Christine Schiavone and Rose Alvarado from Miss Kettigan's 4th grade class at Old County Road are examining their pond creatures using low power microscopes. Each child in the class has their own miniature pond. Careful observation and drawings enable the children to recognize "jointed legs and segmented bodies." These children will classify, identify, and write research reports on the creatures.

Water District Warning Residents

The Board of Commissioners of the Hicksville Water District wish to advise all residents and consumers of the Water District that they are not at the present time, sponsoring or supporting any door-to-door campaign to either obtain information or seek to raise funds for any purpose whatever.

Should action of this type appear to be necessary in the future the Board will most certainly advise the residents in advance of any such undertaking. In the event this action should continue, you may contact the Water District in person or by phone at 931-0184 so that proper response may be made to those who are responsible.

Three Arrested With Pellet Gun

Police Officer Raymond Kurz was off duty when he observed a blue Honda with three male white occupants as one of the passengers allegedly held a gun out the window. When the car stopped at Jackson Avenue and 1st Road in Syosset, Officer Kurz left his car and arrested the occupants at 3:35 p.m. December 1. Recovered was a CO<sub>2</sub> pellet gun.

As a result of the arrest and subsequent investigation it was revealed that the three arrested people were allegedly responsible for the assault of Thomas Melius, 24, of Wantagh, who was shot in the right leg by a pellet gun while in the parking lot of Mid Island Plaza at North Broadway.

Arrested and charged with Assault 2, Criminal Mischief 2 and Criminal Possession of a Weapon 4, were Steven Levine, 17, 1 Stafford Lane, Woodbury; Peter Ogur, 17, 105 N. Gate Drive, Syosset and Robert Lehmann, 17, 310 Birchwood Park Drive, Jericho.

Park Ave. Division Neighborhood Watch

The Park Avenue Neighborhood Watch is the oldest Neighborhood Watch group in Hicksville. Established over five years ago, it enjoys being a part of the other Watch groups in Hicksville. The area encompasses all the streets between Old Country Road on the south; up to, but not including Elm Street on the East; Plainview Road/East Marie and Nicholai Streets on the North and Kriemher Street on the West.

The key factor in a neighborhood watch group is awareness. Our group does this through two ways - Block Captain Meetings and flyers which are distributed to the homes in the area. Occasionally, we do have a general meeting when neighbors are troubled with problems that are best answered by having a knowledgeable speaker address them.

Councilman Tom Clark was our guest speaker on November 17. Councilman Clark addressed the group on the various businesses in our area, some zoned, some not, and the various parking problems created by them. Mr. Clark also touched on the matter of making Kraemer Street One Way and also the matter of homes with more than one family (unrelated) in this area, which is generally zoned for one family dwellings.

Councilman Clark explained that his office is able to take action on the improper actions of neighbors only if a letter is sent to his office. Names of the letter writer are kept confidential, so he did encourage all to write rather than phone him. He also told the group that many residents of Hicksville have quietly "put up" with many infractions but within the last year and a half many more people are beginning to take action.

The meeting was well attended, information given by Councilman Clark well received and residents left the meeting with the knowledge that they were not alone in their complaints but rather united in their efforts to make a small section of Hicksville the cared for, beautiful area they moved into.

The Neighborhood Watch Program is sponsored by the Hicksville Youth Council, 181 West Old County Road. For further information, contact Beth at 822-KIDS.

Cliff Davis Re-Elected Hicksville Fire Comm.

Cliff Davis received 134 votes to take the Hicksville Fire Commissioner's position for another term.

Davis ran unopposed for the job. He has served as Fire Commissioner for 16 years.

Davis is a third generation Hicksville Fireman and has worked for the Fire District for 39 years.

DeBobes Elected Bethpage Fire Comm.

Francis X DeBobes has been elected the new Bethpage Fire Commissioner, filling the vacancy left by the death of Al Castaldi.

DeBobes received 336 votes in comparison with 243 for Charles R. Boyce and 161 for Anthony Marcianno.

Oriental Brush Painting At Library

An exhibit of Oriental Brush Painting by artist Carol Bergman is in the Hicksville Public Library Fiction Room display case for the month of December.

Carol will be teaching this craft at the library this month, to both adults and young adults. There is still room in the 3 day workshop to take place December 28, 29 and 30, from 10:15 a.m. to noon. If you are interested, register at the circulation desk of the library.

Local AHRC Meeting Dec. 14

The Levittown-Hicksville-Wantagh Auxiliary of the Association for the Help of Retarded Children (AHRC) will meet on Monday, December 14, at 8 p.m. at Levittown Hall. Members will bring gifts for the residents at Suffolk Development Center. We will then enjoy refreshments bought by members for our Holiday Get-Together meeting.

His recent centennial birthday was still 30 years away when Hicksville attorney Charles H. Stoll showed one of his trophies as an outstanding big game hunter to visitors at his Broadway office in the mid-1950s. Admiring the walrus' trunk held by Stoll, a water-district authority and conservationist whose specimens of the chase are now at the Vanderbilt Museum were, left to right: Dr. Walter Silliger, Jr., Charles Barrels of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, Aaron Rechman, Stoll's law partner and leader in the elevation of railroad in Hicksville, and Stoll, who celebrated a century of life on November 27. Judge Stoll (he served at Old Hicksville Courthouse as Oyster Bay Justice of the Peace during the 'twenties) was given a surprise birthday luncheon at the home of his sister, Pauline Francis of Field Avenue.

Editor's Notebook

On January 5, 1988, a new supervisor will take over the helm in the Township of Oyster Bay. Angelo Delligatti will replace Supervisor Joseph Colby. Although there will be a change in name, the party will remain the same and the GOP will continue to rule the Town. While we realize that the basic thrust of the Board will remain the same we are in hopes that Supervisor Delligatti will perhaps bring a little more hope for the many unincorporated areas of the Town such as Hicksville, Syosset, Plainview and Bethpage where neglect seems to be a never changing fact of life.

It has been about 30 years since any of these areas ever thought of setting up incorporated villages and with changing rules set by the political hierarchy through the State legislatures there is not much hope of ever changing to self-governments in any of these areas.

The taxes are higher than in many incorporated villages and the services are not as good. The Town government meets in a far off corner of the area and in daylight hours. Usually few residents have any feeling of being part of a local government structure. A new supervisor would have difficulty in changing all of these problems. But a first place to start would be in directing as much of the revenue as possible towards keeping the areas looking clean and tidy and doing so even at the expense of foregoing some of the entertainment and other less than essential costs included in the budget.

Letters

To the Editor:

Appearing in your Thanksgiving issue were two photographs of peaceful protesters at the Women's Choice abortuary on West John Street. Let readers get the mistaken impression this is the usual number of people demonstrating against the violence, the amount of participants shown is the exception. The usual group in attendance is four, six or at most eight and that's in good weather.

Where are all the people? It's ironic a while back approximately 700 Hicksville residents turned out to oppose a White Castle operation to be opened in their midst.

For close to seven years now the West John Street death chamber continues to profit from the ultimate in child abuse. Presumably this is accepted and tolerated because the extermination of unborn human life happens behind closed doors and the human garbage is unseen. All too apparent is the misery and heartbreak etched on the faces of many using this facility.

Sacrifice of time and self is small atonement for this national tragedy. People power, in great numbers, on a fairly consistent basis has been instrumental in closing the doors of these abortuaries. It's never too late to make the effort, join us any Saturday between 8 a.m. and 11 a.m.

Staff Sgt. Thomas J. McDonnell, son of Patrick F. and Yvonne M. McDonnell of 39 Hayden Drive, Bethpage, has been decorated with the Air Force Commendation Medal at Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma.

The Air Force Commendation Medal is awarded to those individuals who demonstrate outstanding achievement or meritorious service in the performance of their duties on behalf of the Air Force.

McDonnell is an airborne communications systems operator with the 96th Airborne Warning and Control Squadron.

He is a 1979 graduate of Bethpage High School.

Marine Pvt. George N. Conroy, son of George C. and Jean R. Conroy of 15 Steuben Ave., Bethpage, has completed the School of Infantry at Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, CA.

During the six-week course Conroy received classroom instruction and camouflage of fighting positions; and the use of mines, demolitions, and intra-company communications equipment.

Teddy Jose Triana of 16 Maple Place, Hicksville, has been selected as an "Outstanding Young Man of America for 1987."

Now in its 25th year, the OYMA program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young men between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in many fields of endeavor, such as service to community, professional leadership, academic achievement, business advancement, cultural accomplishments, and civic and political participation. Achievements in these areas are the result of dedication, responsibility, and a drive for excellence - qualities which deserve to be recognized and remembered.

James J. McElroy, Michael S. Zirkel and Stephen E. Grindell of Bethpage and Vincent M. Callaghan of Plainview have started their freshman year at the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, N.Y.

Two Plainview residents, Gloria Hoey of Edi Avenue and Karen Wagner of Northern Parkway are scheduled to complete their studies at the end of the fall semester at the SUNY College at Oswego.

Miss Hoey is majoring in business administration, while Miss Wagner's major is accounting.

College Notes

Legion Prepares For Oration Contest

The Charles Wagner Post 421, American Legion, will be taking part in the Nassau County Legion's 50th Annual Oratorical Competitions on January 13. The Hicksville Post 421's preliminary contest for Hicksville and Holy Trinity Diocesan High School orators is to be held at the Hicksville High School on Jan. 4.

Prizes to the local winners and runners-up include United States Savings Bonds for $100, $75 and $50, and pen and pencil sets. The winning Hicksville orator will be on his/her way to the County contest and, possibly on through higher contest levels, to the national oratorical championship. $50,000 in scholarships and U.S. Savings Bonds are available as prizes on various contest levels.

TOPIC AND REQUIREMENTS FOR CONTESTANT'S SPEECH

The American Legion Annual Oratorical Competitions are in their 50th Year. The topic is always the same, THE UNITED STATES CONSTITUTION, especially appropriate in this Bicentennial Year of America's great written body of laws.

