Early Deadline

Due to the July 4th holiday next Wednesday, deadlines for news copy and classified advertising will be at 12 noon on Monday, July 2 for insertion in the July 6th edition of this newspaper.

Town Offices Have Holiday

All Town of Oyster Bay governmental offices will be closed Wednesday, July 4, in observance of the Independence Day holiday. It was announced this week by Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca.

"All Town governmental offices will be closed on Wednesday, July 4", Mosca stated, "but all park and beach facilities will be open. Since there is normally no sanitation collection on Wednesday, the holiday will have no effect on the collection schedule."

Mosca noted that there are no special restrictions on the opening and closing times of businesses because of the holiday.

Pedestrian Robbed In Hicksville

The Second Squad reports the details of a robbery that occurred in Hicksville at 2:30 a.m. June 25.

Michael Kelly, age 30, was walking at the intersection of Old Country Road and Charlotte Road when he was approached from the rear by two unknown male blacks who punched him. They then took a wallet from his pocket and fled on foot. The wallet contained personal papers.

Michael refused medical attention. The investigation is continuing.

'Oliver' Film To Be Shown

The Hicksville Public Library will show the film, "Oliver", on Friday, July 6 at 8 p.m. and Saturday, July 7 at 3 p.m. The musical version of the Dickens' classic won six Academy Awards including Best Picture and Best Direction. Fine period sets of the damp cobbled streets of Victorian London and particularly of Fagin's Den of Thieves give realistic flavor to this joyous entertainment. It stars Ron Moody and young Mark Lester as Oliver Twist. The movie is in color and runs about 2 1/2 hours. There is no charge and everyone is invited. The Community Room is air conditioned for your comfort.

Protest Petition Given On Proposed Office Bldg.

The Town Board was given a 101 signature petition Tuesday against the construction of a 10,000 square ft. building on the north side of West John Street, Hicksville. The site is a three quarter acre tract near a number of one family residences. About 30 people were in attendance at the Board meeting and complained that the building would increase traffic on their streets. The Town Board would have to change the designation of the land from residential to business to allow the office building to be constructed. Rockwell Realty is the developer and was represented by Bertram Corwin, attorney.

In another matter before the board, the B. Dalton Co. asked for a special permit to construct a 3,000 square ft. bookstore on the southwest portion of the Plainview Shopping Center. The building would require a reduction in the size of parking spaces and less setback for the building.

Hearing July 31 On Zone Change

The Oyster Bay Town Board has scheduled a public hearing for Tuesday, July 31, on a request for two changes of zone and two special use permits to operate a senior citizen residence home and construct an office building on the site of the former Central Park Road School in Plainview, it was announced this week by Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

"The applicants, Donald Monti, Dr. Ralph Parisi and the Plainview-Old Bethpage School District, are seeking a change of zone from 'D' residence to 'F' neighborhood business and a special use permit to operate a senior citizen residence home in the former Central Park Road School," Clark stated. "The zone change would apply to 4.191 acres of the 5.368-acre parcel, which is located on the south side of Old Country Road with frontage on the west side of Gerhard Road."

"The applicants are also requesting a change of zone from 'D' residence to 'G' general business and a special use permit to operate an office building on 1.777 acres of the parcel," Clark said. "Plans call for the construction of a three-story, 35-foot high office building with a total area of 19,800 square feet."

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. on July 31 in the Hearing Room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond (second from right) was among the presenters at the 13th Annual School and Community Awards Night sponsored by the Knights of Pythias Commuter Lodge No. 833. The evening's highest honor, the Herman Kamfer Memorial Award for scholastic achievement and school service, went to Dina Britvan of Plainview. David Rosenstrach (left) and David Firestone (right), also of Plainview, both received Commuter Lodge Memorial Awards for scholastic achievement. Another award winner was Burton Silverman, chairman of the awards committee, who was named "Man of the Year" by his lodge.

Letters to the editor...

To the Editor:

The chronicles of Hicksville will show that the community grieved, indeed, this past week as a beloved pastor and two most active veterans group leaders were taken by death. In the passing of Reverend Dr. Roland J. Perez, Pastor of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, and of Past Commanders John Sheppard of the American Legion and Daniel Hoison of the Amvets Posts, Hicksville was diminished. These were men who gave long years of service to God and community, contributing to the welfare of many in this village and the island at large.

To be present Monday night at St. Stephen's, Hicksville's historic 'English' Lutheran Church, as older residents knew it, was to be with people of many faiths honoring the memory of Pastor Perez who died Friday. The large turnout of his congregation, friends and community representatives for the memorial service was a tribute to one who was active for 15 years in so many areas of service.

This writer's records and newspaper clippings tell of pastoral leadership and inspiration; his organization of programs for handicapped children and his role as proponent of interfaith understanding and cooperation. We will remember, too, that as a citizen, Pastor Perez did not shrink from a call to Democratic political candidacy, in the early seventies, when the impact of a blighted West Broadway aroused his Zola-like anger and eloquence.

Those present in the charming little Tudor church Monday evening for Dr. Perez's memorial service were a most ecumenical gathering. Among those Hicksville religious one glimpsed were Pastor Theodore Grant of Redeemer Lutheran Church who rendered a warm eulogy; Father Frederick Harter, Pastor of St. Ignatius Loyola R.C. Church; Father Domenick Ciannella, Pastor of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church and Pastor John Krahn of Trinity Lutheran Church.

This participant found the requiem service more exultant than sad and in a beautiful setting the altar he served, his religious colleagues in their beautiful robes once more with him in ecumenical company, and the church and basement hall ringing with the old hymns dear to all Christians and, especially, to the Pastor: "I Know That My Redeemer Lives"; "Praise to the Lord"; "The Strife's O'er, The Battle Is Done"; "Onward Christian Soldiers" and the recessional hymn "For All

The Saints

In eulogizing his deceased friend, Pastor Grant recalled Pastor Perez as a man of varied experience and talents, as one who had the opportunity and the ability to serve in larger churches, but who preferred to respond to the pastoral call of St. Stephen's and the Hicksville community. There are many in Hicksville who are thankful that he chose to spend his ministerial years in our vineyards.

Sincerely,
Richard Evers

To the Editor:

It is with deep sadness that we learned of the passing of Dan Hoison, a dedicated and active member of this community for many years in the service of Veteran affairs and activities.

Dan loved his country with a passion, and served it well in times of war and need. He gave his life to the service of his fellow Vets, right to the end, for he was a loyal and loving comrade.

We have know way of knowing how many hearts he touched with his out-pouring gift of giving, but we do know that he will be remembered here in Hicksville, for Dan Hoison has established his own legend in town, one that commands respect, love of duty, honor and devotion to our country. May God bless Dan Hoison, for he blessed Hicksville.

