Sixty Years Ago in Farmingdale

The following items were taken from copies of the Farmingdale Post for July, 1875: Mr. E. Woodruff of Hicksville has published a pamphlet in which he says information has been communicated to him in a vision of great physical changes to take place in about 60 years. He declares that during 21 days, commencing August 4, 1935, a new planet will be formed from a belt of matter thrown out from the sun, and a new moon from a belt of matter now surrounding the earth, and that then our present moon will be pushed further off. That the earth's atmosphere will be purified by the change, and that sickness from natural causes will be henceforth unknown. The changes are that all of those who prolong their existence until 1935 will be in a position to live forever.

On Friday night an attempt was made to enter a store on Main Street, but the attempt was futile, owing to the prompt appearance of the night watchman upon the scene, who hastily dispersed the gang and sent several leaden messengers after their fleeing forms.

Conklin V. Ketcham has the frame up for a two month old house, with addition. Barney Queen has also commenced work on his home on Elizabeth Street.

Mr. Editor: As a traveler I know that your paper goes into nearly every family on the island; I therefore ask that you do me a favor, which is to state that last week I lost from my wagon, or left in somebody's house, a bundle of hoop skirts. I am sure whoever has them will see this notice, and if he or she will return them to me, I will reward this act by making the finder a handsome Christmas present.

The child was taken immediately to the Nassau Hospital in Mineola by Motorcycle Patrolman Lawrence Duncan.

Crusaders Form Division, Hear Rogers In Oyster Bay

Meeting on the lawn at Rock Hill, home of Mrs. E. P. C. Lewis Cumming of Oyster Bay, Thursday afternoon, Nassau County women formed a division of the national organization of The Crusaders and planned a series of afternoon and evening rallies throughout the summer for the discussion of political and economic topics.

Sherman Rogers, Crusader orator, who spent many years as a lumber-jack, called attention to the oak trees on the side of the hill and stated that the Crusaders were exactly like them in one point: that the green aphid bug could destroy the oak that has stood a hundred and fifty years' list as seemingly innocent amendments could annihilate the Constitution. In the present case, he declared, the attempt being made to prevent the Supreme Court from passing on Congressional acts would make the political party in control of Congress the true dictator of America—that Congress would become in effect the Constitution. It is the Supreme Court which guarantees our liberties as defined by the Constitution, Mr. Rogers declared, saying that a situation had been reached which required the earnest attention of all those anxious to preserve American institutions.

"Calling someone Red or a Communist today has not the sting and the repugnance with which we regarded those terms a few years ago," he asserted. "That is a danger sign. America must make up to the dangers that so-called Brain Trusts, Left Wingers, and radicals in general are placing on the road before our orderly progress. In the period between 1936 and 1940 we will be engaged in the greatest struggle of our history to preserve our form of government unless a sudden hand is called upon to present national policies. For the first time the Constitution is placed in real jeopardy. This is the time when thoughtful leadership must exert itself. Radical forces, working ceaselessly, have seized a foothold in places high and low—largely because no one has come forward with the same vigor and enthusiasm, to lay the facts before the people. Just as Bill Haywood swept onward by dominant personal leadership and because no one, for years, hindered the real situation before his converts, so the radicals by distortion, half truths, untruths and intolerance, arrayed class against class, have been able to win not merely the nod of acquiescence but millions of cohorts; and in the meantime reactionary forces have been retarded by the lack of confidence growing out of political 'racketeering'."

Mr. Rogers declared that militant women—now so thoroughly poised on political and economic affairs—would be the most aggressive and forceful factors in the campaign. Similar groups of women, he went on, were rallying under Crusader auspices throughout the country. Charles Lindley and other Crusaders offered suggestions as to organization procedure. Every woman present signed The Crusader enrollment blank and by resolution Mrs. Cumming was asked to appoint an executive committee of five. Other divisions will be established throughout Long Island during the next few weeks.

A Lesson In Consistency

(In Regard To Piling Up Deficits And Incurring Money)

The Promise

"Let us have the courage to stop borrowing to meet continuing deficits. Stop the deficit!"

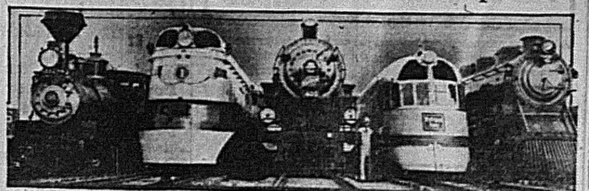

"Revenues must cover expenditures by one means or another. Any government, like any family, can for a year spend a little more than it earns. But you and I know that a continuation of that habit means the poorhouse.—Gov. Roosevelt, Albany, N. Y., July 20, 1932, in nationwide radio address endorsing the Democratic national platform.

The Performance

During its first two fiscal years, ending June 29, 1935, the Roosevelt administration piled up a deficit of $754,833,998. It has contracted the habit Governor Roosevelt stated "means the poorhouse." During the first 12 days of the current fiscal year it piled up an additional deficit of $335,310,000.

To meet these deficits the Roosevelt administration has in two years' time borrowed over $7,000,000,000.

Lymie And Connie Open Store Today

Lyman Van Nostrand and Conrad Outenberger, who have been Farmingdale residents all their respective lives, opened a Grocery and Delicatessen at 202 Main Street, today.

Both these boys are well known to Farmingdale shoppers as they have been working in Bohack's and Roulston's stores for the past seven years. Their friends are many and their following large, so the two boys have decided to see what they can do for themselves in a business enterprise. Numbered among their friends is David Roulston, president of Thomas Roulston's who visited the boys Wednesday as they were assembling their stock, and wished them success.

Connie and Lymie state emphatically that they can and will meet all their own needs and hope that their friends will stop in to see them at the new stand.

"HORSE SENSE"

Men in public office are presumably intelligent although at times we seriously question the assumption. But intelligence finds valuable support in what is commonly called "horse sense."

There is nothing this nation needs more than a few public officials who use it occasionally. We have in Nassau County District Attorney Martin W. Littleton who is as near an answer to our prayers as we have had thus far.

