Guest Speaker At Kiwanis Lunch

Mr. Andrew J. Swanson, an Investment Executive with the Garden City office of Faine Webber, Inc. was the guest speaker at the August 5 luncheon meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club.

During his presentation, Mr. Swanson covered many facets of investment procedures in conjunction with pension plans, retirement, stock transfers, reinvestments, long range planning to take advantage of changes in income tax laws, etc. Mr. Swanson illustrated his talk with a flip chart containing numerous graphs and charts. After the presentation, Kiwanis members and guests asked a variety of questions which simplified the interest in the subject matter.

In photo, Kiwanis Program Chairman John Fitzpatrick, on right, is shown presenting Mr. Swanson with a certificate of appreciation for his informative program. (Photo by Greg Widder)

Local Dumping Problem Needs Attention Of All

By Frank Watson
Though it is being cleaned up by the local Water District, the reserve well site on Old Country Road and Plainview Road can only be kept clean by assistance from local residents.

Richard Woodwell, the Hicksville Water District Superintendent, said it is difficult to stop gypsy builders, contractors and other polluters from dumping on the well site without community support.

"If we put up a 10-foot fence just off the road, it would not stop people from dumping there," Woodwell said.

The Water District does not have patrols - that is the responsibility of the police and the Town of Oyster Bay, from whom the Water District has a 99-year lease on the property, he added.

Dumping, like littering, is illegal. According to the Water Pollution Control Board, dumping is only allowed in designated landfill areas and with a permit.

They also noted the difficulty of stopping people. "Somebody dumps, another person sees it and thinks, 'there's a convenient spot,' and the escalation begins."

Woodwell said if local residents see anyone going onto the site to dump, they should call the police.

Marlene Kastleman, the Public Information Officer for the Town of Oyster Bay, said the town does the best it can to stop dumping, but it is still a problem.

"The person has to be caught in the act," Kastleman said, "and that can be difficult." "The police do the best they can but they have other jobs to do also."

The town has added additional patrols to help the situation but their success has not been great, she said.

Kastleman said there are ordinances and fines, and even possible jail sentences—but the people must be caught.

Local residents should call the police at any sign of dumping because the police must catch them. "It would be the resident's word against the dumper," Kastleman said, "and that is hard to prosecute."

It is very difficult to stop, Kastleman said, because "people do this under cover of darkness."

The fines can be several hundred dollars for dumping, though that does not seem to deter people.

The increased tipping fee has caused an increase in dumping, Kastleman said. Private carters limit their removals to three cans and then people have to look elsewhere.

She said the Nassau County Board of Supervisors is working to impose more strict, yet flexible, ordinances so residents could assist in stopping people from dumping.

At the moment, "the best you can do is clean it up as quickly as possible," Kastleman said.

Town Board Schedules Water Hearing Sept. 15

The Oyster Bay Town Board has scheduled a public hearing for Tuesday, September 15, to consider the adoption of a Nassau County water ordinance, according to Town Councilman Howard T. Hogan.

"The Town Board will consider amending the Town's Building Zone Ordinance to incorporate a law recently enacted by the Nassau County Board of Supervisors requiring water recycling equipment for air conditioning and refrigeration units, car washes and fleet maintenance facilities", Hogan said. "The ordinance will set a deadline of June 30, 1989, for the installation of such equipment and establish a schedule of penalties for noncompliance."

The hearing will be held in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, beginning at 10 a.m.

Shooting Arrest In Plainview

A 19 year old Queens man is in custody after he was apprehended for shooting a Plainview man at 6:20 a.m. August 7. The subject is being charged with attempted Murder 2nd, Robbery 1st, Assault 2nd, 2 counts of Burglary 1st degree.

At 5 a.m. officers Andy Schneider and John Corcoran attempted to stop a 1976 Buick which was speeding on Rt. 135 in the vicinity of Old Country Road. The car stopped after leaving the road at the exit of Northern State Parkway. The subject then fled the scene on foot.

Additional officers were called to the scene to assist in the search. A radio check of the vehicle revealed that it was used in a robbery earlier in Queens. During the search the subject allegedly robbed Steven Nitzel of $38 in front of 40 Clearwater Drive, Plainview.

At 6:20 a.m. police were advised that the subject attempted to gain entry into 3 Clearwater Drive and Michael Doe, 24, was injured in his face after the subject fired a shot from a handgun. After being forced out of the house the subject ran to the dwelling and kicked in the door. Once inside he was confronted by the owners Phillip and Audrey Roelke.

Mr. Roelke attempted to hit the subject with a 2x3 board, but missed. The subject grabbed the board from him and struck him about the head and body, then struck Audrey in the head. Phillip was admitted for a possible concussion. Audrey was treated and released.

At 7:20 a.m. officer Schneider observed the subject next to a house at Haypath Dr. and E. Park Drive, armed with a large hunting knife, and confronted him. The officers ordered the subject up and he did so, the subject threatened the officer. The subject was disarmed and subdued by P.O. Schneider and assisting officers. One of the officers sustained a minor injury. He was treated and released at Central General Hospital.

While the defendant was being transported to the 8th Pct. the police vehicle was struck by another auto on Old Country Rd. and Gerhard Rd., Plainview. Two officers sustained minor injuries. The subject was then placed in another vehicle and taken to the precinct.

After investigation it was determined that the suspect was involved in an accident on Rt. 135 prior to the time he was first observed by police. A 1985 Toyota, operated by Jason Pak of 154 Mineola Blvd., Mineola was forced off the road and overturned 1/4 mile north of Old Country Rd. Pak suffered minor injuries and was treated and released at Central General for lacerations.

Police arrested the suspect, Caesar Thomas, 19, of 130-40 232nd St., Laurelton.

Flag Change Honors Marine

Effective July 27, 1987, the Burial Flag of Major Gregory Brouseaux, U.S. Marine Corps, WWII, is flying on the Kennedy Memorial Flag Pole.

Truck Driver Subject Of Harrasment

The 3rd Sqd. reports an incident that began August 6 in Westbury at 5:40 p.m. and terminated in Hicksville, concerning the Pepsi strike.

A truck left the Pepsi yard on East Gate Blvd., Garden City, with James Douglas, Dayton, Ohio, Eric Hildge, Chicago, Illinois, and Howard Ellis of Gloucester City, New Jersey, on board.

While on Old Country Rd., Westbury, they stopped to close the rear doors. At this time, three male whites in a yellow Toyota that was behind the truck, exited the car and began banging on the truck with baseball bats. They drove away, and then stopped the truck a few blocks later. They exited the truck, and the yellow Toyota pulled up to the rear.

They got back into the truck and drove to the Hicksville Motor Lodge, Hicksville, where they stopped and ran from same. The subjects in the Toyota followed, and once again began banging on the truck with bats. Damage to the truck is estimated at $500.

Editor's Notebook

There's a nationwide plan in progress to celebrate the 200th anniversary of the U.S. Constitution by ringing bells at 4 p.m. on September 17. Houses of worship, towns, villages and individuals are being encouraged to ring the bells 200 times exactly at 4 p.m. followed by 200 seconds of silence. The announcement was made by the Commission on the Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution headed by former Chief Justice Warren Berger. Locally the Nassau County Bar Association is circulating a "Living Constitution" where people are asked to write one word of the document. When it is completed it will be dedicated and framed for hanging at the Court House in Mineola on the 17th. These events sound like great school activities and we'll certainly be looking forward to hearing more about it.

There oughta be a law! Against people who hold garage sales and deface public property with announcements but never remove them when the sale is over!...And against people who deposit their trash at curbside on a Saturday or Sunday for a Monday pickup! Both these acts are inconsiderate and show no respect for neighbors or the community.

Water Districts are congratulating residents for abiding with the recent water conservation regulations but Mother Nature has had her hand in it too. The rains have certainly been timely this summer! V.P.

In Memoriam

Frank Geslak

Frank Geslak of Hicksville died on August 7. Husband of the late Frances, grandfather of Michael and David Geslak, Maureen Rogers and Terry Santora. Brother of Julia Pasterkiewicz and Mary Sidoriski. Funeral services were under the direction of Henry J. Stock Funeral Home, Hicksville. A Mass of Christian Burial was held at St. Ignatius R.C. Church with interment at Holy Rood Cemetery, Westbury.

Harold Braun

Harold Braun, 68, of Royal Palm Beach, Florida, formerly of Plainview for 45 years. He is survived by his wife Dorothy F.; sons Professor David W.; Dr. Elliot J. and Dr. Bandell L.; and sister Frances Kraut. He also leaves three grandchildren. Services were held August 6 at Menorah Gardens & Funeral Chapel, West Palm Beach, Florida.

Smoke Poisoning After Local Fire

A 40 year old Hicksville man is in critical condition from smoke inhalation at NCMC, stemming from a fire that occurred August 7, at his 2nd floor apartment at 21 Broadway, Hicksville. The apartment is over Portfolio Haircutters, of the same address.

Joseph Denton, a cardiac patient, apparently boiled water on the stove, and allowed it to boil away, causing a severe smoke condition, and eventually, a fire in the kitchen. Officer Nicholas D'Agostino of the second Pct., on routine patrol, observed the smoke and requested the fire department and further police assistance.

With two Hicksville Firemen and two officers from the second Pct., officer D'Agostino rescued Mr. Denton from his apartment. The fire was extinguished in 15 minutes, causing extensive damage to the kitchen.

Mr. Denton's critical condition is related to his cardiac problem and extensive smoke inhalation. He was not burned in the fire. The fire was accidental, and there is no further investigation at this time.

Two Teens Hurt In Stolen Car

Two 15 year old Plainview teens are currently in intensive care at Central General Hospital in Plainview, after the stolen car they were driving struck a tree in Plainview, at 5:10 p.m. August 3.

The youths apparently took a 1986 Mazda from the Hicksville RR Station at 2:30 p.m., and drove it around all afternoon. At the intersection of Lever Place and Warren Place, the car left the roadway and struck a tree.

The driver is suffering from internal injuries, and the passenger is suffering from head injuries. Both will appear at Family Court for Unauthorized Use, when their medical conditions permit.

Diabetes Program Scheduled Aug. 20

One of the most difficult problems for people with a chronic illness is motivating themselves to follow their physicians' instructions, particularly when it means they must alter their lifestyle. For those who have diabetes, the problem is compounded since the disease requires so many aspects of their lives to be regularly monitored.

To assist diabetics and their families in maintaining a healthy regimen, The Community Hospital at Glen Cove is sponsoring an outreach program, call "Tips for Sticking to Your Diabetes Management: How to Stay Motivated." The program is scheduled for Thursday, August 20, from 7 to 9 p.m. The moderator will be Tharakaram Ravishanker, M.D. Dr. Ravishanker is the medical director of The Diabetes Center at The Community Hospital at Glen Cove. Featured speakers will be certified diabetes educator Janice Kiernan, R.N., and registered dietitian Janice McCabe, R.D.

"Knowledge is the key to enabling diabetics to handle the management of their illness", states Ms. Kiernan, who is the diabetes nurse educator at The Diabetes Center. "Once you have a clear understanding of diabetes and how it affects you physically and mentally, it becomes easier to accept the restrictions the disease places on your life. In addition, there are ways you can motivate yourself to keep to your management routine."

