Art Society Juried Winners

Shown at the Independent Art Society's Fall Juried show are President Norma Dagna and Chairperson Marilyn Elmer congratulating sculptor Frank Paslato who won two awards. The IAS March Membership show will hang in the Community Room of the Hicksville Public Library from March 1 through March 31.

Linda and Warren Carpenter flank the clever light box they displayed at the Independent Art Society showing of the film "Leonardo." The box allows you to superimpose a self portrait of DaVinci over the "Mona Lisa" with startling results! It's on loan to the Young Adult section of the Hicksville Public Library and accessible to everyone.

PTA Plans Albany Trip

Submitted by
Hicksville Council of PTA
On March 17, a group of concerted citizens will join forces with representatives from 57 Nassau County school districts in Albany.

The purpose of this trip is to meet with state legislators to air concerns regarding the recent proposed cuts of state aid to education. The Hicksville community stands to lose over $416,000 in aid.

It is vital that we have the support of parents, teachers, school district administrators, senior citizens and local businessmen. State Senator Norman Levy has stated, "Only through our combined efforts can we ensure the quality of education that we have fought so hard to obtain in Nassau County and the ability of Long Island taxpayers to pay for this education."

Please join with representatives from your local PTA units and school district personnel on March 17. We will leave from Hicksville at 7 a.m. and return the same day. The cost is $15 per person.

For more information and bus reservations please call Norma Goerke at 681-3769 or Peggy Gill at 433-8607.

Anyone who is unable to join us for the trip to Albany, we urge you to write to the following people stating your concerns: Governor Mario M. Cuomo, Executive Chamber, State Capitol Albany, NY 12224; Hon. Warren M. Anderson, President Pro Tem & Senate Majority Leader, Room 330, Capitol, Albany, NY 12224; Hon. Melvin H. Miller, Speaker of the Assembly, Room 932, Legislative Office Building, Albany, NY 12228; Hon. Saul Weprin, Chairman Assembly Ways & Means Committee, Room 923, Legislative Office Building, Albany, NY 12228.

In This Issue

This issue is complete in three sections. The first is the main news with all the local area news and photos. The second section is the annual "Weddings Are News" Edition which has become a popular service to readers over the years. It contains many ads from local services plus editorial information that the whole family will find interesting. It is one of 15 special editions given, at no extra cost to subscribers, each year. The third section is the regular Discovery Magazine with columns and features for every member of the family plus classified ads that are as interesting as local news stories.

Hicksville Library Budget Vote Apr. 8

Voting on the Hicksville Public Library budget for the 1987-88 school year has been set for Wednesday, April 8, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. As of press time a budget figure was not available from library officials.

The seat held by Mrs. Clara Bennett on the Library Board of Trustees will be expiring on June 30. Nominating petitions for the office of member of the Board of Trustees must be filed with the District Clerk, Jane Wilder, by 5 p.m. on March 9. Twenty-five signatures or 2% of the number of voters who voted in last year's Library election are necessary to validate the petition.

Registration will be held on Wednesday, April 1 at the Library between the hours of 3 & 8 p.m. for those residents not meeting voting requirements.

Mercy Lg. Offers Club Numbers

The 500 Club of Mercy Hospital has a goal of raising money to help Mercy (not-for-profit) Hospital. This 500 Club is comprised of 500 members, each paying an annual dues of $50 for a club number. At the monthly council meetings, the winning club numbers are drawn. The prizes are $200, $100, $50, four $25 and five $10 and in December there is an additional drawing for a $100 bonus.

At the present time, there are a number of club numbers available. Help support Mercy Hospital's service to the sick and injured by joining this 500 Club. For more information, please contact Elsbeth at 541-2087.

Regents, Empire State Scholarships Announced

The New York State Education Department has announced the names of local high school seniors who have won Empire State Scholarships of Excellence and Regents College Scholarships. These scholarship awards are effective as of the 1987-88 academic year. Each Empire State Scholarship of Excellence entitles the recipient to an award of $2,000 a year for up to 5 years of study at an approved program in New York State. Each Regents College Scholarship entitles the recipient to an award of $250 a year for up to 5 years of study at an approved program in New York State. The Empire State Scholarships of Excellence may be held concurrently with the Regents College Scholarships.

The winners of these scholarships are the candidates who earned the highest scores in each county on either the American College Testing program (ACT) Assessment of the College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) prior to November 3, 1986. Approximately 101,000 candidates in 1,400 high schools in New York State were included in the scholarship competitions. Asterisk denotes Empire Scholarship winner.

Letters

To the Editor

Freshly painted signs attest to the priorities of Nassau County and Town of Hempstead officials. Gullotta-land has now replaced Purcell-land, and Mondello-land reigns supreme in what was commonly known as the Town of Hempstead btg (before Tom Gullotta).

With paint bucket and brushes in hand, the sign painters dispersed to every nook and corner of the county and the Town of Hempstead to mark the ascendancy of the anointed ones. Cost was no object since it is borne by the taxpayers. What is more important than to proclaim to one and all the great deeds of those who are doing such an outstanding job of protecting the democratic process and the traditional checks and balances of government conceived and implemented by our founding fathers.

Nassau County and the Town of Hempstead are being beautified and real property values are being appreciated as a direct result of the hundreds of signs now adorned with new names and a new coat of paint. Cost should be no object when one considers the enhancement of our many parks, beaches, senior citizen facilities, etc. with their new freshly painted signs.

But have no fear...costs are being contained. The sign on the town sanitation facility off Lido Boulevard near Long Beach will not have to be redone since modest presiding supervisor Tom Gullotta declined to adorn the facility with his name.

Let's end the sham by eliminating all self-aggrandizing signs on county, town and other municipal facilities. Such an effort might even make it possible for us to start to reduce the tax burden on our hardpressed taxpayers!

Very truly yours,
Edward A. Grause

Hicksville Man To Exhibit Pickup

Among the entrants at the annual Long Island Custom Car Show coming to the Nassau Coliseum March 13 through 15, will be Jerry Brinker of Garden Blvd., Hicksville, with a striking '85 Toyota pickup, appropriately labeled "Brink's Job"!

The Long Island Custom Car Show, will feature hundreds of the most unusual vehicles on the road today - all vying for trophies in dozens of categories. Included will be street rods, antiques, American Graffiti cars, vans, bikes, trikes, kit cars, T-birds, 'vettes, stock cars, dragsters, dune buggies, trucks and more.

Customizing has increased in popularity over the last decade to the point where more than twenty percent of vehicles bear a noticeable aspect of individualization, whether it's pin-striping art work, etched window or a wide variety of body work.

The show hours are: Fri: 6 to 11 p.m., Sat: noon to 11 p.m., Sun: noon to 10 p.m.

Quality Or Quantity?

One Sure Way To Get Results!

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient Readers = Results is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

Town Approves Site For Floral Business

The Oyster Bay Town Board has approved a request for a change of zone in Hicksville subject to certain restrictive covenants, according to Town Councilman Angelo A. Delligatti.

"The applicants, Peter E. Kenney and Josephine M. Kenney, were seeking a change of zone from 'E' residence district to 'F' neighborhood business district on a parcel of land located at the corner formed by the intersection of the west side of Newbridge Road and the northerly side of West Marie Street," Delligatti said. "In granting the application, which will allow for the construction and operation of a floral business, the Board did impose a number of restrictive covenants."

The Town Board stipulated that the location of the building will be determined based on the recommendation of the Department of Planning and Development, which will also determine the areas to be landscaped. The building will not exceed 23 feet in height. The Board also covenanted that the premises will be utilized only for the operation of a flower shop or another low intensity use approved by the Board.

The hours of operation will be limited to between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. Monday through Saturday and between 7 a.m. and noon on Sunday. Parking will be permitted in designated areas only, and signs must conform with existing ordinances. The Board further stated that no application will be made to the Zoning Board of Appeals requesting a variance relating to parking or rotating signs.

Lighting will be directed only at the subject premises and may not spill over onto adjacent properties. There will be no outside storage of materials, equipment or waste. No building permit or certificate of occupancy will be issued until a site plan has been submitted to, and approved by the Town Board.

Delligatti noted that a violation of any of the restrictive covenants which is not remedied within 30 days of notification by the Town may result in the suspension or revocation of the change of zone, adding that the covenants may be changed or modified only by Town Board resolution.

Town Beaches To Open In June

The Oyster Bay Town Board has designated Saturday, June 20, as the opening day for all Town beaches and approved a schedule of fees and regulations for the use of Town beaches, marinas, boat basins and launching ramps, according to Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

"All Town beaches will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. beginning Saturday, June 20," Clark stated. "The beaches at Centre Island, Stehli, Florence Avenue and Tobay will open weekends beginning Saturday, May 23.

"Seasonal beach stickers permitting resident parking at the Town beaches will cost $18 and daily resident entrance for vehicles without stickers will cost $6," Clark said. "Non-residents may use the Tobay, Centre Island and Ransom Beaches Monday through Friday at a daily parking fee of $10. On weekends and holidays, non-residents will be permitted only at Centre Island and Ransom Beaches where the fee will be $18 for the day."

Senior citizens 62 years of age and older and handicapped residents, with proper documentation, can obtain a lifetime photo-laminated type card at the Town Clerk's office for a one-time fee of $9 plus a photo charge. Each year when presenting the laminated card and vehicle registration at the entrance to the park facility, a seasonal beach sticker will be issued at no additional charge.

"The boating season officially opens Saturday, May 16 and fee collection will begin on May 23. Fees for the use of the launching ramps at John J. Burns Town Park, Massapequa; Harry Tappen Beach, Glenwood Landing; and Theodore Roosevelt Memorial Park and Beach, Oyster Bay, have been set at $12 per seasonal trailer sticker or $5 daily for Town residents who do not have a seasonal sticker," Clark stated.

Non-residents can obtain a seasonal trailer sticker for use at

John J. Burns launching ramp for $60 or a daily use fee of $12. Daily use at Tappen and Roosevelt is $30. Payment of all parking fees is required in addition to seasonal trailer or daily trailer fee. A commercial seasonal sticker for ramp use is available at a cost of $200.

Clark noted that Tobay Boat Basin facilities are restricted to Town residents. Seasonal sticker fees have been set at $18 for boats up to 20 feet in length and $35 for boats over 20 feet in length. Residents can pay a daily entrance fee of $6 or $12, depending on boat size. Non-residents are permitted to use the Tobay Boat Basin Monday through Thursday only, excluding holidays, at a daily charge of $12 for boats up to 20 feet in length and $18 for boats more than 20 feet in length. Slips can be rented at a daily fee of $15 for residents and $20 for non-residents.

College Notes

Kevin Manney, son of Pat & Eileen Manney, 12 Lenore Avenue, Hicksville has graduated from the FAA (Federal Aviation Administration) Training Academy in Oklahoma.

He has been in training for his new job as an Air Traffic Controller since November 1, and has been assigned to the Terminal Radar Approach Control in Garden City.

His parents and the rest of his family, brother Jim; sister Lori; and grandmother Helen O'Brien are very pleased to be welcoming him home on February 28.

Thomas Edward Scannapieco, 122 Cambridge Drive, Hicksville has been named to the Dean's List for the fall 1986 semester at the University of Delaware.

Thomas is a freshman attending the College of Engineering.

