Police Arrest Two For Theft Of 40 Chickens

William McCue Of Jericho Charged With Drunk Driving

William McCue, 28, of 16th Street, Jericho, and John Wertheisen, Jr., 26, of Jericho Road, Hicksville, were arrested Friday night by police of the second precinct and charged with stealing 40 chickens from Mrs. Charlotte Davidson of Kay Place, Jericho, last Thursday night.

The police were pumiled about the theft until Friday evening, when Detective Reginald Ballard, Sergeant Quinn Quackenbush and Patrolman Thomas Thornton were cruising along McCarthy Lane, Jericho, in search of evidence. It came sooner than they expected in the form of McCue driving in an alleged zig-zag fashion. Suddenly, they found chicken feathers in the rear of the car.

According to the arresting officers, McCue and Wertheisen, who was implicated by McCue, stole the birds on Thursday night and sold them in New York City Friday. Arraigned before Justice J. P. Lebkuecher in Hicksville Saturday morning, both pleaded not guilty and the date for trial was fixed for Tuesday, November 12.

Wertheisen was released in $500 bail, but McCue, charged with his second offense as a drunken driver, was locked up in the Nassau County Jail. Police said McCue had been converted of drunken driving by the late Justice Andrew B. Heberer in Hicksville court on May 20, 1932.

Valentine Excused From Appearance Before Grand Jury

Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine has denied the report published earlier this week that he knew of Nassau jobholders who had been beneficiaries of the late Dutch Schultz.

Acting promptly on the report as soon as it appeared in the press, District Attorney Martin W. Littleton sent a subpoena to the New York police commissioner, directing him to appear before the Nassau County grand jury on Tuesday, November 12, with any evidence he might have indicating any payments by Schultz to any officers of the county.

"I have no evidence in my possession," wrote Commissioner Valentine in reply, "which indicates that Nassau County officials, elected or appointed, were associated with the activities of Dutch Schultz. I am in no way responsible for the stories printed in the newspapers."

District Attorney Littleton excused the commissioner from appearing before the grand jury.

Nude 'Tarzan' Still Hiding In Massapequa

Police Continue Hunt For Asylum Inmate

Whether a hairy, roaring man, nude and Tarzan-like, is hiding in the Massapequa woods, or has made his way to other parts of the island, is the question which is bothering Nassau and Suffolk County police today.

The man was hunted on Sunday by nearly 150 police and volunteer firemen, after he had terrorized parts of North Amityville and Farmingdale by his sudden appearances and throaty jungle calls. The man was first seen by Mrs. Peter Price, wife of North Amityville, who reported that some time before dark he had emerged from a patch of woods, had bent his chest and uttered, calls like those of "Dip-ee-ee Burroughs" famed animal actor.

Police were called and vainly scoured the woods. A little later some children on the County Line Road, at the county boundary near Farmingdale, saw the naked dastard across the highway. Forty Nassau cops and 100 volunteers from turned out, and a police plane from Roosevelt Field went up in an attempt to spot the fugitive. When darkness fell, various frightened motorists reported that a nude man had suddenly popped out into the roadway to yell at them as they went past.

Police were uncertain today as to whether the reports of the man were greatly exaggerated or not. They learned, however, that an inmate answering to his description had escaped on Sunday from the Pilgrim State Hospital at Brentwood. The escaped patient they were told, was of violent manner, but not necessarily homicidal. When he left the hospital, escaping by cutting through an iron barred window, he was wearing only a pair of trousers, a little loquacious and had shed them. The man was six feet two inches in height, weighed 185 pounds, and has sandy, curly hair.

Captain Arthur Powell and other members of the Farmingdale police helped in the search, scouring the Massapequa woods and other parts of the countryside.

Emerson Noll Speaks Before Rotary Group

District Governor Tells Of Service Provided By Club

Members and guests of the Farmingdale Rotary Club heard an address by Dr. Emerson Noll, District Governor of the 20th district, at the weekly luncheon meeting yesterday at the Bethpage Park Clubhouse.

Dr. Noll, a resident of Port Jervis, told of the aims of the Rotary club the world over, declaring that they provided a very definite service to humanity. He told of work done to aid crippled children and orphans, and of the intangible values of fellowship and friendship gained from the organization. He declared that the membership of Rotary exceeded 162,000, and that there were now 2684 separate and distinct clubs in existence.

