The property is located at the east side of Newbridge Road south of the intersection formed by Newbridge Road and Bernadette Court, also known as 321 Newbridge Road, Hicksville.

The hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday, August 5, beginning at 10 a.m. in the Town Hall East hearing room, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Bennett Re-Elected Pres. Hicksville School Board

Special to Mid Island Times
By Maureen Traxler

The Hicksville School Board unanimously reelected trustee William Bennett as President at its annual reorganization meeting held on July 8. As the district began fiscal year 1986-87, Mr. Bennett welcomed newly-elected Board members, Carol Wolf and Daniel Arena, who assumed their seats on July 1.

Mr. Bennett took his chair at the center of the conference table and presided over a short meeting at which the Board directed Superintendent Catherine Fenton to sign memoranda agreement with the Hicksville Congress of Teachers and the Hicksville Secretaries Association. The Board will make further information on these negotiated contracts available upon ratification by the teachers union and secretaries.

The Board elected Thomas Nagle as Vice President and Lawrence Moor as Secretary. Also by unanimous vote, the Board reappointed District Clerk Jane Wilder, Attorney Gregory Guercio and Treasurer Tina Inocco.

The Board will continue to hold public meetings during the coming year on the third Wednesday of each month, and designated the Mid Island Times as one of its official newspapers for the publication of legal ads and bid requests.

Dr. Fenton recommended the following items for approval: the appointment of Geraldine Silver as Assistant Director of Instruction and the granting of tenure as Assistant Superintendent for Educational Services to Dr. G. Robert Couillard. Both were approved. President Bennett called Dr. Couillard a "great asset," and said he was "pleased" with the way in which Dr. Couillard is handling his office.

Trustees and administrative staff were assigned to standing committees as follows: Curriculum-Jay Schwartz and Thomas Nagle (Dr. Couillard, staff member); Policy-Jay Schwartz and Lawrence Moor (Dr. Couillard); Legislation-Daniel MacBride (Dr. Couillard); Finance-Thomas Nagle and Daniel Arena (Dr. William Hall, Assistant Superintendent for Business Services); District Facilities-Carol Wolf and Daniel MacBride. Assigned to the Board's Sub-committee on Personnel are Daniel MacBride and Jay Schwartz. Attorney Guercio will also serve on this sub-committee.

The following matters were handled under reorganization:

- *Approval of the Annual Budget Vote for May 6, 1987
- *Adoption of Board Policies
- *Authorization of banks
- *Bonding for treasurer, assistant treasurer and district clerk
- *Appointment of Danziger, Newborn, Popkin, Tumpowsky & Co. as the district's independent auditor.
- *Approval of membership in professional associations.

The next regular public meeting will be held on Wednesday, July 23, 8:15 p.m. in the Administration Building.

CYO Hawks Take First Pl.

The St. Ignatious CYO Hawks finished the '86 season undefeated. The team under the direction of coach John Flynn with the assistance of Gene Cromwell and Larry Connally had a productive season through a combination of good hitting and excellent fielding.

Each member of the Hawks contributed to the team's success.

The top of the batting order, Sean Dorney, Chris Connally, and Steve Ponall usually provided the team with their needed base hits. Joey Basso, pitcher, and Keith Cromwell, first baseman, were a combination that appeared invincible for a play at first. Second baseman John Flynn and center fielder Kevin Krueger could be counted on for that needed RBI.

The outfielders, Robert Baird, Michael Mirra and Chris Baird quickly learned to stop the ball and to throw it to the infield. Catcher Sean Conk developed a strong arm returning those balls to the pitcher.

The Hawks anxiously await Awards Night when they will receive their First Place Trophies.

Joseph Colby, left, Supervisor of Oyster Bay Township became the 26th recipient of the Nassau Association for the Help of Retarded Children's Humanitarian Award when that organization honored Mr. Colby at its annual Rose Ball. Representing AHRC at the presentation ceremony for the award were Sam A. LaMagna, EdD, Executive Director, Helen Kaplan, Executive Director Emeritus and Edward F. LaJole, President.

The honor and pleasure of placing Old Glory on the streets of downtown Hicksville on the Fourth of July is apparent in the faces of these members of the Charles Wagner Post 421 of the American Legion. From left to right are Arlene Howard; Past Commanders Ray Gamble, Dick Hochbrueckner, John Rizzo and Wesley Tjojen; Dick Evers and Steve Wladyka. Not shown but present were "helping hands" for the Legion at the dusk flag retrieval: John Zavattieri, Kathy Kelly, Patrick Kelly and Edwin Hodgkinson, Jr.

It was definitely a Board of Education family affair at Hicksville High School graduation ceremonies this year. Board Secretary Daniel C. MacBride's brother, Michael, left, and President William P. Bennett's daughter Catherine, right, were members of the Class of 1986, and Trustee Arlene Rudin's son Ira also graduated on Sunday.

On Monday, June 30, at about 3:10 p.m. an 8 year old boy was struck by an auto as he was going to a store in Hicksville.

From an investigation conducted by the Eighth Squad the youth apparently ran in front of the auto. Keith was going from the eastside of Jerusalem to the westside, and had gotten ahead of his brother Gregory and cousin Reggie Vargas prior to the accident.

LUCKILY for the Hicksville School District there is a provision in the State Power Authority bill (allowing the takeover of LILCO) to pay the school district the $2 Million in taxes which it gets annually. There is some speculation, though, whether the provision will hold up under challenges from other districts because the authority will not be a tax paying entity...THERE is a 100 page guideline proposal for a garbage recycling plant in the Town. Begins Dental Study Program

John L. Caesar

John L. Caesar will attend the School of Dental Medicine at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. John, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Caesar of Boxwood Lane, Hicksville, was one of only twenty-seven students accepted into this rigorous four year program from over hundreds of highly qualified applicants. John chose Stony Brook over many other offers from dental schools including Columbia, NYU and Georgetown.

John performed his undergraduate work at Hofstra University, where he spent five semesters on the Dean's List, and graduated May 18 with a Bachelor of Science degree in Biochemistry.

John is spending his summer working as a real estate appraiser for Kuzmann-Caesar Associates located in Massapequa. He plays keyboards for the band "The Rave" which can be seen weekly at various Long Island clubs.

John is a 1982 graduate of Hicksville High School.

Notebook Jottings...

It was really nice riding around Hicksville this past Liberty Weekend and seeing how many patriotic residents put their flags out on display for this special occasion. Many thanks to the American Legion which, once again, placed flags on Broadway, Herzog Place and Marie Street for the Fourth of July. This Hicksville Chamber of Commerce sponsored flag decoration program has brightened the village's main street on holidays for over 25 years. It is, therefore, with sadness that we must report that sometime between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. thieves took five flags and the upper halves of the poles.

With vacations coming up for so many people we suggest you heed the advice of Hicksville Postmaster Nienaber and notify the post office to hold mail until your return home. Simply fill out a card, available at the Post Office, and your vacation will be more pleasant without the worry of bulging mailboxes to serve as an invitation to unwelcome visitors.

Congratulations to William Bennett who was unanimously re-elected President of the Hicksville Board of Education. Thomas Nagle will serve as Vice President and Lawrence Moor as Secretary. Unfortunately the Board denied our request for a Tuesday general meeting to enable our reports to be presented to readers in a more timely fashion. A similar request was denied some years ago but we'll keep trying. At present the Board meets on Wednesday nights as we go to press making it impossible to publish the results of their meeting until the following week. Perhaps a gentle nudge from our readership would accomplish this simple request.

Thanks to all school publicity people. They have just been so great supplying us with news and photos throughout the year. It's been a pleasure dealing with them. News is our business so if anyone wants information about how to have your news printed, Please call 931-0012. V.P.

POB Park July Events

Heather Forest

A performance by Sonny Land and his Long Island All Star Band will highlight the second week of "Music Under the Stars" for Plainview-Old Bethpage Community Park District residents, according to Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

The program will be held at the community park on Sunday, July 20, beginning at 8:15 p.m. In the event of rain, the performance will take place at Kennedy High School, Kennedy Drive, Plainview.

"Sonny Land and his Long Island All Stars have been entertaining audiences in the New York metropolitan area and are not strangers to Oyster Bay residents, having been a part of previous summer music series," Clark said. "Land himself is an outstanding trumpet player who has accompanied such recording artists as Lena Horne, Dionne Warwick, Peggy Lee, Perry Como and Tony Bennett."

Selections for this performance, will include "Star Dust," "In the Mood," "What's New?," and "Begin the Beguine."

Clark noted that the program is being sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Town's Department of Community Services and co-sponsored by the Town of Oyster Bay Arts Council, Inc. Instrumental music for this occasion is being funded in part or whole by the U.S. Recording Companies through an agreement with Local 802, American Federation of Musicians.

For children, CAPA will sponsor storyteller Heather Forest at the park on Tuesday, July 7, at 10:30 a.m.

"With her repertoire of folk tales from around the world, Heather Forest travels to theatres, festivals and schools throughout the United States performing for audiences of all ages," Clark said. "Her minstrel style of storytelling is a blend of original music, movements and the sung and spoken word."

For further information, contact CAPA at 795-5943.

Local Postmasters Urge Pet Control

With the arrival of warmer weather, Postmasters have asked dog owners to help protect letter carriers, utility workers and other citizens from the dangers of dog bites.