The program, which will take place in Community Hospital's Pratt Auditorium, is free, but reservations are requested. Those interested in attending should call 676-5000. ext. 3001. Refreshments appropriate to diabetic diets will be served

Jazz Band At Comm. Park

A performance by the Great South Dixieland Jazz Band and the vocal group The Swing Syndicate will highlight the final week of "Music Under the Stars", for Syosset-Woodbury Community Park District residents, according to Town Councilman Douglas J. Hynes.

The program will take place on Wednesday, August 19, at the community park beginning at 8:15 p.m. In the event of rain, the performance will be held in the auditorium of St. Edward's Church, Telbrook Avenue.

"The Great South Dixieland Jazz Band has been performing for the past 12 years under the leadership of Mike Carubia", Hynes said. "Aside from a two-week engagement in Atlantic City several years ago, the group's appearances have been primarily in the Long Island-New York City area. This year's concert is a tribute to Tommy Dorsey's music and his Clambake Seven Dixieland Band.

"The Swing Syndicate has been performing throughout the New York metro area since 1980, appearing with bands led by such luminaries as Peter Duchin, Mel Davis, Frank Cappy and Bob Cleveland," Hynes stated. "The group has made numerous appearances on television and radio and was featured with Bob Hope aboard the USS Intrepid."

'Cabaret' Planned For Weekend Perf.

The Plainview-Bethpage Lions Club will present performances of "Cabaret" on August 7, 8 and August 14, and 15, at the JFK High School, located on Kennedy Drive in Plainview. Showtime for all dates is 8 p.m. Regular admission tickets are $5; Sr. Citizens and children will be admitted for a low cost of $3.

The Lions' philosophy is one of dedication and service to the community. The group will donate all proceeds from the theatre performances to the Empire State Speech and Hearing Clinic, as well as a needy family in the Plainview-Bethpage area.

Music for "Cabaret" was written by John Kander with lyrics by F. Ebb. The musical is based on the play by John Van Drutan and stories by Christopher Isherwood. For further information contact Lions Club president Steven Lesetz at 293-7534 or 752-7070. His business number is 333-2640.

Benefit Softball Game Scheduled

Richard Crusius of the Syosset branch of Citibank Long Island and Syosset resident Bruce Warshawsky of Covidea will be joining their respective teammates to play a benefit softball game on Sunday, August 9, at Cantlague Park in Hicksville, Field #2 at 7 p.m.

Citibank Long Island and Covidea are matching funds contributed by their employees for the benefit of Nassau Children's House, a Mineola based child care agency serving Long Island's homeless, neglected or abused children and young adults who have no other place to go.

The Hicksville Water District's reserve well site property between Old Country Road and Plainview Road is beginning to fall victim to unlawful dumpers. Commissioners don't have much time to fence off access areas before the refuse of gypsy contractors gets worse.

Our Children

By Willard Abraham, Ph.D.

She wants children, husband doesn't

Q. Before we were married my future husband agreed that having children was definitely on our agenda. I haven't changed my mind, but he has, or perhaps I am now getting the truth from him.

He is strongly opposed to having a family because he feels it costs too much over the years and will interfere with his freedom to travel, spend time with friends, and go out evenings.

We have been married for five years, and I'm getting nowhere with him.

Can you help me out?

A. He apparently recognizes only the possible limitations of parenthood and none of its joys. He isn't aware, for example, of how much pride most parents take in the achievements of their children in comparison with their own satisfaction, the unique love that evolves, the pleasures of companionship with them, and so many other elements of sheer happiness that parenthood can bring.

You may need the help of a skilled family counselor. Perhaps through friends or the counseling department of your school district you can obtain some recommendations of that kind of individual. I hope your husband will go along with you on this route. It may be the best way to help change his priorities and adjust his hedonistic tendencies. It might not work but it seems to be worth trying.

Our Children

Q. Our 2-year-old is so immature that...

A. This is the first letter in a long time that I really didn't want to finish reading! (I stuck with it perhaps because of curiosity, just to see whether it continued in that vein, and my first reaction was correct. It did.)

If a child can't be "immature" at the age of 2, when can he or she demonstrate such tendencies in an acceptable way? It's a strange use of the word, isn't it?

Q. I recently was browsing through our small county newspaper and ran across your column with the heading, "A Case of Parent Abuse."

I assumed this was another sad case of an elderly parent being neglected or mistreated by his or her adult children. To my amazement the abusive children in question were 9- and 10-year-olds.

Granted, this woman has a problem, but have you ever heard of "blaming the victim"? It is insane to condemn these children for behaving in a way that they've been allowed to behave.

This woman's problem is of her own making, but she's lost all insight into her children's true needs. Thank goodness, she has considered counseling and is not eliminating herself from the benefits a counselor can offer the entire family.

What puzzles me is that you labeled this situation as "parent abuse." By doing this you belittle the true extent of the horrors of real abuse. "Child abuse" is very real and unfortunately is rampant in all communities and among all socioeconomic groups.

Don't tell me of some woman with typical pre-teenage difficulties when physical and sexual abuse of infants and children of all ages is going undetected and unprotected all around us!

Take a closer look, Buddy!

A. I have sent you a full copy of my column to which you referred as it was distributed to newspapers around the country. Local newspapers generally add their own headlines, the one that included "Parent Abuse" wasn't in the copy I wrote. You'll note that the actual headline provided with the column as distributed was "Slavery went out more than a century ago!"

My reply was based on the 18- and 21-year-olds to which the original letter writer referred, not to 9- and 10-year-olds you mentioned. Her children were running her ragged by making her a constant built-in baby sitter for the infant of the 21-year-old daughter who had moved back home, having to pick up after them and the 18-year-old son, washing, ironing and cooking for all of them, and feeling like a slave.

My response concentrated, in part, on the need for a well-planned family meeting to work out shared responsibilities.

I agree with you that child abuse is extremely serious, have written about it many times in my column, and no doubt will again. But abusive behavior toward parents is serious too.

Instead of looking for a place to put the blame, it seems better to me to help seek solutions.

Reduced Milk Prices For Students

Bethpage School District announced a free and reduced price meal & free milk policy for Bethpage school children.

Local school officials have adopted the following family eligibility criteria to assist them in determining eligibility:

Food Stamp /AFDC/ADC Households: Households currently receiving Food Stamps - or "Aid to Families with Dependent Children" or "Aid to Dependent Children" only have to list their child's name and food stamp or AFDC or ADC case number, print their name and address, and sign the application.

Other Households: With incomes at or below the amount of money listed above for their family size may be eligible for and are urged to apply for free and/or reduced price meals (or free milk). They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year to School Nurse. If a family member becomes unemployed, if the family size decreases, or if your family income increases by more than $50 per month, or $600 per year, the family must contact the school to file a new application. The form requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

The school district does, however, have the right to verify at any time during the school year the information on the application. If a parent does not give the school this information, the child/children will no longer be able to receive free or reduced price meals & free milk.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. A family may wish to apply for meals & milk for them and should contact the school.

Under the provisions of the policy, the designated official will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the designated official, he/she may make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision.

Ronald J. Gossow Assistant Superintendent for Business, Cherry Ave., Bethpage, N.Y. 11714, has been designated as the Hearing Official. Hearing procedures are outlined in the policy. However, prior to initiating the hearing procedure, the parent or School Food Authority may request a conference to provide an opportunity for the parent and official to discuss the situation, present information, and obtain an explanation of the data submitted in the application or the decisions rendered. The request for a conference shall not in any way prejudice or diminish the right to a fair hearing.

All questions on the application must be answered completely for the application to be considered by the school district for approval. In addition, the parent or guardian must sign the application form, certifying the information is true and correct.

In the operation of child feeding programs, no child shall be discriminated against because of his race, sex, color, national origin, age, or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

A complete copy of this policy is on file in the office of the School Food Authority District Administrator where it may be reviewed by any interested persons.

Please Note: This notice must be sent to the local media at the beginning of each school year.

The school or district may request the media to print the entire notice. The media are not required to print any of the notice. The school or district must maintain on file a copy of the letter to the media and the article (if printed). The school or district should not pay to have this notice printed.

Clan Gathers For Ofenloch Reunion

John and Mercedes Ofenloch, Qutan, Modard and Alice Ofenloch, Bill and Gwendolyn Ofenloch, Murphy, Anselm Ofenloch, Bernadette Ofenloch Hoffman, Hubert Ofenloch and Phil and Eits Ofenloch Schlosser.

Twenty-eight of the 36 grandchildren.

On Sunday, July 26, the descendants of Margaret and Joseph Ofenloch gathered for a long overdue "family reunion", due to the untiring effort and organizing of Cathleen (Ofenloch) Gensinger. Some of the cousins hadn't seen one another for close to 30 years.

Mr. Ofenloch owned and operated the Hicksville Blacksmith Shop until the decline of the horse and buggy, when he began to build truck bodies. The family owned and farmed land in Hicksville, Syosset and Laurel Hollow in the early 1900's.

Joe and Maggie, as they were lovingly known, bore 11 children. The family has now expanded to 36 grandchildren and 37 great-grandchildren. Nearly all the family gathered with their spouses, bringing the total to over 100.

The group, many of whom came from distant states, met at Catiague Park in Hicksville, until the skies opened up. The clan (not to be discouraged) soon relocated the party to Vinny and Patricia (Ofenloch) Longo's home on Libby Avenue, where all reminisced of yesteryear and a grand time was had by all.

The family is already looking forward to its next reunion planned for the summer of '89'.

Comm. Church Sunday Sermon

Pastor Jean Butler, Associate Pastor at the Community Church of Syosset, preached a sermon entitled "This Is The Temple of The Lord" at the 9:30 a.m. service on Sunday, August 9. She reflected on the central theme of "The Temple" as interpreted in 1 Kings 8:22-29, Ephesians 2:19-22 and Matthew 5:23-24.

A Temple is first a House of God, where "we feel God comes to meet us". It is also "His (Jesus) own Body...the new sign of God's presence among us...the Body of Christ". But, Pastor Butler reminded us, a Temple is also a Living Temple - the people of God. We "are a Sacred Tabernacle where the Trinity is tented". In conclusion, she asserted that a Temple can be desecrated by those same people, if they fail to love and care about others.

Next Sunday, August 16, the 9:30 a.m. summer service will be led by Pastor Butler, whose topic will be "The Trinity - Toy For Theologians?" The community is warmly invited to join with the congregation for the service and the Coffee Hour under the trees. The Community Church is located at 36 Church St., Syosset. For further information, please call 921-2240.

Tuesday, August 18, at 8 p.m., the Hicksville Public Library will present a Slide/Talk "England's Countryside".

Travel along the back roads of southeast England with Melvin C. Brenner. He and a companion cycled their way through small towns, spoke to local people and had high tea at charming inns.

They did not follow a specific itinerary, but took roads that struck their fancy and found lodgings wherever they were at the end of the day.

This program is free and all are welcome.

The Class of 1991 is the most qualified ever to enroll at Geneseo. More than 8,350 high school students applied for admission, the largest number in College history.

Geneseo is rated among the top colleges in the country, in terms of selection standards. The College is listed in most selective college guides and was cited by "Money" magazine as one of the country's 10 "up-and-coming" public colleges.

