LIBRARY

Glancing back through our most recent scrap book, we are going to attempt to show the outstanding books which we have purchased to our special subjects.

Poetry—Taggart, Genevieve—"Not Mine To Finish."

In this volume, rich in mature wisdom, Miss Taggart comes into her own as one of our most gifted poets.

Travel, Sutton, G. M.—"Eskimo Year."

A white man among Eskimos, living their life, eating their food, and growing to understand their character, customs and myths.

Dealing With People, Burch, H. M.—"Leadership in Group Work."

Professor Burch's book contains the "why" as well as the "what" and "how."

The West, Rak, M. K.—"A Cowman's Wife."

"The dry earth of Southern Arizona clings to every page." Children Glover and Dewey—"Children at the New Day."

This book will help many parents, educators, and social workers to approach intelligently and effectively the problems of child guidance which now confront them.

Economics, Wallace, H. A.—"New Frontiers."

Describes those new frontiers of the mind and spirit which America is beginning to penetrate.

Art, Doust, L. A.—"Simple Sketching."

This book is especially designed for those who, not intending to become accomplished artists, would like to sketch the world around them.

Jackman, Faure, Hilda—"Desert Wife."

The book is an unforgettable account of a little-known people, and exciting record of courage and endurance under conditions which will seem to the average reader almost unbearable.

Archeology, Margeson, R. V. D.—"Marie Spades."

For the many who enjoy the revelation of hitherto unknown secrets of human antiquity here is indeed a feast of many courses.

History, Canby, H. S.—"The Ages of Confidence: Life in the Nineties."

Is it true that life was more worth living then than now? Is it true that it was the parents and not the children that first broke up the American home? Is it true that our present chaos has its origins in the certainties of the Age of Confidence?

Farming, Harris, Evelyn—"Barter Lady: A Woman Farmer Sees It Through."

Trading berries for clothes, bedding for tuition, pears for magazines, this one indomitable farmer tells how she has kept her farm going and her children in school.

School Bands Play Concert On April 5

A band concert will be given by the Oyster Bay high school and grade school bands on Friday, April 5, in the high school auditorium. This will be the second concert of this kind given by the bands.

Village Light Rates Are Cut

Freeport And Rockville Centre To Save Consumers $90,000

The public service commission this week granted applications of the municipal electric power plants of Rockville Centre and Freeport to institute lower rates in their territories.

The new rates, which will apply to all classes of service, will save the consumers of Rockville Centre about $40,000 a year and the consumers of Freeport about $50,000.

Freeport and Rockville Centre are the only two South Shore villages with municipally owned plants, and the rates are the lowest charged on Long Island except in parts of Queens and Brooklyn.

According to Mayor Horace L. Allen of Rockville Centre, the rates in his village will complete success, fully with those now charged for gas consumption by the Nassau and Suffolk Lighting Company.

It was to increase consumption of electric energy for all purposes that both villages recently filed applications for reduced rates with the public service commission.

In Freeport the residential rate follows:

First 25 k.w.h. 5.5 cents k.w.h.
Next 35 k.w.h. 5.5 cents k.w.h.
Next 140 k.w.h. 3.3 cents k.w.h.
Next 60 k.w.h. 2.2 cents k.w.h.
All over 200 k.w.h. 2.0 cents k.w.h.

There is a minimum charge of $1 a meter a month.

In Rockville Centre the rates for home consumption follow:

First 40 k.w.h. 7 cents k.w.h.
Next 70 k.w.h. 3 cents k.w.h.
Next 90 k.w.h. 3 cents k.w.h.
All over 200 k.w.h. 2 cents k.w.h.

The minimum here also is $1 a meter a month. In both villages commercial rates have a minimum, and contain a charge for connected motor load, measured in horsepower.

Lad Operates Own Maple Sugar Plant

Clifton Lynes, twelve years old, is shown here at work on his own maple sugar evaporator which he built out of a bed frame. He has hung his buckets on the trees along the roadside. Clifton tends his own fires, boils his sap and chafes his syrup. He hopes some day to be in the business in a big way.

Aged Sisters See A 'Movie' For 1st Time

70-Year-Olds Sit In Rapt Silence During Show

Moving pictures gained two star war admirals last week when two sisters, one 73 and the other 76, sat in rapt silence as they watched a "movie" for the first time in their lives.

The two women are the Misses Elizabeth and Kate Woods, residents of Sea Cliff. Because a neighbor, Mrs. Robert Soder, learned they had never seen a film, she took them to see "David Copperfield" at a Glen Cove Theatre. The two sisters watched the performance with increasing admiration. An animated cartoon brought a series of chuckles from them and when it had concluded they were reluctant to leave.

The Misses Woods have been residents of Sea Cliff for 50 years. Born in England, they came to this country with their uncle, the late Henry Wardell, one of that village's early settlers.

Arch Holds 51st Dinner

Library Observed Wesley Congregation

Over 70 residents of East Amherst attended the 51st annual dinner which was served in the school room Friday evening.

The Rev. Vinton E. Ziegler acted as toastmaster and speaker of the evening.

Charles M. Moore, pastor, presided at the dinner.

Downing, treasurer of the church, read the budget for 1935 and appealed to the congregation for support.

The amount for this year is $2,629. The presentation of the birthday cover, made by Mrs. Sarah Van Hook, was the feature of the evening.

Mrs. Edward Kimball, organist and pianist, and Miss Steiner served as general of the committee in arrangements.

The committee is composed of the following: Miss Steiner, chairman; Kathryn and Agnes Voorhees, Alice Hazel Terry, Bessie Joyce, Vernon and Leticia Gable, Richard Willis, Vinton E. Ziegler, Charles Hardenburg, Sarah Wright, decor-

List an INTEREST ACCOUNT among your Best Investments

An interest account is not in the truest sense, a competitor of any other safe form of investment, it is the bubbling spring which feeds all other investments.

Nevertheless, an interest account belongs well toward the top of any list of desirable investments today. It is safe—each depositor is fully insured up to $5,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. It is quickly available in case of need. It earns a fair rate of interest that is consistent with the safety, availability and service provided.

