Everyone Invited To Pancake Breakfast

The Hicksville Lions Club is having its Annual Pancake Breakfast on Sunday, November 25, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Come and enjoy all the hotcakes, sausage, coffee, and juice you can eat and drink. The atmosphere is friendly and the price is right! The cost for adults is $3, Senior Citizens and children are $2. The Lions use these proceeds for the numerous charities they support so that in addition to good food, it is for a worthy cause.

There will be free hypertension and glaucoma screenings, while there will be information available as to the purpose of the Lions Club and the causes they support.

The place is: Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, 130 Jerusalem Avenue, Hicksville. The Hicksville Lions look forward to seeing you the morning of November 25.

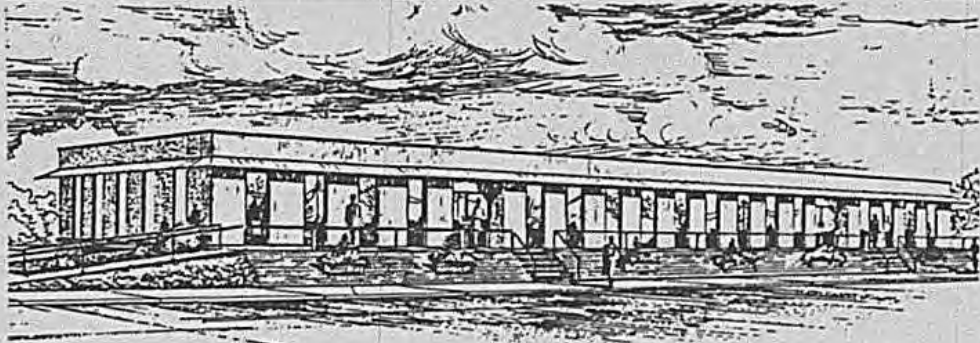

How To Say 'No' To Children

On Wednesday, November 28, at 8 p.m., Ms. Sandy Wolkoff of the North Shore Child and Family Guidance Center in Manhasset will talk to the parents of the Hicksville Nursery School about "when (and how) to say No!" to your child. Ms. Wolkoff holds an M.S.W. and C.S.W. and is a staff member of the Early Childhood Team at North Shore Guidance. The meeting will be held in the social hall of the United Methodist Church of Hicksville and is open to all interested parents. There will be a $1 donation requested of all non-school member individuals to cover the cost of refreshments. For more information, call 731-5128.

Thanksgiving Eve Church Dinner

The Lutheran Church of St. Stephen, Hicksville, is sponsoring their Annual Thanksgiving Eve Dinner on Wednesday, November 21, at 5:30 p.m. It is open to everyone who is looking for fellowship with their church family. If you have a friend, neighbor, or relative who may not be having a traditional observance, bring them along. There is a $1 (one dollar) donation per person. Immediately following the dinner there will be a service of worship at 8 p.m.

Contact the church office, 931-0710, by November 19 for reservations.

Artist's sketch of proposed office building on West Marie St. and Broadway, Hicksville.

First New Building Plan For Barren Broadway

A new 12,500 sq. ft. one story office building will be built at the northwest corner of West Marie Street and Broadway, Hicksville according to petitions filed at Town Hall.

The building will be the first in 20 years to be built on a stretch of land on the west side of Broadway that was vacated for a road widening project in 1956. Ivan Czipott, an architect and site developer with offices in Hicksville has assembled the plot and proposes building a one story office building. The location is in G1 zoning and minimum building requirements in that site are listed at 17,500, although indications in Town Hall are that these requirements may be revised. Underground parking is proposed for the building. A public hearing at the Zoning Board of Appeals has been set for November 29 at 7 p.m. in Oyster Bay regarding the permit.

Officials of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce and several local representatives of churches and other civic organizations have said publicly that they support building on this site and many say they have written to the Town telling them of the importance of fostering new building on this long dormant site in Hicksville.

The building will be aimed at providing small and medium sized companies with office space.

The following statement was released by the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce: "With reference to the application of Ivan E. Czipott for the construction of an office building on the northwesterly corner of the intersection of Broadway and West Marie Street in Hicksville, New York. We would like to go on record as being highly in favor of such a building as proposed.

All previous objections on building heretofore have been eliminated in this proposal, and this building represents a positive approach in design, type and height."

New Shopping Center To Open In Hicksville

A new shopping center will open on November 21 in Hicksville with a ribbon cutting ceremony. The new center located on Old Country Road and Broadway (Route 107) has been built on land previously occupied by McKeon Lumber, an auto body shop and vacant land. The center was developed by Delco Development Corp. of Jericho. Allen and Martin Yudell are the owners of the company.

Francis Purcell, Nassau County Executive, Councilman Tom Clark of Hicksville, Julius Yudell, and executives from King Kullen, Annie Sez and Super X, will cut the ribbon for the opening. New York Islander hockey stars will be at the Shopping Center from 4 to 6 p.m. to greet the "kids". Brent Sutter will be at Nibbles Ice Cream Store, Duane Sutter will be signing autographs at the Gallery Italian Restaurant and Butch Goring is scheduled for the Bagel/Deli. Autographed hockey sticks will be raffled.

Delco, home based at 61 Jericho Turnpike, Jericho, has developed shopping centers in 13 states for more than 40 years. Delco is proud to have King Kullen's Gourmet Market, Super X Pharmacy and Convenience Center, and Annie Sez, as major tenants who will serve the community with fellow merchants: Chiu City Chinese Restaurant, Corniche Cleaners, Hallmark Card Gallery, Nibbles Ice Cream & Candy, R & R Bagel/Deli, The Gallery Italian Restaurant, The New Rage Hair Salon, and Show Biz Video.

Local Firemen On Safety Panel

Recently a competitive exam was held by the Nassau County Vocational Education and Extension Board for Fire and Rescue Service Instructors. Appointed to part time paid instructors were Hicksville Fire Department Chief Owen Magee, Public Fire Safety Education Specialist, Hicksville Lt. Eugene Pietzak 2nd Deputy Chief instructor for firefighters, Hicksville firefighter George Howard 2nd Deputy Chief instructor for firefighters. All are attached to the N.C. Fire Service Academy.

Nassau County Comptroller Peter T. King, left, gives best wishes to Theresse McGowan of Hicksville upon her retirement from the Comptroller's Office. King commended Ms. McGowan for her years of dedicated service. Ms. McGowan worked in the Payroll Section of the Comptroller's Office.

Hicksville Residents Appointed To LIDA

Vivian Papa took office as Program of Work Chairman and Mary Crisci took office as Corresponding Secretary of the Long Island Dietetic Association (LIDA) for the 1984-85 year at the recent meeting of the association's Executive Board.

As Work Chairman, Mrs. Papa's responsibility will be to plan meetings and educational programs for the LIDA. Mrs. Papa's previous positions on the board were Membership chairman for the LIDA and Book Fair Coordinator for the New York State Dietetic Association Convention.

Mrs. Papa is a Registered Dietitian and is employed by Ross Laboratories as a Medical Nutritional Representative. She received her Bachelor of Science degree in Dietetics from State University College Oneonta, N.Y. where she graduated with honors. Mrs. Papa also has an M.A. in Food Service Management from N.Y. University, New York.

She is married, a resident of Hicksville, and very active in the community as well as the LIDA.

Prior to her appointment as Corresponding Secretary, Ms. Crisci also held positions on the Program Committee, New York State Dietetic Association Annual Meeting Committee, Dial-A-Dietitian Program Coordinator, and Historian.

Ms. Crisci is a Registered Clinical Dietitian at Smithtown

General Hospital where she is responsible for the nutritional assessment of patient dietary needs.

A resident of Hicksville, Ms. Crisci has an AAS degree from State University of New York Agricultural and Technical College at Farmingdale and a Bachelor of Science degree from Marywood College in Pennsylvania. She is also attending a Nutrition Counseling and Heart Disease Workshop sponsored by the American Heart Association at St. Frances Hospital in Roslyn. When she completes the workshop she will receive a certificate and be put on a referral list. Ms. Crisci is also a member of the American Dietetic Association and the New York State Dietetic Association as well as the LIDA.

The Long Island Dietetic Association was founded more than thirty years ago to advance the science of nutrition and dietetics and to promote education in its varied fields. It is the major professional association on Long Island. An affiliate of the New York State Dietetic Association and the American Dietetic Association, the LIDA supports a variety of public information programs and has an active Speakers Bureau to bring information about nutrition to the public.

Hicksville Swimmers In Qualifying Meet

On November 3, the Section Eight New York State Qualifying Meet was held at Nassau Community College. The Hicksville High Swim Team was well represented at this county-wide competition.

Team members who qualified for this meet were Gina Cusumano in the 100 free, Stephanie and Andrea Pitta in the 100 breast, Kristin Mund in the 100 fly and the 200Im and Lorna Mund in the 200 free, and the medley relay of Linda Cusumano, Deanna Pitta, Andrea Pitta and Gina Cusumano and the free relay of Lorna Mund, Karen Karmann, Gina Cusumano and Kristin Mund.

Kristin Mund, the youngest competitor in the meet, won a third place trophy for the 100 fly. Lorna Mund won both the 200 free and the back. She will be competing in the State Championship, accompanied by the Hicksville coach Walter Olszewski, in Rochester on Nov. 16 and 17.

AARP News

The regular meeting of the A.A.R.P., Chapter 15 was held at the Levittown Hall, November 6.

After the meeting D. Ruth Hartmann, Associate State Director, spoke on the Health Program. The motto is "Cut the Cost Keep the Care". Slides were shown.

The New Hyde Park Jazz Band will entertain at the December meeting, December 4. Due to the fact that the band has to return to school, they will play approximately from 1:30 to 2:45. Refreshments and raffle will be held after the band leaves.

A Chinese Auction will be held at the February meeting.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

At 7:20 on Election Day morning, (while driving home from the Railroad Station,) I witnessed the funeral procession of Hicksville teachers, led by kilted pipers, carrying a coffin and a large plaid-draped sign proclaiming "The Clan is Dead". The "clan" referred to was a concept of the school family introduced by the Superintendent of Schools at the opening of the 1983-84 school year.

My immediate reaction to the sight of almost every teacher in our community marching in this somber brigade was one of shock, sadness, and frustration; for once again our teaching staff is working without a contract long past the expiration date, and the familiar but unwelcome cycle of unrest, lowered morale and conflict has been re-activated in our schools.

During the years I served as president of the Lee Avenue PTA, the PTA Council, and later as a school board trustee, I was not able to publicly voice my personal views during negotiations; but now I feel obliged to speak up as the parent of a 9th grader and as an independent resident who cares deeply about our educational community. The quality of education in any school district is only as good as its teaching staff. We have hired consultants and administrators, introduced new programs, updated curriculum, increased diploma requirements and have talked at countless meetings about "quality education", but all of these efforts are undermined when our teachers are not dealt with fairly in negotiations.

