Off To Disney

On February 9, Miss Orlando's and Miss Atkin's kindergarten classes at St. Ignatius were transformed into an American Airlines aircraft. The students spent the afternoon learning about different aircrafts and destinations.

On hand to share the day with the students were F/E Pat Savarese and Passenger Service Agents Rose McGovern and Roseann Guarnotta. The students planned and charted a trip to Disney World using actual weather maps and boarding passes.

PTA Honors Linda Gulbrandsen

Linda Gulbrandsen and
PTA Pres. Cathy Corrado

This year Burns Ave PTA has chosen an outstanding member of our community, PTA Board, and school staff member. Each year a committee meets to choose someone they feel has shown concern and contributed to the welfare of the children of Hicksville.

This April 5, we honored Mrs. Linda Gulbrandsen at an afternoon cocktail party. Many of our school teachers, community members, family and friends were all on hand to wish Linda their congratulations.

Linda was given an Honorary Life Pin from the PTA and her name is on a plaque that is always on display in the center hall of Burns Ave. School, along with all the names of past recipients of this fine honor.

Linda has lived in Hicksville all of her life and is married to Fred Gulbrandsen, and they have two lovely daughters, Alise and Tara.

Presently, Linda is the Treasurer of the PTA and has served and chaired many of the standing committees at the school. Such as: Pre-School, Membership, Room Rep., Refreshments, Ice Cream, Bowling, Holiday Boutique, Grandparents Day, Graduation, Yearbook and Finger printing the young children in the community.

Five afternoons a week you can find Linda in the school playground or gym where she works as a school monitor to all the children of Burns Ave. We thank you Linda for all your love, devotion and concern that you show our children each day.

School Bd. Sets Budget For 1989-90 At $46.7 M

By Maureen Traxler

The Hicksville School Board approved a $46,780,319 budget for 1989-90 at its regular meeting and annual budget hearing on Wednesday, April 12. The budget figure passed by a 5-2 vote, with trustees Mark Cardella and Daniel MacBride voting "nay."

The Board received the asbestos management report from Environmental Compliance, the consultant hired to assess the asbestos in the district's buildings and offer an abatement plan. The total estimated abatement cost over a three-year period would be just under $6.7 million. The report contains a school-by-school breakdown of asbestos containing materials and estimated abatement cost.

The proposed budget represents a 6.4% increase over 1988-89 and carries an estimated tax rate increase of $1.90 per $100 assessed valuation. Board members and administrative personnel are quick to point out that in recent years, due to the concentration of commercial property in the Hicksville area, the County Board of Supervisors has set the homeowner's tax rate considerably lower than what is estimated in May. The Supervisors set the tax rate in August.

The Board trimmed $626,200 from the $47,404,519 budget proposed by the Superintendent in January. Trustee William Bennett recommended deductions of $535,000 - $35,000 in software programs from General Support and $500,000 from Code 9000. Mr. Bennett has referred to the 9000 Code, which includes retirement systems, workers compensation, insurance and fringe benefits, as the "culprit" in the budget increase.

Other deductions included a $60,000 expenditure for a proposed elementary summer school program (Superintendent Fenton noted that of the 500 responses to the PTA survey on elementary summer school, only 56 indicated interest), $5,600 for a television projection screen and film condition analysis system, $5,600 from Board of Education travel and conference expenses and $20,000 from travel and conference expenses across the board.

The only addition to the budget was $2,000 requested by Trustee Carole Wolf for additional buses for senior citizen outings.

A number of residents were on hand to ask questions about specific budget items, vent their anger at rising costs, help define priorities and propose options for Board consideration. Virginia Mühlenbrück called for the Board to "economize." She noted that the dental plan is up almost a million dollars in one year. Another resident asked the Board to take a look at the security system. He said that damage to the school property "means money."

Larry Krips commented, "I don't even mind an increase, if it will provide a better education for my children." Mr. Krips suggested the Board put "a cap" on the Superintendent's salary." He pressed the Superintendent to reveal her salary and she quoted her salary at $90,000. Mr. Krips noted that Federal court judge salaries are capped at $89,500, and he added, "in due respect," that he felt the Superintendent has "no greater responsibilities than a Federal court judge."

Senior Citizen Neal McCormack referred to the district's upcoming asbestos abatement project and felt that the problem must be dealt with. He said, "We put it in, so we should take it out for future people."

Janet Bambargen said that she's voting "Yes." She disagreed with the district's proposal for a Latch Key Program and stated emphatically that she wanted her children to have "the finest education."

Mrs. Carolyn Kelly's suggestions to help ease the pinch were to move the 6th grade to the middle school, noting that educators believe children should always remain in a school for three years, and to close two elementary schools, one on either end of town. Mrs. Kelly said, "The costs will be more than offset by the savings of closing schools."

Bruce D'Abramo of Environmental Compliance presented to the full seven-member Board the Asbestos Management Report. The School District's 11 buildings, maintenance garage and sheds were inspected. Of the 3.5 million square feet inspected, some 650,000 square feet of asbestos containing materials were found. Nearly two-thirds of this material is resilient flooring and other non-friable material with limited potential for damage. The remaining one-third is thermal system insulation and some surfacing material.

