Hicksville School Budget May Go Up Over $3 Million

Special to Mid Island Times
By Maureen Traxler

School Superintendent Dr. Catherine Fenton announced that the 1988-89 budget process has begun. In reviewing preliminary figures at the January 27 meeting of the Board of Education, she disclosed a proposed $45.6 million budget, an increase of $3,759,372 over last year, or an addition to the present tax rate of $3.14 per hundred assessed valuation.

The Superintendent also updated information on the progress made on the Board's goal to improve student performance in language arts.

In discussing the early budget figures, School Board President Thomas Nagle attributed much of the increase to a 60% hike in premiums by the Empire Plan Insurance program for district employees and a social security increase. Other factors include further State mandates on the Regents Action Plan and the replacement of oil tanks. The district will not be advised for several months as to what State aid will be coming to Hicksville.

Mr. Nagle said that the Board would like feedback from the public, and he added, "Voting no out of frustration is not fair to us." The Board's Finance committee will meet in general public session to discuss the budget on February 10 and 24 and March 16 and 23. The annual District Budget Vote will take place on May 25.

Dr. Fenton presented a code-by-code overview of the 1988-89 budget. She noted that her staff has been looking for areas where cuts or postponements of costs can be made, in light of the Empire Plan increase.

Several highlights of her budget remarks include:

- Consolidation of expenses for the Grades 4-6 Enrichment Program
- An increase of $300,000 in the special education area, $160,000 in salaries and $20,000 for consultants for the special education District Committee to execute specialized exams.

- The transfer of vocational students from BOCES to East Meadow and Levittown programs which will provide a greater savings and a better program for the students.

- A proposed $3,700 increase for a summer program for elementary students in need of an ESL (English as a Second Language) program. The aim of the program is to teach English to these youngsters before they enter formal classes in September.

Trustee William Bennett noted travel expenses for fine arts students up 100% in the budget figures. Dr. Fenton said that more students are performing in Nassau County functions than ever before. Expenses

Hearing Set On Zone Change

A public hearing has been scheduled for Tuesday, February 23, by the Oyster Bay Town Board on a request for a change of zone in Hicksville, according to Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

"The applicants, Paul P. Kerantzas, George D'Argelo and Isabel D'Argelo, are seeking a change of zone from 'D' residence district to 'R-O' residence-office district to utilize the premises for an accounting practice," Clark stated. "The property is located on the southeast corner of Woodbury Road and Elm Street, also known by the street address of 61 Woodbury Road, Hicksville."

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Memorial Day Parade Plans Forming

"The Henry Biel Post #46, Masonic War Veterans," will be hosting the Annual Memorial Day Parade on Monday, May 30. All veteran groups are requested to have a representative at our first meeting to formulate plans for this event. This meeting will be held at the Hicksville Masonic Temple, 18 W. Nicholas Street, Hicksville, on the evening of Thursday, February 11, at 8 p.m.

East St. School Parents Concerned Over Loiterer

Special to Mid Island Times
By Maureen Traxler

Over 150 people attended a hastily organized meeting to dispell the rumors and discuss the facts surrounding recent disclosures about a man soliciting youngsters in the East Street School area. The meeting, held in the Community Room of the Hicksville Library on February 2, was conducted by Deputy Commanding Officer Robert McGuigan of the Second Precinct, at the inspiration of several concerned parents. Also present were officers involved in the case.

Inspector McGuigan told the audience that his precinct "is not considering the statements as rumors," especially in light of the nature of the victims and the nature of the potential harm. He said that the precinct only became aware of the situation some 3 weeks ago, but they now know of six separate incidents, dating back as far as October and November. Through descriptions given by the youngsters that have been approached, the police department is looking for a man in his 20's or 30's, wearing wire-rimmed glasses, and having a mustache and short dark curly hair. He has been seen driving a silver gray metallic car with louvered back window. No license plate number has been given. All reported incidents occurred after school, within a short distance of the east side of the school building, and the man has been known to shout obscenities or to offer the youngsters candy or a ride in the car. The Inspector stated that to date no child has been touched or harmed, but that there is cause for concern.

The precinct has increased patrols in the area, particularly in the half hour after school dismissal, with uniformed detectives, two plain clothes officers and members of the Bureau of Special Operations. The two detectives heading the case have been working 8 and 9-hour days pursuing information through computers and the sex crime unit, and they have contacted Hicksville's 8th precinct directly south of Old Country Road. They will continue surveillance for an extended period of time.

The Department urged all parents to continue to talk to their children about the dangers of talking to strangers and to notify the precinct (364-0500) if they see anything suspicious which may link to these incidents. They also remind residents that if you need a police officer immediately, dial 911.

Inspector McGuigan said that he had not directly been in contact with the Superintendent of Schools, but that he has spoken on several occasions to East Street School Principal William Granville. After being made aware that the Public School Superintendent may not know the serious nature of the happenings, he said that he would contact Superintendent Fenton.

Several parents questioned the officers about the department's Operation Safe Child Program. Officer Gerry Herman of the Community Projects Bureau at Police Headquarters in Mineola said that Operation Safe Child is usually brought into the school setting by the building principal. The program works best in a small group of students of the same age range with the teacher present. The program covers child/stranger encounters and child molestation, all geared to the age level of those receiving the presentation. It was pointed out by a former East Street School PTA President that Mr. Granville has denied the opportunity to bring the program to the school.

P.O. Herman reviewed other programs such as PRIDE directed to the older elementary student and L.I.A.I.S.O.N., a puppet presentation for kindergartners, offered by the Herricks Community Center. He said that the police department programs can be scheduled by calling 535-7920 or by writing to the Police Commissioner, Samuel J. Rozzi at 1490 Franklin Avenue, Mineola, 11501.

Police Officer Gerry Herman discussed the forming of a Neighborhood Watch, a community awareness crime prevention program. He noted that incidents such as this often spur residents to get involved. The primary purpose of the Neighborhood Watch is to observe and report. If any resident in the East Street area is interested in knowing more about the Neighborhood Watch or would like to become an area captain, please contact Mrs. Lola Myron through the East Street School.

also include costs for transporting all-district elementary students for practices, students to State-level and marching band events. Dr. Fenton said that the district does "expect them (students) to be a competitive group."

Superintendent Fenton stated that the district has "not fully achieved goals in the area of language arts at this time," and added that the district "must solidify structure first." The District is striving for a consistent program from Kindergarten to Grade 12, with the same testing program conducted amongst the district schools.

Going back some three years ago, several administrators drew up an agenda of K-12 expectations in the writing/picture writing arena. Their idea was to have a folder compiled for each elementary student and passed on from teacher to teacher, with the 6th grader's folder going on to the middle school. This folder would contain samples of the child's writing. After a year of discussion with individual grade teachers, the district began the process of beginning the folders. Results are expected to be seen in three years.

The district also upgraded the reading program on the elementary level, from one reading series per grade level with two textbooks to where there are now two reading series per grade with four textbooks.

On the secondary level, the English Regents is now the norm for the average student. Students must take four basic English courses before taking electives. The district is striving to unify the four-year curriculum at the high school.

Another area being addressed by the district is the low SAT scores of our high school students in the vocabulary area. Noting that development begins at the elementary level, a Latin transfer program was designed to help students in their understanding of English words. The program took three years to develop, and is now in progress in grades 4-6.