TERA Closes Meat Plant At Glen Cove

Carl Davis, Manager, Nabbed On Forgery Charges

The TERA meat-distributing plant in Glen Cove will be closed tonight by order of Raymond Holsen, director of Nassau County Relief, it was learned from an authoritative source this morning. It is believed that the shut-down is the result of the recent investigation which disclosed irregularities in the management of the plant.

Carl M. Davis, superintendent of the TERA meat distributing plant in Glen Cove, was admitted to $2,500 bail Monday by County Judge Johnson following his arrest Saturday on a charge of third-degree forgery in connection with the disposal of $130 in veal waste. He will await action of the Nassau County grand jury.

The charges are being pressed by District Attorney Martin W. Littleton who will attempt to prove that Davis made false and improper entries of money received from the sale of scrap veal. He was arraigned on Saturday before City Judge Reginald Moore of Glen Cove.

Superintendent Davis is 36 years old and lives at 62 Court House Road, Franklin Square, L. I. He is married and the father of four children, and has been in charge of the Glen Cove plant since its opening last January. The plant distributes meals supplied by the Federal Government to substations in Nassau and Suffolk Counties.

Davis was questioned for several hours by Mr. Littleton Saturday night and confessed, the District Attorney said, that he had recouped himself for expenses entailed in the opening of the plant and the purchase of whisky for employees who were forced to work overtime. He is said to have pocketed $130 during the past 10 weeks.

According to District Attorney Littleton, Davis sold the waste veal and soap company of Long Island City despite the fact that TERA had contracted to sell the scrap meat to the Mont-Van Iderstine company of Brooklyn for 25 cents a hundred pounds. Davis, it is said, covered his tracks for a time by selling to both companies, entering the legitimate sales on the company books and making no mention of his dealings with the Long Island City concern. Nothing was at first suspected, it was declared, for the amount of waste far exceeded the estimates.

Mr. Littleton brought out in the case that the Van Iderstine company had acted in good faith in its dealings with Davis thinking he had the power to dispose of the waste.

Davis was lodged in the county jail in Mineola Saturday night and remained there until bail was fixed by Judge Johnston Monday.

Almost 100 pieces of property between 34th and 42nd Streets and near the Hudson was purchased by the Port Authority at a cost between four and five millions. They're preparing the right of way for the new Hudson River tunnel to run from 34th and 39th Streets to New Jersey. Demolition has already been started.

CLOSEUPS

"The Little Minister," which comes to the Strand Theatre in Farmingdale the end of the week, gives Katherine Hepburn a role she has always wanted on the screen. She was so interested in the work, she made a separate film on 16 mm for her own use. The picture also includes intimate shots of the process of taking the picture and talks between Miss Hepburn and her associates.

Gary Cooper, star of "Lives of a Bengal Lancer" at the Playhouse Theatre in Hicksville, has no use for "extras or doubles." In the film there are a number of dangerous scenes in which hard riding and shooting are necessary. Mr. Cooper, despite objections of the nervous production manager, insisted in taking all the chances himself.

"This is the first role in many months in which I have had the opportunity to show how I can ride. Persons are wont to forget that I was brought up on a Montana ranch," the star said. He is a product of the wild and woolly West.

Shirley Temple, star of "Little Colonel" film at the Bay Shore Theatre this week, has two distinctions. She is one of the only persons in the flicker capital who has risen to stardom in two months, and she is one of the few who can't read. In her spare time, away from professional duties, she plays with blocks. Bill Robinson, kingpin of tap dancers of the amusement world, does his famous stair dance in a scene of the picture.

George Murphy, the newcomer star of "I'll Love You Always," has a record at the Regent. He is one of a team of famous ballroom dancers. He refused to change his name when he entered pictures. He was born in New Haven and graduated from Yale as a mining engineer. He was offered a dancing part in "Good News" and had a week was up on the lead role in the London version of the musical, although he knew nothing of make-up or acting. His classmates at Yale were Rudy Vallee and Peter Arno.

LET THE TELEPHONE HELP YOU

Thousands of women, pressed for time or in an emergency, now buy everyday household needs by telephone. They have more time to attend to their other urgent duties because they telephone to grocer, druggist or butcher whenever it's inconvenient to go in person.

On your next busy day try the telephone to order your daily supplies and other needs from the stores.

Telephone shopping isn't either, to everyday staples often buy many other things. The next time you go to the store and have a thousand and one things to look after, perhaps the telephone help you in making your purchases.

Or if you see a sale advertisement get down to the store, and pick up your telephone.

It is doubtful whether or not Farmingdale residents will follow the lead of Miss Inez Courtney, motion picture star who seeks to rebranding the game of golf, when the new courses at Belpage Farm all over the county. Such a system as here pictured is not altogether fantastic. With the many improvements and changes to Park open the end of May. # Thompson and Esquirol Clash On 'Ripper' Bill

'Political Racket' Suffolk Senator Labels Measures

CHAMBER BOILS DURING DEBATE

Act Calling For Public Budget Hearing Attacked

(Albany, March 27)—Late this afternoon the Senate chamber boiled as first blood was drawn in a battle between Senators Thompson and Esquirol over the deign of Nassau County bills. Seven of these measures under the sponsorship of Joseph Esquirol, Queens Democrat, were on the general order calendar and seven more are to come. They were advanced by a party vote of 22 to 16. Although the verbal spar was chiefly between the Brooklyn representative and George L. Thompson, Republican of Suffolk and Nassau Counties, other party members joined in, including Majority Leader John J. Dunningan and Minority Leader George R. Pearson. Senator Thompson vigorously opposed the initial bill to call for a public hearing on Nassau's annual budget and denounced the smallness of politics by Esquirol for treating on another man's represented territory in legislating for him. Learning that of the thousands whom he represented, Thompson said that not one was in favor of such measures. A personal angle was brought in because of the fact that Esquirol's brother failed to win a position in Nassau County during the last election. This senator assured the group that nothing due to their relationship had any bearing on the matter, to which Pearson retorted, "Excuse me if I laugh."

Defending his action for backing such measures, Esquirol declared that he had done so on request of the Nassau County Democratic leader after Thompson had declined to sponsor these measures.

