Nassau County District Attorney Dennis Dillon welcomes Karl Keller of Plainville to the District Attorney's Office. Karl was recently appointed an Assistant District Attorney by Dillon. Karl joins a staff of ADA's with one of the highest felony conviction rates in the state, 96 percent.

Building Permits Total $17 Million

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby announced that the value for building permits issued during the months of April and May, 1984, totalled $16,887,973, showing substantial increases over the April/May 1983 totals.

Colby said that "Three permits for industrial buildings totalled $5,877,356 and permits for seven commercial additions amounting to $1,202,634, contributed to the phenomenal April valuation of $10,220,959. One family dwelling permits added to the April amount with seven permits issued for $772,652." April's total valuation showed an increase of $6.5 million over the April, 1983 permit values.

May building permit values also reflected an increase in 1984. Colby noted, with sixteen single-family home permits issued in the amount of $1,135,453. "Permits for commercial buildings continued to increase," Colby said, "with six permits issued for a total valuation of $2,335,675. The May 1984 total valuation was $6,667,014, reflecting an increase of over $2 million from May 1983 totals.

Colby added that the April-May 1984 totals are indicative of the continued balanced growth in construction in the Town of Oyster Bay, with industrial and commercial facilities keeping pace with the strong trend in single-family home construction.

Bd. Elects Members, Officers

Hyman Enzer, Chairman of the Department of Sociology at Hofstra University, and Catherine Fenton, Superintendent of the Hicksville UFSD, were newly elected to serve on the board of Nassau Citizens Budget Committee at its Annual Meeting recently.

Re-elected to serve three-year terms were Clive Chilton, Executive Director of the Action Council of Central Nassau; David Kirchenbaum, Partner in Touche Ross & Co.; Kenneth Moskowitz, Vice President, European American Bank; Dennis Mulvihill, Partner, Touche Ross & Co.; Michael Philburn, Controller, Roman Cosmetics Laboratories; Arthur Roth, Chairman of Watchdogs of the Treasury; Melvyn Ruskin, Senior Partner of Ruskin, Schliessel, Moscou & Evans; Janet Stevenson, Development Associate, Church Charities Foundation.

Town Hears Appeal For U-Haul Depot

Although a petition was presented to the Town Board with 47 signatures, Tuesday, Supervisor Joseph Colby said during the meeting that he believes the board will grant the U Haul Co. a permit to use and operate a business on two acres at Broadway and Lauman's Lane, Hicksville. Colby said that since the board had approved the same land last year for a fuel oil distributor that the Town would have to allow U Haul to locate there.

Barry Pape, whose property abuts the site, presented the petition to the Board and said he objected to noise on weekends. He said that the fuel oil company mainly operated in winter months and would be less objectionable. The Board reserved decision.

Speakers Available From Cent. General

Central General Hospital, Plainview has created a Medical/Administrative Speakers Bureau, it was announced by Robert F. Bornstein, Administrator.

In instituting this free Public Service for religious, fraternal, social organizations, Bornstein said, "we will make speakers available to any group desiring information about the hospital's health care services."

Speakers are prepared to discuss such important subjects as the cost of health care or any specific medical treatment.

The Central General Hospital Speakers Bureau consists of highly trained individuals from its medical staff, administrative, technical, nursing and dietary specialists.

For an organization to get a speaker, just call Robert J. Bornstein, at Central General Hospital, 681-8900.

Helen Smith, R.N., of Hicksville, has been named Employee of the Month for June at Nassau Hospital in Mineola.

Mrs. Smith has worked at Nassau Hospital on a full time basis since 1956. Through the years she has given much of herself to patients. Many of them have written to comment on the excellent care she gives. Mrs. Smith has also given much of herself to her co-workers keeping morale high with her sense of humor and enthusiasm for her work.

Assemblyman Lewis J. Yevoll speaks at the Plainview Jewish Center in recent ceremonies honoring the victims of the Holocaust. He urged continued observance and education, "so that the horrors committed against mankind will never be forgotten or committed again."

Tammy Marshall, 13 years old, a seventh-grader in the Hicksville Junior High is the top qualifier for the Long Island Region with an All-Around of 36.50. The qualifying meet was held at Schnaars Gym Center on June 10. She will compete in the Open Division at the Empire State Games which will be held at Syracuse University August 16 to August 18.

The fifth grade classes at Willet Avenue School, under the direction of their teachers Mrs. Sones, Mr. Monfredo and Mrs. Herzlinger, dissected a pig's lung as part of the Seattle-Berkeley Health Curriculum. This "hands-on" activity enabled the students to see, touch and feel the parts of the lung which they are studying this year. In photo: Les Spence and Teresa Coluccio begin dissecting the lung.

letters to the editor . . .

The following letter, to Councilman Clarke is printed by request. Dear Mr. Clarke:

The other day, which was a beautiful day, I decided to hang my clothes outside to dry. Guess what? I couldn't because of the trailer depot just about fifty feet from my back door. The trailers were playing tick, tack, toe, creating clouds of dust and fumes. One trailer jumped the curb. I thought surely it would come into my backyard.

I called Remington Aluminum to complain and according to a spokesman, they have had a lot of vandalism; beer bottles, beer cans, and liquor bottles were found in empty trailers.

There is no security as far as lighting or patrols. This is rather scary, because there is only a six foot fence separating our backyard and the trailer depot of at least 150 trailers.

On another day, also a beautiful day, I opened my back door and in about two hours, about 25 trailers either went out or came into Andrews Road. On another rainy day, writing a letter in my back den, within five minutes 1 trailer came in and 2 went out of Andrews Road.

Today, as I am writing this letter, I am looking at dirty trailer trucks, lined up like railroad cars. This is very depressing when we have a backyard and can't even use it. We can't even open our back door or windows.

We feel like we are living on another Long Island Expressway.

Approximately 20 years ago a variance for building of town houses was denied for this area, so surely a trailer depot on the same property should also be denied.

Thank you,
Helen Rehauser

Antonette Tanchala, left, and Ann Anselmo, second from left, were both recipients of Bethpage High School Scholar Athlete Awards, which were presented during the Annual Women's Varsity Sports Awards Banquet. Oyster Bay Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca made the presentations as Girls Athletics Director Diane Conrad shared the proud moment.

Juvenile Arrested For Bombing

A 15 year old juvenile has been arrested on June 8 at 5 p.m. for throwing a molotov cocktail through the window of the Hicksville High School on Division Avenue, Hicksville on May 13 at 8:45 p.m. The fire caused moderate damage to a teacher's office and was quickly extinguished.

The juvenile, who is a student at the high school, surrendered himself with his parents at the Eighth Precinct Station House and will appear in Family Court at a later date.

A Trip To The Bronx Zoo

On Friday, June 9, Miss Gloger's fifth grade class at Woodland Ave. School went to the Bronx Zoo. The children had an exciting day which began with a ride on the Bengali Express. The children boarded a tram and viewed many Asian animals including tigers, rhinoceri and two peacocks with fully displayed tail feathers.

After lunch and a relaxing tour of the zoo on the Safari ride, the children visited the Children's Zoo. Climbing a spider's web, crawling into a turtle's shell and entering a prairie dog's burrow were a few of the activities through which they learned the various habitats of animals, insects, birds and reptiles.

It was an educational and thoroughly enjoyable day for the children, teacher and parents who went.

Students viewing a display including bird eggs, snake skin, and animal teeth.

"We know when people are ready to buy, they go to the Local Yellow Book...so we have many listings and various size display ads. Phone calls are the lifeblood of our business."

