Two Vocalists Plan Free Concert

Ann Macciarelli, pianist, Susan Wagner and Theresa Arrigo will perform in the classical and Valentine program on February 8.

Vocalists Susan Wagner and Teresa Arrigo will give a free concert at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library on Sunday, February 8, as the thirteenth program in the 1986-87 "Distinguished Artists Concerts" series, according to Oyster Bay Town Councilman Douglas J. Hynes.

The concert, which is being sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Department of Community Services, will be held at the library, 992 Old Country Road, Plainview, beginning at 3 p.m. For further information, contact CAPA at 795-5943.

"Susan Wagner received her vocal training at the Juilliard School of Music and the New York City Opera Company," Hynes said. "She currently performs throughout the New York metropolitan area with programs specially designed for libraries, arts councils, senior citizen groups and community organizations."

"Teresa Arrigo received a B.S.M.S. from the Juilliard School of Music and was a scholarship student in the opera department of the Eastman School of Music," Hynes said. "A winner of the Metropolitan Opera auditions, she currently performs in New York City and Long Island as well as in the midwest."

For this performance, Wagner and Arrigo will sing selections from several operas as well as popular tunes including "All the Things You Are," "Love Walked In," "Begin the Beguine," "Tonight" and "Desert Song."

JHS Students Aid Needy Kids

Hicksville Junior High School students were busy during the holiday season, reaching out to help others. Eighth graders, under the guidance of physical education teacher Linda Shell, collected funds to purchase gifts for needy children through the "Toys for Tots" program. This annual project is sponsored by the Marine Corps, and the new toys were presented on behalf of the eighth grade classes.

The Junior High School Leaders Club, supervised by physical education teacher Marge Steinbach, donated gifts to the Association for Children with Down's Syndrome with the proceeds of a candy sale conducted by club members.

The young ladies visited the Association's school and spent time in the classroom assisting the teachers and children and presenting handmade gifts to the youngsters.

Community service is a significant part of productive citizenship, and Hicksville Junior High School students have traditionally played an active role in a wide variety of such worthwhile programs.

Town Picks Testing Area For Trash Separation Code

Town residents will be separating garbage if a plan being tested works out. A plan approved by the Town Board this week will allow Public Works Commissioner Frank J. Antetomaso to impose a mandatory recycling program townwide or in a specific area. The Plainview-Old Bethpage area next month will be the first area targeted, making it the site of the county's first comprehensive recycling program, Deputy Supervisor James T. Bell said.

6,000 homes in the Plainview-Old Bethpage area will be included when the pilot program begins. Under the program, newspapers, glass and metals such as aluminum foil and empty food cans - but not aerosol cans - will be collected separately from other garbage.

Residents in the program will be given a two-week grace period to learn the rules, with help from town sanitation supervisors. But those who do not cooperate will run the risk of not having their garbage picked up at all.

The rules are as follows:

*All metal containers, including empty food cans, frozen food trays and aluminum foil must be washed out and the labels removed. In addition, all glass containers, including ketchup bottles, mustard jars and other containers that are not returnable under the state Bottle Law, must be washed out and the labels removed. After cleaning, the glass and metal items must be placed in a 15 gallon container that will be provided to residents by the town. The container must be placed at the curbside for Monday collections.

*Newspapers - not magazines, color pamphlets or books - must be placed in the 15 gallon container and placed at curbside on Thursdays.

The 15 gallon container must be placed outside with other garbage for collection even if there are no recyclable materials inside.

AIDS Rep. Kiwanis Speaker

For the January 7 meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club, Program Chairman Mr. John Fitzpatrick had invited Mr. John Sarcona, a representative of the Long Island Association for AIDS Care to address the membership.

Mr. Sarcona spoke at length about the background of this tragic and fatal disease, and mentioned such things as how fast the disease is spreading and what attempts are being made to try to stop it; what currently seems to be the best information as to what is fact and/or fiction about the spread of AIDS; some guidelines as to preventive measures suggested with regard to avoiding the disease; as well as the best estimate as to the extent of this scourge.

Mr. Sarcona said that the Long Island Association for AIDS Care is located in Huntington; is funded by New York State and other sources; is one of seven such facilities in the state; and, is there to help people who have AIDS, or know someone who has it and could use help; or, to answer any and all questions, they have a Hot Line number, 385-AIDS. He emphasized that they want to help.

Letters

To the Editor:

I enclose a poem written by my son Nicky Freda, age 11, 6th grade, East Street School. Nicky is editor-in-chief of the East Street 6th Grade Newsletter. With the Martin Luther King holiday coming up, I thought it might be appropriate for submission.

As the Leaves Fall

As the leaves fall,
they depict our world.
Many colors in one place
colliding violently
in the winds of prejudice.
They try to reach the peaceful ground.
But they're still troubled by the winds of hatred.
I hope they reach the ground
before the endless winter comes.

Cubs End Year On High Note

East Street's Cub Scouts, Pack 172, had their November meeting on November 19.

It was an evening filled with a peek into the future. The theme of the evening was "What will I be?"

The Tigers began the evening by showing their new uniforms. They showed the turkeys they made at their meeting.

Den 1 spoke about family trees. Then the Cubs told everyone what they wanted to be and why.

Den 3 displayed the collages and mobiles they made.

Den 4 told everyone what they wanted to be. They showed all the mobiles and books they made.

Den 5 did a fantastic job making bird feeders. The Cubs hammered the wood and put the glass in all by themselves. They displayed them and then told what they wanted to be.

Then the following awards were given:

Frank Williams, 3 yellow beads; Chris Murray, 2 yellow beads; Chris Gorman, 1 yellow bead; Joseph Gallipoli, 2 yellow beads; Jason Stanton, 2 yellow beads; Ryan Donovan, 3 yellow beads; Michael Kruger, 2 yellow beads; Ian Rasmussen, 2 yellow beads; Jeremiah Singer, 2 yellow beads.

All were delighted to see that Robert Musial and Ben Knight earned their Bobcat badges.

The following Bears from Pack 172 earned:

Jamie DiSilvestre, 1 red bead; Jim Walker, 1 red bead; Greg Walunas, 1 red bead; Michael Lortz, 1 red bead; Danny Russo, 2 red beads; Danny Schieferstein, 2 red beads.

All of the boys decorated a link to make a Christmas chain. This chain was taken to Central General Hospital on December 10. The boys wanted to give a little goodwill during the holidays, so they walked up and down the halls of Central General Hospital singing Christmas carols. It was a pleasure watching the faces of the patients.

December was definitely a busy month for the Cub Scouts. On December 7, the Cubs went to help the Fire Department with their open house. The boys really enjoyed working with the firemen and handing out brochures.

The year 1986 was a great one and they are looking forward to many new adventures in 1987.

It had been like 5 p.m. on the Long Island Expressway with nothing moving. The Long Island Express soccer team of the Major Indoor Soccer League had lost 13 games in a row and drastic measures were needed to get things going. First president and star goalkeeper Shep Messing offered a "guaranteed win" night wherein customers at the Nassau Coliseum would get their admission money back if the team did not win. But what really helped was the good luck shirts from the New York State Games for the Physically Challenged, that came from youngsters Ian Perge and Tara Kennedy, two fans who visited at a practice session. And they both got some expert instruction on how to handle a soccer ball. In the picture, defenseman Tom Mulroy passes the ball to Ian. Messing, wearing his new lucky shirt, watches alongside midfielder Michael Collins of Hicksville, and Amr Aly acts as a goalie. The very next night the Express broke the gridlock and beat the Chicago Sting 6-4. Tara and Ian are from Syosset.

