Thirty-two members from the Mercy Hospital Leagues were recently honored by the Council of Leagues for their twenty-five years of faithful and dedicated service to Mercy. The twenty-five year pins were presented at the 25th Anniversary Installation Luncheon of the Council of Leagues at the Milleridge Cottage in Jericho.

Pictured here are members of the Glen Cove-Hicksville-Syosset League which raised almost $50,000 during the last fiscal year, a substantial portion of which was donated to Mercy's Infant Apnea Center. Standing from left to right are Joan D'Auria, resident of Brookville, Barbara Votyka, resident of Woodbury, Marge Montana, resident of Hicksville, Mary Sheehan, resident of Hicksville and Kay Giannelli, resident of St. James. Seated in front is Sister Mary Jean Brady, C.I.J. Vice Chairperson of the Board of Directors at Mercy Hospital in Rockville Centre and moderator of the Council of the Leagues of Mercy.

Mercy's Infant Apnea Center has been serving the community since 1979, providing specialized care for high-risk infants (SIDS) with cardiopulmonary dysfunction. The Center was the only one of its kind within the metropolitan area when it opened its doors to monitor apneic infants and has assisted over 1000 infants and their families.

Four Cars, Fire Engine Accident

The Second Pct. reported an auto accident involving four cars and a Plainview Fire Department truck, at the intersection of Central Park and Old Country Rd.

The F.D. vehicle was responding to a call, traveling westbound on Old Country Rd., Plainview on August 2. A 1981 Mercedes operated by Enzo Zucconi of Plainview, was crossing over Old Country Rd. northbound from Gerhard Rd. when he and the fire truck collided. The fire truck then drove on top of a 1981 Chevrolet operated by Brady Pepper of Westbury, who was stopped at a red light facing westbound. Also involved in the accident were two other vehicles also westbound and stopped at the light. They are Robert Henderson of Oklahoma operating a 1984 Buick and Barbara Savage of Wantagh operating a 1984 Jeep.

There was a total of five injuries including one fireman all were treated and released from Central General Hospital, Plainview.

Elks Ruler At Convention

Murray S. Appel of Hicksville Lodge #1931 was recognized as a newly elected Exalted Ruler at the 121st Convention of the Grand Lodge, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, which was held in Seattle, July 14-18.

Murray S. Appel is one of more than 2250 Exalted Rulers nationwide, and, for one year, is the elected leader of his local Elks Lodge.

Each Exalted Ruler is elected by his lodge in March, and takes office in April.

The Exalted Rulers heard convention reports that the Elks donated more than $28 million to various charities during 1984-85. Since the Elks began keeping records 105 years ago, more than $510 million has been donated for charitable purposes.

The Elks, in addition to numerous other charitable ventures, sponsor the Elks "Hoop Shoot", a free throw basketball shooting contest entered by more than three million boys and girls each year.

The convention delegates have also unanimously elected John T. Traynor of Devil's Lake, North Dakota, the new Grand Exalted Ruler for 1985-86. G.E.R. Traynor will serve the 1.6 million Elks until July, 1986.

Town Okays Gas Station Remodeling, But No Food

The Oyster Bay Town Board has approved a request for a change of zone in Hicksville to permit the renovation and modernization of an existing gas station, but denied construction of a food mart on the premises, according to Town Councilman Douglas J. Hynes.

"The applicant, Texaco, Inc., requested a change of zone from 'G-1' central business to 'G' general business to renovate and modernize an existing gas station, which will include demolition of the existing pump islands and building and the construction of new pump islands, a canopy, and, on the northerly portion of the premises, a car wash," Hynes stated. "The applicant also asked for permission to operate a food mart on the property, located at the northeast corner of Old Country Road and Newbridge Road in Hicksville, which was denied."

In addition to denying the request for a food mart, the Town Board imposed certain restrictive covenants, which include banning the sale of any food or beverages on the property. There will be no sale or rental of cars or trailers, and no auto repairs, body work or oil changing will be permitted.

With regard to the car wash, Hynes said the Town has restricted the hours of operation to between 8 a.m. and 9 p.m. on non-holiday weekdays and Saturdays and between 12 noon and 5 p.m. Sundays. The car washing facility must be equipped with a total reclaim and reclean water system so that no water runs into the street, storm drain or sewer system, and provision must be made to prevent emission of odors from stagnant or recycled water. Additionally, any residue sludge material resulting from the water reclamation process must be removed only on non-holiday weekdays between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

The canopy may be no larger than 25 percent of the land being used for the gas service station. All lighting must be under the canopy and directed downwards so as not to cause glare outside the service area. Any other lighting on the premises must also be positioned so that it will not spill over onto adjacent properties.

Other covenants include installing a groundwater monitoring system, keeping all garbage and refuse in covered containers fenced in on three sides, and prohibiting a charge for use of air hoses or air equipment for servicing of vehicles.

Hynes noted that no building permit will be issued until a site plan has been submitted to, and approved by, the Town Board.

Members of the executive board of the HomeMaker's Council of Nassau County study the model of the Ronald McDonald House to be built on the grounds of Schneider Children's Hospital of Long Island Jewish Medical Center. The Council raises money to equip Ronald McDonald Houses, which provide low-cost temporary lodgings for families of children with cancer and other serious illnesses while the youngsters undergo treatment at nearby hospitals. The board members are standing, left to right, Gerry DeLeo of Stewart Manor, Community Service chairman; Ruth Linder of North Massapequa and Dorothy Mann and Louise Frey, both of Hicksville; seated are Edith Wilckens of Elmont, left, president, and Patrice O'Reilly of Massapequa.

A picture perfect July day was the setting for the Dayton T. Brown, Inc. annual picnic. It was an exciting day for all the employees and their families and friends who attended. The festivities included pony rides, space walk, softball games, tug o' war, and sack races. "Funny Faces" the face painters painted flowers, stars and stripes etc. on the kids' faces. It was a fun packed day for all.

THE OFFICE CAT By Gabby Tabby

IF ANYONE asks you whether you would buy a used car from politicians they should know that the Town of Oyster Bay is offering 14 used cars for sale. Inspection of the cars is at the Dept. of Public Works 150 Miller Place, Syosset. Call 931-7347 for more information if you intend to buy a used car from politicians. These vehicles go back to 1975. You must put in a bid if interested.....AN UP TO DATE listing of job opportunities throughout the Town of Oyster Bay is now available. The list contains offerings from over 25 firms. The job opportunities list is posted at the Town Clerk's office in Oyster Bay and the Annex in Hicksville which is in the Town Parking garage at the Railroad station. The list is also available at libraries, high schools and colleges.....IF THE ONE percent trial continues the court may stumble on all sorts of special things that politicians do to keep in control. We know of one political club that even tells the members what newspaper to read because it is part of the membership dues.....THE GRANT program instituted by the state Legislature regularly gives away thousands of dollars to organizations that need not file an application or prove any need for the money. It is a program designed for the politicians who want to buy constituents with tax money. Both parties cooperate in cutting up the pork barrel.....THE CRIME REPORT is published each week as a public service to alert residents of where crime is taking place in the area and as an aid in the Neighborhood Watch. Anyone seeing suspicious activity should phone 911: BURGLARS entered the Moskowitz residence 319 Jerusalem Ave., Hicksville between Aug. 3 and 4. They used a key to gain entry and stole $644.50.....BURGLARS forced a garage door of a residence at 12 Whitlock St., Plainview on Aug. 1. They entered and stole a bike.....POLICE investigated an unlocked window at the Quinn residence, 7 Griffin Lane, Syosset on Aug. 2. No loss was reported.....POLICE are seeking a male white about 25, 180 pounds wearing white pants and a red shirt in connection with the theft of jewelry and cash at the Dinchart residence 38 Sherman Drive, Syosset on Aug. 3.....A MICROWAVE oven was stolen from the Mistretta home 35 Center Drive, Syosset on July 31. Entry was through a rear door.....CASH, jewelry and a stereo were stolen from the Lowenberg residence 124 Robbins Lane, Jericho on Aug. 5. Entry was through a side window.....JEWELRY was stolen from the Carrera residence 227 Syosset-Woodbury Rd., Woodbury on Aug. 5. A rear window was kicked in to gain entry.....BURGLARS entered the Community Church, Church St., Syosset between Aug. 1 and 2. Cash and a cross were stolen.....BURGLARS cut a rear window at the Alsey trailer, 270 Duffy Ave., Hicksville on Aug. 4. They entered and stole brass lamps.....That's all the news for now! G.T.

No road race can get to the starting line without the generous support of the local businesses that sponsor it, and the 2nd annual Long Island Summer 5 Kilometer Women's Championship Run was no exception. One of the key sponsors of this year's Run was Forsythe Cosmetics. Pictured here, second place finisher Clady Girard-Klein, center, of Atlanta Track Club, receives her trophy plaque from Harriet and Buddy Rose of Forsythe.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond, fourth from right, was on hand to see off members of the Group Activities Program (GAP) for the handicapped Summer Day Camp as they boarded a bus headed for Shea Stadium. The outing to see the Mets play was sponsored by the Jericho Brookville Lions Club, whose president Ron Petrocki, fourth from left, and trip coordinator Denning Sutherland also came out to give the youngsters a proper send off. Among those making the trip were, left to right, Kevin McCue of East Norwich, Timmy Brogan of Jericho, Laurie Nimmo of Syosset, Billy Gilbert of Woodbury, Sean Touhy of Hicksville and Sharon Breen of Muttontown.

Office Building Okayed For Plainview

The Oyster Bay Town Board has approved an application for a change of zone on a vacant parcel of land located in Plainview, according to Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond.

"The applicant, Renvin Corporation, was seeking a change of zone from 'A' residence district to 'F' business district (neighborhood business) for the construction of a three story 27,000 square foot office building with multi-level underground parking for 135 cars," Diamond stated. The parcel is located at the southwest corner of the service road of the Long Island Expressway and Sunnyside Boulevard. "The Board approved the request, subject to certain restrictive covenants," Diamond said, "including that the proposed office building is restricted to three stories and that all driveways and parking fields shall be paved and maintained in good repair at all times."

Diamond added that no building permit and/or certificate of occupancy shall be issued until a site plan has been approved by the Town Board which includes location of ingress and egress, layout and striping of parking areas and location of landscaping, planters, fences, lighting and signs.