Contestants are asked to write and deliver orally an 8 to 10 minute oration on any aspect or phase of the Constitution of the United States, which will examine appreciatively or constructively the Constitution and the student duties and obligations of a citizen to our government.

Seniors Free Perf. To H.S. Play

Hicksville High School will present Neil Simon's smash hit play, "Brighton Beach Memoirs", on December 11 and 12 at 8 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

Considered by many to be Neil Simon's finest play, "Brighton Beach Memoirs" tells the story of the Jerome family as they cope with the problems of life in Brooklyn in 1937 with love and humor.

Directed by Judith Paschtiner, the cast includes Tom Schiffer as 14 year old Eugene Jerome who narrates the story, Jennifer Jackson and Tony Walker as his long-suffering parents, Jennifer Tower, Suzanne Endres and Lisa Jayne Delano of Bethpage was honored as Employee of the Year for the Queens Treatment Alternatives to Street Crime (TASC) program, where she is a Case Manager. The award was presented by former head of the NYS Parole Commission and now Queens attorney Edward Hammock, Esq. Mr. Hammock also serves on the Board of EAC, the non-profit organization which administers Queens TASC. TASC links the criminal justice system with drug or alcohol treatment, or mental health programs. The TASC model involves placing the drug or alcohol involved offender into treatment at the request of the court system, then monitoring his or her progress. The use of TASC has been proven effective in reducing re-arrests for persons who successfully complete the program.

SOME EXAMPLES OF POPULAR TOPIC AREAS OFFERED BY CONTESTANTS

1. The U.S. Constitution: bulwark of civil liberties for Americans.
2. The U.S. Constitution: a model for new nations
3. Our Changing Constitution
4. U.S. Constitution: cornerstone of Amer. Liberty
5. Our Times Constitution
6. Law and Order and the U.S. Constitution
7. America's Greatness is Rooted in the U.S. Constitution
8. Ideals and Ideas Embodied in Our Constitution
9. Giants of Constitutional Interpretation: Marshall, Holmes, Frankfurter, Warren
10. Constitutional Controversies Prove Vitality of Our Basic Law
11. Is the Constitution Equal to America's Modern-Day Needs?
12. Our Rights and Obligations as Citizens Under the U.S. Constitution
13. A Comparison: the U.S. Constitution and the Constitution of Soviet Union

Contestants may, of course write and speak on other aspects of the Constitution of interest to them.

All interested students are asked to contact their social studies or language arts teachers or chairmen for entry blanks and contest information or they may telephone Legion Oratory Chairman Richard Evers, 931-0667.

Central Blvd. Enjoys Book Week

Ben Franklin Visits Campagne School

Demonstrating the manet with Suzanne Gerstenbluth.

Charles Campagne School PTA sponsored a student cultural arts performance of 'Ben Franklin... In Person' as part of the school's celebration of the Constitution's Bicentennial.

Dr. Franklin, as portrayed by Bev Burton, former Chairman of the Bethpage High School Drama Department, was a warm honest and humble man whose enormous energy and imagination were symbolic of America's rapid early growth. He led the children in 'making their own thunderstorm' by clapping, snapping and stomping, complimenting them afterwards for their enthusiasm. 'That kind of curiosity is what makes you invent and succeed,' he said. He demonstrated some of his own electrical experiments and talked about some of the innovative programs he established in the United States, including the first lending library and the first volunteer fire department (a bucket brigade.)

He interspersed history with social customs and eighteenth century pastimes. He demonstrated his favorite dance, the Minuet, with Suzanne Gerstenbluth, a sixth grader at Charles Campagne.

Both the primary and intermediate grades, each of whom saw different performances geared to their age level, enjoyed Dr. Franklin's visit.

St. Paul Lutheran Service Schedule

The members of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Bethpage, invite you to join us in preparing for the celebration of the birth of our Lord Jesus Christ by worshipping at our various services.

Our Advent services conclude on Wednesday, December 16, at 7:30 p.m. when the Rev. Bruce Hanson presents his sermon entitled 'Why Wait?'

On Sunday, December 20, the children of the Sunday School will present their Christmas pageant at 10:30 a.m. All are invited to join the children in song and celebration of the Christ child's birth. Then at 7:00 p.m. the same day, St. Paul's will again hold a special service of prayer and praise to praise God who loved us so much that He sent His only Son into this world so we may have eternal life with Him.

A family candlelight service will take place on December 24, Christmas Eve, at 7 p.m., and at 10:30 p.m. a candlelight service with holy communion will be observed. On Christmas Day at 10:30 a.m., a festival celebration of the nativity of our Lord with holy communion will take place.

St. Paul Lutheran Church is located at 449 Stewart Avenue, Bethpage (just south of the railroad station). You are always welcome to worship with us Sundays at 10:30 a.m. at our regular weekly service. If you have any questions or would like further information, please call the church office at 931-8262.

Book Discussion At Library

The book "The Snow Goose" by Paul Gallico is the selection for the January 20, book discussion at the Hicksville Public Library.

Susan Swords will be the discussion leader. The group will meet in the local history room at 1 p.m. Books will be available at the library starting December 14. Everyone is welcome to join.

NOTICE

HAVE YOU A HIDDEN TALENT that has yet to be discovered in print?

We are looking for articles, not exceeding 3,000 words, on local topics, spinoffs, ideas, nice places to visit on Long Island, and even fiction. In our magazine section, we will try to "Discover" one new feature length article and writer per week. Each writer will be reimbursed a stipend of $25.00.

If you want to be published and be part of an issue of Discovery, you may submit your article to Litmor Publications, 81 East Barclay Street, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801.

Fireworks at a Kiwanis meeting was accomplished on December 2 when Mr. M. Philip Butler, the Vice President for Marketing for "Fireworks by Grucci, Inc." was the program speaker at the Hicksville Kiwanis Club meeting.

The brilliant, spectacular fireworks display was seen via a video tape of some of the outstanding performances put together by the "First Family of Fireworks," the Gruccis. Mr. Butler showed the film after he talked about the history of how the Grucci family came into prominence in the pyrotechnic field. It was a fascinating story which began in the southern Italian seaport of Bari in 1850. Twenty years later, the founder and great-great-grandfather left Italy and came to Elmont, as an emigrant through Ellis Island, and brought with him, in a shoe box, the formulas for the fireworks colors.

Gregory Museum Fetes Founders

A good turn-out of the Hicksville Gregory Museum "family" made the museum's founders, Dr. Gardiner and Mrs. Ann Gregory welcome at an informal reception this past week. Returning to Hicksville for their first visit in two years, the well-remembered community leaders were greeted warmly by Museum trustees, board of advisors members, staff members and volunteers.

The gathering of the Gregory museum clan gave the Earth Science Institutions visionary founders, Gardiner and Ann, an opportunity to greet longtime associates and friends, to meet new Museum Director Joseph Vajdag and Curator and Mrs. Donald Curran. The Gregories were able to inspect the considerable renovation work at the museum's building, the historic Old Hicksville Courthouse-Jail, undertaken in 1986-1987 as part of a Town of Oyster Bay Community Development Program, which was funded by Federal monies available for historical building preservation.

Dr. and Mrs. Gregory founded their museum mineral collection in 1962 and were its leaders in their home and at the courthouse on Heitz Place for 15 years. They retired in 1978 to Castine, Maine, the boyhood region of Gardiner Gregory. In this very historic area, Gardiner has revitalized and led the Castine Historical Society, has taken part in sailing regattas in Penobscot waters, and with Ann has tended a large vegetable garden and done the expert horticulture for which they were known in Hicksville. Dr. Gregory also raises the large silk worm caterpillars of the cecropia, polyphemus and luna moths. The cocoons are gathered each Fall, and many are sent down to the Gregory Museum, where in springtime, they are distributed to Hicksville and other Long Island schools, so teachers and children may enjoy, at first hand, metamorphosis and the emergence of the large, beautiful and harmless moths.

Ann Gregory, co-founder of Hicksville's Gregory Museum, enjoys social reunion at Heitz Place with Museum Trustee-Attorney Kenneth Heuris and Richard Evers, Museum Historian.

News From Bethpage Library

During the week of December 28, the Bethpage Public Library will present an exciting roster of holiday programs for young people.

On Monday, December 28, the library will offer a puppet show spectacular, Babes in Toyland, performed by the Gingerbread Puppets. With favorite storybook characters, dazzling staging, and memorable music by Victor Herbert, here is children's pupped theater at its very best.

On Tuesday, December 29, the library will show a Disney film favorite, The Parent Trap (color - 126 mins.), a heart-warming, captivating comedy starring Haley Mills, Maureen O'Hara, and Brian Keith.

On Wednesday, December 30, the library will present breath-taking magic with Magic Galore, a fast-paced comedy magic show by Magic Al. The show will feature live animals, spellbinding illusions, loads of laughs and audience participation too.

Showtime is 2 p.m. for all programs. All school-age youngsters who reside in District No. 21 are invited to attend, and tickets for all programs will be available in the Children's Room of the Bethpage Public Library from Wednesday, December 2. For further information, please call 931-3907.

On the first Thursday of each month, a meeting of a computer club for young people will be held at the Bethpage Public Library.

Led by Rob Reale, majoring in computers and business at SUNY-Farmingdale, the club will offer youngsters in Grades 4-6 an exciting opportunity to learn about many aspects of computers. There will be an introduction to the library's extensive software collection, fun with graphics and word processing, an introduction to programming in Basic, and intriguing games, contests and other activities geared for their age group.

The club will meet on the first Thursday of each month from 4:15 p.m. Registration is now being taken in the Children's Room of the Bethpage Public Library. For further information, please call 931-3907.

On Saturday, December 12, youngsters will be able to create interesting holiday gifts at the Bethpage Public Library. Taught by Katherine Agillo, noted specialist in crafts for youngsters, the program will highlight the making of an unusual magazine holder that can be used for periodicals, papers, pamphlets, pictures and more--an attractive and useful gift for the holidays or anytime.

The workshop will begin at 2 p.m., and young people are requested to bring a detergent box, 1/4 yard of contact paper, some gift wrap and scrap trims, as desired. The library will supply the rest.