He was answered that only one bill had been given him for introduction, for which Esquirol apologized if accusations had been false.

Thompson then asked Esquirol if he believed in home rule. The answer was "Certainly, sir."

Denouncing the measures as a political racket, Thompson then asserted that the people will defend the measure by referendum regardless of their final passage in Albany and that the Republican party will still rule in this county.

Charges were made against Thompson by his opponent of interfering with previous local legislation regarding Buffalo and New York City. Pearson took up the fight here and declared that in

Hall Scores Laugh In Tense Debate On Reapportionment

Albany, March 27—Assemblyman Leonard W. Hall scored the laugh of the day during the tense debate on reapportionment. It seems that Maurice A. Fitzgerald, Queens Democratic assemblyman during his defense of the reapportionment measures, was charging the Nassau representatives to give any good reason why they would not vote in favor of the bills inasmuch as Nassau would gain materially because of an additional assemblyman and a senator of its own. Rising briskly, Mr. Hall answered, "We already have three assemblymen; Mr. McNamara is the third." It will be remembered that McNamara is the Queens member who has sponsored the legislative bills that seriously affect Nassau County politically.

These instances measures had been introduced by the duly elected representatives of these cities, and that voting on the bills was merely a normal procedure.

Esquirol offered to kill all his bills if Thompson would sponsor new ones. The answer was that Thompson would on condition he received a resolution adopted by the county board of supervisors.

Thompson said he would not do this, but he would support the reply, "Deep down in his heart," stated Thompson on his conclusion, "The senator would be against the whole series of bills."

Results of Council Work Outlined at Conference

Several members of the Nassau County traffic survey attended the sixth annual Greater New York Safety Conference, held in the Hotel Pennsylvania, New York City, during the past week.

The conference is sponsored by the National Safety Council in cooperation with the National Bureau of Casual and Surety Underwriters, the American Society of Safety Engineers and a large group of organizations interested in safety.

Of particular interest to the members of the traffic survey were the discussions on "Highway Safety," "Highway Engineering" and "Safety Education," presented by traffic engineers of national reputation and prominent men who are authorities in their particular fields.

Skidmore Speaks

Nassau County was represented by Chief Abram Skidmore, who gave an address Wednesday morning outlining the "Traffic Situation in Nassau County and the Problems Confronting the Nassau County Police."

Chief Skidmore spoke of the efforts which have been made to establish uniform regulations and uniform traffic enforcement throughout the county and the difficulty of co-ordinating the efforts of the 65 incorporated villages of the county and the 35 individual police departments which operate in addition to the Nassau County police department.

E. W. James of the United States Bureau of Public Roads, commented on the fact that traffic engineering was a new line of work which has grown up in the last few years. Mr. James stated that the work of making the roads of the nation safe was necessarily based on the accident records of those roads and a scientific analysis of these records, in order to disclose the improvements necessary to eliminate and prevent these accidents. His conclusion was that the responsibility for accidents lay in the final analysis with the driver and that, therefore, the greatest amount of good could be accomplished by educating the driver to realize this responsibility.

Marcus Dow of the Greyhound Bus Company spoke on the "Right of Way Versus the Right to Live." He stated that the rule of courtesy would eliminate 50 per cent of automobile accidents, if followed.

Newspapers Helped

Marken Pez of the "Editor and Publisher" told the part which the newspapers were playing in making the public safety minded. He emphasized the problem of arousing people to a consciousness of accidents and safety before they were exposed to danger and gave examples of work done by newspapers in all sections of the country. Other speakers brought out the fact that the marked increase in deaths and injuries by automobiles were due to the inability of the average driver to handle the new light high-powered automobiles now on the market, and the need for Safety Education. Campaigns to keep before the public the constant need for caution on the roads today.

The subject of safety education in the schools was very interestingly covered in a meeting on Thursday afternoon in the Grand Ballroom of the hotel and demonstrations of actual safety education lessons were presented by children from schools in New Jersey and New York City. Talks were given by Dr. Allan G. Treland of the New Jersey State department of schools; by Lieutenant James Nolan of the New York police department; J. R. Crossley, vice-president of the New York Automobile Club and others, emphasizing the need for a course of safety instructions as a regular part of the school curriculum and showing how accidents and injuries to children have been actually reduced in communities where this has been done. Long Island was well represented at the meetings by delegates from many of the Nassau County Parent-Teacher Associations. A special invitation to these associations and to schools was sent out about two weeks ago by the traffic survey, at the suggestion of Miss Florence Nelson, editor of "Safety Education."

This was of particular interest to the traffic survey in view of the safety crusade which they conducted among the schools in Nassau County last year which resulted in an actual reduction of accidents to school children in the face of the rising tide of injuries and deaths throughout the United States in 1934.

TO STUDY NEW DEAL

H. G. Wells, noted English author, is visiting the United States to get a close view of the workings of the New Deal. He was a luncheon guest of President Roosevelt at the White House recently.

No Need for Old Eyes to Suffer While Youth Is S

By Jean Prentice

"YOUTH will be served," says a well-known adage. But most fair-minded people will agree that old eyes need not be sacrificed in the process. For with a little common sense in the arrangement of lamps and furniture, proper provision may be made for old eyes as well as young.

Watch Eye-Comfort Zones

In the upper left illustration, the tell-tale line of light shows the end of the eye-comfort zone as clearly as a river bank shows where the water ends. It reveals that while little Betty has ample illumination, poor old "Granny" has very little; not nearly enough for eyes that have become dulled by age and abuse. Of course,

Grammy knows that she isn't getting enough light, but then, age is tolerant of youth's demands, isn't it?

Too often we go on the basis that just enough light to see by is enough for our needs. That is one reason why eye defects are so prevalent today. We sometimes overlook the fact that our eyes, in order to see clearly, need an abundance of glareless light far more than we usually give them.

Two Lamps Give Balanced Arrangement

It is unreasonable to expect one lone lamp to provide enough light for two people seated on a divan, unless that piece of furniture is placed away from the wall—alongside a fireplace, for example—in which case it should be placed at the rear center. Any other position besides being wrong from a lighting standpoint, is an unbalanced arrangement.