Recently Mr. Littleton declared: "A specialist is not required to tell when a man is drunk. A child can detect it." There is too much red tape when the police make an arrest, to establish as fact that a suspect was operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Not long ago it took almost an entire day to settle a case of this kind in the court of Justice Peter Beck.

A veil of technicalities too often conceals the guilt of a person and encourages a driver to take a chance. The charge is "easy to beat." And so the menace of drunken driving continues to increase and to be blamed entirely on the repeal of the prohibition law. A law because it is now non-existent is not responsible for the laxity in the enforcement of the present legal statutes.

Mr. Littleton displayed his rare judgment again when he expressed his frank opinion and said that he recognized no distinction between the dog racing activities at Mineola Fair Grounds and horse racing at Belmont Park. Why is it permissible to take bets at the Belmont Track and illegal at Mineola? Is dog racing a more vicious sport than horse racing? The district attorney pointed out that there is too much hypocrisy in the statutes. Our laws need a great deal of clarification on the points which pretend to distinguish between dog racing and horse racing. Gambling is a personal privilege and will always exist because it is an instinct of human nature which cannot be checked by mere act of law.

Mr. Littleton deserves credit for his broadminded attitude. While it is his sworn duty to prosecute, he realizes the hypocrisy of the laws.

DON'T BUY FROM PEDDLERS

The housewife usually regards the peddler who comes to her door a nuisance. But half the time she encourages him by the upside down process of "buying something to get rid of him." She finds it easier, in the ordinary instance, to purchase a package of bad needles or a rubber apron which turns out to be a second than it is to listen to a stream of talk and force herself to arguments as to why she should not buy.

Yet if all the housewives of the community were to unite in refusal to buy of the itinerant salesman for a year, they would find themselves left, long before the year was out, in peace and quiet to attend to their home duties without interruption and to do their marketing according to their own good judgment.

In one prosperous small city often victimized by this type of person, the merchants got together and issued a statement which may well be heeded here. It said:

"Numerous complaints are being received from housewives who report that they have lost money through purchasing merchandise from unknown house-to-house peddlers. Professional swindlers who go from city to city have victimized thousands of the housewives and, if delivered, is often inferior to samples shown. Advance payments are sometimes collected, the peddler vanishes and the merchandise is never received. Investigate before you buy or invest."

"Your responsible local merchants support all civic and public enterprises, pay taxes for the city's development and support and give employment to home town people. You can always see them personally for the adjustment of any mistakes.

You are safe in buying from responsible local stores."

TAKE CARE OF BORROWED BOOKS

Mention has been made frequently of the growing demands upon the public libraries of the North Shore. The unemployed and others with more leisure time at their disposal are turning these public institutions to a degree never before experienced in the history of this section. They are devoting much of their unoccupied time to reading. The result is, of course, that the librarians and their assistants are being called on for more and more service, just at a time when it is next to impossible to engage extra help and right economy must be practiced. This has led to a great experience of other lines of social service. The greatest demands are being made upon the organizations when their coffers are least filled.

However, this is not the only way libraries are affected. The books are circulating more than ever, requiring more rebounding than in normal times; and the allowance for this work is not an experience of other lines of social service. The greatest demands are being made upon the organizations when their coffers are least filled.

It requires no great amount of effort on the part of anyone to treat a book the way it should be, and, by so doing, it will last longer before it must be rebound, and more readers may be served. Bear this in mind the next time you carry home a volume from the public library.

Any sellers will take your time to tell you how good his product is.

One of the serious problems of the republic is people who take themselves too seriously.

The Government You Keep

By VIRGINIA M. BACON

An Oath or Another Slip of the Tongue?
When as candidate the President first attacked the Supreme Court, accusing it of being under the control of the Republican party, public resentment of the slur was expressed by the explanation that it was a "slip of the tongue." When Governor Roosevelt declared that the Constitution was the law, the President took the Supreme Court decision as such a "slip of the tongue." The New York Times stated editorially that "all this is a prodigious alarm raised on a chance remark."

So also, it seems, has the President's oath of office rested ever since it was made. Perhaps that was just a "chance remark" or a "slip of the tongue."

Mr. Lippmann, convinced at that time that the President had no dishonorable intentions towards the Constitution, accused Grass Rooters of attempting to force the President into an untenable position, and even though the President's "chance remark" was in writing, in a letter to the framers of the Constitution, the passage of the Guffey bill and hoping that "your committee will not permit doubt of the constitutional-ness of the President's oath." Mr. Lippmann indignantly suggests that it was probably a "slip of the tongue."

The President failed to preserve and protect the Constitution as he swore to do as well as his oath of office. It is an amendment which violates it as well as his oath of office. It is an amendment which violates it as well as his oath of office. It is an amendment which violates it as well as his oath of office.

Perhaps his plans have changed, however, since the President told the first recourse of a defense lawyer with a bare people to work for a postponement of trial. But the trial before the bar of public opinion cannot be postponed. It is now being tried in the history of this nation. These surmises are not without foundation as borne out by the facts that incorporated with the Attorney General's report. The provision that the government could not be sued for redress, or refund, by those paying the tax, was the government's right to collect. The President also insisted on denying the right, conceded by the Supreme Court, of citizens suing to sue the government.

The President seems to be resolved to dispense with even the forms of justice and to trample conscience beneath his feet. The question is whether the nation can ever give back its confidence to a man who, after his promises, perjured his oath, conspires to undermine the faith of the people in the Supreme Court, the Constitution and the highest office in the land.

Cleaving the Courts
According to one "Political Observer" the President's moral and mental political responsibility has long since been discounted. His complete abandonment of platform and party ideals are accepted facts. The government's attention of American citizen and taxpayer should be focused upon his representatives and a demand made that their present situation largely of their own making.

If that be the case it would be well if the electorate helped, by the vote, to elect a scuffling around their representatives in the place where their backbone should be. We might then see a Congress which was possible to stand up and be counted, which would resist threats of reprisals. Democratic complaints and resentment of the present situation largely of their own making.

Senator Connally said in the Senate the other day that he is quite tired of the "everybody picks up the pieces" of the government as we see it.

