Artists Concert Schedule

Mike Carubia and the Great South Dixieland Jazz Band will give the opening performance in the 1987-88 "Distinguished Artists Concerts" series, according to Oyster Bay Councilman Angelo A. Delligatti.

The concert, which is being sponsored by the Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Department of Community Services, will be held on Sunday, November 1, at the Hicksville Library, 169 Jerusalem Avenue, beginning at 3 p.m. For further information, contact CAPA at 795-5943.

"The Great South Dixieland Jazz Band has performed for more than a decade in clubs and concert halls throughout the tri-state area, sharing the stage with such jazz luminaries as Zoot Sims, Roy Eldridge, Billy Mitchell, Dizzy Gillespie and Miles Davis," Delligatti said. "The band plays a mix of traditional jazz compositions as well as variations such as swing and be-bop."

"Mike Carubia, the group's leader, trumpeter and arranger, is the catalyst that sparks the ensemble into the swinging interplay that is its trademark," Delligatti said. "His careful choice of sidemen is just one reason that the band is considered tops in the performing jazz field."

Selections for this performance will include "Royal Garden Blues," "Basin Street Blues," "Sweet Lorraine," "Avalon" and "Fidgety Feet."

"This year's "Distinguished

Mike Carubia

Artists Concerts' series features a most outstanding lineup of musicians and vocalists in the classical, jazz, folk and contemporary music fields," Delligatti stated. "With 20 concerts scheduled between November 1 and June 3, residents will have the opportunity to see and hear in person, and for free, such noted performers as violinist Laura Hamilton, the American Chamber Ensemble, tenor Robert Swenson and pianist David Dubal. Some of them will be performing the same program they will be presenting at well-known concert halls throughout the United States to paying audiences."

Hicksville Annex Opens As Tax Drop

Effective November 4, 5, 6, 9 and 10, the Town Clerk's Annex, located in the Town Parking Garage at Newbridge Road and Duffy Avenue in Hicksville, will be open to receive 1987-1988 school tax payments, according to Town Clerk Ann R. Ocker.

"In order to provide this service to residents," Mrs. Ocker explained, "the office will remain open from 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m. to receive tax payments.

Residents may also pay in person at the Tax Office, Oyster

Bay Town Hall West, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay and at Town Hall South, 977 Hicksville Road, Massapequa, during the hours of 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., weekdays.

"When paying in person," Mrs. Ocker noted, "residents are urged not to use cash, only checks or money orders will be accepted and they should bring the entire tax bill. Please do not write on, or deface, the stub as it can cause rejection of the payment by the computer."

Hicksville NCA Meeting Nov. 5

The next General Meeting of the Northwest Civic Association, Inc., of Hicksville will take place on Thursday, November 5, at the Burns Avenue School, at 7:30 p.m.

This meeting is very important to all concerned. It is the night our newly re-activated Association will hold its election of officers. Please, either mail your ballots or bring them to the meeting. In order for your candidate to win, you must vote.

We also will have a representative from the Youth Council to assist us with our neighborhood watch program.

Youth Council Fighting Crime

To highlight safety and crime prevention during October, Hicksville Youth Council will be distributing 5,000 Halloween bags to all students in the public as well as private elementary schools in Hicksville. The bags, featuring McGruff "the crime prevention dog" emphasize safe trick or treating and are a joint project of the Youth Council, Hicksville Kiwanis Club and Mr. Tony Cirollo, who owns the Carvel stores in Hicksville at 42 West Village Green, 447 South Broadway and in East Meadow at 369 Merrick Road. Also included in each of the bags will be coupons good for free Carvel merchandise as well as a flyer from the Youth Council.

In 1983, the National Crime Prevention Council declared October of every year to be crime prevention month throughout the country. The purpose is to draw attention to the problem of crime in our communities as well as to encourage citizens to get involved in the crime prevention activities in their own neighborhoods. The Youth Council's crime prevention program has a community education/outreach component as well as a neighborhood watch. Currently, in its second year of operation the program is endorsed by Police Commissioner Samuel J. Rozzi and is funded by the New York State Department of Criminal Justice. The Second and Eighth Precincts of the Nassau County Police offer local assistance to the program as well. By disseminating information such as pamphlets or the Halloween bags and through presentations and speaking engagements, residents of all ages are educated about simple steps they can take to reduce the chance that they become victims of a crime. The neighborhood watch is an organized group of residents who agree to act as "the eyes and ears" of the police for their neighborhood. The volunteers go through a two session training conducted by the police and each has block captains as well as a coordinator. Operated I.D. engravers are available from the Youth Council so that residents can mark their valuables with a traceable number to assist in recovery should they be stolen. Also available at the Youth Council are letters to obtain a free home security survey done by a trained crime prevention officer of the Nassau County Police Department. The survey is done in the convenience of the homeowner and the officer will make recommendations for low cost improvements to increase the security of the home.

The Youth Council is particularly interested in the crime problem as recent statistics from the National Crime Prevention Council show that young people (ages 12-19) are the victims of crime more than any age group. Every 19 seconds a teenager in the United States is the victim of a crime. The program also hopes to reduce the amount of vandalism committed by young people through education and outreach.

For more information, to get a speaker or for assistance with starting a watch group in your area, please call Beth at the Youth Council at 822-KIDS. The agency is open Monday-Thursday, 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Friday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Remember we all want safe neighborhoods - crime prevention is everyone's responsibility.

Hicksville High Hosts Open House

Membership cards can be picked up by those who previously sent in their dues.

Open House provides parents the opportunity to visit their children's classes and hear teachers outline the course of study. Students will be bringing home their schedules and parents are reminded to bring them to the Open House. During lunch periods, refreshments will be available in the cafeteria.

Join us for an informative and important evening!

News From P.O.B. Library

NOVEMBER EXHIBITS

In the Downstairs Gallery: Photography Exhibit, By Harvey Hellinger.

All Showcases! Bronze Sculpture Exhibit, By Andrew Manning.

The library is located at 999 Old Country Road in Plainview, opposite the Morson Village Shopping Center. Telephone number is 938-0077.

On Wednesdays, November 4, 11 and 18 at 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be presenting a workshop entitled The History of The Holocaust with Arthur Coppel. He is an educator and expert in Middle East Affairs.

The history of the Holocaust encompasses the religious, philosophical, sociological, economic and scientific foundations of German thinking. With this thinking, the Nazis were confident at the Wansee Conference that they would succeed in killing eleven million Jews.

The aim of our three session workshop is to look at this thinking. Register now at the Circulation Desk.

***

On Thursday, November 5 at 3 and 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage library will be showing the feature film entitled Brighton Beach Memoirs starring Blythe Danner, Bob Dishy and Brian Drillinger.

This screen play written by Neil Simon introduces us to the author's alter-ego, Eugene

Jerome (newcomer Jonathan Silverman). Young Eugene is a teenager trying to figure his life out, a difficult task since he has his hands full just coping with his lively family. Believable characters, real-life incidents and a universal theme are elements that have made this film one of Neil Simon's most popular dramas.

This film runs 108 minutes and is rated (PG-13).

On Friday, November 6 at 1 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be presenting Barbara Krupit leading a discussion entitled Insights into Current Issues.

Barbara Krupit will discuss what's making the headlines that day, whether it be local, national or international news. You can discuss the issues and share your views.

***

On Monday, November 9 at 1 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be presenting a book discussion/review led by Barbara Krupit. The book to be discussed is entitled Love Medicine by Louise Erdrich.

Love Medicine takes place on a reservation in North Dakota from 1934-1984. It centers on two American Indian families—the Kashpaws and the Lamartines; their love, poverty, injustice and courage are beautifully revealed by Miss Erdrich.

***

On Tuesday, November 10 at 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Beth-page library will be presenting a book discussion/review led by Barbara Krupit.

The book to be discussed is entitled A Certain People by Charles E. Silberman.

Charles Silberman spent six years interviewing, researching and writing A Certain People, and he has not only created an illuminating portrait of the past and present state of American Jewry in all its complexity, richness and diversity, but he has also provided a brilliant analysis of the new issues and options that lie ahead, for both the Jewish community and the United States.

On Thursday, November 12 at 1 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage library will be presenting a demonstration on Napkin Folding and Table Decorations, with Rachel Katz, demonstrator.

A decoratively folded napkin will add distinction to every party whether it is an elegant banquet or a child's birthday. Join Rachel Katz to learn how to transform ordinary paper napkins into lovely folded decorations for any table. The program will include napkin folding, money folds and other folding tricks. You can bring cloth napkins and crisp dollar bills if you wish or paper substitutes will be provided.

***

On Wednesday, November 18 at 7:30 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be holding a Board of Trustees Meeting in the staff room. The public is invited.

***

On Thursday, November 19 at 3 and 8 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be showing the feature film entitled A Chorus Line starring Michael Douglas, Gregg Burge and Alyson Reed.

These past 10 years, theatergoers around the world have been entranced by A Chorus Line. Now director Richard Attenborough and choreographer Jeffrey Hornaday have fashioned a film version of Michael Bennett's sacred treasure. The stirring score by Marvin Hamlisch has been treated with respect; and the dancing is exhilarating.

This film runs 117 minutes and is rated (PG-13).