Carl Hyman,
Vice President, Alvres Decorating, L.I.

Alvres Decorating does a lot of advertising in various media and, like so many businesses, they back it up with Local Yellow Book listings and ads. When Long Islanders have already made the decision to buy, their first source of information is the Local Yellow Book — that's your best opportunity to reach your customers.

When it comes to advertising, it pays to buy by the book — your Local Yellow Book — and buy wisely. Consult your advertising representative for advice on how to get the most out of your Yellow Book advertising program. Call 766-1900.

Field Day At Fork Lane

Story and Photos by K. Blicker

Los Angeles may have the Olympics but right here in Hicksville, Fork Lane students were all super athletes...for a day, at least. Field Day began with our cheerleaders giving a rousing cheer, and then the festivities really got under way.

Among the featured events were baton relay races, 50 yard dash, potato-races, cone jumping, tug-of-war, and fast dog races, etc. As parents, friends and relatives cheered wildly, participants gave their all. Students in the lower grades were "coached" by sixth graders who encouraged them to the finish line. Since no one loses at Fork Lane, we had first and second place winners in each grade. First Place winners in Grades 1-6 were as follows: Grade 1 - Mrs. Calzetta's class, Grade 2 tied between Mrs. Green/Mrs. Schmitt's kids, Grade 3 - Mrs. Grib's group, Grade 4 - Mist Mitchell's students, Grade 5 - Mr. Pisani's class and Grade 6 - Mrs. Magrane's students. Bouquets to Carol Weber and Maureen Kuperberg, our gym geniuses, for their hard work in coordinating this annual event.

As an extra bonus, Fork Lane's PTA generously gave of their time and served franks, ices, watermelon and orange drink...on the house! Thanks to Madeline Senn and Barbara Doherty and all tireless-but terrific-moms who helped!

We're No. 1....Mrs. Grib and her "Eagles" proudly display posters and Number One Award (lower left) for third graders at Fork Lane's Field Day.

Future Dallas Cowgirls?? Well maybe...but for now, here's our Fork Lane Cheerleaders!

Vote YES
 on Proposition 2

- A YES vote guarantees that all district transportation (public, private and parochial) and all interscholastic sports including summer practice sessions will continue.
- Voting YES on Proposition 2 removes the "Blackmail" aspect from the budget and will force the Board to present a realistic and educationally sound budget for a 3rd vote before start of school year.

National Westminster Bank 15
Wagner Funeral Home J
 Donna Bates, Jen Pagetti, Diane Testagrossa and Jean Hassan combined for 8 hits, 6 runs and 6 RBI, leading the National Westminster team to its fifth straight win. Coach: Neil Mezeul.

For Wagner's, excellent double play in the third inning. Ball caught by 2nd baseman Diane Esposito and thrown to 1st baseman, Amy Britman for the second out. Coach: Charli Moore.

Hicksville Bike 11
Center Island Pennysaver 1
 Solid team effort for Hicksville Bike. Everyone played great defense and turned in a good hitting game. Chris Proctor struck out 8 and pitched her first shut-out. Kim Stanley at bat and Diane Gargano at SS were outstanding. Coach: Jack Mullin.

Karen Osback had 2 hits and played well at SS for Center Island. Megan Kiley had a good game at first base and Donna Kelly played well behind the plate. Coach: Phil O'Mara.

Northern 5 & 10 12
Wagner Funeral Home 9
 Offense for Northern led by Christine Fiorello's grand-slam home run. Deanna Pitta's double and Stephanie Pitta's 9 game hitting streak. All around solid team defense. Patti Grady good play at first base. Coach: John Harrigan.

Hicksville Bike 16
Northern 5 & 10 15
 Susie Cucci with 3 hits and Chris DellaRatta with 2, led the attack for Hicksville Bike. Diane Gargano at short steadied the defense. Shannon Mullin made 3 sparkling plays at the plate. Coach: Jack Mullin.

News From Bethpage Library

Creative Puppetry Classes at the Bethpage Public Library
 Would you like to become a puppeteer? This summer, the Bethpage Public Library will hold a workshop series in Creative Puppetry on three successive Monday afternoons, July 16, 23 and 30. Classes will be held from 2-4 p.m. for young people in grades 3-6.

During the series, led by Howard Schneider, an experienced puppeteer, youngsters will make puppets and bring them to life by learning appropriate puppet motions, and something about voice and prop work and puppet stagecraft. During the final session, the young puppeteers will put on a presentation of original skits for their families.

Places in the group are limited, so please register early. There is a $4.75 charge per child for materials and instruction. Registration is now open in the Bethpage Children's Room for young people residing in District #21. For information, call 931-3907.

Summer Storytime and Read-To-Me Club at the Bethpage Public Library
 Beginning on Friday, June 8, the children's librarians at the Bethpage Public Library will begin registering youngsters for Summer Pre-School Storytime.

Weekly Pre-School Storytime sessions will begin on Thursday, July 5, and will continue through August 18 for children aged 3½ to 5 years who have had their third birthday on or before Jan. 30, 1984. The programs will include stories, songs, puppets, films and games, and will be held from 10:30 a.m. to 11:15 a.m.

Pre-schoolers and pre-reading youngsters can also join the "Read-to-Me" Club in which family members will keep a record of books read at home to children. All children who have had at least ten books read to them are invited with their parents to our Read-to-Me Party and awards celebration on Thursday, August 23, at 10:30 a.m. to receive their Certificates of Achievement. Please see the Bethpage Children's Room staff for further details.

In order to participate in Pre-School Storytime and the Read-to-Me Club, youngsters must reside in District #21. For information, please call 931-3907.

Jr. H.S. Girls Best Woodmere

On Wednesday, May 9, the Hicksville Junior High School Girls Gymnastics Team opened its season against Woodmere Junior High School. The meet was held in the Junior High School boy's gymnasium. The score was Hicksville 91.1 and Woodmere 61.1.

The team was led by our veterans Tammy Marshall, Renee Rehn, Linda Cusumano and Karen Jackson. Tammy and Renee performed All-Around and scored 36.6 and 28.9 respectively. Linda's best event of the day was floor exercise and her score was 7.8. Karen scored 7.3 on the vault.

Other outstanding performances were turned in by: Danielle Van Mol on vault, Camille Calame on bars, Jacqueline Langlois on beam and floor exercise, Maria Iozzia and Jennifer Nunziata.

On Wednesday, May 16, in a tight race to win, Hicksville defeated Brookside 86.8 to 80.2. Losing only in vaulting by .2, the Hicksville girls rallied to beat Brookside in bars, beam and floor exercise.

Kim Ross shined on balance beam and scored 5.7 for Hicksville. Coach John Pellegrino assisted by Lynn Simonello and Patricia Izzi were very pleased with the team's comeback. Over two hundred spectators watched Tammy score first place again in All-Around with a 33.8. Renee Rehn took second place in the All-Around with 28.4.

Against Long Beach Junior High School on May 21, the girls continued their winning ways. Competing without benefit of Tammy, they won 83.6 to 62.1. Renee Rehn starred for the team winning the All-Around with 30.7 her personal best! Linda Cusumano also hit her season high with an All-Around of 26.1.

On May 23, the team had a more difficult job against a formidable Wantagh Junior High. Yet, they extended their winning streak to five in a row with a score of 87.9 to 77.3.

The final regular season meet was at Baldwin Harbor on Friday, May 25. Coach Pellegrino played the younger gymnasts and still defeated the "Bruins" by a score of 88.1 to 77.1.