Fire Safety Prog. Given At Jr. High

Chief Doug Wood of the Nassau County Fire Service Academy brought a fire safety program to junior high students in late January in a presentation sponsored by the school's Health Education Department and the Academy. This was Chief Wood's second year of participation with the seventh and ninth grade students to promote fire safety in Hicksville, and he gave the youngsters a checklist of activities the family can do together to be prepared in the event a fire breaks out at home.

1. Count all means of exit from the home in addition to the front and back doors and be sure that each family member knows where these exits are.

2. Each home or apartment should have a smoke detector on every floor level.

3. Check each bedroom and be sure that the person who sleeps in the room can close the door and open one window easily. All children of school age should practice opening the window.

4. Family members should be shown how to get out of the windows at ground level. If there is a garage or porch roof under second story windows, family members should practice climbing out of the window onto the roof.

5. Everyone should sleep with the bedroom door closed. If the smoke detector sounds or if a fire alert is given, occupants should get up and feel the door. If it is hot, do not open it. Use windows as a means of exit.

6. Children should be cautioned not to climb out a ground floor window. If they are on the second floor and there is nothing available to climb onto, they should stand by the open window. The closed door will keep out the smoke and they can be reached from the outside with a ladder. In some cases, a car can be driven to the side of the house and the window might be reached by standing on the roof of the car. A picnic table might substitute for a ladder.

7. Arrange a family meeting place outside the house so that adults can be sure everyone is out.

Heat, smoke and gases travel very fast, and normal means of exit might be blocked in case of fire, so practicing alternate ways of escape is vital. If you need help developing a family fire safety plan, the Fire Marshall's Office (663-5835) or the Nassau County Fire Service Academy (292-9292) can help you.

Fire safety is an important issue for everyone, and the junior high school is indebted to Chief Wood for his help in teaching youngsters about practices that might save a life.

AARP Meets On March 3

The next meeting of the A.A.R.P. Chapter #1592 will be held at Levittown Hall on March 3, at 1 p.m. The guest speaker at our meeting will be Mr. Charles Robert, of the firm of Robert Huber & Lerner. Mr. Robert will speak on "Health Entitlements." A question and answer period will follow.

LEGAL NOTICE NOTICE OF HICKSVILLE PUBLIC LIBRARY ELECTION AND VOTE ON APPROPRIATION OF FUNDS HICKSVILLE UNION FREE SCHOOL DISTRICT Hicksville, New York

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that pursuant to the resolution of the Board of Trustees of the Hicksville Public Library of Hicksville Union Free School District, Hicksville, New York adopted January 21, 1987 the Special District Election of the qualified voters of this School District for the Hicksville Public Library Election and Vote on appropriation of funds will be held on April 8, 1987, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. (E.S.T.) and 9:00 p.m. o'clock p.m. (E.S.T.) in the seven election districts, at the Hicksville Public Library, for the purpose of voting upon the following proposition(s):

PROPOSITION NO. 1
Shall the Library Budget for the school year 1987-1988 adopted by the Library Board be approved and a tax be levied on the taxable property of the District in the amount of such budget less sums received in the form of State and Federal Aid and from any other sources, all pursuant to the pertinent provisions of the Education Law?

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that nominating petitions for the office of member of the Board of Trustees of the Library must be filed with the Clerk of the School District no later than thirty (30) days before the Special Meeting, said date being March 9, 1987 between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Separate petitions shall be required to nominate a candidate. Each petition shall be directed to the Clerk of the School District, shall be signed by at least 25 qualified voters of the District (the same being at least 25 qualified voters of the District or two percent (2%) of the number of voters who voted in the previous Library election, whichever is greater), shall state the residence of each signer, the name and residence of the candidate, and include at least the length of the term of the office. Forms of petitions for Library Board Members may be obtained from the Clerk of the School District and at the Hicksville Public Library.

The following vacancy is to be filled on the Board of Library Trustees: Mrs. Clara Bennett Office of Member of Board of Library Trustees 5 year term ending June 30, 1987.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN THAT personal registration and Election Districts have been established in the School District, that no person shall be entitled to vote at the Special Meeting whose name does not appear on the register of the School District unless such person is registered under the provision of Section 5-612 of the Election Law and that those qualified to register and vote shall do so in Hicksville Public Library, according to the School Election District in which they reside.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that copies of the estimated expenses of the Library for the year 1987-1988 may be obtained at the Library and each school house in the District on and after April 1, 1987, on any weekday from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. and that any other propositions to be voted upon are available for inspection by any taxpayer in the District at the Library daily except Saturday and Sunday on and after April 1, 1987, between 9:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the Board of Registration shall meet in the HICKSVILLE PUBLIC LIBRARY for the seven (7) Election Districts described below on: April 1, 1987 from 3:00 p.m. until 8:00 p.m. (E.S.T.)

Any person shall be entitled to have his name placed upon such register provided that at such meeting of the Board of Registration he proves to the satisfaction of such Board of Registration to be then or THEREAFTER entitled to vote at the Library meeting or election for which such register is prepared. Said register will be filed in the Office of the Clerk of the District on April 1, 1987, and will be open for inspection by any qualified voter up to and including April 8, 1987. Residents who voted at an Annual or Special Meeting of the District within four years from the date of the current Special Meeting, or who registered within that time need not register to be eligible to vote at the Special Meeting. Residents otherwise qualified to vote who are registered under the provision of Section 5-612 of the Election Law need not register to be eligible to vote at the Meeting.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that during the voting hours on April 8, 1987, the Board of Registration will meet in the HICKSVILLE PUBLIC LIBRARY to receive registration for the ensuing year.

Plainview Library March Events

March Exhibitor in the Mini Gallery, Japanese Brush Painting by Carole Bergman. All Showcases: Stained Glass Exhibit by Linda S. Hack.

On Sunday, March 1, at 3 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will present The Other Vic Theatre in "The Owl and the Pussycat."

Clive Barnes of "The New York Times" says: "The Owl and the Pussycat" has...animated stage pictures that are vivid and comic...(scenes of) startling intensity and truth" which caused "First nighters to laugh maniacally..." says "The New York Daily News." The plot revolves around a stuffy author with binoculars who focuses them unwittingly upon a prostitute-model plying her trade. In no time at all, she has made sure they have met, and she begins to take over his apartment and to disturb his solitude and philosophy of life. Slowly they learn from each other as they fall in love and "assimilate" each other's personalities and viewpoints on life.

The Other Vic Theatre Company is a professional touring troupe.

No tickets needed. First come, first seated.

The Plainview Old Bethpage Library will be offering free tax assistance staffed by Hofstra University in the Director's Office.

These services will be extended through April 12. No appointment is necessary. However, please come prepared (organize and bring all necessary documents). The tax people will guide you in preparing your return.

Assistance will be available on these dates: Sundays, March 1, 8, 15, 22 and 29 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.; Tuesdays, March 3, 10, 17, 24 and 31 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m.

On Thursday, March 5, at 3 and 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be showing the feature film "Back to the Future" starring Michael J. Fox, Christopher Lloyd and Crispin Glover.

In Steven Spielberg's "Back to the Future," Marty (Michael J. Fox), plays a high school student who is accidentally sent back 30 years in time. Once Marty steps into his new time zone, he unexpectedly meets his parents; as unmarried teenagers. However, since his arrival has changed history, there is now a chance that his parents may not ever meet. This is only some of the excitement to be found as we go "Back to the Future!"

This film runs 106 minutes and is rated PG.

On Friday, March 6, from 1-3 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be presenting "Insights Into Current Issues" led by Barbara Krupit.

From local and national to international news, Barbara Krupit will discuss what's making the headlines that day. You can discuss the issues and share your views.

Enjoy yourself by signing up for International Folk Dancing at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library.

Hicksville -- Then And Now

Broadway in "Downtown" Hicksville looked like a whistle stop back in 1954 when this photo was taken, looking southeast from just north of the LIRR crossing. And where did city-bound commuters often wet their whistles while waiting for the 8:09? Why at the Station Tavern at the right. The busy area was burgeoning with banks, shops and real estate offices - doing big business as a result of the population boom after World War II. The familiar spire of St. Ignatius Loyola Church can be seen in the left background.

(Courtesy Historical Archives, Gregory Museum)

In the same view today, the State's widening of Route 107 (Broadway) has sounded the death knell to many of the old landmarks shown in the early photo, wiping out entire blocks of buildings and creating a desert of small plots. The two-story building at left is a holdover from the past as is St. Ignatius, which is obscured now by the elevation of the railroad tracks, constructed in 1962-63. A median now divides the thoroughfare.

Localite Wins Nursing Grant

Suzy Kim, a student at Syosset High School, has won a Regents Professional Education in Nursing Scholarship this year, it was announced by the New York State Education Department. The scholarship award is effective as of the 1987-88 academic year. The Regents Nursing Scholarship entitles the recipient to an award of $250 a year, for up to five years of nursing study at a college or hospital school of professional nursing in New York State.

The Bank of New York Company, Inc. has completed the acquisition of North American Bancorp, Inc., whose principal subsidiary is Long Island Trust Company, from Banca Commerciale Italiana. Long Island Trust, with $1.8 billion in assets and 46 branches, has been merged into The Bank of New York, and all of its offices will have been converted to Bank of New York branches.

The acquisition, announced last September and approved by regulatory authorities in January, increases the total number of Bank of New York branches from 143 to 189, and gives the Bank the largest suburban branch system in the greater New York metropolitan area. In addition to being the market leader in Westchester and other counties just north of New York City, The Bank of New York will now be the third largest bank on Long Island. The acquisition increases the size of the Bank's Long Island Division from 34 to 79 branches.

THERE is still much in-fighting in Oyster Bay Town Hall and the odds are increasing that Supervisor Joe Colby will not run again for election. Presently Ken Diamond of Jericho is considered front runner for the nomination. But on the Democrat side it appears that Assemblyman Lew Yevoli is a leading contender who would be hard to beat by Republicans with the present acrimony and possible legal problems that are rumored to be in the offing.....COUNTY Executive Tom Gulotta claims he has the best way of keeping the costs of jails to a minimum for taxpayers. He wants to charge inmates $86 a day for three meals, bed and recreation at the county jail. One problem might be that convicted burglars would have little trouble in coming up with the money if they were allowed out a few nights a week.....THIS WEEK'S edition includes a special section called "Weddings Are News." It is our semi-annual handbook for brides and bridegrooms. The issue contains many specially prepared articles on weddings and gives business offerings of many local stores and services. We hope you will consider using them when the big occasion arises.....THE POLICE REPORT is published each week as a public service to alert residents of where crime is taking place in the area and as an aid in the Neighborhood Watch program. LOW-RATE MORTGAGES for the purchase or refinance of an owner-occupied home or condominium in Manhattan, Brooklyn, Bronx, Queens, Staten Island, Nassau, Suffolk or Westchester.

FIXED RATES (below FNMA maximums)
15-YEAR	30-YEAR
9.00% annual rate	9.50% annual rate
9.35% annual percentage rate	9.73% annual percentage rate

CAPPED ADJUSTABLE RATE (loans up to $300,000)
1-YEAR
6.50% annual rate
10.54% annual percentage rate

Quoted rates are for self-liquidating, "full-credit" loans with a minimum down payment of 25% of appraised value on 1-to-4 family homes. The annual percentage rates include origination and placement fees.

