News From OCR School

This year the Hicksville Schools will be having their annual Founders Day Dinner at the Imperial Manor on Broadway in Hicksville. The cocktail hour will begin at 7 p.m.

This dinner is given for recognition of service of those people who have devoted their time, effort and talents for the benefit of parents, children, teachers and the community.

Each unit of the P.T.A. selects their honored recipients. This year the Old Country Road School P.T.A. Unit will award this honor to Ginny Glass, who is currently President of the P.T.A. and Miss Bernice Soeger who is a third grade teacher.

Tickets are $23.50 a person and may be obtained at the Old Country Road School through Peggy Theis, representative of the Old Country School P.T.A. Ticket deadline is February 7. Bowling Party

There will be a special Bowling party held at the Woodbury Lanes in Syosset, on February 8, from 8 to midnight.

This bowling event, which includes two games of bowling and a buffet dinner, is part of the Communities Relief effort to aid the victims of the Colombian earthquake and mud slide devastation.

Tickets are $12.50 a person, and may be obtained by dropping a check payable to D. McCann in the box marked "Bowling Tickets" in the O.C.R.' MAIN office.

In December Phoenix House sent representatives of their organization to the Old Country Road School to present a program about drugs, their use and abuse. This program was sponsored by the P.T.A. to the sixth grade students to help them understand the drug problem we are all facing.

Kathy Campione is the writer of the following article and is a sixth grade student at O.C.R. school.

Phoenix House

By Kathy Campione

Phoenix House helps people in need. The people at Phoenix House want and do help people with drug problems. They help people who want to stop.

Phoenix House has some very special people who will help you understand what you are doing to your body. Some of the people are ex-addicts and some are psychologists. For people with drug problems the house has dorms they can live in.

A lady named Sondra visited the sixth grade and talked about motivation, information and values. By motivation she meant why you take drugs. It is called peer pressure. By information she meant how you could tell when a person is taking drugs by the way they are acting or walking. By values Sondra meant what is important to you like family, friends and your life.

Phoenix House has a hot-line, if you would like to know more about drugs. You can ask for Sondra or someone in the education department. The number is (212) 595-5810.

This edition is complete in three sections, 52 pages. The first section consists of local news and photos of the area. The second section is a special computer edition with the latest news on computers for home and industry. The regular Discovery magazine section which is the third section, has been expanded to 24 pages and includes many new features and an enlarged display classified advertising section.

Storytellers Wanted By Library

All children in grades 3-6 who live in or attend school in Hicksville, are invited to participate in the Third Biannual Storytelling Contest to be held in the early spring. Everyone who enters the contest will receive a certificate of participation, suitable for framing. Winners receive trophies and there will be special awards for runners-up.

In preparation for this contest, Storytelling Workshops will be held at the Hicksville Library in February. All are invited to attend and learn about storytelling, the many kinds of folk and fairytales, how to choose a story you really like and how to learn it well enough to tell.

Further details available in the Children's Room at the Hicksville Public Library.

Serious Accident In Hicksville

The Second Squad reports the details of a serious auto accident that occurred at the intersection of Woodbury Road and Miller Road, Hicksville at 7:05 a.m. on January 9.

Eric Cornwell, 14, of 4 Miller Circle, Hicksville was crossing Woodbury Road, north-south, when he was struck by an eastbound 1974 Chevrolet suburban, operated by Glenn Kani, 34, of 31 California Street, Hicksville.

Eric was taken to Syosset Hospital where he was admitted with a fractured right arm and internal injuries. His condition is listed as serious but stable. The auto was tested at the scene and found safe. No charges have been filed.

Town OKs Plainview Motel Expansion

Dyster Bay Town Councilman John Venditto announced that the Town Board has granted a special use permit to construct twenty (20) additional rooms at an existing motel in Plainview.

Venditto said, "the applicants, Lester Rosenfeld of Lester Operating Corp., doing business as the Pickwick Motor Inn, requested permission to construct twenty (20) additional rooms at the westerly end of the motel, which is located in an 'H' industrial district on the south side of the South Service Road of the Long Island Expressway and the southwest corner of Round Swamp Road, known as 333 South Service Road.

"In approving the special use permit the town board imposed fifteen (15) restrictive covenants," Venditto said, "including a requirement that any heating or air conditioning equipment located on the roof of the proposed building be screened so as not to be visible to the public and the exterior lighting shall be directed onto the subject premises as not to penetrate abutting properties or cause interference with pedestrian or vehicular traffic."

Venditto noted that parking will be permitted in only designated spaces and all driveways must remain open at all times. No rotating or neon signs can be erected on the premises, outdoor food service is prohibited and the property must be continually maintained and kept in a safe, clean condition.

"No building permits or certificates of occupancy will be issued to the owners," Venditto concluded, "until a site plan has been submitted and approved by the Town Board."

Hicksville F.D. Issues Warning

It has come to our attention that residents and businesses in Hicksville are being solicited for a donation to a firematic organization. We wish to inform everyone that this solicitation has no connection with the Hicksville Fire Department.

The solicitor gives the name of different organizations, none of whom have any connection with the Hicksville Fire Department. None of any monies received by this solicitor is given to the Hicksville Fire Department. Our Fund Drive for 1985 has come to a conclusion, and we thank those who have contributed.

The Hicksville Fire Department conducts its own Fund Drive with an initial mailing during the month of April each year. This is followed up by a second notice, if necessary, and finally, you may be contacted by a uniformed member of this department. Each member has an identification card with photo, and you should request such verification if in doubt.

The Hicksville Fire Department does not now, and never has solicited by telephone. We do not condone these tactics, and we do not use the services of a professional solicitor. Except for printing and mailing services, all these duties are performed by members of this Department.

The members of this Department respond to all calls for help, and we do not keep a record of donation to determine whether or not we will respond. This is another tactic that has been used over the telephone and we are categorically opposed to such a blatant lie.

In the event that you have any doubt about any purported firematic solicitor, please call our business phone, 931-9670, or you may write to us at 20 Gebhardt Plaza, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801.

American Legion Auxiliary News

By Geraldine Seltz

The American Legion Auxiliary of the Charles Wagner Post, Unit #421 Hicksville will hold their next meeting on Friday evening, February 7 at 8:30 p.m.

On Thursday, February 13 we will be attending a dinner honoring our Department President to be held at Antun's in Hicksville.

On Saturday February 15 we will hold our annual Valentine Dance. Time is 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Music will be played by Jimmy Downs. Refreshments will be hot dishes prepared by refreshment chairman Marie Gamble, also cake and coffee. Cost is $10.00 a person. Please try to come out and help us make this affair a success.

Letters

To the Editor:

I just finished reading your article about the New Image Drum Corps losing their home. The only thing I am feeling at this point is despair. Despair that such a worthy organization is facing extinction unless housing can be found. In my six years with the St. Ignatius Girls, I have never heard of a corps being able to survive without sufficient area to conduct business, store instruments, and other various essentials. Something must be done to save that organization.

So many, many of my adolescent memories are centered around the corps. Practicing for seven hours on a Saturday in July in '95, with 80% humidity, wishing to be at the beach. Then, three weeks later, standing on the field in Mile High Stadium in Denver, receiving applause from 30,000 people. There is no other feeling in the world like it.

I've been to Mt. Rushmore in South Dakota, the Expo in Montreal, Langbein Field (also known as Packer Stadium) in Greenbay, Wisconsin, Casper, Wyoming, Denver, Canton and Marion Ohio, Lynn and Salem, Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Bradford, Canada to mention a few.

