Water District To Spend $2.6 Million On Facilities

By Louis G. Dettloff

Administrative Assistant

The Board of Commissioners, Hicksville Water District, has continued to make concerted efforts to conform to the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation plans for a Long Island Regional Water Resources Management Strategy. To this end the District has committed a capital program of $2,600,000 with early emphasis on treatment facilities at Plants 8, 5 and at least one other plant. The adopted policy is to provide enough well capacity so that there will be adequate reserve units should further problems develop. This is especially relevant with the new lower limits for organics.

ation in quality with time and adjusting for the treatment systems in operation and under design, the usable capacity of the 19 wells plus a 20th under construction will approximate 28 million gallons per day Hicksville Water District has already rehabilitated three (3) wells with packed tower air stripping for volatile organics, has contracted for another well rehabilitation with granulated activated carbon and is designing another plant well which will have at least two (2) more nozzle and/or packed tower air strippers. The newer facilities will be designed and constructed to be more easily relocated to other wells when needed.

Once again the Board and its advisors have approached their goal without the expected need to create any indebtedness to Hicksville consumers. Strong community desires to exercise "home rule" over local community affairs (water, school, fire, etc.) has pointed out the advantages of having a water purveyor that is not concerned with profits, perks and politics and does indeed have a great concern with the public interest and protecting the resource for future generations. If a county water authority were to replace our present type of local district for water supply the department structure would radically change and Hicksville would in all likelihood have to assume costs for improvements already paid for in our community so that others could play catch up. We do not see any clear cut advantages for us in Hicksville; the luxury of having a water authority in the County would very well be a heavy burden in the form of added costs for supplying us with water.

Allowing for considerable vari-

When the Hicksville Water District made a commitment to extensive water treatment for organics, they instructed their engineers to look for alternative methods to improve efficiency and/or to reduce costs. The engineers have conducted pilot tests on a nozzle air stripping system within the air space of the water storage tank. The pilot tests indicate that at reasonable nozzle pressures, a substantial reduction in organics will result. Calculations based on these tests also show that by repeating the stripping through secondary nozzles will further reduce the organics with a good possibility that it can meet the new low standards.

The Commissioners have authorized the receipt of bids for the installation of two (2) nozzle systems at Plant 5 and 8 and will be anxiously awaiting the final results of these systems. Even if the systems do not reduce the organics as low as desired, they will reduce substantially the operating costs of a carbon adaption system if required.

Police Arrest In Burglary

A 17 year old unemployed Hicksville man was arrested in Hicksville at 5:45 p.m. April 14 charged with Burglary II Degree and Unauthorized Use of a Motor Vehicle.

Police said Francis Lucci, of 100 West Cherry Street, had burglarized a private residence at 90 West Cherry Street, Hicksville on February 22, from which he allegedly took a set of darts, car keys and a 1978 Pontiac Firebird, which he crashed into a tree on the same date and fled the scene on foot. Further investigation by Detective Larry Hill of the Second Squad plus a latent print of Lucci's found in the car, led to the arrest.

Lucci was arraigned in First District Court, Hempstead.

In Memoriam

WALTER G. EICHLER

Walter G. Eichler, an 82 year old Hicksville resident, died April 18 in Easton, Pennsylvania. He was a retired architect.

Mr. Eichler was a member of the Hicksville Fire Department and the Manetto Lodge of the Masons. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Ruth Eichler, of Hicksville; son, Walter; daughter and son-in-law, June and Robert Thompson; seven grandchildren and one great grandson.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, April 23 at 2 p.m. at the Brookville Reformed Church, 2 Brookville Road, Brookville. Entombment took place Wednesday, April 20 at Pinelawn Cemetery. Arrangements were handled by Henry J. Stock Funeral Home. Contributions to Alzheimers Disease, 70 East Lake St., Chicago, IL 60601 would be deeply appreciated.

FRANCIS J. ANDERSON

A funeral mass was held at St. Ignatius Loyola R.C. Church today, April 22, for Francis J. Anderson of Hicksville.

Mr. Anderson, 81, of Hicksville, retired after 34 years in Nassau County government and politics to pursue a successful banking career, died of a heart ailment at Winthrop University Hospital in Mineola.