Youngsters in Grades 2-6 who reside in District No. 21 are invited to attend. For further information, please call 931-3907.

Thanksgiving Feast At Dutch Lane

On Wednesday, November 25, the two first grade classes got together to share their Thanksgiving feast. Mrs. Calio's class dressed as pilgrims and Mrs. Saul's class dressed as Indians.

Class moms worked hard preparing the delicious meal of turkey, stuffing, peas and carrots, pumpkin bread, gravy and dessert and let's not forget that cranberry sauce.

It was a wonderful feast!

Michael Trougous, Eric Mackler, Chris Swier and Nicolas Leek getting ready to eat their Thanksgiving Day feast.

Holly Mueller, dressed as a pilgrim, and Melissa McCarthy, dressed as an Indian, enjoying their meal.

Two pilgrims, Chris Cannizzaro, and Steven Recher waiting for their feast.

Two Indians, Gary Breton and Allison Dittke having apple cider while waiting for their meal.

The Pilgrims, Mrs. Calio's first graders, and the Indians, Mrs. Saul's first graders, all together for their Thanksgiving Thanks."

Dutch La. Visit To Clark Garden

On November 19, the fourth grades went to Clark Garden. They went into a room where Mrs. Hymes told the class about plants. The class looked at a peanut through a magnifying glass, and even saw its root.

Next they got to plant bulbs. The plant was the Paperwhite Narcissus. They learned about the parts of a plant - especially bulbs.

Last of all, they had a nice time in the gift shop.

Barbara Hundermark, Tina Mazzari, Brooke McCarthy, Danielle Rizzo, Mrs. McQuaid, Mrs. Rizzo, Becky Buff and Dana Conquathom at Clark Garden.

Soccer Club Elects Officers

During the Election Meeting of the Hicksville Americans Soccer Club on February 7, new officers were approved effective January 1, 1988. They are as follows: Phil Caputo - President, Pat McHugh - Vice-President/Travel Team Liaison, Jay Schwartz - Treasurer, Al Blicker - Secretary, Gary Fisch - Director.

Congratulations to the new officers and many thanks to the outgoing group who spent countless hours working to keep our Club strong.

Kramer Lane Thanksgiving

At Kramer Lane School, Miss Buxton's kindergarteners made raisin turkeys as part of their Thanksgiving celebration. Dressed in colorful pilgrim hats, the boys and girls prepared their turkeys and practiced their counting skills at the same time. They added ten toothpicks, each with ten raisins and one gumdrop, to the turkey's apple body, using, as one boy noted, "100 raisins just for turkey feathers." The turkey's head was made from more raisins, candy, and a candy corn beak. While the boys and girls enjoyed making their edible Thanksgiving decoration, they had the most fun nibbling while they were working!

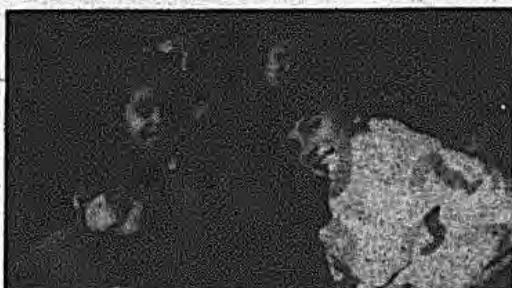

Kindergarten moms visited the class to help with the Thanksgiving festivities.

Fork Lane School Learns The Law

In cooperation with the Bar Association of Nassau County, Mr. Douglas Hynes, Esq., volunteered to speak to the 5th and 6th grade students of Fork Lane School. His presentation, part of the "Lawyer in the Classroom Program", was an extension of the celebration of the Bicentennial of the U.S. Constitution.

Mr. Hynes began by explaining some legal terms to the attentive students. He then presented them with a scenario of a real life case that had been tried back in 1928. Next, they eagerly used their gained knowledge to role play defendants and plaintiffs for the case. The "young attorneys" enthusiastically prepared their arguments and closing statements for the "court". When all was said and done, Mr. Hynes shared the Supreme Court's verdict with the students. For once, the students got to enjoy "taking the law into their own hands!"

As a follow up in the spring semester, the 6th grade class will take a guided tour of the Supreme Court in Mineola.

J.F.K. Junior High Poster Winners

Eighth grade Science students at John F. Kennedy Junior High School recently participated in an environmental poster contest sponsored by Grumman Corporation.

As part of its Adopt-a-School Program, Grumman representatives showed educational videotapes to Science classes demonstrating how industry works to keep water clean and explaining what ordinary citizens can do to protect the Long Island groundwater system. Miss Fell's 8th grade Art class designed environmental posters with original slogans to remind students what they could do to prevent water pollution. Three students, Angelique Andrews, Alana Edelberg and Jennifer Dorner, were selected as winners and received gift certificates from Grumman Public Relations representative Roseann Smith.

Jennifer Dorner, absent on the day of presentation, displays her winning poster.

What's Doing At OCR School

Recently, Kindergarten teachers Mrs. Callier and Miss Mayrak took their classes on a visit to Hicksville's Firehouse. The firemen were wonderful and took the children on a tour of all the equipment and vehicles.

In Old Country Road School's "Parents as Reading Partners" program, Brian Figurs is joined by his mom and his older brother in the School Library.

"Say cheese!" at Old Country Road School, PTA Mom Eileen Powers maps Carolyn Argenta for "Kid Pix," a service provided by LILCO, installing permanently laminated pictures for means of identification. Watching is Mrs. Rose Waller and daughter Kristi.

Robert P. Zimmerman, center, left, Special Assistant to New York State Assembly Speaker Mel Miller, brought a message of congratulations to John Koroneos, center right, President of the Hellenic American Soccer League, as the Hicksville Hercules Soccer Club was honored as Soccer League Champions for 1986-87. Joining in the official greetings are members of the Hercules Soccer Club: Coach J. Zervas and members Mike Batalis, George Floratos, Vassilios Kokkinellis, James Gerontakos, John Koroneos, John Liappis, Chris Kokkinellis, George Anastasiadis, and Nick Kefalas.

North Hempstead Supervisor John Kiernan, 2nd right, meets with officials of the Association for a Better Long Island during a recent ABLI reception. Joining the Supervisor are, right to left, ABLI co-chairman Roger Tilles of Manhasset, Lisa Pantille of Great Neck's Jobs Organization and attorney Gerald Goldstein of Plainview. The Association has been a leading advocate of efforts to protect the environment while ensuring the sustained and orderly economic growth of the region.

IF YOU FEEL FORTUNATE YOUR CHILD JUST SMOKES MARIJUANA, THEN YOU SHOULD KNOW MORE ABOUT MARIJUANA.

Shall we start with the facts?

Marijuana makes your child lethargic, apathetic and paranoid.

That's frightening. But so is this. Marijuana also causes mood shifts. And it causes your child to lose his memory.

It gets worse.

Marijuana causes a loss of motor coordination. Think about that next time your child drives the car home at night.

Had enough? No?

OK. Marijuana affects your child's reproductive system as well. It decreases your son's testosterone level. It can even lead to infertility.

Your daughter's reproductive system can suffer, too.

With marijuana, unfortunately, come menstrual irregularities.

There's more.

Marijuana also does damage to your child's lungs. You think cigarettes are bad? Marijuana is far worse.

There are other effects that seem to show up with this "minor" drug: decreased productivity, absenteeism, impaired performance as well as impaired judgement and impaired learning capability.

Put it this way: It doesn't do much for your child's education.

If you'd like more information about marijuana or any other problem drug, contact your local agency on drug abuse.

'Kids On Block' At OCR School

The children at the Old Country Road school in Hicksville recently participated in an assembly program that featured information about children with handicaps.

"Kids on the Block," a BOCES presentation, used three disabled and two non-disabled life-size puppets of children to explain to their young audience what it is like to have cerebral palsy and be confined to a wheelchair, to have severe hearing problems and to be emotionally disturbed. The two non-disabled characters asked questions that children might ask a disabled person. The hour-long program included a question and answer period in which the children became actively involved by asking questions concerning the particular disabilities of the puppets.

The children in the audience were able to see and understand that children with handicapping conditions have the same feelings and emotions as non-disabled children. They also saw that being disabled never stopped anyone from being a good classmate, a good friend and shouldn't keep a person from leading a satisfying life.

J.F.K. Junior High Student Of Week

Stacy Aronowitz, an eighth grader in Mr. Duffy's homeroom, has been selected as John F. Kennedy Junior High School's second "Student of the Week." Stacy enjoys the independence of being a junior high schooler and looks forward to high school next year. Her list of activities and achievements show that she had learned how to handle independence well. She plays glockenspiel in the band and violin in the orchestra as well as participating in drama club, swim team, softball, newspaper and mathletes. A good student who particularly enjoys Math, Home Economics, and Spanish, Stacy is a member of the National Honor Society.

Stacy, who lives in Bethpage with her parents, brother and sister, enjoys reading and shopping in her spare time.

Postal Service Sells Stamps At R.R.

"We are trying to make it easier for our customers to do business with the Postal Service," said Roger Nienaber, Hicksville General Manager/Postmaster.

This Holiday Season we have introduced the Stamps-on-Wheels Mobile Post Office to Nassau County. The Mobile Post Office will be at Railroad Stations, Shopping Centers and Senior Citizen Centers through the month of December. The Mobile Post Office will be at Hicksville Railroad Station on Mondays, December 7 and 14, and Fridays, December 11 and 18 from 6 a.m. to 9 a.m.

In addition, the Hicksville Post Office will be open on Sundays, December 13, and December 20 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. for the sale of Holiday stamps.

Stamps are also available at no additional cost through the Postal Services "Stamp by Mail Program". In a letter or by the Stamps by Mail form (available at the Post Office and from your letter carrier), the customer indicates the kind and quantity of stamp desired, encloses a check payable to "Postmaster" for the amount of the stamps, and addresses the envelope to the Postmaster including the Town, State and ZIP Code. The order is given to the Letter Carrier and returned for processing at the Post Office. Within the next few days, the stamps will be delivered with the regular mail delivery.