Area students who will enroll at Geneseo include:

Susan Russo Glattari, 115 Tenth St., Hicksville, Hicksville High School, Scott Jersey Levy, 12 Linda Lane, Plainview, John F. Kennedy High School, Thomas Gerard Kenny, 23 Gabies Drive, Hicksville, Hicksville High School, Amy E. Ring, 4 Helen Ave., Plainview, John F. Kennedy High School.

 HICKSVILLE

Airman 1st Class Richard D. Resnik, son of Elaine Resnik of 60 Autumn Lane, Hicksville, and Jerry Resnik of 1847 Half Hollow Road, Dix Hills, has graduated from Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the community college of the Air Force.

He is a 1985 graduate of Long Beach High School.

Nassau County District Attorney Denis Dillon welcomes Dick Tseng of Flatview to the District Attorney's Office. Tseng is working as a summer intern in District Attorney Dillon's office and attends the State University of New York at Stony Brook. The interns work with Assistant District Attorneys in prosecuting criminal cases in Nassau County.

Price-Warren Wedding

On Saturday evening, July 11, at the Sand at Lido Beach, Shari Alyse Price and Robert John Warren exchanged wedding vows.

Robyn Price was her sister's Maid of Honor and John Sellner was Best Man for his brother. The couple were also attended by bridesmaids, Mary Warren, Andrea Flayton and Kelly Black and ushers, Mike Walton, Jeff Schuck and Chris Moskos.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Price of Westbury, is a graduate of Hickville High School and Cobleskill College, and is now employed as office manager at Bill's Towing in Hickville.

The groom, son of Mrs. Helen Warren and the late Frank Warren is also a graduate of Hickville High School, and is employed at Bensin Contractors.

After a honeymoon trip to Hawaii the couple will reside in Farmingville.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warren

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Q: I plan to retire in November when I reach age 65.

I came from Mexico in 1950 and have since become an American citizen. I have worked continuously since 1950. What must I do to apply for benefits? — J.C.M.

A: You must submit proof of age. You should write to Mexico for your birth record if you do not already have it in your possession. In addition, you should submit your W-2 (Wage and Tax Statement) for last year.

To file a claim, telephone your local Social Security office two or three months before your 65th birthday. Do not delay filing if you don't have the necessary proofs. The office will assist you.

Q: Both of my small children had Social Security cards. However, I've misplaced the cards and have been unable to find them. What should I do? M.E.M.

A: Since they already have been issued Social Security numbers, you should file for replacement cards. Contact your local Social Security office and request an application for Social Security Number Card (Form SS-5). You must furnish evidence of identity for your children such as day-care or nursery school record or clinic, doctor or hospital record.

A parent who visits a Social Security office to apply for a child must provide proof of his or her identity as well as that of the child. Call your local Social Security office for additional information.

Q: My husband had a stroke recently and won't be able to work for a long time. He wants to file for Social Security disability benefits but we were told he has to wait five months. Is this true? — L.B.C.

A: He should apply as soon as possible because it takes some time to evaluate all the medical evidence and to process his application. If your husband is found eligible, the first payment will be the sixth full month of disability. There is a five-month waiting period before payment begins.

K/C Summer Bowling League

Heading into the last third of the season of The Joseph Gorman Knights of Columbus Mixed Bowling League, The Knight Strikers (Bob and Jonell DePoto, Dick and Dorothy Gullani) have a firm hold on first place. The King Pins (Dick and Peg Furlong, Bob and Eileen Shigo) are tied with the "4" Fun (Ed and Pat Ensley, Joan Oglivie and John McInerney) are tied for second place closely followed by The Winners (John and Ann Piro, Henry and Terry Matchut) in third place.

Bob DePoto has moved into first place for high average (171), but Bob Foster and Pete Petti are right on his heels with 170 averages. Dick Furlong's high series of 613 is still tops and Bob Foster's high game of 247 is still standing up. Joan Oglivie leads the ladies with a high average of 165, but Jean Schier (160) and Dot Cominsky (159) are all within striking distance. Chris Petti's high series of 588 has not been challenged, nor her high game of 241.

The Four Aces (Walter and Dot Cominsky, Bill and Jean Schier) have both the high team scratch series (1970) and the high team game of 713 scratch. High game handicap is held by The Wapples (Ed Mikelinich, Joan Gaynor, Cliff Mackey and John Galasso) when they rolled a 723.

High games for the week were rolled by Bob Foster 233, Ed Lauth 199, Chris Petti 190 and Pat Foster 188.

NOTICE
HAVE YOU A HIDDEN TALENT that has yet to be discovered in print?

We are looking for articles, not exceeding 3,000 words, on local topics, opinions, ideas, nice places to visit on Long Island, and even fiction. In our magazine section, we will try to "Discover" one new feature length article and writer per week. Each writer will be reimbursed a stipend of $25.00.

If you want to be published and be part of an issue of Discovery, you may submit your article to: Litmor Publications, 81 East Barclay Street, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond, taking his cue from Dean Karahalla, director of the Concert Pops of Long Island, taps out a beat on the drum as Kenneth Soper plays a tune on the French horn. The Concert Pops gave a performance at Bethpage Community Park recently as part of the "Music Under the Stars" series sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Department of Community Services. The program was co-sponsored by the Realyn Savings Bank, represented here by assistant vice president Anna Chiusano.

The Syosset team competed in the 1978 Girls Division of the Citibank/Brentwood Soccer Club Tournament recently. According to Frank Pelliccione, Tournament Director and Citibank Assistant Vice President, more than 3,000 girls and boys 5 to 15 years old representing 176 intramural Long Island soccer teams competed in the games.

Oyster Bay Town Councilmen Angelo A. Delligatti, second from left, Kenneth S. Diamond, center and John Venditto, right, try their hands at being rock and roll singers as they join The Belmonts for their warm up prior to the group's recent appearance at Syosset-Woodbury Community Park. The concert, which also featured Shirley Alston Reeves, was another in the "Music Under the Stars" series sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Department of Community Services.

Soccer Regis. Forms Available

The Syosset Soccer Club is now accepting applications for its 1987-88 season. Mail Tips From Hicksville P.O.

"You won't lose touch or lose time when you move if you take advantage of the Change of Address Kit provided free by the Postal Service," says Roger Niesaber, General Manager/Postmaster of the Hicksville Division.

The filing of a Change of Address card at your local post office will generate the mailing of a Change of Address Kit to your new home. This is a program to provide better service to our customers who move.

The Postal Service will forward your First Class Mail for 12 months and second class, such as magazines and newsletters, for 60 days.

We provide address correction information only for those mailers who request this service.

It is up to our postal customer to notify all their correspondents and publishers of their new address. Inside the cover of every magazine you'll find instructions for filing and address correction.

Inside the Change of Address Kit you will find nine Change of Address cards (Form 3576) for customers to directly notify their correspondents of their new address.

Greek Festival Planned In Sept.

The Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church of Hicksville, will hold its annual Festival on September 11, 12, and 13. The event will take place on the Church grounds located on Field Ave. south of Old Country Road and west of South Oyster Bay Road, in Hicksville.

Visit and enjoy the delicious food and pastries of Greece. Sip its delicious wines. Have fun playing the games. Browse through our boutique, containing jewelry, crafts, records, etc. Most of all share the spirit of being Greek through our music and dance. Performing throughout the Festival will be the Hellenic Dancers of Hicksville. This group is comprised of children from ages six to eighteen, all of whom are members of the Holy Trinity Community. They have performed on television, at Eisenhower Park, the Nassau Coliseum and the Statue of Liberty.

Remember, September 11, 12, and 13. Admission is free. Come dance with us.

Speedy Reading Can Win Prize

All Hicksville Young Adults in grades 7 and up are welcome to join the Hicksville Public Library Reading Club. "Read to the Best."

Read 3 books (from the Hicksville Public Library or Bookmobile) before August 15, and write a brief summary on a special form available at the Library or Bookmobile. Hand the summary into the Young Adult Desk and ask for a ticket (3 tickets needed) to the Folk Concert and Ice Cream Party.

The Folk Concert featuring Patricia Shih and Ice Cream Party will be held August 27 at 7:30 p.m. There will be hamburger coupons for all, free gift, "Read to the Best" certificates and a drawing for 4 grand prizes.

P.O.B. Library August Schedule

On Friday and Saturday, August 14 and 15 at 8:30 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be presenting War, Sex And Death: An Evening of Three Comic One-Act Plays.

War - "Next by Terrance McNally.

If "war is hell," what could be worse? Any army draft physical. Remember the personal questions? Remember the prodding, the probing, the poking?

Remember the impersonal treatment by a lady medic? No! Re-experience one of life's worst ordeals as additional problems between the reluctant examinee and the female examiner make national war a preferable situation.

Sex "Dracula's Blind Date" by Frank Scoblete

"Vengeance is sweet...and so is your blood" should be Dracula's "line" as he preys upon the past of the Van Helsing's after a one hundred year snooze. However, getting your blind date to "succumb" to your charms is our suspicious world becomes a formidable task for the sensuous Master of the Night. Besides death and taxes, some things never change...they only get worse.

Trinity Lutheran Regis. Nears

Noted for its excellence in education for over 30 years, Trinity Lutheran School, 40 W. Nicholas Street, Hicksville, wants to once again invite parents to consider it as an alternative for their children. Currently less than half of the 500 children who attend Trinity come from its parish.

"Trinity Lutheran School seeks to serve the entire community. A person need not be a member of our parish or even a Lutheran Christian to attend. Our parish and school want to enhance the lives of all of God's people in the Mid Island community. We are delighted to share our love and our best efforts to provide a quality Christ-centered education for all of His children," noted Dr. John H. Krahn, Trinity's pastor.

Although Trinity's Nursery School and Full-Day Kindergarten are filled to capacity, there are a few openings in grades 1-8. For more information call the school office 931-2211.

Hebrew Program Now Available

ORANIM, a special enrichment program for children of Israeli parents, will again be offered at the Mid-Island YM-YWHA in Plainview.

This program of workshops will provide enrichment in experiences and culture for children of Israeli parents who are residents in the area. All classes will be conducted in Hebrew.

ORANIM, with activities scheduled on afternoons after school and Sunday mornings, will run from October into May.

The Board of Jewish Education of New York will serve as educational consultant.

To be placed on a mailing list for detailed information on this program contact the Mid-Island Y, 45 Manetto Hill Road, Plainview, New York 11803 (516) 822-3535.

Death "Death Knocks" ... Woody Allen

So there's this garment district guy whose time has come but he's so used to wheeling and dealing that he decides to "make a little business" with the ultimate consumer...Death. All negotiations hinge on a critical deal of...gin rummy. But, if Death doesn't knock first, will it knock again?

On Wednesday, August 19 at 3 and 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be showing the film "Out of Africa" starring Meryl Streep, Robert Redford and Klaus Maria Brandauer.

A beautiful love story, directed by Sydney Pollack, "Out of Africa," which takes place on a Kenyan coffee farm in the early part of this century, is an eloquent, splendidly photographed memoir of (Streep's) love affair with an elusive, free spirited pioneer (Redford). It is a very personal and unique story as well as precise and knowing look at different cultures.

This film runs 150 minutes and is rated PG.

On Wednesday, August 26 at 7:30 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be holding a Board of Trustees Meeting.

The public is invited.

Wimbledon Champ Pat Cash.