They say that nationally, more than 5,000 letter carriers were bitten by dogs last year.

"In recent years, the public has responded to our plea to keep their pets restrained, and we have seen a decline in bites nationally. Nevertheless, much is still to be done to eliminate the hazard to our employees and other citizens who might be bitten."

All dogs are territorial by nature, and even the most gentle pet will bite if it feels its domain is threatened by the presence of a carrier or other person. "With a little care, a pet owner can not only protect our carriers, but his or her pet and pocketbook, too."

The Postal Service protects its carriers from dog bite hazards. Among remedies in situations when a pet owner fails to restrain a dog is interruption of home delivery to the residence or, in some cases, to entire neighborhoods. The Postal Service will also seek to recover worker's compensation damages and provides counseling to carriers who have been bitten and who wish to seek legal action against the dog owners.

These policies underscore the Post Service's commitment to protect its employees, and pet owners can easily meet their responsibilities to control their pets.

"We suggest that pets be kept away from the mailbox and areas the letter carrier uses for access to the property", they said. "If the pet cannot be kept behind a secure fence, the owner should restrain it with a secure leash or tether or at least keep the pet inside the house during the usual hours carriers are making their rounds."

"We try to do our part by stressing awareness of dog bites dangers to our carriers, but we rely heavily on support and cooperation of the community to help us end these painful and costly injuries."

Quality Or Quantity?

One Sure Way To Get Results!

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient Readers = Results is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

The following story taken from the July 8, 1976 edition of the MID ISLAND TIMES describes in detail Hicksville's celebration during the Bicentennial. It seems fitting to be reprinted at this particular time with Liberty Weekend festivities on everyone's minds.

Thousands Attend Day Long Hicksville Bicenten

Manhattan may have had its "tall ships" for the Glorious Fourth of July, but Hicksville climaxed its Bicentennial with the "tall men". Thousands of people attended the day-long "Old-time Country Fair" at the Senior High School where, at 5:45, three daring parachutists of the Long Island Sky Divers provided a thrilling "top" for an already marvelous holiday, by gracefully swinging downward onto the turf of the spacious school playing field, trailing smoke, the chutes bedecked with flags.

Climaxing three years of patriotic and historical commemorations, second to none on Long Island, Hicksville's people opened the day at noon with a traditional Fourth of July ceremony. Master of Ceremonies for the great historic occasion was Richard Evers, Co-chairman of the Hicksville Bicentennial Committee.

On hand in the grand stand of the high school playing field to honor the United States on its 200th Anniversary of Independence, in spite of mid-day humidity and heat were hundreds of local patriots.

Among the honored guests on the dais for the epochal occasion were the Reverend Theodore Grant, pastor of the Hicksville Redeemer Lutheran Church, who rendered the invocation prayer; Mr. & Mrs. Alexander Kouza, whose son Lieutenant Carl Kouza of the United States Army, made the supreme sacrifice in Vietnam; Congressman Norman Lent, the chief speaker for the day; Judge Warren Doolittle and former Judge Francis Donovan, popular local jurists; Town Councilman Thomas Clark; School Board Trustees Thomas Nagle and Cornelius McCormick; Kenneth Barnes, Director of the Hicksville Public Library. Also among the special guests and warmly applauded by the audience were the day's "Old-time Fair" Chairman, Millie Pino and the Bicentennial Committee's Co-chairmen Jack Landress and Sigfried Widder. Prominent among the celebrities were three high school students who read dramatic passages from great Revolutionary speeches and documents: Miss Alexis Coche and Messrs. Michael Tester and David Gaudio.

A brief procession of representative American groups who have helped create the nation began the ceremony as Master of Ceremonies Evers paid tribute to "the human diversity which distinguishes the United States" and "to the harmony under law" which also characterizes the nation. In the procession which moved around the running track to the music of the Junior High School "Minutemen" fifers and drummers and the following Nautical Cadets Band of the Hicksville Police Boys Club, were the costumed ladies of the Lee Avenue Parent-Teacher Association, the Color Guard of the Charles Wagner Post, American Legion and Post Commander Palmer "Jim" Walsh; the charming ladies of the Adult Education Americanization Classes of Mrs. MacLoughlin and Mr. Robert Sklarz, typifying the great waves of immigrants which made America; the girls of the Four H Club in dresses made by themselves; the Fair's Track and Field coordinators for the day in athletic attire. Due to an unexpectedly "early opening of the Fair," many individuals and some groups intending to take part in the procession, were busy greeting a large throng of early Fair visitors and were not able to take part in the formal program on the playing field.

In introducing the honored guests for the day, the Master of Ceremonies spoke eloquently of the various types of community leadership and human qualities which enrich a community and which the guests typified. Congressman Norman Lent, made the principal address of the Bicentennial program, stressing strongly his optimism concerning the potential ability of the United States to solve its domestic problems, to meet the issues of foreign relations and provide the leadership the free world expects of our great democracy.

Highlighting the program were the immortal words of three foremost American Revolutionaries, James Otis, Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson, as read dramatically by the three Hicksville High School thespians. Providing sensitive and moving choral interludes to the readings were the Holy Family Players under the direction of Tom O'Connor and his accompanist wife, Peggy. The lovely words and melody of "The Voice of Freedom," "I Believe" in medley with the classic "Ave Marie", and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" carried wonderfully across the sunlit field, a splendid expression of voices inspired by a noble historic moment.

As David Gaudio intoned the words ending Jefferson's Declaration of Independence heroically... "With a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our Sacred Honor.", a group of Holy Family Church cub scouts and their sisters dressed in colonial clothes, ran, cheering onto the field. They carried a pennant-decorated "liberty pole", to the fifty-yard line, where they raised it with true revolutionary spirit of our forefathers, held hands and streamer ends and danced around the pole to the delight of the audience. Joining the children's frolic at that exciting moment were the "Minutemen" fife and drummers who marched onto the field with school Bandmaster Henry Gates proudly leading his Junior High musicians to a salute and march around the Liberty Pole, dais and passed the grand stand to tune of "Yankee Doodle."

The program closed on a note of true birthday joy with Master of Ceremonies Evers asking the spectators to join the Holy Family Players in "Happy Birthday America" which was followed in a hilarious mix-up when both the brass and drums of the Nautical Cadets Band under Director Robert Miller and the chorus competed in rendering "God Bless America." On this most human of notes, the spectators were invited to "stay and enjoy the Old-time Fair."

The Fair will be described in detail in a sequel to this Fourth of July account. It was a tremendous success, set many people to asking Hicksville's well-known elder citizens present at the Kiwanis' booth, Frank Chlumsky (honored guest for the day who greeted his legion of friends from a chair in the shade) and Henry Brengel "why can't Hicksville have a Fair more often?" The Fair turned out just as its Co-chairmen Dr. Richard Smith, Millie Pino, Joan Eannucci and Carol Skupeen of the sponsoring Parent-Teacher Association of Hicksville and Richard Evers hoped it would materialize - and then some.

The aroma of cooking picnic foods, the booths crowded with displays of local folks' creativity and interests, the good-natured "hellos", the cool shade of the High School's raised building structures, the music of rock group and jazz band, soaring flights of arrows in the archery exhibit, the nimble-footed skill of the skateboard demonstrators, all combined to hold the crowd in happy expectation for the day's climax, the appearance of the Sky Divers at 5:30. With a thousand pair of eyes riveted on the late afternoon Bicentennial skies, the soccer field cleared, the fine and always-ready patrolmen of the Hicksville Auxiliary Police under Chief Dominick Lopodote in position, the Fire Department's 500 feet of rope backed up by alert firemen under Chief Roy Schaaf and Michael Efratation of the Sky Divers' ground crew in ground-to-air communication, the parachutists came out of the sky in three aircraft passes, at about 4,000 feet and floated groundward with wondrous skill.

Landing within ten feet of the panels placed on the ground were Bob Hanley, Jerry Thompson, owner of the Bounty Inn Restaurant in Hicksville, and Art Perkins..... Tall Ships - Tall Men, in honor of the Nation's Bicentennial! Happy Birthday, America! Thanks to God!

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark presents a citation to Richard Abrameto of Plainview in recognition of his attaining Boy Scouting's highest rank, Eagle Scout. Sharing his proud moment are Scoutmaster John Klingston and Richard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Silvio Abrameto. Richard is a member of Westbury Troop #233.

Workman Burned In Fire

At about 11 p.m. July 6, a workman stripping a floor in a vacant Hicksville home was seriously burned. The fire occurred at 89 Duffy Ave.

Jamie Espinoza 31, of 17 Conklin St., Farmingdale was stripping a kitchen floor with kerosene. The kerosene vapors are believed to have been ignited by a gas pilot light. Espinoza escaped further injury by jumping out the second story window. He was taken to Nassau County Medical Center, East Meadow with 2nd and 3rd degree burns to his arms, hands, legs and feet.

Chief O'Brien of the Hicksville Fire Department, was at the scene with 7 trucks, 50 members, the fire took 15 minutes to bring under control. Moderate damage was sustained to the kitchen area.

The house is owned by William Villella of 64 Virginia Ave., Plainview. Det. James Garvey of the Arson Squad and Investigator James Scheitzer of the Fire Marshalls Office are continuing the investigation.

