Operation Catch Law Enforcement

Grace Fippinger Gets Degree

Business leader Grace J. Fippinger, of 131 Terrace Court, Woodbury, was one of four persons receiving honorary degrees from St. Lawrence University at Commencement ceremonies on Saturday, May 12, in Canton, New York.

Others receiving honorary degrees were United States Ambassador to Canada Edward N. Ney, who was also the Commencement speaker, author and educator Germaine Bree and business leader John A. Schultz. Dr. George S. Sturtz received the Felstone Alumni Award. Fippinger, a 1948 graduate of St. Lawrence, is vice president, secretary and treasurer of the NYNEX Corporation in New York City. Active in a number of charitable and civic organizations, she has received awards for her work in a business field that has traditionally been dominated by men. Fippinger is listed in "Who's Who in America" and "Who's Who in Finance and Industry" and has been active in St. Lawrence University alumni activities.

Science Researchers Receive Awards

As a result of their participation at the Long Island Science Congress research competitions, held on April 3 and 4, Hicksville's science students earned several prestigious awards.

At the Senior Level (High School), Honorable Mentions were awarded to James Fitzsimmons for his research topic "Quasicrystals and their Lineage," and Christina Moy for "Sunscreen - The Ultimate in Skin Protection." A Merit Award was presented to Cynthia Gaylor for her investigations of "Perception in Relation to Pupil Dilation." A higher level award was presented to Tara Hooper for her research, "The Long Term Effect of Chemical Stimuli on Mealworms."

At the Junior Level, Merit Awards were presented to: Erin Bartley and April Rodriguez for their research on "Blood Pressure vs. Age," and, Thomas Doherty and Robert Rombach for their work on "The Effects of Oil Spills on Aquatic Life."

Mr. Dave Bouton advised the Senior Level students, while Mr. Hal Buck and Mrs. Litzman worked at the Junior Level. Congratulations to all for a fine job!

'Math Teacher Of Year'

Ms. Peg Costigan has been named Nassau County Middle School Mathematics Teacher of the Year by the Nassau County Mathematics Teachers Association. She was honored at a dinner at the Stewart Manor Country Club on May 10.

Ms. Costigan has long been recognized as an exceptional mathematics teacher by her colleagues, her students and their parents. With her guidance and preparation, scores of Hicksville youngsters have achieved excellent results on Regents' examinations and in various mathematics competitions.

Ms. Costigan was also honored at a recent Board of Education.

Memorial Parade Route Expanded In Hicksville

By Maureen Trauler

Step-off time remains the same, 9 a.m., for Hicksville Memorial Day Parade marchers this year, but the route has been expanded to include some of the residential areas to the east of Sears.

The William M. Gouse Jr. Post 3211 Veterans of Foreign Wars, host of the Annual Parade to be held on Monday, May 28, asks marchers to assemble in the Sears parking lot at 8 a.m. The parade will proceed east on Nevada Street to Bethpage Road, south to Woodbury Road, west to East Barclay Street, west to Broadway, south to Old Country Road, west to Jerusalem Avenue, south on Jerusalem Avenue to the Middle School, at the corner of 4th Street. Memorial services will be conducted at the monuments following the parade.

This year's guest speaker is Captain Lawrence Rivera, Headquarters First Battalion, 71st Infantry, N.Y.S. Army National Guard, and the student speaker from Hicksville High School is Terri Glynn. The opening prayer will be delivered by Rev. Domenic Ciannella, Holy Trinity Episcopal Church; Invocation by Rabbi Moshe Portnoy, Young Israel of Plainview; and the benediction by Rev. Douglas MacDonald, Parkway Community Church.

OTHER AREA PARADES AND OBSERVANCES

On Sunday, May 27, Veterans groups of Hicksville will have their annual Memorial Day service at Plainlawn Cemetery on Old Country Road. Assembly time is 8:30 a.m., kick-off time 9 a.m. All are welcome. Post members and Ladies Auxiliary members will assemble at the gravesite of Wm. M. Gouse, Jr. The Westbury Post is named in his honor. At 10 a.m. there will be a United Veterans Organization service at the Veterans monument in Eisenhower Park. At 2 p.m. there will be Memorial Day services at the L.I. National Cemetery in Pinelawn.

In Syosset, the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 6394 will host the annual parade on Monday, May 28. Marchers will form between 9 and 9:30 a.m. on Humphrey Drive at the Variety Pre-Schoolers Workshop. Step-off is at 10 a.m. and the parade will proceed east on Dawes Avenue, north on Jackson Avenue, west on Muttontown Road, south on Queens Street, east on Underhill Road to the Veterans Monuments. Ceremonies will be conducted at 12 noon.

Observances in Bethpage begin with an 8 a.m. ecumenical church service to be held this year at the Bethpage Jewish Center, Rabbi Bruce Ginsburg, presiding. All community organizations are invited to bring their colors to adorn the side walls.

The assemblage of marchers takes place at 9:30 along Central Avenue, the lower part of Broadway and the parking fields south of the railroad tracks. The parade begins at 10 a.m. sharp and proceeds north on Broadway to Benkert Street, west on Benkert to Stewart Avenue, north on Stewart to the Community Park. Memorial Services will be held at the monument at 11 a.m. The American Legion Archie McCord Post 86 will host the services and wreaths will be placed by organizations. The five school bands will play the national anthem, while soloist Jennifer Garman, a Bethpage High School senior, sings.

The parade is under the direction of the Bethpage Memorial Committee which consists of the American Legion, the VFW, the Bethpage Fire Department and their Auxiliaries. The parade committee has been chaired for nearly half a century by Charles Schwarz, a charter member of the Archie McCord American Legion Post. Mr. Schwarz has lived in Bethpage since 1909. His military career was cut short by a medical disability; he was assigned to the 87th Division of the U.S. Army. Mr. Schwarz has received many community recognitions and citations and is somewhat of a celebrity around town.

In case of inclement weather, Bethpage residents will be notified by a blast of the fire horn at 9:25 if the parade is cancelled. If it should rain, services will be held in the park rink at the appointed time.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

How can I begin to thank everyone who worked on my campaign for School Board Trustee.

So many people gave of their time for JoAnn, Jay, and myself, because we represented the fiscal responsibility, accountability, and leadership that was lacking with the current Board officers.

The Concerned Citizens of Hicksville has been strengthened by people like Joe, Richard, Lois, Ed, Bill, Monte, Lorraine, Lauri, Chet, Sue and so many others who worked all day at Garage Sales, sold chances, and walked door to door with flyers because they wanted dependable, Reliable Board Members.

The ad and flyer committee, consisting of Jay, Bob, Larry, Joe, Richard and Ed developed our train and other ad., and to them I am extremely grateful.

And to our backbone - Tom, Bill, Bob, Jim, Larry, Tony, Gail, Billy and Joe who were there, offering guidance and support.

A special thanks to Tom McGovern, our co-ordinator, who was always there - our rock, our negotiator, our strength in trying times.

It has been a difficult campaign with my opponent following me around when I was delivering flyers, with questions and questions about my motivation for running for the Board. He could not understand the meaning of the words "community involvement."

But my biggest thanks is to you. You took the time out on the 23rd to vote for me. You trusted me and believed that I could work just as hard in reducing the budget as I did in my campaign. You knew I would never lie to you.

Win or lose, thank you.

Sincerely,
Carole Wolf

To the Editor:

I have to correct the distortions that Mrs. Rudin would like us to believe in.

First, Mrs. Rudin accuses Mr. Bennett of using smoke screens. It is Mrs. Rudin herself who uses fantasy instead of fact. For example, she has advertised and offered to save taxpayers 2 million dollars. However, like a politician, she has never stated how she would save the money. It's just another empty promise.

Second, Mrs. Rudin refers to her previous term on the Board. She was a studious trustee. She forgot to mention she walked away rather than face defeat in 1986. Does this sound like a person with convictions?

Third, Mrs. Rudin says she puts children ahead of special interests. Again, a fantasy! I am very concerned that she is a puppet for various union groups and votes for their needs. Ask why she is being supported by the county civil service union? Did you know they sent letters out supporting her team. Is it because they are into bargaining sessions and need to load the Board? You know the answer!

Fourth, it is true that Mr. Bennett introduced us to Mr. MacBride. But it is also true that Mrs. Rudin supported Mr. MacBride when he made promises to her in 1987.

Did you know that Mrs. Rudin worked for and supported Mr. Collins and Mr. Martillo last year? This however, she forgot to tell you in her letter! How regrettable!

Mrs. Rudin claims that Mr. Bennett had a Board majority from 1984 to 1989. She must be kidding!!! From 1987 to 1990, the majority was not with Mr. Bennett. The problem is that she really believes that you accept what she says as the truth. We have to show her otherwise!!!

Mrs. Rudin says that she has worked on the campaigns of many people. True, but what she does not say is that they would not ask for her support any more! Why? Because they are independent and don't want to be tied to her special interests.

More importantly - how do you feel about a person who runs a friend's campaign one year, and then the following year runs against her? It shows that friendship and integrity don't matter much with her.

I don't agree with Mr. Bennett all the time - but I'll not run against anyone who is independent and hardworking.

