31 From Hicksville Are Graduates

Thirty-one Hicksville residents were among more than 2,400 students at the C.W. Post Campus of Long Island University who received their degrees Sunday, May 11.

The students received their diplomas at C.W. Post's 29th annual commencement exercises. The exercises were the first presided over by Dr. David J. Steinberg, president of Long Island University, the ninth largest private university in the United States.

Eight honorary degree citations were also awarded at the ceremony, which was held on the Great Lawn of the campus. Honorary degree recipients included William Casey, director, Central Intelligence Agency; Jaime de Pinies, Spain's representative to the United Nations; Henry Luce III, president, Henry Luce Foundation Inc.; William Shea, Attorney; Alan King, entertainer; B. Gerald Cantor, financier and art collector; Lorinda de Roulet, sportswoman and philanthropist; and Alfred Seaman, mayor, Upper Brookville.

The Hicksville residents who received their bachelor's degrees were: Juana Adams (BA), Michael Canino (BS), John Chen (BPS), Sheri Epstein (BA), James Georgians (BS), Julie Grant (BS), Christina Hauck (BS), Hope Israelton (BS), Carol Johnson (BPS), Steven Loria (BPS), Daniel Mercado (BS), Debra Portaro (BS), Veronica Russell (BA), Andrew Semjen (BS), Patricia Spencer (BS), Angela Weiman (BS), and Patricia Skerrett (BPS).

Those who received their master's degrees were: Edith Ammerata (MS), Mark Anderson (MBA), Matthew Choate (MPS), Barbara Cohen (MS), Patricia Donecho (MS), Leonor Garavito (MS), Ellen Geitner (MS), Houshang Hassanzadeh (MBA), Harriet Maher (MPA), Maureen Moroney (MS), Anthony Scavo (MBA), Raymond Shelton (MS), Michele Viglione (MS), and Robert Waldeck (MBA).

This Issue

This week's issue is complete in three sections. The main news section contains all of the local news stories and photos. The second section is our annual Homes and Gardens Supplement which contains many ideas for homeowners during this special Spring season.

The third section is the Discovery Magazine section which contains stories that should be of interest to every member of the family, along with the largest local classified section on Long Island.

Arrest Man For Burglary

A 30 year old man from Jamaica, Queens was arrested May 15 and charged with burglary 2nd. Albert Doles of 165-69 165th St. was arrested at the Hicksville train station, by P.O. Glenn Steinmueller of the Second Precinct.

Allegedly Doles burglarized the home of Annamarie Pryall of 66 Sackett St., Hicksville. Ms. Pryall heard a noise at the rear of her home when she went to investigate she saw an unknown man coming through her window. The subject saw Ms. Pryall and fled.

The police were called and through a description and later an identification by witnesses Mr. Doles was placed under arrest.

Memorial Day Parade On Monday

Memorial Day will be celebrated with a parade and services by the combined Veterans Groups in Hicksville.

On Sunday, May 25 services will be held at Plain Lawn Cemetery, Old Country Road, at 8:30 after which the group will visit the gravesite of William M. Gouse in Westbury.

A parade is scheduled for Monday, May 26 with assembly time at 8 a.m. (step off time 9 a.m.) at the Sears Parking field off North Broadway. The parade route will be south on Broadway to Old Country Road, west to Jerusalem Avenue to the Hicksville Junior H.S. and the reviewing stand adjacent to the War Monument.

Robert Boyd, left, Hicksville Post Office Tractor Trailer Operator was recently honored as the Long Island District "Driver of the Year". Roger Nienaber, Hicksville Manager-Postmaster presented him with a Special Achievement Award of $500. In his 25 years of postal service, Boyd has driven over 230,000 miles accident free.

R. Williams Day Anniv. Celebration

The 338th Robert Williams Day Anniversary was May 20, this past week. On many occasions over the years Hicksville's schools have reenacted the purchase of this area from the Matinecocks in 1648. Here is part of the schools' Centennial of the Long Island Railroad Reaching Hicksville Celebration in 1936. These high school students are now folks well into their sixties. Any identifications, readers? (photo from the archives of Historical Committee, Hicksville Gregory Museum)

Nursery School Takes A Trip

St. Stephen's Nursery School made a trip to Ed's Aquarium in East Meadow. The trip was made at Easter time because the fish is a symbol for Jesus Christ.

The children saw many fish. Some were large, some small. Some were gold, some were blue. They saw different birds, including a parrot. There were snakes. Some had shed their skin. The children were allowed to touch the skin.

The next thing they touched were the shells on turtles. They were surprised to find it so hard.

Before they left, they were all given a coupon for their very own goldfish. Of course, the children couldn't understand why they couldn't take it then.

Mrs. Nelson's class looked at the fish at Ed's Aquarium. Mrs. Nelson, Kristin Remavitch, Tommy Orr, Erica Sabatello, Ryan Walker, Barbara Botti, John Cashin, Bobby Becker, Nicholas Hanewinkel.

Mrs. Nelson's class from St. Stephen's Nursery School stood in front of Ed's Aquarium. First row, Bobby Becker, Ryan Walker, Tommy Orr. 2nd row, Barbara Botti, Michael Bell, John Cashin, Eric Sabatello, Nicholas Hanewinkel, Danielle Jelley. 3rd row, Mario Braccio, Marissa Notkas, Michael Williams, Kristin Remavitch, Christopher England.

News From Cub Pack 381

Cub Scout Pack 381

A Regatta Race was held at Pack 381's April Pack Meeting at Levittown Hall. All members received ribbons for participating. The top three winners received trophies and medals.

First Place - Billy Gillott, Den 1. Second Place - Stephen Consoli, Den 4. Third Place - Jimmy Schneider, Den 6.

After the Cubs raced, all the family members joined in the fun and raced against each other. Congratulations to the Winners!

On May 17, our Cubs and families participated in the Rough Rider Camporee, Stillwell Woods, Syosset. After the games we joined Boy Scout Troop 381 for a barbecue. In the afternoon the Boy Scout Troops displayed their talents for the Cubs. The Webelos camped overnight with the Boy scouts. The day was hot, but everyone had lots of fun.

Pack 381 will hold a garage sale and bazaar on Sat., May 31 at Dutch Lane School Parking lot. There will be activities for children as well: pony rides, pitch for fish, ring toss, coin toss and balloon pop game. Bring the family so they can play while you shop!

We will be accepting applications to join Pack 381 Cub Scouts (children in grades 2-5 as of September) at Holy Family School Lobby, Fordham Ave., and Newbridge Road, Hicksville on Sunday, June 8 at 2 p.m. Call Cubmaster Bob Codding at 796-3110, Com. Chairman Mary Higgins at 822-5477, or Asst. Cubmaster Cliff Walton at 735-5071, for more information.

Mid Island YMCA Library Award

The Mid-Island YMCA & YWHA Library received the Federation of Jewish Philanthropies Joseph Reiss Memorial Judaica Library Award. An honorarium and scroll were presented on May 15 to the three volunteers who created and run the library, Dorothy Savit, Claire Raskin, and Ruth Cohen.

The library serves as a lending library, a research center and is an integral part of Y programs. Here one can borrow children's books, books on art, novels, humor, ancient and modern history, Jewish holidays and customs, cook books....There is an extensive collection of books in Yiddish and Hebrew. The reference section includes the Babylonian Talmud, a Torah Anthology, a multivolume Hebrew Thesaurus and Dictionary and many other resources. Current magazines and newspapers, including the English language Jerusalem Post are also available.

Special story hours are held each of the Jewish holidays for five to eight year olds. Readings to nursery school children, a regular part of the school program, introduces them to the wonders of Jewish literature.

The library is operated completely by volunteers. Molly Sokel, Esther Wooster and Lisa Hadar are other volunteers.

Located in the Y at 45 Manetto Hill Road, Plainview, it is open from 1-3 on Monday, 10:30-4:00 on Tuesday, 10-12 and 1-3 on Wednesday, 10:30-3 on Thursday and 10-12 on Friday. For further information, call 516/822-3535.

Looney Appointed By Governor

Governor Mario M. Cuomo yesterday announced the reappointment of Patrick G. Looney of Hicksville to the Juvenile Justice Advisory Board.

Mr. Looney is the Lieutenant and Commanding Officer of the Juvenile Aid Bureau of the Nassau County Police Department. He has been reappointed to serve at the pleasure of the Governor.

The Juvenile Justice Advisory Board advises the Crime Control Planning Board in its deliberations on matters relating to the juvenile justice system, and to ensure optimum coordination of youth services provided by state and local youth serving agencies.

Members of the Board receive no salary.

Plainview Man Grumman Winner

Charles H. Buxton, Jr., of Plainview, shows clock he received as an award at Grumman Project Sterling Awards Dinner, as Daniel E. Knowles, left, Grumman vice president of Personnel and Administrative Services and Robert J. Myers, Sr., president of Grumman Services Division look on.

Charles H. Buxton, Jr., of Plainview won a total of $4,165 and a clock in 1985 for an idea he submitted to the Grumman Project Sterling employee suggestion program. His idea was rated second best of 2,509 turned in to the program during the year.

Buxton received $3,165 when his idea was implemented earlier this year. He picked up another $1,000 and the clock at the recent 20th Annual Project Sterling Awards Dinner, held at Millidge Cottage in Jericho.

Each year, Grumman selects the 11 most outstanding suggestions for recognition at the awards dinner. Selections are based on the suggester's effort, plus the latest assessment of the benefits generated by the idea.

