Memorial Event Nets $4600 For Cancer Victim

On September 20 over two hundred people attended a special memorial fundraiser at the Little County Pub on Old Country Road in Hicksville. They went to honor the memory of the late Tom Sager, son of Charles and Barbara Sager of Hicksville, who died on July 1 this year after a fourteen month battle with cancer. Food and prizes were generously donated and approximately $4600 was raised to be donated to the North Shore University Hospital Cancer Research and Home Care Unit in Tom's name.

The committee consisted of Phil Essigman, Thomas Luongo, Chris Delardi, Al Mancini, Nancy Shannon, Cathy Shubert, and Bob Watterson of the Knights of Columbus. They were the organizers but many others joined in a combined effort to make the day the success it was.

According to Tom's mother, Barbara, "It was a day I'll never forget. Everyone was wonderful. Words can never express the appreciation my family feels for this outpouring of love."

Fire Safety Exhibit Here

Nassau County will kick-off Fire Safety Week by unveiling its new Fire Prevention Education Trailer, fully equipped with bedroom and kitchen furnishings, smoke detectors and artificial smoke, to create conditions of a home fire.

Firefighters will be on hand to teach families how to plan to get out alive in the event of fire in the home.

The trailer will be at McDonald's, 280 North Broadway Hicksville on Saturday, October 3, 10 a.m.-4 p.m.

Approximately 82% of all fires occur in the home, and over 50% of fire-related fatalities are children age 13 and under. According to fire officials, nearly half of these deaths could have been prevented if families had a plan to get out of their homes safely during a fire.

Editor's Notebook

In recent weeks many items that were newsworthy were not included in our publication because they missed the deadline. Most of them came in by mail but several were hand delivered! Please check your meeting dates and make sure that copy is received for the edition published prior to that date. It must be disappointing for you and it is equally so for us when we have to toss out news that someone worked hard to prepare.

A note to the few letter writers who failed to include their names: reputable newspapers never consider unsigned letters for publication. If you have something of worth to say, don't be ashamed to sign your name. If it's necessary to remain anonymous, please ask that your name be withheld from print and we will grant your wish.

Pioneers Defeat Strikers 4-1

By Jay Schwartz

The game between the Hicksville Pioneers and the Cold Spring Harbor Strikers continued to show our '77 team's strengths. It started well for the traveling A team and finished with a 4-1 victory.

The first goal was on a direct kick by Joe Croce which was deflected into the goalie's net by a Striker defender. In the first half it was mainly Greg Latini, Dan Wolchok and David Nelson in the forward positions. The score was tied at 1-1 when a solid shot just out of Peter Titone's grasp fell on the goal line and rolled in. Shortly afterwards the Pioneers took the lead at 2-1 when a corner kick by Joe Croce was pushed in by Greg Latini as it fell and rolled on the ground. Richard Werchenski, Joe Matz and Robert Usley started to turn the game around for the Pioneers as the ball was sent up to the midfielders many times.

In the second half, Hicksville took more shots on goal as the Strikers had few opportunities. Jonathan Schwartz, Russell Brousseau, Philip Caputo, and Joe Florio kept passing the ball up for scoring attempts. Tracy Koetter had replaced Latini, and Jonathan Kanuck was in for David Nelson. The score increased to 3-1 by a booming shot by Jonathan Kanuck hung high over the goalie's head. Later Philip Caputo passed a beauty to Peter Titone who chipped it over the rushing goalie and put it in an open net.

Congratulations to our coach and our two assistants. Their efforts certainly met with success in this game.

Hicksville Amer. Soccer Club News

Intramural Pee Wee Division

Under sunny skies and crisp fall weather the third week of Pee Wee Intramural soccer was played. The teams have been practicing during the week and showing improved skills on Sunday, September 27 was another fine day of soccer and following are the weeks results.

Bucks 7 Arrows 0

The Arrows really worked hard throughout the entire game to defend their goal. Good offensive charges were made by Gina Pelletiere, Daniel Koloski and Anthony Bianco but to no avail. Sean Dorney displayed skillful ball control on his breakaways.

The Bucks Jason Dewep scored one goal and played an all around good game. Other offense was provided by John Perino and Jordash Smacha.

Rowdies 5 Roughnecks 0

Despite the speed of Martel Levy on attack and great defensive work of Janice Pfeifer and Matthew Woodcheke, the Roughnecks lost a tough game. Matthew DePalma was outstanding in goal.

The Rowdies played a strong game with outstanding effort from Anthony and James Gaudioso, Joseph Dadich and Joseph Tuccillo showed good offensive and defensive skills.

Blaz 3 Express 0

An enthusiastic Kenneth McCullough scored the first goal of the game on Sunday. At the opening of the second half dependable Daniel Nagashima scored the second goal and the third goal was scored by energetic Chris Brink. Strong defensive play by Robert Pollack complimented the efforts of his teammates.

Shaunte Martin exhibited good hustle for the Express along with Keith Simons at Center and Jason Benowitz on defense. Andrew Coppola has a fine game in goal.

Shamrocks Continue Winning Ways

By A. Blicker

The Hicksville Shamrocks 1974 boys travelling soccer team defeated the Cold Spring Harbor Dragons 1-0 at the latter's field on Sunday, September 27, to bring their L.I. Junior Soccer League record to one win, one tie and no losses.

The Shamrocks controlled the game from start to finish, and scored at about the eight minute mark, set up by an indirect off the foot of stopper Chris Doyle, down the middle to center half Matt Pordum, who put in a long shot for the only goal needed. The defense, anchored by the strong play of Eddie Jacobsen, played perfect soccer throughout the game. Fullbacks Chuck Oliver, Kristian Friedrich and Greg Szumowski would not let the opposition get by, breaking up many drives. Sweeper Brian Harkins was at his hustling best,

Stopper Chris Doyle roamed up and down the field, controlling the middle. Center half Matt Pordum picked up where Doyle left off, continuing the strong middle play. Chris Koetter, David Lovato and Domenick Perillo had excellent games from halfback, ably assisted by Cory Kessler. Jason Kingsley, at striker, controlled the offensive middle. Karl Rice, at right wing, had a sensational game, constantly putting pressure on the Dragons. Eric Blicker, at left wing, was equally brilliant. Junior Tomlinson and Kareem Holman provided impressive back up in these areas.

Congratulations to the team, Coach Herb Pordum, and assistants Glenn Kingsley, Sr. and Gianni Lovato, for an afternoon of hard-nosed, victorious soccer.

Mayor Zens of Kreuzau accepts a Nassau County flag and Proclamation from exchange students Lisa Zallo and Eric Galka.

H.S. Students Visit Germany

Bethpage High School students who had welcomed students from Kreuzau, Germany in an exchange program last April visited Germany, France, Holland and Belgium from June 27 through July 18. The exchange students, led by German teacher Roy Wolff, attended classes and graduation in Kreuzau where they stayed with host families. Sidetrips included a boatride down the Rhine, the old fortress of Drachenfels, Aachen, Cologne, Paris, Maastrich, Holland and Lutlich, Belgium. Just-for-fun activities with their student hosts included parties, disco dances, and a visit to Schloss Bruhl (Castle and Phantasieland), an amusement park.

Many lasting friendships were formed between the Bethpage and Kreuzau students whose visits to one another's homelands gave them a deeper appreciation and understanding of each other's cultures.

Jr. High Back To School Night

J.F.K. Junior High School in Bethpage welcomed new and returning parents to Back-to-School Night September 21. Each parent followed his child's daily schedule, stopping at each classroom to meet with subject area teachers. Guidance counselors, nurses, band and orchestra teachers, computer teachers, librarians, and learning and remedial specialists were also available during 5th, 6th, and 7th periods.

Parents had the opportunity to meet J.F.K.'s new principal, Clifford Jaeger. Mr. Jaeger, a former assistant principal in the Bellmore-Merrick Central High School District, was selected to fill the vacancy created by Dr. Antoinette Mansfield's assuming the principal's position at Bethpage High School.

The PTA served refreshments for the parent visitors.

Runners To Hear Mal Bertram

The featured speaker at the Tuesday, October 20 meeting of the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club, will be Mal Bertram, the Senior Pastor of the Syosset Community Church who is one of Long Island's premier masters runners and the "comeback story of the year." The meeting will be held at the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public Library, 999 Old Country Road in Plainview, starting promptly at 8 p.m. The general public is cordially invited to attend.

The 54 year old Bertram has completed 19 marathons, with a personal best of 2 hours, 51 minutes achieved in the 1980 Boston Marathon, and set a national age group record of 10 kilometers in the 1977 Great Cow Harbor 10K Run. He also ran a 5:12 mile as part of the relay team that set the national 4 x 1 mile record for teams of runners age 50 plus in 1984, a record (20 minutes, 25 seconds) which still stands.

Mal suffered a heart attack on March 30 of this year while training for the Boston Marathon. His recovery from that attack -- to the point where he has not only resumed running, but was able to win an age group trophy in the Bayville 5K Run on September 12 -- is a story that is definitely worth hearing.