Mrs. Rudin claims that if Mrs. Miltenberg was effective she would not be running someone against her. What makes her the judge of a Trustee's effectiveness? I thought it was all the voters who did that!!!

Turning to the Moment of Silence issue shows Mrs. Rudin's skill at turning the facts inside out. The truth is that she did not listen to the community. She wanted to eliminate what was important to the people. How different the truth really is!!!

Finally, Mrs. Rudin claims she is "probably part of a very small group of trustees that the teachers' union has not supported." That comment is ridiculous in view of the fact that the teacher aides requested support for Mrs. Rudin from their union in Nassau County. You knew that the teacher aides unit is a part of the teachers' union? Do you think the aides made the request without Mr. Zaleski's OK?

Mrs. Rudin claims she is against the union machine. What she is really against is the independent mind, the self-determined thinker and conscientious worker who does not want or need to be told how to vote the issues.

Do you really believe we are better led at this time, by an inexperienced newcomer like Mr. Pendergast, or the experienced and insightful Mrs. Miltenberg?

Do you really believe Mr. Ayres has a record of excellence? (He has not been seen at Willet Avenue activities in years!)

Library Bookmobile

An era has ended for Hicksville. Due to mechanical problems and declining patron use, the Hicksville Public Library's bookmobile has officially been taken out of service. The library, however, will continue delivery service to be homebound residents.

The bookmobile has served the Hicksville community since its original purchase in 1960. In the earlier years the bookmobile provided a valuable service for Hicksville. The "rolling library" brought library services directly to our neighborhoods during a generation when most families had only one automobile. While the elementary school libraries were somewhat inadequate and the hours of the public library children's room were limited, this service provided our youngsters, a prominent user of the bookmobile, direct access to the educational resources of a library.

Patron use of the bookmobile had gradually declined since it began service. Its highest book circulation - 73 thousand books - occurred during 1961, its first full year of service. Circulation figures over the last several years have averaged a nominal 23 thousand books. Explanations for the decline may be attributed to greater mobility among our residents, improved school libraries, the public library children's room now open during all hours of operation and the inability of the bookmobile to carry the many technological services now offered at libraries.

The aging of the vehicle has permeated many mechanical problems in recent years which forced the bookmobile out of service for extended periods of time. Several weeks ago it was determined that a damaged axle and worn brakes deemed the vehicle unsafe. The library Board of Trustees voted not to expend any additional funds. Last year's maintenance and repair costs were about ten thousand dollars. The cost of a comparable vehicle for replacement is estimated at $100,000, more than five times the bookmobile's original $19,799 purchase price.

The use of bookmobiles has declined throughout the nation. In Nassau County only four libraries - Farmingdale, Freeport, Levittown, Peninsula - still run bookmobiles.

The contents of Hicksville's bookmobile are currently being transferred to the library. Upon completion of this task a decision regarding the vehicle's disposition will be made. All clerical staff have been re-assigned to the library.

The Hicksville Public Library will continue to provide delivery service to homebound residents who live within School District No. 17. For more information regarding the homebound delivery service you may call the library at 931-1417.

Foreign Language Winners

National Latin Examination Award Winner

Latin is alive and doing well in the Hicksville Middle School. Eleven students in Mrs. Rayzak's Latin Classes have scored higher than the National average on the National Latin Exam and have won awards for their outstanding achievements. Students who received a Special Certificate and Ribbon for Outstanding Achievement are Helen Woo, Jennifer Murphy, Billy Harvey, Glen Hincley, Mary Brzozowski, and Jennifer Peters. Students who received a Special Certificate of Achievement are Chris Connolly, Meena Patil, Craig Butler, Jamie Durkin and Eric Chung. The exam was sponsored by the American Classical League.

Award-Winning French Students Honored

Dora Santoli, an eleventh-grade student, has placed third in the National French Examination sponsored by the American Association of Teachers of French, Nassau Chapter. Dora will be honored at Hofstra University on Thursday evening, May 24.

Jennifer Jerome, a tenth-grader, won first prize in the French Poetry Contest, sponsored jointly by the American Association of Teachers of French, Nassau Chapter, and Hofstra University. This first prize, which she received at a ceremony at Hofstra University on April 24, was for an original poem.

Hicksville H.S. Senior Trip

Many students from the Hicksville High School Senior Class enjoyed their trip to Washington, D.C. and to Busch Gardens, Virginia, during the last weekend in April.

The trip began on Friday with a visit to the National Zoological Park. The evening included dinner and a show (the upbeat musical production of "Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat") at the West End Dinner Theatre in Alexandria, VA.

On Saturday, the students visited Busch Gardens, The Old Country, where recreated villages from England, France, Germany and Italy offer entertainment, shopping, rides, food and fun. Especially popular was the Roman Rapids water ride, and the highflying Loch Ness Monster and Big Bad Wolf Roller Coasters.

On Sunday, the students enjoyed a visit to the U.S. Capitol with special stops at the Lincoln and the Vietnam Memorials. The group then headed for Baltimore's Inner Harbor and a visit to the National Aquarium before heading home to Hicksville.

Right Around Home

By Maureen Traxler

By Maureen Traxler

As we enter Memorial Day Weekend 1990, we realize that the meaning of this weekend is two-fold. It is, of course, the official start of the summer season. But more importantly, it is a time when men, women and children, young and old, in communities across the nation, pause to reflect on our country's military endeavors and honor those servicemen and women who gave their last full measure of devotion in the pursuit of freedom.

This meaning is even more poignant for us, here in the United States, in light of the overwhelming advances toward personal and national freedom begun throughout the world since Memorial Day 1989.

Over the years, the Hicksville community has consolidated its war memorials at the site on the middle school grounds. The huge rock, a glacial remnant, which bears the names of Hicksville's World War I deceased was moved to the site from its original location near the Memorial fountain. Monuments also honor the community's heroes from World War II, the Korean War and the Southeast Asian Conflict.

This year, at ceremonies following the Memorial Day Parade on Monday, May 28, something special will happen.

A plaque, proclaiming the site as the Hicksville Veterans Memorial Park, will be presented. The plaque has been purchased through the Hicksville Monument Fund, financed by local organizations and citizens. School district personnel will permanently affix the plaque for posterity.

It is fitting that the Veterans Memorial Park be located here in the shadow of the middle school clock tower. In the mid 1920's the Hicksville Choral Society under the leadership of Mrs. Elwood Curtis raised the funds needed to erect the tower in memory of Hicksville's residents who died in World War I.

Parade Chairman Connie Steers notes that poppies will again be available from veterans who will be working the parade sidelines. Along with the poppy sales, parade watchers will be entertained along the route by clowns known as the Mirthful Messengers from the United Methodist Church of Merrick. The 71st Infantry will also provide souvenirs.

Hicksville's fifth Poppy Queen, Alyssa Provenzano, will be riding in an open car. Alyssa, who lives on Bamboo Lane, is the daughter of Mark and Christine Provenzano and the granddaughter of V.F.W. and Auxiliary members Ed and Joan Chwalisz.

In the Hicksville Public Library lobby showcase is a fine display of photos of our community's heroes, stories about them, and poems dedicated to them, along with other Memorial Day memorabilia.

So on this Memorial Day, 1990, in addition to making ready the barbeque, take some time to visit the library display and come to Monday's parade to share in the memories and delight in our freedoms.

Kudos to Holy Family School on achieving the designation "School of Excellence" from the United States Department of Education. The 575 students, their staff, administration and parents groups passed the Federal representatives tough scrutiny, along with only five other non-public elementary schools in New York State.

Two other Hicksville schools have received such an honor from the U.S. Education Department. They are Our Lady of Mercy Elementary School and Holy Trinity High School.

Holy Family educates students from pre-school through 8th grade. The entire parish joins in congratulations to Principal Sister Eileen and Pastor Father Peter Duvelsdorf.

Students Work At State Exhibit

Young artist Sofia Gasparatos, a third grade student at the Woodland Avenue School, will have her paperweaving and collage "Dots and Stripes" on display in the Terrace Gallery of the New York State Museum from May 26 through July 5.

Sofia's artwork was one of the 249 pieces chosen from nearly 2,000 entries received by the "Imagination Images VIII," a statewide juried student art exhibition which is run in conjunction with Imagination Celebration, a national festival program of the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts and the New York State Department of Education.

Mrs. Loshigan, one of the Woodland Avenue Art Teachers, selected six pieces of work from the many beautiful pieces done by students to send to Albany last February.

Congratulations Sofia!

Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison, formerly of Hicksville, and now residing in Goldsboro, N.C., came up for a family reunion over the Mother's Day weekend. They are very happy and contented in their new home.

We are happy to report that our dear friend Sarah Huentter is much improved over her recent illness.

In Service

Navy Petty Officer 1st Class Terry A. Gleichsner, whose wife, Cynthia, is the daughter of Edwin and Eleanor Staub of 23 Williams St., Bethpage, recently returned to Newport, R.I., from deployment to the Persian Gulf while serving aboard the guided missile frigate USS Simpson.

During the six-month deployment, Gleichsner participated in the rescue of 23 crew members of the U.S. Flagged Kuwaiti Tanker Surf City. During operations in the Persian Gulf, an internal explosion set the vessel ablaze. The USS Simpson immediately launched a search effort for survivors and successfully recovered the men and rendered immediate medical attention.