For customers who run out of time, Priority Mail affords First-Class handling for packages weighing over 12 ounces and up to 70 pounds. Delivery of Priority Mail is accomplished in two to three days anywhere in the country.

For those last-minute shoppers, the Postal Service offers its Express Mail Next Day Service available at your local Post Office. Express Mail offers weekend and Christmas Day delivery to the addressee at no extra charge. Most locations can be reached via the Express Mail Next Day Service network. "You can mail a package one day and have it reach the addressee by 3 p.m. the following day. Items weighing up to 70 pounds can be sent by Express Mail. The service includes merchandise insurance coverage up to $500, at no additional charge. Also, the sender can apply for a full refund of postage if a shipment is late," said Mr. Nienaber.

Contact your local Post Office for additional information about Express Mail and Priority Mail.

Athlete Finishes Top Rate Season

Hicksville High School junior, Jennifer Livingston, has already made her mark on the Nassau County track and field scene. Jennifer has just culminated a busy fall season by being elected All-County in Cross Country for the second consecutive year.

Her impressive list of achievements this year include: an undefeated league meet schedule, 1st place in the Nassau County Coaches Invitational, 1st place in the Conference Championships, Nassau County Class A (teams representing the largest schools in the county) champion, 14th place in the New York State Public School Championship, and 7th place in the New York State Federation Championship held recently in Syracuse. Quite a list for such a young athlete.

In Syracuse, Jennifer not only defeated the best runners in the state from public, private and Catholic schools, but also Mother Nature, as this 3.1 mile race was run on a hilly course in six inches of snow at 15 degrees below.

In addition to her athletics, Jennifer maintains an academic schedule which includes Honors classes. She is also a member of the High School music program as an oboist.

Franzke Helps Berry Win Title

In its second year of existence, the Berry College women's soccer team, featuring Justine Franzke of Bethpage, captured the NAIA National title with a 1-0 victory over host team Erskine College, Saturday, Nov. 21. The team placed second in the nationals last year, losing to St. Mary's College of California.

Berry made it to the finals by defeating Hardin-Simmons College on Friday, Nov. 21, 2-0. Erskine defeated Puget Sound University of Washington, 2-1. Berry's season record was 17-2-2. The team's coach, Ray Leone, was named NAIA Women's Soccer Coach of the Year. Carol Chilton of Atlanta was named to the All-Tournament team and walked away with the Most Valuable Player and the Most Valuable Offensive Player awards.

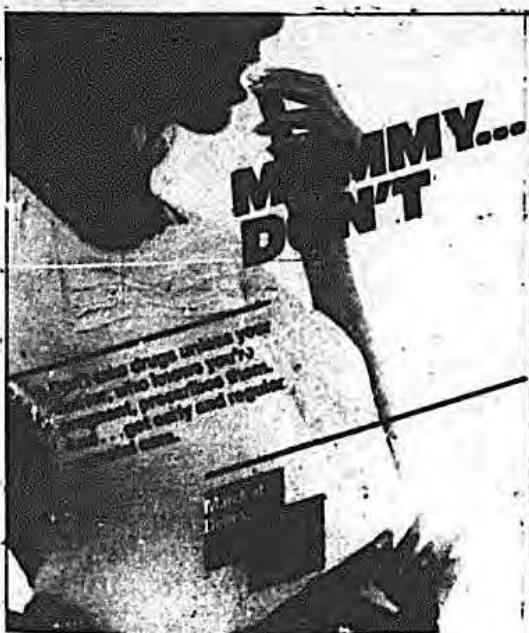

Justine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Franzke, is a graduate of Bethpage High School.

Berry College is an independent, coeducational institution.

Justine Franzke

located in Rome, Georgia, which emphasizes a comprehensive educational program committed to high academic standards, religious values, and practical work experiences in a distinctive environment of natural beauty.

Kevin Jung Named All-PAC, All-UAA

Hicksville native Kevin Jung, a senior midfielder for Carnegie Mellon University's soccer team, was recently named first-team All-Presidents' Athletic Conference (PAC) for the fourth consecutive season by league coaches. Jung was also named first-team All-University Athletic Association (UAA) in the first season of play for Carnegie Mellon in the newly-formed league.

Jung, a co-captain, recorded five goals and 10 assists as he led the Tartans to an 8-7-2 overall record, a 3-1 UAA mark, and a 2-3 PAC slate. Last season Jung was a third-team All-America leading the team with eight goals and 10 assists. He was also chosen first-team All-Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware for the second straight year in 1986.

A four-year letterman, Jung has scored 16 goals and dished out 39 assists at Carnegie Mellon. He holds the Tartan record for most assists in a season (18) and game (3).

Jung is a 1984 graduate of Bethpage High School. He is the son of Perry and Joyce Jung of Hicksville.

Most Input Callers Believe Arms Treaty Will Be Okayed

Most callers to input believe that an arms treaty will be approved by Russia and the U.S. in answer to this question: "What do you think are the prospects of Reagan and Gorbachev arriving at an arms limitation treaty that will gain the approval of both governments?" Here are some of the answers:

NOT LASTING

There is a good chance that there will be approval of the arms treaty that Reagan and Gorbachev are working out. My only doubt is that it will have lasting effects because the USSR does not keep treaties and there will be ways around the wording found to keep arms buildup as usual.

POLITICS

I do not know whether Reagan will have enough force to get the treaty approved by Congress. The reason will be politics and not the worth of the treaty. The Democrats do not want Reagan to get credit for things that Carter was unable to do. And the Conservatives in Congress think that any treaty with the USSR is wrong. So, together, they may block the final approval.

SHOULD APPROVE

The treaty should be approved. Even though Reagan will have to rely on the Liberals in the country to talk up his treaty, most people back giving the treaty a try if it has enough safeguards to see that we are not left holding the bag. Most people want peace to continue and see that the treaty gives a possibility of peace remaining with us.

RUSSIAN INITIATIVE

We will get a treaty but the initiative is really coming from the USSR. We are reaping the results of economic failures in Russia and the inability for the country to get along without reducing its economic outlays for long-range war plans. Because the Russians need the treaty so much, I believe that we will get good terms and it will be something that will last a long time.

V.T.

NEED OPENERS

Unfortunately, some people think that this treaty is worth more to us than it really is. The USSR will go on preparing for war and so will the U.S. The only way that this can end is through mutual trust and it is impossible to trust a country that is so closed that its citizens cannot travel, emigrate or do anything without the permission of the government. If Russia changes, a treaty would be more important.

H.E.

INS AND OUTS

I think that we should be wary of any treaty with Russia. We had agreements during World War II and, by the time the war was over, Russia had taken over some of the nations we were fighting to gain freedom for. The trouble is that Gorbachev is here today but he may go home and be out of power and someone else will come in with more warlike ideas. It is not a democracy, so the people have little to say.

C.F.

NOW IS THE TIME

I believe that a treaty will be signed and then approved by both countries because both realize that it is time. There is no future for anyone in going on escalating arms buildups and we should be as glad as the USSR to sign a treaty. If it is violated, we can go back but we won't lose anything if we are vigilant.

J.G.

WILL BE ENDORSED

Certainly it is easier to foretell the attitude of the Russian government to an arms limitation agreement which has been negotiated by Gorbachev as a result of meetings with Reagan. Under their system, he is the government as was clearly demonstrated not so long ago when a top party member suddenly became an ex-dissident. Not so here! Members of Congress, some highly sensitive to their chances in the upcoming political arenas, are being very cautious about commitment, making a point of Soviet violations of other agreements as well as human rights and international borders. From my point of view, I believe that this is a propitious moment for a pull-back in the nuclear arms race. I just can't believe that Gorbachev is stupid enough to face the prospect of another world war or, to put it more succinctly, the destruction of the human race. And, I daresay, that also applies to the majority of the Russian people. There's no secret about the fact that their economy has some serious problems and no military conquest is going to pull them out of that situation. I am convinced that this is the right time for an equitable arms limitation treaty, an agreement which could prove to be a stepping stone for other agreements in our joint interests as well as the rest of the world. If Reagan and Gorbachev sign an agreement, I feel confident that members of Congress, some having made their contrary reservations known and recognizing the preponderant approval of such an agreement by the public, will give it their endorsement. Certainly it gets both nations off dead center and represents a starting point toward a constructive future.

Children's Books-- Gifts That Last Longer Than Toys

By Jerri Donohue

Accompanying the privilege of loving a child is the joy of rediscovering children's books. I enthusiastically promote giving Christmas stories to kids. Here's why:

1) Books with holiday themes have a magic all their own. They should be savored throughout the season and then packed away to be greeted with excitement when December rolls around again. It's a long while before a child outgrows a Christmas story, because children do not outgrow Christmas.

2. Holiday books capitalize on the season to encourage a love for reading. No matter how wound-up the child, he or she will usually sit still long enough to hear a Christmas tale. Books can clearly have a calming effect. For those who take the time, sharing a story relaxes both reader and listener.

3) For adults worried that the spiritual significance of Hanukkah or Christmas may be lost, books with religious themes are truly a God-send. This is a matter of individual taste—anyone weary of the commercialism of the season can find a decent antidote in the children's section of the local bookstore. Reading such stories to a youngster provides a marvelous opportunity to discuss the importance of the holiday.

There are numerous mediocre books on the market but also plenty of quality ones. Here are my favorites:

"Jolly Old Santa Claus" by Maryjane H. Tonn. Published by Ideals, this paperback is a volume for true believers in Santa, a treat for any child eager to know more about the lifestyles of elves or what happens after Santa returns to the Pole. To this day I relish poring over George Hink's lavish color illustrations and trying to locate "Lazy Brownie" in each one. No story better evokes the Santa magic.

"The Church Mice at Christmas," by Graham Oakley. Like much of the best children's literature, this tale comes from England. A band of church mice attempt to raise money for a party by raffling the rector's cat and caroling in a department store, both with poor results. Finally they accidentally catch a burglar and receive the reward money. The humorous drawings alone are worth the price of this one.