According to the plan's recommended time schedule, some work would be done in the middle school and each of the eight elementary buildings this summer and the estimated cost is $910,000. Several months ago, the Board of Education put aside $400,000 in anticipation of abatement costs. In order to make up the approximately $500,000 additionally needed, the Board voted unanimously to "freeze expenditures (except at the discretion of the Superintendent) from May 1st to October 31st, so that asbestos abatement can be performed as proposed, to equal the $500,000 needed to complete abatement." The Board reserved any further action on methods to finance the remaining abatement cost.

The district will hold a presentation on the Asbestos Management plan on Wednesday, April 26, in the senior high school at 8 p.m., for those members of the community who wish further details.

Mr. D'Abramo said that both the Federal AHERA (Asbestos Hazard Emergency Response Act) and the State SASA (School Asbestos Safety Act) were complied with in the asbestos study. He added, "asbestos containing areas must be inspected every six months...if all asbestos is removed prior to 1992, the district will not incur further inspection costs."

The report states: "All friable materials must be rendered non-friable by either encapsulation or enclosure. Since encapsulation and/or enclosure required the same engineering controls as removal, and since approximately 2/3 of the removal cost is already incurred; we therefore almost always recommend removal of friable materials."

The recommended time frame is as follows:
• In order not to close schools, work be limited to a two month time span each summer for three consecutive years.

• Items of the highest priority be placed in the summer of 1989.

• Items of equal priority be divided arbitrarily over the next two summers.

• As analysis of designers' specifications, competitive bids and time frame for promised completion of work by mid-August may impact on a decision to either encapsulate or remove materials.

• Buildings that have asbestos containing plaster...have been left to the last years of the plan with the hope that technological advancement will catch up with federal regulations.

• On the chart entitled "AHERA Time and Estimated Cost Schedule," the figures reflect the best estimates as submitted by the Asbestos Management Plan.

The Asbestos Management Report must be filed with the State by May 9, 1989. The State then has 30 days to reply. If no reply is received, the plan is considered accepted. Mr. D'Abramo noted that a small amount of money is available for abatement on the State level.

For more than five months, the Board has debated the merits of a "Latch Key" program for elementary school youngsters before and/or after school. The Board received proposals from the YMCA, the Hicksville Youth Council, We Care and the Hicksville Teachers Congress. Trustee William Bennett motioned that the Board accept the Hicksville Youth Council for the Latch Key program. He and trustee Carole Wolf reiterated their persuasions in favor of the Youth Council, including that it is community based, would be a separate entity from the school personnel and would run a self-sustaining program.

Several trustees still appeared uneasy with different aspects of some of the proposals. Board President JoAnn Miltenberg denied a request to postpone action, as trustee Bennett pressed for a vote. All three major proposals were defeated: The Hicksville Youth Council by a vote of 5 to 2; the YMCA 4 to 3; and the Hicksville Teachers Congress 5 to 2.

In other Board action, the Board unanimously accepted a 183-day school calendar for 1989-90. The Board also accepted the resignation of Dr. Robert Greenberg, Director of Pupil Personnel Services. Dr. Greenberg has accepted an Assistant Superintendent position in White Plains.

Trustees Bennett and Wolf also acknowledged the pending retirements of Rosemary Barrow (Willet Avenue librarian) and Phillip Provost (Dutch Lane teacher) and thanked them for their dedicated service to the district.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for 8:15 p.m. the evening of the annual budget vote, Wednesday, May 10, in the Senior High School Cafeteria A.

Letters to the Editor

To The Editor:

It's budget time again, and as a member of the Hicksville Board of Education I'm going to do something different. I am advising our taxpaying citizens to vote No on the budget. There's a good reason.

On April 12, the school board voted 5-2 to decrease the proposed budget by over $600,000. This "decrease" actually results in the 1989 budget that is very much higher than last year's, and for that reason Mr. Cardella and I voted against the proposal. No one in our community should have to put up with this situation, which represents an outrageous increase in the budget. For the most part, the actual increase in the budget is out of the hands of local school boards, due to state mandates forced on us by Gov. Cuomo and Democratic assemblymen from New York City.

However, there are things that can be done at the local school board level, but were not done in Hicksville on April 12. For example, Mr. Cardella and I proposed a 50% cut in the "Travel and Conference" allowance, to $72,350. This reduction would not have an adverse impact on education in our district. It would merely force the board to manage conference attendance more efficiently. Why send two, three or more board members to a faraway conference (as is most often the case) when we could send one member and have him (or her) report back to the full board?

Our motion to trim the budget was defeated. Why? Ask Mrs. Carole Wolf, who is running for re-election next month. She said the cut was too high. I'd like to see Mrs. Wolf explain that to our senior citizens living on fixed incomes, or to young people who couldn't pay the taxes (if we could indeed afford to buy a home), or people who have to do without or take a second job.