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby (3rd from left) greets (l-r) Michael Hirpscak, Scott J. O'Callaghan and Debra Roberts to the recently held Nassau County Career Day program sponsored by the Nassau County Board of Supervisors. The three Hickville High School students participated in the program which is designed to acquaint young people from throughout Nassau with the day-to-day workings of County government.

Resource Recovery Bidding Authorized

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Joseph Colby announced on July 8, that the Town Board has passed a resolution authorizing the issuance of Requests For Proposals (R.F.P.) from vendors interested in building a resource recovery facility for the Town.

Colby said, "we are interested in a resource recovery system that can readily dispose of solid waste in an environmentally sound manner. It will be incumbent upon the vendor to demonstrate a substantial recycling program as part of the proposal."

The Town previously requested R.F.P.s and as a result began discussions with Blount, Inc. of Montgomery, Alabama for the construction of a mass burn facility capable of producing saleable electricity.

Colby noted that in December, 1983, TOBIDA, the Town's Industrial Development Agency, signed a Memorandum of Understanding with Blount which would have led to finalizing a construction contract. The memorandum with Blount could not be fulfilled when the State failed to pass legislation for Oyster Bay that had been routinely passed for other Long Island towns.

"Blount was with us every step of the way," said Colby. "It was a disappointment that the final contract could not be signed. They are highly regarded and I hope they will bid on our new package."

Included in the requirements for the new R.F.P. is a financing plan which does not require any action by the State, thereby avoiding any further delays in meeting the goal of building a waste-to-energy plant.

Documents specifying the Town's requirements in the R.F.P. will be available at the Town Clerk's Office, Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Bethpage Park July Events

A nostalgic trip back to the 50's with Today's Chaperones will highlight the second week of "Music Under the Stars" for Bethpage Community Park District residents, according to Town Councilman Angelo A. Delligatti.

The program will be held at the community park on Thursday, July 17, beginning at 8:15 p.m. In the event of rain, the performance will take place at Bethpage High School, Cherry and Stewart Avenues.

"The Chaperones was formed in the early 1960's, with the members practicing their 'do wops' on street corners until they were razor sharp," Delligatti said. "Following some personnel changes, Today's Chaperones, as the group is currently known, has played at every major nightclub and benefit concert in the Long Island/New York area, including WOR's Steven Allen and Jayne Meadow's Benefit for Retarded Children."

Among the "golden oldies" Today's Chaperones will perform will be "Saturday Night", "Charlie Brown," "Louie, Louie," "Splish Splash," and "Be My Baby."

For children, CAPA will sponsor storyteller Heather Forest at the park on Tuesday, July 17, at 10:30 a.m.

Dear Graduates of Hicksville High School,

As each of you heads out on the different roads of life, I would like you all to remember me. If at some time you feel down and that no one cares, just think about the wonderful things you have done for me. I will never forget or stop caring for all of you. Everyone will always have a special place in my heart. I know that each of you will succeed in your goals. Don't be afraid to set a goal that you think you can't reach. If you get stuck along the way, I hope you will think of me, and go forth and exert yourself to the fullest.

With all my best wishes for success and my love,
Meghan Marie Courtier

THE REWARDS OF BEING A SOLDIER JUST GOT RICHER. GET $25,200 FOR COLLEGE.

Under The New GI Bill Plus The New Army College Fund, you contribute $100 a month from your first full 12 months' paychecks (for a total of $1,200). The government and the Army will contribute the rest (up to $9600 from the government and up to $14,400 from the Army, if you qualify).

But Army rewards don't stop here. They come from the satisfaction of learning a valuable skill which you can use the rest of your life.

They come from the accomplishment you feel when you're in the best physical shape of your life.

And they come from the pride you feel deep-down at serving your country well.

The Army experience can teach you a lot. And put you up to $25,200 closer to college. Call your local Army Recruiter to find out more.

Input Callers Say Liberty Day Was Well Worthwhile

Most callers to Input believe that the Statue of Liberty celebrations will have a lasting effect on the country in answer to this question: "The rededication of the Statue of Liberty will be a big event on the Fourth. Do you think it will have a lasting effect on the nation?"

LASTING IDEAS

Yes. Without a doubt the well-planned celebration of the rededication of the Statue of Liberty will be remembered by generations to come. The witnessing of what great things have happened to so many people who came to this country will have a big impression on people. It is proof that this country has delivered something worthwhile to those it brought here. K.T.

CONTRAST

It is difficult to know what events are going to shape public opinion but this event should be a plus for this country. It showed that we might not do everything right, but many people have come here and made a portion of their dreams come true. It often shows a dark contrast to other countries that claim to help the masses but only find ways to enslave them. E.T.

MORE SINCERITY

I think there was too much glitter and partying on the Fourth for anything important to be remembered. A little shorter but more sincere dedication would have meant a great deal more. W.E.

PERSONAL PRIDE

Yes, the rededication of the Statue of Liberty was an important event and it is one that I did not go to personally but believe it marked an important difference in our country from all others. It made me glad that I am an American citizen. J.E.

WE REMEMBER

Being a daughter of an immigrant, I can well say that the Statue of Liberty is an important part of my life. My parents came here. They were not always treated so well but they would not have gone back to Italy if you paid their way. There was no opportunity there to do very much. They loved the old country but they revered the U.S. and I am glad to have had the chance to remember. R.E.

OPPORTUNITY

There could be no better thing to remember on the Fourth of July than the Statue of Liberty. It took the emphasis of the day away from war and battle and to the heart of the matter. The U.S. is the land of opportunity for all people. T.B.

COMMON PEOPLE

If they would have omitted about half of the insincere speeches on the Fourth, I would have liked it better. Every politician and worn-out entertainer had to get a chance to make noise when it was really a day for the common people. That is what I will remember from the rededication of the Statue of Liberty. K.T.

FIRECRACKERS

I was disturbed by the obnoxious use of firecrackers during the celebration of Liberty weekend. They were shot off from morning till late night each day. This is the new patriotism? Fireworks are beautiful and stirring and I have always enjoyed them. Firecrackers, on the other hand, are stupid. They foul the air and the noise is irritating. Is everyone thumbing their noses at the law? LONG TIME

LONG TIME

Yes, I think that the Liberty celebrations will be remembered for a long time to come by everyone in the United States. Everything was beautiful and the weather played an important role in the festivities. New York made the country proud with its best behavior. I was proud to be a New Yorker during the celebrations this past weekend. L.A.

GREAT CARE

The entire Liberty weekend festivities were handled with great care. I do think that the prices being charged were a little high but I guess there were plenty that could afford to attend by the looks of the crowds at Governors Island. I do think that this weekend will be remembered for some time because it was all done in style and nothing dampened the spirit of patriotism. A.S.

HAD RESPECT

This is a toughie! The Statue of Liberty was conceived on emotionalism 100 years ago and now the heart strings are being played upon with the same refrain but to a much larger and diversified audience. Actually, I think the rededication will stimulate the pride in those emigres who can trace their arrival here to the earlier part of this century. I also think that despite the locale for the actual celebration being centered in the north eastern megalopolis; those in the southern and western states will probably receive a greater and longer lasting emotional message. Unfortunately, I take a dim view of current immigrants who are patently taking advantage of our inadequate policing efforts and entering the country illegally. I am sure the Liberty celebration has a real meaning to them as it does in greater degree to those who work to earn the right to those freedoms. The thousands of immigrants who take the oath across the country on July 4 will indeed remember the event and its meaning throughout their lives as Americans. Finally, I believe that the absence of any terrorist activity during the ceremonies tells its own story of the respect and regard which the symbolic ceremony generated worldwide. P.G.S.

We Went To A Moroccan Wedding

By Jerome J. Niosi, Ph.D.

American travelers who stay in American type hotels, eat from familiar menus and sightsee with perfunctory guides rarely absorb the culture of the country they visit. Those who visit relatives do better. Of course, many prefer it that way demanding American type plumbing rather than sampling the different means to personal cleanliness found in the foreign bathrooms around the world. It was the desire to learn more about Arab culture which prompted us to select Morocco, a selection which resulted in our being invited to attend a Moroccan wedding reception.

Our guide was an amiable archeologist who had devoted his life researching Africa and primitive New Guinea. He had written the itinerary brochure and was determined not to conduct one of those hurried tours featuring twelve countries in four days. The results were memorable. One day, rising at 3 a.m., we drove through the night to the cold Sahara and then creeping unsteadily and cautiously along the crest of the sand dunes trying to avoid tumbling, we stopped silhouetted against the sky to watch a spectacular sun pop up and start a new day. In the eerie silence, one lone nomad investigated the intrusion into his serenity and later happily posed for unforgettable photographs.

Another day, we took side trips to visit his friends, one an emerging Moroccan sculptor, and the other, an artist who had been invited by the King to decorate murals for his coronation. But the unique experience was yet to come.

Skirting the Atlas mountains we approached a small village where a sea of turbanned men in white jalabas seemed to be enjoying large scale festivities. A consensus agreed with our guide that we should investigate. As we maneuvered for camera shots of the colorfully dressed bejeweled dancing girls, an English speaking man welcomed us to Morocco and took us to his uncle, the Zaim, chief of an eleven community area.

