Oyster Bay Town Councilman Angelo A. Delligatti presents a citation to Benjamin Dagnanno of Hicksville, outgoing Commander of the Oyster Bay Power Squadron, in recognition of the group's contributions to safe boating in Oyster Bay. The presentation was made at the annual change of watch ceremony. Also on hand was the Squadron's new Commander Paul Eydel.

Voters Defeat TOB Council District Plan

Town of Oyster Bay residents defeated a proposal to elect town board members by districts instead of at-large in Tuesday's voting by a margin of 3-2.

A consumer group, the Nassau-Suffolk Neighborhood Network, forced the referendum by collecting signatures on petitions last December. The group claims to have spent $100,000 on the campaign and blames light voter turnout and Republican "scare tactics" for the defeat. Vincent Cioci, executive director of NNN added that for the first time in this township civic associations from Massapequa to Sea Cliff worked together to ensure responsive government.

Republican leader Joseph Mondello stated that with Tuesday's voting results it appeared people were satisfied with the current form of representation. The party spent approximately $25,000 to defeat the proposal.

This special vote, which cost taxpayers $225,000, was the fifth time Long Islanders defeated referendums to create ward systems since 1967.

'All My Sons' At Hicksville H.S.

The drama presents the earlier successes of this year, "You Can't Take It With You" and "The Boy Friend," with a production of Arthur Miller's gripping drama "All My Sons." Performances will be at the high school on May 8 and 9 at 8 p.m. As usual, there will be a special performance for senior citizens, which will take place on Thursday May 7, at 6:30 p.m.

The play, just revived on Broadway, tells the story of the Keller family, each coping in its own way with the loss of one son in World War II and the father's earlier conviction for the sale of defective airplane parts to the Army. The cast includes many faces familiar to Hicksville audiences: Rob Donbrower as the father, Jeanmarie Georgiano as the mother, John Hawkins as the son, Cathy Heberer as the girl he hopes to marry, and Michael Kiernan as her brother. Playing supporting roles are Gina Aiello, David Danowski, Marc Gold and Michelle Giannone.

Directed by Judi Paseltiner with technical direction by James Quinlin, the play will be performed as Theatre in the Round. Tickets may be purchased at the high school in advance or at the door. No tickets are required for the senior citizen performance. All seats are $4.

Vote On School Budget Slated For Wednesday

Special to Mid Island Times
By Maureen Traxler

The Hicksville Board of Education held its monthly meeting and public hearing on the 1987-88 school budget on Wednesday, April 29. After effecting $210,000 of additional reductions, the Board approved a budget figure of $42,364,330, to be voted on by the public at the May 6 School Board Elections.

The election of School Board candidates will also be taking place that day. The seat presently held by Lawrence Moore (who is not seeking re-election) will be sought by William Kelly and Joanne Miltenberg. Trustee Jay Schwartz will be opposed by Mark Cardella, and Trustee Daniel MacBride is running unopposed. Local election districts will be open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

The budget figure of $42,364,330 represents a 4.2% increase over the present budget, and carries an estimated $1.60 increase to the tax rate per $100 assessed valuation. Board President William Bennett announced that the New York State budget recently adopted restores the $416,000 in aid to the Hicksville District. The new State formula will also increase the district's allotment by some $178,000.

Trustee Thomas Nagle came forward at the meeting to propose the additional cuts. These reductions consisted of $30,000 in fuel, lighting and telephone costs, and $180,000 which represents salary and fringe benefits for instructional personnel who were not hired for the coming year due to lower enrollment.

The budget for 1987-88 includes $105,000 for three additional buses needed to transport 9th grade students to the senior high school building. In September the district will convert to a 7-8 grade middle school and a 9-12 grade high school. The continued policy of a 1.5 mile transportation limit for the 9th graders adds 63 more students to the bus service.

Speaking to the same transportation matter, resident Mrs. Smith, petitioned the Board to reconsider its use of Tomfor and Jay Dee bus companies as carriers of district students. She strongly pointed out to the Board, through letters and newspaper clippings, the serious doubts that have been raised regarding the safety of these buses. Assistant Superintendent Dr. William Hall said that the bus contracts, either new or renewed, will come before the Board before June 30. Board President Bennett said that the Board will assess all the information which has been gathered in regard to these companies.

Resident Arlene Rudin pointed out to the Board shortfalls in timing the budget hearing only one week prior to Election Day. This occurrence seems to hamper the chances of absentee ballots having their vote counted in this election. The District will not be able to send the finalized budget forms to those people who have filed for an absentee ballot until the end of the work day Thursday, April 30. They then must reach their destination and be mailed back to the district, to be received by 5 p.m. on Election Day, May 6. The Board's legal counsel said there is no provision in the law to allow counting of ballots received after the deadline.

President Bennett said that the Board saw fit to approve the ballots for this year and that procedures can be modified in the future.

Trustees Carole Wolf and Thomas Nagle have been appointed as chairmen of the Ad Hoc Committee on District Elementary Reorganization. Dr. Hall will serve as the Administrative Representative. The Board approved establishment of the committee for the period through June 30, 1987. The new Board, which will be seated on July 1, will have option to continue this committee.

Chairperson Carole Wolf reported that the committee will approach the following local groups and ask them to send one representative: The Hicksville Community Council, the PTA Council, the Chamber of Commerce, the Hicksville Congress of Teachers, the Principal and Administrative Personnel organization, the four local civic associations, senior citizens and the Hicksville Alumni group.

Mrs. Wolf estimates, that with future Board approval, the committee will return a written report to the Board by February 1, 1988, which will contain 3 to 5 recommendations for elementary reorganization.

In other action: the Board approved a three-year contract with the CSEA Buildings and Grounds Unit; The School Calendar for 1987-88 was adopted, and contains 181 instructional days; and the Board approved revised and newly proposed policy in the areas of budget, bidding requirements, use of seat belts on school buses, and development of administrative regulations.

The Board of Education will convene its Annual Meeting at 9:30 p.m. on May 6, Election Night, in the Cafeteria of the Senior High School. The next regular meeting of the Board will take place on Wednesday, May 20 at 8:15 p.m. in the Administration Building Conference Room.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

On May 6, the residents of Hicksville have an opportunity to vote on the Hicksville School Budget and to elect school board trustees.

Jay Schwartz has been a dedicated educational leader for the past six years. He is for education and his main concern is all our children.

Therefore, I would like to commend Jay Schwartz for all his past efforts on behalf of the community. I urge you to reelect Jay Schwartz again.

Thank you,
Tom Nagle

To the Editor:

I would like to add my appreciation and endorsement for the re-election of Mr. Jay Schwartz and Daniel MacBride to the Hicksville Board of Education and would also like to add my support to Mr. Bill Kelly who is running for Mr. Larry Moor's seat. The Board of Education has tried over the past three years to be open to the community on all issues and proposals brought before them, both in closed session and during public deliberations. This can best be demonstrated by the successful conclusion of all negotiated contracts without rancor or bitterness by either side and by tackling the many educational needs of our students without the introduction of divisiveness and mistrust.

The Board of Education has worked well with administration, staff, employees and the people of the community with trust and understanding. The hallmark of the Board of Education is one of stability and achievement and that is why I feel there is no need to change the composition of the Board. Mr. Schwartz has devoted himself with professionalism and understanding of boardsmanship and possesses great capacity to help the school district. Mr. MacBride, with his youth and vitality, has contributed much to the success that we have achieved as a Board, and Mr. Kelly has shown his interest by attending Board meetings during the past year as well as his concern for the education of our students and most importantly, his commitment to the taxpayers and senior citizens of this community. I therefore urge you to vote for these gentlemen and to support our budget. I would also like to applaud the other two candidates for coming forth and running for the Board for they too indicate an interest in school Board matters.

Sincerely yours,
Bill Bennett

To the Editor:

The mark of a good board member is a person who does his homework, is dedicated, enthusiastic, logical and always willing to learn.

I have come to know my fellow board members since my election last year, and I have been quite impressed with Jay Schwartz.

Mr. Schwartz has been a member of the Board for six years and has brought to this volunteer position, a sense of logic and rationale. He is candid and consistent, hardworking and honest. Even though we don't agree on some issues, we respect each other's positions and have formed a good working relationship.

Jay has been a teacher for the last 20 years and was recently promoted to Assistant Principal in East New York. He firmly believes that his presence should be seen in every part of the building. He is not a person to sit behind a desk, but one who truly cares for children. Jay is a workaholic and is truly dedicated to his responsibilities.

The mark of a good committee-person is the ability to absorb knowledge, to challenge and to be dedicated.

Bill Kelly had definitely made his presence known at general public meetings of the Board and at the Finance Committee. This silver-haired gentleman is always listening, always challenging the Board into new areas. He was a firm supporter of the Absentee Ballot, an issue that was brought before the Board by Mr. Schwartz and approved for elections beginning in 1987.

He is forever reminding the Board of the retired homeowners who find it more and more difficult to remain in town.

Kelly, who has raised eight children, has two grandchildren who will be second generation Hicksville students.

So please vote May 6 - Row 'B' - for two gentlemen who can give so much for the future of our schools - Schwartz and Kelly.

Sincerely,
Carole Wolf
Trustee, Hicksville
School Board

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the residents of Hicksville for the support that they have given me in my first-term on the Hicksville Board of Education.

I'm running unopposed for a second term, and I appreciate the trust the residents have in me.

The election is this Wednesday, May 6, and I urge everyone to get out and vote.

Once again, on behalf of my family and myself, Thank You,
Dan MacBride

To the Editor:

Whatever happened to honesty is the best policy? Why is it that who you know is more important than what you know?

I know that the Coalition candidates running for the school board on Row 'B' are not dependent on anyone to tell them what to do. They have support but are not puppets. The Coalition is not a union group.

I hear that the opposition candidates are supported by the Unions who work for the school board in our town. There's a difference there. How can they represent the interests of the special unions and still act honestly for the people? ANSWER - They can't!

When you let someone else pay your way, there's always a PAYBACK TIME! What is it going to cost the people of Hicksville if the unions succeed in getting their candidates elected? Look in your wallets to find out!
Mike Melody

To the Editor:

After six years on the Hicksville School Board, I decided to seek another term. People ask why would I want to stay on a school board? Their attitude is a school board is like a stagecoach ride -- it's bumpy, you travel with several strangers, the trip is full of sudden unscheduled stops, you're attacked some of the time, you often work late at night, and eventually you might get to some place -- but you may not be in any condition to enjoy the end of the ride.

Is this what being a trustee is all about? I say no!

A trustee gets to see many fine people graduate; many who later go on to great achievements. A trustee watches as the scores on standardized tests are raised through proper intervention. A trustee applauds the youth as they perform at district musical events and plays. A trustee takes pride in policies which make the district add programs for our children's varied, enriching and thorough educational experiences.

A trustee is concerned with all of these things, and much more.

Yes, the ride is bumpy, and sometimes the air is full of arrows. However, what matters most after the dust settles is what do the children or the taxpayers gain from this? If the objective is worthwhile, then the rough and perilous ride was worth it. Do you or your children deserve anything less?

Sincerely,
Jay Schwartz

May Weekends Set For Homeowner Clean-Up

Residents in the Town of Oyster Bay's Sanitation Disposal District will be able to simplify their spring cleaning by bringing all their accumulated rubbish to the Solid Waste Disposal Complex any Saturday or Sunday during the month of May between the hours of 10 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Recently revised sanitation rules now permit homeowners to dispose of all rubbish on either of their collection days provided they comply with sanitation guidelines as to length, weight, and bundling of certain items. However, many residents prefer to spend one day during the weekend undertaking a major clean-up and find it more convenient to bring their rubbish directly to the Disposal Complex rather than store it until their next collection day.