The Junior High "Meteors" proudly boasted a 6 and 0 record in its first year. Although Coach Pellegrino hopes to start a Varsity next season in the Senior High, he foresees a winning team for the Junior High School once again.

Congratulations for a great year!

Old Country Rd. Int. Luncheon

Old Country Road School's fifth grade students, under the direction of their teachers, Mr. G. Saul and Mr. H. Zielin, held an International Luncheon on Friday June 1.

We all know that America is a melting pot representing every nationality in the world and Old Country Road's 5th grade classes represent 14 nationalities.

The entertainment included songs and dances from all nations. The food, prepared by the 5th grade parents, was authentic home cooking representing their ethnic background and was truly delicious.

The luncheon was interesting, entertaining and informative. A good time was had by all. A good learning experience.

Our Children

Volume control for noisy teens

By Willard Abraham
Ph.D.

Q. Is it unreasonable for me to ask my two teenagers to turn down their recordings late at night? The noise interferes with my sleep.

My husband tells me to forget it. He's not bothered at all. He could sleep through a hurricane!

But I'm a light sleeper. The loudness keeps me up and actually messes up my whole next day because I just don't get enough sleep.

Do you have any suggestions?

A. I certainly do. It's your house too, and you deserve the kind of privacy that all individuals should have if they want it.

Respect should go in every direction within a family, but just a little more of it ought to be aimed in the direction of the parents. Children sometimes don't understand that, but they will — perhaps in some cases too late to do their parents any good.

It's apparently time for a "family council" to discuss and write down the rules and regulations that will help your home be a more pleasant place for all of you.

I wonder about something which may relate to your situation. How would your youngsters like it if your favorite television program happened to come on early every Sunday morning, just when they were enjoying their "best sleep?" And how would it be if you liked to hear it loud and clear?

Q. I am so tired of hearing people complain in general about teachers. When I mention a specific teacher or ask about good ones their children have or had, they often reply, "Oh, she (or he) was an exception."

I maintain the "exceptions" are as plentiful in teaching as they are in law, medicine or anything else. All fields have both competent and incompetent.

Most of us, at one time or another, have had magnificent teachers, so it is offensive to me to hear people say such awful things about teachers as a whole.

I hope you agree with me.

A. My reactions may be partially discounted by some readers because I have been personally involved in the teaching profession for so many years.

However, that fact may make me even better qualified to comment. I know first hand about the dedication, concern, hard work and tenderness of many teachers who take seriously their responsibilities. The handling of young minds with a sound balance of gentleness and firmness, and the basic ingredients of intelligence, knowledge and self-confidence, are far more common than some people may think.

Teaching does have some participants who should never have entered the classroom, but they are among the exceptions.

Now I suppose I'll hear from some readers who have unfortunately encountered a poor teacher, or more than one. All today's letter writer and I are saying is this: "Talk to some teachers. Find out what they are doing. You may be surprised at the competence of many of them."

As the TV sports reporter, Warner Wolf, frequently says, "Give them a break!"

Q. A woman wrote to you stating that she can reasonably handle a "macho" husband but objects to her son becoming a Boy Scout. She is repelled at the idea of so-called male superiority. The closing statement in her letter was, "I'll try to understand," but what she was really saying was, "Don't confuse me with facts. My mind is made up!"

She is the by-product of today's totally confused and mixed-up female who doesn't know what role to play. I for one cringe when I think of the chagrin on the part of a husband who is forced to live with such a virago.

A. What I suggested to the earlier reader was that she try to force herself to visit a few Boy Scout meetings and note the dedication of many of the adult leaders who place such strong emphasis on the pledge made and lived by a large number of the boys.

I admitted my own bias. It is related directly to the fact that I was saved from drowning by my 13-year-old son who had just received his merit badge in life-saving at a summer Boy Scout camp.

By the way, I always thought I had a pretty good vocabulary, but "virago" was a new one for me. So I checked on it in my handy Webster's Collegiate Dictionary, and there it was!

Your Social Security

National Guard service earns credit

Q. Just before the Korean War, I was in the National Guard for 11 months. Was Social Security deducted from the payment I received? Do I get any quarters for this service? — J.P.

A. There were no Social Security taxes deducted from your National Guard wages. However, you do receive credit at the rate of $160 per month for each month of service. That would give you four (possibly five) quarters of coverage for 11 months of service.

Q. My husband left me over four years ago but we are still married. He is still working. I will be 65 soon and I was wondering, under those conditions, if I would be eligible for benefits on his account?

We have been married 25 years. — V.W.E.

A. You will be entitled to monthly benefits when your husband becomes entitled. At age 70, even if still working, he would be eligible.

You should contact your Social Security office about three months before age 65 to file for Medicare even if no monthly benefits are payable at that time.

Q. I have the following documents to prove my age: U.S. passport, military discharge and U.S. Civil Service I.D. number.

Is that enough? — A.C.D.

A. If your birth was recorded before your 5th birthday or if you were baptized before age 5, you must submit one those documents. If neither document is available then the documents you now have may be sufficient.

Q. I will be 65 in two years. I net $5,000 per year as a real estate agent. My wife earns $4,000 per year working as an employee.

Will our earnings be combined to determine the amount we are allowed to earn and still receive all of our checks (for example, in 1984)? — C.J.H.

A. No. In 1984 each member of the family under age 65 may earn up to $5,160 without suffering loss of benefits. The annual allowable earnings will be higher when you reach age 65 and each member of the family will also be allowed to earn the allowable under age 65 amount at that time.

Would you like to see the menu?
I've seen it already, and it's very attractive.
Coffee?
Yes.
Cream?
Without cream, and if you are out of cream, I'll have it without milk.
Another cup of coffee?
No, too much coffee keeps me awake during the daytime.
Was the dinner all right?
I'll let you know in two hours.
Why do you make such odd remarks?
I just can't stand the same old stereotyped chatter every day.

Youth Injured In Car Accident

An 18 year old youth from Syosset is in critical condition after the auto he was driving struck a legally parked auto on South Oyster Bay Road, 100' South of Wendel Street at 1 a.m. on June 2.

Arthur Teitler of 33 Russell Park Drive, the operator of a 1970 Volkswagen, northbound on South Oyster Bay Road was alone in the auto when it struck a 1972 Toyota facing north on South Oyster Bay Road. The parked auto is owned by William Fanto of 513 South Oyster Bay Road.

Teitler was transported to Central General Hospital, Plainview and admitted with head injuries.

Special Ed. Features Cooking

Cooking is an important part of the curriculum in Mrs. Goldstein's Special Education class at Woodland Avenue School in Hicksville. Aided by Kathy Harkins and Mona Liguori each Tuesday morning, Mrs. Goldstein and the children are seen busily working around their oven. They learn following directions, language, math and science as well as cooking.

On Friday, June 1, they invited their parents and some friends to "Come and Enjoy". They demonstrated how they cook by making hot chicken salad with walnuts, two jello molds and two kinds of homemade bread. For dessert there was a cake, a pistachio cream dessert and honey and nut tatin chews.

After lunch, the children performed for their guests and a marvelous time was had by all.