TRAVEL TALK

By Rosalind Esmeray

Holiday Tours: If you wish to spend the holidays in a different manner, a Christmas or New Years tour may be just the answer. Traditions and customs vary from country to country, region to region and even town to town, and at no time is this more apparent than during the holidays. Unique decorations, food, costumes and celebrations give each local festivity a special character and zest of its own. What better time is there to visit? What better time is there to experience the events we celebrate in common yet in such individual ways?

There are a few travel organizations that specialize in providing holiday vacations with wonderfully tailored itineraries that display these differences in meaningful, enjoyable and interesting ways. Vacationers not only view but often experience the customs and traditions celebrated in other areas while they also take in the usual tourist sights that may well be decorated for the season.

Two organizations that are in the forefront of providing these excursions are Lindblad Travel and Maupintours. Lindblad specializes in European holiday tours of eight and nine-day durations that carry enticing titles such as "Silent Night in Mozart's Salzburg," "A New Year in Vienna—a Celebration in Music," "Christmas in Rome," "A Traditional Swedish Christmas - Stockholm and Dalecarlia."

Lindblad also makes special efforts to ensure that Christmas Eve and Christmas Day are spent in a meaningful and/or enchanting way. Of particular note on the Roman tour is the provision made for attending Midnight Mass at St. Peter's Basilica, conducted by The Pope, Johannes Paulus II.

Tours are priced from $2500 to $3999 per person, double occupancy, airfare included.

Maupintours, in its holiday brochure, lists an extensive array of 6 to 9-day tours to various destinations in the United States and Canada as well as longer 9 to 17-day tours to Europe. Maupin also conducts two "Thanksgiving Galas" (one to New York City and the other to Williamsburg) and six "New Year's Galas and Bowl Games."

Among the areas toured by Maupintours are those pronounced and differing customs or traditions are Williamsburg, Pennsylvania (Amish), Savannah, New England, Natchez and New Mexico in the United States; Lake Louise and Banff Springs in Canada; and Austria, Germany, Scotland, and others in Europe. Prices for a Maupin Christmas tour within the United States range from $1059 to $1369 per person, double occupancy, with air fare not included.

Christmas Cruises: Christmas and New Years may also be spent at sea, and you can be certain that any and all holiday cruises will be most gala. Many lines may just incorporate the holidays into their cruise schedules; others will provide and advertise a special itinerary. It's best to check with your travel agent if you're interested in a holiday cruise.

There are many reasons to travel during the holidays - a Christmas present to the whole family, a chance to see and develop a feeling for and understanding of other people's customs, a way to escape what is often called by many the "holiday blues." Yet for whatever reason one travels, the experience can be wonderfully enriching and highly rewarding.

Christmas Shopping: With the new low fares being advertised to Europe, one could conceivably consider slipping off to London, Paris or Rome for a little pre-Christmas theater going and shopping. Fares as low as London for $199 and Paris for $257.50 (one way) are very tempting.

United Methodist Holds Bazaar

Editor's Notebook

Tuesday, November 3 is Election Day. On an off year the general feeling is that these are small elections because they are only for Town and county posts. The fact is that both county and Town positions are the ones that will bring most help to residents because they cover the day-to-day problems that confront everyone.

In the county race to fill the two year unexpired term left vacant by Supervisor Francis Purcell, Raymond Grunewald (D) is running against Thomas Gulotta (R-C) who is currently serving in the post. A Right To Life candidate, Raymond Voulo and a Liberal candidate, Jack Olchin are also running. The salary for this position is $90,219.

In the Town of Oyster Bay, Incumbent Joseph Colby is not running. He is a candidate for State Supreme Court Judge. Republicans have nominated Angelo Delligatti. He also has Conservative endorsement. Leonard Austin is the Democratic contender. Raymond Murphy has Right To Life and Aaron Schein Liberal party nomination. The term is two years and the salary is $92,124 divided between the county $37,000 and Town $55,124.

Three Town Board members are to be elected. Thomas Clark and John Venditto are the incumbents (R-C). Ann Ocker, presently Town Clerk, is running for the Board to replace the vacancy left by the elevation of Delligatti as nominee for supervisor. The Democratic contenders are Joseph DeGiaco, Patricia Coniglio and Michael Levine. Right To Life candidates are Kathleen Wilson, Susan Helldorfer and Patricia Gilbride. The Liberal party candidates are William Becker, Adam Schein and Michael James. The term is four years and the salary $36,125.

Campagne School Celebrates Rights

Charles Campagne School put on the red, white and blue for the Constitution's Bicentennial Sept. 17, displaying student artwork in classes and hallways. Mrs. Ward's fourth grade performed a play in which a dreaming student learns what life would be like without a Constitution. If each state operated independently, there would be no interstate highways, no common currency, different laws, and perhaps even different languages. People would need passports to travel from state to state.

Third graders designed 200th birthday cards for the constitution which were displayed in hallway bulletin boards.

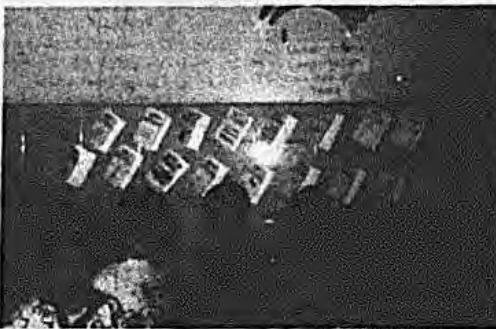

Mrs. Wurst's first graders drew flags and Constitution pictures to decorate their room and kept up a current events bulletin board highlighting all the Constitution celebrations.

Celebrating the Constitution at Charles Campagne School gave students the opportunity to better understand and appreciate the freedom and responsibility they enjoy as American citizens.

Jazz Band At Library

Sunday, Nov. 1, at 3 p.m. The Great South Dixieland Jazz Band will perform at the Hicksville Public Library.

The Great South Dixieland Jazz Band has performed, for more than a decade, in clubs and concert halls throughout the tri-state area, sharing the stage with the likes of Zoot Sims, Ray Eldridge, Milton Hinton, Billy Mitchell, Dizzy Gillespie and many other giants of jazz.

The Great South Dixieland Jazz Band plays the best of the traditional jazz repertoire, Royal Garden Blues, Basin Street Blues, Sweet Lorraine, Sweet Georgia Brown, and When the Saints Go Marchin' In.

The Great South Dixieland Jazz Band is part of the Distinguished Artists Concert series and is co-sponsored by the Hicksville Public Library and the Town of Oyster Bay.

Book Discussion At Library

Join us for a book discussion. The book "Only Yesterday," an informal history of the 1920's by Frederick Lewis Allen will be discussed on Wednesday, Nov. 18, at 1 p.m. in the Local History Room.

Books are available at the circulation desk of the Library. All are welcome to join this group.

Hicksville V.F.W. Plans Memorials

By P.P.C. Carmine A. Somma

On November 11, the Korean War/Vietnam War Veterans Memorials will be one year old with the combined veterans and auxiliary members dedication at the Hicksville Junior High School. Inspired by the leadership of Vietnam veteran Conrad Steers; with the wise counsel of Sheila Noeth; the ready cooperation of the Board of Education Advisory Committee on School Facilities and Community chaired by Trustee Daniel MacBride; the professional expertise of William Becker, School Director of Facilities and Operations; the support of Hicksville's three weekly newspapers; and the generous contributions of hundreds of citizens, these memorials are a reality.

We at the V.F.W. Post 3211 are happy to see World War I and World War II Memorials are free from graffiti and vandalism. The two comrades responsible for the war memorials clean-up are Ed Kneniewski and Connie Steers and the maintenance crew from the Hicksville School District who keep the area in good shape. The maintenance crew are doing a good job keeping the area free from graffiti and vandalism and the comrades from Post keep an eye on the memorials and report back to the chairman. Every Veterans Day, the combined Veterans and its Auxiliary hold the traditional Veterans Day Service at the Hicksville Junior High School starting at 10:30 a.m. and all are welcome. If you are a veteran from World War II, Korea, or Vietnam war service and wish to obtain service medals, you can give our chairman, Ed Kneniewski, a call at 433-3611. Women who served in World War II, Korea and Vietnam may also call Ed. All women who served in the wars can get the same benefits as the men get from V.A. The women who served in Vietnam are trying to raise money for a Vietnam Women's Memorial Project. People wishing to contribute may send a check to The Vietnam Women's Memorial Project, 511 Eleventh Avenue, Box 45, Minneapolis, MN, 55415.

Every year our Post and the Ladies Auxiliary sponsors the annual Voice of Democracy Scholarship Program for the schools in the Hicksville School District. For more information, call the chairman, Sr. Vice Commander Anthony Ferrara, at 758-3359 or his assistant, Past Auxiliary President Carmela Vitiello, at 935-3560. From October to January, we are the only V.F.W. organization in the Hicksville area that will be soliciting ads for our Journal. Ads by letter, no phone call, will be made. Our members have I.D. cards to verify they belong to the Wm. M. Gouse Jr. Post 3211. If they cannot produce the proper I.D., call the V.F.W. Hall at 931-7843 or call Commander Vincent Ferrara at 935-6079.