Repayment terms for 15-year (and 30-year) fixed-rate loans at the stated rates would be 180 (360) monthly payments of $10.15 ($8.41) per $1000 borrowed.

Adjustable rate shown is a below-market introductory annual rate for the first year only. The annual percentage rate is based on the current value of "The Green Point's" Index Interest Rate (currently 11.25%) which is subject to change. The annual rate will not change more than 2% per year (up or down) and, over the life of the loan, will not vary (increase or decrease) more than 3% from the Index Interest Rate in effect at the time the loan is closed.

Ask for rates and terms on "automatic credit" loans and on fixed-rate loans above FNMA maximums (up to $300,000).

SPECIAL IRA BONUS RATES PAY .25% MORE THAN REGULAR RATES

Every wage earner is still eligible to make a $2,000 tax-deductible contribution to a 1986 IRA until April 15, 1987. While contributions for the 1987 tax year may not be fully deductible for all wage earners, interest earned is still tax-deferred.

IRA TIME DEPOSIT	EFFECTIVE ANNUAL YIELD	CURRENT ANNUAL RATE
60-MONTH ($100 min.)	8.00%	7.70%
12-MONTH ($100 min.)	6.62%	6.41%

These rates are also available for IRA Successor Trustee Transfers and Qualified Defined-Contribution Plans for the self-employed (Unincorporated).

Married couples may contribute up to $4,000 ($2,250 if only one is employed). Deposits may be made periodically or in a lump sum. "The Green Point" will provide quarterly statements showing how each IRA has grown. Premature withdrawal from an IRA before age 59½, or from an IRA Time Deposit before maturity, incurs a substantial penalty if permitted by the Bank. Interest is compounded daily, credited quarterly and both principal and interest must remain on deposit for a full year to realize the effective yield indicated.

This is a 7 session course for $21 beginning Monday, March 9 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. Instructor Jeanette Ross invites you to folk dance for fun, for exercise, for friendship and for music.

Everyone is invited.

On Monday, March 9, at 1 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be offering a Book Discussion/Review on the book entitled "White Noise" by Don DeLillo.

This is the story of a college professor and his family whose small Midwestern town is evacuated after an industrial accident. Jack Gladney is professionally known as J.A.K. and a professor of Hitler studies at the College-on-the-Hill. This is an America where no one is responsible or in control. Gladney and his wife, Babette, live with four of the children of their previous marriages. Babette, a low-key and adaptable faculty wife who reads tabloids to the blind and teaches senior citizens' classes in posture, is distinguished by her forgetfulness and her preoccupation with death.

On Tuesday, March 10, at 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be offering a Book Discussion/Review led by Barbara Krupit. The book to be discussed is "The Finishing School" by Gail Godwin.

Her memories triggered by a dream. Justin Stokes, a successful actress in her forties, looks back to the summer she turned fourteen. It was a summer that taught lessons of life, love, friendship and betrayal that haunt and shape her still, even though she has long suppressed the tragedy that marked its end. It was the year that she and her younger brother came north with their recently widowed mother to live with an aunt in a rural New York community. Justin fiercely missed her dead father and grandparents and felt acutely lonely and friendless. Then she met Ursula DeVane, and her bleak world suddenly took on hues of brilliant color.

On Wednesday, March 11, at 7:30 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be holding a Board of Trustees Meeting in the staff room. The public is invited.

On Thursday, March 12, at 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be offering a Japanese Brush Painting demonstration with Carole Bergman.

An introduction to the art of Japanese brush (Sumi-e) painting will be presented by Carole Bergman, a Long Island artist and instructor. The demonstration will include fundamental hand positions, basic brush strokes and brush manipulation, pressure and control. In addition, blending of colors on the brush, Japanese flower painting techniques and the illustration of calligraphic or printed material with Sumi-e art will also be demonstrated.

On Sunday, March 15, at 3 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will present The Long Island Brass Guild in cooperation with the Town of Oyster Bay Department of Community Services Cultural and Performing Arts Division.

The Long Island Brass Guild, formed in 1975, has performed numerous concerts in recital halls, colleges, libraries, public schools and museums. There is Doug Mendoccha on cornet, John Zalewski on trumpet, Joyce Kilmer on horn, Willard Sprague on trombone and David Schecher on bass trombone.

No tickets needed. First come, first seated.

Sewing your own clothes can be a very rewarding experience. Wear fashionable clothing at moderate prices.

The Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be offering an Intermediate and Advanced Sewing course on Tuesdays, beginning March 17, from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. The fee is $25 for 10 sessions.

Instructor Lillian Myones requires that you know how to use a sewing machine and how to use a pattern. She will teach you the rest.

Here is the opportunity all writers have been waiting for. The Plainview-Old Bethpage

Library is offering a course in Playwriting. Joseph Lizardi, local playwright will be teaching what it takes to write a good play. The course is being given on Wednesdays, beginning March 18, from 8-10 p.m. The fee is $25 for 10 sessions.

On Wednesday, March 25, at 7:30 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be holding a Library Board of Trustees Department Budget Meeting in the staff room.

Spring usually gives everyone a new outlook. Things look brighter and prettier. Colors are vivid, cool looking and bright.

Spring Into Color, with our program on color analysis and cosmetic makeover on Thursday, March 26, at 8 p.m.

Certified image consultant Camille Vornes will discuss complete color coordination including skin, makeup and clothing.

The library is located at 999 Old Country Road in Plainview (opposite the Marton Village Shopping Center. 938-0077).

Editor's Notebook

This week we are publishing a complete list of local area Regents and Empire Scholarship winners. We congratulate all these students for their accomplishments, and wish them continued success in the years ahead.

The Postal Service has issued an appeal to its customers to let them know "how they're doing" by filling out a Consumer Service Card. These cards are available at the post office or can be requested through your carrier. Instituted in 1976 the concept is that customers will voice complaints, suggestions or compliments with the data being forwarded to a computer depot in St. Louis for analysis. The only suggestion we feel may be necessary is to have the cards be more confidential. It's hard to make complaints in writing when the object of your complaint will be reading the message!

This week's edition contains our annual "Weddings Are News" special section featuring many ads from the area and locally edited information pertaining to the subject of weddings. We hope you will look it over - it contains lots of interesting information. V.P.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond and Town Clerk Ann R. Ocher were among those on hand for the 60th annual installation and inspection dinner of the Plainview Fire Department. Here, they look over the souvenir program with dinner chairman Robert McCauley, left, and Chief Theodore Zervos.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Q: I will be age 65 in July. How far in advance should I apply for retirement benefits? What information must I provide? — D.N.

A: You should apply for your retirement benefits two to three months before your 65th birthday.

You will need proof of your date of birth, your W-2 (wage and tax statement) forms for the last year or, if you are self-employed, copies of your self-employment tax returns and proof of filing (a canceled check, for example) for the last year since recent reports may not yet be in your records. Do not delay applying because you do not have all these proofs.

Contact your local Social Security office for assistance.

Q: Is it possible to draw both Supplemental Security Income (SSI) and Social Security benefits? — A.W.

A: Yes. These are two separate programs with different eligibility requirements.

To be eligible for SSI, a person must be 65 or older or disabled or blind, have limited resources and income, and meet certain other requirements.

To be eligible for Social Security benefits a person must have had a certain amount of work in employment covered by Social Security or be the dependent of such a worker.

Contact your local Social Security office for additional information.

Q: I am a U.S. citizen receiving Social Security benefits. How long may I remain outside the United States and still get my benefits? I plan to go to Italy for about six months. — F.M.

A: If you are a citizen of the United States your Social Security checks will keep coming no matter how long you stay outside the United States as long as you are eligible for the checks.

You do need to report to the Social Security Administration that you are going outside the United States so that we can make sure you receive all the Social Security checks you are entitled to receive.

Q: I need additional Social Security work credits in order to be come eligible for benefits. As an employee, does the amount you must earn remain the same each year? — M.B.

A: The amount of covered earnings needed for a quarter of coverage increases automatically each year to keep pace with increases in average wage levels. In 1987 you earn one quarter of coverage for each $460 of annual earnings from work covered by Social Security, up to a total of four quarters for the year. No more than four quarters of coverage can be earned for any one year.

Cub Pack 172 Blue&GoldDinner

By K. Walker

Sunday, February 8 was a big day for East Streets Cub Scouts of Pack 172. Everyone had a fantastic time.

The afternoon began by the presentation of the colors by the Webelos. Father Dominic Cianella from Holy Trinity Episcopal Church gave the invocation. Gail Wright then gave the presentation. The following were guests of Pack 172: Mr. & Mrs. Edward Sesak, Mr. Stanley Dryszczak, Mr. James Flynn, Mrs. Deborah Arlet, Mr. John Christ. Everyone enjoyed a delicious meal and an afternoon of entertainment.

Den 1 began with a mystery skit. They had their own Sherlock Holmes, complete with a pipe. They found things to help figure out the mystery including a belt that they thought was a blue snake. After they kept looking, they found many articles of the Cub Scout uniform. The answer to their mystery was the Cub Scout.

Den 2 showed us how to make a brew that produced the Scout colors, blue and gold. Two Scouts went to the sky and captured the blue color in a bottle, then two boys went to the sun and captured the gold color in a bottle, they returned to their pot of brew. With the aid of dry ice, it was definitely a special brew.

The Tigers made a banner of themselves. Each boy had drawn his body and decorated it. When the banner was rolled out, the boys stood behind it, exposing their head. After that the Tigers gave the Tiger yell.

Den 3 made a beautiful poster of the different Cub Scout badges, Bobcat, Wolf and Bear. Then they used the letters from the words "Cub Scout" to tell us what it means to be a Cub Scout.

Den 4 gave us a cute skit about what happens when tools are not put back where they belong. When the Cub finally found his hammer, he accidentally hit himself with it. Each Cub was a different tool.

Den 5 did a skit about camping. They were all sitting around the campfire talking about the different items each Cub was supposed to bring. Then the bugs started to bite. The Cub that was supposed to bring bug spray brought "rug" spray instead.

The most exciting event of the evening was the awarding of the Arrow of Light. William Harvey and Christopher Walunas received the Arrow of Light in a magnificent ceremony.

The Boy Scouts and their leaders were dressed as Indians. William Harvey and Christopher Walunas went up to Chief Woodcheke with their parents. Everyone was told how they completed the 7 achievements to become a Tenderfoot. Then they both received the Arrow of Light. William Harvey also received the Weblo Fellowship Award.

After the boys received the Arrow of Light, they crossed the bridge to become a Boy Scout. On the other side of the bridge, they were greeted by Boy Scouts and Chief Dryszczak. Now they are Boy Scouts!

After the ceremony, Boy Scouts from Post 3488 entertained us with some skits. First two Indian Scouts were hunting, one boy was shot, the other ran off to get the medicine man. The medicine man tried to revive him but the only thing that worked was the Eagle Feather.

The next skit was about the Chief taking his son on his first hunt, they went on land and in water until the son shot his first deer.

After the skits the Boy Scouts taught the Cub Scouts an Indian dance. The Cubs giggled their way through each step.

Then it was the parents turn. As couples, they danced the Indian dance. By the time this was over, everyone was laughing.