I am not talking about contract demands or negotiable items. I am talking about the "policy" of this district to drag out negotiations with its bargaining units (from the custodians to the council of administrators) until the units become demoralized and hostile and perceive that the Board of Education and Administration care nothing for their efforts.

In the situation of the teaching staff, the Board has the advantage of the Taylor Law; but that same Taylor Law that penalizes striking teachers' salaries, also stipulates that employees have a right to collective bargaining in good faith and to a fair contract. It would seem that bargaining in good faith includes having a contract before the previous agreement expires.

We are not dealing here with impersonal products produced in a factory. We are dealing with our children's educations and with their teachers, and the attitude should be one of cooperation and compromise. Perhaps the clan is not dead after all. Maybe now is the time to breathe life into it around the bargaining table. Members of a clan may disagree and argue, but they put aside some of their differences so that the entire clan might prosper.

Sincerely,
Honey Singer
Editor's Note: Mrs. Singer is a former Hicksville School Board member. She was defeated for re-election at the last school district election.

To the Editor:

I am most grateful to all of my friends and neighbors for their enthusiastic help and support of my campaign and for making my recent election to Nassau County Family Court Judge a reality. I could not hope to express fully how much their help and encouragement meant to me and so I shall say, with deep emotion, simply, thank you.

I also wish to thank all of the voters of Nassau County for their confidence in me and in particular the residents of the Town of Oyster Bay whom I have been privileged to serve as a Councilman for fourteen years.

Also, I want to thank you for the fairness with which your paper has treated my years of service as a Town of Oyster Bay Councilman.

Sincerely,
Salvatore R. Mosca
Judge-elect

Hicksville Shamrocks Season Undefeated

By A. Bliker
 The Hicksville Shamrocks 1974 traveling soccer team completed an undefeated season with a 2-0 victory over the Syosset Cyclones at Grumman Field Saturday. This win brought a division championship to the Shamrocks.
 The team was led by the brilliant goaltending of Eddie Jacobsen and Joe Flanagan as well as by the offensive play of left wing Jared Jacobs, who had one goal and an assist and left halfback Gregg Furst who had the other goal and assist. The work of these two on the left side was one of the strong points of the Shamrocks season. The rest of the Shamrocks dominated Syosset, giving Hicksville its second shut-out of the season. Chris Doyle played a strong game at sweeper and wing. Gregg Gruosso was outstanding at fullback, coming up into the offensive end on numerous occasions. Brian Harkins had his usual consistent game at fullback, constantly pushing the ball upfield. Jason Kingsley was his "unstoppable" self at stopper. Ted Knoop played a strong fullback and halfback. David Lovato filled in admirably at a number of offensive positions. Todd Meringoff ventured from one end of the field to another as the Shamrocks outstanding center halfback. Brian Pine played a successful, aggressive right halfback. Matt Pordum was in the thick of the action at striker. Joe Flanagan and Ed Jacobsen also took turns at the offensive and defensive zones, with equal flair. Eric Bliker, despite running a fever, made a brave cameo appearance at striker.

Congratulations to assistant coaches Peter Knoop and Pat Harkins who ran this game. Special plaudits to coach John Flanagan for his outstanding dedication to soccer in general and the Shamrocks in particular.

Our Children

How much 'truth' to tell?

By Willard Abraham
Ph.D.

There is another serious issue in your letter, however. It relates to the responsibility of neighbors who may be aware of danger to children or other family members. You might want to consider calling the proper authorities (police or others) to see what your responsibility is in your locality in matters of this type.

Q. We have a 12-year-old who is a terrific student. He always gets top grades in spite of the fact that he has a television set on constantly in his room while he studies.

We gave a small one to him as a present two years ago, and it seems like it's his steady companion since then.

He plays it quietly, and I'm not sure how much attention he pays to it, but it worries me just the same. I can't help but think it interferes with his studying. Still, the reports from school are always excellent. Maybe they could be even better though.

I've hinted to him that having the television on isn't a good idea, and the possibility of restricting it upsets him.

My husband has no concern about all this, so maybe I shouldn't either. What do you think?

A. Isn't it interesting how as parents some of us almost seem to go out of our way to try to identify problems with our children when none appears to exist? Your situation sounds like one of those non-problems.

Other parents may differ with me and go along on your worry route. However, that would make sense only if television or some other potential distraction actually limited a child's academic achievement. That doesn't seem to be the issue in your family.

Q. My husband insists that telling the truth to a child is essential even if it has bitterness and violence involved in it.

This subject came up because some neighbors of ours who have a child our daughter's age (she's 7) have been having terrible fights, with the beatings involving all members of the family. Both parents as well as two children have been hurt in them.

Our little girl is aware that something isn't quite right over there, but she doesn't know all the details. I don't either, but my husband and I know a lot more about the situation than she does.

He insists she hear the whole story because life is tough and she might as well get used to it. I have serious reservations about such total sharing of a matter like this.

We both want your opinion.

A. Whether it is family fights or sickness, poverty or war, a child of almost any age can't be totally sheltered, but neither does he nor she require complete exposure. Depending on children's ages and maturity, they may not be ready to cope with all the bitter details.

It isn't a matter of "telling the truth," but rather whether telling the whole truth is wise or necessary. In a way it's somewhat like sharing all details of sexual relationships with a young child long before he or she understands, cares or can handle them.

Lee Ave. PTA Halloween Party

Magic and mystery surrounded Lee Avenue School for Halloween. On Tuesday, October 30, the students were treated to a special magic show performed by Maljean the Magician. Some highlights of the show were brightly colored scarves pulled out of boxes, a golden ball that floated in air and a cake baked in a hat. Even some of the children got into the act when they were called up on stage to assist the magician. The program was sponsored by the PTA.

On Halloweed Day the first RIF distribution of the year took place. The all purpose room was decorated with ghosts and goblins and witches when the children came in to select their books. Apples were given to every class by the PTA as a special treat.

The winners of the RIF "Solve the Mystery" contest are: First grade, James Nagle, Stella Lippert, Robert Wholehan, Kelly Della; Second grade, Danielle Raemdonck, Linda Guerriero, John Haley; Third grade, Michael Lippert, George Intellisano, Anthony Miles; Fourth grade, Linda Gorney, Thomas Carolan, Jennifer Nagle; Fifth grade, Jerry Lippert, Leslie Carolan, Hetal Lakhani; Sixth grade, Kalpa Udeshi, Michelle Murtha, Robert Lombri.

All of the contest entries were delightful to read. A special thank you to Mr. George Baer, Assistant Director of Instruction, from Administration, for being our judge and taking the time to write notes to all the entries.

During that afternoon the children in kindergarten through third grades were invited to a special play, written, staged and acted by Mrs. Pfizenmayer's 6th grade. The theme was "Halloween Safety" and included skits on Trick or Treating alone, poison candy, entering strange houses and small children left unattended. It was an excellent production and the 6th graders are to be commended for their efforts.

News From VFW Post 3211

By P.P.C. Carmine A. Somma

As the Holiday Season is just around the corner we at home celebrate the holiday with our family. Let's take time out and remember that some of our finest young men are still in South East Asia Prison Camp. Let us pray during the Holy Season that all our (2,500) M.I.A. - P.O.W. return home some day and that there be peace around the world. On Sunday Nov. 4 there was a MIA-POW rally in Washington, D.C. Veterans Organization from Queens, Nassau, and Suffolk County came to participate in the rally. Let us not forget about those young men during the Holy Season. Pray that they might be alive and healthy. This weekend the Nassau Chapter Vietnam of Nassau County was in Washington D.C. on Nov. 10 and 11 at a Memorial Service for all the comrades who gave their lives in Vietnam. On Sunday Nov. 11 all the Veterans Organization in Hicksville had services at the Hicksville Jr. High School. On Sunday Nov. 4 the U.V.O. of Nassau County had a Veterans Day Service at Eisenhower Park. On Sept. 29 at the V.F.W. Hall the "Golden Oldies" Dance was a complete sellout and big success. We raffled off a "Truckload of Cheer" and the winner was Tom Shields of 13 Blue Jay Ln. Levittown, Consolation Prize went to our Ladies Auxiliary.

November 3 at the Hall we had a "Polka Dance" which was a success. The two Chairmen were Joe Messana and Ed Kleniewski and our Comdr. Tony Chepak and his wife, Virginia did all the cooking. They all did the job well. On Dec. 16 the Post and Ladies Auxiliary have three Christmas Parties from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. and Sunday Dec. 23 Children's Christmas from 2 to 4 p.m. and a New Year's Party, Nov. 14 will be judging the Voice of Democracy. On Feb. 11, 1985 there will be Award Night for the Voice of Democracy. On Nov. 26 the Queens County Ritual Team will be at the Hall. We welcome all who were in the Armed Forces during WWII, Korean, Berlin Aug 1 61 to 63, Lebanon, Quemony and Matsu, Taiwan Straits, Cong, Laos, Vietnam, Cuba, Dominican Republic, Korea Oct. 1 to June 1974, Cambodia - just bring down your DD-214 any 2nd or 4th Monday of the month so we can check it out. We welcome a Vietnam Veteran, Tony Bliss who is Vice Pres. of Tristate of 101st Abn Div Assoc. and the Co-Chairman Veterans for Gen. Westmoreland. Veterans can increase compensation by contacting the Veterans Counselor at the New York State Division of Veterans Affairs 997 Hicksville Rd. Massapequa or call 798-5626.

Speedy recovery to Comrades and Sisters and their families who have been hospitalized or ill during the month, Mary Stallone Peter DeFilippis Post Member Past Pres. of the Ladies Auxiliary Joan Chwalisz. Our sincerest condolences to the family of Post Member Joseph Dembroski and Carmine Cavalluzzo.

Happy wedding anniversary to P.P.C. Abraham Feldman and his wife Min and P.P.C. Vincent Edwards and his wife Lee.

Happy
Thanksgiving

'New Image' Honors Director

On Sunday, November 4, the Parents Booster Association of the New Image Drum & Bugle Corps held a dinner dance at the Galileo Lodge, honoring Donald M. Graziose, Director and Carman C. Cluna, Chief Instructor of the Corps. Fr. Thomas Costa of St. Ignatius Loyola Church officiated in the opening prayer. Mr. Ed Bello, President of the Association and Mr. Bill Beck introduced the guests. Also attending were the Corps Founder, Thomas R. Costa, Dominic DiCenzo, Garden State Drum Circuit, Corps instructional staff, and some ex-drum majors and staffers.