The Princeton Review Presents

S.A.T. PREP

With a cast of superstar teachers

"As a high school junior, I'd like to think I would have organized a boycott of the S.A.T.'s. But it's probably more accurate to say I would have picked up the phone and dialed the Princeton Review."

—The Nation

"A random sampling by Venture of 100 New York City students coached by the Princeton Review last year revealed an average improvement of 154 points."

—Venture Magazine

"But the race for the Ivy League schools is just one factor behind the Princeton Review's success. Probably more important is a witty and irreverent approach that turns a grim ritual almost into a game."

—Christian Science Monitor

"If I were a high-school student in a city where a school like the Princeton Review was not available . . . I would be terribly upset."

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Leaving the country affects SS benefits

Q: My first husband died several years ago and I have been receiving Social Security benefits for my daughter.

I have recently married and my second husband will adopt my daughter. As I understand it, this will not affect her benefits.

However, we will be accompanying my husband overseas. Will leaving the United States affect my daughter's benefits? — L.L.

A: You are correct. Adoption by her stepfather does not affect your daughter's benefits. If your daughter is a U.S. citizen, her checks will keep coming no matter how long she is outside of the United States, as long as she is eligible for the checks. If she is not a U.S. citizen, her checks will stop after she has been outside the United States for six months unless certain exceptions are met.

Your local Social Security office can fully explain how being outside the United States may affect your Social Security checks.

A: My sister-in-law told me that I need a Social Security number for my daughter when I file my tax return for the year 1985. Is this true? — E.L.

A: The Tax Reform Act of 1986 requires taxpayers to show the taxpayer's identification number (TIN) for any dependent age 5 or over listed on tax returns filed after Dec. 21, 1987.

If your daughter does not have a Social Security number, one can be obtained upon submission of evidence of age and citizenship and evidence of identity. Contact your local Social Security office for complete details.

Q: I understand that the Medicare hospital deductible will increase in 1987. What is the Medicare hospital deductible for 1987? — E.M.

A: Under Medicare Part A (Hospital Insurance), the deductible that patients pay for hospitalization will increase from $492 to $520 effective Jan. 1, 1987.

The rise in this deductible also increases the amount of co-insurance beneficiaries must pay if they remain in the hospital for more than 60 days during 1987. From the 61st through 90th days of hospitalization, the patient's share will increase from $123 a day to $130 a day. For lifetime reserve days used during stays beyond 90 days, the patient's cost will rise from $246 to $260 a day.

Q: Will there be an increase in the Social Security tax in 1987? Will the amount of worker's earnings subject to the tax go up in 1987? — O.W.

A: The 1987 rate for employees and employers (each) will remain 7.15 percent of covered earnings. The maximum amount of annual earnings subject to the Social Security tax will increase from $42,000 to $43,800. The maximum yearly Social Security tax paid by employees and employers each, will rise by $128.70 to $1,131.70.

Our Children

Try looking at life through child's eyes

By Willard Abraham, Ph.D.

Q: Our 14-year-old seems to be spreading herself too thin. Although she receives top grades, does well in three different sports activities (tennis, swimming and horseback riding), and reads quite a bit, I don't feel she gets enough sleep or takes time for just plain fun.

She does have several close friends, but even with them she limits the time in her packed schedule because her school, sports and solitary reading come first.

Although she seems happy enough, I wonder whether I should do something to help her balance her time better.

A: On the basis of the limited information you provided it sounds as though all's right with her world as she sees it.

An effort on your part to communicate with her about your concern may be in order. It could lead to your seeing through her eyes how she feels about herself and her activities.

Q: I'm a parent (and also a teacher), and have had some difficulty in finding enough worthwhile TV for my children, both in school and at home. I'll admit that the task of identifying good programs is time-consuming, so I may be missing a lot of educationally useful material.

That is why I am writing to you for suggestions. Do you have a few?

A: There are no doubt many in addition to the source I'll mention to you. So if others will provide descriptive materials about their products, I will screen them and pass on the ones that seem worthy.

The Corporation for Public Broadcasting's programs include two lists, one primarily for the guidance of parents, the other for use in schools.

Among the parent titles are these: "WonderWorks" (a prime-time family series and Emmy Award winner); "3-2-1 Contact" (science and technology); "Square One TV" (stressing enjoyment in mathematics); "Owl TV" (a nature show); "Beanzus and Ramona" (based on a young heroine); "The Real Adventures of Sherlock Jones and Proctor Watson" (a series of adventure stories); "Reading Rainbow" (about books for 5- to 8-year-olds).

Five classroom education series are scheduled from this source: "The Big A" (popularized art, grades 1-3); "Walking with Grandfather" (six traditional North American Indian folk tales, grades 2-5); "Square One TV" (the math series mentioned above, grades 3-6); "Universe and I" (the earth, the solar system and the universe, grades 6-9); "The Africans" (the people, culture and institutions, grades 6-12).

If you would like more information about these programs, you can write to the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, 1111 Sixteenth Street, N.W., Washington, DC 20036.

Q: I often hear about sibling rivalry among children, but what is going on with our two daughters ought to win some kind of prize. Their arguments and competitions are mainly over the color of their eyes!

Both really have beautiful eyes, one light blue (13 years old), the other dark brown (15). Their loud disagreements are over which has the prettiest, largest, most expressive, most attractive to boys, least in need of glasses, and on and on and on.

This has been going on for several years, and whenever I used to (I don't anymore) try to discuss "the issue" rationally with them, they both turned on me. My husband doesn't help at all. He just hides behind the newspaper or glued himself to television.

Do you think time can take care of this? Or can you — or anybody?

A: Maybe time will handle it, or how about trying a competent "objective witness," like a school counselor, preferably one who knows them both but is not the assigned counselor for either one?

A wise person once said that if an insoluble problem is to be identified brothers and sisters will discover it. Another stated, "And this, too, shall pass."

Plucky Localite On Jazzy Tour

Guitarist Steve Briody, of Hicksville, is one of The Fredonia Jazz Ensemble, a 21-member big band comprised of music students from the State University of New York College at Fredonia who are making a tour of New York State high schools during the college's winter break. Student musicians from the Fredonia School of Music are presenting jazz concerts, assemblies, and clinics to high school students from Buffalo to Long Island until January 17.

The Fredonia Jazz Ensemble has won numerous awards at various festivals throughout the nation and Canada, including the Mobile Jazz Festival, Quinnipiac Jazz Festival, and the Notre Dame Jazz Festival. In 1985, the band was invited to perform in the first All-American Jazz Festival at Epcot Center in Walt Disney World, where it took a first place award. In May, the band won the gold plaque as the first place winner at the World Exposition in Vancouver, British Columbia. It also took the "Downbeat" (magazine) award for the most outstanding band at the competition.

The Fredonia Jazz Ensemble makes the state high school tour every year. All the arrangements and scheduling are handled by the students who manage and direct the autonomous group. The band considers the intensive two-week tour important as a preparation for spring competitions.

Phys. Fit Kids Get Congrats

The Junior High School Physical Education Department would like to extend congratulations to the following youngsters for their fine performances this year in the Physical Fitness Unit.