In January the district's Elementary Reorganization Committee held its final discussion meeting which dealt with closings of schools. The committee is charged with proposing two or three viable options for the Board's consideration. The committee's voting meeting is on February 3.

Teacher Aide union representative Linda Hild read a letter to the Board concerning the testing of special education students. She noted that the district has changed its testing procedures so that students are not taken to a separate setting for testing. She noted the many variables from emotional handicaps to reading and behavioral problems which would merit student special attention during testing. She further stressed that Teacher Aides require certification as Teacher Assistants, which they have been seeking for some four years.

Mr. Nagle dodged the issue and passed it off as a "personnel matter." He would not discuss the contents of the letter at public session and stated that negotiations are coming up and Mrs. Hild and the union must go through the chain of command. Mr. Nagle stated that the Board doesn't set curriculum; it sets policy. Mrs. Hild replied that she "never negotiated this" (referring to the separate setting for testing).

Other Board actions included:

- Approval of a bid for $35,325 for a Massey Ferguson Diesel tractor.
- Extension of the New York State Labor Department Teacher Registry contract for 1988-89 in the amount of $10,500. No increase from 1987-88.
- Acceptance of a check for $66 from the Women's Outreach Network to be applied to the Hicksville Scholarship Fund. The Women's Outreach joined with the district in a mammography testing program in the fall.
- Updated approval of textbooks which have been in use for some five years.

The Board eliminated from its agenda an item concerning security cameras at the elementary schools. The district has recently tightened security in these buildings. Further security measures are being considered, but President Nagle did not wish to divulge information due to the nature of the subject.

Mr. Nagle continued to answer questions from the public. At this month's meeting, he reported that several people have come to the Board with bus problems. He noted that if bus companies aren't living up to district standards, then the district would look into another bus company.

Regarding the petition to rezone a certain parcel of the Burns Avenue School property, Mr. Nagle stated that in light of the Reorganization Committee's proceedings, this question would not be addressed until after a report has been given.

Mr. Nagle stressed that the report on the mathematics department which Dr. Fenton referred to at last month's meeting dates back to 1984. He said that the district is satisfied that the staff is "outstanding." He also noted that a teacher is allowed to teach one course out of certification.

The next meeting of the Board will be held Wednesday, February 24 in the conference room of the Administration Building.

Letters

To The Editor:

There have been numerous newspaper articles of late that have pointed up the water quality studies that have revealed minute levels of asbestos in certain areas which has been attributed to the presence of asbestos-cement pipe within the water system. Since many water districts have varying amounts of this type pipe within their service areas, regulatory bodies will have to come up with the necessary standards in order to amend the Federal Safe Water Drinking Act to protect the consumers.

The perfect solution and the most expensive is to replace all such type pipe within the jurisdiction of the water supply company serving the area. Since the problem is widespread it could become extremely costly to certain areas. Hicksville had a relatively small quantity of asbestos-cement pipe in its system (about 1,200 feet) and since it was confined to one small area the Board of Water Commissioners have already replaced it and there is none of it in service in the Hicksville Water District. This is one thing we will not have to cope with, but again there are those who feel that "there is probably more of a threat of contamination from hair spray." The further we go the more problems we will continue to find and yet the life span of our citizens continues to increase.

To The Editor:

Hertz Corp's recent admission that it overcharged consumers and insurers by an estimated $13 million over a seven-year period for repairs to rental vehicles was undoubtedly alarming to consumers, but not surprising. The Hertz fiasco is just the tip of the iceberg; swift action must be taken to enact laws to protect both consumers and insurance companies from being soaked by rental car companies.

Hertz is not alone in charging its customers unreasonable fees for waiving their responsibility for collision damage to rental vehicles. In fact, most of the major car rentals companies charge an average of $10 per day for this coverage, which equals more than $3,600 a year when computed on an annual basis.

There is a viable solution, however. Collision damage waivers would go the way of the dinosaur for insured drivers under legislation formulated by Professional Insurance Agents of New York State, Inc. (PIANY), a trade association of which I am a member. PIANY's proposal would require all private passenger automobile insurance policies issued or renewed in New York state on or after January 1, 1989, to provide coverage for damages to rental vehicles under the liability portion of the policy, unless the insured person rejects the coverage in writing.

Coverage would be provided for all or any part of the obligation of the insured person for property damage, loss or expenses other than personal injury liability, to any rental vehicle regardless of where it is registered. Costs incurred by loss

Editor's Notebook

In an effort to balance its budget the City of N.Y. is thinking of doubling its income taxes on suburban commuters. While the number of people from this area and all of Nassau County is not as high as it has been in past decades it is still something that will hit many households.

County Comptroller Peter King has launched a petition drive at Long Island stations.

To help offset a revenue shortfall blamed on the October stock market crash, New York Mayor Edward Koch last week called on the State Legislature to raise $150 million by hiking the commuter tax, a move that would affect 300,000 Long Island commuters and 500,000 from other areas. The city would keep $50 million and give $100 million to New York suburban counties to pay their station-maintenance fees to the MTA, the parent body of the LIRR.

Larry Simonberg, a Koch spokesman, argued that suburban commuters benefit from many city services and yet pay a fraction of what city dwellers do. "The mayor has not said he wants to equalize taxes" of commuters and city residents, Simonberg said.

Wage-earning commuters pay 0.45 percent of their incomes and self-employed ones pay 0.65 percent - a rate that has stayed constant since it was last raised in 1971. The average commuter is taxed $120 annually. The levy on city residents is 3.5 percent.

The State Legislature has traditionally opposed boosting the tax because of pressure from suburban lawmakers. But Koch believes the $100 million in his plan for suburban counties can overcome their concerns.

Residents have two avenues of redress. First they should sign the petition if approached and secondly write to our Assemblymen and State senators to vote the idea down.

of use of the vehicle if it needed repairs would be covered.

By including such coverage under the liability portion of the insured's policy, the bill would provide protection to drivers who do not carry collision coverage on their own vehicles. This coverage would cost only about $3 per year per policy, quite a contrast to the $10 per day cost of a collision damage waiver and a small price to pay for better, automatic coverage and fewer rental car headaches.

Students Honored At Islander Game

Students for a Better Community, sponsored by Manufacturers Hanover, Hicksville School District, January 14.

Manufacturers Hanover and the New York Islanders continued to honor the youth of Long Island by inviting 100 students from Hicksville High School to Thursday's Islander-Nordiques game, the fifth of 10 such nights devoted to the "Students For A Better Community" program.

The large numbers of young people volunteering their time and energy to community projects has gone, for the most part, unrewarded. Manufacturers Hanover, in its aim toward further involvement with the people of Long Island, will honor 100 students from 10 Long Island towns over the course of the Islanders' 1987-88 season. These students will be their guests at an Islanders' home game at the Nassau Coliseum and the evening will be named in their honor. Thursday was designated as "Hicksville Night," to recognize the students from Hicksville High School who have participated in such programs as Students Against Drunk Driving, Thanksgiving Food Drive, Christmas Toy Drive, and Blood Drive, and such clubs as Future Business Leaders, Foreign Language, and Drama, and such sports as baseball, field hockey and football. Students from the Fine Arts Department donated their artwork to local nursing homes.

