Rotary Exchange Students made an appearance at the Hicksville Rotary Club last week and summed up their experiences in the countries they visited and the schools they attended. Taina Salimela, left, Hicksville Rotary Club's student from Hyvinkaa, Finland, has been attending Lutheran High School since August, 1985. Laurie Bernstola, center, a student at Lutheran High School (also sponsored by the Hicksville Rotary Club) told of her semester at the school she attended in Japan. Rotary banners were exchanged with Rotary Club President Elie Zambaka, right. (Official Rotary photo by Joe DePaola)

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby presides over a ceremonial sign change for B'nai B'rith Blvd. to mark the installation of new officers of the Manetto Hill Chapter of B'nai B'rith Women. On hand for the occasion were, left to right, membership vice president Ruth Greenberg, president Barbara Julek, fund raising vice president Marsha Elowsky and counselor Nina Hornstein.

"School's out" at the Hicksville Gregory Museum. These smiling Hicksville teachers have just completed the museum's spring in-service training course, "Long Island History Since the American Revolution" conducted by museum historian, Dick Evers.

Civics Form Giese Pk. Assoc.

The Giese Park Civic Association has been formed to represent the civic and community interests of those residents of Hicksville residing in that area bounded by Old Country Road, Jerusalem Avenue, Hicksville Road, and Balsam Lane. The organization will provide the means of keeping the residents informed of matters that are of particular concern to them as well as being an intermediary between residents and town officials.

A spokesperson for the association stated that its success will depend on the input and active involvement by its members and urges all concerned residents to join the organization.

The Association is being represented by the president, Thomas McGovern; the vice president, Madeline Krips; the treasurer, Francis McGovern; the corresponding secretary, Robert Kiernan; and the recording secretary, Lawrence Krips.

Anyone interested in joining may contact Tom or Fran McGovern at 10 Brooks St. or telephone 938-7309.

Singles Club Plans A Dance

The L.I. Catholic Singles Association (ages 21-39) will have a dance at the Marriott Hotel, 101 James Dolittle Blvd., Uniondale, in the Mitchell-Lindbergh rooms on Friday, June 20 from 8 p.m. to midnight. Admission is $8.

Stolen Credit Card Brings Arrest

The Second Squad reported the arrest of a 19 year old female on June 5.

Kimberly Simon of Westbury, entered the Record World Store, Mid-Island Plaza, Hicksville, and allegedly used a stolen credit card police say to purchase several video tapes valued at $145. The card was checked for its validity and turned up stolen.

The clerk called police and two Bureau of Special Operations Officers responded and Ms. Simon was arrested at the store.

She was charged with Possession of stolen property, forgery, two counts, and Possession of a Forged Instrument.

Hicksville School Budget Public Hearing On Wed.

The Hicksville Board of Education has scheduled a public hearing on Wednesday, June 18, at 8:15 p.m. in the Senior High School for the purpose of hearing from residents on the proposed budget to be resubmitted for voter approval on June 25. The Board has been meeting in budget sessions but, as yet, a final figure has not been adopted.

Registration will take place from 3 to 8 p.m. on June 18 at each of the local schoolhouses. Voting on Wednesday, June 25, is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

At its annual Law Day Luncheon, the Bar Association presented United States Savings Bonds to senior high school students who had written outstanding essays on the theme, "Foundations of Freedom". Pictured are those who received awards: Karen Epper and Eddie Pinta of Farmingdale High School (First Place); Bridget Jablonsky, Sacred Heart Academy (Second Place); Scott O'Callaghan, Hicksville High School (Third Place); Susan Garvey, Sacred Heart Academy (Honorable Mention); Adrienne Filipe, Nassau County Bar Association.

County Executive Francis T. Purcell recently proclaimed POB celebration weekend in the County of Nassau, marking the centennial of Plainview and the jubilee of Old Bethpage. Participating in the festivities at J.F.K. High School are, left to right: Dr. Richard Kubek, Project Outreach Teacher Coordinator; Arthur Colver, Assistant Supt. of Schools; Martin Elchinger, Special Assistant to County Executive Francis Purcell, making the presentation; Louis Ferrara, Supt. of Schools; Renee Schoenfeld and Ally Freundlich, student coordinators.

Students Learn About Health Care

As part of their interdisciplinary unit, "My Time Machine," and the study of Neighborhood Health Helpers, the children in Mrs. Grunin's Kindergarten classes and Mrs. Rosoff's class from the Burns Avenue School visited the Dental office of Dr. Charles Pillar in Plainview and learned what tools the dentist

Joseph Rint of the P.M. Kindergarten class outside of the Time Machine.

Eddie Kaminsky, Debbie Koutsoubis, Carolyn Corrado, Joey Hoffmann and Rachel Simon of the a.m. Kindergarten class after their trip to the Hicksville Fire Department.

useful to help keep our teeth healthy.

The children also visited the Hicksville Fire Department where Fireman Jack Janovsky taught them fire safety rules and gave them a tour of the firehouse. After visiting there, the classes went to Carvel on Broadway in Hicksville and were given a tour of the store by owner Carol Ventruella. This was a most interesting and delicious experience!

The classes also were visited by Nassau County Police Officer George Kessler, father of Tommy Kessler of the a.m. Kindergarten class, who explained the role of the Policeman as a friend and gave the children a "hands on" demonstration of the equipment used and worn by a Police Officer. A visit was also paid by Burns Avenue School Nurse Teacher Gail Cooley who wore her nurse's uniform and explained the role of a nurse in the school as well as in the hospital.

The children really learned a lot and would like to say "Thank You" to these wonderful "Neighborhood Helpers."

Recently, Governor Cuomo's Traffic Safety Committee presented a program to Hicksville Junior High students in the Bernard Braun Auditorium featuring Jiggs McDonald of N.Y. Islanders fame. Jiggs, presently an announcer for the Islanders, gave a direct message from the National Hockey League on the need for the awareness of the effects of alcohol on a person behind the wheel of an automobile. Jiggs emphasized the athlete's agreement "no drinking while driving." Just another Friday night of drinking and driving can lead to death. An informative 16mm film from the Traffic Safety Committee stimulated a question and answer period about athletes and alcohol. After the assembly program, Jiggs McDonald wrote his signature for many ardent Islander fans.

Pre-School Graduation

On June 5, Thursday morning, the pre-school children of Dutch Lane graduated. The children marched into the all-purpose room promptly at 10 a.m., everyone was welcomed and then the pledge was said while our flag holder Bryan Walker stood at the front of the room. Songs were sung by both a.m. and p.m. classes, then all the children received their diplomas. Parents, relatives and friends were then served refreshments and the graduation cake was cut with every child in the graduating class receiving a piece of cake with her/his name on the slice.

Dutch Lane's Pre-School graduating class (a.m. class sitting) Michelle Rogers, Gina Grippi, Christopher Cannizzaro, Erin McDonald, Kristi Walker (helper), Bryan Walker (helper) Marc Parente, Justin Roestenberg, Alison Dittko, Michael Delaney, Joshua Strugatz, Kimberly McCrea, Jeremy Grand, (p.m. class standing) Anthony Minniss, Gary Bretton, Eric Mockler, Brian Boyle, Michael Trongone, Brian Cipriano, Christopher Swler, Melissa McCarthy, Jacob Danzi, John Doyle, Steven Recher.

Top row: Pre-K teachers: Mrs. Strugatz, Mrs. Manzo, p.m. class; Mrs. Walker, Mrs. Rogers and Mrs. Schinocca, a.m. class.

Empire of America Federal Savings Bank sponsored a National Heart Foundation health screening program at its Plainview Branch on Thursday, May 29 for the early detection of heart and vascular disease. The tests were given, free of charge, in the Heart Foundation's specially equipped mobile van called the 'Heart Mobile'. The tests, which took 15 to 20 minutes each, involved placing an ultrasonic probe lightly against the side of the neck to produce an image of the carotid artery. The testing procedure is non-surgical. Test results are interpreted by a Foundation physician and are forwarded to the personal physician of the person tested for follow-up if a potential problem is detected.

Letters

To the Editor:

Once again Fork Lane School has participated in the 1985-86 Math Olympiads. This year Mr. Maiorino, Fork Lane's Math Resource Teacher, gave the questions on the PA system to the fourth, fifth, and sixth graders.

Everyone had a certain amount of time to answer each question. After the answers were given in the teachers of the grades would get the answers from Mr. Maiorino and would explain how they got the result. Mr. Maiorino would correct the answers and on a board he would put the names of the kids who got at least 1 out of 5 questions right.

Everyone was happy to take the Math Olympiads during the years. We thank Mr. Maiorino for his support during the years but am sorry to say there won't be anymore Math Olympiads at Fork Lane because the school board is stopping it.

Mother Of Six Earnings Degree

Mrs. Kathleen Maher, a Hicksville resident, received her B.A. in Psychology, with certification in elementary education, at the 26th Annual Commencement ceremony at Molloy College on May 24.

Mrs. Maher, a widow, is a mother of six children and a grandmother of seven.

College Notes

Congratulations to Miss Lisa J. DuBrill who graduated Magna Cum Laude from the State University of New York at Albany on May 18. Lisa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael A. DuBrill, received a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting from the School of Business. She will begin her professional career as a staff accountant at the Manhattan CPA Firm of Lavanthal and Horwath.