For more information about the October 20 meeting, or about the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club generally, call Club President Mike Polansky at 575-3868.

Oyster Bay Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark, right, presents a citation to Frank DeGaldano at a testimonial given by fellow members of the Joseph Barry Council No. 2520, Knights of Columbus of Hicksville. DeGaldano has been a member of the Council since 1939 and has held every elected office. He currently holds the position of trustee. The life-long resident of Hicksville shared his proud moment with his wife, Lorraine.

Travelogues Deal With Scandinavia

A series of Magic Carpet Travelogues will get under way at the Bethpage Public Library on Tuesday, October 13, at 8 p.m. with Scandinavia: Norway and Sweden, the first destination. World traveler, photographer and lecturer, Milt Rashkin, will present the exciting slide shows. In 37 years of travelling together, Milt and Linda Rashkin visited more than 50 countries around the world as well as 49 of the United States. Their interest in different cultures and love of adventure literally took them to the far corners of the earth.

Before her untimely death in November, 1986, Linda was a school teacher whose interest in art, music and history sharpened her perceptions of people and places she visited. The taped narration and the musical background on the 25 travelogues produced by the Rashkins were all prepared by Linda. Milt, an engineer by profession, handled the technical aspects in creating each travelogue.

In Norway, enjoy quaint Bergen and stroll along the Bryggen -- a reminder of medieval life under the Hanseatic League. Visit Edvard Grieg's home and the tiny 12th Century Fantoft Stave Church. Take the famous Flam Railroad and relax on a cruise on the mighty Sognefjord.

The capital city of Oslo has medieval Akershus Castle, Viking ships, the Kon Tiki, and Ra II. Earlier life styles of the Norwegian people have been preserved in the fascinating Open Air Museum. Gaze at the famous sculptures by Gustav Vigeland in Frogner Park.

In Sweden, visit glorious Stockholm, the Venice of the north. Stroll the streets of the old city and enjoy the view from City Hall Tower. History unfolds in Riddarholm Church, the Cathedral, and the Royal Palace. Visit the Wassa, a 17th Century Man O'War recovered from the bottom of Oslo's harbor. Not far from Stockholm is impressive Gripsholm Castle and the beautiful Palace at Drottningholm.

Travelogue No. 2, to the South Pacific, will be on Tuesday, November 10, and Travelogue No. 3, to the Orient, on Tuesday, December 8.

Admission is free, and all are welcome.

Leukemia Soc. Fundraiser

The First Annual 25 Ton "Lift For Leukemia" is part of a joint effort of the Leukemia Society of America's Long Island Chapter and the All American Health Spa of 2 Burke Lane, Syosset. The event will take place during the time frame of October 10 to October 24 at the All American Health Spa. All proceeds will go to support the Leukemia Society's programs of research and local patient-aid.

Weightlifters are invited to participate. During the two week period, they will lift weights -- either through bench, squat, or deadlifts, and secure contributions to benefit the Leukemia Society. The cumulative lift weights of the participants will be added together to reach 25 tons. Regular process reports will be recorded at the gym.

Prizes will be awarded to all participants who raise $20 and over. These include T-shirts, sweat shirts and gift certificates redeemable at All American. A Lunch for Two, courtesy Manero's, along with a six-month membership will be awarded to the participant who raises the most money. The activities will culminate on October 24 at the All American Health Spa. The public is invited to attend -- $2 admission fee.

Leukemia, a cancer of the blood forming tissues, remains the number one disease killer of children. While there is still no known cure, research has led to significant advances in the treatment of the disease. Over the past 20 years, the survival rate for children has increased dramatically. Cure rates for children now stand at 65%.

Local AARP Receives Charter

Farmingdale Chapter has received Charter #3967 from the American Association of Retired Persons, Inc. and is now recognized officially by the National Organization, according to Kathleen Serkes, president.

Farmingdale Chapter first saw the light of day on August 14, 1985 when it was organized by Kathleen Serkes and Marie A. Pedersen. Its membership now numbers more than four hundred persons and is the largest AARP Chapter in Nassau County.

The charter was presented at the meeting of September 16, at the Masonic Hall, 193 Fulton Street, Farmingdale, by Mrs.

Wrenella Low, Assistant State Director, AARP, Nassau County to Mrs. Kathleen Serkes and Mrs. Marie A. Pedersen.

In her congratulatory remarks, Mrs. Low spoke of the difficulties encountered in establishing a Chapter and the fine work done by the organizers, Mrs. Pedersen and Mrs. Serkes. She also spoke of the work done by Mrs. Ruth Giugliannotti, Assistant State Dir. AARP, for Suffolk County, under whose jurisdiction the Chapter was founded, and regretted she was unable to be present to make the presentation. A celebration followed the presentation.

College Planning Events Scheduled Grumman Theater Guild Presentation

On Tuesday, September 29, the High School Guidance Department held a parents' meeting in the Little Theatre to discuss "Getting Into College." Counselors reviewed the process of taking S.A.T.'s, high school transcripts, college applications and financial aid.

At a later date parents will be invited to individual meetings to use the college computer, review catalogs, and see their child's transcript.

A number of colleges have sent representatives to Bethpage High School during the month of September, including Tulane University, University of Dayton, Campbell University, Roanoke College, Johnson & Wales College, Utica College of Syracuse University, St. Bonaventure University, Adelphi University, Manhattan College, and Salve Regina College. The High School will also provide transportation to a College Fair at S.U.N.Y. at Old Westbury on October 7.

Parent and student participation in these and other events sponsored by the Guidance Department will help insure a good match between college and student.

The PSAT will be administered to high school juniors on October 17. The PSAT gives students a chance to find out what the SAT is like and is also the qualifying test for students who wish to participate in the nationwide scholarship competitions administered by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Registration must be submitted to homeroom teachers by October 1.

The SAT's will be administered on November 7 (registration deadline October 2) and January 23 (registration deadline December 18).

Beth. Celebrates U.S. Constitution

John F. Kennedy Junior High School is placing a special emphasis on Constitutional studies this September in honor of the Constitution's Bicentennial. On September 16, announcements were made over the intercom throughout the day to inform students about the national celebration and educate them about the Preamble, Constitution and Bill of Rights. Junior High students will be working on essays about the Constitution and its effect on our lives today, Theodore Roosevelt and his relation to the Constitution, Theodore Roosevelt's concept of a strong presidency, and the value of the Constitutional amendments. Essays will be submitted to the United States Constitution Bicentennial Essay Contest sponsored by the Town of Oyster Bay Historical Commission.

At Bethpage High School, a red, white and blue Spirit Day was held on Wednesday to honor the Constitution's Bicentennial. Students will be entering the U.S. Constitution Bicentennial Essay Contest, and in the spring the Student Council is planning to add to the original Bicentennial Garden in the Senior Court.

The Grumman Theater Guild will present Stephen Sondheim's sophisticated musical "Merrily We Roll Along" on November 6, 7, 13, 14, 20 and 21 at the JFK Jr. High School in Bethpage.

"Merrily We Roll Along" is an emotionally moving musical about the trials and rewards of close, long-lasting friendship. Working backward in time, the story follows a group of close friends who have worked and loved together for the past thirty-five years. As the plot progresses back through time we get a unique look at how their relationships have changed and, finally, how they began their lives together. Filled with shattered illusions, petty jealousies, and exquisite joy, their lives will remind all of us of the frustration and fulfillment of our best relationships. As always with Sondheim, the music is complex, intricate and stirring.

David Rosenberg, the Artistic Director of the Grumman Theater Guild, is directing this production of "Merrily We Roll Along". David graduated with a degree in theatre arts from Stony Brook, and has been active as an actor and director for the past ten years. The musical direction is by William W. Williams, who has extensive credits in musical theatre, opera, and cabaret. Mr. Williams has directed the world premiere of Richard Cumming's opera "The Picnic", and has appeared in cabarets in Manhattan. The choreography for "Merrily We Roll Along" is being created by Carol Dellicicchi. This production is being managed by Warren Fletcher, a Bay Shore resident who has managed productions on Broadway and throughout the country. He was special effects supervisor for "Dracula", "Elephant Man", and "Le Liaisons Dangereuses" on Broadway.

The Grumman Theater Guild has been providing Long Islanders an opportunity to experience thought-provoking, polished theater productions for the past eight years. Centrally located on Long Island, the Guild performs at the JFK Jr. High School, on Broadway in Bethpage. The school is convenient to the LIE, the Northern State Parkway, and the Seaford-Oyster Bay Expressway.

Tickets for the Grumman Theater Guild's "Merrily We Roll Along" are $7 in advance and $8 at the door. Senior, Student, and group rates are available. Call 737-6848 or 785-7970 for further information or to order tickets.

Nassau County Vice Commander Ralph Veral, left, was on hand to swear in the new officers.