Before the game, Jean Potvin, color announcer for the Islanders' radio broadcasts of home games over WOR radio, spoke to the students and selected the lucky recipients of two autographed hockey sticks. The winners were Pam Manganello and Eric Niccolis. Each of the 100 students received a backpack of souvenirs as well as a coupon for a hot dog and soft drink during the game, courtesy of Manufacturers Hanover.

These 100 students were selected by their respective school districts through the coordination of the Nassau County Youth Board. The balance of the schedule is as follows:

January 19 (Deer Park), February 2 (Merrick), February 25 (Melville), March 1 (Patchogue/Medford) and Hewlett is still to be determined.

In an on-ice ceremony after the first period of the game, Jim Brancale, Manager of the Hicksville Branch of Manufacturers Hanover, presented a plaque to Richard Hogan, Principal of Hicksville High School, and two of the high school's students.

Ronald Lynch, Vice President of Manufacturers Hanover, commented, "These students are proof that today's youth do care about their communities. They are outstanding citizens willing to give their time and energy to make their neighborhoods a better place in which to live. The Long Island branches of Manufacturers Hanover are proud to acknowledge their contributions."

'Continental Divide' By The Other Vic

On Saturday, February 27, at 8 p.m. and Sunday, February 28, at 3 p.m., the Plainview-Old Bethpage Library will be presenting the Other Vic Theatre Company in "Continental Divide".

Lucille and Cullum are wealthy New Yorkers living as virtual prisoners in their lavish Fifth Avenue apartment, the entire block being held in a stage of siege by rebelling domestic servants. They are, however, allowed a visit by their new in-laws, "Mr. John" and Mae, who hail from Arkansas and are in "trash." Thereafter the complications multiply uproariously, as the urbane Cullum struggles to be civil to the surly Mr. John (a confessed murderer), while his wife tries to persuade Mae that she need not repay their hospitality by cleaning house furiously and doling out copious amounts of "country delicacies". Can such dissimilar couples reach across the continental divide in harmony and understanding?

Ticket distribution will begin for Plainview-Old Bethpage School District residents on Monday, February 22. Two tickets per person. Only regular ticket holders will be admitted until 20 minutes before the performance. After that, admittance will be on a space available basis. Half the tickets will be available at 9:30 a.m. and half at 6 p.m.

The library is located at 999 Old Country Road, in Plainview, opposite the Morton Village Shopping Center 938-0077.

Lease Signed For Office Space

The Board of Publication for the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America, with main offices in Philadelphia, has executed a substantial lease with the owners of a landmark building located at 15 West Marie Street in downtown Hicksville. Extensive renovations are being conducted on more than 7500 Square Feet of grade level area, which is part of a building which originally housed the Eisemann Buick dealership many years ago.

Fortress Church Supply Stores, with branches throughout the country, presently located on North Broadway in Hicksville, will take occupancy of these new larger quarters in order to better serve their customers. Grand Opening is scheduled for the middle of February. This unique company handles a most complete line of religious supplies, church fixtures, paraments and other accouterments, clerical attire, books and quality art and giftware.

The five year lease with consecutive options was negotiated by Effie C. Krogmann, owner of Krogmann Realty at 420 South Broadway, in Hicksville.

Fork Lane PTA Honored Guests

Fork Lane is proud to honor these special people who have devoted much time and patience to the welfare of the children at Fork Lane. These people, along with many others from different Hicksville schools, will be honored at the PTA Founders Day Dinner on February 25.

The first honoree is Mrs. Maureen Traxler, who has had five years experience with PTA. She has served in various capacities, from room representative to unit president. In 1983, she assumed the duties of corresponding secretary and has become involved with the PTA legislation program. She represented our unit at the State Convention in Rochester in November.

As president since September 1986, she has continued lunch hour services to students through the lunch and milk programs, and initiated Forks annual Halloween Party. Mrs. Traxler continues to work with Fork's youngsters on their student newsletter, the Panther Post, and is now serving her fourth year as editor of the PTA newsletter.

Mrs. Traxler is a PTA Council delegate and, at present, serves as Newsletter and Publicity Chair.

Additional activities include Brownie, Girl Scout leader for four years and one season as girls instructional Assistant Chair with the Hicksville Baseball Association.

The 2nd honoree is Mrs. Carolyn Weber, our gym teacher for many years. She is a native New Yorker, with a B.S. from N.Y.U., and an M.A. from Adelphi.

She is married to Gary Weber, a science teacher in the Middle School. They have one daughter, Kerry-Leigh who lives in N.J. and is a systems programmer.

Mrs. Weber started at Fork Lane in 1960, and has been our gym teacher ever since. Mrs. Weber has helped the PTA with our PTA Talent Show, and PTA Volleyball by helping gather equipment, set up and assist with these games. Her experience and background in such events have proved to be a positive added touch to our events. Mrs. Weber and unit president Maureen Traxler will be co-chairing our upcoming "Jump-A-Thon" for the Heart Association. Mrs. Weber continues to give her assistance to PTA whenever possible, from helping supply Halloween party game props to preparing for the annual PTA Volleyball game.

The 3rd honoree is Ms. Kathleen Guadagni, our intermediate class teacher. Ms. Guadagni received her B.S. degree in Elementary Education and Special Education at C.W. Post College. She received her Masters Degree in Professionalism in Human Relations at the N.Y. Institute of Technology. Kathleen has been teaching an intermediate self-contained class at Fork Lane for 5 1/4 years. Kathleen has been involved in many PTA functions, including fashion shows, Halloween parties, roller skating, talent shows and volleyball games.

Atlantic City Bus Trip

A day in Atlantic City at "Tropicana" on Wednesday, February 24, is being sponsored by the Plainview/Hicksville Unit of the American Cancer Society. The Express Bus leaves from Rex Place in the rear of Morton Village Shopping Center at 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday. $19 will reserve your bus seat and guarantee $10 in coin and $4.50 in food for the Wednesday trip. To reserve your seat and for further information, please call 433-4204 or 681-0986.

Congratulations to Scott Adams, Jason Berg and Jossey Thomas, who had their winning entries brought to the State PTA Convention in Rochester to compete with other children's entries state-wide in the "Reflections Project." Fork Lane is very proud of our winning entrants and all our children who participated in the project. "Reflections Project" is a contest sponsored by the New Hyde State Congress of Parents and Teachers designed to encourage creativity from children through participation in the Arts-Visual Arts, Music, Literature and Photography. Fork Lane PTA presented our winning entrants with a "Reflections" Pin, congratulating them on their good work. In photo, teacher Mrs. Ruist, left, three entrants and principal Mrs. Benson, right.

The Princeton Review Case No. 1354

SAT Score Improvement: 130 points

Name: Karen Kirschenbaum.

School: Schreiber H.S.

Dilemma: Karen applied for early admission to Cornell. She was in the top two percent of her class and had impressive extracurricular activities, but her combined PSAT score was 1190. Cornell reviewed her application and informed her that no one was accepted early admission with a combined SAT score lower than 1250. She had only a few months to change her score...

Advice: Intensive math and verbal skills training using Princeton Review's advanced test-taking techniques.

Consequence: 1320 combined on the November 7th SAT and an early admission to Cornell.

