Town Considers Increase In Some Disposal Fees

The Oyster Bay Town Board has rescheduled a hearing to consider increases in the disposal (tipping) fees for tires and bulky items and for disposal from open body containers. The hearing is scheduled for Tuesday, August 28, beginning at 10 a.m. in the Town Board hearing room.

The Board will consider increasing the disposal fee for tires and other bulky items from the current $1.70 per hundred pounds to $1.95 per hundred pounds, effective September 1, 1984.

In addition, the Board will consider increasing the disposal fee for open body containers to $9.00 per cubic yard. The Department of Public Works, after a thorough review of disposal fees, has recommended that the fee for disposal from open body containers should be based upon a basic volume to weight ratio, rather than the current $2.80 per cubic yard rate which does not take into consideration the actual weight of the debris which is disposed of from open body containers.

The Board will not consider an increase in the basic disposal fee which applies to most solid waste.

The hearing is scheduled for Tuesday, August 28, beginning at 10 a.m. in the Town Hall East hearing room, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Holy Trinity Sets Oktoberfest Plans

Under three colorful tents, Holy Trinity Diocesan High School will again host its annual Oktoberfest in Hicksville. Having grown to be one of the major Oktoberfests in New York State and, indeed, the country, last year the Oktoberfest hosted over 30,000 visitors.

During the eight day event, Adam Barthalt and his orchestra, together with the Schlierachtaler-Stamm Dancers are the key entertainers around whom the other top names perform. Some of the entertainers are The Knickerbockers, the Foehrer Musik-Freunde, The Daminos International Orchestra, and a variety of German and Polish folk dance groups. The New Image Drum & Bugle Corps, (formerly St. Ignatius Girls Cadet Corps) will also be performing at this colorful event.

Rides, family games, and a Las Vegas casino will add to making this year's event even better than ever.

To celebrate German-American Week/Nassau County, a mammoth parade will be held through the streets of Hicksville on Sunday, August 26, at 1 p.m. Some of the best bands on Long Island will be participating in this fun-filled experience for the whole family.

A Roman Catholic Bavarian Folk Mass will be held prior to the parade on the Oktoberfest grounds. The time for this Mass is 10 a.m.

The dates of the Fest are: Friday, August 24 - 7 p.m. - Midnight; Saturday, August 25 - 3 p.m. - Midnight; Sunday, August 26 - 2 p.m. - 11 p.m.; Thursday, August 30 - 7 p.m. - 11 p.m.; Friday, August 31 - 7 p.m. - midnight; Saturday, September 1 - 3 p.m. - Midnight; Sunday - September 3 - 3 p.m. - 11 p.m. General Admission: $3.50 - Senior Citizens: $1.75 - Children under 12 Free when accompanied by an adult. Thursday Night Special: August 30 - General Admission $2.50, Senior Citizens $1.00.

For a truly memorable Oktoberfest experience, be sure to include this event on your calendar of summer "musts".

Moment Of Silence Approved By Bd. Of Ed.

Special to MID ISLAND TIMES
By Valerie Pakaluk

Voting 6-1, the Hicksville Board of Education officially adopted the controversial Moment of Silence for beginning school day exercises at the regular monthly meeting held on August 1.

In casting the one dissenting vote, Vice President Arlene Rudin commented that her vote was representative of the peoples' vote at the polls in June. Mrs. Rudin remarked that 1/7th of that tally was against reinstating the Moment of Silence. Rudin also said the Board was simply adopting State law, which in her opinion, was not necessary since the District is bound by State Law in any case.

Trustee Lawrence Wolfson added his comments prior to an affirmative vote. Wolfson said that he felt the Supreme Court would be ruling on a decision in November or December and he would have preferred to wait until then to take official steps to readopt this policy. He requested, and received, permission to re-evaluate the matter at a later date.

President of the Board, William Bennett, in casting the final "aye" vote was congratulatory in his remarks about community support on this issue. Mr. Wolfson, however, pressed for Bennett to condemn the public's actions in outbursts at public hearings and harassment to the Rubin family. Mr. Bennett replied "This is an emotional problem and generates this type of behavior in people because you take away something they had."

Charles Cunningham, head of the recently formed Coalition group that campaigned for passage of the referendum (thanked the Board for its actions on behalf of himself and the Coalition, Cunningham voiced disappointment in the fact that the vote was not unanimous.)

Commander of VFW Post 3211, Tony Chepak, gave Mr. Bennett a silent hand salute as he left the meeting. Reached later for comment, Mr. Chepak said he was disappointed in the 6-1 vote. He felt the community had expressed its wishes loud and clear in June. Chepak also said he predicted that Silent Meditation would become a national referendum in the future in addition to being a local matter.

The District will be looking for families to host a 3-week visit from 15 Italian students and their teacher and/or headmaster this Fall. The exchange opportunity has become possible because of Hicksville's recent entry into the American Field Service Program. An equal number of Hicksville students will have a chance to visit Rome in the Spring, also under the auspices of AFS. On August 10, a young student from Portugal will be arriving to spend the school year with host family, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rudin. This also has been made possible through the Field Service membership.

The Board is seriously considering eliminating one of their two meetings per month and scheduling a single general meeting for the purpose of conducting Board business. During discussion of this change of format, Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Catherine Fenton, reminded the Board that many neighboring school districts operate efficiently on a one meeting per month basis. Voting is scheduled for August 29.

William Gagnon was appointed as District Supervisor of Fine Arts and Ms. Ruth Jacobsen's resignation was approved during the personnel portion of the meeting. Ms. Jacobsen, serving as Supervisor of District Instruction, left the District to become a Principal of a K-3 school elsewhere.

In other Board business, approval of a Comprehensive Staff Development Plan for the 1984-85 school year was granted. The plan includes surveying teachers of their knowledge and use of curriculum materials available. An agreement to accept a grant in the amount of $1000 from the Nassau County Department of Drug and Alcohol Addition to purchase supplies and materials required for the Seattle/Berkeley Health Program was approved. And, the Board approved the application and proposal for the ECIA Chapter 1 Remedial Program for 1984-85. The grant, for public and non-public schools, is funded by the State Education Department, in the amount of $180,803.

The next meeting of the Board of Education is scheduled for Wednesday, August 29 at 8:15 p.m. in the Conference Room at the Administration Building.

Italian Students To Arrive Here

Buon giorno! This Italian greeting will become a familiar one in Hicksville when 15 high school students from Rome and a teacher or headmaster from their school arrive on September 17 to begin a three-week stay under the auspices of the American Field Service student exchange program. The process began when the Mayor of Rome felt that students would benefit from living and learning in an American community where the Italian language and culture are part of the school curriculum and community life. Hicksville, a new member of the AFS family of local chapters, was selected because of the fine language program in the district as well as the presence of a large segment of the local population of Italian descent.

The students will attend Hicksville High School, taking classes in English, American History, science and math. Their teacher will serve as a guest lecturer for our Hicksville students. The group will also visit the Junior High and the elementary schools to talk about their country and customs and inspire interest in the study of foreign language. They will leave Hicksville on October 6 to begin their return trip to Rome. On the other side of the exchange, fifteen students from Hicksville will have the opportunity to travel to Rome during the winter or spring to live with Italian families and attend a Roman high school.

The district is now seeking host families for the students and their teacher for the period beginning September 17 and ending on October 6. Families who are interested in welcoming an Italian student into their homes as a temporary member of the family are invited to call Dr. Robert Couillard at 733-2091 or Alayne Shoenfeld at 733-2089. This exchange will be an exciting experience for the visiting students, the host families and the entire Hicksville community.

Office Building Permit Granted

A request for a special use permit to construct a four-story office building in Plainview has been approved by the Oyster Bay Town Board, subject to certain restrictive covenants, according to Town Councilman Douglas J. Hynes.

"The applicant, Executive Management Company, sought the special use permit in order to construct an office building on a 2.76 acre parcel of land located in an Industrial 'H' District (Light Industry) on the southwesterly side of Ames Court and the westerly side of Executive Drive in Plainview," Hynes said.

The Board has imposed eleven covenants and restrictions on the office building construction, including that the building is limited to four stories in height, that all waste and debris be stored in closed containers and that all lighting shall be directed onto the premises and not spill over into adjacent areas.

Births

The glow around Sev and Grace Knudsen's house on Kuhl Avenue in Hicksville is because they just became grandparents for the first time. It's a beautiful 7 lb., 8 oz. little girl!

Their son Stephen and his wife Eileen, who live in Huntington Station, are the happy and proud parents. They have named this little angel Sarah Elspeth Knudsen.

Sarah's maternal grandparents are Tom and Eileen Wilson from Elmont. Sarah's Mom's sister P.J. is a very proud aunt and, of course Kenneth and Bill Knudsen are very proud uncles of this lovely little lady.

As Grandma Knudsen was quoted as saying, "Believe me when I say Happiness is being a Grandparent."

