The distinctive exhibition will be available for public viewing through the summer, along with some amazing additions to the Museum's fossil collections. Visitors may see these wonders of nature Tuesdays to Fridays, 9:30 - 4:30 and Saturday and Sunday, 1-5 p.m.

Free Lunches Underway

By Effie Krogmann

As the old song goes "You Gotta Have Heart" - Hicksville and the surrounding communities have it. Hicksville I.N.N. (Interfaith Nutrition Network) is evidence of that.

Every weekday a free lunch is served by volunteers of I.N.N. to needy people. A cheerful group welcomes the guests at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church on the corner of Old Country Road and Newbridge Road in Hicksville. There are usually even flowers on the table - and each guest is given a bag of extra food to take along when they leave. Most of the food has been donated - much is surplus. Most of the local churches have made contributions of manpower, food, equipment and money. It is a community effort that is working - and we should be proud to be a part of it.

If you want to help - come. If you need help - come. If you want information, call Pastor Grant at 938-8693.

Waste Facility Open To Residents

The Town of Oyster Bay's Solid Waste Management Facility in Old Bethpage will be open for five consecutive weekends from May 4 to June 2, for use by residents, it was announced this week by Town Councilman Douglas J. Hynes.

"Beginning Saturday, May 4, and continuing each Saturday and Sunday through June 2, residents will be able to take their refuse directly to the Solid Waste Management Facility between 10:30 a.m. and 6 p.m.," Hynes stated. "Proof of residency must be shown upon entry to the facility.

"Only private cars and trucks will be permitted," Hynes continued. "No vehicles with commercial plates will be allowed. For safety, children will be required to stay in the vehicles at all times."

The Solid Waste Management Facility is located east of Round Swamp Road on Bethpage-Sweet Hollow Road. Residents must use the entrance on Bethpage-Sweet Hollow Road.

Memorial Day Parade Invitation

Organizations are invited to participate in this year's Memorial Day Parade. The next meeting of the Hicksville combined Veteran's Memorial Day Parade Committee is scheduled for Friday, May 10, at 8 p.m., in the Masonic Temple, West Nicholas Street.

The parade will follow the same route as in the past beginning at the Sears parking area and ending at the high school athletic field.

For further information contact parade chairman Ted Plantin at 931-7102.

Accident Victim Dies Of Injuries

Det. Frank Guidice of the eighth Squad reports the death of a 22 year old Hicksville woman as the result of an auto accident on March 23.

Linda Bloom, 22 years, of 139 E. Marie Street, succumbed to injuries on April 22, which she had suffered in an auto accident on South Oyster Bay Road in Hicksville, March 23. She had been operating a 1977 Pontiac Sunbird at 5:25 a.m., when it left the roadway and struck a tree. The victim had been a patient at Central General Hospital, Plainview, since the accident.

School Bd. Approves Budget To Go To Voters

By Brendan Smith

The Hicksville School Budget for 1985-86 was set at $39,748,830 by the School Board at their April 25 meeting. The budget will go to a public vote on May 22 at all election districts between 10 a.m. and 10 p.m.

The discussion for the budget was moved to the High School cafeteria to accommodate an expected crowd. Only twenty five residents attended.

The budget will be a five percent increase from last year. With an additional $206,000 in state aid the original estimated tax assessment increase will be lowered from $1.68 to $1.49.

President William Bennett called the budget an increase in "value, not dollars". He also compared the increase to some more substantial ones in the past. For example, the ten percent increase in the 1982-83 budget.

Among some of the highlights of the budget as described by Bennett were: an update in both the math and science programs, more money towards handicapped teaching and special education, an increase towards teacher retirement and more musical instruments. It was also noted that BOCES would face a decrease of $200,000.

One of the new technological changes would be a computerized bus system. It would tell where a bus is at all times, who is on the bus and where the child lives, in case of emergency.

One woman complained that President Bennett had promised that advance copies of the budget would be mailed to residents in ample time for the meeting, yet they had only received them that evening as they arrived. Bennett apologized stating that they did not realize the printing time and an earlier printing would not have made it possible to have presented an up-to-date budget to the community.

In relation to an affair affecting the whole country, Trustee Lawrence Wolfson suggested that the board should communicate with President Reagan on his visit to the cemetery in Bitburg. Wolfson claimed that it was an insult to the eleven million who died in the Holocaust. His statement was backed by a gentleman from the town who said he was a survivor of the Holocaust and felt that if the board did not make a public statement concerning Reagan's visit it would be a loss of human dignity.

Another resident took exception to the schools policy of religious practice. She stated that the only place for that was in the home or place of worship.

Trustee Wolfson also aired his annoyance with certain remarks President Bennett has shared with members of the media. He thought that all such comments should come from the Public Relations Department.

The board also supported the nomination of Richard Ornauer for re-election to the Board of Directors of the New York State School Boards Association.

Stanford "Sam" Weiss, third from left, was honored by the Charles Wagner Post 421 of the American Legion for 55 years of service to the Hicksville Fire Department. Shown honoring "Sam" who has been an Ex-Department Chief, Past Fire Commissioner and a member of Fire Company 5, at the Legion's Annual Awards and Ceremonies Night, recently, are Lt. John Kerr, Commander John Rizzo of the Legion and Chief Owen Magee.

Letters

To the Editor:

Much to my surprise I received a telephone call from Assemblyman Fred Parola at approximately 9 p.m. on Monday, April 29. Assemblyman Parola had read my Letter to the Editor published last week in this newspaper. I had also sent a copy of the letter before publication to Assemblyman Parola's Albany office having included it as a timely part of my closing statement in the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) adjudicatory hearings on the application of Town of Oyster Bay to expand Old Bethpage landfill by 13 1/2 a. es. I have been a party of interest at the hearings and the Administrative Law Judge allowed me to submit the results of Assemblyman Parola's opinion poll before April 26.

During Assemblyman Parola's telephone conversation last night I got the impression that he was extremely upset about my interpretation in last week's letter of his statement to me on April 18, in which he said:

"84% of 4000 responses to his 30,000 circulation of an opinion poll in February, 1985 answered Yes to the question about source separation of solid waste (garbage) but that doesn't mean anything because people will say one thing and do the other."

Assemblyman Parola did not deny he made that statement but he was very concerned about his own image to his constituency because of my interpretation.

Assemblyman Parola informed me that from now on he will forward my correspondence directly to Assemblyman Lewis Yevoli in whose district my home happens to be located.

Assemblyman Parola also stated he intended to publish a reply concerning my interpretation of his remark in the earlier letter to the editor.

I look forward enthusiastically to a dialogue with both elected officials, Parola and Yevoli, within the pages of this "free press" publication. Hopefully, in fact, other readers will add their comments and opinions in this never-ending crisis about garbage disposal in Nassau County and the Town of Oyster Bay.

It would be especially beneficial if Supervisor Joseph Colby and the Town Board would publish a reply to my recent letter which also addressed a remark to them.

I believe all public officials ought to discuss directly with taxpayers and citizens they are serving any difficult and seemingly insurmountable problem such as the "garbage crisis" has become.

Indeed yes, such a dialogue is long over-due. It should be very interesting to read in the immediate future our public official's view. The question again the people need their answer to: "Shall we continue to triple the tax rate; or would you prefer we recycle and mandate your source separate? We, your public officials are asking you: which should we do?"

Woman Robbed At Mid Island

The 2nd Squad reports the details of a robbery at the Mid-Island Shopping Plaza Hicksville at 9:10 p.m. April 25.

He punched Ms. Schenck on the side of her head and neck repeatedly and stole her pocket-book containing $215 and personal papers. The victim refused medical attention.

The male subject fled on foot.