The Comrades of the Post welcome new members Domenick Uarricchio and Francesco Castellano, both U.S. Army and served in E.T.O.; Michael Madigan, U.S. Army, Vietnam; Peter Breenan, served in Thailand; Sheldon, Okin, U.S.A.F., E.T.O. During World War II, Wm. Rishnor, U.S. Navy, A.T.O.

Congratulations to our Commander Vincent Ferrara and his wife, Auxiliary Chaplain Frances M. Ferrara, who will be celebrating their 46th wedding anniversary on October 18. Frances also celebrated her birthday on October 14 - Happy Birthday Frances. On October 14, George the Greek was 73 - Happy Birthday George.

On November 14, our next Las Vegas Nite Games start at 7:45 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Syo. Central S.D. Gets New Playgrounds

Elementary school children of Syosset Central School District have new playgrounds this year, built on three weekends with the hard work and cooperation of nearly 400 of their parents, teachers and other community residents. The modular equipment installed at each of the seven schools was put together by volunteer work crews under the direction of supervising engineers from the vendor. In addition to the large unit erected at each site, smaller versions for the primary level children were installed at Robbins Lane and South Grove. While the construction teams worked to prepare the units for assembly and to connect the various play areas into the completed structure, other volunteers put in long days of preparing and serving coffee and tea, cold drinks and meals.

Funds for the purchase of the playground equipment - a total of $150,000 - had been budgeted over a two-year period ($75,000 in the 1986-87 school year and the remaining $75,000 in 1987-88). The first playground was erected at Berry Hill Elementary School on August 29 and installations at the remaining six schools took place on September 26 and October 10. Administrators involved in the planning for the project are expecting results beyond the fun and physical exercise for the youngsters; the various components of the structure encourage the development of motor skills and coordination, and a whole program of learning activities has been provided to each school. Each site contains the large log and pole structure set on a cushion of gravel with picnic tables and trash cans located nearby for the use of youngsters and visitors.

St. Paul's Offers Praise-Prayer Day

Many times we complain more about what we don't have rather than being thankful for what we actually do have. Think about it. Many of us living in the Bethpage community have received blessings from God which we rarely recognize - people we love and who love us, homes, food, and life itself, to name just a few.

Our most gracious God has granted us forgiveness of sins and Eternal Life through the death and resurrection of His Son, Jesus Christ. For this we should be especially thankful. God deserves our continual praise.

An opportunity to praise our Lord in the community of fellow Christians will be given this Sunday, October 25, at 7 p.m. at St. Paul Lutheran Church, 449 Stewart Avenue, Bethpage (just south of the railroad station) during a special "prayer and praise" service. Please join us in giving the glory to Him who saves us because of His gracious, unceasing love.

All Star Dinner Ends HBA Season

By Jerry Anderson

On October 8, Hicksville Baseball Association officially closed its 1987 season, with the annual "All Star Dinner". Approximately 300 "All Stars" and their families gathered at Autumns, waiting patiently for their well deserved recognition.

It was an extremely successful evening for all the children of H.B.A. While honoring our children we welcomed the following politicians: Angelo Dell'Osso, Councilman TOR; Tom Guletti, County Executive; Tom Clark, TOR Commissioner; Ann Oster, Town Clerk; Fred Parikh, Assemblyman and Bob MacCuever, Dept. of Parks. The Hicksville Baseball Association wishes to express their appreciation to all public officials for their involvement with the youth of our community.

We would like to thank the H.B.A. sponsors for their continued support: Big Apple, Quick Print, Big Apple Juke & Drink Co., Thomas F. Dalton Funeral Home, 7-11 Food Stores, George Malveis & Co., Robert Chevrolet, Inc., National Westminster Bank, U.S.A., Vernon C. Wagner Funeral Home, Inc., Meenan Oil, Inc., V.F.W. ## Pioneers Shutout Deer Pk. Strikers

The pressure on the Strikers began almost immediately. The '77 Pioneers dominated the ball and never let control go for long. Many difficult shots made the Deer Park defense weary. The forwards had few chances to pass which were not knocked down.

After a few passes around the Striker net, the ball sailed in the air and Danny Wolchok stabbed a high one in for the first score. The forwards continued to press and although the first half ended, the Pioneers left no doubts about the outcome.

Peter Titone manned the Pioneer net alone. Robert Isley, Joseph Matz, Richard Werchenksi and Joseph Florio were strong in defensive positions. The midfielders, Jonathan Schwartz, Russell Brousseau, and Philip Caputo, managed to pass the ball forward, setting up the forwards many times.

The second half started quickly when Dave Nelson chipped a pass to Danny Wolchok for the second goal. The third score came when a bobbling ball floated by the net and was pushed in by Danny Wolchok for a hat trick. Soon afterwards, a hard shot came from Joe Croce, hit the goalpost, popped up, and was headed in by Danny Wolchok -- his fourth goal of the day. Richard Werchenksi had the last goal from an assist by Tracy Koetter. Tommy Coffey and Jonathan Kanuck worked hard as forwards and deserve credit.

In Service

Army Sgt. Albert H. Moreau has participated in the NATO-sponsored exercise, Return of Forces to Germany '87 (REFORGER).

The exercise was designed to evaluate plans and support agreements between NATO member nations, to exercise West Germany's ability to support deploying forces and to test the ability of European-based units to quickly link reinforcing units with their pre-positioned equipment.

Moreau is the son of Rosemarie Moreau of 55 Oak Drive, Plainview.

He is a track vehicle mechanic with the 16th Combat Equipment Company in Belgium.

Good Shepherd Annual Fair

The Annual Good Shepherd Fair will be held on Saturday, Nov. 7, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

The Fair will feature handcrafted originals for the home and holidays. There will be baked goods, jams and jellies, Christmas decorations, vegetable stand, white elephant sale and much more. Luncheon will also be available.

Good Shepherd is located at 99 Central Park Road, Plainview, adjacent to Plainview High School.

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Guletti, right, presented a Proclamation to Jene Lewis of Bethpage, center, who is President of the Chinese Center of Long Island, on behalf of the Center's 25th anniversary of their charter. The organization celebrated their anniversary at the Guan Ying Restaurant in West Hempstead. Also present is Arthur Liss, chairman of the charter dinner.

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Guletti, center, attended the Hicksville Community Council dinner dance held recently at Anton's in Hicksville. The County Executive presented a citation to Tony Previa, left, President of the Council, on behalf of the Organization's 10th Anniversary. Also in attendance is Kenneth Barnes, Director of Hicksville Public Library, who received the 1987 President's Award at the dinner.

Hicks Wins, Ties In Doubleheader

By A. Blicker

The Hicksville Shamrocks 1974 boys' traveling soccer team continued their undefeated season with a 7-0 whipping of the undermanned New Hyde Park Wildcats, at the latter's field on Saturday, October 17. On Sunday October 18, at Grumman Field, the Shamrocks spotted the West Babylon Blue Angels a 2-0 halftime lead and then came back for a spectacular 2-2 tie, scoring the tying goal with one second to go in the game, on a penalty shot. The weekend's action brought the Shamrocks' LI Junior Soccer League record to 3 wins, 0 losses and 2 ties.

Saturday's game, which was a complete mismatch, as the Wildcats played short one man, saw the Shamrocks' goaltenders Ed Jacobsen and Junior Tomlinson touch the ball only six times. The defense of Chuck Oliver, Kristian Friedrich, Greg Stumowski and Brian Harkins, all of whom ended the game playing offense were never better, constantly keeping the ball in the offensive zone. The goals were scored by Jason Kingsley, striker (2), and one each by centerhalf Matt Pordum, left half Dom Perillo, striker Chris Koetter, right wing Kari Rice and stopper Chris Doyle. The assists were two for left wing Eric Blicker, and one each for Kingsley, Pordum, Perillo, Doyle and Koetter. David Lovato had his usual great game at right halfback. Kareem Holman at halfback and Cory Kessler at wing had meaningful offensive and defensive contributions.

Sunday's game was a different story, as the Blue Angels, led by a goalkeeper who was constantly punting beyond midfield, kept the Shamrocks at bay for the first half, and scored two goals of their own. However, the Shamrocks were not to be denied. Their second half defense was perfect and their offensive pressure was unrelenting. Left half Dom Perillo put in a pass from left wing Eric Blicker, at the 23 minute mark. At the 25 minute mark, the Shamrocks lost a man due to an extremely controversial red card and were forced to play the rest of the game with 10 men on the field, which actually intensified their play. With less than 30 seconds to go, after the Blue Angels' goalie came out to make a save, a rebound went to left half Cory Kessler, who chipped it over the crowd, into the goal. A Blue Angel defender, who was attempting to protect the goal, batted the ball down, after it had crossed the goal line but the referee called it a hand ball, instead of a goal. With time running out, stopper Chris Doyle put in the penalty shot to tie the game, as the game's ending whistle blew.

Thanks to the team for their never-say-die attitude and to Coach Herb Pordum and Assistant Gianni Lovato for a weekend of great soccer.