Mr. Anderson capped a three-decade career in the county clerk's office when he was appointed county clerk in 1959 and was elected that fall in the countywide election to a full term. In 1964, however, he was defeated for re-election.

"It was a bad year for Republicans here and across the state," his daughter, Joyce Merzbacher of Farmingdale, recalled last night. Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential candidate, was swamped by President Lyndon B. Johnson in New York that year, and other Republican state and local candidates were swept from public office.

Mr. Anderson was born in Manhattan, but had moved with his parents to Westbury as an infant. After his marriage in 1939, he resided in Hicksville.

Anderson was a longtime Hicksville GOP leader and county committee member. He had joined the county clerk's office in 1930 and was appointed a deputy county clerk in 1954.

"He was a very capable man," a contemporary, Abe Seldin, the chairman of the Nassau County Board of Assessors, said. "He was widely respected by all and did a fine job serving Nassau County."

After his election defeat, Mr. Anderson joined the Franklin National Savings Bank in 1964 as a vice president in its municipal-finance division and continued as a consultant with its successor, the European-American Bank, until he retired in 1971.

Mr. Anderson was a longtime member of the Meadow Brook Club in Jericho and enjoyed golfing there, his daughter said. He also was active in the Hicksville Republican Club, the Kiwanis Club and the Hicksville Chamber of Commerce.

Along with his daughter, survivors include his wife, Lillian; two sons, John of Vienna, Va., and William of Coram; two brothers, Elmore of Westbury and Jack of Massapequa, and seven grandchildren.

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta, second from right, attended the sixth annual dinner dance of the St. Mary's Children and Family Services which was recently held. Gulotta presented a citation to Angelo Silveri of Hicksville, first from left, who was honored as "Humanitarian of the Year" at the dinner, on behalf of his outstanding community service.

To the Editor:

It has recently been brought to my attention that the Voter Registration Date for the Annual Budget Vote and School Board Candidate Election, that is listed on the District Calendar is incorrect.

I would like to let everyone know that the correct date is Wednesday, May 11 from 3 to 8 p.m. You may register to vote if you are: a United States citizen; 18 years of age by May 25, 1988; a resident of the Hicksville School District for 30 days.

You may register at your local elementary school. Residents of the Willet Avenue School District should call the District Clerk for information as to which school they should register at 933-6592.)

It is not necessary to register if you have voted in a local, state or national election within the past four years.

I urge everyone to exercise their right to participate in the democratic process. Please register and vote and let your voices be heard.

Sincerely,
Patricia Rooney

To the Editor:

The Board of Education will be holding their Public Hearing on the 1988-89 Budget, this coming Wednesday, April 27, at 8:15 p.m. in the High School.

This is a unique opportunity for the taxpayers to make their opinions known on how the School District should spend your tax dollars on the many educational programs and services that Administration and the Board of Education have planned for our students for the coming year.

Our proposed budget presently stands at $44,856,222 serving some 4,600 students. The Board has reduced the original budget submission by some $745,000 giving us a rate increase of $2.52 over last year. Other districts in our area are coming in close to a 5% increase over last year.

Our $17 million educational program is up by $982,000 and our $3.1 million Special Education program is up by $310,000. Health insurance has increased by $1,221,750 and we have salary increases of over $1.3 million. Social Security payments are up by almost $100,000. These items alone add up to our projected increase of $2.52.

That is why it is important that you come to our Budget Public Hearing, this Wednesday, April 27, to give your views on the impact of our expenditures on your tax dollars, and how we can best support our educational programs with your tax dollars. Please take an active part in the life and destiny of your school district.

Bill Bennett
Board Trustee

Editor's Notebook

There is sort of a crisis in Long Island school districts these days. It is not caused by budgets or budget votes. This crisis is caused by the calendar. In the year 1988-89 Christian-Judeo holidays are far apart. It usually is that Easter and Passover fall around the same time and the school calendars can fit in both holidays without much juggling. Next year Easter will be March 26 and Passover April 20. So the problem for school boards is that if they give both holidays their due there will be too few school days. One solution some districts are considering is to do away with or shorten the winter vacation which comes in February. This vacation has been dubbed "the skier's holiday" because it hits at the usual peak of the season.

