be cold and her filled plate in the way.

After several people have been served, urged by the hostess, guests begin eating so their food will not be cold. And, except at breakfast, the polite husband waits until his wife has been served before beginning to eat.

Q. Is it considered bad manners to take anything to drink to your lips while there is still food in your mouth? B.C.J.

A. Yes, because this may leave particles of food in the beverage or leave an unattractive smear on the glass. Your mouth should be empty before you take anything to drink. Certainly you should avoid the effect of "washing down" food that is already in your mouth. It is amazing how many people are guilty of this breach of etiquette.

Q. How do you get stray bits of food on a plate onto your fork? H.C.

A. A combination of European and American style eating is very usual among sophisticated people and makes it easy for a diner to retrieve skiddy bits of food - like peas - on his plate by using his knife in his left hand as a pusher. But the completely American system is to use a bit of bread as a pusher. One never uses the fingers for this purpose.

Tortilla Cups: Deep-fry 8 (7 to 8 inch) flour tortillas in oil heated to 375 F, gently depressing centers with wooden spoon until tortillas form a cup. Gently turn and fry each until golden brown on both sides. Makes 8 servings.

Variation: Chili filling, whether homemade or canned, can be served in heated flour tortillas. Wrap 16 tortillas in foil; heat in 350-F oven 5 minutes. Place about 1/4 cup chili mixture on each tortilla; fold opposite sides into center, then roll. Makes 16 burritos.

Note: One 16-ounce can chili filling contains about 1 1/2 cups drained beans.

MARINATED BEEF AND BEAN SALAD

- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1/4 cup white wine vinegar
- 1 tbsp. fresh lime juice
- 1 clove garlic, minced

- 1 tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. freshly ground pepper
- 1 1/4 lbs. cooked beef, cut into thin strips
- 1 1/2 cups drained, cooked or canned small white or Great Northern beans

- 1 medium tomato, seeded and chopped
- Romaine lettuce leaves
- 6 radish roses

Thoroughly combine olive oil, vinegar, lime juice, garlic, cilantro, oregano, sugar, salt and pepper. Place beef strips, beans and tomatoes in large bowl; add marinade, stirring to coat. Cover and refrigerate 2-3 hours. Line platter with romaine leaves; place beef salad on top. Garnish with radish roses. Makes 6 servings.

- 5 cups cooked and drained or canned red, pink or pinto beans
- 3/4 to 1 cup water
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 1/4 tsp. chili powder
- Salt

Heat shortening or drippings in heavy skillet. Mash 1 cup beans to drippings. Add a second cup beans and about 3 tablespoons water; mash beans as they are added. Repeat until all beans are used. Add garlic, chili powder and salt to taste. Heat, uncovered, until beans are thick; stir occasionally. Serve as a side dish. Makes about 5 cups.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q. Could you please tell me how I can clean two marble lamps. They have many fine crevices which are deep yellow now.

I have bought many cleaners, but none worked. — Mrs. Alice G.,

A. Wet the marble surface with clean hot water and an abrasive cleaner containing bleach and scrub with a fiber brush. Rinse thoroughly with clean water.

When the marble is clean and quite dry, apply one or two coats of colorless terrazzo sealer.

Waxing with a water wax should give further protection.

Q. I currently have a problem which you may have already discussed in your column, but I do not know the solution.

The former owner used contact or similar paper to decorate the fronts of cabinet doors and drawers in the bathroom. This is a floral print and I cannot live with it.

I started to pull the paper off and it is leaving a sticky substance on the finish. As this wood is varnished — or is it shellacked? — I do not know how to get the sticky residue off without harming the finish.

Do you have any suggestions? — Joan T.P.,

A. We find a letter in our files from a reader who asks, "Do you want to know how to remove contact paper with ease?"

Here is her suggestion: "Use a hair dryer set on high. Hold the nozzle about 1 inch from the paper, starting at the edge. When the paper becomes hot, it softens and bubbles so it pulls from the surface and no residue is left. It does a clean fast job. I used this procedure successfully in my kitchen to remove contact paper which had been on the walls for years."

