Justice Andrew Heberer Victim Of Heart Attack; In Hicksville 50 Years

A Step Forward

One of Hicksville's two other weekly newspapers was kind enough to say, when its editor learned that THE LEADER would soon appear on the local scene, that now it would be in for some competition. We hope that is true and that its truth will become more obvious as the months and years pass, because honest competition is excellent for newspapers, just as it is a very good thing for communities like Hicksville.

Hicksville has two fine newspapers now. Why a third? First, because Hicksville is a good-sized community, growing very rapidly. It is becoming, as Henry F. Huettnier said in the letter of welcome he was kind enough to write THE LEADER, central Long Island's shopping headquarters. In a few years it will be very much bigger. Second, because THE LEADER can do what Hicksville's two other papers, excellent as they are, cannot yet hope to do, and that is, to give Hicksville a weekly newspaper large enough to cover not only more Hicksville news than is now possible, but more news of the entire Township as well.

The only way that a weekly newspaper, as a public business operating without special political privilege, can hope to be successful in these parts is to be large enough so that it can benefit from the economies of mass production. That means several newspapers printed at one plant, several papers sharing one circulation department, etc. This is just common sense, and any business man will recognize it. We have not forgotten for a moment, however, that the very essence of a local paper is local news and local opinion. This can only be achieved by an editor and news gatherers right on the job in the home town. To that principle we shall stick.

A paper properly serving Hicksville, we believe, must present the news of surrounding communities as well. Hicksville people have relatives and friends and acquaintances all through Oyster Bay township. To do a good job, therefore, THE LEADER must report the doings of folks all around the township. And this is just what we can do better than any other newspaper group, because that is exactly what we have been doing from the beginning.

It isn't an easy job that we've cut out for ourselves. Even when we have done the best job we can we shall try to improve on it. It is our hope to give you better news, more news and a more readable paper than you have ever had before!

And now to prove it.

The St. John's Home band of 35 pieces will play from 3 until 5 p. m. Friday and Saturday.

Big Ben, unlike many other chain units, has employed all local help. Included are: Harold Zeltman, Michael H. Cohen, William Schaffer, Ray Schaefer, Charles Riegelberger and Frank Fournier.

Peddlers Ignore, Police Do Not Enforce, Ordinance

Liability to $100 Fine Fails to Scare Hawkers Who Shy at Paying Town a License Fee

The Town of Oyster Bay's vain efforts to compel peddlers and hawkers to secure licenses appeared to be entirely frustrated this week as an examination of the license files in the Town Clerk's office revealed that not one license had been issued for the year 1935. As every license issued in 1934 automatically expired on December 31 of last year, there is now not one licensed peddler or hawker in the unincorporated areas of the Township covered by the ordinance, and all are therefore automatically liable to a fine of $100.

Acting under the plea of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, who for some time had asked relief from the unfair competition of unlicensed peddling, the Oyster Bay Town Board adopted with much fanfare last April an ordinance compelling all peddlers working in the village of Oyster Bay, Hicksville and other unincorporated areas to secure licenses.

Bethpage Club Ready May 31, Official Says

B. L. Van Schaick, Parks Executive, Makes Announcement

Benjamin L. Van Schaick, executive secretary of the Long Island State Park Commission, today said the new Bethpage Park Club house, now under construction, would be opened to the public on the last day of May. Three of the four golf courses will be open at that time. The fourth was not needed this fall so it will not be open until some time next fall. Tennis courts will be provided. In a separate area away from the golf course, there will be picnic grounds and play fields, including baseball diamonds. Mr. Van Schaick said the play fields and golf course had been placed apart from each other to avoid the danger of flying golf balls to children and the noise and confusion to golfers.

The golf courses start and end at the club house. From the driveway, the main entrance leads into a corridor and thence to the main dining room and a dining terrace. This terrace, awning covered, will overlook the entire park to the north. From the corridor to the west is the grill bar, porch and another smaller dining terrace.

To the east, leading from the main corridor, is the lounge and shower. The men's locker rooms and porch are on the west side of the building, while the women's are on the east. Private dining rooms are in the west wing.

The present club house will be torn down. A superintendent's home, which Joseph Burbeck took on occupancy, is nearing completion. Mr. Van Schaick said that there was no immediate plan for the construction of a swimming pool.

There will be no charge for parking, according to Mr. Van Schaick. He says that the season golf tickets, which enable the player to use the course on week-days and sell for $15 are very popular. The fee to be charged for the use (Continued on page 4)

Curtis And Tappen Chamber Speakers

Supervisor Harry Tappen and Dr. Elwood A. Curtis of Hicksville will be the speakers at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon, which will be held on Tuesday, February 19, at the Matinecock Restaurant in Oyster Bay. The luncheon, originally scheduled to be held on February 12, was postponed one week due to Lincoln's birthday.

This marks the second appearance of Dr. Curtis before the club house.

