Republicans Expect To Win On Low Budget And Hall Leadership

Mrs. Roosevelt Raps Policies Of President

'He Has Led Us Into The Mire,' She Tells Women's Group

In one of the few public appearances criticizing President Roosevelt, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt assailed the President directly at a meeting of the Edith Kermit Roosevelt Women's Republican Club of Oyster Bay at Sagamore Hill on Friday.

"We expected Franklin Roosevelt to take us out of the mud when he went into office," she said, "but he has led us into the mire."

Mrs. Roosevelt went on to speak of the need for a change in the national government and said she hoped there would be many similar meetings at Sagamore Hill.

Mrs. George A. Wyeth of New York, former president of the National Women's Republican Club, said that "we must remember the spirit of our free government and the forces which now menace that spirit, the most implacable of which are loosed by the present administration."

"It is not too much to say," she added, "that unless we can remember the republic will be lost."

Mrs. Roosevelt's daughter, Mrs. Richard Derby, the former Miss Derby of Cove Neck, a member of the speakers, she is the active president of the Edith Kermit Roosevelt Women's Republican Club. Her mother is honorary president.

Besides Mrs. Wyeth, the speakers were Assemblyman Leonard W. Hall of the second district, Nassau County, who urged the defeat of the proposed new county charter at the November election, Harry L. Hedger of Glen Cove, Nassau County treasurer; Harry Tappen, supervisor of Oyster Bay Township; Howard C. Smith, president of the Oyster Bay Democratic campaign; Dr. Walter F. Billiger of Hicksville, township health officer, and Judge Joseph Lebacker.

Mrs. Wyeth accused the national party of "indulgent spending and added: 'It is not too late for Americans to say out loud, so that it may be heard without ear trumpets, that the country, rich as it is, cannot longer afford Mr. Roosevelt's four are injured in 3-car collision'."

Four persons were injured when three automobiles came together on Sunday afternoon on Northern Boulevard and Moore's Hill, Cold Spring Harbor.

Mrs. Marie O. Sylvester, 72, of 92-37 17th Street, Long Island City, sustained contusions on the right arm and shoulder. Mrs. Marie Paradiso, 31, of the same address, suffered contusions and abrasions of the right knee and ankle. Her 10-year-old son, Joseph, was injured when he took a 40-yard forward pass from Piscitelli on the Monitors 3-yard stripe and stepped over the goal line for a touchdown. The try for an extra point failed.

Kappaliter was the first to score for Hicksville in the first period when he took a 40-yard forward pass from Piscitelli on the Monitors 3-yard stripe and stepped over the goal line for a touchdown. The try for an extra point failed.

In the second period the Monitors led the score after a steady march down the field which was featured by short ball passes by Sheppard, Hempstead quarter back. The ball rested on the Hicksville 15-yard line and Sheppard faced back 5 yards and tossed the ball into the waiting arms of Fitzgerald, a substitute for

Alley Launches Town Campaign

Democratic Candidate Attacks Tappen In Hicksville Speech

Rayford W. Alley, prominent New York attorney and resident of Jericho, opened his campaign last night for election to the office of Supervisor of the Town of Oyster Bay. Mr. Alley has been active in Nassau affairs for the past twenty years.

In his opening speech, Mr. Alley charged that his opponent, Harry Tappen, the present incumbent, had utterly failed as a representative of the people in his township but had been dominated throughout his years in office by the Nassau County Republican machine.

"Mr. Tappen has many sins of omission as well as commission for which he must answer to the electorate this fall," declared Mr. Alley. "His inability to secure Federal funds for alleviation of unemployment, his acquiescence to huge expenditures in other townships in the county while his own township receives nothing and his brutal disregard of the rights of the people in the matter of the crematory established in Central Park are but a few of the instances where he has fallen down on the job; he shall bring out others as the campaign progresses."

Mr. Alley, who was one of the most active participants in the recapitalization of Nassau County in Nassau County, pledged himself to bring all his experience to bear in building an economical government structure in the Township of Oyster Bay.

