Regents Scholars Named At Local High Schools

The New York State Education Department today announced the names of those high school students who have won Regents College Scholarships this year. These scholarship awards are effective as of the 1985-86 academic year. Each Regents College Scholarship entitles the recipient to an award of $250 a year for up to 5 years of study at an approved program in New York State.

The winners of these scholarships are the candidates who earned the highest scores in each county on either the American College Testing Program (ACT) Assessment or the College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) prior to November 5, 1984. Approximately 97,000 candidates in 1400 high schools in New York State were included in the scholarship competition.

The law establishes a total of 25,000 county scholarships to be allocated among the counties of the State. Each county received a number of scholarships that was in proportion to the number of residents in that county who graduated from high school the previous year. Hamilton County must be allocated at least 16 scholarships, and all other counties must receive at least 40 scholarships each. The scholarships allocated to each county are awarded to the highest ranking candidates residing in the county. The number of scholarships authorized for each county as well as the lowest winning scores for each test in that county are indicated on page 3. The procedures used to break ties for each of the tests are provided on page 4.

Further, the law provides that if any approved high school in the state would not receive at least one scholarship award for every 40 students who were graduated the previous year, then additional scholarships shall be created and awarded to the students in that school in order to achieve that minimum quota. On that basis, a total of 325 additional scholarships have been awarded to students in 95 schools.

Library Offers Art Displays

The Town of Oyster Bay, Rotational Art Exhibitions has provided the Hicksville Public Library with two beautiful displays for the month of March.

In the Lobby case there will be an exhibit of stained glass by Barbara Schwartz.

In the Fiction Room case, Jack Bernard will display his excellent photographs.

Both cases may be seen during regular library hours.

The Independent Art Society membership show will be available for viewing from March 5 through March 15 in the Community Room daily and Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sunday, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Hearing April 16 On Drive Through

Town Board has set April 16 as the new hearing date for a special use permit request to operate a drive-thru window at an existing fast food restaurant in Plainville.

Delligatti said that, "at the request of the applicant, Old Country Road Burgers Co., Inc., Creative Foods Corp. and Fulton Associates, the hearing originally scheduled for February 5 had to be adjourned.

The applicants are seeking the special use permit in order to build and maintain a drive-thru window at an existing Burger King fast-food restaurant located at the southeast corner of South Oyster Bay Road and Old Country Road in Plainville.

The hearing is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. on Tuesday, April 16, in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Internships For College Students

College students who have completed their junior year by June, 1985 are invited to apply for the Assembly Summer Intern program in Albany. Each summer 10 to 20 students are chosen to work on research projects supervised by Assembly Professional Research Staff. Summer Interns must have superior academic records, strong research and analytic skills and a definite interest in public policy development as well as an interest in State government. A small stipend is available. The deadline for applications to be received in Albany is April 1. Please contact Assembly Speaker Stanley Fink's Long Island office at 796-7400.

Conrad Steers, president of the Nassau County Chapter of the Vietnam Veterans of America met in the Assembly Chambers in Albany with Assemblyman Fred Parola where they discussed funding for counseling at the Vietnam Veterans Resource Center in Hicksville.

Community Unites To Bar White Castle

The Town of Oyster Bay has set Tuesday, March 26, for a day and night hearing on the application of Ricmac Equities Corporation and White Castle System, Inc. for a special use permit to erect and operate a White Castle Fast Food Restaurant, with drive-in window service and parking for 56 cars on the corner of Willet Avenue and Bethpage Road.

The proposed construction prompted Hicksville community action with the reactivation of the Midland Civic Association which met on Tuesday, February 26 at Willet Avenue School. Led by acting president Lee Margaris, over 200 residents crowded the all purpose room to voice concerns and opposition to the proposal.

A primary factor is the location of two elementary schools nearby: Willet Avenue, a public school, grades K-6, and Solomon Schechter, a private school, grades K-8. Safety of children, added traffic congestion, unpleasant odors, litter and diminishing real estate values were major areas of concern if this 24 hour a day restaurant should be allowed to open in a residential area. Most residents contend that another hamburger stand is not needed since McDonalds, Nathans, Roy Rogers, Ground Round, Red Lobster and a proposed Bennigan's are all in a 1/2 mile radius.

White Castle had submitted a similar proposal in November, 1984, but withdrew its request when an error was discovered on the application for a special use permit. Apparently their proposals to locate in the recently vacated Howard Johnson's on South Oyster Bay Road or the Delco Plaza Shopping area were rejected.

Gertrude Paul, a resident of Willet Avenue, was instrumental in obtaining the required signatures for a petition to the Town Board for the night hearing. The March 26 hearing will begin at 10 a.m. and continue at 8 p.m. in the Town Hall East hearing room, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay. All interested parties will be given an opportunity to be heard.

Art Society Membership Show

The Independent Art Society, centered in Hicksville and serving a broad surrounding area, will present its annual March Membership Show at the Hicksville Library 169 Jerusalem Avenue, from Sunday, March 3 through Friday, March 15. Each member is eligible to exhibit a maximum of two works for an entry fee of $1 each.

Judging/awards presentation and critique will all take place at the 7:30 p.m. IAS meeting, Monday, May 4. The social hour will feature homemade refreshments.

The regular membership year runs from April to April for a modest $7. However, any artist who joins this February or March will gain the privilege of participating in membership shows in both '85 and '86, and will, through the newsletter, be informed of interesting monthly demonstrations and local exhibition opportunities.

Membership fees will be accepted during receiving of art works, Saturday, March 2, 10 a.m. until noon. All exhibited works must be picked up on Saturday, March 16 from 10 a.m. until noon. There will be a $1 per day per piece fine for uncollected art.

Bethpage Gas Station Robbery

The 8th Squad reports the details of a gas station robbery that occurred in Bethpage at 10:30 p.m., February 22.

Nikolaos Renieris, age 16, was in the office of the Texaco Station, Hempstead Turnpike and Stewart

Avenue, when a male white, 20, entered and put a gun to Nikolaos head and demanded money.

The subject fled the scene on foot with over $500. No injuries were reported.

At a special Ladies Day program of the Hicksville Rotary Club at which Rotary-Anns were in attendance, Rotarian Dr. Irwin Gross gave an interesting color slide presentation on his recent Safari to Africa to study and photograph an endangered species of gorillas. A lively question and answer period followed. Shown above is Dr. Gross, left, receiving a Certificate of Appreciation from Rotary Club President Harry Peltz. (Official Rotary Photo by Joe DePaola)

Audrey C. Tiernan recently spoke to the Willet Avenue School fourth graders about her career as a Newsday photographer. Miss Tiernan was named Photographer of the Year by the Press Photographers Association of Long Island. She is the first woman to earn this prestigious award.

Comm. Meetings On March 6

Wednesday, March 6, is the next scheduled meeting date for two Hicksville Board of Education committees. The Curriculum Committee will be discussing the Regents Action Plan and they will meet with Dr. Soucy, a math consultant hired by the district. The previous meeting's activities included a review of curricula written during the summer in the areas of English, math, science and physical education. A discussion of vocational education and a fire safety program were also part of the agenda.

The District Facilities/Community Affairs Committee, also meeting on March 6, has been addressing the renovation of the war memorial area at the Junior High School and plans for the Hall of Fame at Hicksville High School as well as other concerns relating to district buildings.

Board of Education President William P. Bennett and committee chairs Arlene Rudin and Daniel C. MacBride encourage district residents to join in the work of these important committees. Active participation by committee members is a vital element in school district activities.

Both committees will convene at 8:15 p.m. at the Administration Building on Division Avenue.

VFW News

By P.P.C. Carmine A. Somma
 On February 16, the William M. Gouse, Jr. Post 3211 celebrated its 50th year as a veteran's post at Antum's on Old County Road in Hicksville. Many public officials sent their congratulations including a letter from President Ronald Reagan and a proclamation from Governor Mario Cuomo. The first post was originally called "Manetto Plans Post No. 3211 with an agreement with comrades of the post that whichever member died first the post would be named after the deceased. From 1938 to the present it has carried the name of William M. Gouse, Jr. Post 3211 since he was a Sr. Vice Commander with the first post officers.

Over the year we get involved in Veteran's programs in the community offering scholarships, also, Voice of Democracy and Coloring Book contests for the students of the Hicksville School system. The post received two national awards for community service and we have contributed to charitable institutions and organizations such as Vietnam Veteran Resource Center, The International Games for Disabled, Hicksville Boy Scout Troop 3211 and we were the first organization to contribute to the refurbishing of the Statue of Liberty. The Post encourages the community to join in supporting the return of our P.O.W./M.I.A. servicemen and work towards peace and unity in the world. We also support silent meditation in public schools. Funds are raised for these events through games at Las Vegas Night, Bingo, our Journal ads, raffles, dances and donations from the public Post 3211 enjoys the membership of Congressional Medal of Honor recipient George C. Lang who served in Vietnam.

At the February 16 celebration, Journal Chairman William Schuck, Jr. gave out Special Awards to the following comrades for outstanding work in the Post during the past 25 years: P.P.C. William Frohnhoefer, P.P.C. Robert J. Obermeyer, P.P.C. Vincent Edwards, Joseph Aedessio, Arthur Rettberg, and Alfred P. Wangenheim.