A financial specialist in Resources and Business Analysis of Grumman Services Division, Buxton noticed that a Defense Acquisition Regulation provision was not being universally applied at Grumman. This provision allows contractors to establish a progress rate based on a complex government computer model. If used, it could reduce the company's need for short-term borrowing -- and the related interest costs.

Buxton suggested a small group be established within Business Operations to apply this computer model to applicable programs. The net result: a savings of $65,000 in the first year alone.

Atlantic City Day Trip

A day in Atlantic City at the Harrah's Marina, Wednesday, June 25, is being sponsored by the Plainview/Hicksville Unit of the American Cancer Society.

The Express Bus leaves Morton Village Shopping Center (Rex Place) at 9:30 a.m. Park on local streets.

To reserve your place, please send $10 tax-deductible check, (in accordance with IRS regulation) to American Cancer Society, 5 Acorn Lane, Plainview, N.Y. 11803. Send self-addressed, stamped envelope to receive tickets by return mail.

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby, second from left, meets with, left to right, Eileen Condon, Ethel Habensicht of Hicksville and Daniel Sarabbi. The three were all named "Senior of the Year" in recognition of their outstanding community involvement and volunteer service. Mrs. Condon is a member of the St. Kilian's Senior Citizen Club, where she serves on various committees and runs fund raisers and special events, such as a collection at Easter of special items for residents of the Suffolk Developmental Center. Mrs. Habensicht is a member of the Plainview Colonial Garden Senior Citizen Club and has been active for many years in the Town's Volunteer Services Program. She is also a volunteer at the Northport Veterans Hospital, putting in more than 5,000 hours in just the past five years. Mr. Sarabbi is a member of the North Massapequa Senior Citizen Club and is on the Senior Citizen Auxiliary Council for both a State Assemblyman and State Senator. He also serves as the Technical Commission on Legislation of the Nassau County Department of Senior Citizen Affairs.

Receive $5 in coins, and $5 be No Smoking permitted on the deferred. Buses will be loaded in bus. For further information, call same order as checks are received. Please note: There will 433-4204 or 681-0986.

New Officers For VFW Post

By P.P.C. Carmine A. Somma

April and May are always busy months of the year for us with nominating and electing new officers for the coming year. On April 21 we elected a new Commander and his officers for the coming year 1986-87. They are Comdr. William Schuck Jr., Sr. Vice Comdr. Robert Izzo, Jr., Vice Comdr. Vincent Ferrara, Quartermaster William Frohnehofer, Post Advocate George Walden, Chaplain Anthony Ferrara, Post Surgeon Joseph Adessio, Trustee, three years, Max Bergsohn, Trustee, two years, Anthony Chepak, Trustee, one year, Michael L. Cialdella, one year.

Our Delegates to Nassau County Council are Anthony Basile, Henry L. Gogolewski, Mike Tisdell, Anthony Chepak, Conrad Steers, William Schuck Jr. and Frank Molinari; the Alternates to Nassau County Council are Roger Giannante, August Barone, Joseph Messana, Ed Kondrake, Robert Izzo, Art Rettberg, and Mike Montelione. The Nominating Committee consisted of P.P.C. Conrad Steers, P.P.C. Carmine A. Somma, P.P.C. Vincent Edwards. The Installing Officer was P.P.C. Conrad Steers. Our newly elected officers of the Ladies Auxiliary are President Esther Palladino, Sr. Vice Pres. Rita Aug. Jr. Vice Pres. Theresa Tisdell, Treasurer Carmella Vitello, Chaplain Anita Stallone, Secretary Joan Chwalisz.

Congratulations to all the newly elected officers in the Post and our Ladies Auxiliary for the year 1986-87. The Post Installation Dinner and Dance for all our newly elected officers will be held May 24.

East St. Pageant Will Be On Display

A charming group picture of students and staff members participating in the East Street School Pageant of May 20, is on display in the reception area of the Hicksville Public Schools Administration Building on Division Avenue. Members of the community who might be able to identify some of those appearing in the photograph are invited to come in and take a look and help in gathering information for a caption. The photo depicts an event commemorating the 300th Anniversary of Hicksville and many youngsters are in costume or standing with symbolic props.

The Administration Building is open on weekdays from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Residents can also see the photo on Wednesday evenings, when the Board of Education holds committee and business meetings.

For more information, call the Community Relations office at 933-6589.

Favorable Rates For Tobay Bonds

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby has announced the sale of $17,800,000 of long-term serial bonds at a net interest rate of 7.057% to Chase Manhattan Bank.

Colby said that the favorable interest rate was attributable to the Town's high credit standing, the timing of the sale and the Town's excellent financial position.

"Since the Town qualified for M.B.I.A. insurance coverage, the bonds will be rated AAA by both Moody's Investors Service and Standard & Poor's Corporation," Colby said.

Letters

To the Editor:

In October, a committee was formed to look into the transportation policy in Hicksville. A referendum was presented in March and appeared on our recent May 7 Ballot.

Unfortunately, we were defeated, but for all their concern, work, energy, and endless belief that we were doing something in the best interest of our children, I would like to publicly thank our Transportation Committee which was comprised of: Eileen Cannizzaro, Al Ciacco, Mary Ann DeBenedetto, Janet Edlind, Joan Famiglietti, Vinnie Fleming, Ann Freycisen, Karen Gilmore, Shirley Johnson, Pat Longo, Pat Love and Romaine Schneider, no group could have done more.

We would also like to thank the Board of Education and the Administration for the opportunity to place this issue on the ballot.

It is tragic that the Budget did not pass and we hope that it will be resubmitted to a more "interested" public.

We also will continue to hope that since there were 898 voters interested in changing our "Transportation Policy" that there could be a future for this issue.

Sincerely,

Patricia Rooney

LEGAL NOTICE

PUBLIC NOTICE

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that, pursuant to law, a public hearing will be held in the Hearing Room, Town Hall, East Building, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, New York, on the 3rd day of June, 1986 at 10 o'clock a.m., prevailing time, or as soon thereafter as practicable, to consider amending Chapter 11, Garbage, Litter and Waste, of the Code of Ordinances of the Town of Oyster Bay, New York, as amended, as follows:

By AMENDING Sec. 11-46 Definitions; by AMENDING Sec. 11-67 Persons entitled to use Town facilities; by DELETING paragraphs (a) and (b); by AMENDING Sec. 11-72 Fees; by DELETING paragraph (2) of subsection (a) and ADDING new paragraphs (2) and (7). These amendments will limit the use of Town Disposal Facilities to members of the Town of Oyster Bay Solid Waste Disposal District. In addition, changes in Sec. 11-72 Fees will amend the fee to be charged to Type III permit holders which will reflect the true cost of disposal. All persons interested shall have an opportunity to be heard upon said proposed amendments at the time and place aforesaid. The ordinance and proposed amendments are on file in the Office of the Town Clerk and may be examined during regular business hours by any or all interested persons at Oyster Bay or Massapequa.

Waste Disposal Hearing Scheduled

The Oyster Bay Town Board scheduled a June 3 public hearing codifying the decision of certain municipalities to remove themselves of the Town's Refuse Disposal District.

The proposed changes define the incorporated and unincorporated areas from which solid waste is no longer accepted at Town facilities.

The Board will also consider requiring Type III waste disposal permit holders, operating within the District, a category comprised of non-taxpaying entities such as municipal agencies, to pay the prevailing per ton fee for shipping refuse out of state. This fee will be in addition to the tip fee.

The hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday, June 3, at 10 a.m. in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

We want to invest $10 million in the most advanced medical technology ever developed!

Human Beings.

They haven't a remote rival among the tools of medical science in their power to heal, to prevent illness, to assist in the safe delivery of our offspring.

That's why Winthrop-University Hospital, one of the nation's leading teaching hospitals, gives medical education, the development of human beings, the very highest priority. Along with our 90-year-old tradition for compassionate care.

That's why our Board of Directors has set a goal for $10 million in our Campaign for Medical Education. To maintain our position as a resource for the study of such challenging problems as heart disease, diabetes, cancer, osteoporosis and osteoarthritis...With a staff of 2,000 superbly trained doctors, nurses and technicians. And the sophisticated equipment and facilities to optimize their skills.

Dr. Robert H. Ebert, former Dean of Harvard Medical School and Honorary Co-Chairman of our Campaign for Medical Education, has said, "Today, Winthrop-University Hospital is as good as any university hospital any place in the country. Because it is a teaching hospital, it attracts some of the best people in the profession. This raises the quality of care. In the very best teaching hospitals, the care of the patient comes first. And that is true at Winthrop-University Hospital."

The Campaign for Medical Education will provide endowment to support our medical education programs as well as the funds to meet the never-ending need for more advanced equipment and facilities.

We are pleased and proud to announce pledges totalling $5 million. Now as we enter the public phase campaign, we need your support to raise the final $5 million.

As Long Island's oldest hospital (formerly known as Nassau Hospital), only widespread community support over the years has enabled us to sustain our educational and compassionate ideals in meeting the needs of a growing Long Island.

Your support of the Campaign for Medical Education will ensure that Winthrop-University Hospital will continue to put the best brains—and loving hearts—at the service of Long Islanders.

Your gift, of course, is tax-deductible. For further information, please call Robert L. Torre, Vice President-Development, Winthrop-University Hospital, 259 First Street, Mineola, NY 11501, (516) 663-2706.

