The Rev. Wai C. Tan, pastor of the Long Island Abundant Life Church, located at 24 East Nicholai Street in Hicksville, was the guest speaker at the December 6 luncheon meeting of the Hicksville Kiwanis Club. Rev. Tan was invited by the club's chairman of the Spiritual Aims Committee, Effie Krogmann, to speak to the members of Kiwanis about his church. This was another part of Mrs. Krogmann's continuing program to bring clergymen from Hicksville to address the membership.

Rev. Tan said that he became the pastor of this Christian Evangelical Chinese church in July 1989, that they are a thriving, growing congregation made up of both American born and immigrant Chinese people. As he said, his congregation is made up of one race, but several cultural groups who speak several languages and dialects, and they sing hymns from a bilingual hymnal. Rev. Tan further said that he is anxious for the members of this church to become assimilated to American ways, and especially to become contributing members in the life of the community.

60 Vamps Respond To Car/Garage Fire

Hicksville Fire Fighters responded to a fire on Saturday, December 9, at 16 Elmira Street, Hicksville. Upon arrival, firefighters found a garage and car involved in flames, also involved was a burning kerosene heater and a burning 20 lb. propane BBQ cylinder. An additional car in the driveway was starting to burn as was the house at that address.

The biggest problem that confronted the 60 vamps who responded was the burning propane cylinder - if it exploded - as they sometimes do without warning - it could destroy any dwelling within a 200' radius. The kerosene heater also caused concern along with the one car's gasoline tank. Vamps managed to douse the flames and cautiously removed the cylinder before it exploded.

The siding on the house melted and another car in the driveway suffered extensive damage. Nearby structures of other residents were spared damage. The alarm was reported at 11:55 a.m. Chief T. Farrell was in charge using 6 pieces of apparatus. No injuries were reported.

INN's Home And Services Meets Local Opposition

By Maureen Traxler

The INN at Hicksville again stirred controversy, renewed hope for the less fortunate and generated solutions to alleviate problems on both sides of this demanding social issue, when it was a topic at the December 7 Hicksville Community Council meeting. Sharing the agenda that evening were presentations on social security coverage and long-term health care provisions.

Speaking on behalf of the 4 1/2 year old local operation of the INN (Interfaith Nutrition Network), the Reverends Domenick Ciannella of Holy Trinity Episcopal Church and Theodore Grant of Redeemer Lutheran Church outlined the fine charitable work being done by "a cadre of volunteers" to provide meals, shelter and material goods for the needy. But, the residents to which they spoke urged them not to lose sight of the needs of the overall community and implored the members of the INN to take a hardline stance with some of its guests.

The INN's lunch hour operation, often called the soup kitchen, is housed at Redeemer Lutheran Church on New South Road. "The INN feeds some 35 to 40 persons daily," estimated Father Ciannella, among them seniors, elderly persons in need of socialization, out of work men and women, vagrants and possibly deinstitutionalized former mental patients. Pastor Grant added that many of these people are "from our own community, not from far away, but our neighbors, young men who have gone through our educational system. I don't have the guts to deny somebody shelter."

Objecting to the fact that many residents perceive that it is because of the location of the soup kitchen that Hicksville has a rising number of homeless roaming the streets, Ellie Draycott interjected, "Nobody is against feeding the hungry or sheltering the homeless, but put a station in several communities."

Father Ciannella said that he hopes the people of Hicksville can see the issue this way: a program such as the INN is a community response to a community problem. Many of the residents present at the meeting agreed that "homelessness" and "needy persons" are a problem in our society, but they also felt that since the INN has taken the initiative in aiding these persons, they should also take the initiative to help solve some of the problems created in the community by this worthwhile charitable endeavor.

Norma Goerke, a homeowner adjacent to Redeemer Lutheran Church, noted several negatives, including sightings of drunks at the entrance to the new kiddie park next to Redeemer, vagrants loitering, ringing doorbells at 2 a.m., homeless persons using neighbor's hoses to take a shower, urinating and defecating by the trees, and verbal abuse.

"Those who partake (of the benefits of the soup kitchen) should feel a part of the community (too), and that is part of the problem," offered Iris Wolfson. She and several other residents felt that the "guests" should feel a certain responsibility to the community. But, Father Ciannella said that the INN cannot operate "on condition." "How do we make that distinction," he queried.