He said that Knapp, director of the State School of Agriculture, and himself a past district governor, responded to Dr. Noll's talk. Guests at the luncheon included Merrill Knapp and C. George Lacker, and Rotarians present were W. R. Petrie of Huntington, H. Bickmeyer, president of the Huntington club, William H. Knapp and George Ashby. The speaker at next Wednesday's meeting will be the Rev. Father P. J. St. Martin, R. C. church in Amityville. He will speak on the meanings of Armistice Day.

Syosset Store Is Burglarized

Gaining entrance through a skylight, burglars took $200 in cash from a safe at the Howard & Cook drugstore on Jackson Avenue Saturday night. Police of the Second Precinct said they overtook more than $100 in silver.

The safe combination had been left at zero. It was said, and the burglars merely slipped it in order to open it. After taking the cash, they broke locks off a rear door to make their exit. This is the third time the store has been burglarized. Yesterday pointed out this was but one of a series of petty burglaries in the business district. They plan to ask additional police protection.

CLUB ENTERTAINS

The Independent Democratic Club of Hicksville sponsored a noisy dance on Friday night at the Ukrainian Hall on Broadway. John Puvogel was in charge of the affair which was attended by more than one hundred persons.

Well-Digger Gets Dug Out Himself As Wall Collapses

Eight troopers and an inspector from the Babylon barracks of the New York State Police labored for four hours on Saturday afternoon to dig Herman Oswald, 37 years old, of Babylon, from a well he had dug on the Featherstone place at Pine-lawn. Finally, to the cheers of the large crowd that had gathered, he was lifted safe and sound from the 35-foot pit.

Oswald was working on the well for the effluent well, and planned to have it completed by Saturday afternoon. Digging it without installing shoring, he took the chance of having it collapse, which was just about what it did a little after two. Responding to a hurry call, the troopers found the well

Charles Cozine Rites Are Held

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon for Charles Cozine of Farmingdale, who died suddenly on Sunday morning at his residence on Main Street.

The Rev. Frederick Morley officiated at the services which were held at the Cozine home. Burial followed at the Maple Grove Cemetery in Richmond Hill.

Mr. Cozine was a resident of Farmingdale for many years, and was an uncle of Charles Squires, village police officer. He was stricken suddenly with a heart attack while reading at his home.

Glen Head Wife Subdues Mate

Lets Him Have Plate Over Face When He Gets Fussy

Subduing husbands who get fussy after taking a drink too many is becoming an art with Tony of Oyster Bay women.

When Carl Skoldowski, 62, of Hillside Avenue, Glen Head, came home Friday afternoon, Mrs. Skoldowski was ready for him. She stood for a little looking at him, let him have a plate on the face. Dr. James A. Dolan treated Skoldowski for lacerations of the forehead and lower lip. He refused to make a complaint against his wife.

Another Town of Oyster Bay man to experience the wrath of his wife was William Terwilliger, 45, of 22 Spruce Street, Hicksville. Mrs. Terwilliger told police that he made a return home Wednesday evening, October 30, and began a quarrel. Mrs. Terwilliger is a woman of few words. She was attended by more than 500 persons. Second prize went to Ellen Mendicino of Franklin Square. Frank J. Plandant acted as master of ceremonies.

Republicans Win Smashing Victory In Oyster Bay Town; Incinerator Carries By 199

Big Off-Year Vote Recorded In Hicksville

Lebkuecher Leads Ticket Here In Easy GOP Triumph

Hicksville voters set an off-year election record on Tuesday when, following the examples set by neighboring communities, they rolled up big leads for the regular Republican candidates.

Justice of Peace Joseph P. Lebkuecher of Hicksville showed his strength by leading the ticket locally, and other G. O. P. candidates had big majorities. In the 19th district McManus received 154 votes and Hall 392; Alley 169; Tappen 378; Glennon 149; Brandt 366; Cryan 101, Lebkuecher 402, and Hendrickson 153 and Duryea 32.

The 20th also gave the Republicans large pluralities. McManus received 146 votes and Hall 365; Johns 154 and Hedger 375; Alley 169; Tappen 378; Glennon 149; Brandt 366; Cryan 101, Lebkuecher 402, and Hendrickson 153 and Duryea 32.