THE OFFICE CAT

By Gabby Tabby

THE FEDERAL ENVIRONMENTAL agency is forming plans to monitor contamination at the Syosset landfill. The site has been a dump for 22 years but last week a final order forced the Town to truck garbage to Pennsylvania until some type of resource recovery system is approved. The entire project will contribute to increased taxes in the future. THE VFW will conduct this year's Memorial Day program in Hicksville on Monday. So turn out for the parade. WITH ALL of the past bad publicity behind them now, the Nassau GOP said this week that it will probably benefit in upcoming elections from all of the bad publicity Queens Democrats have been getting in the past months. The translation to ordinary voters might be: You can't trust politicians no matter what party they represent. THE POLICE REPORT is published each week as a public service to acquaint residents of where crime is taking place in the area and as an aid in the Neighborhood Watch program. Anyone seeing suspicious activity should phone 911. BURGLARS pried the front door of the Tehranian residence 434 Marginal Rd., Jericho on May 15. They entered and stole cash, jewelry and a VCR. THE REAR door of the Green residence 20 Merry Lane, Jericho was pried open on May 16. Burglars entered but the loss is unknown. GLASS in a rear window of the Zwerdling residence 6 Tobie Lane, Jericho was broken by burglars on May 16. They entered but the loss is unknown. A WALLET and cash were stolen from the Gridelli residence 368 Fairhaven Blvd., Woodbury on May 17. Entry was through a rear window. BURGLARS came through an unlocked rear window of the Stone residence 126 Pond Rd., Syosset on May 17. They stole a pocketbook and cash. POLICE are seeking a male 5 ft. 11 about 180 lbs. seen at the Sternbach home during the time of a burglary. Entry was by prying a rear door. A watch and a pocketbook were stolen. BURGLARS broke into the Placurez residence 370 W. John St., Hicksville between May 16 and 17. They entered through a rear window and stole a pocketbook, cash and jewelry. CASH and jewelry were stolen from the Seidler residence 252 Fairhaven Blvd., Syosset on May 17. They came through a rear door to gain entry. A VCR and TV were stolen from the Feldman residence 10 Pleasant Ave., Plainview on May 17. They entered by prying a rear door. A TV, VCR and jewelry were stolen from the Bantianniello residence 67 Cambria Rd., Syosset between May 17 and 18. Glass was broken in a rear window to gain entry. CASH and jewelry were stolen from the Bronstein home 9 Rosalie Drive, Plainview between May 17 and 18. The mode of entry is unknown. A SIMILAR burglary across the street at the Antonucci residence, 8 Rosalie Dr. netted cash but the means of entry is also unknown. GLASS in a side door at the Garden Inn restaurant, 99 Ames Ct., Plainview was broken by burglars between May 14 and 15. They entered and stole cash. LINGERIE games and body lotion were stolen from the Lingerie Tree 732 Old Country Rd., Hicksville between May 17 and 18. The glass in the front window was broken to gain entry. BURGLARS broke into the Rotenberg residence 21 Nautilus Ave., Plainview on May 16. They cut a rear window screen and stole $11 and a VCR. THREE breakins were reported at Nassau Medical Center, 11801 Old Country Rd., Plainview on May 15 but the loss is unknown. That's all the news for now. G.T.

A Miller Drama HHS Presentation

Hicksville High School will present "A View from the Bridge" by Arthur Miller on May 29, 30, 31. This gripping drama will be performed "in the round." The audience will be seated around the performers, rather than "out front." This creates a very intimate theater experience, since all members of the audience sit within a few feet of the playing area.

The story centers on Eddie Carbone, played by Rob Dombrowsky, his niece Catherine, played by Gina Aiello, his wife, Beatrice, played by Jeanmarie Georgiano, and two illegal Italian immigrants, played by Mike Kurnan and Steve Ludwig. Other cast members include Matt Lloyd, John Hawkins, and Bob Senn.

Performances will be at 8 p.m.

on Friday and Saturday and at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday. Tickets for all performances are $2m and senior citizens will be admitted free of charge on Thursday evening.

Mr. Len Goldman, President of Worldwide Technical Research Corporation was the featured speaker at a recent Hicksville Rotary Club luncheon meeting. Mr. Goldman represents a number of international corporations and assists Nassau and Suffolk counties in trying to attract foreign business to Long Island and to help Long Island business firms to sell overseas. Following a lively question and answer period, Mr. Goldman was presented with the Hicksville Club's Certificate of Appreciation. (Official Rotary Photo by Joe DePaola)

Manetto Hill Tree Dedication

Rabbi Gary G. Perlas of The Manetto Hill Jewish Center cordially invites the entire community to join the congregation in a gala celebration marking the dedication of a grove of 1,000 trees in Israel. This program, which is free to the entire community, will take place on Wednesday evening, June 4, at 7:30 p.m., at the Manetto Hill Jewish Center, 244 Manetto Hill Road, Plainview. Because children will be attending, the program will be concluded by 9:15 p.m.

The program will include an outstanding Israeli entertainment group, the Aleph Duo, who have appeared extensively on television, radio, and in personal concerts. Avraham Albrecht was principal soloist in the prestigious Israel Army Choir and has sung with the National Opera Company and Molly Picon. Avshalom Zifra is from Jerusalem of Yemenite ancestry and has concertized around the world. In a recent New York Times article, he was described as "...an elegant lyric-tenor with superb diction and great skill." The Aleph Duo performs a diversity of songs in Hebrew, English, Yiddish, Yemenite, Neopolitan, Spanish, and Italian. They will be accompanied on the piano by Elsi Levy.

The featured speaker of the evening is the nationally prominent Rabbinic, Zionist, and Jewish leader, Rabbi Joseph P. Sternstein, Rabbi of Temple Beth Shalom in Roslyn Heights. He is the current national president of the Jewish National Fund, vice-chairman of the National Conference of Soviet Jewry, and the past-president of the Zionist Organization of America. Rabbi Sternstein has traveled widely on behalf of world Jewish affairs, has written extensively, and is recognized as one of the great Jewish personalities of our generation.

Another part of the program will be dedicated to honoring the children of the congregation who in large measure helped make the tree project a success. The children will be recognized and will receive a unique one-of-a-kind gift to remember their participation.

At the conclusion of the program, refreshments, sponsored by the Manetto Hill Jewish Center's Sisterhood, will be served.

Because members of the community at large, Jewish and Christian, participated in this effort to purchase a grove, the congregation expresses its appreciation by inviting the entire community to attend.

For reservations and information, please call the synagogue office between 9:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m., Monday through Friday, at 935-5454.

Playhouse Presents 'Spider's Web'

Medal Awarded To Police Officer

On May 13, Nassau County Police Department presented the Medal of Commendation to Police Officer Wellenreuther.

On February 27, at about 12:40 a.m., two suspects, armed with a twelve gauge shotgun, forcefully entered a home in Syosset and robbed the occupants. In the process of breaking into the home, one of the suspects fired the shotgun into the front door injuring one of the occupants who was attempting to keep them out.

Following the robbery, police officers at the scene broadcast a description of a suspicious vehicle observed in the vicinity prior to the robbery. Police Officer Wellenreuther, operating Radio Motor Patrol 201 in the Incorporated Village of Bayville, during a 11:30 p.m. to 7:30 a.m. tour of duty observed a vehicle fitting the description, driving in the area.

Police Officer Wellenreuther notified Communications Bureau that he was following the vehicle in a red pickup truck and requested assistance. At the intersection of Bayville Avenue and Perry Avenue in Bayville, the truck stopped at a red light. At the time the driver of the truck got out and walked back towards Police Officer Wellenreuther's police car which was parked a distance behind. He asked the Police Officer directions to the Long Island Expressway.

Police Officer Wellenreuther

who had taken some precautionary measures to ensure his safety prior to his conversation with the driver and knowing that assistance would take a while to arrive, used the ploy of asking the driver to pull over to the side of the road.

After pulling to the side of the road, the driver and a passenger exited the truck. Police Officer Wellenreuther observed an additional two persons in the truck acting in a suspicious manner apparently trying to hide something.

In order to put the suspects at a disadvantage, Officer Wellenreuther put on the rooftop take-down lights and bright lights on. He ordered the suspects at gunpoint to take positions in which he could control them safely.

The subsequent investigation and followup procedures resulted in the arrest of three individuals as well as the recovery of the loaded shotgun and stolen property.

One individual was charged with attempted murder, second degree and robbery first degree. The other two suspects were charged with robbery first degree.

Police Officer Wellenreuther displayed both courage and a presence of mind in a very dangerous situation. His actions were very much deserving of the Award.

"Reading Champions" of Old Country Road School read 1,154 books to raise $1,007.67 for the Long Island March of Dimes to help in the fight against birth defects.

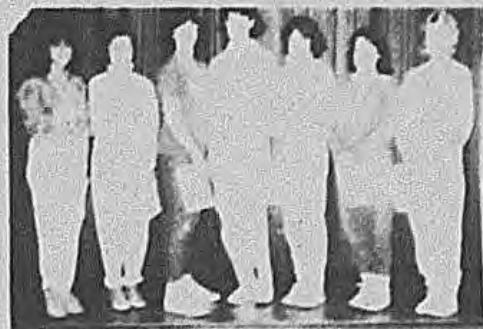

In the program the child selects books, at their own reading level to read for their own pleasure. The sponsors are signed up among family, friends and neighbors who pledge to donate an amount of money to the March of Dimes for each book the child reads. Each book the child has read has been certified.

Each child who participated received the enrichment of the books they have read and the acknowledgement that the money collected went to such a worthy cause. All the children involved received an iron-on emblem and were eligible for a distinguished certificate of achievement or a handsome Reading Champions Medal.