World's Best At Local Tennis Game

Ivan Lendl, the world's top tennis player, will defend his title at the Norstar Bank Hamlet Challenge Cup presented by Chrysler-Plymouth for the third consecutive year. The 16-man, $150,000 event returns to The Hamlet East in Jericho, from August 25-30.

Lendl faces a possible rematch with 1987 Wimbledon champion Pat Cash. If the two players meet, they will play on the same hard court surface, Deco-Turf II, with the same ball and under similar evening lighting conditions as are featured at the Open.

Lendl is the defending U.S. Open champion. He has held the title for the past two years. Lendl has captured a total of five career Grand Slam singles titles. He has been ranked number 1 in the world since September 1985 and has earned over $10 million in career prize money.

Cash won the U.S. Open and Wimbledon boys championships in 1982. He led the Australian Davis Cup team to victory in 1983. In 1984, Cash achieved a ranking of number 8 after reaching the semi-finals in the U.S. Open and Wimbledon and the quarterfinals of the Australian Open. Between 1985 and 1986 back and knee injuries prevented Cash from playing a full schedule of tournaments and his ranking dropped to number 413. With his recent Wimbledon victory, Cash has returned to the top ten in the world rankings.

"The Hamlet East community is proud to host 16 of the world's top tennis players at the Norstar Bank Hamlet Challenge Cup," said tournament director Wendy Parr. "This is the tournament's sixth anniversary and its success is a result of the tremendous support of the Long Island community."

Tickets for the Norstar Bank Hamlet Challenge Cup are available by calling TicketMaster at 516 888-9000 or by calling the tournament office at 516 932-1212. Loge and grandstand seats ranging in price from $10-$25 are available. Matches will be held August 25 and 26 at 6:30 p.m., August 27 and 28 at noon and 6:30 p.m., August 29 at 1 p.m. and August 30 at 4 p.m.

Hicksville Swimmers Score At Empire Games

The three swimmers from Hicksville who represented Long Island at the Empire State Games scored points for the team in the state-wide competition held at Syracuse.

Kristin Mund was the winner of two gold medals for individual events and a bronze medal winner for the 800 free relay. She won the 100 fly in a very close finish. In the 200 fly, she placed sixth in the trials, returning with a swim that dropped thirteen seconds, and won the event by a wide margin.

Lorna Mund attended the games despite injuries sustained in an accident in which she was hit by a car. She swam respectable times, placing fourth in the 100 back with her season's best. She also scored with a fifth finish in the 200 back.

Scott Epstein was a scorer in the breaststroke. He placed sixth in the 200 breast scoring points for Long Island. Scott, who will be a senior in the Fall, also swam the 100 breast with his best time of the summer.

Local Mer In G.S. Golf Tourney

Waiting to tee off at the annual "Go for the Green" golf tournament, sponsored by the Girl Scouts of Nassau County, at the Brookville Country Club recently, are:

Frank Jones and Kevin Murphy of Hicksville.

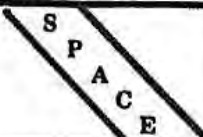

Proceeds from the tournament go toward the development and expansion of contemporary programs to help 18,000 Girl Scouts in Nassau County learn how to meet the challenges of a changing society, and face the future with confidence.

FIXED RATES (below FNMA maximums and within FNMA guidelines)			CAPPED ADJUSTABLE RATE (loans up to $350,000)
10-YEAR	15-YEAR	30-YEAR	1-YEAR
9.50% annual rate	10.00% annual rate	10.50% annual rate	7.00% annual rate
9.98% annual percentage rate	10.36% annual percentage rate	10.75% annual percentage rate	10.54% annual percentage rate

Quoted rates are for self-liquidating, "full income verification" loans with a minimum down payment of 25% of appraised value on 1- to 4-family homes. The annual percentage rates include origination and placement fees. The Bank sets the interest rates on loans at the time of commitment (for a 90-day period), not at the time of application. The rates contained in this advertisement may change while an application is being processed, and may not be available at the time of commitment.

Repayment terms for 10-year (15-year and 30-year) fixed rate loans at the stated rates would be 120 (180 and 360) monthly payments of $12.94 ($10.75 and $9.15) per $1,000 borrowed.

Adjustable rate shown is a below-market introductory annual rate for the first year only. The annual percentage rate is based on the current value of "The Green Point's" Index Interest Rate (currently 11.00%) which is subject to change. The annual rate will not change more than 2% per year (up or down) and, over the life of the loan, will not vary (increase or decrease) more than 3% from the Index Interest Rate in effect at the time the loan is closed.

Ask for rates and terms on "no income verification" loans and on fixed-rate loans above FNMA maximums (up to $350,000).

Differing Opinions Concerning Aid To Contras

Callers to Input had mixed ideas on whether the U.S. should continue to fund the contras in answer to this question: "Do you think Congress should continue funding the contras in Nicaragua after the current appropriation runs out in September?" Here are some of the answers:

MORE WAR

Funding for the contras must be stopped. More money for them just means more war, more destruction and more lives lost. We must not forget that the so-called freedom fighters killed an unarmed American engineer, have burned down schools and hospitals, and massacred civilians - all with U.S. money. No more funding for them. B.G.

NO FREEDOM

I am against Congress funding the contras. These so-called freedom fighters (as Reagan calls them) are murderers of innocent women and children and the U.S. government should not supply money or weapons to the contras. A.G.

FORCING COMMUNISTS

By continuing to fund the contras, we are forcing the Sandinista government to seek help from the Soviets who are more than willing to contribute as much modern military equipment as it takes to keep the contras from ever winning that war. On top of that, the surrounding Central American countries have become more and more reluctant in allowing military sanction to the contras. The obvious alternative is for our government to go along with the current peace efforts being put forth by the Latin countries meeting in Guatemala. Even though President Ortega has shown a willingness to expell all foreign military advisors if we stop funding the contras, President Reagan has sabotaged those peace efforts by demanding nothing less than the overthrow of the Sandinista government. Considering that Cuba, in 25 years, has failed to convert any of its neighbors to Communism, I doubt that the likes of Nicaragua can be considered a threat to us or its neighbors. C.E.

THE QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Should school districts ban smoking by students?

SHOULD CONTINUE

I think Congress should continue funding the contras after the current appropriation runs out in September. I think that on a very basic level, regardless of any impact the Iran-contras hearings have had upon citizens of America, the United States commoners generally feel that they have freedom, they live in a democracy and they like to see other people have the same sort of success. A lot of times they feel they have a devout responsibility to help these people. Currently, the U.S. is funding the contra rebels and what they are trying to do is achieve a democratic state in a now Communist country. The problem is that Nicaragua is a Soviet military base. The question remains whether it is the responsibility of the United States to fight the threat of Communism. Many people feel that we can't get involved in these covert operations. The real question is that even though the contra war in Nicaragua doesn't look as fortunate as other anti-Communist struggles around the world, it represents a major U.S. motive that we're all for freedom, we're all for democracy, and we do not-repeat-do not bow under any pressure of Communist pushing. R.J.H.

SELF-INITIATIVE

After all we've been through, fighting for appropriations for the Nicaragua contras, as well as the recent Congressional investigation, I am really puzzled as to the direction we should take in this regard. What bothers me is that the whole issue has turned into a political football and "don't bother me with logic." It should be obvious to anyone that the Soviets are dumping great quantities of military equipment and arms into Nicaragua and it seems equally clear that we are not far from the same kind of showdown we had with Castro during the J.F.K. presidency. In this case, President Ortega, recognizing our own internal lack of a unified approach, is trying to play one side against the other for his own advantage. There is little doubt in my mind that the Nicaraguan situation is ripe for a conflagration of some kind if we don't strive for a sensible solution in the interests of the peace-loving nations of Central America. Arriving at a joint U.S.A.-Nicaragua agreement is definitely not the way to go and Schultz was right in taking that position. On the other hand, until we could learn more about the situation as a result of a meeting of Central American leaders (possibly including participation by the United States), it solves nothing to continue to pour funds unconditionally into the hands of the contras. Even on a conditional basis, we would then have taken irrevocable sides with the contras whereas our main objective, under any circumstances, should be to try to reach a solution whereby the Sandinistas take necessary steps on their part to bring about political change within the government providing a sound opportunity for the establishment of a really democratic process. P.G.S.

TOO CLOSE

Yes, I do think Congress should keep funding the contras in Nicaragua. This country is too close to us for us to stand by and have the Communists get a foothold there. If this is not checked, there will be another Cuba. Such strength will bring us double trouble and we've got to keep trying to establish a democracy in this hemisphere. K.S.

CONGRESS IRRESPONSIBLE

I think that Congress should continue funding the contras. If pressure is not put on the Sandinistas now, they will solidify their power and threaten the rest of Central America. I think Congress has been very irresponsible in this matter. L.C.

NOT RATIONAL

There is absolutely no rational basis for continuing to fund the contras. They are a militia, no matter how you view them. After years of fighting the Sandinistas, the contras have seized no territory and after killing civilians indiscriminately have gained only the enmity of the population. When the former contra head quit the movement, he publicly announced the contras could not succeed. What sort of folly is it for us to contradict former contra leader Gomez? He was certainly in the thick of fighting. Many will argue that we must support the contras to defend ourselves against Communism. All well and good, but what sort of threat does Nicaragua truly pose to us? It's been nearly 30 years since Cuba established itself as a Communist state and there is no eminent danger of Communist expansion in this hemisphere. And while the Sandinistas are quite capable of repelling the contras, they do not have the men or material to carry this fight beyond their borders. Perhaps the most important issue is the U.S.'s unbelievable arrogant illogic in face of the facts. We push for war while the rest of Central America has formulated a viable plan for peace. We should get out of Nicaragua now because we have no right to be there. T.V.

Football Season - Six Months Of Widowhood Or Not?

By Marjorie Wolfe

I've just finished reading the Coffee Table Book Club's offering, S.P. Eddy's best seller, "The 60-Second Football Maven," and just in time. With the August Hall of Fame game, six months of televised football began and I'm well prepared.

officiating at a Notre Dame-Harvard game. A lineman for the Catholic school bit the finger of one of the Harvard players. Maxwell advised the victim, "Next time, schedule the game on a Friday because they d-d-don't eat meat then."

Then, Matt, our family "pull up a chair and sit a spell" philosopher, will begin his football monologue:

"The only time where ends meet nowadays is on a football team."
"Football is popular with girls. They like to see men making passes."

"Pro football is like nuclear warfare. There are really no winners, only survivors." (Frank Gifford)

So, it's time to remove the 11"X14" notice from the TV set.

Warnings Extended Watching of Football May Be Hazardous to Your Marriage.

and stocked up with several "mean cuisine" dishes (those dishes which appeal to macho types unconcerned about calories).

Howard Cosell once told Joey Adams, "It took me 20 years to realize that I know nothing about football." "Then why don't you give up commentating?" He said, "I can't. It's too late—I've become an authority on the game."

You, too, can become an "Authority." Prior to the games and during intermission, casually mention these football facts...and you're "in."

1822 Timothy Dwight, president of Yale College, forbade all students to play football. Violators were to be reported to the dean and were to be penalized by a fine not to exceed 50¢.

1902 Madison Square Garden is the site of the first indoor football game.

1905 Eighteen men were killed in college football games in the U.S. and 159 were permanently injured. At least a quarter of all games ended in mob brawls.

The Rev. David Boel of Georgetown University reported that one unidentified team had been taught to "strike their opponents in certain delicate parts of the body so as to render them helpless."