Important in seeking legislation, and it cannot be denied that they have sought to influence, as many believe improperly, the Congress of the United States. Executive departments have often drafted and attempted to secure the passage of measures without the authority of Congress and expanding their jurisdiction. I believe there has been too much pressure. Senator Smith of South Carolina believes that "we ought to assume full duty of drafting the legislation for which under the Constitution we are held responsible, and insist on our right in the realm of legislation."

Last week the House yielded to the dictates of the President, passing the Gold Salt ban by 283 to 88. As a result of the bill, the Republican minority on the banking committee, pointed out this mis-called "Gold Clause" bill "removes all rights of any holder of any government obligation, whether containing a gold clause or not, to receive on his obligation, or to recover interest thereon in the event his contract is repudiated."

The holder of any obligation of the Home Owners Loan Corporation or of the Farm Credit Administration, with all obligations merely guaranteed by the government, may not go into a court of justice and have the court even in secret his contract repudiated.

Attorney General Cummings told the Senate banking and currency committee that he does not for a moment agree to the suggestion that the government is engaged in a dishonorable transaction, that he does not accept the decision of the Supreme Court which said it was dishonorable. He sees no reason why the government of the United States should not cut off these pestiferous suits, which harass the government, that enactment of this bill was consistent with the policy already adopted.

This bill was sent to Congress when two suits proving damages were instituted, giving the impression that the President knew that the government could not defend them successfully.

The President was defeated in the Senate when similar suits to recover interest on government bonds were declared by the courts to be illegal, which the Administration wanted outlawed, were permitted, according to the President's own statement, to be amended, introduced by Senator George of Georgia. The Senator believes that "if you impose a tax you are bound to pay it." The Senator should have to face the consequences, but as the Administration has imposed taxes to the tune of $1,000,000,000, it is not surprising that the taxpayer who of these levels voted the tax on to the consumer every thirty-nine cents Democrats voted against the president and only 21 supported him.

The Supreme Court has never regarded the taxing power in the hands of the executive branch of government as a power conferred on Congress, and it cannot be employed where the Court deems the tax a mere surcharge for unauthorized regulation.

As Senator Dickinson pointed out "never throughout the 150 years of our history has the relation of legislative and executive power been a partisan question; on the contrary, it has been supported unanimously by all parties and by all shades of public opinion." The strain placed on the Constitution, to which unintentional and carelessly Congress has contributed, plainly evident in the Supreme Court is to be dragged into politics, not because it has performed its sworn duty in saying "no" to hastily conceived and impulsive drawn legislation, but because it is charged with having thwarted the public will. It must be made the responsibility of the executive branch of government. The dangers to the republic from any such distorted controversy cannot be minimized.

What has happened to the American capacity for honest indignation? Future generations cannot be allowed to read the decline of the American system of government and attribute to us.

Annual Outing Held By G. O. P. Recruits

The annual outing and field day games of the Republican Recruits of Nassau County were held Sunday afternoon at Peacock Point, Long Beach, estate of Mrs. Henry P. Davison.

Despite a downpour of rain during the afternoon, the young G. O. P. members were seen to stand up to the elements by a Nassau County police estate where the games and swimming competition went off as per schedule.

Many of the other events were omitted. The guests remained for outdoor supper on the beach and pool party at the Davison bath house. John Tibbels, chairman of the Young Republicans, was in charge of the program.

Frimel, O'Brien and Donough Are Elected Vice-Commanders

Charles E. Schilling of Oceanide, a former commander of the Rockville Centre Post, was elected commander of the Nassau County American Legion at the closing session of the 64th convention in Long Beach Saturday.

Other officers elected were Ray Ducker of Baldwin to a second term as county adjutant, and Edward W. Schilling of the Rockville Centre, finance officer.

Everett C. Applegate, twice commander of Baldwin Post and retiring commander of the second division, was a candidate against Schilling for the office of county commander. It was the only Post for which there was a contest.

Following presentation of the awards, the convention adjourned, the evening being given over to entertainment by the Legionnaires, by a dozen or more civic and fraternal organizations in the city.

With the Republicans

By CHARLES W. SMITH

"Now that the Republican County Committee is unable for disbursement for various purposes, the President has had his hand buried in the pocket of the late Governing Committee of Five—James L. Donsey speaking, the late Governor O. P. faces a better situation than it has been the case for several years."

Ripper legislation and its proponents are discredited, insurance companies are being forced to pay out, "Unity" and "Loyalty" are pass-words of the day. Albeit De Meo says of it all:

The Mugwump press is all wet in its intemperate diatribes against Oyster Bay Republicans, said to emanate from Hicksville. On the contrary, James Franke and Henry Schnepp are the only Republicans who have since made it known as emphatically as possible that every ounce of their support will be exerted behind Town Chairman Leonard W. Hall.

In Glen Cove, however, the situation is less satisfactory. The element responsible for the regrettable resignation of Sterling W. Mudge from leadership in that city is still on the rampage—for what particular purpose time will soon disclose.

At the request of State Chairman Eaton, Colonel William J. Donovan, who has been a candidate for Governor and war-time commander of the "Fighting 68th," will aid the drive of the Republican State Committee for the re-organization of the Assembly this fall. He will make frequent addresses in various parts of the state.

Officers of the Republican State Committee made a little political history last Tuesday at the joint meeting of the Republican State Committee and the Legislative Campaign Committee, held in the Ten Eyck Hotel, Albany. Nassau County representatives were Henry County, and Edward W. Hall and J. Russell Sprengle.

Julian Mason's "These Days" bears out the contention previously offered here that Nassau County is handicapped by the receipt of numerous honorary officers in state and county. He says that when more tangible "patrons" are passed out, the point can be saved that we already have received our full quota of "honorary" officers. He says that "There is, for instance, no Mr. Mason, the continuing mention of one of Nassau's Assemblymen, Leonard W. Hall, as a possibility for the nomination of the next session of the Lower House is a definite detriment to him."

As a result of confidential information received at the headquarters of the Republican State Committee, the following are the names of the 62 counties of the State which are urged to keep a close watch for evidence of efforts to influence prospective voters to vote the Democratic ticket this fall by the use of federal and state funds now available for disbursement for various purposes.

tion are to be forwarded to New York's representatives in Congress and to the President of the United States. The resolution was adopted after little discussion.