Mrs. Wolf often cites her knowledge and experience in financial matters. Perhaps she can explain why she would let this waste of taxpayers' money continue.

Daniel C. MacBride
Trustee
Hicksville Board of Education

To The Editor:

Why isn't a person who owns a home, does not live in it, rents it out, makes big money on it and is not responsible at all to how it is taken care of--forget up keep on property damage. I'm talking just basic neat!

Some, not all, of these places are incredible and tear down the appearance of a whole neighborhood. Somehow they should be held liable to see that the place is kept at least clean looking--while they sit, counting the money they make from these homes we have to live here and look at the filth and mess of the houses that are rented and for people who pay that high amount of rent and to create such a mess to live in seems incredible.

Something should be done. Any suggestions anyone?

To The Editor:

I believe that we have many decisions to make which will affect our children's education for years to come. Some of these decisions concern the costs of asbestos removal, setting up a latch-key program, and our senior citizens' worries over the burdensome school budget.

I know there are some of you out there who feel the present board is not taking the actions which need to be made. It seems sometimes that some board members enjoy throwing the monkey wrench into the works to stall the projects or decisions which we know are important.

This is one reason I want to run again for the Hicksville School Board. I was on the Board for six years and have the experience to make the tough decisions and stand by them. You'll recall the stand I took in 1984 supporting the Moment of Silence for the community.

I feel that each of you needs a knowledgeable and experienced educational leader for this important community service. Right now we have immaturity and selfishness on the board. Select me and you'll have a strong fighter for your causes, one who has seen the tough battles and stayed to tell about them.

May 10th Vote on the Budget as your conscience tells you, but select me Jay Schwartz, on ROW 1A, to work for you -- the qualified veteran whose school board voice is the voice of the people.
Jay Schwartz

To The Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to announce my candidacy for a position as Trustee of the Hicksville School Board.

I am a senior citizen and am seeking this position in order to assure the senior citizens of Hicksville some representation in matters of grave concern to the entire community.

I have been a Hicksville resident for 37 years and have had 5 children go through the Hicksville public schools.

I have attended most School Board and School Committee meetings over the past 2 years.

I believe in quality education for the children of Hicksville. However, I also believe in making it possible for senior citizens to be able to afford to remain in Hicksville. I promise if elected I would do just that.

I have been active in community groups. Among them are: the Northwest Civic Association, the Knights of Columbus, and Community Council. In addition, I am a member of St. Ignatius' Church.

I am seeking across the board support from the Hicksville community.

I urge you to come out and vote on May 10th between 10 A.M. and 10 P.M.

Sincerely,
William Collins

After an introduction on properties of minerals, students participated in a series of hands-on activities to test specimens for Hardness, Conductivity, Magnetism, Color Streak, and Effects on Light. Each activity had an accompanying worksheet on which students recorded their observations.

Then, as a grand finale, each received a substantial beginner's collection of sixteen boxed specimens including biotite and muscovite mica, rose quartz, Iceland spar calcite, garnet, pyrite and chalcophyrite, petrified wood, gypsum, Indian paint pots, quartz crystals, fern fossils. The specimens were then labeled by the students with the name and location where they were found.

Next activity for young people will be a Rock Swap on the Museum grounds on May 6th, rain date May 7th.

PTA Council Academic Awards

The Hicksville Council of PTA's is proud to announce that it will award a new Excellence in Academics Award to begin with the graduating class of 1989. The Council will present 82 Hicksville High School seniors with its Apple for the Scholars' Award at the Hicksville Alumni Association annual Scholars' Dinner on Wednesday, May 3 at the Elks Club.

Eight years ago, the Hicksville School District under the supervision of then Assistant Superintendent Catherine Fenton, initiated its Gifted and Talented Program for grades 4 through 6. Dr. Fenton recognized the need to stretch young minds and further develop Hicksville's academic achievers. When this first group of fourth graders entered ninth grade, Dr. Fenton challenged them to attain the highest number of college acceptances for a Hicksville graduating class.

It is now this same class, eight years later, to which the PTA Council will present its first Scholars' Award. Council President Karen Garbus will see to it that each of these students is presented with a certificate and an engraved brass paperweight "apple" -- the New York State symbol of excellence in education. The students represent the top 20% of their class in academic standing.

"I hope that this dinner begins a tradition of publicly patting those students on the back who have applied themselves to their studies. They have worked diligently, guided by their teachers and parents, and deserve this recognition for their academic accomplishments," comments Mrs. Garbus.

The Council appreciates that Hicksville has produced a number of very outstanding young men and women. This award will give a broader range of students the opportunity to have their scholarly efforts recognized. All eleven units of the Council, and the Council itself, have contributed to this award, making it truly a community commitment.

The Council wishes to thank the Hicksville Alumni Association for acknowledging the academic excellence demonstrated by these and all the students present at its annual dinner.

The Hicksville Council of PTAs 1989 Scholars' Award winners are:

Burns Avenue School-Stephen McNicholas, David Feitell, Ernesto Rodriguez, Wayne Mandel and Francesa Barilla.