Light Stands

A really sensible divan situated against a wall in the upper right illustration, with two 60-watt lamps, cannot be expected to give the amount of light that a "dimby" but really do a good illumination. Note the shades are quite light and they help to diffuse the light so that it is even and it opens up the room, and provides the "evening" effect, representing

Easter Service At Todd Estate

The general committee on arrangements which met recently has decided that an Easter dawn service shall be held again this year at Colonel H. Stanley Todd's estate, Dix Hills, Huntington, beginning at sunrise and continuing for one hour. Eight trumpeters will sound the call to worship at 5:14 o'clock.

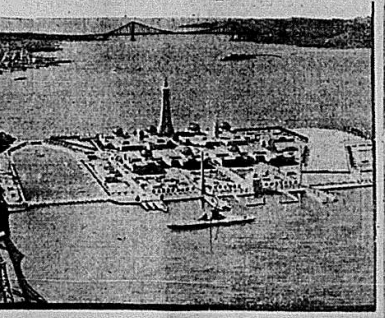

A speaker of wide reputation will deliver the Easter message and a great chorus, under the direction of Devitt Durgin Lath of Brooklyn, will provide special music with a soloist of national prominence singing the aria.

Thompson's leading transportation expert will supervise the traffic so that there may be no delay in arriving at the place of service. It will begin promptly at the appointed hour regardless of weather conditions.

Colonel Todd's estate may be reached by following Jericho Turnpike to a point approximately one mile east of Route 110 (New York Avenue, South Huntington). At Anderson's gas station, turn right on Old County Road, on which signs will be placed indicating direction of the estate. The estate lies one-half mile south of the turnpike.

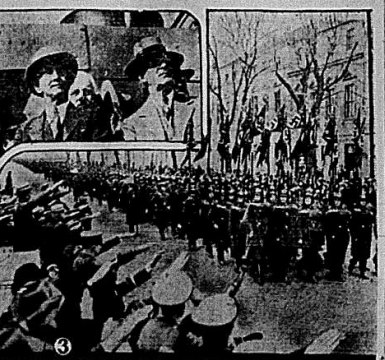

Thompson's leading transportation expert will supervise the traffic so that there may be no delay in arriving at the place of service. It will begin promptly at the appointed hour regardless of weather conditions.

San Francisco Bridges and Exposition

The site selected for the San Francisco exposition of 1935 is a small lying beside Yerba Buena Island in San Francisco bay. The bridge across the bay, eight and one-fourth miles long, will provide access to the exposition. The Golden Gate bridge, a little more than one mile in length, faces the exposition grounds looking toward the Pacific ocean. The picture shows an architect's drawing of the coming big fair.

Edwards Urges End Of Unpaid Fire Systems

Former District Attorney Would Also Abolish Village Police

A recommendation to abolish volunteer fire departments, village police departments, and the office of sheriff was presented to the Nassau County Commission for charter revision at Mineola on Friday, March 22, by Former District Attorney Edwin N. Edwards.

Mr. Edwards declared that the volunteer fire groups were created mainly for social and political reasons and that the village police departments seriously hampered the effective operation of the county unit.

Federal Loans On Homes Are Made Available

Long-Term Funds Can Be Secured, Fahey Declares

More than 500,000 urban home owners whose short-term mortgages fall due this year are entitled to the refinancing of these obligations as long-term amortized loans, John E. Fahey, chairman of the Federal Home Loan Bank board, declared in a statement issued this week.

Mr. Fahey's statement points out that long-term funds are now available through private lending agencies. Among these agencies he stresses particularly the 3,180 member institutions of the Federal Home Loan Bank System, with its current reserves of nearly $180,000,000 which is at the disposal of members for home owners seeking loans.

"Nearly $2,000,000,000 in short-term mortgages, representing some 600,000 city homes, mature in 1935. Many borrowers under present conditions find it difficult to make the large lump sum payments required on the loans. Such a home owner will readily see the advantage of refinancing the troublesome loan now falling due by means of a new long-term mortgage, which he can pay off over a term of from seven to 15 years in small monthly installments each combining a partial payment on principal with interest on the unpaid balance.

Island Group Starts Clean-up

Chamber Of Commerce Wants "Before And After" Photos

Inaugurating its fourth annual spring clean-up campaign, the Roadside Committee of the Long Island Chamber of Commerce and its 48 co-operating organizations are appealing for active community effort to make Long Island ple and span.

According to the Roadside Committee, there is no better time to clear away old piles of junk and debris along the highways, in vacant lots, around abandoned buildings, and behind the bill boards, than during the month of April. Joint effort between town and village officials and local organizations to bring about the removal of waste materials from roadsides and private property is urged for better health, safety, against fire, and community attractiveness.

"Outdoor cleanliness," said Grover O'Neill, Chairman of the Roadside Committee, "is the best indication of community pride. In past years the great majority of communities on Long Island have vigorously conducted a clean-up campaign. School students, boy and girl scouts and neighborhood civi groups can quickly initiate clean-up campaigns with the help of Village, Town and County officials who are always ready to respond to public demand of this kind."

"The Roadside Committee of the Long Island Chamber of Commerce will purchase at $1 each all "before and after" photographs made by school students showing localities made unsightly by dump heaps, debris or waste materials, on either public or private property, before removal and after the clean-up operation. Also, photographs of local groups actively engaged in clean-up operations. The photographs must be clear prints suitable for reproduction."

Nassau Firemen Against Change In Present System

Volunteers Desire To Retain Individual Departments Under New Charter, Lister Declares

Volunteer firemen in Nassau County are a unit in their opposition to proposals to change the present system and have made their opposition known to three county commissions on governmental reform. The ideas of the firemen were brought before the commissioner W. Harry Lister, representing the Nassau County Fire Chief's Council, the Nassau County Volunteer Firemen's Association, the North Shore Fire Council and the South Shore Volunteer Fire Department Association.