Pride In Mom Essay

Hicksville resident Lauren Clark, 12, from Trinity Lutheran School, receives a $25 gift certificate from Roosevelt Field Marketing Director Julianne Turak for being the sixth grade runner-up in the shopping center's recent Mother's Day essay contest. The contest, which generated more than 5,000 entries from school children throughout Nassau County, carried the theme, "I am proud of my Mom because..."

With 155 specialty stores, Roosevelt Field is located in Garden City off the Meadowbrook Parkway.

Kindergarten Poetry Reading

Mrs. Casella's kindergarten classes proudly presented a poetry reading of "Chicken Soup With Rice" by Maurice Sendak. The children truly enjoyed learning and singing the perky poetry and decided to perform it for the first grade classes at Central Boulevard Elementary School. The performances were followed by some well deserved chicken soup a la Campbells.

Young Authors

Charles Campagne School second graders Jennifer Brooks, Jason Klein, and Danny Rothberg recently received certificates of award from Nassau Reading Council for outstanding work in the Young Authors' Contest. The students wrote and illustrated stories as part of a writing workshop project in Mrs. Alban's second grade classroom. Children wrote on a broad range of personal topics.

In Service

Navy Petty Officer 3rd Class Peter E. Marchione, son of Peter E. Marchione of 73 East St., Hicksville, recently reported for duty aboard the aircraft carrier

USS America, homeported in Norfolk, Va.

A 1986 graduate of Longwood High School, Middle Island, he joined the Navy in May 1986.

'Too Smart For Strangers'

The Burns Avenue Kindergarten class and Mrs. Rosof's Special Education class presented a brief play entitled "Too Smart For Strangers," on May 9. The purpose is to help children educate themselves in a fun way to the dangers and abuse of strangers. The children's play included the messages "Say No!", "Run Away", and "Tell Someone".

'Best In Show'

Congratulations to Hicksville Middle School student Neha Patel. Neha won "Best In Show" at the Town of Oyster Bay annual Art Show at the Hicksville Library.

Salute To Storytelling

Once upon a recent Saturday afternoon, enthusiastic young storytellers, their happy parents, teachers, friends and dedicated judges gathered at the Bethpage Public Library for the Gala Finals and Awards Ceremony of the Nassau County Storytelling Contest. On this festive occasion, ten young people, winners in their own schools, told stories before a panel of judges who selected two all-district winners, proudly holding their gilded trophies. The two winners are fifth grader Tiana Checchia from St. Martin of Tours School (front row, left) and fourth grader Rebecca Walsh from Our Lady of Mercy School.

At the Bethpage Public Library Vice President Lawrence J. Roemer of the Plainview Branch of Citibank also graciously presented $50 United States EE Savings Bonds to each of the ten school winners. The eight school winners not pictured here are: fourth graders John Bono (St. Martin's School), Michelle Sanna (Charles Campagne School), Hye Jin Tak (Kramer Lane School), Jennifer Watson (Central Blvd School); and fifth graders Jennifer McClosky (Our Lady of Mercy School), Erica Neyland (Kramer Lane School), Kimberli Sollenberger (Central Blvd School), John Vicchiarelli (Charles Campagne School).

Bethpage District fourth and fifth grade participants each learned a fairy or folk tale by heart, attended coaching workshops at the Bethpage Public Library, and told their stories in the school contests. All young storytellers on the school level received certificates of participation and a coupon for a full meal, courtesy of McDonald's, 805 South Broadway, in Hicksville.

Families, teachers, and friends of the young storytellers turned out for the gala finals in force. Refreshments were served and a good time was had by all.

For information, please call 931-3907.

Students Learn Water Conserv.

Do you know how much water you use to flush the toilet? Mrs. Terri Donahue, from the "4-H Water Conservation Learning Center," came to Fork Lane to give children some tips on how to save water. She had a model of wastewater treatment plant. She also had a scale model of an underground aquifer and showed how the condensation process operates. Then she gave us tips on how to use water properly. For example, "Every time you flush the toilet you use approximately 6 gallons of water." She gave us a phone number to call for a free conservation kit for the toilet. I think I learned a lot about how to use water conservatively and wisely.

Savings Bond Kickoff

Nassau County Executive Thomas S. Gulotta, left, greeted Virginia Carr, a Hicksville resident, who is the Civil Service Commission Department Coordinator for the 1990 Nassau County Employees United States Savings Bond Drive at a recently held kick-off meeting.

Membership Night At Lamb K Of C

Thursday evening, May 17, was "Membership Nite" at the Joseph F. Lamb Council No. 5723 Knights of Columbus, Plainview, as the Joe Lamb Council held an "open" meeting to explain the principles of the Knights of Columbus to the many on hand.

This meeting is part of the ongoing drive to obtain new members for the Council. A large group, composed of many interested in joining the Knights of Columbus, as well as members of the Lamb Council, enjoyed an evening which featured a Special Knights of Columbus film which explained the origin and the aims of the order. Later in the evening, talks were given by Lamb Grand Knight Josef Ort and also by invited guests - Jim Carroll, who is N.Y. State Administrative Chairman of Membership; and by Steve McKenna, the N.Y. State Auxl-Chairman C & B Committee.

Also appearing at this meeting, were the two winners from Our Lady of Mercy Parish who were First Place winners in the 16th District K. of C. "Free Throw Basketball Competition" (for the youth). The 12-year-old winner in the boys competition was Joseph Faccio. The winner in the 13-year competition for girls was Jennifer Raber. Both winners were presented with medals and certificates by G.K. Joseph Ort. Both of these winners represented the Lamb Council in the District Competition and are to be commended for their talents.

Coffee and cake were served and the many on hand enjoyed an interesting, informative evening.

NOTE: Any Catholic Gentleman interested in joining the Joseph Lamb Council K. of C. is urged to contact Membership Director P.G.K., P.F.N., F.D.D. Peter Volpe at 935-3116. Our meeting place is in the school basement of Our Lady of Mercy in Hicksville. We meet the 1st and 3rd Thursdays of each month at 8:30 p.m.

On a sad note: Kenneth Balling, a longtime member of the Lamb Council, passed away on May 5. Ken was very active with the youth in athletics and will be sorely missed. We, the members of the Joe Lamb Council, will all miss Ken and we extend our sympathy to his wife and family. "May he rest in peace."

College Notes

Adam W. Specht of Bethpage is a recipient of the James Wilmoth Award for Excellence in Biology from the State University of New York at Binghamton.

The James Wilmoth Award for Excellence in Biology is one of a number of Foundation Awards to be presented to outstanding students at a luncheon in their honor on the Binghamton campus on Saturday, May 26.

Adam, a graduate of Hebrew Academy of Nassau County, is the son of Edward and Marcia Specht of Bethpage.

The Vet

By Howard W. Darling

When the call to arms went out,
To all the boys around;
They did not shirk or even pout,
They knew their country wasn't sound.
To all the boys this life was new,
'Twas their first time ever,
That they were marked amongst the few,
Who might return or never.
The boys were scattered far and wide,
Wherever they were needed;
And here they fought and here they died,
Until the tides of war receded.
To those who died that we might live,
We always will remember;
They gave us all there was to give
Their lives they did surrender.
Some boys came back, but pretty bad,
Their cherished dreams are o'er;
Without an arm or leg it's sad,
To start where he left off before.
The dead and wounded we can't forget,
But how about the other guy,
He too was what we called a vet,
Even though he didn't die.
The people shouted "Hail the Vet",
When danger seemed close by,
But when its over they soon forget
That he too, might have died.
It isn't what you didn't do,
That causes this reaction,
It's just that now they don't need you,
To bring them peace and satisfaction
Even though people seem to despise you,
Your own will never forget,
'Cause they still love the things you do,
To them you're still a VET.

Environment Review On May 29

A meeting of the Town of Oyster Bay Environmental Quality Review Commission (TEQR) has been scheduled for 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday, May 29, in the Environmental Control Division Conference Room, 150 Miller Place, Syosset.

Established in 1977, the TEQR Commission is authorized to study, analyze, investigate and report on all environmental impacts of applications submitted to, or actions contemplated by, the Town Board or other Town agencies.

Baseball Highlights
K-2 Cardinals 35 Eagles 15
 The hitting stars for the Cardinals who went 5 for 5 were, Danny Rogers, Brian Hebron and Tommy Riccio. Brian Quinn collected 3 hits and Matt Thomas added a clutch hit. For the Eagles, Sean Gleason and David Gleason made 3 hits each.

3rd Grade League
Yankees 11 Red Sox 1
 Two hits each for the Yankees were Danny Ciaccio, Michael Green and Sean Cain.

Yankees 11 Red Sox 7
 Grand Slam Homeruns for the Yankees were Bobby Schmidt and Jerrod Stanton. Great pitching by David Barnard.

5/12 Mets 15 Yankees 1
 A grand slam homerun by Joe Panarelli for the Mets. Good hitting and outstanding pitching by Matt Connolly. A spectacular outfield catch by Kris Binick. All round playing by Jimmy Madden, Ryan O'Toole and Paolo Fumagalli.