Speaking through his nephew, the Zaim explained that his son had married a young woman from Casablanca and that some three thousand people had been invited to help him celebrate the occasion over the next four days. He wanted his American friends to join the others for dinner.

A team of cooks and waiters worked efficiently and quietly with butchers from a special slaughterhouse set up on the grounds to the rear of the house and prepared hot meals for the multitude. Group after group ate, chatted, congratulated and left. It was a reception unchanged for generations and only video tape recorders brought a touch of modernity to the pervasive merriment.

After dinner, the women in our group wondered whether it were possible to meet the bride, sequestered as required by Arab tradition, on the top floor of the home with the other women. Our young interpreter thought it could be arranged although he pointed out that he could not accompany them. My wife, Celia described the scene.

The bride, dressed in the traditional white ornate gown she had made, welcomed her foreign visitors. Of the two hundred or so bejeweled women in colorful, beautifully embroidered caftans, some were nursing their babies, others tried their English on their visitors. All were chatting gaily. Because the day was waning, someone suggested that the American visitors remain overnight in their spacious home. Caught up in the merriment, our thoughts of the trip through the mountains had been forgotten. Much as we would like to have remained, our tour, far more flexible than most, did have commitments elsewhere. Reluctantly, we said our goodbyes, but the totally unexpected incident became the highlight of our trip, a real experience and insight into the extraordinary hospitality of a friendly people. The burden of driving to the next village was left entirely to the capable driver whose enthusiasm for the unscheduled stop was diminished by the knowledge that he had to negotiate the precipitous curves through the mountains at night.

Westernmost of the Arab countries, Morocco has been little affected by the vicissitudes of Middle East conflict. Its king, Hassan II, is popular with his people and was at the precise moment celebrating the 25th anniversary of his reign. Again we were fortunate; we were caught up once more, this time in national festivities.

Buildings throughout the nation were decorated with colorful flags and bunting festooned with lights. Special stands, escutcheons, and huge, beautiful tents for dignitaries were erected in key spots where the king would stop to speak to his people.

But the anniversary posed special problems for us. With thousands of visitors joining the celebration, housing became precarious. Our deluxe hotel Mamounia in Marrakech was preempted shunting us into the smaller but new hotel Al Bhuatan where four of us had to share the one available room. The other three in our group were finally lodged in the private home of the hotel manager. Unfortunately, some overbooked French tourists curled up for the night on the hotel lobby couches. It was hectic, especially at breakfast, but it was understandable and a small sacrifice to be part of the national celebration.

Morocco is not a remote country, but it has areas which have remained relatively untouched for centuries. It was in this country that film makers found authentic backgrounds for "Jesus of Nazareth" and "Jewel of the Nile". It is also in Morocco that one appreciates the high level of religious tolerance which has characterized Arab culture for centuries, a tolerance which has had special meaning for Jews.

Jews have resided in Morocco since the time of the Babylonian exile in 400 B.C. Many more came after the Roman conquest. Of the many cities who vied for the title, Fez became known as "Little Jerusalem". It was to the sanctuary in Morocco that Jews came in 1492 after the Spaniards completed their Reconquest of the Iberian peninsula.

Morocco also possessed a profound "spirituality". Young Jewish children were required to learn the Torah before attending school; while their young Arab friends were required to learn the Koran. Indeed, when "Operation Magic Carpet" brought many Moroccan Jews to Israel, the westernized attitudes and secularistic tendencies in the new state prompted many to return what Maimonides referred to as the "spirituality" of the old country.

Morocco is a land of contrasts: modern imperial cities heavily influenced by the French and rural quiet holy cities like Moulay Idris; heavily clothed and veiled Arab women, patient and hardworking and topless French women basking in the sun around the hotel pool in the middle of nowhere in particular; walled communities housing hundreds unchanged for years and a fairytale atmosphere of bunting and lights in anticipation of the king's visit; the sombre dress of veiled women carrying their babies strapped to their backs and riding mopeds to hurry to their destinations; donkeys agelessly and patiently carrying their burdens prodded by a driver while turbanned men wearing jalabas speeded their burdens more efficiently but on noisier motorcycles.

Myths about the Arabs dissipated as we traveled. Except for the occasional nomad few Arabs lived in tents. Oases were much larger than the Hollywood version. Some oases extended for miles with extensive cities developing around them. Walled units were divided into apartments, many without electricity but some with television.

Craftsmanship was evident everywhere from the tannery in the medina to the markets all over the country. The essential skills begin with a long apprenticeship beginning in childhood which then produces exquisitely decorated bronzewares as well as seaworthy vessels which made their way to the Spice Islands for the aromatic spices which assuage one's nostrils when approaching the native markets.

But nowhere is the skill more evident than in the produce of the Arab farmer. Without artificial means, the Arab farmer grows lemons the size of grapefruits, and other tasty vegetables and fruits. But the piece de resistance is easily the most delectable, luscious fruit we have ever tasted anywhere; the Moroccan orange. Every meal, especially at breakfast, we were served freshly squeezed orange juice, or the fruit itself. It was also a remarkable dessert. To those who must put up with the limp concentrate mixed with water extolled as perfection itself by the exaggerated imagination of the hyperbolic advertiser, the Moroccan orange is a rare treat, indeed, for Americans. We learned, sadly that the European Common Market purchases the entire crop of Moroccan oranges and, therefore, would not be available in the United States.

It was a rigorous trip in that land of contrasts. We had seen the exquisitely decorated mausoleum of Mohammed V. We marveled at the astonishing Tondra Gorges. We reminisced as we walked through Volubilis, the ancient capital of Roman Mauritania, where scenes of "Patton" were filmed. We enjoyed a "Fantasia", the tourist spectacular which followed a traditional Moroccan dinner and entertainment. But for the real, hospitable, vibrant Morocco, nothing could match the highlight which for us was the wedding celebration of the son of the Zaim.

FINE STEAKS

The other night we went to McKeon's restaurant on New South Rd., Hicksville. It was the first time we had been in this restaurant although we had heard some good things about it from friends. We are happy to report that we had the finest shell steaks we have tasted in a long time. The service is friendly and helpful and the price is in line with what we have paid for food that was not of this quality elsewhere. McKeon's is decorated in a style that is comfortable and appealing. We believe that we will become regular customers of this new restaurant and want to recommend it to your readers. G.F.

TOUCH OF ELEGANCE
There is a real touch of elegance at Devins Restaurant in Garden City and it makes the difference when you are in a restaurant just how the restaurant looks and what type of service you get. It has always been our experience that Devins is first rate. Of course, the food is of great importance and Devins has a wonderful continental menu. We always enjoy the food at this restaurant. Last week we took a party of four to Devins and everyone in the party said they were exceptionally well pleased with the beef and with the fish served there. Devins is a restaurant that you can count on when you are entertaining important people or just go out for a wonderful meal. J.E.

WORTH IT

We watch your restaurant pages each week and last week noticed McKeon's in Hicksville. My husband and I went there for dinner and found it to be a great place. The service was good and the food was delicious. We thought for a minute we had bypassed it because it's on a busy intersection where Broadway (Route 107) and Bloomingdale and New South Roads meet. We're glad we looked for it from the ad in your newspaper—it is definitely worth it. V.K.

ORIGINALITY, INSPIRATION

The other night we decided to go to a new restaurant and we hit upon the ad for the restaurant with the novel name, Your Place Or Mine in Williston Park. While we had never been there before it appears that many other people had heard of it before us. The small restaurant was filled to overflowing. But we were treated courteously and well.

The food at this restaurant is exceptionally good and prepared in a different modern style. It has wonderful vegetables and the entree of beef that we had was cooked with originality and inspiration. In other words this is not just an ordinary restaurant, we think it is the best. Your Place-Or Mine is located in Williston Park on Hillside Ave. M.J.

FINE ITALIAN

A really first rate Italian restaurant is located on Hillside Avenue in New Hyde Park. We went to the Fianona Restaurant last week and were amazed at the excellent pasta and veal.

In fact, I am of Italian descent and was surprised that a restaurant could produce food that rivaled the home kitchen preparations of my mother.

I wanted to let everyone in on this exceptional find so I decided to call and give the comments to you so that you can print them in the newspaper.

The service was just fine at the Fianona and it is a nice attractive restaurant. J.L.

Q. If bouillon is served in a cup, do you drink it? Should you take part of it with the spoon? What if the cup has two handles. Do you use both hands?
B.K.
A. Spoon up part of the bouillon before taking it up to drink. If the cup has one handle, hold it in one hand. If it has two handles, hold it by both handles. If the bouillon has solids in it, take them up with the spoon before drinking the bouillon.

Q. If someone asks you to dinner, shouldn't he make the reservations, tell you where to come, and pay for the meal?
A. Yes. The person who does the asking takes the responsibility for making the arrangements-and for paying, unless it is clearly understood before hand that it is "dutch".
Q. What do you do if you think you've been invited to a restaurant, so you don't bring any money and then you're suddenly confronted with having to pay half the bill?
A. You must pay your share of the bill in this circumstance. It happens often in our lives, simply because we don't pay enough attention to communicating and preplanning our engagements. We should all be specific about when, where, and who pays, when dates and arrangements are jointly made.