Comments: "My biggest problems with the SAT were timing and vocabulary. The Princeton Review taught me both. In addition, they gave me the experience of taking four diagnostic tests under test conditions, so when I took the SAT in November I was totally organized and prepared. I knew what to skip and my timing was perfect. If you're prepared to do the work, and study all the Princeton Review techniques—it's really worth it. They really can help you improve your score."

Attend a free seminar and find out for yourself why, when it comes to preparing for the SAT, The Princeton Review really has no competition.

Student Musicians Represent Beth.

The Women's Club of Bethpage and the Juniors Club of Bethpage selected two musicians at Bethpage High School to represent them in the Second District New York State Federation of Women's Club Music Contest to be held on Tuesday, February 23, at 2 p.m. in the Bethpage Public Library.

Senior Michelle Kramer, a pianist, will be sponsored by the Women's Club, and Senior Bradley Astrowsky, tenor sax player, will represent the Juniors Club. These two students were selected in a preliminary competition held January 29, at the high school.

Four other accomplished music students deserve mention for their fine performance in the preliminary contest: Tanya Korostyshevsky (piano), Carol Berman (clarinet), Janine Hubbs (vocal) and Kristina Satre (vocal).

Dems Demand Hearing On Sales Tax

Richard Korn, Old Brookville Democrat, has asked the Nassau County Board of Supervisors to rescind the Board's emergency resolution calling for an extension of the additional sales tax for the county through 1990 and he also demanded public hearings on the issue.

John W. Matthews, Nassau Democratic County Chairman, said that he and other Democrats support the concept of holding public hearings on the sales tax proposal and added, "We expect public hearings to be held one way or another."

Last January 6, the Republican controlled Board, without public discussion or any public input whatsoever, by emergency resolution, passed a home rule message to the State Legislature in Albany asking an okay for an extension of the additional sales tax granted to the county in 1984 to bail the county out of a record deficit. This sales tax, originally one cent, now three-quarters of a cent, is to be phased out at the end of the year.

Matthews called the quickly passed emergency resolution "a sneak attack on an already overburdened Nassau County taxpayer."

The lone Democrat on the Board, Long Beach Supervisor, Bruce Nyman, voted against the so-called emergency resolution.

"Gentlemen, what emergency exists in Nassau County? What emergency is Mr. Gulotta faced with, that demanded such immediate and swift approval? When you approved this resolution, the existing Sales Tax Law did not expire for another 359 days. Was there really the need for a resolution 'declaring that an emergency exists' in Nassau County?" Korn asked the members of the Board at their last meeting in Mineola.

"Further, Mr. Gulotta has admitted that the county has a record surplus of $90 million. Does this warrant his declaration that 'an emergency exists'? This is not the way to run a government," Korn concluded.

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta, center, attended the 5th annual Nassau/Suffolk Legislative Breakfast which was hosted by the United Jewish Ys of Long Island. The breakfast was recently held at the Mid-Island Y in Plainview. County Executive Gulotta presented a Citation to Robert Hellberg of North Woodmere, left, who is President of the United Jewish Ys of Long Island, on behalf of the outstanding services his organization provides. Also present is Percy Abrams of Plainview, right, Executive Vice President of the United Jewish Ys.

Budding artist, nine year old Kara Zuaro, of 429 Davis Place, Bethpage, is one of the first place winners of thousands of entries in the 1987 Crayola National Coloring Contest - A Vision for the Future. Her prize, what else, but a giant five foot plastic Crayola Crayon replica. We are proud of her creative achievement which Crayola says "is truly remarkable."

Delligatti Speaks To Midland Civic Ass.

The Midland Civic Association held its meeting on January 27, at the Willet Avenue School. Despite the single-digit temperature, the auditorium was filled with concerned citizens who responded with warmth and interest to an address by our guest speaker, Town of Oyster Bay Supervisor, Angelo A. Delligatti on civic concerns. Many of the problems outlined by President Ellie Draycott were addressed by our new supervisor, as well as his goals for Hicksville and the Town of Oyster Bay. Some of these were water use, traffic control, road repairs, noise pollution, beautification of Hicksville and park projects. He announced that the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce would be permitted to put out garbage cans on Broadway, and that the Town would pick up the trash. This has been one of our goals for several years. When they are put out, please use them for light hand-carried trash such as coffee containers, papers or beer-soda cans. It will help make our town so much cleaner.

Mr. Larry Weintraub gave a detailed and very studious report on the works of the school re-organization program. A great deal of thought has been given by the members of the committee and, hopefully, their consensus will aid the administration in reaching a decision that will be beneficial to our students and to our taxpayers.

Presidents of other civics were also present and asked some challenging questions.

It was a warm and stimulating evening and those who braved the cold weather left feeling great about our community and the direction it is taking to better their lot.

Two Programs For Winter Recess

If your youngsters are looking for something entertaining (and educational, but you needn't tell them that) to do during their winter school recess, the Cultural and Performing Arts (CAPA) Division of the Department of Community Services has scheduled two programs in the 1988 "Music-Go-Round" series which may be just the ticket, according to Oyster Bay Town Councilman Kenneth S. Diamond.

On Tuesday, February 16, singer/guitarist Janice Buckner will give a concert at the Bethpage Public Library, 47 Powell Avenue, beginning at 2 p.m. "Miss Buckner has traveled extensively throughout the United States, Canada and Europe as a musician and singer, entertaining as well as gathering new material for her performances," Diamond said. "In this program, entitled 'A Bright Tomorrow,' she will present songs of peace, friendship and ecological awareness that reflect the universal needs and dreams of people around the world."

Diamond noted that in addition to being a solo performer since 1972, Miss Buckner has been co-director and a performer with Sweet Rose Revue since 1977.

On Thursday, February 18, the Red Silk Chinese Dancers will perform at the Plainview-Old

Janice Buckner

Bethpage Public Library, 999 Old Country Road, Plainview, beginning at 2 p.m. "The Red Silk Dancers comprises students from Chinatown's Dance Training Program," Diamond stated. "The group performs traditional folk dances from various provinces in a fully-costumed, musical production."

These programs are the third and fourth, respectively, of 10 in the "Music-Go-Round" series. For further information, contact CAPA at 795-5943.

Two Concerts At Library

David Buechner

Pianist, David Buechner will appear at the Hicksville Public Library on Friday evening, February 19, at 8 p.m. in the Community Room.

A world class talent, cited by the Baltimore Evening Sun as "a pianist who simply rolls over you. A confident attitude that seems to say, 'just hand over the music and step aside.'"

A unique flute quartet, Flutes Plus will appear at the Hicksville Public Library on Sunday afternoon, February 28, at 3 p.m. This highly professional group of talented flutists: Laura Gustavsen, Tara Helen O'Connor, Jane Oddo and Debra Schild have entertained Long Island audiences of all ages.

These two musical programs are a must for all who enjoy listening to accomplished artists.

These programs are free and all are welcome.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale

Have you been looking for the Girl Scouts in your neighborhood, who have been diligently working to sell cookies?

Sunday, February 7, is the last day to buy Girl Scout cookies. So you don't eat cookies....just buying one box will make your local Girl Scout feel better and help support Girl Scouting. You could always give it to someone. They are all wholesome cookies, made with vegetable shortening.