E. Dist. Elk Jr. Golf Tourney

Hicksville Elks Lodge #1931 sponsored two local young men in the Elks' Junior Golf Tournament. It was held at Glen Cove City Municipal Golf Course on Saturday, July 28. Hicksville Elks Lodge sponsored Patrick J. Cowan (better known in the junior golf world as PJ) from Hicksville and Roy Larson from Levittown. PJ was the Nassau-Suffolk County Catholic School champion this year. He played for Holy Trinity. Roy played for Levittown Schools and has baseball and swimming trophies to go along with his golf ones.

There were three age divisions in this tournament: 12-14, 15-16 and 17-19. PJ won the 15-16 division shooting a one under par 64. His low score of the entire tournament won him a trophy for low gross. While Roy took second place in the 17-19 division. Roy won a trophy for longest drive (250 yards) on the 17th hole. Hicksville Elks youth chairman, Artie Senior made the presentations to the young men. Both boys will continue on to the Elks State Junior Golf Tournament in Endicott, New York. They will hold this final phase of the tournament at En-Joie Golf Course in Endicott. All expenses will be paid by the Elks as part of their youth programs. We wish all the entries well but hope to see some trophies come back to Long Island.

'Tootsie' Film At Library

Friday evening at 8 p.m. on August 17 at the Hicksville Public Library, the film, "Tootsie" will be shown in the Community Room. The film is about an intractable and largely unemployable New York actor, played by Dustin Hoffman, who wins a major role on a soap opera by dressing as an actress. He becomes the person he is impersonating and his personality is refashioned by the role. The imposture grows wilder, more complex, and more heart-wrenching as the film goes on. Stars Dustin Hoffman and Jessica Lange. There is no admission charged and everyone is invited. Since this film is on the Adult Program, children must be accompanied by a parent.

In Service

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Richard J. Walkowaki, son of Frank S. and Evelyn C. Walkowski of 17 Fulton Avenue, Hicksville, was graduated from Field Medical Service School.

During classroom instruction, practical application periods and field training exercises, he studied the fundamentals of battlefield survival and personal protective measures.

He received instruction on basic tactics and the use of weapons for self-defense. To graduate, he was required to demonstrate basic proficiency in emergency medical techniques, casualty evacuation, field sanitation and preventive medicine procedures.

Open House AtNurserySchool

Ariel Herzfeld, 3 1/2 and Michael Sloboda 3 1/2, both of Hicksville

The Hicksville Nursery School is holding an Open House for Fall registration on Tuesday, August 28 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon for parents of 2 1/2, 3 and 4 year olds in the school classrooms at West Cherry Street and Nelson Avenue.

The Hicksville Nursery School is a non-profit, non-sectarian cooperative located in the back of the United Methodist Church. Founded in 1967, it has offered fourteen years of quality education to hundreds of pre-school children as well as serving as field training center for students from S.U.N.Y. Farmingdale, S.U.N.Y. Old Westbury and Nassau Community College.

The school seeks to offer the young child an environment in which he can grow emotionally, socially, intellectually and physically under the careful supervision of a fully trained staff. The program provides varied activities with an abundance of materials and opportunities for free creative expression under the guidance of skilled, N.Y. State Early Childhood certified teachers. Art media, woodworking, music and rhythmic movement, language arts, storytelling, dramatics, puzzles, doll corner, books and manipulative toys are all part of the daily program. A huge indoor playground permits daily large muscle activity even in the worst weather. A mid-session snack of milk or juice and crackers or fruits and vegetables is provided. Field trips are included to broaden the child's understanding of the world he lives in.

All parents who wish to, can share in the administration of the school. Monthly business meetings give parents the opportunity to make decisions on administrative needs. There are lectures, films and "rap groups" to help parents learn more about parenting. Fundraising projects are most often social events helping young families meet other adults who are at the same stage in life.

We invite all parents of pre-school children to join us for a chance to play and learn together in our spacious well-equipped rooms. For further information, call 822-8257 or 681-8246.

'Diva' Movie At Library

On Friday, August 10, at 8 p.m. and Saturday, August 11, the Hicksville Public Library will show the movie, "Diva", a remarkably fresh and original work that is at the forefront of a new kind of French New Wave. At the heart of this romantic thriller is an opera-intoxicated 18 year old mail carrier who becomes unwittingly entangled in a web of murder, intrigue and passion. "Diva" is flamboyant fun! The film is French with English subtitles. There is no charge for this film and any adult is welcome. Children must be accompanied by a parent. The film will be shown in the Community Room which is air conditioned.

Resident Attending Culinary School

James Salera, son of Robert and Irene Salera of Hicksville, began studies at The Culinary Institute of America on July 18 toward completion of a 21-month course in food preparation and service.

With an enrollment of 1,850 students, a faculty of 90 outstanding chefs, bakers, maitres d'hotel and foodservice educators, and a physical plant that contains 32 "hands-on" instructional facilities, the Culinary Institute is the country's foremost school of professional cooking.

Students spend approximately 75 percent of class time in practical "hands-on" courses in cooking, baking and dining room service. Major instructional emphasis is on participatory production—a method which works effectively under the ratio of 18 students to one instructor in most classes.

Gregory Museum News Notes

Hicksville's historic Heitz Place Courthouse, and home of the Gregory Museum, site of Town Community Development Project in 1984.

By Richard Evers

The current television show, "The Peoples' Court" is attracting many viewers, and for good reason. Courtroom proceedings—whether an epic murder trial or the petty claims actions of human beings in dispute—are a type of drama most people find captivating or entertaining. Hicksville's Old Heitz Place Courthouse, the home of the Gregory Museum, is no longer the setting for "The Peoples' Court" hereabouts, but in its colorful judicial history it experienced much that we see on T.V.

Built in 1895, on land donated to the Town of Oyster Bay as the site for a meeting hall by Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Heitz, the building was a courthouse through much of its service. Here, from 1900-1935, Town justices of the peace held court with juries, when needed, recruited by the constable from available local folk. Some day we'll relate the stories of those days, we've gathered, in some detail, but for now, we may mention that among the versatile and appealing "J.P.'s" were: the late Joseph Steinert (1900-1919); Judge Charles Stoll, the well-known big game hunter, attorney and water supply authority; the late Judge Andrew Heberer, businessman-turned-judge who coped humanely with the social problems of the Great Depression and Judge Joseph Lebkuecher, the farmer's son and attorney-realtor who continues to spend himself in his later years trying to create something of the West Broadway-downtown mess, in the village of his youth, education and long court service; Judge Lebkuecher was a transitional justice at Heitz Place, continuing on the bench when the courthouse, in 1935, became the site of the Nassau County Fourth District Court. In that same year, the 1915 brick jail house was shut down as a "lock-up" when a despondent man, briefly detained in a marital disturbance of the peace, hanged himself.

Yes, the walls, corridors and the remaining stark cell of the Heitz Place Courthouse, today's Hicksville Gregory Museum, still speak of human grief, of broken contracts and promises, of petty thefts and propertyline disputes, of Jericho auto speeders complaining of hidden motorcycle cop-zealots and of hapless youths waiting for fine money.

One sees and hears again the old-time rural tax collecting sessions when merchant Fred Herzog paid his taxes from a 25 pound flour bag of silver dollars; one attends in the imagination the meetings on public issues and election night gatherings when the courthouse served as the "town hall." Hicksville's men signed for the Draft in World War I at this site, and 25 years later, their sons gathered on the courthouse lawn to march to the railroad station and far-flung battlefields and seas behind the late John Harbes of Plainview in his Legionnaire's cap, carrying the Flag.

Hicksville's best known local landmark building was part of the County court system until 1966, when the building was no longer adequate for the case load resulting from this transportation hub's commercial development and population growth. By 1969, when the late Councilman Carl Gruenwald of Hicksville led an effort to make the closed, boarded-up building available to the Trustees of the Gregory Museum, the courthouse was much vandalized.

In one of our time's most visionary local actions, the Town Board of Oyster Bay made the courthouse available to the museum's leaders in a 25 year grants lease with an option to renew. The lease stipulated that the museum insure the courthouse annually and that the structure be renovated and maintained without cost to the Town. This lease was later extended for a period of ten years. By this farsighted agreement, the landmark building was protected from vandalism and destruction by fire while, at the same time, the Museum Board was able to relocate and, ultimately, expand the splendid mineralogy collection gathered by Gardiner and Anne Gregory.

Over the years, the Museum Board has struggled earnestly and imaginatively to live up to its responsibility for the Heitz Place Courthouse maintenance. From the very first efforts to undo the work of young vandals, history-minded museum leaders have sought to retain the authentic exterior architecture of the building and to preserve one cell of the old-time brick jailhouse. These efforts of Museum Historical Co-chairmen Richard Evers and Kenneth Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Conover and others, such as Town Historian, Dorothy Horton McGee, were successful in 1974 in having the Heitz Place Courthouse listed in the National Register of Historic Buildings, a distinction indeed, for Hicksville.

For many Hicksvillians the Gregory Museum's most important contribution to the community has been its care of the old courthouse and the numerous historical exhibits and programs the museum has sponsored at Heitz Place, at the Public Library and in our schools.