These students have demonstrated superior abilities, skills, and fitness levels when compared to boys and girls at their grade and age levels across New York State.

The New York State Physical Fitness Test may be used to evaluate the ability of pupils to sustain vigorous physical activity. Persons who do well on the test may be expected to participate in vigorous physical activity for longer periods, with less fatigue than persons who score low on the test.

Editor's Notebook

For some time there have been questions about recycling as a means of helping out the problems of finding dump areas for our rubbish.

The Town has now come up with some stringent rules (see page 1) that will be tested in a 6,000 residence area of Plainview and Old Bethpage. The rules will be a little difficult to abide by, particularly in taking labels off of cans and bottles, but on the whole, just separating garbage will not be that difficult.

If the plan actually proves to help solve the solid waste problem, most people will go along with it. It appears that the alternative of higher and higher costs for transporting garbage will be some incentive.

If the test proves to be a success, the Town will impose the plan on all areas. More work for the homeowner is never something that will be welcomed, but in this case it may be a lesser of several evils.

Jump-A-Thon Benefits Heart Assn

The Plainview-Old Bethpage School, Central Park Road, Plainview, will be conducting its Jump Rope for Heart in the next few months.

The event is sponsored by the New York State Association for Health, Physical Education, Recreation, and Dance; and the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education, and Dance, for the benefit of the American Heart Association.

Last year the Jump Rope for Heart raised over $200,000 in 61 schools in Nassau County.

Jump Rope for Heart is a special event conducted by school physical education teachers and students, who organize the rope-jumping competition. The six-student teams jump rope for a maximum of three hours. Cash pledges collected from sponsors of their rope-jumping efforts contribute to local Heart Association programs in research, education, and community service.

By encouraging participation of young people, the project promotes the message of life-long benefits of regular physical exercise. The project also demonstrates how teamwork can be used to reach a common goal as students and teachers work together.

Here is Steven Spielberg's ultimate time travel adventure! In an explosive update of the time machine theme, Michael J. Fox stars as a teenager who journeys into the past to find secrets that force him to risk his own future.

Mind-bending science fiction at its best, the film offers an unbeatable blend of antic humor, magic, non-stop action, and daring special effects. We are happy to present this winner of four Academy Award nominations, including Best Screenplay, by the man who created E.T. and Indiana Jones.

Showtime is 2 p.m. and tickets are now available in the Children's Room of the Bethpage Public Library for youngsters in the middle elementary grades and up who reside in District #21. Younger children are invited to attend accompanied by parents. For further information, please call 931-3907.

On Thursday, February 19, the Bethpage Public Library will present the Hansel and Gretel Opera Workshop, an outstanding introduction to opera for young people, performed by Opera Options.

Based on the classic tale by the Brothers Grimm and the famous opera by Humperdinck, here is a unique program in which young people will learn about the elements of opera through musical highlights with costumes and staging, discussion, a make-up demonstration of the witch character, and choral participation by the audience.

Opera Options is a group of professional singers who specialize in performing for young audiences. They are included in the roster of the New York Foundation for the Arts - Artists in Residence Program.

Showtime is 2 p.m. and tickets are now available in the Children's Room of the Bethpage Public Library for young people in grades K-3 who reside in District #21. The program is co-sponsored by the Town of Oyster Bay Department of Community Services. For further information, please call 931-3907.

Hicksville Man Eats Job Up

Peter Smith, a native of Hicksville, has been named director of house services for the University of Houston's 1987 Gourmet Night, a 350-person dinner given annually by the students of the Conrad N. Hilton College of Hotel and Restaurant Management.

Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Smith of Hicksville, and a major in hotel and restaurant management at the university.

He will help oversee arrangements for the seven-course dinner and reception to be served to a by-invitation-only group including prominent hoteliers, restaurant owners and chefs.

The theme for the 1987 Gourmet Night, to be held March 28, will be "Hats Off to Hilton," a salute to the 100th anniversary of Conrad Hilton's birth. The menu will feature many of the dishes made famous by Hilton hotels' chefs.

Marci Doyne 'Teen Of Month'

Marci Doyne

The editor of the Bethpage High School newspaper "The Eagle's Cry" is the latest senior to be honored by the Elks Club as their Teenager of the Month. Marci Doyne is a soft spoken but enthusiastic young woman who has rejuvenated the paper over the past two years, inspiring many other students to write articles and expanding coverage of general news as well as school activities.

Beginning as a reporter and then Activities Editor, she has had to make many decisions to improve the paper even though they sometimes may upset her friends. Her experiences have impressed her with the importance of management and organization and as a result she has decided to make business or law her career goal.

Achieving near the top of her graduating class, Marci has been outstanding in a wide variety of activities. She has been Captain of the girls' tennis team since 10th grade, playing first singles and also has managed the boys' tennis team. A member of the Spanish Club and the F.B.L.A. for four years, she is also secretary of the Senior Class and first vice-president of the Student Senate. Serving this year as co-president of Students Against Drunk Driving (S.A.D.D.), she is

'Molly' To Be Screened At Y

The film "Molly" the Goldbergs, will be presented at the Mid-Island YM & YWHA in Plainview on Saturday, February 14, at 8:30 p.m. Following, there will be a discussion on the relevance of the film's theme to contemporary Jewish life. Karyl J. Weicher, the Associate Director of the Jewish Media Service will lead the discussion.

Molly, a good natured ethnic caricature is a stereotypical Jewish matriarch. Her generosity, folk wisdom and exaggerated attitudes served to break down the threatening and alien image of the Jew held by many non-Jewish audiences in the years during and following World War II.

The cost of admission is $3 for "Y" members and $4 for non-members with $1 discounts for senior adults and students. For additional information, call 822-3535. The "Y" is located at 45 Manetto Hill Road in Plainview.

For members only, the "Y" will also have special two-part showings of "Shoah," the film on the holocaust. The first part will be shown evenings, February 8 through February 12.

helping to organize a special assembly program before the prom and is reviewing films on addiction for presentation in our health classes. Outside of school she acts as the vice president of the Temple Youth Group in charge of communications.

Marci's goal is to attend SUNY at Binghamton or Albany and is actively competing for a tennis scholarship. As a matter of fact, it was the tennis coach from Albany who told her how to display her talents in a tennis showcase where she has been contacted by four other private colleges.

Her interest in sports deepened by her father's experience at SUNY Potsdam which he attended on a basketball scholarship.

One of Marci's comments describes her attitude best. She said she is a "determined" person. In tennis for instance she always gives her best but if she loses the first game she makes sure that she doesn't lose the second one. The "Eagle's Cry" has certainly benefitted from her determination and dedication this year.

Jewelry Workshops At The Museum

Among the most successful of the recent series of Saturday workshops conducted by the Hicksville Gregory Museum were the jewelry making sessions for both teenagers and younger students. The two-part teen workshops were held at the Hicksville Public Library and were instructed by Mike Todd of the Nassau Mineral Club, assisted by Rose Farber and Andre Jolicoeur. Students learned the technique of silver wire wrapping and in just two sessions created beautiful rings and pendants.

Meanwhile, at the Museum, Mr. Richard Schuler, a member of the Museum's Board of Advisors as well as the Nassau Mineral Club, provided a busy and fascinating afternoon for the younger children. He was aided by his wife, Marilyn, and Michele Eger from Hicksville Junior High, who is serving as an intern at the Museum.