Theodore Roosevelt established the National Collegiate Athletic Association, which instituted regulations designed to make college football a less lethal sport.

Jim Thorpe was named to the All-American football team.

"The World," a N.Y. newspaper ran the headline, "Dead And Wounded of the Football Battlefields." The story called football "The most brutal, perilous, and unnecessary sport sanctioned by any country in the world."

1906 Sweeping rules legalized the forward pass, prohibited almost all mass formations and plays, and upped the yards to gain in a series of downs to ten.

1909 Helmets were listed at $1.10 each in Sears & Roebuck catalog.

1910 A football team was penalized 15 yards for an incompleting forward pass.

1913 First Army-Notre Dame football game played. Notre Dame won, introducing heavy use of the forward pass.

1916 Georgia Tech beat Cumberland College 22 to 0.

1918 Knute Rockne became head football coach for Notre Dame. (Before his death in 1931, his team was to win 105 games, lose 12, tie 5).

1923 Grantland Rice became famous writing about the Notre Dame football team's "four horsemen."

1924 Knute Rockne's team won nine out of nine games. University of Illinois star, Red Grange, "the galloping ghost," was named All-American halfback.

1925 Red Grange caused violent controversy when he left college to sign with a professional football team, the Chicago Bears. He said he didn't like football enough to play for nothing; he was a millionaire in 3 years.

1931 Knute Rockne killed in a plane crash.
1933 Art Rooney, Sr. buys Pittsburgh Steelers for $2,500.

1934 Red Grange retired from professional football to become a coach, and later, a radio and TV commentator.

1935 Bear Bryant played 45 minutes with a broken leg and gained a mention in "Ripley's Believe It Or Not."

1939 First NFL game (between the Philadelphia Eagles and Brooklyn Dodgers) was broadcast live by NBC. Only 2 cameras were used.

1940 President Reagan stars in the classic film, "Knute Rockne, All American." The swivel hipped young Reagan plays the Gipper—the man who motivated the Notre Dame team's victory rally.

1948 The Army-Navy football game ended in a 21-21 tie.

1961 Ernie Davis is the first black to win the Heisman Trophy.

1965 The Jets paid Joe Namath $400,000 to sign a contract with them. They made Joe the highest paid rookie in the history of sports. AstroTurf used inside the Hopston Astrodome.

1966 AFL-NFL reached its peak, with the leagues spending a combined total of $7 million to sign their draft choices that year.

AFL decrees its players cannot wear beards.

1967 For the third consecutive year, the Green Bay Packers, under coach Vince Lombardi, won the NFL Conference and then the championship.

1969 Football's Joe Namath said he would rather retire from the game than give up his interest in a restaurant alleged to be a hangout for underworld characters; he later reversed his decision and went out of the restaurant business.

1972 Joe Namath signed a $250,000 a year contract that made him the highest paid player in football.

1973 The Miami Dolphins were the first professional football team to go undefeated at 12 and 0.

1983 Tom Cousineau, linebacker for the Cleveland Browns, earned $666,667.

1984 Doug Flutie's golden arm and 48 yard "Hail Mary" pass against Miami won him the Heisman Trophy.

1986 Oklahoma linebacker Brian Bosworth ("Boz") was barred from the New Year's Day contest in Miami for taking steroids.

1987 From August to January there will be more football games on television than ever before.

GOOD TIMES

My friends and I always have fun and great food at Riddles. The people are friendly and get to know you quickly. The prices of the entrees are very reasonable and the broiled seafood is perfect, whatever you order. On weekends, the bar is a fun place to relax and talk and meet interesting people.

The Saturday and Sunday brunches must, however, be the best offer. The prices are low and food and service great. It is a perfect place to bring that special someone. J.S.

CRUISE AND DINE

The Lady 80, the dinner cruise vessel for Channel 80, is hard to beat for a romantic evening. My girlfriend and I just got engaged and I proposed on the cruise. With a good meal and a starry night on the waters, it made the perfect spot. In the future, we'll have our anniversaries there when we are married. A.E.

FINE FISH

Last week we went to an authentic Portuguese restaurant named Estoril Granada. It is located on Mineola Blvd. in Mineola. The fish dishes there are simply wonderful and so many of them offer sauces that are not found anywhere else.

We had a party of four there on Thursday and all of them said that they want to come back again.

The service and the decor make it a nice place to go. I'm sure that others of your readers would want to try it also. H.W.

LITTLE BUT BIG
 The Italian Garden Restaurant at 348 E. Jericho Turnpike, Mineola isn't the biggest restaurant you have listed but it may be among the best.

We went there last week and enjoyed the fine pasta, shrimp and veal dishes that this big little restaurant serves. You get the feeling that things are being prepared for you instead of on the big assembly line, the way things are done in the very large restaurants.

The food is fine Neapolitan. The service is prompt, personal and well done. This is a restaurant that should be recommended. R.K.

IRISH ATMOSPHERE
I think that many of your readers are Irish or of Irish descent as I am but it doesn't really matter. There is a nice cafe in Bethpage called Kenny's Cafe that has just great food and a lot more.
It has good service and entertainment, folk songs and ballads on Friday and Saturday nights. We went there last week and found the food to be very good and the entertainment to be something special. I think that many of your readers would like to go to this fine place and I bring it to your attention. It is located at 729 South Oyster Bay Road, Bethpage. M. O'D.

GOOD WORDS
A very good friend invited me to lunch at the Maine Maid Inn in Jericho last Friday. I really don't know if I can find enough complimentary words to describe my experiences. First of all the Inn is charming and the decor is very relaxing. The waitress was so sweet. On her recommendation we both ordered the Friday special of Lobster Tail Scampi. It was served with rice or linguini and in addition we received a few shrimp on the rice. For dessert, again on the waitress' suggestion I had chocolate walnut pie which was simply magnificent and my friend had cheese cake ammorata. I admit I had to taste it too and will order that next time I visit the Maine Maid. By the way,

ARTISTIC ATMOSPHERE

I recently discovered the West End Cafe and was very pleased with the experience. The seafood salad was superb and the service quick and friendly. The best part of the meal may have been the atmosphere. The place is designed in an art deco style, sort of a modernized 20's in bright, bold colors. The quality and quantity of the food, plus the decor, makes it a place to keep in mind. F.W.

Where Our Readers
Have The Last Word

This newspaper, and the seven other weekly newspapers associated with it, publishes the last word in restaurant guides and a paid listing of many prominent selected restaurants in this area. While many of them have been rated by the great, and near great food connoisseurs, our readers will have the last word through "Reader Ratings."

Through a special 24 hour phone system, readers will be asked to call in their assessment of each restaurant they visit. Consensus ratings (good or bad) will be published as a continuing part of the guide.

In addition they can make suggestions, compliments or criticisms through the open phone line and messages will be sent through to the restaurant management.

Q. We are not wine drinkers. If we're giving a party, what kind of wines should we stock in order to take care of our wine-drinking friends' pleasure from cocktail hour through dinner? T.R.A. For the cocktail hour you might have on hand dry or sweet sherry, or dry or sweet vermouth, or any of the popular "aperitifs." Many choose a glass of dry white wine at the cocktail hour (either chilled or "one the rocks").

For the first course, or to drink with any fish, salad, chicken, veal or fruit, a chilled white wine is nice (such as a Chablis, Soave, Riesling, Chenin Blanc, Pinot Chardonnay).

For the meat or game course (or the salad with cheese), serve a Burgundy, Bordeaux, Chianti, Cabernet Sauvignon, or Zinfandel at a cool room temperature (from 60 to 70 degrees).

Rose wines should be chilled, like white wines. A rose is best served with a light dish and is more popular in hot weather than in cold.

For dessert you may serve the same wine you had from the previous course. Or if it's something festive like an anniversary, dessert time is the moment to bring on the champagne (the drier the better!).

Some people enjoy a sweet wine with dessert, such as port or a sweet sauterne or sherry, but one seldom sees this custom followed anymore in this country.

THE BEST

There are not many Chinese restaurants that surpass the fine food of Long's at Mid Island Plaza in Hicksville. We have been going to this restaurant for many years and can truthfully say that there is not a restaurant around the consistently gives top Chinese specialties of all types.

Last week we tried their stuffed shrimp Islander chef's special. This was about the best new dish that we have had in some time. We must also report that the decor and service at Long's is friendly, courteous and very professionally carried out. We recommend it to all of your readers. G.J.

After Work Gourmet

By Melanie Barnard
and Brooke Dojay

While we've always been particularly partial to pies, experimenting with these wonderful summer fruit cobblers has just about turned us into cobbler converts! The absolutely delicious results, achieved with absolutely minimal time and effort, prove to be a practically irresistible combination.

Since the beauty of this dessert is in its simplicity, we prefer to sweeten the already ripe and luscious fruit with a minimum of sugar and to bring out its inherent flavor by adding a little lemon juice and grated lemon zest. Vanilla is a subtle complement to blueberries and we love the hint of sweet spices with nectarines.

The cobbler dough goes together very quickly whether you make it in a food processor or by hand. Just be careful not to overwork the dough or it could become tough.

Treat family and friends to one of these cobblers to complete a simple meal or as a finale to a special company dinner. This dessert is the essence of summer!

BLUEBERRY COBBLER

3 cups blueberries
½ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon grated lemon zest
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon butter
Cobbler Dough
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons cold butter
½ cup heavy cream
Powdered sugar for dusting

Preheat oven to 425 F. In mixing bowl, toss berries with sugar, lemon zest, lemon juice and vanilla. Place fruit mixture in 1-quart baking dish such as a 7-inch square pan or 9-inch glass pie dish. Dot top of fruit with tablespoon of butter.

Measure flour, baking powder, salt and sugar in workbowl of food processor and pulse twice to sift. Cut cold butter into pieces, arrange it on top of flour and pulse 8-10 times until mixture resembles coarse meal. With motor running, slowly pour cream through feed tube. Stop motor as soon as dough begins to clump.

Remove steel blade from workbowl and gather dough into ball with hands. Turn out onto lightly floured surface and roll into shape that is slightly smaller than interior dimensions of baking dish and about ¼-inch thick. Trim edges and crimp with fingertips or fork. If desired, place dough over fruit and cut several deep slashes in cobbler top so that steam can escape. Bake in preheated oven for 20-25 minutes until crust is browned and fruit is tender. Place on rack to cool. Serve warm or at room temperature. Sift powdered sugar over top before serving.

Yield: 4 servings.
Preparation and cooking time: 35 minutes.

Note: To mix by hand, place dry ingredients in mixing bowl and stir well. Cut butter into pieces and rub with fingertips until mixture resembles coarse meal. Add cream all at once and stir with fork to make dough. Turn out onto lightly floured surface and knead 30 seconds. Roll out as above.

SPICED

NECTARINE COBBLER

3 cups thinly sliced nectarines (about 3 medium nectarines)
¼ cup light brown sugar
¼ teaspoon grated lemon zest
2 teaspoons lemon juice
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 tablespoon butter

Cobbler Dough

1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons cold butter
½ cup heavy cream
Powdered sugar for dusting on top

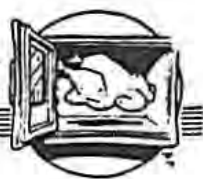

Preheat oven to 425 F. Slice nectarines without peeling them and toss in mixing bowl with sugar, lemon zest, lemon juice, cinnamon and nutmeg. Place fruit in 1-quart baking dish such as 7-inch-square pan or 9-inch pie dish. Dot top of fruit with tablespoon of butter.