Also appreciative of the status the Museum and Courthouse have brought to Oyster Bay and Long Island, the Town Board, in 1983, sought to use a portion of its assigned Federal Community Development Funds for the renovation and preservation of the historic courthouse. These funds, available to preserve authentic historical buildings, will fund, shortly, a project which will supplement the Museum Trustees' efforts since 1969 to safeguard our Hicksville landmark. The project has gone out for bids, and work is expected to get under way in the near future.

As planned by the Town Department of Intergovernmental Affairs and under the supervision of the Department of Public Works, the project has been approved by the Town Board and the County. The Community Development project will be an effort to preserve the historical authenticity of the Courthouse's exterior and to improve its internal structure and its heating facility.

Among the items of work to be done are:

- *relining and repair of roof gutters and leader pipes to stop leaks from undermining the painted surfaces of the clapboard siding.
- *underpinning the front foundation of the building with concrete footing.
- *securing and waterproofing the roof cupola on the courthouse.
- *installation of a steel beam under the entire first floor's wooden beams.
- *conversion of the heating plant from electric power to gas energy.

In a little while, it appears, we'll be able to repaint the building in some handsome "turn-of-the-century" color scheme. Meanwhile, neighbors, do come over and view the fine collection of old-time Hicksville Railroad Crossing and Street Scene Photographs by Edward Bady now on display at the Museum.

Office Building Hearing Aug. 28

A public hearing has been scheduled by the Oyster Bay Town Board on August 28, to consider an application for a special use permit to construct a five story office building in Westbury, according to Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond.

Diamond said that, "the applicant, Westfair Corporation, is requesting a special use permit to build an office building in an 'H' Industrial District, with 100,800 square feet of office space and more than 500 parking stalls." The irregular parcel of property is located on the south side of Brush Hollow Road, east of the intersection of Brush Hollow Road and the Northern State Parkway. The rear portion of the parcel is currently used for additional parking for the Westbury Music Fair.

The hearing has been scheduled for August 28, 1984, beginning at 10 a.m. in the hearing room, Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Quality Or Quantity?

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient
Readers = Results
is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

YOU CAN'T BEAT IT!..

A very special puppet show was recently held at the Hicksville Public Library. All the puppeteers were children who made felt hand puppets and learned basic puppet improvisation in a special workshop held at the Library.

Annual Hicksville Rotary Club Scholarships were the order of the day at the Rotary Club's special luncheon meeting held at the Milleridge Inn last week. Present were eight area high school graduates to receive their award of a check for $200, and to give a brief account of future plans at the colleges of their choice. Shown above are (left to right) Stephen Viole (attending Stony Brook), Coleen Colevay (St. John's), Scholarship Chairman Edward Terracca, Janine Baggett (Boston College) and Marie McAllister (Penn State). Also present, but missing from photo, were Danny Tambasco (St. John's), Allina Castellanos (Hofstra), Claudette Clark (St. Michael's College) and Ronald Millett (Oneonta State). Rehabilitate Levittown Pools

A comprehensive rehabilitation program for the nine inland Levittown pools was unanimously approved today following a joint Hempstead/Oyster Bay Public Hearing. Presiding Supervisor Thomas S. Gulotta and Town Councilman Joseph N. Mondello of Levittown had proposed the up-grading plan in conjunction with Oyster Bay Supervisor Joe Colby. A public hearing on the proposal was held at Levittown Hall, in Hicksville.

Under the plan, $4.2 million will be raised through the issuance of bonds, with the proceeds to be applied towards structural rebuilding of all the pools in the district.

Approximately 87% of the required funds will be raised by Hempstead Town, while the remaining 13% will come from the Town of Oyster Bay. The Levittown Pools are actually part of the Oyster Bay-Hempstead Joint Community Hall and Swimming Pool District, since a portion of the pools serve residents in the Town of Oyster Bay. For this reason, a joint meeting of the Hempstead and Oyster Bay Town Boards was required to approve the rehabilitation expenditure.

"In order to maintain the high quality which our residents have come to expect, it is necessary that a major rebuilding program be initiated now for the nine pools encompassing the Levittown District," Councilman Mondello said. "This rehabilitation program will insure that our residents will be able to enjoy these fine facilities for many years to come."

Supervisor Gulotta explained that the Levittown pools were constructed in the late 1940's at the time of the rapid development in the Levittown community, and that they have not undergone an extensive rebuilding since that time. "The average useful life for a public pool is 20-25 years. These facilities are well over the 30 year mark. The weathering effects of time and heavy usage have taken their toll of these facilities, and they are in need of major reconstruction. These pools provide a valuable network of recreational opportunities for many residents of Levittown, and both our Town Boards are dedicated to preserving the integrity of these pools. We believe the proposed expenditure will facilitate that preservation."

Oyster Bay Supervisor Joseph Colby also expressed his approval of the plan. "For many years, our Hicksville area residents have benefited from these fine facilities. I strongly support these efforts to rebuild and enhance the quality of these valuable recreational facilities."

Under the proposed plan, work would commence on the pools following the closure for the season. Included in the plan are: Slate Lane Pool, Acorn Lane Pool, Bluegrass Lane Pool, Wolcott Road Pool, Azalea Road Pool, Jerusalem Avenue Pool, West Village Green, Carman Avenue Pool and Parkway Pool. "The project will take several years to complete and hopefully it will not cause any pool closure during the summer season", concluded Councilman Mondello.

Collecting money is part of Keith Owen's job as self service technician at the Hicksville Post Office. Last week he collected over $3.1 million in the New York State Lottery.

On Wednesday night, August 1, Keith was home watching the New York State Lotto drawing. To his amazement the numbers picked were 40, 20, 32, 28, 15 and 1. "I had to check my card 15 times that night. Each time I looked I could not believe I had all six numbers," Keith said. The next morning he checked the newspapers to make sure he had won.

Keith works at the main post office in Hicksville on West John Street where he repairs the stamp vending machines. He does not plan to leave the Postal Service at this point. He likes his job and his friends at the post office.

Adults. Tell us why you can't come to college. We'll tell you how you can.

Many of our adult graduates have had great reasons not to come to college.

Like Joan E., Class of '82, whose family commitments and full-time job seemed to take all of her time. She told us about it and we told her about our once-a-week schedule that she could easily fit into hers.

Or Bill D., '80, who didn't see how he could come to college and still make ends meet. At Adelphi, he qualified for a financial aid package and earned prior learning credits that allowed him to finish his education.

Or Mark K., '82, whose schedule didn't permit him to take the credits he wanted. At Adelphi, he took 6 courses (24 credits) at home using the TV, radio and self-paced at-home courses. The Extended Learning Program at Adelphi made access to education even more accessible to him.

Or even Sandy S., '81, who worried that her previous credits wouldn't be accepted. We not only accepted her credits, but she completed her degree in a year's time.

If you'd like to come to college, but don't see how you can, talk to one of our counselors. The first thing you'll learn at Adelphi is how to solve your problem. And, you can do that at Adelphi's Manhattan, Nassau, and Suffolk locations.

And that's free.

Our Children

The truth is usually best

By Willard Abraham Ph.D.

Q. My former husband has been almost cruel in his non-relationship with our three children. He is remarried, and lives across the country with his new family, totally ignoring the one he has here.

I don't mind at all, but the children do. They are 3, 5 and 8 years old. He ignores their birthdays and holidays, not even sending cards to them. The older two cry about him and over his picture.

Occasionally I "fake" cards and presents, telling them they came from him, but I don't know how smart that is. Also, do you think it may be wise to tell them he died?

A. The truth is usually the best way to go. So you can tell them where he is and how far away he is. You can, of course, share with them the fact that his going away had nothing at all to do with them. He may care a great deal about them, but perhaps carries a burden of anger and guilt that won't permit him to keep a relationship going with his children.

Although no one can fully take the place of a child's father, other men may substitute as father figures with their attention, concern and love. An article of mine called "The Man in Your Young Child's Family" is on its way to you. Other readers may get a copy at no cost by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope with their request.

Q. I've been meaning to write in reference to the letter you received from the mother who was so worried about her 15-year-old son smoking cigarettes. My parents' "trick" worked for me. They promised that if I did not smoke during my high school years, they'd buy me a car. I experimented before high school, but haven't touched one since (I'm now 30). It was a cheap old car, but it was mine!

Also, bravo for your answer to the teacher who complained about the self-contained classes for handicapped children. My 6-year-old boy is learning disabled and was fortunate in being the only student in a special class the first year (three years ago). I'm sure plenty of teachers were upset then.

It's interesting that some teachers who object to small classes of children who have special needs are also opposed to mainstreaming these children in their regular classes. The children have to be somewhere in school!

A. Special self-contained classes, resource rooms or itinerant resource teachers, and regular classrooms are among the few educational possibilities for mildly handicapped children. Special schools and institutional settings aren't adequate answers.

Most parents and teachers understand the placement limitations.

Now about the car as a reward for not smoking, most youngsters should only be that lucky! Improved health, good breath and clean hands are often enough payoff for them.