The Democratic roll continued in the third, where Tappen polled 288 to Alley's 176 and Brandt 303 to Glennon's 149. Lebkuecher received 389 votes to Cryan's 96, and the Republicans won other offices by about the same margin.

The 16th district was a bit closer, but the Republicans still had little to worry about. The vote there was: McManus 241, Tappen 352, Tappen 401; Glennon 223, Wade 294; Brandt 295; Moran 229; McQueen 299; Cryan 137, Lebkuecher 406, and Hendrickson 229 and Duryea 402.

In the two Central Park districts it was slightly closer, although the Republican candidates were easy victors. In the second district, where Tappen polled 288 to Alley's 176 and Brandt 303 to Glennon's 149. Lebkuecher received 389 votes to Cryan's 96, and the Republicans won other offices by about the same margin.

Almanack Will Be New Weekly Feature In Hicksville Leader

Beginning with this issue The North Shore Almanack will be included with this paper every week.

Although now in its third year, the Almanack in the past has been limited in its interest to North Shore subscribers of Township Press publications. Now, however, it becomes a part of all Township Press weekly publications.

The Almanack has a varied appeal. It contains movie show bills, a week in advance, coming events, weekly articles of Julian Mason, the celebrated editor and commentator; James G. Cooley, authority on polo, and Mrs. Evelyn B. Hunt, a talented and witty writer whose satirical pen pierces the sham and humbug that lies behind much of our life. The Almanack also offers a column of advice to shoppers and contains, besides classified advertisements, many items of a miscellaneous nature of interest to nearly everyone.

Pluralities 3,900 To 5,300 In Unprecedented Triumph

Hall Wins In Second District By 14,000 Votes; Non-Partisan Support Saves Disposal Plant From Defeat; Lebkuecher Leads Ticket.

LEONARD W. HALL

On a straight issue of approval or disapproval of their management of the town government, Oyster Bay Republican candidates won a smashing victory at the polls on Tuesday.

The Republican majorities ranged from more than 3,900 to more than 5,300 over their Democratic opponents. Every candidate was elected and two districts where Democrats have heretofore exercised control, the 16th of Sea Cliff and the 20th of Central Park were won by decisive Republican majorities.

Superior Harry Tappen's popularity reached a new high as reflected by the 3,194 votes he received in the town. His opponent, Bayford W. Alley of Jericho, received only 439 and even lost in his own election district where he received 101 votes to Mr. Tappen's 278. In his own district, the eleventh of Glenwood Landing, Mr. Tappen received 460 votes to his opponent's 91.

The victory was unprecedentedly sweeping for the Republicans. Never before have majorities reached the heights they did on Tuesday and not since the most optimistic day did Leonard W. Hall, the Republican leader, allow himself to believe that the pluralities would be so great. Mr. Hall was re-elected to the assembly in the Second District by a majority of 14,000 votes.

Joseph P. Lebkuecher, of Hicksville, running for election as justice of the peace, polled the highest vote on the ticket, receiving 3,912 votes. His colleague on the ticket, Eugene L. Flanagan, running for the same office, was low man, polling 1,563 votes.

Hicksville F. C. Nassau County Held Scoreless Republicans By Red Riders Raise $180,000

Mid-Islanders Play 0-0 Tie With Streamers On Sunday

The Hicksville Football Club and the Valley Stream Ad Riders battled each other over Freeman's field in Valley Stream on Sunday afternoon yet neither team was able to cross the final line for a score.

The Mid-Islanders penetrated into the Streamers territory time and again but each time the fighting spirit of the Red Riders gave them the strength to repulse the plunging Bergeldoms.

The biggest Hicksville threat came in the final period when the Black and White ploughed down the field with Orist Milleville bearing the brunt of the ball toting. Two consecutive first downs brought the ball to the Valley Stream 18 yard marker but a pass from this point was intercepted and the advance checked.

In the same period the Red Riders gained 25 yards on two passes from Bill McChick to Larry Seating and another pass was ruled complete because of interference. This was the first serious threat on the Hicksville goal but Milleville intercepted another attempted pass on his own two yard line to halt the attack. Harry Proctor kicked to his own forty yard stripe and the final whistle ended the game.