This year nobody will be able to say, "no!" The cookies are irresistible. New Echoes, shortbread-Trefoils, scrumptious Samoas, minty and chocolatey Thin Mints, oatmeal and peanut butter Do-si-dos, chocolate and peanut butter - Tagalongs, and Chocolate Chunks, which are really chunky.

This weekend is the last to order!

If you don't have a local Girl Scout in your neighborhood, but you still want to order cookies.... Call the Nassau Council of Girl Scouts at 741-2550.

Remember all of the wonderful things that Girl Scouting offers.

This weekend....Think Girl Scouts....Think Cookies....Think Future For All Of Our Daughters!

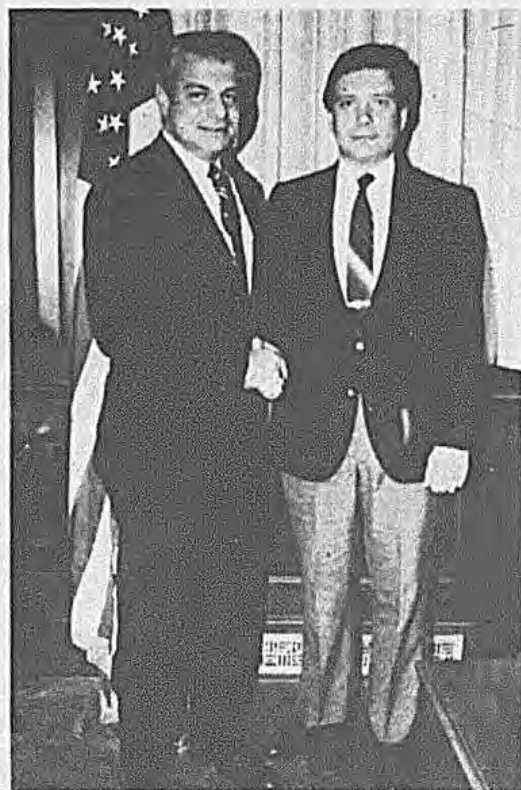

Special Use Permit Hearing Feb. 23

A request for a special use permit in Plainview will be the subject of a public hearing by the Oyster Bay Town Board on Tuesday, February 23, according to Town Councilman Douglas J. Hynes.

"The applicant, Team I, a New York-based partnership, is seeking a special use permit to construct a light industrial building with office and warehousing space in an 'H' industrial district."

Hynes said. "The property is located on Dupont Street approximately 1,384 feet southeast of the intersection of Sunnyside Boulevard and Dupont."

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. in the meeting room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta, left, congratulated Joseph Jablonsky of Hicksville on his recent appointment as the new Nassau County Sheriff. Mr. Jablonsky had previously served as Undersheriff. He has been with the N.C. Sheriff's Department since 1973, and also served with the Department of Probation. He resides in Hicksville with his wife and daughter.

A special treat was in store for members of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club when members of the Hicksville Fire District and Hicksville Fire Department, in the persons of Commissioner William Donlon and Ex Captain Robert Johnson, came to the January 27 meeting.

The program provided by the invited guests was in the form of a set of slides featuring our Fire Department personnel in action and shown by Ex Captain Johnson with commentary by Commissioner Donlon.

The Commissioner also pointed out that the Hicksville Fire District, with the elected Commissioners, is responsible for handling the funds and purchasing the necessary equipment for the Hicksville Fire Department, which presently consists of 8 companies with 4 chiefs, 8 captains, 16 lieutenants and 213 fire persons, one of whom is the only female member of the Department at this time. The Commissioner also said that the Department would welcome some more volunteers to help protect Hicksville.

PTA Founders Day Honors Carol Marks

On February 25, PTA celebrates its 91st anniversary. And in light of the traditions of the nation's largest child advocacy association, the Hicksville Council of PTAs has chosen Mrs. Carol Marks as its Founders Day District Honored Guest.

Throughout Carol's 12-year involvement with PTA, she has been an active worker on behalf of child-oriented legislative issues, and at present, she is the Senior High School PTSA president.

Carol became active in PTA when her son, David, entered the pre-school program at Burns Avenue School. Carol majored in Elementary Education at State University at New Paltz and had a desire to become more involved with children. She became co-chair of the pre-school program and conducted amblyopia screening for the youngsters. In 1977 she stepped up to the presidency of the Burns Avenue PTA.

As Carol became more aware of the strength of the PTA Statewide legislative program, she delved more heavily into this area. Her first experience with State policy came on the heels of a district-wide teachers strike in Hicksville. The incident weighed so importantly in Carol's mind that her desire to effect change led her to spearhead a committee to draw up and present a resolution at the upcoming State Convention.

"If you want to make a change for all children, you must go to the top." This is Carol's no-nonsense, straight-forward way of dealing with the issues which mean the most to our children and reflect the philosophy behind the PTA organization. Carol was a frequent State Convention delegate, having attended eight straight conventions up to 1986.

Her involvement drew Carol into service on the Hicksville PTA Council, first as delegate and Legislative Chair, and then on to Corresponding Secretary, Vice President and President (1982-84). Carol has served the State PTA at the Nassau District level, too. She held the position of Legislative Co-Chair for two years, then Recording Secretary and is contributing her third year as an Assistant Director. In this capacity, it is her job to aid area unit volunteers with difficulties at their level. Carol is an exceptional source of PTA knowledge.

Carol was one of the first parent members of the School District's Curriculum Council, and served on administrative personnel selection committees and various Board of Education committees. She was instrumental in formulating written procedures and guiding policy for both the Burns Avenue unit and the Hicksville PTA Council.

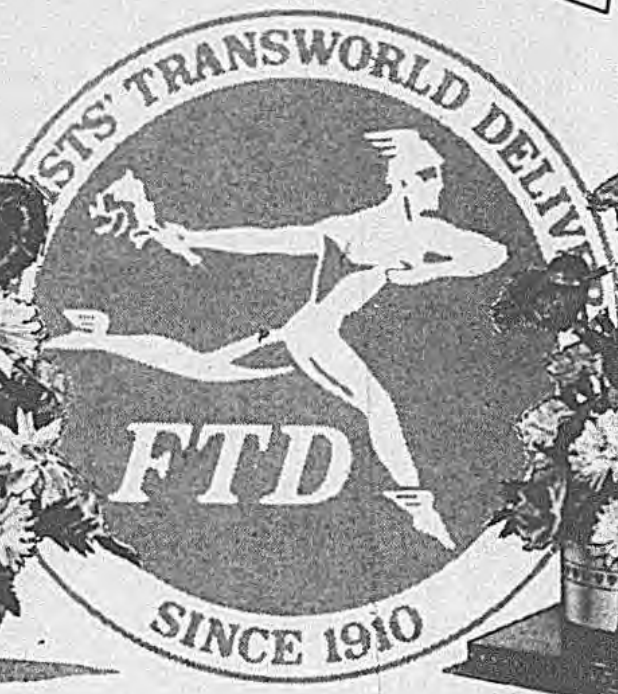

Carol was a volunteer for some four years as den leader for Boy Scout Cub Pack #293 at the United Methodist Church. She is a strong believer in women's rights. She most definitely differentiates rights from liberation, and feels that "women should promote women." Carol sees the PTA role not only as child advocate, but also as parent educator and leader trainer.