I do not know whether this is a satisfactory answer to the above reader's question, but if she has any contact paper left on the walls, this procedure is worth a try.

For removing the residue, try paint thinner or naphtha. We've also heard that plain lard is sometimes effective for removal of this residue. Even the hair dryer might soften the residue, making it easier to remove.

If you use any of these suggestions, proceed with caution so as not to damage the wood.

Q. We are reluctant to paint our

Mainly For Seniors

By John T. Watts

Oldsters not really speed readers

Dear John: I loved your item on gripes about TV programs. I strongly endorse all of these gripes, particularly background music that drowns out the dialogue.

Another one is flashing names and titles on the screen and not giving you time to read them. They assume everyone is a speed reader. — Ken L.

Dear Ken: You have something there, too. I thought it was me. I guess the TV people think their time is worth so many thousands of dollars a fraction of a second that they can't give us the time to read the names and titles.

Dear John: I am writing for a twofold reason. About a year ago my wife and I both retired, and started exercising after breakfast.

We started out in short duration. We worked out exercises up to a 400 to 450 count of various movements.

I suddenly developed a tightness and tingling sensation in my arm pit area or shoulder muscles. I asked the doctor and his reply, "You're too old for exercise."

The tightness has partially left my shoulders and traveled down both arms until now I have this tightness or prickly sensation in my fingers and thumb tips.

Second, I'm interested in your booklet on arthritis and the formula used with wine vinegar and Certo and grape juice. — Robert S.

Dear Robert: The first thing I'd do is to get another doctor. We old people have as much right to exercise as anybody else. The only thing is we must do it in moderation and sensibly.

That tightness or prickly sensation might be something important, so by all means find another doctor. There's some reason for that tightness.

You should have the arthritis leaflet by now. It includes vinegar as well as Certo.

Incidentally, many readers still fail to send stamped, self-addressed envelopes. It is distressing because I have no way of explaining to them except in this column.

Dear John: As recently as a decade or two ago, dentures were regarded as a normal part of the stained white acoustical ceiling tile because paint will cover the perforations. Does covering the perforations destroy the purpose of the tile, which is to deaden sound? — Archie M.

A. Yes, reducing the perforations in acoustical tile can somewhat reduce the sound-deadening quality of the tile. If the staining is due to accumulation of surface grime or dirt, try cleaning the tile with a vacuum cleaner to remove all dust. Then use a wallpaper cleaner, a doughlike material that is rolled and kneaded — not rubbed — across the surfaces.

If this does not work, sand very lightly and carefully with "00000" sandpaper. If this is not a fiber tile, it can usually be safely wiped with a moist cloth or sponge and mild soapsuds.

aging process. Hair turned gray, joints developed aches and pains and teeth were extracted and dentures made.

But today, dentists and consumers know the value of retaining teeth if at all possible. With the advent and improvement of overdentures, patients with as few as two healthy teeth need not become complete denture wearers.

What's the big concern about dentures?

Extraction of all the teeth leads to deterioration of the bone, which in turn changes the shape of the jaw and makes the person look older. The roots from even two teeth, however, provide enough stimuli to maintain the bone and prevent this deterioration.

Overdentures are designed so that two or more healthy teeth are saved and serve as anchors to the new denture. The resulting stimulation of the bone is only one benefit for the consumer. Length of service is another.

Most people have to replace their complete dentures every five to seven years. They also must be refitted or relined about once a year because of the changes in the bone.

If the teeth are eventually lost, the overdentures can easily be converted to a conventional denture. — Connie P.

Dear Connie: Thanks for the information. We'll print some more from the brochure you sent.

Off the cuff, I think the cost is one reason many people don't go to the dentist more often. Few insurance plans pay for such work.

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 13 and the oldest of three children. Our parents, both work a lot and we are under the supervision of our grandmother. I really care about her but she makes my life very miserable and depressing.

She keeps saying I'm not a good Christian because of the magazines I read (teen magazines) and the music I listen to (light rock).