THE ONE MINUTE PARENT

Timesaving tips for the working parent

By Pamela Redmond Satran

The one thing every working parent could use is more time, and now there's a book full of timesaving ideas both for work and at home. "Managing It All: Timesaving Ideas for Career, Family, Relationships and Self," by Beverly Benz Treuille and Susan Schiffer Stautberg (MasterMedia Limited, $9.95) is based on interviews with more than 200 successful working mothers.

The best thing about this book is that it's superbly organized. It's easy to locate tips on whatever concerns you, from making business calls to taking your kids on vacation. The worst thing is that, while many of the tips are indeed useful, many seem to be merely fillers.

Does this intelligent working mother, for instance, really need to be told to try to eat a healthy lunch? And what does that have to do with saving time, anyway? And while having your children send thank-you notes for gifts may be proper etiquette, it's the kind of advice that doesn't really belong in this book. It's ironic to have to waste time wading through this kind of stuff to get to the ideas that have real meaning.

But when the tips in the book are good, they're really good. The authors advise, for instance, to make business calls you don't want to spend a lot of time on between 4 and 5 in the afternoon, when the other person is most likely in a hurry to get his or her work finished and go home (and when you have a good excuse for keeping the call short).

Have a co-worker or a neighbor who tends to pop by, just for a second, and stay for half an hour? The authors suggest standing up when the person enters your office or home, and remain standing. If you stay on your feet, the interloper will probably follow suit and will be more likely to leave quickly.

Do you waste time procrastinating? The trick here, according to the book, is to divide big projects into smaller tasks and to delegate those small, initial tasks to someone else. Once the project has been launched, it will be easier for you to jump in and get it done.

I loved the authors' suggestion for motivating children to help with housework. They suggest a game of Race Against the Clock, with everyone competing to see who can get his or her chores done fastest. This is terrific because it saves time for Mom, who's relieved of some of the housework, and also ensures that jobs get done quickly and efficiently.

I also loved their idea for efficient entertaining: back-to-back dinner parties, one on Saturday night and another Sunday afternoon, for example. The reasoning behind this tactic: You only have to shop, clean and cook once.

Good parenting ideas for those with small children include storing kids' supplies -- from toys to crayons to box juice and crackers -- on low shelves they can reach themselves. The authors advise parents of babies to make extensive use of bibs and overshirts, so when baby messes you don't have to change all his clothing.

For these nuggets and numerous others that can help busy working mothers save time, "Managing It All" is a useful book. But authors, take note: I could have used the time I spent wading through all your other, superfluous tips to do something more worthwhile, like sleeping.

Willet Ave. Has A Busy Month

The month of March was a busy and fruitful time for the students of Willet Ave. School.

Mr. Dunn, the principal initiated a Parents as Reading Partners Program a few years ago. The students enthusiastically enjoyed a successful book fair held for two days, had an opportunity to listen to Seymour Simon, an author of children's Science books and participate in the Character Day Assembly held at the end of the month. On Character Day the students were asked to dress up and portray their favorite book character. It has proved to be a very interesting and motivating experience for each student at Willet Ave., and hopefully will encourage a further love for reading.

Below, Elizabeth Wrzosek and Nicole Michalos have made their choice.

Christine Osso and Jill Sabeno are trying to decide which books they want.

Melissa Kuch is Dorothy from "The Wizard of Oz" and Janice Bachteler is the evil witch.

Bethpage Senior 'Teen Of Month'

Maureen McMorrow

Maureen McMorrow, a senior at Bethpage High School has been recognized by the Elks Club as "Teenager of the Month" for the month of April. Mrs. Puglisi, Maureen's Guidance Counselor, describes her as a young woman of vision and decision who has truly experienced a joy in learning. She is an exceptional young woman both scholastically and personally. She has been enrolled in a difficult, demanding program, of study always mindful of her intended career interest in the health-related professions. The Administrative Assistant at the Nutrition Center whom Maureen works with part-time, labels her as the most promising student in her professional career.

Maureen has represented her class in various activities, including the Town of Oyster Bay Constitution Bicentennial Essay Contest, in which she took first place in the high school division. She has also received honors in the areas of Mathematics, Science, and Spanish, and received a National Merit Letter of Commendation as a result of her PSAT scores. Maureen is currently serving her community as Chairperson of the Bethpage Chapter of the National Honor Society's tutoring service. She has been a member of the school newspaper, the Eagle's Cry, for the past three years, the Spanish Club, and is also currently on the yearbook staff. This fall she will be representing her school on WLW's Brainstormers.

On a personal level, Maureen is highly respected and admired by her peers and teachers. She has been labelled a quiet, reserved scholar in the making. Her awards and activities reflect a dedicated, responsible, determined young woman who has a tremendous academic and personal growth potential. Maureen McMorrow is a joy to counsel and a pleasure to know.

Her maturity, unusual insight and concern for others, high ability to cope with new situations, all contribute to Maureen's overall well developed personality.