On Lincoln's Birthday Eve, February 11, officers of the Manetto Plains Post No. 3211, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be installed in the auditorium of the Hicksville High School. It is customary to have the first installation of the veterans conducted by state officials. Several national as well as state officers will attend and will formally accept the new post into the New York State.

The officers to be inducted include: Frank J. Holde, commander; William Grouse Sr., vice-commander; Frank Almira, vice-commander and publicity manager; Julius Heberer, quartermaster; John Law, post advocate; William Kentz, chaplain; Matthew McIlwain, officer of the day; Fontaine N. Tellerferro, delegate for two years to the county council; William Grouse, delegate for one year to the county council; Henry Eisenmann and Frank Almira, alternates to the county council.

Although agitation for the formation of an organization of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States post in Hicksville began three years ago, it was not until last December that Albert Van Vark, assistant department chief of staff, conducted a meeting in the court house for those interested in the veterans that definite plans for its organization were established.

Shooting Leads To Arrest of Hicksville Man

Kate Much Seriously Wounded In Fight Over Home

Because, police say, she refused to pay Sperdon Mamichur, 45 years old, of 15th Street, Hicksville, $250 he said she owed him, Kate Much, 43 years old, of the same address, lies in the Nassau Hospital in Mineola today with a bullet in her neck, two more in her back and a fourth in her right hand. All of them, according to police, were inflicted by Mamichur.

The couple, according to police, have lived together in Hicksville for the past 10 years. Monday night they decided to separate and a dispute then arose as to the ownership of their home, in which both had a half interest. Mamichur demanded that Miss Much pay him $200, which Miss Much refused to do.

The fight ended in tragedy when Miss Much went next door to the home of her neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. John Gerick, also of 15th Street, and began a game of cards. Mamichur, it is alleged, followed (Continued on page 4)

Anderson is mentioned as the most likely successor to Judge Heberer, whose term still has ten months to run.

State Institute News
By BEN MORTON

The assembly program last Wednesday was a farewell to William "Pop" Allen, who for nineteen years has worked in the main buildings at the Institute. He is one of the three original members of the school, and now has retired from his duties. Three members of the faculty gave addresses, the first being George Frank, who presented "Bill" Allen with a gift from the faculty. He told of his experiences with Bill when he first reached the Institute as a student, and also told of how Bill had guided him and many others through their earlier years. Mrs. Mary K. Peters told of the early life of the school, when "Pop" Allen was the postman, and rode up on a bicycle. The third speaker, Archie Stone, congratulated Bill on his work and he gave some tales of the early life here. The director then extended an invitation for all time to Bill, and the whole assembly stood and sang "Auld Lang Syne."

On Friday evening, February 8, the Cosmopolitan Club will hold a dance after a basketball game. The game is to be an exhibition game between a select team of seniors and the faculty. After the game there will be a dance in the gym. Ladies are to be admitted free.

At a regular meeting of the Chemistry Club, Carl Jesperson performed a number of experiments showing how to determine coal at various depths in different products. Wilbur Schroeber gave a short talk and a few experiments on different tooth powders and pastes.

The New York State College of Agriculture and the Nassau County Farm Bureau will hold a two-day school for nurserymen, florists, and estate gardeners on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 5 and 6. The program will be divided into three parts, the first being of special importance to nurserymen. The meeting will be held in the lecture room of the Horticulture Building at 1:30. Henry Naldett is chairman of this program, during which time a series of talks will be presented by authorities in the field. The first speaker, Kenneth Post, will speak on soil improvement. He will be followed by W. C. Blauvelt who will present some facts about insect control. Next will come D. S. Welch, who will discuss plant diseases. A discussion of questions presented to the Farm Bureau will then follow. The second program will be similar but of special importance to estate gardeners, and will be held that same evening at 7:30. The program consists of three speakers, Kenneth Post, C. E. F. Guterman, and John E. Blauvelt, who will speak with W. M. Moore as chairman. The third part of the school day will be held Wednesday afternoon, and this program is designed to interest the florist. The three speakers in the preceding program will again speak on different topics, and the program will end with a general discussion period. All of these speakers are members of the staff at the New York State College of Agriculture, at Ithaca.

Last week was a busy one for the Director. On Monday he gave the Commencement address at the Mineola High School. On Tuesday he attended the meeting of the Bayshore Rotary Club and in the afternoon, the Long Island Horticultural Society. He was master of ceremonies at the charter night meeting of the Patchogue Rotary Club, and on Saturday he spoke at a meeting of the Women's Club of Riverhead.

Loucks Backs Chiropractors

Hicksville Practitioner Is Behind Move For Recognition

Another attempt is being made by the New York State Chiropractic Society to bring about the licensing of chiropractors and put them on the same plane as allopaths and osteopaths. A bill is now up before the state assembly regarding the matter.