Sixth Graders Visit Caumsett

During the week of Sept. 14-19, sixth graders at Charles Campagne School in Bethpage experienced the Caumsett outdoor education program at the Marshall Field estate in Lloyd Neck. The students spent three days exploring the 1400 acre estate's salt marshes and seashore and studying a hands-on integrated program of Science, Social Studies and Math as they relate to the environment.

Evenings were devoted to the study of astronomy. Everyone enjoyed the trip as teachers and students got to know one another a little better through this unique learning experience.

Long Island Fair Set For October 9-12

The century-and-a-half old Long Island Fair will return again for its annual autumn run this year on the Columbus Day weekend at Old Bethpage Village Restoration.

The four-day extravaganza, running Friday through Monday, Oct. 9-12, will feature a spectacular array of farm-related exhibits, entertainment and events, according to County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta.

First held in 1842 and thought to be the oldest agricultural festival in America, the Long Island Fair recreates a typical 19th century fair in the ideal setting of a re-created 19th century village. Gulotta noted.

It will include corn-husking contests, magic shows, puppet shows, brass band concerts, folk singers, pony rides, a pumpkin patch, stilt walkers, a rope walker and much, much more.

A special feature this year will be an exhibit and demonstrations of Long Island's finest prize-winning heavy draft horses, including Clydesdales, Belgians and Percherons. Also featured this year will be an aviary housing exotic birds such as emus, cranes, black swans, pheasants and ravens.

Exhibits, which are judged and awarded prizes, include the finest of Long Island's agricultural produce, horticulture, domestic arts, poultry and livestock.

The fair is a joint effort of the Nassau County Department of Recreation and Parks and the Agricultural Society of Queens, Nassau and Suffolk. The entry fee is $5 for adults and $3 for children (5-17) and senior citizens (60 and over). The fee includes entry to the fair and to all village buildings and attractions. There is plenty of free parking with continuous free bus service to and from the perimeter parking areas.

Hicksville I.N.N. Helps Feed Many

The regular meeting of the Executive Board of the Interfaith Nutrition Network met on Friday, Sept. 25, at the headquarters for the Hicksville I.N.N., Trinity Episcopal Church in Hicksville. Father Dominic Ciannella presided over the meeting.

Hicksville I.N.N. has managed through the generosity of many individuals and businesses, to feed a great many homeless and hungry people in the Hicksville area, providing a noontime meal each weekday to all who come in need. Thus far, the Board has managed to utilize donated and surplus foods and supplies to the extent that they have been able to budget funds to pay for necessary food and regular maintenance of the headquarters of I.N.N. With the approaching winter months, there is always some apprehension regarding the means being available for continuance of this worthy project in our community. Fortunately, there is a sizeable staff of volunteer workers who cook, serve, clean up, plan, run errands and generally minister to the "guests", who are always made to feel welcome.

Hicksville I.N.N. is but one of such so-called "soup kitchens", since the Network includes many such I.N.N.'s throughout Long Island...many who provide even more to hungry people than do the tireless workers at Hicksville.

On Saturday evening, October 24, the Network is presenting a Benefit Performance featuring a musical program at Kellenberg Memorial High School in Uniondale. The program will consist of performances by members of the Nassau Mid-Island Chapter of "S.P.E.B.S.Q.A." (Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, Inc.) and the Greater Nassau Chapter of the Sweet Adelines, Inc. (the distaff side of the same talent). Tickets are priced at $7.50. The proceeds will go to funding all of the I.N.N.'s in Long Island.

Anyone wishing to make a donation to the Hicksville I.N.N., can send it to the Hicksville I.N.N. c/o Trinity Episcopal Church, Old Country Road and Jerusalem Ave., Hicksville, N.Y. 11801. Anyone wishing to donate time to this worthy activity can call Father Ciannella at 935-4055.

10.99% annual percentage rate	11.37% annual percentage rate	11.76% annual percentage rate	10.54% annual percentage rate

Quoted rates are for self-liquidating, "full income verification" loans with a minimum down payment of 25% of appraised value on 1- to 4-family homes. The annual percentage rates include origination and placement fees. The Bank sets the interest rates on loans at the time of commitment (for a 90-day period), not at the time of application. The rates contained in this advertisement may change while an application is being processed, and may not be available at the time of commitment.

Repayment terms for 10-year (15-year and 30-year) fixed rate loans at the stated rates would be 120 (180 and 360) monthly payments of $13.50 ($11.37 and $9.91) per $1,000 borrowed.

'Miss America' Contest Not So Popular Presently

Most callers to Input think that the "Miss America Pageant" has run its course in answer to this question: "Do you think that the Miss America Pageant has much meaning in present times?" Here are some of the answers:

CONTRIVED SHOW

Miss America has turned out to be one big bore. It purports to pick the best young woman in America and then ends up with a contrived show replete with all types of makeup and gadgets. It should melt away as being irrelevant in modern times. L.K.

OPINION POLL

I like the "Miss America" show, although I do not know how they pick their winners. Miss Alabama and Miss Virginia were better looking, yet they were passed over. The selection is an opinion poll in which only the judges have an opinion. It should be subject to a wider vote. M.W.

GOING DOWN

Forget "Miss America." This show has been going down and down every year. No one really cares about this hodge-podge. It is not a beauty contest. It is certainly not a talent contest. Each contestant strains to do something different and the little talks by the contestants are inane. M.T.

TRADITIONS

There is always someone who wants to throw away our traditions. The "Miss America" contest is a tradition of this country. I think it should continue. The modern version is far better than what it used to be and, with scholarship awards, it plays to intelligent contestants. I think we should all give it a vote of confidence. V.B.

BEAUTY CONTEST

I thought it was a poor show and if something better was on TV, I would have turned it off. The modern woman has no business vying for beauty prizes. If we are going to be people who are respected, we have to do away with demeaning things like beauty contests. The changing of the rules that has taken place still does not change the basic show. It is a beauty contest. N.F.

HIGH RATING

Even though many people criticize the "Miss America" Pageant, it has a high rating on TV and thousands of people watch it. I think that once a year it should go on and does have meaning in that we praise the young women who come forward with poise, talent and beauty. V.R.

LOST SOME APPEAL

Presumably, the "Miss America" Pageant is a source of motivation for the young people and of pleasure for the elders. By design, the basic judgement points were concerned not only with beauty, carriage and talent, but also with a serious consideration of educational factors. As an annual event, it captured national attention with the media giving it top priority in print and on the air. Quite frankly, I don't find that same hypnotic quality in the current competition and, as an event, I think it has lost its sensational appeal. Granted, the prizes for the winner are still worth the effort but the glamour is gone. In today's world, it contends with factors which in so many instances compete strongly with the idealistic aims of the Pageant at a lower level. I hate to mention the word "rock" or even the decided softening of the moral fiber of many youthful contemporaries, but I seriously question just what elements of the Pageant would inspire them to make the great and dedicated effort it takes to become a contender in the Pageant finals. To answer the question, I would say that the "Miss America" Pageant continues to have some meaning but to a far lesser extent than it had in the past, which will certainly affect future advertising benefits and, consequently, some of the carrots which are so attractive to prospective contenders for the title. P.G.S.

REGISTERED NURSE

The present Miss America is a registered nurse. The picture in the newspapers recently shows her with a group of children whose school is in need of help. I have hope that our present Miss America will be more than a sex symbol. K.S.

LITTLE IMPORTANCE

I do not think the "Miss America" Pageant has much importance in today's world. I see it as a show which I'm not really interested in viewing except occasionally for the talent presentation. The only real value of this competition is the fact that it is one of the largest single sources of scholarship funds for young women. In my opinion, true beauty comes from within and everyone is beautiful in their own way, young or old. C.P.

GIVEN IT UP

To be honest with you, I've given up watching the "Miss America" extravaganza. It used to be an enjoyable way to spend the evening but, in modern years, the production has gotten to be a bit much. Seems like the producers are more interested in a showy program of entertainment rather than the real reason for picking an all-around, young woman worthy of wearing the "Miss America" crown. S.T.

American History Has Italian Flavor

By Jerome J. Niosi, Ph.D.

As we commemorate the national holiday honoring the memory of the Great Discoverer, Christopher Columbus, all Americans of Italian ancestry can with pride recall the observation of the Boston "Transcript" over fifty years ago: "The Italians," wrote the "Transcript," "in proportion to their numbers, have perhaps contributed more to America than any other national group." Similar commemorations honor many other groups in this multi-ethnic nation of ours.

But the United States is not a "melting pot." Rather, American society is more like a good minestrone soup, made up of many ingredients, none losing their identity but which by the simmering of history develop into the variegated richness of America.

Appreciating their substantial contributions to western civilization, most Italians are tolerantly amused by many of the caricatures permeating the media. Instead, they laugh at their foibles, work out their future, enjoy their families, their church and their country. They are proud that, so far as they know, no American of Italian descent fled to Canada to avoid his national obligation during the Viet Nam War; that in WWII, it was Sergeant John Basilone who became the first enlisted Marine to receive the Congressional Medal of Honor for exceptional heroism during the invasion of Iwo Jima.