The convention was opened by invocation delivered by the Rev. Arthur B. Knivolving, dean of the Cathedral of the Incarnation, Garden City, and during a short recess there was music by Quentin Roosevelt Post band of Oyster Bay. The reports of the county commander, the three divisional commanders, officers and others were read and accepted.

Although a severe thunder shower and downpour of rain mid-afternoon handicapped the outdoor program to some extent, the parade, with about 1,000 Legionnaires in lines held in the late afternoon. The banner award was made to Mineola Post. The banner awarded for the best Sons of the Legion Chapter went to Andrew Falcher Post, Valley Stream, and the banner awards for membership from the county organization and for the Forty and Eight went to Cathedral Post, Garden City.

Following presentation of the awards, the convention adjourned, the evening being given over to entertainment by the Legionnaires, by a dozen or more civic and fraternal organizations in the city.

William F. Bermingham, son of Daniel Bermingham of East Norwich, was married Saturday to Miss Isabelle Kelly of Paterson, N. J., at a nuptial mass performed at Spring Lake, N. J., by the groom's cousin, the Rev. Charles Bermingham, of Brooklyn.

Justice of the Peace Augustus Mory of Oyster Bay seems to be as truculent as ever and just as responsible for the regrettable resignation of Sterling W. Mudge from leadership in that city is still on the rampage—for what particular purpose time will soon disclose.

At the request of State Chairman Eaton, Colonel William J. Donovan, who has been a candidate for Governor and war-time commander of the "Fighting 68th," will aid the drive of the Republican State Committee for the re-organization of the Assembly this fall. The warning followed receipt of reports from a number of points in the state that democratic leaders were endeavoring to force the issue to believe that millions of dollars for rural relief, for public projects and for rural rehabilitation would be available in early October, and "we must keep control of the Assembly."

The old "Round Table" personnel at the Court New Hotel, Mineola, said that the luncheon was a lightful functions under the genial dominance of the late county clerk, Thomas S. Cheshire, has naturally undergone certain changes of late. The table is no longer round, for one thing, and new faces grace what another fine personality, the late Supervisor, Painter of Oyster Bay, used to term the "feisty board."

These include among others Joseph H. McCloskey, Editor-in-Chief of Charles F. Strobon and W. Stanley Boswell, who has been a Republican since he was a boy. If W. Kingland Macy is actually sincere in his expressed desire to assist and rejuvenate the Republican party, the way should be clear. He should just withdraw himself from active political affairs.

Ideas About Things

By CHARLES W. SMITH

ABOUT FACE
A scant six months ago, scarce any prominent Republican in a position to observe the political trends would have hesitated to concede more term of office to the present National Administration.

Today, however, a distinct loss of faith in the Administration and all its alphabetical works is apparent over the country. Even the idealists, and those who would "try anything once" at others' expense, themselves having nothing much to lose, have come to the political turning of the ways and are ready to "About Face" when the new Republican leader takes command.

Here in Nassau we have experienced numerous instances of mal-administration applied to local problems and people. Had we not been exceptionally favored in a County government presided by men of unusual ability, experience and loyalty, its affairs might have been on the financial verge even now, instead of reaching "new high" in credit and prestige.

The Nassau Daily Review last Saturday reported in connection with the appointment of the late Suffolk County Democrats to support the ERB set-up: "It has been reported, but not verified, that Mr. O'Connell's salary will be close to $10,000 a year. Mr. Palmer's $2,000 a year; Mr. Sims' $4,000 a year. To date, the four head executives of the WPA command nearly as much in salaries as the entire Nassau ERB, numbering 26 people."

This condition is typical of what is going on all over the country, and natural resentment and fear of the ultimate consequences are growing. At the same time we learn from other sources that farm crops are rotting because of inability to secure laborers for the harvest, although men and women living in the same vicinities are in large proportion of relief.

Too large a proportion of the American people are becoming demoralized and discouraged while at the same time others are starving and dying of the effects of malnutrition in a time of comparative plenty. Largely because of "Relief" is no longer an emergency instrument operated at a minimum cost by the recipients themselves, but is now a "career" to which only Administrators are appointed at big salaries.

Old-fashioned "graft" is picayune stuff compared to this wholesale raid on the taxpayer's pocket-book. It is one of the most shameless exhibitions of partisan greed in American political history. There is only one way to correct this disgrace—ladies and gentlemen, And long before November, 1936, you will have found that way.

ON THE SIDE
The hero of a story in a current popular magazine is a newspaper reporter who earns a mere $6,000 or $7,000 a year. He is married to a girl for his dilapidated coupe. It is fiction, of course.

In real life we never met a reporter who would turn his nose up at the extrinsic means of drive a broken-down car if in receipt of them. But then, the source was careful to explain, he was a "good" reporter. Ah, there! follows...

PLEASE DO!
For the past couple of years or so, most of the local weekly newspapers have copy-catted each other in the presentation of a column of semi-editorial comment to the extreme left of page 1. It is a copy-editorial, being terse, trenchant and accusatory as a rule. A hit-and-run policy which has certain advantages from the writer's standpoint.

Explanatory articles take up more space, and are still to be found in the old position on the editorial page, along with "Ideas About Things" and other more or less lurid matter, perhaps as difficult to read through as to write during the heated season when mystery thrillers have their special innings.

This new make-up is a decided improvement on the method adopted by a New England weekly some years ago. The paper carried a front-page tremor reading: "Please read our editorials."

Dorthis wants to know how the County of Nassau can possibly be improved while Supervisor J. Russell Sprengle, County Clerk James L. Donsey, Assemblymen Leonard W. Hall and Harold P. O'Connell, Secretary of the Republican County Committee, and County Clerk, leave officials and court-less Committeesmen are practicing the "old-time" method. However, there are a few still on the job, but in questioner.

"HORSE SENSE"

Men in public office are presumably intelligent although at times we seriously question the assumption. But intelligence finds valuable support in what is commonly called "horse sense."

There is nothing this nation needs more than a few public officials who use it occasionally. We have in Nassau County District Attorney Martin W. Littleton who is as near an answer to our prayers as we have had thus far.