Three major issues are involved: 1. Structure: The set-up of the department is good and should not be changed under any government. 2. Fire Prevention: All believe in the establishment of a county bureau for fire prevention, although no definite plans have been formed. Seventy-five per cent of a fireman's work is preventing blazes; fighting them, 25 per cent.

3. New Positions: If any prevention bureau posts are created, they should be civil service jobs, and at least five years' association with a volunteer fire department required. Chief Lister told the commission that the firemen desire to retain the individual departments, believing that such would cost the taxpayers less.

Duplication of the work of the fire departments is negligible, said Lister, in commenting on the report of Dr. Thomas H. Reid, which asserted that some of the 65 organizations in Nassau County overlap each other. Lister also declared that the efficiency of the present system has brought insurance rates down to 80 per cent of what they are in Queens, where all firemen are paid.

In explaining the partly paid department in Garden City, Chief George Clough said that because most of the residents are commuters, who are absent from the village

Oyster Bay A. A. Trounces The North Shore Champions

Takes Mineola By Storm; Shows Definite Superiority

Bay Team Registers For Second Time Over County Seat Titleholders; Wins By A 36-26 Count

By FRANK RICHARDSON
Township Press Staff Writer

The Oyster Bay A. A. definitely stamped itself as the outstanding team of the North Shore despite its loss of the championship by turning loose on the Mineola A. A. cagers with an exhibition of basketball that took the county seat aggregation by storm and defeated them for the third time this season by a 36-26 count on Saturday evening before a crowd of spectators at the Oyster Bay high school court.

Qualifying for the second place playoffs and missing the crown by a half game the red and blue marksmen functioned with a smoothness that was superior to the Mineola leather leasers. It was the second defeat administered by the Baymen while Manhasset had previously toppled them.

The highly favored Mineola A. A. although managing to keep the score close in the early minutes of the game was unable to threaten the determined Bay courtiers thereafter. In the first quarter the losers held the edge 7-4. But from this point on the Chris Donoghue coached crew took big strides and left the Mineola hoopers in the dust which they lead.

Lead A Half
Oyster Bay had a substantial lead 19-9 when the affair rounded the halfway mark. Mineola tried desperately to rally as they entered the final stretch but the Donoghue-coached crew was too good for them. In the third quarter they drew to an end the Oyster Bay leads had made up for the break in their long winning streak.

Gain Playoffs
The Oyster Bay team earned the right to meet the Hempstead Alumni for the second place honors in the county in the championship playoffs to be played at the Mitchell Field gymnasium on Wednesday and Friday. A third game if necessary will be played on Saturday since the event is decided by the best two out of three games.

By taking the champions into camp on Saturday the Oyster Bay team clinaxed one of the most remarkable come-backs in the history of the Amateur League competition. After losing their first three league engagements the A. A. outfit proceeded to win 12 straight games, only two of which were non-league affairs.

Strain Tells
But the strain was too much and the Baymen lost their opportunity to tie the Mineola quintet for first place by dropping a 26-24 decision to the Manhasset Red Birds who earned quite an enviable record for themselves by causing a number of upsets after a similar bad start.

It is generally conceded that the present wearers of the North Shore crown are not the better players of Oyster Bay but by one point to the Roanoke Casays in their first game of the year and by the same margin to the Great Neck A. C. both teams which they took over in return engagements. The latter received a sound trouncing.

Manhasset Red Birds Take All-Star Court

High School's Best Defeated By 35-32 Tally

Birdmen Rally In Overtime Session For Victory

The Manhasset Red Birds continued their winning ways to halt a determined aggregation of school stars in a thrilling overtime session on Friday night on the Port Washington high school court. The final count 35-32.

The lead see-sawed back and forth several times as the game drew to an end. In the final seconds the Red Birds tied the count and sent the ball into overtime. They then proceeded to clinch the affair by bagging three fouls and a field goal.

Platt Stars
Platt who was a constant thorn in the side of the high school stars accounted for the final markers that sealed the fate of the school-boys.

Pat Rooney high scorer of the school, manager and captain of the Glen Cove high school team led both teams with a total of 13 markers. His loss by substitution opened the way for the Birdmen.

Strength Doubtful
Whether the team this season will be able to uphold these honors is doubtful. A fine array of junior wright competitors are available but the open division is lacking in experienced performers. The following lettermen are available for the team this year: Junior wright, Anthony Abbatte, Charles Mazzara, Francis Mirson, Ignazio Parzone and Leslie Smith. Senior division, Captain Frank Homeyman, John Agostinello, Thomas Armstrong and Tullio Donist. In addition to these veterans several others with experience and a large number of newcomers are included in the squad.

The junior weight candidates include Van Dyke Ogo, Louis Conover, Joseph Alfano, Edmond Ashby, Stuart Maloney, William Watson, Eugene Borry, Robert Samuels, John Minkozzi, Thomas DeLain, Walter Borrodi and George Dehn.

In the senior division aside from the four veterans the following reported: John Adamsky, Richard Armstrong, William Ashby, John

Manhasset Ten To Open Play

Will Face Nassau Club Team On Thursday In Opener

The Manhasset High School lacrosse team is ready for its opening game on Thursday when it will meet the Nassau Lacrosse Club at the High School field, Jason Stranahan, Indian coach, said today.

The Orange and Blue stickmen have been holding daily practice this week. Prior to that, bi-weekly sessions were held for nearly two weeks. The results is that the Indian team-play is nearly up to mid-season standard.

Stranahan, although coach of the High School team, will play against his charges as an attack man for the Nassau team. Grant and Eddy Alesh, co-captains, will lead the Indians.

SMATTER POP—A Right Time For Everything

Jersey Farmers Edge Williston Park Boys

Desperate Rally Falls Short Of Victory As Win 31-27 On Park School Court

The Jersey Farmers Williston Boys club overcame a Saturday night setback on the Park Avenue court to edge the Park Avenue team by a 31-27 tally. The Farmers made a bang in the first half by winning the first stretch by 8-6 as they rounded off the second stretch.

Williston staged a desperate rally in the last half of the game but the sharpshooters and Schrader soon took advantage and placed the lead in front 16-12 as the half blew.

The home team was led by Distel, players on Casey outfit, who fought to over come the 27-18 score.