Italians at least up to 1880 fitted easily into American society. Indeed, Thomas Jefferson who named his home "Monticello" and taught himself Italian; proposed to encourage the immigration of Italian farmers to Virginia because of their agricultural skills and adaptability to southern climate. After 1880, the tremendous influx of people of different races, culture and language made main-stream assimilation more difficult, something analogous to the assimilation today of Hispanics and Asiatics.

While Italians were welcome in early America, it was not easy to determine just who was Italian. Names were often changed: Prioli became Priolesi; Quagli became Quigly; General Baldi became General Baldy. One man named "Symm" in 1623 was identified as Italian only on his tombstone in Jamestown. Another "Symmes" was a member of the Continental Congress and became Chief Justice of New Jersey. His daughter married William Henry Harrison, later elected President of the United States. Elizabeth Tagliaferrò married George Wythe, Signer of the Declaration of Independence. Cesare Alberti who married a Dutch woman in 1642 raised a son as William Alburias who became a constable.

The trend continued. Emilio Yosti became Emil Yost, a real estate magnate whose grandson Alexander Leseur became Secretary of the State of Missouri. In 1806 Antoine Bovi's son, Pascal Bovis was the first Italian to graduate from West Point. Theatre buffs may recall that Serafina Formicola who married Stewart Bankhead is an ancestor of Tallulah Bankhead. They may also remember that the Fonda family originated in Genoa. The family moved to Holland and in 1642 came to America. And who does not chuckle when Mario Cuomo insists that he is a WASP - a White American of Sicilian Parentage!

The substance of the Italian ingredient becomes more significant when it is considered against the cumulative sweep of cause and effect in history: Fr. John Carpin's missionary efforts in the Orient beginning in 1245, the vast business interests of the Polos, the suggestions of Florentine geographer Paolo Toscanelli all aided in the accumulation of new geographical knowledge. When Bartolomeo Columbo returned from his epochal voyage around Africa, his older brother Christopher Columbus became convinced that he could reach the East by sailing West. The results ushered in an Age of Exploration unmatched in history.

Giovanni Gaboto opened the northeast coast of North America for England; Giovanni Verrazzano entered New York harbor 85 years before Henry Hudson, and while Amerigo Vespucci described the New World, Antonio Pigafetta recorded Ferdinand Magellan's incredible three year voyage around the world.

Meanwhile, in North America, in 1539, Franciscan Friar Marco da Nizza, searching for the fabled Seven Cities of Cibola, traveled 2000 miles through the Gila Valley, up through Arizona and reached the present state of Kansas. Further north, Enrico de Tonti, second in command to La Salle, built the first sailing vessel on the Great Lakes, used the fur trade to finance his expedition which claimed Louisiana for France and founded New Orleans. Establishing a fort and trading post further south along the Mississippi earned for him the title of "Father of Arkansas" while his younger brother Alphonse founded Detroit and served as governor of the territory for eleven years. Less fortunately, Father Francisco Giuseppe Brassani who first described the impressive Niagara Falls, narrated the story of his capture and torture by the Indians and his redemption from slavery by the Dutch.

In the Far West, Father Eusebio Francisco Chino, in 1702 explored some 20,000 miles of California determining it to be a peninsula, built more than 30 churches and baptized some 4500 Indians. Fr. Chino's contributions have been recognized by the dedication in 1965 of his statue in the state capital.

As the English colonies developed, Italians took their place in the life of the community. Onorio Razzolini was appointed Armourer and Keeper of the Maryland Stores, the first hold public office in America. It was 1756.

GOOD PLACE

Your Place or Mine is the name of a new restaurant we visited last night. I has a somewhat funny name for a restaurant but we found the food and service to be nothing to make fun of. We had the best steaks we have had in some time at Your Place or Mine. The food is prepared in a continental style and they are just very delicious eating specials.

The vegetables were prepared well and the baked potato was right as though it had been popped in the oven when we came to the restaurant.

The price is fair and we think the decor is nice. We recommend this restaurant located on Hillside Avenue. Williston Park to anyone who likes good food. H.R.

GREAT PLACE

We are always looking for a local restaurant that serves good food with friendly atmosphere and service. We tried the new C.K. Olliver's on Hillside Avenue in Williston Park and our search was ended. The menu has a nice variety of entrees and many interesting fish dishes. The blackened fish was a real treat. I recommend this new dining stop to your readers. J.B.

Q. Where restrooms have a person handing you towels, what is the proper amount to tip?
 A. In many cases the attendant operates on a concession basis, taking the tips in return for keeping the restrooms clean and maintained. If you are feeling generous a dollar is enough and will cover any subsequent visits to the restroom. However, you are not obligated to tip the person.
 Q. At a restaurant where there is valet parking and you do not have a reservation, what do you tip the person when you cannot get a table and decide to leave?
 A. Depending on whether you frequent the restaurant regularly, the tip is optional and the attendant will understand if you pass him up this time.

Q. What is the limit for visits to an all you can eat salad bar?
A. If you are only paying to eat at the salad bar, then hunger and a certain amount of self-consciousness should dictate the number. If it is at a restaurant that includes it in with the entree then twice would seem sufficient considering you will have a meal to eat afterwards.

Q. What is the proper amount to tip a waitress at a buffet brunch where all she serves you is coffee?
A. Since the waitress is still providing you with a service and she is not being paid any more for the brunch shift 10 percent would be appropriate unless the service and food has been very good. The waitress still has to share her tips with the rest of the staff.

NEW FIND
 Thanks for the tip. I was in the city recently for a show at Carnegie Hall and happened to see the sign for Lello's Italian Restaurant. I had remembered it from your Discovery section and decided to try it. The food was excellent. I've told my friends about it and I thought I'd give you my appreciation for the tip. F.W.

RATES A BIG SMILE
 For a taste of the Irish or just good food served by friendly folks, Kenny's Cafe gets my vote. I had passed by the place on South Oyster Bay Road many times during the summer. I happened to be hungry at the right time. The food was great and the people impressed me. The good prices have me convinced. I'm now a regular. Maybe your readers should come by and join me. I'm the one with the big smile. G.J.

EXCELLENT FISH

The Surfside Restaurant is a new one to me. We passed it last week along Hillside Avenue and then remembered we had seen it advertised so we popped in. The service was great but the fish menu is just excellent.

One in our party had filet of sole which was the freshest and most delicious ever. Another had scrod and it also was first rate. We also understand that there are many early specials served each week and that you can get a full dinner at a reasonable price. We think that New Hyde Park can well be proud of this new restaurant and recommend it highly to your readers. J.K.

Q. At restaurants that have dancing and dinner, should you wait for all your food to be served before dancing?

A. The usual procedure would be to wait until after the main course. Dessert can be broken by a trip to the dance floor. However, if the time between courses is extended then a dance may help pass the time between courses.

Fish in a hash

Making hash is a great way of stretching some of our more costly premium ingredients — in this case, beautiful sweet crabmeat and rich smoked and fresh salmon. The secret is in making very sure that you're not masking the flavors that have been purchased so dearly and in using just the right kind and amount of complementary ingredients to complete the dish.

While the word "hash" is derived from the French verb hacher, meaning "to chop in small pieces," the real secret to fine hash is in not cutting the various elements too small, lest they all lose their identity and result in a squishy cake of unidentifiable mystery food. Thus, we recommend tossing the mixture for the Crabmeat Cakes as gently as possible so that many large lumps of snowy white meat are still visible, and we suggest that if using canned salmon in the Hashed Fish you try not to mix it so vigorously that the fish is reduced to mush.

Serve the Crabmeat Cakes with thickly sliced, ripe tomatoes, buttered corn if you can still get it freshly picked, and maybe a plum cobbler for dessert.

The Hashed Fish with Vegetables would be equally delicious if made with similar proportions of smoked and fresh fish, such as cod, tuna or whitefish. If the smoked fish available in your area is especially smoky or salty, use the smaller (3-ounce) amount. Accompany with salad of lettuce and radishes and offer lime sherbet with chocolate shavings for dessert.

CRABMEAT CAKES

- ¾ pound cooked crabmeat, preferably Maryland lump crabmeat, picked over to remove any bits of shell or cartilage
- 2 cups fresh bread crumbs, divided (about 5 slices good-quality white bread whirred in food processor)
- ¾ cup coarsely chopped celery
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 egg
- 1 egg yolk
- 1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ¾ teaspoon Tabasco or other liquid hot pepper sauce
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- 4 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 2 tablespoons butter

In large bowl, combine picked-over crabmeat and ¾ cup of fresh bread crumbs. Add chopped celery and onion to bowl and gently toss with fork to combine.

In small bowl, lightly beat egg and egg yolk with mustard, Worcestershire, Tabasco, salt and pepper. Pour egg mixture over crab mixture and toss lightly with fork to combine, trying to leave as many large lumps of crabmeat as possible.