Lisa is a 1982 graduate of Bethpage High School and resides in Plainview.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y., has announced the name of student from the local area who has made the Dean's List for the spring 1986 semester:

David Y. Sone of 29 Tudor Road, Hicksville, a freshman majoring in general or unded. Engrg.

Fifteen Inducted In Thespian Soc.

Fifteen students were inducted into the Hicksville High School chapter of the International Thespian Society at a banquet-induction ceremony held on Tuesday, June 3 at the Fox Hollow Inn. The students inducted were Gina Aiello, Peter Flynn, John Hawkins, Stephen Papadakis, Danielle Signorelli, David Danowski, Jessica Garnets, Catherine Heberer, Justin Rivers, Jeanne Sturz, Rob Dombrowski, Jeannarie Georgiano, Mike Kiernan, Robert Senn, Michael Wallace.

The advisor to the chapter is Mrs. Judith Paschiner, drama director of Hicksville High School. Also working with the group is Mr. James Quinlan, technical director of the drama program. Also attending the induction were Mr. Robert Hogan, Principal of Hicksville High School, Mr. William L. Gagnon, Supervisor of Fine Arts, Mr. Thomas Buttice, orchestra director and Mr. Charles Arnold, choral director of the annual musical.

The students inducted were selected for this honor by having worked in school drama productions on and off stage. Selection is based upon a system of earned points for production participation and the recommendation of the staff.

Productions produced in the school year 1985-86 were "Caught In The Villains Web", "Grease", "A View From The Bridge" and "Variety '86".

Both teams put all they had into this tie game. Natale Etergineos and Nicole Franchino were outstanding in the field. Nicole made a great catch on a fly ball. Robin Beck and Colleen Gilson played a good outfield. Natale went 4 for 4 with a home run and 2 RBI's. Nicole and Jackie Flynn went 4 for 4 with 3 RBI's each. Susanne Klein, Leigh Morris, and Dana Patricio all went 3 for 4. Keep up the good work girls!

Naval Academy Graduate

Midshipman Robert Rupp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Rupp of 34 Tip Top Lane, Hicksville, was graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis and was commissioned an Ensign in the U.S. Navy in ceremonies May 21.

Midshipman Robert Rupp

Rupp experienced four years of intensive academic, physical and professional training culminating with a bachelor of science degree with a major in Economics.

Ranked as one of the top academic institutions in the country, the academy offers a broad curriculum of engineering, science and humanities. In all, some 18 majors are offered.

Professional military preparation is a fundamental element in the Naval Academy's educational program. This training is conducted during the academic year and, during the summer, at shore stations and at sea aboard ships of the fleet.

Athletic requirements are met through the physical education program, the intercollegiate program which offers 33 varsity sports, and the intramural program which offers 33 sports. All midshipmen are required to participate in a sport, either at the varsity or intramural level.

To accomplish the mission of training the 4,500 member brigade of midshipmen, the academy calls on 550 faculty members. These are equally divided between civilian professors who provide academic continuity, and naval officers who rotate every few years to bring the latest experience from the Fleet.

Robert is a 1982 Holy Trinity High School graduate. He was awarded the Vice Admiral E.C. Waller Lacrosse Award for the 1986 Navy lacrosse team.

Siena College baseball player Steve Brennan, a graduate of Holy Trinity High School and a native of Plainview, was selected as the designated hitter on the ECAC North Division All-Star team. It is the second consecutive year Brennan has earned that recognition.

Brennan led the team in hitting this past season with a .421 average. The Plainview native collected 28 runs batted in and hit 10 doubles and nine home runs.

The designated hitter is the holder of three Siena records. As a junior (1985), Brennan set the single season record for hits, 48, and runs scored, 37. Brennan collected 85 RBI's throughout his four year career to set the Siena record.

Brennan graduated from Siena this spring with a degree in Marketing/Management.

Grandparents Day At Burns Ave.

On June 6, the Burns Avenue P.T.A. sponsored the 20th Annual Grandparents Day at the Burns Avenue School. Grandparents and Seniors were welcomed by PTA mothers who pinned Daisy faced corsages on each guest and were served delicious refreshments as homemade muffins, cakes, bagels, coffee and tea. They were welcomed by our Principal Dr. Frank E. Burke and were then invited to visit their grandchild's classroom which displayed the work of each class.

At 10 o'clock, all visitors were summoned to the Gym where they could view an Art display from Burns Avenue students. Here they were entertained by the Burns Avenue Twirlers under the direction of Shirley Johnson and Anne Kessler. The Kindergarten classes and Mrs. Resol class performed their famous production "Too Smart For Strangers" and for the finale, the entire school sang "The Greatest Love Of All" under the direction of our Vocal Music Teacher Mrs. Kathleen Scheek. Dr. Burke then presented awards to the Grandparents in various categories such as "Most Grandchildren", "Oldest Grandparent" and "Grandparent With The Most Children at Burns Avenue" just to name a few.

It was such an exciting day for both the children and grandparents and is one of the highlights of the school year at Burns Avenue.

Am. Legion Post Wins Award

The 68th annual convention of the Nassau County American Legion held last week at Seaford concluded with the election of new officers for 1986-87, and the presentation of awards for 1985-86.

Charles Wagner Post #421 of Hicksville was in the forefront in both categories as two past commanders of the Post were elected to the new Staff. Elected were Richard M. Hochbrueckner as Treasurer, and Raymond J. Gamble as a county Vice Commander. Election of two officers from the same Post to serve on the county Staff is unprecedented.

Attesting to the excellence of Charles Wagner Post's overall performance of administrating all Legion mandated programs was the awarding of the Banner Award for Class C Legion Posts. The class designation is determined by the membership size of each Post. The blue and gold banner will remain trophy and will be displayed in the Legion clubhouse for the next year and at the next convention will revert to awarding status once again. Past Commander Arthur Rutz accepted the award on the convention floor last Saturday morning at the Edwin Welch, Jr. Post in Seaford.

On Friday evening the trophy for Rehabilitation efforts in the 3rd Division of the Nassau Legion was accepted by the newly elected Post Commander Harry Christo on behalf of the Post. Several citations, representing further evidence of the above average performance of the Hicksville Legionnaires on individual Legion programs, were also garnered.

Change Denied

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond announced that the Town Board has denied an application for a change of zone in Plainview.

"At a public hearing held on April 8, the applicant, Morris Rabinowitz, M.D., sought a change of zone from 'D' Residence District to 'R-O' Residence Office District, for property located on the southwest corner of Old Country Road and 1st Place, also known as 995 Old Country Road, in Plainview," Diamond said. "The applicant was seeking the change in order to use the home for a single practitioner medical office."

Diamond stated, "he rejection of the application is in keeping with past actions of the Board in refusing to allow the encroachment of business into a residential community."

HHS PTSA

G.S. Hold Court Of Awards

On Wednesday evening May 28, the scouts of Junior Troop 3001 held their end of the year Court of Awards and fly-up ceremony. The girls opened with a Flag ceremony after which a lovely welcome speech was given by Susan Gaylord.

The new Brownies being elevated to Junior scouts were invited on stage. After a brief explanation offered by Brownie leader Maureen Traxler the girls, in groups of three recited the Girl Scout Promise and received their Fly up Wings. Then they were joined by the Junior Scouts who interpreted the 10 parts of the Girl Scout Law, as recited by each Brownie.

Junior Leader Marcia Gunnigle invited the Brownies to the stepping stones necessary to cross the Bridge into Junior Scouting. Shannon Faulkner read

OCR School Happenings

Dr. Daniel McCann, Principal of Old Country Road School and Ms. Carol Gerard, School Nurse/Teacher were among a group honored recently at a reception held at Hicksville High School. Dr. McCann was recognized by the School Board with a certificate for outstanding achievement in going beyond the limits of his assignment in supporting the programs and the students of the district. Miss Gerard received an award for the 25 years of service to Old Country Road's children. A host of friends and family members joined the Board of Education and the district staff members in celebrating the achievements and devotion shown by all the honorees. Pictured are Dr. McCann and Miss Gerard.

A lacrosse clinic is held by Dr. McCann, principal of Old Country Road School during lunch time for students in grades 4 through 6. Pictured is Dr. McCann showing the boys and girls some of the finer points of the game.

Field was held at Old Country Road School and as usual it was a big success. All the classes compete in many different events under the direction of Mr. Kaufman and Mrs. Kuperberg, Physical Education teachers.

An International Dinner was held by Mr. Zellin's 5th grade class. In their study of immigration, the students dressed in their native costume of their ancestors. They ate food from all over the world, sang songs and did dances relating to each country.

Fork Lane Field Day

Story and Photos By A. Eichensauer

Tuesday, June 3, Fork Lane held its annual Field Day Event, under the direction of Mrs. Carol Weber and Mrs. Maureen Kuperberg.

The first half of field day was for grades 1-3. These children came on the field at 10 a.m. sharp. They made banners with their team names such as Mrs. Schrecks Astros, Mrs. Schmitts Shouting Stars, Mrs. Gribbs Cobras etc. The banners were taped to the windows of the building for all to see.