Another resident of Christian persuasion noted that in the Bible Christ calls on people to feed the hungry and shelter the homeless, but he added that Christ also chided anti-social behavior and called on people to change.

INN's Home And Services Meets Local Opposition

Several suggestions to improve the situation came from the audience. They included having an AA volunteer, a veterans counselor and/or volunteer social workers present during times that the INN is dispensing food and referring the guests to resources in the community where they can seek help. Both residents and the clergymen agreed that affordable housing and good paying jobs are in short supply and that assistance in these areas should be sought on both the town and county levels.

Pastor Grant offered some statistics on the Hicksville INN compiled by Michael Smith of the School of Social Work at Hunter College. Mr. Smith, a resident of Hicksville, surveyed the guests and found: 60% are male, 40% female; 58% come from Hicksville, with 14% from Levittown, 6% from Plainview, 8% from Westbury, 3% each from Jericho, East Meadow and elsewhere; 19% live within three blocks, 64% within three miles; 14% are between the ages of 50 and 65, 45% are over 65, 24% over 70 and 3% over 80; and 27% are street people.

Father Cianella and Pastor Grant acknowledged that they did not have all the answers, but they encouraged the Hicksville Community Council to send a representative to their board meetings to help solve the "community's" problem.

Noting that social security is a pay-as-you-go system which favors the low income group, Jim McWilliams of the Social Security Administration attempted to demystify the 52 year old system. One of the great misconceptions of social security, says McWilliams, is that it will always be there when we retire.

McWilliams pointed out the financial crunch the system found itself in, in the 1970's, but quickly added that with more stringent management, the system now has a surplus of a little over $50 billion. He estimated that the surplus will increase to $7 trillion in 2017 and $12 trillion in 2030. Negatively speaking, estimates have it that by 2030 the system will once again be strictly pay as you go and by 2045, the system could perceptibly be out of money again. Statistics and probability indicate that in 1950, there were 16 workers for every retiree; at present we have 3 workers for every retiree, and in 2030, there will be only 2 workers for every retiree. "Retirees cannot expect to get much then, or workers will be taxed more," McWilliams asserted.

"The Social Security System is more than a retirement fund," added McWilliams. "Social Security also offers disability insurance, survivor insurance and medicare." Reviewing eligibility, McWilliams noted that workers must have 40 quarters or ten years of coverage to become eligible. Calculating benefits is done by taking one's highest 34 years of earnings (after adjustment for inflation) in order to arrive at one's average lifetime earnings. He urged everyone, whether they are at retirement age, several years away or just curious as to their standing to send away for benefit estimate form 7004. The information you will receive will contain a yearly breakdown since 1971, an estimate of what you will receive at 65 or 62 years of age and an estimate of survivors or disability insurance benefits to which you may be entitled. In order to receive a form, or to set up an appointment, call 1-800-234555A. If you set up an appointment, don't forget to bring along your birth certificate and your last W2 form.

Mr. McWilliams also directed persons looking for information to listen to the social security program on WHLI at 7:45 a.m.

Cathy Agrillo and Darleane Lukaszewicz of Matrix Planning, a financial planning group, offered suggestions on long-term health care. They said that older adults face an increasing likelihood that they will need temporary or long-term health care in a facility outside their home. Options available to hedge against such a likelihood are to self-insure, seek Medicaid or a long-term nursing care plan.

Since the largest portion of nursing care facility costs, estimated on Long Island at $36 to $48,000 yearly, fall on the individual and their families, the financial planners suggested looking into a long-term plan and, in some cases, consulting with an elderly care attorney.

In Councillman Tom Clark's absence, Council President Joe DePompa outlined the most recent plans for the Broadway Mall submitted by Delco Corporation. Mr. Clark noted that the plans are to be discussed at a February Town hearing and if residents have concerns, they should contact him, see him at the next Community Council meeting or come to the hearing which will be held at Town Hall, in Oyster Bay.

Delco's plans call for construction of a Food Court in the west wing of the center where the old Food Fair was located. An estimated 500 seats will be provided for dining, and existing food vendors are to be relocated to this area.

In back of the existing mall where the motor vehicle building was located, a 3,200 seat, 12 screen movie theater is being requested in a free-standing building. This would be an increase over the present seating capacity of 2,000.

The next meeting of the Council will be Thursday, February 1, 1990, at 7:30 p.m., in the community room of the Hicksville Public Library.