On February 11, at the V.F.W. Hall, we had our 38th Annual Voice of Democracy awards. The theme this year was "My Pledge to America". The 1st place winners were Scott J. O'Callaghan from Hicksville H.S. and 2nd place to Tracie Ahern, Our Lady of Mercy Academy. On the elementary levels, 6th grade 1st place went to Lisa Entel, Woodland Avenue School (she also came in 3rd place in County), 2nd place winner was Kerin Hostetter, Trinity Lutheran (Mrs.

Bursky), 3rd place-David Knuth, Trinity Lutheran (Mrs. Rand). Special Achievement Awards to East Street School students Chris Crawford, Douglas Danowski, Deborah Feankson; Lee Avenue School-Nicole Brow; Trinity Lutheran School-Alice Probst, Laurie Jennifer Moran, Michael James; Woodland Avenue School Alexandar Athonasiou, Jennifer Barbato. Our guest to present awards were Commander N.C.C., V.F.W. Russell DeWirth, Tom Gullotta, Supervisor Town of Hempstead, Tom Clark, Councilman Town of Oyster Bay, Congressman Norman Lent and others. We would like to thank the schools and teachers and all who have helped to make this program a success. The Voice of Democracy was chaired by Jr. Vice Cmr. William Schuck and Past President May Bergsohn of the Ladies Auxiliary.

The Veterans Administration will pay home care fees when the V.A. has specifically and individually authorized treatment. Further information is available from the New York Regional Office 212-620-6901 or LeRoy Sluder, 84 Cliff Drive, Hicksville, 681-0334.

The 103rd Division Association of WWII will hold a reunion on July 17-20 at Hot Springs, Arkansas. Contact Betty Ellsworth, 8240 Moreland Road, Jerome, Michigan 49249 for more information.

Joe Messana, our Ways & Means Chairman reports that we are planning a Barn Dance on June 1st for Post members and their wives. It should be a lot of fun.

Our next Las Vegas night will be held on March 9.

Before you know it Nominations time will be here once again. The Post Installation Dinner/Dance will be held on May 18. On May 27, the Annual Memorial Day Parade, will be hosted by the Mason's War Veterans of 48 West Nicholas Street, Hicksville. You can call 931-9859 if you need any information on the parade.

Chaplain Bob Izzo reports that Peter Cuccia is at Nassau County Medical Center. Frank Jagusiak is home recuperating.

Elections to the Board of Directors of the Hicksville Veterans Association were held January 14. The new members are President P.P.C. Vincent Edwards; Vice President P.P.C. G. Walden; Treasurer P.P.C. L. Iehle; Assistant, A. Wangenheim; Secretary H. Bergeron; Trustees-P.P.C. A. Barrone, P.P.C. Connie Steers, D. McLeon, M. Bergsohn, J. Messana, B. Izzo. Good luck to the new members of the Board of Directors and may your year be successful.

St. Stephen's Day of Prayer

The Lutheran Church of St. Stephen, Broadway, Hicksville, will host World Day of Prayer on Friday, March 1, at 8 p.m. World Day of Prayer is celebrated in churches across the United States and in 170 countries and regions of the world. This 1985 service takes as its theme "Peace Through Prayer and Action." Written by Christian women of India, it calls people the world over to gather for the 98th consecutive year to circle the globe in prayer for peace and to actively become peacemakers. The service seeks to motivate a commitment on the part of participants to become personally involved in the peacemaking process—as individuals and as families within their communities, their nation and the world.

There will be a presentation by Rev. Theodore Grant, Pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church, of the film "Midisland Homeless". Refreshments will be served and everyone is invited. Please bring food for pantry. For information please call the church office, WE 1-0710.

World Day of Prayer is sponsored in the United States by Church Women United, an ecumenical movement that brings Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox women together into one Christian "community of caring." Church Women United (CWU) represents a broad spectrum of religious tradition, race, age, economic status and ethnic background and works through a national unit, 51 state units, including one in greater Washington, D.C. and 1,800 local units. World Day of Prayer offerings make possible the mission of CWU including Intercontinental Grants for Mission program that funds national and international projects in support of the empowerment of women, human rights, justice and peace.

Ann R. Ocker presents a Certificate of Merit to Scott O'Callaghan, a student at Hicksville High School, for his entry in the Voice of Democracy Contest sponsored by the William F. Gouse, Jr. V.F.W. Post 3211. Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark was also on hand for the awards presentation. Chairing this year's contest was William Schuck, second from left, with Mary Bergsohn serving as co-chairman. Post Commander Tony Chepak emceed the affair.

Our Children

By Willard Abraham
 Ph.D.

Q. Is it realistic to expect a 3-year-old to read? My husband insists that it is, and he is pressuring our little boy so much that the result is tears, running to Mother for comfort, and a lot of hostility building up between my husband and me.

I don't think there's anything at all abnormal about our son, but my husband is beginning to feel he is backward, maybe even a little mentally retarded. I'll admit that he has a hard time learning the letters of the alphabet, but is that so unusual in 3-year-olds?

A. Some 3-year-olds can be taught to read by formal or informal methods, but most of them are content (and so are their parents) with building up their experiences and vocabulary through conversations, toys, games, play and other activities.

Reading to young children, watching television together, talking to them and giving them a chance to get ready to read are the practices with which parents and preschool teachers can be effective.

If a 3-year-old rebels against a formal structured technique of teaching reading that does not necessarily indicate he or she is "retarded."

You might talk to your youngster's preschool teacher, or the parents of other 3-year-olds, and you'll probably find quite a range of pre-reading and reading skills among young children. It may be revealing for your husband to participate in these discussions.

I've sent you two articles of mine to share with him, titled "Helping Your Child Get Ready to Read" and "Reading With Your Young Child." Others also can receive them if they indicate which one they want and enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope with their request. There is no cost.

Q. Primping and posturing, center of attention, grabbing for the spotlight — these are characteristics of our 4-year-old and frankly I'm worried. Vanity is something remote to both my husband and myself, and here we have this little girl whose whole life it seems to be.

He thinks it's kind of cute, and I feel it's obnoxious. He doesn't want her to go to a nursery school, and I think it'd be good for her. He praises her when there's absolutely no basis for it, and I believe that's a mistake.

Please help me handle this matter before it gets even more out of control.

A. It's easy to understand why you are upset based on what you have shared here, but from my point of view it's only one side of the story. Your husband obviously looks at things differently. However, your perception is very real to you, so there is a problem within your family.

Someone who is competent has to listen to both sides, and perhaps observe your daughter. Out of contacts with all three of you some recommendations may come with which all of you can live.

A psychologist within your local school district might be able to refer you to a child or family psychologist in your community who could be available to you.

Let me filter out one specific factor in your letter: "He doesn't want her to go to a nursery school." I have a bias in favor of a sound educational program for young children that has evolved from extensive research, reading and observation. Carefully selected programs for young children can pay rich dividends in developing social maturity and academic achievement.

Your objective counselor might help your husband cope with his reluctance in having her attend a preschool program.

Postal Tour By Marketing Firm

Cathy Grieger, Marketing Director of Beautiful Visions of Hicksville and President of the Long Island Direct Marketing Association joins Hicksville Sectional Center Manager-Postmaster Roger Nienaber, Marie Fierro, Special Projects Administrator for Doubleday Book Clubs and Mike Abbene, Letter Shop Director for Publishers Clearing House on their recent tour of Hicksville Post Office's Automated Mail Processing facility.

Over 50 representatives from the Long Island Direct Marketing Association visited the Hicksville Post Office to see the latest in postal automation. It was an evening designed to introduce Roger Nienaber, the new Manager-Postmaster of the Hicksville Sectional Center to the large direct marketing community of Long Island.

Mr. Nienaber spoke about his 17 year postal career in Cincinnati and Columbus, Ohio and about his commitment to providing all postal customers with efficient and safe service. Nienaber noted that "Long Island has a proud tradition of leadership in the mailing industry generating 19-25% of the nation's third-class bulk business mail. I intend to work closely with you to keep Long Island on top in the direct marketing industry."

Kathy Grieger of Beautiful Visions in Hicksville and President of the Long Island Direct Marketing Association said "The tour was enlightening to me with my years in direct marketing. I've never seen the guts of a postal operation."

The Hicksville postal operation handles over 3 million pieces of mail daily or over 1 billion pieces a year. Last year the postal service mail volume rose 10% to 131.5 billion pieces.

The tour started with a display of the mechanized letter sorting machines which handle 70% of the mail. These machines are operated by a crew of 17 people who process 1,850 pieces of mail per hour compared to 800 pieces for manual sorting. The demonstrations of the automated Optical Character Reader which handles 28,000 pieces of mail per hour with 3 operators and the Bar Code Reader which reads 10,000 pieces per hour is a vivid example of the latest in mail processing technology.

Postmaster Nienaber stressed that "zip and 4 is the key to allowing the postal service to maximize our investment in automation. It enables us to handle more mail by handling it less. The additional four digits provide the information for machines to automatically sort letters down to the carriers route, large buildings, post office boxes or one side of the street. The result is more accurate, less costly sorting. That translates into more consistent service and stable postage rates."

"Recently Citicorp, N.Y. Telephone and LILCO have taken advantage of savings zip and 4 offers them on the large mailings, and we hope other businesses and organizations' foot into this method of improving their mail operations", said Nienaber.