With a field of cheering parents, teachers and friends the events were underway. This year's events featured the "dash", cone jump, baton relay race, the spoon and egg race, mystery ball race, football push, and the "tug of war."

To assist with the 1st-3rd grade races was Frank Tomoloni. Frank is the father of Kathy Tomoloni a third grade student in Mrs. Heffernans class and an outstanding athlete. This is Frank's third year as assistant to field day.

The first place winners of Field Day in grades 1-3 are:

1st grade-1. Mrs. Schrecks Astros; 2nd grade-1. Mrs. Schmitts Shouting Stars; 3rd Grade-Mrs. Gribbs and Mrs. Heffernans class tied for first place.

During the lunch period, Fork Lane's super PTA mom's and dad's prepared and served a sumptuous feast of hot dogs, fruit drinks, iced tea, watermelon and ices to the swarm of starving students.

The second half of field day started at 1 p.m. with the 4-6

LEGAL NOTICE

BY ORDER OF THE TOWN BOARD OF THE TOWN OF OYSTER BAY

Ann R. Ocker, Town Clerk
Joseph Colby Supervisor
Dated: Oyster Bay, New York
June 3, 1986

STATE OF NEW YORK
COUNTY OF NASSAU
TOWN OF OYSTER BAY

I, ANN R. OCKER, Town Clerk of the Town of Oyster Bay, and custodian of the Records of said Town, DO HEREBY CERTIFY that I have compared the annexed with the original Amendments to the Code of Ordinances of the grade students. These students also had banner displayed on windows. These teams had names like Mrs. Irwins "Irwiners", Ms. Bergerons "Frantic French Fry Force", Mr. Pisani "Piranhas", Ms. Collins "Cobras", Ms. Knops "Knights", Mr. Schneiders "Soldiers".

The teams were ready for anything, well almost anything. This year we had a new event called push the football. This was a relay race. The object of the race is to push a football with a hockey stick down to your other teammates and they in turn push it back. Sounds easy right? Try it!

The last event of the day - the "Tug of War". This event takes all the strength you have left in your body. When the events were all over, the students went back to their classrooms and the winners were announced over the P.A. system. They are as follows: 4-grade-1. Mrs. Irwins "Irwiners", 5-grade-Ms. Collins and Mr. Pisani class tied, 6-grade-1. Ms. Knops "Knights".

A special Hat's Off Award should go to one student who gave it her all. This student tried so hard to do the best she could and really pushed herself to the limit. She has all the determination one child can have. Her name is Tacy Van Kasten.

Tracy you ran the best race of any student in the school. You gave it your all and I'm so proud you did. My Hat's Off to you. You're the best.

P.T.A. would like to thank Mike Zagarello, Frank Tomoloni Madeline Senn, JoAnn Zagarello, and all the mom's who helped out with field day.

New Service At Post Office

A "New" Postal Service nationally reorganized and committed to improving its responsiveness to customers' needs, opened its doors in the Long Island area June 7, according to Field Division General Manager Postmaster Roger Nienaber.

"A great deal of the responsibility and decision-making authority for operating the Postal Service has been shifted from Headquarters in Washington, D.C. to the local division," said Nienaber. "Organizationally, Hicksville becomes one of 74 new divisions in the Postal Service."

The recent national reorganization gives my local managers and me the control and flexibility we need to solve local problems and meet service needs quickly without getting higher approval," the Field Division General Manager Postmaster said.

Here on Long Island we have but one mandate: To serve our customers better," he said. Several visible initiatives have been started or will be coming in line in the coming months that demonstrate the Postal Service's new responsiveness to its customers.

We are asking our customers to tell us where we can adjust our lobby hours to better suit their needs. In Hicksville we have expanded our Saturday hours until 1 p.m. and from Monday through Friday our main office is open until 8 p.m. to accept Express Mail. Soon we plan to adjust post office hours at centrally located spots on Long Island in response to customer needs," said Nienaber.

"Convenience is a big work in the 'New' Postal Service," he added. "You can see it on street corners throughout Long Island, where we are installing new Express Mail collection boxes. You can see it in our lobbies, too, where we will be adding new vending equipment which will help our customers get in and out of our lobbies more quickly."

Nienaber said his office intends to "build a better partnership with our customers. Many are helping us serve them better by mailing earlier in the day, by using apartment numbers in their addresses and, on the business side, using the expanded ZIP + 4 codes. We want to continue to build on that."

To back up this new commitment to service, the Postal Service will commit billions of dollars nationally in the next five years for modernization and automation, which will give us the new equipment and new services to go along with our new dedication and spirit to serve Long Island more effectively.

"Today, we are renewing our historic contract with the American People," Nienaber said, "but though our roots are in history, the Postal Service is not bound by the past. We control our future, and in the months ahead, I think you will see we have a new spirit and dedication to serving our customers."

Kiwanis Honors HHS Students

Since Kiwanis is a service organization, they are always interested in how other groups are also providing services to the community.

A very special service project came to Kiwanis' attention when the Hicksville High School Student Government Association, under the leadership of its president, Christine Cestari, along with other officers and many other students, conducted a special event to raise funds to help a young Hicksville citizen, Meghan Coutieri, and her family purchase special equipment to help Meghan with her battle with spina bifida.

To show their appreciation for, and to acknowledge the tremendous task undertaken and accomplished these Hicksville High School students, the Hicksville Kiwanis Club invited Christine, as a representative of all of the students, to a meeting on June 4, and presented her with a plaque to thank her for what she and her High School associates did to help Meghan.

The presentation was made by Kiwanis Past President Charles Montana, Jr., who expressed the appreciation of Kiwanis to all of the students, faculty advisors and other contributors to this fund, and advised Christine that the Kiwanis Foundation would also add to the fund.

The Hicksville Kiwanis Club continues to enjoy membership growth under the leadership of its president, Dr. Keith Pastuck. At the May 28 meeting, Dr. Joseph A. Lupo, a Chiropractor whose office is located in Hicksville on South Oyster Bay Road, was introduced as the newest member of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club. In the photo, Mr. William Murphy, on the right, who currently is the patriarch of the Hicksville club, is welcoming Dr. Lupo into the club. (Photo by Sieg Wieder)

News From Road Runners

By P.P.C. Carmine A. Scenna

The Hicksville Memorial Day Parade and Services were chaired this year by William M. Gouse, Jr. VFW Post 3211 with combined Veterans Groups and Fraternal Organizations from the Hicksville area. Committee Chairman Frank Molinari was assisted by Bob Izzo (both from VFW Post 3211); Robert Nash (MWV Post 46); Joseph Rohan and Wesley Tietjen (both from A.L. Post 421); Robert Ginsante (Amvets); Larry Wallace (KofC) and William Schuckman (HFD).

Grand Marshals were Arthur Rutz, Charles Wagner Post 421; Honorary Grand Marshal Nancy Giacopelli, Wm. M. Gouse Post Aux. Unit and Geraldine Seitz, Charles Wagner Post Aux. Unit.

Gold Star Mothers were transported along the parade route in cars, courtesy of Robert Chevrolet. They are: Mrs. Teela Gunther, Mrs. Mary Manaski, Mrs. Alexander Kozma and Mrs. Beatrice Andrews.

Music was provided by Hicksville Sr. H.S. marching band, under the direction of Daniel DiStefano; Hicksville Junior H.S. Band, Robert Pownall Director, Elementary Schools Burns, Woodland, Willet, Dutch, East, Lee and Old Country. The New Image group was directed by Don Graziose.

Many representatives of the community were in attendance. The day was a big success since the parade ended at the site of the Veteran's Memorials at the Junior High School, bringing back memories of the heroic men who gave their lives for our country.

On June 14, this Saturday, the Flag Day Service will be held from 10 to 11 a.m. at VFW headquarters parking lot. If you have any worn or torn flags, bring them down to the Post where the committee will take care of properly disposing of them. Committee members are Max Bergson, Howard Bergeron and Frank Molinari.

Saturday night, from 7:45 to 1 a.m., the regularly scheduled "Las Vegas Night" will take place, also at headquarters.

MAY WE HAVE THE NEXT DENTS?

Many local runners were among the more than 5000 runners who successfully completed the 15th annual L'Eggs Mini-marathon in Manhattan's Central Park on May 31.

Eighth Precinct Weekend Accidents

During our past fun, wet weekend, there were good and bad results of the heavy rains which kept us all indoors. All picnics were cancelled, but people staying home kept burglaries to a minimum, as our burglars don't like occupied homes, and refuse to work in weather which tends to get them cold or wet. (The weather man has always been a good cop.)

On the other hand, those who decided to go shopping took a great risk of meeting up with other strangers who also decided to venture out onto our rain slicked roads. Between 5 p.m. Friday, June 6 and 5 p.m. Sunday, June 9, 46 automobile accidents were reported to the Eighth Precinct. Twenty-three persons were injured and an awful lot of damage was sustained by our favorite means of transportation. Most of the reported accidents happened on Saturday, June 7, with 35 accidents being reported, 12 of which involved rear end collision that could have been prevented if people refrained from driving too closely or driving too fast for conditions.

Be safe, drive slowly, if it starts to rain, drive slower!