"The Tall Book of Christmas" is a captivating collection of stories, legends, poems and carols published by Harper & Row. My favorite is "The Puppy Who Wanted a Boy." It baffles me that this splendid book is often hard to find or must be special-ordered.

"Arthur's Christmas Cookies," written and illustrated by Lillian Hoban, is a delight for new readers. My nephew still loves this story although his reading level has surpassed it. Arthur the monkey encounters problems and then a solution when he tries to bake Christmas cookies for his family. Arthur's sister Violet and his friend Norman play supporting roles.

In "Max's Christmas" rabbit Max endures his Christmas Eve jitters and his older sister Ruby's bossiness. This easy-to-read tale by Rosemary Wells ends with a surprise kids love.

For more experienced readers check out "Angelina's Christmas" by H. Katharine Holabird, illustrated by Helen Craig. Angelina the mouse and her cousin Henry befriend a retired mailman and convince him to dust off his Santa suit for the school pageant.

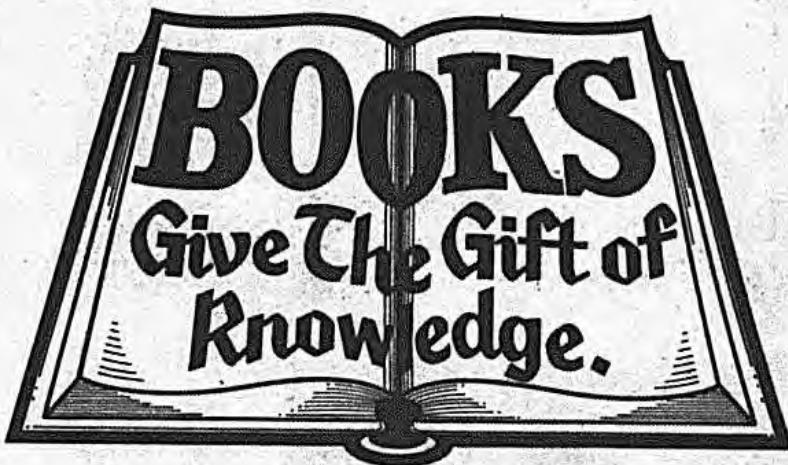

Do not fret that a story might be too "advanced" for a child. Contrary to popular opinion, children still enjoy being read to after they themselves have learned to read. These books are meant to be shared with grown-ups. If you find something that enchants you, chances are the youngster in your life will feel the same.

Holiday books are best presented early in the season. They make excellent gifts on St. Nicholas Day. If a kid begs to be allowed to open one present ahead of time, why not make it a book?

A final word for aunts, uncles, grandparents and friends kind enough to give books at holiday time. On Christmas day small children focus on toys—a new book may be initially received with the enthusiasm reserved for a new pair of socks or another sweater. We all hope to see a joyful reaction to our gifts and are disappointed by a luke-warm response. Don't be discouraged! Before the day is over that same little one may be nestled in your lap, listening to the story for the second time. Ages after giving a three year old a book on his birthday, I returned to his home and spotted the now rather battered copy—sure testimony that it is being "used!"

READER RATINGS

Q. I do not understand why American restaurants continue to use French wording on their menus. Not long ago I ate in a place where various dishes were described as "a l'Espagnole," "a la Grecque," and "a l'Anglaise." Telling diners that the foods were prepared in the Spanish or Greek or English manner was not very helpful!

A. French cuisine is considered by many people to be the best in the world so it is not surprising that many terms dealing with food preparations are derived from the French!

Your waiter would have been pleased to inform you that a dish served "a l'Espagnole" is combined with tomatoes, onions and olives. One which is "a la Grecque" has a sauce of olive oil, lemon, spices and peppercorns. Anything served "a l'Anglaise" is boiled.

Don't be intimidated by French (or Italian, German etc.) expressions in menus. Those terms are not difficult to master and after a time you will begin to see they are a useful "shorthand" for the diner, telling him about methods of food preparation and ingredients.

SUPERB FOOD

I'm calling about a wonderful restaurant the George Washington Manor in Roslyn. My husband and I had occasion to have lunch and dinner there several times recently and I want your readers to know it's fantastic. The food is superb, they serve wonderful American-Continental food. The Sunday Brunch is a real delight. The decor and ambience can't be beat. I don't often do something like this but I just had to share this with you. Mrs. L.

READER RATINGS

Q. What do you do if you think you've been invited to a restaurant, so you don't bring any money, and then you're suddenly confronted with having to pay half the bill?

A. You must pay your share of the bill in this circumstance. It happens often in our lives, simply because we don't pay enough attention to communicating and preplanning our engagements. We should all be specific about when, where, and who pays, when dates and arrangements are jointly made.

If you're in a restaurant with no money in a situation like this, go to the captain and tell him your plight and that you will send the money tomorrow by messenger. If you show identification and if you sign a receipt for money owed, you might be able to arrange for payment of your share tomorrow. Otherwise, you are going to have to borrow money from your friends at the table. It is embarrassing, but come up with a logical excuse for not having money or credit card.

Q. Sometimes when I go to a restaurant I pick melon as an appetizer. The problem is I am not always sure whether to eat it with a spoon or fork. Which is correct?

A. It is considered proper to eat smaller melons, (cantaloupes or muskmelons) with a spoon. But larger melons (honeydews, Persians or casbas) may be eaten with either a spoon or knife and fork, whichever you prefer.

HIGH PRAISE

A number of years ago we had been to the Colonial Inn in Mineola and we were not so impressed with the restaurant although it was good. Last week we noticed that it was under new ownership and stopped in again. We like the Colonial Inn and we liked its great stuffed pork chops with the apple and raisin stuffing. This restaurant is one that we would recommend to all of our friends. The new management is to be commended for improving the menu and not overpricing the food. Tell everyone about it. —N.R.

The Last Word In Restaurant Guides

Where Our Readers
Have The Last Word

This newspaper, and the seven other weekly newspapers associated with it, publishes the last word in restaurant guides and a paid listing of many prominent selected restaurants in this area. While many of them have been rated by the great, and near great food connoisseurs, our readers will have the last word through "Reader Ratings."

Through a special 24 hour phone system, readers will be asked to call in their assessment of each restaurant they visit. Consensus ratings (good or bad) will be published as a continuing part of the guide.

In addition they can make suggestions, compliments or criticisms through the open phone line and messages will be sent through to the restaurant management.

Q. We are not wine drinkers. If we're giving a party, what kind of wines should we stock in order to take care of our wine-drinking friends' pleasure - from cocktail hour through dinner? W.L.A.

A. For the cocktail hour you might have on hand dry or sweet sherry, or dry or sweet vermouth, or any of the popular "aperitifs." Many choose a glass of dry white wine at the cocktail hour (either chilled or "on the rocks").

For the first course, or to drink with any fish, salad, chicken, veal or fruit, a chilled white wine is nice (such as Chablis, Sauv, Riesling, Chenin Blanc, Pinot Chardonnay).

For the meat or game course (or the salad with cheese), serve a Burgundy, Bordeaux, Chianti, Cabernet Sauvignon or Zinfandel at a cool room temperature (from 60 to 70 degrees).

Rose wines should be chilled like white wines. A rose is best served with a light dish and is more popular in hot weather than in cold.

For dessert you may serve the same wine you had from the previous course. Or if it's something festive like an anniversary, dessert time is the moment to bring on the champagne (the older the better!).

Some people enjoy a sweet wine with dessert, such as port or a sweet sauterne or sherry, but one seldom sees this custom followed anymore in this country.

Q. Will you please describe the correct procedure for introducing one couple to another (1) when the couples are approximately the same age (2) when one couple is older or more distinguished in status than the other? M.J.

A. When the couples are about the same age it doesn't matter whose names are mentioned first. When one couple is older or more distinguished - or perhaps guests in your town - you introduce the younger couple.

Q. When dining out I have often seen women wearing their coats to the table, then depositing them on the back of their chairs. However, I have never seen a man do the same thing with his overcoat. Is there really a difference in etiquette for men and women in regard to checking coats?

A. Yes, a man always checks his coat in a restaurant. But a woman has the option of checking her coat or bringing it to the table.

Get a head start on holidays

When John Hadamuscin was growing up on the family farm in Willard, Ohio, Christmas was a holiday to be remembered. His mother was a great cook and spent endless hours on holiday food preparation, holding forth in a kitchen so huge that it comfortably accommodated a freezer 10 feet long.

The updated old family recipes — handed down from generations of relatives with polyglot Czechoslovakian, Yugoslavian and Dutch backgrounds — now form the core of Hadamuscin's first and very handsome cookbook, "The Holidays: 21 Menus for Elegant Entertaining from Thanksgiving to Twelfth Night" (Harmony, $12.95).

"It was a case of rheumatic fever when I was 12 years old that got me started cooking," reminisced Hadamuscin, 46, over a cup of hot tea in his adopted home — New York's Manhattan. "I was hanging around the house, unable to do very much for 10 months and I began helping my mother in the kitchen," he recalled.

From then on, Hadamuscin was delighted to participate in the preparation of daily and holiday fare.

Christmas cooking always started early in the Hadamuscin household. Even before Thanksgiving, John's mother and Aunt Florence would prepare the fruitcakes and plum puddings and put them up to

GREAT VALUE

Have you stopped at Riddle's Restaurant lately? They've re-decorated the entire place and it's so light and airy. Best of all, the prices and quality of food is too good to be true. On a recent shopping trip my friends and I decided to take advantage of the dinner specials you advertise. The shrimp scampi at $7.95 was delicious. Together with a tossed salad and some pasta, it was a satisfying meal. If you're a chocolate lover like I am, try the Mud Pie, a delicious warmed brownie topped with ice cream. Yummy! Other tasty treats on the dinner menu were Veal Cutlet or Eggplant Parmigiana. Next time I plan to try one of those. The luncheon dishes were advertised at only $4.95 per person for the same basic choices. All in all, it's a bargain you can't resist. P.V.