In Memoriam

Sophie Abbondandolo

Sophie Zalewski Abbondandolo of Hicksville, died on Monday, August 5, 1985, at Central General Hospital after suffering a massive stroke. Born on May 2, 1927, Sophie was one of nine children born to the late Maximilian and Valeria Zalewski. Always proud of her hometown, she married in 1949 and resided on Nevada Street until her death.

She attended Nicholai Street School and graduated from Hicksville High School. Upon her graduation Sophie ventured to Mincola by train where she was employed by the Boy Scouts of America. She later was employed as a Stenographer at Seaman & Elsemann Insurance Agency, once located at the corner of Broadway and Marie Street, now situated at 167 Broadway. About a year and a half ago her employment there was terminated by a change of ownership and she was currently employed by Schaefer-Archon Insurance Corp. in Jericho.

Sophie leaves her husband, Joseph; sons Steven and Joseph, and daughter-in-law Karen. She was the beloved sister of Benjamin Zalewski of Bethpage, Jennifer Krikalo of Fort Salonga, Lillian Lauck of Brightwaters, Helen Thorne of Wantagh, and Valerie Pakaluk of Hicksville, the late Frank Zalewski of Brookhaven, Edward Zalewski of Bayport and John Zalewski of Bethpage. She is also survived by 24 nieces and nephews. Her family is saddened that she will not witness the marriage of her son Joseph to Nikki Kasper on December 7.

Funeral arrangements were under the direction of Henry J. Stock Funeral Home, Newbridge Road, Hicksville. A Mass of Christian Burial was held on Thursday, August 8, with interment at the United States Veterans Cemetery in Calverton.

Letters

To the Editor:

It is with great shame and distaste that I write this letter, and only after I cooled down for a month.

I attended Hicksville High School's graduation this June and was shocked, embarrassed and totally unprepared for what I saw. I saw drinking in the parking lot before the ceremony, I saw Dr. Fenton and the valedictorian boozed. Beach balls, bubbles, toilet paper and who knows what else were being thrown about. What I did not see was discipline. Where is pride and honor? Where were our administrators and staff?

I urge the Board, the teachers, the administrators and the parents to explore new and more successful ways to handle graduation. I'm sure I don't want to sit through such a performance again.

Sen. Dunne UJA Community Award

United Jewish Ys of Long Island's Chairman of the Government Relations Committee, Alfred W. Levy, announced that Senator John R. Dunne, (6 S.D.) would be receiving the UJYs Community Service Award.

Mr. Levy stated, "Senator Dunne has been a long time supporter of Long Island's Y movement and through his efforts has enabled the United Jewish Ys to expand its services to Long Island's six YM and YWHAs." Mr. Levy went on to say, "The United Jewish Ys and Senator Dunne have the same goals of supporting positive community life on Long Island and the belief that local organizations like the United Jewish Ys have a vital role to play in providing social, educational and recreational services."

Mr. Leonard Cooper UJYs President, noted that the largest full service Y on Long Island is located in Plainview and serves the communities that Senator Dunne represents. Mr. Cooper commented, "Senator Dunne knows first hand the importance of a local Y to its community, how it helps the very young in Day Care, Nursery, and Parenting programs, the elderly with extraordinary transportation services, Senior Clubs and Senior Citizen's Service Programs, adults with social, recreation and physical education programs, as well as programs for populations with special needs, like the handicapped."

College Notes

The Following Hicksville residents were graduated in May from Potsdam College:

Brian P. Clancy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clancy, 11 Tiptop Lane. Brian received a B.M. degree in Music Education.

John Joseph Immerso, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Immerso, 31 Arpad Street also received his B.M. degree in Music Education.

Nell E. Kaufman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Kaufman, 20 Gardena Lane earned his degree in Computer Information Science.

Bethpage Republican Club Executive Committeeman, George F. Yochmann, right, and Club President, Kevin Galloway, are pictured standing in front of the newly opened Registration Headquarters at 341 Broadway in Bethpage. The Headquarters will be open for residents who wish to register for the November elections and for anyone interested in joining the Theodore Roosevelt Republican Club of Bethpage.

To volunteer your time at the Registration Headquarters or for additional information contact Buddy Mazzara, Membership Chairman at 681-3161.

Rev. Ciannella Tours Holy Land

The Reverend Domenic K. Ciannella, Rector of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, is conducting a tour to the Holy Land, leaving Wednesday, October 8. The tour will include the Biblical sites sacred to Christians and Jews, alike, including a visit to Masada, with the return on Tuesday, October 15.

Members of the community are invited to join in this exciting journey which is both inspirational and educational, placing the Biblical narratives in their proper setting.

The cost is $1300 and includes all travel expenses, first class hotels, two full meals a day, busses and guides. Interested persons should call Father Ciannella at Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, 931-1920.

Teacher Specializes In Middle Ages

Thomas Loftus, English teacher at Bethpage High School, is deeply engrossed in the Middle Ages this summer, taking an intensive five-week course in the world of Geoffrey Chaucer—the better to teach his own students next year.

Marymount College of Virginia's institute, "Chaucer in His Changing World", funded by the National Endowment for the Humanities (NEH), is designed to bring such high school basics as "The Canterbury Tales" to life by placing the literature in context with the historical, social, economic and literary environment of Chaucer's tradition. Teachers also study Chaucer's early writings which precede the "Tales".

Thomas Loftus is one of 30 teachers from Virginia and nearby states participating in the Mountmout College institute. All expenses and a $500 stipend are provided by the NEH. The institute concludes next spring with follow-up seminars to discuss how it went in the classroom when teachers implemented materials gleaned from the institute reading, lectures and discussions.

$10,000 Prize For Hole In One

A $10,000 prize for a hole-in-one will be the highlight of the fourth Annual Mid-Island YM & YWHA Golf and Tennis Outing at the Cold Spring Country Club on Monday, August 19.

This annual fund raising event is by contribution and traditionally offers a day of fun for several hundred supporters who play golf or tennis.

Ron Alexenburg of Woodbury; Dan Duchin of Wantagh and Sid Solomon, also of Wantagh, are chairmen of the 1985 Outing.

Additional information may be obtained at the Y 45 Manetto Hill Road, Plainview or by calling 822-3535.

The Mid-Island YM & YWHA is a beneficiary agency of the UJA Federation of New York; a Member Agency of the United Jewish Ys of Long Island, the JWB, the United Way of Long Island and the Welfare Council of Nassau County.

Police Sergeant Dies In Accident

A Nassau County Police sergeant from the Eighth Precinct died August 4 after a heart attack on Cherry Avenue in Bethpage at 8:30 a.m.

Sgt. Robert Aluck, 40, was on routine patrol in a police car when he apparently slumped over the wheel of the auto and struck a tree on the North side of Cherry Avenue about 50' east of Caffrey Avenue. A person passing by attempted to arouse the officer and then using the police radio in the car, called for help. Assistance responded and transported the officer to Central General Hospital where he was pronounced dead at 9:08 a.m.

The cause of death is undetermined at this time. The body has been removed to the Medical Examiners for an autopsy to determine the cause of death.

Sgt. Aluck was appointed to the force on April 29, 1966, was a charter member of the NCPD Pulaski Association and a United States Marine.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond, center, and Bernie Bricker give off good vibes while Dr. Kirby Jolly, conductor and trumpet player of the American Concert Band, sets the rhythm. The group gave a performance at Bethpage Community Park recently as part of the "Music Under the Stars" series sponsored by the Town's Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Department of Community Services and the Oyster Bay Arts Council, Inc. They will be giving a special Labor Day weekend concert at Tappen Beach, Glenwood Landing, on Saturday, August 31, at 8:15 p.m., under the sponsorship of the Oyster Bay Arts Council, Inc.

Bethpage GOP Regis. Headquarters

"1985 is a very important year for local candidates," said George F. Yochmann, Executive Committeeman of the Theodore Roosevelt Republican Club of Bethpage.

"This is one of the rare years in which six Town of Oyster Bay candidates are running for reelection. In addition to Supervisor Joseph Colby and Town Clerk Ann R. Ocker, four council seats are before the voters."

Due to the importance of this year's election the Bethpage Republican Club has opened its first Registration Headquarters. Located at 341 Broadway in Bethpage, the Headquarters will be open daily to register new voters, offer candidate information and take membership applications for the Bethpage Republican Club.

"In previous years the Bethpage Republican Club has done an outstanding job in registering new voters," said Mr. Yochmann.

"Just last year the efforts of our members resulted in nearly 500 additional citizens being eligible to cast a ballot."

"This year, with the addition of a conveniently located Headquarters right in the heart of the Bethpage shopping area, we expect that all previous registration records will be broken."

Kevin Galloway, Club President said the registration operation is under the direction of Buddy Mazzara, Membership Chairman.

Anyone wishing to volunteer their time contact Mr. Mazzara at 681-3161.

Zoning Change Denied In Plainview

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan, Jr. announced that the Town Board had denied an application for a change of zone in Plainview.

"The petitioners, Albert and Henrietta Treiman, had sought a change of zone from Residence 'D' District to an 'R-O' District for property at 465 South Oyster Bay Road", said Hogan. "The applicants were seeking the change of zone to legalize the

At a public hearing held on June 18, residents of the area expressed concern about the unsightly condition of the building and grounds.

Hog in stated that the rejection of the petition by the Town Board is in keeping with past actions by refusing to permit the encroachment of business into a residential community.

Our Children

The husbands speak out

By Willard Abraham
Ph.D.

It's "Equal Time Day." Last week some wives expressed frustrations with their husbands' family relationships. Now it is the husbands' turn, so let's tune in through their letters.

Q. I wish my wife would listen to me. Since she doesn't, perhaps you can get a word in about something that I see as a real problem.

We have a 10-year-old daughter whom she has always babied. I have the feeling that this kid of ours will continue to be so dependent that she will never be able to have a life of her own.

"Is your soup too hot?" (She will then cool it by blowing.) "Did you brush your back teeth?" (She'll check and usually end up brushing them herself.) "Hold my hand while we cross the street" and "Let me help you" (whether it is homework, checking a TV schedule in the newspaper or using the telephone directory).

Don't you think there is something a little strange about a parent who won't turn a child loose? I do.

A. Some years ago there was a play in New York called "The Silver Cord." It was the story of a son dominated by his mother right into his adulthood, until he was destroyed as a responsible human being.

Independence for an individual begins with day one in a child's life, progressing gradually from when the cord is cut until adulthood. It should evolve over the years on the basis of a person's ability to take over responsibilities, make decisions, and adjust to new situations.