Another possible solution would be starting the school year on September 1 as is going to happen in Jericho but those who revere the traditional Labor Day weekend will be out of luck.

A third way would be to cut both Easter and Passover to two long weekends but that too will be something that will not go without a fight.

We have not heard from many school districts on this topic, but we believe it may account for more controversy than the usual school district votes.

Special Performance Set To Salute O.B. Seniors

May is Senior Citizen Month nationwide. As a way of saying "thank you" to its senior citizens, the Town of Oyster Bay will present a free showing of the musical "Annie Get Your Gun," according to Oyster Bay Town Councilwoman Ann R. Ocker.

"To show our appreciation to the people who comprise a very important segment of the Town's populace, the Department of Community Services, in conjunction with the Town of Oyster Bay Arts Council, Inc. has planned a 'Salute to Seniors,'" Ocker stated. "This salute will consist of the free showing of the ever popular musical 'Annie Get Your Gun' presented by Plaza Theatrical Productions, Inc.

"Annie Get Your Gun" is loosely based on the life of Annie Oakley, who emerges from the hills of Ohio to become the crack rifle shot of the country," Ocker said. "She joins the Buffalo Bill Wild West Show and falls in love with another champion sharpshooter, Frank Butler. A parting of ways, traveling with different shows and an eventual reconciliation are all part of this musical extravaganza, which includes such memorable tunes as 'Doin' What Comes Natur'ly,' 'There's No Business Like Show Business,' 'You Can't Get a Man With a Gun' and 'They Say It's Wonderful.'

The play will be shown at Syosset High School, Southwoods Road on Saturday, May 21 starting at 1 p.m.

"Our senior citizens have contributed much to the Town over the years, and this is just one small way we, in Town government, can let them know how much they are appreciated," Ocker commented. "Prior to the performance, we will also be recognizing those seniors who are still contributing by way of volunteering their time and talents to various worthy causes."

For reservations, call the Senior Citizen Division at 795-5943 ext. 7731.

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gullotta, second from left, proclaimed the week of May 1 through May 7 as "Physical Education and Sports Week" in the County of Nassau. ## Contest Held To Name Newsletter

A contest to name the children's newsletter was recently held at Woodland Ave. School in Hicksville.

Children received entry sheets and a winner was selected from all entries received by the deadline date. There were so many original titles that it was a difficult decision for Dr. Manus Clancy, principal, to make. Finally, Gina Castrogiovanni's title, "Woody's Kid's Eye View," was selected from the many terrific titles.

Gina received an I.D. Bracelet, donated by the Woodland Ave. PTA, and several other students were awarded honorable mention prizes, also donated by the PTA. Congratulations!

The students are now looking forward to the first issue of "Woody's Kid's Eye View," which is now in the works. Each class at Woodland will be represented with an article about an enjoyable classroom activity, project or trip so that students, teachers and parents can read about what other classes have done. Sharing ideas and learning about what they can look forward to at different grade levels are some of the goals of this project.

Students will also have experience with the five, "W's" of newspaper reporting.

165 Students In Music Festival

165 music students in the Hicksville Public Schools will participate in the annual Solo and Ensemble Festival sponsored annually by the New York State School Music Association. The event will take place on the weekend of May 13-14 at Bethpage Senior High School.

According to William Gagnon, Supervisor of Fine Arts, this annual festival is an opportunity for music students to perform as a soloist or as a member of a small ensemble such as a duet or trio which is a far different experience than performing as a member of an eight piece band. Students at all grade levels and ability levels prepare a piece of literature and perform a ten to fifteen minute audition before an adjudicator. The student is then given a written critique of his/her performance in such areas as tone quality, technique and musical interpretation. This serves as a valuable evaluation of the progress made and of those areas most in need of additional practice.

Students will be performing on all band and orchestra instruments, piano, and voice. All have been working on the literature with the music teacher in the Hicksville school. Many of the high school students will also be using this opportunity to audition for the All-State Band, Orchestra or Choral Groups.

Gas Attendant Robbed Of $175

An unknown black male robbed the attendant of a Hicksville gas station of $175 around 5:30 p.m. on April 14.

The suspect walked up to Steven Schmall, 19, the attendant at the Northville gas station, Old Country Road and South Oyster Bay Road, Hicksville and demanded the station's receipts. After getting the money the suspect fled the scene on foot in an unknown direction.