Next workshop is on January 17 at 1:30 - Bring a white T-shirt and imprint it with a dinosaur or whale. To register, call 822-7505 to see if there is still room. Charge for members is $5; non-members $8.

News From Hicksville Library

The Senior Connection volunteers are at the library on Tuesdays to assist Senior Citizens who need information about social programs in Nassau County. The reference department is available at all other times to answer your questions.

The film "Twice in a Lifetime" will be shown Friday, January 16, at 8 p.m. at the Hicksville Public Library, Community Room.

"Twice in a Lifetime" is a film about the disintegration of a steel worker's 30 year marriage. It shows the pain and loss of divorce from a man's point of view. This film is rated R. People 17 and older are welcome. This program is free.

Thursday, January 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the Hicksville Public Library there will be a discussion on Family Connection Changing Roles. In today's busy world family relationships have undergone changes due to added responsibilities of family members. Working parents, working children leaves little time for communicating with one another. Come join in a discussion on how to handle these family situations. Discussion will be lead by a Social Worker from Adelphi School of Social Work. Refreshments will be served. All are welcome.

St. Ignatius CYO News

On Wednesday, January 5 in the First and Second Grade League, the Warriors beat the Celtics with a score of 20-10 and the Clippers beat the Nets 15-10. Keith Dubon and Mike McGovern played excellent defense for the Warriors enabling Nick Cassano to just run up and down the court scoring basket after basket for his team; and it was Tom Morillo scoring the points for the Nets hoping to pull a victory off for his team but with the Clippers playing hard defense, the Nets just fell short of a victory.

On Friday night in the Fifth and Sixth Grade League, it was Ed Passaro's Bullets beating Don Cleary's Lakers with a score of 24-20. While Matthew Morillo was holding the Lakers down with his good defensive playing, it was Tim Baldwin and Tony Cassano adding up the points for the Bullets.

Opinions Mixed On Effect Of Industry Pullout

Reaction was mixed by Input callers on this week's question: "Do you think the departure of large companies from South Africa will hasten the end of Apartheid?" Here are some of the answers:

MORE DIFFICULT

No, if anything, the departure of large companies will make it far more difficult for South Africa to come to grips with its problems. The reason is that the large companies probably brought a great amount of income to the area and without it there will be less of everything. As populations remain poor, they seldom become more liberal. J.T.

BLOOD BATH FEAR

It appears that the large companies are leaving South Africa because they are afraid of the blood bath that is building up. They believe that their property will not be safe and that they can go to other places where they can get security. The problem will be felt on the economy of South Africa but I am not at all sure that will change things. It will probably be harder on the blacks who are already poor and if they have less, will have nothing at all. F.E.

SOME EFFECT

To a certain extent the withdrawal of large companies will have some effect on the people who rule South Africa. When they see their economy sinking, they may try to do things to attract industry back. The problem is that there will be a long period in which there will be a low economy and less jobs so the blacks may suffer as well as the whites. H.W.

LITTLE ACCOMPLISHED

The world waited long enough for South Africa to give up its apartheid. They did not wish to change in South Africa so now they are suffering from the uneasy times when the blacks may break out and begin a slaughter of all the whites in their path. The large companies leaving are doing so out of fear rather than out of social conscience. It is hard to say that anything at all has been accomplished. L.W.

GIVE FREEDOM

Yes, I believe that it will not be long before the South African government decides that they must give freedom to the black people. While everyone predicts dire consequences, I do not think that things will really be as bad as the predictions call for. If South Africa gets together with black leaders and forms a quick plan, some controls to keep law and order can be invoked and the majority of the blacks will see that there is much to be gained. They will go along with the change and it can be done without bloodshed. There will be a criminal element that will seize a chance to take over but if the majority of blacks stand firm, they will be an asset in keeping things under control until a true black and white democracy is born. W.R.

MILES TO GO

The large companies are apolitical. They go where the climate is best. The large companies are pulling out of South Africa because they do not think there is much money to be made where there is social unrest. So far as counting them to be of help, this is foolish. South Africa still has miles to go to solve its race problem.

VIOLENCE DUE

For better or worse, it seems to me that the only thing that will hasten the end to Apartheid in South Africa is violence. The unwillingness of the minority government to give blacks long overdue equality is forcing, what's fair to say, a bloody revolution. The flight of U.S. corporations should give the present South African government a clear message but, unfortunately, it's a message that they're not willing to listen to. The American government should put some pressures and perhaps meaningful pressure on South Africa but the president isn't having any of that either. The ultimate result is going to be a bloody tragedy. M.P.

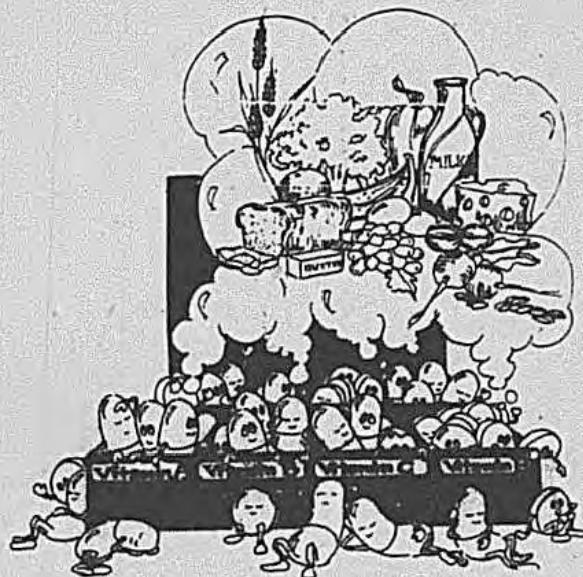

"DOWN TRODDEN SUFFER"

Let me start off by asking, "Do you think that a boycott of pizza parlors by blacks in symbolic retribution for the Howard Beach affair will accomplish anything?" I expect that you will say "No" because clearly, all it will do will be to penalize the proprietors of pizza parlors who had nothing to do with the brouhaha which followed the intemperate acts of white youths against their designated "intruders." From my point of view, South Africa is no different and sanctions such as the departure of large companies from the country will not hasten the end of Apartheid. Bishop Tutu favors the action but he is playing to the audience of the world for personal applause completely disregarding the damaging effect upon the country as a whole and, in the process, upon the majority segment of the population, the blacks. Needless to say, in all fairness there simply has got to be a recognition by the Botha government that positive steps must be taken to admit a greater and more meaningful share of responsibility by the blacks - the world has made that quite clear. But, it takes two to tango and the members, and particularly the leaders, of the majority have got to show more statesmanship than they have exhibited so far. From news releases, they apparently can't even find unanimity among themselves with ensuing riots and bloodshed and if external economic pressures such as the large company withdrawals produce the effects they are intended to achieve, the ones to suffer will be that "down-trodden" majority while the U.S.S.R. stands quietly by as the scenario follows a pattern they know and enjoy so much. P.G.S.

Discovery!

A Common Sense Approach To Dieting

By Eleanor Gibbs

It has gotten to the point where almost all food is considered to be dangerous. First, it was anything with nitrates in it, then we learned that red, fatty meat was unhealthy. After learning to cope with substituting chicken for red meat, we heard that chickens were injected! We then heard that fruits and vegetables were sprayed with toxic chemicals and that white bread and sugar were "empty foods." And, of course, as soon as a sugar substitute is put on the market a report appears suggesting that the product can cause cancer (especially if you're a rat!).