After the entertainment, a special recognition was given to the Pack Committee, Den Leaders and Den Chief for the unselfish help they have given to the Cubs. They had been given a corsage and now they received a special Service Award.

The afternoon came to an end with closing speeches from the Cubmaster, Carol Rasmussen and the Assistant Cubmaster, Wayne Luyster.

The colors were retrieved and a great afternoon ended.

We also want to give a very special thank you to Holy Trinity Episcopal Church for lending their hall to us.

Tigers Patrick Walker, Edward Lynch, Danny Logan, Brad White, Fred Harvey, Robert Parker and Gregory Arlet display their banner as they give the Tiger yell.

Boy Scouts from Post 3488 enjoyed teaching the Cub Scouts an Indian dance.

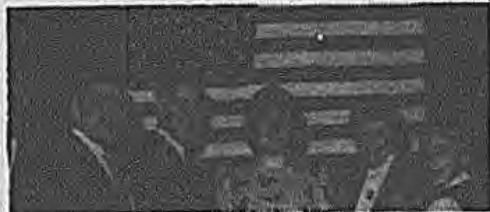

Webelos William Harvey and Christopher Walunas receive the Arrow of Light as Mr. Harvey watches with pride. Now they are Boy Scouts!

Bragin Named To 'Who's Who'

Jack S. Bragin, 31 Arcadia Lane, Hicksville, is one of 17 students attending the School of Management, State University of New York at Binghamton, whose names will be included in the 1987 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities & Colleges." Selection of these outstanding student leaders was based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

Bragin, son of Royal Bragin of Hicksville and Sheila Bragin of Greenlawn, is a SUNY-Binghamton senior majoring in accounting. At Binghamton he is on the School of Management Dean's List and the National Dean's List; belongs to Delta Sigma Pi professional business fraternity and to the campus Investments Club; plays co-rec football; and has received an Auditing Achievement award.

Bragin plans to pursue a career in accounting.

DutchLa. Founders Day Guests

Marjorie Mandell

Anthony Francello

Alfred Grosso

Dutch Lane PTA chose three guests to be honored at the February 26 annual Founder's Day Dinner, held to show appreciation to those people helping to promote education in the community. This year's guests are:

Marjorie Mandell has been a district resident for 16 years, and her involvement at Dutch dates from 1975. She has served the unit as Corresponding Secretary and Council Delegate, and her committee activities include Ways and Means, Legislation, School Store, Children's Activities, Hospitality and Luncheon. Husband Harvey and daughters Lainie and Abbie have shared Marjorie's interest in community service through PTA and Women's American ORT (Organization for Rehabilitation Through Training).

Anthony Francello, father of three children, grew up in the Bronx and now lives in Westbury. Retired from the Transit Authority, Tony has worked at Dutch for the past five years. In addition to ballroom dancing, Tony enjoys playing guitar with the Hicksville Community Jazz Band and flying radio-controlled model planes. PTA honors him for the hard work and care he has shown to the youngsters at Dutch Lane.

Alfred Grosso has been with the district for the past seven years. He began at East Street and served as Head Custodian at Old Country Road before coming to Dutch Lane. Born in Astoria, Al now lives in Shirley, and he is the father of three, and proud grandfather of five. An "outdoorsman," Al enjoys camping, boating and fishing. The parents, staff, and children of Dutch Lane say "Thank you, Mr. Al for your dedication, kindness and caring."

Postal Service Seeks Feedback

"To be effective in an ever-changing world, you must be able to meet ever-changing demands. One of the most important ways the Postal Service stays in touch with the needs of the fluid society it serves is through the Consumer Service Card," said Roger Nienaber, Hicksville Division General Manager/Postmaster.

"As the saying goes, 'We're taken for granted every day.' And that can lead to complacency on our part," says Nienaber.

"We have to be able to respond to changing customer needs and desires, and to do that, we have to know how they feel about us and the services we provide.

"That's the reason we make the Consumer Service Card so readily available: Customers may get one at the window, in the lobby, or ask their carrier to drop one off at their residence," Nienaber continues. "And if people communicate with us over the phone or by letter, then we'll still record the information on the card."

The Consumer Service Card has several uses. At the top of the form, the customer is asked to indicate the nature of the comment: a request for information; a suggestion; a problem or complaint; or a compliment. This data is extremely important, because the card, far from being solely a complaint form, actually is one of the premier ways the Postal Service monitors the services it offers.

"I see it this way," says Nienaber. "When you go to the doctor, you describe exactly what is bothering you. You don't want the doctor to make the wrong diagnosis.

"It's the same thing with the card. We shouldn't view it as a complaint, but as feedback. And that's why when we fill these out, we should be precise and specific. Otherwise, it's garbage in, garbage out."

A copy of every card is sent to the St. Louis Postal Data Center, where the information is compiled and used to generate a number of reports and analytical tools.

"Reports are generated for national, regional, divisional and local analysis," says Hicksville Division Consumer Affairs Representative Rudy Dagnello. "They are used to identify and track trends in service, and also to pinpoint specific problems. If there are shortcomings out there, the card will alert us to them. To paraphrase the old saying, 'You can't fix what you don't know is broke.'"

Introduced in October, 1975, the Consumer Service Card has proven a big hit with the public. Nearly 350,000 cards were received from our customers in 1986. And, according to Rudy Dagnello, information gleaned from them was one of the primary factors in developing the new extended hours program.

Israeli Teens To Visit Bogrim

Laura Libster, Executive Director of Geshar Shalom Young Judea, the youth movement sponsored by Hadassah, announced today that two Israeli teenagers would be attending the regular club meeting of the Plainview Bogrim to be held at the Mid Island Y, Plainview, on Thursday Mar. 5, at 7:30 p.m.

Each year the Conference of Jewish Organizations of Nassau County (COJONC) sponsors a two-week stay on Long Island for two Israeli teens giving them an opportunity to discuss issues and problems with their American counterparts. This year's participants are Elisheva Baumgarten and Oren Katz.

Elisheva was born in New York and made aliyah with her parents in 1984 after several extended trips to Israel. She currently attends Pelech Religious Experimental High School, a residential girls' school in Jerusalem. She is active in B'nai Akiva, a religious youth movement and has worked as a summer counselor at Camp Ramah, with English-speaking children visiting Israel. After graduation and the army, Elisheva hopes to study law.

Oren is a Sabra (native Israeli) who has been to the United States twice before when his family came on sabbaticals, once in California and once in Georgia. He is currently in the 11th grade at the Realy High School in Haifa, his home. Oren is active in the Tzofim (Israeli Scouts), a sister-movement to Young Judea, and was active in Young Judea when he lived in Atlanta, Georgia. He is looking forward to meeting Americans from this part of the country.

The Plainview Bogrim will be joined at their meeting by Young Judeans from other high school clubs around Long Island. We extend an invitation to any other interested teenagers, 9-12th grade. For more information, please call the Region office at 433-4960.

Spiegel Assoc. Signs New Lease

Spiegel Associates of Hicksville, a Long Island builder and owner/manager of commercial and industrial properties, has announced the signing of two leases with Par Floors, 325 North Broadway, Jericho, for a 4,100 sq. ft. interior design studio and carpeting/ceramic floor showroom as well at 35 17th Street, Hicksville, for 2,800 sq. ft. of warehouse space. In addition, leases were signed with Export Technicians, Inc., 375 North Broadway, Jericho, for 2,100 sq. ft. of office space, and Vegg Restaurant Corp., 1004 Willis Avenue, Albertson, for a 2,000 sq. ft. Italian restaurant and pizzeria.

These new leases and lease extensions have an aggregate value of $1.2 million.

For additional information, contact: Spiegel Associates, 270 North Broadway, Hicksville, New York 11801; (516) 935-1100.

Yevoli State Legis. Of Year

Assemblyman Lewis J. Yevoli (D-Old Bethpage) has been named "Legislator of the Year" for 1986 by the New York State Association of Counties. Yevoli will be honored at a luncheon Monday, March 9 at the Albany Hilton Hotel, Albany as part of the Association's 11th Annual Legislative Conference.

Assemblyman Yevoli, now serving his 7th elective term in the Assembly, was cited for his outstanding dedication to a number of important issues, including environmental protection, law enforcement and a system of lower taxation.

Upon notification of the award from the prestigious group, Yevoli stated: "I am deeply gratified to be among those recognized by the Association of Counties to be so honored for many long hours of work over the years. I accept the honor on behalf of all the residents of the 13th Assembly District."

Slide Presentation At POB Library

On Friday, February 27, at 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will take you on two separate adventures.

"From Kenya to Washington, D.C." is a spectacular sight and sound slide presentation using several projectors.

The show on Kenya is a photographic safari through the game parks of Kenya. The show is divided into several segments which include: Nairobi, which is a surprisingly modern city, the lodges which are all first class or deluxe, the various animal parks, and a fascinating segment on the people.

The animals represent a very interesting portion of the show, for after all, that is why one goes to Kenya. All kinds of animals are seen including giraffes, elephants, rhinoceros, lions, cheetahs, and even includes a sequence on the aftermath of a lion killing a cape buffalo.

Our capital city is a visual tour of the landmarks of Washington, D.C., both day and night.

Nelson Burack will be our tour guide. He has won many awards for Old Country Road in Plainview, opposite the Morton Village Shopping Center, (938-0077).

'Der Yiddisher Mikado' At The Y

Based on The Mikado by Gilbert & Sullivan

"Der Yiddisher Mikado" will be presented by the Gilbert & Sullivan Light Opera Company of Long Island on Saturday, March 21 at 8:30 p.m. at the Mid-Island Y, 45 Manetto Hill Road, Plainview.

This fun production has costumes and scenery set in Japan. Songs in Yiddish and English narration. The warmth and humor of Yiddish is captured in such free translation as the song "Tit Willow" becoming "Vey Is Mir."

Admission is $8 for members and $10 for non-members with $1 discount for senior adults and students.

For further information, call the Mid-Island YM & YWHA at 822-3535.

THE QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Do you think that Gov. Cuomo really means it when he says that he cannot be drafted to run for President?

Callers Think Marcos Should Stop Politics

Most callers to Input do not believe that former Philippine president Ferdinand Marcos should be allowed to promote strife in his homeland while in exile in answer to this question: "Do you think that former President Marcos should be allowed to participate in Philippine politics while being in exile in the United States?" Here are some of the answers:

HE'S LUCKY

No. Marcos should consider himself lucky that we are allowing him to stay here at all. He might have been killed if we had not helped him by taking him in at a time that there was a wave of sentiment against him. He should at least respect what we have done for him. J.E.

NO STATUS

While theoretically Marcos should not participate in politics in the Philippines, there is no clear-cut answer to what his status is at this time. According to Marcos, he won the election and is actually still the rightful president of the country. But, there is little doubt that he would have been deposed if he had stayed in the country. We should really set down ground rules for giving him sanctuary and the rules should include a hands-off policy in the Philippines. L.R.

NO RIGHT

Our intervention in the Philippines was really uncalled for. We had no right to help Aquino get to power because we have no right to interfere in the internal affairs of a country. We actually forced Marcos to flee and therefore we are providing him with a place to stay. If he really took all of the wealth with him, then we should turn him over to the Philippines for prosecution if enough proof can be shown. N.T.