Church Hosts College Choir

The Great Lakes Bible College Concert Choir, under the direction of Gary J. Gregory, will appear in concert at The Church of Christ of Hicksville, 105 Broadway, on Sunday, March 3, at 6:30 p.m.

The Concert Choir is one of four vocal performance groups on the campus of Great Lakes Bible College. The 30 voice choir is selected by auditions each year in the fall and is comprised of students from many academic majors. Each spring, the choir tours through different regions of the United States performing sacred music of all styles. This spring the Concert Choir will tour for 18 days and -present 20 concerts.

Following an opening presentation of sacred songs in concert style, the choir will feature a presentation of the contemporary musical, "Dreamer--What Really Happened To Joseph." The musical, by Cam Floria, presents the life of Joseph in a fast paced, exciting style charged with emotion and power. His story is an inspiration for Christians of all ages and all backgrounds.

Great Lakes Bible College, located in Lansing, Michigan, is a four-year college supported by the Christian Churches and Churches of Christ. Its purpose is to prepare students for professional work in church related vocations. Degree programs are offered in Bible, Christian Ministries, Christian Education and Music. A two-year degree, Associate of Religious Education, is also offered.

The community is invited to attend and to share in this special evening of music and inspiration. Admission is free to the public. An offering will be received.

For more information, phone the church office at 935-3855.

Tikvah Hadassah Meets Mar. 18

The Tikvah Chapter of Hadassah is having an interesting entertaining, and creative afternoon on Monday, March 18 at 12 noon at the Midway Jewish Center on South Oyster Bay Road in Syosset. Lunch will be served. Donation is $7 for the Jewish National Fund.

Motel Hearing To Add 20 Rooms

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan, Jr. announced that the Town Board has scheduled a March 26, public hearing on a request for a special use permit in Plainville.

Hogan said, "the applicant, Lester Rosenfeld of Lester Operating Corp., doing business as the Pickwick Motor Inn, is requesting a special use permit for the construction and operation of twenty additional rooms on the westerly end of the existing motel and also to erect a three story office building on the westerly portion of the premises."

The property is located in an "H" industrial district on the south side of the South Service Road of the Long Island Expressway and the south west corner of Round Swamp Road, known as 333 South Service Road.

The hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday, March 26, beginning at 10 a.m. in the Town Hall east hearing room, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Starlab At Fork Lane

On Thursday, February 7 the IDS class enjoyed a presentation of the Starlab program sponsored by the Science Museum of Long Island.

Since the children are involved in the study of stars as part of their curriculum, they were particularly excited as they entered the portable planetarium called Starlab. It consists of an inflatable dome and the Starfield projector, which is capable of accurately reproducing over 3000 stars as they appear in the night sky, anywhere in the Northern hemisphere.

In addition to teaching how to identify various stars and constellations and discussing some basic principles of astronomy showing how Earth fits in the universe, Mrs. Barbara Santino told how the stars were used to depict the characters of ancient Greek mythology.

Everyone agreed that they had enjoyed a fascinating look into the world of astronomy.

War Memorial Renovation Planned

Extensive renovation will soon begin at the war memorial site at Hicksville Junior High School through a joint project of the Hicksville Public Schools and the local veteran's organizations. The plan is the result of discussions with district representatives, veterans and other residents participating on the Board of Education's District Facilities/Community Affairs Committee about proposed changes in landscaping and the erection of flagpoles and a monument recognizing Korean and Vietnam veterans.

The first step in the process will be the removal of some of the existing overgrown shrubbery to prevent further vandalism to the area, and new shrubbery will be limited to a height of three and one-half feet. When completed, this memorial area will be a fitting place of honor in memory of all the men and women of Hicksville who served their country throughout the years.

District Director of Facilities and Operations, William Becker, left, and Board Trustee Daniel C. MacBride, right, are shown here reviewing the plan which includes new shrubbery and plantings, flagpoles representing country, state and town and the installation of an additional monument.

Airman Theresa M. Lannigan, sister of Kathleen Lannigan of 207 Lee Avenue, Hicksville and Patricia Alger of 86-40 109th Street, Richmond Hill, has been assigned to Brooks Air Force Base, Texas, after completing Air Force Basic Training.

During the six weeks at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas, the airman studied the Air Force Mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force. The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the medical services field.

She is a 1983 graduate of Hicksville Senior High School.

NY Nursing Scholarships

The New York State Education Department today announced the names of 800 high school students who have won Regents Professional Education in Nursing Scholarships this year. These scholarship awards are effective as of the 1985-86 academic year. Each Regents Nursing Scholarship entitled the recipient to an award of $250 a year, for up to 5 years of nursing study at a college or hospital school of professional nursing in New York State.

Founders Day At Woodland Ave.

By Fran Abarro

The Woodland Ave. School P.T.A., once again had its annual Founders Day General Meeting on February 7, 1985.

This year our Honored Guest was Pat Rooney and our Honorary Life Membership Award recipient is our Principal Dr. Manus Clancy.

Pat Rooney was honored on this night, because she has done so many nice things for our school children and other children in our district as well. She started our pre-school program and also helped other schools to get started in this program as well. She also started our milk program, fingerprinting program not only for Woodland Ave. school children, but for the whole district. She has helped in Christmas Pageants, coached soccer, basketball, softball. She is also very involved in four P.T.A. units, and has served 2 years as our post P.T.A. President. Congratulations again.

Dr. Clancy was chosen to receive the award of Honorary Life because we felt he is very concerned and deeply cares for all our children. He has fought for the rights for good education and teachers.

He has supported our breakfast, lunches, and dinners, our carnivals and even our dances. He is involved in community affairs, active in church and in activities with his children. Not only is he doing a great job as principal, the children love him, and he is also respected by staff, administrators, peers and parents. Congratulations to you also Dr. Clancy.

Secretary Karel Rudis giving Dr. Clancy flowers, President P.T.A. Jo Elena Ocuto, Treasurer Steve Ocuto.

Pat Rooney our Honored Guest.

Don't waste money on diet aids

By Shirley Bright Boody
Registered Dietitian

Dear Shirley: I gained almost 15 pounds during the holidays and now I want to get rid of it fast. I can barely get into most of my clothes and am so mad at myself I can hardly stand it.

I have been reading a lot of ads that say you can lose weight by buying certain products and are supposed to melt fat away. My question is, do they work?

I also have read about machines that will do it for you. Should I try them and, if so, what kinds do you recommend? If they are very expensive I won't be able to buy them, because I am broke now. I spent a lot of money on presents and food.

Could you please help me? I am getting desperate — Sandy

Dear Sandy: Please don't waste your money and your time on the highly promoted but ineffective so-called "diet aids." They never have been shown to be of any benefit (except financially to the promoters).

The starch blockers that were so highly advertised awhile ago now have been banned, but many people still are throwing their money away on other products like glucomannan and spirulina. Products that claim to release growth hormones or emulsify body fat are disappointing and ineffective.

Weight-loss devices such as body wraps, sauna belts and suits, passive exercise machines and various massage techniques for "spot reduction" are useless for actual weight reduction. Sometimes they cause problems because of temporary water losses, which can deplete potassium levels.

Fad diets that provide less than 800 calories per day should be avoided like the plague because of severe nutrition depletion. Some fad diets caused many people to become seriously ill with diarrhea and dehydration.

I wonder why the truth-in-advertising laws do not seem to apply to the promotion of worthless and even dangerous weight-loss products and fad diets.

You can help yourself to permanent weight reduction by omitting the foods you now are taking that you know are high in calories and by increasing your exercise.

If you need others to help you, there are groups in most places today that you can join. Check with your local YWCA or health departments for inexpensive and effective programs.

In the end, though, it must be the individual himself who causes his own weight loss. Make a firm decision to lose weight and you will. Don't be in too much of a hurry and don't let yourself get too hungry. Eat three meals and three small snacks, if you like, to prevent overeating later in the day.

Use skim milk products, lean meats, chicken and fish, fruits and vegetables, and whole grains. Avoid fats, sugary foods and liquor.

You even can cut in half the foods you usually like, exercise more, and you will lose weight.

Dear Shirley: I am very worried about my older sister and I wonder if you could say something in your column that would make her change her mind. She is giving me fits because she has been quite sick with pneumonia and has lost several pounds. She thinks that it's great and as long as she is sick, she might as well lose some more weight.

She is going to be 72 years old next week and I'm afraid that she could do herself a lot of harm by losing more weight at this time. She won't listen to me, so I told her I was going to write to you, because she always reads your column.

Am I right or wrong? She says she isn't very hungry, anyway. — Mrs. J.H.B.

Dear Mrs. J.H.B.: You are absolutely right. Older people who think that a loss of appetite and/or an illness is an ideal time to lose weight can prolong their illness, deplete their nutrient stores and possibly put themselves at risk for developing additional illness.

Elderly people are more prone to disease and may be better off having a few extra pounds than being too thin.

A well-balanced diet is necessary to the healing process and to the maintenance of health.

Dear Shirley: I am not on a strictly low-salt diet but I am supposed to cut down some on salt. I work, and don't have much time for food preparation, so I use quite a few canned things, especially hot soups in the winter.

Do you have any suggestions? — R.D.K.

Dear R.D.K.: Yes. Buy some salt-free soups or other salt-free foods and combine them with regular kinds, for good taste and less salt.

Wash off all possible canned foods before using, and buy fresh whenever you can.