If you're in a restaurant with no money in a situation like this, go to the captain and tell him your plight and that you will send the money tomorrow-by messenger. If you show identification and-if you sign a receipt for money owed, you might be able to arrange for payment of your share tomorrow. Otherwise, you are going to have to borrow money from your friends at the table. It is embarrassing, but come up with a logical excuse for not having money or credit card.

Q. Is it proper to tip soup or dessert dishes? And when is soup eaten with a spoon? I sometimes see people drinking bouillon, etc. directly from a cup. Is this correct?
C.T.
A. The tipping of a soup or dessert dish is acceptable if the plate is tipped away from the spoon, not toward the eater. Soup or bouillon served in a handled cup or (Oriental fashion) small, cup sized bowl may be drunk. If there are vegetables or other garnish floating on top, these may be lifted off with the spoon before the soup is drunk. Noodles or other things which may be in the bottom of the cup are spooned up after the liquid has been drunk.

TOMATO SOUP WITH EPAZOTE

- 4½ lbs. tomatoes peeled and seeded
- 3 canned pimientos or 2 fresh
- 2 chilies chipotles adobados
- 1 tsp. each, chopped: onion, garlic
- 2 tbsps. olive oil
- 20 epazote leaves
- 6 white mushrooms, thinly sliced

Fried tortilla strips
Salt and pepper

In 1 teaspoon of oil, lightly fry onion with 2 epazote leaves, garlic, pimientos and chilies chipotles. Stir in pureed tomato and season with salt and pepper. It may be necessary to add a pinch of sugar to cut the acidity of the tomatoes.

Heat over low heat for 15 minutes; the soup should begin to thicken. Thin slightly with a small amount of consomme or light cream. Serve hot with lightly fried epazote leaves, mushroom slices and tortilla strips. If served cold, eliminate tortilla strips and substitute chopped onion.

Serves 6 to 8.

TORTILLA SOUP

- 1 lb. chopped pork
- 2 cups water
- Toasted oregano
- 2 cloves roasted garlic
- Pinch salt
- 1 onion, roasted, sliced
- 4 tomatoes, roasted, peeled, seeded
- 2 tbsps. chicken fat
- 4 cups of broth in which beans have been cooked
- 2 pasilla chilies, de-veined, fried, broken up
- 10 medium day-old tortillas, cut in strips and lightly fried
- 2 avocados, cubed
- ½ cup queso anejo
- Cilantro and finely chopped onion

Cook pork in its own fat, then simmer until thoroughly cooked in 1 pint water with oregano, roasted garlic and salt. Remove garlic, grind with onion and tomatoes. In large kettle melt chicken fat, add ground vegetables and fry lightly. Stir in bean broth and pork with its broth. Let cook over low heat for 8 minutes. Check seasoning. Several minutes before serving, gently stir in tortilla strips; they should stay crisp and float slightly. To serve, bring soup to table with separate bowls of chili pieces, avocado cubes, cilantro and onion so guests can garnish soup to their taste.

Note: This soup can be made with whichever type of bean broth you wish. The best way to serve this soup is in individual heat-proof bowls. Put tortilla strips in bowls, then add boiling-hot soup and serve immediately.

Serves 6 to 8.

CEVICHE

- 3 medium avocados peeled
- 1 lb. skinned fillets of mackerel, sierra or carp
- Juice of 6-7 large limes
- 2 medium tomatoes
- 3-4 canned chilies serranos en escabeche
- ¼ cup olive oil
- ¼ tsp. oregano
- ½ tsp. salt, or to taste
- Freshly ground pepper
- 1 small onion, sliced in rings
- A little finely chopped coriander (optional)
- 20 olives without seed, chopped.

Cut fish into ½-inch cubes. Put lemon and lime juice and fish in glass bowl. Set to chill in coldest part of refrigerator for at least 5 hours, or until fish becomes white, loses its translucency and becomes opaque. Stir fish from time to time so that they get evenly cooked in the juice. The acid in the lemon juice coagulates the protein in the fish.

Peel, seed and chop tomatoes, chop chilies with their seeds, and add them with rest of ingredients to fish.

Set ceviche aside in bottom of refrigerator for at least 1 hour to season.

Pour oil, oregano, salt, freshly ground pepper, onion sliced in rings and finely chopped coriander, as well as olives.

You should serve it chilled, but not so cold that the oil congeals.

Before serving, garnish each portion with slices of avocado.

Serves 6.

STUFFED AVOCADOS

- 6 large avocados
- 1 tbsp. finely chopped onion
- ½ tsp. lemon juice
- ¼ tsp. salt
- 1 tbsp. finely chopped cilantro
- 1 tsp. chopped pickled jalapeno chilies
- ¼ cup crushed chicharron

Cut avocados in half, taking care not to break shell. Remove pits, then carefully scoop out avocado meat.

Mix avocado meat with remaining ingredients, blending well. Check seasoning, then stuff back into shells for serving.

Variation: For variety, you can add to avocado mixture any one of following ingredients: sardines, with spine removed and oil drained off; crab meat; beans in a pot, cubed roasted cactus; crayfish; ceviche or Mexican caviar (the roe from gray mullet).

Serves 8 to 10

LOBSTER ENCHILADAS IN HAZELNUT SAUCE

- ½ cup butter
- 1½ cups olive oil
- 1¼ lbs. toasted, blanched hazelnuts

- 2 cloves garlic
- 4 chilies chipotles
- 1 cup vegetable oil
- 4 cups consomme
- 4 slices bread
- Salt
- Pepper
- 4 dozen small tortillas
- Olive oil for frying
- 2¼ lbs. cooked lobster, well-chopped
- 1 cup toasted, chopped hazelnuts, for filling

Melt butter with ½ cup olive oil in a skillet. Lightly fry blanched hazelnuts; remove from fat. Lightly fry garlic, bread and chili, remove from fat. Puree these ingredients with consomme. Drain fat from skillet, add puree to skillet, season with salt and pepper and keep warm.

Lightly fry tortillas in olive oil, then dip in hazelnut sauce. In center of each tortilla, put a small amount, fold. Top with chopped hazelnuts.

Note: Almonds or peanuts also can be used.

Serves 24

CHILIES STUFFED WITH FISH

- 8 large poblano chilies, peeled and separated from the filaments
- 3 lbs. fish cut into cubes
- 1¼ lbs. tomatoes
- 2 medium onions, chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, chopped
- Olive oil, cooking oil
- Salt
- 8 eggs
- 1 lb. flour
- Sauce:
 - 1 tin tuna
 - 4 tbsps. olive oil
 - 2 cups fish broth
 - Juice of 4 lemons
 - Salt and pepper

Fry garlic, onion and tomatoes in 1 tablespoon of olive oil. Add fish covered with flour. When this is fried, cook thoroughly and add 1 tablespoon olive oil. This mixture is to stuff chilies. When they are stuffed, cover with flour and then with beaten eggs (first beat egg whites until fluffy and then add egg yolks) and fry in hot cooking oil. You also can serve without egg and flour cover. Add salt to taste.

After Work Gourmet

By Paul Bensen

Chilled soups are a perfect summer lunch, the ideal first course for a hot weather supper or, served with a salad and some crusty French bread, can even be the main course for a dog-day dinner. For the busy chef, cold soups have an added appeal — they can be prepared well ahead, then refrigerated until it's time to serve them.

With the many commercial soups available in markets today, a lot of busy cooks simply open a package or a can instead of making their own soups. As good as many of the store-bought varieties are, none can match a soup prepared from scratch with fresh summer vegetables.

Today's recipes are for two original creations: Chilled Scallop and Shrimp Soup with Cucumbers and Cold Curried Tomato Soup — and my quick and easy versions of two classic chilled soups: Gazpacho and Vichyssoise.

Serves 8 to 10.

BOAR IN BLACK SAUCE

- Marinating paste:
- 2 heads roasted garlic
- 1 tsp. toasted black pepper-corns
- 3 tbsps. lightly toasted oregano
- 1 cup vinegar
- 1 cup bitter orange juice
- 1 tbsp. coarse salt
- 4½ lbs. boar, pork or chicken breasts
- For the meat:
- 2¼ lbs. onions, thinly sliced
- 4 tbsps. lard or vegetable oil
- 2 cups bitter orange juice or 1½ cup orange juice plus ½ cup lemon juice
- 1 stalk fragrant herbs
- 1 tbsp. toasted oregano
- 12 guero chilies

The day before, prepare marinating paste by grinding garlic, peppercorns, oregano, vinegar, orange juice and salt in a blender. Spread over meat well. Set meat in glass dish; cover, then refrigerate.

The next day, charcoal grill meat and when nicely browned remove from heat and shred finely. In a casserole, fry onions in lard. Stir in meat, chilies, oregano, herbs and juice. (If you don't have juice, use a small amount of vinegar and broth for liquid). Cook until meat is tender; if necessary, add more broth. Check seasoning and serve garnished with fresh chilies.

Serves 8 to 10.

MANGOES WITH EGGNOG

- 6 mangoes
- ¼ cup rompopo (eggnog)
- 1 cup cream
- 3 tbsps. sliced toasted almonds

Clean mangoes; slice firmest part and put on platter. Prepare sauce with remaining mango flesh. Blend mango with rompopo and add cream, making sure sauce is not too watery. Pour over mangoes and decorate with sliced almonds.