Simultaneously, there has been such a diet craze with so many types of diets being thrown at us, eliminating some foods, while adding others. Also, many people have become famous - their names clearly etched in our brains for the diets they introduced.

I think that after all is said and done, many people got tired of hearing conflicting reports of what foods are good for us and which ones are not; yet, most of us continue to "diet."

Many of us eat pretty "healthy" foods, but continue to eat rich desserts. My neighbor is one such person. She recently cut out eating cake after dinner (except on special occasions) and she looks and feels great. She still has a sweet dessert (such as applesauce) because she says, "the sweet habit is hard to break." Unfortunately, in previous generations, it was quite common for babies and toddlers to be given sugar and water and sweets were seen in a different light altogether. Anyway, it was smart of my neighbor to find a cake substitute or this new diet wouldn't have lasted too long.

The following is an example of a friend who recently went through a serious eating crisis. She is the type of person you'd all like to know. She's caring, understanding, would never hurt your feelings, but, unfortunately, doesn't take care of herself very well. She, like many of us, eats to remain thin. Since I met her, she's always been slim, but, of course, sees herself as fat. With every year that passes, she seems to limit her food intake more and more. She started by eliminating many healthy foods, and substituted them with sweets. She may, for example, have a chocolate bar for breakfast instead of cereal. Her theory is that as long as she sticks to a certain amount of calories per day (she tucks a calorie counter into any pocketbook she plans on using for the day), she will not gain weight. I recently found out that in her quest to remain thin, she became bulimic. She will go on a binge where she eats six packs of Twinkies and several slices of pizza and then forces herself to throw up. Fortunately, she realized the sick routine she'd gotten into and obtained help for this eating disorder.

I have no problem eating balanced meals, but that may be because of my childhood. I grew up in New York City where there was a great luncheonette around the block from where I lived. I would go there almost daily after school and "pig-out" on mateds, potato chips and chocolate bars. Needless to say, I was chubby and quite unhappy about it. Maybe because of this, I have incredible willpower!

Now, I'm not a nutritionist, but I feel that common sense dictates that as long as there is no specific health problems, usually all we need to do is modify our present diets in order to remain at a healthy weight and to feel good. We know that lean meat, poultry and eggs (a few times a week), fruits, vegetables (wash them well), whole grains, milk, cheese (low-fat), nuts and seeds should be included in our diets. However, cutting out rich desserts (except when unavoidable - birthday parties, etc.), is one sure way to shed pounds.

Also, let us try to come to an understanding that not all of us were meant to have bodies like Victoria Principle or Heather Locklear. There is a theory that many people who diet till they're "blue," don't lose more weight than their bodies were meant to have. I don't know how true this is, but it is something to think about.

May I leave you with the following: The body is like a machine. And, like a car, it must be maintained properly or it may run, but quite inefficiently. And, who wants to be a sickly person?

Where Our Readers
Have The Last Word

This newspaper, and the seven other weekly newspapers associated with it, publishes the last word in restaurant guides and a paid listing of many prominent selected restaurants in this area. While many of them have been rated by the great, and near great food connoisseurs, our readers will have the last word through "Reader Ratings."

Through a special 24 hour phone system, readers will be asked to call in their assessment of each restaurant they visit. Consensus ratings (good or bad) will be published as a continuing part of the guide.

In addition, they can make suggestions, compliments or criticisms through the open phone line and messages will be sent through to the restaurant management.

Guide to Good Dining

READER RATINGS

If you have questions about etiquette or dining out, you may call them in to WE 1-0027 and we will find the answer.

Q. In a restaurant we often frequent, they do everything right except one thing. A waiter always comes over with the special of the day but never tells us the price. Now we do not quibble about a few pennies but often these specials are much higher priced than other regular items. Don't you think the restaurant should tell us the price when making the suggestion? H.Y.

A. We think you are right and we have checked several restaurants and they say that they either have a blackboard, a menu insert or the waiter is told to give the prices. Unfortunately since you only gave the initials we have no way of knowing which restaurant you are referring to or we would contact them. You may show this column to the manager and perhaps he will change his system. C.H.

Q. I thought it was standard fare to get at least two vegetables with an entree but last week at the [name omitted] restaurant we were charged extra for vegetables. Is this right?

A. A number of restaurants have changed to charging extra for vegetables, particularly fresh ones, but the safest way is to look at the menu and ask the waiter. Sometimes there are extra vegetables and they are the ones that are given an added charge. But there are some restaurants that charge for every item individually.

TOP RESTAURANT

We had not been to Lanone's Restaurant in over a year. Then one night we just decided to go back to that famous restaurant in Hicksville. Unlike many places that stick in the memory, when revisited this restaurant did not disappoint us. The pasta was perfect, the veal was delicious and the vegetables were cooked just right. We found that the service was first rate and there was no time that we were left without someone to take care of our needs.

For a top Italian restaurant the prices are not very high. We recommend this to everyone who wants to appreciate good Italian food.

"GOOD OLD DAYS"

All of the good places are not gone. For many years we have been going to Lauraine Murphy's in Manhasset. And it appeared that last Saturday several hundred other people had the same idea. But after a surprisingly short wait, considering the number of people who appeared to be waiting, we were seated in the inner dining room at Lauraine Murphy's. The place had not changed. They still serve the warm popovers at each meal. The food was great. Most in our party had roast beef with one holdout for scallops but everything came out wonderful and considering the number of people that must have been served that night it is nothing short of a miracle. We surely recommend Lauraine Murphy's to your readers. H.J.

Q. I've seen people holding the wineglasses to the light, twirling the wine around inside, and performing what looks like mysterious ceremonies with wine. What's it all about? M.L.

A. Wine lovers will gaze with intense concentration at the color of the wine, holding the glass to the light. They hold white-wine glasses by their stems (so as not to remove the chill from the wine). They will often cup their red-wine glasses in the palm of their hand, to warm its contents, and they will swirl the wine around a bit to sniff its bouquet to the fullest. They will take a tiny sip, to test its taste on their taste buds.

Q. Is it proper to tip soup or dessert dishes? And when is soup eaten with a spoon? I sometimes see people drinking bouillon, etc., directly from a cup. Is this correct? C.T.

A. The tipping of soup or dessert dishes is acceptable if the plate is tipped away from the spoon, not toward the eater. Soup or bouillon served in a handled cup or (Oriental fashion) small, cup-sized bowl may be drunk. If there are vegetables or other garnish floating on top, these may be lifted off with the spoon before the soup is drunk. Noodles or other things which may be in the bottom of the cup are spooned up after the liquid has been drunk.

FINE SETTING

The Maine Maid is the place to go for a restaurant in a fine traditional setting. The Maine Maid is an old Quaker House. In fact, the owner told us that it is a landmark. But the decor is restful and elegant and the service is good. The food consists of well prepared meats and fish. Some of them are prepared right at your table. Tell your readers to try it and they will be glad for the suggestion.

BETTER AND BETTER

The Davenport Press is an old landmark in Mineola having been, according to the menu, a bank and a printing establishment. The food at this restaurant continues to improve. Although it was good when it opened, they seem to be hitting their stride now with good service and everything else.

We had fine sirloin steaks at that restaurant last week and the potato (baked) and salad were very good. The price is moderate and all in all we felt it was a good experience. H.R.