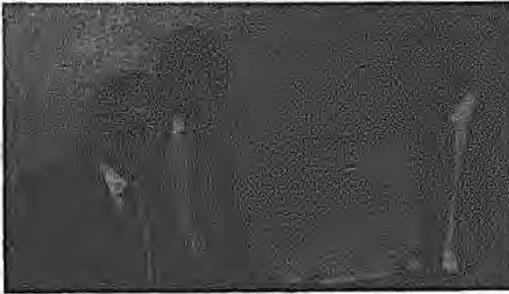

Sanitation Disposal District residents pay a tax to ship garbage out of state, and are eligible to use the disposal facility. Areas that have opted out of the Town of Oyster Bay Disposal District, and whose residents are not eligible to use the Old Bethpage Complex are: Bayville, Brookville, Centre Island, Cove Neck, Glen Head, Glenwood Landing, Lattlingtown, Matinecock, Mill Neck, Muttontown, Old Brookville, Oyster Bay Cove, Roslyn Harbor, Sea Cliff and Upper Brookville.

The Solid Waste Disposal Complex entrance is located on Bethpage-Sweet Hollow Road, east of Round Swamp Road in Old Bethpage.

Residents are reminded that all household chemicals should be segregated and should not be brought to the Disposal Complex. The Town has an on-going S.T.O.P. (Stop Throwing Out Pollutants) program that provides for the proper disposal of these items. The next S.T.O.P. day will be Saturday, May 16 at the Massapequa Fire Department, Hicksville Road Firehouse, Hicksville Road, north of the LIRR trestle.

For further information about the S.T.O.P. program call the Environmental Control Division of the Department of Public Works between the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:45 p.m. at 921-7347 ext. 514.

Coalition Rally A Huge Success

Jay Schwartz, Mike Melody and Daniel MacBride take time out to cut the cake.

Nearly 100 people partied with the Hicksville Coalition school board candidates at the VFW on Friday, April 24. The candidates, Jay Schwartz, Bill Kelly, and Danny MacBride, with their supporters and friends enjoyed the campaign rally.

Mike Melody, president of the Coalition, introduced many special guests from the community. Each candidate spoke briefly after everyone participated in the buffet.

Mercy League Spring Fashions

The Glen Cove, Hicksville, Syosset League of Mercy Hospital welcomes all to a Spring Fashion Show to be held on May 14 at 7 p.m. in the Emerald Room of the Crest Hollow Country Club in Woodbury. A donation of $24 includes a delicious full course Capon dinner and a fashion show for all sizes will be presented by Viewpoint of Westbury, La Mirage Boutique in Seaford and also The Mad Hatter from Cold Spring Harbor. An overnighter for two at the Marriott Marquis with two tickets to, "Me and My Girl" will be raffled off along with many other sweepstakes. For reservations call Ann at 694-1368.

Jay Schwartz spoke about trying to please the community and doing right by everyone. Bill Kelly talked of his years as a resident, and his family's successful schooling. Danny MacBride said that his running mates deserved to win because they were not beholden to special interests groups.

The highlight was the 50/50 chance, topping 1100 dollars, which was won by Marge MacBride.

Spiegel Assoc. In Expansion

Spiegel Associates, Hicksville, a leading Long Island builder and owner/manager of commercial and industrial properties, has announced the renovation and expansion of an existing commercial facility at 325 North Broadway, Jericho, for Par Floors. The project for the carpeting and ceramic tile company involves the expansion of the facility by 1,000 sq.ft. to include an interior design studio and showroom. Highlighting the facility's exterior will be an aluminum signband for heightened visibility and an attractive greenhouse-style facade. Project completion is scheduled for early spring.

Hicksville-- Then And Now

Labor Day was often a family affair in suburban neighborhoods when everyone would meet outside their homes to relax on lawn chairs or on the grass to view the passing Labor Day Parade. Here, in 1956, friends and neighbors gathered outside a residence on Old Country Road. The year was 1956 and the houses were built by Charles Iggulden and his father.

Tune-up checklist for better mileage:

- ✓ SPARK PLUGS: New Autolite plugs increase power and performance. An essential part of every tune-up.
- ✓ SPARK PLUG LEADS: Provide hot spark for good ignition in each cylinder.
- ✓ AIR FILTER: Fram Extra Life filter lasts 50% longer, traps 50% more dirt. Should be part of every major tune-up.
- ✓ BATTERY CHARGING SYSTEM: Keeps battery charged. Insures quick starts and adequate electrical power for ignition, lights and accessories.
- ✓ TIMING: Proper timing assures top engine performance — good mileage — and pollution control.
- ✓ DISTRIBUTOR CAP: Cracks and corrosion cause stalling, engine failure or poor performance.
- ✓ DISTRIBUTOR ROTOR: Burned or corroded rotor prevents a "hot spark" from reaching each cylinder.
- ✓ POINTS: New points improve starting, give better mileage and performance.
- ✓ CONDENSER: Routine change prevents hard starting and sudden engine failure on the road.
- ✓ FUEL FILTER: Routine change with major tune-up prevents stalling, vapor lock and sudden engine failure on the highway.
- ✓ HEAT RISER VALVE: Periodic maintenance provides proper combustion in cold weather.
- ✓ PCV SYSTEM: Provides balanced crankcase ventilation. Helps control air pollution. Prevents sludge build-up. Pollution control valve should be changed at every major tune-up, or every 12,000 miles.
- ✓ SPARK PLUG WIRES: Worn, porous or loose wires deliver poor performance or sudden engine failure, particularly in wet weather.
- ✓ BATTERY CABLES: Loose or corroded cables do not deliver the power, leading to hard starting or no start at all.

News From Road Runners

The 3rd annual Long Island 12 Hour Ultramarathon Run, redesignated this year as the "H.O. Oats Ultramarathon", will be held on Saturday, May 23, at the all weather track facility at Syosset High School on South Wood's Road in Syosset. The Run will start promptly at 6 am and finish at 6 pm.

This year's Run will be of special significance, since it is dedicated to the memory of the late Joe Michaels, the President of the Cardiac Runners Association. Joe, who passed away on January 2, overcame his own cardiac problems to become an ultramarathoner and a source of inspiration to a host of cardiac patients who, because of Joe's example, refused to give up on life. Thanks to the generosity of H.O. Oats, which is underwriting the full cost of the event, the entire proceeds of the Run will be turned over to a special fund for the education of Joe's son Jason who suffers from spinal bifida.

The Run will be conducted under the auspices of the Plainview-old Bethpage Road Runners Club, and will be directed by Club President Mike Polansky, Coach Arnold Turkus, and veteran ultramarathoners Michael Davidson and Nick Palazzo, with technical assistance from Finish Line Promotions and a staff of qualified volunteer lap counters and other officials. The event will be TAC sanctioned.

Registration will be strictly limited to 60 runners, and race organizers are once again planning to attract a mix of elite ultramarathoners and strong local runners who are looking to graduate into the ultramarathon ranks. "We expect that most of the metropolitan area's top ultramarathoners will be on hand once again this year," observed Polansky, "but we are also interested in affording an opportunity to strong local runners who want to test their endurance ability for the first time in a race of this sort."

The registration fee is $20. All registrants will receive a special commemorative shirt. Awards will be presented to every competitor, with special awards to the top male and female finishers. Refreshments will be available throughout the day, and all competitors will be treated to a gala post-Run party. Spectators are encouraged to attend and to urge the competitors on.

Jim Czachor of Franklin Square and Kay Moore of Denver, Colorado won the 1985 edition of the Run, and Nathan Whiting of Brooklyn and Marge Kroeger of Syosset were the 1986 champions, as each event included a number of runners who were competing in their first ultramarathon.

"The 1985 and 1986 12 Hour Runs were unqualified successes, and we expect our third effort to be even more successful," Polansky continued. "A 12 Hour run is not for everyone, but we are proud to join with the good folks from H.O. Oats to provide a quality event for those who are interested in putting their physical and mental abilities to this kind of test. We are also proud to be able to prove once again that Long Island is among the top running and fitness areas in the country. This Run is a fitting tribute to the memory of an exceptional human being, Joe Michaels."

For applications or more information, call Mike Polansky at 433-0919.

Veteran runner and road racer Bert Jablon of Syosset celebrated his 60th birthday on March 18, and his peers in the Plainview Old Bethpage Road Runners Club welcomed him to the 60 and over age group at the Club's March meeting.

Bert was presented with a special proclamation noting that he joined the senior ranks and predicting that he will be even more successful than ever now that he will be competing in the 60 and over age group. The presentation was made by POBRR's other age 60 plus runners. Pictured, Bert Jablon (2nd from left), receives the proclamation from, left to right: George Dennis, Sam Zinn and Herb Grayson.

Top U.S. Runner To Talk Shop

American record breaking Ultramarathoner Allan Kirik will be the featured speaker at the Tuesday, May 19 meeting of the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club. The meeting will be held at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library, 999 Old Country Road in Plainview, starting promptly at 8 p.m.

Kirik, who was the first American ever to run 50 miles in less than five hours, was also the first and only American ever to win the London to Brighton 55 Mile Run, the unofficial world ultramarathon championship. He won the race in 1980 with a time of 5 hours, 34 minutes, and improved his time in 1981 to 5 hours, 21 minutes but finished a close second. Kirik set the American 100 Kilometer (62.5 mile) record in November 1980 with a time of 6:37:54 on a course in Forest Park, Queens. At the "shorter" Marathon distance of 26.2 miles, Kirik's victories include both the Atlantic City Marathon and the Lake Placid Marathon.

The general public is cordially invited to attend the meeting. For more information, call Club President Mike Polansky at 433-0919.

Charity Chairman Francis A. Beebe, right, happily receives special plaque from Daniel Paternoster.

At a recent meeting of the Joseph F. Lamb Council No. 5723 Knights of Columbus, Plainview, Francis A. Beebe, Council Charity Chairman, was presented with a special plaque by Daniel Paternoster, Grand Knight of Lamb Council.

The plaque was given to council charity chairman Beebe in honor of his tireless efforts in raising the total sum of $110,000 from the years 1970 thru 1986. Francis Beebe, who is an Asst. Foreman in the mailroom-delivery department of the New York Times, uses a simple tin coffee can to collect donations from his fellow employees at the "Times". The cup, which is usually located near the loading dock, has an average weekly collection of $180. All of this money has been donated to many various charities thru the years. Some of the organizations donated to include: The Sisters of the Poor, The Jewish Guild for the Blind, Smithtown Junior Auxiliary for Retarded Children, The Paulist Father Missions and over 70 other various charities.

Since charity is one of the basic cornerstones of the Knights of Columbus it is certainly personified in the person of Knight Francis Beebe.

A question and answer period will follow, in which Wildermuth will offer planting advice and answer gardening problems. The public is invited. Refreshments will be served.

A public hearing on the 1987-88 school budget for Plainview-Old Bethpage School District was held April 22. The community was given an opportunity to hear a discussion of the proposed budget. There was approximately 80 people in attendance.

The School Board proposed a school budget of $41,767,052, an increase of $2,895,059 over 1986 representing an increase of $1.60 per $100 assessed valuation, to the taxpayer.

Board president, Ginger Lieberman stated that the new budget would allow for increased professional staff and reduced class size. The budget would also continue to fund the process of replacing obsolete equipment, furniture and educational supplies that is on-going in the District, as well as provide $350,000 for a new roof at the Old Bethpage Elementary School.

Superintendent of Schools Dr. Arthur Coiver said that the budget reflects the District's continuing commitment to excellence in education and that he supported the budget and asked the public to do the same.

PTA president, Ellen Levine also spoke in favor of the school budget and said that the Board had been responsive to parent input at the series of workshops during which the budget was formulated.

There is also a proposal, that the public will vote on, to reduce from more than 1 mile to more than a 1/2 mile the distance 5th through 8th grade students must reside from the school to be eligible for bus transportation. Parents spoke in favor of this proposal citing safety as an important factor.