But, the Corps was not all fun and glamour. There are so many aspects that an outsider would never know about. For example, night accommodations were a sleeping bag and a 4th floor. Not the most comfortable, especially after a few nights. After every stay at a school, armory, church or Legion Hall, even if it was just one night, the place was immaculate when we left. The condition didn't matter on our arrival, it was spotless when we left. We swept the gym and halls, cleaned the kitchen (when they were available), mopped the showers (when available) and most of the time, we went as far as scrubbing the toilets. We practices for hours at a time, had long exhausting bus rides, buses breaking down miles from our destination, short nights, long days and a lot of cold showers. The list is endless.

Fortunately, the list is also endless when I consider what I have learned. I learned early to take care of myself when my parents weren't around. I learned the responsibility of handling my own money. I learned to respect the property of others, as well as my own. I also learned discipline. I mean discipline. Doing things when I was told to, because I was told to, not when I felt like it. Acting responsible in public to uphold an image and ideal that I was barely old enough to understand. And finally, pushing myself to and past a potential that I thought was miles out of my reach.

The drum corps experience is something I wish on every youth from every corner of the country. It instills pride for an organization, your community and most importantly, pride in yourself. The people of Hickville and the rest of Long Island should rally together to keep this organization (and others with the same principles) afloat. Let's contribute and help organizations that instill good values in kids before it's too late.

Thanks for your time.

Sincerely,
Rosemary Kelley
Hickville

To the Editor:

Last week I read the column in your paper regarding the young man Eric Cornwell, who was struck by a truck on Woodbury Road and Miller Road going to school. I do not know all the details of the accident but I still feel that this could have been avoided again because this is not the first accident since the busing was reduced, if the School Board would return the previous busing mileage to our children.

The School Board should feel a direct responsibility to the bus and his parents for his injuries. Because of their penny wise and pound foolish attitude regarding busing these kids are forced to cross land major thoroughfares during the heaviest concentration of commuter traffic to reach the Junior and Senior High Schools. It is not the distance but the traffic conditions that cause us parents such great concern who reside in this part of the Hickville School District.

Yours truly,
M.P.

To the Editor:

On Saturday, January 18, the banks were closed. No notice, no signs, no write up's in the newspapers just closed. Because of a new holiday this year, to observe Martin Luther King on January 20, everyone knew the banks would be closed but the Saturday before?

The crowd outside the National Westminster Bank in Hicksville at 11 a.m. was not a happy scene. People were furious. Talking to some they said they come every Saturday to cash their checks. How were they to know it would be closed, leaving them with a long weekend and no cash! We drove up to Levittown, and the people around the banks, not being able to get in was really frustrating.

Are businesses and agencies so independent that the customer must be treated in this shabby fashion? I sure hope not.

Sincerely,
A Hickville Resident

Donald J. Rudolph has been appointed Director of Human Resources at Mid-Island Hospital, Bethpage. It was announced by James J. Dickson, Administrator of the 237 bed community health care facility. Dickson said, "Mr. Rudolph has more than 15 years experience in Labor Relations Management and extensive professional background will help to develop our new Human Resources department."

More than sixty per cent of hospital costs are labor related. Dickson added, it is imperative to all healthcare providers that an environment be created in which employees can realize their full potential. The new Human Resources Director's expertise will allow Mid-Island Hospital's employees to realize this full potential.

Dr. Robert P. Silberstein (L) of Hickville, a senior research scientist in Grumman's Corporate Research Center, receives a Certificate of Recognition of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) from Willard Bischoff, senior vice president of Grumman Aircraft Systems Division. Dr. Silberstein receives his award for the "creative development of a technical innovation which has been proposed for publication as a NASA Technical Brief." He joined Grumman in 1982 and has concentrated in solid state physics. Dr. Silberstein earned a Bachelor of Science degree in physics in 1973, a Master of Science in electrical engineering in 1975, and a Doctor of Philosophy in computer science and electrical engineering in 1978, all from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

AARP Meets February 4

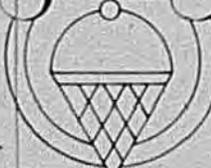

The next meeting of the A.A.R.P. Chapter 1592 will be held at Levittown Hall on February 4 at 1 p.m. Our program will be "Hearing Impairments that accompany aging" and ways to deal with those changes, also a slide presentation "Have You Heard?" Mrs. Tinette Sterling of Peninsula Group on Speech, Language and Hearing Services will serve as resource person. All are invited.

Kathleen Bruno, a resident of Plainview, is one of 28 students nationwide to receive a $700 scholarship from the NSPA Scholarship Foundation. Miss Bruno is a 1985 graduate of SUNY/Farmingdale.

News From Bethpage Library

On Saturday, February 15, the Bethpage Public Library will present "Jack and the Beanstalk" (color-92 mins), a magical animated film adventure for school-age youngsters.

Come on over and enjoy the spellbinding story of young Jack, bold as brass and sharp as a needle, who bravely tangles with magic beans, a golden hen and a ravenous man-eating ogre. A masterpiece of wit, wisdom, and blood-pounding excitement, this classic tale is brought to life in a dazzling musical film, the ultimate in family entertainment.

Showtime is 2 p.m. and tickets are now available in the Bethpage Children's Room for all residents of District #21. For information please call 931-3907.

Calling all 4th and 5th graders, become storytellers! Have fun, entertain your friends and win prizes too! Join the Long Island Storytelling Contest at the Bethpage Public Library or at your school.

All you have to do is learn a folk or fairytale to share with your family and friends. Your school and public librarians will help you select stories and special after-school coaching sessions will be held during January, February and March at the Bethpage Public Library.

Each contestant on the school level will win a Certificate of Participation and a coupon for a Burger King Whopper Sandwich.

French Club Helps Two New Students

By Joshua Jay Bernstein

Pierre LePriol and Gerard LeCunff hardly speak any English. They are two students at Kramer Lane Elementary School who are from Brittany, France. Pierre, who is in Ms. Post's third grade class, and Gerard, who is in Mr. Krane's sixth grade class, find it very difficult to comprehend what is going on in their classrooms.

To understand this scary feeling of confusion, imagine that you are trying to learn in a room full of people speaking a new and strange language. Now, maybe you can sympathize with our French friends. Well, the French Club members at Bethpage High sympathize with them and they are doing something about it. Saba Ashraf, Joshua Bernstein, Jeanine Hubbs, Sarina Hoffman, Dara Jaffee, Heather McCarthy, Greg Spampinato and Yvonne Kowalski enjoy tutoring. Each day of the week, a different advanced French student works with Pierre and Gerard. These students help Pierre and Gerard understand their particular homework for that day or help translate their notebook into French.

As French Club members help these foreigners feel at home, they also learn from them. Pierre and Gerard offer these Bethpage French students a valuable experience in direct use of the French language.

Miss Lowe's most advanced French class is having a party and Pierre and Gerard are at the top of the invitation list. When they attend this "fete", they will get the chance to mingle with a whole group of people who not only appreciate them but understand them as well.

Kiwanis Distributes Surplus Cheese

As a service project to the residents of the Hicksville area, the Hicksville Kiwanis Club has a government surplus cheese distribution scheduled for Saturday, February 1 at the driveway of Mr. Electric Service Co., Inc., 420 South Broadway, Hicksville.

Members of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club will be on hand from 9 a.m. on February 1 to assist those residents eligible to receive government surplus food with filling out the necessary forms required by the government to account for the surplus food being distributed.

The guidelines for eligibility to receive government surplus food include: eligible for food stamps, welfare, S.S.I., disability payments, unemployment, sickness, senior citizen, etc.