Carol attributes her success in PTA to the fact that she has "learned to listen - because in listening one gains the knowledge necessary to take a stand and make an impact." Carol says she has also "learned to grow with the children - because only through personal growth can one possible deal with the youngsters in their progression to adulthood." PTA is proud to honor Carol as its Distinguished Guest, for Carol has given her time and energy so unselfishly on behalf of all the children of Hicksville.

The Council's 35th Annual Dinner will be held at the Woodbury Country Club. Please note that dinner tickets are $27 per person this year, and are available through your school PTA Founders Day Chairperson or Peggy Gill at 433-8607.

Kramer PTA Show 'Pierrot Pirouette' 2 Students Win CivilRightsContest

On Tuesday, January 19, the Kramer Lane PTA sponsored a Cultural Arts performance of "Pierrot Pirouette" for the student body.

Mimes Mark Stolzenberg, who has appeared on stage and television as well as touring with Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus; and Christine DiMario, soloist with Frankfurt, Chicago City, Cincinnati, Israel Classical, and Washington Ballets; have brought the art of mime to over 1000 schools and colleges.

"Pierrot Pirouette" was a mime show depicting a romance between a successful circus clown and a struggling dancer moonlighting as a waitress. Pierrot demonstrated juggling, flame juggling, unicycling, and tumbling, running into the audience to "clown around" and involve the children in his performance. The struggling dancer/waitress interspersed lyrical ballet movements with broad comedy as she moved between her two careers. Students learned that stories can be told and enjoyed even when no words are spoken and learned how to "listen" to body language, the movements and gestures which often convey more genuine emotion than language can.

The entire student body enjoyed the entertaining and educational assembly sponsored through the PTA's Cultural Arts Program.

Pierrot joins the audience.

Pierrot demonstrates his juggling talents.

Frank Prochida, a seventh grader at John F. Kennedy Junior High School, and Ron Conti, a tenth grader at Bethpage High School, received awards in The Dr. Martin Luther King Junior Birthday Celebration Essay Contest sponsored by the Nassau County Commission on Human Rights.

Frank, who received first prize countrywide in the grade 6-8 category; and Ron, who received third prize in the grade 9-11 category, were awarded plaques and certificates in a special ceremony held at Hofstra University's John Adams Playhouse on January 14.

Frank, who learned about the contest through his English teacher, Mrs. Cennamo, said he admired Dr. King's non-violent approach to improving civil rights and his lasting contributions to racial equality. Ron, an English student in Mr. Cryer's class, said he drew on his personal knowledge and feelings about Dr. King in writing his essay. He admired Dr. King's efforts to make the world a better place and his personal courage in speaking up for peace and his personal beliefs.

Two Robbed Making Bank Deposit

Det. Anthony Miraval of the Second Squad reports the details of a robbery which occurred January 24 at 6:25 p.m. at Citibank, 255 North Broadway, Hicksville.

Two female employees of Lerner's Shop in Mid-Island Plaza, Hicksville, had just gotten out of their car to make a night deposit at the bank, when they were approached from the rear by an unknown male black who displayed a silver handgun and demanded money. He took the bank bag containing $1,391 U.S. currency and fled on foot eastbound toward the parking lot of Red Lobster on Nevada Street.

The subject is described as a male black, 23-25 years, 5'8"-5'9", 150 lbs., thin build, wearing a gray knit ski mask, scarf, rust colored waist-length jacket, gloves and armed with a handgun.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY

GIVEN that the Town Board of the Town of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, New York, at a meeting held on January 26, 1988, duly adopted the resolution published herewith subject to a permissive referendum.

Dated: Oyster Bay, New York January 26, 1988

Town Clerk

RESOLUTION NO. 96-1988
BOND RESOLUTION DATED
JANUARY 26, 1988.

A RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE ISSUANCE OF $6,300,000 SERIAL BONDS OF THE TOWN OF OYSTER BAY, NASSAU COUNTY, NEW YORK, TO PAY PART OF THE COST OF THE RESURFACING AND RECONSTRUCTION OF VARIOUS ROADS LOCATED THROUGHOUT AND IN AND FOR SAID TOWN.

WHEREAS, all conditions precedent to the financing of the capital project hereinafter described, including compliance with the provisions of the State Environmental Quality Review Act, have been performed; and

WHEREAS, it is now desired to authorize the financing of such capital project; NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT

RESOLVED, by the Town Board of the Town of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, New York, as follows:

Section 1. For the class of objects or purposes of paying part of the cost of the resurfacing and reconstruction of various roads located throughout and in and for the Town of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, New York, there are hereby authorized to be issued $6,300,000 serial bonds of said Town pursuant to the provisions of the Local Finance Law.

Section 2. It is hereby determined that the maximum estimated cost of the aforesaid class of objects or purposes is $6,733,000, and the plan for the financing thereof is as follows:

a) By the expenditure of $433,000 moneys received by said Town pursuant to the Consolidated Local Street and Highway Improvement Program, which moneys are hereby appropriated therefor. Such moneys shall be expended prior to the issuance of the serial bonds or any bond anticipation notes issued in anticipation thereof authorized pursuant to this resolution and shall constitute the down payment required pursuant to Section 107.00 of the Local Finance Law; and

b) By the issuance of the $6,300,000 serial bonds of said Town authorized to be issued pursuant to this resolution. Further details concerning said bonds will be prescribed in a further resolution or resolutions of this Town Board.

Section 3. It is hereby determined that the period of probable usefulness of the aforesaid class of objects or purposes is fifteen years, pursuant to subdivision 20(c) of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law. It is hereby further determined that the maximum maturity of the serial bonds herein authorized will exceed five years.

Section 4. Subject to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, the power to authorize the issuance of and to sell bond anticipation notes in anticipation of the issuance and sale of the serial bonds herein authorized, including renewals of such notes, is hereby delegated to the Supervisor, the chief fiscal officer. Such notes shall be of such terms, form and contents, and shall be sold in such manner, as may be prescribed by said Supervisor, consistent with the provisions of the Local Finance Law.

Section 5. The faith and credit of said Town of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, New York, are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on such obligations as the same respectively become due and payable. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such obligations becoming due and payable in such year.

Section 6. The validity of such bonds and bond anticipation notes may be contested only if:

1) Such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which said Town is not authorized to expend money; or

2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication; or

3) Such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 7. Upon this resolution taking effect, the same shall be published in full in Massapequa Observer, Bethpage Newsgram, Hicksville Illustrated News & Locust Valley Leader, the official newspapers, together with a notice of the Town Clerk in substantially the form provided in Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Section 8. This resolution is adopted subject to permissive referendum.

International Food At Student Lunch

At Bethpage High School, Mrs. Mensch's International Cooking class hosted an end-of-term International Luncheon for parents, teachers and administrators. The eleventh and twelfth graders taking this elective had been cooking and freezing international specialties for several weeks before the luncheon.

The mouth-watering menu included manicotti (Italy), Swedish meatballs, pastitsio (Greece), chicken chow mein with fried rice (China), spanakapita (Greece), empanadas (Spain), quiche (France), and potato pancakes (German). Following the buffet luncheon, guests enjoyed a dessert smorgasbord of German chocolate cake, Greek cookies, Italian anisette cookies, Spanish chocolate torte, French chocolate mousse, Danish apple coconut cake, and Chinese almond cookies.