The Symphonic Artist's Guild Orchestra will present a free concert to the public on Saturday, May 18, in the Hicksville High School Auditorium. This professional orchestra, a new addition to the Hicksville Continuing Education Program, has fifty musicians who organized in January, 1985, with Albert Tranche as Music Director. The orchestra will play the overture to "Ruslan and Ludmila" by Glinka, "Symphony No. 104" by Haydn, the Lento movement from Beethoven's last quartet (opus 135), and "Capriccio Italian" by Tchaikovsky.

The concert will begin at 8 p.m., and all Hicksville residents are cordially invited to attend and enjoy this special musical event.

Hearing May 21 On Allstate Building

The Town Board has scheduled a May 21 hearing on a request for a special use permit in Hicksville.

The applicant, Charlotte Avenue Associates, and Nassau County Industrial Development Agency, are requesting a special use permit in an "H" industrial district to construct a one-story 4200 square foot building for utilization by Allstate Insurance Company, for storage, salvaging and disposition of damaged motor vehicles, the adjusting of claims, training of personnel and other related uses.

The irregular shaped parcel of land is located at the southwest corner of Charlotte Street (Avenue) and abutting Long Island Railroad property in Hicksville.

The hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday, May 21, beginning at 10 a.m. in the Town Hall hearing room, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

News From Road Runners

Applications are now available for the second annual "Thank You Paine Webber" Long Island Summer 5 Kilometer Women's Championship Run, to be held on the roads of the Nassau County suburban communities of Jericho and Brookville on the morning of Independence Day, July 4, 1985.

The Run, which will be open to women of all ages and abilities, will be conducted by the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club with the technical assistance of Finish Line Promotions of Port Washington. The start and finish will be at Jericho High School, and the starting gun will go off promptly at 9:30 a.m.

"The first annual Women's Run held July 4 was even bigger and better than we could possibly have hoped for," observed Plainview-Old Bethpage RRC Vice President Julie Shapiro, who will serve as Director of the Run again this year. "It's obvious that there is a real demand for a major women's road race here on Long Island. We expect to stage another first class race this year, a race that will attract both top flight women racers and - more to the point - the average back-of-the-pack recreational runner. It should be good fun for every woman who competes, and a real boost for women's running and fitness on Long Island!"

The 1984 edition of the Women's Championship Run was won by Doreen Ennis Schwarz of Bloomfield, New Jersey with a time of 16:55. The field of 385 finishers made it the largest women's race ever held on Long Island as seventeen women crossed the finish line in less than 19 minutes.

The Jericho/Brookville course provides a dramatic combination of rolling countryside and level straightaways through some of the most pleasant and scenic roads on Long Island. The course is TAC certified and the race is TAC sanctioned, so that personal results may be used as qualifying times for TAC events throughout the country. Time splits are given at every mile mark, and there is a water station at the halfway point. Photo service is provided by H. Lawrence Geller Photography.

Substantial cash prizes, and trophies will be awarded to the first five women to cross the finish line this year, and trophies will be awarded to the top five finishers in each of seven age groups. The race winner will also receive a warmup suit, and the first and second place finishers in each age group will receive special merchandise prizes, all courtesy of Moving Comfort, Inc.

Every competitor will take home a special nylon-mesh commemorative Moving Comfort women's shirt and a luxury package of Forsythe Cosmetics. There will be a giant post-race merchandise giveaway and party for all runners.

There will be a team competition once again this year, with special awards to each of the top three teams of four women per team.

The entry fee has been set at $7.00 for those who preregister and $8.00 for those who register the day of the race.

In addition to Paine Webber, the prime sponsors of the 1985 Long Island Women's Run include Forsythe Cosmetics, Moving Comfort, Inc. and Syosset Physical Therapist David Balsley. Substantial support is also being provided by The Gallery Restaurant of Plainview, the Sea Crest Restaurant of Jericho, Woodbury Super Star Sneakers and Sports, the Long Island Savings Bank, Macrolease International Corporation, Army's Cleaners of Syosset, and WGSM.

For applications or more information, contact Race Director Julie Shapiro at (516) 364-2750 or POBRRR President Mike Polansky at (516) 433-0919.

Over 100,000 new & used books. Tremendous selection including children, literature, college texts, National Geographic, cook books, medical, law books, collectors items.

In the annual tree planting ceremony at Willet Avenue School, Hicksville, all students who are members of service organizations or teams come in uniform; the chorus and orchestra provide appropriate background music; some classes prepare poetry readings. Customarily, the new tree, donated by the Willet Avenue PTA, is dedicated to some notable American who recently died. This year, however, it was planted in memory of children throughout the world who have died of hunger.

Scouts Danny Walker, Les Spence, Ben Fyfe, Carmine Vozzolo, and Jennifer Balnis instruct first graders Clifford Vedder, Christine Sivertson, Nicholas Lambaunas and Michele Monahan in proper respect for the growing tree.

Your Social Security

What if you have no birth certificate?

Q. Could someone in the Social Security office help me to write a letter for my birth certificate? I wrote one to the state where I was born and they said my birth was not registered.

A. I will need a birth certificate to apply for my Social Security, won't I?

A. Social Security doesn't expect you to produce a document that doesn't exist so you will have to produce other proof of age.

If you were baptized before age 5 you will have to write for your baptismal certificate. If there is no baptismal record, you should submit the oldest available proof such as a school record, marriage certificate, child's birth certificate, etc.

Q. I am 65 and work for a large employer. I understand I can file for Medicare or choose to be covered by my employer's health plan. Your advice, please. — A.D.

A. Employers of 20 or more people must offer employees and their spouses 65 through 69 the same health insurance coverage they offer to their younger employees, and under those same conditions.

If you choose your employer's plan, Medicare becomes the secondary payor.

You should file for hospital insurance under Medicare, now. Whether or not you file for Medical Insurance (Part B) depends on the cost and coverage involved in your employer's plan.

Q. I am 62 now and intend to wait until I am 65 before I apply for Social Security benefits.

I have not worked for the past 12 years. Will this make a difference?

A. You need to discuss your situation with your local Social Security office. They will be able to give you benefit amounts so that you can make an intelligent choice about filing now or waiting until 65.

Not working for the past 12 years will make a difference in your monthly benefit rate since your benefit will depend on what you have earned since 1951.

Q. I turned 62 last December and will apply for Social Security within the next 60 days. Will I get paid retroactive to December? — Anonymous

A. No. There is no retroactivity on claims filed for reduced benefits prior to 65. Benefits can be paid no earlier than the month in which the application is filed.

Q. My mother is on disability and going with a gentleman who is anxious to marry her. However, she is afraid her SSI disability checks will discontinue due to marriage. Please advise. — R.B.

A. A change in your mother's marital status does necessitate a review of her eligibility. It is assumed that a husband and wife who live together share their income and resources. The particular circumstances of her case would determine her continuing eligibility. She should contact her local Social Security office and discuss her situation with them.

Q. When I wrote for my birth record, I discovered that my middle name is recorded as my first name. I have always used John Nathaniel ever since I can remember but my birth record shows Nathaniel John. Will this make any difference in my eligibility? — J.N.M.

A. No, this does not affect your eligibility. It is only necessary that we establish that John Nathaniel and Nathaniel John are one and the same person.

Q. Will aliens who receive Social Security benefits but live outside the United States have their benefits taxed? — F.L.

A. Yes. Non-resident aliens already have had taxes withheld on monthly Old Age Survivors and Disability Insurance benefits paid after Dec. 31, 1983. Beneficiaries who have been subject to the one-resident tax provision will receive an annual statement of Social Security benefits paid, Form SSA-1042 instead of Form SSA-1099.

Q. I only received one copy of the Social Security Benefit Statement (Form SSA-1099). Do I mail it to Internal Revenue Service along with my tax return? — J.M.

A. No. Do not attach it to your income tax return. The form is intended only for determining whether you may have to pay taxes on your Social Security benefits. It is issued as a single copy only, and is to be treated the same as a 1099 you would receive from a bank on interest paid.