Maureen looks forward to majoring in Health Administration at either St. John's University or C.W. Post. Both schools have combined Bachelors/Masters' Programs in this major.

Maureen said she is quite honored to have been selected from the very active seniors this year to receive this award.

In honoring Maureen McMorrow as "Teenager of the Month," the Elks Club has chosen a student whose concern for others and tremendous academic success has made her a valued student at Bethpage High School.

Editor's Notebook

In North Carolina and Florida, according to the AAA, motorists have a better than 98% chance of getting the quality gasoline they pay for. In Delaware, the odds are 25-1 they won't be robbed at the gas pump.

But no such luck for the New York motorists, where in some areas, AAA claims, the probability of being defrauded when filling up is 50-50. The difference? State lawmakers in Delaware, Florida, North Carolina and, in all, more than 30 states have passed consumer protection legislation against such rip-offs; Albany lawmakers have not.

Legislation has now been proposed that would bring New York up to the level of most other states-- providing drivers with the same type of safeguards against "bad gas" that's available elsewhere: (Senate 3518, Assembly 5618)

It would:

- Set statewide motor fuel quality standards.
- Require alcohol content posting by retailers.
- Facilitate laboratory analysis of suspect fuel.
- Mandate stiffer penalties for violators-- including fines of up to $5,000.

The bill's proposed schedule of heavy fines -- revenues from which should adequately cover costs of enforcement-- enhances the measure's viability and removes a major obstacle to its enactment into law. For several years, the Legislature has been reluctant to appropriate the $1 million needed to set up statewide testing of fuel by the State Department of Agriculture and Markets.

The potential for such financing -- as a "revolving" loan fund repaid by fine proceeds -- is among several alternatives mentioned.

A statewide study has found these problems at the gas pump:

- Lead contamination of unleaded gasoline on a level substantially worse than the national average -- even after years of intensive testing by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.
- Adulteration with alcohol in excessive amounts and non-conforming methanol blends which can produce corrosive engine damage.
- Mislabeling and overpricing -- evidenced by the practice of marketing low octane gasoline as high octane premium (a practice especially widespread downstate).

These abuses add up to one of the nation's costliest consumer frauds. Yet, to date, New York has done virtually nothing to protect the state's seven million motorists from this $20 million year swindle. It is hoped this situation will soon be changed for the better by the new legislation. M.J.M.

Library Budget Gets Approval

In a light voter turnout last Wednesday, Hicksville Public Library's budget for 1989-90 was approved 231 to 177. Ruth Aaron running unopposed for a five year term on the Library Board of Trustees was re-elected with 322 votes.

The budget in the amount of $1,824,114.57 will carry an estimated tax rate of $1.49. Library officials project that the approved figure will cost the average homeowner approximately $85.00 a year.

In Service

Peter DeNinno: An Appreciation

By Richard Evers

Peter DeNinno of Hicksville, a distinguished Long Island educator and a progressive public library trustee was laid to rest Thursday, after a Mass of Christian Burial at St. Ignatius Loyola Church. He died this past Saturday, April 15, at the age of 60.

A Hicksville Public Library Trustee since 1977, Peter DeNinno was a consistent advocate and supporter for the expanded cultural and public services of the library, according to Library Dir. Kenneth Barnes. Mr. DeNinno was also strongly interested in the welfare of the library's staff."

A professional teacher of language arts in the Plainview-Old Bethpage Public School system for 30 years, Peter DeNinno was beloved by two generations of students and parents and greatly respected by his colleagues. Assigned, in 1958, by the late Dr. Eric LeBarron, Hicksville Supt. of Schools, to serve the then rural two-classroom school of Plainview, Mr. DeNinno began a legendary career as a teacher and role model. He was moderator for most student clubs and activities in the early years of the emerging Plainview-Old Bethpage School District which was developing steadily on the plains east of Hicksville. The gifted, personable and outgoing teacher was a leader in initiating and running so many Plainview school institutions: the Driver-Education Program; the first local Senior Citizens Program; the Adult Education Program's "Americanization for the Foreign-born"; and the High School Equivalency Diploma Program.

Russell Goldenberg, now an English teacher in El Paso, Texas wrote of his mentor, on the occasion of his retirement from teaching due to debilitating illness: "Perhaps the key to his success lies in his closeness with students. His participation in the Key Club, Yearbook, journalism, the Senior Follies and others confirms the fact that Mr. D has always been at the helm of student affairs and activities at this school...Mr. D. has become a favorite and beloved teacher of students both past and present. He has served as Senior Class advisor every year since 1959 (25 years). Furthermore, he has helped countless students with problems of every kind, dealing from their career to academics. One of the most outstanding examples of this was when Mr. DeNinno gave a foundation to the acting career of John Savage, who starred in such films as "The Deer Hunter" and "Hair." It is his goal to help all his students become good citizens who contribute to life and are aware of their society around them."