Parents and staff enjoyed the various international specialties, but the students themselves, in between cooking and cleaning up, seemed to enjoy their cooking most. One student enjoyed Mrs. Mensch's course so much that he has applied to the Culinary Institute at S.U.N.Y. in Old Westbury to study to become a professional chef.

John McCaffrey, Assistant Principal and Dr. John Sommi, Superintendent of Schools, enjoy lunch with parents of the International Cooking students.

Students enjoy their own international specialties.

In Service

Marine Pfc. Michael B. Ahlers, son of Robert A. and Helen Ahlers, of 200 Harrison Ave., Bethpage, recently completed the Fleet Readiness Aviation Maintenance Personnel Course.

During the nine-week course conducted with 3rd Marine Aircraft Wing, Marine Corps Air Station, Tustin, CA. Ahlers received instructions to include general aviation training and an introduction to the Sikorsky helicopter and its various systems.

Training also includes Support Equipment training and teaching theory operation of the Sikorsky. The course culminates with on the job training of the aircraft which includes removal and replacement of major components of the communication navigation systems, troubleshooting and repair of the communication and navigation systems.

A 1985 graduate of Hicksville Senior High School, Hicksville, he joined the Marine Corps in March 1987.

Ryan Named JFK Student Of Week

Philip Ryan

Philip Ryan, an eighth grader in Ms. Cennamo's homeroom, has been selected as John F. Kennedy Junior High School's "Student of the Week." His teachers nominated him because "he has committed himself to excellence and set high goals. He participates in class and encourages others to get involved."

Philip likes many things about junior high—changing classes, making new friends, playing drums in the school band, and most of his courses, especially Math and Science. He holds a brown belt in karate and enjoys playing halfback on the Bethpage Devils Soccer Team. He relaxes at home by listening to music, especially Billy Joel albums, using his home computer, and watching movies.

Philip, who lives in Bethpage with his Mom and sixteen year old brother, hopes to become a lawyer when he grows up. The JFK staff is sure that his commitment to learning will help him achieve his lifetime goals.

On Thursday, February 11, at 8 p.m., a Figure Skating Carnival will take place at the Cantiague Park Rink, West John Street, Hicksville.

Performances by local figure skaters will be featured.

On the eve of the 1988 Winter Olympic Games in Calgary, Canada, the public is invited to enjoy competitive and exhibition programs by future Olympic hopefuls.

Admission is free, and there is ample parking.

Central Students Visit Caumsett

Mr. Dalven's class gets ready to leave for Caumsett.

At Central Boulevard School, Mr. Dalven's sixth graders participated in a three day outdoor education experience at Caumsett from January 19-21. The group, last of Central Boulevard's three sixth grades to visit Caumsett, enjoyed both social and hands-on-science activities during their visit. They were able to explore salt marshes, take nature walks, study astronomy, and practice orienteering.

The Caumsett overnight education program has been part of the sixth grade curriculum at Charles Campagne, Central Boulevard and Kramer Lane Schools since 1977.

TRAVEL TALK

By Rosalind Renouard

Travel in Europe 1988: For those contemplating a vacation trip to Europe this year, there are some definite certainties that must be borne in mind. On the downside, of course, is the fallen dollar. No doubt about it, the fact that the dollar has fallen against foreign currencies will result (in many cases) in higher prices for Americans who travel abroad.

But the negative pressure on the U.S. dollar is by no means the whole story. The competition between European travel providers has been heating up for years and has added a new element to the international travel scene. As more airlines, cruise lines and travel providers enter this market, pressure to hold the price line and to offer travel inducements has increased.

Prepackaged tours, as always, offer the best value for the travel dollar. The economies created through bulk buying of hotel space, transportation and meals will be important elements of cost containment; and European providers should be most willing to share in this effort when large blocks of space are involved. Conversely, foreign-independent travelers are apt to be at a greater disadvantage because they must buy at rack rates.

Even now tour specialists are coming up with strategies to encourage travelers, not only to use their services, but to sign on early. As mentioned in another column, Perillo Tours promises to honor prices quoted in its Italian tour brochure if full payment is received by April 20, while many other tour organizations will stick to quoted prices once a deposit is made.

TWA has guaranteed European tour prices once full payment is received and has also announced the added inducement of a $100 per person reduction in tour price (for tours booked through October 31) if full payment is received by April 1st. Not all tour groups have announced similar policies, but, I'm sure, they, too, will do all in their power to hold the price line.

Cruise lines are not immune to this early booking strategy; in fact, they probably pioneered it. Quite often they offer early-booking discounts and sometimes even late booking incentives. Cruises (as do tours) also offer the advantage of fore-knowledge; you know in advance what your vacation costs will be.

For cost-conscious foreign-independent-travelers, all is not gloom because they too can avail themselves of innovative travel plans as well as inexpensive charter flights, rental of less expensive (manual) subcompact or compact cars, or the purchase of Eurorail passes.

One such travel plan is Wonderhotels in Germany which is a money-saving check-voucher plan allowing the traveler to stay at any of the 90 moderate-priced hotels and pensions that subscribe to the plan - breakfasts and sometimes dinners are included.

In conclusion, Europe is still very much a viable vacation option. It's just that this year, more attention must be paid to quality for a good price - and the best bet is most probably the prepackaged tour.

Over the next few months I'll, from time to time, look into vacation tour options in the United States, and Europe as well as in other parts of the world.

Mid Is. Hospital Employee Of Qtr.

Lucille Mahon, L.P.N., has been chosen Mid-Island Hospital's employee of the quarter. A medical unit nurse for 12 years, Mrs. Mahon has been with Mid-Island Hospital, Bethpage, since 1966 when she started as a "per diem" while raising three children.

As a graduate of St. Joseph's College in Yonkers, Ms. Mahon worked at Parkchester General in the Bronx until 1959. She married John, who is a control operator for Con Edison in Astoria, and had two children, John, 27, and Bernadette, 24, before moving to

N. Massapequa. Her daughter Cynthia, 23, was born at Mid-Island Hospital. Mrs. Mahon's experience at the birth of her daughter left such a positive impression on her that she went home with a desire to return to Mid-Island Hospital as a nurse.

Twenty-two years later, Mrs. Mahon still feels that, "People are cooperative. Everybody helps everybody else. You work hard. You cry and laugh with the patients. I enjoy my work, being with people. I just enjoy nursing."

Two Pass Nurse Licensing Bds.

The W.T. Clarke H.S. Practical Nursing Faculty proudly announces that two 1987 graduates from Hicksville H.S. successfully passed the N.Y.S. Licensing Boards. The graduates include Ms. Linda Kiesel and Ms. Sandi Mazzarella. Officially, these graduates can pursue a career as L.P.N. in the Nursing profession.