The greater part of the play was confined to the Streamer's territory and their rivals were credited with eight first downs to five of their own.

Fund This Year Three Times Amount Secured In 1933

The United Republican Finance Committee has raised "well over $180,000" in Nassau County so far this year as compared with only $60,000 and less throughout the county last year, it was announced Sunday night at a meeting in the home of Paul G. Pennoyer of Locust Valley. Fifty district chairmen were among the 150 persons present. Charles A. Blackwell, general chairman of the committee, presided.

It was announced last week that $161,000 had been raised, but it was decided that no further announcement of totals would be made, as contributions had fallen off. Much of the money has been expended for use in the national and state campaigns next year, and the rest will be divided among the three townships of the county for local and county campaigns.

John Hamilton, general counsel of the Republican National Committee, said that the issue at stake in 1936 was more important than that which faced the country in 1930.

Couple Unhurt In Auto Mishap

A Forest Hill couple narrowly escaped serious injury or death on Sunday night when the automobile in which they were driving was hit by another car on Conklin Street near the Clinton Street intersection.

The greater part of the play was confined to the Streamer's territory and their rivals were credited with eight first downs to five of their own.

Syosset Man First Hunting Casualty

The first accident of the hunting season in Oyster Bay town ship occurred Saturday afternoon when Martin Puccio, 20, of Jackson Avenue, Syosset, was struck in the left temple by lead falling from a shotgun fired by his companion, Stanley Cateacsky, of Eastwood Road, Syosset, while they were hunting rabbits south of the Syosset-Woodbury Road.

Cateacsky shot at a rabbit and several of the pellets, ricocheting from a rock, struck Puccio on the temple and the left breast. He was treated by Dr. Kennedy.

Bowling League Games End In Tie

Games this week, in the Severyn Bowling League, were, as usual, hard fought and exciting. Independent Six Dyeing Company's team took two out of three from the Severyn Racers, but allowed them considerable part of the League lead by the Severyn Drivers, who took three straight from the Severyn Loops.

Hundreds Attend Bible Commemoration Services

More than 400 members of the various Hicksville churches attended the ceremonies commemorating the 40th anniversary of the printed English Bible which were held in the Hicksville high school auditorium on Sunday night. The affair was held under the auspices of the four local Protestant churches.

The Rev. Dr. Duncan MacPherson, General, Rev. St. Thomas' Protestant Episcopal Church in Brooklyn, was the principal speaker at the service which lasted nearly four hours. Other ministers which took part in the ceremonies included the Rev. William Strick of the Rev. City, the Rev. Eugene Krieger, the Rev. M. I. Propper and the Rev. A. J. Martin.

The musical portion of the service was supplied by the choirs of the four churches and the Hicksville Choral Society headed by Mrs. Ethel A. Curtis. This occupied a considerable part of the ceremony and the units rendered both classic and religious songs.

The ceremony was the first of its kind ever held in Hicksville and was for the entire community. Mrs. Florence N. Wettstein accompanied the singers at the piano. There was also a violin solo by Frank W. Ljes, accompanied by Mrs. Ljes.

The co-operating churches in sponsoring the ceremony were St. Stephen's English Lutheran Church, Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, the Community Church and the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Glen Cove Youths Held For Burglary

Henry Hirschman, 24, of 4 Second Street, and Paul A. Deane, 19, of 63 Havel Street, both of Glen Cove, were held for the grand jury by Justice Joseph P. Lebkuecher on Friday, charged with third degree burglary.

Detectives Henry Koehl and Reginald Ballard arrested the pair who were charged by Joseph Tenke, proprietor of the Oyster Bay, at Glen Head Road, Glen Head, with breaking into his place of business on Thursday night. Tenke said they had broken into his place of business, an appliance outfit and a spraying outfit, the total value at $100.

Republicans Win All Posts In Glen Cove

Mayor Mason Leads The Ticket To Victory At Polls Tuesday

Despite heated opposition from two of the five Democratic candidates, Mayor Mason and the entire Republican slate swept to victory in Tuesday's elections, plucking substantial majorities in each of the city's seven election districts. The battle of ballots was one of the most exciting ever staged in Glen Cove.