LITTLE POWER

We cannot really stop Marcos from doing anything he wants unless we kick him out of the U.S. We must remember that Marcos did quite a bit of bidding for the U.S. and although he may have been crooked, we claimed to be his friend for many years. It is hard for us now to keep him here and put him under house arrest, so we will have some politicking by Marcos—but it probably will have very little significance because he has little power left. H.B.

CLAMP DOWN

Yes. We should clamp down on Marcos. He ought to be so glad that we are giving him a place to stay that he would not want to take a chance to lose it. Right now his interfering is only complicating a very difficult situation in which many factions are causing trouble. We should not be sponsoring some of it by letting Marcos do what he wants. M.R.

SHOULD BE PASSIVE

Of course not! From what I have read, we permitted former President Marcos to find a haven in our country simply because he could not obtain a place of refuge elsewhere. In any case, permitting him, and his wife of course, to stay here carried with it definite responsibilities on his part and certainly that included maintaining a passive attitude toward the Philippines. It also included observance of all U.S. laws which, it seems to me, would include any breach of international law that would certainly regard the illicit export of Philippine government funds and other valuable national assets to external countries registered in his name or in an account bearing a secret identification number of which he personally or a member of his family had sole ownership. Certainly, when Marcos entered the United States, he must have been given a set of principles or mandates to which he was obliged to adhere as a refugee and one of those should have been non-interference in the affairs of the Philippine government as presently constituted and recognized without reservation by our government. This certainly included overt or covert actions providing support or agitation of any kind to people or organizations intent upon the overthrow of that government. Marcos was banished from his country for perpetuating a form of government inimical to the best interests of the Philippines and clearly any demonstrable support of contrary action by him during his exile in the United States should be sufficient to terminate his unwelcome presence here. And, this should be a Presidential decision with no recourse to legal process. P.G.S.

SMILE

By Joseph T. Loscalzo

I think most would agree that a dentist's chair is not the most pleasant chair in which to sit. But my dentist's chair became more comfortable recently because I could peer above his working hands and read a small poster that said "I love your smile." Such signs and many other symbols of the smile certainly contribute heavily to the needed warmth in our community and every other community.

But something else that would enhance the friendliness of interpersonal relationships, might be some anecdotes demonstrating the power of the smile, the effectiveness of tender friendliness. May I offer two such anecdotes which happened as truly as I will describe them and they occurred here in our very own community?

The first incident took place in one of our local supermarkets. My wife and I stopped in "to pick up one or two items." As we began pushing our cart down the first aisle, another cart came wheeling around the corner and bumped ours. Since I was the "driver" of our cart, I took responsibility for the collision and involuntarily said I was sorry. At the same time I observed a very stern faced woman pushing the other cart and alongside her a rather meek and retiring man. Twelve or so products later (whatever happened to the "one or two items?"), we were again coming to the end of an aisle and speeding coincidence occurred, our same lady came speeding around the corner and banged into our cart. This time I did not apologize but I did smile. There was no softening of the woman's features. On the contrary, she looked fiercer than ever. Now as luck and coincidence would have it, we arrived at the check-out line and who were there immediately ahead of us but our meek gentleman and tense faced lady. I could no longer resist. I moved to the woman and gently said: "ma'm if you would smile, I think you would feel alot better and have a better day." She was speechless and her features froze while her husband seemed to beam. They checked out and as we began the same process, my wife nudged me having noticed that the couple remained at the exit. I took a deep breath and advanced towards my push cart adversary. She said: "Sir, I want to thank you, I feel better already." Yes, she was smiling and it was a pretty smile. Her husband continued to beam.

The second incident occurred "at" one of our neighborhood restaurants. Here's how: My wife and two daughters were due to keep an appointment in Garden City at 9 p.m. I was to be their escort. With precision timing, I decided I could take them out to dinner near the Expressway then leave and arrive promptly for their appointment.

Disaster struck immediately, when I arrived home at 7 p.m., but with determination, I whisked us to the restaurant. Because it was now 7:30 p.m. and we wanted to be out of the restaurant by 8:30 p.m., I dropped my ladies at the restaurant and searched for a parking space. The parking lot was totally occupied so I left it and "logically" parked in the first opening on a residential street. As I disembarked, a gentleman emerged from the private home there and began to shout that he preferred that I not park in front of his home. He was impressive - more than for his self-assured articulation but rather for his bulging muscles, enhanced by an assortment of tatoos. Thinking quickly and realizing I could waste needed time parking elsewhere, I asked if I could speak to him for a moment. I don't have bulging muscles and I don't have tatoos (I resisted them even while I was in the Military - mistakenly?) so I depended on the "pen" being mightier than the sword. I "wrote out" these words: "Sir, if I tell you that my wife and daughters are in the restaurant, they must be in Garden City by 9 p.m., and I will assure you that we will only occupy this space for one hour, would you consider allowing us to remain here?" Now, most important, all of this was expressed with a friendly smile. He responded with a protest. He was tired of restaurant parking in front of his home and his son would be arriving home from work. I listened. And, finally, he granted the privilege insisting on my fulfilling the promise of one hour.

As we enjoyed an abridged but delicious repast, I told the ladies my saga. When we completed our dinner and returned to our car - exactly at 8:30 p.m. there was our muscled gentleman, standing by his door. Spontaneously, my younger daughter who has a beautiful smile and expresses it often dashed towards the man and said: "Thank you, sir, for allowing my father to park here." Our serious countenanced friend softened, seemed bewildered, but then with a pleasant smile of his own responded: "You people are unbelievable, so friendly, so nice, you can park here anytime you come back to this restaurant." As we pulled away from the curb, I remembered thinking, I wish I had a photo of this stern man - now smiling as he waved back to my two daughters, who from their rear seat positions were smiling and waving to him.

We all want peace in our homes, peace in our communities, peace on our planet. Do we all realize how available a smile is and how much this simple, human expression can achieve?

For a long time I have wondered how Pappas Restaurant of Sheephead Bay was. Many of my friends went there and said it was a fine Seafood Restaurant. So, one night we went there. It has reasonable prices and beautiful surroundings. It is clean and has excellent top quality seafood. The service was excellent. All in all I was pleased with Pappas and had a wonderful time. Pappas is easy to get to. It is located at 700 Willis Avenue, Williston Park. It's like no other seafood restaurant around. F.M.

GREAT NEW PLACE

We saw your ad for the Grand Opening of Ischia Ristorante on Old Country Road in Hicksville and thought we'd try it for a special occasion we were celebrating.

We were not disappointed. The food, service and atmosphere were excellent and we heartily recommend it to your readers.

When we were seated and were handed the menu, my wife and I thought we'd have a problem since the menu was printed in Italian. But, the waiter couldn't have been more helpful in explaining the choices to us. It really made us feel special.

The spaghetti with seafood and lobster fra diavolo were excellent but there were many meat and poultry dishes that sounded delicious and we'll have to go back to try them. They told us English menus would be arriving shortly.

For any Italian cuisine lovers, we really must urge a visit to Ischia. You won't be disappointed. P.V.

Q. Most restaurants seem to think it is necessary to play background music. Why is this done? Doesn't it inhibit conversation?

A. This is a matter of taste. Most people like music, provided it is unobtrusive, and they find it is an actual aid to conversation.

GOOD WORDS

A very good friend invited me to lunch at the Maine Maid Inn in Jericho last Friday. I really don't know if I can find enough complimentary words to describe my experiences. First of all the Inn is charming and the decor is very relaxing. The waitress was so sweet. On her recommendation we both ordered the Friday special of Lobster Tail Scampi. It was served with rice or linguini and in addition we received a few shrimp on the rice. For dessert, again on the waitress' suggestion I had chocolate walnut pie which was simply magnificent and my friend had cheese cake ammorata. I admit I had to taste it too and will order that next time I visit the Maine Maid. By the way we were completed with our meal in one hour. Great for all those business people out there and we didn't feel rushed at all. In fact there was time for more coffee.

Q. Is it proper to apply lipstick at the dinner table? W.C. A. You don't do it in anyone's home. You may, however, apply lipstick and a dab of powder at a restaurant table. If you are traveling abroad, applying cosmetics at a restaurant table is often considered gauche. If you are with a party of Americans, on the other hand, you may wish to follow your own custom in the matter. It is wise to be discreet.

Q. I am one diner who enjoys eating the skin as well as the mealy part of the potato. However, I'm not quite sure how this should be done - can it be cut with a knife first?
 A. It's fine to use a knife provided only a small amount is cut at once. It would not be proper to cut up the whole potato skin at the same time, any more, say, than if it were a portion of meat.

Q. When eating out, I am often tempted to enjoy my pie or pudding served with whipped cream. Tell me, how many calories do I actually save when I skip this all too delicious extra?
A. Whipped cream has 28 calories per tablespoon, so I would guess that the number of calories in the topping adds up to 150 or 200.

Q. Years ago I used to attend many formal dinners in various fine restaurants and hotels. In those days the meals were always concluded with demitasse, never full cups of coffee. While I do not go out as much as I used to, I do notice that these days demitasse is seldom served at the end of formal dinners. Is this custom dying out?
A. Yes, to a certain extent, I would say. There is a certain bowing to popular demand - most people prefer a full cup of coffee. Also, we are living in a much less formal world, whether for good or bad, than in the past, and this spirit of informality affects dining as well as most other aspects of

Q. While dining out recently I was served iced tea without any service place under the glass. What should I have done with the spoon after I used it for stirring?
A. I hated to place it directly on the clean tablecloth.

A. I think you should have asked the waiter to bring you a small plate on which to repose the spoon. It would certainly not be correct to leave the spoon in the glass while drinking the tea. As you say it would also not be advisable to place it on the tablecloth.

Imperfect service is a common complaint by those who dine out. Even the best restaurants have difficulties of this kind once in a while.

If you find a restaurant has excellent food but is lacking in fine service, a word to the manager (or to "Inpat") might be helpful in correcting the problem.

Cooking Corner

The quintessential cocktail party

A distinctly American institution, the cocktail party suits our nation's personality and desire for informality and imaginative forms of entertainment.

The logistics are simple. There's no need for elaborate table settings, extra chairs, and sauces prepared at the last minute. Most food can be prepared well ahead of time and set out on a buffet table or passed by the host or one hired helper.

Today's preoccupation with "grazing" has inspired a plethora of new hors d'oeuvres and appetizer ideas. "Tapas," the popular tidbits served in Spain's bars, include such items as garlicky grilled shrimp, chunks of sweet red bell pepper in olive oil, spicy chorizo nuggets and tiny lamb kebabs.

Cookbooks that are good sources for hors d'oeuvres recipes include "Tapas: The Little Dishes of Spain" by Penelope Casas (Alfred Knopf, $12.95); "Wolfgang Puck's Modern French Cooking" (Houghton Mifflin, $12.95); and "Jeremiah Tower's New American Classics" (Harper & Row, $25).

In addition to the traditional lineup of alcohol, the host should offer good jug wines like Corbett Canyon Chardonnay, Parducci Red and White, and Monterey Vineyards Classic Red and White. There should also be club soda or bubbly mineral water, along with orange juice, grenadine syrup, cranberry juice and citrus wedges to jazz it up.