A proposal to transfer monies from the Repair Reserve Fund in order to construct a buildings and grounds crew facility was unanimously voted removed from the budget proposal by the School Board. Board member Mario Colleluori said this was done in response to community wishes. The need for such a facility was further discussed, but no action taken.

The funding of the replacement roof at the Old Bethpage Elementary School was questioned with some members of the community wondering if monies could be found in the Repair Reserve Fund for this expenditure.

The community will be able to vote on the school budget and related proposals on Wednesday, May 6 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. at the Jamaica Avenue, Old Bethpage and Joyce Road Schools.

Following the budget hearing, there was a brief School Board meeting. Bertha Polifka, Assistant Principal of Matlin Middle School was honored. Members of the community spoke at the meeting to praise Ms. Polifka as exemplifying educational excellence. They told how she spent her own time to work with children who needed her help. Parents who had youngsters with special needs, spoke of Bertha Polifka's efforts on their children's behalf and how she had helped "mainstream" them into the regular school system.

Ms. Polifka was also lauded for providing leadership, a well-defined educational policy and good support to her teaching staff.

After a brief report by Dr. Vivian Doremus on inservice and staff development, the meeting was adjourned.

'Mellow Moves' On Tap For Tots

"Mellow Moves", a program featuring a dancer and a trumpet player, will be the ninth program in the children's 1986-87 "Music-Go-Round" series, according to Oyster Bay Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan, Jr.

"Dancer Mickey Davidson and trumpet player Ahmed Abdullah have combined forces and created a program designed to lead children to an understanding of the relationship between dance and music," Hogan said. "The workshop features demonstrations by the performers as well as audience participation."

The program, which is the ninth in the series of 10 being sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts (capa) Division of the Department of Community Services, will be held at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library, 999 Old Country Road, Plainview, on Saturday, May 16, beginning at 2 p.m. For further information, contact CAPA at 795-5943.

"The 'Music-Go-Round' series met with such success in its first season that it was expanded from five to ten programs this year," Hogan stated. "In addition to this dance program, the offerings have included an opera workshop, introductions to the brass, string and reed families of instruments, and folk music programs as well as more dance workshops."

Snakes, Reptiles At The Library

On Saturday, May 9, the Bethpage Public Library will present a program on snakes and reptiles called, "Fabulous Fun With Snakes and Such" by Mark Scheur, noted zoologist and herpetologist (snake specialist).

Come on over and see live snakes - a king snake, copperhead snake, boa constrictor, corn snake and more - along with fascinating live iguanas, box turtles, frogs, salamanders and other amphibians. There will be a slide show and a question and answer period included.

The program begins at 2 p.m., and all children in grades K-6 who reside in District No. 21 are invited to attend. They can have fun petting the animals and learning all about where they live, what they eat, how they fight and defend themselves, and what they do. Tickets are now available in the Children's Room of the Bethpage Public Library. For information, please call 931-3907.

Hicksville Express Defeats Cosmos

The Hicksville Express intramural team defeated the Cosmos, who were playing short-handed, by 7-1 at Old Country Rd. School this past weekend.

Express newcomer Jonathan Schwartz led the Express with four big goals. Tracy Koetter contributed a "hat trick" for the remainder of the scoring. Also playing skillfully at offense was Michael Baglieri.

Hustling at midfield were Marc Spinner, Chris McGunnigle, Brian Swacey, John Kurkowiak and Matthew Hamlin. The staunch defense consisted of Joey Zaffuto, Joey Minciak, Craig Finn, Robin Bliker and Janice Pfeifer. In goal was sure-handed Matthew DePalma who always does a super job.

Nice work, team. Thanks to coach Steve Baglieri for his guidance and assistance.

Shamrocks Tie Warriors 2-2

By A. Blicker
 The Hicksville Shamrocks 1974 boys traveling soccer team continued their come-from-behind pattern on April 26, with a 2-2 tie with the tying goal scored with just two minutes to go. The game was at the Village of Branch, Suffolk County, where the Shamrocks played the Warriors and brought their L.I. Junior Soccer League record to one win, two ties, no losses.

The first half featured crisp, aggressive end-to-end soccer, by both teams, with VOB scoring first. The Shamrocks tied on a header by right halfback David Lovato, who had a superb game, off a cross from stopper Chris Doyle. The second half saw VOB score early and then continually fight off Shamrock charges. Finally, with two minutes to go, striker Chris Koetter fed left wing Karl Rice, who put in the tying goal.

All 15 Shamrocks, led by goalie Ed Jacobsen, played well, only to be stymied by the Warrior goaltender time and again. The players, in addition to the aforementioned, were Chuck Oliver, Christian Friedrich and Greg Szumawski at fullback; Brian Harkins at sweeper; Matthew Pordum, Domenick Perillo and Gregg Gruosso at halfback; and Jason Kingsley, Eric Blicker and Junior Tomlinson on the offensive line.

Nice work, Shamrocks. Special thanks to Coach Herb Pordum and Asst. Coach Glenn Kingsley, Jr. for their hard work and guidance.

'New Beginnings' Meeting Weekly

To better meet the needs of recent widows and widowers the "New Beginnings" program at the Mid-Island YM & YWHA in Plainview now meets every week. This rap and social group meets every Monday evening at 7:45 p.m. to provide support experience for men and women 40 to 60 years of age, learning to live fully again after a serious loss. Sam Mantell, a retired executive from Plainview is one of the people who feels he has been helped enormously by the program at the Y. "It saved my life." "In August I lost my wife to cancer and felt my life was over. I was depressed, ill and had no motivation to go on. Fortunately, a neighbor insisted I join a bereavement group. The others in the group at the Mid-Island Y were experiencing the same or similar feelings. We met and cried and we talked and we got emotionally stronger. As the days and weeks passed, we became more able to deal with life as we now must live it."

Now past the initial bereavement period and active in the larger "New Beginnings" group, M. Mantell has advice for other widowers. "We have the same difficulty dealing with bereavement as widows. Don't deny it to yourself and don't try to overcome your loss alone."

New members are welcome to join "New Beginnings" and other groups for singles of all ages at the Mid-Island Y. For further information contact Elise Hahn-Felix. The programs at the Y include rap groups, social clubs, volleyball, Single Parent Center, and Sunday Brunch and Workshops.

The Mid-Island YM-YWHA is a beneficiary agency of the UJA/Federation joint campaign; a member agency of the United Jewish Y's of Long Island, the Jewish Welfare Board, the United Way of Long Island, and the Health and Welfare Council of Nassau County.

J.F.K. Presents 'Bye Bye Birdie'

J.F.K. Junior High School's Drama Club, under the direction of Lois Baisley, presented the smash Broadway musical "Bye, Bye, Birdie" on April 3. The story of rock star Conrad Birdie's visit to Sweet Apple, Ohio to give a televised "last kiss" to Kim MacAfee, typical American teenager, before joining the service, gave lots of opportunity for the talented J.F.K. students to use their singing, dancing, and acting abilities.

Old favorites "Put on a Happy Face" and "Kids" were well received, but Danny Ortiz as Conrad, singing "One Last Kiss" in his best Elvis tradition, sang the showstopper of the Junior High performance.

The talented cast included Colleen Cannon as Kim MacAfee, Cara Martens and Craig Tellalian as Kim's parents, Antonio Nastasi as Hugo Peabody, Kim's boyfriend, Deborah Rubano as Rose Alvarez and Lloyd Shin as Albert Peterson.

Teachers, students, and parent volunteers worked on the production, including Joanne Boltja, Musical Director, Jim Giannico, Producer, Technical Director, and Set Designer, Pat Tropea, Choreographer, Betty Tellalian, Costumes, Denise Jaeger, Art Director, Stacy Aronowitz, Sandra Kolston and Gina Hoffmann, Props, Jim Giannico, Tanya Korostyshevsky, Allison Furman, Danielle Yopp, Susan Park and Rachel Golden, Scenery, and many others.

"Bye, Bye, Birdie" received rave reviews from afternoon and evening audiences.

Recorder Group At Central Blvd.

Students from our advanced recorder club at Central Boulevard School participated in the daylong 19th Recorder Festival which took place at Central Islip High School on March 7. Hundreds of only the most talented recorder players from about 20 districts took part in the event, and the quality of this concert was impressive.

A highlight of this event was a commissioned composition written by Ray Granito, the conductor. "Primavera," a lovely piece which our advanced recorder group played also at Central Boulevard's Spring Concert this year.

Pat Stamatopoulos was chosen to play a special percussion part in one of the pieces played and Carol Schobel and Anita Ruiz participated in the advanced young people's group.

Poetic Justice At Beth School

Two of Ms. Corbin's fifth graders at Charles Campaigne School received awards in a limerick contest sponsored by the Nassau County Dental Society. Melissa Beck, who won third prize, and Melissa Haudberg, who received honorable mention, have been invited to read their limericks aloud at a special awards ceremony on April 27.

Central Blvd. Hosts Spring Concert

Central Blvd's band performs.

Central Boulevard Band, Orchestra and Choral students entertained family and friends with an entertaining Spring Concert April 8. Music teachers Mrs. Kelly, Mr. Mason, Mr. Rankin and Mrs. Scherrer prepared a diverse and varied program displaying the talents of their young students.

Junior Chorus students sang "A Round of Greeting", "Rhyme Me a Rhyme", "Oliver Dink O'Hare", "Dance, Baby, Dance", "What Are Grins For?", and "How It All Began", which featured a wedding ceremony. Students accompanied their songs with bass and alto xylophones, alto metallophones, fingerbells, cymbals, triangles and recorders.

Senior Chorus students sang "We've Got Music", "Sing a Rainbow", and "Spring Calypso", "Trivia Land" and "Hats", accompanied by conga, bongos, guiros, xylophones, glockenspiels, and maracas.

The advanced recorder ensemble, which participated in the Long Island Recorder Festival in March, performed "Hoe-Down" and "Primavera". Orchestra students played "Fiesta in Bahia" and "Blow, Bugles, Blow", which string ensemble students played a Suzuki arrangement of "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star".

In the finale, the band played "St. Anthony Chorale" by Brahms, "Fifty Stars Unfurled", "The House of the Rising Sun" and "Junior High Jamboree".

The enthusiastic audience thoroughly enjoyed the performances of Central Boulevard School's young musicians.

Old Bethpage resident Ralph Dolgoff, acting dean of the Adelphi University School of Social Work, recently participated in a ceremony in Garden City awarding the School's Richard Lodge Prize to Dr. William Gordon, Professor Emeritus of George Warren Brown School of Social Work of St. Louis' Washington University. Accepting the $1,000 gift for the ailing Dr. Gordon was Dr. Shanti Khindukha, dean of the George Warren Brown School.

Richard Lodge, until his death in 1981, was a leading social work educator. He served as director of the Council on Social Work Education, dean of the School of Social Work at Virginia Commonwealth University and professor at the University of Pennsylvania and Adelphi University Schools of Social Work. The prize was developed to recognize significant contributions to the development of social work theory. There were three criteria for selection: contribution to the epistemology of social work; contribution toward understanding the special character of the social work profession among the human services; the degree to which the material enhances the development of social work theory.

In naming Dr. Gordon, Adelphi's Dr. Ralph Dolgoff said, "Dr. Gordon is an apt recipient. He is an outstanding theoretician, a respected teacher and an influential writer. He has made solid and enduring contributions to the body of social work knowledge which we are pleased to recognize."

The awards ceremony brought together friends, family and colleagues of Drs. Gordon and Lodge. On the program was Dr. Harold Lewis, dean of the Hunter School of Social Work. It was Dr. Lewis who nominated Dr. Gordon. Dr. Lodge's son James spoke on behalf of the Lodge family. Dr. Joseph L. Vigilante, former dean and current Adelphi University Professor, gave an address on Theory Building in Social Work.