Recently Mr. Littleton declared: "A specialist is not required to tell when a man is drunk. A child can detect it." There is too much red tape when the police make an arrest to establish as fact that a suspect was operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Not long ago it took almost an entire day to settle a case of this kind in the court of Justice Peter Beck.

A veil of technicalities too often conceals the guilt of a person and encourages a driver to take a chance. The charge is "easy to beat." And so the menace of drunken driving continues to increase and to be blamed entirely on the repeal of the prohibition law. It is law because it is now non-existent is not responsible for the laxity in the enforcement of the present legal statutes.

Mr. Littleton displayed his rare judgment again when he expressed his frank opinion and said that he recognized no distinction between the dog racing activities at Mineola Fair Grounds and horse racing at Belmont Park. Why is it permissible to take bets at the Belmont Track and illegal at Mineola? Is dog racing a more vicious sport than horse racing? The district attorney pointed out that there is too much hypocrisy in the statutes. Our laws need a great deal of clarification on the points which pretend to distinguish between dog racing and horse racing. Gambling is a personal privilege and will always exist because it is an instinct in human nature which cannot be checked by mere act of law.

Mr. Littleton deserves credit for his broadminded attitude. While it is his sworn duty to prosecute, he realizes the hypocrisy of the laws.

DON'T BUY FROM PEDDLERS

The housewife usually regards the peddler who comes to her door as a nuisance. But half the time she encourages him by the upside down process of "buying something to get rid of him." She finds it easier, in the individual instance, to purchase a package of bad needles or a rubber apron which turns out to be a second to it as to listen to a stream of talk and force herself to argue to him as to why she should not buy.

Yet if all the housewives of the community were to unite in refusal to buy of the itinerant salesman for a year, they would find themselves left, long before their year was out, in peace and quiet to attend to their home duties without interruption and to do their marketing according to their own good sense.

In one prosperous small city often victimized by this type of person, the merchants got together and issued a statement which may well be heeded here. It said: "Numerous complaints are being received from housewives who report that they have lost money through purchasing merchandise from unknown house-to-house peddlers. Professional swindlers who go from city to city have victimized thousands of housewives and, if delivered, is often inferior to samples shown. Advance payments are sometimes collected, the peddler vanishes and the merchandise is never received. Investigate before you buy or invest."

Your responsible local merchants support all civic and public enterprises, pay taxes for the city's development and support and give employment to the home town people. You can always see them personally for the adjustment of any mistakes.

TAKE CARE OF BORROWED BOOKS

Mention has been made frequently of the growing demands upon the public libraries of the North Shore. The unemployed and others with more leisure time at their disposal are turning to these public institutions to a degree never before experienced in the history of this section. They are devoting much of their unoccupied time to reading. The result is, of course, that the librarians and their assistants are being called on for more and more service, just at a time when it is next to impossible to engage extra help and rigid economy must be practiced. This has also been the experience of other lines of social service. The greatest demands are being made upon the organizations when their coffers are least filled.

However, this is not the only way libraries are affected. The books are being returned more than ever, requiring more rebinding than in normal times; and the allowance for this work is no greater. Consequently, borrowers should exercise extra care in handling books they obtain from the library.

It requires no great amount of effort on the part of anyone to treat a book the way it should be, and, by so doing it will last longer before it must be rebound, and more readers may be served. Bear this in mind the next time you carry home a volume from the public library.

Any sellers will take your time to tell you how good his product is.

One of the serious problems of the republic is people who take themselves too seriously.

The Government You Keep

By VIRGINIA M. BACON

An Oath or Another Slip of the Tongue?

When as candidate the President first attacked the Supreme Court, denouncing it as being under the control of the Republican party, public resentment of the slur was appeased by the explanation that it was a "slip of the tongue." When Governor C. Delaney declared that the Constitution was the issue, after the President took the Supreme Court decision President Roosevelt's about an amendment to the Constitution and implied that, because his remark "was slipped ever since it was made" one should "forget it."

Mr. Lippmann, convinced at that time that the President had no dishonorable intentions towards the Constitution, accused Grass Rooters of attempting to force the President into an untenable position, and even though the President's "chance remark" was in writing, in a letter to Representative Hill, urging the passage of the Guffey bill and hoping that "your committee will not permit doubts to increase and to be blamed entirely on the repeal of the prohibition law, because it is now non-existent is not responsible for the laxity in the enforcement of the present legal statutes."

Mr. Littleton displayed his rare judgment again when he expressed his frank opinion and said that he recognized no distinction between the dog racing activities at Mineola Fair Grounds and horse racing at Belmont Park. # Name Schilling Nassau County Legion Leader

Charles E. Schilling of Oceanide, a former commander of the Rockville Post, was elected commander of the Nassau County American Legion at the closing session of the '35 convention in Long Beach Saturday.

Prior to Schilling's election, three vice-commanders, James O'Brien; Joseph Donough of Hempstead, for the second division, and Fred Frimel of Sea Cliff for the third division, were chosen by the Legionnaires. The new officers were installed by the new commander, Frank Kaolin of Roslyn.

Other officers elected were Ray Tucker of Baldwin to a second term as county adjutant, and Edward Gears of Rockville Centre, finance officer.

Everett C. Applegate, twice commander of Baldwin Post and retiring commander of the second division, was a candidate against Schilling for the office of county commander. It was the only Post to have a candidate.

Applegate interrupted the calling of the roll before it was completed and withdrew from the contest to support the election of Commander Schilling unanimously.

By unanimous vote, the convention adopted a resolution calling upon Congress to immediately enact the Latta bill, providing for immediate payment in full of the bonus to veterans. Copies of the resolution were distributed.

The warning followed receipt of reports from a number of points in the county, that the democratic Legionnaires were encouraging their followers to believe that millions of dollars for war relief, for public projects and for rural rehabilitation would be available in early October, and that "we must keep together as the Assembly."

The old "Round table" personnel at the Court View Hotel, Monday night, which made luncheon such a delightful function under the genial management of the late county clerk, Thomas S. Cheshire, has naturally undergone certain changes of late.

The table is no longer round, for one thing, and new faces grace the dining room. The personnel of the late Supervisor Painter of Oyster Bay, used to term "the festive board."