Serves 6 to 8.

and Cold Curried Tomato Soup — and my quick and easy versions of two classic chilled soups: Gazpacho and Vichyssoise.

Chilled Scallop and Shrimp Soup with Cucumbers is filling enough to serve as a hot weather main course. Cold Curried Tomato Soup is so easy to make that it's almost embarrassing to field the inevitable compliments from guests. There is no cooking involved and, except for chilling, the soup is finished in five to 10 minutes.

Gazpacho and Vichyssoise, though very different in taste and appearance, are alike in their elegance and versatility.

A couple of hints that may be helpful. Soups often thicken while they're chilling, and if you find that any of today's soups comes from the refrigerator a bit thicker than you'd like, just add a bit of water, cream, tomato juice or broth — whichever is appropriate to the particular soup. Chilling can also affect the seasoning balance of soups, so take a taste just before serving and, if necessary, adjust the seasoning.

CHILLED SCALLOP, SHRIMP AND CUCUMBER SOUP

- 3 medium to large cucumbers (about 1 lb.), peeled and coarsely chopped
- 1 tbsp. sugar
- ¼ cup wine vinegar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1½ tbsps. butter
- 8 ozs. bay or sea scallops (leave bay scallops whole, quarter sea scallops)
- 12 ozs. small shrimp, peeled, deveined and rinsed
- ¼ cup dry white wine
- ¼ tsp. freshly ground white pepper, or to taste
- 1 cup heavy cream
- ¾ cup chicken stock
- ¾ cup minced fresh parsley
- 1 green bell pepper, seeded and diced
- 1½ tbsps. dried dill weed
- 1 tsp. minced fresh mint (optional)
- Sprigs of parsley for garnish (optional)

Total preparation/cooking time (including do-ahead steps) — 20 to 25 minutes.

Do-Ahead Steps:

In a bowl, toss together cucumbers, sugar, vinegar and salt. Place in refrigerator and reserve.

In large, heavy frying pan, melt butter over medium heat, add shrimp and scallops and sauté 3 minutes, until shrimp are nice pink color. Remove shrimp and scallops to medium bowl.

Add wine to pan and cook over medium heat until reduced to about 2 tablespoons. Pour wine/butter mixture over seafood, add salt and pepper to taste and reserve.

Place cucumbers in blender or food processor and process 3 to 4 seconds. Add cream and chicken stock, and continue to process until fairly smooth. Add minced parsley, chopped green pepper, dill weed and mint (optional), and pulse again — just a second or so.

Pour mixture into large bowl and gently stir in shrimp and scallops. Refrigerate until cold.

Garnish with parsley sprigs before serving, if desired.

Serves 4.

COLD CURRIED TOMATO SOUP

- ½ cup plain yogurt
- ½ cup sour cream

Total preparation time — 10 minutes.

In medium-sized bowl, whisk yogurt until smooth. Add remaining ingredients and continue to whisk until well mixed in.

Refrigerate, covered, until chilled.

Serves 4.

GAZPACHO

- ¼ cup finely chopped onion
- 2 cups tomato juice
- ¼ cup cold water
- ½ cup olive oil

- 1 clove garlic, minced
- ½ tsp. Tabasco sauce
- Salt and freshly ground pepper to taste
- 2 tbsps. chopped parsley (for garnish)

Total preparation time — 20 minutes.

Put chopped tomatoes, cucumbers, onion and bell pepper in large glass bowl. Pour in tomato juice, water, lemon juice, olive oil and vinegar and stir well.

Add garlic, Tabasco, salt and pepper, stir again and taste. Adjust seasoning as needed.

Chill thoroughly in refrigerator. Taste again when chilled to check seasoning.

Serve gazpacho in individual chilled glass bowls, garnished with chopped parsley.

Serves 6 to 8.

VICHYSOISE

- 2 tbsps. butter
- 6-8 medium leeks (about 1½ lbs.), minced and trimmed
- 1 medium onion, peeled and minced
- 4 medium potatoes, peeled and shredded (use large holes of grater)
- 4 cups chicken stock
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup heavy cream
- Salt and freshly ground white pepper to taste
- Chives for garnish, finely chopped

Total preparation/cooking time — 45 minutes.

Melt butter in 3- or 4-quart saucepan over medium-low heat. Add leeks and onion and cook 8 to 10 minutes, stirring every minute or so, until soft. Do not allow to brown.

Add potatoes and chicken stock and bring to boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer, stirring every few minutes, for 30 minutes.

Strain liquid into another saucepan and reserve. In blender, puree vegetables. Force puree through fairly fine strainer and whisk into reserved liquid.

Add milk and allow to barely come to boil over medium heat. Remove from heat and stir in cream. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Refrigerate until well chilled. Just before serving, check seasoning and sprinkle with finely chopped chives.

Serves 6 to 8.

microwave magic

By Desiree Veeva

Franks, wieners, hot dogs — whatever you call them, they're an all-time American favorite. Especially in the good old summertime, when everyone lives by the "3-B's": beach, barbecue and baseball.

When you're all set to do a bit of outdoor cookery, wieners are great on the grill. But if the heat is on and you're simply too lazy to get a bed of coals going, it's nice to know that a microwaved wiener is only minutes away.

Two franks will microwave in 1 to 2 minutes on HIGH (100 percent power) setting. When heating only a few, just place on a plate and cover with wax paper or paper towel. To heat six or more, place in glass casserole with ½ cup of water and cover. Microwave 4 to 7 minutes, rearranging halfway through cooking time, until heated through.

Since franks may explode during cooking from pressure buildup, it's a good idea to prick skins with a fork, or make shallow diagonal slashes down length of frank to let steam escape.

There are lots of ways to dress up a dawg. Traditional favorites are mustard, ketchup, pickle relish, chopped onions, chili, sauerkraut and shredded cheddar cheese.

If you're feeling particularly adventurous, try "putting on the dog" with one of the following "fancy frank" recipes for microwave. Sweet and Sour Party Franks make an inexpensive yet elegant hors d'oeuvre that easily feeds a crowd, and Wieners in Brew is a combination sure to please the men in the house. Corn Dog Chowder is an eclectic concoction that makes a light summer supper when served with hot rolls and a fresh green salad. Haute Dawg!

SWEET & SOUR PARTY FRANKS

- 1 (6 oz.) jar currant jelly
- 1 (10 oz.) jar prepared mustard
- 2 lbs. (16 to 20) franks, cut into 1-inch diagonal slices

Preparation Time: 3 to 5 minutes

Cooking Time: 6 to 9 minutes
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Combine jelly and mustard in 3-quart glass casserole. Stir well to blend. Microwave 1 to 2 minutes, or until mixture can be stirred smooth.

Add sliced franks, stirring gently to coat. Cover and microwave 5 to 7 minutes, stirring every 2 minutes, until heated through. Serve hot.

Makes about 80 appetizers.

WIENERS IN BREW

- 1 lb. (8 to 10) franks
- 1 (12-oz.) can beer, at room temperature
- ½ cup minced onion

Preparation Time: 3 to 5 minutes

Cooking Time: 7 to 9 minutes (5 minutes standing time)

Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Arrange franks in 13x9x2-inch glass baking dish. Pour beer over franks, sprinkle with onions. (Franks may be marinated in beer 3 to 4 hours or overnight for fuller flavor.)

Cover loosely with plastic wrap and microwave 7 to 9 minutes, rearranging after 4½ minutes, until heated through. Let stand, covered, 5 minutes before serving.

Serves 4 to 5.

CORN DAWG CHOWDER

- 3 slices bacon, diced
- 6 franks, sliced diagonally into ½-inch slices
- 1¼ cup chopped onion
- 4 medium potatoes, peeled and diced
- 1 cup water
- ¼ tsp. each salt, pepper and basil
- Dash oregano
- 1 (1-lb.) can cream-style corn
- 1 (15½-oz.) can evaporated milk
- 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese

5 Preparation Time: 10 minutes
Cooking Time: 19½ to 24½ minutes

Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Place bacon in 2½-quart glass casserole dish. Cover and microwave 2½ minutes, stirring once.

Add frank slices and onion. Microwave, uncovered, 4 minutes, stirring after 2 minutes.

Add potatoes and water, cover and microwave 10 to 12 minutes, stirring after 5 minutes. Stir in seasonings, corn and evaporated milk. Microwave, uncovered, 3 to 5 minutes longer, to heat to serving temperature. Do not boil.

Serve hot, with garnish of shredded cheddar cheese.

Serves 4 to 6.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q: We are converting our present garage into a family room. What would you recommend for a floor covering over the current concrete? We would like something not too expensive, and easy to install and care for. — R.A.

A: Since the concrete flooring is on or below ground level, your choice at present is limited to the coverings that resist the effects of moisture and alkali that might seep through. This means asphalt tile, vinyl asbestos, certain sheet vinyls with special backing, solid vinyl tile or rubber.

We have listed the possibilities in order of increasing cost. They are all comparable in ease of installation. In deciding among them, bear in mind that asphalt, and to a lesser degree, vinyl asbestos, can crack and are less resilient. The more expensive vinyls are easier to care for and keep a better looking finish when subjected to wear.

Also, unless the concrete is quite smooth, you will need to have it filled or ground.