Caring for one's self at meal-times, in personal cleanliness and safety situations and in other everyday activities develops when most individuals are ready just as the readiness factor relates to learning to read and write, it materializes from tying one's shoes to going away to college, moving out of one's childhood home, and taking a job some distance away from the family.

As many psychologists say, "All behavior is caused." It probably would take competent psychological help to determine why your wife dominates your daughter.

Q. I never anticipated that when we had a baby it would mean the end of our going out evenings. I was a bachelor until I was 32, and also, during the four years before the baby came, we had a lot of freedom.

Things are different now because my wife refuses to get a baby-sitter. It isn't that she is concerned about the kind of care the baby will receive. The reason is very simple: She is just plain stingy!

We did have to give up her income temporarily, but mine is good enough to cover all of our needed expenses as well as occasional luxuries. I don't see a movie or dinner out once in awhile as such a luxury.

A. If that is the whole story you seem to have a legitimate complaint. Perhaps you need to work out a written budget with her that will clearly list all income and expense items. If it demonstrates that there is enough left over for the kind of activities you mentioned, she may not have any objections.

If it also shows that there is enough to cover baby-sitters during the day occasionally to relieve her, that fact also may help soften her up for an evening on the town every so often.

Q. Help! What can I do to stop arguments between my wife and our 9-year-old son? He isn't a bad kid, but she is always on his back because of dirty hands, socks and underwear, having a sloppy room, and never combing his hair.

You would think she'd run out of things to complain about, but it's nag, nag, nag all the time.

That is only part of the problem. To her our 12-year-old daughter is an angel. She can do no wrong. I'll admit that she is a pretty nice kid, does well in school, is clean and pleasant, and does all the things right that he does wrong.

Is there any hope? What do you think?

A. All youngsters do some things right, so an effort might be made to notice and praise him for those activities. On the rare occasions when he, his clothing and his room are clean, a few kind words might be appropriate. In addition, helping him out (picking up things together, for example) and making the necessary items of soap, a comb and clean clothing available might assist in getting good habits started.

You probably will have no difficulty in involving yourself in these activities, but your wife might be another story. If she won't accept the suggestions from you (or me), she might from a good friend or a family counselor. Names of professionals like that in your community might be available through the counseling department at your son's school.

One more thing — the relationships with your daughter. Complimenting her in front of him eventually could create problems between the two of them (if it hasn't already done so). A little restraint in that direction might be advisable.

It also may be wise to be sure that both you and your wife are fair when it comes to privileges and presents for the two of them.

Backyard Gardener

A cure for idle hands

By Patrick Denton

This week, a few reminders for this gardening period, just in case you don't have enough to do to keep out of mischief.

Try to keep faded flowers removed from your roses, dahlias, annuals and perennials so that the plants do not turn their energies to making seeds, and cease blooming.

Unless natural rainfall does it for you, water the garden thoroughly and deeply rather than just a little every day or so. Water should penetrate deeply.

Try to keep the garden free of weeds. Many common weeds continue germinating, growing and producing seeds throughout the season. Some don't even call a decent halt to their procreative activities in the fall. If you've experienced difficult flushes of seed growth where you have spread compost on the garden, burn weeds that are in flower or are forming seeds. Some can even mature seeds after they've been uprooted.

Remember that your container plants and hanging baskets are growing in limited resources, so keep them fed weekly with a quarter-strength fertilizer solution such as 15-30-15. This dilute mixture will protect roots from chemical burn in their constricted circumstances. At the same time it will replace nutrients quickly leached out from the confined area of a container.

Take some big boot action into your brussels sprout patch. Tread down and firm the soil around these plants, to encourage good sprout head formation.

Keep the cucumbers picked young and sweet, so the vines will keep producing. It only takes leaving one or two fruits to mature on the vine to hold back a plant from producing more blossoms and cucumbers.

Our family enjoys cucumbers diced into lime gelatin and sour cream for a cool jellied salad on a hot day. And, being rather fanatic garlic fans, we especially love the Middle East style of chopping cucumbers finely into yogurt, with lemon juice, a drop of oil and garlic cloves freshly squeezed through a press. Refrigerated for the flavors to blend, this is an incomparable treat.

If you have some wood ashes, side dress your bulb onions with them to supply potash necessary in the maturing of the bulbs. But don't pull up soil around the bulbs, which need a bit of light and air at this point.

Toward the end of August begin breaking a few of the roots on each onion plant. This is done by inserting a garden fork under one side of the row and levering it just until you feel the first breaking of roots. This little trick is one that I've found quite helpful in producing good storage onions.

If you have some favorite Martha Washington geraniums (Regal pelargoniums), now is a good time to take cuttings to increase your stock. As with regular garden geraniums, choose shoots that are not flowering.

Cut the shoots back to about 3 inches, making a slanted cut with a sharp knife just below a leaf node. Remove the lower leaves where the stem will be below the soil line and insert the cutting into a pot of sterilized, sandy soil.

Though cuttings root best with bottom heat, most of us working with the minimum of horticultural accoutrements simply will sink the cutting pots partly into the garden where the flowering regals are flourishing. This most usually is a cool, partly shaded spot in the garden where they can be kept either in pot or planted directly into the garden.

Town Selling Used Cars

The Town of Oyster Bay is offering 14 used cars for sale in "as is" condition, according to Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

"The vehicles will be available for inspection on August 26 and August 27 between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. at the Department of Public Works, 150 Miller Place, Syosset. Persons interested in inspecting the vehicles should contact William Ippolito at 921-7347, ext. 530 to arrange for an appointment," Clark said.

The 14 vehicles offered for sale include seven 1980 AMC Concord, three 1978 Plymouth Volares, a 1977 AMC Hornet, a 1975 Ford Torino, a 1977 Plymouth Fury and a 1981 Chevrolet. All are four door passenger cars. In addition, a 1976 Cushman three-wheel vehicle and a 20 yard open container 'dumpster' will also be offered for sale.

Persons interested in submitting a bid may obtain the forms, which will be available on August 19, from the Town's Purchasing Division in person, or by mailing a request for forms for Bid No. SES-85, and enclosing the stamps for postage (85 cents) to the Purchasing Division, Town Hall, West Building, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, 11771.

After the form is completed, it must be returned to the Purchasing Division in a sealed envelope, no later than 11 a.m. on Wednesday, August 28. The bids will be opened and read at a public hearing on August 28 at 11 a.m. in the Purchasing Division hearing room, 4th floor West Building, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

All interested bidders are welcome to attend the bid opening. The vehicles will go to the highest bidders.

Your Social Security

How to apply for a new card

Q. I lost my Social Security card many years ago but had memorized the number. Do I have to go into a Social Security office for a new card or can this matter be handled by mail? — D.D.H.

A. You must present evidence of your identity, such as a driver's license or a state identity card. If you are foreign born you also must submit evidence of your current U.S. citizenship or alien status. You must submit original or certified documents as evidence.

You may apply either by mailing your documents and application to the Social Security office or by bringing them in person. However, you must apply in person if you are an alien whose immigration documents should not be mailed.

Q. My new wife will be 61 years old next month. She has been disabled for several years. Due to her disability is she eligible to receive Social Security benefits based upon my Social Security? — L.E.B.

A. Your wife is not eligible to receive benefits on your Social Security record because of her disability. However, she will be eligible as a wife when she becomes age 62.

Q. I was receiving disability benefits. However, when my case was reviewed I was found not disabled. I have requested a hearing. I don't think it is fair that my checks stop while my case is pending. — D.F.

A. Due to a recent change in the law, now when you appeal a decision that you are no longer disabled, you may request that your benefits continue through a review by an administrative law judge.

If you lose the appeal, you will be asked to repay the benefits, but also you have the right to ask that you not be required to do so.

Q. My husband retired at age 65 with full benefits. I started to collect at age 62 under my husband. Would I receive his full benefit if he should die? — P.S.

A. If you are 65 or older when your husband dies your widow's benefit is equal to his full amount. If you are age 60-65 at the time of your husband's death, then the widow's benefit is reduced. Contact your local Social Security office for additional information.

Eat Yourself Slim

Too much water can trigger seizure

By Shirley Bright Boody
Registered Dietitian

Dear Shirley: I'm an epileptic, and I've been on a weight-loss program that tells me to drink huge quantities of water as a means of losing weight. I've stuck to the diet, but two weeks ago I had a bad seizure, which I hadn't had for a long time.

I'm wondering if this diet is right for me. Is there any danger in following it? Is it possible for a person to drink too much water or am I asking a foolish question?

I've been told to drink six quarts of water daily. Is that too much? — Gerry.

Dear Gerry: Your question is not foolish, and you are wise indeed to question the excessive use of water, especially since you have epilepsy. I hope you'll stop this program because it can be extremely dangerous to you.

One of the oldest mechanisms known to produce a grand mal seizure in epilepsy is excessive hydration (water intake). Six quarts of water per day is unnecessary and dangerous because it could trigger more seizures.

Dear Shirley: I have been put on a low-fat diet and so far I'm doing OK, but there's one thing I really miss, and that's pork.

I know pork is higher in fat and cholesterol than other meats, but do you think it would hurt me if I had it once in a while? It's the only meat I really enjoy, and I'd hate to give it up permanently and eat other meats I don't really like.

Are there any pork substitutes I could eat instead? — P.N.Y.

Dear P.N.Y.: I have good news for you! There are new lean pork meats on the market today that are comparable in both fat content and cholesterol to other lean meats.

The idea that pork is hard to digest and full of fat is outdated today. It has been considerably improved with new techniques.

There are some cuts of pork you should avoid, however. They include bacon, pork bellies, fatty pork chops and fatty pork roasts, especially those with the skin on them.

Ask your butcher for some new lean pork cuts. Remove the fat of all meat before cooking, and drain off any fat left after cooking.

Dear Shirley: I have noticed that some potatoes at the market where I shop have green skins. I have been afraid to buy them, but the manager says they are all right and that the green color is caused by the lighting in the market. Is that true?

I thought that green skins were poisonous, and people shouldn't eat them. I noticed that some times they were cheaper than the others, but I don't want to buy them if they are dangerous in any way. What is your opinion? — Mrs. R.G.

Dear Mrs. R.G.: The green skin on potatoes is due to the development of chlorophyll by either the artificial lights in the store or by sunlight. However, the greening also may mean the presence of solanine, a bitter-tasting compound that is poisonous in large quantities. You'd have to eat some 18 to 20 pounds of green potatoes though to become ill from it.