These include among others, Mr. Macleary, Edward S. Betts, Charles F. Stinson and E. Stanley Bosanack.

If W. Kingsland Macy is actually correct in his expressed desire to assist and to rejuvenate the Republican party, the way is easy and the path is clear. He should just withdraw himself from active political affairs.

Justice of the Peace Augustus Morey of Oyster Bay seems to be as much surprised as anyone just a defiant of the Republican organization which has supported him for so many years. If he really shows disposition to flirt with the Democrats (or Chitmen), his bluff should be called for the first and last time. Let him go ahead and receive his compensation in the good old-fashioned way.

Mr. Robert L. Bacon, vice-chairman of the Republican State Committee, is receiving newspaper laudation for her ability and energy in keeping the New Deal and all its works on the spot. She has a complete file of Administration utterances and G. O. P. women in particular look to her for accurate information.

The re-nomination of Harry L. Hedger as county treasurer gave great satisfaction to the county committee members last night as expressed by the extended applause which greeted his name and rewarded his speech. The splendid financial condition of Nassau County is acknowledged to be partially due at least to his marked abilities along banking lines, together with a rare devotion to duty.

"Marjorie" Cornell is back at county headquarters, which the newspaper editors should learn have been removed for the past seven months to the Central Nassau Building, 250 Fulton Avenue, Hempstead. Traffic to the sixth floor is expected to be heavier from now on.

Town Topics wonder if the Republican will pass upper bills against the Democrats when they get in power again. Well, this may not be the proper reply, but it is much to be desired.

Assemblyman Leonard W. Hall has received an assignment to the Committee on Public Utilities and Assemblyman Harold P. Herman to the Re-appointment Committee.

Ideas About Things

By CHARLES W. SMITH

ABOUT FACE

A scant six months ago, scores among prominent Republicans in a position to observe political trends would have hesitated to concede more form of office to the present National Administration.

"You cannot expect the people to shoot Santa Claus out of the sky generally admitted. A little farther back we were admonished with holier-than-thou emphasis, not to attempt 'playing politics with human suffering.'

Although the New Deal hysteria by that time had subsided and the N. R. A. fiasco had been practically repudiated, a further possibility of the public purse-string was skilfully touted as a sure-fire panacea that would certainly stimulate recovery, although all previous administration plans had failed in a last state worse than the first.

Today, however, a distinct loss of faith in the Administration and its alphabet soup has become apparent all over the country. Even the idealists, and those who would "try anything once" at others' expense, themselves having nothing much to lose, have come to the political turning of the ways and are ready to "About Face" when the new Republican leader takes command.

Here in Nassau we have experienced numerous instances of maladministration and poor judgment not been exceptionally fortunate in a County government represented by men of unusual ability, experience and loyalty. Its affairs might have been on the financial rocks, even now, instead of reaching a "even high" in credit and prestige.

The Nassau Daily Review last Saturday reported in connection with the appointment of three Suffolk County Democrats to replace the EHB set-up: "It has been reported, but not verified, that Mr. Gormley's salary will be close to $10,000 a year. Mr. Paige's $3,000 a year; Mr. Sims' $4,000 a year. To date, the four head executives of the WPA continue to receive in salaries as the entire central office executive staff of the Nassau ERB, numbering 26 people."

This condition is typical of what is going on all over the country, and natural resentment and fear of the ultimate result are growing. At the same time they learn from other sources that farm crops are rotting because of inability to secure laborers for the harvest, although whole and women living in the same vicinities are in receipt of relief.

Too large a proportion of the American population has become impoverished and pauperized, still at the same time others are starving and dying of the effects of unemployment in a comparative plenty. Largely because "Relief" is no longer an emergency instrument operated at a minimum cost by the recipients themselves, but now a "Career" to which only Administration favorites are to be appointed at big salaries.

Old-fashioned "graft" is picture stuff compared to the "Relief" paid on the public pocket-book. It is one of the most shameful exhibitions of partisan greed in American political history. There is only one way to correct this disgrace, ladies and gentlemen. And long before November, 1936, you will have found that way.

ON THE SIDE

The hero of a story in a current popular magazine is a newspaper reporter who earns a mere $6,000 or $7,000 a year, who apologizes to his girl for his dilapidated coupe. It is fiction, of course.

In real life, perhaps a newspaper reporter who would turn his nose up at the earnings mentioned, or drive a broken-down car if in receipt of that sum.

But then, the author was careful to explain, he was a "good" reporter. Ah, there! follows.

PLEASE DO!

For the past couple of years or so, most of the local weekly newspapers have copy-cut each other in presentation of news items of semi-editorial content to the extreme left of Page 1. It makes easy reading, being terse, trenchant and accurate as a rule. A few and-run policies have certain advantages from the writer's standpoint.

Especially, as articles take up more space and are still to be found in their old position on the editorial page, along with "Ideas About Things" and other more or less sane material, which is difficult to wade through as to write during the heated season, when mystery thrillers have their special innings.

This new make-up is a decided improvement on the method adopted by a New England weekly some years ago. The paper carried a front-page treatment of "Please read our editorials."

Dorinda wants to know how the County of Nassau is being run by County Supervisor J. Russell Sprague, County Attorney James L. Downey, Assemblyman Leonard W. Hall and James P. Herman, Secretary of the Republican County Committee James C. Ozbir, lesser officials and count-

RAY SHORE THEATRE
Grace Moore in her new picture "Love Me Forever" will be the film treat at the cool Bayshore Theatre beginning Sunday, July 27 on Wednesday July 31. Previous to the movie patrons who have been fortunate to see "Love Me Forever," claim that the picture is even greater than "One Night of Love." Aside from its powerful story, they cite its larger variety of background, and its impressive sets to bear out their statements. As Corolla, Leo Carrillo gives his finest portrayal. Michel Bartels, American-born, senior says opposite Miss Moore in the "La Boheme," sequences his "Who," and "Love Me Forever," are times that will linger with you all in "Love Me Forever" his high "O" in picture-making.

Remember the brat in "Bright Eyes" who imitated a machine gun, told tales on Shirley Temple, tried to run her down with a doll carriage and proved herself a complete annoyance. She's Jane Withers, the biggest and the best girl of the line, about 50 high, with dark brown hair and blue-gray eyes, who has proven herself another one of film-legend sensational discoveries.