Sincerely,
Bill Bennett

Woman's Club Installs Slate

Recently the Woman's Club of Bethpage held its annual installation dinner. This year's event was held at the Linden Tree Restaurant in Hicksville. Officers for the 1984-1986 club years were installed by Maia Gaiti, past President of the club. President - Virginia Wolski; Vice-President - Marge Saum; Treasurer - Dolores Parry; Recording Secretary - Louse Haugen; Corresponding Secretary - Laurette Beattie.

The outgoing President, Jacklyn Bless was presented with a gift from the members in appreciation for her service for the past two years.

The new club year begins in September. Fund raising activities are already being planned for fall, and many members are participating in the Woman's Club of Bethpage Golf League at Hollow Hills Country Club in Dix Hills every Tuesday.

"We Wish You All A Healthy and Happy Summer".

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby (left) and Clinton Smith, Supervisor of Conservation and Waterways, check out D.W.I. signs that have been placed at Town marinas and boat launching ramps as part of the Town's ongoing D.W.I. Awareness Program. With the easy accessibility of both the Atlantic Ocean and inland waters on the Town's south shore and Long Island Sound on the north shore, boating is one of the most popular summer activities for Town residents. The signs are to remind people about the hazards of drinking and operating a boat. Colby urges boaters to limit their intake of alcoholic beverages, to space drinks and to provide food so that the effects of any alcohol are lessened. In other words, Think Before You Drink.

In Memoriam

John Sheppard

Past Commander Sheppard of the Charles Wagner Post 421 American Legion, who died this past Sunday, in his quiet, determined way left a legacy of sterling service to his post and the Hicksville community of which he was a part for over 30 years. Few American Legion leaders have shaped the development and destiny of their post as did John Sheppard, who served as Commander in 1971-72 and held most other vital post chairmanships at one time or another.

John Sheppard came later to Legion membership than many veterans. Once a part of the Hicksville Legion, this veteran of U.S. Army service in Hawaii during World War II, utilized skillfully the talents which carried him to chief teller's position in his 40 years with the New York Citibank system.

He will be remembered for his most effective chairmanship of the Post 421 Bingo Committee which, in less than ten years, paid off the Charles Wagner Post building expansion mortgage of $100,000. John Sheppard not only raised funds for his post, he saw to the wise and generous use of that portion of bingo game proceeds which, by law, must be utilized for charitable causes. His support of the Hicksville American Legion's Child Welfare Youth and School programs was unstinting. This writer may attest to Commander Sheppard's ready expenditure of bingo funds for the Legion's Boys State Program; the high school Oratorical Competitions which, in the eloquent late Barry Lebowitz, took Hicksville to the State Finals and the Annual School Award Programs for school service and excellence in American History.

With Mae, his enthusiastic wife and help-mate, John was equally faithful in maintaining the Charles Wagner Post's program of visitation and entertainment to the handicapped children at the Suffolk State Home. Almost every American Legion program in Hicksville, these last 15 years, bears the influence of this dominant but devoted veteran's leader.

He was not well these last years, but John Sheppard never lost his interest in his post and community's welfare. His place in Charles Wagner Post's annals and Hicksville's history will be significant and memorable.

Daniel Hoison

Hicksville Veteran's organization ranks were notably thinned this month with the deaths of two leaders who were prominent in community and servicemen's affairs, Past Commander Daniel Hoison of the Robert O. Ulmer Post of the Amvets and Past Commander John Sheppard of the Charles Wagner Post of the American Legion.

Dan Hoison who died on June 19, represented that type of veteran's and civic leader whose club activities and personal contacts were legion; there are few in Hicksville leadership circles who did not know Dan, particularly in the unceasing activity of his retirement years.

A veteran of active service with the U.S. Navy in World War II, Mr. Hoison came to Hicksville some 35 years ago, after spending his earlier life in Indiana, Texas and Florida. Employed for many years by the Oyster Bay Town Highway Department, he was a most active person in his free hours. His many vigorous activities belied his age which was 75, at the time of his death.

He was a Committeeman of the Hicksville Republican Club and served on the Board of Hicksville's H.A.D. (Health-Aid-Direction) organization.

But, Daniel Hoison is best remembered for his contributions to the programs of Hicksville war veterans. He served as Post Commander for the Amvets, and was active in many functions involving The United Veterans Organizations of Hicksville, such as the planning and execution of the community's annual Memorial Day Parade and Service.

Active with Amvets color guards during the American Revolution Bicentennial years, and since in the Town of Oyster Bay Bicentennial and Historical Commission's patriotic programs marking the Fourth of July and the Annual Pilgrimages to the Grave of President Theodore Roosevelt, Dan was a marching vet, until the last year or two.

Outspoken on issues of bungling government, America's honor, veterans' welfare and our men missing in Vietnam, Dan Hoison will long be remembered.

Hicksville Mourns Rev. Dr. Perez

Rev. Dr. Roland Perez

Rev. Dr. Roland J. Perez, Pastor of the Lutheran Church of St. Stephen died June 22, 1984, 15 years to the day he preached his first sermon at St. Stephens.

Called to the ministry after a career as an accountant, married and with two children, Rev. Perez attended the Lutheran Theological Seminary of Philadelphia. He served one year as assistant Pastor of Epiphany Lutheran Church in Hempstead. After serving five years as Pastor of Advent Lutheran Church, Elmont where he began a Sunday School for handicapped children, he answered the call to serve as Pastor of St. Stephens. During his 15 years as St. Stephen's Pastor he was also one of the co-founders and present treasurer of the Ecumenical Consultation Center. Eight years ago he began the St. Stephen's Nursery School with seven children and one class. This year's registration totals 12 classes and 175 children. Rev. Perez also wrote a column for the Metro N.Y. News, a synodical paper. His "Pastor on Pictures" won two awards for best column category with his articles on "The Verdict & E.T."

Born March 18, 1932, Rev. Perez was 52 years old. He is survived by his wife, Edna, daughters Elaine Ciacco of Fishkill, Lynette, Janet, son John and brother Robert of Hempstead.

Services were held on Monday, June 25 at St. Stephen's. Officiating were: Rev. Winston S. Bone, Assistant to the Bishop of Metropolitan N.Y. Synod of Lutheran Church in America; Rev. James R. Corgoe, Pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Farmingdale; Rev. Dr. Theodore Grant, Pastor Redeemer Lutheran Church, Hicksville. A morning prayer service was held on Tuesday, June 26 before interment at Pine Lawn Memorial Park, Pinelawn.

Rev. Perez is best remembered by his parishioners as "a man who was extremely well read, and devoted to the pursuit of learning in an attempt to serve his people and his Lord to the best of his ability. He was always diligent in his duties to his congregation. Pastor Perez was really involved with his people. He was our friend as well as our Pastor."