Letters

To the Editor:

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post #3211 wish everyone a very joyous holiday season.

I also want to thank you for all the support you have given our Post and Auxiliary throughout the year.

Yours in Friendship,
Esther Palladino,
President

To the Editor:

I would like to thank all of the voters throughout our County who, in the recent election, expressed confidence in me and support for our efforts on behalf of our citizens. As in the past, we will work together to build an even better life for us and our future generations and to ensure that Nassau County is a place where all of our citizens can afford to live in health and safety.

As we embark upon the Holiday Season, we recognize it is truly a special time of year. It is the time of year when we can step back from the hectic pace of daily life to share special moments with family and friends and to reflect upon our many blessings. We recognize that we do not live in a perfect society, but we are fortunate to live in the greatest country in the world and in some of the finest communities in the nation. We need but see the twinkle in a child's eye or the smile on a child's face to know the many blessings we share.

Both Betsy and I wish you and your loved ones a Happy Holiday Season and a Healthy and Prosperous New Year.

Warmest regards,
Thomas S. Galotta
County Executive

Editor's Notebook

Over 23 million Americans are functionally illiterate - unable to read a street sign or a headline in this newspaper. Another 37 million people are marginally illiterate, unable to read instructions in a workplace manual.

These trends are among the major social forces discussed in a new United Way of America report, "What Lies Ahead: Countdown to the 21st Century." The report presents the implications of illiteracy and many other significant trends affecting our society.

Although all 50 states have adopted some type of education reform since 1983, much more needs to be done to insure Americans are prepared to become productive and competitive members of the workforce.

There is a continuing educational gap between white Americans and members of some ethnic groups. Among the population aged 25 years and over, 77 percent of white Americans are high school graduates and 20.5 percent are college graduates; among blacks, the corresponding figures are 63.4 percent and 10.7 percent; among Asians and members of other races, 78.4 and 33.4 percent; among Hispanics, 50.9 percent and 8.6 percent.

Many Behind

Between 1976 and 1986, total college enrollment grew by more than 1 million students, while enrollment by black males fell by 34,000. It is thought that the decline occurred, even though black students have been completing high school at an increasing rate, because a significant number of black males are entering career vocational schools rather than colleges.

The national high school dropout rate continues to hover around 30 percent. Dropping out of high school is strongly linked to social problems: 62 percent of all prison inmates are dropouts, and more than half of all welfare families are headed by high school dropouts.

Educators estimate that nearly a third of the nation's children entering school deal with a serious socio-economic problem: they live in a single-parent household, or have a poverty-level family income; have non-English speaking parents; or are members of a minority group with a pattern of below-average academic achievement. For these students, school is likely to evolve into community social-service centers.

To develop successful models to solve the illiteracy problem, United Ways and local literacy programs are developing many innovative programs. One program supported by a $700,000 grant from United Parcel Service will develop models to teach adults to read using the latest technology.

"What Lies Ahead: Countdown to the 21st Century" examines nine major trends affecting society. It is the fifth in a continuing series of reports designed to focus on challenges facing the nation's health and human-care organizations.

Santa To Visit STOP Sat.

Santa has finished making all his toys this year and will be bringing his used paints and chemicals to the Town of Oyster Bay's S.T.O.P. (Stop Throwing Out Pollutants) collection day on Saturday, December 16, according to Town Supervisor Angelo A. Delligatti.

"Like most of us, Santa is very aware and concerned about protecting our environment," Delligatti said. "Now that he has finished his toy-making for this year, he will be bringing all his leftover enamel and lead paints, wood preservatives and solvents to the Department of Public Works garage, 150 Miller Place, Syosset, on December 16. He will be there all day between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. to greet residents."

"Mrs. Santa also has some things from her cupboards for Santa to bring," Delligatti continued. "Now that she has gotten Santa's suit ready for his December 25th journey, that used spot remover can be disposed of through the S.T.O.P. program along with leftover drain and oven cleaners from her pre-holiday cleanup."

"While Santa will be using his sled on Christmas, the rest of the year he opts for slightly more modern transportation in the form of a car," Delligatti said. "Having just gotten new tires and a new battery and having had the brake and transmission fluids, the oil and the antifreeze changed in preparation for the winter months ahead, Santa is bringing the old tires and battery as well as the waste oil and antifreeze and the used transmission and brake fluids to the S.T.O.P. collection."