Nose Out Lipsky Quintet 46-43 In Final Quarter

The Great Neck Journalists on Friday night, paced by Steve Yusk who scored 18 points, turned back the Great Neck Outlaws 46-43 at the Arrandale School court. Pip Lipsky, Outlaw leader, pressed hard for scoring honors by netting eight field goals and two foul conversions for a total of 18 points.

Although three of their regular players were missing from the lineup at the outset, the Newsman gained a 14-4 lead at the quarter. In the second period the Bandits began to find the basket and knotted the count at 24-21 just as the half ended.

The Scoops unleashed a powerful offensive in the third quarter and took a 43-31 advantage at the three-quarter post. The Brigands, with Tony Gatsvinski and Lipsky in the van, opened up the full power of their attack and tied up the score at 43-43 within two minutes of the end of the game. Yusk sank a foul try and Frank Price dropped through a set shot as the game ended.

TOWARD A SETTLEMENT OF THE TOLL

Although Attorney General Bennett's adverse ruling in the Wantagh Causeway toll matter is disappointing to townspeople, there is some satisfaction in knowing that we are on the way now to a final settlement of the whole irritating business. As yet we have not seen a copy of the Attorney General's opinion. Indeed, all that has been made public is the Governor's terse note to the effect that the Jones Beach Park Authority had sufficient authorization in law to charge a toll over the Wantagh Causeway. Is this a fact or an evasion? Is the Governor merely trying to avoid becoming embroiled with the Long Island State Park Commission? More particularly, does he fear the loss of prestige which might result if an adverse opinion were interpreted as a reprisal aimed at Commissioner Robert Moses?

These are questions that only the Governor or the Attorney General can answer. But whatever the legal aspects of the case are, we are certain that the Town has every moral right on its side. There is no justice in compelling the Town of Oyster Bay to pay a fee to go over a road paid for by the people of the State to get to their own land. This is indefensible and it is absurd to attempt to justify it. And if the result of this litigation is favorable to the Town of Oyster Bay we might feel disposed to say some very kind things about it.

It is cheering news that the fees of Counselor Hurley, an expert in the legal issues at stake, will not exceed $1,500 and also that the case will not be drawn out. Litigation is not pleasant at any time, but when it is expensive and brief it is far less objectionable. And if the result of this litigation is favorable to the Town of Oyster Bay we might feel disposed to say some very kind things about it.

THE MASSAPEQUA PARK ELECTIONS

Along with Judge John W. Anderson and Peter F. Collieran, the candidates for mayor, the village of Massapequa Park has lost, we think, a great deal of prestige during the past few weeks. During that time Judge Anderson and Mr. Collieran have been opposing each other for mayor, and in doing so introduced into their campaigns threats, rumors and statements that can only be likened to the famous Estlin wall elections which are described at some length in Dickens' "Pickwick Papers."

A pamphlet issued by the Citizens' Party a few days before the election, for instance, describes Judge Anderson as being willing to "wreck, bankrupt and bring to ruin the village, just to keep his snout in the public trough a little longer," and then goes on, in an interesting if disgraceful fashion, to say just what it thinks of the other candidates. Nor was the Citizens' Party alone in conducting a mud-slinging and bitter campaign. Judge Anderson, speaking at a rally two weeks ago, accused his opponents of mismanagement, and a public fist fight between the two candidates was narrowly averted.

Amusing though they be, these stories of the campaign, which soon are heard all over the county, do little good to the village. Massapequa Park is a fairly new development, and enjoying its future prosperity on a "land boom" which is expected momentarily. But, even though the community is one of the most attractive in the county, people are not going to buy land and settle in a village that is in danger of becoming a laughingstock of the entire island.

CHARLES T. VINCENT

The literary world lost one of its finest characters with the death of Charles T. Vincent at his Red Springs Lane home in Glen Cove last Thursday.

Known far and wide as a playwright and actor of note, Mr. Vincent achieved his success through hard work, an amiable, kindly nature, and genuine merit. Born in England, he saw much of the world in early childhood. At the age of 17 he left Australia coming to America to make his permanent residence in this country. In California he spent his early manhood taking an active part in the amateur theatrical enterprises of that city, laying the foundation for the brilliant career which was to follow.

A few years later fame came to him when he produced his first play, "A Crossed Window," which he presented himself at St. Paul's in Manhattan in 1887. There followed in rapid succession a series of others, but the play which placed him high in the ranks of contemporary playwrights was "The Man From Mexico." It was written for William Collier and later made into a musical show for Eddie Foy.

It is said that there would be a lot more radio crooners available if the doctors had not learned to remove adenoids.

If Mussolini and the king of Abyssinia could settle their difficulties with a dice game there isn't much question as to who would win.

The Government You Keep

SPEAK NOW

While bills are pending in Committee it is the time for citizens to express themselves frankly to their representatives in Congress. So great is the pressure of organized bodies, and the Administration to achieve their purpose regardless of the welfare of the nation as a whole, that it is advantageous for every Congressman to know that he can rely on the support of his constituents if they express their views, in the form of resolutions and threats and acts according to his present convictions. The nature of the legislation now being considered is such as to materially change the whole course of our country.

EMPTY PROMISES

H. J. Resolution 117: The misplaced relief bill has had very little lobbying either for or against, in spite of the fact that it is adding to the largest appropriation in the history of the world to the greatest deficit in the history of the world. The Senate returned it to the House with thirty amendments, including the Thomas silver amendment—which they allowed to pass when Senator Thomas threatened to talk until they were tired. It is confident that it would be struck out in conference. When it reached the House, according to the customary procedure Chairman Buchanan asked for unanimous consent to disagree to the amendments, and to delay matters so they refused consent. It will now be brought up in the House on a special rule and passed in conference. As usual when a bill is amended on the floor, and it will have to be rewritten, but within the hour of the original version, which the Administration wanted, and the Senate Bill. No new matter can be injected.

The bill appropriates four billion dollars for the purchase of Treasury bill otherwise appropriated to be immediately available until June 30, 1937, in addition to $300,000,000 for the R. R. C. and $329,000,000 of such unexpended balances of sundry revenues of the government, and to be expended for other purposes than running the government. Approximately five times the revenues from income taxes.