All contributions should be made payable to St. Stephen's Lutheran Church for the Pastor Roland J. Perez Fund.

AN ADDED TRIBUTE

The staff of the Ecumenical Consultation Center mourn the passing of their respected colleague and beloved friend, the Reverend Dr. Roland J. Perez.

A co-founder of the Ecumenical Consultation Center, Rev. Dr. Perez served as its Treasurer and Director of Pastoral Services from the time of its inception to the present. Through the interest and generosity of Rev. Dr. Perez and his congregation of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, the center was given the church building at 30 Grand Avenue, Hicksville in which to establish and maintain its offices.

The Ecumenical Consultation Center staff offers its sincere sympathy to the Perez family and to the congregation of St. Stephen's at the time of their great loss.

Arrest Two In School Breakin

Two youths have been arrested for burglarizing the Hicksville Junior High School, Second Street and Jerusalem Avenue, Hicksville by entering through a broken side window some time between 6 p.m. on June 16 and 8 a.m. on June 17. They went to the chemistry class and stole one pound of solid sodium metal, in can emersed in kerosene.
A 16 and 17 year old youth were arrested.
The container was recovered in a sump on the north side of Burns Avenue, Hicksville. The Nassau County Bomb Squad has it in their possession. Apparently the youths had taken small amounts of the chemical and thrown it in the water. No injuries were reported. No traces of the chemical were found at the scene.
Both subjects will be arraigned on the Burglary charge at First District Court, Mineola.

Postal Workers Give Blood

The right to save a life inspired Postal workers to donate 201 pints of blood at the Hicksville Post Office Annual Blood Drive.
A young woman misses a turn and goes off the road; a father of three has emergency open-heart surgery; a baby is born with a rare disease. What do these different people have in common? They must all have blood transfusions or they will die.
"The generosity of Postal employees in helping those in need always makes me proud of my fellow workers, especially now when blood is in such great demand," stated Anthony M. Murello, Hicksville Postmaster.
Over 600 pints of blood are needed daily for the patients in Long Island's 41 hospitals.

However, this goal is not easily met because most Long Islanders are not aware of this great need. To make up the deficit, about one-third of our area's total supply must be collected from volunteer donor centers in Europe where there is a surplus of healthy, voluntarily donated blood.
"You are one of a kind because you took the time and you cared enough to come down here and donate your blood. I am proud of you and you have every right to feel proud of yourself. What you have done here will be gratefully accepted by those unknowns who will benefit from your positive action," said Ruff Huebner, Hicksville Blood Drive coordinator.

Oyster Bay Town Clerk Ann R. Ocker presents a proclamation declaring June 21 "Dog Bite Prevention and Awareness Day" to Robert Plotti, Manager of Deliveries and Collections at the Hicksville Post Office. Mrs. Ocker was one of the speakers at a program sponsored by the Post Office at the Parkway School in Plainview to help increase awareness about the hazards faced by letter carriers who deliver mail to homes where dogs are not leashed or confined. Plainview postal carrier Frank Bonfiglio dressed as a dog for a skit that was part of the program. Mrs. Ocker was recently appointed by the Commissioner of the State Department of Agriculture and Markets to serve on the New York State Advisory Committee on the State Dog Law.

Auxiliary Police Attend Int. Games

By Eileen L. Heym
Officers of Hicksville's Auxiliary Police Unit 312 have volunteered their time and expertise in response to the request for trained personnel to assist Nassau County Police by providing security at the International Games for the Disabled. The need for manpower was particularly critical during President Reagan's appearance at Opening-Day Ceremonies on June 17. Because of their record of excellence in the field, Auxiliary Police Officers were assigned to cover posts for the County Police while they attended to more urgent matters. In addition, Hicksville Auxiliary Police officers have served at various posts in and around the Games sites at the Michel Park complex in Uniondale in an effort to free the County Police for emergency duties.

The International Games present two major concerns: security for the athletes (who have traveled from around the world to participate) and consideration of the possible problems of mobility that the disabled athletes and spectators may encounter. In preparation for dealing with these aspects, all Auxiliary Police volunteers were required to attend a training seminar at Police Headquarters before receiving clearance to perform security-related services at the Games. Like their counterparts from other communities in Nassau County, the Hicksville Auxiliary Police have helped to ensure the safety of the athletes and spectators at the International Games for the Disabled.

More Parking At Library

Patrons of the Hicksville Public Library will be able to use additional parking on Second Street, east of Jerusalem Avenue. Through the cooperation of the Town of Oyster Bay and Hicksville Public Schools, two hour parking is now permitted on the south side of Second Street at all times. Hopefully, patrons will no longer have to cross Jerusalem Avenue to use the library, a convenience mothers with children will appreciate. May we suggest that you visit the library and pick up programs of events scheduled for the adults and children this summer?

Fee Charged To Reserve Books

As of July 1, the Hicksville Public Library will charge a nominal fee of 15¢ if a patron requests a book to be put on reserve. If you wish to reserve a book that is not in the library, simply write out a reserve slip which may be obtained at the Circulation Desk (no reserves are taken by phone) and when the book is back, the library will hold it for one week after notifying you by post card. This service is available to Hicksville residents only.

Thomas L. Clark presents a citation to Eugene Timothy Reilly in recognition of his being awarded the rank of Eagle Scout, Boy Scouting's highest honor. Eugene, who is a member of Hicksville Troop #293, received the award as his proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Reilly (left) and Scoutmaster Wesley Villazon looked on.

Wendy Marshall, 9 years old, competed at Schnaars Gym Center on June 23 in the Sears A.A.U. Junior Olympics in the 9 and under age group and won the All-Around (28.90). She also won 1st Place in Vault (7.80) Beam (7.50) and Floor (8.50) and 2nd place on Bars (5.10). The top three girls in the 12-14 years and 15 and over groups qualified to go to Jacksonville, Florida August 15 to 19, to compete at the Nationals.

THE OFFICE CAT

By Gabby Tabby

THE SUNDAY schedule will be in effect on July 4 on the buses in the county. Bus information is available by calling 222-1000 Monday to Saturday. You may have to wait a little but the information will be given in time... A QUESTION that is becoming a larger issue every year is whether school district votes are really getting the best candidates and budgets for the districts. A survey of the local races would be cause for doubt. They have turned into a way for residents to vent their prejudices, but little else... FORMER GOP Boss Joe Margiotta, it is said, is presently as disillusioned with his own party politicians as many voters have been with all politicians for years. Joe apparently thought that politicians, when dealing with other politicians, would keep their promises... SOMEONE asks us what ever happened to "freedom of choice"? No, not in regard to abortion. In regard to seat belts in cars... SORRY to hear Hicksville's new VFW Commander, Tony Chepek, is in the hospital. ## Most Input Callers Think Hart Will Be Veep

While most politicians seem to be denying it, callers to Input believe that Gary Hart will be selected for the Vice Presidential nomination on the Democratic ticket in answer to this question: "Who do you think would make the best Democratic Vice Presidential nominee?" Here are some of the answers:

HART BEST

In spite of everything else that has been said and written I think that Gary Hart will make the best vice presidential candidate. He has a following of his own and he can bring that following to Mondale. While Hart is far away from the Mondale positions on many things he is still a liberal Democrat and that is what Mondale needs to make the ticket a complete one for the Democrats. D.S.