We offer these hors d'oeuvres recipes to enhance cocktail parties, afternoon teas, dinner parties, brunches and "just-drop-in" get-togethers.

LARRY FORGIONE'S DEVILED CRAB AND OYSTER FRITTERS ON THE HALF SHELL

Deviled Crab:

- 3 tablespoons unsalted butter
- ¼ teaspoon minced garlic
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onions
- ½ cup finely chopped red and green peppers
- 5 tablespoons flour
- 1½ cups heavy cream
- 4 egg yolks
- 3 tablespoons Dijon mustard
- 1½ tablespoons chopped fresh herbs
- 1 teaspoon cayenne
- Dash of Tabasco
- 6 cups fresh crab meat, picked, cleaned, and well drained, (approximately 2½ pounds)
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- Salt, freshly ground black pepper

Oysters:

- 24 medium oysters, in the shell
- 1½ cups light cream
- 2 eggs
- 2 egg yolks
- 3 cups fresh white bread crumbs
- Salt, freshly ground black pepper
- 3 tablespoons chopped parsley

Deviled crab:

Melt butter in heavy skillet. Add garlic, onions and pepper and cook over low heat just until tender, about 5 minutes. Stir in flour while continuing to cook mixture for 2 to 3 minutes. Gradually add cream and stir until mixture has thickened, 2 to 3 minutes.

Add egg yolks, mustard, dry mustard, herbs, cayenne and Tabasco. Stir in crab meat and lemon juice. Turn up heat and cook until mixture begins to simmer. Let it simmer for about 1 minute. Season with salt and pepper. Remove from heat, cool a little and then cover and chill thoroughly.

Makes 8 appetizer servings (about 24 pieces)

Oysters and assembly:

Wash and shuck oysters, reserving the meats, liquid and bottom halves of shells.

Place meats and liquid in small saucepan and cook slowly until liquid simmers or until edges of oysters start to curl. (You may supplement oyster liquid with a little clam broth, if necessary). Remove meats immediately from pan with slotted spoon, drain on paper towels and cool. Strain and reserve cooking liquid.

Wipe out inside of each of bottom halves of oyster shells. Place approximately 1½ tablespoons of deviled crab mixture into shells and press down, making sure to coat entire shell bottom evenly. Place one of cooled, poached oysters in each shell and top with another 1½ tablespoons of crab mixture. Take care to completely envelop oysters.

Pour 3 to 4 inches of vegetable oil into heavy skillet and heat to 350 F.

While oil is heating, beat together cream, reserved liquid, eggs and egg yolks in a small mixing bowl. Place each of filled shells, shell and all, into mixture. Carefully roll shells in breadcrumbs until each is evenly breaded.

Place shells in hot oil and cook until golden brown, 2 to 3 minutes. You may want to use long tongs to submerge shells in oil. Remove them from oil and place on paper towel to drain. Season with salt and pepper and sprinkle with chopped parsley.

SEPPi RENGGLI'S BAKED SWORDFISH STEAK WITH OLIVES AND SCALLIONS

- 1 teaspoon olive oil
- 4 (5-ounce) swordfish steaks, about ¼ inch thick
- 8 green olives, pitted and coarsely chopped (¼ cup)
- One-third cup chopped fresh parsley
- ¼ cup chopped fresh dill
- ¼ cup chopped scallions
- 1 teaspoon minced jalapeno pepper
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 1 cup salt-free tomato juice
- 1 recipe braised Swiss chard

Lightly oil heatproof serving platter (a metal sizzling platter that fits into a wooden board is ideal). Place swordfish steaks on it in single layer. Top each with an equal part of olives, parsley, dill, scallions and jalapeno pepper. (You can mix everything except pepper together first. Be sure pepper is evenly distributed among steaks).

Squeeze lemon juice on top of each piece of fish, then gently pour over tomato juice, taking care to keep herbs and olives from falling off. The juice should be about ¼ inch deep in platter.

Place platter on top of stove and bring liquid to a boil. Place in oven and cook for 6 minutes. Serve fish with tomato liquid as sauce, accompanied by braised Swiss chard.

Serves 4.

ALAIN SAILHAC'S TARTELETTE DE TOMATE AU BASILIC

Ingredients: Pate Brisee Classique, roll ¼ inch thick, mold overnight in 2¼ inch diameter.

For 12 tartelettes:

- 2 beefsteak tomatoes (cut in large chunks, peeled and seeded)
- 1 dash of chopped garlic
- 1 filet of chopped anchovies
- 2 soup spoons of chopped black olives marinated in olive oil
- 1 bunch of fresh basil (half chopped)
- 1 soup spoon of olive oil
- Salt and pepper to taste

Preparation:

Cook tomato in olive oil for 7 minutes, add salt, pepper, garlic and chopped basil.

Spread black olives and anchovies on bottom of tartelette, put tomato on top. Cook for 8 minutes at 375 F.

Brush olive oil on top of tomato. Arrange two small basil leaves on top. Serve warm.

JEREMIAH TOWER'S TARTARE OF SALMON AND TUNA

- Salt and freshly ground pepper
- ¼ cup fresh lemon juice
- 8 ounces tuna fillet, skinned, all dark meat removed
- 8 ounces salmon fillet, boned and skinned
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 12 croutons

Finely chop salmon and tuna separately. Into each of chopped fish, stir half the lemon juice, a tablespoon of olive oil, and salt and pepper to taste.

Spread half of each crouton with salmon tartare and other half with tuna tartare.

Serves 4.

ENDIVE FILLED WITH CREAM CHEESE AND CAVIAR

- 8 ounces cream cheese, at room temperature
- 2 tablespoons onion juice, squeezed from freshly grated onions
- ¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- 2 large heads Belgian endive
- 1 (4-ounce) jar red caviar

Mix cream cheese, onion juice, cayenne pepper and salt in small bowl until well blended. Set aside.

With sharp knife, cut off and discard bottom ends of endive and slice endive in half lengthwise.

Separate leaves, using largest and firmest for filling and reserving smallest for another use.

Place half of cream cheese mixture at a time in a pastry bag fitted with a No. 3 star tube.

Pipe seasoned cream cheese down center of endive leaves.

Using a toothpick, transfer caviar eggs from jar, spacing several of them evenly along center of cream cheese on each leaf. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

Makes 24 pieces.

KUNG PAO CHICKEN

Meat of 1 whole (2 halves)
chicken breast, shredded
1 egg white
2 teaspoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons peanut oil
¼ cup raw peanuts, skinned
1 teaspoon crushed red pepper
2 cloves garlic, minced
2 tablespoons black bean sauce*
1 tablespoon hoisin sauce*
1 tablespoon rice vinegar
2 teaspoons sherry
1 teaspoon sugar
2 tablespoons water

Total preparation/cooking time:
20 minutes.

Marinate chicken in egg white and cornstarch 15 minutes. Heat oil in wok until very hot and fry peanuts and crushed red pepper. When peanuts begin to brown, remove with slotted spoon.

Add shredded chicken to oil and stir-fry until just cooked through. Return peanuts to wok and add garlic, black bean sauce, hoisin sauce, vinegar, sherry, sugar and water. Stir-fry all ingredients together until heated through. Serve with rice.

(*Starred items available at Oriental food stores and some supermarkets.)

Serves 2.

MANY-SPICED CHICKEN

1 frying chicken, about 1½ pounds, cut in pieces
2 tablespoons minced scallions (for garnish)
1½ tablespoons minced parsley (for garnish)
1 large cucumber, sliced

For Marinade:

7 tablespoons soy sauce
2 teaspoons minced fresh ginger root
2 large cloves garlic, minced
3 tablespoons crunchy peanut butter
1½ tablespoons hot red pepper oil*
¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
3 tablespoons vinegar
1½ teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1¼ tablespoons sesame oil

Do-Ahead Steps:

1. Cut chicken into pieces.
2. Boil chicken and strip off meat.

Total preparation/cooking time: 45 minutes, including do-ahead steps.

Place chicken in large pot, with enough water to cover. Bring water to boil, reduce heat and simmer 35 minutes.

While chicken is cooking, mix all marinade ingredients in large bowl, using whisk or fork. Taste marinade mixture and adjust to taste. The flavor of marinade should be quite strong, since it will be absorbed by chicken and cucumber.

Remove chicken from pot, set aside and allow to cool.

When chicken is cool enough to handle, strip meat from bones and shred finely.

Arrange cucumber slices on platter and cover with shredded chicken. Pour marinade evenly over the chicken, garnish with scallions and parsley and serve.

(*Starred items available at Oriental food stores and some supermarkets.)

Serves 6 as a first course or 3 as a main course.

CHICKEN LOLLIPOPS

25 chicken "drumettes"
(the upper part of the wing)
3 cups peanut oil

Coating Mixture:

¼ cup flour
¼ teaspoon white pepper
¼ teaspoon five-spice powder*
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ cup cornstarch

Marinade:

3 medium cloves garlic, minced
1½ tablespoons minced fresh ginger root
2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon five-spice powder
½ cup sherry or dry white wine
3 tablespoons soy sauce

Do-Ahead Steps:

1. Separate skin from narrow end of drumettes and push meat down toward thicker end, to form a "lollipop."

2. In large bowl mix all marinade ingredients well. Add prepared drumettes and coat thoroughly with marinade. Allow to stand at least 1 hour.

Note: The preceding steps may be done well in advance — as much as a day — allowing the drumettes to marinate thoroughly in refrigerator.

Total preparation/cooking time: 10 minutes, plus do-ahead steps.

Heat oil in a wok over high heat. While oil is heating, mix all coating ingredients and roll marinated drumettes in mixture, coating thoroughly. Deep fry the drumettes, 6 or 8 at a time, in wok until golden brown and cooked through — about 3 or 4 minutes.

If you are serving Chicken Lollipops as an hors d'oeuvre, hot mustard sauce and sweet-and-sour sauce are excellent accompaniments for dipping.

(*Starred item available at Oriental food stores and some supermarkets.)

Serves 6 as an hors d'oeuvre or 3 or 3 as a main course.

microwave magic

By Desiree Vives

Want something different for dessert? Try something inexpensive, that you probably already have around the house: bananas. Sure, you pack them into the kids' lunches, slice them into the breakfast cereal, and nibble them for impromptu snacks. But don't neglect bananas after dinner — they'll microwave into a variety of delicious desserts in just minutes.

The fruit's scientific name is Musa paradisiaca, so dubbed by the classifiers because the serpent in the Garden of Eden was supposed to have hidden himself in a cluster of bananas before tempting Eve with another famous fruit.

Until late in the 19th century bananas were rare in this country. While the banana is one of the few fruits that can be picked green and stored for a considerable length of time, it doesn't last forever. Bananas had to be shipped from the tropics, and by the time they reached the American market, they were usually blackened and mushy.

It was not really until the 1920s, with the invention of refrigerated ships and railroad cars, that bananas could reach the markets here in good shape. These days, bananas are available all year-round, and they've become one of our favorite fruits.

Ripe bananas provide fair amounts of potassium and vitamins C, A, and B1. They are also very easy to digest. As a general rule, use slightly underripe bananas for cooking (except in banana breads and cakes).

Try Butter Rum Bananas and Spiced Sherried Bananas over ice cream, tapioca pudding, or plain cakes such as pound cake. Hot Banana Splits are sure to be a hit with kids.