Quality Or Quantity?

One Sure Way To Get Results!

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Town Honors Senior Volunteers

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby presents a citation to Florence and Tom Mullen of Bethpage, who were chosen as "Senior Woman of the Year" and "Senior Man of the Year" respectively in recognition of their outstanding community service. The pair were among the many seniors honored for their civic involvement at Senior Citizen Recognition Day ceremonies held at Town Hall. Among their numerous activities, the Mullenses are involved in the Reach-Out Program at the Plainedge Senior Citizen Housing Complex and are volunteers for the Mid Island Hospital's Meals on Wheels Program. Additionally, Florence is active in the Timothy Hill Children's Ranch Shop and Tom is a member of the local Knights of Columbus where he takes an active role in the group's many service programs.

Senior citizens were honored at Oyster Bay Town Hall on Tuesday, April 30, during a ceremony recognizing their efforts in the Town of Oyster Bay Volunteer Services Program.

"Each year, Senior Citizen Day is held in the Town of Oyster Bay to coincide with the nationwide observance of May as Senior Citizen Month", Town Supervisor Joseph Colby explained. "Merit awards are presented to various seniors in recognition of the time and effort they contribute to numerous organizations through the Town's Volunteer Services Program."

Highlighting the ceremony were the presentations of the "Senior Woman of the Year" and "Senior Man of the Year" awards. This year's recipients happened to be husband and wife, Tom and Florence Mullen of Bethpage. Among their many activities, the Mullens are involved in the Reach-Out Program at the Plainedge Senior Citizen Housing Complex, whereby they visit shut-in and recuperating seniors and help out with such things as shopping. The pair are also the longest volunteers in the Mid Island Hospital Meals-on-Wheels Program, in which they started when the program first began in 1980. Many times, they return to one of the homes and help out the people on their own.

Additionally, Florence was the founder of the Plainedge Welfare League which services needy people in the community. One of her pet projects was a holiday party of foster children through the Nassau County Department of Social Services. She is active in the Timothy Hill Ranch Shop, which she helped found, and which serves abused and neglected children living in two cottages, as well as needy people in the area.

Tom, now retired from the Telephone Company, and the Nassau County Sheriff's Department, is a member of the local Knights of Columbus. He takes an active part in the organization's many service programs, including an annual holiday party, for which, one year, he helped deliver live animals to the Holiday Manor.

Bethpage residents for the past 35 years, the Mullens have two sons.

A special presentation was made to Celeste Birnbach, also of Bethpage, who, at the age of 91, is still active in the Volunteer Services Program, knitting articles for the needy. Until June of 1984 when health problems forced her to give it up, she went weekly to the Long Island Developmental Center where she helped tend to retarded patients. She was a volunteer for many years with Catholic Charities, serving as a bookkeeper, treasurer and as parole officer seeing prisoners from Sing-Sing and Dannemora. She is a member of the Bethpage Friendship Club.

Within the Town of Oyster Bay there are 54 active senior citizen clubs. Open to all Town residents 60 years of age or older, the clubs offer a variety of social and recreational activities as well as volunteer opportunities. For further information, contact Senior Citizen Division of the Department of Community Services at 795-1000.

Combining finesse with steady disciplined play, the Nassau County Midget ice hockey team finished a strong second in the New York State Tournament last weekend in upstate Clinton. The Nassau team had earned a berth in the eight-team tournament by winning its third consecutive Long Island championship last month. The team, sponsored by the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks, features many of the Island's best 15-16 year-old players, including four from Hicksville--Marty Jaycard, Ed Sherry, Denis Spronck and Dan Cronin.

Nassau highlighted the tournament's preliminary round Saturday morning with a convincing 9-2 victory over South Buffalo, which had gone undefeated during the regular season: Stan Quelle, John Ziliani and captain Denis Spronck paced the Nassau assault with two goals apiece, while Jim Rogers, Mike Nivash and Tony Flamma each tallied one. Paul Kennenich and George Markadakis chipped in with assists.

Nassau advanced to the finals with a hard-fought 3-2 semifinal victory over Potsdam Sunday morning. The winners reached the scoreboard first when Sean Seel converted a pass from Mike Goodrich. The teams traded goals in the second stanza, with Marty Jaycard finding the range for Nassau. Potsdam knotted the score midway through the final period, but Quelle put Nassau in the finals by deflecting a Dan Cronin slapshot with less than two minutes remaining. Quelle's dramatic game-winner capped a season which saw him emerge with his brother Mike as Long Island's leading offensive pair. Potsdam applied pressure in the closing seconds but was thwarted on every attempt by goalie Ed Sherry and the Nassau defense, led by Ron Tischler, Mike Maloney, Jason Neimark and Mike Castles.

Ithaca edged Nassau, 2-1, in the finals Sunday night. Flamma broke a scoreless tie early in the second period, but two Ithaca tallies late in the period closed out the scoring. Goalie Bob Grady was the Nassau stalwart, kicking out 39 shots, including several from point-blank range.

In presenting the State runner-up trophy to Nassau Coach Wally Livingstone and assistant coach Doug Abrams, tournament director Tom Danahy told the cheering crowd, "The Nassau team showed us more than just skillful hockey this weekend. They also showed us sportsmanlike, disciplined hockey in the best sense. They are a credit to themselves, their parents, and to Nassau County."

Pizza Day To Help Hungry

"We Are The World. We Are The Children" is what you heard in the school lunchroom in Burns Avenue School during lunch on Tuesday, April 23. The Burns Avenue PTA sponsored a "special" Pizza Day to help feed the hungry of Hicksville. The profits from that day of pizza sales plus many donations from the teachers, students and parents are to go to the Interfaith Nutrition Network which has a soup kitchen at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church on Jerusalem Avenue and Old Country Road. As the committee finished counting the profits, we realized $106.60. We as a PTA unit can feel proud at our efforts to help those who are in need.

PTA Conference Scheduled May 9

The Hicksville Council of PTAs is pleased to announce that it will host the Nassau District PTA Spring Conference this Thursday evening, May 9.

The conference will consist of a business meeting to which all PTA members are invited, plus a series of special interest workshops which are open to all residents. The event will be held at Hicksville Senior High School from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. Registration at the door is $4.

Council President Nancy Staron wishes to stress that all community members, particularly parents are invited to the workshops which deal with vital concerns of today's children and young people. Following is a list of the workshops to be presented:

Child Abuse! Is It in your Community?—An overview of the child abuse problem, prevention and intervention and a description of the CAPS program.

Children of the 80's—A brief review of that which bonds parents to children and the impact of our community and culture on these bonds; specifically looking at the role of cocaine and substance abuse in a drug and alcohol permissive society.

Domestic Violence—Historical overview of the battered women's movement—Coalition for Abused Women, Inc.—shelter and services provided in Nassau Hotline.

The Need for Bereavement Programs in the School—Children have lost grandparents, parents, siblings and friends. The ones who are the most overlooked when a significant person dies are the children.

Safe and Sound at Home Alone—The Safe and Sound at Home Alone program is meant to meet the needs of the latchkey children in today's society. Communication and understanding are important for both adults and children.

Teenage Suicide—A timely presentation utilizing audio-visual material dealing with the current epidemic of adolescent suicide.

All Hicksville PTA members are invited to attend the business meeting which precedes the workshops. Voting delegates will elect the new slate of officers for the Nassau District PTA board. In addition many special awards and honors will be presented.

Nassau District and the Hicksville PTA Council wish to extend a cordial invitation to parents, teachers, principals and all PTA members to this exciting and informative evening.

Carol Rubenstrunk Wins Honor

Carol Bernice Rubenstrunk

The outstanding sophomore at Bethpage High School has been selected for nomination to attend the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation (HOBY) New York State Leadership Seminar, according to Virginia Wolski, president of the Women's Club of Bethpage.