Democratic Ticket No Menace, Observers Say

BUT G.O.P. CAMPAIGN WILL BE VIGOROUS

Rallies Begin Monday And Will End On November 4

Assurances of an overwhelming Republican victory in Oyster Bay on November 5 have been received by the Republican campaign committee this week from political observers who report more harmony among Republicans this year than at any time within the past 25 years.

The Republican gains, these observers say, can be traced almost directly to the confidence townpeople have learned to repose in the leadership of Leonard W. Alley as well as the disposition shown by town officials to keep budgets and tax levies down and economize in the taxpayers' interest wherever they can.

Dining at Hoffmann Arms in Bayville Monday evening, members of the Republican Town Committee reported the greatest enthusiasm among independent taxpayers for the 1936 low tax rate of 20 cents. So far, they said, had encountered no dissatisfaction.

In spite of many assurances of easy victory, however, Leonard W. Alley and his advisors are planning a campaign as strenuous and far-reaching as any they have conducted in the past. Rallies will be held in Central Park, the 28th and Glen Head on the 21st, On Wednesday, October 30, the Nassau Federation of Republican Women, many members of which are from Oyster Bay, will meet at the home of Mrs. Robert L. Bacon. There will be meetings at Syosset and Massapequa on Friday evening, November 2, and the campaign will wind up with large mass meetings in the Lyric Theatre in Oyster Bay and in the Playhouse Theatre at Hicksville on Monday evening, November 4.

Mrs. Genevieve Frost, 31, of 27 Prerent Street, Hicksville, was taken to the Nassau Hospital in Mineola Sunday night after she had fractured her right knee when she tripped on a step as she entered the Hempstead Theatre in Hempstead. The accident occurred shortly after 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Frost was taken to headquarters by her husband, Patrolman Claude Smith and William H. Smith. She was given treatment by Dr. Carl Heisterbeimer and then removed to the hospital.

J. A. Farley Backing Rayford W. Alley For Supervisor

Washington and Albany intrusion in the Oyster Bay election campaign became apparent today when The Enterprise disclosed an appeal for support issued by Rayford W. Alley, Democratic candidate for Supervisor, over his signature for support. It admitted that insistence of the Governor and chairman of the State Committee had compelled Alley's signature for support. The first information received by the State chairman was that the State official was throwing his personal influence against the Oyster Bay Republican organization.

Girls' Hockey Team Having Good Season

F. H. S. Lassies Will Take On Strong Westbury '11'

Fresh from a 4 to 0 shutout over Amityville, the Farmingdale high school girls' hockey team defeated the Babylon girls in a practice game here Friday by a score of 5 to 1. The hanging up of two victories by the first and second teams over Amityville followed by the good showing against Bay Shore's team offer an encouraging start for the season.

Hockey, according to members of the faculty, is rapidly becoming one of the most popular sports at F. H. S. as shown by the fact that more than 50 girls are reporting for practice and participating in the four-team tournament which comes to a close today. Captains of the four teams are Anna Posillio, whose team finished on top, Florence Bundo, runner-up; Peggie Johnson and Helen Rozzi. All games have been closely contested.

Today the teams travel to Westbury for one of the season's toughest battles. In spite of the loss through illness of Cecelia Wahl, the girls hope to bring home another victory.

Fare Rise Plea By Long Island Seen Justified

Railroad Developed Area Through Huge Expenditures, Insists Frederick

Freight Income Halved Line Hardest Hit in U. S. by Motor Competition

Reviewing the remarkable real estate development of Long Island during the last thirty-five years and its relationship to transportation facilities, both rail and motor, Cedman H. Frederick, president of the Suffolk County Piers, Seaside and Loan Association, advances an urgent plea for impartial consideration of the Long Island Railroad's petition for an increase in its compensation rates. "Those who have the interests of the island at heart," says Mr. Frederick, "should refrain from hasty judgment while the facts and circumstances are being presented at the hearings before the Public Service Commission and the Transit Commission. The issue is far too important to be clouded with bias toward the corporations which, has become much too popular in recent years. An increase in any item of the household budget is a serious consideration for the average commuter these days, but we cannot ignore the fact that the welfare of Long Island and its commencing population is inseparably linked with the welfare of the island's only railroad."