Jane's latest picture, "Ginger," which is the superb screen attraction at the Bayshore beginning Thursday August 1 and playing through Saturday, August, with Jane Withers and Jackie Searl.

HICKSVILLE PLAYHOUSE
Fredric March and Charles Laughton play fugitive and pursuer in the most celebrated of all fiction, the man-hunts in Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables," which begins Sunday at the Hicksville Playhouse.

March is seen as Hugo's ill-starred young hero, Jean Valjean, who spends five bitter years on a French prison ship for stealing a loaf of bread and then becomes a fugitive from justice by violating his parole. Laughton is Javert, the fanatical detective, whose devotion to the letter of the law drives him relentlessly along the reformer-convict's trail.

Sir Cedric Hardwicke, the distinguished English stage and screen star, shares stellar honors with the pair as the benevolent Bishop Bienvenue, whose faith starts the degraded galley slave on the road toward a better life.

Rochelle Hudson, Frances Drake and John Beal are featured in the supporting cast.

BABYLON THEATRE
"Charlie Chan in Egypt" with Warner Oland now showing at the Babylon Theatre is the story of Charlie Chan's earliest adventure in the land of the Pharaohs and promises to be the biggest thrill ever offered by Chan.

Pat Paterson, gives unusual support to Warner Oland and Stepin Fetchit.

On the same program "The Girl from 101st Avenue," with Betty Davis in the stellar role. Miss

On The Firing Line

By F. H. ALMIRALL
A bill requiring all school, college and university teachers in the State of New York to take the oath of allegiance to the United States will be submitted at the next session of the state legislature, as a result of a nationwide campaign being conducted by the Veterans of Foreign Wars, U. S. S. Requiring the oath of allegiance to the United States from all our teachers is an important step. Too many of our young people are learning un-Americanism and communism in our public institutions of learning.

The need for a greatly augmented navy was stressed by Admiral William H. Standley, chief of naval operations, in a recent report to Secretary of the Navy. He stated that the shortage of aircraft carriers and other vessels is a serious matter and that the navy must be able to meet the needs of the world.

The fighting efficiency of a navy is dependent upon the personnel, both officers and men, and undermanned ships are always at a disadvantage. With the entry into the service of the new ships now authorized and being built to bring the navy into accord with our treaty obligations, it is very important, we believe, that appropriate increases in personnel be obtained.

Recently we have heard of another of the conquests of the Officer-of-the-Day McBreen over the demons of the mob deep. In company with Commander McBreen, the flier took along an inexperienced freshman, to whom he was to expound the theories of Isaac Walton upon the art of fishing. Suddenly Mac announced noisily that he had a catch and proceeded to land his catch, meanwhile explaining to the novice the correct method of the manner in which it was accomplished. Upon landing his catch, lo and behold it was ON THE STUDENT'S HOOK.

Henry Morganthau secretary of the treasury, stated some months ago that in order to pay a "bonus" it would be necessary to create new law an inheritance tax. Taking Secretary Morganthau at his word, the V. F. W. is now proposing to apply a new "bonus" bill to the proposed Congressional inheritance tax legislation.

Tribby Tells Rotarians Of Police Drive

County Force Using Psychology To Lessen Accidents
Arthur Tribby of the county police force spoke to the Rotary club at its meeting Wednesday at the Bayshore clubhouse. His talk was on "Safety" and explained the new policies which the county police are following in their effort to reduce the number of casualties from automobile accidents. Officer Tribby said that the police were now trying to educate all classes of people to the dangers of auto accidents and that the police have decided that a heart talk with petty violators will do more good than would a simple fine. Following this psychological angle, the patrol force will be increased and will appear as much in the open as possible impressing on drivers that the police are about and effecting a more cautious attitude on motorists. The new "courtesy cards" and white-streak patrol, or white night patrol cars, are a part of this program.

President Becker, reported on his visit to the Rotary International meeting at Mexico City, and stated among other things that there were 5500 delegates from 2701 Rotary clubs present.

Visitors were: Fred J. Walker, of Bay Shore; Albert Seider, of Bay Shore; E. O. Beach of Garden City, and Horace Daking of Amityville.

New Industry Hires Local Men

P. Ballantine Co., brewers of reuben beer and ale, have leased the old freight warehouse near the railroad station and will commence immediately to distribute their products to all Nassau and Suffolk Counties from this point, according to a statement made Tuesday by Mr. Oscar Johnson, manager.

Mr. Johnson states that three large trucks are now operating, and that all jobs in connection with this branch will be given to Farmingdale residents. He has established his own residence in Farmingdale and will supervise distribution along both north and south shores of the Island.

Traffic Violators Pay In Court

Some of those people even poked baseball that were fouled outside the field.

Tiffany Home Fails To Yield Missing Silver

Cellar Of Laurelton Mansion Rummed By Mrs. Calhoun

Silverware said to have been removed from the home of Mrs. Emma Wolf, of Tugalo Park, to the home of Mrs. Charles Tiffany, of Cold Spring Road, Laurelton and other relatives after it had been will to Mrs. Wolf's daughter, Mrs. Mary Emma Calhoun, prominent Manhattan realtor, failed to turn up Monday when Mrs. Calhoun, armed with a court order, rummaged through the cellar of the Tiffany mansion, two attorneys at her side.

Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany, questioned by reporters Monday evening, declared the matter closed.

Three dust-colored barrels, believed to contain the silverware, were searched in vain. They yielded only Dresden and Meissen china, which Mrs. Calhoun claims is worth considerably more than the $1,000 value placed on it originally and which is being reappraised by direction of Surrogate Delehanty of Manhattan.

At a recent hearing before the Surrogate, two truckmen testified they had removed two boxes from Mrs. Wolf's estate. Surrogate Delehanty ordered the search and freed Thursday at the date of submission of a report by Mrs. Calhoun's attorneys on the result.

On Monday Mrs. Tiffany sat upstairs while the search was on and sent her butler to oversee the probe. No silverware was turned up, however.