"When he is not making toys, Santa likes to take pictures of Mrs. Claus, the elves and the reindeer," the Supervisor said. "To be ready for developing all those great holiday photos he will be taking, Santa treated himself to all new photo chemicals since he found out he can safely dispose of the old chemicals at the S.T.O.P. collection."

Delligatti noted that residents can also bring most pesticides and insecticides to the S.T.O.P. collection. For further information on the S.T.O.P. program and on precisely what can be disposed of, contact the Environmental Control Division of the Department of Public Works at 921-7347, ext. 5577.

Hicksville Center Free Counselling

The teenage years are a time of tremendous change for both the teenager and the parent. Often times these changes can produce a great deal of stress within the family.

It is normal for teens to want to make their own decisions and to want to experience the freedom of their own actions. Sometimes this can cause a problem as the teen may not be quite ready to manage his own affairs. Oftentimes, teens may want to rely upon the security of the family, however, they may then resent help when offered. This can be confusing to the parent and conflicts may arise.

Conflicts between parents and teens are normal and each family struggles with how to effectively deal with these conflicts. Problems that arise between teens and parents do not limit themselves to differences of opinion or large issues. Some families may experience constant arguments concerning matters that seem relatively unimportant, but are important to either the parent or the teenager. A common problem is that parents and their children often perceive the same problem differently.

Some families successfully cope with problems as they arise, however, other families may experience a breakdown in communication and the problems can become more complicated. Parenting skills that were formerly effective can suddenly become useless. The Hicksville Youth Council offers FREE counseling to parents and teens in an effort to successfully work through problems and to help families learn more effective ways to cope with the struggles between parents and teens.

The Hicksville Youth Council is a non-profit organization located at 175 West Old Country Road in Hicksville. Their Counseling Program is available to both teenagers and parents. Counseling is provided free of charge by licensed New York State Social Workers and all counseling is confidential. For more information about the Counseling Program, call Pat Schussler, C.S.W. at 822-KIDS. The Youth Council is open Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Hicksville Girls Swim Through Season

The Hicksville High School Swim Team proved that small in size is hardly an indication of low on talent and ended a very exciting season with a record of four wins and four losses and a seventh place finish in the County Championships.

Directed by their new coach Jay Mund, the team of thirteen girls only lost to teams that were double in size and many of the swimmers distinguished themselves during the season. The Medley Relay of Kristin Mund, Karen Kratochvil, Tricia Cuti and Melissa Watkins were undefeated in the dual meets and went on to place second in both the County meet and the State Qualifying Championships. The girls will be honored as All County at the annual dinner in December.

Individually, Kristin Mund remained undefeated in the dual meets for the second consecutive year, winning the butterfly and the 200 free in both the Counties and the State Qualifier. She was awarded the Outstanding Swimmer Award and will be competing at the State Meet in Syracuse. Eighth grader Tricia Cuti won the County Champs in the 500 free and was second in that event at the State Qualifying meet, achieving a time that entitles her to a place on the state roster. Melissa Watkins and Karen Kratochvil qualified for both the Counties and the State Qualifying Meet. New swimmers also distinguished themselves during the season: Kim Glover scored in the 500 free, Amy Neuberger accumulated points in the 100 free, Beth Barosi proved to be a promising breaststroker, Cynthia Gaylor was very reliable in the 200 and 500 free, Jessica Sweir dropped over 10 seconds in the 100 free and Dana Cooper swam the backstroke in every dual meet. Rounding off the field were Maryanne Aiello, Elizabeth Fontebao, Lisa Latzo and Jeanette Hoermann, all of whom qualified for school letters.

A First For Mid-Island Hospital

Mid-Island's first baby, Jill Engelhardt and her husband, Eric. Shown here in the Bethpage health care facility and thrilled to be holding their first child, Casey Kathryn.

In the eyes of many, both mother and daughter will always be considered #1 For Mid-Island Hospital, Jill Korwan Engelhardt was the first baby born at the Bethpage health care facility when it decided to open its doors in 1955. For Jill and Eric Engelhardt of Islip - on Monday, November 27, at 10:30 a.m., their first child was born at Mid-Island. They named their 7 lb., 19 in. daughter Casey Kathryn. Two generations, both born at the same hospital, both #1!