Mr. Frederick begins his recital with the situation on Long Island back in 1850, when the Pennsylvania bought the Long Island Railroad. He remembers that vividly because it also marked his beginning as a real estate operator on Long Island. He began his activities as Treasurer, while at that time had a population of only 110,000.

Facilities Then Fair Transportation facilities at the time, he recalls, were hardly conducive to the commutation urge. The hasty traveler from Manhattan had to make his way by elevated, surface line or both to the East River and Thirtieth Street, where he was ferried across to Long Island City so that he might entrain for his destination on the island. The subsequent spurt in population caused by the construction of the tubes under the East River con-of the organization. With the enforcement of the new by-laws, additional officers and a new executive board of 11 members will be chosen at a meeting of the Women's Club to be held November 1. Mrs. Robert Dickey, as chairman of the committee in charge of revision, presented the recommended changes. Following the meeting tea was served.

Among those present were: Mrs. Willis Carman, Mrs. Gray Sosa, Mrs. William Patrick, Mrs. Jesse Merritt, Mrs. Elizabeth Allen, Mrs. Lillian Allen, Mrs. John Duryea, Mrs. Edwin Bergdahl, Mrs. Katherine Wood, Mrs. Charles Wood, Mrs. Francis Fink, Mrs. J. E. It is no longer good form to put ketchup on a dinner roll in the napkin, at was the order of service in former days. Too many embarrassing moments resulted from that custom. It was most natural, when one was engaged in conversation, to take up the napkin unthinkingly and discover the roll, flying north, south, east or west. Hoarse or hot breath, however, was sometimes covered on a bread tray covered over lightly with a napkin to retain the heat until wanted.

Patients Fill Meadowbrook 328 Admitted in September Taxing Hospital's Facilities

The Meadowbrook General County Hospital is already providing community service, taxing its facilities, for the health welfare of the people of Nassau, it was reported by George L. Hubbell of Garden City, president, to-day. A review of the services rendered by the new county hospital show that its capacity has been taxed ever since it opened, resulting in a change of policy so that excess waiting list cases requiring service can be attended to at other private or semi-private hospitals in the county.

Patients Fill Meadowbrook 328 Admitted in September Taxing Hospital's Facilities

While the bed capacity of the hospital is 200, there were 328 patients admitted during the month of September, of which 60 were isolated in the building for communicable diseases. This building has proven one of the most important of any because heretofore there have been practically no hospital facilities for contagious diseases in the county.

The Government You Keep

By VIRGINIA M. BACON

Dispelling the smoke screen Mr. Smear-Hoover Michelson writes a weekly letter to the press which he entitles "Dispelling the Fog." The smoggy content will fill in my small way, but my purpose is to lift the artificial fog of oratory and screen, laid by the New Dealers.

I have gone to some length to convince you of the intentions of these New Dealers, by quoting the private conversations of these New Dealers, by quoting from their speeches, by quoting from their writings, and not "New and Improved" as it would give you much trouble to unearth them and fit them into the complete pattern for yourself. I hope that you have proven beyond a reasonable doubt that we cannot have at one and the same time "Planned Economy" and self-government; government by the people, the private ownership of industry; or the New Deal and any part of the Constitution.

One of the surprising items in the recent news was the outstanding speeches in behalf of the Constitution, suddenly dropped it and picked "Monopolies" as the main issue. Of course, the main functions of government is to protect one citizen from the encroachment on his rights by another, and "Big Business" was allowed to submerge little business; but considering that we are faced with the question as to whether the government will succeed in acquiring ownership of big business, big and small, it hardly seems pertinent to bother about "Monopolies" at this particular juncture.

The serious smoke-screens of the moment are: The President's budgetary statement, the cost of living, and triple A benefits to the farmer.

"Brilliant Achievement"

During his absence on a trip to the Philippines the Democratic National Committee, did not lose the touch of the Speaker's name. Byrnes in vain, in a report to Republican attacks and statements which he has probably not even had a chance to read. The words which were attributed to him ring false to anyone who knows him and his charming southern speech. Apart from the Speaker's quoted as saying "When due consideration is given to the great economies effected by holding down the carrying charges on the public debt it will be apparent that the financing of the recovery is a brilliant achievement."