Please try to remember to bring your social security number with you. The Kiwanis Club members will be there from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. (i.e., until the cheese and possibly some other surplus food runs out) to help those residents eligible to receive whatever will be available.

Sharp Shooters For Easter Seals

For the fifth year, students at the Burns Avenue School in Hicksville, are "shooting the hoop" for the benefit of people with disabilities in the Annual Easter Seal Basketball Shoot-out. Under the supervision of physical education teachers, Mr. Crandall and Mr. Rienzo, the youngsters will obtain pledges from sponsors and shoot baskets for a three minute period. Thanks to the New York Knickerbockers and Madison Square Garden Center, official Shoot-Out sponsors, participants can win many exciting prizes, including Knicks decals, baseball caps, sport bags, game tickets, Shoot-Out T-shirts and the chance to participate in the Lucky 100 Clinic held at center court of Madison Square Garden, plus more! The money raised by the students will help support year-round Easter Seal programs and services on Long Island, including stroke support groups, residential camping, equipment loan and summer speech therapy.

For more information on this special event, please call the Long Island Easter Seal Society at (516) 421-2200.

In Service

Marine Staff Sgt. Kevin S. Quinn, son of Peggy J. and Edward J. Quinn Jr. of 98 Acre Lane, Hicksville, recently received the Navy Achievement Medal. He received the decoration while serving as Noncommissioned Officer in Charge of the Pass and Identification Office, Department of Military Police, Camp Smedley D. Butler, Okinawa, Japan, from July 15, 1984 to July 8, 1985.

During this time, Quinn's exceptional organizational and administrative abilities enabled him to develop and implement procedures vital to the operation of the Pass and Identification Office.

Quinn is currently stationed at Marine Corps Air Station, Yuma, AZ.

College Notes

Miss Teresa Montalio, has been named to the Dean's List at Florida State University.

Teresa is a sophomore majoring in chemistry. She is also a second year saxophone member of F.S.U.'s Marching Chiefs under the direction of Mr. Bentley Shellahamer. The Chiefs most recent performance was at the Gator Bowl.

Teresa is a 1984 graduate of Hicksville High School and a past member of H.H.S. Marching Comets.

Bethpage GOP Installs Officers

District Court Judge Ute Wolff Lally presided over the Induction Ceremony, as the officers of the Theodore Roosevelt Republican Club of Bethpage were sworn in for the New Year on January 13.

Judge Lally administered the Oath of Office to the Club's officers for 1986 as follows: Kevin Galloway, President; Thomas McCarthy, 1st Vice President; Josephine Ingenito, 2nd Vice President; Annette Markakis, 3rd Vice President; Buddy Mazzara, Treasurer; Robert Jacoppi, Corresponding Secretary; Mary Comerford, Membership Secretary; Marlene Kastleman, Recording Secretary; and Craig Comerford and Michael Viscuse as Sergeants-at-Arms.

Witnessing the occasion were James E. Picken, Chairman of the Town of Oyster Bay Republican Committee, and Town of Oyster Bay Councilman Douglas J. Hynes.

George F. Yochmann, Executive Leader of the Bethpage GOP organization, commented that, "Judge Lally certainly conducted a dignified installation and we were honored that she would give of her time to do this for us. We were likewise honored to have our Town Chairman, Jim Picken, witness the induction of our officers...and to have Councilman Hynes join us for this memorable occasion."

Mr. Yochmann also made a special presentation to Kevin Galloway, who is beginning a fifth consecutive term as President of the Club. Yochmann praised him for his work on behalf of the Club and presented him with a handsome briefcase, as a gift from the Club.

Hot dogs, beer, coffee and cake were served after the meeting, compliments of Club members Tony Marciano and Mike Mancini...to celebrate the start of the New Year for the Bethpage GOP.

Birth Announcement

Carmella Agnone, the daughter of Regina and Al Agnone, was born Wednesday, January 15. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Agnone of Hicksville and she is also the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sullivan of Williston Park.

Carmella weighed 7 lbs. 8 oz. at birth and she has black hair and blue eyes. She will reside with her parents in their new home in Hicksville upon her arrival from Florida next week.

Holy Family Scores A Victory

On January 14, the Holy Family 6th grade Eagles traveled to Glen Cove to play an inexperienced St. Hyacinth basketball team. The Eagles won easily by a score of 41-4.

Holy Family scored the opening basket on a pass from Wayne Rothchild to Mike Murray, who scored on a lay-up and from there the Eagles went on to a 26-4 lead at the end of the first half. Brian Calabro was the high scorer in the first half by scoring 6 points.

In the second half the Eagles held St. Hyacinth scoreless by playing great defense. Ted Knoop, Mike O'Malley and Phil Cateru controlled all the rebounds while Chris Doyle, Jason Kingsley and Kevin Helbing were keeping their men from scoring. Nine of the Holy Family team were able to score at least 2 points. The Eagles were led in scoring by Mike Murray with 9 points and Brian Calabro with 8 points.

Also scoring for the Eagles were Phil Cateru, 4 points; Ted Knoop, 4 points; Wayne Rothchild 4 points; Chris Doyle, 4 points; Greg Schantler 4 points; Mike O'Malley 2 points and Ken Davis 2 points.

The 6th grade team is sponsored by the following businesses in the area: Boos Florist, Cousin's Video, Carvel (W. Village Green), Friends Power Test, Green's Liquor Store, Tower Deli, Wicker's Pizza, Peter's Cleaners and Wagner Funeral Home.

Bethpage Man Completes Course

William F. Brigante, 3751 Dianne Street, Bethpage, local representative for Mutual of Omaha and Companion of New York, has recently completed a course in family investment planning.

The course consisted of a program of home study and a formal two-day seminar which was conducted in Runnemede, New Jersey.

Brigante is also a licensed representative for Mutual's affiliate, Mutual of Omaha Fund Management Company, which manages seven mutual funds.

Vets Organizing Memorial Day

By P.P.C. Carmine A. Somma
The Hicksville Memorial Day Parade and Commemorative Service will be held on May 26. This year's program is being chaired by Wm. M. Gousse Jr. Post 3211 V.F.W.

Let's pay homage to our honored dead. We would like to make this one of the greatest parades we have ever had in Hicksville.

If you wish to join in on this day, please call the V.F.W. Hall at 931-7843 or call Comdr. Max Bergsohn at 681-1069.

On Sunday, May 25, the combined Veterans groups of Hicksville will hold a service at Plainlawn Cemetery on West Old Country Road, Hicksville. All are welcome.

HHS Concert Set For Feb. 11

"Light". The composition is in the style of jazz-gospel and features a soloist. The text is by Lenore Williams. Mr. Williams will be working with the combined band and chorale during the seven day residency preparing for the February 1 premiere.

Julius Williams

According to William I. Gagnon, Supervisor of Fine Arts, the residency "is an exciting approach. We have had several artists visit the schools for a day but this program is designed for an extended residency to enable a professional to work directly with students, staff and the community. The artist becomes a vital part of our school district. I'm truly excited about the forthcoming visit of Mr. Williams and about the commission. Our high school students will have the opportunity to premiere a work written for them and to be conducted by the composer. Those attending the concert will be able to share this exciting experience with us. We hope the auditorium will be filled for this special event."

The Hicksville High School band and chorale will premiere a commissioned work by the composer Julius Williams with the composer conducting on Tuesday evening, February 11 at 8 p.m. in the Hicksville High School Auditorium. The concert will be the culminating event of a seven day residency by Mr. Williams as part of the school districts Artist in Residence program.