Born in New York City, the son of Italian-American immigrants who operated the DeNinno Ice Plant in Hicksville, in the 1920's, Peter loved visiting his family in the rural, small-town Hicksville of sixty years ago. Educated at Wagner College, Staten Island, at Oxford University and the New School for Social Research, he held a Doctorate in Sociology. Among his life's many honors were Honorary Certificates of Achievement from Governors Harriman and Rockefeller, listing in "Who's Who in American Education", 1963; Teacher of the Year in 1957 from the Future Teachers of America, and Life Membership from the PTA.

Peter DeNinno's life-style, his personal qualities and character, underlay his many accomplishments and the affection he engendered among those who knew him well. "Spirit, laughter, involvement marked Pete's style" once, recalled Mrs. DeMares O'Connell Pleat who worked beside him during much of his career.

I was his Hicksville neighbor for many years, spoke with him often and was struck by his large nature. He was a big man - physically and spiritually. Modest and yet flamboyant, a scholar who never lost the common touch, highly principled and yet resourceful and innovative, Dr. DeNinno was indeed "A Man For All Seasons," to offer analogy which Peter who loved the stage and took part in dramatics, would have found far-fetched but amusing.

We had warm conversations, and I appreciated his interest in the Gregory Museum's welfare and my work on the Hicksville History commissioned by the Hicksville Public Library, in 1981.

Peter DeNinno

Often I'd see him trying to assist at the many auto collisions just outside his landmark corner home. This winter, his Christmas tree lights gleamed through his window, months after the Nativity was celebrated, and I thought, "Peter truly loves to savor the holiday spirit." I did not know that he left his decorated tree up all year, its unlit lights just waiting for another blessed season to be the first illuminated.

Peter DeNinno's achievements and contributions as an educator and a civic-minded person, especially his exemplary, merry life were reason enough for the Lord to grow impatient, finally, for his company. His last years of struggle with considerable physical affliction taxed his courage and endurance, but he carried his cross gamely to the end.

Already a legendary person in the schools and community of Plainview-Old Bethpage, Peter DeNinno was a memorial, as well, in Hicksville's Public Library where, serving as elected trustee, he so ably, consistently supported the many public services which make the library one of the finest on Long Island.

Fr. Stravopoulos Kiwanis Speaker

Continuing the previously announced series of programs scheduled by Kiwanis Chairman of Spiritual Aims Effie Krogmann the second guest clergyman to speak to the Hicksville Kiwanis Club was Father George Stravopoulos of the Holy Trinity Greek Orthodox Church in Hicksville.

Fr. Stravopoulos came to the April 12 Kiwanis luncheon meeting and spoke about his coming here from "the old country", how his church began meeting downstairs in Holy Trinity Episcopal Church before their new building was built on Field Avenue, how their children meet after regular school hours to study Greek, learn Greek dancing and Greek music. His discussion was found to be very interesting by the audience and prompted many questions which he answered with enthusiasm.

Our Children

Parents concerned about solitary son

By Willard Abraham, Ph.D.

Q. Our 6-year-old seems to have no friends, but he gives no indication of needing any. He is never lonely, keeps himself well-occupied with his toys, puzzles, books and school work, likes to talk to both of his parents, and all in all appears to be very well-adjusted. Do you think we have a problem?

A. Although it doesn't look like you have one, there are a few approaches you can use that he might enjoy and that may relieve you a bit, too.

His teacher may have noticed in his relationships with other children that at least occasionally he spends time with one or two of them. During a conversation with him you could ask him about them, and carefully and somewhat casually lead into the suggestion of inviting one of them to your home for a short after-school visit.

The same opportunity could be developed with a child in your neighborhood whom you may have seen or whose parents you have met.

In either case, the invitation could come from either you or him. It might be better if he would be willing to handle it; there may, of course, be a follow-up call to you from the other youngster's parents.

A child who has one or more interests similar to your son's would clearly be a better choice than one who is diametrically opposite in interests and personality.

All of this can be a first step, with others to additional children slowly and methodically involved on an individual basis.

Just one caution — respect for his privacy is important. There are certainly many well-adjusted children (and adults too) who really have little or no need to "group-it-up." Their enjoyment and happiness can come through the pursuit of individual involvements and goals. We are all aware of successful people in many different careers who provide evidence of that fact through the self-confidence and secure self-image they present.

Q. I think I'd like to cure our 3-year-old of what seems to be an obsession with him. Instead of playing with his toys, looking at his picture books, or even watching television, he puts his hands in his pockets and uses them in ways that I don't think he should.

I've talked to him about this and have even been tempted to tie his hands behind his back.

But first, I thought I'd like to have your opinion.

A. In an article of mine (which is on its way to you) there are four rules. The last one says, "If your youngster masturbates occasionally, but has many interests and seems happy, try to involve him in something else, but don't make a big deal over it."

Distractions, involvements, time spent with him, a sound preschool environment — these are among the healthful ingredients you might consider.

Q. Sometimes our little girl (she's 5) seems to be very sad, even depressed, and this worries me. Until a year ago she was such a happy child, but now she often is kind of sullen, even gloomy.