Place 2 large skillet on stove. In each, melt 2 tablespoons of oil and 1 tablespoon of butter.

Place remaining bread crumbs on large plate. Using hands, form 2- to 3-inch cakes of crab mixture, place cakes on crumbs and pat crumbs into surface. (Do not worry if cakes are somewhat crumbly — just form them as best you can).

When oil and butter are hot in skillets, cook crab cakes over medium heat until crusty brown and heated through, about 5 minutes per side. Serve with lemon wedges.

Yield: 8 2- to 3-inch cakes (4 servings).

Preparation and cooking time: 30 minutes.

HASHED FISH WITH VEGETABLES

- 1 large (8-ounce) all-purpose potato
- 3-4 ounces smoked salmon, 8 ounces fresh salmon, skinned
- 1 green pepper
- 3 scallions
- ½ cup corn kernels, either fresh cut from cob or frozen
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- ½ cup fresh bread crumbs (about 2 slices white bread whirred in food processor)
- ½ cup heavy cream

Preheat oven to 425 F. Bring pot of water to boil for cooking potato. Peel potato and cut in quarters. Cook for 15 minutes or until tender but still firm. Drain.

Meanwhile, finely chop smoked salmon. Remove skin and bones from fresh fish and cut into 4-inch chunks.

Place both kinds of fish in mixing bowl. Seed and dice pepper and thinly slice scallions, including 3 inches of green tops and add them along with corn and lemon juice to bowl. Toss with fork to combine. Cut potato into ½-inch dice, add to mixture and toss again. Season with black pepper.

Turn mixture into buttered 1½-quart baking dish, sprinkle with crumbs and pour cream over top. Bake uncovered in preheated oven for about 15 minutes until salmon is cooked and crumbs are beginning to brown.

Note: One 7½-ounce can of salmon may be substituted for fresh fish. Pick over to remove big pieces of skin and large bones. Toss gently with vegetables so fish stays in relatively large chunks.

Yield: 4 servings.

Preparation and cooking time: 35 minutes.

Hot dogs, ham sandwiches, egg salad — they just wouldn't be the same without mustard. Ranging from the mild varieties found in American supermarkets to the fiery blends favored in the Orient, this condiment has been used for thousands of years: there are recipes for mustard sauce dating back to the first century A.D.

In days gone by the French set a table with two mustards: one for gentlemen and a milder one for the ladies. Basically, prepared mustard is simply a mixture of crushed mustard seed and water.

TANGY GLAZED MEAT LOAF

- 1½ pounds lean ground beef
- 2 eggs
- ¼ cup coarse cracker or bread crumbs
- ¼ cup milk
- ¼ cup each chopped onion and bell pepper
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon each crushed dried marjoram and thyme
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ¼ cup ketchup
- 2 tablespoons light brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon dry powdered mustard
- ¼ teaspoon cider vinegar

Preparation Time: 5 to 10 minutes

Cooking Time: 20 to 23 minutes (plus 5 minutes standing time)

Oven Setting: MEDIUM-HIGH (70 percent power)

Combine beef, eggs, cracker or bread crumbs, milk, onion, bell pepper, salt, marjoram, thyme, and pepper in medium-size mixing bowl. Use hands to blend mixture thoroughly. Pack lightly into 5½-cup glass ring mold or round glass baking dish with tumbler inverted in center. Microwave 15 minutes, rotating dish ¼ turn every 5 minutes; spoon off excess fat.

Combine remaining ingredients in small bowl and spoon over meat loaf. Microwave, uncovered, 5 to 8 minutes longer, or until meat in center is no longer pink. Cover with foil and let stand 5 minutes before serving.

Serves 4 to 6.

WHOLE CAULIFLOWER WITH MUSTARD-CHEESE SAUCE

- 1 medium-size cauliflower
- ½ cup water
- ¼ cup mayonnaise
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup shredded cheddar cheese
- Dash each paprika and poppy seeds

Preparation Time: 5 to 10 minutes

Cooking Time: 14 to 21 minutes

Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Trim leaves from cauliflower and cut stem flush with base of head. Place cauliflower in deep 1- to 2-quart glass casserole or bowl; add water. Cover and microwave 12 to 18 minutes or until cauliflower is tender; drain.

Combine all remaining ingredients except cheese and paprika in small mixing bowl. Spoon mixture evenly over top of cauliflower, then sprinkle with shredded cheese. Dust lightly with paprika, then sprinkle lightly with poppy seeds.

Microwave, uncovered, 2 to 3 minutes longer, or until sauce is hot and cheese is melted.

Serves 4 to 6.

SWEET AND SOUR MUSTARD SAUCE

- 1 cup granulated sugar
- 2 tablespoons dry powdered mustard
- 1 tablespoon all-purpose flour
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- 1 cup cream
- ½ cup cider vinegar
- 2 egg yolks, lightly beaten

Preparation Time: 5 minutes

Cooking Time: 3 to 5 minutes

Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Combine sugar, mustard, flour, salt and pepper in 1-quart glass casserole. Blend in cream, vinegar, and egg yolks, stirring well until smooth.

Microwave, uncovered, 3 to 5 minutes, or until sauce is thickened and heated through, stirring every 30 seconds. Serve over steamed vegetables or as a dip for deep-fried vegetables.

Makes about 2 cups.

MUSTARD-SPIKED MICROWAVE HOLLANDAISE

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- 1 teaspoon all-purpose flour
- ¼ cup whipping cream
- 2 egg yolks, well beaten
- 1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- ¼ teaspoon dry powdered mustard
- Dash each salt and ground white pepper

Preparation Time: 5 minutes

Cooking Time: 2½ to 3½ minutes

Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Place butter in 1-quart glass casserole. Microwave about 1 minute, or until melted but not browned. Add flour and stir to blend, then slowly stir in cream.

Blend in remaining ingredients, stirring well. Microwave, uncovered, 1 to 2½ minutes, stirring every 30 seconds, until sauce is thickened. Remove from oven and beat with wire whip about 1 minute before serving.

Makes about ¾ cup.

Olives: a handful of savory ideas

It's about the super colossal olives. When anything measures 1 1/4 inches high and is named Super Colossal, there must be a joke somewhere.

And, basically, that is affirmed by George York, Ph.D., a microbiologist with the University of California Cooperative Extension Service who specializes in food preservation and technology.

"The olive industry is sorry," said York, about olive sizing and its nomenclature, in a recent interview. "The names were dreamed up by advertising people in the heyday of the olive industry before and right after World War II. They rigged all these names and now they're stuck. It has become a joke that a large olive is, in fact, a small olive."

Consider the consumer's confusion at the grocery shelf. Just how small is a Small olive? (The average is 3/4-inch.) And what is the difference between most Medium and Jumbo olives? (About 1/4-inch.)

But there is no joke about the usefulness of olives. Whether home cured or commercially preserved, their savory flavor and firm, smooth texture can add dimension to many dishes. Canned ripe olives are a salad ingredient easy to keep on hand. Ripe olives are packed in a light brine that brings out the flavor of the fruit and protects them in transportation. And with a recommended shelf life of three to four years, unopened cans of ripe olives can rest in home pantries at room temperature, ready to add their intense color and flavor at a moment's notice.

History of olives

Olives grew wild in Syria and Asia Minor as early as 3500 B.C. When it was discovered that a flavorful oil could be pressed from olives, the Assyrians cultivated the wild olive from a thorny bush into the beautiful tree we know today.

Olive culture spread to Jerusalem some 2,000 years before Christ. In ancient Greece and Rome, olive oil was regarded as an invaluable food. Olives have been grown for eating and for oil throughout the Mediterranean region for hundreds of years.

Spanish explorers brought olives to the New World, where the fruit was first cultivated in Mexico in the 17th and 18th centuries. Cuttings were transported from Mexico in 1769 and Franciscan monks planted olive cuttings at missions along the California coast.

Around 1900 Freda Ehmann, working on her back porch, developed the ripe olive process using lye, which is unique to California.

Within a few years she had built a factory in Oroville and the California olive industry was born.

Recipes featuring olives:

OLIVE FOCACCIA (fo-ka-cha)

- 1 (13 1/4-ounce) package hot roll mix
- 1 (10 1/2-ounce) can pizza sauce
- 1 medium clove garlic
- 1/2 teaspoon oregano, crumbled
- 1/2 teaspoon basil, crumbled
- 2 tablespoons vegetable oil
- 1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese
- 1 1/4 cups pitted ripe olives, sliced
- 1/4 cup minced parsley

Prepare hot roll mix as package directs to form dough. Pat dough out on greased baking sheet to 15x10x1/4-inch rectangle. Poke finger deeply into dough at 1-inch intervals. Let rise in warm place for 45 minutes.

Meanwhile, combine pizza sauce with garlic, oregano, basil and oil. Set aside half. Spread remainder over dough. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in 450 F oven 8 minutes. Sprinkle olives over partially baked focaccia and spoon reserved pizza sauce on top. Sprinkle with parsley. Bake 5 minutes longer or until edges are lightly browned. Yields 6 to 8 servings.