During his residency Mr. Williams will work with students on the elementary and secondary levels ranging from composition, musical theatre, color and sound, Black culture and music and improvisation.

Our Children

Books to help with parenting

By Willard Abraham, Ph.D.

Q I know there are a lot of books about children that parents should read, but I obviously can't read all of them. I want to be a good parent, of course, and so does my husband. Our time and money are limited, so a few suggestions from you might come in handy.

A Everyone in this field might have his or her own favorites, and I'm glad to share mine with you.

Child development books by Gesell and Hg. ones on parent-child relationships by Thomas Gordon and Haim Ginott, books with a parent-young child emphasis by Dr. T. Berry Brazelton, and the "classic" by Dr. Benjamin Spock would be on my list.

A special favorite is "The Sense of Wonder" by Rachel Carson who wrote "Silent Spring" and "The Sea Around Us".

Some fiction that can help parents see through the eyes of children are "The Happy Time" by Robert Fontaine, "A Death in the Family" by James Agee, and "Dandelion Wine" by Ray Bradbury.

You haven't mentioned the ages of your children or if they have any special needs. If they do, writers like James Gallagher (gifted), Jerome Rothstein (mentally retarded), Larry Faas (learning disabled), and Samuel Kirk (a variety of special needs areas) come to mind. Perhaps it is only natural to include three of my own books: "Common Sense about Gifted Children" and "Living with Preschoolers" are tentatively out of print, but are in many libraries. One is still available: "You Always Lag One Child Behind" about our own mentally retarded daughter; a stamped, self-addressed envelope sent to me will get you its publishing source.

I'd appreciate so much if any readers will share with me the titles plus authors of books that have been helpful. I'll be glad to pass them on to others through this column.

Q How I wish our daughter weren't as compulsive as she is! It is her school work that seems to demand so much of her time. She is only 8 years old, and seems very bright.

She comes home right from school, goes into her room, and gets right at it. She does have other interests, like reading, the dance lessons she is taking and some nice children who are friends of hers. But school work comes first every time.

Do you see this as a problem? I really do.

A If this is the whole story, no, it may not be. It appears that she is learning, or has learned, something that a lot of adults don't do very well — how to set priorities.

However, you might discuss this matter with her teacher to find out the details of the so-called homework and how important all of it is.

Your situation reminds me of a fine article of some years ago about gifted children, by Elizabeth Drews. It is titled "The Four Faces of Adolescents," concentrating on four types of bright youngsters — academic, creative, social and rebellious. Your comments indicate that your daughter might be in the first category. If so, a little gentle persuasion on the creative and social sides may be appropriate.

Q I know that reading to and with children is important, but I'm also aware that the content of that reading is important too.

My two children are still young and not reading yet, but they often enjoy sitting down and having me read to them. Sometimes they get bored, I'll admit, and start fidgeting around, but I think it is good for them to learn to sit quietly and listen.

My question really relates to the kind of books I should read to them and where to get them.

A If at least one of your children is in a preschool, the teacher's recommendations could be worth requesting. They have an additional value — helping create a link between home and school.

Two other sources are your local library, especially if they have a children's librarian, and a good bookstore.

I hope you don't mind my reacting to a question you didn't ask. It relates to the restlessness that you mentioned. Young children generally have a short attention span, so if parents force them to sit still and listen after their attention begins to wander, a negative attitude toward the activity in which they are involved could develop.

Because we want children to enjoy the reading process, it would be sad to create negative feelings toward it when they are young.

Amperex Awarded Defense Contract

The Defense Electronics Supply Center has awarded a $517,242 contract to Amperex Electronic Corporation, 700 Duff Avenue, Hicksville, for the production of electron tubes.

The Defense Electronics Supply Center is a field activity of the Defense Logistics Agency head quartered at Cameron Station, Alexandria, Virginia. DEASC buys and manages electronic, spare parts for the Armed Forces as well as civil agencies of the Federal Government.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

A change in rules on disability benefits

Q Has there been a change in the rules for determining whether or not your disability benefits can continue? — D.S.

A Yes. As of January 1986, Social Security is resuming reviews of the medical status of disabled individuals to determine if the person is still considered disabled and can continue to receive benefits. The new law requires, with a few exceptions, that medical improvement be documented before any person is taken off the disability rolls.

In addition to the medical improvement standard, there were other important changes. Persons with mental impairments will be more realistically evaluated to determine the ability to function in a competitive work environment. Also, the combined effects of all of an individual's impairments will be considered for disability.

Q My husband died and I am receiving Social Security checks for myself and our four children. I wish to move to a different state. How will that affect my checks and the amount I receive? The children are ages 7, 5, 3 and 1. — D.N.

A A move to a different state does not affect your entitlement or the amount of your Social Security benefits based on your deceased husband's record.

It is important that you let us know right away of any change in your mailing address by calling or writing. Do this even if your checks are being sent directly to your financial organization for deposit.

You should also give the post office your new address and ask them to forward your mail.

Q My wife and I draw Social Security on our own earnings record. My wife draws less than I. We both started receiving Social Security at age 62. Will my wife be entitled to a widow's pension when I die? — R.H.

A A widow's benefit at age 62 is 71½ percent of the deceased husband's base amount, whereas a wife's benefit at age 62 is 37½ percent of her husband's base amount.

If a woman is entitled on her own record and also on her spouse's, she gets whichever is the larger of the two benefit amounts.

Q I understand that there is a limit on the amount of assets or resources you can have and still be eligible for Supplemental Security Income. What's included as resources and what is the limit? — R.A.

A The term "resources" includes real estate, personal property, household goods, savings and checking accounts, and stocks or bonds. A home that is the claimant's principal place of residence is not counted regardless of its value. Personal effects or household goods with a total equity of $2,000 or less are not counted. Effective January 1986, an individual can have resources up to $1,700; a couple may have resources up to $2,550.

VFW News

By P.P.C. Carmine Somma

This starts our 51st year as V.F.W. Post in Hicksville and plans are being made to celebrate this happy occasion. Our Sr. Vice Comdr. Bill Schuck Jr. is the chairman. It will be held on February 15, at the V.F.W. Hall, with a Roast Turkey Dinner and all the trimmings, music, dancing, and open bar. All this for $20 per person. February 10, is the Voice of Democracy Awards Night.

On December 15, we had our Children's Christmas Party at the Hall. Santa Claus was there giving out toys to all the children, and grandchildren of members of the Post and our Ladies Auxiliary. Vincent Ferrara, our Chaplain, was the Chairman. On December 18, our Chaplain Vincent Ferrara was chairman of the Northport Veterans Patients Christmas Party. Members of the Post, Ladies Auxiliary, members of B.S.A. Troops 3211, and Cub Scout Troop 3211 assisted him and made it a big success. Every year at Christmas time we invite the guys from Northport and Santa Claus is there to give the patients gifts.

On Friday, December 20, at the V.F.W. Hall, a Christmas Party for our outgoing patients who come to the V.A. Satellite Clinic from Northport on Wednesday and Friday, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. was held. Don and Nancy Giacomelli, both members of this post, and Rita Wentzy of Levittown Post 9592, made sandwiches, cookies, salad, cakes and other goodies for the party.

On December 21 at Post Hall the annual Christmas party was held. Members of the Post and Ladies Auxiliary members attended with their spouses and escorts. Our Sr. Vice Comdr. Bill Schuck Jr. was the chairman and was assisted by P.P.C. Mike Montelione. Both did a fine job. A week before Thanksgiving, our Quartermaster, William Frohnhoefer gave a needy family in the Hicksville area a complete dinner for Thanksgiving. On January 13, members of the Post elected five new members to the H.V.A.: they are August Barone, President of the H.V.A., Ed Kleniewski, Mike Tisdell, Joe Messana, and Frank Molinari.