Oxford Resources Group C

Substance of a Certificate of Limited Partnership filed with the Nassau County Clerk's Office on May 3, 1984. Name and principal office of the Partnership: Oxford Resources Group C, 175 Crossways Park West, Woodbury, New York 11797. Business of Partnership: Purchasing, leasing, financing and selling of automobiles and other motor vehicles. The General Partner and Contribution: Oxford Resources Group Gamma, Inc. 175 Crossways Park West, Woodbury, New York 11797, $18,182. Limited Partner and Contribution: Henry Schein, Inc., 5 Harbor Park Drive, Port Washington, New York 11050, aggregate of $1,800,000; $60,000 paid on May 3, 1984 and the balance in installments from June 1, 1984 through April 1, 1987 subject to acceleration as provided in the Limited Partnership Agreement. Term of Partnership: May, 1984 to December 31, 1997, unless sooner terminated by (a) the termination of all vehicle leases of the Partnership and the disposition by the Partnership of substantially all of its vehicles or (b) the retirement, dissolution, insolvency or bankruptcy of the General Partner where the Limited Partners do not elect to continue the business of the Partnership. The Limited Partners do not elect to continue the business of the Partnership. The Limited Partner is to receive 99% of the profits or income in each year. It is agreed that, subject to the business needs of the Partnership, there shall be distributed to the Limited Partner, beginning within 90 days after the beginning of the 5th fiscal year of the Partnership, the lesser of (a) 50% of the income of the Partnership as reported for Federal income tax purposes and (b) all of the unreserved cash of the Partnership as of the last day of the prior fiscal year. There is no priority in distribution among Limited Partners; there is no right of a Limited Partner to substitute an assignee as contributor in its place and no Limited Partner has the right to demand or receive property other than cash in return for its contribution. No additional substitute Limited Partner will be admitted except with the prior consent of the General Partner and the execution of required documents. In the event of dissolution, retirement, bankruptcy or insolvency of a General Partner, all of the Limited Partners may agree to continue the Partnership business.

Top Runners In Champ Run

The list of top names who have already signed up to run the July 4 Long Island 5 Kilometer Women's Championship Run includes Jean Marie Davis, winner of last month's Newsday/Long Island Half Marathon and Cindy Girard of the Atlanta Women's Racing Team, who was the top New York City finisher in the 1984 L' Eggs Minimarathon in Central Park, finishing 14th overall of the 4692 women who completed that race.

The nationally ranked Atlanta Team will be sending a big contingent of their top runners to compete in the July 4 Run, and most other major competitive clubs in the New York metropolitan area will be entering teams as well.

We're very pleased that so many prominent runners will be coming to Long Island to compete in the July 4 Women's Championship Run," noted Race Director Julie Shapiro. "But what's even more significant is the excitement that the Run is generating among average recreational runners, including those women who've never even entered a race before now. It just shows how much interest there can be in women's road racing on Long Island, and especially in a race that is geared to women runners of all ages and abilities."

The start and finish of the Run will be at Jericho High School, and the runners will follow a 5 Kilometer course through some of the more scenic roads in the Jericho/Brookville area.

The Run is being organized and administered by the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club. Technical assistance is being provided by Finish Line Promotions of Port Washington. Sponsors include Gruntal and Company, the Milleridge Inn, Macrolease International Corporation, the Long Island Savings Bank, Sea Crest Restaurant, Moving Comfort, Inc., Jagbra, Arny's Cleaners of Syosset, and Physical Therapist David Balsley. Latest additions to the sponsor list include Woodbury Super Star Sneakers and Sports and WGSM, who will be supplying some of the many prizes that will be awarded at random to competitors in the Run.

For applications or more information, contact Race Director Julie Shapiro at 364-2750 or POBRRC president Mike Polansky at 433-0919.

Local Student Wins Contest

A local student has been designated as a top winner in the annual Nassau Association For The Help Of Retarded Children's Art/Poster contest.

Lori Auer, a student at Bethpage High School, tied for fourth place in the contest competition with the theme, I Can Be A Good Neighbor If You Will Let Me.

I need?"

"At any
branch."

Ridgewood Savings Bank can give you the helping hand you need—through college...or graduate school...or both. With a government-guaranteed loan at an interest rate of only 8%. And payments that don't start 'til six months after you finish school, with up to 10 years to repay if you qualify. So you can concentrate on your studies instead of worrying about financing them. And take the time you need to get your career started in the right direction.

We know that financing a higher education can look frightening. And we also know how to cut it down to size. With a loan of as much as $12,500 for either undergraduate or graduate studies...or as much as $25,000 if you need to finance both.

To qualify for these vital advantages, and the exceptional 8% interest rate, you must be a New York State resident. Visit one of our seven branches for a personal interview.

Drop in at your Ridgewood branch today, and learn how to make a higher education affordable. Even in these inflationary times.

Most Input Callers Think Pullout Not Important

Most callers to Input do not believe that the Russian pull-out of the Olympics will have much effect in answer to this question: "Do you think the Russian pull-out will ruin the Olympics?"

INDIVIDUALS HURT

The Russians are doing more to deprive the individual contenders at the Olympics than in hurting the over-all Olympic games. Someone who trains for years and hopes to be the best in the world cannot claim that if they win in the Olympics without coming up against the eastern bloc. But just the same people will be interested in the Olympics because enough countries will participate to make it a major event so the Russians cannot in that sense ruin the Olympics. J.K.

TOP PERFORMANCE

The pull-out of the Russians from the Olympics in a sense does ruin the Olympics because it means that the real goal of the Olympics to bring about world unity through international participation is not working. From a standpoint of whether the games will be worthwhile to watch the pull-out will not ruin that. The Olympics will still be top athletic amateur achievements. J.R.

OLYMPIC FINISHED

Yes. The Olympics, like the U.N., has come to the end of the line. The Olympics have not been a way to promote world peace. In fact they have often caused trouble. In many events we have USSR contenders who are really professionals because they get money from the state playing against people from Western countries who mainly maintain their amateur status. The Olympics will go down from this point on. L.R.

POLITICAL INJECTION

It is too bad that President Carter did not foresee what would happen when he pulled out of the Olympics in 1980 as a political protest against the invasion of Afghanistan. The protest did nothing to help Afghanistan but it built a political theme into the Olympics. This hurt the entire concept of the Olympics. Now when the USSR wants to make a political point about Pres. Reagan they have a precedent. D.R.

PROPAGANDA

So far as I can see there is little significance in the USSR withdrawing from the Olympics. They used the wins in those events for world propaganda. Now they will not have that show window. So they will have to go on and make some other kind of world headlines. They will lose more than we will. F.E.

LESS INTEREST

I have little interest in the Olympics and am not sure that they ever were that important. Now the USSR has pointed up that the Olympics are political so I have that much less interest in them. J.E.

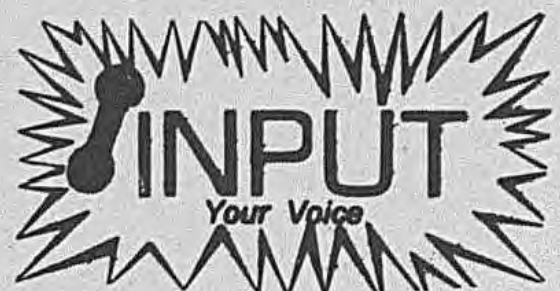

NOT ONE WORLD

The basis for the modern Olympic Games was the promotion of interest in education and culture and better international understanding through the universal medium of youth's love of athletics. Since its inception in 1896, the U.S. has dominated 14 of the events and the U.S.S.R. 5 with the latter achieved since 1956. In 1980, 62 free nations including the U.S. refused to participate as a protest against the Soviet invasion of Afghanistan. Needless to say, that action was politically inspired and now the refusal of the U.S.S.R. and its affiliates are also resorting to politics by withdrawing from the 1984 games for flimsy reasons. This sort of action was not the intent of the originator Baron Pierre de Coubertin whose concept strove rather to bring the world together through the common language of athletics and good sportsmanship. So, there is no doubt that all young athletes either in the free world or in the Soviet bloc will despair of this lost opportunity to compete freely. Chances are that the U.S.S.R. with their own concept of state assistance for amateur development as opposed to our stricter interpretation of the word "amateur" would give them an edge this year. Still, every nation large and small, has high hopes for athletic distinction and the glory of participation. The action of the U.S.S.R. and its satellites won't ruin the Olympics this year but it definitely has demolished its one world concept which is a sad commentary on the vision and depth of understanding in high places on planet Earth in 1984. P.G.S.