Measure flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into workbowl of food processor and pulse twice to sift. Cut cold butter into pieces, arrange on top of flour, and pulse 8-10 times until mixture resembles coarse meal. With motor running, slowly pour cream through feed tube. Stop motor as soon as dough begins to clump together. (See Blueberry Cobbler recipe for instructions on making dough by hand.)

Remove steel blade from workbowl and gather dough into ball with hands. Turn out onto lightly floured surface and roll into shape that is slightly smaller than interior dimensions of baking dish and about ¼-inch thick. Trim edges and crimp with fingertips or fork, if desired. Place dough over fruit and cut several deep slashes in cobbler top so that steam can escape. Bake in preheated oven for 20-25 minutes until crust is browned and fruit is tender. Place on rack to cool. Serve warm or at room temperature. Sift powdered sugar over top before serving.

Yield: 4 servings.
Preparation and cooking time: 35 minutes.

microwave magic

By Desiree Vives

Tomatoes are an important component of so many dishes, it's sad to think what cooking would be like without them. Imagine no rich red sauce atop pizza and spaghetti, no slice of tomato in your BLT, no tomato ketchup on your hamburger, no tomato wedges in your tossed green, no tomato juice in your Bloody Mary.

SAVORY

STUFFED TOMATOES

4 large, ripe tomatoes
Salt and pepper
½ pound lean ground beef
1 cup cooked rice
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ teaspoon Italian seasoning
Dash garlic powder
¼ cup shredded mild cheddar cheese

Preparation Time: 10 minutes
Cooking Time: 11 to 16 minutes (plus 3 minutes standing time)
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Cut tops off tomatoes and scoop out pulp with spoon (reserve pulp). Sprinkle inside cavities of tomatoes lightly with salt and pepper; set aside.

Crumble ground beef into 1-quart glass casserole. Microwave 2 minutes. Stir in rice and onion and microwave 2 to 4 minutes longer, until meat just loses its pink color. Stir in tomato pulp, Italian seasoning and garlic powder.

Stuff tomatoes with beef/rice mixture and place in 2-quart glass casserole. Cover and microwave 6 to 8 minutes, rotating dish ¼ turn every 3 minutes. Remove from oven, top each tomato with a little cheddar cheese and microwave, uncovered, 1 to 2 minutes longer to melt cheese. Cover and let stand 3 minutes before serving.

Serves 4.

FIESTA STUFFED TOMATOES

4 large, ripe tomatoes
Salt and pepper
2 tablespoons minced onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 (16-ounce) can whole kernel corn, drained
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons chopped black olives
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
¼ teaspoon dried parsley flakes

Preparation Time: 10 minutes
Cooking Time: 8 to 10 minutes (plus 3 minutes standing time)
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Cut tops off tomatoes. With spoon hollow out insides, reserving pulp, if desired, for another purpose. Sprinkle inside cavities lightly with salt and pepper. Arrange tomatoes on glass serving platter; set aside.

In 1-quart glass casserole combine onion and butter. Cover and microwave 1 to 2 minutes, until onion is just limp. Stir in corn, pimiento and olives. Spoon mixture into prepared tomato shells.

Place butter in 1-cup glass measure. Microwave about 1 minute, or until melted. Stir in bread crumbs and parsley flakes. Spoon over tops of tomatoes. Microwave, uncovered, 6 to 7 minutes, rotating dish every 3 minutes, until heated through. Let stand 3 minutes before serving.

Serves 6.

Cooking Corner

By Antonia Allegri

Clara Peller, take note. The beef is here, there and everywhere.

In spite of the notoriety that beef has gotten about its saturated fat and cholesterol content, most Americans still opt for a nice, fat, juicy steak for a special meal.

Whether it's served in pristine splendor or smothered with fancy sauce, a great steak adds a festive touch to any summer celebration.

STEAK BROILED THE FLORENTINE WAY

- 1/4 teaspoon peppercorns, crushed in mortar or inside a cloth with a heavy blunt object
- 1 T-bone steak
- Salt
- Olive oil

Rub peppercorns into both sides of meat.

Broil steak over very hot hardwood or charcoal fire to desired doneness (A fiorentina should be very rare.) Salt steak on broiled side as you turn it.

When steak is done, but while still on grill, moisten very lightly with a few drops of olive oil. Serve immediately.

WOLFGANG PUCK'S NEW YORK STEAK WITH SHIITAKE MUSHROOMS AND COGNAC

- 6 New York strip steaks, 3/4 to 1/2 inch thick
- Salt and freshly ground pepper
- 8 tablespoons (1 stick) unsalted butter
- 1 1/2 pounds fresh shiitake mushrooms, sliced 1/4 inch thick
- 1/2 cup cognac
- 1 1/2 cups dry red wine
- 2 packages fresh enoki mushrooms, trimmed from their bases
- 18 scallions, trimmed 1 inch above white part
- 4 tablespoons water

Season steaks with salt and pepper on both sides, and reserve at room temperature.

In heavy saute pan or 12-inch skillet, heat 3 tablespoons of the butter until bubbly. Add shiitake mushrooms, and saute over high heat until they begin to brown slightly. Then season them lightly with salt and pepper and continue to cook until they are soft and liquid has evaporated. Remove them from the pan with slotted spoon and deglaze pan with cognac. Ignite carefully, and let flame die out naturally. Reduce cognac to a few tablespoons, add red wine, and continue to reduce until liquid is 1/2 cup.

In another saute pan or skillet, melt 3 tablespoons of butter and carefully saute enoki mushrooms, being careful that they do not break apart. Season with salt and pepper, remove them from pan, and set aside to keep warm. In that skillet, melt remaining 2 tablespoons of butter and add scallions and water. Cook over high heat until mixture comes to boil, shaking pan to distribute butter. Lower heat to medium, and continue to cook until water has evaporated and scallions are glazed. Set aside.

Grill steaks over hot charcoal fire or saute in a very hot saute pan with a little oil until they have reached desired doneness. Remove them from heat.

To serve: Place 3 braised scallions on each dinner plate and spoon some mushroom sauce over onions. Center a steak atop, or arrange as you will.

Serves 6.

BIBA CAGGIANO'S BEEF WITH BALSAMIC VINEGAR

- 1 3-pound filet of beef
- For the marinade:
- 2 tablespoons balsamic vinegar
- 4 tablespoons olive oil
- Juice of 1/2 lemon
- 1 cup good, full-bodied red wine
- A few rosemary sprigs or a pinch of dry rosemary
- 1/4 cup loosely packed fresh oregano leaves, or a pinch of dry oregano
- Salt to taste
- 2 tablespoons rinsed and dried red peppercorns (optional)

Trim beef of part of its fat (leave some fat on for added moisture). Tie the filet securely to keep its shape and place in bowl.

Combine ingredients for marinade and pour over filet. Leave at room temperature for about 1 hour. Baste and turn filet a few times.

Preheat broiler at least 15 minutes ahead of time. Put filet in broiling pan and broil until golden on all sides.

Transfer filet to center of oven. Lower oven temperature to 400 F and bake for 10 to 15 minutes longer. Test for doneness by pressing meat lightly with a finger. If meat is firm yet springy, it is rare. If meat is firm and unyielding, it is well-done. (For rare, a meat thermometer should register 120 F.)

Transfer filet to cutting board, remove string, and let meat rest for 5 minutes.

Meanwhile, pour marinade into skillet and bring to boil. Cook and stir until sauce is reduced by half.

Slice meat and arrange on warm serving dishes. Spoon sauce over meat. Sprinkle each serving with a few red peppercorns, if you wish. Serve at once.

Serves 6.

Note: To increase thickness of sauce, incorporate 1 tablespoon of butter into a bit of flour and whisk into sauce bit by bit. Cook rapidly while whisking, until sauce reaches to desired consistency.

BARBECUED STEAK AU POIVRE

- 3 1 1/2-pound boneless shell steaks (about 3 inches thick), trimmed of excess fat, gently pounded
- 1 tablespoon coarse salt
- 4 tablespoons crushed black peppercorns (or half black, half white, if desired) (see note)
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 4 tablespoons shallots, finely chopped
- 1/4 cup dry red wine
- 1/4 cup beef stock, homemade or canned
- 4 tablespoons unsalted butter, at room temperature

Dust steaks with coarse salt. Lay crushed peppercorns on flat surface and press steaks over them to coat on all sides.

Grill steaks for about 20 minutes total. Best method is to cook on one side for about 4 minutes to sear, then flip and sear the other side for 4 minutes. The flat rim should be seared also by standing the steaks on their sides for several minutes. Keep rotating until steaks reach desired doneness.

While steaks are grilling, combine in saucepan shallots, red wine and beef stock. Reduce over medium-high heat to one-third of volume. Remove cooked steaks to warm serving platter. Swirl butter into sauce and pour over steaks. Slice steaks on bias in platter, allowing juices to combine with sauce. Serve.

Makes 6 to 10 servings.

Note: Crush peppercorns by placing on flat, hard surface and cracking gently with heavy, flat-bottomed skillet.

THE SILVER PALATE'S GRILLED STEAK WITH RED PEPPER COULIS

- Red Pepper Coulis (recipe follows)
- 3 pounds sirloin, top round, or flank steak
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper, to taste

Make coulis.

Prepare hot coals with some mesquite for grilling steak. Sprinkle steak with salt and pepper.

Grill steak to desired doneness, slice, and serve with coulis spooned over slices.

Serves 6.

RED PEPPER COULIS

- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 6 sweet red peppers, cored, seeded, and cut into 1/2-inch dice
- 12 large cloves garlic, cut lengthwise in half
- 2 tablespoons balsamic vinegar
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- Pinch (or to taste) red pepper flakes
- Salt and freshly ground black pepper, to taste
- 3 tablespoons finely chopped sun-dried tomatoes (packed in oil)
- 16 whole basil leaves

Heat oil in large skillet over medium heat. Add sweet red peppers and garlic and saute for 15 minutes.

Stir in vinegar and sugar. Add red pepper flakes, salt and pepper to taste. Cook, uncovered, stirring occasionally, over medium heat for 15 minutes more.

Stir in tomatoes and basil. Simmer 10 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 2 cups.

THE SILVER PALATE'S FLANK STEAK MOSAIC

- 1 large flank steak, butterflied, 2 to 3 pounds
- 1 cup red wine
- 1/4 cup Oriental soy sauce
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 2-egg omelet, cut into 1/4-inch strips
- 1/2 pound carrots, peeled and cut into julienne
- 1/2 pound green beans, trimmed and blanched
- Pitted green olives
- 1 1/4-ounce can pimientos, cut into 1/4-inch strips
- 5 slices bacon

Marinate flank steak in wine, soy sauce and garlic for 2 hours. Remove steak from marinade, pat dry and lay on flat surface.

Working left to right, arrange 2 rows of omelet strips the length of steak. Top the 2 rows with 2 or 3 layers more of omelet strips. Lay carrots in rows alongside the omelet — 3 wide and 3 high. Repeat with green beans. On other side of the omelet place 1 row of olives and next to them, 1 row of pimientos, 3 layers high.