I try to tell my parents about the way I feel but they just don't seem to want to listen to me. Please help me because I don't know what to do. I know that I'm a good Christian but my grandmother doesn't think so.

I wish my grandmother would move far away. I'm old enough to take care of my brothers and me. — Charlene.

Charlene: There is only one living person who knows if you are a good Christian and it isn't Grandmother, it's you.

Most grandparents living with their children and grandchildren are positive forces in the family. A few are not.

Cut your letter and my response out of the paper and show it to your parents. For sure, it will let them know exactly how you feel.

The solution is not to have Grandmother move. It's for Grandmother to have a positive attitude about the family, and it's up to your parents to tactfully see that she does.

Since you love your grandmother yet she makes you feel depressed so that you wish her to move should convince your parents to try to make a troubled situation happy.

Dr. Wallace: I live with my stepfather and he takes very good care of me and he loves me. I also have a blood father who lives in Mississippi but he never sees me or sends support for me.

I know my blood father loves me and I love him, but when people ask me who my real father is I just say I don't know.

Dr. Wallace, who do you think my real father is? — Glenn.

Glenn: Both fathers love you but your real father is the one who takes very good care of you.

The easiest task is to be the biological father. The hard work begins after the baby is born and doesn't stop for 18 years or more.

Dr. Wallace: I am a 15-year-old girl and I'm Michael Jackson's biggest fan. I have over 1,500 pictures and T-shirts with his beautiful face staring at me.

TWEEN 12 & 20

Dr. Wallace, with your "pull" could you please get him to write a personal letter to me? I've written him 15 times but I have never received an answer.

Oh, yes, how old is Sir Michael? — Paula Mitis.

Paula: The only pull I have with Michael Jackson is that we both come from Gary, Ind., but I don't believe that will get you your coveted letter.

But keep trying. You will never reach your goal unless you keep asking. Good luck.

Oh, yes, would you believe Sir Michael is 25 years young?

Dr. Wallace: I'm 17 and I need a little advice.

Ted and I have been going steady for over a year and we spend all of our free time together. The problem lately is that I want to spend some time with my friends and possibly date other guys.

I really would like to stop going steady (and still date him), but if I said anything it would really hurt his feelings. Deep down I know we will not be staying together because in September I will be going away to college.

To make matters more difficult, Ted has been discussing our getting married. Please tell me what to do. I feel trapped. — Jody.

Jody: You must be honest with Ted and tell him exactly how you feel.

Don't give him false hope. The sooner you tell him, the better for both of you.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a high school junior and I've been told by many people that I am very attractive. In fact, you could say I'm a "knockout." I'm not bragging but I want you to know the facts.

Our junior-senior prom was held recently and I decided to ask a sophomore who also attends my school. He is sweet and kind and very mature for his age. We had a wonderful time. But some of my "older" friends are finding it very amusing that I drove to the dance and that I paid for the dinner.

Some are even saying that I took a younger guy because no older guy asked me to the dance. That just isn't so.

I'm annoyed by this talk and don't know what to do about it. Please help. — Sandy.

Sandy: The "bottom line" is that your date was "sweet and kind" and you had a wonderful time at the dance.

Antiques Collectibles

Q. What can you tell me about my antique secretary? It is solid walnut with burl walnut veneer and has glass knobs.

A. Your secretary was made in the 1865 to 1875 period. It would be classified as mid-Victorian.

The glass knobs are replacements; the originals were made of brass.

The current market value would be in the $1,200 to $1,500 range.

Q. My Hummel, "School Boy" No. 82, has the enclosed mark on the bottom. When was it made and how much is it worth?

A. Trade Mark No. 5 was used from 1972 to 1979. "School Boy" bearing this mark is worth at least $200.

Q. You told me my antique pipe organ was worth over $1,000, but implied that I wouldn't be able to sell it. Please explain.

A. There were literally millions of pump organs made in the late 1800s; they are not scarce. They are bulky and heavy - very difficult to transport. Most organs are sold by dealers who have a truck to deliver them.