Q. What is the policy of restaurants when a waiter spills something on you? F.P.
A. There is no set policy except that the management usually is very apologetic. Almost all places ask to assume the cost of cleaning your clothing. Others do this and void the check for the entire meal. On small splashes they usually do what they can at once to clean up the spot. Regardless of what else it usually requires the personal apology of the one in charge.

Q. Many times I find that baked potatoes at restaurants are soggy, even the better restaurants. How come they can't bake a potato right? C.B.
A. They can bake potatoes right but the problem is that when you bake a potato it takes a long time and they usually bake a number of them at once. If you happen to hit at the right time you will get the best but later it will get more soggy. The best tip in ordering the potato is to ask the server whether they are freshly baked or not. If not, better take something else.

Q. When figuring the tip for service, how is it figured, on the total bill with tax or on the bill before tax? E.R.
A. Generally it is figured before the tax is added although the amount of a tip is a purely personal thing and it ranges from 15 to 20 percent. Usually where the service is great you compute it as high as 20 percent.

The Last Word In Restaurant Guides

Where Our Readers
Have The Last Word

This newspaper, and the seven other weekly newspapers associated with it, publishes the last word in restaurant guides and a paid listing of many prominent selected restaurants in this area. While many of them have been rated by the great, and near great food connoisseurs, our readers will have the last word through "Reader Ratings."

Through a special 24 hour phone system, readers will be asked to call in their assessment of each restaurant they visit. Consensus ratings (good or bad) will be published as a continuing part of the guide.

In addition they can make suggestions, compliments or criticisms through the open phone line and messages will be sent through to the restaurant management.

Guide to Good Dining

Beans hit bull's-eye for flavor, nutrition

The first and last time most Americans got excited about beans was probably around age 3, when they were introduced to "Jack and the Beanstalk." Even Jack and his mother had a hard time working up any enthusiasm for them on first encounter.

It's not hard to understand why. Beans are so unrelievedly ordinary. They've been a major ingredient in the human diet for more than 4,000 years and are found in almost every culture in the world.

So what's new? Nothing — except that more and more people are recognizing the nutritional benefits that were there all along. Beans are as close to a perfect food as Mother Nature has yet to produce. They are richer in protein than any other plant food and many meats as well, without the high fat of meat. Only 4 percent of the total calories of beans comes from fat, compared to 60 percent in red meat and 70 percent in hard cheese.

Beans are a rich source of B vitamins, supplying as much as 40 percent of the recommended daily amounts of thiamin and B6, as well as hefty amounts of niacin and folic acid. They provide 62 percent of the RDA for calcium for men and 23 percent for women, and more fiber than almost any other food except cereal bran.

As if that weren't enough, these so-called lowly legumes are being acclaimed as an aid in lowering cholesterol levels, controlling diabetes and conquering constipation.

Beans are endlessly versatile, lending themselves equally well to appetizers, side dishes, soups, stews, salads, main dishes and even desserts, although I wouldn't push the last.

They can be stored indefinitely without preservatives or refrigeration and pound-for-pound cost less than one-fourth the price of beef.

The biggest drawback to using dried beans is the length of time required to prepare them. You cannot run home after work and throw together a bean casserole from scratch — not unless you're given to dining very late. What you can do is make bean dishes ahead and reheat before eating.

Most recipes involving dry beans call for soaking them (frequently overnight) and then cooking for 1 to 3 hours. Here's a traditional method and a quick method for preparing beans:

Traditional method: In a large pot, add 6 cups of cold water to each pound of dry beans. Let the beans stand at room temperature overnight or for 6 to 8 hours. Do not refrigerate unless beans will be soaking for much longer than that. Drain and rinse the beans.

Quick method: Add 6 to 8 cups of hot water for each pound of dry beans. Heat the water to boiling and cook the beans for 2 minutes. Then cover the pot and let them stand for 1 hour; drain, rinse and cook.

To cook: Put the soaked beans into a large pot or Dutch oven. Add 6 cups of fresh water for each pound of beans. (Seasonings and a small amount of fat may be added at this point, or the beans may be cooked in broth.) Bring the pot to a boil, cover it with the lid tilted slightly to allow steam to escape, reduce the heat to a simmer and cook the beans until tender (1 to 3 hours). The precise length of time will depend on the size and dryness of the beans and the altitude and hardness of the water (beans take longer to cook at high altitudes and in hard water).

CASSOULET

1 pound dry navy beans
½ cup onion, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
½ pound pork loin (1-inch cubes)
1½ pounds chicken (1-inch cubes)
1 cup chicken broth
½ cup wine
½ teaspoon thyme
3 whole cloves
1 bay leaf
½ pound sausage (1-inch pieces)
½ cup bread crumbs
½ cup parsley
Salt, pepper to taste

Wash, sort and soak dry beans. Cook until tender. Sauté onion and garlic in vegetable oil until soft, and brown pork and chicken in same pan.

Combine chicken broth, wine, thyme, cloves and bay leaf.

Place cooked beans in large baking dish and top with onion mixture, pork, chicken and sausage. Pour wine mixture over top of casserole. Salt and pepper to taste.

Bake in moderate oven at 350 F for 1 hour. Stir contents gently. Sprinkle bread crumbs and parsley over top of casserole and bake 20 minutes longer, or until bread crumbs are nicely browned. Serve in bowls or on plates.

Serves 6.

BLACK BEANS, SAUSAGE AND RICE

1 pound dry black beans
6 cups water
1 cup chopped onions
1 medium green pepper, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
3 tablespoons olive or vegetable oil
1 pound hot Italian or Polish

sausage, cut in 1-inch pieces
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon ground cumin
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup uncooked rice

Wash and sort beans. Combine beans and water in large saucepan. Bring to a boil and cook 2 minutes. Remove from heat, cover and let stand 1 hour. Simmer about 1 hour.

In medium fry pan cook onions, pepper and garlic in oil until tender but not browned. Add sausage; brown on all sides. Add sausage mixture, and seasonings to beans. Continue cooking covered, another hour or until beans are tender.

Meanwhile, cook rice in separate saucepan, following package directions. Serve beans over rice. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

PORTEGUESE BEAN SOUP

1 cup dry kidney beans
2 quarts water
3 onions
2 garlic cloves, minced
¼ cup bacon fat
6 potatoes, diced
2 bay leaves
1 teaspoon ground allspice
Salt
Pepper

Wash, sort and soak beans; cook until tender. Cook onions and garlic in bacon fat until lightly browned. Add remaining ingredients except salt and pepper to beans and cover. Simmer another 1½ hours. Salt and pepper to taste. Makes 3 quarts.

LIMA BEANS AND CHICKEN LIVERS

3 pounds lima beans, shelled (about 2 cups)
2 tomatoes, peeled, seeded, and chopped
4 thick bacon slices
1 cup chicken stock
Bouquet garni made from 3 parsley sprigs and 1 sprig each thyme and oregano, tied with twine
Salt and pepper to taste
½ pound chicken livers

Preheat oven to 400 F. Place beans, tomatoes, 2 of bacon slices, stock, bouquet garni, and salt and pepper in a ovenproof casserole. Bake covered for 30 minutes, or until beans are tender. Add more stock if necessary to keep beans moist.

While beans are cooking, cook remaining 2 bacon slices in saute pan or skillet until they have rendered their fat. Remove bacon and all but 2 tablespoons of fat. Sauté chicken livers in bacon fat. Cook livers over medium flame for 4 to 5 minutes, until browned but still pink on inside. Remove bacon from the cooked lima beans. Add livers. Serve with slices of warm baguette.