Congratulations from Mid-Island to the proud parents and both sets of grandparents:

Patricia and Richard Korwan; and Grace and Stuart Engelhardt.

For the past ten years, Jill Engelhardt has been a licensed practitioner nurse in the hospital's surgical unit. When Jill was asked how she liked being MIH's #1 baby, she replied, "It's exciting! Actually, it is a great place to have a baby." Jill, along with Mid-Island's other employees, take pride in the 223-bed hospital.

Mid-Island's maternity care unit strives to fulfill the needs of today's women. Since Jill's mother, other women have also found total maternity care at the Bethpage hospital.

Clothing For Needy Vets

Hicksville Vietnam Veterans Connie Steers, left, and Greg Bennett, right, members of the Nassau County Chapter #82, the Vietnam Veterans of America, load the 7th and last trailer, with donated clothing, food, furniture, and bicycles, destined for the needy Vietnam Veterans and their families in Logan County, West Virginia. Besides loading seven trailers, the veterans spent the Thanksgiving weekend traveling to West Virginia to unload the trucks and meet with the veterans they are helping. "There are 900 families, including 1500 children, that will benefit from the generosity of the residents of Nassau County," said Connie Steers. The members of the Nassau County Chapter spent several months organizing this drive. "This clothing drive was a huge success because of the efforts of many people in and out of our Chapter," said Ron Young Chapter President, "and we thank them all."

Thanksgiving At Dutch Lane

"Let's be thankful" were the words you could hear as the students at Dutch Lane celebrated Thanksgiving on November 22. There were simply celebrations with goodies of cookies and juice, popcorn and vegetables, and of course we must mention Mrs. Saul's and Mrs. Calio's elaborate feast of a full turkey dinner. The children in these two 1st grade classes dressed up as Indians and Pilgrims and joined together in one room for their turkey dinner.

Jonathan DeFillippis butters his roll as his friend enjoys her meal.

Miss Masterson and her 2nd grade class of Indians gather for their feast of popcorn and vegetables.

Mrs. Hoch's 2nd grade class enjoyed making their apple turkey during the party time.

Students Learn About Giving

David Daly and Jessica Agosto accept donations for the needy and homeless.

Christopher Gluzak places his gift on the Giving Tree.

In keeping with the spirit of the season, the first and second grade students at Woodland Avenue School have set up a Giving Tree and bulletin board that says, "For it is in giving that we receive," St. Francis. The children are collecting donations of money and new clothing such as gloves, hats, scarves, socks and sweaters which they will donate to the needy and the homeless. They have also incorporated this special project into their math and writing lessons in the classroom. The Giving Tree will not only help those in need, but has also taught the children the Spirit of Giving.

Students Help

Ms. Louthan's class from Hicksville High School recently went on a field trip to Roosevelt Field Mall to buy Toys for Tots. The students donated money to buy gifts. They will also be earning money for their cause by selling holiday crafts on December 15.

Gifted Students Explore Mysteries

Students in the Hicksville Elementary Academic Enrichment Program, which is housed in the Dutch Lane School, recently completed a unit of study, "Unexplained Phenomena: Exploring Mysteries of the Unknown." Teachers Ms. Adele Niceforo and Mrs. Ann Gladstone report that the students, from the eight public elementary schools and two parochial schools, investigated such enigmas as Stonehenge, Atlantis, Machu

Picchu, Roanoke Island, The Great Pyramid, Extra Sensory Perception, The Mayas, Bigfoot, Easter Island, the Loch Ness Monster, U.F.O.'s and the Bermuda Triangle, and they drew their conclusions as to their probable causes. A highlight of each week was a visit from Dr. Robert Brier, Chairman of the Philosophy Department at C.W. Post College and professor at the New School for Social Research. An expert on parapsychology, he tested each student for E.S.P.

Dr. Robert Brier, Chairman of Philosophy Dept., C.W. Post College and expert on parapsychology tests Academic Enrichment Students for ESP during their study of Unexplained Phenomena.

AEP students positioned pyramids in N/S (direction) to conduct experiments in "pyramid power" during study of Unexplained Phenomena.

First Half Town Tax Due In Jan.

Residents are reminded that the first half of the 1990 General Tax Levy which is due on January 1, 1990, may be paid, without penalty, through February 13, 1990, according to Town receiver of Taxes Gary F. Musiello.