Carol Bernice Rubenstrunk, 15, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rubenstrunk, was selected for her potential leadership ability, cooperation with others, sensitivity to the needs of others, the ability to relate to new pursuits and acquaintance, and the desire to learn and share knowledge with others.

Miss Rubenstrunk, selected in competition open to all sophomores at the school, will be eligible to attend the 3 day, expense-paid New York State Leadership Seminar on June 6-9 in Westbury, which will be hosted by the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation. The seminar will bring together sophomores from all over the state to discuss America's Incentive System with prominent leaders in business, government, education, the professions and the volunteer sector. The format is one featuring brief introductory segments, with an intensive question-and-answer session following each presentation.

At the State Leadership Seminar, one boy and one girl will be chosen to attend the HOBY International Leadership Seminar (ILS) to be held at the University of Southern California on August 9-17, in Los Angeles, California. The event will bring together sophomore representatives from all 50 states, the District of Columbia and some 20 foreign countries.

The selection process at Bethpage High School was coordinated by Mr. George McElroy, the school's principal, and Mr. Brad Gaito, the sophomore counselor. The Women's Club of Bethpage will sponsor Miss Rubenstrunk for attendance at the New York State Leadership Seminar as part of its drive to educate tomorrow's leaders today.

The beginning of the Hugh O'Brien Youth Foundation came in 1958, after O'Brien, then appearing as TV's "Wyatt Earp," spent nine days in Africa with Dr. Albert Schweitzer. O'Brien was so motivated by the experience that he began the Foundation the same year.

Foreign Lang. Wk. At Bethpage H.S.

French classes at Bethpage High celebrated National Foreign Language Week with a variety of activities.

Monday's film was a travelogue which highlighted the beauty and charm of Paris.

On Tuesday, Dr. Vasquez, Foreign Languages Department Chairman at Adelphi University, spoke to students about the importance of studying French. Not only is French the international language of translation but it is also very much in demand in the area of international business. Professor Vasquez said that many graduate business schools are interested in students with language background. Professor Vasquez also pointed out that on a world wide basis, travelers and business people are usually able to communicate if they have studied English and French. As a language of world importance, French is studied by many people in the United States and abroad.

On Wednesday, a film entitled, "La Gastronomique," which presented the fine art of enjoying French cuisine whet students appetites for their luncheon at LePetit Paris on Friday.

Mr. Mark Kramer, an environmental meteorologist, spoke to students on Thursday about the importance of foreign languages in the science fields. Mr. Kramer's company studied the effects of cooling towers in a wine growing area of France. Since Mr. Kramer had studied French in high school, he was chosen to represent his company for this assignment in France.

On Friday, after participating in a French contest sponsored by the New England states, French students went to a French restaurant, Le Petit Paris, where they enjoyed French cuisine including quiche Lorraine, boeuf bourguignon and mousse au chocolat.

All of these activities made the week in the French classes stimulating, interesting and enjoyable.

Arbor Day At Dutch Lane

Miss Kielys kindergarten children celebrated Arbor Day by planting a tree at Dutch Lane School. The children invited the first and second grades to their ceremony. They began with the Pledge of Allegiance and sang the song "America". Our second grade volunteers, James Schidet and Thomas Buys held the tree as the kindergarten children distributed the soil around it. Matti Rehman and Jennifer Karrmann read the poem "Trees" by Joyce Kilmer to conclude our Arbor Day program.

Civics Celebrate White Castle Defeat

By Gertrude Paul
There is an old song called "Lovely May, Lovely May" Makes the world so bright and gay! Well! It's certainly lovely here in North Hicksville and South Jericho, where the news that the use permit for a "White Castle" had been denied was met with shouts of joy! Neighbors telephoned or went door-to-door, exulting, as they talked on sunny sidewalks where views of tulips or flowering shrubs and trees were everywhere. Our suburban way of life had been preserved! Victory was sweet!

Ellie Draycott, said, "We are all so very happy! It proves that democracy works."

Yes, we are all so proud of our neighbors and our community. We are truly united now, and shall work for the betterment of all of Hicksville, not only through our Civic Assoc., but through the community council and other interested groups.

We are grateful to the Hicksville Board of Education, to John Maher, principal of Willet Avenue School; to Dan Frisca, our Assemblyman, who was so wonderfully supportive and helpful; to all the Civic Associations in Hicksville and Jericho; and to the myriad individuals who worked so hard and made this victory possible.

We also wish to thank Supt. Coffy and all the members of the Town Council for making such a wise decision and for recognizing the needs of our community. We truly appreciate their concern.

In the future, may we continue to work with spirit and harmony to make us proud of our town!

Cane chairs are rare

By James G. McCollam
 Member, Antique Appraisers Association of America

Coasters - $1 to $2.
 Ice Buckets - $10 to $12.
 Pitchers - $5 to $10.
 Trays - $10 to $25

Q. To the best of my knowledge, these chairs have been in our family for at least 100 years. Can you confirm their age and tell me how much they are worth?

Q. The attached mark is on the bottom of my Hummel figurine of a small boy with two baby pigs. Can you tell me when it was made and its current value?

A. These are late Victorian chairs, made about 1870 to 1890. Cane bottom and back chairs with arms are quite rare; the going price on these would be in the $175 to $225 range.

A. The name of this figurine is "Farm Boy" (No. 66) and the mark is a late version of the "Full Bee" mark that was used in 1956. It is selling for about $200.

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, stamped, self-addressed envelope, and $1 per item to James G. McCollam.

Q. I know that old silver and pewter are collected, but how about aluminum? If it is being collected, how do the prices compare to silver and pewter?

A. Hand-wrought aluminum housewares were first made after World War I, which means that the oldest pieces are about 60 years old - certainly not antiques. The prices are quite low as the following will indicate:

Ashtlays - $2 to $3.
 Baskets - $3 to $6.
 Bowls - $5 to $10.

Hicksville Blasts Opposition 7-1

The Hicksville Shamrocks 1974 travelling soccer team ran their L.I. Junior Soccer League record to two wins, one loss recently via a 7-1 annihilation of the Lindenhurst Invaders. The game showed the Shamrocks at their best, both offensively and defensively, as they held the Invaders scoreless until the waning minutes of the contest.

Matthew Pordum was the offensive leader with two goals and two assists. Eddie Jacobson had one goal and one assist, plus twenty minutes of scoreless goal-tending in the second half of the game. Brian Pine had one goal and one assist, plus shared responsibility at goal in the second half. Eric Blicher had one goal and an assist from wing, where he was a potent force, while also playing a strong full-back. Chris Doyle moved up from sweeper, where he was at his defensive best, to score two goals from wing near the game's end, thereby proving his versatility. David Lovato had a sensational game at striker while picking up one assist. Ted Knoop had a strong game at stopper, and then effectively moved up to wing to pick up one assist.

The defense showed its true mettle in the first half with numerous back passes to goalie Joe Flanagan, which he converted to upheld passes. In the second half, he moved to stopper, full-back and wing with equally impressive results. Gregg-Furst had a very effective game at fullback, and spent the game's last minutes at wing with flair as well. Gregg Guossoos was a terrific defensive force from fullback, and moved up to wing to lead many charges at the opposition. Brian Harkins played a great halfback and wing throughout the entire game. Jared Jacobs spent the entire game showing Lindenhurst that he was a left halfback to be reckoned with. Todd Meringoff covered the field from his center halfback position, wandering far and wide to aid both offensive and defensive units.

Congrats to the Shamrocks, coach John Flanagan and assistant coaches Peter Knoop and Patrick Harkins for another outstanding game. Speedy recovery to Jason Kingsley.

7th and 8th Grade Baseball
Our season has started with a Bang!, as we have scored 23 runs in two wins over Wisdom Lane School.

Brian Robey is 6 for 6 with 4 RBI.