Q. My wife and I both read your column, sometimes agreeing with you, sometimes not, and now and then we're just neutral. This is one of those "disagreement" letters, so you just might want to test your aim on the circular file. Depends upon what side of the hammock you roll out of this morning, I suppose.

The subject which has prompted this letter was the inquiry from the mother who accuses her husband of being too stingy with their children. She feels it's cruel to raise them in almost a poverty situation just because he was poor as a child. I think you're way off base here.

First off, neither you nor I know that what the woman writes is true. Also, we really don't know what the underlying motives of the woman might be.

Second, the father in this case has not been heard. He may very well simply be attempting to instill a little "backbone" into the fabric of family life. I know of no society on this planet that is more wasteful than ours. Do you?

Apart from thrift, there may be a number of other virtues that this father values and desires of his children. The 10th Commandment ("Thou shalt not covet...") might be one. Developing a sense of true value might be another. How about a sense for and appreciation of antiquity? What about just developing a sense of self-reliance and self-motivation in kids? The list goes on.

Maybe you or I wouldn't do it the same way as this father is (apparently) trying to. But in our consumer-oriented society none of the above is given but slight (if any) credence as to their underlying value in character-building and a child's moral development.

I think the father deserves a medal. It is altogether too easy for a wife to stroll the aisles of some shopping mall these days and then to return home and bemoan all the material things she does without. And often does so within full earshot of the children.

I'm for Dad. Get off his back. In case you haven't heard, we're on the endangered species list.

A. You may be right, but as this mother described the situation the children wear worn-out shoes, their clothes are almost in shreds, and they are embarrassed to go to school like that.
The circumstances sound like a pretty extreme way of teaching values and instilling a little a "backbone," both of which are, of course, important goals in bringing up children. I have no way of knowing whether she was telling the truth, or was just providing her own perceptions.

Your Social Security

No student benefits to those over 19

Q. My father was killed in a work-related accident May 9, 1984. Even though I'm 23 years old and not at home, I am attending school full time. Are there any educational benefits available for me? — V.I.

A. Student benefits are now paid to full-time students up to age 19. Formerly, benefits were paid to students aged 18 to 21 who were full-time students at institutions of higher education or post-secondary school. However, this has been phased out.

Q. My husband may be filing for early Social Security benefits. How do I go about establishing my entitlement as his wife of over 25 years? — E.B.

A. You would need to submit proof of age and proof of marriage. As proof of marriage you should submit a certified copy of the public or church record of marriage or the original marriage certificate. Do not delay filing if you encounter difficulty in securing these documents. Your local Social Security office will be glad to assist you.

Q. I am 59 years old and disabled. I worked a lifetime but paid into Social Security only a few years, not enough to draw Social Security.

I was married to my ex-husband for 27 years. He is 66 and drawing Social Security. Can I draw Social Security from my ex-husband? — E.H.

A. You will be able to file for wife's benefits when you reach 62. In the event of your ex-husband's death you could file disabled widow's benefits.

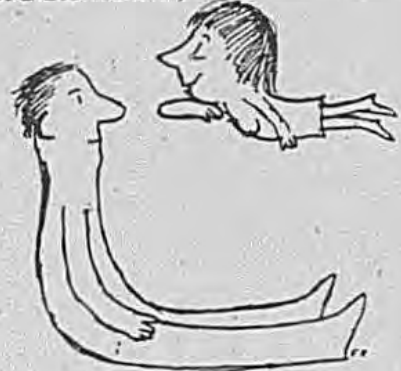

Q. I will be terminating my employment very soon. What do I have to take with me when I get ready to file for Social Security benefits? I have no birth certificate and my discharge papers have been lost. — P.G.

A. You should submit a baptismal record recorded early in life. If neither your birth nor baptism was recorded, other documents such as a school record, census record, employment record can be submitted.

In addition you should bring in your W-2 forms (withholding tax statements) for the last two years.

Your local Social Security Office will assist you.

Glee

Are you going to marry him?
Yes.
Why?
I love him.
If you used any logic, you'd realize it could never work out.
What has logic to do with love?
Logic may not tell you who to love or who not to love, but it can help you decide what to do about love.
When I'm in love, my logic doesn't function properly.
You can always use mine.

News From Road Runners

The Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club will hold its second annual Summer "Breakfast Fun Run" on Saturday morning, August 11, starting and finishing in the parking lot of Plainview-Old Bethpage High School on Southern Parkway and Central Park Road in Plainview.

The event is scheduled to get organized at 7:45 a.m. Promptly at 8 a.m. the runners will leave on their choice of three premeasured and marked routes—3 miles, 5 miles or 8 miles. Bagels and cold beverages will be waiting for them when they return.

"All local runners of all ages and abilities, both male and female, are most welcome to join in for a pleasant morning run with some pleasant folks to keep them company," invited POBRRC President Mike Polansky. "Last year more than 100 runners showed up for our first annual summer breakfast fun run, and everyone found a compatible group to run with. Regardless of how fast or how far you want to go, you'll certainly find your niche!"

'Buddy' Bryan Alumni Guest

Coach Wayne "Buddy" Bryan has been selected by the Hicksville Alumni Association as its guest of honor at the annual Homecoming Dinner. The affair will be held at the Bethpage Country Club, Saturday, November 10.

Mr. Bryan will be honored for more than twenty years in the Physical Education Department of the Hicksville school system. His involvement in the daily duties of the position and his unselfish contribution of time and effort in developing and conducting extra-hours activities, for students of the district, earned the honor.

For 18 years he has been coach of the Hicksville Varsity Basketball Team. 1984 marked a peak year as his team went to the finals of the Nassau County Championship.

Thousands of students, friends and alumni rallied to support the team. A wave of pride caused a resurgence of community interest in the school.

Hicksville court teams have gained an outstanding reputation for conduct and competitiveness under Mr. Bryan's tutelage.

His name was presented to the Alumni Board of Directors by Dorothy French Bregel. It was advanced to a unanimous vote by Gwen Schaaf.

Last year the Homecoming Dance was sold out three weeks in advance. Former players of Mr. Bryan may make advanced reservations by contacting Howard Finnegan 938-1695 or writing 323-4 Hicksville Road, Bethpage, 11714.

Friends and Alumni may secure initial ticket holds from President James Fyfe at the Long Island Trust Company, 11 Broadway, Hicksville.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca (center) and Hal Hoffman, conductor of the Hal Hoffman Orchestra, tap out a rhythm on the drums while vocalist Judy Moss sings along. The group performed at Ellsworth Allen Town Park as part of the series of summer programs in the park sponsored by the Town's Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Department of Community Services. Many of the band members are local residents, including Hoffman who hails from Woodbury and Miss Moss who lives in Plainville.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Salvatore R. Mosca (center) and Gloria Parker of the All Americans tinkle a tune on the vibes much to the delight of director Bill Buzzee. It's up to us.

New York State is a great state in which to live, work and raise a family. We can be proud of our place in world commerce, industry and in the quality of our lives. But one of our greatest sources of pride is often overlooked, that being our huge forest preserves, wetland and marsh areas, and abundant fish and wildlife.

Now New Yorkers have an opportunity to help protect this unique heritage of wildlife so vital to the quality of life we all enjoy. "Return a Gift to Wildlife" is a program into which you may voluntarily contribute when you complete your state tax form. By checking off Line 18 on the long form or Line 12 on the short form, you can make a contribution to the New York State Conservation Fund. Monies collected have been dedicated by the State Finance Law to the protection, management and extension of wildlife in our great state.

Return a Gift to Wildlife

The Need Has Never Been Greater

Hard economic times dictate hard financial decisions. This year, the federal government has already eliminated endangered species aid, jeopardizing the restoration of a number of birds and animals native to New York. In addition, thousands of acres of grassland, wetland, marshland and forest that are critical to the survival or extension of New York's wildlife are eliminated or disrupted each year. The New York State "Return a Gift to Wildlife" program is an important step towards a lasting solution to these problems, and an investment in the future of our wildlife.

An Effective Program

Like the environment which only thrives when the whole ecosystem is addressed, the areas of work to be addressed through tax contributions are broad and comprehensive. The largest single element is earmarked for habitat protection so critical to wildlife perpetuation. A species management program will be strengthened to help maintain all species of fish and wildlife at desirable population levels for human enjoyment. A third element is the public use program which will provide increased opportunities for enjoying fish and wildlife. Lastly, the plan calls for greater awareness development of fish and wildlife values through the creation of better educational resources and information services.

Consider the added dimension wildlife brings to your life. Won't you return a gift through a contribution on Line 18 of the long form or Line 12 of the short form of your State tax return? Your gift is tax deductible on your 1983 tax return.

THE QUESTION OF THE WEEK

If the only mail you received was junk mail would you rather receive no mail at all?

Call 931-0027 24 Hrs. a Day

Ground Rules

You are not limited to the above

but may talk on any subject of interest to readers.