5/19 Mets 15 Dodgers 8
 With 3 hits each for the Mets, Paolo Fumagalli and Craig Brink. Vinny Carranza continued his outstanding catching. And good all round playing by Jesse Lancaster and Joe Gandolfi. For the Dodgers, Omar Agha went 4 for 5, Danny Dunleavy 3 for 3 and Joey Basso 3 for 5.

6th & 7th Grade League
Indians 4 A's 3
 The Indians defeated the A's in a game that was either tied or one run apart for seven full innings.

With defensive plays from Mike Del Bagno who played a very heads up catching position by calling an appeal play at the plate costing the A's a run to Jim Walker and Kevin Sullivan turning over a double play scoring a couple of runs from scoring and by Chris Fedorcuk and Joe McHugh who played 3rd and 1st making sure nothing got by them.

Chris Matiuk, Steven Sattler and Anthony Anzalone made sure the outfield was well protected. With hits from Sean Dorney, Jim Walker and Chris Fedorcuk, who went 2 for 3 and the tie breaking game winning run hit in by Tony Charalambous. The Indians were able to defeat a terrific team like the A's.

Pirate Update
 The Pirates kept their undefeated streak alive by beating the A's on and the Braves on Saturday. Pitching by, Mike Foran, Jeff Reinhardt, Brian Patwell, Steve Locke, and Paul Mackin have pitched well this week. Leading in hitting for the week, Paul Mackin, Mike Foran, Matt Patwell, Steve Locke, and Mike Silvestro. Great defensive plays by Paul Gomez, Craig Mueller, Brian Patwell, Jeff Reinhardt, John Luyster and Nick Hart kept us in every game.

Travel Team News

Great defensive plays by short stop's Craig Finn and Robert Bungert to 3rd base, Tommy Geramita and kept the plays from advancing. A put-out at home by Andy Fumagalli. A prestige Mike Gandolfi and Keith Mason at home and baserunning helped turn the game around to win. A triple for Robert Haddad and a double by Craig Finn also helped bring St. Ignatius to an 8-7 victory.

7th Grade
 The thrilling 7-6 victory which cost Mr. Andy Murray three more hairs on the top of his head. St. Ignatius defeated St. Williams of Seaford. Excellent outfield play by, Rod Carolan and John Haley preserved the victory. An excellent 13 strikeout performance by Chris Kelly and some "Dave Righetti" type relief from Joe Croce with additional backup by Danny Meegan. The 7th grade travel team continued their winning way.

8th Grade
 On Saturday, May 19, St. Ignatius 8th grade travel team earned their 1st victory of the year in a thrilling 3-1 win over St. Aloysius of Great Neck. Leading the way in this triumph was Bill Harvey and Steve Talento. Bryan Higgins scored twice and Shennen Maceo registered all the runs in this necessary victory. Glen Turano and Dennis Kelly were flawless in the field. On Sunday, May 20, despite 3 RBIs by Scott Galdo and a valiant pitching effort by Mark Micalizzi, we lost a tough 5-4 cliffhanger to St. Joseph's of Kings Park in the bottom of the 7th. Jason Andrews made many sparkling defensive plays. The entire team is showing improvement and we look for better days ahead.

9th & 10th Grade Tyro Team
 St. Ignatius travel team continued its unblemished record by defeating St. Frances 10-6 on Sunday May 20. With a great 10 strikeout, 5 inning pitching performance and giving up 1 run by Adam Grecco, Dennis Cantalupo ignited the winning rally by stroking a long homerun.

Hicksville Wins 2-0 Over Island Trees

By A. Blücker
 The Hicksville Minutemen, my 1977 B Travelling soccer team, brought their L.I. Junior Soccer League record to 3 wins, 2 losses, 2 ties, good enough for 2nd place in their division, via a 2-0 whitewashing of the Island Trees Kickers at the latter's field on Sunday, May 20. The team was led by the sensational play of Jorge daSilva and Andres Turcios. daSilva scored two first half goals and then shut down the opposition, from the goalie position, in the second half. Turcios, at left fullback, was a defensive dynamo, including one unbelievable save, when daSilva got trapped out of goal.

The Minutemen opened up strong, with constant offensive pressure, which paid off following a Tracy Koetter save, as her punt was picked up by Tim Dalton, at center half, and led to Mike Whitman, at striker, who fed daSilva at right wing, converting pass for the first tally. After some great end to end soccer, on the part of both teams, Danny dePinho led a charge down left wing, hitting daSilva with a perfect cross from 30 yards out, which he put in for his second goal. The Minutemen carried the lead into halftime and the Kickers came out flying for the second half, throwing everything they could at Hicksville's defense, but it would not bend. As the pace slowed down, the Minutemen offense went back on attack but couldn't convert. The game's final 10 minutes saw Island Trees give it their all, but were not able to score today.

Besides the aforementioned, the balance of the Minutemen were: Kenny D'Introno, who had a very effective game at right fullback; Greg Walunas, who had a great game at sweeper; Bobby Braun, who played fine two way soccer at stopper; Jason Brown, who never stopped pushing the ball forward at right half, Declan Healy, who gave it his all from center half and right wing; Brian Rigert, who had a strong game at left half; Bobby Wagner, who contributed from left wing; and Tracy Koetter, who had a fine first half in goal and then played an aggressive right wing in the second half.

Congratulations to the team, as well as my Asst. Coach Pete Whitman, for the win. Thanks, as always, to our sponsor, Seaman & Eisemann, for their support.

Kennedy Jr. H.S. Library Week

During the week of April 22-27, the students at John F. Kennedy Junior High School celebrated National Library and Reading Week. The program was coordinated by the reading specialists: Mrs. Azoff, Ms. McGuire and Mr. Pryluck. The students compared the film and book versions of "The Time Machine" by H.G. Wells. They decorated the building with posters based on the theme "Reach For A Star-Read." The whole school participated in a book-riddle contest guessing the titles of books based on riddles written by Mr. Pryluck. A great time was had by all.

Third Grade Nutritious Lunch

The Lee Avenue PTA and School Nurse Margaret Dalo sponsored a Nutritious Luncheon Program for the third grade class recently. Ms. Dalo spoke to the third grade classes in the morning; the PTA then served a well-balanced and delicious lunch for the children. Children were encouraged to try each of the food samples: egg salad, tuna fish, or peanut butter on whole wheat bread; carrots and celery strips, plain, or with peanut butter or cream cheese; a variety of bite size cheeses; orange and apple slices; raisins; homemade banana bread and oatmeal raisin cookies; and milk or orange juice.

Cabaret Night By Music Dept.

Open House At Nursery School

The Hicksville Nursery School is holding an Open House for fall registration on Wednesday, June 13, from 10 - 11:30 a.m. for parents of 2, 2½, 3 and 4 year olds in the school classrooms at W. Cherry Street and Nelson Avenue.

The Hicksville Nursery School is a non-profit, non-sectarian cooperative located in the back of the United Methodist Church. Founded in 1967, it has offered twenty one years of quality education to hundreds of pre-school children as well as serving as field training center for students from SUNY Farmingdale, Nassau Community College and Adelphi University.

The school seeks to offer the young child an environment in which he can grow emotionally, socially, intellectually and physically under the careful supervision of a fully trained staff. The program provides varied activities with an abundance of materials and opportunities for free creative expression under the guidance of skilled, N.Y. State Early Childhood certified teachers. Art, media, woodworking, music and rhythmic movement, language arts, storytelling, dramatics, puzzles, doll corner, books and manipulative toys are all part of the daily program. A huge indoor playground permits daily large muscle activity even in the worst weather. A mid-session snack of milk or juice and crackers or fruits and vegetables is provided. Field trips are included to broaden the child's understanding of the world he lives in.

All parents who wish to, can share in the administration of the school. Monthly business meetings give parents the opportunity to make decisions on administrative needs. There are lectures, films, and "rap groups" to help parents learn more about parenting. Fundraising projects are most often social events helping young families meet other adults who are at the same stage in life.

We invite all parents of pre-school children to join us for a chance to play and learn together in our spacious well-equipped rooms. For further information, call 931-3415 or 681-8246.

Hicksville Eagle 25th Anniversary

By Richard Evers

Hicksville enjoyed another historical anniversary this past Tuesday morning, the 25th Anniversary of the placing of a Roman Eagle Statue saved from the demolition of the great N.Y.C. Pennsylvania Railroad Station, on in 1965.

The vision and enterprise of classicist and Latin teacher, Samuel Goldberg, and his 1965 Hicksville High School Latin Club were recalled and honored by a formal salute and program hosted by the Long Island Railroad Historical Society, with the cooperation of the Hicksville Public Schools, the Gregory Museum Historian, and the resources of the Public Library's Local History Collection.

The program was well-attended for a weekday morning occasion and carried off with the enthusiasm and flair Hicksville usually generates for its public fetes and historical commemoration. There was a posting of the colors by the Color Guard of the Masonic War Veterans, a fine invocation by Hicksville's senior clergyman, the Reverend Douglas MacDonald, pastor of Parkway Community Church.