'Good Humor' Puts Park Commission In A Bad Humor

Violation Of Zoning Ordinance Unfair To Local Business

The Long Island State Park Commission today wrote to the Chief of Police of Nassau County and to the mayors of the various villages along the routes of the parkways having jurisdiction of land adjoining State parks, the following letter:

"Our attention was being called many times to the fact that ice cream trucks are operating at various entrances to State parks and parkways. In some cases, they park on the road, which creates a traffic hazard and is in violation of the terms of the pedicler's licenses issued to them, providing they must keep moving. In some cases they park on lands adjoining the State property which is zoned for residential purposes, and is in violation of the local zoning ordinances prohibiting doing business in a residential district.

The essential unfairness of this practice to substantial business men in various communities is that the Towns and the Villages have cooperated with the State park authorities to have practically all property adjoining State parks and parkways zoned for residential purposes, so excluding the local business man who puts up a building and has a stake in the community and pays local taxes.

31,000 Using Playgrounds In Nassau Setup

First Two Weeks Of July Break Record For Adult Program

Attendance at playgrounds operated under the Nassau County Adult Education and Recreation program during the first two weeks of July totaled more than 31,000, Edwin D. Puhbrick, general officer of adult education, disclosed this week. These figures cover 30 play areas in 23 communities.

Attendance at the fields shows an increase of 60 per cent over the last two weeks of June and represents a substantial gain over a like period last year.

"Rumors that many people were of the opinion that a charge was made for participation in the activities on recreation program playgrounds had reached him, Mr. Puhbrick said.

"Such is not the case," he declared. "All facilities of this organization are free and no charge of any kind may be made for admission to the playgrounds."

Playgrounds are active at Baldwin, Glen Cove, Freeport, Great Neck, Hempstead, Hewlett, Hicksville, Lawrence, Long Beach, Lynbrook, Massapequa, New Hyde Park, North Babylon, Oceanside, Oyster Bay, Port Washington, Rockville Centre, Rehoboth, Westbury, Woodmere and North Merrick.

Judy Johnson Ace Trainer

(Continued from page 1) imagine, but the principle of the thing is that one must not be afraid of work. I get up at 4:30 every morning. That means that I must be in bed no later than 8:30 every night. Most girls would balk at this early to bed and early to rise rule, but it seems to me to be one of the best things about the entire job.

"Just how I started galloping horses is hard to say. You know father has owned horses all his life. At a lot of four at Chantilly, France. I first began to grow fond of thoroughbred racing horses. At five I could ride my pony like an Earl Stands. At nine I was riding cross-country at the bounds in England. It was when ten years old that I first took to learning how to train a horse. Father had a large stable at Newmarket, and seeing the horses being put through their paces just thrilled me beyond all expression. It was then that I decided to become a full-fledged trainer.

"After arriving in America the task was a little more difficult. Father objected to my accompanying him to the race track in the morning. Later, however, I was given several horses to train by Fustall Keece, one of America's finest sportsmen. We took our string to our farm in Farmingdale, and I immediately went to work to condition them for their races."

Since then, Miss Johnson has had distinct success in her profession, training many big money winners, and riding many of them herself. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Johnson who live on Merritt Road in Farmingdale.

Second Eclipse In Week Hits Farmingdale As Lights Go Out

The Long Island Lighting Co. in response to The Post's question of why the village lights were out so long during last Friday's electrical storm, answers that the lightning made a direct hit in the vicinity of the Roosevelt sub-station, damaging insulation and other transmission apparatus there. Telephones were also affected and no communication could be established to the main general station at Northport until the sub-station engineer found a telephone working two miles away.

Currents were then transferred to another set of wires and Farmingdale was relieved of its veritable eclipse after some 50 minutes.

Beginners And Experts To Have Separate Tournaments

The Long Island State Park Commission announces two archery tournaments which will give devotees of this sport, from the beginner to the expert, a chance to try their skill in competition. On Sunday the third annual Nassau County State Park archery championships will be held at Jones Beach State Park, and on Sunday, August 10, at Hempstead Lake State Park, there will be conducted a novice archery tournament.

The Southern New York State archery championships are being held in co-operation with the Centre Archers of Rockville Centre and are expected to attract the best archers in the metropolitan area. A double American round will be shot, one starting in the morning at 10 o'clock and the other in the afternoon at 2:30. Separate tournaments are being held for men and for women and in each class first place will receive a silver cup, with gold and silver medals to second and third. The tournament will be held on the archery range in the east game area at Jones Beach State Park and entries may be made at the range on the morning of the tournament to Hay Arden.

The novice archery tournament to be conducted at Hempstead Lake State Park has been inaugurated to give the rapidly growing number of archers not yet ready to compete in the championship class an opportunity to test their proficiency. Under the regulations, no individual who has previously won a prize in archery may compete in this tournament. There will be four separate classes, one for men in which each contestant is to shoot 48 arrows at a distance of 25 yards; one for women with 36 arrows at 25 yards; the boys' class which calls for 36 arrows at 25 yards and the girls' with 24 arrows at 20 yards. Contestants in the boys' and girls' classes must be under 17 years of age.

Sprague Urges Party Loyalty In GOP Ranks

New Nassau County Leader Begins Ten Day Vacation Period

A plea for party loyalty was made this week by Supervisor J. Russell Sprague, newly elected county leader of the Nassau County Republican party.

"The only thing that I will demand," he said, "is that party workers remain loyal to their organization. I feel that the foundation for one of the most successful Republican campaigns in the history of the county has been laid during the last few weeks because personal differences have been set aside and all factions have rallied for one definite purpose—to maintain the traditions of Republicanism as exemplified in Nassau County."

Mr. Sprague declared that he could say very little more than what he told auditors at the county committee convention Thursday night; that the party was following a well-defined program for the benefit of the taxpayers as a whole and for the furtherance of Republican control.

Mr. Sprague left this week for a 10 days' vacation. He refused to divulge his destination, saying that he felt "rather tired from the strenuous program of the last few weeks" and believed that a short vacation might do him good.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Abney and family Donald and Yvonne Abney of Jackson Heights, were dinner guests on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGuirk of Yonkers Avenue. Mrs. Abney and Mrs. McGuirk, are sisters.