Is this normal? What do you suggest we do about this matter?

A. The first step should no doubt be to a visit to your family physician or pediatrician so that you can rule out any physical problem. At the same time you might check with the preschool or regular school she attends, to see whether her teacher has any hint of the reason for her acting as she does.

Is there any stress at home of which you are aware that may be influencing her behavior? Is there any pressure within the family that might be affecting her? Your observation and perhaps conversations with her may be revealing.

If none of these approaches discloses the cause for her seeming to be depressed, your physician may be able to talk with you about appropriate actions you might pursue, or other personnel you might consult.

Hicksville Minutemen Win At Triangle

The Hicksville Minutemen 1977 B travelling soccer team trounced the Copiague Raiders 7-2 at rainswept Triangle Park on Saturday, April 1st.

The Minutemen took charge at the onset, jumping off to a quick 1-0 lead on a line drive by left wing Danny DePinho. Stopper Anthony Noya made it 2-0 on a shot from 20 yards out. Copiague then put one into the upper right corner to make it 2-1. DePinho then scored his second goal for a 3-1 lead. Mike Whitman, playing his first game at striker, made it 4-1 to end the first half.

Jorge DeSilva started the second half with the Minutemen's fifth goal. The Raiders then put one over the goalkeeper's head to make it 5-2. Whitman then scored his second goal for a 6-2 lead. DeSilva closed out the scoring, at the 59 minute mark, with his second goal, to make it 7-2.

The game featured exceptional passing on the part of Hicksville, which led to every one of their goals. Their strong offensive play was coupled with a fine defensive game, led by Tracy Koetter, making her first start goal. She handled everything reachable with ease and distributed the ball well to her halfbacks via fine punting. Bobby Wagner, at right fullback, had his best game as a Minutemen, continuing the steady improvement he has been showing every week. Greg Walunas at sweeper kept things honest in the middle. Robin Blicher and Mark Spinner alternated at left fullback with equal success. Anthony Noya, at stopper, was the heart of the Hicksville defense and offense, constantly providing on target, long lead kicks, plus on-target corner kicks.

Jason Brown, at right half, Bobby Braun, at center half, and Brian Rigert, at left half, played great two-way soccer, dropping back to help the defense and moving up to assist the wings. Jorge DeSilva, at right wing, Mike Whitman, at striker, and Danny DePinho, at left wing, combined for a sensational offensive game. They never stopped moving forward, and always looked for one another as they played as a well tuned unit.

Congratulations to my team, the Minutemen, for showing me that all the hours of practice can be rewarding. Thanks to my Assistants, Pete Whitman and Tony DePinho for their help. Additional thanks to Seaman & Eisemann for their continued sponsorship, which is much appreciated.

St. Ignatius CYO News

Basketball comes to an end after a long season. We would like to thank all our dedicated coaches, for their patience, and understanding. Trophy night will be held on April 23rd, in the Old School Auditorium at 2 p.m.

The following is reported by: Coach Larry Morillo, Bullets.

In a very exciting game the Bullets defeated the Supersonics to finish with a perfect 5-0 playoff and 12-3 for the season.

The Supersonics had raced out to an early fifteen point lead, but at the end of the third quarter the Bullets led by one point. In the fourth quarter the lead constantly changed hands until key baskets by Walt Gaynor and super rebounds by Tom Carolan and Brian Fayda clinched the victory for the Bullets. Dave Gleason scored fourteen points, Matt Voss nine, Matt Morillo and Peter Berzins had four points each. George Garcyski and Jimmy Silvertson played aggressive defense.

The Supersonics were led by, Matt Lewis sixteen points, Dennis Kelly fourteen points and Andy Rutherford ten points.

I'd like to thank the team and their parents for all their support during the season.

Hicksville Warriors Beat Garden City

The Hicksville Warriors 1974 travelling soccer team annihilated the Garden City Raiders 5-0 at rainswept, muddy Triangle Field on Sunday, April 16th, to even their LI Junior Soccer League record to one and one, behind the sensational goaltending of Joe Flanagan and a superlative second half offensive explosion.

The first half featured great end to end soccer on the part of both teams, with the field conditions a contributing factor in the play. The respective defenses proved equal to every offensive thrust, with Matt Pordum, at stopper, keying the Hicksville effort. In the last 10 minutes of the first half, it became obvious that the game was being taken over by the Warriors, although the half ended at 0-0.

out on a rising line drive. Right inside half Dom Perillo closed out the Warriors scoring with a penalty shot at the 77 minute mark, following a Garden City handball in the box.

Joe Flanagan, in goal, rose to the occasion on every Citadel thrust. His handling of a wet, slippery soccer ball was a work of art, with strong, accurate punts, perfect lead throws, and accurate kicks thrown in for added measure.