Our Chaplain Vincent Ferrara reports a speedy recovery to Comrades and Sisters, their families, who have been hospitalized during the month, and Robert Efinger, in Northport Hospital with cancer. Our condolences go to the family of Frank Portuese whose wife passed away, also, Frank Gabriel's brother-in-law, Edwin Eaton, Walter Pleased, oldest veteran of the United States, died at the age of 101. He fought in Cuba in 1898.

Our next Las Vegas Meet will be held on February 8, from 7:45 to 1 a.m.

All Alumni parents and their friends are most cordially invited. For information call the Chairpersons, Gen and Jim Conway 747-4467.

TOB Dem Club Holds First Mtg.

The Thomas V. Stivala Town of Oyster Bay Democratic Club will be holding its first meeting Monday evening, January 27 at 8 p.m. at the Howard Johnson's Restaurant located just east of Wantagh Parkway on Old Country Road.

This first organizing meeting of this townwide club (The Town of Oyster Bay in its entirety plus the City of Glen Cove) will feature Mayor Vincent (Jimmy) Suozzi as the guest speaker. His presentation will address the role of the Nassau County Board of Supervisors and a general presentation and analysis of the Democrats in Nassau County.

The organizing committee, which included Lenny Austin of Jericho, Marty Schwartz of Massapequa, Bob Stano of Bayville, Michael Levay of Syosset and Patricia Coniglio of Jericho, according to Austin, will begin with this townwide concept with ultimate intent to be to branch off into chapters throughout the Town of Oyster Bay. Austin added, "We will rotate the location of our meetings to enable everyone to have the meeting held, at one time or another, near their homes. We purposely chose this Howard Johnson's due to its middle of the Town location."

The meeting will also feature a tribute to the Stivala family of Plainview with Mrs. Ida Stivala appearing as the guest of honor for the evening. Special presentations will be made in honor of the Stivala family and, a special tribute will be featured in memory of the late Thomas V. Stivala for whom the club is named.

Thomas V. Stivala was a Plainview Democratic Zone Leader who devoted much of his time to the Nassau County Democratic party. "He was a campaign coordinator of numerous campaigns and an outstanding individual possessing the qualities of honesty, integrity and intelligence," according to 13th Assembly District Democratic Leader Judy Jacobs.

So in attendance at this formation meeting will be Town of Oyster Bay leader Walter Lowenstein, Assembly District Leader Judy Jacobs, Glen Cove Leader Maurice March, 12th Assembly District Leaders Joe King and Roberta Miller, Assembly District Leader Audrey Hagemann and numerous zone leaders throughout the Town of Oyster Bay.

Refreshments will be served and the public is urged to attend. For further information or questions, please call Nassau County Democratic Headquarters at 747-7400.

In Service

Army Private Gregg W. Lynch, son of Jack J. and Kathleen Lynch, of 1 Colony Street, Hicksville, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia.

OSUT is a 12 week period which combines basic combat training and advanced individual training.

The training included weapons qualifications, squad tactics, patrolling, landmine warfare, field communications and combat operations. Completion of this course qualifies the soldier as a light-weapons infantryman and as an indirect-fire crewman.

Soldiers were taught to perform any of the duties in a rifle or mortar squad.

He is a 1985 graduate of Hicksville High School.

Presenting 170 Reasons to Enroll in TESTTAKERS S.A.T. Review

For several years we have been helping students on Long Island and Staten Island dramatically increase their SAT scores. Last spring our students improved their SAT scores by an average of 170 points. This term we again bring our dynamic Ivy League instructors and sophisticated techniques to Long Island.

We will offer the same small classes (10-12 students per instructor, grouped according to ability) as always. Our unique computer analysis of facsimile SAT's pinpoints your child's weaknesses, enabling him to receive extra attention in the areas of greatest benefit. And our celebrated vocabulary flash cards contain the most frequently appearing words on the SAT.

Enrolling your child in Testtakers will help him reach his full potential on the SAT. And that may be the most important reason of all.

EAT YOURSELF SLIM

Nobody's ever too old for milk

By Shirley Bright Boody
Registered Dietitian

Dear Shirley: I have been taking two Tums tablets a day to increase my calcium. I heard about doing that on television, but a friend of mine recently told me not to do it because I could get some kind of disease from getting too much alkaline.

Is that right? Should I stop taking Tums? What do you suggest?

I don't drink milk and I know that I need calcium so I won't get osteoporosis. I am a 52-year-old woman, and I think I am too old to drink milk. — Elizabeth G.

Dear Elizabeth G. Nobody is ever too old to drink milk, and I strongly suggest you start using it and other dairy products, unless you have a lactose intolerance, allergies or other problems with milk products.

You can safely take two to four Tums a day to increase your calcium and I recommend that you do, especially if you aren't drinking milk. I think your friend was referring to a problem called systemic alkalosis, but you will not be in any danger of developing it by taking two Tums a day. It's an inexpensive, effective way to increase calcium intake.

Dear Shirley: I have only been married six months and my husband's parents are coming to our house for New Year's Day. I have never cooked a turkey in my life and I haven't any idea how to cook it, or how big it should be.

I have the recipe for my mom's dressing, but I don't know how much to make.

What's the best way to cook a turkey and how long? How can I tell when it is done? Help! — Almee

Dear Almee: Allow about 1 to 1½ pounds per person when buying a fresh or frozen turkey. Roasting the turkey breast side up on a rack in a large pan produces a lovely golden brown bird with a rich flavor. It's an easy way and doesn't take much handling.

Preheat the oven to 450 F, reduce to 325. Allow about 25 minutes per pound for a stuffed turkey or about 20 minutes per pound if unstuffed. Baste frequently with pan drippings.

Sometimes cover it with a cloth soaked in melted butter or oil, and remove it during the last half hour of cooking to get a nicely browned bird.

Allow about ¼ cup of dressing per pound of turkey.

Dear Shirley: Which kinds of soup are lower in sodium — canned or dehydrated?

I have been on a low-sodium diet

(or several months, and I didn't crave soups during the hot summer, but now it's very cold where I live (upper New York state), and I really want some good hot soups now.

Do you have any suggestions for low-salt soups? — Mrs. T.S.

Dear Mrs. T.S. Canned soups are high in sodium and dehydrated soups are even higher, so I advise you to avoid all of them and make your own.

You can simply omit the salt in preparing them, and either use one of the good salt substitutes that are on the market, or use some lemon juice and grated lemon rind instead.

Sometimes, adding a little bit of your favorite wine will add interesting new flavor. Use along with some herbs and spices and don't be afraid to experiment. You may come up with some real winners, because you can make soup of out virtually anything.

Dear Shirley: I am in desperate need of advice regarding a possible nutritional deficiency.

Last March I went on your EYS diet and within two weeks I had lost the 10 pounds I had targeted. A co-worker and her mother (who was considered obese), also went on the diet and they were equally successful. Thank you so much. We all feel great and are proud of our accomplishments.

I am 47 years old, 5 feet, 1 inch tall, black, single, female and have never been pregnant. As a child in Tennessee, my family used to eat Argo Laundry Starch as well as a particular type of clay dirt. Culturally, this was a very common practice and may still exist in some parts of the Southeast.

Recently I began to have an overwhelming, driving craving to eat cornstarch. I was eating about one box per week, but the craving is becoming more intense. I now consume one box every three to four days.

I consulted my physician, who informed me of a two-pound weight gain, but saw nothing detrimental, healthwise.