"By law, a taxpayer has a 40-day grace period from the date the tax is due during which payment may be made without penalty," Musiello stated. "After the 40 days, a 1 percent penalty is added for each month the tax remains unpaid, retroactive to January 1.

"While residents can pay by mail, for their convenience, the Town Clerk's Annex, located in the Town Parking Garage at Newbridge Road and Duffy Avenue, in Hicksville, will be open on several days to receive General Tax payments," Musiello continued. "The dates are Tuesday, February 6, through Friday, February 9, and again on Tuesday, February 13, between 9 a.m. to 4:45 p.m."

Musiello noted that residents can also pay in person at the Tax Office, Oyster Bay Town Hall West, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, or at the Town Clerk's Office in Town Hall South, 977 Hicksville Road, Massapequa, during the hours of 9 a.m. and 4:45 p.m., weekdays. Cash payments are not accepted at either the Town Clerk's Annex in Hicksville or Town Hall South.

"When paying in person, residents are reminded to bring the entire tax bill with their payment," Musiello said. "Payment being made by mail for the first half of the year should include Stub #1 only. Stubs #1 and #2 should be included if the entire tax for the year is being paid."

Residents are cautioned NOT to write on, cut, fold, staple or otherwise deface the tax stubs as it can cause the computer to reject the payment.

Musiello requested that residents who call the Tax Office for information on property taxes have the school district, section, block and lot number of the property in question. "All property in the Town is listed in our computers by school district, section, block and lot," Musiello explained. "Having this information, which is on the tax bill and on the property deed, handy will be a great help in answering and providing the correct information in the most efficient manner."

'Year of Young Readers'

Mrs. Moriarty's 2nd grade students.

The Year of the Young Reader - 1989 - is quickly drawing to a close. As a culminating celebration of the joy of reading, children and teachers at the Central Boulevard Elementary School in Bethpage joined in the nationwide National Young Reader's Day in November.

Mrs. Valadez's 6th grade students celebrated National Young Reader's Day by dramatizing a scene from the book, The Black Stallion, by Walter Farley.

Mrs. Casella's kindergarten classes celebrated National Young Reader's Day with Maurice Sendak's book, Where the Wild Things Are. The children, with the help of their art teacher, Mrs. Bohman, created wild thing masks which they wore as they paraded through the halls at Central Boulevard School.

After reading Maurice Sendak's Where the Wild Things Are, the children in Mrs. Moriarty's second grade class had a "Wild Things" day. They dressed up as Wild Things, acted out a skit and did such Wild Things as reading their assigned stories from right to left and bottom of the page to the top. It was a Wild Day.

The fourth and fifth grade students in Mrs. Shinnery's class designed posters to celebrate National Children's Book Week. The posters were made using creative titles that emphasize that reading is a very special activity.

The second and third grade students in Mrs. Shinnery's class wrote letters to their favorite storybook character, and made a puppet depicting this person or animal.

Students Visit Clark Gardens

This was a trip taken by Miss Handelman's and Mrs. Mary's third grade class at Dutch Lane School, on November 13, to Clark Gardens. It was a very interesting class. Mrs. Schaedle (a bee keeper) taught all about the honeybee. Did you know that: Honey Bee's swarm when their nest is too crowded; they do not sting if you do not bother it; one queen bee lives in every hive with 50,000 honey bees. After the lecture each student got to see a section of a hive and best of all to taste some honey. I would love to go back and visit with my family.

Mrs. Schaedle a beekeeper at Clark Gardens showing the children the different parts of the honey bee.

Mrs. Schaedle from Clark Gardens and Miss Handelman and her class get to observe some honey bees from a distance.

Here the class is told to quietly enter the gate to observe the honey bees nest up close!

Caring And Sharing

It's nice to see people still care about others. These 7 and 8 year old children got lots of bags of food for the poor people. Victoria McQuade from Bethpage, Christopher Cook from Muttontown, Tommy Cahill from Syosset and Kevin Broderick from Syosset.

Bake Sale Fundraiser Successful

As the holiday seasons arrived the Dutch Lane children were anxious to participate in a fundraiser bake sale held November 20 - 22.

Coordinator, Eileen Glover, a PTA member, came up with this wonderful idea of a bake sale with the proceeds going to the East Coldenham Elementary School. This was the elementary school upstate where a tornado hit the glass windows of their cafeteria killing 9 students.