During the proceedings, recognition was given to Carman Cluna for being inducted into the Drum Corps Hall of Fame. Speeches of appreciation and "Thank You" to Donald and Carman for their years of work and dedication and striving in keeping our "New Image alive and vibrant". The food that the committee put out was absolutely sumptuous. A special thank you to our Committee Chairperson Jim Kelleher and his wife Carol who, with Corps parents Dominic and Rose Valente and James and Mary White, had spent most of the day preparing the feast in the house kitchen. A special thank you to photographer Andy Torre, his wife Judy Torre, and Karen Wieman in a job well done.

Donald M. Graziose and his wife Janet.

Diane Guadagno and Donna Lang, Corps members.

Carman C. Cluna and his wife Brenda.

What do you think about our garbage being shipped to Pennsylvania especially when you're a senior citizen and own your own home. Families on your block have large families and pay the same tax. It's hard enough to pay all the other taxes such as school, etc. since senior citizens don't even have children who attend school. L.C.

THE OFFICE CAT

By Gabby Tabby

NASSAU County Consumer Affairs has had complaints about cable TV rates going up but the agency has no control over cable rates. The Cablevision company beat a federal rule which would limit to 5% increases for two years. They put in a much higher, quick rate increase. But word is that cable will have to increase its rates drastically unless it gets more advertising. And if it does everything is back where it was before cable except that the viewer is now paying and watching hackneyed commercials that used to be free. . . . THERE is supposed to be good news from Nassau County. It unveiled a $1.2 billion budget which set a record but because of the increased County sales tax there will be a slight decrease for homeowners. No plan to lower the sales tax was given in spite of an $8 million surplus. . . . AND in Oyster Bay the Town is still sticking to an increase in taxes because of the garbage muddle that has not been solved. Garbage will be trucked to Scranton Pa. at triple the present cost. . . . THE WEEKLY CRIME report is published each week as a public service to acquaint residents of where crime is taking place in the area and as an aid in the Neighborhood Watch program. Anyone seeing suspicious activity should phone 911: BURGLARS broke into the Shube home 26 Richfield St., Plainview between Nov. 6 and 7. They entered by breaking glass in a rear window. A VCR and jewelry were missing. . . . THE REAR door of the Rashkin residence 56 Hofstra Drive, Plainview, was pried open by burglars between Nov. 6 and 7. The loss is unknown. . . . BURGLARS broke glass in a rear window of the Cohen residence, 47 Joyce Rd., Plainview on Nov. 8. Jewelry was stolen. . . . BURGLARS broke into the Rekin home, 56 Aintree Rd., Jericho on Nov. 8. They broke glass in a rear window to gain entry. Cash and a camera were stolen. . . . THE FRONT door of CFM International 400 Jericho Turnpike, Jericho was kicked in on Nov. 7. Burglars entered and stole cash. . . . ON NOV. 8 burglars broke into the Milleridge Inn Route 106, 107, Jericho. They made entry through the roof but it is not known what was stolen. . . . BURGLARS entered the Perry residence 149 Dean St., Hicksville on Nov. 5. They entered through an unlocked rear window and stole $2000 cash, a gold band on a chain and a gold necklace. . . . THE REAR door of Falcon Computer 361 Old Country Rd., Hicksville was forced open by burglars between Nov. 6 and 7. They entered and stole computer equipment. . . . A PAIR of Puma sneakers was reported stolen from the Farmer's Market, Hicksville Rd., Hicksville between Nov. 3 and 9. . . . A COMPUTER terminal, printer and modem were stolen from Bethpage Library between Nov. 8 and 12. Entry was through a rear window. . . . That's all the news for now. . . . G.T.

Woodland Ave. Book Fair

The Woodland Avenue PTA's annual Book Fair will be held in the All-Purpose Room this year on November 15, 16, 19 and 20. There will be a lovely assortment of new books. The Fair will encourage student interest in reading and in building home libraries.

All are invited to come and browse and see what a wonderful selection of books there are to buy. Parents, please plan to visit the Book Fair on these dates between 12 and 2:30 p.m.

Thanksgiving Eve At ChurchOfChrist

The Church of Christ of Hicksville will conduct a Thanksgiving Eve Service on Wednesday November 21 at 7:30 p.m. This annual program always refreshes the Thanksgiving spirit and ushers in Thanksgiving Day in a special fashion.

This year the Service will feature special music by John and Cyndi Faust of Neshanic Station, New Jersey. Their contemporary vocal style will compliment the evening. In addition, the Church of Christ Choir will be presenting a number in song.

The speaker for the evening will be Darrel Brandon, minister with the East Northport Church of Christ. Local minister, Tom Goodlet, says "Darrel is a fine Christian man. He will combine wit with a solid Biblical message. People won't want to miss hearing him."

The Church of Christ is located at 105 Broadway (between Marie Street and Nicholas Street), in the heart of Hicksville. A staffed nursery will be provided. Everyone is welcome.

Blood Drive At St. Stephen's

The Lutheran Church of St. Stephen, Hicksville, will hold their annual blood drive on Monday, November 26, from 4 to 9 p.m.

All members and friends are asked to give this gift of life. There is currently a shortage of type O blood. If you are between the ages of 17 and 65, weigh at least 110 lbs. and are in good health, chances are that you can give blood. For information please call the church office, 931-0710. There is no better offering of thanks than to give someone a life.

Films Scheduled At Library

"The Compleat Beatles," a moving documentary film on the Beatles' career, will be shown at the Hicksville Public Library on Friday, November 16 at 8 p.m. and Saturday, November 17, at 2 p.m. The film follows the Beatles from the very beginning, capturing, the Horatio Algerish aspects of their success, the charm that constituted the heart of their vast appeal, the strong personalities that emerged within the group and the weariness that brought on its breakup.

The Hicksville Public Library will show the film, "An Officer And A Gentleman," on Sunday, November 18 at 2 p.m. The movie, starring Richard Gere, Debra Winger and Lou Gossett, is about a selfish loner, who is chastened and humbled in the Navy's basic training, and a woman who wants to love him.

The film will be shown in the Community Room of the library. There is no admission charged and everyone is invited. Since this is on the Adult Program, children will be admitted only if they are with their parents.

The Hicksville Public Library will show the film, "Slave of Love," on Friday, November 23, at 8 p.m. and Sunday, November 25, at 2 p.m. It is 1918 and the Bolshevik Revolution has just taken place. In the south of Russia a film crew is attempting to finish a romantic melodrama, oblivious to the tide of change about to engulf them. Their film supply runs out, government troops invade their set and the turmoil of revolution draws closer. Only the beautiful leading lady is able to recognize the political realities, as falling in love with a Bolshevik cameraman she finds herself caught up in the forces of transformation. The dialogue is Russian with English subtitles.

This film will be shown in the Community Room of the library. There is no admission charged and everyone is invited. Films listed on the Adult Program require that children be accompanied by a parent for admittance.

Pine Barren Film At Library

The "Pine Barrens of Long Island" the latest in the series of natural history films being shown Sundays at the Hicksville Gregory Museum, will be the program for this coming Sunday, November 18, at 2:30. The public is invited to see the central Suffolk region which has long been a source of wonder and delight to naturalists but is now the object of environmental groups and enlightened government officials bent on conservation needs.

Of the Suffolk wilderness the 19th century writer Winslow C. Watson wrote in his paper presented before the N.Y. State Agricultural Society, in 1859: "The strangeness and wild aspect of the scenery is beautiful and impressive, and the mind can scarcely comprehend the fact that such utter stillness and seclusion and such an exhibition of nature, in more than its primeval rudeness, should occur within three hours' ride of the great metropolis. Almost as far as the vision reaches, the eye rests only upon a sea of waving bushes. . . This rude wilderness extends from Farmingdale to Riverhead, a distance of almost 43 miles. . . When the Long Island railroad was constructed, about twenty years ago, it penetrated an unbroken wilderness in which appeared no dwelling, no culture and no evidences of civilization except an occasional path which traversed the island from north to south, connecting the two opposite shores."

Today's photography captures this mysterious solitude in its modern, endangered state, a film worthy of our interest and concern.

The showtime is 2:30 Sunday, Nov. 18, at the Hicksville Gregory Museum, Heitz Place - Hicksville residents admitted free.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO NASSAU COUNTY TAXPAYERS

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sales lists are being prepared of unpaid School District Taxes for the year 1983 - 1984, and State, County, Town and special district taxes for year 1984, on real property situated in the towns of Hempstead, North Hempstead and Oyster Bay and the City of Long Beach, New York. Sales lists are also being prepared of unpaid State and County Taxes for the year 1984 on real property situated within the territorial limits of the City of Glen Cove, N.Y. Unless such unpaid taxes, with interest and additional fees be paid on or before the 17th day of December, 1984 the tax lien on the property against which such taxes are levied will be advertised and on the 19th day of February, 1985 thereafter, sold.

Any taxpayer interested may send a brief description of his property to the County Treasurer, and a statement of the amount of unpaid tax, if any, will be forwarded to him.

The completed lists will be open for examination, and copies will be available in the County Treasurer's Office, 240 Old Country Road, Garden City, N.Y. (P.O. Address, Mineola, N.Y. 11501) on or about the 31st day of January, 1985.

Homemakers Showcase

The Homemaker's Council of Nassau County will present their Sixth Annual Achievement Showcase display of arts, crafts, sewing and other home related articles. It will be held on Sunday, November 18, at Levittown Hall, Beech St., Hicksville. The 50 Chapters of almost 6,000 talented members will display their items from noon to 5 p.m.

Please bring your family and friends. Admission and parking are free.

Support Group At Ecumenical Ctr.

The Ecumenical Consultation Center will be offering a parent/young persons support group for people who have the Marfan Syndrome. The Marfan Support Group will meet at the Center's offices in Hicksville, 30 Grand Avenue, at 11 a.m., Saturday mornings.

The Marfan Syndrome is an inherited disorder of the connective tissue which involves many of the body organ systems. Most affected are the lungs, eyes, heart, blood vessels and skeletal structure. The Marfan Syndrome affects more than twenty thousand persons in the United States, both male and female, of all racial and ethnic backgrounds. At the present time, there are no specific laboratory tests available for use in diagnosing the Marfan Syndrome. Symptoms of the disease vary greatly from one patient to the next, which further complicates attempts to correctly diagnose initial cases of this syndrome. A careful physical examination, with such tests as an EKG, echocardiogram, and X-rays, allow the correct diagnosis to be made.

The most serious manifestation of the Marfan Syndrome is the structural abnormalities of the cardiovascular system. The mitral heart valve components are misdirected, which can lead to the valve being blocked and an irregular heart beat. Other problems may include a wide aorta, which may ultimately require surgery, skeletal problems, such as scoliosis, chest deformity and loose jointedness, and myopia, or nearsightedness.