Calling All Willet Ave. Alumni

Mrs. Geraldine Landgarten who has been a kindergarten teacher is retiring after 22 years at Willet Avenue School. If you always wished for the opportunity to thank her for your first school experience, now is your chance. The Willet Avenue PTA invites you to join us on Monday, June 23, between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. in the courtyard to wish Mrs. Landgarten all the best as she retires.

Maria Florellini Wins Scholarship

Maria Cira Theresa Florellini, of Hicksville, has just been selected to receive a nursing scholarship award from Mid Island Hospital's Medical/Dental Nursing Scholarship Committee. In 1969, the Hospital's Medical/Dental Staff established a permanent student scholarship awards program to aid graduates who wish to enter the nursing profession and medical sciences field.

Maria, a student at SUNY Farmingdale, was one of ten so honored on June 11 at the Hospital's Seventeenth Annual Nursing Scholarship Award Breakfast.

Mr. Peter Bodin, center, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Bows Machinery Corp., Augsburg, Germany, was the guest speaker at the Hicksville Rotary Club last week. Mr. Bodin, previously with IBM, whose cleaning equipment company has 70% of the world market, spoke on international business. Mr. Bodin, who is also a Rotarian in Germany, praised the Hicksville Rotary Club for their spontaneity and uniqueness. Shown, left to right, is host William Hayday, Mr. Bodin and Rotary Club President Eli Zambaka who presented the guest speaker with a Certificate of Appreciation. New York Telephone & You – New Technology

Technology is the driving force behind many of the changes that have swept through the telephone industry in the past two decades.

New York Telephone has long been dedicated to using technology to improve services and hold down costs. More than 20 years ago the company began installing computer-controlled switching systems that provide improved basic service more efficiently.

More recently, New York Telephone was the first company to put fiber optic technology into commercial use. This technology which uses hair-thin glass fibers and laser-generated light pulses, allows information to be transmitted more quickly, efficiently and accurately than copper wires and electrical current.

We also are utilizing state-of-the-art technologies that allow simultaneous voice, data and video transmission over the same line, which makes our service more efficient and could make your service less expensive.

New York Telephone has one of the largest networks of computers to help serve and maintain its nearly nine million customer access lines. Making all this technology work are our more than 50,000 employees, who are among the most skilled and experienced in the industry, and whose goal is to provide quality service.

We are dedicated to continually updating communications technology, bringing you the best possible service at the lowest possible cost. To help you understand how new technologies can improve your telephone service, New York Telephone's Community Relations representatives will be available in the coming months to speak to local community organizations with the program "New York Telephone and You." To find out more about this free program call the Long Island Community Relations office on 294-7921.

Connect With Touch-tone Service - Free!

For the first time New York Telephone has dropped the connection charge for Touch-tone service as part of a limited time offer. Touch-tone service, where it's available, places calls faster - nearly twice as fast as ordinary dialing.

It's a great convenience for people who rely heavily on their phone to keep in touch. And in an emergency, when seconds count, extra dialing speed can make a big difference. With this service, you also can take advantage of time-saving computerized services such as bank-by-phone, stock quotes and other conveniences as they become available.

Touch-tone service is easy to get and easy to use. No installation visit is necessary and you pay only a small monthly service charge. By signing up now you'll also receive a certificate entitling you to discounts from 20% to 40% off on tone phones purchased from participating companies.

Call today for your free connection to Touch-tone service. For residence customers this is a savings of $10.30. Call toll-free 1-800 942-1818, Operator 19. A special offer also is available to New York Telephone business customers with no more than two telephone lines, by calling toll-free 1-800 942-1212, Extension 606. This offer expires July 17, 1986 and applies only where Touch-tone service is available.

THE QUESTION OF THE WEEK

What should the U.S. attitude towards Kurt Waldheim be at this time?

Call 931-0027 24 Hrs. a Day

Ground Rules

You are not limited to the above

but may talk on any subject of interest to readers.

•One subject to a caller per week•

Simply dial 931-0027 - 24 Hours a Day and follow these simple rules:

1. Wait for the beep.
2. Confine your INPUT to one subject.
3. Limit your opinion to five minutes (make notes before calling)
4. Leave your name and telephone, or simply use a pen name.
(your message can be anonymous)
5. Publishers reserve the right to edit, modify or omit any and all material.

Mixed Ideas On Lifting 55mph Speed Limit

Callers were mixed in their answers to whether the 55-mile speed limit should be raised in answer to this question: "With lower gas prices, do you think that the 55-mile speed limit should be lifted in places where local governments believe the conditions are safe for higher speed?" Here are some of the answers:

LOCAL OPTION

There should be a change in the speed limits now that there is no longer a gas shortage. The problem is that trucks going through long distances in the West and Midwest have to keep the speed down because of the law when they could go faster and produce more results. In some states, the law is overlooked but those states are threatened with a loss of highway funds. Local people know far better what conditions prevail and should set the limits. L.T.

STAY AT 55

The 55-mile speed limit, for the most part, should be preserved because it is just fast enough to travel. The prevailing speed seems closer to 60 anyway with the 55-mile limit and if you move it up, then it will go up to 65 or 70 and many people who just can't handle driving at that speed will be forced to go faster than they want. It would be best to leave it alone. L.E.

SAVE LIVES?

I was under the impression that the 55 speed limit saves lives. If that is true, then we should stick to it. L.Q.

MORE SAFETY

It is difficult to believe that the 55 speed limit is the safest speed. On certain days and under certain conditions, it is very dangerous. One thing that adds to the danger is that people tailgate any car going exactly at the 55-mile limit and there is far more passing than necessary. If the speed limit were made higher but more attention paid to getting the driver off the road who zig zags in and out of traffic or drives too slow for conditions, more safety would be involved than in lip service to a 55-mile speed limit that cannot be enforced very well. J.E.

DIFFERENT LANES

Speed is not necessarily the culprit in accidents unless it is clearly excessive for the conditions. It might be well on the multi-lane interstates to make some lanes for slow cars and some for fast ones with the center lane being for cars that want to go at 55 miles per hour. The careless driver who must get ahead by passing every car in sight is the real peril. M.R.

KEEP 55

The 55-mile speed limit should never be lifted. It has saved thousands of lives and has also made us less dependent on foreign oil. I'm all for the 55-mile speed limit. V.G.

SAVE LIVES

The 55-mile speed limit should not be lifted. The 55-mile speed limit was implemented not only because of the high price of gasoline during the 70's but also to save lives. A.G.

SAVE 55

I honestly believe that the 55-mile speed limit has done more to save lives than any other single safety factor in America today. I say that with experience in dealing with the problem on a daily basis. I am a police officer and I used to be assigned to traffic division. I can say that 55 does save lives. A vehicle at 55, in the event of a blowout, mechanical failure, etc. is much safer and easier to control to a safe stop than a vehicle traveling at 65 or 70. The insurance companies all believe that 55 saves lives, the U.S. government believes the same, and the automobile manufacturers do too. Even though the auto makers are now pushing new high performance engines that give us in excess of 55 mph, I do believe that 55 saves lives - especially here on Long Island where we have many fatal accidents. J.C.

LIFT WHERE SAFE

When the 55-mile speed limit was instituted, the prime motivation was conservation of gas in a period when OPEC was sending prices out of sight. Fortunately, that condition has abated although who knows for how long. In any case, dealing with the status quo, I believe that the 55-mile speed limit should be lifted where local governments feel safe in doing so. As most of us know, in wide open spaces, particularly in more sparsely settled and travelled areas of the country, 55 mph is just like standing still giving rise to speeds in excess of that despite the law. Even here in New York, with its high density traffic, I am constantly being passed by impatient motorists who have only derision for the 55-mile speed limit -- they want to get where they are going in the shortest possible time and the heck with those roadside signs or the feelings of their fellow motorists as they zig and zag in and out of traffic. With respect to this latter case, I don't think that our area is one which should lift the limit above 55. Just give our riders a limit of 60 - they'll go to 65 and so on. And, it's not that getting there a half hour earlier makes such a big difference - it's just the nature of some people to challenge the limitation of the law to satisfy some irresponsible inner urge. P.G.S.

'Real Fathers'
Never Shop
On An Empty
Stomach

By Marjorie Wolfe

There are some shoppers who think that "Fig Newton" was the first man to discover gravity by watching a leaf drop. For others, a "fashion plate" is not a charge card from Bloomingdale's but a check cashing card at Foodtown.

Real Fathers:

- *Always grab a grocery cart with four wheels that all go in the same direction.

- *Never shop in any supermarket that posts this sign:

If you can't smell it, we don't have it!

- *Never concern themselves with the proper pronunciation of "croissant" (Kwah-sahn)

- *Know that Guccione is not the name of an expensive pasta

- *Love to shop at Konvenience stores; Kwik-stop, Kash 'n Karry, Kwik-Gourmet and Kwik-Way Deli.

- *Wear T-Shirts/buttons that read "Born 2 Shop".

- *Never buy bananas with "sugar spots" - the brown flecks that appear on banana skins.

- *Can interpret printed tapes from computerized check-out machines. Ex. Man Soup Mix = Manischewitz soup makings.

- *Celebrate "Be Kind to your Grocer" week.