The program which followed had everything, with the enhancement of a warm spring day; Doc Rock and the Transports, and a lovely vocalist with a pre-ceremony rock concert and traditional railroad tunes during the program; youngsters from today's High School Latin Club and their teacher, Dr. Kumpikas doing some Latin versifying; the district's top scholars of the Baccalaureate Program speaking of the Eagle Monument's meaning to them; an account of the railroad's early history in Hicksville by Vincent Seyfried, and foremost L.I. Railroad historian; a tribute of appreciation by Oyster Bay Town Supervisor Angelo Delligatti; a reminiscence of his one-time colleague by Richard Hogan, Principal of the Hicksville High School; a message from the Samuel Goldberg family by Dr. Rochelle Ruthchild, his daughter, speaking on behalf of her mother who was present as an honored guest.

Mark Horowitz of the 1965 Latin Club members was present to praise his mentor as an inspired, cultured teacher whose inspiration sparked the effort to obtain the Roman Eagle, to have it transported and set at Railroad Plaza with a colorful program by Hicksville students. Nassau County Thomas Gulotta was unable to attend, but a representative presented Mrs. Samuel Goldberg with an inscribed proclamation saluting the 1965 preservation effort, on behalf of the citizens of Nassau County. David Morrison of the L.I. Railroad Historical Society, a R.R. District Manager, organized the commemoration and regaled the audience with anecdotes of his research into the history of the Pennsylvania Station Eagles. Closing the program was Richard Evers, Historian for the Gregory Museum, who philosophized briefly about the Eagle's significance to Hicksville, giving Railroad President Charles W. Hoppe time enough to catch the next westbound train to Brooklyn.

Getting the show on the road. Program M.C. David Morrison for the L.I. Railroad Society at the rostrum, Doc Rock and his Transports on stage and the striking Roman Eagle Sculpture, focal point for Hicksville's latest community celebration.

Part of a larger audience of Hicksvillites enjoying ceremonies marking the 25th Anniversary of the erection of the one-time Pennsylvania R.R. Station Roman Eagle Statue at Railroad Plaza in 1965, through the efforts of the Hicksville H.S. Latin Club and its teacher, Samuel Goldberg.

Perched magnificently for a quarter century at Railroad Plaza, Hicksville is this Milford, Conn. pink granite Roman Eagle. One of 14 noble Roman monuments which once adorned N.Y. City's great Pennsylvania R.R. Station.

Last minute details: Dick Evers, right, briefs L.I. Railroad District Manager-Program Chairman, David Morrison, as to dignitaries and political leaders present for the well-attended Roman Eagle Monument 25th Anniversary program.

LIRR Rededicates Hicksville Eagle

A quarter century ago, the Eagle landed in Hicksville. The Roman Imperial Eagle, an imposing statue carved in pink granite, once graced the facade of the old Penn Station, but for the past quarter century, it has stood guard at the Hicksville railroad station. Today, a ceremony sponsored by the Long Island Railroad Historical Society was held to mark the 25th anniversary of the Eagle's arrival at its second home. LIRR President Charles Hoppe was among the featured speakers. Other participants included LIRR historian Vincent Seyfried, Hicksville historian Richard Evers and members of Hicksville High School's Latin Class of 1965, who were instrumental in bringing the Eagle to Hicksville.

"Today we commemorate our past, while we work to refine our vision of transportation's future," said LIRR President Charles Hoppe. "The Eagle's arrival in Hicksville coincided with the completion of the railroad's elevation here, a milestone event. It is especially fitting that this ceremony falls within National Transportation Week."

The statue was one of 22 eagles that decorated Penn Station from 1910 to the mid-1960's, when the terminal was torn down. Hicksville's 5,700 pound eagle was one of 14 larger eagles - eight smaller ones were made of Knoxville Marble. Eighteen of the birds have been preserved. Two of the larger eagles now stand outside Madison Square Garden, two are located at the Merchant Marine Academy in Kings Point, Long Island and others are scattered up and down the east coast. The farthest migration was made by two of the smaller birds to Kansas City Missouri, where they adorn the entrance of the Boys Scouts of America headquarters.

Hicksville's eagle was brought to the community through the intervention of the late Samuel Goldberg, then-chairman of the Foreign Language Department at Hicksville High School. It was Goldberg's hope that the eagle, a symbol of ancient Rome, would inspire young residents to learn Latin. At the dedication ceremony 25 years ago, his students wore togas and sang in Latin.

The message on the base of the statue is inscribed in Latin and English and reads: "A Roman Eagle once urban, is now in Hicksville quite suburban. Dedicated by the Route of the Dashing Commuter and the Hicksville Latin Club. The Ides of May 1965. Heed the past in planning the future."

This plaque, placed on the Eagle's pedestal a quarter century ago by Hicksville High School's Latin students, bears the inscription "Heed the past in planning the future."

Town Grants Exxon Permit

Twenty-six restrictive covenants have been placed by the Oyster Bay Town Board on a special use permit granted to Exxon for the construction of a gasoline station and convenience store in Hicksville, according to Town Councilwoman Ann R. Ocker.

"The applicant, Exxon Corp., was seeking a special use permit to demolish an existing gasoline station and erect a new self-service station and convenience store in a 'G' business district located on the northeast corner of Broadway and James Street in Hicksville," Ocker stated. "Pursuant to a public hearing held on Nov. 14, 1989, the special use permit has been granted subject to twenty-six restrictive covenants."

The Board stipulated that the premises may be used only as a gasoline service station. No auto body repair work is permitted on the property, and the sale and storage of vehicles is prohibited. No repairs will be permitted outdoors.

With regard to the convenience store, the Board conventioned that all products must be pre-packaged and that no food preparation will be allowed on the premises, except for brewed products such as coffee and tea. The sale of alcoholic beverages is also prohibited. The Board further stipulated that there will be no pinball games or other types of amusement and that no vending machines will be allowed.

The Board addressed the upkeep of the property by conventioning that the entire area must be effectively policed to eliminate paper, trash, oil cans, grease spots and the like so as to present an overall neat appearance. The exterior of all structures, the landscaping and the parking areas must be continually maintained. There will be no outside storage of supplies and equipment, and all garbage must be kept in closed containers.

On the subjects of signs and lighting, the Board stipulated that all signs must conform to existing sign ordinances. The proposed canopy cannot have any lighting on the fascia, and any and all other lighting must be directed so as not to spill over onto adjacent properties. The Board further conventioned that any external audio communication system and/or bell hoses must not be audible at any point greater than twenty-five feet from the exterior location of the system.

Ocker noted that no building permit or certificate of occupancy will be issued until a site plan has been submitted to, and approved by, the Town Board. The plan must be to scale and show all access and egress, the height and other dimensions of the proposed building, the dimensions and color of the proposed canopy, the location and size of all signs and light poles, the size and type of fencing and dumpsters, the size, type and location of all landscaping including trees and flower boxes, the location of the groundwater monitoring well, the size and location of underground tanks, the location of pump islands, the location of parking and paved areas, and any other information deemed pertinent by the Dept. of Planning and Development.

Reading Program At Bethpage Schools

The children in the three elementary schools in the Bethpage School District - Central Boulevard, Charles Campagne and Kramer Lane - participated in the national reading program called Book-It! Book-It! requires that each child read a specified number of books each month over a period of five months. The results has been that these children read more than 13,521 books.

Book-It! is an educational program supported by Pizza Hut.

The culminating activity for the classes where all of the children have reached their reading goals is for the class to have a pizza party, with the food supplied by Pizza Hut. This year, Faith Peragianis, the manager of Pizza Hut in Levittown was gracious enough to invite classes to come to the restaurant, and the children were taught how to make their own pizzas.

Book-It! has been a tremendously motivating experience for our students!

Fossil Display At Gregory Museum

The Gregory Museum announces the acquisition of a very fine 12 inch fossil Trilobite which is now on display at the Museum. The generous donation was made by a longtime friend of the Museum.

Coming attractions at the Museum include a workshop, "About Seeds," on June 9, by the nature specialist, Rose Davis. Many seeds survive seasonal changes to make our world alive with trees, and grasses and flowers. Take a close look at seeds from the smallest to the largest, examine their neat packages and find out how they travel from place to place. Make a bird feeder. Ages 4-6, 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.; ages 7-9, 3 to 4 p.m. Members $6, non-members $8. Registration is now being accepted. Call The Gregory Museum at 822-7505. Early registration is suggested.

Memorial Parade New Route

Attention Hicksville residents. The Memorial Day Parade route has been changed. It will start at the Sears parking lot at 9 a.m. then go east on Nevada St. to south on Bethpage Rd. to Woodbury Rd., then west on Woodbury Rd. onto E. Barclay St. to Broadway (Rte. 107) south on Broadway to Old Country Rd. then west on Old Country to Jerusalem Ave. then south on Jerusalem Ave. to the Hicksville Middle School (4th Ave.) end of parade.

Hicksville Aux. Police Report

For the month of April, 15 members of the Hicksville Auxiliary Police Unit 312 volunteered a total of 382.28 patrol hours. This included the following incidents:

April 6 - two officers received a criminal mischief report at the North parking lot at the Hicksville L.I.R.R. station. The owner of a 1989 Pontiac Grand Am reported front driver and passenger side window broken and a dent on the passenger door. A NCPD officer filed a report. Also, on April 6, while on patrol 3 officers observed hazard lights blinking on a parked truck at Chroma Paint on Rt. 107, Hicksville. Further investigation by the officers revealed a homeless man stuck inside the driver compartment between the seat and dashboard. The subject was unable to remove himself due to a previous injury. Subsequently the Second Precinct was notified and the subject was removed.