This bi-annual prize will again be awarded in 1989.

Volunteers Sought By Board Of Ed

The Hicksville Board of Education has issued an invitation to community residents and civic and business organization members to volunteer for service on the Committee on District Reorganization, established by the Board at the regular March business meeting. The formation of the committee is part of a plan to address issues affecting the district's elementary program resulting from declining enrollment, and make effective plans to meet the changing needs of the school population. These issues include disparity in class sizes throughout the district and the efficient use of educational facilities.

The committee will be chaired by Trustees Carole Wolf and Thomas Nagle with Assistant Superintendent William Hall serving as the administrative chair. The Board intends that the twenty-five members of the committee be representative of the general population of Hicksville. This means that business and civic leaders, young couples, senior citizens, families with small or grown children, retired persons, or even residents who have never had children in the public schools would be candidates for membership.

Local civic and business organizations will be asked to nominate one member each. These groups include the Hicksville Community Council; the Council of PTAs; the Chamber of Commerce; the Hicksville Congress of Teachers; the Council for Principals, Assistant Principals, Supervisors, and Chairs; Hicksville Senior Citizens; the East Park Civic Association; the Midland Civic Association; the Northwest Civic Association; and the Jericho Gardens Civic Association. The remaining seats will be filled by Board President William Bennett from a list of residents volunteering to join the committee. This list will be reviewed by the Board before the final selection is made.

Residents wishing to serve on the committee are asked to submit their requests in a letter to the Board, stating their qualifications and reasons for wanting to work with the committee. Letters should include such information as length of residency in Hicksville, number of children in schools now or in the past, local organizations to which resident belongs, and whether the applicant is a senior citizen or retiree. Written requests for membership must be received by May 13, and appointments to the committee will be announced by May 20. All letters should be sent to: Office of the Board of Education, Committee on District Reorganization, Hicksville Public Schools Administration Building, Division Avenue, Hicksville, NY 11801.

Rock and Mineral Time At Willet

This is always a great time in the Library/Media Center at Willet Avenue School, Hicksville. There are so many rock and mineral enthusiasts among the students, that when the third grade studies rocks as part of their science program, the whole school becomes involved.

Last year's Junior Mineral Club charter members, now fourth graders, and many of them also Library helpers, did much of the work in unpacking the hundreds of specimens to be displayed. They not only decorated the bulletin boards, but arranged the rocks and minerals in showcases, on carts, anywhere they could find space. This group, in addition to being enthusiastic, is also very knowledgeable. They arranged the specimens in categories and labeled them.

The third graders' introduction consists of a series of filmstrips accompanied by "hands on", as pictures of various specimens are shown. The Mineral Club members reviewed the films and set up the "hands-on" tables with the corresponding specimens.

A new feature this year is the Fossils display. Sixth grader Bob Taylor has a special interest in fossils. With the assistance of James McLaughlin, he has been coming in on his recreation time to identify and categorize the fossil collection that has, over the years, grown to a fair size.

He is also available as a consultant to younger students who express an interest in prehistoric remains.

Sixth grader Robert Taylor is Willet Avenue's resident fossils expert. He identified and labeled all the specimens in the Media Center collection.

Portrait Of A Runner

Barry Saltsberg

by Joseph F. Rottino

Time is the most precious currency with which Barry Saltsberg deals. It is the one thing in his life which cannot be squandered because there simply is not enough of it to parcel out for all those activities in which he participates. This is especially the case when one of these activities is long distance running.

Barry, a 45 year old architect with the Army Corps of Engineers, has been living with his wife Audrey and teenage son Jason in Plainview for the past eighteen years. During that time he has managed to coach his son's soccer and hockey teams, act as an assistant scoutmaster for Troop 13 of the Plainview Boy Scouts, referee a couple of soccer games every Saturday during the spring and fall, become active in local school board affairs and serve on numerous related activities, preside over the Greater Plainview Community Association as its co-president, and spend at least one night a week during the season practicing figure skating at various area ice skating rinks.

But for Barry, the most physically satisfying and emotionally stabilizing activity in his busy day is running. "Even though Audrey says I'm a fanatic and Jason thinks I'm crazy, running is very important to me. It equalizes the equilibrium. Not only does it keep me healthy, but it's the most soothing and relaxing part of my day."

Running is not a new activity for Barry. In high school he was a member of the track team specializing in the 880 relay and quarter mile. However, upon graduation, the running was replaced by other pursuits. It was some twenty five years later that he returned to the sport. When he decided to become a soccer referee, he knew that part of the testing process dealt with running. He, therefore, started a light jogging program to prepare for it. Coincidentally, he happened to mention his jogging to a member of the civic association, Mike Polansky, President of the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club, who invited Barry to join the Club and participate in the weekend runs out of Plainview-Old Bethpage and Syosset High Schools.

This association with the Club which began in August 1984 opened up a new world for Barry. Suddenly, he was immersed in training runs, long, slow, distance workouts, track practice, intervals, repeats, endurance conditioning and the competitive runner's ultimate challenge - the race. From his invitation into the racing scene as staged on Long Island, the Mariner Five Mile Run in Great Neck which he completed in 45 minutes, to his finest moment in any race, the Bay Shore Half Marathon in October 1986 where he broke all his personal records in a time of 1:36:57, he has defined himself as a runner!

There are many reasons for Barry's dedication to his running. He is haunted by his family's cardiac history. His father died at the age of 68 of heart failure, suffering five attacks in the fifteen years prior to the fatal episode. Running is therapeutic. There is the psychological release of losing himself in the euphoria of the run. Running is cathartic. And there is the camaraderie of his fellow runners with whom he now socializes who support his efforts, but more importantly, share the glory and the pain of the chase. Running is communal and it is personal. It is both existential and poetic.

It is not surprising that Barry's weekly mileage has increased from the initial 10 to 20 miles to his normal 30 to 40 maintenance miles to the marathon training schedule of 60-70 miles per week. It is at the higher mileage that Barry puts himself into that paradoxical situation which all competitive runners face: reaching top physical condition without injuring or weakening the body in the process. To date, Barry's greatest disappointment lies in his inability to reach his goal in the marathon. He envisions as that day when all forces are in perfect synchronization a clocking of better than three and a half hours, the smashing of the eight minute mile pace barrier. Perhaps, he says, his next marathon which will be his fourth will be the one. Until that time he will continue to train and enjoy the experience of running.

Barry Saltsberg has taken time from his busy schedule of architect, husband, father, coach and civic leader to pursue the challenge which he finds out on the roads running with the pack.

Editor's Notebook

A recent newspaper article revealed plans to renovate Mid-Island Shopping Plaza in Hicksville. Apparently the new owners, Delco Corporation, feel that by spending some $10-$15 million they will attract stores and traffic to the mall which is the least attractive and appealing of any others in the area. Plans call for two to three new department stores, a large office building and a 300 room hotel. The owners have tried to attract "up-scale" stores to the mall but were turned down by Bloomingdale's, Saks Fifth Avenue and Lord & Taylor.

A recent bid by Delco to purchase the Burns Avenue Elementary School, which is adjacent to the parking area, met with loud opposition from Burns Avenue residents as well as others throughout the Hicksville School District.

Plans were filed for the proposed renovation with the Town of Oyster Bay last week. It seems that unless traffic congestion can be controlled and funneled through the area more smoothly, there would be utter chaos with the influx of motorists the proposed mall would bring.

Town officials would be wise to carefully weigh the consequences of their decision.

Plainview Lad Wins Run Award

Brett Dixon, a senior at John F. Kennedy High School in Plainview, has been awarded a $600 bond as the recipient of the 1987 Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club Scholarship Award. Brett was selected from more than two dozen Nassau County youngsters who applied for the scholarship, on the basis of his total involvement in the Long Island running community -- on his high school team, in road races and most especially for helping others through his running involvement. All our best wishes to this fine young man!

Other Vic Skeds Library Comedy

Friday, May 15 at 8 p.m. The Hicksville Public Library will present the play "The Absence of A Cello" performed by the Other Vic Theatre Company.

"The Absence of A Cello" is a witty, sophisticated comedy performed by the Other Vic Theatre Company. Andrew Pilgrim has $285.00 to his name--the result of a bad business deal. This somewhat eccentric scientist decides to enter the corporate world and tries to convince the interviewer from Baldwin-Nelson that he is a normal guy, a team player. The harder he tries the funnier the play becomes. Add to this a wacky 70 year old heavy drinking, horse playing Grandma; a 21 year old neighbor who is planning his career around retirement options; a 30 year old "widowed" sister who enjoys a good fling now and then, and what you have are the ingredients for a marvelously entertaining evening.

This play is made possible by the Hicksville Public Library and by the Nassau County Arts Decentralization Consortium with public funds from the New York State Council on the Arts Decentralization program.

This play is free and all are welcome.

News From Plainview Library

distant worlds.

On Friday, May 1 at 1 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be presenting "Insights Into Current Issues" led by Barbara Krupit.

From local and national to international news, Barbara Krupit will discuss what's making the headlines that day. You can discuss the issues and share your views.

Visit the Plainview-Old Bethpage library on Saturday, May 2 at 8:15 p.m. to see the return engagement of "The Tanglewood Singers".

The performances by soprano, Joy Parks, mezzo soprano, Norma Siran, tenor Herbert Pordum and bass baritone Gene Golluscio were so magnificent that we decided to ask them back.

It will be an evening to remember.

This program is part of the Town of Oyster Bay Department of Community Services Cultural and Performing Arts Division Distinguished Artists Concerts.

First come, first seated.

On Thursday, May 7 at 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be presenting "Camp Siegfried, Long Island, New York" with speaker Marvin D. Miller, author of "Wunderlich's Salute".

Fifty years ago, a community called Camp Siegfried, the Nazi propaganda and meeting area, was located in Yaphank, Long Island. In 1937, black-shirted Bundists with swastika armbands marched from the railroad station (near the present Suffolk County office buildings) through the streets of Yaphank to Camp Siegfried. When the "Siegfried Special" arrived at the Long Island Railroad depot in Yaphank it was met by the boys and girls of the camp welcoming the arrivals with a Nazi salute.

Marvin D. Miller brings us a slide/talk presentation of Nazis in our own backyard.

On Monday, May 11 at 1 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage library will be presenting a "Book Discussion/Review" led by Barbara Krupit. The book is entitled "Lake Wobegon Days" by Garrison Keillor.

The town's early history—from the days of the Unitarian missionaries to New Albion College and its crazed founder, Dr. Watt; from the arrival of the first Norwegian Lutherans and German Catholics to the story of The Living Flag and Wally "Old Hard Hands" Bunsen and the Statue of the Unknown Norwegian—is here as is some of the narrator's own story. We see his failure as a Scout, his embarrassment at wearing black Keds and being picked last for baseball teams, and his shaky romances with Donna and Dorene.

Surrounding him are Lake Wobegon's memorable characters and places. An extraordinary book not to be missed. A Book-of-the-Month Club selection.

On Tuesday, May 12 at 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage library will be offering a book discussion/review on the book entitled "Brothers and Keepers" by John E. Wideman. The discussion is led by Barbara Krupit.

Two brothers. Two lives. Two

They were born of the same family, reared in the same environment—the black ghetto of Homewood in the heart of Pittsburgh, Pa. The older brother, John Edgar Wideman, grew up to become a Rhodes Scholar, a college professor and a highly regarded novelist.

John's kid brother Rob, ten years his junior, took the low road to deep trouble. When he was little more than an overgrown kid, he became involved in petty thievery and the drug scene endemic to the ghetto. Eventually, he and his friends organized a scam during which the projected target, himself a fence and petty thief, was shot and killed. Robby and one of his buddies were arrested, tried and ultimately sentenced to life imprisonment.