LITTLE BUT BIG

The Italian Garden Restaurant at 348 E. Jericho Turnpike, Mineola isn't the biggest restaurant you have listed, but it may be among the best.

We went there last week and enjoyed the fine pasta, shrimp and veal dishes that this big little restaurant serves. You get the feeling that things are being prepared for you instead of on the big assembly line, the way things are done in the very large restaurants.

The food is fine Neapolitan. The service is prompt, personal and well done. This is a restaurant that should be recommended.

YOU CAN BE A RESTAURANT CRITIC - if you visit any of the restaurants selected for inclusion in this section - call 931-0027 at any hour and tell your ideas. We want you, the reader, to be our critic. Your message then can be printed in this space.

age for the next few months. After Thanksgiving, the cookie making would begin.

"We would bake cookies every single night producing over a thousand cookies between Thanksgiving and New Year," Hadamuscin said. "It would be assembly-line production, with my mother and grandmother making and rolling the dough, and the four of us kids stamping out the shapes and decorating them."

Among the family's collections of cookie cutters, John's favorites were those for Santa Claus figures. (Today, he owns a collection of more than 300 Santa Clauses in all sizes and shapes.)

The cookies were stored by the hundreds in huge lard cans. Many of these home-baked cookies were given as food gifts during the holiday season, along with made-from-scratch hard-rock candy and mincemeat.

The tradition of Christmas food gifts is one that is still very much a part of Hadamuscin's holiday spirit, and his cookbook is filled with fine ideas for preparations that may be done well in advance, leaving celebrants free to enjoy themselves during the height of the holiday season.

Here are some of his favorite recipes for made-ahead food gifts plus suggestions for wrapping them imaginatively.

Cranberry liqueur looks particularly inviting in pretty glass bottles available at kitchenware shops or re-use the bottles from store-bought liqueurs. Tie a green velvet ribbon around the collar of each bottle and tuck a sprig of holly into the bow. For an especially grand gift, accompany the bottle with a set of cordial glasses or present the liqueur in a crystal decanter.

Work On The World's Largest Butterfly.

At BBN Advanced Computers Inc. we build the largest shared-memory parallel processors commercially available today. The "Butterfly" Parallel Processor provides large-scale processing power with the ease of shared memory programming. The Real-time Applications Group is small and cohesive, dedicated to developing real-time software for simulation and other real-time markets. And we need to add to our team by filling the following key position:

Real-Time O/S Programmer

If you know pSOS...SUPER! Or if you are a super systems programmer with high performance real-time operating system experience, our opportunity is exceptional.

Your initial effort will be to define the specifications for a pSOS to Mach interface. You will then manage the port and implementation for the Butterfly parallel processor. You will also be the customer focal point for the product and will insure that it meets the customer's applications.

Ideally, you have run a small project, have experience in C" and Unix as well as some exposure to Motorola 68020/BSIMMs in C or E with 5-10 years' experience is required.

BBN Advanced Computers Inc. offers competitive salaries, an outstanding benefits package including tuition reimbursement, 3 weeks' vacation and an employee stock purchase plan. Qualified candidates should forward resume and salary history to Nancy Rogoff, 10 Fawcett Street, Cambridge, MA 02238.

An Equal Opportunity Employer M/F/V/H.

Combine sugar and water in medium saucepan over low heat and bring to boil. Lower heat and simmer, stirring constantly, until all sugar is dissolved. Stir in cranberries and orange rind and remove from heat. Cool to room temperature.

In large glass container, combine syrup-cranberry mixture with vodka and cover tightly. Store 3 to 4 weeks in cool dark place shaking the container or stirring every 2 or 3 days.

Place a sieve over a bowl and drain berries, reserving the liquid. Press berries against the sieve to extract as much liquid as possible. Discard berries.

Strain liquid through a double thickness of cheesecloth and repeat process until liquid is clear. Pour liquid into 1-quart bottle or decanter or 2 1-pint bottles; cover tightly and store in a cool, dark place for 2 weeks before using.

Yields 1 quart.

This is the butter cookie recipe brought to America from Czechoslovakia by John's great-grandmother. The dough is ideal for making traditional Christmas cookie shapes: bells, reindeer, trees and so on. The cookies may be stored in tightly covered containers for up to 2 months in a cool place, or frozen for up to 6 months. To offer them as gifts, set cookies into decorative new or antique tins tied with red and green ribbons.

GRANDMOTHER STAPLETON'S BOHEMIAN BUTTER COOKIES

1 cup sugar
2 cups (4 sticks) butter
4 large eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
4 cups all-purpose flour
Assorted colored sugars for decoration

In large mixing bowl, cream sugar and butter together until light and smooth. Separate 3 of the eggs; beat 3 egg yolks and remaining whole egg into butter/sugar mixture. Reserve 3 egg whites.

Beat in vanilla; then gradually add flour and mix well. Gather dough into ball, wrap in plastic wrap and chill in refrigerator for 3 hours or overnight.

On floured surface, roll out dough to thickness of  $\frac{1}{4}$  inch. Cut out shapes with floured cookie cutters, removing cookies to sheet of waxed paper. Re-roll scraps until all dough is used up. Lightly beat egg whites. Using a pastry brush, glaze surfaces of cookies with egg whites. Decorate each cookie with a sprinkling of colored sugar.

With spatula, transfer cookies to greased cookie sheet and bake in oven preheated to 350 F for 8 to 10 minutes or until edges of cookies are lightly browned.

Remove cookies to wire racks to cool. Store in tin or freezer until needed.

Yields 3 to 4 dozen.

"Ever since I was a kid, nut brittle has been one of my favorite candies," said the author, who suggests trying pecans, cashews or Brazil nuts instead of the conventional peanuts. For gift-giving, pack the brittle into glass jars and tie thick red yarn around the collars or set brittle in decorative tins lined with dollies and wrapped with ribbon.

NUT BRITTLE

1 cup light corn syrup
2 1/4 cups sugar
1 cup water
2 cups chopped unsalted nuts
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1/4 teaspoon baking soda
2 teaspoons vanilla extract

In heavy saucepan, combine corn syrup, sugar and water and stir to blend. Place over medium high heat and bring to boil. Stir until sugar has dissolved. Then continue cooking without stirring until the mixture reaches 250 F on a candy thermometer.

Stir in nuts and continue cooking until mixture reaches 300 F, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat and quickly, yet thoroughly, stir in salt, butter, baking soda and vanilla.

GIFTS (FROM KITCHEN)

Working quickly, pour mixture onto greased baking sheet and spread into as thin a layer as possible. As candy begins to cool, turn it over with your hands and stretch it out even more until it is very thin and translucent.

Allow candy to cool completely, then break it up into rough, bite-size pieces. Store in tightly covered containers lined with wax paper.

Yields 2 pounds.

A great Southern specialty, these festive and spirited bourbon balls look pretty when packed in canning jars that are tied with red and green plaid ribbon.

BOURBON BALLS

2 cups crushed vanilla

wafers
1 cup confectioners' sugar
1 cup chopped walnuts or pecans
2 tablespoons unsweetened cocoa powder
2 tablespoons light corn syrup or honey
 $\frac{1}{4}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$  cup bourbon
Garnish: Additional confectioners' sugar

Mix crushed wafers, confectioners' sugar, nuts, cocoa, corn syrup and bourbon together until well blended. The mixture should be moist but not soggy.

Roll dough by approximate teaspoonsful into small balls. Roll balls in additional confectioners' sugar. Store balls in tightly covered tins in a cool, dry place. Yields about 5 dozen.

Here's How

By Gene Gary

Q: Our home is approximately 10 years old. Lately I have had some concern about the cedar shake roofing.

During a storm last spring a number of shakes were either blown off or broken. These were replaced. But now I'm concerned about the overall condition of the roof.

How long should I expect cedar shake roof to last? Should I now be looking for a new roof, or an inspection for re-roofing? When a replacement is needed, can new roofing be installed over the existing roof or should the current roofing be removed prior to a new installation? If a new roof is required are there other alternatives to the cedar shakes, which would be long lasting? — K.C.

A: A number of factors can determine the life of a cedar shake roof, such as weather conditions in your area and the quality of the original installation.

All too often, roof problems are discovered after leaking and other serious damage occurs. It is best to have a professional roofing contractor inspect the roof every two or three years to look for signs of aging and wear. Periodic inspections can often uncover such things as cracked, warped or missing shingles that can be repaired without a complete roofing.

When the time comes that repair of the roof is only a temporary measure, you should seriously consider replacement.

There is a wide range of roofing materials, designs and colors available today. Consult with a professional roofing contractor for selecting the most suitable for your home and climate.

One of the most popular roofing materials is the asphalt shingle. Asphalt shingles are available in a wide range of traditional and modern colors and styles, including the popular earth-tones hues and three-dimensional designs that would be compatible with the cedar shake look. Most of today's asphalt shingles are designed to provide satisfactory service for a period ranging from 15 to 25 years. They require low maintenance, are fire and wind resistant.

It usually is possible to install a second roof over the existing roof, which will save you a good deal of inconvenience and trouble, as well as money. However, it is not recommended to install a third roofing layer over existing roofing due to increased weight that can damage the overall structure.

Q: We are in the process of remodeling our home, with the addition of a master suite plus a family ly living area off a remodeled kitchen. The additions have required some major changes in the roofline and we are now working on the design of the exterior and contemplating the type of roofing material that would look best on our newly designed home.

I like the look of slate and would like to consider it instead of shingles that were used previously. I understand this should be long lasting. Are there any pros and cons concerning slate as a durable roofing? — R.B.

A: The major drawback in using slate on an existing structure would be the added weight when compared to other roofing materials. You will need to inspect the structure of your existing home and the support of the roof to assure that it can withstand the added weight of slate. You may find that added support (involving some major reconstruction in both the existing and remodeled portions of your home) will be necessary for the installation of the slate roof.

Contact a qualified roofing contractor for an expert opinion. Other than the problem of weight and the added expense of slate, this material will give you many added years of service compared to most other commonly used materials.