Note: Wrap bread well and freeze, if desired. To reheat, unwrap and place on baking sheet; bake in 350 F oven about 25 minutes.

CHICKEN CALIFORNIA

- 2 breasts of chicken, split, skinned and boned
- Salt and pepper
- Flour
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1/2 cup white wine
- 1 cup heavy cream or creme fraiche
- 1 (10-ounce) package frozen artichoke hearts, cooked, drained
- 1 cup pitted ripe olives, whole or halved
- Lemon wedges

Pound chicken breasts between waxed paper to 1/4-inch thick; cut each into 3 pieces. Sprinkle with salt and pepper; coat lightly with flour. Sauté chicken quickly in butter over medium high heat, turning once until golden brown. Remove to platter and keep warm.

Add wine and cream to skillet; simmer until sauce thickens (4 to 5 minutes). Stir in artichokes and olives. Serve sauce with chicken, allowing 3 chicken medallions for each serving. Serve lemon wedges to squeeze over each serving. Yields 4 servings.

PASTA SALAD WITH OLIVES

- 1 pound spinach, stems removed, washed and drained
- 1/2 pound bowtie pasta, cooked and drained
- Tangy Dressing (recipe follows)
- 2 medium tomatoes, cut into small chunks
- 1/4 pound Monterey Jack or feta cheese, cubed
- 1 cup pitted ripe olives, halved
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- Orange slices

Line large salad bowl with a few spinach leaves. Coarsely shred remaining spinach leaves and toss with cooled pasta and 1/2 cup Tangy Dressing. Pile in salad bowl. Arrange tomatoes, cheese cubes and olives in concentric circles on top. Sprinkle top with parsley and garnish with orange slices. Pass remaining dressing.

TANGY DRESSING

- 6 tablespoons red wine vinegar
- 1/2 cup vegetable oil
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon EACH: thyme, rosemary, marjoram and pepper
- 1 medium clove garlic, minced

Combine all ingredients in jar. Shake well to mix. Yields 6 servings.

LUNCHEBASKET PITAS

- 2 cups shredded cooked chicken
- 1/4 cup pitted ripe olives, cut into wedges
- 1/2 cup sliced celery
- 1/4 cup sour cream
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- Pita breads, halved
- Tomato slices
- Lettuce
- Parsley
- Extra ripe olives

Combine shredded chicken, olives, celery, sour cream, curry powder, salt and pepper. Stuff into pita breads along with tomatoes and lettuce. Garnish with parsley and extra ripe olives if desired. Yields 4 servings.

OLD MISSION CASSEROLE

- 1 cup milk
- 2 eggs
- 1/2 cup flour
- 1/4 pound Monterey Jack cheese, grated
- 1/4 pound cheddar cheese, grated
- 1 (7-ounce) can whole green chilies, chopped or cut in large pieces
- 1 cup pitted ripe olives, wedged
- 1 (8-ounce) can tomato sauce

Blend milk, eggs and flour. Combine cheeses; save 1/4 cup for top. Layer half remaining cheese in greased deep 1 1/2-quart casserole with half of chilies and half of olives. Pour on half of milk mixture. Repeat. Cover with tomato sauce. Bake in 375 F oven 60 minutes. Top with reserved cheese. Bake 5 to 10 minutes longer until set.

Yields 4 to 6 main dish servings or 10 to 12 appetizer servings.

Note: This dish can be baked in deep 9- or 10-inch pie shell. Bake shell in 400 F oven 10 minutes. Cool, fill and bake in 375 F oven about 45 minutes. Or bake in individual casseroles about 30 minutes.

RED SNAPPER PROVENCE

- 1 1/4 pounds red snapper or other firm white fish fillets
- Flour
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 (8-ounce) can stewed tomatoes
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1 1/2 cups pitted ripe olives, sliced
- 2 tablespoons dry white wine
- 2 medium cloves garlic, minced
- 1 teaspoon oregano, crumbled
- 1/2 teaspoon tarragon, crumbled
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme, crumbled
- Fresh parsley, finely chopped

Dust fish with flour. Melt butter in skillet. Add fish. Cook over medium-high heat, turning once, until fish will flake apart with fork, about 6 to 10 minutes. Remove from heat and keep warm.

Meanwhile, in saucepan, combine tomatoes, cornstarch, olives, wine, garlic, oregano, tarragon and thyme. Cook over medium-high heat until mixture thickens and comes to boil. Spoon over fish. Sprinkle with minced parsley. Serve with Turmeric Rice (recipe follows).

Yields 4 servings.

TURMERIC RICE

- 2 cups water
- 1 cup long grain white rice
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1/4 teaspoon turmeric

Bring water to boil. Add rice, return to boil, reduce heat and simmer covered 20 to 25 minutes or until water is absorbed. Stir in butter and turmeric.

Yields about 3 cups rice.

RIPE OLIVE CORN RELISH

- 1 cup ripe olives, quartered
- 2 cups whole kernel corn, freshly cooked or canned
- 1/4 cup diced pimiento
- 1/2 cup olive oil
- 1/2 cup cider vinegar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon freshly ground pepper
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
- Fresh parsley, chopped

Combine olives, corn and pimiento in bowl. Blend remaining ingredients; pour over olive mixture, turning to coat well. Cover bowl and chill several hours to blend flavors.

Yields about 3 1/2 cups relish.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q: I have acquired a 1930s era dresser that remains in solid condition, but has accumulated a thick greasy film and an assortment of scratches. The scratches are primarily on the top and sides, while the greasy film is thickest on the front of the drawers.

I plan to strip the finish in order to remove the dirt and scratches, and then refinish the entire dresser. My problem is that I don't exactly know how I should proceed.

Should I attempt to remove the greasy film before stripping the finish or is this even necessary? Also, will stripping the finish remove the scratches (they aren't very deep)?

Also the dresser has an old musty smell about it. Any suggestions on removing that smell? — L.H.M.

A: It could be that your dresser only needs a good cleaning rather than a complete refinishing. Before launching into refinishing, buy a good furniture cleaner (not a furniture polish) and test a small area. If that area turns out clean, and the grain of the wood is clear, you probably won't have to refinish.

A fairly new product on the market for furniture restoration without refinishing is Formby's Face Lift, available through decorator and home products stores, as well as hardware stores. This is kit that contains application directions, a cleaner, buffer and final finish, along with scrubber and buffer sponges.

If, after cleaning, or trying Face Lift on a small spot, you find that the finish is checked or "alligatored" heavily, chances are it needs refinishing.

If the finish is varnish, lacquer or shellac, you only need a modern furniture refinisher to dissolve the old finish. But if it's painted or coated with any of the synthetic resins like epoxy or polyurethane, you will need a paint remover.

To test for the difference, moisten a cotton ball with nail polish remover and touch an inconspicuous area of the finish that is still glossy. If the cotton ball sticks, the finish is varnish, lacquer or shellac and a refinisher is needed. If the cotton ball does not stick, use a paint remover.

If paint remover is required, choose one that does not recommend a water rinse since water can loosen wood veneer and cause the joints to swell. Work in small areas, about the size of a plate, removing all of the finish before moving on.

If using a refinisher, complete the task by using steel wool and fresh refinisher, wiping with the grain of the wood to remove any streaks or residue. If scratches remain, use a fine sandpaper to gently sand the area. Use caution, particularly if the wood is a veneer. It is easy to sand through the veneer and mar the finish permanently.

Once the finish is removed you can apply a stain for a preferred color change. Whether or not stain is used, a finish should always be used to protect the wood. For best results select a finish that contains tung oil. Two finish coats usually will be sufficient.

If you decide that cleaning the dresser is adequate, except for some remaining small scratches, try rubbing the scratches with a little raw linseed oil. Or use a commercial crayonlike stick shellac that is available in a variety of colors for your local paint store. The proper shade of shoe polish is also good for camouflaging small scratches.

To get rid of the musty odor, thoroughly air the dresser (outdoors in the sunlight would be best). Clean the drawers and spray with an aromatic cedar spray available at closet shops, or a similar freshener.

Q: The top surface of my dining room table is made up of thin strips of varying woods. The wood surface had never been treated with any material to resist water, food spills, etc.

The furniture dealer recommended using linseed oil to build up a stain-resistant surface. The linseed oil has done that on the table itself, and every time I oil the table, I also oiled and wiped the leaves, which are seldom used.

The last time I planned to use the leaves, their surface was encrusted as if with enamel or polyurethane! Is there some method of removing this "glossy" appearance? Thank you for any assistance you give. — W.K.S.

A: Try thoroughly cleaning the leaves with Murphy's Soap, which is a good wood cleaner or with the Formby's Face Lift described above.

You may want to clean both the leaves and the table so the finish will be fairly consistent. After cleaning, if the "glossy" finish remains, use a fine steel wool and turpentine to rub the surface lightly. This will dull the shine.