Serves 3 to 4.

PINTO BEAN STEW

2 cups (1 pound) dry pinto beans
1 ham bone
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon hot pepper sauce
¼ cup bacon fat or shortening
1 large onion, chopped

1 garlic clove, minced
4 medium tomatoes, chopped
¼ cup minced parsley
¼ teaspoon ground marjoram
1 tablespoon (or more) chili powder

In deep kettle, soak beans overnight in water to cover. The next day, add ham bone, salt and hot pepper sauce. Bring to a boil; reduce heat. Simmer covered, about 1 hour or until beans are tender. Drain beans and reserve liquid.

Heat bacon fat in large skillet; cook onion and garlic in fat until golden. Add all remaining ingredients. Cover and cook about 45 minutes, stirring frequently. Combine tomato mixture with beans. Simmer covered, over low heat, another 15 minutes. Remove ham bone before serving.

Makes 6 to 8 servings.

MICHIGAN BAKED BEANS

1 pound mixed dry navy, pinto, and cranberry beans
3 onions, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
3 tablespoons oil or bacon drippings
½ cup ketchup
3 tablespoons brown sugar
3 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
Salt

Wash, sort, and soak beans; cook until tender. Combine all ingredients in 1½-quart baking dish, cover. Bake at 350 F about 1 hour. Remove from oven, salt and pepper to taste and continue cooking uncovered for 15 minutes more.

Makes 6 servings.

FELJOADA (fay-wah-ds)

1½ pounds dry black beans
8 cups water
½ pound dried beef, cut in squares
2 pounds smoked pork, cubed (ham or ham hocks)
½ pound smoked sausage, cut in chunks
½ pound beef chuck, cut in cubes
½ pound salt pork, diced
Salt and pepper
2 large cloves of garlic, minced
2 tablespoons shortening
Cooked rice
Hot pepper sauce

Wash and sort beans. Combine beans and water in large kettle. Let stand overnight. Add meats, salt and pepper, simmer until beans are tender, about 2 hours, adding water as needed. Brown garlic in shortening; add 1 cup of beans and mash well. Mix with remaining beans. Serve meat and beans on rice, with hot pepper sauce.

Makes about 12 servings.

After Work Gourmet

Warm the winter with hearty soups

During the winter months, no dish is more warming than a steaming bowl of hearty soup. Whether served as a meal by itself or as the first course of a dinner, soup warms the bones and soothes the spirit. In centuries past, a pot of soup was kept simmering on the hearth all day, and shared by the family as they gathered around the fire for warmth in the evening.

Today's after-work chef can make a quick and delicious cold-weather dinner consisting of a hearty soup, some crusty, toasted French bread and a favorite green salad. Most soups, like today's recipes, are great the next day, or can be frozen, to be thawed and served any time during the next couple of months.

Today's recipe for Lentil and Split Pea Soup with Ham needs to cook for several hours, but may be prepared on a weekend and served during the week. Preparation time is very short.

The word soup derives from the Germanic sop, which originally meant the bread over which a broth was poured. In some provinces of France, la soupe still indicates the bread over which the liquid (le potage) is poured. The words soup and supper are also related, indicating how typical an evening meal soup once was. In this country, the call, "Soup's on" is still used as a folksy call to dinner, whether soup is actually on the menu or not.

The French seem to have a particular affection for soups, and often create especially delicious ones. The first eating place to be called a restaurant was a Parisian soup kitchen established in 1765 by

M. Boulanger. Above the entrance was the Latin motto Venite ad me omnes qui stomacho laboratis et ego restaurabo ... Translated, this means: "Come to me, all whose stomachs call out and I will restore you." This seems to me just what a restaurant should be — a place which not only serves food, but "restores" the patron as well.

Louis P. DeGouy, a European chef who worked in this country for many years, published "The Soup Book" in 1949. In it, he sums up the appeal of soup better, perhaps, than any other writer.

"Soup is cuisine's kindest course," he writes. "It breathes reassurance; it steams consolation — there is nothing like a bowl of hot soup, its wisp of aromatic steam making the nostrils quiver with anticipation."

Today's recipes are for three of my favorite soups. The Lentil/Split Pea Soup with Ham is a long-time favorite in my family. Broccoli-Cauliflower-Cheese Soup is the delicious creation of a friend. Big Soup is one of my favorite methods of creative refrigerator clearing. Big Soup can be varied almost endlessly, with the chicken, rice, thyme and smoked frankfurter links creating a leitmotif that provides the soup's identity.

BROCCOLI-CAULIFLOWER-CHEESE SOUP

- ½ pound broccoli
- ½ pound cauliflower
- 2 tablespoons minced onions
- ¼ cup melted butter
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 5 cups milk
- 2 cups half-and-half
- ¾ cups shredded cheddar cheese
- Salt and pepper to taste

Total preparation/cooking time: 25 minutes

Steam broccoli and cauliflower 5 to 6 minutes, until partially cooked, remove from heat, coarsely chop and set aside.

In small pan, melt butter, add onion and cook until onion is just tender; do not allow onion to brown.

In stock pot, mix milk, half-and-half and flour. Add onions and butter. Cook, stirring, until mixture is smooth and slightly thickened.

Add cheese, broccoli and cauliflower. Stir until cheese is melted, mixture is smooth and broccoli and cauliflower are cooked to your liking. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Makes 8 to 10 bowls of soup.

LENTIL AND SPLIT PEA SOUP WITH HAM

- 2 cups dry lentils
- 1 cup dry split peas
- 1 pound smoked ham, or ham bones with meat on them
- 2 cloves garlic, chopped
- 3 medium onions, chopped
- 1 bay leaf
- ¼ teaspoon cayenne
- 3 carrots, sliced
- 3 stalks celery, sliced
- Salt and pepper to taste

Total preparation time: 20 minutes.

Total cooking time: 5 hours.

Soak lentils and peas in bowl with enough water to cover overnight. Drain and rinse, and place in a large soup pot with 14 cups water, ham, garlic, onion, cayenne and bay leaf.

Simmer, partially covered, 4-6 hours until well reduced and beginning to thicken.

With slotted spoon, remove any bones and meat scraps from soup. Allow to cool and separate meat from bones and fat. Coarsely chop meat and return it to soup.

Forty-five minutes before serving, add carrot and celery slices and simmer gently. Add salt and pepper to taste and serve very hot. Makes 10 to 12 bowls of soup.

BIG SOUP

- 1 medium-size chicken
- ½ cup uncooked rice
- 5 smoked frankfurter links, sliced
- 2 medium onions, chopped or thinly sliced
- ½ teaspoon thyme
- Salt and pepper to taste

A generous handful (or more) each of several vegetables, leftover or raw, such as:

- Sliced okra
- Corn
- Chopped potatoes
- Green beans
- Chopped tomatoes
- Peas
- Zucchini, sliced

MICROWAVE MAGIC

Summer squash, sliced

Total preparation time: 20 minutes.

Total cooking time: 1 hour.

Place whole chicken in pot with water (about 10-12 cups) to cover. Add onions and thyme, and simmer 45 minutes to an hour, until meat begins to fall from bones.

Remove chicken, allow to cool and separate meat from skin and bones. Chop or shred meat and return to broth.