If you're trying to keep a New Year's resolution to lay off the sweets, these recipes are obviously not for you. But if you can afford the calories, why not go bananas for dessert? You'll love it!

HOT BANANA SPLITS

2 large, ripe bananas
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

2 tablespoons finely chopped walnuts, pecans or almonds

Ice cream and garnishes (chocolate sauce, whipped cream, etc.)

Preparation Time: 5 minutes
Cooking Time: 30 seconds to 1 minute
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Peel bananas and slice in half lengthwise. Arrange in 8x8-inch glass baking dish with cut sides up. Sprinkle with brown sugar, then dot with butter. Sprinkle chopped nuts evenly over all.

Microwave, uncovered, 30 seconds to 1 minute, until butter is melted and topping is bubbly. Serve immediately with your favorite ice cream. Top with chocolate sauce, whipped cream, cherries and nuts, if desired.

Serves 3 to 4.

BUTTER RUM BANANAS

¼ cup brown sugar, packed
¼ cup rum
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
Dash ground nutmeg
2 large bananas

Preparation Time: 5 minutes
Cooking Time: 5 to 8 minutes
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Combine sugar and rum in 1½-quart glass casserole; add butter, cinnamon and nutmeg. Cover and microwave 4 to 5 minutes, stirring every 2 minutes, until mixture is hot and sugar is dissolved.

Peel bananas and cut in half lengthwise, then crosswise. Add to rum mixture, stirring gently to coat. Microwave, uncovered, 1 to 3 minutes longer, until heated through.

Serves 3 to 4.

SPICED SHERRIED BANANAS

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons brown sugar, packed
Dash each ground cloves and cinnamon
3 tablespoons lemon juice
¼ cup cream sherry
5 large bananas
1 tablespoon raisins (optional)

Preparation Time: 5 minutes
Cooking Time: 5 to 6 minutes
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Place butter in 8x8-inch glass baking dish. Microwave, uncovered, 1 minute. Blend in brown sugar, spices and lemon juice. Add wine gradually, stirring constantly. Microwave, uncovered, 1 minute, stirring after 30 seconds.

Peel bananas and slice in half lengthwise, then crosswise. Add bananas and raisins (if desired) to sauce, stirring gently to coat. Microwave, uncovered, 3 to 4 minutes longer, stirring once after 2 minutes, until fruit is softened and heated through.

Serves 4 to 6.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q. I have in my residence a considerable area that is covered with black slate. I need advice on the care and cleaning of this floor. Thank you for any information you can supply. — L.A.Z.

A. Since you do not mention a specific problem, I assume your question is in reference to general slate floor maintenance.

Natural slate is practically immune to all common chemicals and is probably the least exacting of all floors in the matter of maintenance. Any of the usual cleaners may be used on slate with safety, though strong alkaline solutions or acids may affect the grout.

Because of its density and extremely hard surface, slate is not affected by detergents like marble. Weak solutions of ammonia may be used when desired. Even flooding with water, objectionable to most floors, presents no injury to slate.

To maintain, it may be scrubbed as necessary and mopped between times. Sand-rubbed slate, relatively smooth, may be scoured when necessary, with steel wool or an abrasive pad.

Cleft (the uneven, textured slate) floors are less easily scoured because of the textured surface. I would avoid the use of coarse steel wool in particular since its continued use may wear down the desirable textured effect. To scrub a cleft floor, use a strong solution of synthetic detergent. Spread it over the surface and let it stand for several minutes. Then, with fresh solution, scrub with a stiff brush under a floor machine.

After the slate floor has been thoroughly cleaned and allowed to dry, a coat of sealer will render the floor easier to clean and keep clean. Any good floor sealer should serve. It should be of low viscosity and probably not over 25 percent solids. Spread thinly and rub out well. Being non-porous, slate will absorb very little of the sealer, just enough to adhere, but it is not the purpose to build up a surface coating. An ideal sealer for slate floor is one of the colorless terrazzo sealers.

The richness of slate can be improved somewhat without producing an artificial luster or even sheen by waxing, either with the solvent type or a water wax emulsion. Even an emulsified resin finish will serve very well. Sometimes water waxes and resin finishes turn gray from exposure. Therefore, I would suggest only a sealer for exterior slate.

One tip on care of slate floors we received from a reader was the following treatment recommended by a Michigan builder: "To protect slate, and achieve a soft, warm tone, use a solution of one-half turpentine and one-half boiled linseed oil, heated over boiling water. Apply warm to slate floor and let set for an hour. Wipe off surplus. Apply three coats of this preparation. Let dry thoroughly between each coat. It is not an easy process, but well worth the effort."

The reader, Dorothea A. Gendron, claimed: "I have lived in this house five years with four small children and I do not have to do anything else to the floor. It is almost dust free. I receive many compliments on the beauty of our slates."

Q. While burning tumble weeds, we accidentally got soot from the fire on the stucco of our house. We have tried several detergents, but nothing seems to work. Can you provide a solution to this problem? — T.K.

A. Stucco is a porous material and it is doubtful that you will be able to entirely remove soot stains, which are very penetrating. You might try a solution of one cup trisodium phosphate, mixed with ¼ cup detergent, one quart household bleach, in three quarts warm water. Scrub with a stiff brush and rinse well with clear water. If the stain still remains, your best remedy will probably be repainting.

or information on community services and events, consider creating such a service. This can operate from a donated desk area in a real estate office or in a contributed storefront.

The service can include handling questions, selling souvenirs and tickets to local events, referral for local businesses and more. Operating motto could be, "We have the answer to almost any question you can ask."

Income can come from businesses who "subscribe" to be in the referral system, from community "memberships" or "sponsorships," and from the sale of souvenirs and other items. Your club members provide the staffing and are therefore very active in your community while providing a very worthwhile service.

OTHER IDEAS

Senior citizen clubs can consider other ventures — from group handling of newspaper routes, to operating flower stands, or to providing other needed services within the community. You can produce a fine margin to meet your goals for charitable contributions while producing income and very productive activity for your members.

There are many possibilities. You might need business or other licenses. These are provided as starting points for your consideration.

Mainly for Seniors

Mainly for Seniors

By Leonard J. Hansen

Today's questions are from senior citizens active in clubs and centers around the nation, and ask about fund raising for charitable purposes, games and activities and publicity. The subjects might be of great value to all readers who are members of any senior club, who might consider participation or who might consider starting one.

Q: Our senior club is looking for a fund-raising project to help charitable and other causes. Any ideas? — R.G.

A: The obvious are the bake sales, rummage sales and potluck dinners with an entry fee. Perhaps, though, you'd like to tackle something more challenging and rewarding.

Consider how much money you'd like to raise and for what cause. Ask: Do you also want to benefit your members with an income? Assess the skills available in your group and the time available for commitment. Consider if you want to go into a full-time or part-time business with all your membership involved. Here are some ideas:

ARTS AND CRAFTS SHOP

Consider a business selling senior-citizen-made (and others, too) arts and crafts on a consignment basis. A business with excess space might contribute the corner you need. You would announce and promote the consignment shop idea and take in the merchandise to be sold — with the artist/artisan receiving a preset price if and when the item is sold. From the gross profit you can consider a sale commission for your club member staffing the shop and still have a profit for charitable distribution.

THE PERENNIAL GARAGE SALE

Set up a regular series of garage sales, collecting items from members on consignment (so that they receive some income for the items sold). One of your members should have a home with fine drive-by location for a monthly (or so) event. This type of sale takes some organization in collecting items, pricing them to the agreement of the people providing the items, publicizing the sale, dates and area, and then staffing the sale. Recording each sale so that you know where the share of income is to go is very important. The members can gain individually while you produce a fine and predictable share of the income for your charitable or fund-raising purpose.

COMMUNITY INFORMATION CENTER

If your community or district does not have a central place for questions of visitors and tourists,

TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: I am 16 and go with a very nice guy the same age. I admire and love him very much. My problem is that he has a pen pal (he got her from you a year ago) and they exchange letters every two weeks. She always closes her letters with, Love, Sally.

This upsets me! Now I find out that he signs his letters, Love, Bobby. I've talked to Bobby about this and he said that signing the letter love doesn't mean that the person is in love. I disagree! Do you think Bobby should sign his letters to Sally with the word love? Bobby does say that he loves only me. — Glenda.

Glenda: You are making a "mountain out of a molehill." What is important is that Bobby is a nice guy who says he loves you, and he must act that way also because you say you admire and love him very much.

Don't waste your time worrying about nothing.

Dr. Wallace: I am 13 and met Rick at a shopping mall. We talked for an hour and I gave him my telephone number. Rick seems like a very nice guy and he said he wanted to see me sometime. Last night he called and asked me out. I told him I would think about it.

My problem is that at the mall I told Rick that I would be 16 in a month. Should I tell Rick this and hope he will still ask me out, or should I just keep quiet and let him think I'm older than I really am? — Nan.

Nan: Tell Rick your true age and if Rick or you or your parents are wise, that person or persons will realize that he is too old for you and the date will be canceled.

Dr. Wallace: On Nov. 7, 1985, I tried to commit suicide. At 12:30 p.m. I took seven different kinds of pills at one time.

Luckily my parents found me just in time. I was rushed to the hospital and the doctors saved my life.

When I was released from the hospital a few days later, all my friends came to my house to see me and to tell me they loved and cared for me.

I now thank God I didn't die. I thought that my "friends" didn't care about me. I was very, very wrong. I hope you print my letter because I want all teens who have thought about suicide to put the idea out of their heads. People do care. I now love my life and my friends. — Pam.

Pam: The great majority of human beings do care and care very much. Thanks for sharing your happy ending story with our teen readers.

Dr. Wallace: My problem might not seem major, but it is to me. I am 17 and I am an excellent student. I'd like to get involved in international business when I graduate from college and my interest is the German language.

I'm a very serious German-language student and I have the opportunity to spend a year attending a German school in Munich, Germany. After I graduate from high school I would live with my grandmother and her sister. My only expense for the entire year would be my round-trip airfare.

My father (it's his mother) is all for the idea but my mother is against it. She says that I wouldn't gain that much since I'm already fluent in the German language. What do you think? Please answer in the newspaper. — Jackie, Colorado Springs, Colo.

Jackie: I'm all for spending the year in Germany. Besides learning the language better, observing the German culture firsthand will be invaluable. I'm sure Mother will agree. Mom's thoughts might be clouded by the fact she doesn't want to "lose" her daughter for a year.

Dr. Wallace: Why do pet dogs need to be licensed but pet cats don't? It doesn't seem fair. — Tanya.

Tanya: It seems even pets suffer from discrimination. A call to the proper authority informed me that cats, yes, even pet cats, are considered wild animals and therefore do not need to be licensed.

Dr. Wallace: I'm 5-foot-11 and was ready to dump my boyfriend, who is 5-foot-7, until I read your answer to the girl who was dating a guy much shorter than she. Your statement, "Love isn't measured in inches," really hit home.

I almost listened to my friends who kept telling me Tommy was too short for me. Now Tommy and I are engaged and totally in love with each other. He is the tallest and to me, the "tallest" guy in the world. — Barb.

Barb: It's wonderful to receive "uplifting" letters such as yours. Thanks for taking the time to share your happiness with our readers.