- *Always remind the clerk in the appetizing department to deduct for tare (the weight of the container).

- *Buy "Oodles of Noodles" - the dry-packaged soup mix which will feed a family of six for three weeks' vacation.

- *Never shop in a supermarket that posts the following sign over the banana display:

Please don't split us apart. We grew up together!

- *Purchase the necessities for the "BRAT" diet (Bananas, Rice, Cereal, Applesauce and Toast) at the first sign of diarrhea.

- *Apply Droggin's Mealtime Maxim: "A balanced meal is whatever gets hot all at the same time. A snack is what doesn't."

- *Read and follow their horoscope:

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Early morning is the best time to grocery shop. Make friends with the produce manager...and don't forget the Gatorade and Twinkies!

- *Never squeeze a can of chicken soup to see if it's fresh.

- *Divided the four basic food groups into beer, wine, liquor and Rolaids.

- *Buy Industrial size no name potato chips for Boy Scout meetings.

- *Never buy from a sale bin of cans which have completely lost their labels. (You end up with Mother Earth tortilla chips, Roman Meal multigrain lasagna and "Exterminator Chili").

- *Never frequent a supermarket which posts an 11" x 14" sign:

Last Dogiva Gourmet Dog Biscuits Until Next Fall

- *Look for a supermarket which carries a complete line of canine delicacies—arranged alphabetically:

Choc-O-Crunch chocolate bars

Granpaws Doggie Cookies (paw shaped cookies)

Pupkorn, cheese-flavored

Snausages (Sausages and cheese snacks)

Waggitime beef-coated doggie waffles

- *Never shop on an empty stomach.

Marjorie Wolfe's husband knows that if a product doesn't say "New" on the package, it better say "Cents Off".

TOTAL JOY

The other day some friends and I visited the restaurant in Williston Park called Your Place or Mine. To my surprise, I was astonished at the beautiful way they decorated the restaurant. It gives you a feeling of intimacy and is a perfect place to do business. The meals and service were excellent. I found the place to be a total, total joy and the cuisine was some of the finest around and the prices are extremely reasonable. I recommend this place for people who would like to have a relaxing evening and I recommend it for the local business people because it's ideal for conducting business.

READER RATINGS

Q. While eating in an Indian restaurant I noticed that most of the main dishes were slightly spicy, but the dessert felt cool to the plate. I found the contrast quite delightful and wondered whether it was a coincidence.

A. Probably not. I have no doubt that human beings all over the world appreciate contrast in food just as they do, in most other things.

Q. Soon I will be taking some new friends out to dinner for the first time. Would it be wise to select the menu in advance or should I leave the selection up to my guests?

A. I would suggest allowing your friends to choose their own menus. That way you will avoid certain pitfalls such as food dislikes or allergies.

But do pick a restaurant where you have recently dined and whose ambiance you prefer. That way there will also be no unpleasant surprises as to food or prices.

This newspaper, and the seven other weekly newspapers associated with it, publishes the last word in restaurant guides - a paid listing of many prominent selected restaurants in this area. While many of them have been rated by the great, and near great, food connoisseurs, our readers will have the last word through "Reader Ratings".

Through a special 24 hour phone system, readers will be asked to call in their assessment of each restaurant they visit. Consensus ratings (good or bad) will be published as a continuing part of the guide.

In addition they can make suggestions, compliments or criticisms through the open phone line and messages will be sent straight to the restaurant management.

Guide to Good Dining

READER RATINGS

EARLY AMERICAN

One of our favorite restaurants over the years has been Maine Maid Inn on Jericho Turnpike in Jericho. The Colonial Building, built in 1789 filled with authentic Early American antiques, the cozy fireplace, the Tiffany lamps, all make for a delightful ambience in which to have a leisurely relaxing dinner with the best possible food.

We dined there Wednesday night starting with a cup of excellent soup. One dinner consisted of the special of the day. Lobster tail with shrimp and clams in a delectable sauce, served with a choice of baked potato or linguine. My choice was the Bass almandine served with fresh peas, carrots and corn. A mixed salad with a choice of dressing, and Cafe espresso made for a memorable dinner.

Every time we dine there we say it couldn't be better, and would you believe it is! E.H.

TRUE CLASS

A restaurant that is in the true class is Devins. It is one of the newer ones in the area but it is a welcome newcomer.

The classic design and decor of Devins is a delight to visit. And, as is needed in all restaurants that are truly good, the food is excellent. The menu includes a full listing of the best in Northern Italian and classically fine foods including fresh fish entrees.

Our party of four went there last week. I was the hostess and I enjoyed hearing the great compliments of our guests. The compliments included the excellent attentive service. I shall always go to Devins when I have guests who I want to enjoy a good meal. M.C.R.

TELL THE WORLD

You do not have enough endorsements in your paper for Iannone's in Hicksville. This restaurant is superb in its Italian food. I have gone there for many years and I can tell you that it always meets top quality standards. Last evening we had a wonderful veal parmigiana dinner complete with a cheese cake dessert and coffee.

I will tell you truthfully that the food served in Iannone's is as good as I have ever had even in my own mother's home. She was a real Italian cook who started in the morning and worked all day to give us a fine dinner. Tell more people about Iannone's and you will be doing them a favor. R.T.

READER RATINGS

Q. Recently I had an embarrassing moment in a restaurant. I accidentally tipped over a water glass spilling the contents all over the tablecloth! What is the best way of coping with a painful situation of this type?

A. By trying not to emphasize its importance. Remember you are a human being and every human being makes mistakes. Spilling the water was a mere accident, it wasn't done maliciously and moreover it did no lasting harm to anybody or anything.

If this type of thing ever happens again, just take your napkin and quickly sop up as much water as you can. Neat a signal for the waiter. He'll do the rest.

Then sit back, take a deep breath and laugh at the whole silly incident.

Q. What do you think of an otherwise elegant restaurant that serves mustard, ketchup or steak sauce in the original bottles?

A. I think bottles of this kind should stay in the kitchen. It would be far more attractive to serve condiments in small individual dishes.

Q. Not long ago I attended a buffet luncheon at a fine dining spot. Crab legs were served and looked tempting, but I passed them up because I was not really certain how to eat them.

A. Next time be more adventurous! Crab legs are not only delicious, but like most sea foods they are highly nutritious and low in cholesterol and calories.

As far as eating crab legs, there is usually no problem since any good restaurant serving them would provide its patrons with nutcrackers.

Salsa is hot stuff

By Linda Sesaa Dudley

Salsa — it's more than something to dip a chip into.

Don't limit it to that tired-looking bowl of red stuff plopped on the table in some Mexican-style restaurants.

Today, it's lauded as the kicky low-fat, low-calorie sauce for the food-as-fuel generation. In short, salsa, that piquant melange of chilies, onions, spices, tomatoes and other ingredients, has come into its own.

There are reasons for that, according to Jacqueline Higuera McMahan, cookbook author and specialist on spicy food.

"Americans are far more sophisticated, and so are their palates. Now they travel, and they know about unusual foods, especially pungent, spicy foods," said McMahan in an interview. "We've had a big movement toward ethnic foods."

"Also, salsa is now viewed as a healthy food because it contains vitamins and fiber, has little sugar, if any, no fat and is low in sodium."

"Or it should be low in salt. But that's the trouble with some of the prepared salsas available in stores."

McMahan prepares five different salsas, including fresh and cooked, ranging from mild to very hot.

Serve them in bowls along with tortilla chips, fresh, warm flour tortillas and — McMahan's favorite — hunks of French sourdough bread, served unbuttered with the crispy crusts left on. McMahan serves wine to drink.

"I always end with something chocolate for dessert because it cools and soothes the palate after all that spiciness," she said. She also might pass pots of hot, frothy milk with the coffee for the same reason.

McMahan disdains the broiler method of roasting chilies because she believes the chilies cook too much and tend to fall apart. But if you have an electric range and can't char the chilies over a gas flame, cover the electric burner plate with a stainless steel rack. Turn the electric burner to medium high (about 7). Place chilies on the rack, char one side and then turn with tongs and char the other side until both are blackened.

Here are some of McMahan's recipes. The Santa Fe Green Chili Sauce is one of McMahan's favorite simple sauces. She recommends using it over chicken enchiladas, enchilada stacks or as a side dish to grilled chicken breasts.

SANTA FE
GREEN CHILI SAUCE
8 New Mexico green chilies, charred, peeled and seeded

1 1/4 cups chicken broth
1 tsp. oregano
2 cloves garlic, minced
1/2 to 1/4 cup sour cream

Simmer chilies over medium heat for about 20 minutes with chicken broth, oregano and garlic. If you can't find New Mexico chilies, substitute another type of green chili, such as Anaheim, pasilla or "as a last resort" you can use canned green chilies. Just before serving sauce, stir in sour cream to taste.

NEW MEXICO GREEN ENCHILADA STACK

12 regular corn tortillas
3 tbsp. oil for softening tortillas
2 cups Santa Fe Green Chili Sauce
3 cups Monterey Jack cheese
2 cups shredded chicken (optional)
1/2 cup pine nuts, lightly toasted
1/4 cup cilantro, chopped

Briefly soften corn tortillas in hot oil.