Chuck Oliver at right fullback, and Kristian Friedrich at left fullback, both had exceptional games. Brian Harkins, at sweeper, handled everything up the middle with perfect aplomb. Matt Pordum, at stopper, seemed to be wherever the ball went, and constantly kept it moving forward, including some beautiful long shots in the first half. Junior Tomlinson, at right outside half, was a ball of fire, keying many offensive charges. Karl Rice and Terry Aylward had fine games at left outside half. Kareem Holman contributed valuable time at right outside half. Blicher, Perillo and Kingsley played fine, two-way soccer, continually making things happen in both zones of play. Doyle, at striker, repeatedly kept Garden City's defense off balance, as they tried to anticipate his next offensive move.

Game Of Hicksville On Sale

Many of the businesses in Hicksville will soon be up for sale! Imagine being able to purchase as many of them as your bankroll will allow, enabling you to become that rich entrepreneur that you always dreamed you could be.

Cub Scout Pack 377 is giving everyone a chance with the introduction of "The Game Of Hicksville". This unique board game, based on the game of Monopoly will provide hours of family fun. With just the roll of the dice, you will be able to monopolize Hicksville.

This exciting fundraising effort sponsored by Cub Scout Pack 377 is now in progress. Assemblyman Fred Parola, pictured above, met with some members of the pack and thinks it is a great idea. Local businesses are in the process of purchasing various squares with high hopes that those who land on their squares will also land in their shops. Advertisers are jumping at the chance to be part of the board, citing the idea of perpetual advertising at a nominal one-time fee, as a most attractive deal. If you are a business owner and are interested in owning a piece of the board, act soon while some squares are still available.

Are you a long time resident, or a new comer to Hicksville? It doesn't matter. Act quickly, join in the excitement and have your family name remembered forever. The first 300 persons to make the $15.00, tax deductible, purchase of the game will be remembered by all who play the game because their names will be imprinted on the faces of every game board.

All proceeds from the sale of the games will be used to support and enhance the on going activities of Pack 377. As Cubmaster Kevin Kremler notes, "We try to run the best program we can for the boys and their families, but everything is so expensive." The fun and excitement experienced by members of the young but growing pack, centered out of Burns Avenue School and sponsored by the PTA, will be continued and expanded as a result of your generosity.

To place an order or for additional information, your game is just a phone call away: call Rita England at 935-5067 or Janet Patrone at 938-3330. Remember your name is printed on every game, if you are one of the first 300 to buy a game.

YOUR CHILD COULD USE ANOTHER POINT OF VIEW.

It's not because there's a lack of information out there. Your child is getting plenty—from the kids at school, from friends in the neighborhood, from older kids, and from countless other sources.

The problem lies in the kind of information your child is getting. What kids hear too often is that drugs are OK. What they need to hear is the truth.

This is where you, as a parent, can help. By talking frankly with your child, you can, first of all, learn where your child stands on drugs—what he thinks about them, what he knows, and what he doesn't know.

Then, once you understand your child's perspective, you'll be in a better position to offer your own. You'll be able to talk about the dangers of various drugs. And what your child can do to avoid them.

Of course, speaking to your child like this takes a lot of courage. And to do it effectively takes a lot of homework—like reading articles, attending meetings, and talking to other parents. This way, your child will see you as a well informed source.

Your child is going to talk to someone about drugs. Who's it going to be?

To make sure you have the right answers, contact your local agency on drug abuse.

Mineral Show And Sale Planned

Since the Gregory Museum Rock Swap is a "Just for Kids" activity, the planning committee is also from the younger generation. Hicksville students Carrie Selser, Joe and Breanne Soviero, and Heather Verini select specimens to be put out for trade at the swap.

Hicksville Gregory Museum's Mineral Show and Sale will be held at the museum - Rain or Shine, May 6, 10 a.m.-5 p.m., and May 7, 12-5 p.m. A "Rock Swap" for kids will take place May 6 only 10 a.m.-4 p.m. (Rain Date for Swap - May 7, 12-4 p.m.).

The Museum's Rock Swap is a bit different from an ordinary swap meet involving an equal trade. This Rock Swap is designed to encourage young collectors to upgrade or trade up.

The Swap will be held on the Museum grounds in the area behind the jail. Here's how it will work:

- Any interested youngster, ages six to twelve or so, may participate for approximately one hour of trading.
- There will be an advance registration fee of $1. Not for fund raising, this fee is intended to make sure the participant is a serious hobbyist. Each participant will receive an identification tag and several tickets of different colors.
- Each ticket will be good for a trade with either the Museum, a member of the Nassau Mineral Club, or some other specific collector with worthwhile specimens. There will also be free trading among the young people themselves.

•The participants will come prepared with trading material. The best thing to hold this is a cardboard soda flat in which rocks to be swapped can be displayed. Tables will be provided.

•If trading material is identified, or is from a particular location, some labels would make it more desirable.

•Trading material need not be spectacular. Anything the young person considers a good rock will be acceptable. Fossils are great, too.

•Participants should be prepared with sturdy bags to tote their new specimens home.

Young children must have parents on the premises, though preferably not in the swap area. This will be a busy, very active day. Parents must assume responsibility for their own children. You may register at the museum, or call 822-7505.