Forty-two states license chiropractors now, said George M. Loucks of Hicksville, president of the Long Island District of the state body, and he continued, "we want our profession recognized in this state as it has been in the others."

In the bill now before the assembly the society advocates the creation of an examining and licensing board separate from the medical board that now issues the licenses to the allopaths and osteopaths.

Those who are just as much interested in keeping out of our profession those who are not qualified as are any of the other professions," continued Mr. Loucks, "and at the present time there being no state supervision in the matter anyone can practice, qualified or not."

This Week at the County Seat

Well, we finally found an angle to this Hauptmann affair out on Long Island. Elvert Carlstrom, the young Swedish carpenter who testified that he saw Bruno in a Bronx bakery the night of the kidnapping, makes his abode over on the Bronx. When he was unseparated by Ed Kelly at Pennington, he was chased down to Cedarhurst to check on his reputation in that thriving community. While discovering that he never said anything to anybody, we found some very interesting facts which may or may not turn up in the Jersey trial. Down there we found a German lady with a flock of bright little children. Her husband, a state trooper in Hunterdon County (N. J.) at the time of the kidnapping, was named in the fatal night and announced that he was wanted for a holdup in Lynbrook. He packed and skipped and has not been heard from since. Nor has the holding in Lynbrook been heard of as a matter of police record. Pictures of him greatly resemble Richard Hauptmann—four out of five people who viewed the assassin were certain they were like-nesses of the Bronx carpenter. The lady will go to Pennington. If Kelly pays her expenses, she has thus far refused to do so and her great fear is that her husband has met with foul play. Meanwhile, down at Katt's restaurant in Cedarhurst, dozens of Germans are swearing that they were at the Bronx bakery "that night." If we could believe them we would have to conclude that one half of the village of Cedarhurst was in that bakery. You never can tell—and if Kelly wants any more evidence I can show him a few more. Look what it did for the Swedish wood butcher who never said anything to anybody—until Ed Pennington.

With St. Valentine's Day drawing near, justice Meier Steinbrink, sitting in Supreme Court at Minerva, decided to issue a bit of Dan Cupid's authority. He started on the Basquets of Port Washington, that family estranged. The judge spent the greater part of a day on the matter and just before court adjourned he announced that his chambers had been the scene of a settlement of the dispute and the ups and downs of a certain matrimonial stock will be agreed to the public. Our pal, the judge, it was the first story in weeks that had a happy ending. A break in the New York dailies, so recently sold down the river to the Pennington force. It would have been a battle between two great legal minds, Edwin N. Edwards and George Gordon Battle. It had everything. A woman evicted. A straying husband. Wealth and position. And they settled it in the judge's chambers. The couple are back together again and we retire once more to solitude, awaiting news in Nassau.

Charlie Goinick, the Big Bad Wolf for all the kids in the county who play boys from school is much interested in the establishment of a new sort of educational plant in Nassau. He wants a vocational school where young men can learn plumbing, printing, electro-mechanics, auto-mechanics and radio work. A place where the Odyssey and Latin would have no day. Ed Wallace, Len Hall and Harold P. Herman are also behind the idea. At the school would be fully outfitted shops instead of rows of desks and blackboards. The state education department will provide the funds. The county will provide the ground. It sounds like a good idea and we know that Charlie Goinick, he usually gets what he goes after.

That South Shore daily that devoted so much space to the exploits of relief (voters who garnered huge sums for treating the needy had better guard the health of its staff. By way of joking we told L.W.A., the court-house correspondent for the sheet, that a certain physician thought he needed an operation. That might be so, thought L.W.A., but he was going to a hospital off in Yonkers some where to get it. Almost every doctor in Nassau was hit in the probe and we can blame the said reporter for not wanting his operation on the doctors' home grounds. They tell me the boys down in the daily's ring are taking orange juice, yeast, cod liver oil and nothing but 100 percent whole wheat bread with every meal. Down there an ounce of prevention is worth a darn more than a pound of cure.

To show you what influence the Hauptmann trial has had on the county we'll relate a little incident that took place in Doc's Tavern (not an old saloon). A certain well-known gentleman of the county has been the recipient of numerous misadventures. According to the accuser, he had acted in a most unbecoming manner on certain recent, and somewhat inelegant, occasions. The scold denied one and all of the charges. He was innocent. He was still denying and in conclusion: "And I didn't build that ladder, either."

The Long Island State Park Commission is all excited about the fact that a man way up in Northern Canada reports that he has killed a Black Duck, raised by the Commission from 700 miles away. A certain judge, known as a skeptic, won't believe it's the Commission's duck. He thinks it's just another bird that flew low over Pittsburgh.