Mike Rose is 3 for 7 with a double, triple, and a blasted home run.

Tom Cassata is 3 for 6.

Ralph Scotto is there with a tremendous home run and 4 RBI.

Roger Chin is 3 for 4 with 2 stolen bases.

Our pitching has been decent with fine workman performances by Mike Rose and Tom Gray. The outfield play of Scott Frain, Tim Cleary and Pat Grecco has been flawless. As long as we continue to work at our game, we will be tough to beat!!

ONE OF THE OLDEST AND LARGEST

Two reasons it's easier to do business in Nassau County.

They're Francis Purcell and Joseph Colby—two reasons the Town of Oyster Bay is good for business.

Francis Purcell, County Executive, and Joseph Colby, Supervisor, working with the Nassau County Industrial Development Agency, have scored some impressive gains for Oyster Bay in the past 5 years, gains that have come about for one simple reason: they make it easy to do business in Nassau County.

By any yardstick, it's a terrific story. In commercial, industrial and retail space, IDA added 1,273,945 sq. ft. in Oyster Bay in 5 years. In dollar value, IDA projects topped $73 million. We also retained a total of 24,530 jobs, and added 1,363 new ones—jobs that would never have come to Oyster Bay without a lot of hard work from IDA. These jobs translate into $219.9 million in retained payroll dollars, $34.8 million in new payroll. It also means $1,910,917 less in property taxes paid by the citizens of Oyster Bay.

It's a good story, and IDA is going to make it an even better one in the coming years. After all, when it comes to business for Oyster Bay, there's no business like good business. And what's good for business is good for you, for us and everyone in Oyster Bay.

Input Callers Have Mixed Ideas On Social Security

Answers were mixed by Input callers to this question last week: "A solution to the Social Security crisis might be to limit the benefits only to those who need them. What would your reaction to this be?"

Here are some of the answers:
SHOULD CONSIDER IT

With the steep social security tax which now is often more than the income withholding tax on wages I believe that within limits that the social security program should move towards helping only those who need it. The reason is that I believe that if I had enough money left out of my salary to invest in an IRA that the money would be a better means of retirement for me than social security. If the amount of tax for social security continues to go up it will not leave enough for me to invest. K.E.

NOT THE SAME

No. If we compromise social security and make it a welfare benefit it will no longer be what it is supposed to be and that is a retirement program for every wage earner to be able to count on. If the politicians get their hands on manipulating social security benefits as a way to subsidize blocks of people they will continue to raise the tax and give many of us nothing at all back. I don't think social security is being run right now but this won't help at all. G.F.

GOOD IDEA

If social security were given to those who need it in larger amounts then it would be worthwhile. Presently it is struggling to keep up with inflation but it is being paid to millionaires as well as poor people in almost the same amounts. It does little for the rich and could do so much more for the poor without escalating the tax year after year. G.W.

NO HANDOUTS

The truth is that certain benefit programs have been attached to social security so that it does subsidize groups who do not have enough. I think the way to go is not to expand that idea but hold it down and if other groups need more supplements that it should not come out of the social security program. This was meant to be a retirement program and should remain that way. I expect to get back my money when I retire but I do not want a handout. J.W.

NEW IDEAS

It is difficult to know whether social security is in trouble or not. But if it is then there may have to be a different scale to help those with nothing over those who have plenty. All older people are not in poverty. We should make a distinction and if we continue to go forward with social security programs without knowing whether the program is solvent or not it might turn into a mess that will not survive. Some new ideas should be discussed. The idea of limiting it to those who need it might be a possible idea. W.E.

NOT IN FAVOR

First of all, I am not sure that there is a social security crisis. We have a serious situation with the national debt but that is a completely separate problem brought about by profligate spending for special interest causes. Social Security has its own funding setup which we are constantly told is actuarially sound. The "crisis" therefore, is more the result of a determination to sack social security to offset the raids on the Federal Treasury by those favored groups year after year to the tune of billions of dollars. So on that basis, I start out by saying that while the system obviously needs a house cleaning to get rid of some of its own parasitic growths and despite the fact that social security taxes have been increased to provide for future generations of retirees, Washington can't resist going after these funds to help solve the federal deficit. As to limiting Social Security benefits only to those who need them, in my opinion, this would be a crime and the first serious step toward an authoritarian government. I have witnessed what it means for someone to have to depend upon welfare exposed to the demeaning attitudes of those who administer the system destroying the personal pride of a recipient obliged almost to grovel for periodic renewals of the "hand-outs" on the basis of need. Social Security in its present form enables millions of elderly citizens to exist in dignity and to enjoy simple pleasures in their waning years. It is proof positive that this democratic society of ours is something of which we can be rightfully proud. If as a system it has become bloated, that should be tackled on its own merits but by no means should we destroy its fiber by drawing on its substance to alleviate the fiscal irresponsibility of government administrators and elected representatives. Finally, an arbitrary criteria for "need" has already insinuated itself into the system with the tax on 50% of Social Security income and I don't like it! P.G.S.

OVER A PERIOD

I'm referring to the Question of the Week as far as the Social Security crisis is concerned. I believe that over a long period of time this could be eased into the picture. In other words if people have the possibility to provide their own retirement programs, such as the IRA which is $2000 for one or $4000 for husband and wife, I think in the long run this would be a much better system. Then, only reserve social security for those people who could not afford to put money into an IRA. To take benefits away from people who presently receive social security, in my opinion, would be extremely unfair because not only have you paid for it all your life but it's also part of your retirement package. G.L.

ONLY OPINIONS

I don't think it's a good idea to limit social security benefits only to those who need them. If the politicians decide who needs what it's their opinion. It's only human nature that opinions differ. M.L.

GOOD IDEA

I think it's a very good idea to limit Social Security to the needy. The rich don't need it. They can't even spend their interest. We paid into social security years back and I think we deserve it today. I can't see why they are always talking about touching social security for the deficit which social security did not cause. This is money due senior citizens and here they're trying to take it away from us. Give it to the needy and take it away from the rich, they don't need it. J.F.

DISCOVERY

The Day Of The Marriage Contract

By Marjorie Wolfe

Marriage contracts have been "in" for some time. Jackie and Ari Onassis reportedly drew up a 170 point contract. Princess Di and Prince Charles have an annual agreement to review each other's most irritating habit. The irritator tells the irratatee that he or she will give it up. The 1984 Princess Di's nomination was Prince Charles' hunting. The newspapers report that the prince has dutifully agreed to give it up.

The Press Telegram reported that Switzerland has revised the country's marriage laws. A Swiss wife will now have a voice in choosing the family home. She may retain her maiden name, provided she applies for that privilege prior to marriage. She will have the right to know her husband's income and his debts—unless he's a doctor, lawyer, preacher, or notary public.

Before marriage the most frequently used three little words are "I love you". The honeymoon is over when the bride says, "read the contract, love."

Palimony lawyer, Marvin Mitchelson, said that, in his experience, "everyone who signs a marriage contract ends up getting a divorce." I wonder what Judith Martin (Miss Manners) would say about the etiquette of preparing marriage contracts?

One prominent attorney is earning "megabucks" preparing "form" prenuptial contracts. The soon-to-be-married couple can select one from column A, and two from column B (or two from column A, and one from column B), just like ordering from the Chinese restaurant.

Here are some sample paragraphs:

- I,....., agree to adhere to the following checked items:
- Agree to take my husband's surname
 - Agree to keep my family/professional name
 - Agree to combine my husband's surname with my family name
 - Agree to reside in a/an
 - co-op/condominium
 - post-modernist loft
 - electronic cottage
 - Agree to live with my inlaws
 - Agree to participate in childrearing and cooking
 - Agree to look at each new child as an addition rather than
 - a deduction
 - Agree that children need lots of LSD--Love, Security, and
 - Discipline
 - Agree that children should be properly spaced--about one
 - hundred yards apart
 - Agree to enroll our infant in the toy-of-the-month club
 - Agree to read "The One Minute Father"/"The One Minute
 - Mother" by Spencer Johnson
 - Agree that the three most important words after "I love you"
 - are "Let's eat out".