Gold medals were awarded for reading 21 or more books, silver medals were presented for reading 15 to 20 books, and bronze medals went to students who read 8 to 14 books.

Two Rob Truck Driver

A 27 year old truck driver from Maple Park, IL, was robbed as he was sitting in his truck on the east bound shoulder of the Long Island Expressway in Plainview on May 16.

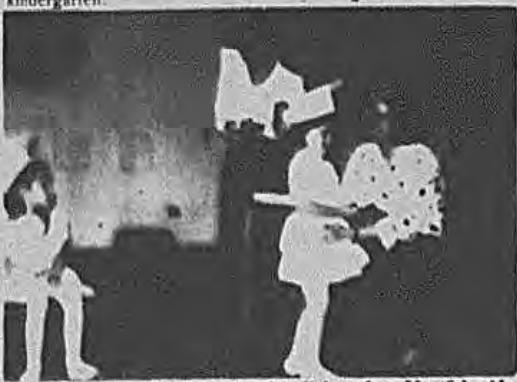

John Pettitt of Route 2 in Maple Park, IL, was reading a map when he was approached by two male blacks. One of the subjects jumped up and placed a gun to his head and demanded his wallet. Pettitt complied and handed over his wallet containing 60 dollars and credit cards. The subjects then fled the scene in a '65 Chevy Impala, east bound on the L.I.E.

Woodland Pre-K Graduation Day

On May 14, the Woodland Avenue pre-kindergarten class had its graduation. Mrs. Love and Mrs. Werchenski worked with the children to put on their graduation program. The children were adorable as they sang songs for their parents.

Afterwards, everyone enjoyed cupcakes, cookies, apple juice and coffee. This was sure one happy group looking forward to September's kindergarten.

An invitation from America's largest and fastest growing real estate company: START AT THE TOP ... AND EARN YOUR WAY UP FROM THERE!

On January 1, 1984, there were no Coldwell Banker residential real estate offices on Long Island (although there were already 1600 offices nationwide).

Now there are 18 Coldwell Banker offices on Long Island, and more on the way.

This rapid growth has created ground floor opportunities — at the top — for real estate sales professionals of all experience levels.

As a member of the Sears Financial Network, we also offer our sales associates the opportunity to participate in certain Dean Witter retirement plans.

Your sales efforts will be aided by a major network television advertising campaign, run in conjunction with regionwide and local newspaper and radio advertising.

And Coldwell Banker is committed to becoming the dominant real estate company on Long Island.

Our newest Long Island sales office, located at 327 Jackson Avenue in Syosset, is managed by experienced North Shore real estate broker Kay Ridini.

President's List At Berkeley School

The Berkeley School of Long Island in Hicksville has announced the names of students receiving honors for the winter quarter 1984.

Students named to the President's List have received a minimum average of 4.0.

From Bethpage, Elizabeth Rugen, fashion marketing management and from Hicksville, Donna Macik, executive secretarial program were named to the List.

Art Exhibit In June

On Monday, June 4, the Independent Art Society will wind up the season with a smashing demonstration of painting with pastels by award winning artist, Fleur Byers. All interested persons are cordially invited to the community room of the Hicksville Library, 169 Jerusalem Avenue, at 7:30 p.m. for the program and refreshments.

District-Wide Spring Festival

The Hicksville Spring Festival will be celebrated throughout the district on Monday through Friday, June 4 to 8, as exciting events unfold in several locations in Hicksville. An outgrowth of the annual Expo displays, the festival has expanded to include additional activities. Concerts on the Junior High School lawn, a community art show at the Junior High gymnasium, and live performances at the Milleridge Inn on Friday are scheduled in addition to the individual Expo events to be held at the elementary schools. Consult the forthcoming issue of the Bulletin Board for a complete schedule of events, and plan to attend these exciting presentations. All events are open to the public free of charge, and visitors are invited to bring a picnic basket and enjoy "al fresco" dining while listening to the noon and evening concert programs.

Board of Education members and staff members involved in the planning hope that the Spring Festival will be celebrated as an annual showcase of the talent of Hicksville residents of all ages. The Community Swing Band and the Community Chorus will join with Hicksville students in participating in the concert programs, and Hicksville residents and staff members, as well as, students, have been invited to exhibit work in the Community Art Show. The regular schedule ends on Thursday, and small performing groups and a selection from the art show will be brought to the Milleridge Inn on Friday as the festival concludes for 1984.

Community members interested in exhibiting work in the art show are asked to call 933-6602 or 933-6589 for a pamphlet containing information and instructions. These pamphlets are also available at the Administration Building on Division Avenue.

Input Callers Believe Crime News Should Be Given

Most callers to Input believe that some publicity should be given to crime in the area including burglaries in the home. However, some have reservations on how much information should be given in answer to this question: "Do you think that local newspapers should print information about local crimes?" Here are some of the answers:

TOO GENERALIZED

I think your question tends to be too generalized. Yes, there is a benefit in printing some information about local crime. Break-ins to houses should be noted as a precautionary measure and it probably is necessary to give details that would help other people in the surrounding area to know how to put up their guards. But, too much emphasis on local crime might give a distorted image of the generally peaceful place we live. The editor has to use judgement. K.R.

WRONG IDEA

No. I do not think that your paper should have given my name, address and where the burglars came into my house. You just made a blueprint for it to happen again. I think it is wrong and I think these records should be private and not available to everyone to see. We did not ask for the break-in, so we do not ask for the publicity. We had to make a police report for insurance purposes and it should have remained confidential. J.R.

ALERT COMMUNITY

Yes. There is no doubt about it that the entire community should be alerted when burglars hit one house. In that way there are thousands of eyes and ears to get in touch with the police. In this respect, the inconvenience of a few in having unwanted publicity is the price that has to be paid for helping the entire community to live with less crime. I believe it should get publicity. L.E.

EMBARRASSMENT

The answer I have is burglaries, robberies and other attacks on people in the area should be reported. But family arguments, small neighbor disputes, etc. should be kept out of the paper because they are settled and then the people involved are embarrassed for a long time.

BETTER COMMUNITY

I believe that crime should be reported. We pay a large amount of our taxes for a police department and it is necessary to know about crime happening to judge whether it is doing an effective job of controlling crime. The other benefits are in alerting people so that they can report things to the police. In communities where people do not cooperate with police, crime gets a big boost. M.T.

WORTHWHILE

Please do not make sensational issued out of crime reporting to gain the interest of readers in the details rather than in the idea of preventing crime. If you keep that in mind and do not go overboard, I believe that factual crime reports would serve a worthwhile purpose. G.F.

NEED FOLLOW UP

Of course they should! We've had a robbery in our home and it was listed in the Garden City News along with other similar break-ins. We thought nothing of the publicity it received and were concerned only with the fact that a hostile stranger had entered our home, our privacy had been violated, and illegal possession had been taken of our treasured personal items. After the initial shock, common sense took over and steps were taken to effect recovery or replacement as far as possible through insurance. We regretted the loss of sentimental items, irreplaceable from a nostalgic point of view, which I guess is often the major tragedy. However, we had no aversion to a public announcement of our loss and, I guess, actually felt that it did some good in sharpening our own awareness and that of our neighbors—some of whom also suffered similar break-ins in the same period. In that sense, I guess we felt that misery loves company and with the "neighborhood watch" in mind, concluded that the publicity actually heightened the resolve to keep an eye open. What I don't see treated in the same report form is the result of police action after burglaries—anything to indicate that investigative steps had been taken and the results if any. Hopefully, some of these criminals are caught and that should receive the same type of publicity which is accorded the original crimes. From what I have seen, once the burglary has taken place and been reported, it drops into a deep dark abyss of nothingness. Perhaps that's what causes people to worry about the publicity—the lack of follow-up reports to show that action has been taken and, in certain cases, has proven effective. The public certainly has a right to know. P.G.S.

What Did Nathan Hale Really Say?

By Richard H. Godwin, M.D.

What Did Nathan Hale really say? (As it pertains to present day language, common usage sometimes does justify the acceptance of what was formerly unacceptable. Since the events described in the article which follows occurred over 200 years ago, this concept, obviously does not apply.)

To often the word, "only" is used improperly both in speech and in writing.

Perhaps one of the most conspicuous examples of the misuse of the word appears in the statement supposedly made by Nathan Hale just before he died: "I only regret that I have but one life to give for my country."

Simple reasoning will establish that we have only the assertion of some British soldiers as to what he said or what they thought he said; an assertion made by persons in all probability less than proficient in the use of their King's English.

The question at issue concerns the placing or location of the word, "only".

To say that he only regrets means just that - that he does nothing else but regret. He doesn't take comfort or rest satisfied, or anything else; he only regrets. Besides, such usage unduly raises the importance of the word, "regret" as compared to what follows.

What then, did Hale really say? Possibly his British captors misheard him and mistook the word, "My" for "I"; in which case he correctly said, "My only regret is that I have but one life to give for my country." Or he could have said, "I regret only that I have but one life to give for my country." Most likely, however, he said, "I regret that I have only one life to give for my country."

With a choice of three correct ways of phrasing his statement, it seems unlikely that Hale, a Yale College graduate and successful school teacher for two years, would have chosen a fourth, incorrect way to express himself; one which, unfortunately, will be with us for all time.

A hero of the stature of Nathan Hale, deserves at the very least, a correction in the words attributed to him; our unqualified respect for a great patriot; and a flawless place in history.