Flooring manufacturers can advise you about the likeliest material for your needs and the best way to make the installation.

Q: We recently purchased an older home that we are now in the process of redecorating. I have noticed a number of cracks in the plaster walls of the living room and hallway that I plan to paint. How can I cover these up before I paint? — D.R.

A: To cover or repair plaster cracks is a relatively simple job that almost anyone can perform by following these simple steps.

First, remove any loose particles of plaster from the crack. Use any small, pointed tool such as an ice pick, fingernail file or small screwdriver.

Next, dampen around the crack, using a sponge or moist cloth. Use a small quantity of any reliable, manufactured brand of crack sealer, available from most hardware and paint stores. Work the sealer into the crack according to directions on the package.

When hard, it may be painted over without showing, and you probably will have seen the last of the crack.

Q: Sometime ago I read in your column how to care for leather tabletops. At the time I did not pay much attention. Since then I have come into possession of some lovely tables that have leather tops. I would like to know how to care for them and protect the leather surface. Can you send me a copy of your previous column? — H.M.

A: We would be happy to repeat the instructions. The first rule is: Don't wax it! Leather needs oiling to retain its natural beauty.

First, clean the entire surface with a clean cloth dampened in mineral spirits; wipe dry. Repeat this process until all previous wax buildup is removed. Then apply lemon oil. Reapply several times in the following weeks. The leather will absorb the oil.

If you have indentation marks from wear, they should slowly disappear. After the leather is in good condition, you can reapply a little lemon oil every two or three weeks. This should be all the care your leather tabletops need.

Q: I have a paint roller made of lamb's wool. I want to use it to do some enameling, but have been told that it can't be used with enamel. Is this correct? — A.W.

A: Yes, Lamb's wool is not suitable for enamel. If the roller is the type from which the cover can be removed, get one made of mohair or, if the store doesn't have it, some other material that is suitable for enamel.

These days, most rollers come with paper coverings that describe which finishing materials can be used with them.

TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

I'm here to tell any and all teens who plan to "white-out" — don't. I've never tried anything so potent. — Jeff

Dr. Wallace: I'm an 18-year-old girl and my best friend is a guy who is also 18.

All through our junior and senior years of high school we shared our innermost secrets. In fact, Jimmy even let me read his personal letters and notes from his girlfriend. My problem now is that I really have strong feelings for him. I like him very much. I might even say that I love him.

Last night I told him how I felt and he said he likes me, too, and asked me to write a letter to his girlfriend explaining that he no longer wants to go steady with her and that Jimmy and I were now going to be a steady couple.

Somehow I want to write this letter but I also think that it's Jimmy's responsibility to let his girlfriend know it's all over.

What should I do? — Heather

Heather: Make Jimmy do his own dirty work. If he is honorable, he will talk to his steady face to face and not hide behind a letter.

Dr. Wallace: I am 14 and was adopted as an infant by my mother and dad.

First of all, let me tell you that I love them very much and I know they love me, too. But lately I have this tremendous urge to discover who my birth mother is and to meet her in the near future.

My problem is that if I discuss this with my parents they might feel hurt and I would never do anything to hurt them. Should I cool it for a while or should I talk to them and hope for the best?

I'd also like to have my question answered by the teen guest writers. — Janet Janet: Explain how you feel to your parents. They probably are aware that someday you would come to them seeking information about your birth mother. Almost 100 percent of all adopted children are curious about the women who gave them life.

If for any reason your parents are evasive or do not want to talk about it, then cool it until they are willing to discuss it or until you reach age 18, when you can do the necessary research (many organizations will assist) on your own.

Dr. Wallace: I was very pleased that you wrote a column on "whiting-out," telling teens the dangers of sniffing liquid paper.

Last Halloween night, my best friend and I went to a "spook" party. Some of the kids were sniffing liquid paper and they talked my friend into trying it for the first time. I guess she took too much because she soon complained about a pain in her right arm. Two hours later, my dear best friend died of heart failure. — Sue

Dr. Wallace: This letter is in reply to the girl who inquired about "whiting-out," or sniffing typewriter correction fluid.

One night my perfectly healthy 6-foot-1-inch, 220-pound son came from work, sat in his chair, "whited-out" and died.

If this substance can kill a person of his size, just think what it might do to a small girl. The best advice possible would be to leave the stuff alone. I'm not sure if "whiting-out" is habit-forming but I do know it's deadly. — A Mother.

Dr. Wallace: Please allow me to tell you about a "white-out" experience that my brother suffered.

My older brother was at a party and they ran out of booze so somebody suggested they get high on liquid paper. It was my brother's first and he says his last experience sniffing anything.

After overdosing he passed out and started breathing heavily. His friends rushed him to a hospital and he almost didn't make it.

The doctors told my parents that it is a miracle that he is alive today. In fact, at one time his heart stopped beating and it took CPR to revive him.

I hope you will print my letter so teens who might be thinking of "whiting-out" will put the thought out of their heads. — Dar-

Dr. Wallace: Your column on "whiting-out" broke my heart. My brilliant, beautiful sister has been in a coma for over three horrible weeks in a local hospital — She was "whiting-out." — Sylvia.

Dr. Wallace: I'd just like to add my 2 cents regarding "whiting-out."

About three months ago I was with a group of guys and one of them had a bottle of liquid correction fluid.

I was told that it would give a terrific "high." I tried it and it scared me half to death. After three deep sniffs I passed out and was told that I was out cold for over two hours.

Mainly for Seniors

By Leonard J. Hansen

Q: My young neighbor — about 22 years of age — wants to start a business but can't get the financing he needs on his own.

He has asked me to either lend him $20,000 or be cosigner for a loan. What should I do? — M.V.

A: Consider first whether you are in the banking business. If not, discard the idea of a loan when the traditional sources for loans will not grant him money.

Should you be cosignatory for a loan? Not if you don't want to pay it off yourself. Studies reported by the Federal Trade Commission show that three out of four cosigners of finance company loans are asked to repay the loan.

That should not surprise you, states the FTC. "When you are asked to be cosignatory you are being asked to take a risk that a professional lender will not take. The lender would not need a cosignatory if the borrower were a good risk."

If you do agree to be cosigner and your friend misses a payment, the lender can collect from you right away without pursuing the borrower first. And the amount you owe may be increased — by late charges or by legal fees — if the lender decides to sue to collect. If the lender wins the case, he or she may be able to take your wages and property

Do not be pressured into agreeing to be a cosigner. The more pressure there is, the quicker and firmer should be your rejection of the proposal.

What can you or should you do? Ask your friend how much he, himself, is saving to start a business. Ask what resources he has to post as collateral for the loan. Ask about his experience and research into the business idea or concept he has. Ask if he has developed a business plan and if so, you might want to read it. These are the questions a professional lender will ask.

Don't be swayed by any statement that urges, "I need the money now because this idea has to be started immediately (or the business has to be purchased right now)."

Be particularly cautious if your friend says, "I just can't work for someone else any longer and I have to get into my own business."

If you lend the money, what do you get in return? Just the return of your money plus some current-rate interest? If so, you might look somewhere else to put your money. Venture capitalists, when considering start-up or new business purchases, want a piece of the business in addition to the return of their principal and interest.

If you agree to be cosigner, know that you can afford to pay off the loan. Have an agreement in place that gives you rights for collection or assumption of the business. You will really need legal counsel in this kind of agreement.

There are professionals whose business it is to take financial risks. If you're not one of them, consider seriously whether you know more about successful lending than they do.

There are many mature adults who are financially secure who do lend money to young people for businesses. Most we've interviewed say they do it because they can afford to lose the money or because they like to own a piece of smaller, upcoming businesses. Judge your position for yourself.

Q: I want to generate added income. Does recycling products make any sense? — R.G.

A: Recycling makes great sense to produce added income, and you don't have to dig around in trash cans for the items.

Recycling programs are established particularly for aluminum, paper and glass. Check the Yellow Pages of your local area telephone books under the listing of "recycling" and under the three subjects of aluminum, paper and glass and start phoning for your research.

When you find the opportunity for the collection for recycling of one or all of the product areas, start in your own neighborhood with friends and relatives. Ask them to save these three commodities for your pickup once each week. Providing plastic grocery bags for the saving process in each home will make it easier for the provider and easier, too, for you to transport the items away.

PUZZLED?
 Are you puzzled why we run more Classified
 Ads in our areas than our biggest competitors including the N.Y. Times, Newsday, The Daily News and the free throwaways that come to your door?

The Answer Is Simple -
RESULTS: When readers run ads with us, they get results, not numbers of printed copies or other irrelevant information.

An Ad, any ad, is only an advertisement for you when people READ it. Large numbers of copies printed and hung on door knobs or multi pages of newsprint in large out-of-town newspapers are not what count. Only readers get your message and can bring you results.
 The next time you are thinking of advertising something - remember that it takes readers to get your message.

And then you will know why so many more local ads are run in our newspapers than in the big papers, or the so-called saturation throwaways. Don't count door knobs - count customers.

Backyard Gardener

One very important and fascinating facet of fruit and vegetable gardening is calculating the best time of harvest for maximum flavor and highest possible nutrition.
 After all, it's only logical that having spent considerable time and energy in preparing the soil, planting, weeding and watering our edible plants, we would also want to gain as much pleasure and goodness as possible from them at the table.