W. Kingsland Macy opened his campaign to rehabilitate the Republican party in New York State last night at Garden City. It was the first time we've heard Mr. Macy speak. For some reason he refused to become entangled over the utility frauds, which he knows so well, until the final sentences of his speech. Then, like usual in the annual county fair declaration contest, he threw everything he had into a final effort to convince. What he said was most illuminating but the way he said it was so good that it was a few more good Republicans out of the G.O.P. they'll have a private little party of their own. Which might chime in with many Walter's suggestion after the November landslide that the Republican party hold its next convention in a phone booth. Mr. Macy paid special praise to the commission and workers of Nassau for the "repeated victories" in county and town elections. He figured his Suffolk County mates pretty good, too. He is still chairman of the "down estate."

If you can't think of any value for the tons of snow we've been struggling through for weeks, just remember that it has decreased crime about fifty percent. We haven't heard from any of the "down estate" boys for some time. For which lapse he will probably make up by burglarizing everything that isn't nailed down and the Spring Boys, quite some naps for that time and 3 cent snow we now own. Now make it Springtime for Bepine.

AT RANDOM... George Mully went back to the legal wars today in Supreme Court where he represented William S. Silkworth of Great Neck, the gentleman who is suing James P. Curtis, Roslyn attorney. Mr. Silkworth says Counsel Curtis falsely arrested him in connection with the theft of a 26-foot motor boat. The trial is a lively one with Justice Brennan providing much interest with his crisp comments. Your ex-district attorney, Edwin Edwards, was scheduled to sit in at the Hauptmann trial this week and write a viewpoint for the prosecution in the New York Evening Journal. But illness stepped in and kept the attorney at his Prepwork home. He may still make the trip, however, that is after he plays host at his office-warming party Saturday afternoon. The office building where in we perform our daily toil was ministered of Yonkers one day this week with the oil-burner in the cellar blowing up every hour.

Legionnaires Give First Hero Medal

The first hero medal ever to be awarded by the Huntington Post of the American Legion was given Saturday night to Robert Barrie Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barrie of Cold Spring Harbor. Barrie saved the life of Phyllis LaRue, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip LaRue of Huntington on January 2 when he rescued the girl and several other children after they had fallen through the ice in Hedges Park Pond.

First Annual Ball Planned By GOP Group Give Affair on February 23 Two hundred young Republicans comprising a ticket committee of Republican Recruits from all parts of Nassau began a drive this week to make the first annual Recruit ball to be held at the Garden City Hotel on February 23, the biggest event in the history of their organization.

With the slogan "Every Recruit and a friend," this drive purports to gain one hundred percent attendance of Recruit members as well as to introduce many young people of the county to the Recruit movement.

Through arrangement with the Artists' Bureau of the Columbia Broadcasting System, the Ball Committee has engaged Ted Black and his orchestra, well known to radio listeners. Ted Black has played at such famous places as the Cafe Royale in New York and the Blue Room, Paris night club. He will be present in person to conduct his seven piece orchestra.

"Since Recruits from all parts of Nassau will attend, it has been decided that the Garden City Hotel will furnish the most central location. Chairman of all local Recruit chapters are co-operating," states Henry Munson (Garden City), chairman of the ball committee, "and we expect the main ballroom and dining room to house a capacity attendance."

Entertainment will be furnished by well known performers, and tentative plans mention several names prominent on outstanding radio programs. Henry Munson, Garden City chapter chairman and vice-chairman of the County Council, is supervising the general arrangements for the ball. He is being assisted by the entire council delegation. Walter S. Rushmore of Minerva heads the ticket committee. Edward Rothwell of Lynbrook will supervise entertainment. Music will be arranged by Miss Genesta Strong of Manhasset, while Miss Lois Prescott of Garden City heads the reception committee.

White-Collar Man Will Get a Break The "white-collar man" of Nassau County, who has had the ambition to work at a laborer's job, is going to get a "break" under the plan of the Nassau County Emergency Relief Bureau.

White-collar projects are being lined up which will be filled from a list of "white-collar" laborers, which is now being compiled on the instructions of Raymond W. Houston, Acting Executive Director. This policy, however, will be followed only so far as it is consistent with the efficient operation of the projects. Only those "white-collar" men who are capable of filling positions which are open will be transferred to the new jobs.

Town Has Two Names McBride-Croft is a town in Michigan divided against itself. Though the town uses the same city hall, the same fire department and "all outward appearances are one municipality," it has two names. On one side of Division street is McBride. On the other is Croft. The mix up developed in 1878 when two persons laid out towns on opposite sides of the road.

Resolution to Investigate L. I. Railroad Is Carried

Assembly Approves Herman Measure—Len Hall's Wardrobe Is Burned in Ten Eyck Fire

(Special to the Township Press)

Taking action on the problem of delay by Long Island trains that serve commuters to New York City, Assemblyman Harold P. Herman introduced a resolution on Tuesday calling upon the department of public service to conduct an immediate investigation into the cause of the delay, practices, and management of the Long Island Railroad Company, and branded the service as poor, inadequate and ineffective.