- Agree that a balanced diet is not a hamburger in each hand
- Agree to take the "Drag" out of bag lunches
- Agree to keep a kusher home
- Agree to cook without MSG
- Agree never to go to the supermarket hungry
- Agree that a man needs two women in his life: a secretary
- to take everything down, and a wife to pick everything up
- Agree never to ask my mate
- Do I look fat in this?
- Are you ever sorry that you married me?
- What's my worst fault?
- How'm I doin?
- Agree to avoid all excitement, such as tennis, baseball,
- football and supermarkets
- Agree to post the following warning:
- Extended watching of basketball, baseball, football,
- and soap operas may be harmful to our marriage.
- Agree that marriage is a unique game. There are either
- two winners or none
- Agree with Joyce Brothers that husbands/wives need equal
- portions of LASA--Love, Attention, Sympathy, and
- Appreciation
- Agree to share a Leo Buscaglia hug with my husband/wife
- on a daily basis
- Agree never to go to bed angry

THE BEST
LaCoquille Restaurant in Manhasset is a place that is unequalled by any other restaurant! It is a small restaurant that is run in a very efficient way so far as service goes. It is in a well appointed setting for dining.

But the most important part about any restaurant is the food. We have been there three times and have had such varied dishes as beef, veal, scallops and lobster and each a treat in itself. The food is also attractively served with vegetables cooked to a crisp tenderness.

For such great cooking and service in a French restaurant it is well to note that the prices are within an average range for a fine evening out. We recommend it.

NEW NAME

Originally Alpine Garden Restaurant was known as Pico Bello. It is on Franklin Avenue, just off Hempstead Turnpike in Franklin Square. Since the owner, Franz, comes from the Alpine Region he felt the new name was a more accurate description of the Italian, Austrian and French Cuisine. Also, the interior suggests a lovely garden.

On Tuesday night we dined there and had a wonderful dinner, which included soup, salad, entree, coffee and dessert for the modest sum of $10.95. More than the wonderful dinner, on Tuesday Wednesday and Thursday there is a strolling violinist who thoroughly enjoys playing your favorite songs. We had such a marvelous time that we were late for an appointment, and truly hated to leave. Oh, I almost forgot, dinner includes a glass of wine.

I can't remember when I have a more enjoyable evening and feel I want to share this beautiful experience. E.P.

TRIP INTO PAST

We always feel that we have a fine time and wonderful food when we visit George Washington Manor in Roslyn. It is like a trip into the past with modern food and service to visit the Manor.

They have a good menu of American food that is cooked just right. Last week we had a party of four people who visited the G.W. Manor and had entrees which included fish, beef, and veal. Every person in our group said that they thought this restaurant is one of the finest they had ever been to. We decided then that we should spread the word around and decided to make this call. J.H.

Q. I have a friend who always wants to know what type of wine is being served even when at a banquet or wedding. Is this right?

K.Y.
A. Well, it's hard to tell what you mean by asking "Is it right?" It is right to be curious and want to know what brands and flavors of wine are being served. In this way it is possible to know what types of wine to order when out. Most

Q. When older people go to restaurants they frequently cannot eat certain things that are on menus as part of a dinner. Should they ask for something else? J.D.
A. Yes, unless the menu waiters would not be offended in telling you what brand or anything else you wanted to know about a wine.

specifically says that there can be no substitutions they should ask for alternatives. Many restaurants readily provide things like cottage cheese and apple sauce as substitutions to older diners. And we think more ought to be doing this because it would not cost more, overall, and would make for fuller enjoyment of older people who do not have a choice and must turn down specific foods that doctors have warned them against eating.

MEXICAN FOOD

We have not had much Mexican food since coming back after a vacation in California. For that reason we were attracted to the ad for the LaCorrida restaurant in Great Neck.

We tried beef ranchero and found it to be a really great dish and shrimp a la corrida was the other selection. It was made from the tastiest full flavored shrimp we have ever eaten. A trip to the LaCorrida was like a quick trip South of the Border to Mexico or Southern California. The decor and the general feeling of the restaurant completes the trip. We recommend it to all of your readers.

SMALL BUT ELEGANT

The Ristorante San Giorgio is one of those small but elegant Italian restaurants. It is located in a shopping center near the A and P in Westbury on Old Country Road. But the minute you step into it you feel that you have taken a step into continental elegance.

The food is Italian from Northern Italy. The fare includes freshly made pasta of all varieties and some of the finest veal dishes you can find anywhere on Long Island. We went there last week and found it to be a great dining experience. I think many of your readers will enjoy this one. J.W.

SUPERB SERVICE

Devins is an upbeat restaurant in Garden City. It features superb continental food served by a staff that is attentive to your every need. We took a group of eight people there last week and found that the food was excellent and that the service was remarkably good at a time when many restaurants just let you wait and wait. The restaurant had many people in it but we were still taken care of with good service. Devins has excellent Italian veal parmigiana and fine fish dishes. We recommend that your readers go there and find out for themselves what a good place this is. L.R.

- 1/4 cup heavy cream

Crust:

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 tsp. grated lemon rind
- 1/2 tsp. vanilla
- 1 egg yolk
- 1/4 cup butter, melted
- 2 baskets strawberries, hulled and cleaned (decoration)
- 1 basket strawberries, hulled and cleaned (sauce)

Combine cheese, sugar, flour, grated orange and lemon rind and vanilla in large bowl. Beat by hand or with electric mixer at slow speed. When you add sugar, do it gradually. Add eggs and yolks one at a time, beating lightly after each addition. Stir in cream. Makes one 9-inch cake.

With hands or with a fork, pat cookie dough onto bottom of springform pan. Bake in 400 F oven about 20 minutes or until golden brown. Cool slightly. Butter sides of cake form and fill with cheese mixture. Bake in 500 F oven 12 minutes. Reduce temperature to 200 F, leave oven door open for about 3 minutes to cool down quickly, and continue baking cheesecake one hour. Cool before decorating with strawberry halves and cutting.

For sauce, puree prepared strawberries in blender. Pour some of sauce over top of decorated cheesecake and serve remainder on the side.

Spread Sour Cream Glaze over top of loaf; garnish as desired.

Sour Cream Glaze:

Microwave Magic

By Desiree Vivea

Crazy about ketchup

We're all acquainted with at least one ketchup maniac. You know, the kind who pours the red stuff all over everything except dessert. If apple pie and hot dogs are the quintessence of American cuisine, ketchup runs a close third. How the French must shudder.

Ketchup may be American through and through, but its name derives from ketjap, the Malay word for "taste." The Malay version is a pungent fish sauce that is as much used in their cuisine as tomato ketchup is in ours.

Actually, tomato ketchup is just one variation in a long line of savory sauces. Colonial Americans favored a ketchup made from fresh cranberries, and other versions are prepared from such wide-ranging ingredients as mushrooms, walnuts, apples and concord grapes.

While manufacturers are fond of spelling the word "ketchup," catsup is the most common rendering. But even those who favor the latter spelling often pronounce the word as ketch-up. Don't ask me which is the more proper — I just eat the stuff.

Commercial ketchups run from mild to quite spicy. If you're feeling industrious, you can make your own home-brand to suit your individual taste. Add a touch of ketchup to soups, stews, gravies, etc., as a flavor and color enhancer.

If your fridge, like every other fridge on the block, contains an almost-empty bottle of the ubiquitous red sauce, here's a micro-tip you should appreciate: Make a quick and tasty sauce for roasts, hamburgers, etc., by removing the metal cap and adding a spoonful or two of red wine or cream and a pat of butter. Heat three to four minutes, replace cap and shake bottle to blend (use a hot pad) before serving. Good to the last drop.