No injury was reported nor was there a weapon shown and the suspect was described as a male black, early twenties, light complexion, long sideburns, and wearing a baseball cap. The Second Squad is investigating.

Consumer Week At Local P.O.

"Consumer Protection Week begins April 24, and the Postal Service wants our customers to know that we will do all we can to help fight mail fraud," said Roger Nienaber, Hicksville Division General Manager, Postmaster.

During the week of April 24, Hicksville Division Consumer Affairs Representatives will be at various Long Island Post Offices, Senior Centers and Walt Whitman Mall.

Helping Postal customers avoid mail fraud is an important part of Hicksville Division Consumer Affairs Representative, Rudy Dagnello's job. "If an offer is too good to be true, it probably is. The vast majority of direct mail advertisers and mail order businesses are reputable and deliver good merchandise at a fair price. However, some 'con' artists use high-pressure sales tactics and ambiguous or misleading information to defraud Postal Customers," said Dagnello.

"If customers still have questions or feel they have been victims of some 'con' game through the mails, I suggest that they call the Postal Inspection Service," he added.

In fiscal year 1987, the Postal Inspection Service got nearly 4,500 business operations to stop using the mails for shady advertising practices. It also made 2,000 mail fraud investigations, 1,300 arrests, and obtained more than 1,000 convictions.

"Reputable, honest mail order businesses vastly outnumber dishonest ones. These legitimate companies are doing more than $50 billion a year in business. Mail Order shopping provides a real convenience for our customers," said Dagnello.

Sr. PTSA Program On Special Ed.

What is the criteria for selecting students in the Special Education program at the Hicksville Senior High School? What is the Alternative School and why do we have it?

To find the answers to these and other questions you might have on these programs, plan to attend the Hicksville High School PTSA program and meeting on April 21, 8 p.m. in the teacher's cafeteria. Mr. Wayne, Chairman of Special Education 7-12 and of the Alternative School, will present an overview of these two very important programs available to students.

Also on the program is the annual election of PTSA officers for 1988-89. The nominating committee will present the following slate; nominations will also be accepted from the floor.

President - Ann Freyisen; Vice President - Terry Moehring; Recording Secretary - Peggy Gill; Correspondent - Peggy Theis; Treasurer - Alice Roth; Council Delegate - Karen Garbus; Council Delegate - Jan Boord.

In addition, PTSA members will be asked to vote and approve proposed Council by-laws' amendments.

See you on April 21.

Dessert Night Enrichment Prg.

On Wednesday night, March 30, a "Dessert" nite was held at the Hicksville Middle School. The purpose of the evening was to present information to parents and students involved with Hicksville School's enrichment programs grades 4-12. Since the various programs include more than 200 students, the turnout was very overwhelming. The families were moved into the school's larger cafeteria to accommodate the large crowd.

Various speakers were asked to comment on the different aspects of the enrichment programs. The following were asked to speak: Mrs. Maureen Traxler, a parent, Mrs. Marie Marshall, the former supervisor of enrichment programs and present Middle School Assistant Principal, Mrs. Ann Gladstone and Mrs. Nora Friedman the 4-6 elementary enrichment teachers, Ms. Joanne Cardinali, an administrator at the Vanderbilt Museum, Mrs. Jackie Adelstein, a parent and teacher aide who works with computers, Mrs. Dorothy Schorr, education consultant and lecturer, and Mr. Gregory Romano, supervisor and coordinator of enrichment programs grades K-12. The speakers spoke about their involvement and how they felt these divergent programs help our young people to learn in new and creative ways.

Mrs. Traxler spoke from a parent's point of view and as a chaperone on the environment trips her daughter's class took to the Vanderbilt Museum and the Lido facility in Hauppauge.

Mrs. Marshall spoke highly of the enrichment programs and her pleasure at how the Middle School facilities are utilized by the enrichment students in grades 4-6.

Ms. Cardinali said a few words about how exciting it was for her to work with Mrs. Friedman and Mrs. Gladstone to develop a "special" museum experience on endangered species. This program will now be offered in the future to other school groups at the Vanderbilt Museum.

Mrs. Adelstein outlined some of the things students have done on the computer and some exciting future programs that she is planning.