In addition, all hot dogs and pizza sold in the past week were also donated. It was wonderful to see so many contributions, not only parents baking 2 to 3 times, but also hot dogs donated by Mr. Bretton; Two Brother Pizza donated money along with teachers and parents from our school.

We have many things to be thankful for and we only hope that our donation of $575 will be able to show the parents and surviving students of East Coldenham that we are thinking of them!

Eileen Glover, coordinator of bake sale, along with Rose Fleischman, and Kim Glover finish up some sales at the end of the day.

Shaun Glover along with some buddies sit in front of the price list of baked goods.

Residents Urged To Recycle Trees

Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Angelo A. Delligatti would like to remind Town residents that once again this year discarded Christmas trees will be collected and used to prevent erosion at Tobay Beach.

"Following last year's holiday season, close to 5000 discarded Christmas trees were collected by our Recycling Bureau," said the Supervisor. "The trees were stacked along a 1200 yard stretch of sand dunes at Tobay Beach to provide a natural net to catch blowing and drifting sand. In this manner, the trees protect existing dunes and actually become the framework for the formation of new dunes."

According to the Supervisor two special collection dates have been scheduled for the curbside pick-up of Christmas trees. Households that receive Town of Oyster Bay refuse collection on Tuesdays and Fridays, should place their discarded live Christmas trees at the curb for pick-up on Friday, January 5. Households that receive Town refuse collection on Mondays and Thursdays, should place their trees at the curb for pick-up on Friday, January 12.

"We are also issuing a call for community volunteers to assist Town personnel in 'planting' the Christmas trees at Tobay Beach," added the Supervisor. "The planting project will take place on Saturday, January 20, at 10 a.m. Youth clubs, community groups, service organizations and interested individual residents are invited to participate in this worthwhile beach conservation effort." Volunteers are asked to call 921-7347, Ext. 5577.

Delegates Attend PTA Convention

'PTA Generates Power' was the theme of the 92nd annual Convention of the New York State Congress of Parents and Teachers. This year's convention, held at the Niagara Falls Convention Center from November 10-13, was chaired by President Sheila Cohen, a past District Director of Nassau County PTA. Over 1,000 delegates were in attendance. Hicksville PTA units were represented by Anne Chin (Burns), Linda Colton (Lee), Cathy Corrado (Burns), Karen Gilmor (OCR), Norma Goerke (East), Rosalene Leal (Fork), Pat Love (Woodland), Marie McEneaney (Lee), Terry Moehringer (PTA Council), Claire Peters (Woodland), Joanne Toich (Fork) and Maureen Traxler (Middle School).

Matilda Cuomo, First Lady of

New York State, was the convention's keynote speaker. She spoke of her interest in two projects - a parenting education program and a mentoring program for students. A Pre and Post-Natal Program is being established in hospitals throughout the state to provide new parents with the skills to produce healthier children and to avoid abuse and neglect. The mentoring program would provide role models for young adults. Retired teachers and PTA members are being solicited to help guide a student on a one-to-one basis. Mrs. Cuomo sees this program as a way to help children to overcome "the pervasive threat of drugs, the monumental problem of school dropouts, teenage pregnancy, and children who live in poverty."

The year was an exciting one for Hicksville as our PTA units were successful in amending Resolution 16. This resolution stated "that the New York State PTA urge school districts to do a thorough background check before employment on all school employees." It was amended to include "and employees of companies under contract with the district who come in direct contact with the district's children."

Other resolutions of this year's convention dealt with supporting legislation that would change the compulsory education attendance age to seventeen, have school districts include blood pressure measurements on school medical health forms and encouraging local PTA units to sponsor campaigns within their districts to have money allocated in school budgets for the hiring and training of school bus monitors. The New York State PTA "will continue to encourage the State Education Department to consider bus monitors an integral part of transporting children to and from school and, therefore, an 'aidable' transportation cost." A return to 9th grade algebra, 10th grade geometry and 11th grade trigonometry as opposed to the present study of sequential mathematics was referred to committee for further study.

Other guest speakers included Pat Henry, first Vice President, National PTA and Clay Roberts, a Prevention Professional from a health education consulting firm in Seattle. November 13 was a day filled with workshops, followed by the banquet closing the convention Sunday evening. The 1990 New York State Parent and Teacher Annual Convention will be held November 9-12 at Kutsher's Country Club, Monticello, New York.