Congressman Norman F. Lent (R-East Rockaway) right, congratulates Donna Monten of Plainview on her nomination to the United States Air Force Academy. Donna was one of ten candidates from the Fourth Congressional District to be nominated by Congressman Lent to attend this military academy for the 1985-86 term. Also nominated but not shown is Glenn Waters of Plainview, who was nominated to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point.

Quality Or Quantity?

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient
Readers = Results is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

YOU CAN'T BEAT IT!..

Your Social Security

Social Security base can be supplemented

Q. I'm a young worker who won't be retiring for quite some time. However, I don't believe Social Security will be enough to live on when I retire. — L.M.

A. Social Security never was intended to replace all your lost earnings. It was designed to provide a solid base of income on which to build. It can be supplemented not only with a private pension, but also with an individual retirement account, investments and personal savings.

Q. My father, who was a farmer, died in 1949. My mother never received benefits on his record. Weren't agricultural workers under Social Security at that time? — F.B.

A. No, farm laborers first were covered in 1951 and self-employed farmers first were covered for the taxable year ending 1954.

Q. Are the medical requirements the same under Social Security and Supplemental Security Income? — H.C.

A. Yes, the medical requirements and the definition of disability are the same. A person must have a physical or mental impairment so severe that it is expected to prevent him or her from working for a year or more or to result in death.

Q. Recently there has been a great deal in the newspapers about cost of living increases for Social Security. What determines an increase? — E.S.

A. The law provides for automatic increases in Social Security benefits to reflect rises in the cost of living. After a person starts getting benefits, the amount of payment will increase each year if the cost of living goes up by 3 percent or more. If the balance in the Social Security Trust Funds is below a certain percentage, the increase will be based on the rise in average wages if it is lower than the rise in the cost of living.

Gleeb Paul Lowrey

Are you coming over?
Over where?
To my apartment.
I'm sorry, but I'm not the type of woman who goes to a man's apartment.
Oh.
I'm the more formal type.
Well then, why don't you come over in a long, black dress?

Robbers Pose As LILCO Men

Two male whites posing as L.I.L.C.O. employees pushed their way into a Hicksville home around 11:45 a.m., February 21, then tied up the 68 year old woman owner and proceeded to ransack the house. They took approximately $1,800 dollars in cash.

The robbers knocked on the door of Stella Doktorski's home, at 3 Cliff Drive and as she answered the door the men stated they were from Long Island Lighting and had to go into her basement to check on some leaking pipes. Before she could answer the men had pushed their way into the living room, where they proceeded to tie her up. The house was ransacked and the suspects then fled with the money.

Doktorski received some minor bruises but she refused medical aid. She described one of the suspects as being about 40 years of age, 6'-2" tall, 180 lbs., medium build, with brown curly hair, brown eyes, fair complexion and wore rimmed glasses. No description on number 2.

PTA Council Honors Three At Dinner

The Hicksville Council of PTAs will hold its annual Founders Day Dinner on Thursday, February 28 at Crest Hollow Country Club. The Senior High PTSA will honor their guests, Sue Epstein, Nancy DeSorbo and Nancy Staron.

Sue Epstein has been an active member of PTA for eleven years. She held many chairs in Dutch Lane PTA as well as in Junior and Senior High PTSA where she worked very hard on various committees. She is currently Corresponding Secretary in the High School. It requires a special ability and a lot of hard work to succeed as Sue has done. Sue and her husband Sid have two children, Sheri, who is currently a junior at Post College and Scott who is in ninth grade at the Junior High.

Nancy DeSorbo has been teaching in the Hicksville School District for the last 12 years. She teaches Business Education. She also has been Director of Student Activities for the last 4 years. She oversees every club and after school activity at the High School. Nancy has been teaching Varsity and Junior Varsity cheerleading for ten years. She is currently advisor to Student Government and is also Senior Class Advisor. She does not know the meaning of the word "no". When anyone wants something done, whether it be administrators, fellow teachers or students, they always know Nancy is there to help.

Nancy Staron is a very active and dedicated member of PTA. She started her career in PTA in Burns Avenue and then served her time in Junior and Senior High PTSA on many committees as well as serving as their Presidents. Nancy is currently a Council Delegate and is Past President of Senior High PTSA. She is now President of Hicksville Council of PTAs. Nancy has been honored as District Honored Guest. Nancy is now Assistant Director on the Nassau District PTA Board. Dedication and devotion are her middle name. Nancy and her husband Joe have one daughter Barbara, who is a junior at N.Y. Institute of Technology.

Congratulations to our honored guests for their time and effort to the PTSA.

Hearing Mar. 26 On CarWaxPermit

A public hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday, March 26, by the Oyster Bay Town Board to consider an application for a special use permit to operate a car waxing business in Hicksville, according to Town Councilman Douglas J. Hynes.

"The applicants, John DeMonaco and Henry Praus, Grand Prix Performance Ltd., and Joseph Friszell, are seeking a special use permit to operate a car waxing business at the northwest corner of Broadway and Farm Lane in Hicksville," Hynes stated. "The property, which is also known as 500 South Broadway, is located in a 'G' general business district."

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

THE OFFICE CAT By Gabby Tabby

WITH LILCO'S escalating troubles on Shoreham the company is now relying on the formation of a group throughout Long Island to support the opening of Shoreham. Recent polls have shown that the wave of public opinion is now swinging towards LILCO opening the plant on a limited basis but that Suffolk government leaders are not budging.....THE TOWN turned down a request for the Hess gas station on Jericho Turnpike, Jericho to put in automatic banking machines. The Board said traffic problems might emerge with self service gas stations and self service banking stations.....GOV. Mario Cuomo has said that he doesn't want to run for President of the U.S. but on the same week his Albany associates issued a full magazine in color extolling the Governor.....THE POLICE REPORT is printed each week as a public service to acquaint local residents of where crime is taking place in the area and as an aid in the Neighborhood Watch: BURGLARS picked the lock of the Broadway Deli 359 Broadway, Bethpage between Feb. 18 and 19. PersonalGENTLE BEGINNINGS had its first gathering on Feb. 14 and while we were expecting 35 people, 100 attended. We are a new social club for unmarried people with a growing membership of decent, intelligent adults who wish to find new friends and form new relationships gently. It's not a dating service because we always meet in large or small groups. No one in the group is a date and each person pays their own way. This way gentlemen can go out with 3 or more ladies and the financial burden is not on him—and women like it because they have no feeling of obligation. This leaves everyone free to get to know one another and each has a free choice as to which people they choose to cultivate as close friends. We have socials, sports, classes, workshops, and travel. Write for our literature to Gentle Beginnings, 821 Franklin Avenue Garden City, NY 11530 or call 516 746-2724. Never any obligation or pressure. We are truly gentle. You'll see. How to care for that poinsettia

By Patrick Denton

Our family's experience with poinsettia plants has been rather uneven over the years. Some have proven a long-lived delight, while others seemed destined for a premature decline.

A year ago, for example, we received a magnificent gift poinsettia, actually made up of three plants. It presented a grand, tropical spectacle and was well covered with brightly colored bracts.

But before long it began to drop its leaves in alarming numbers. This was puzzling, because it was not in a draft, we kept it in one spot, the light was good, the room temperature was just right — slightly cool — and humidity levels were kept up. It was neither underwatered nor overwatered, and the pot drained freely.

It could have been a simple symptom of adjustment to our home after its journey from the florist. Still, the leaves continued to fall — not enough to turn it scraggly overnight, but more than one would like.

Nevertheless, the plant provided much cheer and pleasure through the Christmas holiday, and indeed through January. By mid-February, though, our honeymoon with this particular plant was definitely over, and I moved it upstairs out of offensive sight to a bright bedroom window.

Just when the slender branches were close to bare, I noticed small signs of life stirring at the joints in each branch. Our seemingly worn-out poinsettia was responding to the cycle of life renewing itself outside its window, and it obviously was ready to have another go at becoming a leafy bush.

As soon as I spotted this new growth, I took a pair of sharp kitchen scissors and cut each branch back by about one-third, stepped up the watering gradually and began very dilute doses of liquid fertilizer.

With the warm weather in spring, I repotted each of the three individual plants in its own 6-inch pot, and sank each pot into the outdoor garden in a sheltered, lightly shaded spot. During the summer, I kept the plants pruned to a low, bushy shape.

Actually, poinsettia plants can be easily induced to take many different shapes. For example, by keeping only one upright stem and staking it straight, your plant can become a small tree. By eliminating all upward shoots and encouraging drooping ones, you can achieve a trailing effect for a planter stand or hanging basket. By judiciously cutting back upward growth through the summer, you can achieve a pleasant spreading bush effect.

For their summer outdoors, I like to situate poinsettias with most other houseplants like Christmas cactus, kalanchoe, begonias, prayer plants and so on together, in a sheltered spot, out of direct midday and afternoon sun. Together, they are more easily cared for.

Poinsettias, like most other houseplants, fatten up quickly over the summer if they are kept watered and fertilized. I've had best results from using a liquid fertilizer weekly at a quarter the label rates. And I alternate an organic fertilizer like liquid fish or seaweed or very dilute liquid manure with a powdered formula like 15-30-15.

Only when it comes time to move totally refurbished poinsettias back into the house do we have to fuss over them a little. For one thing, they should be brought back indoors before there is a marked difference between outdoor and indoor temperatures. Any marked temperature fluctuation will induce some leaf drop.