Please read the following reply. It will make you feel good.

Backyard Gardener

By Patrick Denton

Hydrangeas look artificial!

If you're in the mood for a bit of rollicking garden-related hilarity in your life right now, find a copy of Allen Lacy's "Home Ground." This sometimes serious, sometimes laugh-provoking series of short essays touches a broad spectrum of human emotions as the author combines much good humor and philosophical reflection with tidbits of sound advice for the gardener.

Not a practical garden book in the usual sense, "Home Ground" (Ballantine Books; 272 pages; $7.95) offers advice in almost incidental manner, scattered among subjective ponderings that reveal the author's personal garden preferences and prejudices. In a brief essay titled "Hydrangeas? Never!" the author states emphatically, "I just don't like them."

"Hydrangeas look artificial. I'd be hard put to tell the difference between a plastic one and a real one. And they are far too accommodating to people who have color schemes in mind for the gardens as well as their living rooms. Add lime to the soil and the blossoms turn pink, add aluminum sulphate, and they go cobalt-blue. Add both and they look confused. I like plants that have firm convictions about what color their flowers will be. Off with their heads!"

Anthuriums fare no better in the author's eyes. Sent one November day by his wife to purchase some flowers from Granny's Greenery (the neighborhood flower shop run by a burly young fellow named Ed), he asked Ed if he hadn't something a little unusual in the way of cut flowers.

"He returned with a bucket of bright crimson anthuriums, a flower that I have always considered a shocking lapse in good taste on the part of evolution. All garish and glossy, anthuriums have an artificial and non-biodegradable look to them as if they had been extruded from heavy vinyl. Unmistakably phallic, they don't really belong in a good family flower shop named for someone's grandmother."

This episode leads to the author's happy discovery of alstroemerias (Peruvian lilies), Ed's next offering — "entirely admirable things, with long stems like those of tiger lilies, each one bearing a loose and graceful cluster of 10 or more blossoms and buds. The blooms, creamy pink with glowing yellow throats and attractive stippling of dark maroon and light green on their petals, much resembled azalea flowers. The fat buds, like tiny balloons were the color of crushed raspberries."

The stems of these "paragons of elegance" filled a vase nicely in a "pretty, informal arrangement that lasted almost 11 days." Quite taken with these gorgeous flowers, the author contemplates growing them in his own garden, and delves into some of the different kinds, and sources for the seed.

One of the best chuckles for me in the book comes in a highly amusing treatise on "Garden Advisors," which exudes ironic praise and includes a satiric parody of the familiar question-and-answer format.

"It's high time for me to offer thanks ... to those dedicated, wise and gently chiding souls who write the garden columns in almost every American newspaper. What Ann Landers is to heartbroken adolescents who fear they've got terminal acne, and to women in Sacramento who find lipstick on their husbands' jogging shoes, these garden columnists are to us readers who need advice and who also can stand occasional prodding to tend to our horticultural chores at just the proper time.

"They answer our questions and it usually turns out that we are in even worse trouble than we suspected.

"Question: I have just noticed some tiny purple spots on the stems of the dieffenbachia in my living room. They have no legs or wings, but they move around like crazy anyway, so what should I do?

"Answer: Your dieffenbachia is infested by artichoke mites, very small insects with microscopic legs. Unfortunately, they carry Herpes IX, a virus which spreads rapidly to apple trees, juniper, sedum, delphiniums, zinnias and humans, where it causes impotence, a yearning to travel to places you can't afford, and sometimes an untimely death. Burn your house to the ground immediately, see a physician, and make certain that you have a valid will."

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Quality Or Quantity?

One Sure Way To Get Results!

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper, you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity, the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient Readers = Results is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

YOU CAN'T BEAT IT!

Decor Score

New looks on the TV scene

Q: We are moving into a new condo and buying contemporary furnishings.

Though we would like to have a TV in the bedroom, I don't want it to either clash with our decor or dominate it. We love some of the built-in ideas we've seen for concealing the TV but that's not really feasible in the space we have.

Are there other options? — C.J.

A: Yes, fortunately the custom-made built-in systems that you have seen are the result of increased interest in making the TV a more subtle part of its environment. Manufacturers now are responding to this demand by offering TV consoles in a wider variety of styles and finishes. There is a good possibility that you can find a console that will blend in or coordinate with your interior, rather than battle with it.

The example pictured is a contemporary model from Zenith finished in a high-gloss almond lacquer. It blends with the furnishings, swivels for viewing from bed or seating area and is sufficiently compact to avoid obscuring views and stealing valuable space.

Check with other manufacturers, as well, to survey the entire variety available. It may be that there is a ready-made option that will serve your needs (and save you money!).

Q: We are redecorating our dining room that is used for both formal entertaining and daily family dining.

I want to cover the seats of our straight back dining chairs with the same fabric that we have used in the draperies. My husband thinks I'm crazy because we have young children who are likely to spill food on the chairs.

What do you think? — V.G.

A: There is no reason you can't have your fabric-covered chairs and keep them looking nice if you are willing to make a few compromises. There are a couple of alternative choices you can make.

If the fabric you have chosen is washable, I suggest pre-shrinking it first and then treating it to a good application of fiber seal. If you upholster the seats in a fashion that makes the fabric removable (stapling to the backside of the seat, for example), you can then wash the fabric and replace it as it becomes soiled.

If the fabric is not washable, I would have it treated with a good commercial sealant and upholster the seats in the same removable fashion. It is possible that the fabric can be removed and dry-cleaned when soiled. In either case, it would be wise to buy extra fabric so that the seats can simply be reupholstered anew if necessary.

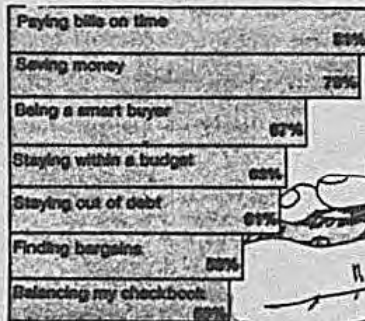

LOW-PROFILE TV — New designs, such as this sleek contemporary console by Zenith, make it possible to incorporate television sets into interiors in a pleasantly low-profile manner.

ANTIQU OR JUNQUE

Vases have tree bark texture

By James G. McCollam

Q: These vases look like cloisonne on a porcelain base. Another strange thing is the "tree bark" texture. What can you tell me?

A: This type of cloisonne is called "Total" and was made in the late 19th century. You are fortunate that your vases are in good condition. The enamel is quite thin and has a tendency to break.

These would sell for over $500 for the pair.

Q: I have a two-handled Dresden vase, 8 inches tall, with green leaves and purple grapes. On the bottom is the enclosed mark.

Please tell me what you can about its vintage and value.

A: This would probably be called "fake" Dresden. It was made by Sandzell Porcelain Factory in Bavaria, West Germany. The company operated from 1951 to the present.

At its best it might sell for $25 to $45.

Q: I have been thinking about starting a collection of salt and pepper shakers. Can you tell me if that is an active field and are they very expensive?

A: Salt and pepper shakers can be an inexpensive and interesting hobby. Here are some typical examples and their current selling prices:

- Bananas — $6
- Banjo and Guitar — $6
- Birds in Nest — $6
- Cows — $8
- Donald Duck and Pluto — $18
- Eggs in Basket — $6
- Horses — $8
- Mermaids — $8
- Peacocks — $10
- Bowling Pins — $8

Points on Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q: How long after foaling should one wait to rebreed a mare? Many of my friends insist that mares should be bred on the ninth day following foaling. Others say that foal heat breeding is not a good practice. What do you recommend?

A: Breeding on the first heat following foaling is a controversial subject. Those who advocate it argue that it is necessary to obtain the most foals from a band of mares each year and to avoid holding late foaling mares over until the following year. Those who are opposed base their opinions on the probable reduced fertility at this time.

One very important factor to remember is that not all mares will have a foal heat on the ninth day following foaling. Several extensive studies have demonstrated that foal heat may occur anytime between five and 18 days following foaling. Therefore, it is important to observe the mare carefully following foaling to determine when she is ready to breed. It should not be assumed that the ninth day is the correct time.

Many reports indicate that pregnancy rates following foal heat breeding are approximately 10 percent to 15 percent lower than pregnancy rates following breeding during the second heat following foaling. Likewise, the number of mares actually foaling following foal heat breeding is approximately 10 percent lower than mares bred on later heats. This is due to an increased incidence of fetal death and re-absorption and abortion. It has also been noted that the incidence of mares having retained afterbirths and those failing to conceive subsequently are both greater in mares bred on their foal heat than when bred later. Mares to be bred on foal heat should be selected very carefully and should meet the following criteria:

1. The birth of the foal should have been entirely normal and should not have required any assistance.

2. The afterbirth should have been passed within three hours following foaling without assistance.

3. The foal should be strong and healthy.

4. The genital tract should be entirely normal as judged by a veterinarian at the time of beginning of heat.

5. The mare should be physically normal.

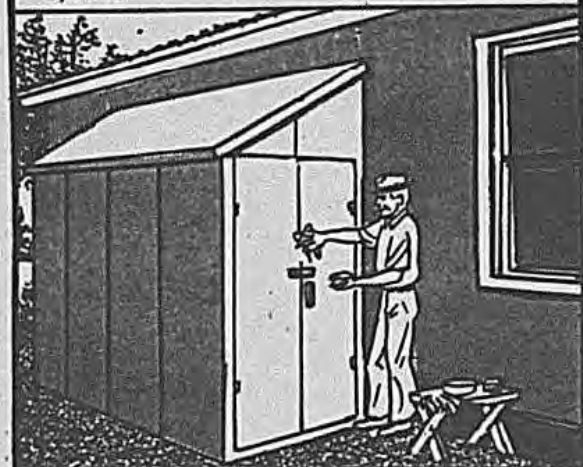

If there are any problems in any of these areas, the mare should not be bred during foal heat. It is also very important, as stated earlier, that the time of foal heat be accurately determined by careful teasing and observation of the mare.

The use of a drug called prostaglandin will allow a horse owner to avoid breeding on foal heat and yet not wait the full 21 days of the reproductive cycle to breed on the second heat following foaling. The prostaglandin is given approximately one week after heat has occurred. The mare will then return to heat within two to five days. This is a fertile heat.

Here is your chance to win One Dollar ($1.00) - to spend or to save.

Here's all you have to do:

1. Contest is open to children 4 to 12 years of age.
2. Entries must be received by Friday, March 6, 1987.
3. Paint, watercolors and crayons must be used on the above.
4. Decision of the judges will be final.

Mail your entry (just clip our cartoon) to this newspaper at:

105 Hillside Avenue
Williston Park, N.Y. 11596

Saturday will be the 28th, the last day of February. Other months have 30 or 31 days, but February is the shortest month, with only 28 or 29 days.

In most years (such as 1987) February has only 28 days and the year equals 365 days. But in years which are evenly divisible by four (such as 1988) an extra day is added and February has 29 days. The year then totals 366 days—a leap year.

There is an exception to this rule. To be a leap year the first year of a new century must be evenly divisible by 400. Thus 1800 and 1900 were not leap years, but 2000 will be a leap year!

Your friend,

Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are Phillip Schoen and Jill Henrkisen. You'll both be hearing from me soon.