LITTLE BUT BIG

The Italian Garden Restaurant at 348 E. Jericho Turnpike, Mineola isn't the biggest restaurant you have listed, but it may be among the best.

We went there last week and enjoyed the fine pasta, shrimp and veal dishes that this big little restaurant serves. You get the feeling that things are being prepared for you instead of on the big assembly line, the way things are done in the very large restaurants.

The food is fine Neapolitan. The service is prompt, personal and well done. This is a restaurant that should be recommended.

R.K.

FINE FISH

Last week we went to an authentic Portuguese Restaurant named Estoril Granada. It is located on Mineola Blvd. in Mineola. The fish dishes there are simply wonderful and so many of them offer sauces that are not found anywhere else.

We had a party of four there on Thursday and all of them said that they want to come back again.

The service and the decor make it a nice place to go. I'm sure that other of your readers would want to try it also.

Very pleased

We have visited several times the Villa Portofino on Mineola Blvd. in Mineola and have been very, very pleased. We had stuffed veal which was fantastic, the mixed fish dish was great and the service was very concerned, not to mention the owners. After four or five visits we continue to be pleased and want you to really plug this restaurant because it's the best in Italian food!

Q. After finishing a meal at a good restaurant I had an experience that could have been avoided by the restaurant. When I offered a particular credit card the waiter said that they did not honor that card and did I have another. I did not have another and barely had enough money to pay in cash. Shouldn't the restaurant have told us in advance which credit cards they accept?

A. Not exactly. You should have inquired in advance if you did not see a decal of the card you had on display. They really have no way of knowing what card you have and it is an accommodation to you that the cards are accepted so you should have borne the responsibility.

Q. Is it allowed for a restaurant to include a tip, automatically, on the bill for food ordered? A friend and I had that happen recently and resented it because the service was very poor and we felt a tip was not in order. Please answer.

A. No. In this country the custom is not to add any tip to the bill and unless the menu stating the prices clearly says that this will be done it is not correct. Most people would not be happy with that system in the U.S. because diners have always had a flexible tip system in which they could give a better tip for better service and if it is not kept then the tip is just a fee.

Have The Last Word

This newspaper, and the seven other weekly newspapers associated with it, publishes the last word in restaurant guides - a paid listing of many prominent selected restaurants in this area. While many of them have been rated by the great, and near great, food connoisseurs, our readers will have the last word through "Reader Ratings."

Through a special 24 hour phone system, readers will be asked to call in their assessment of each restaurant they visit. Consensus ratings (good or bad) will be published as a continuing part of the guide.

In addition they can make suggestions, compliments or criticisms through the open phone line and messages will be sent through to the restaurant management.

READER RATINGS

AMONG THE BEST

I have never seen anyone call me about Koenig's Restaurant in Floral Park, in spite of the fact that it is one of the best restaurants in Nassau County. Many of your readers may not know that the Pritikin Diet that is on the menu at Koenig's is tasty and a good way to dine out. They steer clear of salt, sugar and oil.

But those who do not want the Pritikin Diet that I am following, can eat the best in continental food at Koenig's as people have been doing for many years. They have outstanding steaks and salads. When we went there last week the other members of our steak dinner, while I can truthfully say I enjoyed the Pritikin menu.

READER RATINGS

Q. Is it normal restaurant procedure for a waiter or waitress to say "will this be on the dinner or a la carte?" before taking one's order in a moderate restaurant? I had a very embarrassing experience recently because a waitress didn't ask this information. Over the years, I have always been asked this question and never been in trouble. All the better restaurants in the city seem to do this. Thank you. J.

A. You are right. The waitress should tell you of the possibilities on the menu and she should inform you of how she is carrying it on her ticket.

Q. Tipping has always bothered me. I know there are many facets to it but why do I have to tip at all? J.C.

A. The answer to this is obvious if you think about it. If you want any control at all over what type of service you are going to get you should be able to give more or less according to how you have been treated.

Many people may not know it but waiters generally get a very low wage scale, some below minimum wage because tips can be expected to balance the scale and they do depend on between a 15 percent and 20 percent tip to make the job worthwhile.

Cooking Corner

A parade of grandma's favorite dishes

By Verne Palmer

I will never forget my grandmother's homemade bread and biscuits, nor my mother's fried chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy. Their smell, taste and texture are as firmly imprinted on my mind as the salute to the flag and the Lord's Prayer.

They are my "comfort foods," the foods of my childhood, the foods by which all such dishes were measured.

While comfort foods differ from individual to individual — and certainly from region to region — there are those dishes universal enough to strike a common chord.

They have, by some unexplained combination of appeal, durability and serendipity become symbolic of shared origins and experiences: foods like apple pie (as American as), Swiss steak, scalloped potatoes and chocolate chip cookies.

They also have become, in one of life's more ironic quirks, "trendy."

Meat loaf, that workhorse of the dinner menu, mashed potatoes — with or without lumps — and bread pudding are turning up on some of the highest-priced menus in town.

Since nostalgia is obviously "in," why not take a culinary trip down memory lane with some of Middle America's best loved foods?

The dishes that follow — with the exception of the mashed potato recipe, which is Mom's own — were taken from Campbell's "Great American Cookbook," a culinary treasury of more than 500 best-loved recipes from Colonial times to the present.

SOUTHERN FRIED CHICKEN

WITH CREAM GRAVY

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup all-purpose flour
- 1 tsp. salt
- $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. pepper
- 2 lbs. chicken parts
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup bacon drippings or salad oil
- 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ cups milk or light cream
- 1 tbsp. chopped parsley
- Hot mashed potatoes

In paper bag, combine flour, salt and pepper. Add chicken a few pieces at a time. Close bag and shake to coat chicken. Repeat with remaining chicken pieces. Reserve 2 tablespoons flour mixture.

In 10-inch skillet over medium-high heat, in hot bacon drippings, cook chicken pieces until well browned on all sides, turning frequently. Reduce heat to low. Cover; cook about 35 minutes until chicken is fork tender, turning pieces occasionally. Uncover during last few minutes to crisp skin. Remove chicken pieces to warm platter; keep warm.

To make gravy: Pour off all but 2 tablespoons drippings from skillet; blend in 2 tablespoons reserved flour mixture. Over medium heat, cook until golden, stirring and scraping bits loose from skillet.

MASHED POTATOES

- 4 medium-size potatoes, peeled and cut in pieces
- Salt to taste
- 2 tbsps. butter (or to taste)
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup half and half

Cook potatoes until tender. Drain and mash with mixer or potato masher until there are no lumps. Add salt, butter and half and half. Whisk with a fork or electric mixer until smooth.

Biscuits, known as often for being hard and tough as for being light and flaky, owe their popularity to their quick baking. In the times before baking powder, bakers used homemade yeast or pearl ash to raise their biscuits. On the Western ranges, biscuits usually were made with sourdough. In the kitchens of the South, cooks pounded the dough with mallets or hatchets for half an hour to make beaten biscuits. When baking powder became commercially available in the 19th century, biscuits became lighter and more dependable.

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. sugar
- $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. salt
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup shortening
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup milk

Preheat oven to 450 F. In large bowl, combine flour, baking powder, sugar, salt and baking soda. With pastry blender or two knives, cut in shortening until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add milk, with fork, stir just until dough clings together.

Turn onto lightly floured surface, knead gently 10 to 12 strokes. Roll to $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch thickness. Cut into $2\frac{1}{2}$ -inch rounds. Reroll and cut trimmings into rounds. Place on ungreased baking sheet.

Bake 12 minutes or until golden. Makes 12 biscuits.

We say, "as American as apple pie." Yet in Vermont, the apples are sweetened with maple sugar; in Wisconsin, the pie is topped with savory cheddar cheese; the Pennsylvania Dutch version is made from dried apples; and in the Northwest, where most American apples are grown, apple pie is simply the freshest apples baked in a flaky crust.

APPLE PIE

- Pastry for 2-crust pie
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 tbsps. all-purpose flour
- 1 tsp. ground cinnamon
- $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. salt
- 6 cups thinly sliced, peeled and cored cooking apples
- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
- 1 tbsp. lemon juice

Prepare pastry. Roll out half of pastry and line 9-inch pie plate. Preheat oven to 425 F.

In large bowl, combine sugar, flour, cinnamon and salt. Add apples; toss to mix well. Spoon mixture into piecrust. Dot with butter, sprinkle with lemon juice.

Roll out remaining pastry for top crust; cut a few slashes and cover apple mixture with slashed top crust. Flute edge.

Bake 35 to 40 minutes until crust is golden brown.

Tip: If piecrust edges begin to brown too much during baking, cover them with strips of foil to prevent overbrowning.

Makes 8 servings.

OLD-FASHIONED MEAT LOAF

- 1 lb. ground beef
- $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. ground pork
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup crushed saltines
- $\frac{1}{4}$ cup milk
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 1 large onion, finely chopped
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 tbsps. Worcestershire
- 2 tbsps. ketchup
- $\frac{1}{2}$ tsp. salt
- 1 tsp. dry mustard
- $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. pepper

In large bowl, thoroughly mix all ingredients. In 12-by-8-inch baking pan, shape meat into 8-by-4-inch loaf. Drizzle with additional ketchup.

Bake at 350 F. 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 2 hours until done. Let stand 5 minutes; spoon off fat.

Makes 9 servings.

Bread pudding is a comforting, homey dessert of English ancestry that migrated to America along with the pilgrims. It originated with the need to use up stale bread. This transplanted American specialty is enjoying new popularity in restaurants and homes across the country.