•One subject to a caller per week•

Simply dial 931-0027-24 Hours a Day and follow these simple rules:

1. Wait for the beep.
2. Confine your INPUT to one subject.
3. Limit your opinion to five minutes (make notes before calling)
4. Leave your name and telephone, or simply use a pen name. (your message can be anonymous)
5. Publishers reserve the right to edit, modify or omit any and all material.

Mixed Reaction To Bill For Religion In Schools

Callers were mixed in their opinions on whether school facilities should be used during after school hours for religion in answer to this question: "Do you think the Equal Access Bill allowing religions to use extra curricular time in public schools will work?" Here are some of the answers:

RELEASED TIME

No. I do not think that public schools should be used for any other purposes than to give a regular secular education. We now have released time for those who want to use some of the day for religious training. That really does it better than equal access bills. M.K.

OUT OF HAND

From a purely objective point of view I think that religion should not be excluded from the schools. The trouble is that it would just get out of hand if we open the schools to all religions. If we do less than that it will mean trouble too. So it is best to not allow any religious groups to meet in the school. N.E.

PERMISSION OF PARENTS

Sure. Allow religious groups to meet in the schools. All of those people looking for terrible things that will happen like people trying to convert kids to another religion should not worry if the school boards make it mandatory for students to present a permission card from parents to attend a certain group. They do this for athletic teams and to run power tools so it would work. M.R.

REACTION

This equal access bill is a reaction to the over-zealous who fear when anyone mentions religion in schools. If they did not push so hard to keep any sign of religion out the other side would not push to get it in. The idea of silent meditation was more workable than this bill and it would have been easier for all concerned. It should not have been dropped, just the specific instruction of what had to be done during the meditation should have been dropped. T.E.

IN COLLEGES

I think it would be all right to have different religious organizations meet in the schools. They do meet in public and private colleges and there is little difficulty at all about it. So with the high schools the use of the facilities after hours would probably work out all right. B.R.

SUPERFICIAL RELIGION

We are spending too much time in trying to be more religious than the next person and not enough time being religious at all. That is what I think the problem of getting the schools into the religion act will do. It will promote some of the most superficial religion yet to come and when the cults get into it some of the youngsters might just join up. F.Y.

IN CONSTITUTION

Yes. It is about time that people realize that this country was started by people who were religious and had no idea at all of keeping people from praying when they put into the Constitution that the State would not establish a religion. All they were worried about was that the Church of England or a national church would not suddenly be decreed as everyone's religion. They wanted to pray in their own way and that is what is being allowed in public schools if this bill becomes law. G.R.

ALTERNATIVE

First of all, I think the Equal Access Bill begs the issue. It is a flimsy alternative to the moment of silence which was advanced to give all students a brief contemplative period to reflect on spiritual or material matters of deep personal concern. With houses of worship already adequately equipped and staffed to handle most of their religious educational needs, the new law would add nothing significant further to fulfill those needs. Rather, it would encourage the use of school facilities by quasi-religious or neo-societal groups with political overtones. From my point-of-view, our school taxes are already excessive with all factions supporting the school system based upon specific curriculum and activity programs within its facilities. In my opinion, any extension of this usage as apparently contemplated under the Bill, should require a vote of the taxpayers in which event I daresay it would find a formidable vote of rejection. P.G.S.

PAST ISSUES

TOO MANY CONTESTS

I don't think the Miss America contest is as important as it was once. The reason being that there are too many beauty contests now. There are teen beauty pageants and numerous others including even a Mrs. America Beauty contests are not as important as when the Miss America contest was the one that everyone looked up to. I personally think that when Bert Parks was asked to leave a lot of the interest faded. He was the dynamic person with a lot of personality and was a big part of the show. We all looked up to him in my time, so when Bert left, the interest left. H.S.

DISCOVERY

Retirement: Boredom Or Career

By John Behan

I recently spent a week's vacation in Florida. Since I had much leisure time to spare, I decided to evaluate some of the options that are available to retired persons. The decision relative to retirement will be affecting my lifestyle in about 15 years from now so I thought I would get some idea what it might be like to retire if and when I choose to do so.

The oceanfront condo where I stayed was composed of some permanent residents, several of whom were retirees. However, most of the other occupants of this high rise were vacationers like myself, except for a few young singles who rented apartments to be close to their jobs.

As I carefully observed the full time permanent residents, I noticed that they fell into a set pattern of early rising, walking along the beach, doing some fishing in the ocean, and then to lunch. During the afternoon they would do some poolside sun bathing, perhaps followed by a nap. Most of these people usually enjoyed an early dinner and by 10:00 P.M. they retired for the evening. By 11:00 P.M. there was hardly a light to be seen in any of the apartments. Most of these people seemed quite content, but as I observed this daily routine that was as precise as clockwork, I realized that this type of life could not entice me in the least.

As the week progressed, I made some other observations. As I shopped at the local supermarket, it was evident that most of the employees in every store were senior citizens in their late 60's or early 70's, all performing an excellent service and perhaps adding a little diversification in their lifestyle as well as a few extra dollars in their pockets.

One day, while visiting one of the more exclusive shopping malls, I conversed with the owner of a fashionable boutique, a stunning woman in her mid sixties. She told me how much she enjoyed her business, especially the contact with people. It kept her young, she remarked.

A friend of mine who retired about three years ago at age 50, relocated to this community. After working in the New York Civil Service System, he has now embarked upon a new career. He sells and services wheelchairs, both manual and mobile. In conjunction with his new business, he has taken under his wing several of his customers, many of them paraplegics. He has assisted them in maintaining a social life which would have been impossible if they had to do it on their own. In his specially equipped van, he has provided transportation to various places for these handicapped. In addition, he has introduced them to clubs and organizations where they have received a warm welcome. His newly found career has become an avocation as well.

Towards the end of the week, just before I was to return to New York, I had the pleasure of dining at the home of my aunt and uncle. They retired to this community about ten years ago. Although they are both in their mid 70's, they look at least 15 years younger. "How do you like retirement here?", I asked. "We love it!" they replied. "But doesn't it get boring?" "Are you kidding?" was their answer.

My aunt explained how she is very active in her church group, and even volunteers her services for the handicapped elderly. And now about my uncle! He is a volunteer in the emergency room of the local hospital about five mornings each week. He changes the linens on the stretchers, and prepares much of the paperwork for the nurses and doctors. After returning home each day, he has lunch, and then prepares for his next venture which is teaching a woodworking class at several of the local community centers. At the end of his work day about 5:00 P.M., he showers, enjoys a cocktail, a nice dinner and then proceeds to catch up on the latest news before retiring.

All of these people have been able to make their lives both rewarding and productive in their retirement years.

But then there are the others, whose retirement become a boring repetition of letting the years just pass them before it's time to leave this earth.

P.S. The community referred to in this article, is about fifty miles north of West Palm Beach.

FINE TIME
Whether its near St. Patrick's Day or not Patrick's Pub on Northern Boulevard in Little Neck makes you think that it is a special feast day anytime you go to the restaurant.
We went there last week and were very pleased with the friendly service and truly Irish atmosphere. The salmon and steak were entrees of members of our party and they were eaten with pleasure.
We always have a good time when we go to Patrick's Pub and recommend it to all of your readers. Whether they are Irish or not (we are not) they will have a fine time there. J.G.

BEAUTIFUL SETTING
The beautiful weather last week must have inspired us to go to the Coral House last Thursday for lunch. The Coral House is in Baldwin at Milburn Lake.
Lunch at the Coral House was a rare treat. The service was perfect and the view was magnificent. The luncheon was complete including soup, salad and entree plus vegetables all for $5.50. Everyone in our party was well pleased and we are all going back again. This place should be well recommended. H.W.

OUTSTANDING RESTAURANT
We have just come from La Marmite Restaurant and want to say that it is a really outstanding restaurant. They have just enlarged it to include more banquet space but LaMarmite was always a top place to go. We had the special of the day which was broiled bass. It was fresh and so deliciously prepared that everyone was in ecstasy with the fish. For dessert we had red raspberries with a special topping made at the restaurant.
LaMarmite is truly the best restaurant in this area. We recommend it very highly. K.R.

READER RATINGS

If you have questions about etiquette or dining out you may call them into WE 1-0027 and we will find the answer.

Q. Who is served first at table and when is the proper time to begin eating?
F.G.P.
A. The hostess is not served first unless she is the only lady at the table or is alone with her husband and children. If Grandmother or even a young girl guest is present, the dishes are first presented to her after inspection by the hostess. When the hostess is serving from in front of her place, with or without the aid of a servant, she is served next to last and her husband last. For her to serve herself earlier will mean her food will be cold and her filled plate in the way.

After several people have been served, urged by the hostess, guests begin eating so their food will not be cold. And, except at breakfast, the polite husband waits until his wife has been served before beginning to eat.

Q. Is it considered bad manners to take anything to drink to your lips while there is still food in your mouth?
B.C.J.
A. Yes, because this may leave particles of food in the beverage or leave an unattractive smear on the glass. Your mouth should be empty before you take anything to drink. Certainly you should avoid the effect of "washing down" food that is already in your mouth. It is amazing how many people are guilty of this breach of etiquette.