To prepare enchilada stacks, place 2 softened tortillas on greased jelly roll pan. Spread with a couple tablespoons green sauce. Sprinkle each with 1/4 cup cheese, chicken, a couple teaspoons of pine nuts and cover with next tortilla. Continue to layer until 2 stacks are completed with 6 tortillas each. Cover top tortilla with more sauce and cheese. Bake for about 20 minutes in 350 F oven. Garnish with cilantro. Cut each stack into 6 wedges.

For those who like it hot, here is one that reaches up high on the picante thermometer. It is McMahan's all-time favorite and is great on grilled hamburgers, she said.

SCORPION JALAPENO RELISH

5 lbs ripe tomatoes
1/2 lb. onion (about 2)
1 cup thinly sliced jalapeno chilies, with veins and seeds removed
2 red or green Bell peppers
1 tbsp. chopped garlic (nothing less, said McMahan)
1 cup apple cider vinegar
1/2 cup sugar (to appease the cup of jalapenos)
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. chili powder
1/2 tsp. coarsely ground pepper

Drop 5 or 6 tomatoes at a time into a pot of boiling water for 30 seconds. Slip off skins. Cut in half horizontally and squeeze out juice and seeds. Chop tomatoes and onions with large chef's knife.

Using a 4- or 5-quart saute pan, simmer tomatoes and onions about 10 minutes. Add rest of ingredients, adding 1 chili's worth of seeds for added character. Simmer 20 minutes or until much of excess liquid is reduced and salsa has thickened. Watch carefully so chilies retain some crispness and aren't cooked to mushy stage. To prevent over-simmering of relish, tilt pan and spoon off some of watery liquid that collects on bottom.

Makes 2 pints.

The following recipe can be used as a salad dressing on hearty greens such as Romaine or as a salsa, which can be layered over grilled fish, boned chicken breasts or tacos. There is a surprise ingredient here — avocado. It should not be prepared more than 30 minutes before serving time because the avocado cubes will start to darken.

AVOCADO SALSA

2 avocados, diced into small cubes (choose just ripe ones which are not too soft)
2 tbsp. fresh lemon juice
4 tbsp. virgin olive oil
3 green onions, including half of green tops, minced
2 jalapeno chilies, charred, peeled, seeded and minced
2 garlic cloves, minced
1/2 tsp. salt
4 tbsp. cilantro, chopped

Dice skinned avocados into neat cubes and immediately cover with lemon juice and olive oil. Stir in green onions, jalapeno chilies, garlic, salt and cilantro. Taste to see if you would like more of one of the ingredients.

Makes 2 to 3 cups or enough for 6 as a garnish over an entree.

The following is a mild "beginner's" salsa.

SPICY CARROT SALSA

1 bunch carrots, peeled and shredded/grated
1 small zucchini, shredded
1 bunch green onions, including half of green tops, minced
1-2 jalapeno chilies, seeded and minced
1 slice of fresh ginger, peeled and minced
2 tbsp. sesame seeds, toasted
1/2 cup unsalted peanuts
2 tbsp. light oil, such as sunflower or grape seed oil
1/4 cup rice vinegar
1 tsp. sugar

Prepare vegetables. Grate carrots and zucchini using shredding disc of a food processor or grate on a hand grater. Mix shredded carrots and zucchini with remainder of ingredients. One chili makes a very mild salsa, so use 2 if a hotter version is preferred. Cover vegetables with dressing ingredients, using sugar if you think carrots could be sweeter. This salsa has the texture of carrot salad, the kick of a salsa and the surprise of ginger and nuts.

After Work Gourmet

Seviche means heatless cooking

By Paul Bensen

Heatless cooking, which uses natural acids or salt to "cook" seafoods, meats and vegetables, is a perfect technique for the chef who's busy all day, yet wants to serve an elegant, imaginative dinner. Today's recipe, for example, can be prepared quite quickly in the morning — or even the night before — and will be ready to eat when you get home from work.

Seviche, a traditional Central and South American dish, has become very popular in this country over the last few years. The basic technique consists of marinating bite-size pieces of seafood in citrus juice or brine, combined with onions, peppercorns, chilies or sweet peppers, bay leaves and herbs. Scallops, snapper, fresh water trout, very fresh tuna, pompano, sole and crabmeat are all excellent candidates for seviche (sometimes spelled ceviche or cebiche). For the adventurous, octopus and squid, sliced very thin, are also delicious.

Marinating foods in lemon or lime juice or in brine for several hours breaks down connective tissue just as heat does and, with many foods, produces delicious and unique flavors. While most main dishes that "cook" by marinating feature seafood, some meats also adapt very well to the technique.

Recently, a friend served a wonderful beef dish made by marinating very thinly sliced sirloin overnight in the juice of green peppercorns, then tossing them with roasted chilies, sweet peppers, herbs and vinegar. Experimenting with different seafoods, meats and vegetables is a great way to come up with your own favorite marinade recipes. One guideline — any foods to be cooked by marinating should be fresh and of the best quality, since marinating allows the foods' flavors to come through very clearly.

Some meats simply do not lend themselves to heatless cooking.

Poultry, for example, is resistant to the cooking effect of marinades. Pork, of course, must always be cooked thoroughly at a high temperature. Both poultry and pork, however, may be marinated before cooking with heat.

The basic technique of marinating is older than history. Cognates of the English word, all meaning "of the sea," survive in the French marinier, the Italian marinare and the Spanish marinar. Early voyagers used the technique to keep fish edible over many months by storing them in brine or salt. Today, marinating has become a technique for bringing out the very best in foods — as I hope you'll agree after trying today's recipe.

SEVICHE

Preparation time
(before marinating)
— 20 minutes

2 lbs. pounds seafood, boned if necessary and cut in bite-size pieces
2 cups fresh lime juice
1/4 cup fresh lemon juice
1/4 cup finely chopped red onion
1 1/2 cups chopped, seeded and peeled tomatoes
1/4 cup minced green chili peppers
1/4 tbsp. salt
2-3 pinches cayenne

Freshly ground black pepper to taste
1 medium clove garlic, minced
1 small red or green sweet pepper, julienned
1 1/2 tbsps. minced fresh parsley
2 ripe avocados, cut in thin slices, for garnish
Parsley sprigs, for garnish
1/4 cup good quality olive oil

(Seafood suggestions: scallops, red snapper, fresh water trout, fresh tuna, pompano, sole, crabmeat)

In large glass bowl, combine all ingredients except avocados, parsley sprigs and olive oil. Mix together gently but thoroughly. Seafood should be completely covered by marinade.

Refrigerate, covered, at least 6 hours, until fish or scallops are white, rather than translucent. Stir occasionally.

Shortly before serving, add olive oil and toss again.

NOTE: Olive oil will greatly slow the marinating process, so it may be added when the seafood is marinated to your taste, stabilizing the final dish for later serving.

Serve in individual bowls. Garnish with avocados and parsley.

Serves 4 as a main course, or 8 as an appetizer.

Arrange pineapple slices over brown sugar mixture, and place a cherry in the center of each.

Prepare cake mix according to directions. Pour evenly over pineapple. Microwave, uncovered, on MEDIUM for 7 minutes. Then reset to HIGH and microwave 3 to 4 minutes longer, or until toothpick inserted near center comes out clean.

Let stand 1 minute before inverting onto serving plate. Serve warm or cool with whipped cream, if desired.

Serves 8 to 12.

EASY STICKY CINNAMON BUNS

1/2 cup dark brown sugar, packed
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 tbsp. water
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 cup chopped walnuts or pecans
1 (8 oz.) can refrigerated ready-to-bake biscuits

Preparation Time: 7 minutes
Cooking Time: 4 to 5 minutes
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power).

Combine brown sugar, butter, water and cinnamon in an 8-inch round glass baking dish. Microwave, uncovered, until butter melts (1 to 2 minutes). Stir to blend and spread evenly over bottom of pan.

Sprinkle nuts evenly over butter mixture. Separate buns and arrange over top, so that edges touch.

Microwave, uncovered, about 3 minutes, rotating dish 1/4-turn every minute, until buns are firm and no longer doughy. Let stand 2 minutes, then invert onto serving plate.

Serves 6.

microwave magicFather's Day treats kids make themselves

By Desiree Vives

Some things about being a kid are just great: like being allowed to stay up late with a bowl of popcorn to watch a scary movie on TV. And not having to have a job.

Not having a job does, of course, have its drawbacks, and most kids don't have a very plentiful supply of spending money. So that come Christmas, birthdays, or any other gift-giving-type holiday, they're at rather a disadvantage. After all, you can only save up so much lunch money, and with prices the way they are these days, I feel for all the kids who are scrapping to come up with a Father's Day gift.

As a child, I found Mother's Day much easier to handle. You could always hunt around the neighborhood for a good garden and stealthily pluck a one-of-a-kind bouquet to go with your hand-decorated card. No money involved there. Or, if you did have a couple of dollars stashed away, a bit of costume jewelry or a lace hanky would fit nicely within the budget.

But Father's Day sent me into a tizzy. You can't get a decent tie for $3 (painstakingly saved by resisting the song of the ice cream truck). And Dad didn't need another tie, anyway. A cheaply made hammer or screwdriver I could afford, and I'd seen Dad use that sort of thing, but it didn't really seem an appropriate gift. Neither did flowers.