His resolution was promptly and unanimously carried. When the Senate takes action the investigation will begin. The Governor will also be asked to have a hand in this affair.

Two railroad grade crossings regarded as dangerous have been ordered for elimination by the Public Service Commission in Nassau County. Public hearings, which will give railroad officials and others an opportunity to show cause why they should not proceed with such removal, are scheduled for February 19, at 10 a. m. Both crossings are owned by the Long Island Railroad Company, and are officially regarded as two of the most dangerous crossings of the road within the state. One crossing is in Oyster Bay, at Broadway and highway No. 9017; the other in the village of Farmingdale on the Massapequa Road. Work is expected to begin on June 1.

Albany, February 6 — George L. Thompson, Republican Senator from the first district, introduced a bill at Monday night's session to permit issuance of licenses by various police officials to persons of good moral character that will enable them to carry certain dangerous weapons. In amending the penal laws, however, the measure stipulates that residents of Nassau County must receive their permit from the county chief of police. Senator Thompson is active this week in the Capitol after a short absence due to poor health.

A somewhat amusing incident caused a good deal of comment here in the week. Assemblyman Leonard W. Hall was summoned away from the law office on Monday to his hotel, the Ten Eyck, where a fire had started in a room, burning rather severely his wardrobe and that of Mrs. Hall, who had come to the Capitol to attend the Governor's Legislative Reception given by the Lehmanns on Tuesday. Despite smoke-stained attire, Mr. and Mrs. Hall attended the premier social function of the season. He humorously commented that perhaps an attempt to destroy his clothing effects was in order due to the public hearing on nuclearism held the next day.

Dowsey Fights Hayes Measure For Townships

Bill to Exempt Municipal Water Systems Doomed, He Says

Albany, February 6 — At the public hearing on the Hayes bill held in the Assembly Chamber yesterday James L. Dowsey, County Attorney of Nassau and president of the Association of Towns of the State, informed the Township Press later in the day that he was firmly convinced that in view of the great number of protests filed from all over the state the Hayes measure designed to exempt from taxation headquarters of municipally owned water systems would be defeated.

This was one of the most hopeful signs for opponents of the bill, as during the hour of speeches against the plan Mr. Dowsey marshalled his colleagues into action of adverse criticism of Hayes' plan.

Among the two hundred official protests that Dowsey personally registered on behalf of townships throughout the state was a telegram from Harry Taggart of Oyster Bay. He stated that 48 of the 7 townships had also protested the measure, and that Democrats as well as Republicans had aided in circulating his constituents to check the legislative bill under fire.

Although police at Jones Beach refused to confirm the report, Commander Osborn said that he understood that the State police had unknowingly been sent to the run runners after they had been dunked in the surf. He heard that four men had walked into the police station at about 3 a. m. and had said that their small boat had capsized. The men who were dripping wet, Osborn was told, stayed with the police until their clothes had dried.

Crew Escapes As Rum Runner Goes Aground

Dory On Jones Beach Tips Off Coast Guard

Investigating Saturday night the presence on the beach of an abandoned dory, coast guards discovered a 75-foot, high powered cabin cruiser loaded with a cargo of Cuban alcohol, sunk about 100 yards off Jones Beach.

Commander Eugene Osborn of the Fourth District, coast guard, said Sunday that the boat, the Mona Lola, had evidently taken on too much of a load from her mother ship somewhere beyond the 12-mile limit and that when the heavy seas threatened to swamp her the crew tried to beach the craft. The boat tipped over in the water, Commander Osborn said, and the men escaped in a dory. The dory was discovered on the beach about four miles from the coast guard station soon after 3 a. m. by Alphonso Joliffe, a coast guard on beach patrol. Summoning other guards, Joliffe combed the waterfront and finally discovered the rum runner. Later in the morning when the tide went out, the boat was valued at $25,000 and her cargo at the same amount.

Although police at Jones Beach refused to confirm the report, Commander Osborn said that he understood that the State police had unknowingly been sent to the run runners after they had been dunked in the surf. He heard that four men had walked into the police station at about 3 a. m. and had said that their small boat had capsized. The men who were dripping wet, Osborn was told, stayed with the police until their clothes had dried.

Elvin Edwards, George Levy Establish New Law Firm

Former District Attorney and Brilliant Trial Lawyer Merge Interests—Will Practice In Mineola

Elvin N. Edwards, former district attorney of Nassau County, announced this week that a definite agreement had been reached between himself and George Morton Levy of Freeport, one of the leading trial lawyers of New York State, and that a partnership had resulted. The new firm will be housed in spacious offices at 1527 Franklin Avenue, Mineola, opposite the court house. The two attorneys have been holding frequent informal talks since Mr. Edwards' retirement from public office looking toward such a partnership.

The announcement has been awaited with much speculation by members of the Bar. It is of considerable sentimental interest in addition to heralding the formation of one of the most formidable law firms in the entire East.