Q: I am concerned about learning more about health. Your suggestions, please, on a newsletter or magazine. — B.V.

A: There are many newsletters in the health field and there seem to be more established every day. Healthline is one that presents a variety in its content and is written for ready understanding. A recent issue presented features of stories on nutrition, allergies, problems in sleep, the heart and blood pressure and a guide to stop smoking. ## TWEEN 12 & 20

By Robert Wallace, Ed.D.

Dr. Wallace: Last Easter my parents gave me a baby chick. As he grew, we became great friends. Once he became a grown rooster, my dad and I gave him to a farmer who said I could visit him anytime I wanted. We handed the rooster's leg so I could find him easily.

Well, when I made my first visit to see my pet rooster, he wasn't there. Then I was told that he "accidentally" wound up on the dinner table. My dad only laughed about it but I was very upset and cried. I told my dad that I would never eat chicken again as long as I live. My dad thinks I'm acting very immature and the loss of my rooster was no big deal. We both agreed that I write to you for your comments.

I am 12 years old. Oh, yes, my dad now calls me "Colonel Sanders" or "Chicken Liver." — Carla.

Carla: Your father lacks a bit of compassion. A pet is a pet regardless if it's a chicken or a dog. You had a right to be upset, and Dad should have lent you his shoulder to cry on. Wise dads do not taunt upset daughters. The "Colonel Sanders" bit should cease immediately.

Dr. Wallace: I am 19 and I'm not very tall but I happen to weigh 240 pounds. I've done everything possible to lose weight but nothing works. I've tried "hundreds" of different diets and all I do is gain more weight after the diet ends.

A member of my church told me to contact Overeaters Anonymous but he didn't know where it is located and how much it costs to join. I don't have a lot of money. — Rose.

Rose: Please read the following letter from Ann. She answers all of your questions.

I have suffered from a weight problem all of my life so I can identify with the pleas of teens who write to you for suggestions about losing weight.

My weight problem was a hopeless battle until I found Overeaters Anonymous. It literally saved my life.

I weighed 215 pounds and was on my way to gaining much more. Through OA, I was able to lose 75 pounds, but the most important fact is that I have maintained that weight loss for more than a year.

OA has no dues or fees. It is based on attraction rather than promotion. It accepts all, unconditional. There are no pills or shots. We have a suggested food plan that is relatively easy and inexpensive to follow. There is no humiliation, only love, hope and a way to recover from the self-destruction of compulsive overeating.

Please look in your telephone book or write to the following address: Overeaters Anonymous, World Service Office, 2739 Motor Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90034. — Ann.

Dr. Wallace: I'm a 19-year-old guy and I seem to be losing my hair. My sister insists it's because I wear a hat all of the time. Is this possible? Also, is there any way I can stop losing my hair? At this rate, I'll be as bald as a cue ball before I am 21. — Allen.

Allen: The wearing of a hat does not cause or add to loss of hair. Baldness is hereditary. But it still would be wise to visit a medical specialist. It's a lot easier to keep the hair you have than produce new hair.

Dr. Wallace: I am 16 and so is my boyfriend — or I think he's my boyfriend. Sometimes I wonder. All he ever does is spend time collecting bubble gum baseball cards. I honestly believe he has over 15,000 of them. If I want to spend time with him, I've got to go over to his house and watch him "play" with his cards.

If that isn't bad enough, sometimes he even puts me to work counting and sorting these stupid little pictures. What can I do to get him to look at my picture, more than Mickey Mantle's? He says someday that his cards will be worth a lot of money, but I think he is just saying that because I like expensive things. I've already threatened him with, "It's either me or your cards." — Gloria.

Gloria: Collecting baseball cards can be a financially rewarding hobby. Today, cards are traded and sold among collectors just like coins and stamps. A rare 1910 card of Pie Traynor of the Pittsburgh Pirates is worth more than $3,000.

So, you had better get involved in baseball cards or find another boyfriend. I doubt seriously if this guy will stop "playing" with his cards.

After Work Gourmet

By Melanie Barnard
and Brooke Dojaj

Lemon Curd is one of England's best culinary ideas. In spite of its rather unappetizing name, Lemon Curd is one of the richest, smoothest, tartest, sweetest creations that you ever licked off a spoon.

Made simply with eggs, butter, sugar and lemon, it is actually nothing more than a stove-top stirred custard. The English traditionally use it as a condiment and breakfast spread for toast or scones. But to our mind, that only scratches the surface of the versatility of Lemon Curd.

It does, indeed, make a fine spread for morning toast. But we also think it is a terrific filling for a layer cake, especially a white or yellow cake that will have a fluffy icing and perhaps some coconut sprinkled over.

It is a fabulous filling for tiny pastry tart shells and even a large shallow tart shell. Try layering paper-thin slices of seeded lemon over the top and brush with apricot preserves for an elegant glaze.

As a Christmas Day mini-breakfast while opening gifts, it is a heavenly spread for tiny muffins or cinnamon toast. Or serve it as a Christmas dinner dessert sauce for plum pudding.

Here we have used the basic luscious Lemon Curd recipe to create a simple, yet satiny sublime lemon mousse dessert that takes only minutes to prepare but will hold for hours in the refrigerator.

THE VERY BEST LEMON MOUSSE

4 tablespoons butter
3 eggs
3 egg yolks
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cups granulated sugar
1 tablespoon grated lemon zest
 $\frac{1}{2}$  cup lemon juice
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt
1 cup heavy cream, chilled
Candied violets, rose petals or purchased candied lemon zest, optional garnish

Melt butter and let cool. Whisk eggs, yolks and sugar in heavy, non-reactive saucepan until thick and lemon colored. Whisk in lemon zest, juice, salt and melted butter. Set over medium-low heat and cook, stirring constantly with wooden spoon, for 6-8 minutes until mixture is very smooth and thick enough to heavily coat back of spoon.

Force through strainer into mixing bowl. Set bowl in larger bowl filled with ice and stir for about 5 minutes until cool. This is Lemon Curd.

(If you have time, you can let the curd cool naturally to room temperature and then chill until ready to use.)

Whip cream and gently fold all but about  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup of it into the Lemon Curd. A few streaks of cream can remain, but the mixture should be almost completely folded together. Serve immediately, spooned into stemmed dessert dishes or refrigerate, covered, for up to 4 hours until ready to serve.

Garnish with small dollops of remaining whipped cream and optional violets, rose petals or lemon zest, if desired.

Yield: 4 to 6 servings.
Preparation time: 30 minutes.

FROSTED WINTER GRAPES

1 egg white
2 teaspoons Grand Marnier or other orange liqueur
1 pound seedless grapes (a combination of red, green and purple, if available)
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup granulated sugar

Whisk egg white and Grand Marnier until very frothy.

Separate grapes into small clusters. Holding each cluster by stem, dip into egg white mixture until most of the grapes are covered. Gently shake or brush off excess egg white. Dip clusters into granulated sugar to coat surface.

Place grapes on rack and allow to dry for 1 to 2 hours.

To serve, arrange grapes, trying not to disturb coating, on plate.

Yield: 4 to 6 servings.
Preparation time: 5 minutes.
Drying time: 1 to 2 hours.

LONG-STEMMED STRAWBERRIES DIPPED IN CHOCOLATE

6 ounces excellent quality bittersweet chocolate
1 tablespoon heavy cream
20-24 large, perfect strawberries with stems (see note)

Melt chocolate with cream over very low heat or in top of double boiler set over hot water. Let cool slightly.

Thoroughly pat berries dry. Holding each berry carefully by stem, dip about halfway into chocolate. Let excess chocolate drip off. (If chocolate seems too thick, warm slightly. If it seems too thin to coat nicely, let it cool slightly.)

Lay dipped fruits on baking rack set over waxed paper and allow chocolate to completely set, about 20 minutes.

Serve dipped berries arranged decoratively on doily-lined plates within a few hours of preparation. Do not refrigerate.

Yield: 4 to 6 servings.
Preparation time: 10 minutes.
Drying time: 20 minutes.

Note: Other fresh fruits, such as tangerines, seedless oranges or grapefruit sections, or dried fruits, such as apricots or figs, may be dipped in the same way. Just be sure the fruit pieces are dry before dipping.

MICROWAVE MAGIC

By Desiree Vives

For many of us the holidays are the busiest time of year. That means less time to cook and more reliance on convenience foods, including canned goods.

Canned vegetables are easy to keep on hand, always in season, and take only minutes to heat in your microwave. But a serving of plain canned green beans or corn can be pretty boring. Here are a few ideas for dressing up canned veggies:

Top canned asparagus, spinach, green beans, etc., with a buttery crumb topping. Melt  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup butter or margarine in a small microwave-safe bowl (microwave on HIGH setting one to  $\frac{1}{2}$  minutes). Stir in 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs,  $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon dried herbs and a dash each of salt and pepper. Microwave on HIGH setting two to three minutes, stirring every minute. Toss in a little grated Parmesan cheese, if desired, and spoon over hot cooked veggies.

Make canned pork and beans more exciting by adding one or more of the following: ketchup, barbecue sauce, brown sugar, chopped onion, diced ham, drained pineapple chunks, molasses, dry mustard.

Canned corn is tastier with a little chopped green pepper and/or pimientos, chopped onion, tomato, parsley or herb butter.

Make green beans more tasty with a bit of shredded cheese, some slivered almonds, whole cashews, tiny whole onions, mushrooms, crumbled cooked bacon, sliced water chestnuts or fresh snipped dill.

Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens.

CREAMY MUSHROOM GREEN BEANS

1 (15-ounce) can french-cut green beans, drained
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 (4-ounce) can mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1 cup french-fried onion rings
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup shredded mild cheddar cheese
Paprika

Preparation time: 5 minutes
Cooking time: 4 to 5 minutes (plus 3 minutes standing time)
Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

In 1-quart microwave-safe casserole combine green beans, mushroom soup and mushrooms. Cover and microwave 3 minutes. Stir in half of onion rings. Top with cheese, then sprinkle with remaining onion rings. Dust lightly with paprika.

