THREE NUNS HURT
IN WOODBURY CRASH
Driver Of Car Charged
With Intoxication
After Accident

Struck by an eastbound train as he was crossing the Long Island Railroad tracks on Charlotte Avenue, Hicksville yesterday afternoon at 3:50, Robert W. Gould, 31, a kerosene salesman of 361 Stuyvesant Avenue, Brooklyn, was instantly killed.

An hour earlier three nuns and a young woman companion were injured when the car in which they were riding was struck by a truck operated by an alleged intoxicated driver at the Jericho Turnpike and Woodbury Road, Woodbury.

Gould was going south on Charlotte Avenue when the train struck him, hurling the kerosene tank to the north side of the track and carrying the chassis 1,100 feet before it dropped it off on the south side. Gould's lifeless body was found 325 feet and thrown off on the south side of the broken truck was the cause of death.

The force of the impact was so great that the truck caught fire and flames burst from the engine. Charles Gressel, both of Richmond Hill were severely burned. Gressel was taken to the Meadowbrook Hospital for treatment. The conductor in charge of the train was L. B. Wheeler of 719 First Avenue, Port Jervis.

Dr. Louis A. Luttig, of Central Park, the first physician summoned to the scene of the accident, pronounced Gould dead and Coroner Joseph P. Lebkuecher ordered his body removed to Moore's mortuary.

Four Injured
A possible fracture of the skull sustained by Sister Margaret of the Cenacle, a Catholic convent at Lake Ronkonkoma, was the most serious injury suffered in the Jericho Turnpike accident at 2:35. Mother Gibson, another passenger, received minor contusions and Sister Kelly suffered from shock. A fourth passenger, known to the police only as Mademoiselle Purcell, also suffered from shock.

The car, driven east on the Jericho Turnpike by Miss Elsie Spencer, an artist at the Cenacle had stopped for a red light at the Woodbury bridge when Stanley Marcial, a bridgehand, driving in the same direction, crashed into it. Patrolman James Looney, seeing that Marcial was endeavoring to slow down for the crossing, signaled to him, but his signal was not seen. The force of the impact tore off the rear end of the car.

Dr. Anthony Stabile, dispatched with an ambulance from the Meadowbrook Hospital, treated the injured persons, who were driven to the board of trustees, examined by Dr. Louis A. Luttig, was pronounced intoxicated and locked up at Hicksville.

Assistant District Attorney Edward J. O'Sullivan, of Westbury, and town O. A. P. candidates will speak to members of the Roosevelt Republican Club of Central Park at its next meeting, October 28. A large number of residents is expected to attend.

The entire Roosevelt slate for town and county officers was endorsed at a meeting of the club Monday night. At the close of the business session, the radio speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt and Supervisor J. Russell Sprague were heard.

Four new members were initiated at the club roster at the meeting which was the largest held by the organization in several months.

Light Company Will Cut Rates

Reduction Will Save An Average User $5
A Year

An estimated reduction of $5 a year in the electricity bill of Nassau and Suffolk counties residents will go into effect on November 4, the Long Island Lighting Company announced yesterday.

The new rate, which has already been filed with the public service commission, will reduce the company's income from electricity by $600,000 and its income from gas by $400,000. The schedule will automatically go into effect without either approval or disapproval by the public service commission.

The company's voluntary cut in rate came as a pleasant surprise as a deduction for the past few years. It is reported that the public service commission is preparing to do the company's bidding within a few weeks to make reductions greater than those announced yesterday.

The new electric schedules provide for a change in residential rates. The present fixed rate provides for a charge of 10 cents per kilowatt hour for the first 400 kilowatt hours of use, 16 cents a cubic foot for the next 2,000 cubic feet, and so on down the scale, according to the amount used.

The new power rate is estimated to reduce revenues by $400,000 and to reduce the bills of all customers on the rate.

Freeport Address Em-

On President

Colonel Theodore Roosevelt of Cove Neck was regarded this week as definitely having his hat in the ring for the Republican Presidential nomination after his address at Freeport Monday evening in which he launched one of the most severe attacks yet made on the administration of President Roosevelt, in opening the Nassau County election campaign.

The Colonel's speech assailing the administration came on the heels of his letter to Senator Borah (R., Ind.) in which he condemned an invitation to "join busting" a campaign issue in 1936, and insisted that there were enough issues in the present Roosevelt administration's spending for recovery.

Voters To Rule On Incinerator Board Declares

Township's Share Of Cost Not To Exceed
$95,000

FEDERAL APPROVAL
ALREADY GRANTED

Final Word From Washington On Amount
Is Awaited

An incinerator costing $130,000, of which a maximum of $95,000 will be paid by the taxpayers of Oyster Bay, is provided for in a resolution adopted by the town board Tuesday morning, which will be voted on at the biennial election on November 5.

The project already has been approved for federal aid by the New York department of the Public Works Administration, and is now awaiting approval from Washington. What percentage of assistance will be available hasn't been ascertained, but members of the board are hoping that 45 per cent of the cost will be provided by the P.W.A. The $95,000 called for in the resolution will be sufficient if only 20 per cent of government help is received.

The incinerator will be a charge upon the town and not upon incorporated villages within the town. Villages can, if they wish, enter into a contract with the town to dispose of their garbage and, indeed, town officials are hopeful of making the incinerator a profitable institution on just such a contract.

The $130,000 estimated cost includes the purchase of land, construction of the plant and purchase of necessary equipment. The board hasn't as yet decided whether the plant will be situated, but it is reported unofficially that options have been taken on two pieces of property in the town.