On April 13 an officer was informed by witnesses that a large dog had been struck by 2 autos at the intersection of Newbridge Road and Rt. 107, Hicksville. The officers found a dog with massive internal injuries and close to death. Two patrol cars diverted traffic and the Second Precinct was notified.

On April 29, Unit 312, along with other Nassau County units assisted the NCPD with traffic control at the L.I. Walkathon. Nine Auxiliary officers from Unit 312 maintained various traffic posts along the route for 5 hours.

THE QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Why does it appear that racism is now on the rise?

L.I. Will Suffer From Defense Cutback

Many callers to Input take a dim view of the economy of Long Island as defense spending dwindles in the U.S. in answer to this question: "With less demand for military equipment will L. I. Economy go into a slump? Here are some of the answers:

NO DEPRESSION

There will not be a depression on Long Island but there will be a downturn and less employment as defense contracts are cut. And while Grumman appears to be the only major defense industry located on Long Island the fact is that there are over one hundred small suppliers to Grumman who will be cut back in proportion to what is happening at Grumman. So while you can measure how many contracts are lost at Grumman in reality it will be much worse. The economy on Long Island luckily is not totally defense because a great many people work in the city in the financial and service sections. Although financial has been down somewhat it will undoubtedly rise and may even help take up the slack created by defense cut backs. J.H.

NO SEVERE RECESSION

Although Long Island economy is propelled by defense industries it will not face a severe recession if defense spending is cut back. For one thing, so many people who are now on L.I. are close to retirement age that a downturn at Grumman will only produce more retired people. They will either stay here on pensions or sell their houses to people who have employment in other than defense industries. The signs are not bright economically for L.I. but we will adjust more rapidly than might be expected. N.F.

IN A SLUMP

Yes we are in for a slump. On L.I. Real Estate is down, defense employment will fall and there will be unemployment in a far greater number than in the past decade. We will make up some with service industries and because we are situated near N.Y.C. we will be able to attract some different types of industries but the fact is that we have had very poor or no planning. For years we have been pushing defense industries even though we knew it could not be forever. For years our politicians have been stumping for more defense contracts even when the Navy did not really want what we were trying to sell them. We should have been trying to find diversified employers for Long Island. We should not also have allowed the land to be overbuilt and filled with offices for no one to use. We will survive but with planning it could have been easier. M.G.

COMING FOR YEARS

The loss or potential loss of defense contracts on Long Island is more a phantom than real. For years Grumman has been doing less work and employing less people. In this respect there has already been some adjustment. In addition, Grumman still has contracts to fulfill and I believe we will keep a big defense program going long after the Russians are not a threat. The reason is that through history as one enemy declines another rises to take its place. I don't think the threat of war will end with the USSR and I don't think our military spending will end either. F.V.

DON'T NEED WAR

Almost everyone has already discounted the defense industry on Long Island and having worked in it for 40 years I am not sorry to see it go. Our workers are aging, our plans are not unique anymore and I will welcome settling down in retirement with a safer world because the threat of war will diminish. I'd rather get along on less in a world without war. B.F.

PESSIMISM FOR YEARS

There has been pessimism for years about the economy of Long Island. But as each recession set in through the country in the past 20 years, Long Island always came through very well. I think we will get along with less defense. L.T.

ALREADY DISCOUNTED

I believe that the military equipment manufacturers by this time must have already discounted the economic effect of cutbacks in demand for military equipment. Grumann for example, has been deeply involved in programs which have been the subject of concern as to reductions for some time, certainly far enough back to have become a factor in future business forecasts as well as adjustments in personnel. Specific programs have been the subject of much discussion here and in Washington and the Long Island suppliers of military equipment have obviously been in close contact with their government counterparts as reduction discussions have been initiated and have materialized. I also noticed a recent article in the New York Times stating that the Chinese had pulled out a half billion dollar deal under which the U.S. agreed to help modernize 55 F-8 fighter planes and Grumman had fully expected to provide a substantial portion of the electronics and radar involved. It is interesting to note that the day the news was released, Grumman shares increased on the N.Y. Stock Exchange. Actually, my own feeling is that by now the effect of lessened demand has already taken its toll in employee cutbacks as well as other economic factors. P.G.S.

First Prom

By Jean Star

Before our very eyes came the sixteenth birthday, when she revealed to us fifty "close" friends, none of whom she could omit from her guest list. Nothing would do but a catered party at a special place with music, dancing and a D.J. of her choice, mountains of artistically arranged food and all soda one could drink. Her Daddy added strobe lights and mist. I thought bubbles would also suit the occasion. The little girl looked resplendent and very grown up in her black velvet dress with huge puffed sleeves of hot pink taffeta that set off her thick, dark, short, business cut hairdo.

When she was a newborn baby, we tried as hard as we could, to imagine what she would look like all grown up. We knew there would be occasions such as the one just mentioned, yet we had no idea then, how they would be celebrated and the intensity of emotion that would go into the planning.

The little girl was a cautious baby, always looking before she stepped out. A little older, she became a serious student. Through lots of effort she has done very well scholastically, winning various awards and the favor of many teachers. We nicknamed her "The Doctor." Now six months after sweet sixteen, the little girl announced she needed a prom dress. "Why?" came the stupid question. "I've been invited to the prom!" came the obvious answer. I was immediately overjoyed, for no one deserved a good time more than she. In fact, I was so elated I had to remind myself that it was she who was invited and not me!

After the initial excitement subsided and some serious questions had to be answered. After all this was her first prom and a new step for us too, as she is our first and only daughter. Who is this young man who was brave enough to ask? He didn't appear on her guest list of fifty closest friends. However, his courage to ask has a lot to say in his favor. Yet, is he capable of taking care of our little girl - "The Doctor" for a ten hour evening? What mode of transportation would they use? Who will they go with? And what are the after prom plans? I was quickly admonished for asking too many questions and told how old fashioned I was. After all this is the 1990's.

That weekend the whole family was involved in buying just the right prom dress. Her daddy left more than enough money, for he had to be out of town that weekend. Since we were left without a car at our disposal, her older brother offered to drive us to the mall and keep a sharp eye on her twelve year old brother, who loves nothing better than toy stores and video games. So the little girl and I spent a carefree day trying every dress with even the slightest potential until we got to the perfect one. As I look back, I realize my only importance was to stand with my back to the door jamb of the fitting room to insure her total privacy.

As sure as the azaleas unfold their happy brilliance in the spring and the dogwoods appear where there was nothing before, a smile shown upon the girl's face, a small one at first that became broader and more intense as she all from the dressing room in the dress of her dreams. This was the dress she'd seen in a magazine at the dentist's office. I understand now that she wouldn't have stopped looking until she found this particular dress. Oh, she tried on the baby pink satin and lace with the seed pearl neckline, but that was just to humor me. It was the royal blue lace with satin ribbons and ruffles that made her lips go up in the corners. As she mentioned in no uncertain terms, she would not be wearing a dress just to make me happy. I had to agree with that logic and after all what was another ten dollars when the dresses were so pricey anyway. Now my main function was to pay the bill and to locate her brothers in a bustling mall. We all arrived home tired and hungry, but satisfied with the days efforts.

The following week I began to get answers to some of my questions. Another announcement came from the little girl. "If I don't start calling limousine companies, we'll never get one for the prom!" My response once again plunged me right into the dark ages. "Isn't the young man supposed to play this role?" I queried. "Shouldn't he provide the kind of transportation that he can afford? You really shouldn't put him on the spot." (I had recently been through this scene from the boy's viewpoint.) I was ever so quickly reminded again of the year in which I was living and that I was expected to pay one sixth of the limousine fee! After mulling it over for a while, it seemed fair enough. I wondered why I hadn't thought of it myself? I spent the rest of the afternoon and part of the evening listening to the little girl dicker with one company after the other about the availability of a vehicle, the color must be black, what are the extra accessories, how many hours and for what price. Does that include "gratuities"? Now, I know she can solve equations to locate hyperbolic asymptotes, but I had no idea she was familiar enough with the word "gratuities" to use it in a sentence properly. Hadn't we always paid for everything? When she finally narrowed it down to the least expensive care in the right color, there were more questions. What year is it? 1986? Is it in "mint" condition? Why she asks more questions than I do! What does she know about "mint"? It used to be just a candy to her. Even her brother asked, "Is she buying this limo?" Today the limousine will be brought to our home for her approval... and for her father to sign on the dotted line.

As sure as the flowers will bloom in the spring, their beauty and scent to pervade our world for a while, the limousine will arrive and the inevitable prom night will come and the little girl will grow up.

READER RATINGS

Last week, my friend and I dined at Surfside Restaurant, on Hillside Avenue in New Hyde Park. We had been there once before and enjoyed it, as the seafood was truly great. Our choices were Trout, and Filet of Sole with Crabmeat stuffing. Dinner came with a baked potato and a great salad. White Chablis wine, then coffee completed this really fine dinner. If you enjoy fresh seafood, well prepared, I strongly recommend this restaurant. Surfside is not only attractive, with large windows on all sides, attentive service and ample parking, but we also found it offers a restful ambience. M.S.