Evidently the ghost writer wrote without reference to the statements of the United States Treasury, because these show that the interest charges on the interest bearing public debt for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1933 (the control of the fiscal policy of that year being wholly with the outgoing Republican administration) going Republican year ending June 30, 1934, the interest charges had risen under the first year of the Roosevelt Administration to $547,126.

On June 30, 1935, the interest charges on the public debt were $292,926,303 a total increase in two years under President Roosevelt of $115,161,248.

For the first three months of the present fiscal year, ending September 30 last, the increase compared to the corresponding month year ago amounts to $26,100,090. And that is not all. For these first three months the debt retirement fund carrying the deficit for $26,116,100 more than the corresponding months last year. This makes a total increase in this item, under the Roosevelt regime, of $269,810,000, which added to the increase in interest charges of the public debt under two years and three months of Rooseveltism, of $477,441,431.

The Speaker is further made to brag that the " gigantic operation of refunding the Liberty Bonds" took place while the government was operating with a deficit. Here is irrefutable proof of the competent management of the country's finances. It is only too true that the patriots who thought the Liberty bonds a burden were called to show their patriotism anew by relinquishing the promised interest on their bonds, but it was not, as the Speaker says, that the government's methods are those of the highwayman who holds you up with "your money or your life," nor that the same methods if used by private banks are branded as illegal and dishonest.

The government uses the two billion dollar so-called "profits" which it confiscated from the people when it took after the Government's fund to ring the market in support of its own bonds, another illegal practice. It is true that "there has never been anything comparable to government finance, but not in the sense which it is intended to convey. It is not true that the government's credit has never before in our history been on a sounder position."

McQueen Fills Ransom Shoes

McQueen is 34 years old and is a graduate of the local high school and also a graduate of Fordham Law School. He has lived in this village for the past 30 years and has been engaged in the law and insurance practice for the past 12 years.

Among the organizations of which he is a member are the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce, the Business Men's Association, the Hempstead Elks and the Knights of Columbus. He is a staunch boatman, being vice-commander of the Oyster Bay Yacht Club.

In accepting the nomination offered him by the Republican party, Judge Lebkuecher said he is standing on his past performance as a judge and as a citizen of good standing in this community. He has been a life-long Republican and has done much for the organization.

After graduation Mr. McQueen established a surveying and engineering business in Oyster Bay, but left to enter the employ of the New York Central Railroad as assistant engineer at the Grand Central Terminal. Subsequently he served as assistant engineer of the New York City Board of Water Supply at the Catskill Aqueduct. From 1917 until last December he had been in the employ of the Alvey Perugin Company.

Mr. McQueen was a member of the Oyster Bay Board of Education for six years, during three of which he was president. The Oyster Bay high school was built during his administration. He and Mrs. McQueen, who is the former Mildred Gies of Hamilton, Ontario, reside on Harbor Park Road, Oyster Bay. He has one child, a daughter, Barbara.

Club To Map New Program

The program for the coming year will be presented at a meeting of the Men's Club of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church of Farmingdale, Tuesday night, Wednesday night. The program will include plans for activities in the road and gun group activities, music both instrumental and vocal, and drama. The club, according to officials, is expected to be very active.

Douglas Lewis is chairman of activities while Russell A. Kersey is program chairman.

Tuesday night a dinner was given at the Garden City Hotel in honor of laymen of the church. Those attending from Farmingdale were the Rev. Jonathan G. Sherman, Richard Johnson, Albert J. Rowland, Ralph Robinson, Everett Hansen and Wharton B. Allen.

LEONARD W. HALL

Too busy campaigning for others to strike out vigorously for himself, Assemblyman Leonard W. Hall, of the Second District, is one candidate the voter ought not to forget on November 5. As Republican leader of Oyster Bay Mr. Hall has, in two years, established a party that showed signs of slipping, into a strong and respected organization. As assemblyman he has long been the intimate of leaders of the Lower House and it is no idle prediction that, in event of the confidently expected Republican Assembly majority, he will either be elected speaker or floor leader.