On Thursday, May 14 at 3 and 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage library will be presenting the feature film entitled "Twice in a Lifetime" starring Gene Hackman, Ann Margaret and Ellen Burstyn.

Infidelity in films, as in contemporary fiction is typically seen as a middle-class or upper class affliction. "Twice in a Lifetime", however, shows in a realistic, moving fashion the disintegration of a steelworker's 30 year marriage.

This film runs 111 minutes and is rated (R).

On Friday, May 15 at 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage library will be presenting "Banjo Rascals (Bring Back that Old-Time Music)".

The Banjo Rascals consists of three banjos, one trombone and a tuba. Their music includes nostalgic melodies of the "Gay 90's", the "Roaring 20's" and extends through the intervening periods to the present. Join us in a sing-a-long remembering the past.

On Thursday, May 21 at 8 p.m., the Long Island Harmonica Band will be performing at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library. It will be an evening of fun, laughter and entertainment. An evening for everyone to enjoy.

First come, first seated.

On Wednesday, May 27 at 7:30 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage library will be holding a Board of Trustees Meeting in the staff room. The public is invited.

On Thursday, May 28 at 3 and 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage library will be presenting the feature film entitled "The Color Purple" starring Whoopi Goldberg, Danny Glover and Adolf Caesar.

Alice Walker's joyous Pulitzer Prize-Winning novel, "The Color Purple", comes to the screen as Steven Spielberg's most powerful, personal film to date. An intimate story of suffering, endurance and triumph set in the early 20th century rural South, "The Color Purple" is a distinctive and deeply moving film revolving around one black family and their particular struggles. Whoopi Goldberg makes her screen debut as Cella Johnson, a browbeaten, much abused, nearly illiterate black farm girl, who in the course of forty years grows into a woman of self-assurance and wit, a woman with her own dreams and her own identity.

FIXED RATES (below FNMA maximums and within FNMA guidelines)			CAPPED ADJUSTABLE RATE (loans up to $350,000)
10-YEAR	15-YEAR	30-YEAR	1-YEAR
9.75% annual rate	10.50% annual rate	11.00% annual rate	7.00% annual rate
10.23% annual percentage rate	10.86% annual percentage rate	11.26% annual percentage rate	10.36% annual percentage rate

Quoted rates are for self-liquidating, "full income verification" loans with a minimum down payment of 25% of appraised value on 1- to 4-family homes. The annual percentage rates include origination and placement fees. The Bank sets the interest rates on loans at the time of commitment (for a 90-day period), not at the time of application. The rates contained in this advertisement may change while an application is being processed, and may not be available at the time of commitment.

Repayment terms for 10-year (15-year and 30-year) fixed-rate loans at the stated rates would be 120 (180 and 360) monthly payments of $13.08 ($11.06 and $9.53) per $1,000 borrowed.

Adjustable rate shown is a below-market introductory annual rate for the first year only. The annual percentage rate is based on the current value of "The Green Point's" Index Interest Rate (currently 10.75%) which is subject to change. The annual rate will not change more than 2% per year (up or down) and, over the life of the loan, will not vary (increase or decrease) more than 3% from the Index Interest Rate in effect at the time the loan is closed.

Ask for rates and terms on "no income verification" loans and on fixed-rate loans above FNMA maximums (up to $350,000).

Callers Think Embassies Need New Plans

Most callers to Input think that there ought to be new methods of guarding embassies throughout the world in answer to this question: "Do you think that the job of guarding U.S. embassies should be assigned exclusively to Marines?" Here are some of the answers:

LESSON LEARNED

No. If we have not learned our lesson yet, we never will. The job of guarding our embassies throughout the world is an important one and should be subject to the checks and balances that all parts of our government need. The job should be on a rotating basis with different troops and guards there regularly. The Marines are great but not invincible. J.E.

MARINES GREAT

I believe that too much has been made of the fact that it was a Marine who compromised the embassy in the USSR. The fact is that any group will always have some weak links. The Marine Corps has fought for this country even when the odds were very thin. To besmirch that great tradition will hurt the defense of the country. We should put the blame with the individual and not with the Marine Corps. K.E.

SHOULD CONTINUE

For centuries the Marines have been doing work on foreign soil for this country. The fact that Marines are involved in the spy problems in Russia does not mean that we should throw away the entire system. The Marines are capable of continuing to do a great job of guarding our embassies and anything else they have to do. W.T.

NEW SYSTEM

It is long past time to make plans to do a better job of guarding the embassy. We should have rotating shifts of different people assigned to the job so that it would be impossible to work out a plan to compromise an individual guard. In addition, guards should be encouraged to immediately tell if they are approached by outsiders. This, together with a better electronic system of protection, would make it impossible to get anything out of the buildings. N.G.

EVERYONE LAX

I think that the entire embassy was lax and did not take proper caution to protect the very important information that was flowing through the office. It should have been clear from information that the USSR had in dealing with us that there were leaks and this should have prompted a check long before the problem got so great. M.E.

TOO IMPORTANT

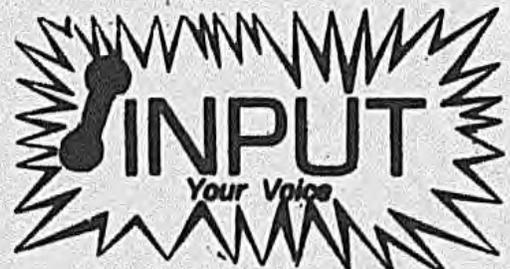

It makes no sense that we have left the guarding of such important information in the hands of a few, regardless of what branch of the service they are in. It is just common sense to believe that human beings will have human failings and we all should think whether we are just laying the blame on a few when we could have been sure that the situation causing the trouble was under control. E.D.

OLDER GUARDS

I think that the Marines should be replaced and that we should seek older guards who are there on a career basis with their wives and families. This would help a great deal in making stability in the guarding. H.W.

CONTINUE MARINES

I guess that the word "exclusively" is the key to the question. So, with that in mind, I would wholeheartedly continue to endorse the decision to use Marines throughout the world to guard U.S. embassies as a matter of basic policy. They are intelligent, well trained and have an esprit de corps which gives them that extra motivation for outstanding performance. However, recognizing that hostile countries would employ any method to take advantage of the weaknesses of such personnel, it seems obvious in retrospect that what happened in Moscow was only natural and our top echelon should have been prepared to take remedial measures. Actually, it's hard to believe that the Marines assigned to our Russian embassy were not under the constant surveillance of top level administrators with a mandate to "guard the guard," so to speak. Some of the best novels on intrigue and spying, with "007" leading the pack, have had as their central theme the power of sex in achieving devious political and military objectives. Actually, the choice of Marines for these critical assignments could not have been better in my opinion. But, even without the benefit of hindsight, I can't see how any government official with the responsibility for the safety of overseas embassy personnel and security of sensitive information could have overlooked a check in depth for individual weakness of the men to be assigned. F.G.S.

Getting Into College - The Way It Was

By Thomas Orr

As senior high school students are starting to receive their letters of acceptance to college, I think of my application to the college of my choice.

It was in the depths of the depression prior to World War II. I graduated from Brooklyn Prep in February and in April caught on with Hearst's morning "New York American" as a copyboy--there is nothing lower in a newspaper City Room.

Before I knew it, it was August and my choice was limited to a day-hop school--either St. John's College, staffed by the Vincentian Fathers or St. Francis College staffed by the Franciscan Brothers. Both schools were in Brooklyn. I was leaning toward St. Francis because at Brooklyn Prep, St. John's Prep had been our closest rival.

On a Wednesday in July, one of my days off, (I worked every Saturday and Sunday) I jumped on the Bergen St. trolley bound for the Butler St. home of St. Francis in downtown Brooklyn.

The College did not have rolling green lawns and ivy covered buildings. Rather, it was a substantial building flush with the street.

I entered its dimly lit corridors, found an open door to an office and came face to face with a man in clerical garb. He informed me that he was not a Brother but was Father Sullivan, dean of the college. (After World War II he served as pastor of St. Brigid's Roman Catholic Church in Westbury.)

He asked me what I wanted and I told him I would like to go to the college. Then he started to fire questions at me: "Where did you go to high school, how old are you, what do you want to be, why did you pick St. Francis, what do your parents think of college?"

I stumbled through my answers for he was friendly but intimidating. He was like a district attorney. Naturally, he did most of the talking but Brooklyn Prep seemed to strike a good note.

He outlined what courses a freshman was expected to take - Latin - 3 points; English - 3 points; French or German - 3 points; Religion - 1 point; Science - 5 points (which included lab); Orientation - 1 point (which he informed me he gave); Physical Training - 1/2 point for a total of 19 1/2 points. He told me to graduate I would need 136 points which should be accomplished in four years.

When this did not seem to bother me, he told me to go to the next office to see Joe Seibold, his secretary, adding if Joe is not in the office try the gym downstairs.

Fr. Sullivan was right, Joe was not in his office. So I found the gym downstairs by following the noise. There was a group playing the basketball game, "21."

Quietly I asked a fellow who was watching, where is Joe Seibold. He said: "Shh, he is shooting, don't interrupt. Wait until the game is over."

Finally, the game ends and the fellow I had asked yells: "Joe, this guy wants to see you."

Joe comes over. He is about 6' 2", 180 lbs. with a warm smile. He says he is Joe Seibold and I reply that I am Tom Orr and would like to go to St. Francis.

He takes me up to his office and starts to fill out some papers which give the college permission to get a transcript of my marks from Brooklyn Prep. In those days no multi-page applications, letters of recommendation were not needed, nor were S.A.T.'s in vogue.

As I left the college that day, I was not sure if I was going to be a member of the class of '38. But two weeks later my acceptance came by mail with my schedule of classes which started the last week in September.

At the college, I learned that basketball was a part of the academic life. We played St. John's, home and away. Believe it or not we would beat them in the thirties. (As Casey Stengel, the baseball manager used to say, you can look it up.) Today we are not even on their schedule.

Now the college has moved from Butler St. to Remsen St. in the historic Brooklyn Heights section of the Borough. Instead of the 250 students, paying $5 a point (Yes, that is correct); there are now 20000 coed students paying $142 per point.

The complex of today has an olympic swimming pool, the McArdle Student Center and the Gorman Dining Hall. One must pass a security check before admission to the college proper.

Even though time brings many changes some things remain the same--there are still no rolling green lawns and ivy covered buildings.

Q. Recently I attended a formal tea in a fine restaurant. I noticed that thinly sliced bread with the crusts left on was served with butter and preserves. Later, seafood sandwiches with crusts removed were also served. Was this unusual?

A. Actually, no. The idea was to provide people of simple and more complex tastes with a variety of pleasing tea accompaniments.

We have been to many Japanese restaurants. There seem to be more and more these days. However, the Umai on Merrick Road in Merrick is far above all the others so far as we can see.
They, for one thing, do not give tiny portions that are the going fare at many Japanese restaurants. The decor is excellent and relaxing like a trip to Japan and if you order Sukiyaki, it will be prepared at your table as ours was. The taste, plus the aroma, make it one big event. The Umai Restaurant is a cut above all other Japanese restaurants. G.R.

MEMORABLE DINNER

A great Italian restaurant, La Cisterna, on Mineola Boulevard in Mineola, serving Northern Italian cuisine is one of my favorite restaurants and one I would like to share with your readers. Many years ago while in Rome, I dined at La Cisterna and enjoyed a memorable dinner there. To my surprise, I recently learned that the proprietor, Angelo Morinelli, served his apprenticeship at the family restaurant in Rome.

You will enjoy dining in this delightful restaurant, the food is a gustatory delight, you will enjoy the round loaf of bread made with whole wheat, the continental atmosphere, the attentive service—you will find all the ingredients that make for pleasurable dining and will want to make a return visit and share this "find" with your friends.