BEEF POT PIE

- 1 cup purchased biscuit mix
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 lb. lean beef top round steak
- 1 small onion, chopped fine
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tbsp. vegetable oil
- 1/4 cup ketchup
- 1 tbsp. flour
- 1 1/2 tps. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 tsp. thyme
- 1/4 tsp. paprika
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/8 tsp. pepper
- 1 cup grated mozzarella cheese

In small mixing bowl combine biscuit mix and milk to form dough. Turn onto lightly floured surface and roll into 9-inch round.

Place dough in 9-inch glass pie plate and press into place to cover bottom and sides. Microwave 5 minutes, rotating one-quarter turn after 2 1/2 minutes. Set aside.

With sharp knife slice beef crosswise into thin strips 1/2 inch in length

Place beef, onion, garlic and oil in 1 1/2- to 2-quart glass casserole. Microwave, uncovered, 2 minutes.

Add ketchup, flour, Worcestershire sauce, thyme, paprika, salt and pepper, stirring well. Turn into prepared pie crust, then sprinkle grated cheese over top.

Microwave, uncovered, 4 to 5 minutes, or until cheese is melted and pie is heated through. Let stand 1 minute before serving.

Serves 4 to 6.

SUPER SUPPER HAM SLICE

- 1 cup ketchup
- 2 tbsps. prepared mustard
- 1/4 tsp. ground cloves
- 1 center-cut ham slice, fully cooked, 1 1/2 inches thick

In small dish or 1-cup glass measure, combine ketchup, mustard and ground cloves. Set aside.

Score edges of ham with sharp knife to prevent curling. Place ham on microwave roasting rack in 12x8-inch glass baking dish.

Microwave, uncovered, 7 minutes at MEDIUM-HIGH (70 percent power).

Turn ham slice over and spread with sauce. Microwave, uncovered, 4 to 5 minutes longer at MEDIUM-HIGH. Let stand 1 to 2 minutes before serving.

Serves 4 to 6.

SLO-BAKED PORK CHOPS

- 4 center-cut loin pork chops, 1-inch thick
- 1 large onion, sliced thin
- 1 medium-size lemon, sliced thin
- 1 cup ketchup
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1/4 tsp. thyme

Place pork chops in 12x8x2-inch glass baking dish, with meatiest parts of chops toward outside. Arrange onion and lemon slices over top.

Combine remaining ingredients and pour over top. Cover dish loosely with plastic wrap and microwave at MEDIUM (50 percent power) 35 to 45 minutes, rotating dish one-half turn after 18 minutes.

Let stand, covered, 3 minutes before serving. Serve over hot cooked noodles.

Serves 4.

Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens. Foods are cooked on HIGH (100 percent power) and uncovered unless otherwise specified.

Our Children

By Willard Abraham, Ph.D.

Q. Can it really be a problem if a child is too good? I never thought it was until my mother brought up the subject, and she has again and again.

This discussion relates to our 15-year-old son who is a good student, captain of his high school football team, has many friends (both boys and girls), never has to be told to be in at a certain time, clean up his room, get his school work done, or be on time for meals.

My mother says that is all abnormal and that we should consult a good psychiatrist about him. She insists he is badly adjusted, and warns that he will have real problems adapting into adulthood.

My husband feels I should ignore what she says, but it is hard to turn her off without seeming to be impolite. I have also talked to our son's school counselor and a few of his teachers. They agree that there is nothing to worry about. In fact, most of them say that we're fortunate to have a son who is so easy to live with.

But I still have this nagging feeling that she may be right. So, please, tell me what you think.

A. If what you have shared is the whole story, your husband, the school counselor and the teachers appear to be on the right track, and you ought to do your best to join them. Isn't it interesting how we look for problems when there doesn't seem to be even a remote possibility that one exists?

Politely, but firmly, you might share the results of your "research" with professional persons with your mother, telling her that this is the last time you will talk about this topic with her. Then, if she does bring it up again, you might calmly change the subject. After a few times she will probably drop it when she sees that there is no encouragement for further discussion from you.

Q. Our 5-year-old little boy squints a great deal, but my wife is reluctant about taking him in to have his eyes examined. Her fear is that he may be put into glasses and then become dependent on them. She is also worried that the other kids might ridicule him if he wears glasses.

I don't like those possibilities any more than she does, but his health comes first to me. So I am all for a quick visit to the corner optometrist.

What do you think we should do?

A. I'm with you, except that you might consider the fact that there are two types of professionals who may be helpful in this situation — optometrists and ophthalmologists. Don't let me get involved in a detailed discussion of the choices available to you, but you ought to at least know that they exist.

The other possibility (of putting off any action at all for the reasons you mentioned) doesn't seem to make much sense.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

An end to 'wet' windows

Q. What can be done to get moisture out of a sealed, double-pane window glass? Normally these are airtight, but one has developed a moisture problem.

I considered using a fine-bit drill on the inside pane. Does this seem to be logical or is there a better way? Thanks for your help. — R.H.M.

A. The combination of tightly fitting storm sash and inside windows that are not weather stripped is a common cause of this problem. Damp house air can leak around the edges of the inside panes, causing condensation.

Very often, drilling three or four very small holes in the bottom rail of the outer storm sash cures the problem. In fact, many prefab aluminum storm sash are made with small sliding louvers in the bottom rail to provide ventilation when needed. This might well be worth an experiment on one of the windows, the window you are having trouble with. If it works, also try it on the others.

If the storm sash is framed in wood, drill several 1/8-inch holes in the metal, not the glass. Should this treatment fail, weather-stripping of the windows may be necessary to prevent the moisture problem. You also should try to reduce the moisture content of the air in the interior of the house.

Q. We live in an apartment building where we have had a problem with roaches coming in through the drain pipes in the kitchen sink. I want to use something to control these pests and I have heard that boric acid, sprinkled under the kitchen drawer spaces and in crevices is a good solution. Do you have an opinion? — Mrs. L.M.

A. A recent test of roach-control methods conducted by researchers at the University of California gave boric acid a 99.5 percent control rating compared to a 56 percent control rating for the commonly used pesticide, diazinon.

Apparently, boric acid dust adheres to the legs of roaches when they walk through it. Later, they ingest the powder while they are preening themselves, and it kills them.

One note of caution — remember boric acid is a poison and it should not be applied in places accessible to children and pets, nor should it be used near food preparation areas.

Q. What is the easiest way to remove mirrored wall tiles? What do we clean the wall with once they are down? — Mrs. A.D.

A. To begin with, we strongly recommend that you wear both heavy gloves and eye goggles when attempting to remove mirrored tiles.

Most mirrored tiles with two-faced tape adhesive backing, 6 inches square or less, can be removed easily by inserting a long, thin, steel spatula beyond the tile and, with a sliding action, separating the tape from the wall. Paint thinner will dissolve the remaining adhesive.

If your tiles are larger than 6 inches square, they will be harder to remove and can cause damage to the wall when removed. The best method is to use a towel-wrapped hammer and break each tile into pieces with one or two strong taps. You then can peel off the broken pieces, watching carefully for broken and jagged edges to avoid getting cut.

cluded chicken and/or homemade chicken soup in her diet, also an occasional egg.

She said her experience shows that this lifetime diet requires perseverance, but that she got used to it. And surely it was much to be preferred to the excruciating pain she had experienced from arthritis.

Even after six months she was free from pain and able to lead a normal life.

It is well known that there are many kinds of arthritis and that medication and diet do not affect everyone the same. Some readers say their pain is so unbearable they want to try anything. Others scoff at the idea of taking cod liver oil every day and denying themselves red meat and other goodies.

For them there is another remedy, Certo and Welch's grape juice. I don't know why it works, but for some people it ends the pain in half an hour. Others see no apparent help.