Add rice, frankfurter slices and any raw vegetables to simmering broth. Allow to simmer half an hour before serving. Any cooked leftover vegetables to be used should be added about 5 minutes before serving. Add salt and pepper to taste and serve hot.

Makes 8 to 10 bowls of soup.

Stir in rice, bouillon, curry powder, turmeric, pepper and cloves. Add water and stir again. Cover and microwave 16 to 18 minutes, stirring after 8 minutes, until liquid is almost totally absorbed.

Let stand, covered, 5 minutes. Stir in raisins, cover, and let stand 5 minutes longer (standing time will finish cooking rice).

Serves 4 to 6.

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE
 Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful and intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition, in return I promise to make your name known and cause to be invoked. St. Jude, pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys, 3 Glorias. Say for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised. This novena has never been known to fail. Thank you for answering my prayers. M.H. hj3

Quality Or Quantity?

One Sure Way To Get Results!

When you advertise in a subscription
newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY
FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient
Readers = Results is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

YOU CAN'T BEAT IT!

Decor Score

Fabrics are key to cozy cottage look

Q. I rather like the soft appearance of the English-cottage style, but I am not willing to toss out my traditional furniture and start all over.

Is there some way to get this look with the furnishings I already have? — L.A.

A: Yes! A few judiciously planted cabbage roses about your room can give you that snug cottage look without a total refurnishing job. Most central to that look, of course, are large-scale floral patterns in wallpaper or fabric.

There are many designs available on the market today in both, but in your situation you might be better off using fabric alone. A fussy wallpaper next to fussy draperies and upholstery can be suffocating. Since lush fabric treatments identify the cottage look, you might want to use them to camouflage your transitional furniture.

The ruffles, flounces and fringes that are common to this style can completely transform your furnishings. Often an upholsterer can inexpensively restructure the shape of your sofa or chairs to a more traditional style during the process. Add plenty of ruffled pillows.

Another hallmark of the look you are after is lush and elaborate window treatment. You might play around with some alternative ideas for draping, swagging, fringing, tying — perhaps even using a couple of coordinating fabrics. You can keep the look heavy or light depending on the background.

color of the fabric and the colors you use on the walls, ceiling and floor.

A few added accessories of old porcelain, silver, antique prints, family photos in old frames and fresh flowers will inexpensively add to the cottage ambience. But, it's going to be those cabbage roses that deflect the eye from any weeds in the garden.

Q: My wife and I live in a rural area that does not have many artists or fine craftsmen. We do appreciate handcrafted, one-of-a-kind works of art, but are unable to travel to a major city to find them. Are there catalogs that picture the work of artists or craftsmen with whom we can commission pieces by mail? — P.T.

A: There are at least a couple that have been published in the recent past. The "Goodenough Catalogues" ("of Good Things," "of Fine Crafts") have been around awhile. They include a statement by the artist and pictures of his work.

There is also a recently published work called "The Guild — A Sourcebook of American Craft Artists." It contains descriptions, photos and sources for the works of hundreds of artists and craftsmen, many of whom have catalogs of their own they will mail to you.

Your local library should be able to get these for you. For "The Guild" you can write directly to Kraus Sikes Inc., 19 E. 95th St., New York NY 10128.

ANTIQUE OR JUNQUE

By James G. McCollam

Chair made at time of Civil War

Q: Enclosed is a picture of a chair that has been in the family for many years. It appears to be solid walnut and in good condition. What can you tell me about its age and value?

A: This is an early Victorian side chair made about the time of the Civil War. This style was about the last of the handmade furniture. It was started in France, modified in England and made in large quantities in America.

Your chair would sell for from $275 to $325 in an antique shop.

Q: I have a ceramic vase 9 1/4 inches tall. The colors are yellow, brown, green and blue. The design is made up of berries and leaves.

Can you tell me who made it and the value and age?

A: This monogram was used by Louis Comfort Tiffany in New York. Your vase was made during the early 20th century and a dealer would sell it for about $300 to $1,000.

If you want to sell it yourself, you will probably have to settle for less than a dealer would get. If you sell it to a dealer you will be lucky to get $200.

Q: Is it true that old cash registers made by the National Cash Register Co. are valuable? If so, how can I tell which ones are collectible?

A: Yes. Here are some of the more valuable models:

- NCR No. 1 — $1,000
- NCR No. 2 — $500
- NCR No. 4 — $900
- NCR No. 6 — $1,300
- NCR No. 7 — $550
- NCR No. 12 — $750
- NCR No. 250 — $500
- NCR No. 202 — $375
- NCR No. 238 — $375
- NCR No. 300 — $675
- NCR No. 310 — $500
- NCR No. 313 — $550

Do dogs have blood types like humans?

Q: Our 8-year-old dog was recently hit by a car. The dog died before anyone could get him to a veterinarian.

A: It appeared that the dog bled a lot. If our dog had survived long enough, could our veterinarian have given him a blood transfusion? Do dogs have blood types like humans? Can blood transfusions be given with blood from different animals?

Blood transfusions are commonly given to dogs and cats. Most transfusions are given following an accident that resulted in a large blood loss.

There are seven known blood types in dogs and two known blood types in cats. The only known blood factor causing transfusion reactions of clinical significance in dogs is the A factor. Therefore, the only factor considered in routine blood typing in dogs is the A factor.

Approximately 63 percent of all dogs apparently have the A factor. Thirty-seven percent, or slightly over one-third, of all dogs are negative for the A factor.

Blood from an A negative donor dog that has never received a transfusion can be safely given to any other dog. However, A-positive blood can only be given safely to A-positive dogs. If an A-negative dog is given A-positive blood, the donated red blood cells are destroyed. Destruction of the donated red blood cells does not usually cause the dog to exhibit any external ill effects. However, the recipient is deprived of the full benefit of the transfusion.

Within approximately two weeks of receiving a blood transfusion that was not compatible, the recipient dog develops antibodies against the foreign blood cells. Dogs that receive repeated blood transfusions that are not matched, often experience allergic type reactions. These include fever, vomiting, restlessness, tremors, hives, shock and prostration.

Death almost never occurs because of incompatible blood transfusion in dogs. A 30-pound donor dog can donate approximately one-third of a pint of blood at any one time. Donation of blood can be repeated at approximately two-week intervals if the donor dog is healthy.

Most veterinarians own several donor dogs that are known to be A-negative and that have never received blood transfusions. Fresh blood can be secured from these dogs as needed or stored from these dogs for emergency use.

Very little is known about the blood types of cats. It is thought that most cats have the same blood types. Therefore, incompatible transfusions are very rare in cats.

Blood cannot be transferred between different species of animals. For example, blood from dogs cannot be given to cats and blood from cats cannot be given to dogs. The red blood cells are very rapidly destroyed in the recipient animals in interspecies transfusion. These lead to severe allergic type reactions and usually death.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Next Monday there will be a holiday. It will be Martin Luther King's birthday. This is a new holiday and it is the first time in American history that a black person is so honored.

It is a good idea, I think, for any group to have its "heroes" or "heroines." Other black persons who could have been recognized in this way might have been Booker T. Washington, the educator, George Washington Carver, the scientist, or Marion Anderson, the opera singer, and there are many more.

But Martin Luther King was selected and he is not a bad choice since he stood for freedom for his people, achieved through peaceful means.

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are Connie Chou and Ann Casey.