It's fortunate that just at the time when most crops are bursting with the greatest amounts of flavor and nutrition they're also at their most visually attractive and appealing. Who is not, for example, drawn to strawberries at their peak of glossy red plumpness, or to raspberries when they're fully fattened and fall at a touch into our waiting hand.

In just the same way lettuce and spinach, while still lush and fat of form and leaf, will be most rich and flavorful. Once spinach and leaf lettuce plants begin to elongate and their leaves narrow, they're past their taste peak. And head lettuces displaying that tel-tale bump on their top surfaces have already begun to form seed stalks.

Harvesting broccoli and cauliflower heads and shoots while they are still tight, before the florets begin to separate and open into their yellow flowers, brings them to the table at their most flavorful peak. Though cauliflower is a one-crop plant, broccoli will continue to produce nice shoots if the main central head is cut at its base immediately above a strong set of leaves. This will stimulate dormant or already-started flowering shoots to grow from the leaf axils below the cut.

Eggplant, that tantalizingly demanding beauty, also reaches its perfection peak for eating when at its most gorgeous - fat, sleek and glossy. Once its sheen fades, an eggplant will no longer win any beauty or flavor contests.

Cucumbers also give away their eating quality by appearance.
 Fruits that have begun to yellow are overgrown, on their way to becoming seed factories, and well past their delicate, flavorful best.

Sweet peppers are one delicious garden treat that improves with age, increasing in Vitamin C content as the fruits mature through the green to the red stage.

Though some of the newer varieties are more enduring in their length of harvest than older types, corn still should be watched quite carefully to catch it while the kernels are still filled with sweet juice. Once that liquid turns turgid and starchy, the youthful sweetness of the kernels is gone. When the silks have browned and there is a full feeling to the ears, peel back a bit of the husk to check an ear or two. Milky, not watery, juice spurting out from the piercing of a fingernail signals top flavor and sweetness in this delectable vegetable.

In our family, we are especially fond of slightly immature shell peas, taken well before they've sized up fully and the pods have lost their fresh green look. Left too long, peas take on a most tough and woody texture and are then only really good for adding to soups and stews, or for drying.

Another vegetable we like to pluck while still in the adolescent stage is the snap bean, which is beautifully crisp and tender when picked very slim. Once the beans begin swelling within the pods the juicy flesh becomes fibrous and coarse.

Summer squashes, too, are at their most palatable when picked very young - zucchinis around six inches in length. At this stage they're still tender and delicately flavored for salads, light steaming or fast frying.

All summer fruits and vegetables will be most flavorful and filled with the greatest amounts of Vitamin C if they're harvested on a sunny day, ideally after a run of two or three sunny days, as sunshine develops Vitamin C in food crops - mostly on the outer surfaces of the vegetable or fruit.

Quality Or Quantity?
 When you advertise in a subscription newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.
 When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.
 With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.
 Our (not so secret) ingredient Readers = Results
 is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

Capitalize on good views

By Sharon Owen Haven

Q: The best feature of our new home is the spectacular view of lake and mountains from our living room. The room itself is small and fairly basic architecturally with a low-profile fireplace flush in one wall.

How can we comfortably and attractively decorate this room while still making the most of the view? — M.F.

A: It is a fortunate circumstance, indeed, that the best attribute of a room is what lies outside of it. You are wise to want to capitalize on the opportunity and your basic guideline for your interior should be choices that focus the eye toward the view rather than competing with it.

There are a number of ways of achieving this. The room pictured illustrates several good ones. Keeping the basic background color value of the room light or neutral will naturally lead the eye to focus on the more intense colors outside. While the white-on-white scheme of the room might seem boring or sterile in other circumstances, it serves this purpose well. It also makes the small room seem larger.

By bringing colors from the outside into the room via a few judiciously selected accessories you can warm up the interior and complement the view without overwhelming it.

Keeping furnishings and artwork simple in design and minimum in number will avoid distracting interior clutter and also better serve your problems of limited space. Of course, furniture should be arranged so that seating takes the maximum advantage of the views available. This may involve some compromise depending on where your fireplace is located. The arrangement pictured could be improved by facing the sofa toward the fireplace in an L-shape configuration with the chairs so that views of both the windows and the fireplace could be enhanced.

You might like to create a special, intimate spot immediately in front of the windows that takes direct advantage of the view. This could be a game table, desk or cocktail table with a comfortable chair or two which invites relaxed contemplation.

LOW KEY Maximize the value and impact of good views by creating low key interiors that draw the eye outside. Photo by Kim Bruin

As for the windows themselves, if you do not need coverings for either privacy or sun control, I recommend leaving the windows untreated as simple frames for nature's artwork. If you must have window coverings, make them as simple and as unobtrusive as possible. It would be a shame to ruin a wonderful view with a fussy window treatment.

Q: I work out of my home and I need some good detailed advice on how to plan an efficient office in a small room. Can you help? — S.K.

A: This is too general and complex a problem to answer without having more specifics (the type of work you do, for example). I suggest you consult a new book from Better Homes and Gardens entitled "Working at Home," which is a resource bonanza for anyone working out of the home.

Chair made in second quarter of 19th century

Q: What can you tell me about this chair? I know it is an antique but I have no idea when it was made or its value. It is curly maple with a bird's-eye maple back.

A: This is an Empire side chair. It was made in the second quarter of the 19th century and would sell for about $150.

Q: I have a ceramic plate. The rim is decorated with pond lilies; it is 10 inches in diameter. On the back is the attached mark. What can you tell me about it?

A: This rabbit mark was used by the Dedham Pottery, Dedham, Mass. It was made early in the 20th century and would sell for about $85. This pottery was founded by Alexander Robertson in 1877 and was in business for almost 70 years.

Q: Are old fountain pens collectible? If they are, could you give me some idea what they sell for?

A: Old fountain pens are very popular with collectors. Here are some typical prices:

- Parker 51, 1942 - $12.
- Parker Black Giant, 1915 - $260.
- Parker Duofold Jr. with pencil, 1922 - $95.
- Parker Lucky Curve, 1920 - $150.
- Parker Vacuumatic, 1934 - $28.
- Shaeffer Lifetime, 1908 - $25.
- Shaeffer White Dot Imperial, 1972 - $125.
- Shaeffer White Dot 777, 1970 - $50.
- Wahl Eversharp, 1942 - $20.
- Wahl Eversharp, 1925 - $75.
- Waterman's Gothic, 1925 - $75.

Send your questions about antiques with picture(s), a detailed description, a stamped, self-addressed envelope and $1 per item to James G. McCollam.

Allergies common in dogs

Q. Our 5-year-old schnauzer appears to have allergies. Every spring he develops runny eyes and a runny nose and seems to itch a lot.

A. Is it possible the dog has allergies? If so, can these allergies be controlled?

A. Allergies are quite common in dogs. They are very similar to those in humans.

The most common causes of allergies in dogs include pollens and molds (usually seasonal), fleas, chemicals, insects, drugs, vaccines and various foods.

Dogs that suffer due to pollens and molds usually have some eye and nose discharge. They also frequently have skin lesions on the face and front limbs.

These dogs often lick their paws and rub their faces with their paws. Because of the constant licking, the hair on the paws and face is chronically moist. In light-colored dogs, the hair often turns rust-colored or pinkish from constant exposure to saliva.

Dogs can develop allergies due to pollens and molds at any age. The signs of allergies of this type can appear quite suddenly even in adult dogs that have not previously suffered allergy problems.

Some dogs are extremely allergic to fleas. The presence of only a few fleas on an allergic dog will cause intense itching and scratching.

Depending on the geographical area, the flea allergy may be seasonal. In the northern areas, fleas are eliminated by cold weather. Likewise, dryness of the desert heat usually eliminates fleas.

Usually, allergies due to chemicals are considered contact allergies. Examples are allergies to soaps, waxes, fabrics, carpets and flea collars.

Contact allergies usually cause irritation of the skin wherever the skin contacts the causative agent. For example, dogs allergic to flea collars usually have reddened, irritated necks. Dogs allergic to carpet materials usually have irritated paws.

Food allergies may cause vomiting, soft stools and skin lesions. Insect bites, vaccination reactions, antibiotic reactions and some food allergies cause hives.

The diagnosis of allergies is usually based on the history and signs of the disease. It is possible to test animals for specific allergies. However, it is often difficult to pinpoint any one cause.

Treatment of allergies usually involves removal of the offending substance, if known, and the use of corticosteroids.

It is extremely important to control fleas in dogs allergic to flea bites.

Dogs with food allergies can be given different foods until an agreeable one is discovered. Allergies due to soaps or shampoos usually are readily apparent.

Dogs thought to have allergies should be examined by a veterinarian. Dogs do not have to suffer the intense itching, runny eyes and runny nose due to allergies.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Liberty Weekend has come and gone and I think we will all remember it for a long time. There were so many wonderful things to see: the tall ships, the fireworks displays, above all the beautiful Statue of Liberty!

I think the readers of this column who are all now children will be telling about Liberty Weekend to their grandchildren some day!

That seems impossible to imagine, but nevertheless it is probably true!

Love
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are Patricia Moffett and Christine Burt. You'll be hearing from me soon!