The next thing to consider is where to locate the plant permanently, for poinsettias resent being shifted about. Look for a spot with fairly bright light, a slightly cool room temperature that remains reasonably constant and no drafts — hot or cold.

Then, if you really desire a "blooming" plant for Christmas again, beginning Oct. 1 give the plant 14 hours of total darkness each night. Pop a thick, light-tight cardboard box over your poinsettia at 5 p.m. and remove it at 7 a.m. By early December, the bracts should begin coming into full bloom and the darkness control no longer will be needed.

Shamrocks Continue Winning

The Hicksville Shamrocks 1974 boys traveling soccer team ran their Shep Messing League record to three wins, no losses this past Sunday as they scalped the Bethpage Renegades 12-4. Jared Jacobs led the Shamrocks with a first half, three-goal hat trick from left wing, and played well throughout the game. Eddie Jacobsen had an outstanding first half in goal, a brilliant third quarter at fullback, and then took over a striker, scoring two goals. Jason Kingsley was an offensive force at wing in the first half and scored two goals from striker in the second. Todd Meringoff scored two goals from striker in the first half and also played effectively in the second half at wing and fullback. Chris Doyle put in two first-half goals from striker and was on target throughout the game. Brian Pine, playing fullback, scored a first half goal and was successful in the second half at wing and full. Eric Bliker had a strong, aggressive game at fullback. Joe Flanagan had a fine first half at fullback and was a sure-handed goalie in the second half. Gregg Grunso displayed adept ball handling skills at wing as well as playing a dominant fullback. Ted Knosp contributed throughout the game from right wing. David Lovato had a strong first half at full as well as an aggressive second half at wing.

Congratulations to assistant Peter Knosp for a well-coached victory and to the Shamrocks for an impressive win.

H.H.S. Holds 'Pops' Concert

"All That Jazz and More IV", the annual pops concert presented by the Hicksville High School Fine Arts Department will be performed on Wednesday, March 6 at 8 p.m. in the High School Auditorium. Appearing on the concert program will be the Madrigal Singers under the direction of Charles Arnold and the Symphonic and Stage Bands under the direction of J. David Abt. Mr. Joseph Ryan at the Hicksville High School will appear as Master of Ceremonies. "All That Jazz and More IV" is open to the public. Tickets for the concert will cost $3 and will be available at the door on the evening of the concert.

The Stage Band will perform such popular songs as Michael Jackson's hit "She's Out Of My Life" and Lionel Richie's "biggie". "All Night Long (All Night)". The band will also feature individual soloists on "Blues A' First Sight" and other jazz stylings.

Included on the Symphonic Band's program will be "The Seventies," a medley which includes "On Broadway", "The Hustle", the theme from "Love Boat", Jim Croce's "Bad, Bad, Leroy Brown", and "Bridge Over Troubled Waters". Simon and Garfunkel's classic and many more.

A medley of 12 Beatles songs covering the years 1965 through 1968 including "With A Little Help From My Friends", "Penny Lane", and "Eleanor Rigby".

The Madrigal Singers will perform a medley titled "Simon and Garfunkel Reunion" including "Feeling Groovy", "Mrs. Robinson", and "Sounds of Silence". Also included on the vocal portion of the program will be "What's New", "All About the Blues", "Curly Shuffle", "Circles", and a composition by Hicksville High School student Frank Walker titled "Being Away

From You". All Hicksville residents are invited to enjoy a fine evening of entertainment presented by our students.

A Westbury Federal IRA Actually Reduces Your Taxes Today. And Tomorrow.

It's true. Each year your IRA contribution will cut your taxable income by the amount of your IRA deposit. By as much as $4,000 if you're a working couple filing jointly; up to $2,000 if you file individually. This can mean a bigger federal and state tax refund right away.

In addition, each year, the total interest that your Westbury Federal IRA account earns is tax deferred until it is withdrawn. We compound your interest daily, and because it is not taxed, it grows bigger faster.

As your neighborhood bank, we try harder to make it easier for you. We have CDs for your IRA from 6 months to 5 years at high rates that will match or beat the so-called big banks. There are no fees and you get $100,000 FS LIC insured protection.

Your IRA funds are always available to you. Even if you're not retired, you can start to draw on your account once you reach 59½. But, funds need not be withdrawn until you're 70½. You can withdraw before 59½ if permanently disabled, or with a 10% IRS penalty on withdrawn funds if not disabled.

Don't just work hard. Work smart. Let the government help put up the money for your retirement nest egg . . . by actually reducing your taxable income by the amount you put into your IRA . . . and by the deferral of interest that your IRA earns until you start to withdraw it.

To open your IRA account, stop by your nearest neighborhood Westbury Federal office.

Input Callers Are Mixed In Outlawing Of Boxing

Input callers are mixed on their opinions of whether boxing should be outlawed in answer to this question: "In the light of serious injuries to professional boxers do you think that the sport should be outlawed?" Here are some of the answers:

NO QUALITY

Yes. Boxing is a sport that has no redeeming qualities. It is simply pitting brute force against contenders and waiting for one to be injured physically. The fans who sit there and watch for blood are sadistic people who are only fooling when they call this a sport. There should be laws to make the staging of boxing bouts illegal. G.F.

SAVAGE SPORT

With news that Mohammed Ali and Joe Louis were both brain injured in the sport there seems to be compelling reason to believe that this is a savage sport that goes back to the jungle. It is not a fit passtime for civilized people to watch to take part in. Most other sports have more skill to make them acceptable. Boxing should have been outlawed long ago. L.E.

WORST CASES

I think that most people are just looking at the worst cases of boxing to claim that it is not really a good sport. Most boxers do not have had injuries and learn to master a skill. Anyone who thinks that there is little skill involved in boxing just does not know anything about the sport. It takes years of training to be a good boxer. It is far from a sport of just standing up to an opponent and slugging away. If it were, then an amateur could get into the ring and if he were stronger, would win easily. This is far from the truth. Boxing is both an art and a sport. A good trainer and manager have plenty to do in seeing that their fighter can win. The fact is that every sport has its casualties yet we seldom hear anyone saying that sports, other than boxing, should be banned. This is because most critics are ignorant of what boxing is all about. K.E.

ONE GOAL

How can we ever justify boxing as a sport. It has only one goal and that is to cripple or maim an opponent. This is where it does differ with all other sports. We have seen champions come through and get the crown only to find out that they have seriously injured themselves mentally and physically. It is a job that attracts a poor boy and then kills him. S.N.

EVEN MATCH

I am tired of hearing so many people keep preaching against boxing. It is a good sport in which one equal contender is matched against another. Many bouts go to a decision and there is no physical injury at all but these are overlooked when a casualty comes along as it does in all sports. Boxing rules are strict and when enforced correctly it is a good clean sport. D.W.

AGAINST A BAN

What next! So far, some of the major areas where we are trying to protect people from themselves through legislative action are smoking, drinking and driving to name three up front. Now, apparently, we would assuage our pent-up desires to do good by outlawing professional boxing. But, before we go on about that, what about mountain climbing, high diving, motor car racing, wrestling, football, hockey, peace-time military exercises, skiing, bob-sledding and other assorted fields rife for self-inflicted destruction or debilitating injury. We might even add jogging, and exercise which seems to have attracted medical opinion to the effect that it's no good for you. The difference of course, is the degree if any to which the professional boxer and his entourage are determined to accept the deliberate maiming of an opponent to achieve victory despite the risk of reverse punishment in kind. I get no personal satisfaction from seeing fighters savagely and pointedly injuring each other to attain championship status and all the other prestigious and monetary rewards that go with it but the risks are never in doubt and the participants are well aware of the potential penalties. Despite the experience of Mohammed Ali in later years, I don't believe he would have it any other way and there are many other examples of fighters who survived in good physical and financial health. I believe we should make it mandatory that highly qualified and impartial medical observation and attention be mandatory during training and at the ring and that contests be stopped at the discretion of the doctor. Certain illegal blows are already prohibited and penalized in the scoring. Other penalties could be enforced for repeated blows to the head. Other than that, I believe that the sport should not be outlawed. It is an outlet for both spectator and participant and under controlled conditions, a means of self-expression, physical artistry, professionalism, pride and achievement. P.G.S.

OTHER DANGEROUS SPORTS

I don't think boxing should be outlawed. If you outlaw boxing you'd have to outlaw quite a few other sports. Divers have their share of injuries and even deaths. Race car drivers have been killed and injured and track and field athletes suffer muscle pulls, breaks and heart attacks. Even golfers have bad backs and others have been struck by lightning several times. What I think we need here is new rules and better referees, with better referee training. I really think medical people should train referees. Strangely enough it was reported once that there are very few injuries and deaths in parachute jumping - can you figure that out? H.S.

A Test For Newspaper Week

Newspaper Education Week
March 4-8, 1985

Help! I'm stuck in the "vertical access device."

Ampersand, Ampersand & Ampersand, Inc. are experiencing a "Significant Writedown."

Watch the waitress perform a "Heinz Maneuver."

What's your "ssnchk?"

By Marjorie Wolfe

In celebration of Newspaper in Education Week, Litmor Publications offers its readers a Trivia Word Quiz.