The prices I provide are based on actual sales. If there only a few sales, I also state that the probability of selling is slight.

CONTEST PUZZLE

OUTLINE THE FULL BODY OF A RABBIT HIDING HERE AND COLOR THIS PICTURE YOU MAY WIN

Aunt Tilly's Corner

This weekend I am going to Old Westbury Gardens to see the Antique Car Show. It was cancelled last week because of rain and is now set for Sunday, June 10. The gates open at 10 a.m.

Some of the most interesting cars ever made will be featured at the show. Cars like the old Duesenbergs and the "Brass Cars" of the past are just not manufactured any more and are interesting to look at.

I also plan to tour the mansion at Old Westbury Gardens and to round out the day I'm carrying a picnic lunch and will enjoy it right on the grounds.

Don't you think Sunday sounds like a "fun day"? I think so. I'm really looking forward to it!

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are: Mary Casey and Cathy Gazzalo. Cathy colored the pictures with acrylic paints she got for Christmas. Nice job, both of you!

Points On Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. Are over-the-counter medications given deworming medications. If you are administering deworming medications at home it is important to follow your veterinarian's directions exactly.

The dosages for most dewormers are based on body weight of the pet. Therefore you should weigh your pet as accurately as possible. Ordinary bathroom scales are usually accurate enough. You can obtain your pet's weight by first weighing yourself, and then weighing yourself while you are holding your pet. Of course, the difference between the two weights is your pet's weight.

Some deworming medications require fasting before or after giving the medication. It is important that directions regarding fasting be followed exactly. Some deworming medications should not be given to pregnant animals. Some dewormers should not be given if the pet has been vaccinated recently or is taking other medications.

If you desire to use over-the-counter deworming medications you should at least consult your veterinarian first regarding any particular recommendations he has regarding your pet.

Probably equally important to regular stool checks and medication for control of internal parasites in pets is preventing reinfestation of the pet's environment. It is important to keep the living quarters and runs scrupulously clean. Stools should be picked up immediately and disposed of in a safe place. The pet's bedding and food and water pans should be cleaned regularly. Fleas, the intermediate host for tapeworms, should be controlled.

Internal and external parasites can usually be prevented by good-quality regular sanitation.

Q. I really want to buy a dog. I have saved quite a bit of money from my paper route. My parents tell me that I cannot afford to buy a dog. They say that there are a lot of hidden costs.

Are there really a lot of costs besides what the dog will cost?

A. There are a lot of ongoing expenses in owning almost any kind of pet. The initial cost of a dog is usually related to whether the dog is a purebred or a mongrel.

It has been said that there is no such thing as a free pet. After the initial purchase, food and veterinary care are the major expenses. Added to these are yearly license fees, collars and leashes, grooming equipment and supplies, boarding fees if you do not have friends to care for your pet while you are away on vacation, obedience training, and perhaps professional grooming.

Of course all of these expenses vary a great deal depending on the breed of dog you select. If expenses are a problem, a small breed that does not require professional grooming and large amounts of food would be a good choice.

The World's Greatest Grandparents

My grandmother and grandfather are the greatest grandparents in the world. My grandmother, who I call Nana, makes such good cookies. She also knows what food I like most and whenever I go to her house she has my favorite meal waiting at the table; which is turkey, boiled potatoes, corn, stuffing and, of course, mushroom gravy.

My grandfather, on the other hand, takes me fishing on certain days in the summer, which I really enjoy.

My grandmother likes to cook and bake; apple pie, cookies, and cake. Everytime I see her, which is about every week, she gives me and my brothers money to keep.

The World's Most Beautiful Grandchildren

I have no doubt that we are prejudiced, but to my husband and myself our grandsons are the "Most Beautiful Grandchildren" going. They bring much joy into our lives.

They are Justin Charles Keller and Daniel Frederick Keller. Justin, almost 7 years old and Daniel 2½ years old live in Commack, with their mother and father, Jane and Bill Keller.