I've never experienced any prolonged craving in my life, and so have no experience to relate this to. I eagerly await your advice. — L.E.P.

Dear L.E.P. The inordinate craving or eating of bizarre substances not ordinarily considered as foods is called "pica."

The commonest cravings are for ice, clay, cornstarch and chalk, and indicate iron deficiency. However, the EYS diet is not low in iron, so I suggest you find another doctor who will take your problem more seriously.

You may be losing blood somewhere in your body, and be unaware of it — possibly in your intestinal tract, where it may go unnoticed. Please get a thorough physical examination.

You may also need to increase your iron intake.

Dear Shirley: I have heard that some of the over-the-counter medicines can have certain effects on some nutrients, and I wonder if you can tell me if taking antacids will do this? I also take a lot of aspirin.

Do I need any special vitamins if I use these medicines every day? Does alcohol have any effect on a person's nutrition? — Mrs. N.A.

Dear Mrs. N.A. The chronic overuse of some antacids can interfere with the proper absorption of folic acid and calcium, and they may be very high in sodium. Constant aspirin intake can increase the need for vitamin C as well as folic acid. Heavy indulgence in alcohol can increase the need for thiamin, as well as other nutrients.

If you include fruits and vegetables, meats, fish, poultry, whole grains and dairy products in your daily diet, you should be OK. You can add a single multivitamin mineral supplement if you wish.

Dear Shirley: Do you think elderly people really need to pay attention to their diet, or is it too late to make improvements? — Joseph G.

Dear Joseph G. It's never too late to improve your health, and your diet is vitally important at any age.

Stitching Witchery

By Betty W. Klaser

Use fancy stitches to create coasters

Once in a while I get a persistent itch to experiment with the fancy stitches on my sewing machine. I am not a frills and froo-froo type of person, so I don't use decorative stitches a lot, but they are just so pretty I have to indulge occasionally.

This time I made coasters. It was tremendous fun — even more so than the place mats I made a few years ago. The advantage of making coasters is that they are not nearly as cumbersome to work with as the place mats. Here's how I did it (I made a set of eight):

For each coaster, cut two 4½-inch circles from fabric and one 4½-inch circle from quilt batting. I used calico, but you could use anything from broadcloth to denim (all washable, of course).

Sandwich batting between two pieces of fabric with wrong sides of fabric next to batting. Run a row of hand basting horizontally and one vertically to hold layers in place.

Now, start creating! Select a thread that contrasts with fabric so it will stand out. A size 12 needle (larger if you are using denim) is best. Choose a decorative stitch and go to it!

Once your coaster has been decorated, trim around the edges (the layers will have shifted just a bit); then do a quick whipstitch by hand around edges to hold them in place.

Select an applique or scallop stitch to go around the coaster to "seal" the edges. More trimming may be necessary, but be careful not to cut stitching! Remove any basting that shows.

And there you have it, a pretty, one-of-a-kind coaster that will drink up moisture! These coasters can be given as gifts or donated to bazaars. One yard of 45-inch fabric will make approximately 80 coasters, so expense is minimal. I didn't take time to figure how many you can get from a roll of batting, but it has to be zillions!

In place of the batting, you can use a layer or two of non-woven fleece interfacing, but it won't be as lofty as the batting.

ANTIQU

Modern version of Queen Anne style

By James G. McCollam

Q I don't know much about antiques, but this little stand certainly looks old-fashioned; it is, however, in very good condition.

Can you tell me how old it is and if it has any value?

A This is a relatively modern version of Queen Anne style. It was factory-made in the early 20th century. Stands like this were used in the dining room to store silver flatware.

Based on its quality and charm, it could be worth about $125 to $135.

Q My porcelain figurine of a dancing lady is 7 inches tall. She has a pink and white lace dress with applied flowers. On the bottom is the attached mark.

Can you tell me who made it, when, where and its current value?

A The letters, "KPM," as drawn by you were used by the Krister Porzellan Manufaktur in Waldenburg, Germany, during the mid-19th century. This should sell for about $175 to $225.

The same letters were used by several other manufacturers, but not in the same style lettering.

Q What is the difference between butter molds and butter stamps? I would also like to know about comparative prices.

A Butter molds are hand-carved wooden molds to provide a decorative surface to a large piece of butter, from 8 to 8 inches in diameter.

Butter stamps are hand-carved molds less than 3 inches in diameter. They were used to emboss details — for example, an acorn, a small flower, a leaf, etc. — on a small slab of butter.

• Butter Mold Prices:

Compass Star, 8 inches in diameter — $300

Flying Duck, 4 1/2 inches in diameter — $225

Lamb, 4 inches in diameter — $220

Swan, 4 inches in diameter — $135

• Butter Stamp Prices:

Acorn, 3 inches in diameter — $55

Flower, 3 inches in diameter — $60

Heart, 3 inches in diameter — $150

Pineapple, 3 inches in diameter — $45

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, stamped, self-addressed envelope, and $1 per item to James G. McCollam.

Winter Run Draws A Crowd

The 3rd annual Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club "Winter Fun Run" attracted nearly 150 runners who were in no way deterred by the rainstorm that visited Long Island on January 19.

The runners left the starting line on South Woods Road in Woodbury just a couple of minutes after 8 a.m. and headed out on their choice of a 3.1 mile run, a 5.8 mile run or a tough and hilly 9.0 mile run through the scenic roads of Woodbury, Laurel Hollow and Oyster Bay Cove. The 9.0 mile run was highlighted by a grueling "roller coaster ride" from one end to the other of Moore's Hill Road.

After completing the run, everyone returned to Super Star Sneakers and Sports in the Woodbury Mall, where they were treated to a hearty "bagels plus" breakfast. Every participant received a complimentary pair of running gloves, courtesy of POBRRC.

POBRRC was pleased to welcome a contingent of their friends from the Massapequa Road Runners to join in the fun, along with several unattached runners who also joined in for the fun of it.

Rotary Club Honors Bethpage H.S. Senior

Evan Duane, a senior at Bethpage High School, was honored by members of the Bethpage Rotary Club at their regular monthly meeting as the Student of the Month. Among his classmates, Evan is ranked number one because of his abilities but even more so because of his dedicated commitment to learning. As his counselor, Mr. Vetri, put it "Evan has achieved his position as number one with excellence because he has the maturity and self-discipline that is required."

Evan is currently taking three Advanced Placement courses and works late at night striving to deepen his understanding of the subjects. He has also fought causes that he considers important. At the beginning of this year for instance, he demonstrated his leadership qualities in Bethpage High School by researching and appealing to the Board of Education to keep a class from being cancelled despite low enrollment.

Outside of school, he has continued his interest in the Scouts and in playing the piano. In school, he has concentrated in the Chess Club, Spanish Club, Chorus and Fencing team.

Evan is also pursuing a special project in the Science Research program for submission to a county-wide Science Fair. His topic is "The Effectiveness of PABA as a Sunscreen Against Ultra-Violet Radiation". Mr. Brad Gaito, his science teacher says, "What is even more impressive about Evan is his efforts as a student tutor in science subjects. He has tutored more students in this school than any other student I can remember and what is even better is that he has done so very effectively."

Evan was accepted recently by Yale University as one of their few early decision candidates and plans to pursue a career in International Affairs or Political Science. He will be the second member of his family at college next year joining his mother who is completing her studies at Molloy College.

Marie Haberstroh has been appointed Manager of the Radiology Department at Mid-Island Hospital.