"GENDER GAP"

I seems to me, that Ferraro will be the next Democrat Vice Presidential candidate. Because of the "gender gap" that has been fostered by Reagan there is more need now for a woman to be on the ticket and this would be a way that the Democrats could demonstrate with actions what they have said in words. J.R.

NEED LUSTRE

Hart will be the Vice Presidential candidate. He only missed being the presidential nominee by a little bit if he could have kept the momentum going. The party is not that keen on Mondale, not because they do not think he is a good man but because they are afraid that he will just lack some of the lustre needed to win the vote of the public. Hart will be an asset in that direction. K.E.

MORE VOTES

Mondale will have to promise something to Jesse Jackson and something to Geraldine Ferraro but he will give the Vice Presidential spot to Gary Hart. The answer is simple politics. It will be the same as the reason John Kennedy gave the spot to Johnson. It can spell more votes. G.R.

NOT A WINNER

It does not really matter who Mondale takes for Vice President, he is not going to win because the country is satisfied with Reagan and the country wants a return to the more conservative politics that Reagan stands for. It will probably be Mondale and Hart but it really won't matter because that ticket, or any Democratic ticket, is not going to come close. S.E.

BETTER SELECTION

Hart is the best selection for Vice President. In fact I think he is a better selection than Mondale because he has more charisma to offer a ticket that would be devoid of it without him. Reagan has not got it to offer but many people agree with his stands, particularly when he goes to them directly via the media. Mondale and Hart can give him a good run. A.J.

BAD CHOICES

Out of the hundreds of millions of Americans, there must be some one who would make a good vice presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket. But, chances are the number two man will be a personality in good standing with the party hierarchy and who will be a person of proven liberal ideology sympathetic to a proliferation of federal spending programs and expensive bureaucracies. Assuming that Mondale becomes the chosen presidential candidate, I can't imagine a worse choice for the second spot than one of the other two current challengers. Reconciliation is in the dictionary but Hart and Jackson have already gone beyond the point of no return in debate declarations and other public utterances. I don't think that it is yet the moment for a woman or a black to occupy the job for either party, for that matter. I can't help but think that Kennedy or Cuomo might still be called upon despite their disclaimers. Aside from that, there are good young Democrats on Capitol Hill who might appeal to the "yuppies" but, who am I, a Republican, to try to tell the Democrats how to win the election! P.G.S.

HOLLINGS CHOICE

The best Democratic Vice Presidential nominee, I feel, if Mondale becomes the Presidential nominee, would be Ernest Hollings who holds a lot of esteem in the south. Mondale might let these votes get out of his hand but Hollings wouldn't. I think the combination would be a powerful one. But, next to the guy who's up there now, they would never make it. H.S.

PAST ISSUES

HIGHER DEPOSIT

Yes, I believe that raising the return deposit on cans and bottles will lure many back to the stores and machines to collect their rightful money. When buyers realize that the prices incline even more they will demand their share of the return money. Returning cans and bottles may appear as a hassle to many but paying more for these products will increase their incentive to do so. The 10¢ deposit would especially attract kids. Some would even go out to littered areas for cans and bottles to return. So with all these aspects, raising the deposit on cans and bottles to 10¢ would be a success. E.M.

What's Safe For Breakfast?

By Gail Parker

While sorting through my pantry the other day, I was impressed by the number of foods that have been either singled out as being a potential health problem due to either contamination or by the presence of dangerous chemical additives.

It has become quite a challenge in determining what is safe to eat. We are confronted with numerous pesticides, sprays and preservatives used on foods which may tamper with our health.

Bread and stored grain products including flour, noodles, cereals, rice, stuffing, breading mixes and cake mixes have recently been found to contain high concentrations of EDB, a pesticide sprayed on grain which has been found to be high carcinogenic. Citrus is also treated by this spray. Long Island potatoes are sprayed with Vydate, and this has posed a problem in that traces have been found in the underground water supply.

Past problems have existed with mercury found in canned tuna fish and in the canning process for salmon. Cold cuts and hot dogs as well contain nitrites, which are converted by cooking into nitrosamines, other cancer causing substances. Meat and poultry still retain the chemicals consumed by cattle and chicken that is sprayed on the grain they eat which ultimately gets to our table.

The saccharin scare has produced a safe substitute: Nutrasweet. However, it has been found too costly to use alone and is, therefore, combined with saccharin. We should not get overly confident with this innovative replacement for when we start tallying the daily grams of Nutrasweet consumed in diet foods and beverages, we may find ourselves back where we started with saccharin consumption still a problem.

My concern extends into the area of pet foods: I am surprised that no concern has been elicited on our pet's consumption of grains. Ingredients listed on dog food products are: ground corn, wheat flour, soybean meal, corn gluten meal, ground oat groats, etc. Also similar substances are noted on meat by-products. Wouldn't the spraying of these grains constitute a threat to our pet's health as well?

Water is one of our most precious resources and utilized daily for cooking and food preparation. Long Island water has been contaminated by irresponsible companies who dispose of their toxic waste materials into landfills. Wells have been shut down and reopened. There are controls and regulations but enforcement continues to be the problem. Yet, we are not helping as residents by using chemical pesticides, drain and cesspool cleaners to pose a threat to our own underground water supply and to our health.

The optimum situation would be a return to a natural and chemical free way of life. Unfortunately, as long as a chemical industry exists and continues to operate as big business to permeate our lives with potential health hazards, we do not stand much of a chance in maintaining good health. I question the old advertising slogan "better living through chemistry."

What are we coming to when we can't safely offer bottles to babies? Nitrosamines have been found in the rubber nipples on bottles and yet they are used with confidence under the guise of safety. Some years back, specific lots of prepared infant formula was found contaminated and recalled.

We as consumers must band together as a unified force and start making demands on product safety. Data must be made available to the public, apprising them of the content and composition of chemical additives.

As of this writing, to my knowledge, we are left with dairy products for breakfast. We experienced a problem with milk some years ago when radiation was found in the milk of cattle when nuclear testing was done. Bags of pesticide were also inadvertently mixed and put in cattle feed in Michigan and got into the food supply.

I thought that salad might be a nutritious lunch, and then I remembered something else: Although recent studies have concluded that cabbage, carrots and broccoli are among the safest vegetables to eat and act as a deterrent to cancer, these and other greens are sprayed with the very chemicals that are carcinogens. Is there any way to win?