PAST ISSUES

Islanders Again

Yes, I do believe the Islanders will be able to recapture the Cup from Edmonton but only if they make a couple of changes. I mean by getting rid of some of the older players and when the younger ones mature. We really need a strong coach and they have to work hard. I could see that they weren't really working hard the last couple of times they played. They don't have the intensity that they had for the first Cup. They wanted to win before but now they didn't have that fire in their eyes.

DISCOVERY

Did Anyone Lose A Cat?

"Oh, No, Not Another Pet"

By Victoria Lemley

Like riding a bicycle or driving a car, there's something else that comes back easily, even if you haven't done it for quite some time. And that's taking in a stray animal.

As a child I grew up in a house full of pets. There was always a big dog that had no idea it was meant to be a yard dog. One of them, "Fuzzy," was a member of the family before I was and at a very tender age I learned I could expect more lavish affection and undying devotion from Fuzzy than I could from either my older brother or older sister. They would say, of course, it wasn't so much affection and devotion as it was long-suffering patience and toleration.

Along with me, Fuzzy also tolerated--at one time or another--five or six parakeets, an equal number of gold fish, three turtles, three chicks and one chihuahua (the "house" dog) with a complex. He truly believed he was a German Shepherd.

The chicks that came with the jelly beans and chocolate bunnies one Easter came with problems, well. One grew up to be a rooster. Until it found a more natural habitat on a farm in Illinois, it dominated our back porch from its perch on my doll bed.

That was the year I lost interest in dolls.

In addition to our own, an assortment of cats and dogs checked in for a few minutes for a bite to eat. Usually their stays ended when the phone rang. Neighbors soon knew who to call if a pet had strayed from home ever so briefly.

If it didn't have six or more legs, a fuzzy body, antennae, go bzzzz, or splat or crunch when stepped on, I brought it home. But as an adult I thought I had outgrown all that.

During my college and career years, I had all to do to manage on my own. After marriage, the care and feeding of a husband seemed enough. After our first child, my husband had his own care and feeding to manage. I really didn't need a pet. But my son did. And a baby sister wasn't a reasonable alternative.

After our first cat, it wasn't long before Brian was reminding me that it was really a dog that he had wanted. "Brian," I convinced him, "a dog will have to wait until you're 12 or your father is scullie, whichever comes first."

While waiting, Brian's science teacher made an offer Brian couldn't refuse: a guinea pig of his very own. All he needed was a note from a parent. I was surprised at how fast I got that note off. My pet-loving past was beginning to resurface.

"Rhoda the Rodent" had hardly settled in when Brian mentioned there were gerbils in the science classroom looking for homes, too. (the condition is obviously hereditary.) While I mentally rearranged my daughter's room to accommodate a cage, Dad said "no." (More than likely Brian will be 24 before we have a dog.)

Since then a stray cat has "adopted" us. Early one evening the doorbell rang. Only a gray and cream-colored cat, wearing a pink collar with bells, with extra toes on its front paws, was there. (Someone from my St. Louis past has tracked me down.) The cat was very loving, very hungry.

As my son and daughter and I think of a good name for her IF we were to keep her, my husband just shakes his head . . . wearily.

But in all fairness to the cat's owners (who must be missing it) and in all fairness to the children (who daily become more attached to it) and in all fairness to my husband (who doesn't), an ad should be placed in the local newspaper. And this is it:

LOST & FOUND

WE'VE FOUND YOUR CAT--a small adorable gray and cream-colored cat that has extra toes on its front paws, wearing pink collar with bells. We'll probably call her "Tootsie." Thanks!

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Victoria Lemley, who has previously contributed articles to the Discovery Section, really would like to return "Tootsie" to her home. Please contact this paper if "Tootsie" may be yours.

Q. How many people does a bottle of champagne serve at dessert time?

A. Normally four. If you're at a wedding-rehearsal dinner or an anniversary party, the toasting might go on for quite a while, so you have to supply twice as much champagne for your guests as you would for a regular dinner party.

Q. If you receive a case of wine as a present, how is it best stored to use for a "very special occasion"?

A. Keep it in a cool dry place, such as a cellar where the temperature is from 55 to 65 degrees (ideally). Make sure that if the bottles are corked, they are laid on their sides (to keep the cork from drying out). A wine rack is very useful for this.

Bottles that are screw-capped may be stored in an upright position on a shelf where it's dark and cool.

Q. What kind of glass is best to buy for wine?

A. There are white and red wine glasses, but today you may buy an "all purpose" wineglass, such as a ten-ounce tulipshaped stem goblet that is suitable for the serving of any wine, including champagne.

The glass should be thin, sparkling clean, with its rim smaller than the base of the bowl.

Q. I've seen people holding the wineglass to the light, twirling the wine around inside, and performing what looks like mysterious ceremonies with wine. What's it all about?

A. Wine lovers will gaze with intense concentration at the color of the wine, holding the glass to the light. They hold white-wine glasses by their stems (so as not to remove the chill from the wine). They will often cup their red wine glasses in the palm of their hand, to warm its contents, and they will swirl the wine around a bit to sniff its bouquet to the fullest. They will take a tiny sip, to test its taste on their taste buds.

"One thing I'm sure of, you're going to like the way DEVINS looks, the owners' goal was to achieve the feel of Edwardian England, but it is sufficiently eclectic to include echoes of New Orleans and Paris.... The fish here is properly fresh and the meat is properly aged, and great care is taken in their presentations. Here, I must pause to compliment the service. No matter how good the main dishes..... the desserts are better."

SIDEWALK CAFE

The Wine Gallery in East Meadow is a fine place to go for a meal. It has its own form of ambience with a romantic sidewalk cafe which can be enjoyed in the good weather.

A party of four went there last week and enjoyed every minute of the visit. The roast beef was wonderful and those who had fish said that they found it good too.

This is the type of restaurant that always seems to exist some place else. We are now glad that it is on Hempstead Turnpike in East Meadow. We recommend it to your readers. G.K.

READER RATINGS

If you have a question about etiquette or dining out you may call them in to We. 1-0027 and we will find the answer.

Q. When restaurants have a coat check hostess is it necessary to check your coat or can you take it with you?

A. The general answer to this question is that if the coats are bulky and will take up a great deal of space that they should be checked. Generally however, the rule is that the man's outer wear is always checked but the women can keep her coat with her if she chooses. In addition in many restaurants they will not check fur wraps because of the liability. For this reason some women do not wear full length coats to a public restaurant and if they have fur wraps they keep them with them.

Q. I have always heard that in choosing wines it is important to know whether the entree will be meat or fish?

A. This is an old custom that red wine is with meat and white wine with fish but it is one that does not have to be followed. Some people will interchange the wines when it pleases them and the old idea is not always followed.