Microwave, uncovered, 1 to 2 minutes longer, or until heated through. Cover and let stand 2 minutes before serving.

Serves 4.

CHILI SCALLOPED CORN
2 cups canned corn kernels, drained
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup chopped mild green chilies, drained
2 eggs, beaten
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon pepper
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup evaporated milk
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup fine cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Dash paprika

Preparation Time: 5 to 10 minutes

Cooking Time: 5 to 6 minutes (plus 3 minutes standing time)

Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

In 1 1/2-quart microwave-safe casserole combine corn, chilies, eggs and pepper. Stir in evaporated milk and cheese. Cover and microwave 3 minutes, rotating 1/4 turn halfway through cooking time.

Top with cracker crumbs, dot with butter and sprinkle lightly with paprika. Microwave, uncovered, 2 to 3 minutes longer, or until heated through. Cover and let stand 3 minutes before serving.

Serves 4 to 6.

GINGERED MASHED SWEET POTATOES

$\frac{1}{2}$  cup butter or margarine, at room temperature
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup brown sugar
1 (15-ounce) can sweet potatoes, drained
 $\frac{1}{4}$  cup milk
2 teaspoons grated orange peel
 $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon powdered ginger
 $\frac{1}{4}$  teaspoon each grated nutmeg and pepper

Preparation Time: 5 to 10 minutes

Cooking Time: 4 to 6 minutes

Oven Setting: HIGH (100 percent power)

Cream together butter and sugar in 1-quart microwave-safe casserole. Mash together sweet potatoes, milk, orange peel and seasonings. Fold into creamed mixture, stirring well.

Microwave, uncovered, 4 to 6 minutes, stirring every 2 minutes, until heated through.

Serves 4 to 6.

FABRIC SHADE — This attractive bottom-rolling fabric shade is one solution to covering architectural trapezoid windows.

Backyard Gardener

Keeping in mind the special interests of the gardeners on your Christmas shopping list can greatly simplify choosing gifts for them. Books and plants, for example, offer enough variety to meet every taste and any level of interest in gardening, and both are available in a happily accommodating range of prices.

It helps, in choosing a gift houseplant, to think about both the lifestyle of the recipient and the conditions inside his home. Busy people without a lot of time to fuss over plants will be happiest over the long term with an easygoing ivy, pothos, philodendron or Chinese evergreen. For friends who like their home kept really warm, avoid mismatching them with cool temperature plants like chrysanthemum, azalea and cyclamen.

Tools make useful and appropriate gifts for both indoor and outdoor gardeners. Hand tools are often available boxed to present as gifts. Pruners and grass shears, hose-end spray nozzles and watering cans, bulb planters and knee pads are just some of the tools and garden accessories geared to add pleasure to our outdoor gardening.

For the indoor gardener, sets of houseplant tools make attractive and handy gifts. These usually include a small fork-like tool for stirring the top soil of plants and tiny, slim trowels for transplanting and potting.

An excellent multipurpose tool is the Nit Picker, a simple, stainless steel blade with one end broader and more curved than the other. I find mine ideal for adding small amounts of bone meal or powdered fertilizer to potted plants, for stirring the soil around plants in pots and for lifting and transplanting small plants and seedlings.

Gadgets abound for both the indoor and outdoor garden — light and moisture meters, soil thermometers, pH analyzers. We find a temperature humidity gauge indispensable in our little greenhouse during the growing season. It tells me when I should leave the door open a while to cool down and dry out the air a little, and when I should dampen the floor to boost humidity levels.

A rain gauge is another generally useful garden aid, to assess accurately both how well a rain has soaked the garden and how much water a sprinkler actually has delivered to an area. And the records we've kept over the past few years with the aid of a minimum-maximum thermometer provide for us a valuable guide to the timing of various gardening tasks.

If someone on your Christmas shopping list particularly enjoys starting lots of seeds indoors, keep in mind that indoor seedling time will fast be approaching and that a most welcome gift might be a collection of peat pots, some seedling trays or flats. Four- and 5-inch pots are also very useful for propagating cuttings and growing transplanted seedlings.

Decorative pots for houseplants always bring pleasure to the indoor gardening enthusiast, who can also put to good use wicker baskets and watertight ceramic pots for clothing a plain houseplant pot. A plant could be included with these gifts, as well.

Indoor watering cans with conveniently long, curved spouts are handy for reaching out-of-the-way plants and confining their contents to the target rather than sending out a jet stream far beyond it. Houseplant fertilizers makes welcome gifts, too.

Problem-solving treatments for trapezoid windows

Q: We have a new home of contemporary design with several trapezoid-shaped windows. Most of them do not need to be covered, thank heavens, but two, for the sake of privacy, do. Do you have any great ideas? — M.H.

A: You could, of course, run a horizontal rod across the window leaving an open triangular portion above, and do any conventional window treatment. In my opinion, however, this looks awkward and destroys the architectural integrity of the window itself. It might look especially strange in a home where other windows are left entirely uncovered.

An alternative solution might be vertical blinds. If the slope of the top of the window is not too steep, the blinds would pull to the higher corner leaving the window entirely uncovered like those in the rest of your house. When closed, they would fill the whole space and repeat the trapezoid shape of the window itself.

Another option is a fabric shade that rolls up from the bottom. The top, cut on a slant, is permanently secured and you adjust the amount of coverage by rolling it up from the bottom. Easy fabrics can secure the shade at the level you desire. This solution has the added advantage of being relatively simple to make yourself.

Q: We are newly married, living on a limited budget and not handy. Do you have any ideas for a really easy and cheap coffee table we could make? — M.L.

A: Well, you can make a coffee table out of any flea market or garage sale bargain table simply by cutting the legs down to size. Of course, you do need to be able to handle a saw.

Even easier is making a glass-topped table. Get a piece of plate glass (at least  $\frac{1}{4}$ -inch thick) cut to your desired size and shape. Then your major problem is going to be deciding among the unending possibilities of free-to-cheap bases. The base can be anything with two flat surfaces that is sufficiently sturdy to support your glass.

Here are a few ideas to get you going:

- Use one or more pressboard cubes, painted or carpeted.
- Make a base of a found object, such as a stump of driftwood.
- Position two to four solid-colored plastic wastepaper baskets or clay drain pipes as base or legs.
- Set the glass on a fat, squat terra cotta pot or sturdy basket.
- Put your coffee table books under the table to hold it up.

Though you can undoubtedly dream up many more table-base ideas of your own, for other budget projects for your home, you might want to take a look at Mary Gilliat's "Decorating on the Cheap" from Workman Publishing Co., New York. It's full of good ideas and detailed how-to for the novice home owner or reluctant handyman.

BENCHWARMER'S SPORTS TRIVIA

Baby high chair converts to rocker

Q: This chair converts from a baby's high chair to a rocking chair as shown in this picture. Can you tell me when it was made and what it would sell for?

A: Your unusual high chair/rocker was made in the 1890s and would sell for from $275 to $325. It is similar to another high chair that converts to a stroller.

Q: Enclosed is the mark of the Longton Crown Pottery. Can you tell me anything about this company?

A: The Longton Crown Pottery was founded in Longton, England, in 1892 and is still in business. In recent years they have issued a series of collectors' plates.

If you have one of the "Canterbury" series, they are currently selling in the $35 to $45 range.

Q: At a recent antique show, I saw some rather shabby looking figurines that the dealer called "chalkware." The prices seemed quite high; can you tell me anything about chalkware?

A: Chalkware is plaster of paris decorated with water-based paints. Much of it was used as prizes for carnival games. Some of it was made by itinerant craftsmen during the late 19th century.

The prices range from $5 to $25 for most of the poorly made items. Artistic work of 19th century artists will sell for well over $100.

Q: Are all whiskey bottles collectible like Jim Beam? Are there others as valuable?

A: Jim Beam bottles are the most popular, but practically all figural whiskey bottles are collectible:

- Cabin Still — $5 to $30.
- Cyrus Noble — $15 to $185.
- Double Springs — $10 to $40.
- Early Times — $15 to $30.
- Granadier — $15 to $50.
- Hoffman — $15 to $150.
- Lewis & Clark — $15 to $110.
- Lionstone — $10 to $115.
- Luxardo — $10 to $140.
- McCormick — $10 to $250.
- Michter's — $15 to $200.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Last week I went Christmas shopping. While I was in a large store I noticed a little boy apparently lost and crying for his mother. He must have been three or four years old.

Suddenly Mom appeared, almost as worried looking as her son. Quickly the boy's tears dried as he ran to Mother and threw his arms around her.

The incident made me think back to when I was a child. Whenever my Mother took me shopping the first thing she did after entering the store was to designate a place where we would meet if we happened to get separated.

I think this was a good idea and I recommend it to any Mom who takes her child shopping—especially at this hectic time of year!

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are Nancy McCarthy and Daniel Moen. Nancy and Dan will be hearing from me soon!

What does AAHA mean?

Q: What do the letters AAHA mean in telephone listings of small animal veterinary hospitals? Should we only use veterinary hospitals that have this designation?

A: The letters AAHA in telephone listings of small animal veterinary hospitals stand for American Animal Hospital Association.

The AAHA was founded in 1933 by a group of veterinarians. The goals of the organizing group included upgrading the standards of small animal veterinary practice. More than 14,000 veterinarians specializing in small animal practice currently belong to AAHA.

All of the veterinary hospitals belonging to AAHA must meet minimum standards for facilities and services. To become a member of AAHA, a veterinarian must answer satisfactorily approximately 700 questions regarding every aspect of the hospital's facilities and services. Each member hospital is regularly inspected by a trained AAHA representative to ensure complete compliance with the membership standards.

In addition to maintaining the highest quality facilities and using the most modern procedures, AAHA member veterinarians are encouraged to attend continuing education courses on a regular basis. AAHA publishes a professional journal for its members.

Many excellent veterinarians are not members of AAHA, but maintain the same high standards. Your choice of veterinarians should not be based only on membership in AAHA. Recommendations from satisfied clients are probably the best basis for selecting a veterinarian.