Willet School Open House

On Tuesday, September 29, Willet Avenue School had its 1987 Open House. Things were run differently this year. Open House was held for the whole school in one night - 7:15 p.m. for kindergarten through third and 8:15 p.m. for fourth through sixth. Kathleen Keevins, PTA President, opened the meeting and held a general vote accepting the 1987-88 budget. Michael Dunn, Principal, welcomed the parents at both sessions and introduced the staff. Parents then went to their children's classrooms and listened to the teachers give a brief outline of the school year and what was expected of the students. Refreshments were served afterwards. It was a good opportunity to greet new faces as well as old.

Angela Sacco, our new fourth grade teacher, welcomes Kathy D'Intrzzo.

Rosemary Sonee, sixth grade teacher, waiting for the parents of her class.

Barbara Bunting, fourth grade teacher, meeting with her class' parents.

Michael Dunn, Principal, greeting parents and introducing the staff.

LOW-RATE MORTGAGES

for the purchase or refinance of an owner-occupied home or condominium
In Manhattan, Brooklyn, Bronx, Queens, Staten Island, Nassau, Suffolk or Westchester.

FIXED RATES

(below FNMA maximums and within FNMA guidelines)

10-YEAR	15-YEAR	30-YEAR	CAPPED ADJUSTABLE RATE (loans up to $350,000)
11.50% annual rate	12.00% annual rate	12.50% annual rate	1-YEAR 8.50% annual rate
12.00% annual percentage rate	12.38% annual percentage rate	12.78% annual percentage rate	10.90% annual percentage rate

Quoted rates are for self-liquidating, "full income verification" loans with a minimum down payment of 25% of appraised value on 1-to 4-family homes. The annual percentage rates include commitment and origination fees. The Bank sets the interest rates on loans at the time of commitment (for a 90-day period), not at the time of application. The rates contained in this advertisement may change while an application is being processed, and may not be available at the time of commitment.

Repayment terms for 10-year (15-year and 30-year) fixed rate loans at the stated rates would be 120 (180 and 360) monthly payments of $14.06 ($12.01 and $10.68) per $1,000 borrowed.

Adjustable rate shown is a below-market introductory annual rate for the first year only. The annual percentage rate is based on the current value of "The Green Point's" Index Interest Rate (currently 11.00%) which is subject to change. The annual rate will not change more than 2% per year (up or down) and, over the life of the loan, will not vary (increase or decrease) more than 3% from the Index Interest Rate in effect at the time the loan is closed.

Ask for rates and terms on "no income verification" loans and on fixed-rate loans above FNMA maximums (up to $350,000).

Most Input Callers Do Not Think Jackson Will Win

Most callers to Input do not think that Jesse Jackson will be elected President of the U.S. in answer to this question: "Jesse Jackson stands on top in the Democratic candidate polls; do you think that he has a chance of becoming the first Negro President?"

NOT IN FAVOR

No. I do not think that Jesse Jackson will become the first Negro President of the U.S. But I don't think that he would become President if he was white, either. Jackson just does not have anything at all to offer as President. K.E.

NO VOTE

No. I cannot believe that the American people would vote for Jackson especially in light of his several racial slurs and his friends who are anti-semitic. There may be a time when a Negro will become President but it will be because of his qualifications for the job and not his race. L.E.

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN?

What would happen to the country if Jackson became President? His ideas are half-baked and some are bigoted and some are radical. He is the most unqualified for the job and the Democratic Party will never nominate him. Mario Cuomo will step in and be the candidate. F.E.

GOP BENEFITS

Only Republicans will want to see Jackson run for President on the Democratic line. With opposition like Jackson the vote would be so strong for the Republican that the party would sweep all posts in an election. But it has nothing to do with the fact that Jackson is Negro. He is just poorly qualified. S.R.

NOT LOOKING

It is hard to believe that polls can show Jackson as a front runner in the Democratic primary race. The Democrats have some unknown candidates but I think they are not really looking very hard now and it is all a show to sweep Cuomo in without subjecting him to the scrutiny of a Primary fight. If that happens then the Republicans might find that George Bush isn't a strong enough candidate and they may be without a good contender. L.W.

NOTHING TO OFFER

It is hard to believe that blacks will vote for Jesse Jackson even if they desperately wanted to have a first Negro president. Jackson just has nothing to offer. He speaks like a preacher, often is short on facts and gives a very poor image of Negroes because of his bigotry. M.W.

REBUILD IMAGE

If Jackson could rebuild his image, get a good speechwriter and keep away from his anti-semitic friends, then he might be able to win if the Republicans run someone who has a limited appeal. I would give Jackson a 50-50 chance of winning right now. K.R.

NOT RACE

Quite honestly, I guess there is no other way to phrase the question. But, emphasizing Jesse Jackson's color immediately places the emphasis on race whereas I want to strive to concentrate my reply solely on his qualifications if that is possible. In that respect, I believe that he has certain disadvantages which should militate against his selection as a Presidential candidate. He has been in the ministry so long that his didactic approach and oratorical style may stir the emotions of his congregations but would leave his secular audience unmoved and in fact, unable to fully understand the gist of what he is saying. As a candidate, in my opinion, Jesse would capture the black vote hands down. However, cold statistics remind us that there are millions of whites in the nation, some of whom will undoubtedly be influenced by color but a great many who will still carefully weigh the qualifications of any candidate to run the country for the next four years. Frankly, at this moment in time, I don't think he has a chance of becoming the first Negro President but I do believe that he will be a powerful force in bringing to the Democratic candidate finally selected, the kind of support which will give the Republican nominee something to worry about. P.G.S.

HAS A CHANCE

I would say he has a chance of becoming the first Negro President. These days anything can happen. Years ago they said that because you were Catholic you couldn't be nominated. But then John Kennedy showed that people were thinking a little differently as we went modern and today we have an actor and a senior citizen in the White House so I guess we can have a Negro too. H.S.

DON'T THINK SO

I certainly do not think he has a chance because of his race and because of his qualifications. In Brooklyn the Negro people said he was using them. N.L.

NO ROOM FOR HIM

I don't believe Jesse Jackson is a good candidate to become President even though he is a current favorite among Democrats. His association with Farrakhan who is not only unAmerican but is anti-semitic will be against him. With that kind of support there is no room for Jesse Jackson in the White House. K.S.

Urgent Mouse Wars

"Call your wife at home as soon as possible. Urgent!!"
My wife calls me at work only for truly important matters or in times of crisis. I dialed home and asked, in my calmest voice, "Hi darling, what's up?"

"There's a mouse in the trash compacter. It jumped out when I opened the door!"

"What did you do?"

"Nothing. It looked right at me and then ran away. You've got to do something."

I already knew that I had to do something about the mouse—and its relatives. Weeks earlier, while cleaning up a mess of rotted branches and leaves behind the garage, I uncovered Field Mouse City. They'd fled in all directions as my rake demolished the mouse condo.

However, at least two mice (one of each sex) must have migrated eastwards—to our house. Soon the late night stillness gave way to scratchings, rustlings, and an occasional thump. At first we suspected squirrels. But the noise came not from without but from within the plaster walls of our 1929 house.

The mice were gluttons. Our first casualty was a box of Ritz crackers in a kitchen cabinet. The second was a gift package of Godiva chocolates my wife had hidden in the attic (the mice didn't quite get to the chocolates but had chewed through the gift wrap and most of the cardboard). But war was declared when their little teeth tore through the plastic cover of a newly opened can of Planters' Peanuts (unsalted, 16 ounce size). To rub it in, they decorated the remaining peanuts with their droppings! The mouse my wife had encountered in the trash canister apparently was the least picky of what had grown to be an extended family.

In true democratic fashion, my wife appointed me chairman of the mouse eviction committee. I sought help at the local hardware store. In addition to the traditional spring-loaded wooden traps, they had small cages for catching the creatures alive, poisons, and a type of flypaper sticky enough to stop a mouse.

The poison seemed too gruesome: the thought of a mouse expiring inside the wall next to my bed didn't appeal. For someone such as I, the spring-loaded traps presented a clear physical hazard. The have-a-heart traps aren't for someone who doesn't want to have-a-mouse. The device of choice was clearly the glue trap. It was also the cheapest.

We captured a mouse the first night. My wife, up earliest, bounded breathlessly into the bedroom with the great news. The glue trap was a success. There was, however, one major problem: the mouse was alive. Stuck tight, but very much alive. The directions on the glue trap said to fold the trap around the mouse and discard the whole package. This would not do for my wife, who'd splintered birds' broken wings, she, the sucker for stray kittens. Neither would it do for my seventeen year old son, the one who'd made me guilty about eating veal. Besides, the mouse looked cute. So, I agreed to take the captive to the local dump, remove it from the glue trap, and set it free.

There was one hitch in the plan. At the dump, it became obvious that the mouse was stuck to the glue trap.

The next day, we caught another mouse. This time, my son volunteered to unstuck it. That evening he asked had I been able to unstuck my mouse. I replied, "no." He didn't ask me what I did with mine; I didn't ask him about his.

The mouse war raged for most of the summer. Besides using glue traps, we strategically relocated the food supply. The result was that through August, the mice were clearly ahead, and multiplying. In September, however, mouse activity became intermittent, then stopped; this without the benefit of our capturing more prisoners of war. The mice simply seemed to leave the field of battle. We apparently were the unwitting victors, but at an exorbitant cost.