43 percent of these costs. Welfare (Medicaid) programs fund the balance. Insurance as a source should increase in the future as more senior citizens are buying specific long term care insurance policies.

Many present residents in long term care facilities use personal funds until their estates are drained and then, being classified as poor, Medicaid assumes the funding.

Will the federal government assume more funding through Medicare? Probably not. Even current deliberations on "catastrophic care" legislation do not include provisions for long term care.

WHAT ARE THE COSTS?

The average cost, according to recent research, is $67 per day, or $24,000 per year. Some nursing home costs, though, may exceed $35,000 annually.

About 800,000 senior citizens — the average age at entry is 81 — are in nursing homes, paying a total of $35 billion annually, with about $18 billion of that funded by individuals and private insurance.

TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, E.M.D.

Dr. Wallace: I am an 18-year-old girl and attend a local community college. My problem is that my "best" friend lives at our home and I don't like it anymore. My best friend's parents moved away and my best friend wanted to stay in the area and attend the same college that I attend. She asked my parents (after she talked with me) if she could live with us for a year and my parents said yes.

It's true that you don't really know a person until you live with them. Well, I found out and I want my friend to get out of the house. Since she doesn't have a car, I've got to haul her every place she wants to go and, on top of that, she borrows a lot of my clothes and jewelry.

My parents didn't ask Ashley to pay any room and board so this freeloader is living at our house and not paying one thing. When I mention that to her she says "that's no way to treat a friend." Well, if this is the way friends act, then I don't want any friends. — Karen.

Karen: You sound very jealous. You and your parents agreed to allow your best friend to live in your house for a year so she could attend a community college. Your parents seem to be holding up their end of the agreement, so why don't you? Actually, you sound like an immature spoiled brat. Be a gracious host and quit complaining.

Dr. Wallace: I am 15 and love to read newspapers, magazines and books. I keep up with current events and have a lot of opinions about what's going on in the world. My problem is that I can't seem to find anyone my own age to talk to about these things. My classmates can talk for hours about who's going with whom or about the latest movies and TV shows and rock concerts, but they're very ignorant about "hard" news: political and economic happenings, foreign events, foreign and domestic policy. I wind up talking with my parents and teachers, which is OK, but I wish I had a friend my own age who's interested in these things. I would appreciate your thoughts on this subject. — Veronica.

Veronica: Talk with your school counselor and see if it's possible for you to take an evening course at a nearby college or university (even if it is for no college credit) in something that would be enjoyable and a challenge. I agree that you need this academic stimulation.

Dr. Wallace: I am 19 and my boyfriend is 20 and I feel he has a big problem. Lately, he has started to drink alcohol. To make matters worse, he also drives after he drinks. I've told him that he is going to kill himself or some other innocent person, but my words fall on deaf ears. Last night when he came to pick me up for a date he smelled like a brewery. I was scared to death all evening that he was going to have an accident. Please tell me how I can get him to stop drinking. — Paula.

Paula: I wish I knew how to get people to stop drinking. The desire to stop must come from the drinker. But maybe he cares more about you than he does about alcohol at this time. Find out. Let him know that if he ever drinks and drives when you are with him, he had better find himself a new girlfriend. And mean what you say!

Teens: While coping with excess pounds may be difficult in today's weight-conscious world, thinness is not a prerequisite to popularity, reports Seventeen magazine. In fact, having a less-than-perfect body need not stand in the way of maintaining an active social life.

How overweight young people perceive themselves can affect the way others respond to them socially, author Beth Laskowski points out. Often suffering from low self-esteem, those who are overweight sometimes view themselves as social outcasts, thinking no one will like them because of their appearance. This self-consciousness can prevent them from reaching out and making friends, she adds.

"Sometimes, our weight-conscious world overlooks overweight teens," Laskowski says. "Sometimes they're excluded. But sometimes they become their own worst enemy and exclude themselves. If you act like you don't want to be included, then that's what will happen."

Developing a positive self-image can help fight the overweight blues and gain you better acceptance among your peers.

Mainly for Seniors

By Leonard J. Hansen

Long term care. These three words carry more concern, more confusion and less understandable communication than most other words or expressions concerning mature adults.

Long term care — how to provide it and to pay for it — is being discussed without resolution in Congress. It is presented in horror stories by the media and presented as a threat to senior citizens by some who peddle insurance policies or other programs.

In this column we look at the term, the conditions, the cost and the quick facts on long term care.

LONG TERM CARE

Only a small percentage of senior citizens will ever need long term care. Presently only 5 percent of those age 65-plus are institutionalized in any way. There are additional senior citizens who have limited to full care at home, on a temporary or permanent basis.

Some current projections see a major increase in long term care facilities, cost and needs, but these projections fail to recognize an increase in positive and preventative health programs being used by today's senior citizens.

Long term care is defined at three levels: skilled nursing, intermediate and custodial.

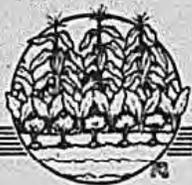

Skilled nursing care is a doctor-prescribed service, most often following acute hospital care, and is the only type of hospitalization that might be covered by Medicare. The restrictions are many where Medicare is concerned.

Part A of Medicare will help for "medically necessary" confinement in a "participating skilled nursing facility," but only for as long as a patient requires daily skilled nursing care or rehabilitation services up to a maximum of 100 days in any one benefit period. The reimbursement includes all covered services for the first 20 days of continuous confinement and all but a co-payment for the next 80 days provided a laundry list of requirements is met.

There is no Medicare coverage, really, for intermediate or custodial care. Medicare, overall, funds about 2 percent of the bills overall in long term care.

THE SOURCE OF FUNDING

But if Medicare does not fund for long term care, where do the funds come from to pay for these costs? Private individuals, from personal or insurance funds, pay

Give some thought to the poinsettia

Toward the end of September is the time to consider the special needs of some of our houseplants. The poinsettia, for example, will require a bit of thoughtful consideration around now.

Brought back indoors from a fattening summer vacation, our poinsettia plants will be looking good right now. They'll have lushed out on all that fresh air, bright light, water and fertilizer and will be vividly green and plumply bushy.

Now we have a decision to make — whether to be content with their fresh green good looks or to go for Christmas color in our poinsettias. Because the coloring of those top bracts on the plants come only with certain specific and rather rigid conditions, we will have to weigh the prospective pleasure of success against the bother we might have to take with their care at this time.

If, in our homes, we have a spare room, a laundry or a basement room that offers bright light during the day, provides cool (around 60 F) temperatures at night and enjoys total uninterrupted dark every night — then there will be no hassle at all bringing the poinsettias into bloom. But their nightly dark period must be complete, to simulate the environment in which they flower in their native habitats.

It's about a 10-week period of short, 10-hour days with total dark for 14 hours at night that triggers the color in poinsettias. One way to ensure complete darkness in the plant's special room is to simply unscrew the light bulb in the ceiling fixture if there is one, or to tape over the light switch on the wall.

Alternative methods for delivering long, uninterrupted nights to a poinsettia include placing a light-tight box over the plant, arranging a black plastic bag over a wire hoop anchored in the soil or placing the plant in a dark closet at dusk each evening. There are difficulties and drawbacks to

We The People

The Compromise That Saved the Constitution

Looking back 200 years it is all too easy to see the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia as one of calm reflection and wisdom as our Founding Fathers wrote the document that created the American republic. The men who met there are justly honored for their achievement. But what they accomplished only came after weeks of angry, passionate debate.

The most divisive argument among the delegates at the Constitutional Convention 200 years ago was the question of proportional representation in congress. Delegates from the large states, led by James Madison of Virginia, were determined that population should dictate how many members each state could elect to the new congress. The small states were just as determined that each state should have an equal voice in congress. Both sides feared domination.

Large states, such as Virginia and Pennsylvania, were supported by the Southern delegates. Although South Carolina and Georgia had small populations, they expected dramatic growth as settlers moved into their vast western territories.

The argument nearly ended the effort at a national constitution. The large states threatened to form their own, separate union. A delegate from a small state countered with an ominous statement: "Sooner than be ruined, there are foreign powers who will take us by the hand."

Madison and the big state coalition won proportional representation for what became the House of Representatives. Dominant in the convention, they also won preliminary votes on the question of the Senate. The day for the key vote arrived, however, and several Madison supporters were absent.

The roll was taken and the vote tied with only one delegate remaining to vote. Abraham Baldwin of Georgia would decide the issue. In the past, he had supported Madison but he realized that a stubborn insistence on his own preference would bring disaster. Small state delegates were prepared to walk out. One more "victory" for his side would end the convention and any hope for a constitution.

Standing up to immense pressure, Baldwin voted with the small states and the convention was saved. Threats and demands from both sides were put aside. A compromise resulted whereby each state, regardless of size, would have two seats in the Senate.