Although there is presently no cure for the Marfan Syndrome, a physician who is familiar with the disease can carefully monitor and treat the various body systems which may be affected, improving the patient's prognosis and increasing life expectancy.

Dr. Pyeritz of John Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore and Dr. Devereux of the N.Y. Hospital/Cornell Medical Center are hard at work developing techniques for early diagnosis. They are just beginning to understand the many physical aspects of the syndrome, but the social and emotional aspects have yet to be discussed adequately in the literature.

The diagnosis of Marfan's sets off different reactions in different people at different times in their lives. Some parents, who themselves don't have the disease, may experience a sense of guilt when their child receives a positive diagnosis. In others, feelings of frustration, anger, or sadness may develop after the positive diagnosis is made, even though it's pointed out to parents that this disease is clearly beyond their control. The same situations occur with the young people who have the disease. Adolescence is usually a difficult time for most young people, but with the added strain and pressure of the Marfan Syndrome, it could be a period of overwhelming stress.

The Chairperson, Priscilla Ciccarriello, of the Marfan Foundation, was most enthusiastic about the Ecumenical Consultation starting a support group for the parents and young people with the disease.

If you would like to attend the meetings or would like more information about them, please call Peter Gelber or Joanne Walters at the Ecumenical Consultation Center (516) 935-4437.

For further information concerning the Marfan Syndrome, contact: The National Marfan Foundation, 54 Irma Avenue, Port Washington, New York 11050. (516) 883-8712.

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle & Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful and intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition, in return I promise to make your name known and cause to be invoked. St. Jude, pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Mary's, 3 Gloria's. Say for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised. This novena has never been known to fail. Thank you for answering my prayers. ML gen3

HOLY SPIRIT WHO SOLVE all problems, who light all roads so that I can obtain my goals. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evils against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you ever and in spite of all material illusions, I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. Say for 3 consecutive days after which the favor requested will be granted even if it appears difficult. This prayer must be published immediately without mentioning the favor, only your initials. Thank you Holy Spirit. F.A. gen3

Story Theater Children's Book Wk

Have you ever had peanut butter and jelly hopelessly stuck to the roof of your mouth? Or tried to make a man-eating giant dance instead of devouring you?

On Saturday, November 17, the Bethpage Public Library will salute National Children's Book Week with a dazzling special presentation of "The One-Man Story Theater Band" by John Porcino, actor, musician, storyteller, humorist, and naturalist.

At this time, John Porcino, performer extraordinary, will present his fabulous grab bag of outlandish theater pieces, stories, and songs from here and there and everywhere brought to life with music played on the guitar, violin, cello, African drums, recorder, lute, flute, and penny whistle. There will be lots of unusual special effects, hand-clapping, foot-stamping fun and surprises for all.

Mr. Porcino has performed his unique version of story theater in numerous Metropolitan area schools and libraries, and at major dramatic and storytelling festivals. Showtime is 2 p.m. and tickets are now available in the Bethpage Children's Room for all school-age youngsters residing in District #21.

WHAT PHOTO STUDES LOOK FOR

With six prizes worth $3,000 at stake in the First Annual "Happy Holidays Photo Contest" at LaBelle Camera and Stereo in Syosset, Long Island shutterbugs will want to know what the panel of judges will look for when they evaluate the hundreds of photos that will be submitted.

"In news photography, technical merit is always less important than the inherent news value of the shot," says Harvey V. Fondiller, former movie/film editor of "Popular Photography", and editor of "The Encyclopedia of Photography".

"But in this contest, which focuses on a theme that lends itself to 'artistic treatment', technical quality will play an important role."

Mr. Fondiller is one of the judges in LaBelle's photo contest in which photographers in three separate age categories will compete against their peers. Photos must illustrate the theme of "happy holidays on Long Island."

"The entry begins even before the photographer picks up the camera," says John Maguire, president of Master Studio in Manhattan, and a professional photographer for more than twenty-five years.

"The photographer has to decide whether to shoot people, a place, a nature scene, or a combination. Usually, the people-oriented shots are the most compelling and interesting."

Hesso Bellem, president of Ad Methods Advertising, St. James, NY, believes the successful photographers will be "those who let their cameras become an unobtrusive part of the scene rather than a self-conscious intruder."

"Stiff, posed shots are usually disastrous," he says. "You're never really happy with the results—and neither are your subjects."

Another judge, Tony DeMartino, president of ADM Video Productions, Jericho, NY, says that some photographers mistakenly think that they'll need a very expensive camera to take a good picture.

"Some of the all-time greatest shots have been grabbed with the simplest, most unsophisticated cameras. It just takes being in the right place at the right time...and having the imagination and initiative to know it!"

Joe Cohen, owner/manager of LaBelle, and the fifth judge of the five-member panel, said the contest is designed to offer everyone, regardless of age or experience, a chance to win one of the six prizes.

He said entry blanks are available at LaBelle at 224 West Jericho Turnpike (east of Routes 106/107), in Syosset.

Deadline for entries is January 13. Winners, who will be selected by a voting system involving both the judges and the general public, will be announced on February 14.

THE QUESTION OF THE WEEK

There is a plan to make a single rate income tax with very few special deductions. Do you think this plan will be approved?

Call 931-0027 24 Hrs. a Day

Ground Rules

You are not limited to the above

but may talk on any subject of interest to readers.

•One subject to a caller per week•

Simply dial 931-0027-24 Hours a Day and follow these simple rules:

1. Wait for the beep.
2. Confine your INPUT to one subject.
3. Limit your opinion to five minutes (make notes before calling)
4. Leave your name and telephone, or simply use a pen name. (your message can be anonymous)
5. Publishers reserve the right to edit, modify or omit any and all material.

Most Callers Say Political TV Ads Had Little Effect

Most callers to Input said that they were not greatly influenced by the TV ads that were used in the Presidential election in answer to this question: "Now that the election is over do you feel that voters were influenced by advertising campaigns? If not, how was the choice made?"

AN INTERRUPTION

No. The half minute TV commercials did little to change my idea of whom to vote for in the election. I did not need the distorted commercials to change my view that we are better off now than if the Carter administration or his vice president continued. This was a big waste and an interruption of good TV shows. J.R.

NEGATIVE ISSUES

Perhaps some people are influenced by those commercials on TV but they never say anything. I think if the Mondale people had used more time to document their programs that they might have done much better. Slogans are not enough. We should have been told exactly what could be done to make things better. Instead most of the campaign was fought on a negative key about what was wrong. L.W.

BAD INFLUENCE

Unfortunately the commercials and advertising campaigns did influence some people I believe. But they influenced them with emotion. We can only hope that most voters want to vote according to the facts and for that reason would not bother with the commercials. For one thing it is a tremendous waste of money, some of it is taxpayers money given to the candidates. It is a bad waste. J.W.

MORE DETAILS

Your question brings up a point that has been bothering me. Some of the polls show that the electorate did not really change at all in opinion since June. Yet millions of dollars were spent. The only ones who benefitted from the commercials were the people making them and the media. In time we will have to have a limited use of advertising and force candidates to have at least a minimum program of ad rather than just slogans as though they were selling soap or chewing gum. Those minute or half minute commercials often paid with subsidized campaign funds do nothing at all to enlighten the voter. The number should be limited with rules demanding more detailed media use. N.R.

MIND MADE UP

I made up my mind long before the campaign started and there was nothing at all that was said during the commercials that changed my mind. They might as well have saved the money because everyone I know says the same thing. S.W.

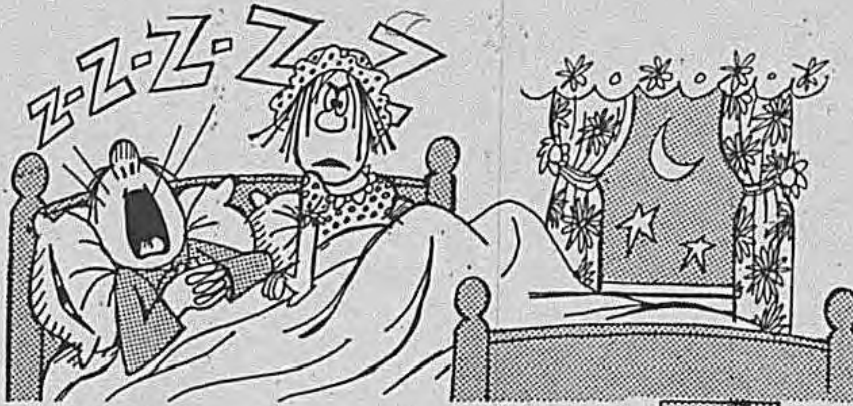

MARGINAL EFFECT

I don't believe there is any doubt that advertising campaigns influenced the voters in the past election. However, I think the effect was marginal particularly as the material of each side in all media forms tended to offset each other so that the voters' intentions having been molded throughout the year through the caucuses, primaries, the convention and deeply rooted party loyalties were pretty solidly entrenched by the time November 6 rolled around. And, this is also true of the large vote given to Mondale by the blacks and the poor and unemployed. The inherent weakness of such stimuli including the influence by organized labor as a "captive" block serves to prove the theory that the voters exercised their individual ability and right to decide for themselves and perhaps the relatively little change in the House and Senate serves further to confirm this. Clearly, the sweep was an overwhelming expression of confidence in the leadership of President Reagan. In my opinion, millions of dollars for political advertising went down the drain which is a shame considering the lack of substantial effect on the outcome and the crying need for such funds for more worthwhile causes. P.G.S.

A Letter To Princess Di

By Marjorie Wolfe
Dear Princess Di,

Congratulations on the birth of Prince Henry Charles Albert David. Rearing two boys is the biggest "hair conditioning" job ever undertaken. Any parent will tell you that there are two kinds of boys--noisy and not yet!

From what I read in the newspapers, Prince Charles hasn't learned that baby sitting is a big business; it meets a crying need. Is it true that he dashed off in his Jaguar Sovereign XJ6 to a polo game an hour after you arrived home from the hospital?

As the mother of three sons, I'd like to share a few thoughts with you. Although it's difficult, try not to compare the boys. "William weighed 7 lbs., 10 1/2 ozs., Henry weighed only 6 lbs., 14 ozs.; William is an a.m. person, Henry's strictly on the f.m. band; the new baby's eyes are pale blue, William's eyes were...." Each child is unique and should be treated as such.

Before the boys begin their formal education, may I make a suggestion? No doubt you've heard of Preppies, Yuppies, and Yuppies. But have you heard of the innovative educational program called HIPPY (Home Instruction Program for Preschool Youngsters)? This program helps to train mothers to teach basic skills to their 4-6 year-old children to help them achieve success in school. It's also aimed at improving children's verbal skills and powers of reasoning and fostering mothers' self-esteem as educators. Studies indicate that HIPPY children perform better in school than those who have not been exposed to the program. In addition, be sure to share Patrick Montague Smith's "The Royal Family Pop-Up Book" with the boys.