What's for dinner? Your guess is as good as mine. I prefer to close right here. Let's keep our fingers crossed that by morning there are no subtractions from our already limited list of foods.

HISTORICAL AND GOOD

Last week we went to the Milleridge Inn in Jericho. This large restaurant is like a trip into another world. It has the historical approach to hospitality with the hostesses garbed in American continental dresses. The buildings are all wonderfully restored Revolutionary era buildings. The floors are wonderfully shined and add to the special feeling of going to the Milleridge Inn.

The food is exceptionally well prepared and the menu is a large one. Our party of four found it to be a wonderful time and we recommend it to everyone. H.F.

WONDERFUL CUISINE

Koenig's restaurant is one that defies time. It has been around for a long time but every time we go there we are well satisfied with the wonderful continental cuisine.

Koenig's is a place of good decor and it is a very comfortable restaurant. The establishment caters to large parties but if you come there with just two people, as we did, you are made welcome. The menu includes beef, chicken and veal and there is a large assortment of fish dishes. The prime ribs we chose were great and we think Koenig's in Floral Park is No. 1. Y.T.

"One thing I'm sure of, you're going to like the way DEVINS looks, the owners' goal was to achieve the feel of Edwardian England, but it is sufficiently eclectic to include echoes of New Orleans and Paris....The fish here is properly fresh and the meat is properly aged, and great care is taken in their presentations. Here, I must pause to compliment the service. No matter how good the main dishes.... the desserts are better."

"GOOD OLD DAYS"
All of the good places are not gone. For many years we have been going to Lauraine Murphy's in Manhasset. And it appears that last Saturday several hundred other people had the same idea. But after a surprisingly short wait, considering the number of people who appeared to be waiting, we were seated in the inner dining room at Lauraine Murphy's. The place had not changed. They still serve the warm popovers at each meal. The food was great. Most in our party had roast beef with one holdout for scallops but everything came out wonderful and considering the number of people that must have been served that night it is nothing short of a miracle. We surely recommend Lauraine Murphy's to your readers. H.J.

LIVELY PLACE

I like to go to a lively place for dinner because it makes it more than just a meal. You can have a whole night's entertainment by going to Gaetaway Harbour in Freeport on Friday and Saturday night.

We went last week, had a wonderful meal, and enjoyed the entertainment of a group that kept us in top spirits during the meal and after. There is nothing like live music at a restaurant and we are glad that the Gaetaway has it. We recommend this wonderful restaurant and its entertainment to all of your readers.

F.W.

If you have Questions about etiquette or dining out you may call them in to WE 1-0027 and we will find the answer.

Q. In a good restaurant that we attended recently an accordion player came around to each table and asked whether we had any requests. My wife made a request and the musician played it. Is this music provided by the restaurant or should I have tipped? J.B.

A. Generally the musicians are paid by the restaurant to entertain all of the diners. But when you make a special request it is expected that a small tip will accompany the request. In this case $1 would have been a fair tip.

Q. What do you do if you enter a restaurant and some friends at another table tell the waiter to see what you are drinking because they want to buy you a drink and you do not drink? E.R.

A. There is no set answer to your questions. You obviously have some generous friends who do not know your habits. The best thing to do would be to inform the waiter that you do not drink but you might make a gesture with a water glass towards your friends table as a toast.

Q. How much can you ask a waiter about the food on the menu without seeming stupid? P.L.

A. The answer to that is that you would be stupid not to ask any questions but to eat something that you obviously do not like. Most waiters are glad to explain what ingredients go to make up a particular dish and some will even check with the cook to find out a specific thing for you. Remember restaurants call you a "guest" and it is up to them to make you feel like one.

CUT ABOVE OTHERS.
 We have been to many Japanese restaurants. There seem to be more and more these days. However, the Umai on Merrick Road in Merrick is far above all of the others so far as we can see.
 They, for one thing, do not give tiny portions that are the going fare at many Japanese restaurants. The decor is excellent and relaxing like a trip to Japan and if you order Sukiyaki it will be prepared at your table as ours was. The taste, plus the aroma make it one big event. The Umai Restaurant is a cut above all other Japanese restaurants. G.R.

GOOD FOOD

We went last night to Ming Garden which is a pretty new restaurant in Garden City. It was our first trip to this restaurant and we were pleased with it. Ming Garden is located at the office buildings at 200 Garden City Plaza so it has plenty of parking.

The restaurant is decorated tastefully in brown and pastel colors not completely in the traditional oriental style but very nice.

We were extremely happy with the special complete dinner which included several different dishes as part of the total meal. The cooking covers all the different forms of Chinese cooking, Mandarin, Szechuan, Hunan and the well known Cantonese.

We would like to recommend this good restaurant to your readers.

CROWDED BUT GREAT
The Arbor Inn in Rockville Centre is a fine place to go. We went there last week and were very pleased with nearly everything. The food was just great from a fine continental menu. The service was exceptional and our only unfavorable comment is that the wait was a little too long (one half hour). In talking to other people at the restaurant they all agreed that it was worth waiting for but that if you come on inbetween days such as Monday (they are closed Tuesdays) that the wait is non-existent. The fine cabaret type bar does take up much of the slack in waiting so it is still a great place. R.B.

It's never 'just' desserts with juicy peaches

By Bob Gonko

During the peak summer months, orchard-sweet peaches are perfect for cool and refreshing ideas, from juicy pies to cool par-faits. This honey-sweet fruit wins consumer approval for its delicious versatility, fuzzi down.

Use fresh peaches in milk shakes or pureed into fruit punch. Party desserts and frozen treats can be something special when prepared with peaches.

Some peaches have carried a few celebrities to immortality.

Such as Peach Melba. It was inspired by Australian opera star Nellie Melba, who sang in major European cities during the 1890s. Her stage name was a shortened version of her hometown of Melbourne.

One of her admirers was the great French chef, Escoffier, who was in charge of the Savoy Hotel's kitchen at the time of Melba's London triumph. He dedicated a new dessert to her.

His creation, peches Melba, actually was an improvement over a dish called peches cardinal, in which peaches were served with a raspberry or strawberry sauce (for the red hat of a cardinal). He served the dish with vanilla ice cream, carried on the wings of an ice swan, the hero of the opera "Lohengrin," in which Melba was singing.

Escoffier also created another famous peach, peches Eugenie, for Empress Eugenie, wife of Napoleon III of France. It's made of ripe peaches and maraschino liqueur and served with champagne sauce.

The classic Melba recipe involves making vanilla ice cream, poaching peaches and creating a raspberry sauce out of the fresh fruit. Here's a quicker version served in many Paris cafes.