Mrs. Schorr spoke of her experiences with a parenting course she is currently presenting to interested parents of gifted students offered one night per month in Room 224 and 225.

Mrs. Friedman and Mrs. Gladstone commented on the high powered enrichment program that they have implemented under the guidance of Mr. Romano. Both teachers maintain high standards and look forward to continuing to develop the creative abilities and higher level thinking skills that so many of the students possess.

A commitment to excellence was the theme of Mr. Romano's remarks. He spoke of the programs at the elementary level, Middle School activities and the International Baccalaureate geared for junior and senior high school students.

A special slide presentation created by the 4-6 grade students concluded the formal part of the evening. Desserts followed the talks and the parents and students went up to the second floor where displays of the student's work were hanging in the halls. Materials relating to grades 4-12 programs were also available in Room 224 and 225.

The highlight of the evening was the animal sculptures made by the elementary students. Each child had chosen an endangered species which had been studied and researched before sculpting.

The desserts were delicious, the attendance superb and the energy level of the meeting was positive. It is hoped that these gatherings and enrichment activities will continue to grow and flourish. Dessert night was successful and the mix of parents, children and concerned educators was nice to see.

Any community members who would like further information regarding any of the enrichment programs may call Mr. Romano at the Hicksville Middle School, 933-6562.

Saturday Activities At Hicksville Gregory Museum

Children's Workshop days at the Gregory Museum are usually busy, exciting, sometimes messy, but educational as well. Whenever appropriate, the programs are interdisciplinary, including crafts and music as well as science.

Recent offerings have included study of fossils and crystals, building and erupting of volcanoes, jewelry making, several sessions for different age groups on dinosaurs and whales. The final spring workshop, May 14, will be Origami Animals (Oriental paper folding).

On June 18 and 19, Rock and Mineral enthusiasts of all ages can add to their knowledge and collections at the first Mineral Show and Sale on the Gregory Museum grounds.

The Saturday programs owe much of their success to the dedicated volunteers who spend many hours planning, preparing, and conducting them. These activities wouldn't be possible without the talent and help of Hicksville teachers Carolyn Halperin of Burns Avenue, Marcia Specht and Dolores Ulrich of Woodland, local artists Connie Williams and Pam Durkin, musician Jane Hinckley, craftsman Gian Polizzi and the many parents, grandparents and older students who assist with crafts projects and cleanup. Activities are coordinated by Museum Trustee Rosemary Barrow, also a Hicksville teacher.

The Hicksville Gregory Museum, Long Island Earth Science Center, is located at the junction of Woodbury Road and Bay Avenue in the historic Heitz Place Courthouse. It is open Tuesday through Friday, 9:45 a.m., weekends 1-5 p.m. Through arrangement with the Hicksville School District, Hicksville residents are admitted free of charge. For information, call 822-7505.

Whenever possible, programs at the Gregory Museum are interdisciplinary, blending science, art and music. Teacher Jane Hinckley brought a variety of instruments so participants would play-along as well as sing-along and all the songs were about dinosaurs!

In photo, Hillary Weintraub is ready with a horn and Scott Hittelman is pounding out the steps of Brontosaurus.

Georgette Basso with son Jason, who proudly displays the dinosaur he created in two Saturday workshops. Mrs. Basso and her Cub Scouts were also responsible for the beautiful spring cleanup of the Gregory Museum grounds.

Carolyn Halperin, a teacher at Burns Avenue School also serves on the Gregory Museum Board of Advisors. She is presently conducting an In-Service Course for teachers on "Whales and the Ocean Environment." On Saturdays she is a frequent Museum volunteer, doing children's workshops on her favorite topic.

Pamela Durkin and her sons Jamie and Jody of Woodland Avenue School are all dinosaur buffs. They have planned and conducted several interesting workshops. Here, Mrs. Durkin works with Peter Gave, John Flynn, Jody and Jamie Basso.

Willet Avenue fourth grader Michael Kudrick lives near the Gregory Museum, and is a faithful helper at workshops. He comes early to set up, and stays late for the cleanup.

Dean Koutsoumbis and Rachel Weintraub work on hand polishing the stones for a jewelry project, while Chris Fingerhut consults with instructor Gian Polizzi.