READER RATINGS

WELL RECOMMENDED
We happened to be going by Ben's Kosher Restaurant on Northern Boulevard and Glen Cove Road in Greenvale last week and remembered that it was one of the restaurants recommended in your Discovery.

At first we thought that it was not going to be what we wanted but then after we were inside it became clear that Ben's is the whole thing, just as it used to be in those famous restaurant delicatessans that are now out of business in New York City. You can get anything from a sandwich to a full meal and the members of our group did all of that. To recite what we all had would be impossible but let it suffice to say that we were well pleased and recommend Ben's. E.McB

SOMETHING SPECIAL
Lauraine Murphy's still comes up with a great dinner when you go there. Last week four of us made the mistake of going to Lauraine Murphy's on Saturday evening without a reservation and at first we were a little annoyed that we would have to wait. But everyone agreed after the meal that it was well worth the short wait. The food and gracious service is almost out of this world and this is backed up with a strolling orchestra to make the night something special. We recommend Lauraine Murphy's. E.R.

GOOD WORDS

A very good friend invited me to lunch at the Maine Maid Inn in Jericho last Friday. I really don't know if I can find enough complimentary words to describe my experiences. First of all the Inn is charming and the decor is very relaxing. The waitress was so sweet. On her recommendation we both ordered the Friday special Lobster Tail Scampi. It was served with rice or linguini and in addition we received a few shrimp on the rice. For dessert, again on the waitress' suggestion, I had chocolate walnut pie which was simply magnificent and my friend had cheese cake ammorata. I admit I had to taste it too and will order that next time I visit the Maine Maid. By the way, we were completed with our meal in one hour. Great for all those business people out there - and we didn't feel rushed at all. In fact there was time for more coffee.

Cherries sparkling summer fruit

By Toni Griffin

The produce-stand appearance of cherries — those brilliant, firm, pitted globes — is more than the beginning of yet another fruit season. Cherries mean summer. It is with ease that they accompany us to the table for a simple as-is dessert or drop into our mouths while picnicking at the shore.

Because of their stunning red color, exquisite shape and sweet, pleasing flavor, fresh sweet cherries are a perfect choice for elegant desserts of all kinds. From cakes and puddings to fruit compotes and parfaits, fresh cherries add a special touch.

Incorporate the sweet juiciness of fresh cherries in your desserts using these recipes:

COCONUT CRUST CHERRY PIE

Filling:
5 cups pitted fresh cherries
2 tbsps. cornstarch
¼ tsp. almond extract
¼ tsp. salt

Crust:
Coconut Crust pastry for 2 9-inch pie crusts (recipe follows)
Milk or cream
1 tsp. sugar (optional)

Combine cherries, cornstarch, almond extract and salt. Place in pastry-lined 9-inch plate. Adjust top crust, sealing and fluting edges. Cut vents, brush top with milk and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in 425 F oven 35 minutes or until crust is golden. Makes one 9-inch pie.

Coconut Crust: Before adding water to standard pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie, stir ½ cup flaked coconut and 2 tablespoons sugar, if desired, into flour mixture. Then add water a little at a time until mixture forms ball. Divide dough in half, roll out on lightly floured board. Makes pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie.

CHERRY CREAM PUFF RING

1 cup boiling water
6 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 tbsps. sugar
¼ tsp. salt
1 cup flour
4 eggs
2 tbsps. brandy or kirsch, divided
1½ cups heavy cream
Powdered sugar
3 cups halved and pitted fresh cherries
Whole fresh cherries

Cream Puff Ring: Combine water, butter, sugar and salt in large heavy saucepan; heat until butter is melted. Remove from heat and add flour all at once; beat vigorously over moderate heat until mixture comes away from sides of pan. Add eggs one at a time; beat well after each addition.

Spoon dough onto greased and floured baking sheet to form 8-inch ring. Bake in 425-F oven 25 minutes; reduce heat to 350 F and bake 20 minutes longer or until golden brown and dry to touch. Prick sides of ring at 3- to 4-inch intervals to release excess moisture. Cool on rack. Split ring horizontally and sprinkle insides with 1 tablespoon brandy. Beat cream until stiff, fold in 1 tablespoon powdered sugar and remaining brandy. Reserve ½ cup whipped cream for garnish. Fold cherries into remaining whipped cream; fill bottom half of ring. Replace top half of ring. Sprinkle with powdered sugar; garnish with reserved whipped cream and whole cherries. Makes about 10 servings.

Variation: Prepare 1 (3¼ oz.) package instant French vanilla pudding mix according to package directions, using 1 cup milk. Whip 1 cup heavy cream until stiff. Add whipped cream, 1 tablespoon brandy and 3 cups halved, pitted and drained fresh cherries to vanilla pudding. Makes about 4½ cups. Fill Cherry Cream Puff Ring as above or serve as dessert with crisp cookies. Pastry tube and large plain tip may be used.

CHERRY MOUSSE

2 cups pitted and halved fresh cherries
1 (3 oz.) pkg. cherry flavor gelatin
¼ cup sugar
1 cup boiling water
¼ cup orange-flavored liqueur
2 egg whites
1½ cups heavy cream, whipped

Wash and prepare cherries. Dissolve gelatin and sugar in boiling water. Cool. Stir in liqueur. Chill until slightly thickened. Beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Fold egg whites and whipped cream into gelatin. Gently fold in cherries. Turn into 6-cup mold. Chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with additional whole cherries if desired. Makes 8 servings.

Note: In place of orange-flavored liqueur, ¼ cup orange juice and one teaspoon grated orange peel may be substituted.

FRESH CHERRY CHEESECAKE

2 cups fresh cherries
8 graham crackers
1 envelope unflavored gelatin

¼ cup cold water
¼ cup sugar
¼ tsp. salt
1 tsp. grated lemon peel
2 tbsps. lemon juice
2 cups cottage cheese, sieved
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
Almond Glaze (recipe follows)

Pit and halve cherries; chill. Crush graham crackers. Butter bottom and sides of 8-inch round springform pan (pan with removable sides). Sprinkle with graham cracker crumbs, turning pan to coat evenly. Soften gelatin in ¼ cup cold water. Add sugar and heat over low heat until dissolved. Stir in salt, lemon peel and juice, cottage cheese and whipped cream. Pour into prepared pan. Chill until firm. Arrange cherry halves, cut side down, on cheesecake. Pour Almond Glaze over top. Chill until firm. Makes 8-10 servings.

Almond Glaze:

1 tsp. unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¼ cup sugar
Dash salt
Few drops almond extract
Red food coloring

Soften gelatin in cold water. Add sugar and dissolve over low heat. Combine with salt, almond extract and few drops of red food coloring. Chill until syrupy. Use as directed above.

FROM OUR KITCHEN

OLIVIA & PAUL BENSON

Don't sell veal short has a definite Italian accent.

By Olivia and Paul Benson

Lots of shoppers pass the veal section of their supermarket's meat counter without a second glance. There are a number of explanations for this — some cuts of good veal can cost $8 a pound or more, veal is not a traditional staple in American cooking and it has a largely undeserved reputation for being tricky to cook.

We'd like to offer the following points in defense of one of our very favorite meats. For most dishes that call for the more expensive cuts of veal, such as cutlets or scallops, only 4 to 6 ounces are needed per serving — so the cost per person is lower than for many recipes that use beef or pork.

Almost every cookbook contains dozens of delicious veal recipes, many of which originated in Italy or France. As for veal's "tricky" reputation, just a few simple precautions will enable you to produce perfectly cooked veal every time.

The most important rule for cooking veal is that it mustn't be overcooked, since it is very low in fat and can toughen quickly. For veal roasts, allow about 25 minutes per pound. Cutlets and scallops (scalloppini), both of which are sliced from the thigh muscle, should be cut thin and pounded to a uniform ¼-inch thickness before cooking.

Cutlets and scallops often have a membrane that runs through the slice of meat. This membrane should be cut through in several places with a sharp knife before cooking.

Veal chops should be cooked no longer than you would lamb chops of equal size.

Today's recipe for Breaded Veal Cutlets is a simple, classic presentation that takes only minutes to prepare. Veal Oscar is a delicious combination of veal, crabmeat, asparagus and hollandaise sauce. Veal Chops with Green Peppers

BREADED VEAL CUTLETS

4 veal cutlets, 4-6 ozs. each, pounded to ¼-inch thickness
Salt and freshly ground pepper
Flour (for dredging)
1 large egg
1½ tbsps. water
1 cup freshly made bread crumbs (see note below)
¼ cup (½ stick) butter
Lemon wedges (for garnish)

Sprinkle salt and pepper on both sides of pounded cutlets. Dredge them carefully in flour, so that they are thoroughly covered. Shake off excess flour.

Beat egg and water together and dip each cutlet in mixture. Coat cutlets evenly with bread crumbs. If time allows, cool an hour or more on waxed paper in refrigerator, so breading will adhere better to cutlets during cooking.