There were many heroes in Philadelphia 200 years ago. But for that one critical moment, none was more important than Abraham Baldwin, a man with the vision to see the importance of compromise to America.

these measures, however. For one, it's so easy to forget to cover or uncover, closet and unclose a plant. For another, closets and the insides of boxes and plastic enclosures are often warm and stuffy — just at the time when poinsettia requires a slight drop in temperature.

By early December, with a consistent routine of bright daylight and cool, long and dark nights absorbed into its leafy body, a poinsettia will begin to show color in its bracts (modified leaves at the top part of the plant). When this happens the great poinsettia shuffle can stop and the Yuletide fruits of our efforts enjoyed with no further Herculean efforts except to continue watering thoroughly whenever the top layer of soil feels definitely dry to the touch.

For a long life to its bright color and decorative value in the home at that point, maintain a poinsettia in a bright, cool spot. And as long as a poinsettia is in bloom, continue to feed it every two weeks with balanced liquid fertilizer at half strength.

Because we don't have a site in our home that can assure uninterrupted long nights, and also because I'm not willing to take on the bag or box or closeting routine for 10 weeks, we've hit upon a compromise approach to our larger poinsettias that gives us reasonably happy results with absolutely no extra effort.

I simply place our cleaned-up, debugged poinsettias, early in September, at our large living room window. It faces north but receives full bright light all day and very little artificial light at night because we have only corner reading lamps in the room. Situated like this, our poinsettias show only a little color by Christmastime. But by February, they're usually looking fairly bright.

This compromise solution to the autumn poinsettia dilemma is one we're pleased with for our larger plants. But this year I've rooted several cuttings from our older red-and-white plants and have installed the small new poinsettias under plant lights with a timer for a 10-hour day. This should produce a bright bevy of abbreviated beauties for holiday enjoyment and gifts for friends.

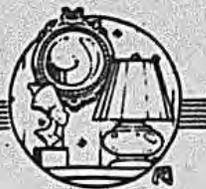

Match materials to surroundings for unity

PEACEFUL UNITY - By using colors and materials natural to the outside environment, this interior from the Village of Stratford achieves a peaceful unity with its setting despite its eclectic furnishings.

Q: My husband and I are retiring and moving into a new home in the Southwest. We would like to decorate in keeping with the open, arid desert environment but we want to bring some of our favorite furnishings with us — some contemporary, some traditional.

We can't go heavy, rustic Southwestern with our architecture, furnishings and lifestyle, but do you have any ideas how we can make what we have appropriate to the surroundings? — G.H.

A: If you take your cues from the colors and materials of your new environment, you can create appealing interiors that are in touch with their setting despite an eclectic collection of furnishings.

First: Take an in-depth look at the colors outside — earth, sky, trees, flowers, sunset, sunrise, etc. There will probably be more than you imagine at first glance. There are bound to be some that appeal to you, so bring them inside.

Look for upholstery fabrics in these desert colors with rough or heavy textures that mirror the terrain outside. New upholstery alone can go far to unify an odd set of upholstered furniture.

Despite your attachment to old favorite furnishings, you might also want to add a couple new focal pieces to set a new tone to your decor. A stump table or cactus lamp, for example, brings in common materials from the environment and makes a strong statement inside where they are not commonly found.

Appropriate artwork, ceramics and few hardy cactus should complete the scene. By keeping your old furnishings neutral and low-profile you will let your new theme shine through.

Q: We added a small skylight to a dark paneled den for more light. Now we have a bright spot in the ceiling that looks like a fluorescent light.

What can we do to diffuse the light? Will painting the walls an off-white help? — B.M.

A: Painting the walls and ceiling any pale shade that contains plenty of white pigment will definitely help diffuse light. I would try this first and see if you like the results.

You may find that your skylight is simply too small for the area it serves. If this is the case, consider adding two more the same size, or enlarging the existing skylight considerably. Since the room has only one small window, it would be wise to install operable skylights for ventilation.

If you plan to make any changes yourselves, you might look at a new book titled "Skylights" by Tom Jensen from Running Press, 125 South 22nd St., Philadelphia, PA 19103. This useful book provides detailed instructions from the planning stages through the finish work and maintenance.

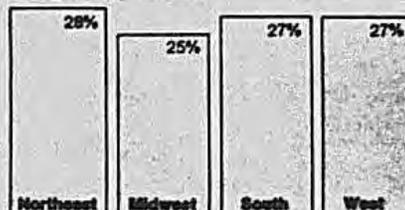

Don't ignore the possibility of enlarging your window or adding more windows to solve your problem. There's more than one way to let the light shine in.

Porcelain three-handled vase identified

Q: What can you tell me about this three-handled porcelain vase? It is marked "W.G. & Co., Limoges, France."

A: This was made by William Guerin & Co., during the early 20th century. It eventually became part of the combine, Guerin-Pouyat-Elite.

Your vase would probably sell in the $50 to $60 range.

Q: I have been given a variety of prices on my Royal Doulton character jug, "Sam Weller." Can you explain why this should be?

A: In the first place, character jugs come in different sizes with different marks. "Sam Weller" (a character from the works of Charles Dickens) is found in the following variety:

- Large, D-6064, is 5 1/4 inches to 7 inches.
- Miniature, D-6140 is 2 1/4 inches to 2 3/4 inches.
- Small, D-5841, is 3 3/4 inches to 4 inches.

Those marked with a large "A" were made for export. "Sam Weller" was made from 1938 to 1960 and the prices range from $50 to $150.

Q: I don't understand why some paintings are worth so much and others that look just as good are almost worthless. Can you explain why this is so?

A: The value of paintings is based on what other people have paid for this artist's work. The "Art Sales Index" publishes a record of all the known sales of paintings every year. If an artist isn't listed, no one knows what his works are actually worth.

If you were to ask me about a painting by Andrew Wyeth, I'd tell you at least $50,000.

If you were to ask me about an absolutely beautiful painting by an unknown artist, I'd tell you it is worth whatever someone is willing to pay.

Q: Can you identify this mark? It appears on the back of a silver-plated plate about 11 inches in diameter.

A: This mark was used by Reed and Barton Silversmiths, Taunton, Mass. This company has made silver flatware and holloware for over 100 years.

Your plate may be one of the Christmas series, made from 1970 to 1981. These are currently selling in the $75 to $150 range, depending on age.

Points on Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q: When is the best time to vaccinate horses for tetanus? Is there only one kind of tetanus vaccine available? When should new foals be vaccinated for tetanus for the first time?

A: Tetanus is a very serious disease in horses. Stiffness of the muscles of the jaw, neck and hind limbs is often an early sign. About a day following the appearance of the initial signs, general stiffness becomes pronounced and the horse becomes extremely sensitive to sudden movement or noise. The reflexes are increased in intensity and the animal can easily be excited into violent spasms.

The term "lockjaw" is often used for this disease because spasms of the muscles of the head cause difficulty in eating and swallowing. Usually the ears are erect, the tail stiff and extended, the nose dilated and the third eyelid is visible. Walking, turning and backing are difficult. Horses with tetanus often assume a "sawhorse" stance. Sweating is frequently seen.

Approximately 80 percent of all horses exhibiting signs of tetanus die. Recovery is usually very slow in those horses that survive.

Horses can effectively be protected from tetanus by a well-planned vaccination program. Adult horses not previously vaccinated should be given two doses of toxoid six weeks apart and then boosted annually. Mares should be vaccinated with toxoid during the last six weeks of pregnancy. This increases the level of antibodies against tetanus in the colostrum (first milk) of the mare. Foals should be vaccinated at 5 to 8 weeks of age.

If a wound occurs in which it is likely the animal was exposed to tetanus, short-term protection can be given by administering tetanus antitoxin. Antitoxin does not cause the horse to build immunity to the disease, but does give protection for approximately two weeks. Antitoxin should not be confused with toxoid.

Your veterinarian can advise you regarding the best vaccination program for your horse.

Q: When is the best time to breed goats? Do they breed throughout the year as many other animals do? What signs indicate that the female goat is ready to breed?

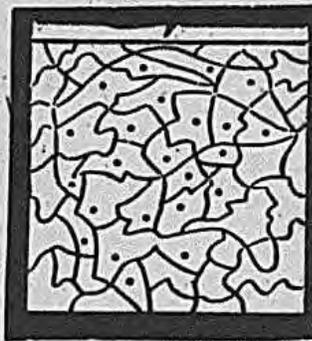

A: Goats generally are regarded to be seasonal breeders — that is, they only breed for a short time period each year. Autumn is the breeding season for goats.

During the breeding season goats cycle (show periods of receptivity) every 21 days until pregnancy occurs.

Does (female goats) exhibit pronounced behavioral changes whenever they are in heat or receptive. These changes are more pronounced whenever a male goat is actually present. Receptive does make a characteristic noise called bleating, flag their tails repeatedly, have reddened vulvas, and occasionally mount each other. Some does have vaginal discharges that cause matting of the hair.

Pregnancy in goats lasts for approximately five months. Therefore, the kids are born in the spring.