If you buy them, just be sure to remove all of the green skin before cooking.

Vases not hand painted

By James G. McCollam
Member, Antique
Appraisers Association of America

Q. These hand-painted vases are signed by Angelica Kauffman. They are 12 inches tall and have no mark on the bottom.

Can you tell me when they were made and how much they are worth?

A. In the first place these were not hand painted; the scenes are transfer prints made from 18th century paintings by Angelica Kauffman. She lived in the late 18th century; these were made (probably in Vienna, Austria) in the late 19th century.

The pair of vases would sell in the $275 to $325 range.

Q. I have become interested in collecting Norman Rockwell plates. Could you give some idea of how much they sell for?

A. Here are some current prices of Rockwell collectors' plates:
Annual Visit (1980) — $25.
Beyond Easel (1980) — $30.
Christmas Trio (1976) — $20.
Leapfrog (1979) — $50.
Lovers (1980) — $35.

Planning Visits (1978) — $20.
Santa Plans Visit (1981) — $20.
Santa's Helper (1979) — $15.
The Cobbler (1978) — $100.

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, stamped, self-addressed envelope, and $1 per item to James G. McCollam.

Q. My Hummel figurine is a little boy walking with his dog. I have sent a copy of the mark on the bottom. Please tell me whatever you can about its age, value, etc.

A. This is Hummel No. 5, "Strolling Along." The Trade Mark (No. 2) was used in 1958. It first was modeled in 1935 by Arthur Molle and still is in production.

Your version would sell for about $175.

HBA Girls Seniors N.Y.S. Champions

By Jenny Anderson
Girls Seniors
Ages 13-14-15

Last weekend August 2, 3 and 4, our girls senior Williamsport Team played double elimination games in Syracuse, N.Y., for the New York State Championship.

The tournament began Friday, August 2, on a sad note, Hicksville was beaten 2-1 by a Rockland County Team called Haverstraw. With the first game at a loss it left us walking a shaky line facing a doubleheader on Saturday.

Our first game on Saturday was with Saugerties, Hicksville won, with a score of 9-6. The second game we defeated Haverstraw, overtaking them in a landslide of 16-2.

Our record now 2 wins - 1 loss. Still having to play another doubleheader; this time with the undefeated home team "Valley" on Sunday.

Sunday's game started with apprehension. With some very upsetting mishaps our girls walked on the field disheartedly. By the 3rd inning we were losing 8-1. With the coverage of the teammates, the strength of the manager and coaches and the constant support from their family and friends, our girls came back clinching the game with a score of 16-9.

Game 2 began, Hicksville taking the lead in the 3rd inning 5-1. In the fourth inning, Valley came alive, now leading 6-5. By the bottom of the sixth inning the score was tied 10-10. In the 7th inning both teams held each other at bay. Now into extra innings, the top of the 8th Hicksville pitching and fielding, come through again; no runs for Valley - at the bottom of the 8th with 2 girls on base, Jennifer Koslow hit a long wide left field fly, hitting the outfield fence, bringing home the winning run, and the title of New York State Champions.

It was a glorious day and a glorious triumph for Hicksville. For the first time in H.B.A. history we have a team representing us for the Eastern Regional Division.

Our girls are truly champions in every sense of the word. They possess the 3 D's - Dedication, Determination and Discipline - Watch Out Competitors, for the "Eye of the Tiger"....

An excellent job was turned in by our regular pitchers Maria Moore, Christine Proctor and Karen Osback. Coming in as relief, Alison Meir and Maureen Herman did a superb job to capture the win.

Hunting Renewals In the Mail

Oyster Bay Town Clerk Ann R. Ocker announced that renewal applications for State hunting, fishing, trapping and big game licenses will be mailed at the beginning of August to all residents who held licenses last year.

Mrs. Ocker said that "the cost of the license fees will remain the same as last year. The 'Sporting License Application' form is to be completed by the applicant and then returned to the Clerk's Office where it will then be validated by the Clerk with a series of validation stamps for each license type."

Sportsmen renewing their license by mail should remember to enclose a large self-addressed envelope with sufficient postage to return the licenses and other requested material to them.

Mrs. Ocker reminds sportsmen that party permits must be mailed to the State no later than September 1. Proof of eligibility is required by State law for certain sports licenses. Applicants for hunting, big game, trapping and archery licenses must present a training course certificate or proof of a previous license.

Applicants may also apply in person at the Town Clerk's office at Town Hall, Audrey Avenue in Oyster Bay or at Town Clerk's annexes located at Town Hall South, 977 Hicksville Road, Massapequa and the Town Parking Garage, Newbridge Road and Duffly Avenue, Hicksville. The Hicksville annex is closed from 12 to 1 p.m. daily. Mrs. Ocker noted that the Massapequa and Hicksville annexes will be open on Wednesday evening, August 21, from 6-9 p.m. to accommodate residents.

DaSilva Chosen For Empire Games

On July 17, Lynn DeSilva of Willet Avenue, Hicksville, was chosen as one of the members of the Empire State Games Open Field Hockey team to represent Long Island. Tryouts were for all Nassau-Suffolk hockey players out of high school. Lynn was the only Nassau resident chosen.

Lynn, a field hockey coach at Manhasset High School, has been playing hockey herself since college at Adelphi and pursues the game for fun. Lynn is also a member of the United States Field Hockey Association team.

Bd. Approves Nine New Homes

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Angela A. Delligatti announced that the Town Board has granted an application for a change of zone to construct one-family homes in Hicksville.

Delligatti said, "at a public hearing held on June 4, the applicant, G.B.D. Construction Corp. requested a change of zone from 'F' (neighborhood business) to 'E' (residence district) to construct nine one-family homes in Hicksville. The parcel is located on the east side of Jerusalem Avenue, south of its intersection with Tobias Street."

Delligatti added that no building permits and/or certificates of occupancy will be issued until a site plan has been submitted to and approved by the Town Board.

Oyster Bay Town Receiver of Taxes Gary F. Musiello presents a citation to Annette D. Giullano following her installation as Bethpage Postmaster. Mrs. Giullano was officially installed at ceremonies held at the Bethpage Fire House. She brings to her new position a wealth of experience, having served as a window clerk, registry clerk, distribution clerk, dispatch clerk, supervisor of mails, superintendent of postal operations and officer in charge at Syosset; as personnel clerk and postal systems date technician at Hicksville; and as officer in charge at Holbrook. She also served on the Equal Employment Opportunity Committee at Hicksville and on the Employee Involvement Team at Syosset.

On Saturday, August 3, Girl Scouts from Fork Lane School Junior Troop 3001, with the help of Boy Scout Troop 3211, assisted at the New York State Games for the Physically Challenged.

The guests were greeted with warm and cheery smiles as they received their programs at the gate. Then the Scouts participated with the Athletes, officials and other volunteers in the opening ceremonies.

At the conclusion of the opening ceremonies, the Scouts excitedly filled many cups with ice cold water and distributed them to the thirsty competitors. Requests for information and directions were cheerfully answered. Our Boy Scouts aided in getting participants to their proper positions.

At noon, the Scouts distributed sensational box lunches to the hungry athletes.

Numerous officials noted the unselfish giving of time and energy. The love displayed by the Scouts received high praise from observers. This day showed that the Spirit of Scouting is alive and well and living in the State of New York.

Car Wash

Boy Scout Troop 3211 sponsored by the VFW William M. Gouse, Jr. Post 3211, will have a car wash, Saturday, August 10 at 320 So. Broadway, Hicksville from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

News From Hicksville Library

A representative from the U.S. Post Office will speak at the Hicksville Public Library about Stamp Collecting on Thursday, August 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Room of the Library. This program will be of interest to adults and children. Everyone is invited. There is no charge for admission. The Community Room is air conditioned for your comfort.

The Hicksville Public Library will show the film, "The Thirty Nine Steps", on Friday, August 9 at 8 p.m. in the Community Room of the Library. Alfred Hitchcock's classic espionage and chase thriller starring Robert Donat and Madeleine Carroll is in black and white and was filmed in 1935. There is no charge for admission and everyone is invited.

Neighborhood Watch Turns Lights On

The National Association of Town Watch has announced that 1985 "National Night Out" will take place on Tuesday, August 13 from 8 to 9 p.m. All residents are encouraged to participate by lighting up their neighborhoods and sitting out on their lawns, porches and steps.

Last year's "National Night Out", a unique coast-to-coast crime watch was supported by over 2 million participants in 400 communities. The symbolic demonstration is designed to highlight local crime prevention programs, generate interest and awareness in those programs, help residents overcome their after-dark fear of crime and send a strong message to the "criminal community letting them know that neighborhoods are watching all across the United States.

The Hicksville Neighborhood Crime Watch is sponsored by Hicksville Youth Council with funds awarded by the New York State Office of Crime Prevention. The support of all concerned citizens, crime watch groups and civic associations is desperately needed if we are to be successful in combatting crime. Our Crime Watch Reporter will be out in the streets and will report back next week as to whether "Hicks-villians" really do care enough to do their part.

Should you want more information on National Night Out or Hicksville Neighborhood Crime Watch, please call Ginny Gemter at the Youth Council, 822-7688.

Variety Of Ideas On Crime Prevention By Callers

A variety of answers were given to the question: "What do you think is the best method of crime prevention?" Here are some of the answers:

LAW ENFORCEMENT

The best method of crime prevention is good law enforcement and strong sentences by judges. Too often we hear about criminals with a string of offenses being let run at large. This is demoralizing for the police and it makes crime increase because it lets law breakers know that they can get away with most anything. M.E.

NO METHOD

There is no single method of crime prevention but we should be especially hard on criminals who prey violently or old, handicapped and unarmed people who are going about doing their business. The law should allow indeterminate sentences and let people who are convicted of violent crimes prove that they will not commit more crimes. Parole should be lifted instantly when there is some evidence that a person is going to his old ways. With parole there is no reason to have to go back with a trial. The violator can be sent right back to prison but seldom is. L.T.

SYSTEM WRONG

When you consider that someone might murder his wife, inherit a fortune and get off scott free there is something wrong with the law and court system. In the VanBulow case it was not proved to the jury that this happened but some evidence was not allowed. It is possible to get away with a large crime and benefit from it. This is not to say that VanBulow was guilty but it does say that someone else who would be guilty could get away with it. J.E.