This was also sent in by a reader. She took an ounce of Certo in four ounces of Welch's grape juice. It ended her pain in half an hour. When some arthritis pain returned in two or three weeks, she repeated the remedy.

Some readers say they can't find Certo. It is a pectin used in making jelly and jam and should be found along with other canning supplies in the grocery store. Don't ask for it in a drugstore.

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: Recently, my sister gave up her religion and joined a neighborhood church.

For a while I went to church with her because she was too shy to go alone. Now that she has made new friends, I stopped attending for two reasons.

First, the church services are boring and, next, I didn't believe what the minister was preaching.

After I stopped attending this church, I thought I was finished with it forever — wrong! For the past two weeks two male church members have stopped by my house three times and have called me three times trying to get me to return to their "flock."

I keep telling them that I don't like their church but they won't accept this answer. I also made it perfectly clear that I attended their church only because of my sister's shyness, but they don't seem to be listening to me.

How can I get these guys off my back? They have even gone to the trouble of sending me literature in the mail.

Please help me. I am 17 and my sister is 16. — Jody

Jody: Refuse to open the mail they send and do not talk to them on the telephone or in person. Be polite but be firm.

Also, ask your sister to please intercede in your behalf. She owes you a favor.

Dr. Wallace: I have a 17-year-old sister who is making the mistake of her life, but despite warnings from family and friends, the awful situation continues.

My sister has been going out with the same guy for the past two and one-half years. In fact, he is the only guy she has ever gone with. He manipulates her and is very rude to my family when he calls on the phone or visits her.

She doesn't seem to understand what she is doing. However, I'm sure she will realize it one day.

My parents are receptive to the guys my sister and I bring home, but they definitely do not like him. My sister and her boyfriend know how my parents feel. However, it doesn't make a difference.

My sister is a very bright, lovely and kind individual. I can't stand to see her being used. She won't even consider going out with other guys because her boyfriend keeps her on such a short leash. I wouldn't be surprised if she ends up marrying him, even though she definitely deserves better.

My parents have restricted her visits but they do not stop her from seeing him for fear of alienating her. She tends to keep things to herself but has a good relationship with the family. Her boyfriend is her only friend. He keeps her isolated at school. Many of her old friends feel they have lost contact with her.

What can we do or say to make her see the light? I love my sister and don't want her to make a wrong decision. — Suzy

Suzy: There is nothing that you can do to make your sister "see the light."

It appears that she is not unhappy in her relationship with her boyfriend, and until she reaches that stage, don't expect a change.

Whenever necessary, offer useful suggestions but don't be harsh or nag.

Dr. Wallace: I am a recreational user of drugs. I'm not hooked and I enjoy it when I take them. All I hear is that drugs are bad and evil, but it just isn't true.

I have just finished reading the book "Choclate to Morphine: Understanding Mind-Active Drugs," co-authored by Dr. Andrew Weil. Have you read it? If you haven't, please do. This doctor knows what he is talking about.

The book offers the reader a choice. It tells all the risks of taking drugs, but it also tells you of wonderful benefits.

I happen to believe the benefits far outweigh the risks. — Pete

Pete: I haven't read the book but I will — soon.

All civilized nations ban the use of illegal drugs mainly because of the physical and emotional damage to the individual who partakes. In fact, being involved (manufacturing, selling, importing, using) with illegal drugs is considered a criminal offense in these countries.

The reader only fools himself if he feels that taking drugs results in wonderful benefits. The results only are eventual self-destruction. Jimi Hendrix, Janis Joplin, John Belushi and the thousands of others whose lives have been halted because of drug abuse say, "Amen!"

Mainly For Seniors

By John T. Watts

Dear Arthritis Sufferers: As promised recently, this space will reprint all of the information we have on the two arthritis remedies, Mrs. A.S.B.'s diet and the Certo and grape juice.

Requests for the free leaflets which we have printed and reprinted have snowballed to the extent that we cannot continue to send them.

So clip out this column and keep it. Have it copied if you wish for arthritis sufferer friends.

This all started a couple of years ago with a letter from a reader, who wished only to be known as Mrs. A.S.B.

She said she had suffered unbearable pain for many years from arthritis. She said she had read in this column about many others in the same boat, and wished to share her experiences with them.

Mrs. A.S.B. developed a rather rigid diet which she said ended her pain from arthritis, which she realized was no cure, but something she would have to live with the rest of her life if she wished to avoid the pain.

She took two ounces of pure cod liver oil in six ounces of orange juice every morning. Some readers have asked if they could substitute cod liver oil pills. I'm not a doctor and I don't know. The only thing I can say is to experiment with the tablets and find out.

She keeps to a daily diet of fresh vegetables, plenty of fresh fruit and salads with safflower oil dressing. She eats fish twice weekly, tuna, salmon or broiled fish.

She eats only whole wheat bread.

She eats no meat, no white flour products, takes no alcohol or soft drinks, only plain soda water or drinking water.

Caffeine is not good for anyone and you can see that she avoids it. Everyone knows there is caffeine in coffee — even some in the so-called decaffeinated coffee, but everyone does not know that there is caffeine, plenty of it, in tea and in the cola drinks.

After five months, Mrs. A.S.B. noticed a weight increase. She reduced the cod liver oil to one teaspoonful daily thereafter.

After six months she in-

LITTLE CLASSIFIED FOR BIG RESULTS!

JUNIOR EDITION

Aunt Tilly's Corner

A friend of mine recently returned from a trip to Disneyland with her husband and three children. She told me how much the family enjoyed the trip. I knew what she meant because I have visited Disney World in California.

Disneyland, she said, is extremely clean and there are flowers everywhere. There is a great deal to see and much to learn, and everything is clean, wholesome entertainment geared for the family. My friend and I both wish there also were more family entertainment on television and at the movies!

Love,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are Tara Ann Gavigan and Ricky Altizio.

Points on Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. Our 3-year-old Pomeranian is due to have puppies in a couple of weeks. This will be the first time we have had puppies. As the time nears we have more and more questions and are becoming more and more nervous.

Any information you can give us regarding having puppies will be appreciated.

A. It is difficult, if not impossible, to predict accurately when a particular dog is going to whelp. Live puppies have been born from canine pregnancies as short as 58 days, but the normal pregnancy usually is considered to be 63 days. Puppies born prior to 58 days usually are too premature to survive, even with the best nursing care.

It is advisable to have a veterinarian examine any bitch going longer than 65 days. However, if the dog is eating normally, seems lively and does not have any abnormal vaginal discharge, there likely is nothing to worry about.

Many owners do not know precisely when conception occurred. This is especially true in situations where the dog has been allowed to run freely outdoors.

The time of day that a bitch whelps may depend on the season of the year. During the colder months, late afternoon or evening whelpings are most common. Intrusion into the whelping area by other dogs or people may cause the bitch to be nervous and may delay the birth.

Within 12 to 24 hours prior to delivery of the first puppy, the bitch's rectal temperature will begin to drop from the normal 100 F to 102 F to as low as 97 F. A rectal thermometer can be used to check the dog's temperature twice a day as the expected whelping approaches.

A white to yellow gelatinous discharge from the vulva may be present for as long as 48 hours prior to whelping.

Most bitches exhibit some attempt to build a nest. Rags, newspapers or other suitable material should be available.

Beginning approximately 12 hours before the puppies are born, the dam will begin to refuse food. Within a few hours of delivery time, the bitch will begin panting excessively in a steady rhythm that increases as the birth nears.

The average whelping time is around six hours, although normal whelpings of 12 hours have been reported. After straining begins, it is doubtful that the first puppy will survive if not delivered within six hours.

Most bitches prefer to whelp lying on their sides. The first thing to appear from the vulva is the water bag, or placenta. Usually the head is the first part of the puppy to emerge, although in a normal delivery the tail or hind legs emerge first almost as often as the head. The body usually follows easily and quickly.