BREAD PUDDING

- 3 eggs
- 3 cups milk
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tbsp. vanilla extract
- $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. salt
- 4 cups soft, firm-textured

After Work Gourmet

bread cubes
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup raisins

Preheat oven to 325 F. Butter 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ -quart casserole. In large bowl with wire whisk, beat eggs until frothy. Beat in milk, sugar, cinnamon, vanilla and salt until combined. Stir in bread cubes and raisins; let stand 5 minutes. Stir again; pour mixture into prepared casserole.

Set casserole in baking pan; place on oven rack. Add boiling water to baking pan to reach halfway up side of casserole. Bake 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours or until knife inserted near center comes out clean.

Among the classic homespun dishes that enrich America's culinary tradition is chicken and dumplings, a favorite recipe for using hen whose laying days were over. Slow simmering tenderized the tough old birds, then a dumpling dough was added to the savory broth. This recipe is still enjoyed today, although stewing chickens are less common than they once were.

CHICKEN DUMPLINGS

- 1 5-lb. stewing chicken
- 3 stalks celery, sliced
- 2 carrots, sliced
- 1 onion, chopped
- 2 bay leaves
- $2\frac{1}{2}$ tbsps. salt
- $\frac{1}{4}$ tsp. pepper
- 5 cups water
- $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups all-purpose flour
- 1 tbsp. baking powder
- 1 tbsp. chopped parsley
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk
- 1 egg

Remove neck and giblets from inside chicken; cut chicken into serving pieces. Rinse under running cold water. In 6-quart Dutch oven, combine chicken, neck, giblets, celery, carrots, onion, bay leaves, 2 teaspoons salt and pepper; add water. Over high heat, heat to boiling. Reduce heat to low. Cover; simmer 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ hours or until chicken is fork-tender. Spoon off most of fat. Discard bay leaves.

Meanwhile, in medium bowl with fork, combine flour, baking powder, parsley and remaining $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt. In small bowl with fork, mix milk and egg; slowly stir into flour mixture until soft dough forms.

Drop dough by heaping tablespoonfuls onto simmering chicken. Cover tightly; cook 20 minutes without lifting cover.

To serve: Spoon chicken and dumplings into serving dish; spoon some of pan juices over.

fish preparations that take full advantage of Chinese sauces and seasonings.

To the Chinese, foods often have symbolic meanings that are just as important as the foods' nutritional value. Fish, for example, is called yu, which also means surplus. The word is traditionally a cherished one in China, since it suggests an image of plenty and comfort.

During the first month of the year, people in the province of Hunan celebrate the beginning of the new lunar cycle by planning elaborate banquets and exchanging visits. At each banquet it is traditional for the host to set out a whole fish, and to ritually ask his guests, "Will you eat the yu (excess)?" The guests know that they must decline. Should one of the guests, through ignorance or malice, help himself to the fish, the host would face a year of want and poverty.

Perhaps to avoid such a breach of manners, many Hunanese hosts set out a fish that has spoiled and is clearly inedible. Others "offer" their guests a fish carved of wood, so that the yu cannot be eaten by mistake.

Most Chinese fish dishes call for whole fish. In Hunan and Szechuan provinces, almost all recipes for fish are for fresh-water species, since both provinces lie far inland. Farmers in these provinces generally have a stocked fishpond behind their houses, so that they always have fresh fish available.

Fillets work well in most Chinese fish recipes, and today's may be prepared with sole, haddock, grouper, mackerel, pompano or swordfish, as well as with whole fish such as trout.

In both of today's recipes, traditional Chinese methods of preparation have been adapted for American kitchens, and the ingredients listed are readily available in this country.

SPICY CHINESE

time: 25-30 minutes

- 1 cup chicken stock
- 1 tbsp. soy sauce
- 2 tbsps. dry sherry
- 2 tbsps. sesame oil
- 1/4 tsp. sugar
- 1 heaping tsp. hot chili paste* (emergency substitute: 1 1/4 tsp. Tabasco)
- 1 lb. firm, white fish fillets
- 1/2 cup cornstarch (for dredging fish)
- 1/2 cup peanut oil
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tsp. fresh ginger, minced
- 2 tbsps. grated lemon rind
- 8 dried black mushrooms, soaked in warm water and thinly sliced (optional)*
- 12 water chestnuts, thinly sliced
- 4 scallions, thinly sliced
- 1 carrot, cut in matchstick-size slivers
- 1 tbsp. cornstarch, mixed with 1 1/2 tbsps. water

Stir together chicken stock, soy sauce, sherry, sesame oil, sugar and chili paste. Set aside.

Dip fish fillets in cornstarch until thoroughly coated. Shake off any excess cornstarch. In large cast-iron or non-stick skillet, heat oil until very hot and briefly saute fillets until crisp and brown on both sides. Drain fillets on paper towels. Pour off all but 1 tablespoon oil, and reduce heat to moderate.

Toss in garlic, ginger and lemon rind, and stir-fry for 10 seconds

Add mushrooms, water chestnuts, scallions and carrots and stir-fry for 2-3 minutes, until vegetables begin to soften.

Add chicken stock mixture, bring to a boil and stir in enough cornstarch liquid to thicken slightly. Return fish fillets to pan and simmer in sauce until heated through.

Serve fillets and sauce over brown or white rice.

CRISP SWEET AND SOUR FISH

Preparation/cooking time: 30 minutes

- 1 lb. firm, white fish fillets cut into 3-4-inch pieces
- 4 cups peanut oil
- 2 scallions, minced
- 1 tbsp. fresh ginger, minced
- 1 tbsp. garlic, minced
- MARINADE:
- 2 tbsps. dry white wine or dry sherry
- 2 tbsps. soy sauce
- 1 tsp. salt
- BATTER:
- 1/4 cup flour
- 1/4 cup cornstarch
- 1 egg
- SEASONINGS:
- 2 tbsps. cornstarch, mixed with 4 tbsps. water

Serves 2.

- 3 tbsps. soy sauce
- 2 tbsps. white wine or dry sherry
- 1 tbsp. white vinegar
- 2 tbsps. sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 2 tbsps. ketchup
- 1 tbsp. sesame oil

Mix together marinade ingredients. Place fillets on platter and sprinkle on both sides with marinade. Set aside.

To make batter, sift cornstarch and flour into large bowl. Mix in water and beat in egg. The batter should be thick and pastelike. If it is too thick, thin it with a little water. Add fillets to batter and toss gently, making sure fish pieces are completely covered.

Mix seasoning ingredients together in a small bowl. Heat peanut oil in wok, saucepan or deep fryer until very hot. Fry fish pieces, two or three at a time, until crisp and golden brown. Remove and drain on paper towels.

Pour off all but 2 tablespoons of cooking oil. Heat oil and add scallions, ginger and garlic, and stir-fry for several seconds. Add seasonings, stir and return fish pieces to wok. Allow to heat through, stirring gently, being careful not to break up fish. Remove fillets and sauce to serving dish and serve immediately.

Serves 2.

1 large carrot cut in small, uniform chunks

Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)/MEDIUM (50 percent power)

Place butter in 3-quart glass casserole. Microwave at HIGH setting 30 seconds to 1 minute, until melted.

Add lamb and onions. Sprinkle with flour, stirring to coat, then stir in water, wine, bouillon, salt, pepper and thyme.

Cover and microwave 5 minutes on HIGH. Stir in potatoes and carrots. Reduce setting to MEDIUM and microwave, covered, 30 to 35 minutes longer, until meat and vegetables are tender.

Let stand, covered, 5 minutes before serving.

Serves 4 to 6.

LAMB MEATBALLS

- 1 1/2 lbs. ground lamb
- 2 tbsps. dried mint leaves, crumbled
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 tsp. ground cumin
- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
- 1 large onion, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 tsp. flour
- 1/4 cup water
- 2 tbsps. white wine
- 1 tsp. dried parsley flakes, or 2 tbsps. fresh, chopped parsley
- 1 tsp. turmeric
- 1/4 tsp. chili powder

Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

In small mixing bowl combine lamb, mint, salt, pepper and cumin. Scoop out by tablespoons and shape into small meatballs.

Arrange meatballs in 2 1/2-quart glass casserole. Microwave 5 to 7 minutes, stirring gently several times, until meat is no longer pink. Drain and set aside.

Combine butter, onion and garlic in 1 1/4-quart glass casserole. Cover and microwave 3 to 4 minutes, stirring once or twice, until onion is tender.

Blend in flour, then stir in remaining ingredients. Microwave 2 1/2 to 3 1/2 minutes, until sauce is heated through, stirring twice.

Stir in meatballs and microwave 2 to 3 minutes longer, to reheat meatballs. Serve over hot, cooked rice or noodles.

Serves 6.

MICROWAVE MAGIC

Lean, flavorful lamb

By Desiree Vives

Looking for something different for dinner? Why not try lamb?

The lamb in today's market is young, tender and low in calories. No wonder so many Americans are discovering this tasty meat.

"Spring" lamb means baby lamb — and most of the lamb marketed in the United States today is under 8 months of age, so almost all cuts are very tender. Even less expensive cuts cook up moist and juicy in the microwave.

Microwave lamb roasts at MEDIUM-LOW or DEFROST setting (about 270 watts, or 30 percent power). This cooks the meat more slowly, more evenly, and results in less shrinkage. (Lamb should be completely thawed before cooking.)