Over Labor Day, both our sons went off to college. As parents of teenagers can attest, such departure is marked by a huge drop in the food bill. It's also marked by a big drop in the number of food particles, crumps, dried up soda pop, etc., left around the mouse. The crunch of crushed Cheerios under bare feet no longer disturbs the silence of the early morning kitchen.

When the boys left for college, the easy food supply left, too. No teenagers, no crumbs, no easy pickings! The cost of sending two kids to college is a bit much to pay for outwitting a few rodents. But the mice are gone: no more forays to the trash compacter; no more nocturnal scratchings behind the wallpaper. At least until next summer's vacation!

CONSISTENTLY GOOD

The John Peel room in the Island Inn is consistently a good restaurant. We have been there a number of times and have always found the food and decor especially enjoyable.

The menu at the John Peel room includes a complete dinner from appetizer through dessert. We had prime ribs there last Thursday and were particularly happy with the large portion of beef along with the fine ambiance of this restaurant, the service was attentive and prompt. As usual we had a good night at the John Peel room.

Q. At restaurants that have dancing and dinner, should you wait for all your food to be served before dancing?

A. The usual procedure would be to wait until after the main course. Dessert can be broken by a trip to the dance floor. However, if the time between courses is extended then a dance may help pass the time between courses.

SPECIALTIES

The LaMarmite in Williston Park is one of the top restaurants on Long Island according to the ad you have. We will go along with that. We have been going to this restaurant on and off for some time. It is something special and spoils you for the many other "run of the mill" places.

One thing nice about LaMarmite is that it has several specialties of the house each day and they are genuine specialties. We have been disappointed elsewhere with the specials because they often turn out to be items that were made of leftovers. At LaMarmite we have to say they are really "special".

Another fine point about LaMarmite is that you are given attentive service from the beginning with the valet car parking to the end of the meal. This is really a first rate restaurant. G.E.

READER RATINGS

EXCELLENT FISH

The Surfside Restaurant is a new one to me. We passed it last week along Hillside Avenue and then remembered we had seen it advertised so we popped in. The service was great but the fish menu is just excellent.

One in our party had filet of sole which was the freshest and most delicious ever. Another had scrod and it also was first rate. We also understand that there are many early specials served each week and that you can get a full dinner at a reasonable price. We think that New Hyde Park can well be proud of this new restaurant and recommend it highly to your readers.

HAPPY CHOICE

It takes many ingredients to make for delightful dining. Our party of six felt that we found them all at the newly decorated George Washington Manor in Roslyn. We enjoyed a most delightful Sunday Brunch and were unanimous in saying that it was a happy choice.

The decor is both charming and elegant, the food selection was diversified and exceedingly good, the service is superb. We all agreed it was a delightful way to spend a few hours on a Sunday. We have also been there for dinner and were well pleased. In particular we enjoyed the cozy fireplace. We heartily endorse this very fine restaurant. D.J.

MEXICAN FOOD

We have not had much Mexican food since coming back after a vacation in California. For that reason we were attracted to the ad for the LaCorrida restaurant in Great Neck.

We tried beef ranchero and found it to be a really great dish and shrimp a la corrida was the other selection. It was made from the tastiest full flavored shrimp we have ever eaten. A trip to the LaCorrida, was like a quick trip South of the Border to Mexico or Southern California. The decor and the general feeling of the restaurant completes the trip. We recommend it to all of your readers. G.E.

Q. When eating out with six or more couples, how do you split the bill? We usually split it evenly among the couples. But, I always feel funny when I want a salad or dessert and others don't order them. What would be the best solution when it comes to this situation in a group?

B.K.

A. The easiest way is to ask anyone if they want to join you in salad or dessert. Then, at the end of the meal, add the cost and pay that separately before dividing the bill. Just say "Here's the $5 for my extras." One benefit is that you would pay part of that anyway if you were dividing the bill and allows no tension amongst friends.

After Work Gourmet

By Melanie Barnard
and Brooke Dojny

TORTILLA LASAGNA

2 tablespoons softened butter
1 (10-ounce) package frozen chopped spinach, thawed (see note)
4 ounces Monterey Jack cheese
1/4 teaspoon dried red pepper flakes
6 (6- or 7-inch) flour tortillas
1 1/2 cups ricotta cheese
1 egg
4 tablespoons Parmesan cheese, divided
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1 tablespoon olive oil
1 medium onion
1 clove garlic, minced
1 tablespoon chili powder
1/2 teaspoon hot pepper sauce, to taste
1 (4-ounce) can chopped green chilies
2 cups undrained, crushed, canned tomatoes
1/4 teaspoon salt, or to taste

Preheat oven to 375 F. Use some of butter to grease a 9-inch pie plate.

Cook spinach and drain well.

Squeeze out all excess moisture. Cut Monterey Jack cheese into small dice and toss with spinach and red pepper flakes.

Spread one side of tortillas with remaining butter.

Whisk together ricotta cheese, egg, 3 tablespoons of Parmesan cheese and oregano. Reserve.

Place 1 tortilla, buttered side up, in prepared dish. Spread with 1/2 ricotta mixture. Top with another tortilla, spread with half of spinach mixture. Make another layer with half of remaining ricotta, then layer with all of remaining spinach, and, finally, layer with remaining ricotta. Top with last tortilla, buttered side up. Sprinkle with remaining 1 tablespoon Parmesan cheese.

Bake lasagna, uncovered, 15-20 minutes until top is golden brown and mixture is heated through. If lasagna begins to brown too quickly, cover loosely with foil.

Meanwhile, heat oil in skillet and saute onion for 3-4 minutes until softened. Add garlic and chili powder and cook, stirring, 1 minute. Add hot pepper sauce, chilis and tomatoes and simmer over low heat, stirring occasionally, for 5-10 minutes.

Let lasagna stand about 5 minutes before cutting into 4 wedges. Serve topped with sauce.

Yield: 4 servings.

SANTE FE SALAD

Dressing: 4 tablespoons raspberry vinegar or red wine vinegar
2 tablespoons orange juice
1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cayenne pepper
4 tablespoons walnut oil or vegetable oil
4 tablespoons vegetable oil
Salad:
1 small (10-12 ounce) jicama
2 seedless oranges
1 red onion
1 green bell pepper
1 ripe avocado
1 head red leaf lettuce

To make dressing, whisk together vinegar, orange juice, mustard, salt and pepper. Whisk in both oils until well blended. Reserve.

READER RATINGS

REAL WINNER

The Portuguese restaurant, Arlindo's on Mineola Boulevard, Mineola is a real winner. The arched entrance to the restaurant makes you feel as though you are entering a retreat long ago. The decor is beautiful inside with a bright and new appearance.

Featured on the menu are fish and meat dishes with a distinct Portuguese flavor.

We were well satisfied with the food which included shrimp cocktail, paella (a combination of many fine fish treats including lobster, mussels, shrimp and scallops). The service was very good and Arlindo, the owner, personally thanked us for being among his guests. We highly recommend this restaurant. T.R.

every 4 minutes.

Let stand, covered, 3 minutes before unmolding and serving. Serve as-is, or fill with cooked baby peas; creamed spinach, etc. Serves 6 to 8.

MONDAY MAC

• 'N CHEESE
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/4 cup minced onion
4 cups cooked elbow macaroni
1 cup shredded mild cheddar cheese
1 cup shredded process American cheese
1/4 cup milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground white pepper
Paprika

Preparation Time: 10 minutes
Cooking Time: 34 to 45 minutes (plus 3 minutes standing time)
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power), MEDIUM (50 percent power)

Combine water and salt in 3 1/2-quart glass casserole. Cover and microwave on HIGH setting until boiling, 10 to 1 1/2 minutes. Stir in noodles, cover, and microwave 6 to 8 minutes, stirring every 3 minutes, until noodles are tender. Drain well and set aside.

Measure milk into 2-cup glass measure and microwave, uncovered, 2 to 3 minutes, until heated through but not boiling. Beat eggs with seasonings in large mixing bowl. Slowly pour hot milk into eggs, beating constantly. Stir in cheese.

Fold in cooked, drained noodles. Turn into 1-quart glass ring mold (or round casserole with heavy tumbler inverted in center). Microwave, loosely covered with wax paper, 16 to 19 minutes on MEDIUM setting, rotating 1/4 turn Combine butter and onion in 2-quart glass casserole. Microwave on HIGH setting about 2 minutes, or until onion is just soft, stirring after 1 minute. Stir in all remaining ingredients except paprika.

Cover and microwave 9 to 12 minutes on MEDIUM setting, stirring every 4 minutes, until heated through and cheese is melted. Dust top lightly with paprika. Let stand, covered, 5 minutes before serving.

Serves 4 to 6.

Novenas

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE
 Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful and intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. St. Jude, pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys, 3 Glorias. Say for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised. This novena has never been known to fail. Thank you for answering my prayers. T.J. ho4

HOLY SPIRIT YOU WHO SOLVE
 all problems, who light all roads, so that I can obtain my goals. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evils against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you ever in spite of all material illusions. I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. Say for 3 consecutive days after which the favor requested will be granted even if it appears difficult. ### HEALTH WATCH

Cancer screening can aid survivability

Experts advise that early detection of cancer can greatly enhance chances for surviving the disease. Here are five-year survival rates for different types of cancers.