Q. Someone told me the other day that you cannot cut up salads with a knife because it is bad etiquette. Is this true and what do you do with big pieces of salad greens?

A. At large dinner parties there is always a special salad fork put by each person. One edge of the fork is fairly sharp and could be used for cutting up greens in salads. Ideally the salad is cut in small pieces and needs no surgery. But under present rules where you are not provided with a special salad fork it is necessary to use a knife to cut up some greens and should be done.

Superb Place
We have just returned from McKeon's Restaurant in Hicks-Ville. This restaurant was superb because our Sunday dinner was Lobster for only $9.95. The prices were terrific. We had cocktails afterwards and the waitresses were charming. The background of the restaurant was delightful music. It was beautiful. The waiters were dressed in suits and were very helpful to us when we didn't understand the menu. The restaurant also has luncheon specials. I really recommend this restaurant. J.N.

Great Food
I read your paper and visited the Pompei Restaurant. I want to tell you that it was a very, very good place to eat. They have very good food, their service was great and I want you other readers to know about it. J.S.

EXCELLENT MENU
I want to comment about The Point in West Hempstead. Well, the service and the food are beyond excellence. My compliments to the chef on the excellent menu. The waitresses and the host are so friendly. It was a delight to be greeted at the door. I also recommend it for catering a party. You can't beat it. M.R.

OLD SHOP

The Davenport Press is a good place to eat and reminisce about things as they used to be in Nassau County. This restaurant, we were told the other night by one of the staff members, was made over from an old printing plant called the Davenport Press which printed many court records and other things.

You would never guess that a printing shop could be a restaurant, but that is just what has happened. They serve seafood and meat in a continental style but continue the old museum-like setting of the former print shop. We think your readers will like this one and urge them to go there. H.Y.

FIRST RATE

A really first rate restaurant is what everyone in our party said about LaCoquille in Manhasset last week.

It was our first time at this restaurant and we brought guests. The food and especially the vegetables served at LaCoquille are delicious. We had medallions of beef with olive and tomato flavoring. Others in our party had coq au vin which was delicious.

As a starter, we ordered fresh asparagus vinaigrette. The asparagus as other vegetables were cooked to a crunchiness that makes them a special treat.

The service in this small restaurant is superb with your every need taken care of by a pleasant staff.

LaCoquille is a restaurant that we would recommend to anyone who appreciates good food. R.J.

Home-style sushi class

By Toni Griffin

Home-style sushi — a combination of vinegared rice and fresh ingredients — is easy, delicious and just as traditional as the more formal restaurant-style sushi, according to Mineko Takane Moreno, a cooking teacher who is changing the taste of family food for her students.

At a recent class conducted in her sunny La Jolla, Calif., kitchen, the petite teacher demonstrated a clear teaching style in the midst of jumping from one country-style sushi recipe to another. Her delicate appearance is a foil for the 95 pounds of pure power and knowledge easily apparent once the class is in session.

During the introductory comment on sushi, Moreno stated flatly, "Sushi is always served at room temperature, never cold." She then scanned the students' faces to be sure that they had learned that key lesson. Once assured, she relaxed, broke into a wide, brilliant smile and moved on to the creation of a sushi-rice-based salad with vegetables and seafood, "most appropriate for a festive occasion."

"In Chirashi-Zushi salad, you don't have to put everything I suggest in the salad. Or you can add other things. Like squid. But baby octopus doesn't go in here because it's not elegant."

Once the salad was arranged in a large Japanese porcelain bowl, it was covered with thinly-sliced egg crepe and strips from a pleated sheet of nori, cut with scissors. Moreno suggested, "The decoration is up to you — let your personality come out here."

During the class, Moreno shared some tips for home-style sushi making:

— To successfully crush a sheet of dried seaweed (nori), one must have perfectly dry hands.

— Each family has its own style of foods; feel free to improvise on the basic recipe according to your taste.

— To cut raw fish for sashimi, it is easier to slice if you wet a sharp knife with a damp towel. Slice with a swift movement; it will give a cleaner cut.

These recipes were taught in Moreno's class:

2 tbsps. sake kombu
Basic vinegar mixtures
Sweet vinegar mix:
½ cup vinegar
4 tbsps. sugar
1 tbsp. salt
Regular vinegar mix:
½ cup vinegar
1 tbsp. sugar
1 tbsp. salt

Combine prewashed rice and cold water in a rice cooker or pan and let rice soak 30 minutes. Add the square of kombu and sake, bring to a boil over high heat. Cover pan; reduce heat to moderate. Cook about 15 minutes, or until rice has absorbed all water. Reduce heat to its lowest point and simmer another 5 to 7 minutes.

When rice is done, let rest 12 to 15 minutes before removing cover and discarding kombu.

Transfer rice to a large wooden bowl. Pour vinegar mixture over hot rice little by little, mixing lightly so as not to mash the rice. Fan rice to cool as quickly as possible. Rice is ready to use when it has cooled to room temperature.

FUKUSA-ZUSHI

(Vinegared rice wrapped with paper-thin egg crepe)

Sushi Rice:

2 cups short-grain rice
2¼ cups water
1 tbsp. sake
3-inch square kombu, rinsed
Sweet vinegar mix:
½ cup vinegar
2 tbsps. sugar
½ tbsp. salt
½-½ lb. shrimp
2 medium-size carrots
½ to ½ lb. snow peas
4 to 8 shiitake mushrooms
3 tbsps. soy sauce
1½ tbsps. sweet sake
1 cup soak water
2 tbsps. sugar
Pickled ginger root (¼ cup or less)
Nori (as black-green as possible)

Prepare sushi rice with sweet vinegar mix as in Sushi recipe above. When rice is still warm, discard kombu and transfer rice to large wooden bowl. Mix in (do not mash) any of the following prepared ingredients: boiled shrimp, peeled, cut into small pieces; julienned carrots; julienned string beans; cleaned, cooked, sliced shiitake mushrooms; thinly sliced pickled ginger; crushed nori (dried seaweed), or kampyo (dried gourd shavings — wash contents of 1 package).

Form rice mixture into rice balls and set aside.

Egg Crepes:

10 eggs
1 tsp. cornstarch
1 tbsp. sweet sake

Mix together eggs, cornstarch and sweet sake, then strain. Heat a lightly-oiled 6-inch frying pan. Pour in enough egg mixture to cover bottom of pan very lightly. Fry about 20 seconds over low heat, then turn crepe over with fingers to finish second side. Do not allow crepes to brown.

When all crepes are made and have cooled, begin assembling the Fukusa-Zushi. Place a rice ball on each crepe, fold like a package, and tie with a strip of nori or pre-cooked kampyo. Garnish with boiled shrimp, green leaves, or red pickled ginger. Makes 15.

OSHI-ZUSHI
(Vinegared rice with vegetables, seafood or meat pressed in mold)

Ingredients to fill three wooden or plastic molds:

2 cups short-grain rice
2¼ cups water
2-inch square kombu
1-2 tbsps. sake
¼ cup vinegar
2 tbsps. sugar
½ tbsp. salt
1 (7 oz.) can tuna in oil
4 to 5 tbsps. sugar
4 to 5 tbsps. soy sauce
2 tbsps. sake
¼ lb. string beans or snow peas
4 tbsps. mirin
Egg Crepes:
3 large eggs
½ tbsp. Mirin
½ tsp. corn starch
Sesame seeds (white)

Pour whole can of tuna into frying pan. Add sugar and soy sauce and cook for about a minute. Add sake. Turn off heat.