As Prince William enters "The Terrible Twos", and is transformed into a whining, tantrum-throwing tyrant overnight, Highgrove will never be the same. Don't be embarrassed that Newsweek reported that William has already thrown several pairs of his father's shoes in the loo. One thing most children save for a rainy day is lots of energy!

You'll soon discover that to a young boy, there is no such period as "between meals". My first son, Matthew, was a light eater. His diet consisted of "funny fruit"--wrinkled dried prunes. Jonathan number two, was also a light eater. As soon as it got light, he started eating! Son number three, Daniel, spent this past holiday season singing, "Deck the halls with Motosh Balls" and asked Santa for a six-pack....of candy canes.

Speaking of food, forget about "clean plate clubs." If Prince William likes Beech-Nut Spaghetti Rings in Meat Sauce, don't assume that Harry will share his brother's taste buds. Count on him devouring huge amounts of Ralston Gremlins Sweetened Cereal and E.J.'s favorite--Reese's Pieces. When the going gets really rough, remember Austin's Law: "It tastes better in somebody else's house."

I have a personal question for you, Di. "Have you experienced some difficulty maintaining your slim figure?" Very frequently new mothers become the typical "grazer". "Grazers" is the new food industry term for people who

- Eat standing as often as sitting down
- Eat on impulse instead of at set times
- Have more money than time to spend on food
- Look for fast food with a healthy aura (Yogurt and Tofu!) rather than hot dogs and ice cream)

Di, it's not too late to begin making Prince Henry computer literate and thus guarantee that his future will be "chip shape." Just follow this technique. As you teach him his A. B. Cs, introduce computer terms:

"A" my name is Andrew and my girlfriend's name is Alice. We come from Avon and we sell Apples.

"C" my name is Chip and my girlfriend's name is Catherine. We come from Coventry and we sell Commodores.

"H" my name is Henry and my girlfriend's name is Henrietta. We come from Hampshire and we sell Hardware.

"L" my name is Larry and my girlfriend's name is Lisa. We come from Leeds and we sell Logo.

The unspoken rule with the Royal Family has always been "dignity at all times." Unfortunately, when William went on TV, all of England heard him say his--and your--favorite word, "Yuk". Despite that bubu, you'll be amazed at how much William will teach his kld brother:

"Did you hear on the BBC that Michael Jackson doesn't eat meat?"
"I told you that 'Mother no's, best'."

"Oh, Henry, that's corroded."
"The plural of 'wheat' is 'Wheaties'."

"Queen Elizabeth drinks Malvery Spring mineral water from the Cotswolds, and we have to drink m i l k."

"Don't believe Mom when she says, 'You'd better let me have just a taste of your cake just to make sure it isn't poisoned'."

And, finally, Di, remember the Family Law:
Where there's a sibling
There's a quibbling

BEAUTIFUL PLACE

Last week we read an ad in your section about Gerlich's restaurant in Glen Head.

I must say we were well pleased with the wonderful food and service at this restaurant. But I do not think the advertisement does the place justice. It is a beautiful place just to be in. It is decorated in a way that would thrill antique lovers with its Tiffany Lamps and antiques.

In addition to all of this they have a pianist who plays at the delightful bar. We suggest you recommend this to all readers. Thanks for giving us the chance to phone in. L.J.F.

GOOD EXPERIENCE

The Benihana of Tokyo restaurant in Manhasset is a good experience. While the price is not low, the food is good and you get the free entertainment of watching the chef cut the fish or meat in a flamboyant style.

We had the fish dinner which was cooked from beginning to end before our eyes on the hibatchi. The salad has a special taste prepared with the house dressing which is a combination of oil, vinegar and spice.

We recommend this restaurant. M.V.

"One thing I'm sure of, you're going to like the way DEVINS looks, the owners' goal was to achieve the feel of Edwardian England, but it is sufficiently eclectic to include echoes of New Orleans and Paris....The fish here is properly fresh and the meat is properly aged, and great care is taken in their presentations. Here, I must pause to compliment the service. No matter how good the main dishes... the desserts are better."

Q I have noticed that tips are said to range from 15 to 20 percent of a bill in a restaurant. When you calculate this do you figure in the sales tax? RK.

A. No you do not generally figure the sales tax in the tip but a great many people now are doubling the sales tax to quickly arrive at the amount of the tip. With the new increased fraction the tip will then closely approximate a 15 percent gratuity.

READER RATINGS

Q.What do you do if you enter a restaurant and some friends at another table tell the waiter to see what you are drinking because they want to buy you a drink and you do not drink?

ER. There is no set answer to your question. You obviously have some very generous friends who do not know your habits. The best thing to do would be to inform the waiter that you do not drink but you might make a gesture with a water glass towards your friends table as a toast.

Q.I thought it was standard fare to get at least two vegetables with an entree but last week at the (name omitted) restaurant we were charged extra for vegetables. Is this right?

A.A number of restaurants have changed to charging extra for vegetables, particularly fresh ones, but the safest way is to look at the menu and ask the waiter. Sometimes there are extra vegetables and they are the ones that are given an added charge. But there are some restaurants that charge for every item individually.

Q.In some very large restaurants there are more people to be tipped and I do not know which ones should be tipped. How can I tell?

A. If you are just slightly observant when leaving an expensive restaurant you will notice the entire staff from the captain to the wine steward lining up to say good night to you. These are generally the ones who expect to be tipped and they do not generally share in the splitting of the regular tip. These people are usually given a single amount and it is not contingent on the regular 15-20 percent tip. However, most restaurants no longer have large staffs and you usually only pay the regular tip.

GRACE' CHARM
For grace and charm the Viennese Coach in Syosset is unsurpassed. The main room features a pianist who plays a variety of contemporary music.

The food is a treat. On Sunday we had shrimp in a special green dill sauce and a specially prepared German recipe for chicken. We certainly think that the Viennese Coach is one of the outstanding restaurants in the area. It is located on Jericho Turnpike just next to the Syosset Theatre. JG.

READER RATINGS FOR LUNCH TOO

The George Washington Manor is a wonderful place for banquets and for full dining. We have been there many times over the years and were always well satisfied with the food and surroundings.

Last week we had occasion to go to the Manor for lunch and I want to tell you that this is something we had been missing. The George Washington Manor in Roslyn is a wonderful place to really enjoy lunch. It does not speed you through the assembly line that many restaurants do.

The food was wonderful. We both had Alaskan King crabmeat salads and enjoyed them immensely. The George Washington Manor is a place we would recommend for lunch as well as dinner. It is a place to remember. NR.

ONE OF THE BEST
 The Milleridge Inn in Jericho seems like it is one of the largest restaurants in Nassau County but for my money it is one of the best.

We went there last Thursday evening for dinner and found it to be a real treat. The swordfish steak was about the best and juiciest I have ever eaten. It was accompanied by a full meal included in the single price of the entree. It started with an appetizer and salad right through dessert.

My companion had stuffed shrimp and the consensus was that it was one of the best dinners served anywhere.

The service at Milleridge Inn is good and the entire staff seems genuinely interested in seeing that you enjoy the meal. We will be back as often as possible. JE.

If you have Questions about etiquette or dining out you may call them in to WE 1-0027 and we will find the answer.

Q. In a good restaurant that we attended recently an accordion player came around to each table and asked whether we had any requests. My wife made a request and the musician played it. Is this music provided by the restaurant or should I have tipped? JB.
 Generally the musicians are paid by the restaurant to entertain all of the diners. But when you make a special request it is expected that a small tip will accompany the request. In this case $1 could have been a fair tip.

WONDERFUL RESTAURANT
Last Saturday we decided to go to the Villa Antica which is a restaurant on Old Northern Blvd., Roslyn.
The restaurant is in a house that dates back to the nineteenth century that has been converted into a charming intimate restaurant.
The decor is inviting, but the food is even more so. The restaurant specializes in Italian food with a great many Northern Italian dishes. We found the veal to be the tenderest and best in a long while. The pasta is cooked to perfection.
We recommend this restaurant.

Cooking Corner

By Antonia Allegra

ITALIAN SAUSAGE SALAD

- 1 lb. hot Italian sausage
- ½ lb. spinach fusilli pasta
- 2 small red peppers, peeled and cut into strips
- 2 small red onions, thinly sliced
- 1 (15 oz.) can kidney beans, drained
- 1 (12 oz.) can Niblets corn
- 3 tbsps. chopped parsley
- ¾ cup olive oil
- 2 tbsps. red wine vinegar
- 1 tbsps. "aceto balsamico" vinegar
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- ½ tsp. salt
- Freshly ground black pepper, to taste
- Pinch of oregano

Sausages: Prick skin with fork. Put sausages in skillet with water to cover, bring to boil, reduce heat, and poach 1 minute. Drain off water, remove skin and slice sausage into ½-inch lengths; fry over medium heat in dry skillet. Drain on paper towels.

Cook pasta in boiling salted water with 1 tablespoon olive oil added. Drain well and rinse in cool water, dry in large towel. Combine sausage, pasta, peppers, onions, kidney beans, corn and parsley in bowl. In second bowl combine olive oil, vinegars, garlic, salt, pepper and oregano. Beat vigorously with fork and pour dressing over salad, tossing gently. Let everything mature in refrigerator a few hours. Best served at room temperature.

TEDDY BEAR CAKE

- Cake:
- 2 cups all purpose flour
 - 1 tbsps. baking powder
 - 1 tsp. salt
 - ¾ cup shortening
 - 1½ cups sugar
 - 1½ tbsps. vanilla
 - 1 cup milk
 - 5 egg whites
- Grease and lightly flour two 9x1½-inch round baking pans. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. In mixer bowl beat shortening on medium speed of electric mixer about 30 seconds. Add sugar and vanilla and beat until fluffy. Add dry ingredients and milk alternately to beaten mixture, beating on low speed after each addition. Wash beaters. In small mixer bowl, beat egg whites until stiff peaks form. Gently fold into flour mixture. Turn into prepared pans. Bake in 375 F oven about 20 minutes or until cake tests done. Cool 10 minutes on wire racks. Remove from pans. Cool completely.

To make the teddy bear, use the two large rounds for the head and body and the two cupcakes for the ears. Frost entire cake and decorate.

FROSTING

- 3 (1 oz.) squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
- ¼ cup hot water
- 3 cups sifted powder sugar
- 1 egg
- ¼ cup butter, softened
- 1½ tbsps. vanilla

Combine chocolate, water and sugar. Blend well with electric mixer. Beat in egg, then butter and vanilla.