Jared Schultz and Alex LaForest are building volcanoes at a two day workshop conducted by Gregory Museum Curator Don Curran. The 26 students who attended had a wonderful time with the plaster of paris and paint, and were thrilled when the volcanoes "erupted." Fortunately, Mr. Curran was able assisted by his wife Amy, who is also a Geologist and by faithful volunteers Marvin Pollack and Pam Durkin.

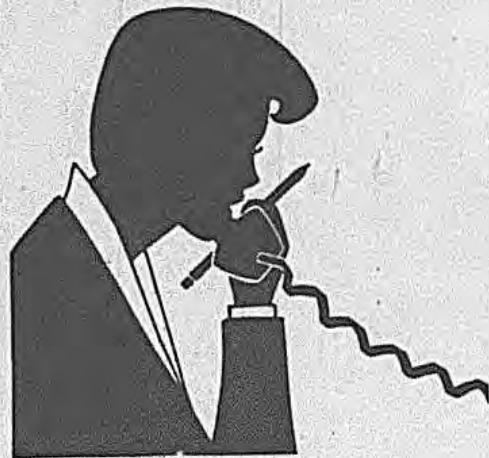

Sean Dorney has completed his hand painted t-shirt at the Gregory Museum, while Clifford Vedder still works intently.

Emily Laino of Oyster Bay, is one of the younger members of the Parish Family of the Church of the Good Shepherd-Lutheran, at 99 Central Park Road, in Plainview. She is shown here, sharing the contents of her "God Bag" with Good Shepherd's Pastor Christopher George Hoyer, on a recent Sunday.

The "God Bag" quite simply is a shopping bag, given to a different youngster each week, into which that youngster places something that reminds him or her of God...something with an idea or a message that is shared with the entire congregation during the following Sunday's service.

Emily produced from her God Bag a paper heart she had cut out from red paper. On one side she had printed "I love God," and on the reverse side "God loves me." And, in the words of Pastor Hoyer, this idea really did "get to the heart of the matter" as it relates to the Christian faith...in that we are able to love God because He first loved us in the person of His Son, Jesus Christ.

It was a very personal thing for Emily as well, because, as she explained very clearly, it says to her that God loves everybody...but He loves me personally...and this was Emily's way of sharing her personal faith with her parish family, from the God Bag.

There are two services at Good Shepherd each Sunday...one at 8:30 a.m. and one at 11 a.m....with Sunday School and a separate Adult Forum both starting at 9:45 a.m. Anyone wishing to worship with our Parish Family is welcome. We're open on Sundays!

Students Enjoy 'Book-It' Program

From November through March, Bethpage elementary students participated in Pizza Hut's "Book-It" program. The program, which encourages children to read for recreation, awards pizza certificates to classes reading at least three to four books per month per child.

At the completion of the "Book-It" program, participating classes held pizza parties to celebrate their accomplishments in reading.

Mrs. Thomas' second graders at Kramer Lane School, Mr. Melone's sixth graders at Central Boulevard School, and Mrs. Weinstein's, Mrs. O'Connor's and Mrs. Diamond's third graders at Charles Campagne School all enjoyed pre-spring vacation pizza parties. Mr. Melone's class reported that they had read 735 books in the four month period.

Mrs. Thomas' second graders--Jolene Bachman, Joseph Cocchi, Roberto DellaValle, Stephanie Feller, Leslie Greenberg, Daniel Greenblatt, Thomas Kalinic, Patrick Kramer, Daniel McDade, Leonor Moleiro, David Nisenbaum, Elizabeth O'Connor, Eric Schlameuss, Thomas Sokolowski, Hyelin Tak, Sharon Yee and Michael Zizza--celebrate reading.

Mr. Melone's sixth graders, Kristen Procida, Heather Zambri, Lisa Panico, and Kristin Grasso, enjoy a "Book-It" party.

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Angelo A. Dell'Agata "throws" out the ceremonial first ball to Jenny Anderson at the Hicksville Baseball Association's opening day ceremony. Suited up and ready for the first game of the season are Marc Atlas, Frank Williams and Kathy Tomoloni and President Greg Simonelli, right. Also on hand for the occasion were Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark, second from right, and Nassau County Executive Francis T. Purcell.