A "vertical access device" is simply bureaucratic talk for elevator, a "significant writedown" means a "big loss", a "Heinz Maneuver" is what you perform on the bottle to get the ketchup out, a "techie" is a technical institute, and a "ssnchk" is an acronym for "Social Security Number Check."

Good luck!

READER RATINGS

Q. When you are a guest, or eating in a restaurant, is it bad manners to eat everything on your plate, or should you leave a little "for manners". L.T.

A. You eat what you wish. It was a Victorian notion that something should be left. Today you please yourself in the matter.

Q. I see a lot of people doing it but is it really correct to drink bottled drinks right from the bottle? If so, under what circumstances? H.F.

A. This is something like eating a wedge of pie right from the hand. It tastes better and under certain circumstances is quite acceptable. Drinking bottled drinks from the bottle is certainly informal and may be done when people are standing around in a playroom or outdoors at a picnic, at the beach, etc. When they are seated at a properly set table such drinks are poured into glasses or mugs, just as the pie would then be eaten from a dessert plate with a fork.

WELL RECOMMENDED
We happened to be going by Ben's Kosher Restaurant on Northern Boulevard and Glen Cove Road in Greenvale last week and remembered that it was one of the restaurants recommended in your Discovery.

At first we thought that it was not going to be what we wanted but then after we were inside it became clear that Ben's is the whole thing, just as it used to be in those famous restaurant delicatessans that are now out of business in New York City. You can get anything from a sandwich to a full meal and the members of our group did all of that. To recite what we all had would be impossible but let it suffice to say that we were well pleased and recommend Ben's. E.McB.

SOMETHING SPECIAL
Lauraine Murphy's still comes up with a great dinner when you go there. Last week four of us made the mistake of going to Lauraine Murphy's on Saturday evening without a reservation and at first we were a little annoyed that we would have to wait.

But everyone agreed after the meal that it was well worth the short wait. The food and gracious service is almost out of this world and this is backed up with a strolling orchestra to make the night something special. We recommend Lauraine Murphy's. E.R.

CAN'T COMPARE
 As I read all of the endorsements of restaurants I must say that I still believe that the George Washington Manor is so far above the rest that it is hard to compare.
 Here is this restaurant set in the colonial tradition with fine food, great service in an easily accessible location across from the clock tower in Roslyn.
 We went to the George Washington Manor last week, had two sumptuous meals, roast beef prime rib. We had a complete dinner including shrimp cocktails for an appetizer. It was an event that we will remember for many months. George Washington Manor is a place to relax, enjoy and eat fine food. We recommend it.

Q. Recently when four of us were dining out, two married couples, one of the husbands left the table for a few minutes. The remaining husband, left with his wife and the wife of the other, lit the cigarette first of his friend's wife, then of his own. His wife felt that as her escort he should have lit her cigarette first. Which is correct?

R.T. A. As one woman was left alone, the husband and wife remaining are, in effect, her host and hostess for the moment. Therefore, it was correct for the remaining husband to light the guest's cigarette first, then his wife's.

Q. Recently I was a guest at a club luncheon in a restaurant. Accidentally, I overturned my tomato juice. What was the right thing to do? The waiter didn't see the accident immediately.

T.L. A. A waiter seeing such an accident would immediately change the cloth, or if that was impossible at a long table, would spread a clean napkin over the spilled food. As the waiter did not do this because he was busy elsewhere, at a large luncheon you could have spread a napkin over the spot yourself, without undue discussion of the incident. Everyone occasionally has things like this happen.

Q. What do you do with the wrapper on a lump of sugar when you are dining out in a restaurant? Do you put it on the tablecloth, in the saucer of your cup, or in the ash tray?

A.M. A. This is one of those things for which there is no real rule. You just use common sense. I would say put it on the tablecloth, for if you put it in the ash tray it may start a fire, and if you put it in your saucer it may cause the cup to tip over when you put it back in the saucer.

READER RATINGS

INTERESTING DISHES

The Ad in Reader Rating for the Japanese Restaurant, Makino-Se, intrigued us, and we decided to try it for luncheon, it is situated on Union Turnpike in New Hyde Park.

Our choice for appetizers was a combination of marinated seafood of squid, octopus and giant clam; this is called sunomo. The marinating tenderizes the seafood, and for us it was a delightful new taste experience. One in our party tried the bean curd with a ginger sauce for dipping, and beef kushiyake broiled on skewers with pieces of golden fried chicken. Since one of our favorite Japanese dishes is Shrimp Tempura, it was agreed that would be our selection. Truly, it was light, crispy, and the consensus was that we had never had better. A pot of hot tea, complemented our meal.

There were so many interesting dishes on the menu, we plan to make a return visit for dinner. We heartily recommend this restaurant if you enjoy Japanese dishes. E.E.

PLENTY TO EAT

The Steer Barn in Roslyn is wonderful and your readers should know about it. They have a complete salad bar which includes, in addition to regular soup and salad, fresh shrimp.

Last Monday we went there and enjoyed the special which was sliced steak, beef barley soup and all of the salad we could cram on to our plates.

The service and atmosphere is nice at the Steer Barn. It appears to be a converted house with ample tables in the front and rear. We recommend it highly. G.R.

EARLY AMERICAN

One of our favorite restaurants over the years has been Maine Maid Inn on Jericho Turnpike in Jericho. The Colonial Building, built in 1789 filled with authentic Early American antiques, the cozy fireplace, the Tiffany lamps, all make for a delightful ambience in which to have a leisurely, relaxing dinner with the best possible food.

We dined there Wednesday night starting with a cup of excellent soup. One dinner consisted of the special of the day, Lobster tail with shrimp and clams in a delectable sauce, served with a choice of baked potato or linguine. My choice was the Bass almondine, served with fresh peas, carrots and corn. A mixed salad with a choice of dressing, and cafe espresso made for a memorable dinner.

Every time we dine there we say it couldn't be better, and, would you believe, it is! E.H.

Cooking Corner

By Antonia Allegra

Foods of India are hot and spicy

India is hot.

And getting hotter.

On television, there is "The Jewel in the Crown," the latest Masterpiece Theater series for the Public Broadcasting System. On the screen, there is "A Passage to India," which opened recently to fanfare and which was the subject of a Time magazine cover story.

In June, the "Festival of India" will begin in the United States, with 41 cities participating.

And with all that going on, expect the food of that vast and exotic land to become "trendy" and popular.

Edith Kodmur, a gourmet cook, got a head start on it when she spent six weeks in India, sampling the cuisine and visiting the street markets.

The trip, which began in Delhi, included stops in Calcutta, Madras and Cochin, located on the Malabar coast.

"In my free time, I went walking with my camera, always to the local open markets," she said.

Fruits and vegetables — "some ordinary, a few exotic" — were abundant. Grains, red chili peppers, garlic and rice were stored in burlap bags.

And there were bananas, bananas, bananas — 100 varieties in southern India. Some were tiny, two-bite bananas — a whole stalk would be passed around the table after a meal. Mangoes were plentiful and delicious.

In one market, a chapati-maker shaped the flat, unleavened thin leaves of bread on a stone. Then he toasted the bread and sold it to passersby. The breads were wonderful and fresh," Kodmur said, explaining that chapatis, similar to pita bread, are served warm with butter.

Often the food sampled was served on big silver trays with six to eight small silver bowls filled with various dishes. And most food is eaten with the fingers, using only the right hand, using bread or rice as a scoop.

"At every meal, there was always a cucumber dish and always lentils," said Kodmur. There also were chutneys concocted of fresh herbs.

Some of the best-known dishes are chicken tandoori (marinated in spices and yogurt, then cooked in a clay oven), kormas, (braised meats cooked in yogurt or cream), koftas (spicy meatballs), kebabs and bhoons (sauteed and baked meat). The meat and vegetarian dishes would be served with chutneys, pickles and some kind of bread.

When Kodmur returned home, she devised an Indian menu to be served to friends.

"It had to be simple since I was also the 'showman' with slides before and after dinner."

Kodmur's special dinner party began with various aperitifs, wine, beer and a special drink of lime and soda, served with fried cashews.

The main course consisted of dal (lentils), raita (cucumbers in yogurt), chicken korma, fresh mint and cilantro chutneys and pappadam, a type of bread, served with beer and soft drinks.

For dessert, there was a coconut tart followed by coffee.

Recipes for Kodmur's dinner follow, accompanied by one last tip for those who find spicy foods challenging to their digestive system. On the plane home, she was served a "curative drink" by the Air India flight attendants: lime juice with salt and pepper. "Strange looking," she said, "but it worked!"

DAL (Le dals)

- 4 cups water
- 2 cups dried lentils
- 1 tsp. curry powder
- ½ cup salt
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- ½ cup butter
- 1 tsp. cumin
- ¼ cup chopped tomato
- ¼ cup half-and-half
- Cilantro, paprika, tomato (for garnish)

Bring water to boil, add next three ingredients and stir well. Cover and simmer for 20 to 30 minutes until tender and water is absorbed.

Saute onion in butter until golden. Add cumin and cook on high for 30 seconds. Reduce heat and add tomato and half-and-half. Mix with lentils, put in serving bowl, and garnish with cilantro, paprika and tomato.

Serves 6 to 8.

RAITA

- Cucumbers
- Green onion
- Salt to taste
- Plain yogurt

Peel, seed and slice cucumbers. Mince white part of onion; use one for each cucumber. Salt to taste. Mix with enough yogurt to bind together.