Mr. Edwards established a reputation as a prosecutor during his three terms as district attorney that has made his name a familiar one from coast to coast. Some of the outstanding prosecutions and investigations of the past decade have been directed by him. George Morton Levy, once before a law partner of Mr. Edwards, has a like reputation as a defense counsel.

The two men have known each other since boyhood. The old Freeport baseball team, with Elvin Edwards as manager, and George Morton Levy as captain, is still talked of on the South Shore. Both men studied law and both hung out their shingles in Freeport. It was natural that they should soon talk of a partnership. It has been said that each sought the partnership because each thought the other had clients. Both were mistaken. On returning from lunch one day they found their neatly printed card, "Out to Lunch—Returning in One Hour" had been altered. Someone added a single word: "Why?"

But the firm prospered. The division came only when young Edwards decided to accept the nomination for police justice in his home village of Freeport. There

Levy's quiet but deadly cross-examinations were frequently put to naught by Edwards' powerful, dramatic appeals to the jury. Care in preparation of cases was one reason for the success of both. Against other lawyers, each was adamant, against each other it was a revelation of heart knowledge, acumen and quick thinking interspersed with bursts of glibly rarefied equanimity.

Leo Fish, associated with Mr. Levy for the past 15 years, was formerly counsel to the Town of Hempstead and to the Village of Freeport. He has lived in Freeport for more than 30 years. He has prepared cases for Mr. Levy for many years, having a peculiarly acute legal mind. He is considered an authority on municipal law.

Harvey George, associated with Mr. Edwards in his private practice

while he was district attorney, will also be of the firm. He has lived most of his life in Roosevelt and has been active in the preparation of the many civil cases Mr. Edwards tried while prosecutor.

In the new trial firm, Mr. Fish and Mr. George will devote their time to general practice and to aiding Mr. Edwards and Mr. Levy in the preparation of the cases they will try. Since the original Levy-Edwards partnership, Mr. Levy was a partner of Judge Townsend Scudder now sitting in the Appellate Division, Second Department. After Judge Scudder had served a full term as justice of the Supreme Court and before his reappointment to the bench, Mr. Levy did the trial work for the firm. While Mr. Levy has been widely known as a criminal lawyer less than five per cent of his practice during the past 10 years has been of a criminal nature. His office has represented some of the largest estates and corporations in the county.

E. R. Knowles, Engineer, Dies

Centre Island Resident Had Helped Build Brooklyn Span

Funeral services were held yesterday in Brooklyn for Edward Richardson Knowles, one of the engineers who built the Brooklyn Bridge, who died Monday night at his home in Centre Island. He was 84 years old.

In addition to construction work Mr. Knowles also engaged in electrical engineering and designed one of the first storage batteries ever built in America. He was the first white baby born across the bay from San Francisco during the rush.

For some time he was the chief engineer of the Schuyler Electric Company at Middletown, Conn., where he had charge of all searchlight designs and developments for the navy. One of his searchlights was shown at the Chicago World's Fair in 1893 and later was placed on the Chicago Hotel.

Mr. Knowles wrote his autobiography, "The Story of An Art," in which he covered the development of the electrical industry from 1871 to 1925. He was a 3rd degree Mason and a member of various technical societies.

His daughter, Mrs. Estelle K. Smith of Brooklyn, and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Kenneth E. Knowles of Centre Island survive.

'Spirit' Subject Of Lesson Sermon

"Spirit" is the subject of the Lesson Sermon in all churches of Christ. Scientist, on Sunday, February 10. The Golden Text is: "Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty" (II Corinthians 3:17).

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "There is therefore now no condemnation to them which are in Christ Jesus, who walk not after the flesh, but after the Spirit. For as many as are led by the Spirit of God, they are the sons of God" (Romans 8:14).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the correlative selection from the textbook of Christian Science, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Man Created in the Image of God.—After God created fish and fowl, beasts and cattle and everything that creeps upon the earth after its kind, He created man in His own image and gave him dominion over the brand-new planet. The Biblical account of man's creation is recorded in Gen. 1:27: "And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul." One of a series of Bible pictures made by Matthew Merian, Seventeenth century engraver.

P.S.C. To Probe L.I. Railroad

Irate Commuters To Appear At Manhattan Hearing Tomorrow

Long Island commuters will appear before the Public Service Commission at a hearing in Manhattan tomorrow to assail the Long Island Railroad for the breakdown of service which followed the blizzard of two weeks ago.

Commuters will charge that the road is equipped with faulty snow-removal apparatus and complain that the road is responsible for the alleged disorganization of train and station employees during the storm.

The Transit Commission's hearing was resumed this morning at the Manhattan office at 270 Madison Street. At the initial hearing last Thursday night Transit Commissioner Reuben L. Haskell made public a report which held, in substance, that:

A general breakdown in scheduled service on the railroad had resulted from the storm; that snow-removal equipment was not put to use as promptly as it should have been, and that such equipment was poorly handled when it was put to use.