Testicular cancer	92%
Malignant melanoma	89%
Colon cancer	86%
Cervical cancer	81%
Rectal cancer	77%

SOURCES: American Cancer Society;
National Cancer Institute;
American Health magazine

KITCHEN HINTS

Retrieve the last bit of mustard

Enough mustard, ketchup and mayonnaise clings to seemingly empty jars to provide the base for a creamy salad dressing.

Here's how to do it:

- To the "empty" jar add oil, lemon juice, dash of Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper.
- Screw cap on; shake vigorously.
- Pour the thick and creamy dressing over greens or vegetables.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Concrete not hard to paint or top

Q: I am interested in knowing if there is a good, long-lasting paint that can be used on a concrete patio and walk which is outside and uncovered. My concrete had to be patched in several places and I would like to cover up the patchwork. I have about 1,500 square feet of concrete.

What is the best type of paint and how long will it last? Should a primer or sealer be used first? Also, is there any type of concrete topping, not more than 1/8-inch thick, that can be put on top of old concrete? — D.W.M.

A: I will answer the last part of your question first. Yes, there is a topping that can be applied over old concrete to give your patio and walkway areas a new surface. The topping is applied using a concrete patching material and concrete glue. There are several brands available. Consult your local masonry dealer for recommendations and be sure to read the instructions of each product carefully prior to making a selection. If you decide to go this route follow manufacturers' directions carefully to assure success of the project.

If you find that you would prefer to paint the old surface you can also do this with success. Careful selection and application of the paint are mandatory. You will need an alkali-resistant paint made for application on concrete and masonry. There are several brands on the market today which, together with special brushes and rollers for masonry surfaces, have made painting masonry a relatively simple matter.

First, be sure that the surface is clean, cracks, indentations and spalls filled, and the surface otherwise intact before painting (no flaking areas). Wash away all oil and grease; remove dirt and other materials with a wire brush. If there is a white saltlike material adhering to concrete, stucco or mortar, it is probably efflorescence. This is caused by moisture that dissolves salts in the interior of alkaline materials and carries them to the surface. Efflorescence must be removed before painting or repainting by brushing (do not wet or more crystals will appear). Painting will help prevent efflorescence.

Selecting the right quality paint is important. Remember, concrete is quite alkaline and alkali is not a friend of many paints. Alkaline resistant paints include: latex paints designed for use on masonry surfaces. Portland cement paints, masonry paints and solvent-thinned rubber-base paints.

Before painting apply a colorless water sealer recommended for masonry surfaces. There are many quality alkaline resistant paints and each has its advantages and disadvantages. For example, latex paints for use on masonry surfaces can be used with confidence. They come in a variety of colors, are water-thinned and can be applied to a damp surface. In fact, the surface should be dampened before applying the first coat.

Solvent-thinned rubber-base paints are ideal for painting basements, porch floors, swimming pools and walks exposed to weather. They provide excellent resistance to alkali and water penetration and resist abrasion. After an alkali-resistant primer has been applied, the finish coat should be used to resist exposure. Two finish coats are better than one. Your local paint dealer, or masonry dealer should be able to give you recommendations on specific brands of paint.

First there was denial — it could not be happening to me. It was not happening to me. Then came anger and grief; the second and third steps. It was in the fourth step — acceptance of its presence — that I could deal with it, live with it, overcome it and continue my life as a professional tennis player.

The diagnosis was of arthritis in both of her knees. "Instead of just relaxing, taking it easy, I started an active exercise program to benefit my entire body. That program included weightlifting, cycling and aerobics — and I did it actively. This was very contrary to the orders of my first doctor who told me never to lift more than 7 pounds of weight.

"With the increased exercise I found not only my body working better, but my mind was sharper and my self-image was increased greatly.

"Anyone with arthritis needs to be active, as active as possible, because then you are focusing on that activity and not on the supposed limitations of that arthritis. Then, listen to your body. Your body will tell you when you have had enough exercise at any one time. The exercise, though, should be frequent and on a regular schedule — 30 to 40 minutes every other day as a minimum.

"We have learned as women, all our lives, that we should be passive. At birth we are given a pink blanket and an assumption of a more passive life. Boys are born, given blue blankets and are assumed into active exercise and sports," states the tennis champion, now 39 years old.

Physical activity for women and girls, too — from grandmothers to grandchildren and great-grandchildren — can now be recognized as important, King emphasized. After a recent period of lesser activity — "a lot of time sitting on airplanes" — King gained weight and her perception of her own health became a serious question for her.

"Now I am back to eating moderately and healthfully, lifting weights, cycling and aerobic exercises. My weight is going back down to where I want it to be, and I have a return of my vigor in body as well as mind."

TWEEN 12 & 20

Dr. Wallace: I realize that there is nothing anyone can do to help my sister, but I feel compelled to write in hopes that her story might save the life of a teenager suffering from anorexia.

Nancy was an intelligent, happy young girl who had a sunny outlook on life. She loved animals and was planning to be a veterinarian. About three years ago, when Nancy was 16, the family noticed that she was starting to look frail and very slim.

Nancy had the obsession that she was overweight. She spent a lot of time in front of her mirror looking at herself. But even though she was very thin, she complained about her weight. This was crazy, but we could not convince her.

Nancy died two months ago, two days before her 19th birthday. Our entire family was crushed. We did everything possible to convince Nancy she was going to starve herself to death. Nancy wouldn't believe us.

I'll skip the guilt and depression our family has suffered these past two months. We do not want Nancy's death to go unnoticed. I am writing to beg any reader who is anorexic to please ask for professional help before it is too late. Please know that anorexia nervosa kills. — Judy.

Teens: The future of the Scholastic Aptitude Test is in trouble, amidst "very strong evidence that it's particularly unfair to girls and minorities," a special feature in a recent issue of Seventeen magazine reveals. Many schools are reconsidering the test's ability to correctly evaluate a student's scholastic capabilities, and "some very competitive colleges have already made the test optional," the article reports.

The SAT is designed to predict a student's performance during the freshman year. A decade ago, boys and girls scored about the same on the exam, according to author Curtis Ingman. But when the content of the test questions changed during the '70s, girls' scores began declining, despite the fact that studies indicate "women's first-year college grades are consistently higher than their male counterparts," Ingman says.

Experts in the testing field claim the test format and questions are what work against girls when taking the SAT.

The real reason girls' scores are lower include the demeaning and stereotypical depictions of women and girls on many tests," observes Phyllis Rosser, director of the Equality in Testing Project. However, girls consistently do better than boys on essay questions, including the SAT composition achievement test.

The Educational Testing Service, which administers the test, argues that the difference in male and female scores partially results from the fact that "boys follow more rigorous academic programs than girls do, that girls seem to be tracked into less challenging courses, particularly in math." And, says the ETS, because more girls take the test, they bring the statistical average down. In addition, the ETS contends that the girls who "choose" to take the test are less educational and economically privileged than are the boys taking the test.

However, Ingman points out that experts in the testing field dispute these arguments and that critics also charge that the SAT discriminates against minorities and less affluent.

The National Center for Fair and Open Testing (FairTest), a non-profit organization that acts as a watchdog of the testing industry, claims that the lower scores of less economically privileged students are not the result of basic education, but rather the result of discriminatory test questions. Many questions, it seems, measure a familiarity with upper-middle-class activities, and not academic ability.

While critics charge the test itself is biased and discriminatory, similar accusations have been made against the ETS.

"No single agency does more to perpetuate sexism, racism, elitism ... in the United States than does the ETS," says Chuck Stone, senior editor of the Philadelphia Daily News, and former director of minority affairs for the ETS.

Despite criticism of the SAT's ability to accurately measure a student's academic aptitude, having a low SAT score can affect several aspects of a college career, because some schools won't accept applicants whose scores are below a specific cut-off point. And since scholarships and grants often are awarded on the basis of SAT scores, low scorers may be put at a financial disadvantage. In addition, a low test result can affect your self-esteem and self-perception. If you believe the scores reflect your capabilities,

Billie Jean King beat arthritis, won tennis titles

NEW YORK — Billie Jean King told the story simply but effectively. She was a very young woman who, after an automobile accident at age 18, developed arthritis in the knees she injured seriously in that mishap.

Even with arthritis, she went on to become the first "winningest" woman professional tennis champion in the United States. She won Wimbledon titles 20 times in her career. In 1971, she became the first woman to earn more than $100,000 in a single year in any sport.

She is the first woman to coach a professional sports team, the Philadelphia Freedoms, the World Tennis team in 1974. She is the only woman in the history of tennis to win the U.S. Singles titles on grass, clay, carpet and hard courts.

Today she heads the Domino Plaza national tennis program for both professional and amateur players, conducts tennis clinics and training seminars, and represents women in professional sports as spokeswoman to the media and the public. Now a resident of New York City, she travels actively — "I'm going somewhere three or four times each week around the country. I love the sport of tennis and I am still active in the sport in many ways. It is not my nature to sit on the sidelines."

Billie Jean King's message tells not only of the increased possibility of arthritis in men and women who have had injury to joints of bones, but also of how to adapt, how to continue with an active life, and how to beat the effect of arthritis if it does affect you.