In large, heavy skillet, heat butter over medium heat until it is bubbling but not smoking. Add cutlets and saute on both sides until golden brown. Arrange cutlets on serving platter, garnish with lemon wedges and serve.

Note: Freshly made bread crumbs make a big difference in this recipe. Four slices of firm white bread will yield about a cup of crumbs. If you are using fresh bread, heat it just a couple of minutes in the oven, until it is somewhat dried, tear the bread into pieces and put in an electric blender, a handful at a time, and blend on high speed. If you are using bread that is somewhat stale you will not need to put it in the oven.

Serves 4.

VEAL OSCAR

4 tbsps. butter
4 veal cutlets, 4-6 ozs. each, pounded to ¼-inch thickness
Salt and pepper to taste

- 12 asparagus spears, trimmed to 4-5 inches in length
- 1 cup fresh crabmeat, shredded
- 1 recipe hollandaise sauce (recipe follows)
- Parsley sprigs (for garnish)

In large skillet, melt 3 tablespoons butter over fairly high heat until butter is bubbling, but not smoking. Saute veal until golden brown on each side. Remove veal to platter, add salt and pepper to taste, cover loosely with foil and keep warm in preheated 250 F oven.

Meanwhile, steam asparagus 5 to 7 minutes, until just tender. In small frying pan melt remaining 1 tablespoon butter over medium heat. Toss crabmeat in butter until heated through.

Remove veal from oven and on each piece of veal lay four asparagus spears and top with one-fourth of heated crabmeat. Top with generous amount of hot hollandaise sauce, garnish with parsley sprigs and serve.

Serves 4.

EASY HOLLANDAISE SAUCE

- 2 tbsps. fresh lemon juice
- 4 egg yolks
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1 pinch white pepper
- 1 pinch cayenne
- 1/4 tsp. dry mustard
- 1 stick unsalted butter

In blender or food processor, blend lemon juice, egg yolks, salt, pepper, cayenne and mustard. Melt butter in small skillet or saucepan until bubbling (it must be bubbling or hollandaise will not thicken).

With blender running on medium or high speed, slowly add hot butter in thin stream. Serve hot.

Makes about 3/4 cup.

Note: For thicker hollandaise, or to reheat, sauce may be placed over hot water in double boiler.

VEAL CHOPS WITH GREEN PEPPERS

- 3 tbsps. olive oil
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 4 medium green peppers, seeded and thinly sliced
- 1 medium onion, finely chopped
- 4 artichoke hearts (canned in water, not oil), drained and sliced
- 1 1/2 tbsps. capers
- Salt and freshly ground pepper to taste
- 4 large loin veal chops, about 1 1/2 lbs. total weight
- Flour (for dredging)
- 3 tbsps. butter
- 1/4 cup dry white wine

In large heavy skillet, heat oil and add garlic, peppers and onion. Saute over medium heat until onion is tender and translucent, but not completely browned. Remove to medium bowl and stir in artichoke hearts and capers. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Lightly dredge veal chops in flour, shaking to remove excess. In same skillet, heat butter and brown chops on both sides over medium heat. Add reserved ingredients, cover and cook over low heat 30 minutes, or until chops are tender.

Arrange chops and peppers on platter and place in preheated 150 F oven.

Add wine to skillet over low heat, scraping all crisp particles from side of pan into wine. When wine has reduced a bit, pour over chops and peppers and serve. Serves 4.

MICROWAVE

PARTY SNACK MIX

- 3 cups bite-size shredded wheat cereal (Wheat Chex)
- 3 cups bite-size shredded corn cereal (Corn Chex)
- 1 1/2 cups Spanish peanuts
- 1/2 cup cashew pieces
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- 3 tbsps. Worcestershire sauce
- 1 tsp. each garlic, onion and celery salt

Combine cereals, peanuts and cashew pieces in 3-quart glass mixing bowl. Stir well to mix and set aside. In 1-cup glass measure, combine butter or margarine, Worcestershire sauce and seasoning salts. Microwave until melted, about 1 minute, then drizzle over cereal mixture, stirring well to coat evenly. Microwave Snack Mix 8 to 10 minutes, stirring every 3 minutes. Serve warm or cold. Makes around 8 cups.

CREAMY DILL DIP

- 2 tbsps. flour
- 1/2 cup milk

- 1/2 cup sour cream
- Dash salt
- 2 tps. dried dill weed

Place flour in 2-cup glass measure. Add small amount of milk and work into paste. Gradually stir in remaining milk, then add sour cream, salt and dill weed. Microwave 1 to 2 minutes, stirring twice during cooking time. Let cool, then chill until serving time. Makes about 1 cup dip. (Serve with celery and carrot sticks, cucumber slices, etc.)

Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens. Foods are cooked on HIGH (100 percent power) and uncovered unless otherwise specified.

Here's How

Glazing compound vs. putty

Q. Is there any difference between glazing compound and putty?

I have to replace several cracked window panes and have always thought that putty was the material used to keep the panes in place, but I read some instructions recently that called for use of glazing compound. — Jerry H.R.

A. The substances are very similar, but glazing compound usually costs a little more and is less inclined to dry out than putty.

Also either glazing compound or putty is used principally to keep out the elements rather than to just hold the panes in place, although it does play a small part in doing just that. What holds the panes in place are glazier's points, bits of metal inserted into the frame and pressed against the glass.

Incidentally, glazing compound, not putty, should always be used on metal windows. Glazing compound, however, is suitable for either wood or metal windows.

Q. We have a wide concrete step at our side door. The step and the foundation have an open space between them. How should this open joint be filled? — Carl K.O.

A. If the open space is relatively small, say $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ of an inch, use a light-colored caulking compound to fill the joint.

If the space is more than $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch deep, fill it with sand, then put in the caulking.

For a larger open space, brush out loose particles, moisten the side and patch the space with patching cement, keeping the patch moist for about a week to allow slow curing.

Q. I purchased what was supposed to be a new oak finished roll-top desk from a reputable furniture store a few months ago. The sides are not wood, but are painted to resemble wood.

The problem is that the desk has a peculiar odor. It smells almost like mildew. I complained to the store and they brought out another desk which wasn't finished as nicely. It had brads sticking out and the color wasn't the same. So I sent it back and kept the original one.

It has been months and that odor is still there. Can you figure out what causes this? The store people can't.

I live in the desert in a very dry climate so it cannot be dampness. I would appreciate anything you can tell me as it is a beautiful piece of furniture. — Pauline M.

A. I can't tell you what causes the odor, but here is a suggestion on how to remove offensive odors from furniture. Material in my files tells me that once an offensive odor penetrates wood, it is there to stay. Therefore, you must try to mask the odor with a more acceptable fragrance.

Place about 1½ pounds of red cedar shavings, which should be available at a local millwork company, into an old nylon stocking. Remove the bottom drawer from the furniture and tuck the nylon bag to the back side of the drawer. Replace the drawer.

Soon your furniture should smell of cedar.

Q. Where should a septic tank be located in relation to water supply? — Arthur M.

A. A septic tank should be at least 100 feet from the source of water supply, farther if possible. Also the drainage field from the tank should be on the down slope below the water supply.

Well, here is ours.

My wife went to the Kettering Memorial Hospital for tests about some problems she was having. She also told the doctor about her leg cramps, especially at night.

He gave her a prescription for some pills called Quinamm. They worked for her. They cost $30.

I read about Q Vel. We paid $15 for them. They worked for her as good as the other pills. They only claim temporary relief for leg cramps. — J.L.

Dear J.L.: I judge that they are not prescription drugs and that you can just ask for them in drug-store.

Dear John: Please send us your new arthritis leaflet. Please do not give our name to patent medicine companies, chiropractors, etc. We are already on too many lists. — Bob and Jan.

Dear Bob and Jan: Aren't we all. We never sell lists of readers, as some do.

TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: My sister is married and pregnant but she also drinks a lot of alcohol. I remember that some time ago you wrote a column on "fetal alcohol syndrome." Will you please reprint that column? I want my sister to read it. — Mike

Mike: The column was written five years ago and the message is very important. I pray your sister learns and stops her alcohol intake.

Recently a young lady wrote to me and stated that she had two problems.

(1) She was unmarried and pregnant and (2) she thought she was an alcoholic. In writing to me she asked that I not put her letter in the paper, but asked that I please write to her personally.

Her question was, "Will the alcohol I consume injure my unborn baby?" I researched the subject and answered the young lady, but I was so impressed with the results of the research that I felt it imperative that I share it with my readers in hopes that I might be of great help to someone with the same problems.

Alcohol is a powerful drug, but is so taken for granted in our society that most of us don't even think of it as a drug. Alcohol abuse over a period of time can contribute to a number of serious disorders, including muscle and heart disease, malnutrition, digestive problems and liver cirrhosis.

It should not be surprising that this powerful addictive drug when abused during pregnancy can also affect the delicate system of an unborn baby.

Researchers have conducted a number of studies on infants born to women who drank heavily during pregnancy. The results are disturbing. A significant number of the infants studied were born with a definite pattern of physical, mental and behavioral abnormalities that researchers named the "fetal alcohol syndrome."