Oyster Bay A. A. Topples Glen Cove Aces 20-14

But League Referee Fails To Appear And No Contest

George Knettel, Veteran Courtman, Scores Six Points to Lead the Red and Blue Combine To A Surprise Victory

By LEO MURRAY

The Oyster Bay A. A. pulled a surprise Sunday night and knocked off the last traveling Glen Cove Aces at the Elks Club by a score of 20 to 14. The contest, originally scheduled as a Nassau County League game, was called a non-league game because of the failure of the official referee to appear. The defeat has no bearing on the league standing.

Baymen Click

The Oyster Bay five functioned perfectly all evening, with splits in the past and team work to aid them in downing the Glen Cove. The Bay team jumped into an early lead and had the Aces behind up all night. The Glen Cove quintet trailed the victors eight to one at the close of the first stanza and were behind 11-9 when the whistle blew for the end of the first.

Glen Cove showed some of its former snap in the last half, kept the Red and Blue from scoring in the field goal in the last half. Oyster Bay's three points in the last two sessions coming as a result of foul shots. The Aces had the form of their earlier games and were fortunate that the game was a non-league affair.

Knettel, veteran of North Shore basketball, scoring six points to lead the players of both teams. John Clark of the Aces was next highest, with five markers. Oabe Oochola, the most consistent Glen Cove basket getter, failed to register.

Oyster Bay School Cagemen Win First League Encounter

Reserve Teams Battle to 16 All Deadlock Which Overtime Session Fails to Settle; Farmingdale Plays Fine Game

Oyster Bay high school won its first game in two seasons on Tuesday evening, defeating Farmingdale H. B. 15-18 in an Eastern Division, North Shore League battle on the winner's court.

Trailing 16-3 at the halfway mark, the purple and gold unit hit its stride for the final stretch and led by Minickoz who scored 11 points for the fracas the Baymen stepped to the fore and captured the engagement.

Farmingdale displayed the superior brand of ball for the entire first half scoring with comparative ease. Herbert of the host registering consistently for the major part of his nine point total.

New life took hold of the Oyster Bay school, cagers as they entered the home stretch and overtook their foe.

Reserves Deadlocked

In the preliminary, the Farmingdale reserves and the Oyster Bay seconds battled furiously for a 15 all deadlock which an extra period of three minutes left at 16 all tie.

Minickoz led the Oyster Bay attack with five points while Nassarero had as many for Farmingdale.

Mineola Loafs To Hollow Win In League Tilt

Continues Lead in Loop With Victory Over Great Neck

Bru Zinner, Mineola High School center, on Friday night tallied 10 points to earn a single-handed 20-9 victory over Great Neck High School's alleged basketball team on the host's court in a North Shore League game. The victor bootstrapped the winner's record to four victories and no defeats in league competition.

As indicated by the result, Great Neck was practically non-existent as a scoring proposition. The league leading Mineolas scored at will and only refrained from pulling up a larger score because of a sense of embarrassment at scoring so obviously at will.

It was a source of great wonder to all beholders how a team could react in capable coaching in such a negative manner as Great Neck did. Practically every one of the "dum" listed in "How to Play Basketball" in "The Game" was displayed by the Penitentiaries.

There was no time throughout the game that even the slightest doubt was evidenced as to the ultimate winner. Mineola was at top form and had everything its own way from the opening whistle.

Oyster Bay A. A. Wins Surprise League Victory

Defeats Mineola A. A. By 32-21 Score in Final Seconds

The defending champions of the North Shore basketball league bowed for the first time in fifteen games to the Oyster Bay A. A. courtmen, on Tuesday evening at the New Hyde Park school gymnasium in a game packed to the brim with thrills. The final count, 32-21, after the lead had changed hands five times in the last three minutes of play.

With the count tied at 20 all Jonny Birmingham of the red and blue markers sank a field goal and a foul for the winning total. Anson Seaman of the court house contingent tallied a two-pointer as the final gun sounded.

The defeat places the Mineola A. A. in a tie for first place with the strong Roslyn Knights and advances the Baymen in league standing.

It was the mutual setback in seven league starts for the titleholders who have been setting a strong pace in their effort to retain the crown.

SIDE LINES

By RICHARD HARKNETT

ROSLYN high school is credited with the major upset of the week-end, having disposed of Hicksville crushing the hopes of the mid-islanders for a scholastic loop championship. Previously the Yutierrezmen had gained victory over Westbury, the defending champion, and were entered a good chance to win until upset by the blue and white Roslynites.

FARMINGDALE'S Nassau County Amateur League entrant, the Varsity Club, proved itself a smooth working advertisement of basketball players and it was through no fault of Kuntz a post-laid container of T. N. T. who collected a seventeen point assembly, that the Oyster Bay-A. A. took them over the hurdles.