Leading his ticket as predicted before the votes were tallied, Mayor Mason rode back into office with 587 majority over the Democratic standard bearer, Daniel J. Fogarty. The complete vote was 2,706 for Mason and 2,119 for Fogarty. Mason, elected two years ago in a Republican landslide over incumbent James E. Burns, decisively carried five districts, dedicated in the embattled first, and was turned back in the fourth, the city's ultra-democratic stronghold.

Closest race of the day was that waged between Bogart Seaman, newcomer to the Republican side, and David Cohen, Democratic candidate for commissioner of accounts. Seaman won by 39 votes after the lead had wavered back and forth between the two contestants.

Next closest contest was that between John L. Long, Republican commissioner of public works incumbent, and William Doran, the former retaining hold of his post by a 180 majority. Doran ran up a vote of 2,350 while Long secured 2,169 votes.

Herbert Savage, Democratic candidate for commissioner of finance, hit third place on his ticket, when he polled a total of 2,253 votes to Harvey L. Doney's 2,561. Doney's majority was 308. The victorious candidate is the present commissioner of accounts. He was boosted to the finance portfolio in this election due to the refusal of the present finance head, Commissioner Sterling Madole, to run for re-election.

Commissioner of Public Safety Frederick Bond ran second place on his ticket by turning back the Democratic candidate, William Spornke, by a vote of 2,586 to 2,233.

County Treasurer Harry L. Hedger, a resident of this community, ran ahead of every candidate on the voting machine. He polled 2,656 to 2,009 for Edward J. Johns, his Democratic opponent, to get a plurality of 647 votes in his home town. Leonard W. Hall, C. O. P. candidate for Assessor, polled 2,558 votes and his opponent, Walter P. McManus, polled 2,154. Hall's majority was 404.

The County Charter last in this city by 671 to 570, the light vote indicating a lack of interest on the part of local residents.

NO SCHOOL. Although Farmingdale public school students weren't as lucky as the parochial school pupils on Election Day, they will get a holiday next Monday. Principal Gordon G. Brown announced this week Monday is Armistice Day.

GUEST PREACHER. The Rev. Severn Sherman, father of the present pastor of the church, will be the guest preacher at the morning service at St. Thomas' on Sunday. Mr. Sherman is pastor of the St. Paul John's Episcopal Church in Bridgeport.

Farmingdale School Notes

By Mabel Buchsbaum

The assembly day in high school has been changed from Wednesday to Friday.

On Friday, November 1, a play was given by several members of the senior class, entitled "Leave It to the Seniors."

Those taking part were Evelyn Stanford as Miss Martin; Helen Chapal as Gladys; Gladys Meeker as Margie; Joseph Weiden as Jimmie; Philip Adams as Tommy; Bernard Barker as Bob; Alice Brown as Cissy; and Rosario Pellegrino as Ned. Jack Denlon, a member of the senior class, gave out the prizes to the winners of the football sport dance, which was sponsored by the Washington Club. The first prize was two tickets to the football sport dance and that was won by Matthew Blugens. The second prize, which was one ticket, was won by Eyo Ventimoli.

Mrs. Reisel of the art department has offered a prize of $1 to be given to the person who submits the best cartoon for the school paper, "Hi-Lite." At least five people must enter the contest. All cartoons must be original.

A new club has been organized in the high school. It is the Biology Club. All students are eligible who have either passed the biology regents with a mark over 80 per cent or who are now taking biology and have an average of over 80 per cent. The election of officers was held at the first meeting. Those elected were: President, Helen Chapal; vice-president, Israel Waldman; secretary-treasurer, Dorothy Walker; and reporter, Edwin Zybllo.

The annual Junior Red Cross drive ended on Friday, November 1, with every room in Junior high 100 per cent and every room in high school except the study hall with 100 per cent. The freshmen in the study hall are still trying to get every one join. There are over 100 students in the study hall so it was rather difficult to get 100 per cent as soon as the other rooms.

The football sport dance, sponsored by the Washington Club was very successful. Many alumni of Farmingdale were back for the dance. Some of those present were: Frank Manfrot, Irish, Elsie, Hazel Lowman, Donald Lowman, Hazel Dunbar, Elsie Altman, Donald Pedrick, Jean Cadden, Peter, Joseph, Joseph, Joseph, John Herbert, Margaret Monroe, Seymour Wolley, William Berry, Charles Russell and Marie West.