But food — now that's another story. You can bet that Dad will appreciate something made by the kids, especially when they tell him how they've slaved over a cool microwave for a whole 10 minutes!

The following recipes, so easy a child can prepare them, should provide your kids with a sweetly inexpensive way to say "I Love You" to Dad this Father's Day.

PINEAPPLE UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
6 slices canned pineapple, drained
6 maraschino cherries
1 (9 oz.) package yellow cake mix (with ingredients called for)
Whipped cream (for garnish)

Preparation Time: 10 minutes
Cooking Time: 12-14 minutes
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power); MEDIUM (50 percent power).

Place butter or margarine in 9-inch round glass baking dish. Microwave, uncovered, on HIGH 1 to

Vegetarian ViewCREAM OF ASPARAGUS SOUP

1 lb. fresh asparagus
2 1/2 cups vegetable broth
1 large potato, thinly sliced
1/2 cup each chopped onion and celery
3 tbsps. butter or margarine
2 cups milk
1 tbsp. whole wheat pastry flour
1/4 tsp. each salt and pepper
1/4 tsp. crumbled dried tarragon

Rinse asparagus well, trim off tough ends, and cut off tips (reserving tips in steamer basket or metal colander).

Cut asparagus stalks into 1/2-inch pieces and combine in large saucepan with vegetable broth, sliced potato and chopped onion and celery. Bring to a boil and place steamer basket or metal colander over pot to steam asparagus tips.

Reduce heat to simmer, place lid over all and cook soup 25 to 30 minutes, removing asparagus tips as soon as they are tender.

In separate small saucepan, melt butter over medium-low heat. Stir in flour to make a smooth paste, then pour in milk, a little at a time, blending thoroughly. Stir in salt, pepper and tarragon, and continue to cook, stirring frequently, about 5 minutes, or until slightly thickened.

Turn soup, a cup at a time, into container of blender, blend well until smooth. Then return to large saucepan. Add hot milk mixture and stir to blend well.

Serve hot in soup tureen or individual serving bowls, and garnish with steamed asparagus tips.

Serves 4.

CASHEW ASPARAGUS

2 lbs. fresh asparagus
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 tbsp. lemon juice
1/4 tsp. dried marjoram leaves, crushed
Dash white pepper
1/4 cup raw, unsalted cashews, chopped

Rinse asparagus well and trim off tough root ends, using vegetable peeler to remove scales, if desired.

Cook, uncovered, in wide frying pan in 1 inch of briskly boiling water 5 minutes, then cover and simmer 5 to 10 minutes longer, or just until tender. Drain well.

Meanwhile, melt butter or margarine in small pan over low heat. Stir in lemon juice, marjoram pepper and cashews.

Cook over low heat 2 to 3 minutes, stirring frequently, then pour over hot, drained asparagus.

Serves 4.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

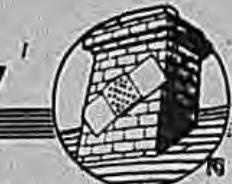

Q. I enjoy reading your answers to people's problems. I have one and hope you can help me.

Sometime ago a lady wrote to you about getting rid of fleas from pets by sprinkling salt or some other substance on the rugs. We vacuum the rugs very often and it helps some, but I would appreciate hearing from you on more effective ways we could get rid of this awful pest. — M.G.

A. Your letter and other readers who have recently written to us regarding the control of pests, including fleas and roaches, prompts us to repeat a number of controls which we have run before, many of them supplied by other readers.

Q. Mrs. C.R.W. of Torrance, Calif., asked a question in your recent column regarding fleas. For those of us who refuse to use chemicals, the use of nature's own sources is a must. We've found that eucalyptus leaves accomplish the disappearance of fleas in a room, carpet or whatever.

Cut lots of the smaller shoots or leaves and place in the room or area infected. They might also be cut up and placed in sections of the room.

Eucalyptus has a strong fragrance which repels fleas and is often used in combination with sage and other plants with a highly pungent odor for spraying insects in the garden — all without harm to the vegetables. A new thought: Use of eucalyptus oil might be even better. Hopefully, this will help some of your other readers. — E.B.

Q. I read the question in a recent column, asking about flea control. I have a friend who is a biologist who gave me some advice about two years ago. Buy oil of wintergreen at a drugstore — the same kind that you use in vaporizers for colds — and add about one teaspoon to a quart of hot water in mist sprayer. Then mist carpets, upholstered furniture, pillows and anything where flea eggs can hatch. The mist will not kill fleas, but it will kill eggs. Spray about three times a year.

The odor goes away in a few days and you are safe for months without danger of pesticides. Since oil of wintergreen is used on babies, I do not believe it can hurt cats or dogs.

Mainly for Seniors

By Leonard J. Hansen

Your letters are fascinating in the variety of questions, comments and suggestions — from financial planning and refinancing to Social Security and creative writing.

Q. How much do you think it would cost a couple to live in Mexico — rents, medical care, food and other costs? We are both on Social Security and cannot afford much. Your ideas on the East Coast or close to the Mexican border? — E.M.

A. I'd explore the retirement living opportunities in the United States before considering moving to a foreign country, particularly if you have a fixed income. Social Security checks can be sent to you in a foreign country but Medicare will not cover your medical costs.

If you want to move from your home state, consider an area that has a lower cost of living and combine it with the quality of life, activities and even the opportunity to earn added income if you want to do so. Sure, you can move to a small village in Mexico and live there for a very small cost — but if you do not bring your own activities and hobbies, speak the language, know the heritage and history, and know and understand the laws and customs of that country, you could literally die of boredom. The quality of medical treatment can be questionable in a country such as Mexico.

You might consider New Mexico, San Antonio or other parts of Texas, Arizona and even parts of Southern California. Study the reference materials at your local library and write the many chambers of commerce for updated information, such as cost of living, price range of rental housing, cultural and social activities, senior citizen programs and the like.

If your questions were based on a long-desired adventure of living in a foreign country and you had planned your finances to allow you to travel and enjoy that foreign country, my answer would probably be quite different.

With the questions based on an assumed economic limitation I'd suggest that your money and benefits will actually work better here in the United States. And you already speak the language. You can also drink the water.

Q. My first husband died in December 1971. Three years later I married again. I am 61. Will I be able to draw on my first husband's Social Security at age 62? — E.H.

A. No, not since you remarried before age 60. At age 62 you may file for Social Security on your own if you have your own qualifying earnings.

If you survive your second husband you may then elect to draw on the benefits of either the first because they always shared that type of experience with their

Everyone I know that has tried the wintergreen misting is delighted with the results. Please pass the word. I told a friend who lives in an apartment house which allows pets about the wintergreen solution. The next time I visited her, the whole building smelled of wintergreen. — T.S.

Q. I try to read your column each week and read the letter from Mrs. C.R.W. of Torrance, asking how to get rid of fleas naturally. I had heard from my friend, while in North Carolina, how she got rid of fleas so I wrote her immediately and asked for the information. Today, I received a note from her giving the name of a shrub you can use to get rid of fleas. The shrub is myrtle evergreen, a native of the Mediterranean area, that grows profusely on the Atlantic Coast in North Carolina. Some have white berries and there is an aromatic odor in the whole shrub.

To get rid of fleas, you store branches in different areas of the house — on the floor, under and behind furniture. You leave the shrubs in the house for several weeks and then throw them away — no fleas left in the house. I do not know if this shrub grows in California or not. — V.D.M.

spouses.

Single people traveling alone are at a disadvantage on most tours and cruises because there is a higher price for a single occupancy of a room than the pro-rate cost for two people sharing. Travel is also a fine time for sharing experiences, new adventures and companionship.

You may write the Travel Companion Exchange Inc., Box 833, Amityville, NY 11701, requesting their newsletter and membership information.

Also, ask your travel agent for special recommendations of tour and cruise programs that have special match-up services for single travelers. There are more and more special quality opportunities for single travelers today than ever before. Vaya con dios.

Q. I have a small estate and know I need a will or trust to provide for my children. Can you advise me of the best way to start? — R.A.

A. Start with a book, "The Essential Guide to Wills, Estates, Trusts and Death Taxes," by Alex. J. Sold, published by the American Association of Retired Persons — Scott, Foresman and Co. This 252-page paperback, $12.95, is available through most bookstores. After you've read this easily understood guide you can take your request, most knowledgeably, to an attorney.

AARP/Scott, Foresman also have other books of interest and assist in retirement planning. You can request a catalog free of charge from AARP Books, Scott, Foresman and Co., 400 S. Edward St., Mount Prospect, Ill. 60056.

TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: I am 17 and my so-called girlfriend is 16 and we have been going together on and off for over a year. About a year ago Nancy had just broken up with her boyfriend when I met her at a party. Five weeks later we were going steady. Our "true love" only lasted three weeks because her old boyfriend came crying to her and she took him back.

To make a long story short, Nancy and I have gone together and broken up six times in the past 12 months. Every time, she goes back to her old flame and when they have a disagreement, she returns to me. At this very moment, she wants us to get together again. It seems she had a huge argument with "the other guy."