As the Manager and Chief Technician of the multi million dollar department, Ms. Haberstroh will direct the use of all diagnostic x-ray, Mammography, Ultra Sound and Cat Scanner equipment. On the hospital staff since 1982, Marie Haberstroh has been responsible for all diagnostic procedures and emergency specials pertaining to the radiological department.

POBRRC Winter Fun Run Chairman Sam Zinn organizes the runners for the start of the run.

Atlantic City Day Trip

A day in Atlantic City at the Golden Nugget on Wednesday, January 29 is being sponsored by the Plainview/Hicksville unit of the American Cancer Society.

The Express bus will leave Morton Village Shopping Center (Rex Place location) at 9:30 a.m. Park on local streets.

To reserve your place, please send $18 tax-deductible check, (in accordance with IRS regulation) to American Cancer Society, 1225 Round Swamp Road, Old Bethpage, NY 11804. Send self-addressed stamped envelope to receive tickets by return mail.

Receive $15 in Evans, a $5 towards food. Buses will be loaded in same order as checks are received. Please note: There will be no smoking permitted on the bus.

Community Programs At Mid Island

The Mid-Island Hospital, Bethpage, launched its 1986 Community Health Programs; it was announced by Dorothea Salzberg, R.N. and Staff Educator for the 23' bed health care facility. Most of the following programs are free to the community and are scheduled on a regular basis throughout the year. Where the program has a fee, it will be indicated.

Child Birth and Prenatal Classes

LaMaze method of childbirth includes anatomy and physiology of the female reproductive organs, mechanisms of labor and delivery and parental exercises using unique breathing and prenatal exercises. This course is conducted by a hospital certified registered nurse and ANPO instructor. The course length is six weeks, $80 fee, conducted in the hospital's Staff Room. For registration information, contact Wanda Wackell, R.N. at 481-3603.

Prenatal Classes

Mid-Island's Nursing Staff is conducting a series of expectant parents classes. The course covers four sessions, Wednesday from 8:10 p.m. in the hospital's Staff Room and includes the care of mother during pregnancy, exercises, the supportive role of the father and the care of the new baby. The fourth class session includes a tour of the Obstetric Unit. The 4 course fee is $15 and to register call 520-2247.

Health Care Maintenance Continuing Education

The Colostomy Club at Mid-Island provides on-going support through education for ostomy patients and their families. Coordinated by a knowledgeable lay person from the community and a nurse from the hospital's staff. The club meets the second Wednesday of each month at 8 p.m. in the hospital's Staff Room. The course is free and a community service and registration information can be secured by calling Ken Putahl, R.N. at 520-2247.

The Hospital's Diabetes Club provides information on adult diabetes and includes participation by family members. The free course sessions impart information on diet, self blood glucose monitoring, insulin, and oral medications. Complications and emergency treatment by professionals are also topics discussed in the community. The course meets in the first Monday of each month at 8 p.m. in the hospital's Staff Room. For more information contact Dorothea Salzberg, R.N. at 520-2247.

The Emphysema Club meets every Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 p.m. in the ballroom in the Staff Conference Room and is free of charge. It is open to patients who wish to learn more about chronic obstructive pulmonary diseases. This important club is sponsored by the hospital's Respiratory Services Department. For club information, call Mark Johnson or William Hartford at 520-6000.

"Living With Diabetes"

Outpatient Education Program
Last month, Mid-Island Hospital launched a dynamic outpatient Diabetes Program which today is another fine example of professional self-help activities at the health care facility. This Diabetes Program is held on a monthly basis with all classes conducted in the hospital. The program is designed to assist diabetics and their families to learn latest methods of self-care skills, managing diabetes and developing positive concepts for individual life-style changes.

Classes are taught by a diabetes nurse specialist and a registered dietician. Class size is small in order to maintain an informal atmosphere and foster group discussion. The program is open to all persons with diabetes and registrations are being accepted for January and February classes with dates and times to be announced. The fee is $100, which includes individual counseling, class instruction and follow-up visits. For additional information and registration contact Dorothea Salzberg, R.N., M.S., at 520-2247.

Cavaliers Win Soccer Trophy

On Saturday, January 18 the 1976 Hicksville Cavaliers coached by Barry Lawson traveled to the Rockland County Tournament.

With a tremendous defensive effort led by Michael Kelly, Michael Pfeifer and goalie Gerard Halfpenny, the Cavaliers allowed only 3 goals in their seven games. Leading scorers for Hicksville were Michael Adelstein and Stephen Franke. Center forward Jarrod Pfeifer was a sparkplug helping to keep the ball in Hicksville's offensive side of the field. Forwards and halfbacks Paul Hong, Glenn Turano, Joey Infranka, Seth Weiner and Matthew Everett constantly fought for the ball and kept the pressure on opposing defenses. In the first 4 regulation games the Cavaliers won 2 and tied 2. Going into their last game the team knew that they needed a tie to make the playoffs and a win to take 1st place in their division. The team came out at the whistle determined to win the game as Stephen Franke and Michael Adelstein scored 2 goals each and the defense was strong, recording their 4th shutout in 4 games.

In the playoffs the Cavaliers won once more as the team again recorded a shutout winning 1-0 in the semifinals.

In the final, Hicksville led 1-0 with less than a minute to play when the other team scored on a disputed "Direct" kick. The game ended tied 1-1 and a sudden death shootout took place. Unfortunately for the gallant Cavaliers they lost. Anyone that saw the Hicksville team play that day - we know they're the winners.

Congratulations Coach.

We would also like to welcome Matthew Everett to the team. Matthew is moving to N.Y. and we are counting on him to help keep us winners. Any kid that gets up at 4 a.m. and travels 3½ hours to play soccer must have a lot of desire and 2 terrific parents.

THEY WANT TO WORK.

Berkeley Grads

The Berkeley School of Long Island in Hicksville has announced the names of members of its early winter graduating class.

Graduates of the professional secretarial, automated office technology, and fashion marketing and management programs were awarded Associate in Applied Science degrees. Those successfully completing the requirements of the executive and intensive secretarial and word processing courses received diplomas.

The Hicksville campus also offers three-month Gateway and Horizons programs for adults, which provide office skills to individuals with backgrounds who can benefit from such accelerated programs. Upon completion students are awarded a certificate.

Dr. Seigel Selected To Chiropractic Association

Dr. Eric S. Seigel

Dr. Eric S. Seigel of 63 Summit Street, Hicksville, has been selected for membership in the American Chiropractic Association, a national organization representing the majority of licensed practitioners in the United States. The announcement was released by the organization's headquarters office in Arlington, Virginia.

As a member of the ACA, Dr. Seigel joins thousands of fellow doctors of chiropractic, all dedicated to improving America's health-care system and to increasing public awareness of spinal health and chiropractic.

Membership dues support major programs of chiropractic education and research, and provide materials for use in public education and career guidance.

Dr. Seigel is a graduate of Life Chiropractic College located in Marietta, Georgia.

The announcement of Dr. Seigel's selection was made by Dr. Weldon L. Odom, President of the American Chiropractic Association.

On January 10, members of the Woman's Club of Bethpage attended the dedication of "Walkabout for Young Women", a transitional youth home for homeless young women. It is located on Guy Lombardo Ave. in Freeport. The Woman's Club is a contributor to this home, which is a program of Nassau Children's House, Inc., as is the Walkabout Home for young men in Bethpage. These homes are a vital step towards independence for the young men and women they house, and the Woman's Club of Bethpage strongly encourages and congratulates Nassau Children's House Inc. for enabling this reality.