Roll steak tightly toward you, tucking meat closely around vegetables. Wrap bacon around roll and tie securely at 1/4-inch intervals.

Preheat oven to 350 F.

Bake roast for 30 minutes, basting twice with reserved marinade. Put under broiler briefly to brown bacon. Cool, and cut into 1/4-inch-thick slices.

Makes 6 to 8 portions.

BEEF GRILL WITH SPICY YOGURT

- For London Broil:
- 1 3-pound beef top round steak, 1 1/2 inches thick
- 1/4 cup dry red wine
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- Salt and pepper to taste

Mix red wine, garlic, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Place steak in glass dish; cover with marinade. Refrigerate at least 1 hour, no longer than 24 hours. Grill 4 inches from medium-hot coals 8 to 10 minutes per side for rare or until desired doneness. Remove steak to cutting board; slice thinly.

For T-bone Steak:

Grill non-marinated 1 1/2 pound T-bone steak 4 inches from medium-hot coals 8 to 10 minutes per side. Cut next to bone to determine doneness of meat.

SPICY YOGURT SAUCE:

- 1 cup unflavored lowfat yogurt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1/4 teaspoon each salt and garlic powder
- 1 tablespoon each chopped cilantro and lime juice

Stir all ingredients together in bowl; let stand 20 minutes to mellow. Serve over marinated London Broil or with grilled summer vegetables as a side dish.

Makes 8 servings with London Broil, 4 servings with T-bone Steak.

Quality Or Quantity?

One
Sure Way To Get Results!

When you advertise in a subscription newspaper, you get quality readership. You know that EVERY copy of the newspaper has been invited into the home and three to four people will most likely read it.

When you buy quantity, the only thing you might be sure of is that it has been hung on door knobs or thrown on lawns all over the neighborhood.

With our newspapers YOU ONLY PAY FOR COPIES that will be read. It is this quality that produces results. Do not waste money on wasted copies. Advertise here and get results.

Our (not so secret) ingredient
Readers = Results

Copper plumbing repairs cause problems

Q: All of the water pipes on the horizontal level in my house were changed from galvanized piping to copper with no problem. However, when it came to the "risers" the vertical pipes taking hot and cold water to the bathroom upstairs, a problem developed with the cold water connection. It has a lot of corrosion as hard as cement caused by joining copper to galvanized piping.

Now the plumber says that he will have to dig a hole in the bathroom floor and maybe into the wall to get the galvanized pipe out so he can run copper all the way.

I hate to have the house torn up in these any other way to remedy this situation? — A.T.

A: The corrosion at the joint where the copper was connected to the galvanized plumbing is caused by electrolysis, the rapid corrosion of pipe caused by chemical interactions between copper and iron.

To correct this problem, isolate the two metals with a 12-inch section of brass pipe, or a dielectric or insulated union. There should be no need to replace the galvanized pipe in the wall or floor, unless you suspect that there are other problems with this piping.

On positive health for mature adults

Good nutrition can help keep the older body not only fueled better for daily living, but also be a positive aid in providing good health in the future. Combined with reasonable exercise — even just taking a daily walk — good nutrition can be recognized as a "lifesaver."

Conventional assumptions in this country claimed that mature adults were poorly nourished — but new research shows that to be not true, in the main. You are taking better care of yourself than some self-proclaimed experts, some politicians and bureaucrats purported. Here is how you are doing it, shared from your information, as a guideline for those who might not yet be combining good nutritional habits with exercise.

"In spite of waning appetites, the mainstream of U.S. elderly are generally well nourished," states a new report from the Human Nutrition Research Center on Aging at Tufts University. Based on a survey of nearly 700 healthy Bos-

Q: We have central warm-air heating and air conditioning. We have an English-type walk-in basement with five heating vents, four of which are in the ceiling.

Do you have any ideas on how we can keep our finished basement from being so cold, particularly in spring and early fall when the furnace is not on since it is much warmer upstairs?

I have used a fan to stir up the hot air at the ceiling but there must be a better way to keep some of that heat down in the basement area. — L.B.

A: Since heat rises, any heating system that has the heating vents near the top of the room or in the ceiling will continue to be very inefficient.

You might want to consider the installation of radiant electric heating at the baseboard level to help take the chill off this area and keep the floors warm during cooler months.

Electric radiant heating is not the most efficient heating system and is often quite expensive. However, when used on a room-by-room basis, and controlled with an accurate thermostat, it can be effective and you can keep costs in line.

If you are not receptive to this type of investment, you might consider using one of the newer small room heaters (electric). They can rapidly take the chill off. Even in a large room one heater can be very effective. By using a portable room heater you save on installation costs that would be required in the baseboard heating system. Cost of operation would probably also be less, depending on how you use either the portable heater or an electric heating system.

Q: I have an old house and the water pipes are under the house in the crawl space that has a dirt floor. In the winter they freeze. I've wrapped them with an electric tape, pipe insulation and also put regular insulation (held up by chicken wire) under there, too.

What else can I do to keep the pipes from freezing this winter? They do so only when it goes below 20 degrees Fahrenheit. — M.L.B.

A: You can wrap the pipe with an electric heating cable, which should provide enough heat to keep the pipes from freezing. Some heating cables come with automatic thermostats.

Be sure to run the cable down the pipe below the frost line (if the pipe goes underground at any point), instead of stopping at ground level. To avoid unnecessary heat loss, you can wrap the pipe and cable with a fireproof insulation such as fiberglass.

and 55 percent of the women — and about three-fourths of those who took supplements used a multivitamin, multiminer preparation. This accounted for the big difference in vitamin and mineral intakes between users and nonusers.

Is there a danger of toxicity for megadose use of supplements?

"Yes," according to Hartz. "A reasonable level of supplementation — around the Recommended Dietary Allowance — appears to be helpful rather than harmful, even for the frail elderly. There is a caution against megadoses of 10 to 20 times the RDA, which can be toxic for some vitamins."

C and E were the most popular vitamin supplements, with many elderly taking megadoses. Iron and zinc were the minerals most frequently used by both sexes, and calcium was popular with women.

In another study, one of 78 people with cataracts and 35 without, those with cataracts had lower plasma levels of vitamin D, carotenoids (beta carotene and its relatives), or possibly vitamin C. The findings seem consistent, according to the Brigham and Women's Hospital in Boston, in showing that vitamin C may protect the eye's lens against age-related cataracts and provide the first evidence that carotenoids may do the same.

The new studies — and others — do affirm that most mature adults are nutritionally conscious and active, and that in adults where nutritional and exercise/activity balance are maintained, good health is more the norm than the exception.

Lower food intake might be beneficial when comparing older age to younger, to reduce cholesterol and calorie levels — mainly because of the difference in lifestyles. No research, though, supports any drastic cutbacks in food intake. The primary source of quality vitamins and minerals is in food; a reasonable level of supplements can be used to provide any necessary difference.

TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, E.D.

Dr. Wallace: I'd like your comments please. I'm a 18-year-old guy and my problem is my 18-year-old sister. She always gets her way around the house. She is always right and I'm always wrong.

The reason my sister can do "no wrong" is because last month she moved out of the house for three days and all my mother did was cry for 72 straight hours and talk to our minister. When my sister came back home, she was and is being treated like a queen. Thank goodness I'll be leaving for college in the fall of 1989 and then I'll finally be rid of her once and for all.

Please allow me to give you an example of what I mean.

A friend and I were watching the All-Star baseball game in our living room. Halfway through the game my sister and her boyfriend came into the house and ordered us off the couch because they wanted to watch her favorite program.

When I told her to beg off, her boyfriend changed the channel and my sister brought in my father who told my friend and me to finish watching the game at his house.

Do I have a legitimate gripe? — Allen, Allen: Indeed you do. But to understand why your parents are this way, read the Good Book concerning the prodigal son. Better yet, ask your minister to give a sermon on the prodigal son. Then maybe your parents might get the message.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 17-year-old young lady and I really need your advice. My boyfriend and I have been going steady for over three months and we tell each other that we are in love.

My parents allow me to stay out until midnight on the weekends and I think that this is fair. My problem is that my boyfriend never picks me up until 10 p.m. This only gives us two hours together, and it means that we can hardly go anywhere, not even to a movie.

The reason Jimmy doesn't see me until 10 p.m. is that he hangs around with his buddies until then. To make things worse, he then complains that my curfew is too early. I keep telling Jimmy to pick me up earlier, but he never does.

Last night Jimmy told me that I was old enough to stay out until 1 a.m. and that if my parents wouldn't allow it he might have to get himself a new girlfriend.

I do care for Jimmy very much and it would be hard to break up with him. Help. — Connie, Connie: If Jimmy cares for you as much as you say you care for him, he wouldn't continue to act like the immature jerk that he really is.

Do yourself a big favor. Tell him that you want to be picked up on the weekends at 8 p.m. sharp! If he chooses to stay with his friends and refuses your request, dump him immediately!

Dr. Wallace: I subscribe to Boys' Life magazine and I really enjoy the excellent articles they provide teen readers.

In a recent edition were printed the following facts about drugs. I know your teen readers would like this information. Is it possible you can print these facts?

1. Any drug can be fatal or can cause serious illness even if used only once.

2. No one who has used any drug should drive any vehicle (with or without an engine) or be around machinery.

3. A drug user may seem to have a different personality when under the influence.

4. You can be addicted to drugs even after using drugs one time.

5. If you now are using drugs illegally, contact your local "hot line" for help. — Dea, Fort Walton Beach, Fla.

Dea: Boys' Life is a superb magazine (I was once a subscriber) and it's my pleasure to print their drug facts. Thanks to you for taking the time to share this information with your fellow teens.

Dr. Wallace: My parents decided that I should not be permitted to date until I was 16. Of course I didn't agree, but I went along with their rule. I am now 16½ and dating a real sweet guy and I'm very happy.

It so happens that I have a 15-year-old brother. Last night at the supper table he announced that he was going steady with the daughter of Mom's best friend. Guess what? Mom was thrilled and Mom and Dad patted him on the back and congratulated him.

Now I may be wrong, but I think that if I had to wait until my 16th birthday before I was allowed to date, then my brother should have had the same rule. I'm not trying to be selfish or disrespectful, but I feel very upset. I'd like your opinion please. — Sandra,

Sandra: I totally agree with you, but this is a common practice in many families. The reason is obvious. Boys don't get pregnant!

How to force blooms

I wondered why our spider plant began putting out all sorts of spiders, or long shoots with baby plants at their ends, as soon as I moved it into our laundry room last winter.

Before that, it was in our kitchen, just sitting there doing absolutely nothing at all in the propagation line. In the kitchen, the lights are kept on, as a rule, well into the evening, while darkness prevails in the laundry room after dusk.

What I hadn't realized was that the spider plant is one of those plants that are photoperiodic — that is, affected by the length of their day. Some plants, gladiolus and hibiscus for example, require long days to bloom. Others need short days to form flower buds.

Among the short-day plants are some of our favorite fall and winter flowering plants — chrysanthemum, poinsettia, Christmas cactus and kalanchoe. These flower naturally in their native habitats when the nights are long.

Knowing what sort of day length will initiate bloom in a plant has been a wonderful boon to growers and flower lovers. Long-day plants, for example, can be forced into bloom in winter just by giving them additional artificial light to prolong their "day" and short-day plants like chrysanthemums may be induced to bloom at any time by putting them into darkness each day while it is still light outdoors.