CHICKEN KORMA

- 1 (8 oz.) carton plain yogurt
- 2 tps. curry powder
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. coriander
- 1 tsp. minced ginger
- 4 cloves minced garlic

- ½ tsp. ground pepper
- ½ tsp. lemon juice
- 8 chicken thighs, skinned
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 2 tps. shortening
- 1 large tomato, peeled and chopped
- 2 bay leaves

Mix together first eight ingredients. Marinate chicken in mixture for at least 30 minutes, but preferably a few hours. Refrigerate.

Cook onion in shortening until it begins to color; add tomato and bay leaves. Cook 5 minutes. Add chicken and marinade and mix together. Cover and simmer over medium heat for 30 minutes.

Serves 4.

FRESH MINT CHUTNEY

- 2 ozs. mint leaves or cilantro, or some of each
- 1 small white onion
- 2 fresh hot green chili

- peppers
- 1 tsp. fresh chopped ginger
- ¼ tsp. sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- Juice of ½ lemon

Mix together all ingredients in blender or food processor and serve.

COCONUT TART

- 1 cube melted butter
- ¼ cup sugar
- ¼ cup cream
- 4 egg yolks
- 2 ozs. coconut (unsweetened, medium shred)
- ¼ tsp. cardamom
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 partially baked pie crust

Preheat oven to 350 F. Mix together all ingredients, fill shell, and bake until firm and golden (20 to 30 minutes).

Serves 6.

Omelets

By Olivia and Paul Bensen

Omelets make an excellent light dinner — they're quick and easy to prepare, can include almost any ingredients you may have handy in the refrigerator and can take many forms, depending on the chef and the country in which the eggs are being cooked.

It has become popular in the United States to beat the whites separately before they are folded into the yolks. This method produces a very fluffy omelet — almost like a soufflé. In Italy, ingredients generally are mixed with the eggs before cooking, and then cooked quickly in oil. Italian omelets are called frittata. Classic French omelets are made by mixing the eggs together gently to avoid air bubbles, first cooking the eggs on one side enough to "set" them and then adding filling ingredients.

We prepared the two dinner omelets for today's recipes using the last method — we prefer an omelet that is not too puffy, and that has the added ingredients folded inside the eggs. We do beat the eggs, though, to make the omelet a bit lighter than it would be if the eggs were mixed gently.

In the Escarole Omelet, we found that the escarole's flavor and texture made a very pleasing combination with the eggs and the cheese.

The Mexican Omelet can be as mild or as spicy as you want, depending on the type and amount of sauce you use. All the Mexican ingredients are of the type sold in almost all large supermarkets.

Following are a few basic rules that will ensure a perfect omelet every time.

First, use very fresh eggs that have been allowed to reach room temperature. Too-cold eggs will not cook evenly and quickly enough.

Use a heavy pan, with gently sloping sides. Many authorities feel that an omelet pan never should be used for any other purpose. However, for some time we have cooked our omelets in a non-stick pan that we also use for other foods, with very good results. As long as the non-stick coating is undamaged and perfectly smooth, the omelet should cook evenly and slide smoothly from pan to plate.

Salt, since it toughens eggs, should be added to the other ingredients, rather than to the eggs themselves.

It is important to prepare and heat the other ingredients before cooking the eggs, so the omelet will be hot all the way through without being overcooked.

Butter, rather than margarine, should be used to cook the eggs.

ESCAROLE OMELET

- 3 tps. butter
- 4 scallions, thinly sliced (including greens)
- 2 cups tightly packed shredded escarole
- 1 tsp. fresh lemon juice
- Salt and pepper to taste
- 6 eggs
- ¼ cup grated sharp cheddar cheese

In medium-size saucepan, melt 1 tablespoon of butter over medium heat and add scallions. Stir and saute 1 minute. Add escarole, along with lemon juice, salt and pepper. Cover and cook, stirring often, for 3 to 5 minutes, until escarole has wilted. Remove from heat.

 Beat 3 eggs at a time in mixing bowl until light and frothy. Melt 1 tablespoon butter over medium-high heat in omelet pan or non-stick frying pan. When butter is hot, add beaten eggs and, as they set, pull edges in to center, tipping pan so that uncooked egg runs to outside. When eggs are cooked to desired degree, spread half of escarole mixture over half of eggs. Sprinkle with half of cheese, and gently fold omelet in half with spatula. Continue to cook just long enough to melt cheese. Slide omelet onto plate and place in 200 F oven to keep warm while you make other omelet, as above.

Serves 2.

MEXICAN OMELET

- 1/2 lb. lean ground beef
- 1/2 green bell pepper, chopped
- 1 clove garlic, finely chopped
- 1 tsp. hot Mexican chili powder

- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1 (8 oz.) can refried beans
- 1/4 cup jalapeno relish (canned)
- 1 small onion, chopped
- 3/4 cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- 6 eggs, beaten
- Taco sauce (mild or hot)
- Sour cream
- 1 tomato, chopped

Saute beef, green pepper and garlic together over medium heat until meat is cooked. Pour off excess fat and stir in chili powder and salt. Reduce heat to lowest setting to keep warm.

In saucepan, heat beans over medium heat until softened. Stir in jalapeno relish, onion and cheese. Keep warm on low heat while eggs are being cooked.

Make omelets following directions in above recipe, filling each with half beef mixture and half bean mixture. Top each with taco sauce, generous spoonful of sour cream and chopped tomato.

Microwave Magic

Hot tuna!

TUNA CHEESEBURGERS

- 1 (7 oz.) can tuna, drained
- 1 hard-cooked egg
- 1/4 cup mayonnaise
- 2 tbsps. chopped green onion
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- Sliced pimento-stuffed olives, to taste (optional)
- 2 or 3 hamburger buns, split and toasted conventionally
- 4 or 6 slices processed American cheese

Place tuna in medium-size mixing bowl and break into small pieces with fork. Add egg, mayonnaise, green onion, pepper and olives, mixing gently.

Spread mixture on both sides of toasted hamburger buns. Top each with cheese slice.

Microwave on paper plate or towel 1 to 2 minutes per sandwich, until filling is hot and cheese melted.

Makes 4 or 6 open-face sandwiches.

TUNA-MAC

- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine, melted
- 2 tbsps. flour
- 1/4 tsp. each salt and pepper
- 1 cup milk
- 1 cup finely diced processed American cheese
- 1 1/2 cups cooked macaroni noodles
- 1 (6 1/2 or 7 oz.) can tuna, drained and flaked with fork
- 3 tbsps. minced onion

Blend together the melted butter, flour, salt and pepper to form a smooth paste; set aside.

Pour milk into a 1-quart glass container. Microwave 2 1/2 minutes, or until milk is almost boiling.

Stir small amount of hot milk into butter-flour paste to thin. Add this mixture to the milk, beating well with a wire whisk.

Return to microwave and cook at MEDIUM-HIGH (70 percent power) about 2 minutes, stirring after 1 minute. Add cheese and stir until melted.

Combine cheese sauce and macaroni noodles, tuna and onion in a 1 1/2-quart glass casserole. Stir lightly to blend ingredients.

Microwave, covered, 5 to 7 minutes at MEDIUM-HIGH (70 percent power), stirring after 3 minutes.

Let stand, covered, 3 minutes before serving.

Serves 4 to 5.

QUICKIE TUNA BOATS FOR TWO

- 2 medium-size baking potatoes, scrubbed and pierced with fork
- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
- 1 (6 oz.) can tuna, drained and flaked with fork
- 3 tbsps. mayonnaise
- 3 tbsps. cubed cheddar cheese
- 2 tbsps. chopped fresh parsley
- Pepper

Place potatoes on paper towel in oven and microwave 7 to 8 minutes, turning once. Remove from oven and let stand 3 minutes.

Slit potatoes down center and pinch with fingers to form pocket. Set aside.

In small bowl combine butter, tuna, mayonnaise, cheese and parsley. Spoon equal amount into each potato, sprinkle with pepper, and place on serving plate.

Microwave 3 to 4 minutes, rearranging after 2 minutes, until heated through.

Serves 2.

Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens. Foods are cooked on HIGH (100 percent power) and uncovered unless otherwise specified.

Clock made for New York store

By James G. McCollam
Member, Antique Appraisers
Association of America

Q. What can you tell me about the vintage and value of this clock?

It is made of bronze and either marble or alabaster. The porcelain dial bears the name "Tiffany & Co."

A. Your clock probably was made in France during the late 19th century for the famous jewelry store in New York (not to be confused with Louis Comfort Tiffany of the famous lamps).

It is a very fine-quality clock and should sell for from $500 to $1,000 on the market.

Q. This painting on porcelain measures 12 inches by 15 inches and is marked "K.P.M., Germany."

Please tell me what you can about its vintage and value.

A. This was made by Krister Porzellan Manufaktur in Waldenburg, Germany, during the early 20th century.

The value would be at least $1,000.

Q. You told me that my secretary was factory made and not old enough to be an antique.

I can understand that an item has to be 100 years old to qualify as an antique, but why is factory-made furniture less desirable?

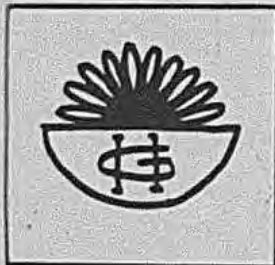

A. Factory-made furniture was made in large quantities. For example, they probably made hundreds of secretaries exactly like yours.