Slice string beans or snow peas very thin. Bring salt water to a boil. Plunge beans in and cook until they turn bright green. Drain and season with mirin.

Mix well the eggs, cornstarch and mirin, then strain. Heat a lightly-oiled, 8-inch pan, pour in just enough egg mixture to cover bottom very lightly. Fry about 20 seconds with low heat, then turn egg crepe over with your fingers. Quickly finish second side.

Packing the mold: Each ingredient is to be placed in the mold, one layer at a time, and each layer must be compacted in turn. First wet mold with vinegar, then put on layer of rice, press it, add layers of tuna, rice, beans, rice and finally a layer of sesame seeds and thinly sliced egg crepe. Put cover on mold and place a 4-pound (approximately) weight on top. Let set about 3 hours to firm. Remove mold carefully and slice sushi with sharp, wet knife.

Note: The wooden or plastic molds are available at Oriental groceries. Moreno prefers the finished Oshi-Zushi unmolded from the plastic mold, "even though it doesn't look as pretty." She explains that it is easier to slide the layered rice from the plastic and that the final look is much sharper.

Other ingredients that can be used for layering include lightly cooked julienned carrots, cooked black mushrooms, shrimp, ham, nori, teriyaki meat.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q. I have an old dining table with a veneer top. There are two places where the veneer has become loose, making two small raised patches or areas, about 3 inches in diameter. Both areas are near the center of the top. Is there any way of making a repair? — Amy J.D.

A. As a rule, veneer blisters such as you describe are quite easily repaired by simply cutting through the veneer across the blister with a very sharp knife or a safety razor blade (the type having a single edge). Work carefully to prevent splitting or otherwise damaging the veneer.

Once you get it cut through, pry it carefully apart at the cut and force glue under both halves. Then place about three thicknesses of heavy paper over the area and weight it until dry. You will need a fairly heavy weight, something weighing at least 25 pounds.

After the glue is dry — and allow plenty of time — lift off the weight, and remove adhering portions of the paper with a damp cloth. Sand the surface smooth and refinish to match the balance of the top. Treat both blisters in the same manner.

Q. Regarding your column early in March, you spoke of refurbishing fiberglass panels with "Cl Brushable Resurfer" from Chemiglas Inc. of San Diego.

We have tried unsuccessfully to get a telephone number for Chemiglas Inc. or to locate the product in the Los Angeles area. Could you please provide further assistance in obtaining this information? — John D.

A. Sorry, but this company must have gone out of business. We have had numerous inquiries such as yours, but have been unable to make any contact or find any traces of the company. Our information originally came from a brochure published by the company named above.

We have recently discovered another product called "Gel-Glass, which is a fiberglass cleaner and sealer, but not a new finish. This is manufactured by T.R. Industries, P.O. Box 1533, Lynwood, CA. This product should be available at many paint dealers.

We regret the misleading information previously published.

Q. I put linseed oil on a piece of unfinished furniture I bought recently. The surface is still tacky. What caused this and what can I do about it? — Clay B.

A. There are two things that must be done after the application of linseed oil. All excess should be wiped off after a minute and then vigorous rubbing is necessary to work the oil into the wood.

Did you neglect either or both of these steps? If so, to correct the condition, rub the surface thoroughly with turpentine until the tackiness is gone. Then apply a new coat of linseed oil, mixing two parts of it with one of turpentine.

Wipe off the excess, rub for about 15 minutes and wait 24 hours, then rub it well again.

Q. Can a water stain on a painted plaster ceiling or wall be repaired with interior latex paint? — Bill K.W.

A. Yes, it can, if the ceiling is first treated with shellac or stain sealer made specifically for this purpose. It is available at paint stores. The sealer will keep the stain from creeping through the paint.

Q. I have an aluminum patio chair that leaves a black stain on clothing. A grayish coating covers the metal. What is this and how can I prevent it? — Tex W.W.

A. An oxide coating forms on many metals exposed to the atmosphere, especially aluminum. The only thing you can do about — and it is only a stopgap cure — is clean the metal and coat the "wear" surfaces with a metal lacquer. Any clean finishing material will do, but genuine metal lacquer will give you the best results.

Q. Can hardboard panels be used on walls around a bathtub? — Clare J.H.

A. Yes, but get the kind that have a plastic surface.

Mainly For Seniors

By John T. Watts

Dear John: I am partially blind and 70 years old. Now, I'm not appealing for help. Quite the contrary.

It seems to me that many things are being done for the blind today, in contrast to only a few years ago when they were stuck in the corner and ignored. — Hazel S.

Dear Hazel: It is good to hear a positive note once in a while instead of criticism always.

As a matter of fact, the American Foundation for the Blind has published a book describing home modifications to help the visually impaired.

It is called "Making Life More Livable," and was designed in large type, with many photographs and illustrations (price $5).

The book examines the home room by room, giving suggestions on improving lighting and preventing glare, using color contrast to make things easier, rearranging furniture to reduce risk of accidents, organizing drawers and closets to make clothing easier to find and placing contrasting-color tape along the full width of steps to improve visibility.

The American Foundation for the Blind may be contacted at 15 W. 16th St., New York, NY 10011.

Dear John: Many of us were so glad to get an address to write about the loud music in TV news and programs.

It's almost impossible to hear the voices, and we are missing so much that it is hard to follow the story.

We can't see the need of it at all, unless the story calls for some soft background music. We shut it off many times as we do not know what they are saying anyway. Turning up the volume isn't any help. The music gets louder and vibrates.

My friends and I do thank you and we hope someday it can be turned down. — Zelma G.

Dear John: Please send me your article on how to take Certo formula.

Please tell me about seawater, and if it is OK to take after having three strokes. My blood pressure is on the low side, I'm 85 years old. Thank you. — Mrs. D.

Dear Mrs. D.: If you are 85 you must be doing something OK. But I'd consult my doctor about any drastic changes.

As to seawater, here again you should talk to your doctor. I know the theory, that seawater contains all the minerals of the earth, therefore it must be good for you.

Dear John: I have been reading about the use of Certo and grape juice for arthritis.

Would appreciate information as to what kind of grape juice, the concentrated frozen type or the processed in a glass jar, and what proportions to use for each product.

Enclosed find $2 and self-addressed, stamped envelope. Many thanks. — J.S.

Dear J.S.: Any grape juice will do, as I understand it. Some readers also report taking the Certo with orange juice or other juices.

Also, some report using other fruit pectins than Certo, with the same results.

Your leaflet should be there by now. It still distresses me that some readers do not send in a stamped envelope — even postcards! Don't they realize the post office won't deliver anything without postage? And I have no way of explaining to them. I can pay for the leaflet printing, but I can't pay for the stamps.

Dear John: you speak about Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida being for senior citizens.

I feel that Claude Pepper is well overrated. He seems to be after the vote or votes of senior citizens, but it is never mentioned that he voted to give away the Panama Canal. — O.C.

Dear O.C.: Pepper is no longer a senator, of course, but is a member of the House.

TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: I've smoked a few joints and popped a few pills and I've tried cocaine (too expensive) but I have never tried PCP.

The group I'm hanging around with is starting to use it (I know it's been around a long time and is considered an out-of-date drug).

It's just a matter of time before I indulge. Please give me the honest facts on PCP. — Nameless.

Nameless: PCP was developed over 25 years ago and was used on humans for a surgical anesthetic but was stopped because patients using it experienced severe problems with speech and vision. It later was reintroduced as an animal anesthetic.