Electorates have become cynical in view of the extravagant predictions made for local candidates and favorite sons, but concerning Mr. Hall few predictions have been made and most of them have borne out. Last winter his consistent fire on the Nassau "ripper" legislation brought him distinction in the Assembly, and the respect and support of influential persons. At 35 he is young enough and able enough to go far. To refuse him re-election this year would be the rank kind of ingratitude. He deserves re-election on his record and we are convinced that the voters will grant it.

THE CHARTER

In spite of the fact that some attempt is being made by the Democratic strategists to drum up support for the "Cuff charter", we find it difficult to believe that many Democrats will regard the charter as a partisan issue on election day. We cannot regard the abolishment of the town of Oyster Bay as a self-governing unit as a partisan issue. Nor can we see any advantage to either party in abolishing the commissioners of all special districts save fire and school districts and taking their control away from the people. The Nassau County Committee on Governmental Revision, in an excellent summation in its report to the Board of Supervisors, found 14 damning objections to the bi-partisan charter objections that, in our opinion, condemn it utterly. There are many of us who still feel that those who prepared it did so with the best of intentions and with the most constructive purpose. But those who have examined the result of their labors carefully cannot be of two minds. To make such an instrument binding upon the people of our three townships would be a cruel and stupid mistake.

The Committee on Governmental Revision has prepared the best analysis of the charter we have yet seen and the majority of its objections are unanswerable. We haven't room, however, to reproduce it here, nor room to do more than discuss it briefly. One of our principal objections is that it places the "election of the county legislative body in seven arbitrary, misshapen and flagrantly gerrymandered districts which represent none of the accustomed associations of the people, thus completing the destruction of the town." It provides for the substitution of an set in inferior courts for the justice of the peace courts, a proposal that is arguably unconstitutional. It fails to provide for a modern and scientific method of assessing property for taxation.

These are only a few of the objections so pertinently set forth in the Governmental Revision Committee's report. There are several more. What our ultimate charter shall be is too early to say. For the moment we are better at knowing what we don't want than what we want. And we do not believe that the informed people of either party want the Cuff charter.

THE SPIRIT OF HALLOWEEN

Ghosts and goblins and witches and what not of that world where the Stygian River flows and the cauldron boils the peppery prophecy of magic will emerge once again. 'Twill be the night of Halloween next Thursday, and one must not be surprised if he sees a headless horseman galloping past and hears the swish of a witch's broom in the clouds.

In many countries of the world, people will celebrate Halloween in much the same fashion as it was observed many centuries ago. In fact, whether one wants to or substitution of a set of interior courts for the justice of the peace courts, a proposal that is arguably unconstitutional. It fails to provide for a modern and scientific method of assessing property for taxation.

But to stave off these mischief-making spirits would be as fruitless as crushing an instinct; for this is not only the occasion for the assemblage of these many esoteric creatures, but the time when everyone goes in for a free-for-all indulgence in the superstition. And people of today as the folk of yesterday do not without belief in the existence of supernatural beings that find themselves in the most grotesque and illusory forms. With Halloween man is at once in his element, for here is the chance, coming once in 365 days, of giving vent to hobgoblin inhibitions that might have accumulated during the year.

In the smaller communities such as this, Halloween is as enthusiastically observed as the Fourth of July. If spirits do not actually abound, they are duly represented by fantastic reproductions. Groups as well as children take part. In the metropolitan suburbs, as soon as night falls, the colorful procession starts. As though called forth by the magical notes of some Pied Piper, children and adults alike scamper forth into the streets masked and dressed in grotesque shapes and forms. Gradually the scattered groups of masqueraders join in one mass procession that trails through the streets amid the clamor of horns and rattles and tin-pan banging.

G.O.P. Finance Appeal Finds Big Response

John R. Brandt, the present councilman, is a resident of the town of Oyster Bay. His name is well known among the business men and pharmacists within the town and county.

Quotas have been set for the many county committees, but the fact is that they are far from being filled, for this year's receipts must be divided among local, state and national needs. The knowledge of existing conditions has been selected by the Republican party at its nominee for re-election as councilman with the term set at four years.