TOUGHER COURTS

There would be a lot less criminals if the courts were tougher on beginning criminals. Instead they are treated to all types of special exceptions. One important thing that should be done is to institute a way that criminals, not the state, would have to repay those who are crime victims from the work of the criminal. Things are now too easy. K.R.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT

The best method of crime prevention is life imprisonment for serious crimes and no parole. I do not believe in capital punishment because no one has the willful right to take the life of another. A.G.

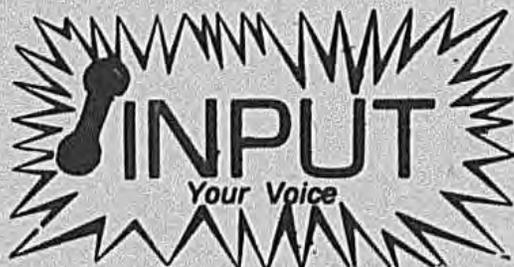

CRIME DISCOURAGEMENT

People who are paid to do so have thus far been unable to determine the best method of crime prevention. I guess that the proper description of the problem is not crime prevention but rather crime discouragement. To start with, I disagree with Governor Cuomo who, on principle, vetoes capital punishment. Certain crimes should be placed in the capital punishment category with maximum penalties - murder, rape, maiming, crippling, etc. - all with deliberate intent. Perpetrators should be tried and if found to be guilty, should be sentenced without further legal recourse. And, if the votes can't be raised to make this into law, then we should give serious consideration to a physical penalty in addition to incarceration as for example, back lashes or in the case of rape, castration. Secondly, there should be specified and uniform penalties for categories of crime of any kind with no opportunity for plea bargaining. Thirdly, sentences imposed should not be subject to any pre-term release for good behavior, political pull or quixotish logic. We often read about multiple offenders who have been released any number of times for reasons I have been unable to detect. Several of these have been in the news recently with terrible consequences to the victims of their deeds. Fourth, no convicted criminal should be held free of obligations to such victims and the law should provide a means of involving the criminal with such responsibility. Finally, study should be given to minimize the need for arresting officers to be at court in person for presentation of testimony - those people should be on the job outside the court to the greatest extent possible. And, perhaps above all, a commission should be set up to make a study of administration within our jails. I have heard enough to feel that certain prisons, rather than operating as correctional institutions, are actually breeding places for crime. P.G.S.

I wholeheartedly agree with the proposed Nassau County ordinance on smoking. The air we breathe should be smoke free and healthy. B.W.

DISCOVERY

Dear Dr. Spock

By Marjorie Wolfe

What a shame it is that the people who really know how to bring up children are never parents!

Dr. Spock, the "authority" on child care, has published a new edition of "Baby and Child Care".
Dear Dr. Spock:

I've just finished reading your latest edition of "Baby and Child Care" and I agree with you that parenting today is not easy. There certainly is an unprecedented strain on families--women going to work without feeling sure they are providing good substitute care (10 million American children are now in day care), the alarming divorce statistics, and the strains of the step relationships.

Yes, child care is like golf: you must have a plan.

I was delighted to see your coverage of such topics as step-parenting, child abuse, the eating disorders anorexia nervosa and bulimia, and children's fear of nuclear war. How about "Globus Hystericus"--worldwide concern over nuclear war?

What a relief to hear your suggestion that babies should not be fed egg yolks or orange juice for the first nine to twelve months. I've always felt that eggs are high in cholesterol and orange juice can cause rashes and an upset stomach.

Did I understand you correctly when you said that routine circumcision of infant boys is medically unnecessary? Oh, well. Too late!

As the mother of three "latch-key kids",--who come home from school to spend unsupervised hours in an empty house--I, too, am concerned. Yes, our home is equipped with Trivial Pursuit, a Barbie doll (with her business suit and attache case), a home computer, a VCR, and a months' supply of Astronaut Space Dinners from the gift shop at the American Museum-Hayden Planetarium.

Yes, our family problems very much resemble those of the Huxtables, the stars of the sitcom, "The Cosby Show". We, too, have a son whose room is a catastrophe in progress, a teenage daughter who dates a boy who wears one earring, and an "O-oriented" teenager, whose diet consists of PizzOs, Franco-American UFOs, Cheerios, and Oreos.

Yes, I'm concerned about a study published in the AMA Journal which reports that day-care children are 12 times more likely than others to contract a particularly nasty type of flu.

Do you mind a few suggestions? In your next edition be sure to include reference to the following not-so-serious illnesses:

- Charminphobia--fear of being squeezed
- Montessoria--the disorder wherein a child is smarter than either parent and grows more so each day
- Trichopathophobia--undue concern about hair
- Peek-a-belly Shirt Syndrome--no explanation needed
- Pizza Palata--when you burn the roof of your mouth on a hot slice of pizza
- Q-Fever--uncontrollable desire to stand in line
- Oz Syndrome--unwillingness to vacation someplace new, despite therapeutic benefits of a change of environment and activities
- Wimbledon's Disease--tendency to jump

And, Dr. Spock, tell new parents that kitchen organization is important. But...they need not store jars of baby food alphabetically, mark them with the date opened (to ensure freshness), nor reserve one section of the refrigerator for children's leftovers.

Lastly, remind your readers of Aronfy's Rule: "All earaches start Saturday night."

REVISITED

Recently my husband and I revisited one of our favorite dining spots, the John Peel Room at the Island Inn in Westbury. We decided to try the special anniversary dinner. It included a choice of appetizer, salad, entree, dessert and coffee. Each course was served with a selected wine.

Our dinners turned out to be unusual and delicious. We both started out with marinated chicken as our first course. Then as our entrees, he had the duck with raspberries and I picked the veal with tomatoes, asparagus tips and basil. For dessert, I chose mango sorbet and he enjoyed the almond chocolate mousse cake.

As we sipped our coffee together we agreed that John Peel's anniversary dinners are great and we heartily recommend them to your readers. M.J.T.

ONE OF THE BEST
LaMarmite is one of the best restaurants that we have ever been to, yet there is not much publicity about it. This old mansion, located on Hillside Avenue, Williston Park, is a great place for fine food and exceptionally good service.

We have gone there several times and always found such entrees as filet mignon, filet of sole and many types of fish were prepared in the most delicious style. Granted one reason LaMarmite has wonderful food is because they use the freshest but the cooks still deserve praise for the splendid job they do.

The prices are slightly higher than at regular restaurants but it is well worth it for us to have a truly enjoyable meal. We recommend LaMarmite.

FINE SETTING
The Maine Maid is the place to go for a restaurant in a fine traditional setting. The Maine Maid is an old Quaker House. In fact, the owner told us that it is a landmark. But the decor is restful and elegant and the service is good. The food consists of well prepared meats and fish. Some of them are prepared right at your table. Tell your readers to try it and they will be glad for the suggestion.

The Last Word In Restaurant Guides
Where Our Readers
Have The Last Word

This newspaper, and the seven other weekly newspapers associated with it, publishes the last word in restaurant guides - a paid listing of many prominent selected restaurants in this area. While many of them have been rated by the great, and near great, food connoisseurs, our readers will have the last word through "Reader Ratings".

Through a special 24 hour phone system, readers will be asked to call in their assessment of each restaurant they visit. Consensus ratings (good or bad) will be published as a continuing part of the guide.

In addition they can make suggestions, compliments or criticisms through the open phone line and messages will be sent through to the restaurant management.

(Guide to Good Dining)

You can apply to join "Reader Ratings"! If your establishment has been mislead, or you have not yet answered our invitation, we invite you to call Litman Publications at WE 1-0012 for more details as they might apply to your restaurant.

PORTUGUESE, SPANISH
 The ad led us to believe that the Estoril Granada in Mineola was an authentic Portuguese Restaurant. We went there and were delighted that it was and that it also has some very good Spanish specialties on the menu.

They have wonderful fish dishes at Estoril Granada which is well decorated in a soothing way to remind diners of the Portuguese heritage. The best things we had from the menu were the fish dishes with some very delicious sauces that are not found elsewhere.

The prices are not very high for first rate fare and we were completely satisfied with this restaurant. N.Y.

GREAT EXPERIENCE

We were pleasantly surprised with Gerlich's Restaurant in Glen Head last week. The restaurant is in a mansion setting with accompanying spacious garden grounds. We were especially thrilled with it at this time of year and on a nice day it is great.

The interior of Gerlich's is another fine experience. We were seated in the area they call the greenhouse and had a delicious meal. One dinner was of scrod and the other of roast beef. Both were delicious. In addition to the regular continental dishes we noticed some fine German ones that undoubtedly are of good quality.

As a special attraction a pianist sings and plays tunes in a wonderful rollicking, but not disturbing way. A night at Gerlich's is an experience your readers should not miss.

LIVE RESTAURANT

Let's hear it for Riddles. This is a place that is alive and jumping. It caters to all ages and is a great "social club". But don't be surprised at the good food there. We had heard about it from friends and went for the early bird Veal Francese special which included salad and potato all for $6.95.

Riddles is a great addition to the Old Country Road skyline.

We forgot to mention that they have live dancing and free hors d'oeuvres in the bar. H.E.

DINING GUIDE

READER RATINGS

Q. Recently I was a guest at a club luncheon in a restaurant. Accidentally, I overturned my tomato juice. What was the right thing to do? The waiter didn't see the accident immediately.

T.L. A. A waiter seeing such an accident would immediately change the cloth, or if that was impossible at a long table, would spread a clean napkin over the spilled food. As the waiter did not do this because he was busy elsewhere, at a large luncheon you could have spread a napkin over the spot yourself, without undue discussion of the incident. Everyone occasionally has things like this happen.

Q. What do you do with the wrapper on a lump of sugar when you are dining out in a restaurant? Do you put it on the tablecloth, in the saucer of your cup, or in the ash tray?

A.M. A. This is one of those things for which there is no real rule. You just use common sense. I would say put it on the tablecloth, for if you put it in the ash tray it may start a fire, and if you put it in your saucer, it may cause the cup to tip over when you put it back in the saucer.

Q. In some very large restaurants there are more people to be tipped and I do not know which ones should be tipped. How can I tell?

A.C. A. If you are just slightly observant when leaving an expensive restaurant you will notice the entire staff from the captain to the wine steward lining up to say good night to you. These are generally the ones who expect to be tipped and they do not generally share in the splitting of the regular tip. These people are usually given a single amount and it is not contingent on the regular 15-20 percent tip. However, most restaurants no longer have large staffs and you usually only pay the regular tip.