PCP is also known as Angel Dust, Mist, Flakes, Hog and Crystal. A strong dose produces strong side effects — almost total indifference to pain, sweating, drooling, distorted vision, bulging eyeballs.

Dosages higher than 20 milligrams produce seizures or a coma that sometimes lasts for a week.

PCP's "peak" starts about 20 minutes after ingestion, depending upon the way it's consumed, and lasts about 45 minutes to two hours, and the effects wear off in stages. It takes from 12 to 40 hours for the user to feel normal again.

These are the "honest facts." Yes, they are scary but I'm glad they are. Be smart — don't get involved!

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 14-year-old boy and my parents always tell me that I'm not mature enough when I ask them for something special.

When I asked them the meaning of maturity they told me to write to you because once before you wrote a column on maturing. I didn't read it for some reason but they did. Will you please tell me what maturity is? — John.

John: Your letter made me research the "maturity" column and I discovered it appeared in July 1977.

A Mature Person

— Thinks before he acts

— Knows how to make independent decisions

— Assumes responsibilities

— Attempts to solve his own problems

— Knows how to ask for and accept help when needed.

— Can disregard people and things that will do him harm.

— Can make realistic plans for the future

Your parents have been readers of the column for quite some time but since you were only 7 at the time of the original letter on maturity you may plead "not guilty" for not reading it.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 16-year-old girl and I now live with my father and his new wife (I guess she is officially known as my stepmother).

Well, to tell you the truth, my stepmother is a huge pain. Everything I do is wrong and she is constantly on my case.

I was living with my mother and her husband (my stepfather, officially) but I left because I couldn't get along with Fred (Mom's husband).

Lately I have been a nervous wreck and I'm tired of switching residences. Help! — Gina Gina: It's obvious to me that you love and care for your mother and father very much and their divorce has left you with many emotional scars.

Let's be realistic. Your parents have both remarried. They love you but they do have commitments to their new mates.

Relax and try to make the home as pleasant as possible. Do your part. If things are still "uptight," remember you are 16 and it won't be too long until you can be out on your own.

Dr. Wallace: I'm writing in regard to the 13-year-old boy who felt his parents were treating him unfairly because they took away his privileges when they caught him smoking and drinking.

I am now 18 but when I was 15 I was suspended from school for three months because I was intoxicated in class.

Because of my suspension, my parents restricted me to my room for one entire month. This meant no television, stereo or use of the telephone. At the time I was furious and thought about running away.

Now that I look back on this misadventure, I realize that my parents did what they had to do because they loved me.

I want to take this time to let them know that I appreciate what they did. I love you, too, Mom and Dad. I know it's a bit late to tell you this but it's from my heart. — Wanda Wanda: Your letter will make millions of parents feel much better. Parents do not enjoy punishing their teens. They do it because they must.

Q. What can you tell me about my little pitcher?

It is 6 inches tall and is decorated with a monkey dressed as a man. On the bottom is the mark as shown in the enclosed sketch.

A. This was made by Schafer & Vater in Volkstedt, Germany, during the early 20th century. The company was in business from 1890 to 1962.

Your little pitcher should be worth about $110 to $120.

Q. When I asked you to evaluate some old books, you told me that "Winesburg, Ohio" by Sherwood Anderson was worth over $100; it was published in 1919. You told me that my antique Bible (1867) was practically worthless. I don't understand.

A. "Winesburg, Ohio" was a first edition. Collectors seek first editions of well-known authors, even those published quite recently.

There were more Bibles printed than all other books combined. They are not scarce. Most of the American Bibles published before the Revolutionary War are quite valuable; they are scarce.

Q. I believe this pitcher was made in the mid-1800s. It is marked "W & Co., Etruria, Hanley" on the bottom. I believe Wedgwood and Etruria were in business for a short time.

Can you tell me about this and give me some idea of its value? It is also marked "Rd. 53735."

A. Your pitcher was made by Podmore Walker & Co. in Hanley, England. The British Registry number indicates that it was registered in 1886.

"Etruria" is the name of the pattern; it is also the name of a town in England.

Your pitcher should be worth about $75.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Recently I read in the paper about a young boy who got lost in the woods while on a camping trip. Somehow he got separated from the group and for many days no sight of him could be seen. Finally, with the help of bloodhounds, he was found and his worried parents were overjoyed. The boy was tired, hungry and bitten by insects, but a warm bath, a good meal and a full night's sleep took care of his problems. I hope the dogs were rewarded well for helping find the lost camper. Without their wonderful sense of smell the boy might not have been found and the story could have had a tragic ending.

Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are Shelby Homer and Elizabeth Bee. Congratulations! You'll both hear from me soon.

Points On Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. We have heard that many of the breed associations for horses will not allow registration of foals born due to artificial insemination.

We are considering artificial insemination of our mare. What are the advantages in using artificial insemination in horses?

A. Rules regarding registration of foals born due to artificial insemination vary greatly among the various equine breed associations. Some associations will allow registration only of foals resulting from natural service while other associations allow registration of foals conceived in any manner.

Some breed associations do allow artificial insemination if both the stallion and mare are on the farm at the time of breeding. In other words, it is not permissible to transport semen from one farm to another farm.

If you wish to register your foals from artificial insemination breedings, you should contact the appropriate breed association for the most current rules.

There are many advantages to using artificial insemination in horses.

Artificial insemination permits the control of many reproductive diseases. During natural breeding, many germs are introduced into the mare's genital tract. With artificial insemination, the number of germs is reduced below the number required to cause disease in most mares and the diluent or extender added to the semen usually contains anti-bacterials that either kill the germs or destroy their ability to cause disease.

With artificial insemination, the risk of injury while breeding to both the mare and stallion is reduced. Animals of different size can be bred - mares too small to sustain breeding by large stallions naturally can be bred by artificial insemination.

Many stallions that are unable to mount mares because of lameness or musculoskeletal injuries can be used in artificial insemination programs. Breeding stallions, shy because of previous mismanaging or bad breeding experiences such as being kicked by a mare, can often be collected and used through artificial insemination. Semen quality can be maintained by evaluating its quality at each collection. Therefore with artificial insemination, detection of breeding problems usually occurs much quicker than with natural breeding.

Artificial insemination facilitates the breeding of many mares to the same stallion in the same day. This allows booking more mares to any given stallion during a breeding season. Artificial insemination allows mares to be bred at the most opportune time for the maximum chance of conception.

Although there are many advantages to using artificial insemination in horses, it takes a great amount of coordination and attention to details to use it successfully.

Artificial insemination requires accurate detection of heat in the mares, careful collection and processing of semen and correct placement of the semen into the mare's genital tract. Many things can go astray in all of these procedures.

Before embarking on an artificial insemination program you should spend time in training in artificial techniques or discuss in detail how the program will be conducted with your veterinarian.

Your veterinarian can advise you regarding the pros and cons of artificial insemination for your particular situation.

The World's Greatest Grandparents

My Grandparents are the World's Greatest Grandparents because they love me, care for me and treat me right. I think a lot of them and they think a lot of me. I like to spend time with grandparents. The most time I ever spent with them is when my parents went to Hawaii. I slept over for two weeks. It was fun. I love them.

I'd like to introduce Betty and Benjamin Roth the world's greatest grandparents. My Grandmother is the world's greatest cook. She is talented, smart and very helpful. She is always there when I need her. I want to thank her for coming to my school concert.

My Grandfather, used to work at the Met's Stadium. He brought back bats, gloves, and autographed pictures. He is enthusiastic, supports me, and corrects me.

Together they make the perfect couple and the World's Greatest Grandparents.