E.H.

Q. Recently I attended an elegant wedding and I noticed that the champagne was served in a tulip shaped glass rather than the traditional broad brimmed type. Is this something new?

A. It is a fairly new idea. The theory now is that a tulip shaped glass preserves the effervescence (bubbles) of champagne longer than a wide brimmed glass.

AMONG THE BEST

I have never seen anyone call in about Koenig's Restaurant in Floral Park, in spite of the fact that it is one of the best restaurants in Nassau County. Many of your readers may not know that the Pritikin Diet that is on the menu at Koenig's is tasty and a good way to dine out. They steer clear of salt, sugar and oil. But those who do not want the Pritikin Diet that I am following, can eat the best in continental food at Koenig's as people have been doing for many years. They have outstanding steaks and salads. When we went there last week the other member of our party had a steak dinner, while I can truthfully say I enjoyed the Pritikin menu.

Q. A friend of mine insists that wine glasses are held differently if they contain white or red wine. Can this possibly be true?

A. Your friend is correct! Chilled white wine is always grasped by the stem of the glass so the wine will not be warmed by the heat of the hand. Red wine, on the other hand, is drunk with the hand grasping the bowl.

Q. Someone I know insists on carefully refolding his dinner napkin after he has finished using it. What is your opinion?

A. Properly, napkins should never be refolded after a meal. They should simply be gathered and laid to the left of the place setting.

Q. Whenever I eat lunch with a certain friend, I notice that he takes a few mouthfuls of food then swallows and touches his lips with his napkin before sipping his beverage. Is he correct?

A. Yes, your friend is obeying the law of etiquette which says that a person does not drink liquids until his mouth is empty and his lips are clean. The purpose of this rule is to keep the rim of one's glass or cup free from unsightly food stains.

LIKE PORTUGAL

Saturday night our party of three dined at Arlindo's Continental Restaurant, on Mineola Boulevard in Mineola. This restaurant is in a Portuguese neighborhood. My friends, of Portuguese origin, recommended this restaurant as there was to be entertainment of Fado singing with well-known singers. The evening was reminiscent of a trip to Portugal, the decor and the ambience was continental. Our choice for dinner was the seafood Paellas, Portuguese white wine and flan for dessert. It was a fun evening--the diners were invited to sing along with the entertainers.

All in all, it was a delightful evening--good friends, good food and good entertainment. I would recommend Arlindo's to your readers for something different.

HAPPY CHOICE

It takes many ingredients to make for delightful dining. Our party of six felt that we found them all at the newly decorated George Washington Manor in Roslyn. We enjoyed a most delightful Sunday Brunch and were unanimous in saying that it was a happy choice.

The decor is both charming and elegant, the food selection was diversified and exceedingly good, and the service is superb. We all agreed it was a delightful way to spend a few hours on a Sunday. We have also been there for dinner and were well pleased. In particular, we enjoyed the cozy fireplace. We heartily endorse this very fine restaurant. D.J.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q: What is the very best bait to use in mousetraps in the house? I have recently bought several traps marked "pre-baited" but they haven't caught anything and the mice are all over. I have tried cheese; its results are only so-so, or maybe I'm using the wrong kind.

Mice destroy millions of dollars worth of edibles annually. There must be some best way to combat them. Whatever in the world is it? — R.B.C.

A: Both rats and mice have plagued us for thousands of years. Edibles are not the only thing they contaminate and destroy. They gnaw into upholstery and other fabrics, chew books and paper to get nesting materials, are known to occasionally set homes on fire by chewing on electrical wiring and often infest home electrical appliances causing dangerous short circuits. They are also major carriers of disease and are known to bite, particularly infants and bedridden elders.

Although blighted urban neighborhoods carry large rodent populations, well-kept buildings are usually free of such infestation. Rodent infestation in suburban housing is more likely, particularly in older neighborhoods where trees and shrubs are mature and some of the homes have been poorly kept. Poor disposal of food waste aggravates the problem, as do nut and fruit trees, outbuildings, wood piles and thick vegetation.

If you have actually sighted mice or rats in the area, or identified some of the telltale signs — droppings, noises inside the walls, scampering sounds on the roof, tracks signifying a rodent "runway" or a feeding spot where there are bits of gnawed bones, seed hulls, food wrappings, etc. — your first reaction may be to set out traps or poison bait. Although this can reduce the mice and rat population in a hurry, without rigorous sanitation you are soon likely to be faced with the same problem.

Your first step in effective control is to starve them out by tightening sanitation. This includes cleaning out all possible rodent harborage — the debris in the attic and garage, wood piles, storage of old clothing in piles, stacked newspapers and old magazines, unused boxes, etc.

The next step is control over their food source. Store all foods in tightly closed metal, plastic or glass containers or in your refrigerator. Do not leave food items out on counters or in unsealed trash containers. Sweep up crumbs and remove food spills on countertops and the floor immediately. Cardboard boxes of cereals, crackers, rice any such food items stored in the cupboards, are an invitation to these invaders, along with food left in pet dishes, crumbs scattered outdoors for birds and feeders in birdhouses.

Set traps close to walls (where you suspect a rodent runway) and behind objects in dark corners. If the trap is set along a partition, it should extend out from the wall and have its trigger nearly touching the wall. If placed parallel to the wall, use a pair of traps with triggers placed so to intercept animals coming from either direction.

Be sure to inspect traps regularly. You should move traps to a new location, 2 feet or so away, every few days. Keep traps clean so they work well (scrub with hot water, detergent and a stiff brush).

Social Security system is sound for all current recipients and there are no attempts to slash benefits for any current recipients or near-recipients.

"Because the Social Security and Medicare systems are financially sound, any group warning you otherwise should set off alarms in your mind about their legitimacy," emphasized NARFE in its report to its members.

"If any justifiable concern about the solvency of these systems should arise, NARFE headquarters will thoroughly advise you of the situation. In addition, if you have any questions as to the legitimacy of any organization soliciting money, check with your local Social Security office, the U.S. postmaster or your state attorney general's office."

Other major senior citizen organizations would, similarly, be advising their memberships, and the national and senior citizen media would also be carrying the story as news.

NEW SOCIAL SECURITY GUIDE

Facts on File Publications has just released its new 1987-'88 "Guide to Social Security Benefits," a very accurate reference book on the subject of Social Security. The 192-page paperback presents 500 questions and answers on the subject of Social Security and includes an index for cross-referencing the questions.

Copies are available in bookstores at $7.95 for the paperback (ISBN 0-8160-1568-6), or order directly from Facts on File for $7.95, which includes postage and handling.

Mainly for Seniors

TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: I am 14, do not date, and I'm not permitted to go out with boys until I am 15. Jimmy has several classes with me and we study together after school and once in a while we will play tennis together. He is a good friend — but only a friend. We have no romantic interests in each other or will we ever.

My dad is now saying that we are on "dates" when we are playing tennis or studying and that I must not see Jimmy until I am 15, which is six months away.

I've explained everything to both my mother and father and they still insist that I'm dating.

Dr. Wallace, you and I both know that I'm not doing anything wrong and that I'm not dating. I just happen to have a good friend who happens to be a male. Don't you think that I should be allowed to continue seeing Jimmy and that it would be ridiculous to drop him as a friend? — Rose

Rose: I do agree with you, but your parents' thoughts are the only ones that are important. Do what they ask. Is it possible a school counselor or teacher could help convince Mom and Dad that having a good friend of the opposite sex is OK?

Dr. Wallace: My mother is always complaining because I am not popular. Well, at my high school all the popular girls are either in the student government or are cheerleaders, while the most popular guys are the cute athletes. My mother thinks that a "nice personality" is the most important trait in being popular. I say it is basically how you look. I'd like your advice. — Kim

Kim: Personality plays the prime roll in popularity. As I have mentioned before in this column, in my high school days (Emerson High School, Gary, Ind.) Alex Karras, former football-great-turned-actor ("Webster"), was a most popular guy. True, he was a talented athlete but no one would mistake him for Paul Newman.

Alex had personality plus. Most of the students liked him and he had a genuine interest in his fellow classmates.

Teens: When it comes to health habits, according to a recent Harris poll, teenagers are best at exercising, maintaining proper weight, socializing and going for annual dental checkups. As an age-group, they are worst in eating habits, obeying speed limit laws, using seat belts and moderately abusing alcohol.

The survey shows healthy behavior varies more by age than by race, sex, occupation or income, and measured 21 health practices from exercise and diet to use of seat belts.

How about your parents?

They were best at using seat belts, smoke detectors and getting proper rest (except when you are late returning from a date). Worst: Maintaining weight, smoking and socializing. (Isn't that what you are best at?)

Dr. Wallace: I am 14 and very upset. About two months ago my grandmother (Mom's mom) came to live with us. Now it's like I have two bosses; my mother and my grandmother.

When my mother isn't home, I've got to obey Granny. There even are times when my mother says yes to something I ask for and Granny says no, and the final answer is always no.

I've talked to Mom alone about the "problem" and all she says is two heads are better than one. It does no good to talk with my dad because my mom is the boss. Since Granny moved in, my dad spends a lot more hours at work. Time won't help. Granny is as healthy as she can possibly be. What can I do? — Paula

Paula: It appears that Daddy has more problems than you since Granny moved in, but he is your best source of comfort (misery enjoys company). Have a nice chat with Dad (if he ever comes home from work) and agree to take the problem to Mom firmly! (Two heads are better than one — there is strength in unity — divide and conquer, etc.)

Let's hope Mom understands the situation you both are in and redefines Granny's role as a welcome guest and family member who seldom offers advice unless she is asked, and who has no authoritative power.

Things should not be allowed to continue the way they are.

Dr. Wallace: I went to a party with a boy and he got upset because I danced with another guy. He got mad and left the party. I had to call my mother to take me home. Was I wrong in dancing with another boy? My date and I were not going steady. — Maria Maria: You should have asked your date if you could dance with another boy. But your date's actions were far more serious. It was his responsibility to see you home safely, regardless! Learn from your mistake. Don't date this guy again!

SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Mainly for Seniors

By Leonard J. Hansen

If you are age 50 or older you might have received or will receive letters requesting $10 or more to "protect" your Social Security or to file an inquiry about your currently earned benefit level. Even though many of the mailings look official, they have nothing at all to do with the Social Security program, according to the leading senior citizen organizations.

The National Association of Retired Federal Employees has identified 18 "organizations" that are sending out the direct mailings, identifying them as "front organizations for direct-mail solicitations or are companies that have elicited concern from the Social Security Administration."

In its April 1987 issue of Retirement Life magazine, NARFE states: "Despite aggressive efforts in and out of Congress to stop the spread of misinformation and 'fear-mongering' about Social Security and Medicare, most of the groups in question are still alive and well — and growing."

"The fund-raising efforts of these groups are disturbing for a variety of reasons. For one, they prey on the economic vulnerability and fears of senior citizens, many of whom depend on both Social Security and Medicare for simple survival.

"They also base their solicitations on two phony premises: that the Social Security system is not financially stable and that there are serious efforts under way to dilute the protection that Social Security benefits provide.

"These tactics cause unnecessary fear and concern among the elderly, particularly the fear that the Social Security system is about to collapse."

Organizations identified by NARFE for using the fallacious direct-mail tactics include: James Roosevelt's National Committee to Preserve Social Security and Medicare — the most visible of the direct-mail operations — and: American Senior Citizens, Benefit Fulfillment Center, California Association for Concerned Senior Citizens, Consumer Advisory Service, Consumer Referral Service Center, Consumer Support Service, Health Insurance Referral Services, National Health Services, National Association for Retired Persons, National Senior Advisory Center, Retired Persons Information Center, Senior Security Benefit Service, Social Security Benefit Protection Service, Social Security Protection Bureau, United Senior Citizens of America and United Seniors of America.