Q. Is it all right if you're trying out all the famous dishes in a certain restaurant, for everyone to order different things and then give everyone else a taste? A.M. A. Yes, provided the different portions given to others at the table are not meted out from an already used plate or with an already used fork or spoon.

Arrange in advance to have the waiter bring each person an extra little plate onto which each of you spoons with a clean utensil, a bit of this and a bit of that. Otherwise it looks sloppy - and somewhat unsanitary.

Q. When you're eating in a coffee shop or at a drugstore counter, what are you supposed to do with the paper containers you used for mustard, sugar and things like that?

C.B. A. It's nice to fold them neatly and deposit them in the ashtray, if it's not being used. Otherwise, one may deposit them on the saucer of the coffee cup or under the rim of a plate.

Frantic? Meal ideas offer help

By Antonia Allegra

Beat-the-clock cuisine is the answer to "What will I cook for dinner?" — that inner culinary turmoil known to most 9-to-5 workers in today's busy American lifestyle.

Forget the recipes. Shun the cookbooks. Put a pot of water on to boil the minute you get home (boiling a saucepan of water to be used as a base for soup or pasta or rice can be the slowest part of quick cookery).

With a quick scan of the foods on shelves of the refrigerator, freezer or cupboards, you can plan and cook in minutes — and not necessarily meals featuring hamburgers, hot dogs or macaroni and cheese. At the most, plan to serve just one thing that you're willing to spend time preparing and keep the rest of the dishes simple.

This form of "desperation cooking" has never been more important, now that the work force includes 54 percent of all women over 16 years old. Mom just isn't home anymore, or at least not as often, and that means a need for more family participation, planning ahead and/or thrown-together meals for weekday suppers at home.

Another consideration is the work/home upkeep schedule of singles or single-parent cooks, whose numbers cannot be ignored among the country's active menu planners.

CHUCK'S BAKED CHICKEN

- ¼ cup olive oil or vegetable oil
- ¼ cup lemon juice
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. oregano
- ½ tsp. pepper
- ¼ tsp. cinnamon
- 1 chicken (fryer) cut into serving-size pieces

Combine olive oil, lemon juice and spices in shallow baking pan. Roll cut up chicken in that combination. Bake in 425 F oven, basting occasionally. Bake until tender when pierced with fork (approximately 30 minutes) and juices run clear.

Remove from oven and baste again. Serve around bed of plain rice. Sprinkle rice with some cinnamon or pine nuts sautéed to golden brown. Chicken juices may be served in separate bowl to pour over rice.

Serves 4.

SALMON WITH SPINACH

- 2-3 lbs. whole salmon
- Sage, fresh or dried
- 6 stalks celery
- 2 bunches fresh spinach
- 1 bunch green onions

- 1 bunch parsley
- Salt and pepper to taste
- ¼ cup oil
- ¼ cup water
- ½ cup fresh lemon juice

Clean fish and rub a little sage inside cavity. Place in roaster. Clean all vegetables. Cut celery in half lengthwise and then in half-inch pieces. Cover fish with celery in half lengths and place on top of spinach. Follow with diced onions and coarsely chopped parsley. Season to taste. Add oil and water. Bake in 425 F oven 30 minutes. Remove pan from oven, stir vegetables gently, add lemon juice and bake for additional 10 minutes. Serve fish on platter surrounded by vegetables. Broth may be served separately.

Serves 4 to 6.

San Diego Padre first baseman Steve Garvey is a hard-hitting businessman and community activist as well as outstanding sportsman.

Particularly during the three months of the off-season, he is greeted with a typed morning-to-evening schedule listing his daily activities, which usually includes the times and locations of various meetings or filmings; transportation arrangements; whom he will meet at each location; what his attire should be in each place; the approximate length of each meeting or appearance; contact persons, and a general briefing on each situation.

And when he squeezes in time for cooking on the run, to which foods will Garvey turn?

"I always keep canned vegetables and rice on the shelf. They go along with quick and easy barbecued food that I cook on the beach or at home," he said in an interview between games.

"And I'm never without chicken in the house. Cook it with some teriyaki sauce and serve it with peas and corn, iced tea and a little apple pie and, boom! You've got a meal."

During the next year, the Padre player plans to film a home video on simple cooking tips for men. "It'll be fun and light, a version of the way I'd cook if I had time — something to make the kitchen user-friendly."

These speedy recipes, one of which is his mother's, are the kind Garvey turns to when his cooking schedule is as limited as the time it takes to think about a quick line drive to first.

MILDRED GARVEY'S HAWAIIAN CHICKEN

- 4-6 chicken breasts
- 1 pt. barbecue sauce
- 1 (1-lb.) can crushed pineapple

Cook chicken breasts in 400 F oven 45 minutes. Mix barbecue sauce and pineapple and juice. Pour mixture over chicken and let cook 15 minutes more.

Serves 4.

STEVE GARVEY'S FONDUE

- 1 lb. Swiss cheese, diced
- 3 tbsps. all-purpose flour
- 1 clove garlic, halved

- 2 cups dry white wine
- ½ tsp. salt
- ¼ tsp. white pepper
- ¼ tsp. nutmeg
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- ½ cup kirsch or cognac
- Crusty white bread, in chunks

In mixing bowl, add cheese to flour and mix thoroughly. Rub inside of fondue pot with garlic. Pour wine into pot and heat; do not boil. Add cheese, one handful at a time, and stir until cheese is melted. Add salt, pepper, nutmeg and mustard. Bring to table, place over low heat, add kirsch and stir in. Keep fondue simmering while eating by scooping fondue up with bread chunks.

Serves 3 to 4.

Olivia and Paul Bensen

Lemons cool you in dog days of summer

By Olivia and Paul Bensen

During the hot summer months, no ingredient in foods and drinks is more refreshing and cooling than lemons. Their tart, fresh flavor livens the palate and adds a zesty note to an endless variety of recipes. It is no coincidence that grated lemon peels are called "zest."

In almost all countries where hot weather lasts for most of the year, lemons play an important part in the national cuisine. They are very high in vitamin C, calcium and potassium, and low in calories. For those on a low-sodium diet, lemons are a delicious way to liven up salt-free dishes.

Two of today's recipes are from Morocco. Agua Limon is a tart lemonade that is one of the most popular beverages there. Poulet aux Citrons (Chicken with Pickled Lemons) is our version of a recipe from the owner of Dar Magreb, an exquisite Moroccan restaurant in Los Angeles. To make Poulet aux Citrons you'll need to pickle lemons in salt water for about three weeks — but this recipe is so delicious and interesting that we decided to include it today.

For Fish Fillets with Lemon-Caper Sauce, we generally use grouper or scamp (a member of the grouper family), but any flaky, firm-fleshed white meat fish fillets will do.

Here are a few hints that will help any chef take advantage of lemons' versatility:

- Add a bit of lemon juice to rice or potatoes to enhance flavor.
- Add a tablespoon or so of fresh lemon juice to hot and cold soups — everything from chicken soup to vichyssoise.

- In recipes that call for grated lemon rind, or zest, use only the colored part of the rind, since the white portion underneath is bitter.

- For a great steak marinade, combine lemon juice, dry white wine, prepared mustard and soy sauce. Baste the steak while it cooks over charcoal.

- Lemon juice, butter and a dash of Tabasco make a great sauce for vegetables and fish.

- A tablespoon of lemon juice added to water in which vegetables are cooked will preserve the vegetables' color and enhance their flavor.

- Soaking lemons in hot water for a couple of minutes before squeezing them will make them release more of their juice.

We hope today's recipes will add some zest to your warm-weather cooking and help you stay cool during the dog days of summer.

POULET AUX CITRONS

(Chicken with pickled lemons)

- 1 3-lb. whole chicken with giblets
- ¼ cup peanut oil
- 1 tsp. olive oil
- 1 oz. butter or margarine
- 1 medium clove garlic, minced
- ¼ tsp. saffron
- 1 tsp. fresh ginger root, minced
- ¼ cup finely chopped onion
- 1½ tbsps. fresh parsley, finely chopped
- 1½ tbsps. fresh coriander, minced (or 1½ tbsps. dried, if the fresh herb is unavailable)
- 3 ozs. black olives (tree-ripened, if available)
- Skin of 2 pickled lemons (recipe follows)

Salt to taste
Parsley sprigs for garnish

In Dutch oven, place whole chicken, breast down, along with giblets. Add oils, butter, garlic, saffron, ginger, onion, parsley and coriander and enough water to reach one-third the depth of the chicken.

Bring to a boil, turn chicken breast side up and stir to mix spices. Place in preheated 450 F oven for 1 hour, or until meat separates easily from bones, basting every 15 minutes, so chicken is moist with sauce while cooking.

Add olives and pickled lemon rind and allow to cook with chicken a few minutes more. Taste sauce and add salt to taste.

Place whole chicken on platter and arrange lemon peel, giblets and olives on and around chicken. Stir sauce well and pour over chicken.

Garnish with parsley sprigs and serve with rice pilaf or other seasoned rice.

Serves 4.

PICKLED LEMONS

2 lbs. ripe lemons
1 cup rock salt
Water

Cut tip end off lemons and cut them in quarters, almost all the way through, but leaving fruit in one piece. Place lemons in 1-gallon plastic container with cover. Add rock salt and enough water to cover by 2 to 3 inches. Place plate or other flat object over lemons and weight down with stone or other heavy object. It is critical that no trapped air be allowed to come into contact with lemons.

Cover container fairly tightly and allow lemons to pickle at room temperature for about 3 weeks, checking occasionally and adding water as necessary to keep lemons submerged at all times.

Formation of mold on top of water is normal. Lemons are ready for use when flesh becomes soft and skin detaches easily.

For use in recipe for Poulet aux Citrons, remove skin and discard flesh.

AGUA LIMON

(Tart Moroccan lemonade)
2 tbsps. grated lemon rind

Water
½ tsp. sugar
¼ cup fresh lemon juice

In stainless steel saucepan, place 2 cups water and grated lemon rind. Bring to boil, reduce heat and simmer 10 minutes. Remove from heat and allow to cool.

In large glass container with tightly fitting lid, combine 2 cups water with ½ teaspoon sugar. Stir until sugar is completely dissolved and add water/lemon rind mixture and lemon juice.

Chill, covered, for at least 1 hour. Taste, adding a bit more sugar if desired (lemonade should be quite tart). Strain mixture and serve over ice.

Makes 1 quart.