Sixty Years Ago in Farmingdale

The following items appeared in copies of the Farmingdale Headlight for November, 1875:

The American Eagle of Huntington is advocating a canal through Long Island. It is claimed that it would greatly increase the price of farms and "would prevent the great and melancholy waste of life which is occasioned by the present method of navigation."

On Saturday night last three fine young cherry trees along Main Street were cut down. What motive the perpetrators of this contemptible act could have had in thus injuring the beauties of our village is a mystery. This is the third or fourth instance this fall, where young trees on the highways have been cut, broken down, or pulled out of the ground, and we think it is time that proceedings were taken to ferret out and punish the guilty parties.

The mail train on Monday last ran over and killed a fine heifer, owned by William Cahill of this village.

Ospices were encamped last week on Broad Hollow Road. They will move eastward tomorrow. The band numbers some twenty persons.

The valuable horse belonging to Jesse Merritt, which has been sick a long time, is now, under the skillful direction of Townsend Wright of Amityville slowly recovering.

Village Will Have Latest In Telegraph Equipment

Famous "Seven-League Typewriter" Will Be Installed In Western Union Office At Rappaport's

Back of the Western Union automatic telegraph printer to be installed at Rappaport's Pharmacy, Farmingdale, is the story of man's persistent efforts to eliminate time and space in communications and of the dramatic rise of the automatic telegraph to a point where it now handles more than 90 per cent of the nation's telegraph business.

The very idea upon which the Western Union Telegraph Company was founded back in 1851 was that of extending the automatic method of telegraphing over the United States. The instrument which the company proposed to use so extensively was the first practical printing telegraph which had been patented in 1847 by Royal E. House of Vermont.

F. O. J. Smith built the first telegraph line from New York City to Boston in 1846 using the method of operation invented by Samuel F. B. Morse. Smith, nicknamed "Fog," was such a "crack" in his manner of operating the line that the newspapers were bitterly against him and caused the erection in 1850 of two other lines between New York and Boston.

One of these lines was operated by the House system and the other by an electro-chemical recording telegraph invented by Alexander Bain in England. "Fog" Smith ridiculed the opposition declaring the Bain system was as worthless without the relay magnet of the Morse system as "a horse shoe without nails or a shoe without a horse." He offered to bet $1,000 that his old Durham ball would carry 1,000 words from Boston to New York in less time than the House printer would carry it. The bet was not "taken."

The automatic printing telegraph instruments survived, however, in spite of all ridicule and their obvious faults in those early days. It is true that for many years the high cost of automatic telegraph instruments and other factors caused the

Big Off Year Vote Reported In Farmingdale

Republicans Win In All Districts: Election Is Quiet

Following the examples of their neighbors throughout the township, Farmingdale voters went to the polls on Tuesday and swept all the Republican candidates into office. A record off-year vote was reported.

There was little or no trouble at the polls, and police reported one of the quietest elections in years. Although voting was light in the morning, the number of voters arrived at the polls in great numbers just before they closed at six.

Only in the twenty-fifth district was the balloting close, the Republican candidates there only winning by two or three votes in some cases. Complete returns gave Alley 96, Tappan 217, Glenn 96, Brandt 217, Fernan 96, Wade 101, Horan 96, McQueen 206, Massa 96, Flanagan 203, Cryan 97, Lequeuer 204, and Hendrickson 91, Duryea 216.

The Republicans easily won the twenty-sixth district, defeating Alley by 226 to 83, and Hall getting 228 votes to McManus' 78. Hendrickson received 68 and Duryea 240.

Gull Scalloping Scalp Caught By Local Fisherman

Chris Beterling of Farmingdale had the unique experience last week of catching a scallop and a large sea gull at the same time.

Mr. Beterling, hauling in a net at Oligo Beach, snared the fish, and upon examining it found that it had recently swallowed the gull. Feathers and all. The bird was dead, but had been caught just a few moments before.

The fish, apparently suffering from such a heavy meal, was very weak and a blow on the head soon put it out of its misery.

Music Presented To Public Library

Farmingdale Choral Society Makes Gift Of Large Collection

Several hundred dollars worth of sheet music, the gift of the Farmingdale Choral Society, will soon be available at the Farmingdale Public Library. It was announced this week.