Hicks. Americans Soccer News

April 10, was opening day for the Hicksville Americans Soccer Club.

Here are some of the exciting moments from our Bantam Division, Intramurals:

Rowdies 3      Wildcats 0

The Rowdies played a terrific game of defense and goalkeeping. The team's first goal was scored by Matthew Hamlin followed by Brian Gallahue's second goal.

Defending the Wildcats goal were Matthew DiPalma and Andrew Coppolo with some excellent saves. The Wildcats displayed good positioning as Kevin Brown, Sean Dorney and Edward Puerta worked with their teammates for a comeback. However, when Paul Bayley scored the third and final goal for his team, the victory went to the Rowdies! A well played game by our Bantam teams!

The Girls Division made their shining debut for the Soccer Club:

Owls 2      Arrows 0

The Owls showed their force and strong defense. Gina Pelletiere scored the first goal followed by Christine Kolm's second goal to make the score 2-0.

The Arrows showed strength in their positions and good defense in this game.

Blasts 5      Cosmos 0

The Cosmos Janice Pfeifer, Annie McKenna and Erin Sheehan displayed a very strong defense. The Blasts, however, came back to score the winning goals in their first game opener.

As a whole, our Girls Division displayed good sportsmanship. They succeeded in getting our season off to a good start! Nice going, gals!

Parents, please note: We now have "girls" teams! If your daughter wants to participate in this great, fun sport, in the future, we happily feature our brand new Girls Division!

'Student Of Week' Is Gina Hoffmann

Gina Hoffmann, an eighth grader in Mr. Abatelli's home room, has been selected as John F. Kennedy Junior High School's "Student of the Week". Gina's teachers describe her as "a responsible, dependable, trustworthy girl, an outstanding student who displays good citizenship, participates in outside activities and is always willing to help."

Gina's outside activities are very diversified. As a member of the National Honor Society, she participated in the Jumathon to benefit the American Heart Association. She enjoys sports, plays wing on the school basketball team and trades in her high-tops for running shoes in the spring when she specializes in sprints and hurdles for the track team. Gina enjoys playing violin in the orchestra and singing in chorus and in JFK's recent production of "Oklahoma"!

Gina likes most of her junior high school courses, Italian, Music, Technology, Home Economics and Physical Education. Her studies are important to her because she would like to become a teacher when she grows up. She loves children and enjoys babysitting.

JFK Junior High School congratulates Gina and feels sure that her dedication to studies and school spirit will give her continued success in high school and college.

Woodland Students Study Whales

Mr. Brogle's sixth graders completed a project on whales as part of their study on The Voyage of the Mimi. They studied many kinds of whales and created models of them for the class's bulletin board.

The models were painted on larger paper, cut out and stuffed to make them appear lifelike. The students also painted a model of the Mimi which is the research ship used by a scientific group.

The class really enjoyed working on this project and is proud of the results.

JFK Students Learn '30's

Mr. Giordano addresses JFK students.

At John F. Kennedy Junior High School, Mrs. McKinley's Social Studies classes had the opportunity to view the Great Depression through the eyes of someone who had grown up in that era-Mrs. McKinley's dad, Mr. Giordano. He told the students that from age eight to fourteen he helped his family make ends meet by shining shoes on weekends, walking twenty miles round trip to his stand and earning a nickel a shine. Times were rough. Even though his mother would have liked to have helped by bringing a second income into the family, there were no jobs available. She baked her own bread with flour from the Home Relief program, which provided paper, rice, flour and other staples to poor families on a weekly basis. Mr. Giordano ate a lot of "Bully Beef" during the depression, for breakfast, lunch, and supper.

Like most children his age, Mr. Giordano enjoyed playing handball and baseball. Tickets to the Brooklyn Dodgers were only fifty cents apiece, but fifty cents was a great deal of money in the 1930's. People growing up in the depression era were honest and hardworking.

When Mr. Giordano graduated from high school, he took a job paying $8 a week and all he could eat. Shortly afterward, he entered the Army and was in Hawaii when Pearl Harbor was bombed by the Japanese. 20,000 perished in the surprise attack which decimated half the U.S. fleet and put two airfields out of commission.

Mrs. McKinley's students were very interested in Mr. Giordano's presentation and gained a better understanding of twentieth century United States history.