The babies with this syndrome were shorter and lighter in weight than normal and didn't catch up even after special postnatal care was provided. These infants also had abnormally small heads, severe facial irregularities, joint and limb abnormalities, heart defects and poor coordination. Also, most were mentally retarded.

It may be hard to believe that alcohol can wreak such devastating effects on the unborn baby, but an understanding of how alcohol interacts with the fetus may help. When a pregnant woman takes a drink, the alcohol readily crosses into the fetus. The alcohol travels through the baby's bloodstream the same as that of the mother. So if the expectant mother becomes drunk at a party, her unborn baby becomes drunk, as well.

It is believed that a pregnant woman clearly risks harm to her baby if she drinks 3 or more ounces of alcohol per day.

Research is currently under way on the effects of moderate drinking on the fetus to determine whether there is a safe limit for alcohol used during pregnancy.

Be safe! If you are pregnant, stay away from liquor and any type of alcohol. Be safe! That also applies to nicotine and any type of drug. Remember, whatever you take into your body, your unborn baby is getting the same dose.

If you have additional questions regarding alcohol and pregnancy, please write to the National Clearing House for Alcohol Information, Box 2345, Rockville, Md. 20852.

Dr. Wallace: My parents want me to get my puppy "fixed" because they don't want her to have puppies when she grows up. I think this is mean and cruel, don't you? It's inhumane! — Alice

Alice I disagree. It's far more humane to have a dog sterilized than to have unwanted puppies who often run wild, are abused and starved or must be put to sleep because no one wants them.

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE

Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle & Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful and intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power, to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. St. Jude, Pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys, 3 Glorias. Say for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised. This novena has never been known to fail. Thank you for answering my prayers. A.A. wa2

HOLY SPIRIT YOU WHO SOLVE

all problems, who light all roads so that I can obtain my goals. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evils against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you ever and in spite of all material illusions, I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. Say for 3 consecutive days after which the favor requested will be granted even if it appears difficult. This prayer must be published immediately without mentioning the favor, only your initials. Thank you Holy Spirit. A.M.

Notice

GRANDPARENTS... HERE IS YOUR CHANCE!

You have been telling everyone you meet that you have the 'World's Greatest Grandchildren' You've been carrying pictures around with you and finding people to look at them. We have a better answer!

Each week we will run photos Of the World's 'Most Beautiful Grandchildren' (in the eyes of the grandparents) and for each photo selected, we will send, as a prize, a permanent version of the way it appeared in the newspaper for you to keep.

To enter the contest, simply send a small (preferred) photo to: Discovery Magazine 81 East Barclay Street, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801
If you want the photo returned, you must print your name and address on the back.

ATTENTION PET LOVERS

If you feel that you have the 'Most Precious Pet in the World' it is time to let the rest of the world know about it.

Discovery Magazine wants to show your pet to everyone in its reading area.

To nominate your pet as the "Most Precious Pet" send in a photo to:

Discovery Magazine, 81 East Barclay Street, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801
Please put your name and address on the back of the picture to facilitate returns. The publishers guarantee that they will take reasonable care in returning your photo.

Quality Or Quantity?

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient

Readers = Results

is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

A rare example of Mid-Victorian

By James G. McCollam
Member, Antique
Appraisers' Association of America

Q. What can you tell me about my solid walnut desk that has been in our family for several generations?
I am interested in its value and vintage.

A. This mid-Victorian slant-front desk was made in the third quarter of the 19th century and is quite rare. It should sell for $700 to $800.

Q. This mark (sketch attached) is on my Haviland china.
First, I'd like to know when it was used. Second, what is the difference between china marked Haviland and that marked Theodore Haviland?

A. This mark was used from 1925 to 1938. China marked Haviland & Co. was made by Charles Haviland. That marked Theodore Haviland was made by Charles's brother.

Q. You told me that my Norman Rockwell print was a "commercial print" and not worth very much. However, I just read in a magazine that Rockwell's lithograph of "Lincoln" sold for $6,200. Please explain.

Antiques Collectibles

A. Rockwell's lithograph of "Lincoln" was a limited edition of 200, signed and numbered by Rockwell.

A commercial print would be a photographic copy of the original lithograph printed in large quantities.

One is an original work of art; the other is a commercial copy of magazine or calendar quality.

BOOK REVIEW: "North American Indian Artifacts" by Lar Hothem; Wallace-Homestead Book Co.; 1501 42nd St., West Des Moines, IA 50265; $9.95, plus $1.25 postage, or at your local bookstore.

Twenty thousand items of weapons, baskets, pottery, textiles and beadwork are illustrated and priced.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

I wonder how many of you boys and girls enjoy watching the Olympics now going on in Los Angeles. I think it is very interesting to see all the young people from all over the world competing in sports. Of course it is great when one of these young athletes wins a medal for the United States! Then I really stand up and cheer--and I'm sure you do, too.

I think my favorite sport is gymnastics. It is absolutely amazing what can be done on the bars and on the mats. Sometimes the smallest, youngest people contribute the most astounding performance!

Because it is difficult to predict, precisely when a particular mare is going to foal, many veterinarians now induce foaling with drugs. Elective induction of foaling ensures the presence of professional assistance at the time of foaling.

include: the length of pregnancy, udder development and genital tract relaxation.

The length of pregnancy should be near 330 days to ensure complete maturation of the foal. Foals born prior to this time are often immature. The udder should be well developed and contain colostrum at the time of induction. It is a disaster to have a foal born to a mare without milk.

The cervix, opening of the uterus, should be relaxed and easily dilatable prior to induction. This is something that your veterinarian can evaluate for you.

With most treatment regimens, the foal is born approximately 1/2 hour following injection of the mare. It must be remembered that anything that can go wrong at a natural parturition can also go wrong at induced parturition.

The induction process, itself, usually does not cause problems that would not have been present if the mare had been allowed to foal naturally. However, there is the opportunity to be present to help the mare and foal in induced foalings. Your veterinarian can help you decide if induced foaling is indicated in your particular situation. Induced foaling should not be tried without careful evaluation of the particular situation and should not be attempted without the support of a veterinarian.

Points On Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. Last year our mare delivered a dead filly foal. She had the foal at night when no one was around to watch her. Our veterinarian told us that if someone had been present to help the mare and foal, it might have been possible to save the filly.

The mare is pregnant again and due to foal in a couple of months. How can we be more precise in knowing when the mare is going to foal?

A. It is often difficult, if not impossible, to predict precisely when a particular mare is going to foal. The duration of pregnancy in horses is variable. It is usually between 320 and 360 days.

Although most people calculate the expected date of parturition as 11 calendar months from the last breeding, it is not uncommon or abnormal for 12 full months to elapse between breeding and foaling in some mares.

Male foals are carried 1 to 2 days longer than female foals. Foals born from January through April have gestation periods about 10 days longer than foals born from May through September. It appears that the fetus itself dictates the duration of pregnancy. Whenever the uterine environment is no longer suitable for the development of the foal, the mare is stimulated to give birth.

One of the earliest indications of approaching parturition in the mare is development of the mammary glands. The udder starts to noticeably increase in size about 3 to 6 weeks before foaling. The udder becomes distended with colostrum about 2 days prior to foaling and oozing of this colostrum, "waxing," from the teats can be observed in approximately 95 percent of mares 6 to 48 hours before foaling.

Usually, within 4 hours of parturition, slight sweating in the flank region and behind the elbows can be seen. The mare usually will not eat within 1 to 2 hours of foaling.

As the preparatory stage of parturition advances, the mare becomes restless, shows signs of abdominal pain, switches her tail and lies down and gets up more frequently than usual. The mare may stretch as if to urinate and have small bowel movements frequently.

During the latter part of the preparatory stage of foaling, the mare may roll back and forth. This rolling helps rotate the foal into the normal position for birth.

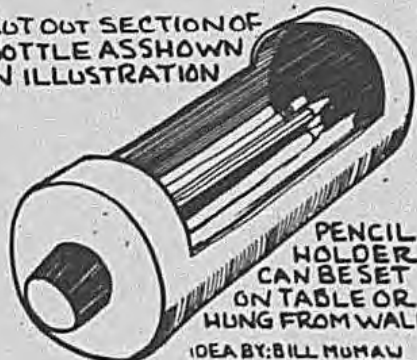

All of these signs become progressively more intense until the water bag ruptures and the mare gets into actual labor.

If these signs are seen for longer than 4 hours and it is not apparent that the foal is going to be born very soon, the mare should be examined by a veterinarian to ascertain if the foaling is normal.

A SIMPLE WAY TO DETERMINE DIRECTIONS:

SHOVE A STICK INTO THE GROUND. MARK EXACTLY THE TIP OF ITS SHADOW. ONE HOUR LATER, MARK SHADOW TIP AGAIN.

A LINE DRAWN THROUGH THESE TWO MARKS RUNS EAST AND WEST.

THE STICK WILL BE SOUTH OF LINE IN NORTHERN HEMISPHERE.