— Diana Hewitt and Kate Adams

FRESH FIGS WITH WALNUT CREAM AND RASPBERRIES

- 2 cups heavy cream
- 1½ cups toasted chopped walnuts
- 2 tbsps. sugar
- 10 fresh figs
- 2 cups fresh raspberries or 1 package frozen raspberries
- ¼ cup sugar
- 1 tbsps. Framboise liqueur
- ½ cup fresh raspberries reserved for garnish

One day in advance: Rinse heavy enamel pan with water and pour in cream. Add 1 cup of walnuts and place over low heat, simmering 45 minutes to extract walnut flavor and to reduce cream to one half of original amount.

Remove cream from heat and strain. Discard cooked walnuts and add remaining ½ cup chopped walnuts to cream. Add 2 tablespoons sugar and chill, covered. Cream should become firm.

Place raspberries and ¼ cup sugar in food processor. Blend well. Strain through fine strainer into bowl. Add Framboise and chill, covered.

To serve: Wash figs, trim stem, and cut into quarters. Spoon small circle of raspberry sauce onto dessert plate. Place 5 fig quarters on sauce forming a star pattern. Place large spoonful of firm walnut cream in middle of star. Pour over a bit more of raspberry sauce. Garnish with fresh raspberries. Serve.

CINNANNATI CHILI

Cincinnati Chili first began about 1920 with the opening of the Empress Chili Parlor, located adjacent to the 5th Street bus station in downtown Cincinnati. This is the original recipe passed down from Victor Lambrinides, head of one of three Greek families who founded, and through much intermarriage, still own the majority of the 100 chili parlors in Cincinnati.

- 1 qt. water
- 2 lbs. ground beef (double ground)
- 2 medium onions (grated)
- 4 garlic cloves
- 2 tbsps. white vinegar
- 1 large bay leaf
- 5 whole allspice
- 5 whole cloves
- 2 (8 oz.) cans tomato sauce
- ¼ tsp. red pepper (not cayenne)
- 2 tbsps. Worcestershire
- 1 tsp. ground cumin
- 1½ tbsps. salt
- 4 tbsps. chili powder
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- ½ oz. unsweetened chocolate

Also prepare:

- 2 lbs. fresh, cooked spaghetti
- 1 lb. mild cheddar cheese (grated)
- 1 can beans (optional)

Add ground beef to water and stir until it separates to fine texture. Boil slowly for 30 minutes. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 3 hours. Cover pot after desired consistency is reached. Remove large pieces of spices and refrigerate overnight. Skim off fat, add beans, reheat and serve over spaghetti with generous amount of cheese on top. Serves 8.

From Our Kitchen

Olivia and Paul Bensen

Chinese soups

By Olivia and Paul Bensen

There are two types of Chinese soups. The first kind is light, clear broths made with meat, chicken, seafood or vegetables and served as the last course of the meal. The other type of soups, which are served earlier in the meal, is heartier and more elaborate.

Soups are served in China with almost every meal. In some provinces, such as Changsha, even the breakfasts served at hotels include a soup.

Many Chinese foods have a symbolic or traditional meaning, and soups are no exception. At the New Year families customarily gather to make Happy Family Dumpling Soup together. The dumplings symbolize family harmony — smooth, round, without rough edges. Their stickiness represents the way the family holds together.

While the soup is being made, each family member praises and compliments the others, being careful to let no angry or critical word enter the conversation. When the hour of the new year arrives, this sweet soup is the first food eaten, and is supposed to ensure family happiness and harmony during the coming year.

Today's recipes are for two of our favorites among the heartier Chinese soups — Hot and Sour Fish Soup and Velvet Chicken Soup. "Velvet" refers to the consistency of the chicken, which is chopped almost to a puree.

We first tried Hot and Sour Fish Soup at a restaurant in Boston. We were unable to get the recipe, and tried a number of times to duplicate the delicious flavors and textures that we remembered. When we came up with today's recipe, we were finally satisfied that we had come very close to the original.

Some recipes for Velvet Chicken Soup call for canned creamed corn. We have found that using fresh corn and heavy cream greatly improves the soup. If corn is not in season, frozen corn and heavy cream make an acceptable substitute.

HOT AND SOUR FISH SOUP

- 9 cups chicken broth
- 1½ lbs. filleted mild-flavored white fish (such as flounder)
- ½ lb. scallops (optional but recommended)
- ½ cup thinly sliced scallions
- 1 (15 oz.) can Chinese straw mushrooms
- 8 dried tiger lily buds, soaked in hot water and shredded
- 2 tbsps. dry sherry
- 1 tbsps. soy sauce
- ¾ tsp. red pepper powder (or more to taste)
- ½ cup white vinegar
- 1 tbsps. sesame oil
- ½ tsp. white pepper
- 3 tbsps. cornstarch mixed with ¼ cup water
- 2 egg whites, slightly beaten (Straw mushrooms, tiger lily buds and sesame oil are available at Oriental specialty stores.)

In large saucepan or soup pot, bring broth to boil. Add fish fillets and simmer 20 to 30 minutes, until fish has flaked apart. Add scallops, scallions, mushrooms and tiger lily buds. Simmer 5 more minutes.

Add sherry, soy sauce, red pepper, vinegar, sesame oil and white pepper. Blend well and allow to simmer for a few minutes — taste and adjust seasoning if necessary. Sour and hot flavors should be balanced.

Add cornstarch mixture and simmer until soup has thickened slightly and has velvety texture. Whisk in beaten egg whites and serve.

Serves 8 to 10.

VELVET CHICKEN SOUP

- 1 large chicken breast, skinned and boned
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 2 tbsps. cold water
- 2 egg whites, beaten until light and frothy
- 5 cups chicken broth
- 1 cup freshly cut corn, mixed with ½ cup heavy cream
- 1¼ tbsps. cornstarch, mixed with 3 tbsps. cold water
- 1 tsp. sesame oil
- 1 tsp. dry sherry

- 2 thin slices smoked ham, finely chopped

Chop chicken meat until almost paste (or puree in food processor). Place meat in bowl and add salt, water and egg whites. Set aside.

In soup pot, bring broth to boil and add corn-cream mixture. Return to low boil, add cornstarch-water mixture and simmer about 5 minutes, until thickened. Add sesame oil, sherry, chicken and ham. Stir, simmer about 2 minutes more and serve hot.

Serves 4 to 6.

MICROWAVE

A charming Swedish tradition

By Desiree Vivea

Dec. 13 may not mean very much to most Americans, but to Swedes, it means St. Lucia's Day.

On this morning, the eldest daughter of every household (actually, any young maiden will do) dresses in a white robe with a red sash, her head crowned with evergreens and seven lighted candles. She carries piping-hot coffee, Lucia buns and Swedish ginger cookies to all the bedrooms of the house, and before entering sings an old Italian air known as the Lucia song.

Who is this Lucia? According to legend, she was a Sicilian maiden martyred for her Christian beliefs. Centuries after her death, so the story goes, she appeared in western Sweden during a famine to distribute food among the starving people. She wore a long white gown and was encircled by golden light.

The tradition of St. Lucia's Day — a young maid delivering coffee and sweets to all in the house — developed sometime during the 19th century. And a charming tradition it is. A group of young girls, white-robed and tinsel-crowned, often follow this "St. Lucia-for-a-day" on her rounds, not only in private homes but also in office buildings, hospitals, even schools.

At Gustavus Adolphus University in St. Peter, Minn., the tradition is carried on throughout the dormitories on this cold December morn. What a lovely way to wake up — instead of an alarm clock you hear snowy-gowned girls singing St. Lucia's song, followed by the ceremonial offering of breakfast in bed. This is one tradition we'd do well to adopt. (I wonder if they practice it in Lake Wobegone, Minn.?)

The name "Lucia" comes from the Latin word for light. According to the old calendar, Dec. 13 boasted the longest night of the year and St. Lucia's Day (also called the Festival of Light) celebrated the return of more daylight hours. This day marks the beginning of the Swedish Christmas holidays, which last until Jan. 13.

Why not start your own holiday festivities with a St. Lucia's Day breakfast? The traditional Lucia buns are yeast-risen and flavored with costly saffron, but you'll probably find it easier (and less expensive) to purchase breakfast rolls to reheat in the microwave. Or try the Breakfast Raisin Ring. Make Pepparkakor cookies the night before and serve with coffee or hot Swedish Glogg.

While you may have some trouble finding a haloed, white-robed maid to deliver the goodies to your bed, you can easily prepare a special holiday breakfast with the help of your microwave oven. And if there are any young girls in your household, they might enjoy playing St. Lucia on this morning in their nightgowns. Have them sing a Christmas carol or two, and deliver breakfast in bed to the rest of the family.

BREAKFAST RAISIN RING

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 2 tbsps. corn syrup
- ½ cup brown sugar, packed
- ½ cup chopped walnuts
- ¼ cup raisins, plumped in 1 cup hot water
- 1 (10 oz.) can refrigerated buttermilk biscuits

Combine butter, corn syrup and brown sugar in 8-inch round glass baking dish. Microwave about 1 minute or until melted. Stir to blend, then add walnuts and drained plumped raisins. Push with rubber spatula to outer edges of dish, and place drinking glass in center. Spread syrup mixture evenly around glass. Arrange separated biscuits over mixture in petal shape around glass. (Squeeze to fit, if necessary.) Microwave at MEDIUM (50 percent power) 3 minutes, give dish ½ turn and microwave 3¼ minutes longer. Invert onto serving plate and let stand with dish over plate 5 minutes before serving. Serve warm.

Makes one 8-inch ring.

PEPPARKAKOR (Swedish gingersnaps)

- ¼ cup sugar
- ¼ cup light molasses
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 1½ tbsps. vinegar
- 1 egg, well beaten
- ½ tsp. baking soda
- ½ tsp. each ground ginger and cinnamon
- ¼ tsp. ground cloves
- ¼ tsp. salt

In 1-quart casserole combine sugar, molasses, butter and vinegar; blend well. Microwave 2 minutes or until mixture starts to boil, stirring after 1 minute. Let stand ½ hour, then mix in well-beaten egg.

In separate bowl, combine remaining ingredients. Stir into cooled mixture blending thoroughly. Refrigerate at least 2 hours.

Form dough into 1-inch balls and place six to eight on an inverted 12x8-inch glass baking dish. Microwave 2 minutes, or until set. Remove from oven and let stand for 1 minute before removing with spatula to wire cooling rack. Repeat with remaining dough. Allow cookies to cool thoroughly, before storing in airtight container.

Makes 3 to 4 dozen.