QUICK PEACH MELBA

4 fresh peaches
1 pint vanilla ice cream
6 tbsps. raspberry jelly
3 tbsps. water
1½ tbsps. lemon juice

To peel the peaches, scald in a pan of boiling water for 30 seconds; drain, rinse under cold water and peel with a knife. Cut peaches in half and chill.

To make the raspberry jelly sauce, gently heat the raspberry jelly, water and lemon juice, stirring until smooth. Let cook, stirring often.

To serve, place scoops or spoonfuls of ice cream in each of 4 deep dessert dishes. Top with peach halves. Spoon a little sauce over peaches. Serve the remaining separately.

What's a better way to enjoy fresh peaches than with a homemade pie? Minute tapioca acts as a thickener without affecting the taste or the fruit flavor.

PEACH CRUMB PIE

½ cup sugar
¼ tsp. salt
3 tbsps. minute tapioca
4 cups sliced fresh peaches
2 tbsps. lemon juice
1 unbaked 9-inch pie shell
Crumb topping

Combine sugar, salt, tapioca, peaches and lemon juice; let stand 15 minutes. Pour peach mixture into pie shell and sprinkle with crumb topping. Bake at 425 degrees for 45 to 50 minutes or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst.

Crumb topping: Combine ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar, ¼ cup all-purpose flour, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened. Mix with pastry blender or fork until crumbs are the size of large peas. Makes 1½ cups.

If you are interested in trying an unusual combination of flavors, try this recipe for chicken with fresh peaches. The chicken is marinated in an Oriental-style sauce, then sprinkled with four different spices and baked. Fresh peaches and water chestnuts go into the pan shortly before the chicken is ready. Rice complements the dish

CHICKEN WITH FRESH PEACHES

- ¼ cup soy sauce
- ¼ cup water
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1½ tsps. finely chopped fresh ginger
- 1 large clove garlic, finely chopped
- 3¼-lb. frying chicken, cut up
- ¼ tsp. anise seed, crushed
- ¼ tsp. ground allspice
- ¼ tsp. ground cloves
- 2 large fresh peaches, quartered
- 1 (8-oz.) can water chestnuts, drained and sliced

In 3-quart rectangular baking dish, stir together soy sauce, water, onion, ginger and garlic; add chicken in a single layer, marinate 2 or 3 hours, turning several times. Turn chicken skin side up; stir together anise, allspice, cinnamon and cloves; sprinkle over chicken.

Bake everything in a preheated 350-degree oven 50 minutes, basting several times; add peaches and water chestnuts; bake until chicken is tender and peaches are heated through — 10 minutes longer. Serve with rice. Makes 4 servings.

FROM OUR KITCHEN

OLIVIA & PAUL BENSEN

Cornish game hens

By Olivia and Paul Bensen

You can find Cornish game hens in the frozen food section of almost every supermarket. They are small, averaging about a pound each, and are far better in many poultry recipes, in our opinion, than chicken.

The surprising thing is that so few people, in our experience, have any idea how to cook them. Often, when we've served game hens to company, they've said, "Oh, those are beautiful ... so that's what you do with them!"

Game hens cost, on the average, about $1.75 for a 1-pound bird, which is a perfect serving for one person. This makes game hens a best buy among festive entrees to serve at a special dinner.

For Indian and Pakistani recipes calling for chicken, game hens are unsurpassed. They have much less fat than chickens available in this country, and so are much more similar to the chickens raised in India and Pakistan, which are kept outside to forage for themselves, and do not develop as much fat as our cage-raised chickens.

Like the foraging chickens of many other countries, game hens require a bit longer cooking time for their size than our domestic chickens.

The Oriental ingredients listed are available in Oriental food stores. If you have trouble finding them, all are available (along with thousands of others) from Meriapi Inc., 139 White St., Danbury, CT 06810; 203-743-9761.

5-SPICE GAME HENS (Siu Yea Gai)

- 4 Cornish game hens
- 1 tbsp. five-spice powder
- 2 tbsps. hoisin sauce
- 1 tbsp. plum sauce or duck sauce
- 2 tbsps. black bean paste (or chili paste with garlic)
- 1 tbsp. sherry
- ¼ cup dark soy sauce
- 1 tbsp. maple syrup

Wash hens and pat dry. Mix five-spice powder, hoisin, plum (or duck) sauce and black-bean paste (or chili sauce) and sherry. Rub cavities of game hens with half this mixture, and skins with other half, and salt. Refrigerate overnight.

Preheat oven to 350 F. Mix soy sauce and maple syrup and rub into skins. Roast, back up, for 30 to 40 minutes, then turn breasts up and roast another 30 to 40 minutes, or until golden brown. Serve with pan juice. Serves 4.

GAME HENS IN INDONESIAN HOT SAUCE

- 2 tbsps. hot water
- 2 tsps. tamarind
- 2 game hens, halved
- 1 tbsp. fresh lemon juice
- 2 tbsps. chopped onion
- 2 tsps. chopped hot green chili pepper
- ¼ tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. ground coriander
- ¼ cup chicken stock

Stir hot water and tamarind together and allow to stand for 15 minutes. Strain liquid into bowl and set aside. Discard seeds.

Rub game hen halves with lemon juice and allow to sit for 15 minutes.

Finely chop onion and chili pepper, and mix with salt, sugar, reserved tamarind liquid and coriander; make a paste using mortar and pestle (or whatever you have available for the purpose). A food processor, if you have one, can be used effectively for this step.

Add chicken stock to the paste and whisk (or process) until thoroughly mixed. Transfer to a large skillet and set aside.

Grill game hen halves over a charcoal fire for about 5 minutes on each side (or broil for 5 minutes on each side).

Place skillet over moderate heat and simmer reserved sauce for 3 minutes, stirring continually. Add the grilled game hens and baste with sauce for 10 minutes, or until most of sauce has evaporated.

Return game hens to charcoal grill (or broiler), and cook 3 to 4 minutes on each side, brushing often with remaining sauce. Serves 4.

(This recipe, though it's intended for four, allows only one-half game hen per serving. If you're cooking for people with hearty appetites, you may want to double it, serving each person two halves.)

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q. As readers of your column we would appreciate any suggestions on the following problem:

We had black Italian slate laid in our entry way. The installer covered the slate with some kind of an acid bath. The installer also left several of his hand prints in various places. He then covered the slate with an acrylic coating which has jelled in spots.

The solutions offered have been to remove the slate entirely or have another acid employed. Can you help with our problem? — Mrs. James W.

A. I am not sure I can cope with your problem, but I can offer some suggestions.

First consult with the company from which the slate was purchased. This is to determine what type of remover can be used to take off the present finish. If the dealer cannot supply this information, some of the things you can try are paint removers, naphtha or lacquer thinner.