In the fiscal year 1932 the revenue from income taxes exceeded the total of the public debt by $355,000,000. In the fiscal year 1934 the case was reversed. In 1931 receipts from income taxes were $2,275,000,000. Shrunken income increased debt destruction of taxable income. Increased number of public charges $3,715,000,000. Increased unemployment industrial production is the net result of the New Deal's policies so far. They now propose to ignore their own experience and to repeat the same process on a larger scale, showing the spirit of the inveterate gambler, with the difference that they are gambling with other people's money.

The President does not attempt to conceal his elation at having the stupendous sum to spend and to have the "biggest loan in the world." However, it is because they realize that the time is coming when the banks will no longer carry government bonds which are "as good as United States gold," and when even the Baby Bonds will be looked at suspiciously, that the Administration has taken the "war" Act to gain control of credit. It is not sufficient for the American Bankers' Association to object to the sections which put the banks under political control. They will be accused by the President of "operating propaganda," all citizens should voice their opinions. If we are going to have government by propaganda why not have the radio things? Let the common sense of the real American prevail.

REDISTRIBUTION OF GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTIONS

These bills are intended to redistribute the income of the United States Government in the fiscal year 1934 which was $2,700,000,000. Senator Tydings asked the pertinent question as to how long we were going to take money which we have not got, to use for a purpose such as this, and expressed the belief that the problem of the employment could not be solved in this way, and not a Senator ventured to deny that in two years from now we would be faced with the same situation. Senator Adams emphasized that the primary object should be to get men back to their own jobs in private industry. We cannot encourage industry and capital and commerce by piling up debts and pursuing fiscal policies which threaten the credit of the country.

The cost of relief now is $38 a second, $4,500 a minute, $268,000 a day, $7,740,000 a week, $330,000,000 a month. After two years of this totaling $3,208,000,000 spent of Federal, State and local funds there are $2,275,000,000 dependent on Federal relief. Skilled workmen constitute 43.9 percent of the total on relief, semi-skilled 15.2 percent, laborers 8.6 percent. Transportation is a fair method of distribution. It is obvious that this tremendous expenditure will not even scratch the surface. How many more will put out of the work the "biggest loan in the world" on the utilities takes care of.

One suggestion was to allocate the relief appropriation to each state on the basis of the unemployment. The taxpayers of Nassau County to dedicate its share of the fund to whatever direct relief and work-relief program may be of its problem. This not only seems to be a fair method of distribution, but all persons would be cared for.

SAVES YOURSELVES

The President does not attempt to conceal his elation at having the stupendous sum to spend and to have the "biggest loan in the world." However, it is because they realize that the time is coming when the banks will no longer carry government bonds which are "as good as United States gold," and when even the Baby Bonds will be looked at suspiciously, that the Administration has taken the "war" Act to gain control of credit. It is not sufficient for the American Bankers' Association to object to the sections which put the banks under political control. They will be accused by the President of "operating propaganda," all citizens should voice their opinions. If we are going to have government by propaganda why not have the radio things? Let the common sense of the real American prevail.

No More Cemeteries

To the Editor:
Each year a group from the metropolitan district attempt to create by act of the legislature an increase of cemetery in Nassau County. The bills this year would add 200 acres to a Jewish cemetery already consisting of 230 acres.

These bills now before the legislature at Albany, were introduced by Senator Esquirol of Brooklyn, Bill No. 147, and Senator Mandelbaum of New York City, Bill No. 1392.

The supervisors and residents of Nassau County have not been consulted as to the need for increase in cemetery acreage. These bills are being introduced in violation of the protests of the taxpayers and Nassau County supervisors, to override the law that was passed in 1913 that no additional cemeteries shall be located in Nassau County. There are 65 cemeteries in Nassau County that will provide burial for the next 100 years.

Why do New York City legislators attempt every year to establish additional Jewish cemeteries in Nassau County despite our opposition? It would appear that these bills are being introduced in violation of the law of the legislature passed on the day of the legislative session, are trying to slip these bills through at the 11th hour, hoping that the citizens of Nassau County will not be warned and prevent them from becoming a law.

Not alone are these bills detrimental to Nassau County but additional cemeteries located in Nassau County would be injurious to the health of the residents of the City of New York. (Along the western border of Nassau County there are a number of pumping stations of the City of New York water department, pumping water from underground wells to be used by the residents of the City of New York. These pumping stations will further contaminate the water supply and create a dangerous menace to the health of New York residents whose water supply comes through these pumping stations.)

The legal department of the City of New York is taking steps to protect against the passage of these bills. The taxpayers of Nassau County should protest vigorously against the passage of these bills which propose to create more cemeteries in Nassau County. This cemetery land, this cemetery, will further increase the taxes of Nassau County taxpayers.

Nassau County has been closed for over 20 years against additional cemeteries. Civic organizations, the board of health and county supervisors should in a body protest against the passage of these bills and continue on the firing line until these pernicious bills are killed.

Ideas About Things

By CHARLES W. SMITH

"Who Shall Lead Us?"
The Herbert Hoover "sound-off" (not "call-to-arms," as National Chairman Fletcher would have it) during last week-end was all right so far as it went. Everything the former President emphasized was based on fundamental truth.

There is no question in the minds of either the G. O. P. or the Democrats as to the day of its formation, as the party most truly representative of the "American Spirit" and the American people.

It may be true, also, that Mr. Hoover "never had a fair chance when he was President," and that, as some claim, we would now be well on the road to Recovery had he been re-elected in 1932.

But, so far as one obscure observer from the remote fastnesses of Nassau is able to analyze sentiment on National issues, we must look elsewhere for the quality of leadership that might spell Republican victory in the 1936 Presidential election.

Blatant denunciation of the New Deal and all its works is not enough, nor mere recapitulation of past issues and traditional principles. These are already taken for granted by every Republican old and young.

Not for the first time by any means, the Oyster Bay Guardian last week presented an editorial opinion well worth the consideration of the Town Council and subsequent action along the lines indicated.