GLOGG

- 1 cup water
- ¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar

- 2 (2-inch) sticks cinnamon
- 5 whole cloves
- 4 cardamom seeds, peeled (optional)
- ¼ tsp. nutmeg
- 1 qt. apple juice
- Thin unpeeled orange or lemon slices

Combine water, sugar, cinnamon, cloves, cardamom and nutmeg in 2-cup glass measure; stir. Microwave 10 to 12 minutes until mixture is reduced by half. Strain and pour into 1½-quart glass bowl. Add apple juice, stir, and microwave 4 to 5 minutes, until hot.

Pour into mugs and garnish with orange or lemon slices.

Serves 6 to 8.

Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 750-watt microwave ovens. Foods are cooked on HIGH (100 percent power) and uncovered unless otherwise specified.

VEGETARIAN VIEW

Home baking for healthful holidays

By Diane Savage

Most of us do more baking during the holidays than at any other time of year. When it's cold outside, what could be homier than a kitchen filled with the fragrance of fresh-baked breads and cookies?

Homemade goodies are always a welcome gift. Wrap them in pretty containers: a basket, colorful tin box or scarf. A 3x5 card printed with the recipe is a thoughtful addition.

When sending your creations to far-away friends and relatives, pack in a sturdy container and fill any empty spaces with popcorn or crumpled paper. Mark the words "PERISHABLE" and "HANDLE WITH CARE" on the box — and be sure to mail early enough for your package to arrive on time.

Home-baked goods are also nice to have on hand during these busy weeks. Whether you plan a party or find yourself with unexpected visitors, you'll be prepared to serve something special.

The sweet scent of evergreen boughs is something I look forward to each December. Almost as characteristic of the season is the aroma of certain spices: cinnamon, cloves, ginger and nutmeg. Like the Star of Bethlehem, these spices come from the East. Yet curiously enough, allspice — with a flavor like cinnamon, cloves and nutmeg combined — is found in the Western Hemisphere.

Today's recipes are spicy and wholesome, made with whole wheat flour, fruits and nuts. You'll feel good about serving these healthful holiday treats to family and friends. A cup of hot apple cider stirred with a cinnamon stick, or a steaming mug of spiced herbal tea would be the perfect accompaniment.

SPICY GINGERBREAD

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ¼ cup brown sugar
- 1 egg

- 2¼ cups whole wheat flour
- ½ cup baking soda
- Dash salt
- 1 tsp. ground cinnamon
- 1 scant tsp. ground ginger
- ½ tsp. grated nutmeg
- ½ cup milk
- 1 cup molasses

Cream together butter and sugar; add egg. Sift together baking soda, salt and spices. Sift remaining bran from sifter into bowl. Add flour to creamed mixture alternately with milk and molasses. Stir well and turn into buttered 8x8-inch square pan. Bake in preheated 350 F oven for 45 minutes.

Makes 1 8x8-inch gingerbread cake.

APPLE OATMEAL DROPS

- 3 cups quick-cooking oatmeal
- ¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
- 1 cup whole wheat flour
- 2 tbsps. baking powder
- 1 cup frozen apple juice concentrate, thawed
- ½ tsp. ground cinnamon
- ¼ tsp. ground cloves
- 1 cup dark raisins
- ½ tsp. vanilla extract
- 1¼ cups warm water
- 1 large ripe banana, mashed
- ¼ cup chopped walnuts

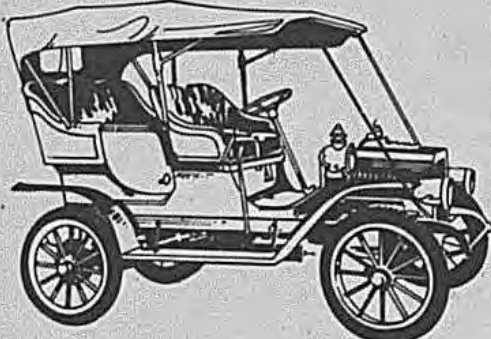

In large bowl, mix together oatmeal, butter, flour, baking powder and apple juice concentrate until lumps are gone. Stir in cinnamon, cloves and raisins. Stir vanilla into water and add to oatmeal mixture. Blend in mashed banana, then nuts. Let stand for 15 minutes, then mix batter again. Drop by teaspoons onto lightly oiled baking sheets, leaving 1 inch between cookies. Bake at 375 F for about 20 minutes, or until brown. Let cool on wire racks, then store in airtight container.

Makes about 5 dozen.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q. What is "pH" as it refers to swimming pools? We've heard that term used among friends who have swimming pools, but never understood what it meant.

We are now considering the possibility of having a pool installed, but haven't quite made up our minds. But, we'd at least like to know what pH means. — Nancy H.O.

A. Expressed on a scale of 0 to 14, pH measures the balance between the chemical additives and the pool water. This balance must be carefully controlled in order to assure swimming comfort. A pH higher than 7 is alkaline; lower, acidic.

The National Swimming pool Institute has recommended that a pH between 7.4 and 7.8 is ideal for disinfecting the pool water, but is not so strong as to cause discomfort to swimmers.

Q. Four months ago I washed the walls in my bedroom with a solution of Spic and Span that may have been too strong. After going over the walls three times to rinse the surface of the Spic and Span, I find every night the odor of the solution is still present and strong.

This condition is present after I painted the walls with two coats of paint. What do you advise me to do to get rid of the odor? — Arthur C.

A. This is a common problem where plastered walls are not permitted to thoroughly dry before any covering, including paint, is applied.

In time, the moisture in the plaster should dissipate, but in the meantime, there is not much you can do about the condition except to see that the room is aired out and gets plenty of ventilation.

Q. First a word about how much we enjoy your column and appreciate the help and hints we pick up to make living a little easier.

Regarding the enclosed clipping (which refers to care and cleaning of Formica tops that appeared earlier in this column), I have a Formica-type top on my wood table. I have had some success using detergent with baking soda.

Since then, I have found a product called Countertop Magic, which does the job quickly and easily. It is a spray-type can product put out by Magic American Corp., Cleveland, OH 44122, Stock FM44. It is easy to use and does a super job, too. — Mrs. E.W.

A. Thank you very much for your suggestion.

Mainly For Seniors

By John T. Watts

Dear John: Please tell your readers who complained of burning, swollen tongue and lips to try not using a toothpaste with fluoride.

Some people are very allergic to fluoride. It worked for a friend of mine with the same problem. She uses baking soda instead of toothpaste. — Mrs. C.

Dear Mrs. C.: Margaret and others please note. It is worth a try. So many people have been complaining recently of burning tongue. Many remedies have come to light. For instance:

Dear John: My husband had the same problem as Millie and George C. Our doctor said try eating yogurt. In a short time my husband's mouth and tongue were cool and cured. Also clear of canker sores. — Kathryn Huffaker.

Dear John: Please send brochures on use of Cerio for arthritis. Thank you. — Mrs. A.H.,

Dear Mrs. A.H.: Sorry I couldn't reach you any other way. You just sent this note in a single envelope. The "brochures" are leaflets, really. We cannot send them out without receiving a self-addressed, stamped envelope, due to the volume of mail we receive. Also we really need a donation now and then as we have to pay for the leaflets and their handling. Postcards are no help, either, and we still receive them.

Also, Arlene, an addressed envelope is no help without a stamp.

Dear John: Today is my 71st birthday and I'm still doing everything I can to encourage others to do something with their ideas. Enclosed papers show some of what I have been doing — and, they show two awards I have received for "service to mankind."

By your column of July 30, 1980, you did your readers (and me) a favor by giving them some encouragement — and I'm wondering if you might want to give 'em a little more encouragement with something similar to the attached.

During the 16 years that I have been selling ideas, I have found that most everyone has a good idea — they just don't know what to do with it. With your earlier column we encouraged hundreds of your readers — now we can give encouragement to even more. — Woodie Hall.

Dear Woodie: You are living proof that age is no barrier to ideas. I am glad to see that you are still going strong. Many people have ideas. The only thing is they don't do anything with them.

As you know, it takes ideas plus

Q. We recently acquired a lot of old books. A number of them are quite moldy and have a dank odor. Is there any way to treat them to make them more pleasant to handle? — C.C.W.

A. Wipe the mold off the books with a clean, soft cloth, slightly dampened with denatured alcohol. Pages can be cleaned the same way sometimes.

If any of the bindings are of leather, to remove mildew, wipe with cloth dampened with a solution of equal parts of denatured alcohol and water, then dry outdoors.

Stained book pages can be dusted with French chalk or cornstarch allowing the powder to remain in the closed book for several days, then brush off.

Q. We have a canvas-covered sun deck floor that needs repainting very badly. What kind of paint is best to use? — T.W.

A. Use a top quality deck paint, applying two coats. Be sure all loose and flaking paint is removed, as well as all dust, soot and other dirt, prior to applying the new coats.

action to succeed. Sorry space does not permit use of the volume of material you sent.

Dear John: I'm one of the senior citizens who is growing increasingly uneasy with all the talk about medical costs increasing. What does it look like to you? — Helen S.

Dear Helen: It looks like everything is going to cost more, all right, but the changes will be gradual. For instance, it is believed that by 1995 there will be less Medicare coverage for inpatient hospital care, but more Medicare coverage for home care, outpatient services.

Higher eligibility age for Medicare is also expected, plus a "means test" for Medicare, so that seniors who can afford it will pay a larger portion of their own medical bills.

Also on the horizon are increases in Medicare deductibles, premiums and co-insurance, legislation that will allow the patient and family to refuse extraordinary measures to prolong life in terminal cases.

There undoubtedly will be many advances in technology such as laser, magnetic resonance imaging and drug therapy that will improve quality care.

These ideas were recently expressed at a meeting of the American College of Hospital Administrators in Denver.

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: I am 17 and met a super-guy about six months ago. He was the "knight on a white horse" and the answer to all my dreams. After one date I fell madly in love with him.

About three months ago he broke my heart when he told me that he got a girl pregnant and the girl's family was putting pressure on him to marry her.

I told Jimmy that at that time that I loved him and didn't want him to get married. He told me that he loved me and would do everything in his power not to marry this girl. Well, he didn't succeed because he did marry, and his wife gave birth to twin boys about two weeks ago.

Dr. Wallace: I was talking to one of Jimmy's best friends and he told me that Jimmy didn't love his wife but was going to stay with her because of the twins. Every night I sit in my room and cry because Jimmy and I belong together.

I know I will never be with another boy. I will wait forever for Jimmy and if he gives me any clue that he wants me, I'll do anything to get him. All's fair in love and in war. Do you agree? — Dee Dee

Dee Dee: Jimmy, his wife and two boys are a family and deserve every chance to succeed. You are a 17-year-old girl who has the opportunity to date any boy near your own age as long as the boy is single.

Stay away from Jimmy and quit feeling sorry for yourself.