I'm getting tired of this yo-yo love affair but I do care for Nancy very much. Help will be appreciated. I want to end this problem once and for all. — Lance.

Lance: It seems like you just wait around for Nancy to return to you, then you expect her to leave a short time later. If you had another girl you wouldn't have this problem. Start looking!

Dr. Wallace: I am 18 and I guess you can say pretty stupid. I allowed my boyfriend to talk me into getting a tattoo six months ago. Actually, it's a butterfly and it looks beautiful, but it's on my shoulder and soon I'll be wearing a bathing suit and I'll be embarrassed. I didn't mind my boyfriend seeing it but I'm not about to show it to the world.

I'm told that it is very expensive and painful to have it removed. How much and how painful? — Lynda.

Lynda: Instead of contacting a doctor (any dermatologist can answer your questions), I contacted a tattoo "artist." Long Beach, Calif.'s "Tattoo Tony" informed me that a good tattoo professional can cover the present tattoo with flesh-colored ink and it would be virtually impossible for anyone to know that you had a beautiful butterfly or your shoulder — cost under $50. Pain? About the same discomfort you experienced when you received the butterfly.

Dr. Wallace: My best friend and I were planning to visit Europe this summer but because of the world situation we have canceled our plans and will travel the North American continent. Since we planned to stay in youth hostels in Europe, we would prefer to stay in youth hostels in the United States and Canada.

Where can we find information to help us? How much will it cost us per night at a hostel? — Glen.

Glen: Please contact American Youth Hostels Inc., 1502 Palos Verdes Dr. N., Harbor City, CA 90710. Ask about becoming a member of The International Youth Hostel Federation. Membership offers many advantages around the world as well as Canada and the United States.

The rates in the United States and Canada average between $4 and $12 per night, depending on facilities.

Dr. Wallace: I am aware that teen suicide is a serious problem in the United States. Is it because of our pressure-to-succeed attitude or is teen suicide a world problem?

I still don't understand why a teenager would be so depressed that he would take his own life. — Jody.

Jody: According to psychologist Robert Brager, suicidal teens are not seeking to die but are attempting to halt an intolerable pain from which they see no escape. The idea of suicide is viewed as the only solution, the best alternative.

In Teen Age, a monthly magazine, teens in 59 countries were surveyed on various subjects. Seventeen percent of all the teens polled said they had at one time or another considered suicide. Eighteen percent of the U.S. teens surveyed said they had considered taking their lives — so it appears teen suicide is indeed a world problem.

Dr. Wallace: I am 14 and so is my best girlfriend. We are, or I should say were, very close until we both started liking the same boy. Well, it so happens that I liked Jimmy two days before Sylvia did but Jimmy won't even talk to me. Instead, he is all goo-goo eyed over Sylvia.

I don't think this is fair, do you? What should I do about it? — Jane.

Jane: Unfortunately, finding a boyfriend is not done by the "finders keepers" or "first come, first served" philosophies.

Since Sylvia cares for Jimmy and he is goo-goo eyed over her, you are odd woman out.

Quality Or Quantity?

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Don't waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient

Readers = Results

is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

Study areas that work

Q: We are redecorating our 13-year-old daughter's room and we want to include a good place for her to study that will last through her years as a student. Since we only want to do this once, what are all the aspects we should consider? — P.F.

A: Providing an appealing and functional study area for your teenage student should be a major priority and carefully planned. As you clearly intend, this space should be located, if at all possible, in your daughter's own room where she has a measure of privacy and isolation from household distractions.

You do not necessarily need to devote a large amount of space to a study area (as the picture illustrates). But the smaller the area available, the more efficiently you will need to plan. Give the study space importance by making it a visually appealing focal point and by locating it as far away from the bed as possible.

Beyond these considerations, the most important elements are good lighting, an adequately large work surface, sufficient storage and a proper chair. If possible, locate the desk near windows for maximum natural light and ventilation and don't stint on artificial task lighting. The room combines both general overhead illumination with an abundance of task lighting located under the book shelves and directly over the desk surface.

Try to provide easy-access storage for all the materials your student uses — books, typewriter, computer, supplies, etc. The easier these items are to see and reach, the more likely they will be used. Most important, provide plenty of open-desk surface. Cluttered or postage stamp-size desks can frustrate the most dedicated student.

Last but not least, get a good chair. This chair should provide back support so that your student can sit straight up with both feet on the floor. Chairs which support this position have been shown to increase mental alertness and reduce fatigue. As in any trade, the proper tools make all the difference.

Q: I want to completely change the decor of my home, which is really outdated, but I am not very good at this and am thinking of consulting an interior designer. My fear is that they will come up with something that they like, but is not me. How can I avoid this? — M.K.

A: Any good designer will take pains to find out what you like and provide an appropriate plan. You can help the process by being as specific as possible. Devote some time to clipping appealing interiors from magazines. What do you like about them and why? Think about your lifestyle and what specific needs your interior should address. The more self-aware you are, the better your chance of being satisfied. But keep in mind that the designer's task is to serve you. If you don't like their ideas, send them back to the drawing board. Or get a new designer.

Have settee appraised by reputable dealer

Q. This small settee was represented to me as Hepplewhite made in the late 18th century. The price was $2,000.

Please give me your candid opinion as to authenticity and value.

A. This shows every indication of being authentic. I can find no detail (in the picture) that might make me doubt its 18th century origin. As such, it would easily be worth the purchase price.

However, I would recommend that you have it examined by a local expert. Seek a reputable dealer or take it to a local museum.

Q. Are early 20th century paperweights with advertising on them collectible? If so, how about some typical examples with prices?

A. They sure are! Both the round and flat glass ones as well as various types of metal weights.

Here are some prices as seen recently at antique shows and flea markets.

- Papendick Bakery — $45.
- National Surety Co. — $30.
- National Glass Corp. — $35.

- Lewis Brothers Lumber — $12.
- Hoskins Lumber — $18.
- German American Insurance — $15.

Points on Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. Our 16-year-old female Pomeranian died recently and my wife is grieving as if it were one of our children.

Is this normal behavior — do other people grieve over the loss of their pets? How can I help my wife through this very difficult period?

A. People who grieve over the loss of a beloved pet should not consider themselves mentally unstable. It is normal to experience intense grief. This is especially true if the person has owned the pet for a long time or if the pet has served as a substitute family. Individuals living alone with a pet are more likely to feel the loss of their animal companions.

Grieving often includes a feeling of loneliness, the urge to cry, feeling of shock, loss of appetite, and being unable to sleep. Sometimes these symptoms last for only a short period of time, while other individuals grieve for weeks.

Friends and family members should be sensitive to each other's feelings. Some pet owners are forced to feel ashamed about their grieving over the loss of their animals because of inappropriate reactions of friends and family.

Many well-meaning people express amazement that anyone could be so upset over the death of a mere animal. Some even give the impression that such behavior is childish and not appropriate for adults.

Many methods to lessen or overcome intense grief following the death of pets have been advocated by grief experts. Talking about the pet's death openly is extremely important. The family members should express their feelings and sense of loss. If a pet has been ill for a long period of time, the owner should take comfort that he or she provided love and support through the last days. People around the owner should emphasize the love and care given to the pet before its death.

Generally the death of a pet should not be hidden from children. They need to know the truth regarding their companion and to express their feelings to understanding adults. Parents should answer questions children ask about their pet's death. It is sometimes helpful if the child participates in the burial.

It is not advisable to immediately replace a longtime companion with a new, frisky young pet. Replacing a pet should be done only after careful consideration and thought. Mourning time is needed — it takes time to overcome grief.

Mourning the death of a pet is normal and natural. Death is inevitable and we should all look forward to it realistically and prepare ourselves for the loss we will feel. The fear of losing a pet through death should not hinder our pleasure or companionship while the pet is living. Your veterinarian can give you additional advice regarding the loss of your pet.

JUNIOR EDITION

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Last Saturday I went to an unusual wedding. The young couple are saving for a home so the bride made her own gown—and it was lovely! After the church service the reception was held in a remote park high in the mountains. The building was covered, but the sides were open, so we had lots of fresh air but at the same time, we were protected from the drizzle.

The food was catered and really delicious.

Because the reception was so informal, the guests were able to bring their whole families, so there were babies and children everywhere, which just added to the fun!

It was a wedding I will certainly remember for a long time!

Your friend,

Aunt Tilly

The World's Most Beautiful Grandchildren

Putterin' Pete

By FRYE

IF YOU HAVE 2 OR MORE CARS, YOU HAVE A KEY IDENTITY PROBLEM. LEAVE ONE SET UNPAINTED, BUT PAINT THE OTHERS TO MATCH THE CAR TO WHICH THEY BELONG. A LIGHT SPRAY WILL DO. DON'T MAKE IT HEAVY.

WOULDN'T WORK FOR ME.
I'M COLOR BLIND!

KEYS TAPE
ARE PAINTED

These are my two beautiful granddaughters, Heather and Kelly Toole, ages 9 and 7. Daughters of Rena S. Toole of Garden City and the late Stephen "Toole" granddaughters of Jean Toole and the late Roger V. Toole of Baldwin; and Rose A. Flak and the late Henry M. Flak of Garden City.