"Don't automatically assume that arthritis means it is time for the rocking chair. In fact, the best way to deal with the disease most times is just the opposite," she says.

"When my arthritis was diagnosed, my life and business was as a professional tennis player. I went through the four classic steps of any traumatic situation,

Presidential favorites

By Verne Palmer

Election Day brings to mind American history, with thoughts of America's early presidents. They may have differed widely in origin, ability, philosophy and temperament, but they shared one quality — they liked to eat.

Thomas Jefferson, an acknowledged gourmet, not only enjoyed eating, but he also loved discovering and preparing dishes and was extremely particular about the ingredients that went into them. He made his own salad oil from seeds his slaves brought with them from Africa and considered it to be the equal of olive oil.

Jefferson traveled widely and brought much of what he discovered abroad back home — including such present-day American favorites as ice cream and pasta.

His own personal favorite, however, was rich French custard that he was known to polish off all on his own, in a single sitting.

Abraham Lincoln, a moderate and uncomplaining eater in most respects, developed a lifelong passion for Mary Todd's almond white cake and declared it to be the best he had ever eaten.

George Washington owed at least part of his ample figure to a pronounced weakness for pies. Mince, pumpkin and a savory veal and rice pie were among his favorites. He also liked pancakes flavored with cheese and ham, and ale fritters topped with maple syrup.

John Adams was especially fond of lobster salad, his son, John Quincy Adams, liked fancy frosted tea cookies, and James Monroe relished freshly baked fritters dusted with powdered sugar.

A selection of these and other presidential favorites follows:

VEAL-RICE PIE A GEORGE WASHINGTON FAVORITE

2 tablespoons salt pork, diced
1 cup potatoes, diced
1 medium onion, chopped
1/4 cup cooking oil
4 cups veal, cooked and diced
1 cup water
1 tablespoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup rice, steamed
1 cup tomatoes
2 eggs hard-boiled and sliced
2 tablespoons butter

Combine salt pork, potatoes and onion in cast iron skillet and brown in hot cooking oil. Stir in veal and water. Heat thoroughly. Season with salt and pepper.

Pour meat mixture into well-greased baking dish and cover with rice, tomatoes and boiled egg slices. Dot top with butter and cover baking dish.

Bake in moderately quick oven (375 F) for 30 minutes. More water may be added if necessary.

This recipe makes 8 generous servings.

ABE LINCOLN'S FAVORITE ALMOND WHITE CAKE

3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup blanched almonds, chopped fine
1 cup butter
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
6 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon salt

Sift flour and baking powder 3 times in a large wooden mixing bowl. Stir in blanched almonds. Set dry mixture aside and proceed to cream butter and sugar in separate bowl. Now add vanilla to this creamy blend. Then stir in flour mixture and milk alternately until it is all used up. Set aside while beating egg whites with salt until stiff. Fold these egg whites carefully into batter. Pour batter into 3 round well-greased and floured cake pans. Bake in moderate oven 330 F for about 20 minutes or until straw comes out clean.

ABE'S FAVORITE ICING

2 cups sugar
1/2 cup water, hot
2 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar
1/4 cup blanched almonds, chopped fine
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Blend sugar and hot water in saucepan and quickly bring to boil. Continue to boil until it strings, but do not stir. Beat egg whites until stiff in wooden mixing bowl. Slowly pour sugar/water mixture into stiffly beaten egg whites and blend well. Stir in cream of tartar, blanched almonds and lemon juice. Beat thoroughly. When thick and smooth, spread between layers and on top of cooled cake. This boiled icing hardens rather quickly.

THOMAS JEFFERSON'S FAVORITE FRENCH CUSTARD

1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons flour
1 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups cream or 2 1/2 cups milk
1 egg, well beaten
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
3/4 cup cream, whipped

Combine sugar, flour, cornstarch and salt in saucepan. Gradually stir in cream or milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and thickens. Cook for 3 more minutes, always stirring. Take a little of mixture out of saucepan and stir into beaten egg. Then add this to hot mixture in pan. Allow to cook 1 minute. Take from stove and add vanilla. Beat until smooth and creamy. Lastly, fold in whipped cream. Set aside to cool and serve.

This makes about 3 cups.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS FANCY FROSTED TEA COOKIES

1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup sugar
2 small eggs, beaten
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
3 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 cup almonds, ground

Cream butter and sugar together in wooden mixing bowl. Then stir in beaten eggs and almond extract. Sift flour and baking powder together, blend in almonds and add mixture to that in bowl. Knead lightly and roll out on floured surface. Cut out your cookies with plain round cutter and lay them on greased baking pans. Now prepare the icing as follows:

ICING

1 1/4 cups powdered sugar
1 egg white
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 cup almonds, shredded

Sift powdered sugar into wooden mixing bowl and stir in egg white and lemon juice. Beat for 15 minutes. If too thick, add a very little more egg white.

Spread some icing on each cookie and sprinkle with shredded almond. Bake in moderate oven (350 F) for 10 minutes. This recipe makes 50 delightful cookies.

LOBSTER SALAD AS PREPARED FOR JOHN ADAMS

Lobster: Meat from body and claws of cold boiled lobster
1/2 head cabbage, shredded
1/2 cup onion, chopped
4 eggs, hard-boiled
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 teaspoon mustard
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon red pepper
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon vinegar

Mince and blend lobster, cabbage and onion. Put yolks from hard-boiled eggs into small mixing bowl and rub until they become smooth paste. Use only a wooden spoon for this. (In the day of John Adams they used a mortar and pestle.) The yolks must be free of lumps. Add gradually, rubbing all the time, all the other ingredients. Moisten with a little more vinegar, if necessary. You should end up with 1/4 cup of dressing and it should be thin enough to pour over lobster mixture. Pour this over lobster and stir long and hard. The meat must be thoroughly impregnated with dressing.

According to Abigail Adams, all lobster should be eaten as soon as the dressing has been added. Garnish salad with a chain of rings made by slicing the hard-boiled egg whites. To make this salad as authentic as possible, the Worcestershire sauce should also be prepared as it was many long years ago by Abigail. Make it as follows:

WORCESTERSHIRE SAUCE

3 teaspoons red pepper
3 scallions, minced
4 cups vinegar
2 tablespoons ketchup
3 anchovies, chopped fine

Thoroughly blend all ingredients and rub them through a fine strainer. Put into stone jar and set this in a pot of boiling water. Heat until liquid in jar is so hot you cannot keep your finger in it. Immediately strain and let stand in jar, covered tightly, for 2 days then put into bottles and seal until ready to use.

JAMES MONROE'S DELICATE FRITTERS

1 cup flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup milk
1 tablespoon olive oil

Blend flour, baking powder, cornstarch, salt and sugar in wooden mixing bowl and sift 3 times. Beat yolk and white of egg separately. Add beaten egg yolk and milk alternately to flour mixture. Then add olive oil and beat until smooth. Finally, fold in stiffly beaten egg white. Drop by large wooden spoonfuls into plenty of hot, but not smoking, cooking oil. Allow to fry until golden brown and turn once. Drain out with a skimmer and lay fritters on absorbent paper or clean cloth. Dust with powdered sugar and serve at once.

Elizabeth Monroe used this batter recipe for plain fritters and for fruit and sweet fritters of all kinds. In using vegetables or shellfish she omitted the sugar. She thinned the batter slightly with milk when she used it with any filling such as apples, clams orysters.

This recipe is sufficient for 10 large fritters.

ZACHARY TAYLOR'S SPECIAL RED BEAN SOUP

2 cups kidney beans
4 cups vegetable stock
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon flour
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon celery flakes
1/4 teaspoon curry powder
1 tablespoon salt
1 teaspoon black pepper
2 lemons, juice only

This is believed to be one of the very best bean soups known in the long-forgotten past.

Put beans into cast iron kettle with 4 cups cold water. Bring to boil for 3 minutes and then remove from stove. Let stand overnight. Then bring to boil again and allow to simmer for 1 1/2 hours. Then strain beans into vegetable stock and reheat. Meanwhile, blend butter and flour in small wooden mixing bowl until it is a smooth cream. Then add this to soup in kettle and stir in cloves, cinnamon, celery flakes, curry powder, salt and pepper. The lemon juice is to be blended into the soup just before serving.

Zachary Taylor also enjoyed this soup when made with lima beans.

Backyard Gardener

By Patrick Denton

Now is the best time to begin planting paperwhite narcissus, for by the third week of October the bulbs will have thoroughly matured. Because these bulbs continue to mature after harvesting, the later the planting the faster the bloom — up to about mid-February, when they begin to lose their vitality.

But, as a general rule, allow five to six weeks between planting and bloom in these popular, fragrant indoor bulb flowers. Store the bulbs in a cool, dim and airy spot until you're ready to plant them.

Though most people grow their paperwhites in pebbles and water, the bulbs may also be planted in soil. In the first method, the bulbs are set on a bed of clean pebbles in a bowl at least 4 inches deep. They're stabilized with more pebbles over the lower third of the bulbs as the top two-thirds is left above the pebble level.

Water is kept at the level of the bulbs' bases as the paperwhites root in a cool, low-light location in the house. When a root mass has developed in the pebbles (poke the pebbles aside carefully to check) the container can be brought gradually to brighter light for the foliage to continue lengthening and for flowering.