The Story of the Bible Told in Pictures

Esau Sells His Birthright to Jacob.—Isaac was forty years old when he took Rebekah to wife. When Rebekah had no children, Isaac prayed to the Lord, and the Lord declared to Rebekah that she would serve the younger. And Rebekah became the mother of twins, the elder one being called Esau and the younger one Jacob. "And the boys grew and Esau was a cunning hunter, a man of the field; and Jacob was a plain man dwelling in tents. And Isaac loved Esau, because he did eat of his venison; but Rebekah loved Jacob. And Jacob sold potage; and Esau came from the field, and he was faint: and Esau said to Jacob, 'Edom. And Jacob said, Sell me this day thy birthright; and Esau said his birthright unto Jacob. Then Esau gave Esau bread and potage of lentiles; and he did eat and drink, and rose up, and went unto Esau, and Esau despised his birthright.'"—Gen. 25:27-34. One of a series of Bible pictures made by Merian in 1825.

Do You Know
That "pin money" is an expression that has been handed down to us from the earliest ages. The importation of pins into England was forbidden (1483) but Queen Catherine (of Aragon) received hers from France. They were very expensive and with the ladies "pin money" was a consideration.

Volcanoes of Mexico
All the great volcanoes of Mexico, dead and active, extend in a "battery" from Pacific to Atlantic, approximately along the nineteenth parallel.

Pure Carbon
Pure carbon exists in three modifications—amorphous (charcoal, lampblack, or coke), graphite, and diamond. Needless to say, the first form burns quite readily. The other two can be burned, but not under ordinary conditions. Compressed oxygen and a fairly high ignition temperature are usually necessary for their combustion. The heat given off in burning, however, is much the same for all three forms. The minerals or ash of coal contribute nothing to its heat value. The heat comes entirely from the oxidation of the coal's carbon and hydrogen, and chiefly from the former.

Commerce Men Will Promote Private Effort
Opposed to Farther Intrusion by the Government
The Board of Directors of the Long Island Chamber of Commerce, according to announcement by President Henry R. Swartzly, Jr. of Great Neck, has definitely taken a stand favoring the encouragement of private enterprise against further intrusion of Government into business.
At the Eighth Annual Meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber just held, a resolution was adopted which stated: "Increased production by private enterprise is vital to the economic recovery of the Nation and its general welfare. Private enterprise is the source of all the goods and services which the people of this Nation consume, and enlarged industrial and agricultural production must come from private enterprise, operating in the existing channels of production and distribution." The Officers of the Chamber have directed by the resolution to oppose all legislation "which discourages private initiative, restricts industrial enterprise, interferes with legitimate business production, depresses business levels, or increases the burden of taxation upon business."
In addition the Long Island Chamber Directors have announced opposition to the Wheeler-Rayburn Bill before Congress providing for federal control of public utility holding companies on the ground that its "drastic provisions would cause enormous loss to investors and seriously affect the economies of the Nation." The resolution stated that "such unrestricted regulatory and reform legislation proposed by the Federal Administration is destroying public confidence and creating fear of further extensions of centralized federal power in business."
The Chamber Directors also endorsed the proposal of Assemblyman Hamilton F. Potter of Suffolk County to have a joint committee created to undertake, under the supervision of the New York State Museum, a survey of Long Island for historical purposes and the preservation of the Long Island Railroad and industrial history in the State Museum.
The Directors of the Chamber elected F. H. Woodward as Treasurer to fill the unexpired term of former Treasurer, John S. Howe of Riverhead, who had resigned Mr. Woodward, Special Representative of the City of Glen Cove and a Director at Large in the Chamber representing Suffolk County, was one of the original organizers of the Chamber of Commerce. Swartzly's report to the Directors indicated improving business conditions throughout the Island and an increase in population in many communities due to the improved highway and transportation facilities which have been provided in the last eighteen months. Mr. Swartzly predicted a steady increase in business and population for Long Island. He cited the increased number of inquiries about Long Island received at the Chamber's headquarters, Pennsylvania Terminal, as an indication.

Thomas Perkins, 54, Succumbs After Long Illness

A requiem mass was celebrated Tuesday morning at St. Boniface R. C. Church, Sea Cliff, for Thomas H. Perkins who died Saturday at his home at 135 Sea Cliff Avenue after a long illness. Burial was in Brookville Cemetery.

Mr. Perkins was 54 years old and was the son of the late Patrick and Katherine Gaffney Perkins. He had been a resident of this community all his life. He was employed in the City of Glen Cove Department of Public Works.

His widow, Mary O'Connor Perkins, survives.
Among those who attended funeral services on Saturday were Walter Hill and Alice Donaldson, formerly connected with Mr. Vincent's Glen Cove stock company; Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Coles, Franklin B. Coles, former district attorney; Mr. and Mrs. J. Lewiston Birdsell; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sleigh and Mrs. William Luyser.

HIS MOTHER
By ANNE CAMPBELL
ONCE, just as if she knew the years ran fast, His mother took his baby hand in hers. And in the attic way, where paint was fresh, She laid his hand. . . . Now, stealing that once he told me, in a quiet way, Of that remembered imprint of his hand. "To think it is still there, and mother or dead! And yet her love surrounds me still," he said.

C. T. Vincent Playwright Dead
Literary World Famed Glen Cove Author

Literary lights who paid tribute to the late C. T. Vincent, famed playwright, who died last night at his home in Glen Cove, N. Y., were the Dodge Funeral Home, Frank B. Cowan, First Presbyterian Church, and the Rev. Joseph B. Allen, pastor of Sea Cliff St. Luke's Episcopal Church.

Well known for a play which he had written, "The Man From Heenan Jack," he was the author of two other plays, "Cobalt" and "On the Edge of the World." Born in Brooklyn, he was the son of the late John and Caroline Vincent.

His play "The Man From Heenan Jack" was the first to be produced in California. He made his Broadway debut in "The Man From Heenan Jack" at the New York Theatre. He was a member of the Dramatists Guild of America and the Dramatists Club of New York.

At one time he was given a book and a play by the City of Glen Cove for his services of the community. His works were taken to the collection.