Town Recycling Schedules

The Town of Oyster Bay sanitation and recycling collection schedules will be modified for the Christmas (Monday, December 25) and New Year's (Monday, January 1, 1990) holidays, according to Town Councilwoman Ann R. Ocker.

"Residents who normally receive sanitation collection on Monday will have collection on Tuesday, December 26, and January 2," Ocker stated. "Tuesday customers will have garbage collection on Wednesday, December 27, and January 3."

"For residents who have recycling pickup on Monday, there will be NO COLLECTION on December 25 and January 1," Ocker continued. "There will be a SPECIAL COLLECTION on Friday, December 29. Regular Monday recycling pickups will resume on January 8."

Ocker noted that all Town offices will be closed on the afternoons of December 22 and December 29 and all day on Monday, December 25, and January 1. All park and beach facilities will also be closed on December 25 and January 1. Sag Harbor Savings Bank Customers:

Welcome to the family.

On December 1st, Sag Harbor Savings Bank joined Apple Bank, giving its customers a wealth of new banking services and opportunities.

Walk into your new bank and take a look around. You'll be glad to see the same friendly professionals who helped make Sag Harbor Savings the bank that served the East End for more than a century and a quarter.

But it's what you don't see that makes the real difference. Apple Bank has a variety of exciting consumer and business programs, most of which are available right now—like VISA Classic and VISA Gold accounts, our complete selection of mortgage loans, numerous business programs, and membership in the Apple Bank Family Program.

So stop in and say hello. We think you'll like what you see—and what you don't.

Latin Teaching Given Award

The Classical Association of the Empire State bestowed this year's George Constantou Award to Dr. G. Robert Couillard, Assistant Superintendent for Educational Services, and Donato Guadagnoli, Supervisor of Foreign Languages, for "their successful implementation and administration of the teaching of Latin in the eight elementary schools of the Hicksville School System." Dr. Couillard and Mr. Guadagnoli received this award at the Association's annual meeting in Saratoga Springs, New York, on November 3.

The Constantou Award is given to individuals who have promoted

Latin studies in the state of New York. Hicksville was nominated after a visit by Richard Gascoyne of the Foreign Language Bureau of the State Education Department, who singled out Hicksville's Latin program in the elementary schools as "outstanding."

Details of the elementary Latin program, called the Language Transfer Program, were given by Mr. Guadagnoli at a workshop during the Association's annual meeting. The program is a Latin based language arts skills builder which enriches students' knowledge of English vocabulary and syntax and is taught in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

You can't see the fence that keeps your dog happy and safe.

The Invisible Fence.

Allows your pet to run free . . . without putting you behind bars.

Your dog can't jump over it, can't dig under it, can't escape through an open gate. Because an Invisible Fence doesn't have a gate. Or posts. Or chains. Invisible Fencing is just that—invisible. Your dog will be able to get the exercise he needs to stay strong and healthy, within the unseen boundaries you set.

Invisible Fence is a simple Pavlovian canine containment system . . . university tested . . . guaranteed to work—safely and effectively—or your money back.

The Invisible Fence . . . it'll make your day.

In Love With Jaguar? We're In Love With Jaguar Lovers Ain't Love Grand?

Why Hempstead Jaguar?

We at Hempstead Jaguar have been and always will be the quality leader in every area in which we do business. Quality leadership depends on delivering to every customer superior value, based equally on the quality of our products, the quality of our service, and the integrity of our people... That's added value!

It is, therefore, not surprising that more Jaguar drivers happen to rely on Hempstead Jaguar than any other dealer throughout the United States. In fact, we sell, lease and service more Jaguars than all our competitors combined.

This commitment to building the ultimate Jaguar dealership in the country is an integral part of our track record. A track record we aim to maintain for years to come. After all, if you're intelligent enough to recognize a great motor car, you'll obviously appreciate the need for a great dealership.

The facts speak for themselves. No other dealer has 87% of their sales coming from repeat business or customer referrals. So we don't simply claim complete customer satisfaction. We deliver it.

These advantages include one day services for minimum inconvenience. A free loaner car, so you're never left without transport. Extended service hours, including Saturday. A free car wash every time you bring your car in. Roadside assistance, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. And most important of all... That unfaltering loyalty to keeping your mind at rest and your car on the road.