The message from NARFE to its members and to all senior citizens is simple and direct: Do not believe the direct mailings — no matter how official they appear; write your own elected representatives in Congress to express support for legislation to stop such mailings based on untruthful claims and charges; know that the Quality Or Quantity?

One Sure Way To Get Results!

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient
Readers = Results is the reason we are preferred over the largest metropolitan newspapers and the many throwaways.

get your message across... and get results! Call us right now!

Peanut butter comes out of its shell

So you thought Simon couldn't carry a tune without Garfunkel and Ronald Reagan couldn't get a job outside Hollywood. And you probably never think of eating peanut butter without its sweet companion, jelly.

Well, think again.

Good old peanut butter has developed a personality all its own. No longer is the sticky spread destined just to be slapped between two slices of white bread or glopped on a limp celery stalk.

Whether straight from the jar, whipped into a rich dessert or blended into a zesty sauce, peanut butter — once considered to be "kid stuff" — is being rediscovered by more and more adults.

Just how much do Americans like peanut butter? We like it a lot, according to the Georgia Peanut Commission. In fact, we like the nutty spread so much that in the United States we eat approximately 700 million pounds of it each year.

If 700 million pounds of Skippy is difficult to envision, then think of our annual peanut butter consumption as more weight than seven ocean liners the size of the Titanic.

Or imagine a tower of 18-ounce jars of peanut butter standing nearly 52,000 miles high — more than one-fifth the distance from Earth to the moon.

If that doesn't do it, then think of a football field covered with peanut butter to a height of 225 feet.

You get the picture. Americans really like peanut butter.

The reason given for this revival in popularity depends on who you talk to.

Industry sources credit the rapidly rising sales to peanut butter's reputation as a "comfort" food, triggering warm and wonderful memories. Nothing brings on a case of nostalgia like a thick peanut butter and grape jelly sandwich washed down with a glass of cold milk.

Nutrition experts say the spread's resurgence is due to its being a natural, healthy food. Boasting no cholesterol, a 2-tablespoon serving of peanut butter contains 190 calories (fewer than two slices of American cheese).

Peanut butter's one dietary flaw is its high fat content — 50 percent of its calories are drawn from mono-unsaturated fats (the type of fat that does not cause heart disease). However, on the plus side, peanut butter offers a rich supply of potassium, niacin, iron and dietary fiber.

Meanwhile, in the kitchen, peanut butter has gone chi-chi. Gourmet cooks see the inexpensive spread as an innovative and flavorful ingredient to be added to the most sophisticated of culinary creations.

The "Silver Palate Cookbook" offers a decadent, but delicious, peanut butter ice cream, using loads of unsalted peanuts, creamy peanut butter and whipping cream. New York Times nutrition writer Jane Brody suggests a hearty peanut butter-vegetable chicken soup, packed with protein and the best of the garden. Peanut butter is a main ingredient in such epicurean magazines as Gourmet, Bon Appetit and Food and Wine. Featured recipes have included such concoctions as triple chocolate custard and chocolate peanut caramel tart.

However, if your peanut butter palate is not quite this adventurous, never fear. Tasty peanut butter recipes do not necessarily have to be exotic to be good.

The unique flavor and texture of peanut butter lends itself to everything from soup to fish to dessert. The following recipes offer some innovative suggestions for America's favorite spread.

PEANUT BUTTER SOUP

- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1 stalk celery, coarsely chopped
- 1 green pepper, coarsely chopped
- 2 small red chili peppers, torn in bits
- 2 leeks, white part only, coarsely chopped
- 3 cups chicken stock
- ½ cup peanut butter
- Juice of 1 lemon
- 1 cup of yogurt
- Chopped peanuts, for garnish
- 1 tablespoon chopped fresh cilantro or parsley

Heat butter and oil in large saucepan. Add celery, green pepper, chili peppers and leeks and cook until they begin to soften. Add stock, peanut butter and lemon juice. Simmer 20 minutes until vegetables are tender. Let cool slightly and puree. Add yogurt and reheat mixture, being careful not to boil. Spoon into serving bowls and garnish with chopped peanuts and cilantro or parsley.

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

SATAY FOR BEEF OR PORK

- 1 pound beef or pork fillet
- Grated rind of ½ lemon
- 2 medium onions, coarsely chopped
- 2 tablespoons soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1 tablespoon curry powder
- Salt to taste
- 1½ teaspoons sugar
- 2 dried red chili peppers
- 3 tablespoons roasted peanuts
- Peanut-butter sauce (see recipe above)

Cut fillet into 1-inch cubes. Puree lemon rind, onions, soy sauce, vegetable oil, curry powder, salt, sugar and red chili pepper in blender or food processor. Pour marinade over meat and peanuts and refrigerate 2 hours or overnight. Thread meat onto skewers and coat again with marinade. Grill or broil until done. Serve with peanut-butter soup as sauce.

FISH FILLETS WITH BRAZILIAN PEANUT SAUCE

- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 large tomato, seeded and chopped
- 1 teaspoon minced hot green pepper
- ¼ cup minced green onion
- ¼ cup creamy peanut butter
- ½ cup packaged coconut, soaked and toasted*
- 2 teaspoons chopped fresh ginger
- ½ teaspoon turmeric
- ½ teaspoon salt

- 1 cup water
- 2 pounds fresh fish fillets, such as red snapper or grouper
- 3 tablespoons chopped parsley

To prepare sauce: In dry skillet cook and stir onion over medium-high heat 5 minutes until edges are browned. Add tomato and hot pepper; cover and simmer over medium-low heat 10 minutes. Stir in green onion, peanut butter, coconut, ginger, turmeric, salt and water. Cover; simmer 15 minutes. Transfer sauce to blender container; blend smooth. Reserve until ready to use or keep warm in saucepan while preparing fish.

Lightly grease bottom of baking pan and 1 side of wax paper cut to fit pan. Arrange fillets in pan and cover with greased side of wax paper touching fish. Bake in 350 F oven about 10 minutes until fish is opaque. To serve: spoon ¼ cup sauce over each fillet; sprinkle with parsley.

* To soak and toast packaged coconut: Place coconut in fine mesh strainer. Run warm water over coconut, stirring with hand until mixture feels cleanly rinsed of sugar. Pat dry with paper towel. Spread on baking sheet; bake in 350 F oven until lightly toasted, stirring occasionally. If using fresh coconut, shred and toast.

Makes 8 servings

ORANGE BEEF WITH GREEN PEPPER

- 1½ pounds flank steak, fat trimmed
- ¼ cup orange juice
- 3 tablespoons reduced sodium soy sauce
- 2 tablespoons creamy peanut butter
- 1½ tablespoons julienne sliced orange peel
- 2 small cloves garlic, minced
- 1½ teaspoons curry powder
- ½ teaspoon red wine vinegar
- ¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper
- 1 tablespoon peanut or vegetable oil
- 2 medium green bell peppers, cut into ½-inch-wide strips
- 2 tablespoons chopped green onions
- Peeled sections of 2 oranges

Diagonally cut beef, against the grain, into slices ¼-inch thick and 4 inches long. In bowl combine orange juice, soy sauce, peanut butter, orange peel, garlic, curry, vinegar and red pepper. Stir to blend. Add beef; toss to coat evenly. Cover; set aside to marinate 2 hours at room temperature or refrigerate overnight. Heat oil in deep skillet or wok over high heat. Add beef mixture. Cook and stir 2 minutes. Remove beef from skillet with tongs or slotted spoon. Add green peppers to skillet; cook and stir about 5 minutes until browned around edges. Stir in green onions and return beef to skillet. Cook and stir 1 minute more. Garnish servings with orange sections.

Makes 6 servings.

JIMMY CARTER'S PEANUT BUTTER PIE

- 1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese
- 1 cup sugar
- ¼ cup crunchy peanut butter
- ½ cup milk
- ½ cup of peanuts (halves)
- 1 container (9 ounces) whipped topping

Whip cream cheese until soft and fluffy, beat in peanut butter and sugar, slowly add milk, fold in whipped topping. Put into graham cracker pie crusts, sprinkle tops with peanuts, then freeze. Makes 2 pies.

Flash in the pan

Ten years ago, if you lived anywhere but in California or the American Southwest, you had to mail-order your tortillas, the supermarket produce manager hadn't even heard of coriander, and a burrito was — maybe a little donkey?

Fortunately all that has changed. Tex-Mex cooking has caught on in a big way all across the country, the appeal being its sprightly and forthright flavors, its (now) easily obtainable ingredients, and the ease and speed with which much of it can be put together.

Tex-Mex also happens to be, in general (if you avoid deep frying), food that is pretty good for you, as many of its most popular dishes call for relatively small amounts of meat, rounding out with lots of vegetable garnishes such as crunchy shredded lettuce, scallions and radishes.

A burrito, in common Tex-Mex parlance, is usually a flour tortilla that wraps a filling that most often contains beans. Our version is a highly spiced pork and bean combination flavored with cumin, as well as chili powder. It tastes fine made with kidney beans but if you can find black beans, so much the better. If your supermarket doesn't carry them, ask them to try to locate a supply. It's this kind of nagging that has been broadening our culinary horizons!

PORK AND BEAN BURRITOS

- 2 tablespoons oil
- ¾ pound ground pork
- 1 onion
- 2 cloves garlic
- 1 to 2 tablespoons chili powder
- 2 cups crushed plum tomatoes, tomato puree or tomato sauce
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- ¼ teaspoon dried oregano
- 2 cups canned kidney beans and the liquid
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- Salt to taste
- ¼ cup water, if necessary
- 8 to 12 flour tortillas
- Sour cream, sliced lettuce, sliced radishes (optional)

Heat oil in large non-reactive skillet. Add pork and break up with side of large spoon. Cook over medium heat till it loses pink color.

Meanwhile, chop onion and garlic and add to skillet. Cook 3 to 4 minutes with meat. Sprinkle chili powder over meat mixture, raise heat to medium-high and cook, stirring, for about 1 minute, to cook out raw taste of chili powder.

Add tomatoes, cumin, oregano, beans, pepper and salt to taste.

Cook uncovered at gentle simmer for about 15 minutes. Mixture should reduce to a nice thick consistency. If it gets so dry that it starts to stick, stir in ¼ cup water.

While meat mixture is cooking, heat tortillas by wrapping loosely in foil and placing in 375 F oven for 10 minutes, or cover loosely with plastic wrap or waxed paper and heat in microwave.

To make burritos, spoon some meat and bean mixture onto a warm tortilla, roll up or wrap by folding in ends and then rolling. Serve with optional accompaniments of sour cream, sliced lettuce and radishes on the side.

Yield: 4 servings.

Preparation time: 30 minutes.

CHEESE AND GREEN CHILI ENCHILADAS

- 2 tablespoons oil
- 1 small onion
- 1 clove garlic
- 2 cups tomato puree
- ¼ cup water
- 1 teaspoon dried cilantro or coriander leaves
- ¼ teaspoon dried oregano
- Salt and black pepper to taste
- Pinch of sugar
- 2 teaspoons red wine vinegar
- 1¾ cups grated Monterey Jack cheese, divided
- 1¼ cups ricotta cheese
- 1 (3- or 4-ounce) can chopped green chilies, drained
- 8 corn tortillas

Preheat oven to 425 F.

Heat oil in large non-reactive skillet or saucepan. Chop onion and garlic and cook over medium heat for about 3 minutes. Add tomato puree, water, cilantro, oregano, salt, pepper and sugar. Bring to boil, lower heat and simmer uncovered for 10 minutes. Add vinegar.

While sauce is simmering, combine 1¼ cups of Jack cheese, ricotta cheese and chilies in mixing bowl.