This, of course, is how a poinsettia is brought into bloom for Christmas, by limiting its day length to 10 hours and putting it in total dark (or covering it) for 14 hours each night, for about 10 weeks.

The same sort of long night treatment will bring both Christmas cactus and Christmas kalanchoe into flower. Of these two, the kalanchoe is most like the poinsettia in its needs.

You've probably seen kalanchoes many times in florist shops, nurseries and garden centers, either potted singly or mixed with

Federal Convention in adjournment while five man committee drafts a document

Philadelphia, August 6, 1787 (Delayed) - With the Federal Convention in adjournment many of its members are using the time to relax with their families or enjoy social activities in or near this city. With the exception of the short July 4 recess, they have met six days a week since May; therefore the present adjournment is a welcome respite.

Pierce Butler of South Carolina is in New York with his family as he considers that city more healthy than Philadelphia. Roger Sherman and William Johnson have gone home to Connecticut. South Carolina's Charles Pinckney purchased two bay geldings and is visiting Bethlehem on the Lehigh River. General Washington rode out to Valley Forge to visit the site of his encampment during that bitter winter ten years ago. While there he went trout fishing. It is understood he caught nothing.

Meanwhile the five members of the Committee of Detail are hard at work putting into logical sequence all the resolutions adopted by the delegates. In addition, they undoubtedly will make recommendations for items on which the Convention has taken no action. Because they have sat together for long hours in the meeting room, they have a keen sense of the feelings of the delegates. For instance, the Convention has not formally agreed on the names to be given the Chief Executive and the two Houses of Congress.

The Committee seems to be making good progress, for there have been several meetings with a local printer, Dunlap and Claypool's.

tropical foliage plants in gift baskets. Kalanchoe is a succulent, with thick, oval leaves growing on bushy, compact plants. It bears above its fleshy foliage flower stalks with thickly packed clusters of starry red, pink, orange or yellow flowers, all very bright and brilliant shades.

A kalanchoe's basic needs include an open, freely draining soil kept a little on the dry side and lots of light. It should be given some balanced fertilizer every two or three weeks during the spring and summer, and a bit of bone meal scratched into its soil in midsummer. The most frequent cause of failure with this plant is overwatering, causing the plant to rot at soil level. The top inch of soil should be allowed to dry out between waterings.

After a summer outdoors, a kalanchoe should be brought back indoors before cold weather for a bit of a dry-season rest. At this time, fertilizing should stop and water be reduced by about one-half. Situate the plant in the brightest spot possible, and limit its days to 10 hours by either covering it or placing it in a dark closet from 5 p.m. to 7 a.m. This is the same routine you'll be following for your poinsettias beginning in October.

During this period temperatures around 70 F are ideal, with a drop to a cooler 55 or 60 F at night. The slightly cool nights help to produce abundant bloom and intense flower color.

When a kalanchoe's cool-night, short-day routine is begun in September, flower buds should form in December. Then, watering can be stepped up just a little, still taking care that the top of the soil feels dry before giving water. And very light fertilizing may be resumed.

If flowers do not appear for Christmas despite your best efforts, don't lapse into a fit of pique over it. Relax, it will very likely bloom in early summer out on your balcony or in a lightly shaded spot in the garden. After it has flowered, cut away the flower stalks and summer it outdoors. Cuttings taken from tip growth will keep youthful, vigorous plants coming along.

Unconventional seating for a party or a pinch

Q: I have just moved into a new condo with a small living room. My sofa pretty much fills the space and I don't see how I'm going to squeeze in additional seating for guests without blocking views or traffic. Do you have any ideas? — L.D.

A: If, as you imply, you only need additional seating for guests, then it is unnecessary to overstuff your living room and put a cramp in your daily comfort. Consider some small-scale pieces that you might not want to spend all day on but work fine for occasional entertaining.

Benches, stools and oversize pillows are all possibilities, depending upon your furnishing style and taste. They are small and low-profile, taking up little physical or visual space.

These small pieces needn't appear makeshift, either. Antique low stools and wooden benches can add an authentic charm to a traditional or country decor. Pillows and upholstered benches can be covered in an elegant fabric, or handpainted or trimmed extravagantly to make them an important part of your overall design rather than a functional afterthought.

Q: We want to redecorate our small ranch house in pastels and white. We have white carpeting throughout, a white bedroom set and two print Queen Anne chairs.

What colors do you suggest using on the walls, drapes, sofa and dining chairs? I do not like blues, yellows, greens or earth tones. — M.O.

A: A white and pastel interior can create an inviting, peaceful and bright living environment. White and light can also be mismanaged to produce stark or boring spaces. Keep balance, variety and contrast in mind as you make your choices.

The colors in your print Queen Anne chairs are rather important in making decisions at this point. I don't know what they are, but assume that you like them. I would pull in one or more of these colors from the print and use them with your white. If these colors are not light, use them in a pastel value.

Since there are so many colors you do not like, the print, hopefully, contains some shades in the peach, pink, rose, plum, lavender line. I would select one of these to be your dominant color and then use some of the others in smaller amounts.

Even though you don't like greens and blues, you should use some small amounts of them to relieve and balance the warm colors. Pale aquamarine blues and light celadon greens are very popular now and go well with the peach and rose hues.

There are many attractive choices you could make regarding wall covering and draperies that I don't have the space to discuss. Just remember that your basic challenge will be to provide enough contrast and interest. Balance solids and pattern, white and color. Banish boredom!

Finding a buyer for clock may be a problem

Q: What can you tell me about this clock? The dial is marked "Southern Calendar Clock Co." The case is in fairly good condition, but the calendar dial is marred.

A: Southern Calendar Clocks were made by the Seth Thomas Clock Co. in Thomaston, Conn., between 1875 and 1890. In good condition this clock would sell for about $2,500.

It is very hard for me to speculate about what you could sell this clock for in your area. Your main problem would be finding an interested buyer.

Q: I have a Hummel candleholder No. 54 with the enclosed mark. It consists of a babe in the manger, two children and an angel.

Some friends have told me that it's very valuable. What can you tell me about it?

A: This is trade mark No. 3 that was used from 1957 to 1964. Your candleholder sells for about $150.

Your friends have this confused with an earlier version made before World War II that is worth about $4,000. The big difference is that one of the children is black.

Q: Would you please explain just what Eastlake furniture is? Is it a style or is it made by someone named Eastlake?

A: In 1868, Charles L. Eastlake published "Hints on Household Taste." This book depicted a style of furniture that was a departure from the existing Victorian styles.

Manufacturers capitalized on the book's popularity by calling the furniture they were making "Eastlake." It did not look like his designs but it helped them to sell furniture.

Today we call all furniture made between 1870 and 1890 Eastlake.

Q: I saw some castor sets at a recent antique show and I found them quite interesting. Can you tell me something about their history and provide some typical prices?

A: A castor set consists of two or more condiment (vinegar, oil, etc.) bottles or shakers in a metal frame. This frame is usually silverplated.

They were first used about 200 years ago, but most of those on the market today were made between 1870 and 1915. Here are some prices:

- Three bottles, amber glass, silverplated frame — $120.
- Four pressed-glass bottles, pewter frame — $175.
- Five Sandwich glass bottles, pewter frame — $200.
- Six cut-glass bottles, Sheffield plate — $375.
- Seven cut-glass bottles, sterling silver — $1,200.

Advantages of spaying and castrating pets

Q: What are the advantages and disadvantages to having a dog spayed or castrated? It seems very unnatural to submit a pet to these surgical procedures. Is it really necessary for the average household pet?

A: There are many advantages and few disadvantages to spaying or castrating household dogs and cats.

Spaying is the term used to describe the surgical procedure used to remove the ovaries and uterus of the bitch or queen. Spaying is a very routine procedure and does not usually involve a great amount of risk or pain for the animal.

Castration is the name of the procedure used whenever the testicles are surgically removed from the male dog or tomcat. Like spaying, castration is very routine and causes the animal little discomfort.

The most common reason for spaying or castrating an animal is to make it sterile. There are many benefits to these procedures besides stopping reproduction.

Bitches usually show signs of heat, acceptance of the male dog, about two times per year. Queens show signs of acceptance several times per year if not bred. During this period of receptivity, bitches spot blood from their reproductive tracts for several days. This can be very unsightly and can ruin carpets and furniture. During heat periods queens often vocalize or yowl as if they were in excruciating pain. This can be very unpleasant for anyone within hearing distance.

Another advantage to spaying female pets is that their male counterparts are not periodically attracted to the yard. Bitches and queens in heat attract males. This can become a very real nuisance. Spaying bitches eliminates the chance of getting pyometra, a severe infection of the uterus, and reduces the chances of getting mammary gland tumors later in life.

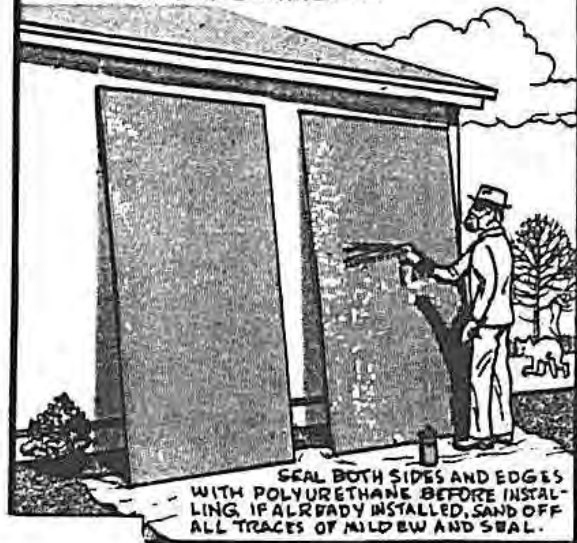

Castration usually reduces the tendency for male dogs and tomcats to wander looking for females in heat. Fights between tomcats are very common. These often result in bite wounds and subsequent formation of abscesses. Castrating tomcats before they mature reduces the chances of them developing the obnoxious habit of spraying urine to mark their territory. This habit is usually reduced or limited after castration even at an older age.

There are really no known major disadvantages to castrating or spaying household pets from which no offspring are desired. Some claim that neutered pets are more likely to gain excessive weight. Obesity is the direct result of a disproportionate ratio between caloric intake and output. This can be easily controlled by diet regulation and exercise. The American Kennel Club will not allow spayed or castrated dogs to compete in the show ring. Most cat shows have set up special classes permitting spayed and castrated animals to compete.

Your veterinarian can advise you regarding the pros and cons of neutering your particular pet.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Sometimes I like to go with my family to the mountains of Pennsylvania. I especially enjoy the wildlife.

My favorite wild plant is the mountain laurel. It stays green all winter and in the springtime it has beautiful white or pale pink blossoms.

There are deer everywhere in the mountains and sometimes it is hard to avoid hitting them. One day our car grazed two baby deer. (We knew they were youngsters because their fur was all spotted), but luckily they weren't hurt.

Not long ago as we were sitting in the kitchen eating breakfast a large deer came into view. She was enjoying all the grass and bushes in the back yard as if she, too, was eating breakfast.

Once I saw an animal I did not recognize. Later I saw his "picture" in a book - he was a beaver, the first I had ever seen!

Love,
Aunt Tilly