In soil, the paperwhite bulbs are planted more deeply, with only a third of the bulb remaining above the soil surface. Though the short, cool and dim rooting period is the same as for pebble and water-grown paperwhites, in soil the bulbs are far simpler to water and they don't have the same annoying tendency to push up into the air on their developing roots. Better and longer-lasting flowers commonly result from soil-grown paperwhites as well.

Because amaryllis bulbs take between six and eight weeks from planting to bloom, now is the time to pot a bulb for flowering at Christmas. How speedily an amaryllis bulb develops roots and begins to push up its flower bud will depend largely upon the soil temperature around the newly potted bulb. To hasten root action in the bulb, I set our potted amaryllis on a family room shelf over a short length of soil heating cable that is covered with several thicknesses of terry toweling.

Alternate measures for delivering steady, moderate warmth to the soil are to place the pots on top of the hot water tank, on a shelf or on thick padding over a radiator, or an old heating pad turned to its lowest setting. With gentle bottom warmth, amaryllis bulbs potted early in November will almost certainly be blooming for Christmas, while at cooler rooting temperatures, an earlier potting at about this time will be safer.

Use a tight pot for an amaryllis bulb so that there is a scant 1-inch space between the bulb and the side of the pot. This bulb blooms best when rootbound, and a small pot also helps safeguard the bulb and it roots against rotting from overwatering since there will be less soil to hold water.

Use a purchased potting mix or a soil blend with about one-third each damp peat, sterilized potting soil and perlite. Add a teaspoon of bone meal to each potful of soil used for an amaryllis. Remove any dried or broken pieces of root and build a cone of the planting mixture in the middle of the pot. Arrange the roots evenly over the cone before covering them. The bulb should end up with between one-third to half of its length left above the soil surface. Aim for the soil line to end up at the point where the bulb is fattest around.

Firm the soil well around the bulb, water it well and let it drain, then set it in a shaded spot until the flower bud appears. During this waiting period water only very cautiously, as wet soil will rot the new roots. Once growth starts, bring the plant to full light and begin to water regularly and fertilize weekly.

Q: I would like to remove the old carpeting in my L-shaped living/dining area and use an antique Oriental carpet in soft browns, neutrals, blues and peach.

I cannot afford to resurface the floor itself. Is it feasible to paint the sub-flooring? What colors or patterns?

A: Most sub-flooring is plywood or particle board. I would take a look at its condition first and then decide whether to paint it or cover it first with inexpensive sheets of hardboard.

If the sub-floor looks in reasonably good shape, then prepare it by filling cracks and seams, sanding and giving it a coat of high quality primer/sealant.

At this point you can give it a couple of coats of solid color or try a textured treatment such as marbelizing or antiquing. Jocasta Innes shares some beautiful paint techniques in her new book, "Paint Magic," from Pantheon Books, New York.

I would choose either a solid neutral or low-profile pattern in neutral shades drawn from your Oriental carpet. After all, you want your carpet to have center stage and, presumably, only the perimeter of the sub-flooring will show anyway.

Finally, I would be overly generous with three to five finish coats of a polyurethane-type sealer. This will leave you with a smooth, tough, virtually maintenance-free floor. Just keep in mind that polyurethane will add a yellow tone to your under color. Varathane brand makes a colored product that combines paint and sealer if you wish to save steps or keep the color true.

As you can see, your major investment will be elbow grease but the results of elevating that sub-flooring to a new plane may delight you.

Q: We entertain various-sized groups frequently and I have a personal preference for conversational seating around the fireplace. What kinds of furniture or arrangements would make the most of this? — L.A.

A: Since it is difficult for more than five or six people to carry on a single conversation, I would not worry about trying to cram too many seating pieces into one conversational grouping.

It could well prove to be more congenial to create two separate seating areas, back-to-back, in front of the fireplace. If the border seating piece were a chaise, backless upholstered bench or swivel chairs, guest seated here could participate in either group. Everyone could enjoy the general ambience of a roaring fire and there would be no hard separation between the two seating groups.

Modulars are always terrific for your kind of entertaining. They can be easily rearranged in a variety of combinations and patterns (diagonals are often effective in front of a fireplace) to accommodate changing needs.

Vase made in Carlsbad, Austria

Q: This vase, which I call my "Indian" vase, has the following inscribed on the bottom, "Victoria, Carlsbad, Austria."

What can you tell me about its origin, vintage and value?

A: Your vase was made by the Victoria Porzellanfabrik in Carlsbad, Austria, between 1900 and 1915. It would probably sell in the $85 to $95 range.

Q: Would you please explain what "Quimper" ware is and whether it is very expensive?

A: Quimper is a town in northwest France. It is the home of pottery that has made tin-glazed ceramics since the 1600s. The typical decoration consists of French peasants — the male facing right and the female facing left. There are also floral designs.

The two marks that are seen currently are "HB" (Hubardiere-Bousquet) and "Henriot, Quimper" (Jules Henriot). There are earlier marks, but they are rarely encountered today.

The prices of most available Quimper is in the range of $25 to $300 — mostly under $100.

Q: I'm having a hard time telling the difference in old watch cases. How do you determine if they are really solid gold?

A: Prior to 1924, manufacturers had a free hand. Most solid gold cases were marked, "10K," "14K," or "18K." Gold-filled cases were marked "Warranted 25 years," "Warranted 20 years," sometimes they even added 14K, etc. The clue is if the case is marked "Warranted," then it is not solid gold.

The exception to that is that a case marked "Warranted 14K U.S. Assay" is solid 14K gold.

Now, are you more or less confused?

Q: What can you tell me about a vase with the attached mark on the bottom? It is ball shaped with a narrow neck and decorated in shades of green and yellow.

A: Your vase was made by Cambridge Art Pottery between 1900 and 1910. Since the company only produced art pottery in those years, your vase is an eagerly sought item that would probably sell for at least $150.

The company was located in Cambridge, Ohio.

Points on Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. We live near a beach and occasionally find oil-soaked birds. What is the best method for handling them?

Are solvents such as gasoline harmful to birds? We have not had much luck in cleaning them. Your advice will be helpful.

A. Oil soaking is a serious condition for birds, usually involving wild species.

The oil-soaked birds may be chilled, in a state of shock, and suffering from the toxic effects of the oil. Since oil reduces the insulation value of feathers, severe heat loss results if the environmental temperature is low.

Oil-soaked birds should be handled carefully, making every attempt to conserve the bird's body temperature. The bird can be placed in a cardboard box containing a soft, warm cloth or bedding on the bottom. A hot water bottle may also be placed in the box if necessary. Of course, the amount of external heat required will depend upon the time of year and geographical location.

Any wild bird found injured or oil-soaked should be delivered promptly to an appropriate public health authority or veterinary hospital. Generally, sophisticated treatment procedures are required to save these birds. Medications to combat shock and formulations to overcome starvation are usually required.

Almost all wild birds are protected by federal laws. They cannot be kept legally as pets without the authorization of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, U.S. Department of the Interior. Local conservation officers or game wardens can usually give helpful advice regarding the laws and care of wild birds and creatures commonly found in their local areas.

Organic liquid solvents such as alcohol, ether or gasoline should never be used to clean oil off birds. Although these cleaners do a thorough job of removing the oil, they are dangerous for the bird.

In an emergency, if professional help is not available, diluted liquid household detergents may be used to remove the oil. After cleaning the bird it should be rinsed thoroughly with plain water and dried with warm air. A blow dryer is helpful in drying the bird.

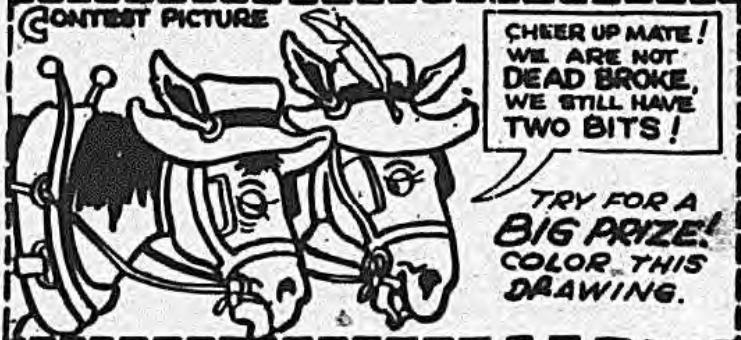

It usually takes several weeks for oil-soaked birds to recover completely. Complications from cleaning often occur. Approximately 50 percent of oil-soaked birds recover if given proper veterinary care.

Oil slicks should be promptly reported to local authorities so that the risk to wildlife and man can be minimized.

Your local veterinarian can give you additional advice regarding the handling of oil-soaked birds and injured wildlife.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

The weather was so lovely last weekend that I was off to the country. As I was driving along with a friend we noticed three deer standing there just munching grass.

The deer looked half grown. They were small and slim. Yet their coats were not spotted so they were not fawns.

Fearing we would run into them, we stopped to let them come bounding across the road!

Soon it will be hunting season in the mountains, but the three deer do not have to worry. They live in a residential community where shooting is forbidden.

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are Kerry Conner and John DiBlasi.