OOSTER BAY'S Town Constable, Russ Ebner, bowing ace of the North Shore, is all set to compete in the alley tournament being sponsored by the Nassau Daily Review on February 19 in Hempstead and he is among those favored to bring home the bacon. The scene of the affair will be the Hempstead Recreation Center and $1000 in cash prizes are to be offered.

THE GLEN COVE ACES being topped by the Oyster Bay A. A. confirms an earlier opinion expressed that the Baymen can still pull themselves out of the slump and elbow their way to the top.

MUCH to the embarrassment of yedemon sports editor a layout man forgot to insert a star-line between the first and second items contained in last week's outburst and a member of the Glen Cove Aces, I'm informed, thought the girlfriend yarn was meant for him and gave himself away by threatening to exterminate me. They were two separate items and that one had reference to another team. Hence the fact that it also applies to the Aces is a revelation to me.

THINGS I PROMISED not to tell. What Oyster Bay high school courtmen order a plate of ice cream at a local shop and produce bananas which they commence to peel and slice to make their own banana splits?

Better still. What North Shore basketball outfit passes its time in the dressing quarters playing tick-tack-toe with black paint on a nice white wall?

What fast-stepping forward of a mid-lashed quintet is soon to take the fatal step?

Who is the celebrated Jay Francis so attached to that slim athlete young fellow in Oyster Bay?

What Hicksville basketball player goes Dutch to the movies with the one and only and uses her car besides ???

Why do the jays outnumber the cheers in the daily mail to Side Lines? Do you want me to lose my Salties?

Westbury Tops Mid-Islanders By 29-27 Tally

Hicksville Alumni Drops League Tilt in Last Minute

A long shot in the last ten seconds of play by Hesse gave the Westbury Alumni a 29-27 victory over the Hicksville Alumni in a North Shore Amateur League test at Westbury.

Trailing by eight points as they entered the final stretch the Hicksville Alumni, newest member of the Township Press newspaper family.

ODDS AND ENDS That just made the deadline. To those who thought the Oyster Bay A. A. was definitely out of the Nassau County Amateur League race I could say "I told you so" but I won't. They topped off the North Shore champs, and the Aces and lost to the Roslyn Knights by one point. I still say anything can happen.

The Roslyn Knights take on the Great Neck A. C. combine for this Sunday afternoon's loop tussle and need not say "I'm placing my bet on the fighting Cases."

KENNY, snappy-forward of the Roslyn K. of C. outfit, is temporarily out of play because of an infected foot. When he returns we'll be glad to see him in the line-up for that boy certainly knows his basketball as do the rest of his team mates.

RAY STOCK of the Hicksville high school court aggregation tried hard to pull his team through in that game they lost to Roslyn and it looks a lot like his scoring total will again place him among the league leaders.

RED KENNA of the Westbury Legionettes gets right into the thick of the battle and heaven help the lassie that's trying to guard the blue-haired hooper. Her motto "Roll up your sleeves gals up and at 'em."

Indians To Face St. Dominic's 5

A battle of the Hilltoppers will be staged on Monday night when Manhasset High School's basketball team meets the St. Dominic's five of Oyster Bay, on the Indians' court. A preliminary will bring the second teams together at 8 p. m.

Each team is known in its respective locality as "The Hilltoppers." The outcome of the forthcoming game will prove which is more entitled to the name. In a previous game the Manhasset combine gained its initial win of the season at the expense of the Sea Cliff.

It was the fourth league victory in as many starts as Altman, ace pivot of the Roslynites battled Ray Stock mid island high scorer for the honors of the fray. Altman tallied nine markers for the tilt while Stock mounted an 11 point total.

By PATRICIA DOW

By GERTRUDE MAYER

Put your dining room table in the handsomest style for buffet service. Buy a variety of flowers and arrange them in a variety of containers. Buy flowers and arrange them beautifully, but do not use red roses and set them with a spray of froelia. Rid the table of anything like mink, fur, or best china and use the best glass for the party. The men will probably grow at candle light but the feminine guests will love it. Please the masculine guests to give them something to do. Make up a lively list home work for each one. Put it in an envelope with their name and have it interest them by having it in carrying out your order. He can be the master drink another his assistant. Take a mold or red jello filled with fruit salad and ornamented with maraschino cherries.

Complete equal parts of whipped cream with mayonnaise and you have an excellent salad dressing, and one that is appropriate for that particular salad.

For dessert, I suggest, I say, Red raspberry sundae with tiny heart-shaped cakes or heart-shaped cookies or a sponge cake baked in a heart-shaped tin, split and filled with cream, or a cake splashed with tinted whipped cream, or a fancy ice cream mold.

A Valentine dessert could be a marshmallow pudding made by combining I. C. cut marshmallows, I. C. cream, I. C. meats and I. C. whipped cream, pack in molds and serve with red raspberry sauce.