Dr. Wallace: I am 16 and live with my mother. My parents have been divorced for quite some time but my father lives in our town so I see him regularly. I love both of my parents and I know they also love me.

My problem is that my mother permits me to date occasionally but my father doesn't like it. He thinks boys are after sex from all the girls they date. Therefore, he goes into a rage whenever he knows I've been out on a date.

This always starts a big argument between my parents and I'm always caught in the middle. Naturally, all this makes me feel very bad. Please advise me what to do. — Charlene.

Charlene: Of course it's important for your father to be a part of your life and to share his love with you, but it appears that mother has custody of you and her decision should be law.

Inform Mom that you do not want your father to be involved in whether or not you can date. If necessary, have Mom discuss the problem with her attorney after all else has failed.

Dr. Wallace: I am 20 now but I've had this "problem" for seven years.

When I was 13 years old I would occasionally go into my room and fantasize about being a singer or about being popular. About the time I was a junior in high school my fantasizing became consistent. I would fantasize all day long while I was in class and even while I was at home doing homework.

I fantasized so much that I slightly lost touch with the real world. I became withdrawn and was walking around as if in a daze. All through college my instructors noticed that my mind seemed to always be on something else. Well, now that I have successfully graduated from college, I'm still fantasizing.

Now I have decided that I can't and don't want to go on living my life in a fantasy world. The problem is that I have fantasized so much that my mind has become accustomed to it. I am sometimes successful at being realistic, but other times my mind unconsciously goes back to the fantasized state that it has been habitually exposed to. I often wonder when I will go back to my old self.

Dr. Wallace, do you have an idea of how I can stop living in this fantasy world? I have had many unsuccessful attempts at solving the problem myself. — Kathy

Kathy: As a 20-year-old who has successfully graduated from college, not all your time was spent in your "dream world."

The most important factor in avoiding the fantasy world is to stay active both physically and mentally. Idle time is fantasy time.

Since you have had many unsuccessful attempts at solving the problem by yourself, it's time you had a chat with a professional counselor.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 13 and my boyfriend is 14. I'd like to break up with him but everytime that I tell him "I just want to be friends," he gets mad and won't take no for an answer.

He keeps calling on the phone and pestering me. What should I do? — Pam Pam: It will take a week or two to get your "boyfriend" straightened out so follow these suggestions.

Tell him that you are no longer going with him. Inform him that you are allowed only one call per caller a day and let your mother answer the phone.

Finally, if he continues to pester you, drop him even as a friend until he "gets his act together." As I men-

Doweled drawers indicate age

By James G. McCollam

A. This was made late in the 19th century. The doweled drawers were used briefly between the old handmade dovetails and the introduction of dovetail machines.

It would probably sell in the $275 to $325 range.

Q. I have a chocolate set pot with six cups and saucers. They have the attached mark on the bottom.

Can you tell me who made this, when, where and the value?

Q. What can you tell me about the vintage and value of this old washstand/dresser?

It is made of oak with very rough boards on the back. The drawers are doweled on 1-inch centers. I believe the hardware is original.

Antiques Collectibles

A. Your chocolate set was made by Carl Tielsch in Waldenberg, Germany, during the fourth quarter of the 19th century.

It would sell for $175 to $225, depending on market area.

Q. These bisque figurines are 15 inches tall and painted in pastel colors with gold trim. The details are beautiful and intricate. On the bottoms are marks — crossed arrows and S7400.

When and where were they made and what is their value?

A. These were by the Kalk Porzellanfabrik in Eisenberg, Germany, around the turn of the century. The value would be about $175 to $225 for each figurine.

Q. I've heard that items relating to the black race are being collected. I haven't seen any in the antique shops I've visited.

What can you tell me about what is being collected?

A. Virtually all of the Black Memorabilia dates back before the civil rights development of the last generation.

The most popular and expensive items are the ones that are derogatory and degrading. The black people themselves are the most active collectors.

An example of what is being traded is the "Nigger Hair Tobacco" tin (1911), priced at $125.

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, stamped, self-addressed envelope, and $1 per item to James G. McCollum.

Let's Talk

Blessings of an inferiority complex

By REV. LEE TRUMAN

A mild-mannered, middle-aged man took his courage in both hands and entered the psychiatrist's office. His problem, as he saw it, was that he had a deeply rooted inferiority complex.

After six months of counseling, he was told that, in the psychiatrist's professional opinion, there was no reason to continue treatment. The psychiatrist could not find a complex of inferiority, rather the truth was that the man was inferior.

No competent counselor would ever tell a client what the above psychiatrist said, but many persons do suspect that this might be the case with them. These feelings are found in every economic strata and at every educational level.

I conducted a survey on a college campus where I was lecturing. Through the psychology department, I chose students who had a B or better grade average. I wanted to find these better than average students' levels of self-acceptance.

The results of my study were that 87 percent of the students responding had a gnawing, frustrating feeling of failure most of the time. Following this very high level of feeling of inferiority, I found that they attributed their feelings to such things as being physically unattractive, socially unable to be "with it," but most common was the fear that they really were not college material, and therefore, could not meet the demands they saw ahead of them intellectually. Nine percent also listed such things as moral failure and guilt.

This is not limited to students. I have had ditch diggers to corporation presidents share these same feelings with me.

If you have these common feelings of being inferior, let me offer these observations. First, these feelings of inadequacy should never be taken as meaning real failure. It often is that values become misaligned.

A high school senior poured out his soul because of these kinds of feelings. At the center of it was that he had placed second in a championship swimming meet, and he was crushed and through swimming. He was being unrealistic.

Often people handle these feelings by overcompensation. The basically shy person who feels miserably inferior becomes aggressive, blusters about and overly exaggerates to cover up what he knows to be the truth about himself.

Such a person can be a very gentle, considerate person until there comes the moment when he is passed over for a promotion or suffers severe business loss, and he is transformed into a domineering father and a belligerent person to his friends. This is the law of compensation.

The other method is the "sour grapes" route. Such persons loudly belittle what they know they are not or feel that they can never become. All grapes in life that they cannot reach, they tell everyone within hearing are sour. You hear this from the school failure deriding the intellectual egghead or the immoral person scoffing and belittling those who have self-control and moral values by labeling them, prudes or puritanical.

The law of compensation works in other ways. At home, a plain Jane will often develop more wit, charm and grace and become much more a desirable companion and a pleasing wife than will a more physically attractive girl who never needed to make the effort.

Being a mature person is being willing not to try and cover up your inferiority or inferiority complex in unhealthy ways, but rather accent yourself for what you are. Within your limitations and difficulties you may discover what you can do with and for yourself.

In a word, inferiority could be the best thing that ever happened to you.

JUNIOR EDITION

GIVE THESE LADIES MOUTHS, EYEBROWS AND EYES! THEY CAN BE PRETTY OR FUNNY!

Aunt Tilly's Corner

At the end of the week our family is expecting visitors from California: a little boy and his parents. Matthew is not quite two years old and he will be staying at our house with his Mom and Dad over Thanksgiving. Our family has been busy preparing for the three guests.

We have borrowed a crib and mattress for Matthew and we are renting a high chair and a car seat. We also bought a snow suit for him and we will bring it to the airport with us. That way he can slip into it as soon as he gets off the plane. Matthew comes from a warm place, so he will have to get used to the cold weather!

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring winners are Jennifer McKeon and Christine Labbate. Christine has entered many times in our weekly contest and she has won a prize several other times.

BOYS AND GIRLS:
Here is your chance to win One Dollar ($1.00) - to spend or to save.

- Here's all you have to do:
1. Contest is open to children 4 to 12 years of age.
 2. Entries must be received by Friday, November 23, 1984
 3. Faint, watercolors and crayons must be used on the above.
 4. Decision of the judges will be final.

Points on Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. We raise and show bulldogs. At a recent show one of our dogs was downgraded because the inner eyelid of the dog is very pale.

One of our friends suggested that we have our veterinarian remove the eyelid surgically so that the dog will show better. Our veterinarian refused to do the surgery.

What is your opinion of removing the inner eyelid?

A. Removing the inner or the third eyelid only for cosmetic purposes is a very bad practice in my opinion. The third eyelid is also often referred to as the "haw."

Removal of the third eyelid can lead to serious complications. Ulceration of the cornea and even loss of the eye often follow removal of the third eyelid.

Occasionally it is necessary to remove the third eyelid because of abnormal growths or injury. Your veterinarian can decide which is the lesser of the evils in these situations.

There are several other conditions of the eye worth mentioning while discussing the third eyelid of dogs.

Normally, the eyelids cover the globe of the eye without any problems. The lids are usually not rolled in toward the eye or rolled out away from the eye.

Entropion is a condition in which the eyelids are rolled in toward the eye. This causes constant irritations of the eye and sometimes leads to serious ulcerations. A simple operation can be done by your veterinarian to correct entropion.

There is a definite breed disposition to entropion in the following breeds: chow chow, Chesapeake, golden retriever and Labrador retriever. It has also been reported to occur in the Kerry blue, Saint Bernard, rottweiler, bulldog, English springer spaniel and bullmastiff.

Ectropion is just the opposite to entropion. With ectropion, the eyelid rolls out or drops away from the eye ball. The pouch formed whenever the lid rolls out often gets contaminated with dust, weed awns and other debris. This leads to inflammation of the lids.

There is a breed disposition in the cocker spaniel, bulldog, basset hound, bloodhound and Saint Bernard. Ectropion, like entropion, can be corrected by a fairly simple surgical procedure.

Any dog thought to have problems of the eyelids should be examined by a veterinarian before serious and complicated eye problems develop. Surgery of the structures surrounding the eyes should only be done to correct actual problems - not to please the show judge.

Q. The teeth of our 8-year-old

Labrador retriever are becoming yellowed and quite unsightly. Is there anything we can do to restore the teeth's normal color and prevent further discoloration?

A. Discolored teeth are usually caused by the deposition of a soft deposit called plaque which forms on the enamel surface of the teeth.

Plaque usually forms at the gum margin and is produced by the combined action of bacteria, saliva, putrefying foodstuffs and digestive enzymes.

Once plaque is established, mineral salts are deposited on it from saliva producing calculus or tartar. The longer the condition is left untreated, the thicker the tartar becomes. The most common cause of bad breath in dogs is the accumulation of plaque and tartar. Plaque and tartar also lead to separation of the teeth from the gums and eventual tooth decay.

Although very important to the health of the dog, routine teeth care is often overlooked by most owners. Most teeth and mouth disorders can be prevented by yearly prophylactic dental cleaning.

Regular cleaning of the teeth with toothpaste, powder, mouthwash or antiseptic gel will help prevent tooth disease. However, this is a chore that many dogs will not tolerate or many owners cannot discipline themselves to do regularly.