Since the organization of the bureau four years ago, Mr. Brandt has been in charge of the Emergency Relief Work in Hicksville, serving as chairman of the committee which included in its scope Jericho and Plainville, as well as Hicksville. This was one of the largest territories that any group, gathered for such work, was obliged to serve.

Mr. Brandt has been a resident of Hicksville for 14 years. He is a registered pharmacist and has been connected with the drug business for the past 25 years. In 1921 and 1922 he was president of the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce and for seven years was an active member of the Hicksville fire department. He is a Mason and a member of the Hicksville Masonic Club.

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1936

Why do we say the New Ford V-8 for 1936? In no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936.

What is new about it? Of course, the newest engine in the low-price car field is still the V-8 engine. Since Ford made it available to all car users (keeping it as economical as cars with fewer cylinders) the Ford V-8 has been the newest engine on the market, and remains the newest for 1936.

You may buy a car on minor "talking points" - some specially advertised feature "with the car thrown in" - but after all, it is the engine you buy when you buy a car. Hence we put the engine first.

Other new points about the car make a long list. Its lines are much more beautiful. The hood is longer and sweeps forward over the distinctive new radiator grille, giving the car a length and grace that are instantly impressive. The fenders are larger, with a wide flare. Horns are concealed behind circular grilles beneath the headlamps. New steel wheels.

Ford upholstery - always of sterling quality and excellent taste - is rich and enduring. The appointments of the car have a new touch of refinement. There is no question about the increased beauty of the Ford V-8 for 1936. In more practical matters, many improvements have been made - Steering is made easier by a new steering gear ratio. The cooling system circulates 5 1/2 gallons of water through a larger radiator. Natural thermosyphon action is assisted by two centrifugal water pumps. New style hood louvers permit a rapid air-flow around the engine.

Easier, quieter shifting of Ford gears - The gear shift lever now travels a shorter distance.

The two qualities you want in brakes - Brakes that stop the car with ease and certainty. Ford Super-Safety Brakes of the long-tested, fool-proof, mechanical design.

Safety - as always - in the electrically welded genuine steel body. Safety Glass all around at no extra cost. Hundreds have written grateful letters because this glass has protected the safety of their families.

A car you can drive without strain all day, if you like, in city or country. Steady, holds the road, responds to the driver's touch like a well-trained horse. You don't have to "push" or "fight" the Ford V-8 - driver and car easily get on terms of good understanding with each other.

An engine has much to do with the roominess of a car. Very much indeed. A long engine uses up car space. The compact V-8 engine permits much of the ordinary engine space to be used by passengers.

It really is a great car in every way. This 1936 Ford V-8 - the finest, safest, most dependable Ford car ever built. Now on display by Ford dealers.

THREE MEALS A DAY

BY SIDNEY SNOW

When It's A Cool Evening Serve A Hot Drink!

Chocolate Drinks Can Be Prepared In Various Delicious Ways

On a cool evening, when friends drop in and it's time to serve a little something, did you ever try hot chocolate? Another chance for variety is offered by the olive group. Especially if you serve them as hors d'oeuvres at cocktail time, you'll want to have the stuffed varieties as well as plain ripe and green. Olives with anchovies; with almonds; with pimientos; with capers; with olives; with tiny onions... all these are available and usually in small sizes which make an assortment not an extravagance.

Sunday Night Suppers

More and more it is the custom to hold Sunday nights open for the purpose of entertaining briefly at tea or supper. It is a habit that is perfectly into the small home, the week-end message and the house without servants. For there is not a degree of formality about it, foods may be just what one finds it most convenient to offer, with no thought of criticism for lack of variety.

The service for Sunday night supper may be buffet, where each one helps himself from a refractory table, which should be set as effectively as possible.

This is the time to use one's odd bits of glass or pewter or colorful pottery, and individual pieces may not fit so readily into schemes that are more conventional. Here smart new colored linens show to advantage; treasures of silver or lacquer lend a festive touch.