For a rare roast, allow 14 to 17 minutes per pound; for medium, allow 18 to 21 minutes, and for well-done, 22 to 26 minutes per pound. Larger roasts should be cooked, uncovered, on a microwave-safe roasting rack. Rotate for even cooking.

A meat thermometer is the most accurate measure for doneness. For a leg of lamb, insert thermometer probe into meaty area under joint. For a boneless rolled roast, insert into cut end so that probe is in center of roast.

Thermometer should register 165 F when meat is removed from oven. Cover with foil and let stand until thermometer registers 180 F, to complete cooking.

Lamb chops may be browned for several minutes on a preheated browning skillet, then finish cooking on MEDIUM-LOW setting for about half an hour.

Mint jelly is the classic accompaniment to roasted lamb. Or embellish the flavor of the meat with a variety of herbs and seasonings. Favorites include rosemary, thyme, basil, curry powder, cracked pepper, garlic and lemon. If you thought you weren't too wild about lamb, give today's no-hassle microwave recipes a try. You might just discover you're a lamb-lover after all.

PEASANTS LAMB CASSEROLE

- 2 tbsps. butter or margarine
- 1 1/2 lbs. boneless lamb, cut in 1/4-inch cubes
- 2 large onions, peeled and cut in chunks
- 1/4 cup flour
- 2 1/4 cups water
- 1/4 cup white wine
- 1/4 tsp. instant beef bouillon granules
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 tsp. thyme
- 3 medium potatoes, peeled and cut in small, uniform chunks

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q: We live close to the ocean and contend with considerable dampness. One room in particular, which is located on the shady side of the house, gives us a problem with mildew. This room was wallpapered by the previous owner. Mildew has stained the paper in one corner and under the windowsills. I would like to clean this area but I don't know exactly how I should go about it. If the stains can't be cleaned, can I wallpaper over the old wallpaper and just cover them up? Please give me your suggestions on how to handle this problem. — J.W.

A: First, it is important to control the moisture in this room as much as possible to prevent recurrence of the mildew. Increased ventilation will help. You may want to consider using a dehumidifier in this room or even a small heater or heating rods that would help remove moisture from the air. Once the area is thoroughly dry, you should keep a close check on dampness to prevent a soggy condition which is conducive to mildew.

Mildew is caused by fungus living on damp, organic materials. You must remove this before you can paper or paint the wall.

It is doubtful that you will be able to clean the existing wallpaper so that it will be acceptable. Most mildew-cleaning solutions contain bleach that likely would be damaging to the wall-covering. You can try cleaning affected areas by washing with a solution of $\frac{1}{2}$ cup trisodium phosphate, mixed with $\frac{1}{2}$ cup strong detergent; 1 quart household bleach and 3 quarts water. Thorough scrubbing of the area will remove all existing fungal spores and most of the stains. There are also commercial mildew cleaners available from supermarkets, hardware stores and paint dealers. Scrub vigorously, rinse with clear water and pat dry with an absorbent material such as an old terrycloth towel.

Let the wall dry thoroughly. If the wallpaper is bleached or damaged in this process, you will have to remove all the existing wallpaper before you can prepare the wall for either paint or new wallpaper.

After the wallpaper is removed, treat any stained areas that remain on the wall by re-washing with the concentrated solution. This will kill any traces of mildew. Before painting or repapering the wall, prepare the surface with a mildew-resistant undercoat of flat, oil-base enamel that has been mixed with a commercially available fungicide additive. When this has dried you are now ready to either wallpaper or apply a final paint finish.

As your area is conducive to moisture problems, I suggest that you select a vinyl wallpaper if you decide on paper over paint. Vinyls come in a wide selection of textures and patterns and they will be more resistant to moisture than natural fibers.

Q: We have a used-brick fireplace with a raised hearth, open partially at one end. The bricks above the opening have developed a smudge, probably due to the damper not being opened all the way. Also, there have been bursts of down-drafts on occasion. The bricks immediately in front of the grate have a film of ash that I've tried to clean with a very fine steel wool and then a rag soaked with clear water. Can you tell me how to get rid of the smudge and the film of ashes? — P.R.

A: I have several suggestions. For the smudge, make a paste with powdered pumice and concentrated ammonia. Apply heavily to the smoked areas with a brush and let it set for two hours. Then scrub with hot water and soap and rinse with clear water and dry. Repeat the treatment if necessary.

bulk-ticket-buying firms. The result is that if you respond affirmatively, you are sending your hard-earned money to a stranger in a foreign country who has no obligation to do anything but keep the money.

My mail this week also brought three "sweepstakes" envelopes from magazine subscription firms. "Imagine yourself..." is the way the copy reads, as to how you can live when you win the major prize in their sweepstakes. The qualifying stamp — to be placed on your entry form — are intimidatingly presented among stamps representing magazines you're sure to consider for ordering at the time of your sweepstakes entry.

In one mailing, there was a "Yes" envelope, bright of color, and copy that supported your great interest in winning the millions of dollars in prizes. The "No" envelope copy was simpler, stating, "I don't want to subscribe — tell me if I have won a prize anyway." The assumption is that you really must subscribe to one or more magazines if you want to win that major prize.

First: are the sweepstakes legitimate? You may assume, in the case of the major companies, that they are. But do check the small type to see when the actual drawing will be held. One mailer this week was for a sweepstakes where the drawing is not until well into 1987!

Some firms don't even give the date of the drawing, but instead describe it as a "continuing" sweepstakes where the offers and prize merchandise may be changed at different times.

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: Bobby and I like each other very much but my father doesn't like him at all. He told me that if I ever saw him again I would be in a lot of trouble. Besides getting my rear end paddled, I'd be grounded for a long, long time.

I do love my father very much and I would hate to disobey him but I have my own life to live. When I asked my dad why I couldn't see Bobby, he said that Bobby would "hurt" me. Well, I've been hurt in other relationships before and I got over it without much of a problem. Do you think my dad is right? — Maggie.

Maggie: If Bobby is an honest, hardworking, good student who has never been in trouble and is straight when it comes to drugs and alcohol, then your father could be considered a bit overprotective.

On the other hand, if Bobby is in the "troublemaker" category and has a shady reputation, then your father is a wise man.

Dr. Wallace: I am 18 and dating a guy who is only 16. When I first met him, I thought he was at least 20. He looked and acted very mature. When I discovered he was 16 it was too late because I really enjoyed his company. Do you see anything wrong with this arrangement? Some of my friends think I've got a "screw" loose. — Terry

Terry: Many teen girls write with the same concern and the answer is always the same — "Go for it!" If you were 16 and the guy was 18, everyone, but everyone, would say, "Aren't they a nice couple?" Why should it be "wrong" then if the girl happens to be older?

Dr. Wallace: I am 12 and my parents (they were born in Europe) force me to take piano lessons. I'm fairly good but I do not like to practice and I feel like a sissy. Macho men don't play the piano. How can I get my parents to let me stop taking lessons? — George

George: Don't you believe for one minute that male piano players are labeled sissies. Jerry Lee Lewis and Mickey Gilley are a couple of country and Western singers who play the piano when they perform. Tom Jones, Paul McCartney, Adam Ant, Kris Kristofferson and Bruce Springsteen are just a few more non-sissy, accomplished piano players.

Then we come to maybe the world's greatest piano virtuoso — Vladimir Horowitz. Give yourself a treat. Read about his recent concerts in Moscow and, better yet, listen to a few of his recordings. After those treats ask yourself if playing the piano is silly.

Dr. Wallace: My girlfriend and I both worked for a fast-food restaurant after school. Both of us were excellent employees but when the manager found out we were going steady, he fired my girlfriend. He said it was "policy" that people "emotionally involved" could not work for the firm.

Both of us are mad. In fact, I am going to quit because of this. Do you think the firing was justified? — Larry Larry: Don't quit just yet. If your girlfriend was fired just because you were her boyfriend and you both worked together, then it could be she was released unjustly.

Advise her to discuss her case with the Labor Relations Board or with an attorney who will be sympathetic to her cause.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 16-year-old girl with a very common teen problem. Mitch really liked me but I wasn't too interested in him so I just "shined him on." Mitch then started dating my cousin and they now are going steady and my cousin informs me that they are very much in love.

Now I have discovered that I really do like Mitch and I'd like to go out with him. I told him so and he said he still "cares" for me. I know he is confused but I can't help it if I want him back. Believe me, I'm not jealous or envious. Am I wrong? — Karen.

Karen: It's very difficult for me to believe that you are not both jealous and envious. There are many unattached guys in Klamath Falls who would love to enjoy your company. Concentrate on them instead of Mitch.

Dr. Wallace: How old should a girl be before she wears high heels and makeup? — Mary

Mary: Only the girl's mother knows the right age.

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful and intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power, to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return, I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. St. Jude Pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Mary's, 3 Glorias. Say for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised. This novena has never been known to fail. Thank you for answering my prayers CE wmy4

THANK YOU ST. JUDE for answering my prayers J.H.W. wmy4

Inside-outside design creates serenity

Q: We recently retired from New England to the Southwest and our traditional furnishings just don't seem right in our new home. We would like to redecorate. What approach do you suggest? — V.M.

A: There are very sound practical and aesthetic benefits from taking your inspiration from your surroundings. Though the room pictured does this in a contemporary mode, you can achieve the same effect with traditional furnishings if they are in an appropriate regional style.

Try taking your color scheme from what you see out your window. Common Southwestern colors take their cues from sand, cactus, sky and sunsets. They tend to be muted colors mixed with neutrals.