LIKE HEAVEN

I have gone to the Casa Mia twice in the past three months. The first time was excellent. The second time was superb and if tis is any indication of this fine Italian restaurant I can hardly wait for the next time we dine there. The atmosphere is intimate and warm. The service is attentive and courteous and the food is so exquisite you think you are dining in heaven. If you enjoy chicken, try their chicken Valdosta and don't leave before you taste their desserts. You'll love everything about this delightful dining experience. A.D.

We have lived in this area for a long time, and The Executive Restaurant continues to be one of our favorites. Whether your choice is steak or seafood, you can be assured it will be top quality, and well prepared.

The cuisine is Continental. In particular their Blackboard Specials are diversified. My favorite at the Executive is their Bouillabaisse. I have had this dish at many fine restaurants, and can truly say for my taste it is the best. Just thinking about it makes me want to make a return visit soon. The welcome we receive when we dine there is warm and friendly. The Pavlovich father and son are a great team, we feel we are visiting old friends when we dine there. You will enjoy the caring service as well as the ample parking across the street. H.P.

DINING GUIDE

READER RATINGS

We enjoy dining out and when we find a truly outstanding restaurant we like to share it. Ristorante Giulia is just such a one. It is located at 570 Middleneck Road in Great Neck; the cuisine is Northern Italian/French.

There is an antipasto display, shortly after you enter, which we could not resist, with roasted red peppers, thinly sliced, grilled eggplant, plus fresh mozzarella cheese, salamis, olives. It was exceptionally good! Crisp rolls and breadsticks, with a glass of white wine started the salivating juices rolling.

Our next two choices were Saltimbocca Fiorentina, which consisted of veal with prosciutto, sage, white wine and spinach, our other choice was Filet Mignon, with a green pepper sauce.

We topped off this fine dinner with cafe espresso.

The attentive service plus the fine food, the welcome atmosphere made for a memorable evening. I heartily endorse Ristorante Giulia. MM

DINING GUIDE

READER RATINGS

Our party of three dined at a delightful restaurant on Westbury Avenue in Carle Place, Saturday night. We were warmly greeted and seated at the same table we occupied the last time we were there. Imagine, a host remembering!

The cuisine is Northern Italian. Just writing about the superb dinner has me salivating. The specialties of the day were Veal Chop stuffed with prosciutto and fontina cheese, sauteed with artichokes and mushrooms, and the other specialty was Agnolotti stuffed with lobster meat and served with a white clam sauce. We had their Antipasto which included fresh asparagus, fresh mozzarella, salami, soprasatta, roasted peppers and thinly sliced eggplant. Chablis wine, and crisp rolls added to this magnificent dinner. Desserts were their famous Hazelnut cake and fresh strawberries with whipped cream.

Not only was the dinner great, the service was perfect and unobtrusive. The restaurant is intimate, the ambience most attractive. Pamper yourself and try this delightful Restaurant! E.H.

HAPPY CHOICE

It takes many ingredients to make for delightful dining. Our party of six felt that we found them all at the newly decorated George Washington Manor in Roslyn. We enjoyed a most delightful Sunday Brunch and were unanimous in saying that it was a happy choice.

The decor is both charming and elegant, the food selection was diversified and exceedingly good, the service is superb. We all agreed it was a delightful way to spend a few hours on a Sunday. We have also been there for dinner and were well pleased. In particular we enjoyed the cozy fireplace. We heartily endorse this very fine restaurant. D.J.

GREAT PLACE

I recently dined at one of your restaurants LaCisterna and I want to tell you that it was excellent. The atmosphere was fabulous, the waiter was so friendly and the service was exceptional. It didn't take long at all for the food to come and it was delicious. It tasted like it took a while to cook but it didn't. We were celebrating someone's birthday and they were very kind by bringing out a cake for her. They really didn't have to do that.

All in all it was excellent and I wanted to share this with your readers. A.B.

ORIGINALITY, INSPIRATION

The other night we decided to go to a new restaurant and we hit upon the ad for the restaurant with the novel name. Your Place Or Mine in Williston Park. While we had never been there before it appears that many other people had heard of it before us. The small restaurant was filled to overflowing. But we were treated courteously and well.

The food at this restaurant is exceptionally good and prepared in a different modern style. It has wonderful vegetables and the entree of beef that we had was cooked with originality and inspiration. In other words this is not just an ordinary restaurant, we think it is the best. Your Place Or Mine is located in Williston Park on Hillside Ave. M.J.

Q. If someone asks you to dinner, shouldn't he make the reservations, tell you where to come, and pay for the meal?

A. Yes. The person who does the asking takes the responsibility for making the arrangements and for paying, unless it is clearly understood before hand that it is "dutch".

Q. Is it proper to tip soup or dessert dishes? And when is soup eaten with a spoon? I sometimes see people drinking bouillon, etc. directly from a cup. Is this correct?

C.T.
A. The tipping of a soup or dessert dish is acceptable if the plate is tipped away from the spoon, not toward the eater. Soup or bouillon served in a handled cup or (Oriental fashion) small, cup sized bowl may be drunk. If there are vegetables or other garnish floating on top, these may be lifted off with the spoon before the soup is drunk. Noodles or other things which may be in the bottom of the cup are spooned up after the liquid has been drunk.

EXCELLENT FISH

The Surfside Restaurant is a new one to me. We passed it last week along Hillside Avenue and then remembered we had seen it advertised so we popped in. The service was great but the fish menu is just excellent.

One in our party had filet of sole which was the freshest and most delicious ever. Another had scrod and it also was first rate. We also understand that there are many early specials served each week and that you can get a full dinner at a reasonable price. We think that New Hyde Park can well be proud of this new restaurant and recommend it highly to your readers. J.K.

We have a message for you.

Each week Litmor Newspapers presents a select dining guide called Reader Ratings to its readers. The guide presents the messages of outstanding restaurants in this area and it also is a forum for readers to tell other readers about why they like certain restaurants.

Reader Ratings, although it is read by up to 100,000 readers is an inexpensive way to meet the public and have the public meet you. Throughout many years, Reader Ratings has helped build loyal followings for some of the best restaurants in the area.

If your restaurant qualifies as a leader in the area we want to talk to you about being included in our guide. The cost is nominal and the results can be great.

WORTH IT

My wife and I recently had dinner at BB Nolan's Restaurant on Jericho Turnpike. We both enjoyed veal dishes--veal piccata for her, and veal marsala for me. The meat was so tender we literally cut it with our forks. We both had french fries, which were especially crisp and delicious, and string beans, also perfectly cooked.

Accompanying the main courses were tossed green salads served with a creamy dressing we liked very much.

Besides the excellent food, the service was also good. The staff made us feel at home.

It was a truly delightful evening and, in the words of General MacArthur, "We shall return!"
T.P.O.

Q. I noticed that some people pick up wine glasses by the bowl. However, I think it looks more elegant to pick them up by the stem. What is your opinion?

A. I agree with you that it is more attractive to pick wine glasses up by the stem. In the case of white wine, it also keeps the wine cool for a longer time.

FAVORITE RESTAURANT

The Executive Restaurant on Mineola Boulevard in Mineola has long been one of my favorite restaurants and I always enjoy their fine, continental cuisine. Last week our party of four dined there, and two of us ordered the Zuppa diPesce, the French call it Bouillabaisse. I have thoroughly enjoyed this dish both in Spain and in Portugal, however I must admit this was the equal if not better. It is usually ordered for two. This dish with French or Italian bread is food fit for the gods.

If your taste buds are crying for a gustatory delight, try it! I heartily recommend it. The atmosphere is friendly, the service is great. The fish is delivered fresh daily. You will come away with a mental note, that this is a place to re-visit soon again.
L.P.

Q. When a restaurant serves coffee or tea in a mug, where is the spoon left after it is used? I just can't bring myself to put a dirty spoon on the table!

A. If the restaurant objected to having a dirty spoon on the place mat or table, it would not serve beverages in a mug. But please don't ever attempt to drink your coffee or tea with the spoon left in the mug as I saw someone do recently! Not only is that the height of bad manners, it could also cause an eye injury.

How to lighten dark and heavy rooms

TUDOR STYLE — California designer Marsha Broderick, ISID, uses white paint, pastel upholstery and lightened floors to brighten the dark Tudor-style room that was once home to the Cecil B. DeMilles.

Q. Our old Tudor-style house has wonderful woodwork and beams throughout the downstairs — one reason, in fact, that we bought the house. I'm finding that it makes the rooms dark and heavy, however.

A. Of course, we'd never think of painting the wood, but is there any other way to brighten things up? — L.C.

A. Let Cecil B. DeMille direct you: This is the living room of his estate in Los Feliz, Calif., redecorated as a designer show house by Marsha Broderick, ISID, president of Pink Ladies Design and Construction Inc. in Calabasas, Calif.

The dark beams are the main feature of the house, which was built in 1913 and had also been home to Charlie Chaplin and his wife. Designer Broderick pulled a number of professional tricks out of her hat to make the room look and feel lighter, brighter and more today. She:

- Lightened the wood floors to a golden honey color.

- Used a large off-white rug to reflect light up into the room.

- Painted all walls and ceiling between the beams white to reflect light down into the room.