FISH FILETS WITH LEMON-CAPER SAUCE

5 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 lb. firm, white fish filets
Flour for dredging
Salt and pepper to taste
2 tbsps. fresh lemon juice
¼ cup dry white wine or dry sherry
2 scallions, finely chopped
2 tbsps. capers, drained
½ tsp. anchovy paste
1 tsp. Dijon mustard
1 tsp. dill weed
1 heaping tbsp. sour cream
Chopped fresh parsley (about 1 tbsp.) for garnish
Parsley sprigs (for garnish)

In non-stick skillet, heat 4 tablespoons butter over medium-high heat. Dredge filets in flour and saute 3 to 4 minutes per side, until crisp and lightly browned. Add salt and pepper while sauteing. When done, set aside and keep warm. Add remaining 1 tablespoon butter, lemon juice and wine to skillet. Add scallions and saute briefly. Add all remaining ingredients except sour cream and parsley, and simmer, stirring, for minute or two. At the last minute, stir in sour cream and pour over filets. Garnish with parsley and serve.

VEGETARIAN VIEW

Fill pita pockets with goodies

By Diane Savage

In the last few decades, Americans have discovered a whole new world of food. It used to be that if you felt the daring urge to try something "foreign," you had your favorite pizza place, and maybe an ersatz Chinese take-out to choose from.

Well, the world's getting smaller and we, as a nation, have grown more sophisticated and more adventurous in our sampling of international cuisines.

One previously unknown food — which now has become so Americanized that it is even found in fast-food chains — is pita bread. You also may hear it called pocket, Armenian, Syrian or Arab bread.

This is a daily staple for millions throughout the Middle East, and certain countries in the Mediterranean and North Africa (in Algeria, it's known as kesra).

When the flat, round discs of dough are baked, they form an inner "pocket" that can be filled with just about anything you like. A traditional filling, and a favorite with vegetarians, is tasty falafel. This is a spicy chick-pea mixture that is formed into small balls and lightly fried. The falafel patties are then tucked into a pita pocket and the whole is eaten as a sandwich — if you haven't yet tried it, you're in for a treat.

Or, for an easy vegetarian lunch, simply stuff a pita pocket with salad greens that have been tossed with a light dressing and a bit of shredded cheese.

Pita bread is great to have on hand for entertaining. Warmed and cut into wedges, it's a perfect dipper — and hummus, another delicious chick-pea blend, is a favorite Middle Eastern dip. Or split pita into single, flat rounds and sprinkle with shredded cheese. Place under the broiler for a few minutes to melt the cheese.

Pita itself is one of the easiest breads to prepare. The baking time is so short that you and your kitchen won't become overheated. And besides, it's fun to watch through the oven door as the bread puffs in the center.

Store pita in closed plastic bags to prevent drying out and hardening. The bread freezes well. (Recipe for Pita Bread from "Rodale's Basic Natural Foods Cookbook," Rodale Press, 1984.)

PITA BREAD

1 tbsps. dry yeast
1½ cups warm water
1 tbsps. corn oil
3 to 3½ cups whole wheat flour

In large bowl dissolve yeast in warm water. Add oil and 2 cups flour. Beat until dough is smooth. Add remaining flour as you knead dough in bowl. Place dough on floured surface and knead in some additional flour until dough is firm. Rub bowl with oil, return dough to bowl, and turn to oil dough on all sides. Cover and let dough rise in warm place until doubled in bulk.

Punch down dough and divide into 12 equal pieces. Form dough into balls. Cover with wax paper or towel to prevent from drying out, and let them rest for at least 10 minutes.

Lightly oil large baking sheet. Roll out balls until they are ¼- to ½-inch thick and 4 to 4½ inches in diameter. (If rolled to larger diameter, rounds may not puff all the way to edges.) Place rounds on baking sheet.

Preheat oven to 500 F. For rounds to bake properly, heat source must be directly beneath them. If you have electric oven, this might mean removing top heating element. These usually are removable for cleaning. Bake rounds on lowest rack. In gas oven raise racks and place baking sheets directly on oven floor.

Place baking sheet on lowest rack or floor of oven and bake for 5 minutes. Do not open oven during first baking. After 5 minutes, open oven, place baking sheet on higher rack, and bake rounds for 3 to 5 more minutes or until pockets have puffed up and begin to brown.

Remove from oven and place pockets on wire racks to cool. Makes 1 dozen pita bread pockets.

Note: Reheat pita pockets by sprinkling lightly with water, wrapping them in foil, and placing in 400 F oven for couple of minutes.

FALAFEL

1 cup dry chick-peas (garbanzo beans)
7 cups hot water
1 medium onion, cut into chunks
1 clove garlic
1 cup water
1 tsp. ground cumin
1 tsp. ground coriander
¼ tsp. dill weed
¼ tsp. salt
Dash pepper
2 tbsps. sesame seed
¼ cup chopped fresh parsley
6 loaves whole wheat pita bread, sliced in half cross-wise
Garnish:
Chopped lettuce
Chopped tomatoes
Sliced cucumbers
Plain yogurt

Place chick-peas in large pot with 7 cups hot water. Heat to boiling, let boil 2 minutes, then remove from heat and let stand 1 hour.

Drain peas, reserving about 2 tablespoons liquid. Combine with remaining ingredients (except sesame seed, parsley, pita bread and garnish), adding reserved liquid as necessary to blend.

Blend only until mixture is granular, scraping sides of container often. Stir in sesame seed and parsley.

Drop by tablespoonfuls onto lightly oiled skillet and brown over low heat until heated through.

Tuck falafel balls into pockets of halved pita bread and garnish. Serve immediately.

Heart Healthy Recipe

BAKED APPLES

4 baking apples
¼ cup honey
¼ cup water
1 teaspoon grated lemon or orange rind

Wash and core apples, and place in baking dish. Combine the honey with the water and grated rind. Pour over the apples and bake at 375°F covered, for 30 minutes, basting two or three times.

Uncover, baste again and bake 15 minutes longer, or until tender.

Yield: 4 servings Approx. cal/serv.: 135

Microwave Magic

By Desiree Viva

Make it with mustard

Where would the hot dog be without mustard? This American favorite certainly wouldn't enjoy its present popularity were it not for this spicy sauce.

Chinese cuisine has made use of mustard for thousands of years and the traveling Roman legions carried its seeds wherever they went, to ensure that they would always have a fresh supply. Indigenous to Europe and Southwestern Asia, this annual herb bears small aromatic seeds. Two varieties, the yellow seed and the brown seed, are used for seasoning.

The fiery mustard served on tiny dishes in Oriental restaurants is simply crushed brown seeds mixed with water and stirred to form a paste. Dijon mustard, the famous French blend from the province of Burgundy, is a more complex mixture. Adding white wine, vinegar and various spices to ground mustard seed, the French have transformed plain mustard into a gourmet masterpiece.

You can prepare your own mustard at home by mixing dry powdered mustard with a small amount of cold water to form a smooth paste. One tablespoon of powdered mustard, the same amount of water and a dash of salt will make a relatively strong concoction. For a milder blend, add a bit of flour and a little more water.

Pliny the Elder advised his 1st-century Roman peers to use mustard as a cure for "hysteria." More recently, an American turn-of-the-century book of ladies' household hints recommends mustard poultices for everything from sore throats and rheumatic pains in the joints to cholera.

Modern ladies are chiefly concerned with mustard's culinary rather than medicinal uses. Add a bit of mayonnaise for use as a vegetable dip or as a sauce for fish. And don't forget that mustard in your microwave can add a tangy touch to casseroles, meats and many other dishes.

CHEESY MUSTARD CAULIFLOWER

- 1 medium head cauliflower
- 3 tbsps. water
- ½ cup mayonnaise
- 1½ tbsps. prepared mustard
- ½ tsp. onion salt
- Dash pepper
- ½ cup shredded cheddar cheese

Wash and trim cauliflower. Place head in 1½-quart glass casserole. Sprinkle with water, cover and microwave 8 to 9 minutes. Cauliflower should be tender-crisp. In small bowl, combine mayonnaise, prepared mustard, onion salt and pepper. Mix well and spread sauce over top of cauliflower. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Microwave, uncovered, 2 minutes, until cheese melts. Let stand 2 minutes before serving. Serves 6 to 8.

HAM & SWEET-POTATO CASSEROLE

- 1 (1 lb.) can sweet potatoes, sliced
- 1 (8 oz.) can crushed pineapple
- 1 lb. cooked ham, cut in chunks
- ¼ cup brown sugar
- ½ tsp. dry mustard
- 3 tbsps. butter or margarine

Layer half of sweet potatoes in bottom of 1-quart casserole. Spread sweet potatoes with half of crushed pineapple, then half of chunked ham. Repeat this procedure with remaining sweet potatoes, pineapple and ham.

In small bowl, mix together brown sugar and dry mustard; sprinkle over top of casserole. Dot with butter or margarine. Microwave, covered, 5 minutes, rotating ¼-turn halfway through cooking time. Let rest 5 minutes before serving. Serves 6.

TANGY CARROT MEAT LOAF

- 2½ lbs. lean ground beef
- 3 eggs
- 2 large carrots, finely shredded
- 1 small onion, minced
- 2 tbsps. prepared horseradish
- ¼ tsp. each salt and pepper
- 2 slices white bread, broken into small pieces
- ¼ cup milk
- ¼ cup catsup
- 2 tbsps. firmly packed brown sugar
- 3 tbsps. Dijon mustard

In large mixing bowl combine ground beef, eggs, shredded carrots, minced onion, horseradish and salt and pepper. Blend well. In smaller bowl, stir together bread crumbs and milk. Let stand until milk is absorbed. Add bread and milk mixture to ground beef mixture, blending thoroughly. Pat evenly into 9-by-5-inch glass loaf pan. Mix together catsup, brown sugar and Dijon mustard; spread evenly over top of meat loaf. Microwave, uncovered, about 25 minutes, rotating dish ¼-turn every 5 minutes. Let stand, covered, 5 minutes before serving. Makes 10 to 10 servings.

Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens. Foods are cooked on HIGH (100 percent power) and uncovered unless otherwise specified.

Several ways to roughen slick concrete around pool

Q. Our swimming pool is surrounded by a concrete patio. This area becomes slippery when wet. Is there any way we can roughen the surface to prevent this? We would like to do this ourselves without completely resurfacing the area.

A. You can roughen the concrete surface with muriatic acid. First try a 15 percent mixture of muriatic acid mixed with water. Pour the acid into the water when preparing this solution. Use caution, because muriatic acid is dangerous. Be sure to wear old clothing, rubber gloves and goggles to protect your eyes. Apply the solution with an old mop. When the solution quits effervescing, it has stopped etching. Rinse with ample clear water.