Decorating with these colors has a practical benefit, too, since fading from the sun is less obvious. Soft color tends to make you feel cooler, as well.

Using materials natural to your environment can contribute to the harmony of your design. Nubby, Berber-type carpeting suggests the color and texture of sand. The new faux-stone furniture, like the coffee table pictured, looks appropriate in this setting. Bring in native plants, such as cactus, to emphasize the relationship between your indoor and outdoor environments.

Cotton or cotton-blend fabrics provide a cool and practical material for upholstery. Be sure to select window treatments that adequately control the sun — a major problem in the Southwest.

Finally, keep in mind that the beauty of the desert is found in its spare, open, dramatic vistas. You might want to bring that inside, too!

Q: My husband and I recently purchased a century-old home which we are remodeling. Though some structural changes are necessary, we are trying to retain the stylistic integrity of the original design. We want to match a variety of elements like hardware, moldings and plinths. Do you have a good source for these? — A.F.

A: Your best bet is to check your telephone directory for local salvage companies. Since they specialize in demolition and salvage of older homes in your area, they are most likely to be able to match the building materials used in your home. If you have the time and inclination, you might want to sniff out potentially doomed structures on your own.

If your local sources fail you, The Great American Salvage Co., 3 Main St., Montpelier, VT 05602, with several locations around the country, puts out a quarterly newsletter and will search for specially requested items. For Victorian reproduction woodwork, you might try a specialty mill-work supplier such as Vintage Wood Works, P.O. Box 1157, Fredericksburg, TX 78624.

Woman's Health

YOU CAN NEVER BE TOO THIN OR CAN YOU?

By Harry S. Jonas, M.D.,
President, The American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists

A recent Gallup Poll reported that one in eight teenage girls today show some signs of two major eating disorders — anorexia nervosa and bulimia. It may be important to teens to be thin, but these disorders can cause permanent health damage and can kill young women.

Anorexia nervosa is most often seen in teen girls who are generally well-behaved, conscientious students and daughters. These young women become obsessed with food and dieting, and drastically reduce their eating. In the beginning, parents may not know that there is a problem. The teen will hide the fact that she doesn't eat and greatly increases her amount of exercise to burn off any calories she has to consume.

Young women who develop this condition can become emaciated and still see themselves as fat. In fact, anorexia causes premature death in 15 to 20 percent of the cases. With the drastic weight loss, a girl will stop menstruating, and if the disease continues long enough, it can cause infertility problems and miscarriages later in life.

Bulimia is a disorder where the woman may consume large amounts of food at a single sitting but will then make herself vomit or take laxatives and diuretics, or use long periods of strenuous activity or fasting to avoid gaining weight. This disorder is not just limited to teenage girls — the Gallup Poll showed that one in eight women under 40 have used drastic techniques to compensate for a binge eating period.

Bulimia may not appear to cause physical problems, but it can damage the heart and reproductive system, and cause kidney problems and ulcers. Both anorexia and bulimia have been linked to mood disorders and depression.

It may be up to a family member to get the anorexic patient to the doctor or into a treatment program. It may be harder for the bulimic patient to be convinced or convince herself that treatment is needed. Her disorder is less obvious to family and friends, and she may have developed her eating patterns over a number of years. For both disorders, it is important to get good medical care, experienced nutritional counseling, and psychiatric therapy directed to these problems.

Most of us wish we could lose some weight and admire those who can. But anorexia and bulimia are deadly ways of being thin.

ANTIQUE OR JUNQUE

Family tradition wrong on chairs' age

Q. We have two of these chairs and family tradition says that they are about 150 years old. Are they that old? What are they called and how much are they worth?

A. These are Empire lyre-back chairs with cane seats. They were also made with upholstered slip seats.

To say they're 150 years old might be stretching it a little. Most chairs like this were made around 1850.

In my opinion, they should sell for at least $150 each, but the going price is more like $100 to $125.

Q. What can you tell me about collecting ashtrays? I know people are collecting them, but I have no idea what they should sell for.

A. Here are a few examples:

- Bobbs Hats — $15.
- Fatima cigarettes — $45.
- Firestone — $18.
- Green River Whiskey — $18.
- Haig Whiskey — $7.
- Hotel Bancroft — $15.
- John Deere — $25.
- Kaiser/Fraser — $55.
- Kellogg Telephone — $35.
- Kelly Springfield Tires — $10.
- Mack Trucks — $15.

Q. My Hummel figurine, No. 71 "Stormy Weather," has the attached mark. Can you tell me its value and when it was made?

A. This design, which was also used on the First Anniversary Plate, was made in the early 1950s and is currently selling in the $400 range.

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, a stamped, self-addressed envelope and $1 per item to James G. McCollam.

Points on Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. I am seriously considering becoming a veterinarian. How long does it take? Do veterinarians specialize like medical doctors do?

How many veterinary schools are there in the United States? I have heard that it is extremely difficult to get into a veterinary school.

A. There currently are 27 veterinary medical colleges in the United States. There are two located in Alabama and one in each of the following states: California, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Louisiana, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, New York, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Washington and Wisconsin.

The combined student enrollment in the veterinary degree programs of the U.S. veterinary medical colleges for the academic year 1985-86 is 8,883 of which 4,357 (49.2 percent) are males and 4,506 (50.8) percent are females. The first-year class of U.S. veterinary medical colleges has 2,280 students, of which 44.6 percent are males and 55.4 percent are females. Approximately 46 percent of all qualified applicants were accepted in the 1985 first-year class. In other words, there were approximately two qualified applicants for every veterinary student position in 1985.

Most U.S. veterinary schools have four-year curriculums. In addition to the four years of veterinary school, two to four years of pre-veterinary study are required. Many students obtain bachelor degrees or master of science degrees prior to beginning veterinary school.

Many veterinarians do specialize after going to veterinary school. The American Veterinary Medical Association recognizes the following 14 specialty boards: anesthesiology, dermatology, internal medicine, laboratory animal medicine, microbiology, ophthalmology, pathology, practitioners, preventive medicine, radiology, surgery, theriogenology (reproduction), toxicology and zoological medicine. To become board certified in any of these specialty areas, a veterinarian must spend additional time in study and pass rigorous written and practical examinations. Currently, there are approximately 3,000 veterinarians with board certification.

There are approximately 40,000 veterinarians in the United States. If your state of residence has a veterinary school, you should write to the dean of admissions for the requirements for admittance. If your state does not have a veterinary school, you should write to the schools of your choice to inquire if they accept students from your state.

Because there are many pre-veterinary requirements, obtain the list of requirements early in your college career so that you can plan wisely. Most veterinary schools recommend that applicants have some experience working with a veterinarian prior to application. This experience helps the candidate evaluate his or her suitability for the profession.

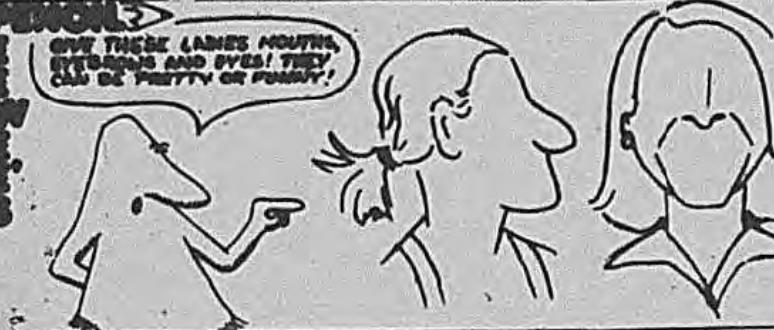

There are many opportunities for the graduate veterinarian. Veterinarians work in the areas of practice, teaching, research, industry, meat and food inspection, the armed forces and the federal government, just to name a few.

Although relatively small in number, the veterinary profession is a group of dedicated, service-oriented individuals.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Spring has been here for several weeks and the weather is gradually getting warmer. Soon it will be June when young people (and adults too) begin to think of summer vacation.

This year many people who would otherwise travel abroad are going to stay right here in the U.S.A. because they fear terrorism. Or perhaps they will go to some "safe" country like Canada.

Where will you go for your summer vacation this year? Be sure to write and let me know!

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are: Kathleen McCullagh and Leslie Goldfelder. Congratulations to both of you!

RULES BOYS AND GIRLS

Here is your chance to win One Dollar ($1.00) - to spend or to save.

Here's all you have to do:

1. Contest is open to children 4 to 12 years of age.
2. Entries must be received by Friday, May 30, 1986.
3. Paint, watercolors and crayons must be used on the above.
4. Decision of the judges will be final.

Mail your entry (just clip out cartoon) to this newspaper at 105 Hillside Avenue Williston Park, N.Y. 11596

The World's Most Beautiful Grandchildren

This is a picture of our darling granddaughter, Nicole Florenti she is a treasure. Nicole is 2½ years old. Her parents are Donna and Anthony from New Hyde Park. Her grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Al Florenti and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ughi all from New Hyde Park.

GRANDPARENTS... HERE IS YOUR CHANCE!

You have been telling everyone you meet that you have the "World's Greatest Grandchildren". You've been carrying pictures around with you and finding people to look at them. We have a better answer!

Each week we will run photos of the World's "Most Beautiful Grandchildren".

(in the eyes of the grandparents) and for each photo selected, we will send, as a prize, a permanent version of the way it appeared in the newspaper for you to keep.

To enter the contest, simply send a small (preferred) photo to: Discovery Magazine, 81 East Burdley Street, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801

If you want the photo returned, you must print your name and address on the back.