On countertop, line up pan of sauce, tortillas and filling. To make enchiladas, dip each tortilla in sauce briefly to soften, then place 2 rounded tablespoons of cheese filling on tortilla, roll loosely and place seam side down in baking dish just large enough to accommodate the 8 enchiladas comfortably in single layer. Repeat with all tortillas. Pour remaining sauce over enchiladas, sprinkle with remaining ¼ cup cheese and bake, loosely covered with foil, in preheated oven for 15 minutes, until cheese is melted and sauce is bubbly. Serve accompanied by sliced black olives, sliced scallions and lime wedges.

Yield: 4 servings.

Preparation time: 30 minutes.

Herbs add a lot of variety to everyday foods. More and more markets are carrying fresh herbs in the produce section and, besides that old standby parsley, are offering watercress, basil, mint, tarragon, sage and cilantro, to name just a few.

What's the difference between herbs and spices? The latter are derived from the root, bark, fruit or berry of perennial plants, while herbs generally consist of the leaves (but never stems) of both annual and perennial shrubs.

Dried herbs are more intensely flavored than fresh ones, and should consequently be used more sparingly. Here's a useful formula: ¼ teaspoon dried powdered herbs equals ¼ to 1 teaspoon dried crumbled herbs equals 2 teaspoons fresh chopped herbs. In general, ¼ to ½ teaspoon crushed dried herbs is sufficient to flavor four servings.

To microwave-dry fresh herbs, wash about ¼ cup fresh leaves and pat dry with paper towels. Spread over a paper plate, then microwave on HIGH (100 percent power) setting for one to three minutes, checking frequently and stopping when leaves feel dry and crumbly. Store in a small, airtight jar. Ideally, dried herbs should be stored no longer than six months, as they lose freshness and flavor with long storage.

Use savory, aromatic herbs instead of salt to add interest to family meals.

HERBED RICE PILAF

- 1 cup long grain white rice
- ¼ cup plus 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ¼ cup each diced onion and celery
- 2¼ cups chicken broth
- ¼ bay leaf
- ¼ teaspoon crumbled leaf basil
- ¼ teaspoon ground thyme
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- Dash salt

Preparation Time: 5 minutes
Cooking Time: 24 to 30 minutes (plus 5 minutes standing time)

Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power); MEDIUM-LOW/DEFROST (30 percent power)

In 2-quart glass casserole combine rice and butter. Microwave on HIGH setting 4 to 5 minutes, stirring every minute, until rice begins to brown. Stir in onion and celery. Microwave on HIGH setting 2 to 4 minutes longer, stirring after 2 minutes, until onion is translucent and celery is tender.

Add all remaining ingredients, stirring well. Cover and microwave 6 minutes on HIGH setting, then reduce setting to MEDIUM-LOW/DEFROST and microwave 12 to 15 minutes, stirring every 6 minutes. Let stand, covered, 5 minutes before serving, then fluff with fork.

Serves 6.

GARLIC AND HERB LOAF

- 1 (8-ounce) loaf French bread
- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 1 large or 2 medium cloves garlic, peeled and minced
- 1 teaspoon dried leaf basil
- 1 teaspoon dried leaf oregano
- ¼ teaspoon celery seed
- ¼ teaspoon sesame seed
- Paprika

Preparation Time: 5 minutes
Cooking Time: 2¼ to 4¼ minutes

Oven Setting: LOW-WARM (10 percent power); HIGH (100 percent power)

With sharp knife cut bread into 1-inch slices cutting just to, but not through, bottom of loaf.

Place butter or margarine in small glass bowl. Sprinkle with minced garlic. Microwave on LOW/WARM setting 1½ to 2¼ minutes, or until butter is softened. Add all remaining ingredients except sesame seed and paprika, mashing well with fork to blend.

Spread seasoned butter mixture evenly between bread slices, reserving a little to spread over top of loaf. Sprinkle top with sesame seeds, then dust lightly with a little paprika.

Place loaf on microwave-safe serving platter lined with paper towels. Microwave on HIGH setting 1 to 2 minutes, or until loaf is warmed through and butter melted, rotating loaf one-quarter turn every 30 seconds, if necessary.

Serves 4 to 6.

SAUCE TARRAGON

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ½ cup dry white wine
- 2 teaspoons minced fresh tarragon, or 1 teaspoon crumbled dried tarragon
- 1 tablespoon chopped green onion
- ¼ teaspoon each salt and pepper
- 2 egg yolks

Preparation Time: 5 minutes
Cooking Time: About 4 minutes
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power); MEDIUM (50 percent power)

Place butter in 2-cup glass measure. Microwave on HIGH setting about 1 minute, or until melted. Blend in all other ingredients except egg yolks, stirring well. Microwave, uncovered, on HIGH setting 1 minute.

Beat egg yolks with wire whisk and stir in small amount of hot butter sauce, then combine with sauce. Reduce power to MEDIUM and microwave, stirring with wire whisk every 30 seconds, until smooth and heated through, about 2 minutes. Use over steamed vegetables, poached eggs, fish or poultry.

Makes about 1 cup.

Canopies re-create Old World elegance

NEW SPLENDOR — A classic damask design by John Wolf, screen-printed on cotton sateen, has been used in an interesting canopy style to give new splendor to an older four-poster bed.

Q: Now that the children are gone, I feel like indulging myself and redecorating the bedroom in a really sumptuous, comfortable, Old World way.

I have an old four-poster bed that has never been canopied. I am a skilled seamstress, however, and I would like to make a canopy, bed coverings and draperies that look really rich and luxurious.

A: Do you have any ideas or sources for designs? — A.K.

Fabrics can do so much to give you that opulent atmosphere you seek. I suggest looking for fabrics first. A classic damask design, such as the one shown might work well for you. There are many reproductions of classic patterns available currently.

Sources for design ideas are many and varied, as well. Many general books on interior design contain chapters on drapery and bed treatments. There are also books illustrating historic interiors that can give you more ideas. Periodicals, such as Better Homes and Gardens' "Traditional Home" are full of possibilities.

You might be inspired by the fabric you choose to design something yourself. Notice in the photo, for example, how the canopy detailing accents the fabric pattern.

Since you are a skilled seamstress, you might also make your own quilt from the same fabric by machine stitching around the designs for a rich, puffy coverlet. Then, it seems to me, you've earned a lazy breakfast in bed in your glorious new surroundings.

Q: My mother says that she has purchased an antique "Brewster chair" that she wants to bring me. I have a highly contemporary home and though I don't mind the idea of an eclectic addition, I'm just not sure this will look right. What do you think? — N.J.

A: Your mother's purchase could well be an exciting addition to your contemporary home. The American Brewster chair (circa 1650-1675) is rather a refined version of stick furniture with upright spindles both above and below the seat. Its lines are very straight and clean, and it has no elaborate carving, making it a congenial addition to a contemporary environment.

Since it sounds like this is your first antique piece, I wouldn't put it in the entry or even the living room. Try it first by itself at the end of a hallway, or in a bedroom. Give it a place of importance in a smaller or more contained space.

You can make the chair more comfortable in its contemporary surroundings by upholstering its seat in a fabric you've used elsewhere in the room. Or hang a piece of modern art above it. You might find you like the mix and decide to bring other antiques into the household to keep it company.

Your antique sofa is a choice collectible

Q: What can you tell me about this antique walnut sofa; it has been in our family for 100 years and I wonder if it should be covered by extra insurance.

A: This is a Victorian French revival medallion-back sofa and a choice collectible. It would cost at least $1,000 to replace it.

Since most insurance policies limit coverage to $500 per item, it would be advisable to check with your insurance agent.

Q: A few months ago I purchased the Royal Doulton figurine, "Adrienne" for $155. Her dress was blue and she wore a light-green scarf.

Last week I saw another "Adrienne" in a purple dress and yellow scarf. The price was $200.

Can you explain this discrepancy?

A: If you check the number on your figurine, you will find it in HN-2304. It was first made in 1964 and is still in production.

The other "Adrienne" is HN-2152 and was discontinued in 1976.

Discontinued figurines bring higher prices than those in production.

Here are some other examples:

- "Babie" HN-1679 was made first in 1935 and is still in production. It sells for $75. "Babie" HN-1842 was discontinued in 1949 and sells for $200.

- "Blue Beard" HN-75, discontinued in 1938 sells for $4,500. HN-2105 is still in production at $365.

- "Cavaller" HN-369 was discontinued in 1938 and now sells for more than $4,000. The current version, HN-2716 is priced at $200.

Q: I am confused by "Wedgwood" china. Apparently, not everything marked "Wedgwood" is genuine. Can you enlighten me on this matter?

A: In the third-quarter of the 18th century, Josiah Wedgwood founded a factory in Etruria, England. The company is still in business and still owned by the original Wedgwood family.

Genuine Wedgwood china is marked "Wedgwood."

Imitations have been marked "Wedgwood & Co." "Wedg Wood," "Wedgwood," etc.

The longest-surviving imitator was Wedgwood & Co., which was founded by a George Wedgwood in 1796. The company ultimately was taken over by Podmore and Walker of Tunstall. In 1965, the name was changed to "Enoch Wedgwood."

Q: The attached mark is on the bottom of a 45-piece service for eight of Limoges china. Can you tell me who makes it, when, and its current value?

A: Your dinnerware was made by Mavaleix and Granger sometime between 1920 and 1938. It barely qualifies as collectible, but a dealer would probably sell it for about $175 to $225.

Is milk fever very common in dogs?

Q: Our neighbor's dog recently had puppies. Following the whelping, the dog had milk fever. They took the dog to their veterinarian, who treated the dog for several days before sending it home.

What is milk fever? Is it very common?

A: Milk fever, also called eclampsia or puerperal tetany, is a very serious disease that requires immediate veterinary treatment. This disease is often called milk fever because it usually occurs anytime between two weeks prior to and six weeks following whelping.

Milk fever usually occurs in small- to medium-sized bitches with large litters and ample quantities of milk. The onset of eclampsia is rapid and the dog can die within 12 to 24 hours if left untreated.

The signs of eclampsia include rapid breathing, dry mouth, restlessness, nervousness, whining, staggering, uncoordination, leg stiffness and high body temperature. It is not uncommon for the rectal temperature to reach 106 degrees Fahrenheit. The normal rectal temperature of dogs is 100 to 102.5 degrees.

The dog with eclampsia may collapse and be unable to rise, the legs and neck become rigidly extended and there are rapid intermittent twitchings followed by short intervals of relaxation or stiffness of the entire musculature. The spasms increase in severity and intensity until a generalized convulsion occurs.

The cause of milk fever in bitches near whelping is low blood calcium. The increased demand for calcium during pregnancy and lactation causes the blood level of calcium to fall below normal in some bitches.

Treatment of eclampsia is usually successful if started soon after the initial signs are first noticed. Generally, calcium is given, slowly by intravenous infusion to restore the circulating calcium to a normal level. If the dog is experiencing spasms or convulsions, anesthesia is often used as a treatment.

After the bitch has been treated, the puppies can be allowed only limited nursing. Usually, the puppies must be fed a commercially prepared bitch's milk substitute. Puppies old enough to eat solid food should be weaned.

There is no known effective method to prevent eclampsia in all dogs. Therefore it is important to be aware of the early signs so that prompt treatment can be obtained. Most bitches survive milk fever if treated properly.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

This week we are beginning a new month. May was originally the third month under the old Roman calendar, but under our modern calendar it is the fifth month.

It is a beautiful time of year. Generally the weather is warm, the birds have returned to the area, and the trees and bushes are in bloom. It is no wonder that May is sometimes called "the month of flowers!"

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are Caroline Steen and James Watts. Congratulations! You'll be hearing from me soon.

Sporting a top hat and his own tail, Barney was a member of the wedding when my daughter Lori was wed on April 25. As every dog must have its day, Barney had a ball at the reception. He even brought home leftover roast beef in a doggie bag! Here he waits for his chauffeur-driven doggie to take him to the wedding.