If successful in removing the present finish, wash the slate surface well with 1 cup of trisodium phosphate mixed in 1 gallon of warm water. Rinse well and dry. Then finish with a colorless terrazzo sealer which is recommended for slate.

After the slate floor has been thoroughly cleaned and allowed to dry, a coat of sealer will make the floor easier to clean and keep clean. Spread the sealer thinly and rub out well.

Being non-porous, slate will absorb very little of the sealer — just enough to adhere, but it is not the purpose to build up a surface coating.

The richness of the slate can be improved somewhat, without producing an artificial luster or sheen, by waxing, either with the solvent type or a water wax emulsion.

If the present finish cannot be removed, replacement of the slate may be the only solution to your problem.

Q. I desperately need some expert advice on how to deal with a concrete carport. It is not covered, and unlike garage floors, it has a rough finish and is so very porous that grease and car stains are apt to become indelible.

Concrete contractors have suggested that the rough surface should be ground down to a smooth surface and then sealed with a product called "Rainproof." However, the new surface would only last six months and would take yearly applications to be even semi-satisfactory. The lowest bid for the job is $700 and I really cannot afford renewing the sealer every year.

I would be most grateful for any ideas you might have to help me solve the problem.

Could I apply the sealer without grinding down the present surface? Please come up with something brilliant. It is a very awkward situation as the carport is directly in front of my door and grease is not neat. — Patsy N.

A. It should be possible to put a thin coating of cement over the rough surfaces, a treatment which will also fill the crack and indentations and level any low spots.

To do this, use a concrete patching material and concrete glue. (One brand name is Red-E-Crete topping material and Red-E-Crete concrete glue.) Be sure to follow instructions on the container carefully.

This may be somewhat expensive if you have a contractor do the job, but it should be permanent. After resurfacing, a masonry sealer should be applied.

Q. We remodeled our bathroom and installed tile on one wall.

My husband was grouting this wall and in the process, he got sick and let the grout dry on the tile and on some of our fiber glass bathtub surfaces. How do we remove the grout? I have tried everything.

Help! — Debra K.

A. To remove the grout, clean with a solution of muriatic acid. 1 part acid to 9 parts water. Pour the acid into the water and wear rubber gloves and cover the eyes with goggles, as the acid is very dangerous.

Apply with a stiff brush and rinse thoroughly, then dry. Be certain to cover or mask any surrounding area to prevent the acid solution from causing damage to these areas.

Meninose Nev Syborlie, which is quite similar to multiple sclerosis in that there is deterioration of the Mylen Sheating covering the nervous system. — Peter K.

Dear Peter: First off, I'm not sure we have that disease spelled correctly. I never heard of it before and I can't find it in my unabridged dictionary.

Maybe some doctors would know, but as I frequently tell the readers, I am not a doctor. I am just a communicator who tries to pass on information from seniors to seniors. So much of it is about arthritis because so many of my letters are about arthritis.

Which, you might say, brings us to ocean water. Yes, I am familiar with Dr. Crane's work. Many years ago as a young copyreader I had to edit his columns. The theory is that all the elements of the world are in the seawater and should help anyone. But, like in other things, you have to try them out for yourself.

TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: I am a mature 14-year-old girl who happens to have a disagreement with her parents.

When I invite a boy over to our house and we go into my bedroom, my parents insist that the door stay open. Sometimes I enjoy watching television, listening to my stereo or just having a private conversation with the boy.

I would like to keep my door closed for more privacy. My parents are willing to let me shut the door but only if you agree. Please agree. — Wanda.

Wanda: Sorry, but I see no reason to keep the door shut when you have a boy visitor. When you are alone, yes.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 14 and I care for a certain boy very much. I thought he cared for me, but I guess I was wrong.

Jimmy and I were sort of going together until I injured my back in an automobile accident (not seriously).

Because of this I couldn't invite him to a party at a girlfriend's house so I asked my best friend (she was also invited) to go with Jimmy.

I wanted her to do me a favor. Well, she did herself a favor instead. Now Jimmy and she are going steady and I'm mad as heck and don't know what to do about it.

I'll be able to walk in a couple of days and I'm tempted to punch a former good friend right in the nose. Help! — Bonnie

Bonnie: Don't put all the blame on your best friend. After all, Jimmy must have wanted to go with your friend. I'm sure no one twisted his arm.

Instead of wasting your energy punching someone's nose, put it to good use by getting well. There are many boys in San Pedro who will make you forget all about Jimmy.

Dr. Wallace: When I was 10, my parents were divorced and my mother remarried when I was 12. She was in love with my stepfather but because I was a spoiled brat, I talked her into divorcing him, too. The reason? I felt she was paying more attention to him than she was to me.

Since the last divorce (over a year ago) my mother has not dated one guy and I'm worried about her social life. I'm sure it's because she doesn't want to risk getting married and having me spoil things again.

I really feel guilty when I go out because Mom sits home all alone and I can't do anything about it. I'd appreciate anything you can do to help matters. I'm 15 years old. — Connie

Connie: Total, open, honest communication with Mom will make things much better. Tell Mom that you feel guilty about her last divorce and that you believe she has no social life because of you. It is possible that Mom's lack of interest in dating has nothing to do with you. After the discussion you should feel much better.

Dr. Wallace: Please help me. I'm going steady with Eddie and I care for him very much. Eddie had to leave town for a month and I met a guy named Bob and went out with him about 10 times.

When Eddie came back, I cooled it with Bob but I still think about him. Oh, yes, I still care a lot about Eddie.

I've got a big problem but I don't know how to solve it. Please help. I'm 15 years old. — Judy

Judy: You shouldn't be going steady. Why tie yourself down to one guy when there are thousands of guys to choose from?

Dr. Wallace: I realize that you have spent a lot of time in your column discussing the evils of driving drunk and while I agreed with you, it really didn't sink in until it touched my life.

Last month, a dear friend, 14, was killed when the car she was riding in struck a tree. Another teen was killed and a third is in critical condition. The only one in the car who was drunk was the driver, and he escaped injury.

Dr. Wallace: I can't explain how badly I feel about this "accident." Even though I know my letter can't make a difference, I felt I had to write to you. — Barbara

Barbara: One letter can make a difference, especially when it is read by millions of teens in the United States and Canada.

Your message is to the point. Teens, don't ever ride in an automobile when the driver has been drinking. Even one drink can impair a driver's judgment.

Thanks for sharing your letter with our teen readers.

Mainly For Seniors

By John T. Watts

Dear John:

I am 69 years old and in general good health on the basis of a recent medical physical examination. My problem is impotence as of the past two years.

I would appreciate information that I might possibly receive in this matter. Is a penile implant an effective and reliable solution to this problem? — George B.

Dear George: You can contact someone right in your own home town. Contact the American Medical Systems, Consumer Information Department, P.O. Box 9, Minneapolis, MN 55440.