The menu for the Sunday night supper should consist of the following: a salad or some hot chafing dish recipe such as chicken a la King, lobster Newburg or shrimp wiggle. If you do not care to fry the chafing dish suggestion, then you may fall back upon home-baked Boston beans or Italian spaghetti brought hot from the kitchen. Or you may have one of the whole-corn salad-and-sandwich collections that are so tempting.

There should be tea and coffee, either iced or hot or both, to suit all palates, and desserts may be simple tart or pastries, ice cream, a sherbet or parfait, in smart long glasses.

Fruit Fricas
 These are nice to serve as a breakfast dish, or with meals. To a cup of flour add a half teaspoon of salt and a teaspoon of sugar. Stirry four into this mixture two thirds of a cup of milk and two well-beaten eggs. In this batter dip the fruit to be used—banana, pineapple, apple or peach, etc., if you prefer. Chop the fruit and mix it in with the batter. Fry in hot fat for three minutes. Dust with powdered sugar or serve with a fruit sauce.

You may be very simple about the hors d'oeuvre service—and yet be very smart. These inexpensive and easily prepared tidbits make a very attractive service. A celery stuffed with pimiento cheese; a slice of tomato topped with a rice of omelet; egg, stuffed and sliced; a little spicy salad or relish in small lettuce leaves.

Have you forgotten about adding a tiny pinch of salt to coffee or hot chocolate when it is in the making? This greatly increases the flavor.

THE TALK OF THE TOWN

MOVIES

THE BAY SHORE THEATRE
 Dick Powell and Ruby Keeler are again co-starring in the new production "Shipmates Forever," which opens a four day engagement at the popular Bay Shore Theatre beginning Sunday, October 27 and playing through Wednesday, October 31. The famous screen lovers who made their first hit in "Cnd Street" following it with "Cnd Digners at 1337," "Flirtation Walk" and other screen successes, appear in their most pretentious picture in "Shipmates Forever" a thrilling drama of midshipman life at the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Dick sings a number of catchy songs which fall naturally into the plot, he brings a crooner to New York City before becoming a Naval Cadet. Miss Keeler who plays the part of the orphaned daughter of a naval officer, compelled to earn her living by singing, gives an exhibition of fancy tap dancing with the famous Merleu Kiddies. More than a thousand cadets take part in the Annapolis scenes while as many more officers and men of the Navy were with the screen players along the Pennsylvania. The traditional customs of the Naval Academy are at woven into the romantic and exciting plot which zooms in suspense to the breath-taking climax when Powell dashes through flames and scalding steam to rescue a shipmate, and thereby winning a bride. There is a show-up scene between Dick and Miss Keeler in the picture, including Lewis Stone, Rose Alexander, Richard (Dick) Fern and many others. Special songs were written for the production. The picture begins next Thursday, October 31, and plays through Saturday November 2.

AMITYVILLE THEATRE
 America's last frontier is gone but not forgotten. A vital, moving record of its treasured heroes, its wild turmoil, is preserved for posterity in celluloid. "The Klondike-Skagway-Dawson," the last geographical landmarks of a vanishing frontier, lie again on the screen in the new picture, "Call of the Wild," which begins a three-day engagement at the Amityville Theatre, beginning Sunday, October 27, and playing through Tuesday, October 29, with Clark Gable, Jack Oakie and Loretta Young in the leading roles. "Call of the Wild" was produced with all the vigor of Jack London's classic record of the Alaskan gold rush of 1897 on which the story was based. Gable is seen as a swash-buckling prospector who meets a young San Francisco society beauty, played by Loretta Young, on the trail. Thrown together, their codes conflict, however with life stripped of all the artifices of civilization, their differences vanish and they fall in love. Jack Oakie supplies the comedy relief as Gable's wisecracking buddy, while also prominently cast are Frank Conroy, Reginald Owen, Katherine DeMille, Sidney Toler and Buck the new dog star. The entire picture was filmed in the remote snow country of northern Washington. The location on towering Mount Baker, where the company of 150 actors and technicians faced danger and starvation when they were marooned by the worst blizzard to hit the northwest in six years, is technically magnificent and bears striking resemblance to the gold rush locale.

In the supporting roles are Mona Barrie, Gene Lockhart and Grant Withers.