Congratulations, to all the graduates who successfully completed the two year Practical Nursing Program at W.T. Clarke H.S.

division c of Section 2 hereof is five years, that the period of probable usefulness of the class of objects or purposes described in subdivision d of Section 2 hereof is five years, and that the period of probable usefulness of the class of objects or purposes described in subdivision e of Section 2 hereof is five years, pursuant to subdivisions 28, 28, 19(a), 29 and 32, respectively, of paragraph a of Section 11.00 of the Local Finance Law. It is hereby further determined that the maximum maturity of serial bonds herein authorized for the class of objects or purposes described in subdivisions a, c, d and e of Section 2 hereof will not exceed five years, and that the maximum maturity of the serial bonds herein authorized for the class of objects or purposes described in subdivision b of Section 2 hereof will exceed five years.

Section 5. Subject to the provisions of the Local Finance Law, the power to authorize the issuance of and to sell bond anticipation notes in anticipation of the issuance of and sale of the serial bonds herein authorized, including renewals of such notes, is hereby delegated to the Supervisor, the chief fiscal officer. Such notes shall be of such terms, form and contents, and shall be sold in such manner, as may be prescribed by said Supervisor, consistent with the provisions of the Local Finance Law.

Section 6. The faith and credit of said Town of Oyster Bay, Nassau County, New York, are hereby irrevocably pledged to the payment of the principal of and interest on such obligations as the same respectively become due and payable. An annual appropriation shall be made in each year sufficient to pay the principal of and interest on such obligations becoming due and payable in such year.

Section 7. The validity of such bonds and bond anticipation notes may be contested only if:

1) Such obligations are authorized for an object or purpose for which said Town is not authorized to expend money, or

2) The provisions of law which should be complied with at the date of publication of this resolution are not substantially complied with, and an action, suit or proceeding contesting such validity is commenced within twenty days after the date of such publication, or

3) Such obligations are authorized in violation of the provisions of the Constitution.

Section 8. Upon this resolution taking effect, the same shall be published in full in Massapequa Observer, Bethpage Newsgram, Hicksville Illustrated News & Locust Valley Leader, the official newspapers of said Town for such purpose, together with a notice to the Town Clerk in substantially the form provided in Section 81.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Section 9. This resolution is adopted subject to permissive referendum in accordance with Section 35.00 of the Local Finance Law.

Creative Ballet Alternatives

After school activities...so many to choose from. Your daughter wants ballet, so you find the most convenient dance studio, closest to home, with the hours that you need. You never watch your child perform, except for the last day, and your child has fun, and you are happy.

Mothers...that's poor judgment and a wrong philosophy! There are many formulas from which to choose. Form + Posture equals ballet? Positions + Recitals equal Ballet? Balance + Grace equals Ballet?

Do you want a unique concept in dancing? Ballet Center of Long Island, in Hicksville, is the answer.

At Ballet Center there are no recitals. "Ballet schools spend more than half a year rehearsing for the recitals, instead of concentrating on real ballet," feel the owners, Norma, Vicki, and Toby, A.K.A. NVT Dance Company.

Good form and proper positions and an adequate warm up insure safe work habits and prevent injuries. All that is required from the child is a neat hairdo, a clean leotard and tights, and a proper attitude towards dancing.

Where does the actual ballet come into the picture? After the compulsories, the music begins, played by a live pianist, who plays throughout the entire lesson. Each girl displays her grace and charm, by dancing "her own" ballet to the music. They dance together or separately, from standing position, to floor position. Parents witness "saute, demi-plie, battement tendu, rond de jambe, releve, echappe," and other French terms, which are also done at the barre. Watching the New York City Ballet at Lincoln Center could not replace the joy of watching your child's creativity and enjoyment, while dancing ballet.

The Ballet Center of Long Island in Hicksville, held Parents' Observation Day. After their graceful, creative performance, the children formed their own poses. Posing were Evi, from Syosset, Elizabeth DiToro holding on to her mother, Joanne, the pianist for the class, from Bethpage, and Kimberly Harvey and Melissa Flynn from Hicksville and Tina DeLillo from Syosset. The Ballet Center of Long Island in Hicksville held an Open House for parents to visit and tour the brand new studio. Besides refreshments, there was a mini-ballet show, a feather dance and an actual jazz class for parents to enjoy. Dance class participants were Dawn Kotowicz, from Hicksville, Syosset resident, Debbie Goldfarb, Dance Teacher, Toby Witkoff, Woodbury resident, Samantha Maltin and Veronika Coen, from Hicksville.

Soccer Club General Meeting

The Hicksville Americans Soccer Club invites one and all to their General Meeting, February 5, at the Hicksville Middle School, Jerusalem Ave. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the School Cafeteria. Please be sure to attend this lively, informative meeting!

Youth Council Needs Volunteers

The Hicksville Youth Council is a non-profit organization dedicated to working with teenagers in all aspects of their life. The Youth Council has been finding out that there are many teens who are having some difficulty in school and need extra help with their classwork. In response to this problem, the Hicksville Youth Council is planning a Peer Tutoring Program...and they need your help in order to insure a successful program!!

The Youth Council needs volunteers to tutor students in a variety of subjects. All of the tutoring is done after school at the Youth Council and tutors are asked to volunteer at least one hour per week. Tutoring is scheduled at mutually convenient times as the Youth Council is open Monday thru Thursday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The Youth Council is aware that the residents of Hicksville are busy with work, jobs, friends, family, etc. High School volunteers will receive a letter from the Youth Council stating that they have performed community service work. This letter is important as colleges and prospective employers look for this type of reference from applicants. Involvement in the tutoring program can also provide personal satisfaction as volunteers will be helping others in their own community.

In addition to the Tutoring Program, the Hicksville Youth Council offers Recreation Programs, Employment Programs, Individual-Family-Group Counseling, Crime Prevention Programs and more. The Youth Council is located at 181 Old Country Road, Hicksville. All services are provided FREE and are open to Hicksville teenagers and their families.

For more information on how to get involved in the Hicksville Youth Council's new Peer Tutoring Program, or for information on any of the Youth Council's programs, call Pat Schussler at 822-KIDS.

Art Exhibit At Hicksville Library

Harry Beukelaer loves to paint and now that he has retired, he can devote his time to doing what he enjoys. And he is good at it.

Exceptional in his exhibit at the Hicksville Public Library are his composite pictures of sports figures, mostly boxers. He has captured their likenesses in a warm reflection of their strength and determination.

To name just a few of the boxers in the composites: Gerry Cooney, Joe Louis, and Sugar Ray Robinson, Billy Conn.

His American Indian portraits are a study of both young and care worn faces.

Mr. Beukelaer's pictures are in private collections nationwide. His murals grace the walls of cabarets.

His paintings will be on exhibit at the Hicksville Public Library, 169 Jerusalem Avenue, Hicksville, 931-1417, for the month of February.

There's one thing wrong with those cash back offers on new cars.

You don't get to choose the car.

These days, auto buyers are often confronted with seemingly irresistible discounts and overly generous cash back offers. The problem is, a lot of these incentives don't apply to all makes and models. And rarely to the one you're most interested in.

On the other hand, consider the options and features available from The Bank of New York.

First of all, we offer one of the lowest variable rates around. Only 9.4%*. Whether you're a customer or not.

Variable Rate
Auto Loan

And that rate applies to any new car you'd like to buy. Not just the car they'd like to sell.

And importantly, your regular monthly payments will never go up. If interest rates rise or fall during the term of the loan we'll simply make the adjustment at the end of your loan term.

To take advantage of our variable rate auto loan just visit one of our 190 convenient branches.