The Choral Society collection, which will now be available to all residents of the village, had its start several years ago when the Women's Club purchased $100 worth of vocal sheet music. Later, when the choral became an independent unit, it was turned over to them.

The present collection includes the work of the greatest composers and contemporaries, as well as some of the most popular pieces for group singing.

FHA Campaign In Oyster Bay Is Progressing

More Than $10,000 In Modernization Is Pledged

The Oyster Bay campaign now being prosecuted by canvassers for the Federal Housing Administration, is accomplishing conspicuous results.

In addition to this, a number of local mortgages have been received and plans for several new houses are under consideration.

Occasionally a householder states his desire to defer repairs until spring and FHA authorities regard this as a mistake since the plan of government income loans will expire on April 1, 1936 and there is no assurance that it will be at all possible to secure modernization loans on small monthly payments after that.

The FHA authorities also call attention to the fact that for a few weeks at most they are maintaining an office on Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, where expert advice on individual finance problems and aid in assistance are at the service of the public without cost.

$350 Damage On Hallowe'en

Police Nab Gang Responsible For Most Of It

Undaunted by a heavy rain which fell intermittently all night, Farmingdale youths celebrated Hallowe'en last Thursday in their usual thorough fashion, doing damage estimated as in excess of $350.

Although successful in breaking many windows about the village, and otherwise despoiling property, the group of 17-year-olds who police say are responsible for most of the damage, were not so lucky in their attempt to escape the special patrol on duty last night.

Shortly after ten o'clock a report reached the Conklin Street booth that a group of boys was causing considerable damage at the Henry Eagon residence on Melville Road.

Captain Arthur Powell answered the alarm, and found that the boys had been up behind him, upset flower stands, broken windows and other signs of their recent visit. As much damage as possible was done, and Captain Powell stationed a patrolman nearby with the hope that the youths would return. In a few minutes they did, and were promptly arrested.

The boys, whose names were withheld because of their age, were also responsible for damaging the residence of Alex Mueher on Melville Road. The neighborhood home on Grant Avenue, and other residences about the village, not content with stealing gables and the usual Hallowe'en pranks, the boys stoned windows, destroyed furniture, and broke practically everything they could lay their hands on.

No police action will probably be taken in the case, as the parents of the frightened young culprits agreed to pay for any damage their children might have done. Although declaring that the pranks Thursday were not any more numerous than those of other years, Captain Powell admitted yesterday that more damage was done this year than ever before.

Members of the male sex were not the only one responsible for the disturbed sleep of many Farmingdale residents on Thursday. A 14-year old Farmingdale young man was nabbed just before midnight after she had thrown a rock through a plate glass window on the Melville Club house.

At the same time the new president of the Auxiliary, Mrs. Lulu Leonard, and Leo Kantor, the president of the Legion, will also be honored. The dinner is for members of the Legion and their invited friends.

W. J. Condy of the Seventy Aircraft Engineering Corporation was given a birthday surprise party on Wednesday evening at the home of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. North of Amityville.

The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shays, Miss Edwina Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. North, Jr., all of Farmingdale; Miss Jeanne Robbins, Miss Mable Hyde, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Pajans, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Ruggles, W. Hudson, Miss Jessie Delano, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wood, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. The annual dinner and dance of the Nassau County Firemen's Association was held on Monday at the Bethpage Club house. Immediately after the dinner the Ladies' Auxiliary invited its officers for the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Van Cott Ketcham of Melville Road and their guests Mrs. Jennie Grunhut of Jamaica, formerly of Farmingdale, and Mr. and Mrs. William Hickens of Manhattan.

Breuer Drafts Auction Laws

Roslyn Broker Seeks Regulation Of Sales

A law that would control auction sales in New York State has been drafted by Edward Breuer, auctioneer,
with offices in Roslyn.
Mr. Breuer will make every effort, he said, to introduce the proposed law into the legislature at Albany
this year.

Mr. Breuer's new law would prohibit an auctioneer from holding an auction sale in a house unless the articles sold belonged to either the owner of the house, or the last tenant actually in possession, or a sub-tenant in possession, both for at least three months. This will prevent auctioneers from engaging a house for the purpose of padding the list of items from dealers and other owners and sold as the possessions of the house.

Another feature of the proposed law is that it would prohibit auction sales unless they are absolute, without reserve on the part of the owner, or to the best bidder, or unless the sale is advertised as a restricted sale with an established knock-down price, announced at the time of the auction.