A number of booklets are available, also a list of urologists who specialize in implant surgery.

Dear John:

— Please forward my letter (enclosed) to James and give him a chance to correspond with me.

I'm not selling anything or even in business. But I have lots of material, some of which may help him.

The problem (impotence) is not something you can solve with the information given. Other factors must be considered and it will require communication. Many thanks. — Betty.

Dear Betty: Unfortunately we have lost or mislaid James M.'s address, but hopefully he will see this and communicate.

You are always taking a chance in asking us to forward something to another reader. We try, but with thousands of letters received, regularly the ones we want to get our hands on are not where they should be — that is, filed with the column in which they are used.

We'll send your letter if we hear from him.

Dear John: I have on quite a few occasions read regarding the benefits of apple cider vinegar and honey for people who suffer from arthritis, but I am curious to know if this also relieves the stiffness that arthritis patients generally have, particularly upon first arising in the morning.

My wife was diagnosed at Mayo Clinic some 8½ years ago as having — Harrad's disease and she is so stiff for the first several hours after arising in the morning that she needs a wheelchair to get around, and can then eventually maneuver with the help of a walker.

My question therefore is, is it possible that if she were to take the apple cider vinegar and honey, do you in your opinion feel that it may relieve at least some of the stiffness for her, and does it relieve stiffness of arthritis patients?

You have most likely read Dr. Crane's articles on arthritis and ocean water. If you can give me any information or know where I can obtain information, as to the possible benefit of ocean water or anything else that might be of benefit to a patient with Vivie

Plaque made in Germany

By James G. McCollam
Member, Antique

Q. I would appreciate any information you can provide about my Mettlach plaque, No. 2625. I have checked several books but can find no information about it.

Q. I have a small 7-inch pitcher decorated with chrysanthemums on a brown luster background. The enclosed mark is on the bottom.

A. Your Mettlach plaque was made by Villeroy & Boch in Germany during the late 19th century. It currently is selling for $275 to $325.

There is a matching beaker, No. 2368-1093, selling in the $75 to $95 range.

BOOK REVIEW: "Stieff Teddy Bears, Dolls, and Toys:" by Jean Wilson and Shirley Conway; Wallace-Homestead Book Co.; 1501 42nd St.; West Des Moines, IA 50265; $14.95, plus $1.25 postage, or at your local bookstore.

This book contains hundreds of Stieff products dating from 1893 to 1955. Every page is packed with pictures and valuable collecting information, plus current prices.

Q. This antique table is made of mahogany and is decorated with black and gold. I know it is about 150 years old but I would like to know something about its style and value.

A. This is an exceptionally fine example of Early American Empire. It was made in the first quarter of the 19th century.

A table like this would sell for at least $3,000. It was probably made in New York.

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, stamped, self-addressed envelope, and $1 per item to James G. McCollam.

JUNIOR EDITION

Aunt Tilly's Corner

We have all been reading lately about the Special Olympics in Mitchel Park. This is an annual event in which handicapped persons from all over the world engage in athletic competition.

It is good for people without handicaps to realize how much the handicapped can do. Sometimes the real handicap is other people's attitudes, rather than the handicap itself, for many of these people.

Of course, it is also true that everyone has a handicap in the sense that nobody is perfect. Sometimes we are unreasonably fearful or perhaps not very good at doing something. Or we find it hard to talk to people of different ages or races or religions from ourselves.

It is just not a perfect world out there. Perhaps if it were, it would also be boring!

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are George Mazarakis and Erin Ormond. You'll both be hearing from me soon!

Wobbles a very serious disease

Q. Our yearling quarter horse colt was recently diagnosed as a "wobbler." Our veterinarian did not give us any encouragement in terms of treating the condition, nor was he very precise regarding the cause of wobbles.

Please enlighten us. We are quite distraught about our colt.

A Wobbler syndrome, also called ataxia of foals, wobbles of foals and equine incoordination, is a serious lameness disease of young horses.

Signs of the wobbler syndrome may appear at any time from birth to 3 years of age. However, the majority of cases appear prior to 2 years of age.

Wobbles of foals has been reported in Thoroughbreds, standardbreds, Arabians, American saddlebreds, Tennessee walking horses and quarter horses. Although unreported, it probably occurs in other breeds of horses, as well.

The disease begins as an incoordination of the hind legs. Wobbles always involves both hind legs. As ment usually occurs within the first few weeks, though it is rare for diseased horses to show any great improvement.

Early in the disease, dragging of the toes of the hind feet occurs. Many affected horses experience difficulty in turning. Horses with wobbles appear to be normal in every way with the exception of the rear limb incoordination. Affected horses have normal body temperatures, normal appetites and normal body functions. Most affected horses degenerate to a certain level of incoordination and then remain that way indefinitely.

The cause of wobbles in foals is complex and not well understood. It is possible that the disease is inherited. The disease can be transmitted by non-wobbler horses. Many horse owners believe the cause of wobbles is injury to the spinal cord. However, it appears that the disease makes the foal more accident prone and the accident blamed for the condition is really secondary.

Nutritional deficiencies and worms also have been listed as causes.

Diagnosis of wobbles of foals is usually based on the clinical signs. If recovery occurs, it is very unlikely that the condition was wobbles. Horses with incoordination of the hind limbs without other noticeable signs should be suspected of having wobbles.

There is no known cure for wobbles. Although corticosteroids have been reported to be helpful, most affected horses usually suffer relapses. It is very rare for horses to recover from this disease.

Severely affected horses should not be used for breeding animals since the disease may be heritable. The offspring may either be affected with the disease or carry the genetic factor for the disease.

Your veterinarian was correct in not being too encouraging regarding wobbles in your foal. Much research needs to be done to discover the causes and effective treatment for this very serious disease of young horses.

The World's Most Beautiful Grandchildren

We traveled thousands of miles to Australia to see our first grandchild.

Born on December 8, 1983, Katelin Rita Organ is pictured here on her Christening day wearing the same Christening dress her father wore 30 years ago. She has a personality and smile that melts everyone.

Katelin lives in Seaforth, Australia with her loving parents, Tom and Julie Organ.

There's no doubt, our granddaughter is the world's most beautiful grandchild.

RUSTING NAILHEAD DISCOLORING PAINT

WHEN YOU ARE REPAINTING, DON'T PAINT RIGHT OVER A RUSTY, PROTRUDING NAIL HEAD. THE RUST WILL COME THROUGH THE PAINT SOONER OR LATER. COUNTER-SINK THE NAIL, AND SEAL IT WITH PUTTY OR WOOD DOUGH. SAND SMOOTH WHEN DRY.

YOU'LL SAVE TROUBLE BY COUNTER-SINKING AND SEALING NAILS WHEN YOU BUILD, IF YOU INTEND TO PAINT.