Frisa Blasts State On School Cuts

Assemblyman Dan Frisa (15th A.D.) blasted Governor Cuomo who, in his 1986-87 state budget proposal, wants to cut more than $6.4 million in State aid to 15th Assembly District schools. The Hicksville school district will lose $578,019 if the Governor has his way.

"Mr. Cuomo not only lacks an understanding of people's needs on Long Island, he simply doesn't care," Frisa charged.

"While giving city school districts a more than $200 million increase, the Governor apparently expects our school district to further raise property taxes and/or cut essential educational programs."

Frisa pledged to "work closely with Senator Ralph Marino and Assemblyman Fred Parola to not only ensure that these drastic cuts are restored, but to pursue increased aid."

"Maintaining and enhancing the high quality of education in Hicksville, without having our already over-burdened property taxpayers foot the bill for other regions, continues to be my objective," Frisa stated.

The Assemblyman concluded that "bringing about an equitable distribution in State aid will enable us to properly educate our children without paying more than our fair share."

"My kid just doesn't test well."

It's a common parental reaction when a child's PSAT, SAT, ACT and Achievement test scores are disappointing.

Before you give up, give your child a chance. A prep course with Stanley H. Kaplan.

Kaplan's test-taking techniques and educational programs have prepared more than 100,000 students for these tests.

We provide a computerized diagnostic evaluation to advise students on their strengths and weaknesses. We even offer college counseling.

Quality Or Quantity?

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient Readers = Results is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

YOU CAN'T BEAT IT!

Feb. Events At Plainview Library

Music on CD
Billboard Magazine predicts that by 1990 compact discs will be the main form of musical records. The AV Center of Plainview Old Bethpage Library is building a CD collection for loan.

A CD player is available for the public to use. Come in and listen to the new sound.

Travel by Sight and Sound
Relax at home while traveling around the world via video cassette. Residents may borrow videos on exciting places to visit. Many travel tours are also available on audio cassette. So let your library card open the door to another place, city or country.

Computer News
Practice Makes Perfect—or at least higher SAT scores. Software is available for use in the library on Atari Computer 25c for 15 minutes.

Word Processor software can be used by all ages for school reports, resumes, mail lists. Reserve a block of time by calling AV Center.

Type Attack—a fun method of learning to type. Brush up on your skills and use the different speed modes to improve.

In 1949, a play opened to the public. Immediately, New York Times critic Brook Atkinson wrote that it was "one of the finest dramas in the whole range of the American theatre". The play was worthy of such praise for it was Arthur Miller's dramatic masterpiece. It was "Death of a Salesman".

On Monday, February 3 from 1-3 p.m. the Plainview Old Bethpage Library will present a book discussion review on "Death of a Salesman". This play focuses on a man, Willy Loman and his aspirations. Throughout the production Loman's hopes of hope are stripped away. This process is so absorbing that it won the Pulitzer Prize. Experience human drama at its best. Barbara Krupit will be the discussion leader.

During the Reign of the Queen of Persia is Joan Chase's exploration of existence. It centers on Gram, the "Queen of Persia", and her method of ruling. She resides over her daughters and granddaughters and their men, a group of drunks. The book examines their past and present.

On Tuesday, February 4 from 8-10 p.m. you are invited to the Plainview Old Bethpage Library for a book discussion review. Your host for this analysis is Barbara Krupit. Come to the library and discover the unique qualities of Joan Chase's writing.

Board Meeting
The Board of Trustees of the Plainview Old Bethpage Library will hold a budget review meeting on Wednesday, February 5 at 7:30 p.m.

Every year numerous individuals become imprisoned within one of three deadly diseases: Cancer, Heart Disease or AIDS. They have unsuccessfully tried to escape. Their plans for a healthy freedom have not been properly executed. The Plainview Old Bethpage Library wishes to inform the public that these diseases can be prevented through proper nutrition.

The program will take place on Tuesdays starting February 11 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in cooperation with the American Association of Retired Persons.

Over the years, the world has become increasingly complicated. The average citizen has been confronted with an array of complex current events. The understanding of these events requires special insight. The Plainview Old Bethpage Library will provide such insight.

On February 7 from 1-3 p.m. the Plainview Old Bethpage Library will present "Insights Into Current Issues", a discussion of current events. Barbara Krupit will host this informative program. Come and discover the meaning of modern times.

The Plainview Old Bethpage Library has a gift for you. This is no ribbon wrapped present, though, it's a musical treat for the whole family. Stephanie Conte, a soprano who has performed in numerous operas including "La Boheme" and "Madame Butterfly" and Paul Spencer Adkins, a tenor with an illustrious operatic background, will be flexing their singing muscles.

Love has fascinated writers since the beginning of their craft. Over the years a great amount of innovative prose and poetry has explored love on different levels. Such authors as Colette, Giovanni O'Casey, Chopin, Jung, St. Vincent Millay, Thurber and Sartre have defined this emotion through their own vocabularies.

On Sunday, February 9 at 3 p.m. actress Shirley Blanc Romaine will interpret her definitions in a "Climate of Love". Her unique performance will be held at the Plainview Old Bethpage Library. Once completed with the show, she will initiate a discussion. This exciting afternoon will be complete if you attend.

In order to meet the community's ever-growing need, the Plainview Old Bethpage Library will once again offer the "Tax Return Assistance" program to all residents.

This very helpful service will permit residents to receive assistance in preparing their Federal, State and City income tax returns on an individual basis. This program will take place on Sundays, starting February 9 from 1:30 to 3:30 and on Tuesdays starting February 11 from 6:30 to 8:30 in cooperation with Hofstra University.

The Plainview Old Bethpage Library will host "The Nutrition Plus Approach to Disease Prevention", a series of 3 lectures presented by Dr. David S. Ostricher. "Heart Disease, the Preventable Disease" will be examined on Thursday, February 13. The program will begin at 8 p.m. This lecture will provide a blueprint for disease prevention, a pathway to freedom.

Picture a movie with Bill Murray, Dan Aykroyd and Harold Ramis. Place them in an urban setting and watch as they run wild. Their offbeat behavior is a by-product of their offbeat jobs; they are parapsychologists who wish to investigate ghosts. After your image is completed you have pictured "Ghostbusters". The Plainview Old Bethpage Library will be presenting this 1984 comedy on Sunday, February 16 at 1 and 7:30 p.m. All 103 minutes of "Ghostbusters" is chock full of humor. Come enjoy yourself at the library.

Today's driver should be ready for trouble. He should be acquainted with effective driving techniques. He should know how to drive defensively. The Plainview Old Bethpage Library wants to educate today's driver.

On Saturday, February 22 from 9:30-4 p.m., the library will host a 6 hour course on defensive driving presented by the National Safety Council. This course will save you dollars by reducing your motor vehicle insurance premium. It will also reduce existing violations on your driving record by 3 points, and it might even save your life by training you in safety smart driving techniques. Register at the circulation desk. The price is $30.

per person and there are no refunds and no cancellations.

Board Meeting
The Board of Trustees of the Plainview Old Bethpage Library will hold a regular business meeting on Wednesday, February 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the Staff Room of the Library.

Prepare to walk down narrow alleys and darkened stairways. Prepare to investigate the scene of the crime and uncover important clues. Prepare to tangle with death. Prepare for "An Adventure With Agatha Christie".

The Plainview Old Bethpage Library will present a slide lecture on Agatha Christie, the madame of macabre. Arthur Liebman will narrate the lecture and Joyce Liebman will provide sinistral piano accompaniment. This tour down a mysterious memory lane will be held on Thursday, February 27 at 8 p.m. It would be a crime to miss it.

The Library is located at 999 Old Country Road in Plainview, opposite the Morton Village Shopping Center.