A handmade secretary was one of a kind. It was cut, fit and finished by a skilled craftsman. A factory-made piece is produced by several workmen with little real interest in the final result.

Q. I have a bisque figurine of a farm girl carrying a basket. It is 9 inches tall and has the enclosed mark on the bottom.

I would appreciate anything you can tell me about it.

A. Your figurine was made by the Gebruder Heubach in Koppelsdorf, Germany, during the late 19th century.

It probably would sell in the $225 to $275 range.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q. How do you remove water spots and mineral deposits from faucets and knobs in the kitchen and bathroom? Is there something I can do to prevent this from happening in the future? — Mrs. R.L.

A. One suggestion I can make for removing lime deposits is to use fine stainless steel wool and one of the de-liming preparations available at large houseware stores and some sewing notions dealers that are used for removing the deposits inside steam irons.

White vinegar also is effective. Pour some in a bowl, then soak an old sock or towel in the vinegar until it becomes saturated. Wrap this cloth around the faucet, pushing it solidly against the problem area. Wait a few hours or overnight, then rinse off with clear water. The deposits simply should dissolve.

A very fine grade of steel wool can be used on stubborn spots, or even a stiff toothbrush, while clogged shower heads can be unscrewed and put into a bowl of vinegar, where they will come out like new after a few hours.

Often lime deposits will pit chrome fixtures. This method will remove the deposits, but not the damage of pitting. The installation of a water softener can be a big help in preventing future trouble of a similar nature. Otherwise, only continued cleaning will do the job.

Q. We have a deck constructed of Wolmanized (treated) lumber, built in the woods next to a stream. Mildew has caused the deck to become extremely slippery when wet.

We have tried scrubbing the wood with a paste of bleach and scouring powder. This helped some, but not enough to make the deck completely safe. This deck covers an area of 400 square feet.

Do you have a suggestion for applying grit to the wood surface, or any advice on how to make the deck slip-proof when wet? — C.S.

A. Grit can be applied to a wood surface by painting with a special paint or by adding grit to paint. However, you would lose the natural wood finish by using this method. Also, painted surfaces that receive a lot of foot traffic probably would be difficult to keep up.

A method that possibly would be more desirable would be to sand the wood surface with a floor sander using a coarse sandpaper, which would leave the wood finish somewhat rougher than it currently is.

After sanding use a water repellent or penetrating sealer recommended for redwood. This is ab-

Mainly For Seniors

By John T. Watts

Dear John: My husband, since he retired, really has become a pest.

He wants to do his share of the chores, for which I can't fault him. But just because a washing machine is a piece of machinery doesn't mean he knows how to run it.

He said he'd take over the washing when we retired, and he has tried. But the trouble doesn't have anything to do with the actual washing.

We have a habit in our house of using lots of tissues, sticking them in pockets and forgetting about them. This all might be very well, but Harry habitually forgets to go through all the pockets before starting the wash.

Any housewife knows the result. The tub looks like a bucket of confetti. — Connie S.

Dear Connie: Yes, you might take over the washing yourself — or get a divorce. Not to be flip. If you have a man there who wants to do his share of the housework even after he retires, hang on to him. They are few and far between.

As to suggestions to eliminate the mess, politely ask him every week before he starts the wash if he has gone through all the pockets.

Dear John: I saw a letter in your newspaper column about itching skin with no sign of a rash.

I, too, have had this problem, and several years ago read an article in Prevention magazine from someone who said sugar caused the itch.

I have been to doctors and requested a glucose tolerance test. I have been told I do not need one, and to see a dermatologist.

Without tests, I have been told that the sun is the cause. Well, I used sunscreen lotions, changed from soap to Caress or Dove, and also used medication and ointment.

A couple of years ago in the middle of winter — no sun — I again had a bad attack.

I have found that if I avoid sugar, or cut down on it, the itch goes away. I have tried this several times by going back to sweets, and the problem recurs. The doctor does not understand why.

It is always worse when I am overbeated and am perspiring.

I will mention that the first question the skin doctors asked was, "Do you use deodorant soap?" That must be a big problem. I have not used deodorant soaps.

I trust this will help someone. I know that it does work. — Blanche sorbed into the wood, but it will not make the surface any smoother as will some protective finishes.

Q. Sometime ago I read about a method of putting down a brick path without having to mix wet cement mortar for it. Can you give me any information about this? — R.H.N.

A. You probably are referring to the method of putting brick down in sand. For this, excavate the path area 8 to 12 inches deep and fill with clean sand nearly to the top. Put down the bricks in the desired pattern, then pour dry portland cement in the spaces between bricks, level with the surface and sweep off any excess.

Set a garden sprinkler to the finest mist and let it play over the bricks for several hours. The cement automatically will be activated and will be soaked into the sand foundation. Keep the area damp for about a week so that the concrete cures slowly.

Q. I used a lemon-scented furniture polish on my Oriental cabinet. It created gray streaks on the black front. The sides are orange and tan and they were not affected by the polish.

I have tried Ivory soap and water to remove the streaks, but that did not help.

I would appreciate any advice you can give me. — B.H.G.

A. The surface may be permanently damaged. However, you can try going over the surface lightly with naphtha on a soft cloth. This may remove the streaks.

A. Dear Blanche: How about that, all you candy lovers?

Dear John: Enclosed find a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Please send your leaflet on arthritis regarding Certo, vinegar and information on nightshade plants.

I'm 42 years old. I've tried conventional treatments of all sorts with limited success. About three months ago I had a bad reaction to Motrin after taking it for several months. Now that I have stopped all aspirin and Motrin, my condition has improved tremendously.

I'm now working hard to eliminate potatoes, tomatoes and others in the nightshade family. I feel better now than I have in years and plan to continue to experiment with a rotation diet.

My whole point is, the medical profession is still inadequate in treating some diseases and I find that amazing since it is 1985. — LaDonna W.

Dear LaDonna: You obviously are well informed and on the way to managing your own health, so pardon me if I emphasize to new readers that they have to do a lot of their own thinking on these matters. If they want arthritis leaflets (which also take up the question of nightshade plants) send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to this column. If they want to read about others' experiences, this is the place. A donation also helps as we pay for printing of the leaflets.

TWEEN 12 & 20

Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: I'm very upset over your reply to Julie. She refused to honor a date with a guy because he wanted to take the bus rather than use a car.

Well, my father took my mother to their senior prom on a bus. Not only that, when they got married, they also took a bus on their honeymoon. If it hadn't been for the bus they wouldn't have gotten married and my four sisters and I wouldn't be here today.

Thanks for letting me express my opinion. I was wondering if other teens feel the same way as I. — Yvette.

Yvette: I had many letters from teens expressing their thoughts on Julie's etiquette and most agreed with you. Please read the following letter from Tommy. He tried, but still didn't change my mind.

Dr. Wallace: I thought your answer to Julie of San Diego showed little class. Julie broke a date because the boy didn't have a car and wanted to take Julie to the movies on public transportation. You informed her that it was OK to break the date.

I disagree 100 percent. When Julie accepted the date she made a commitment to spend a social evening with this boy. To break it would be the same as breaking one's word, and that is dishonest.

Won't you please reconsider your answer? — Tommy

Tommy: When the date was made, Julie had no idea she was going to have to ride public transportation, and only found out two days before the evening they were going out. She might be considered snobbish, but her date should have informed her that the mode of transportation was the bus. It's obvious Julie wouldn't have accepted if she had known.

Dr. Wallace: I'm an 18-year-old female and I graduated from high school last June. I'm stuck with a 10 o'clock curfew. The latest I've ever been allowed to stay out is midnight, and that was the night of my senior prom.

Please give your opinion on a reasonable curfew for me. My parents said they would consider your decision. — Nameless

Nameless: A flat 10 o'clock curfew for an 18-year-old high school graduate is too severe. Curfews are necessary but should be regulated to the function.

A Friday night movie and after-movie snack with a friend might result in a 11:00 curfew; for a special party or dance, a midnight curfew is reasonable, while 9:30 might be the limit for a midweek evening engagement.

Dr. Wallace: Everybody is excited about keeping drunken drivers off the roads, but what about keeping pot smokers who are high off the roads, too?

I quit dating a guy because he drove when he was stoned on pot. His problem was that he thought he could "handle the wheel," but in reality, he couldn't.

Please pass the message on to pot smokers to stay off the roads when they are high.

I'm writing this because the guy I quit dating and his date were killed last month. His car spun out of control and struck a tree. His best friend told me he was high at the time of the accident.

I mourn for the loss of two lives, but I thank God that he gave me the wisdom to stop dating a guy who drove while high. — Sophie.

Sophie: According to the American Council for Drug Education, evidence now shows that marijuana affects a person's ability to drive and that people high on marijuana are involved in an unusually high percentage of traffic accidents and fatalities.

Tests conducted in mechanical and electronic driving simulators show that marijuana smoking impairs driving skills even in those who do not believe they are high.

A study recently conducted in California found that at least 16 percent of drivers arrested for impaired driving showed clear evidence of recent marijuana use.

Blood tests of drivers killed in or responsible for fatal accidents revealed that a large majority of the ones who showed signs of marijuana use also had been drinking.

Either marijuana or alcohol alone impairs a driver's ability, but their combined effects cause even more serious driving problems.