Another law the auctioneer will favor will prohibit the forming of combines which seek to control the prices at an auction for their own benefit and to the detriment of the owner of the property.

Success in making waffles lies
first, in not having the batter too thick; second, in using a well-greased, hot waffle iron. Except when using aluminum, when the greasing is omitted. Avoid too much baking powder or soda, and turn the cakes but once.

Hildebrand Is Elected To Head Bohack Company

Fred Hildebrand, a director of H.
O. Bohack Company, Inc., was elected president at a meeting of the board of directors. He is the son of Charles U. Hildebrand, who became president of the organization in March, 1932. Mr. Hildebrand is a director and member of the executive committee in charge of purchasing.

FRED HILDEBRAND

The new president has been a director of the Bohack company since more than 15 years. He is the son of the late John H. Hildebrand, who was president of the Shulka bakesries and who later became president of the Fulton Savings Bank in Brooklyn, which office he held until ill health necessitated his retirement.
The father was also active in several other enterprises and was well known to Brooklyn business men.

Fred Hildebrand is a member of the executive committee and has directed the affairs of the Bohack bakery division since he became associated with the company in 1923.
At that time he designed the bakery building and supervised its erection. It is a monument to his engineering ability for it is considered one of the finest and most efficient plants of its kind. Having had practical laboratory experience while employed by his father in the laboratories of the Shulka bakesries, Fred Hildebrand is recognized in the food industry as an outstanding expert of quality in foods. He personally tests the ingredients that are used in the large variety of Bo-hack baked goods.

During the World War he served as an officer in the United States navy, which may account for the fact that his chief hobby today is water sports, particularly boating.

He considers Long Island the best summer resort and is an active member of several yacht clubs and other organizations on the island.
He is also fond of music and derives considerable pleasure in playing an instrument in the Bohack Ryeat Band, which has a large responsibility for organizing from among the company's personnel. Mr. Hildebrand has won the admiration of his fellow employees, who look up to him as a builder of men, and his sound judgment and keen business ability have been responsible for his rise to the presidency of the Bohack organization.

He resides in Garden City with his wife and their three adorable children, and his summer home is at Quogue, L. I.

song stylist, and Tex Hendricks.
Jack Mayo and his orchestra will play for dancing with the Royal Thumbs Ensemble acting as alternate band.

Do You Know? Says Miriam

That I have received several letters asking for beauty and reducing information, but the senders failed to enclose self-addressed envelopes
so that I may answer them, so if these people still desire this information, they may write in again to this paper and I shall be more than pleased to answer them promptly.

While I am on the subject of letters, here is one I received the other day:

Dear Miss Miriam:

"Would you please let me know of some treatment for my hair, which has become dull and lifeless. I am also troubled with dandruff."

"E. M. B."

For dull and lifeless hair treat it with a few drops of olive oil and mineral oil, plus a few drops of brandy. Saturate a small pad of absorbent cotton with the oil and pat it on the scalp, separating the hair as you go along to make sure that all parts of the scalp are reached. Wrap a towel around your head and let the oils remain on for possible. Then shampoo the hair thoroughly, the mild liquid shampoo to wash the hair. Rinse in warm water, and dry between wet towels. Before the scalp is quite dry apply your favorite scalp tonic. This, I am sure, can be obtained in your neighborhood beauty shop. Apply it also give parts and massage lightly into the scalp and let it dry. The same tonic may be used three times a week. The oil treatment and shampoo should be had once a week for a month or so until the scalp has regained its normal condition. After that the tonic may be used only after the semi-monthly oil treatment and shampoo.

Purely local treatments are often disappointing. In the case of dull and lifeless hair we are considering now, it is necessary to build up one's general health, as well as to give regular care to the scalp. The hair is quick to reflect unhealthy body conditions. These treatment will also tend to eliminate the dandruff condition mentioned in the above letter.

It is smart to "ice" fancy sandwiches with cream cheese, when they are to be served for bridge-luncheons or suppers. Blend the cheese with a little cream and whip until of a good consistency to spread. Do this with cheese that has been left out of the refrigerator until it is rather softened. Ice the sandwiches, then place them in the refrigerator to harden just before they are to be served.