If the first solution fails to roughen the surface sufficiently, apply again with an increased acid content in the second solution. There also are non-slip paints available, or you can apply a floor sealer and before it is dry, sprinkle with fine sand. Non-skid surfaces on boat decks are achieved with a combination of both paint and sand, with a second or third coat of paint over the sand finish.

Any of these methods will work. However, you may find the sand finish too rough for bare feet in the pool area.

Q. We have three fruitwood end tables with genuine leather tops and gold embossing around the edges. Since we moved to Florida, I find the lamps on these tables have left circles on the top surfaces. Nothing I've tried helps.

Can you suggest something? These are expensive tables and being senior citizens, we cannot afford to buy other tables.

A. In caring for leather-top tables, the first rule is don't wax the surface. Leather needs oiling to retain its natural beauty.

First clean the entire surface with a clean cloth dampened with mineral spirits and wipe dry. Then repeat this process until any previous wax build-up is removed. Then apply lemon oil. Reapply and all indentation marks should slowly disappear.

Later, a little lemon oil every two or three weeks is all the care the leather-top tables should need.

The Upholstery Leather Group recommends the following treatment for removing dents in leather: If you have an old-fashioned chamols-covered nail buffer, this is the best tool to use; if not, use soft chamols skin, wrapped around the flat bowl of a spoon. Rub either of these gently, with a circular motion, over the dents until the depressions disappear.

Q. Our house has colored fiberglass awnings which do not add to the decor of the home. Can these awnings be painted?

A. Fiberglass awnings can be painted with special paints made by manufacturers of fiberglass-reinforced plastic products. This probably can be obtained from the dealer who sold the awnings, or a large paint dealer.

Great care should be exercised in choosing the new color. As the awning color goes clear through, both upper and lower surfaces should be painted.

If the present awnings are opaque, you will have no problem as to color choice. However, if the awnings are translucent — that is, if light goes through them — complementary colors should be used, keeping in mind that the original color of the awning may "bleed" through. In other words, if your awnings are now yellow and are painted blue, the result seen through the light will be a shade of green.

As to the Pen Pal list, it's on the way, but I have no way of knowing who is interested in dancing or who might live near you.

You sent your stamped, addressed envelope so the list has gone right out. Incidentally, the demand for leaflets from readers is getting so heavy that we are now asking those sending envelopes also to enclose a donation to help pay the handling costs.

Arthritis seems to be the thing we hear about most. We can't print all such letters but the following one has a different angle:

Dear John: Please send me your leaflet on arthritis. I try all the remedies that I read about.

I have been using alfalfa tea and it has helped me very much.

I would like to have the address of the senior dance club that Wondering Joe mentioned as my hobby is dancing.

It sure chases the blues away. — G.M.

Dear G.M.: Agnes would agree. We can't supply such an address.

Teens: Ask teen girls whom they consider to be today's "most sizzling stars," and the response overwhelmingly favors the hottest male movie stars and rock musicians, according to the results of a poll just published in Seventeen magazine.

In a recent survey of 2,000 teen readers, only two women, rock singers Madonna and Cyndi Lauper, placed within the top 10 on the list of favorite superstars. The teens, asked to name their top 10 celebs, voted Madonna into fourth place with 27 percent of the teens mentioning her, while Lauper landed ninth place with 20 percent.

Leading the list of teen girls' favorites are two of Hollywood's current heartthrobs. Rob Lowe, star of "St. Elmo's Fire," came in first, with 43 percent of the readers making him one of their choices. Tom Cruise, best known for his role in "Risky Business," was mentioned by 32 percent of the teen girls and placed second.

Third place on the list of superstars went to Prince, the reigning king of rock, who was named by 28 percent of the readers. Simon Le Bon and John Taylor, both of the rock group Duran Duran, placed fifth and sixth respectively; 26 percent of the girls placed Le Bon on their list, and 25 percent mentioned Taylor.

Matt Dillon, star of the recent sleeper hit, "The Flamingo Kid," landed seventh place, with 24 percent of the readers making him one of their choices. Tied for eighth place on the list were Australian actor Mel Gibson, and George Michael of the rock group Wham!; each was mentioned by 22 percent of the girls who responded. Rounding out the top 10 was rock star Bruce Springsteen, who was picked by 19 percent of the teen girls polled.

By the way, whatever happened to rock idol Michael Jackson? There were those who thought his popularity would never fade. Ah, the fleeting moments of fame!

Dr. Wallace: Mike and I have been going steady for 16 months and we are both 19. He is a wonderful guy except for one small problem. Mike is very possessive and very jealous.

He doesn't like me spending any time without him and he gets upset if I spend any time with my girlfriends. He is afraid I might flirt with a guy or, worse yet, talk about sex.

This isn't the type of person I am. I would never cheat on him. He thinks the biggest sin that I could commit would be to stare at a guy. He even gets mad if I talk to a guy.

TWEEN 12 & 20

PAGE 114 Friday, August 9, 1985

Three weeks ago Mike was out of town to attend the funeral of his grandmother and I went to a party with my girlfriend. She casually introduced me to a couple of guys. Somehow, she gave them my telephone number and both of them called me for a date. Naturally, I refused.

Anyway, I always tell Mike everything, so I told him about these two guys. He asked me if they were good-looking and when I told him yes, he started crying and said he loves me more than life and that I hurt him very much.

I'm really confused. What should I do with Mike? — Tammy, Alton, Ill.

Tammy: Mike's problem is not small; it's major. His jealousy overpowers his life and is destroying your relationship with him.

Things cannot continue this way. Mike must receive professional help and you must leave him until he does.

Dr. Wallace: I just finished my first year in high school and my grades were pretty good. I received two A's, one B and two C's.

Last week I got a letter from a company called Who's Who Among American And Canadian High School Students saying that I have been nominated for acceptance because of my academic achievements. They also included a form for me to fill out.

I thought only very intelligent students would be in a Who's Who. I don't understand why I'm selected. I also don't know where this company got my name and address.

I feel flattered, but also I'm leery. What should I do? They said the book would cost $19.95 if I want one. — Rhonda.

Rhonda: Don't send this company any information or money until you talk with your school counselor or administrator.

It's not an honor to be accepted in some Who's

Who; it's a way for the Who's Who to make a fast dollar.

Controversial Medicare refund

Dear John: I need your help desperately. There is an ongoing argument in my house that can't seem to be resolved.

My mother (80 years old) is on Medicare. As a result each time she visits her doctor a report is sent in to Blue Cross-Blue Shield and in due course she receives a check for part of the fee she paid him.

However, it is never the 80 percent of the money paid at the time of her visit. I have tried to tell her and so have many of my friends, that the money she gets back is 80 percent of whatever charges they use at the Blue Cross office, or whatever rates were established by Medicare.

She rejects all our advice. Is there someone I can write to get a run-down on the rates so that I don't have a steady diet of this complaint three times a day, seven days a week. It is especially bad if a visitor should say that they get back more.

Any help in the matter would be greatly appreciated. — Pearl F.

Dear Pearl: It would seem that the amount your mother receives for her doctor visits is adequate evidence of what is paid by Medicare. But if you want more information it should be possible to write to Medicare, care of the agency handling your mother's claims (Blue Cross-Blue Shield) and ask for a printed list of the allowed charges under the various procedures.

Dear John: A couple of weeks ago I read in your article in the Parkchester News about a group of people who meet once a week for dancing.

I am 60 years of age and have been a widow for 10 years and life is very lonely. I love dancing and would appreciate knowing any place or person I could contact for a social club where people go to dance.

Maybe you could send me a list of Pen Pals who are interested in dancing. I would appreciate any reply from you. — Agnes D.

Dear Agnes: Your problem is a common one. I suspect that you stay home by yourself most of the time.

To learn about dances or any other social activity you will have to get out and mix with people. Make friends of both sexes. Get active in some group or church

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Last weekend I went sailing with my friends in upstate New York. The weather was perfect and we had great fun drifting along with the wind on a beautiful lake. I have never felt so relaxed in my life.

We were quite a distance from shore and the water was deep, so naturally, we wore life preservers. We could all swim a little, but we weren't going to take unnecessary chances!

After we had finished our sail we went on shore and enjoyed a delicious picnic lunch. Never did food taste so delicious!

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners were Ann Simmons and John Hanrahan. Congratulations to both of you!

Dog's ear infection

Q. We recently had house guests who brought along their dog. We allowed the dog to stay in the guest room with them.

Our friends' dog and ours got along well and romped and played together during the entire visit. Now our dog has a very foul-smelling discharge coming out of her left ear.

Is it possible that our friends' dog gave our dog an ear infection?

A. Without knowing the exact cause of the problem, it is impossible to state whether your friends' dog gave your dog an ear infection. In fact, from your brief description, it is impossible to know what is wrong with your dog's ear.

You should take your dog to your veterinarian for diagnosis and treatment; most ear infections in dogs require professional care.

A small amount of light brown waxy material in dog's ears is normal. The wax is produced by glands in the outer part of the ear canal and protects the canal and ear drum.

Dogs with ear infections usually shake their heads frequently and scratch at their ears. If the dog's nails are long, lacerations of the ears may occur. With severe infections, the scratching and head shaking may seem uncontrollable and the dog will be quite miserable. The visible areas of the ears may be reddened and pus and large amounts of dark reddish-brown to black wax may be present. There are many causes of ear infections and of the symptoms described. Thorns or ticks on the outer ear flap or at the opening of the ear canal can cause excessive scratching. Ear infections can result from bacterial organisms growing within the canal.

Ear mites, a common cause of ear infections in dogs and cats, live in the ear canal and feed on skin debris. The eight-legged ear mites, appearing as moving white specks approximately the size of the point of a dressmaker's pin, usually can be seen crawling among the dark, foul-smelling debris. Depending on your eyesight, you may or may not be able to see them without magnification.

Veterinarians usually use a magnified otoscope to examine the ears directly or examine some of the dark debris with a microscope to detect mites. If mites are present, your veterinarian probably will dispense an insecticide or oily preparation for you to place in the ears.

Ear mites are contagious among pets. Therefore, if mites are diagnosed in one pet, all of the household pets should be examined, and animals with ear mites should be isolated.

If your dog does have mites, you should inform your friends so that they can have their dog examined and treated if necessary.