- Used pastel-colored upholstery — the fabric she chose has a silken sheen for an added glow.

Broderick also added the glint of gold throughout the room — a grand gesture appropriate to the memory of DeMille. You might achieve the same effect with, say, brass lighting fixtures, andirons and accessories.

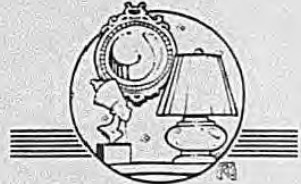

Q. I'm the head of a committee that is renovating an old house near the heart of downtown to be used as a temporary residence for homeless mothers and children. We have very little money and are relying on donations of furniture — plus a lot of paint — to brighten things up.

My problem is the windows: Can you give me any quick and cheap ideas on how to dress them? They all have roller shades that are in good condition, but that's not enough — J.H.

A. The trick is to look like you're being lavish with fabric when you're not. Look for Indian cotton bedspreads — you get a lot of coverage for your money.

One spread can be split and hung like a pair of drapery panels: Hem the cut edges with iron-on tape and attach the top edge directly to the window frame, using colored push pins and coaxing the fabric into pretty little swags between pins.

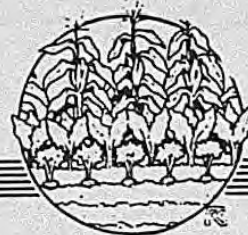

A length of ribbon or even fat yarn makes an attractive tieback.

Baskets and pots a natural luxury in summer

Baskets, pots and planters filled with lively growth and vibrant color add a note of natural luxury to the outdoor environment. They are close-up, sharply focused signs of the bounty and the pleasures of summer.

There is much we can do when putting together container plantings to assure they will bring us the brightest, fullest and most long-lasting display possible.

The first thing is to take careful note of the site where the baskets planter boxes or pots are to be placed. Will they receive full sun, part sun or light shade, or does the area receive no direct sun at all?

Selecting plants that are well-adapted to the light conditions will go a long way to ensure a satisfying, easy-care display. Labels and signs on plants at garden outlets will indicate their preferred light exposure.

Next, select vegetable and flower varieties that suit the size of the container. This is mostly just common sense, guided by the size of the plant.

A dwarf patio tomato such as Tiny Tim will be fine in a 6-inch-wide pot, while a short but heavy and robust staking tomato with large fruit, such as Celebrity, will require a container at least 18 inches wide and deep.

A 10- to 12-inch-wide hanging basket will be needed to support three or four trailing begonia, ivy geranium or fuchsia plants. But if you are planting a basket with smaller, daintier plants, such as alyssum and lobelia, a smaller size will do.

Once the plants have been suitably matched to their site and container, the next key to easy summer-long satisfaction in container plantings lies in the soil mix. In my experience, mixes with some soil included in their make-up always yield the most abundant, healthy and colorful growth for the longest possible time.

Fuchsias, begonias and pansies seem to respond with particular lavishness to mushroom manure in their soil mix. For these hungrier types of plant I blend one part each sterilized potting soil, peat, perlite and mushroom manure and mix 2 tablespoons of bonemeal into each 10-inch-wide container.

For less demanding plantings such as lobelia, alyssum and marigolds, I simply reduce or eliminate the mushroom manure. Other types of bagged, processed animal manures can be substituted for the mushroom manure.

Purchased planting mixes may also be used. Where weight is a problem, as with large baskets and in balcony gardens, peaty planting mixes are an excellent choice. But I still prefer to add just a little sterilized potting soil and mushroom manure to mixes that are mainly peat moss. I find that these additions lend staying power to the plantings and make them easier to care for.

Before filling a container, make sure that there is provision for drainage of excess moisture. Bits of broken dishes or a piece of fir bark set loosely over drainage holes will prevent the soil mix from drifting out while still allowing for free exit of water.

I usually set a bottom layer of some lightweight material into larger pots and planter boxes.

For a really bountiful display of flowers, set the plants close together in a pot or basket planting. In mixed plantings set the draping plants such as ivy geranium and trailing lobelia at the edge, mid-size and filler plants such as dwarf marigolds and alyssum next, and the taller accent plants such as upright geranium in the center.

During warm, dry summer weather, baskets and other container plantings will need watering at least once a day. Watering with a half-strength fertilizer solution every two weeks will help to keep each planting in top flowering form, as will regular grooming to remove spent flowers and straggling growth.

A few waterings during the summer with fish fertilizer help to keep new green growth coming along, and liquid seaweed applied several times helps to maintain vibrant color in the flowers.

Microwave tips for spring dieters

This is the time of year when all the diet programs rev up their ad campaigns. Svelte little things in bikinis waltz their way across your TV screen while a reassuring voice insists that you, too, can look like this by summer — if you get started now.

Whether you join a weight-loss program or go it alone, your microwave can help you to trim off those excess pounds by the time summer gets here.

Microwaving is the way to go when you're the only dieter in the house. It's easier than ever before to prepare an individualized meal in minutes, even if you plan a separate meal for everyone else.

Since microwaved foods don't stick to the cooking surface, there's no need to grease pans and dishes, and that means fewer calories. And you'll have less cleanup after, since you can often cook and serve in the same dish — leaving you time to get out there and walk off a few more calories.

Choose lean fish and chicken (both of which microwave well) over fatty red meats. Microwave-poach fish fillets in wine and herbs for a delicious low-calorie meal — they take just minutes to cook. Skinless chicken breasts are another good choice and can be microwaved in a number of low-calorie ways for a diet-wise main dish.

Even if you're the only one dieting, go ahead and prepare a recipe for four. Eat one serving, refrigerate another to reheat later in the week, and freeze the remainder to micro-defrost when you don't feel like cooking. (Cook fish one serving at a time, however, since reheating can overcook.)

Vegetables steam to perfection in the moist-cooking microwave, and many vegetables are so low in calories that you can eat all you want without a care. Carrots, celery, mushrooms, onions, cauliflower, broccoli, bean sprouts, zucchini, spinach, bell peppers and green beans are some good choices. Serve vegetables plain or season lightly, but avoid butter and creamy sauces.

Don't think that you have to give up carbohydrates to lose weight. Calories from carbohydrates are less likely to end up as body fat than calories from red meats, dairy products, oils and rich sauces.

A potato micro-bakes in only minutes, and has no more calories than an average apple (about 100). But watch what you put on that potato. Top with reduced-calorie margarine or plain yogurt and snipped chives. If you're not fond of yogurt, compromise by mixing reduced-calorie sour cream with plain yogurt in equal proportions.

Think lean when you shop. Buy tuna packed in water, not oil. Choose reduced-calorie, low-fat or non-fat dairy items: mayonnaise, milk, margarine, cheeses, etc.

Don't be misled by the words "light" or "lite" on food packages. Such words may indicate only a slight reduction in fat content — so read the nutrition information label to make sure of what you're getting before you buy.

For snacks and dessert, choose fresh fruit over richer fare, drink plenty of water, and work a little exercise into your schedule every day. You'll not only slim down, you'll feel better, too!

(Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens.)

LEMON CHICKEN

- 4 skinless, boneless chicken breasts
- 1 tablespoon reduced-calorie margarine
- Scant ¼ teaspoon garlic salt
- Dash pepper
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 tablespoon sherry
- 1 teaspoon paprika

Yields 4 servings.

Preparation time: 5 to 10 minutes.

Cooking time: 7¼ to 10¼ minutes (plus 5 minutes standing time).

Oven setting: HIGH (100 percent power).

Wash chicken breasts, pat dry and set aside. Combine margarine, garlic salt and pepper in 8-inch square microwave-safe baking dish. Microwave 30 to 45 seconds, or until butter is melted. Stir lemon juice and sherry into margarine mixture.

Place chicken breasts in dish, turning to coat. Arrange with thicker ends toward corners of dish. Cover with waxed paper and microwave 4 minutes. Turn and rearrange chicken pieces, dust lightly with paprika, and microwave 3 to 6 minutes longer, or until chicken is tender and juices run clear.

Let stand, covered, 5 minutes before serving.

STEAMED BROCCOLI WITH MUSHROOMS

- 1 (10-ounce) package frozen chopped broccoli
- ½ cup sliced fresh mushrooms
- ¼ cup chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon reduced-calorie margarine
- Lemon wedges

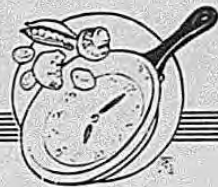

Yields 4 servings.

Preparation time: 5 to 10 minutes.

Cooking time: 6 to 8 minutes.

Oven setting: HIGH (100 percent power).

Combine all ingredients except lemon wedges in 1½-quart microwave-safe casserole; stir. Cover and microwave 6 to 8 minutes, stirring every 3 minutes, until vegetables are tender and heated through. Garnish with lemon wedges.

Mussels — the affordable shellfish

Have you noticed the price of shrimp, clams, oysters and crabmeat lately? These popular shellfish are now about as pricey as the fabled pearl found in the oyster shell.

Before you decide that the only way you can again enjoy these ocean delights is to win the state lottery, take heart. There is an affordable alternative — mussels!

In this country, mussels have, among many groups, been eschewed as the poor man's clam, but we think it is high time to discover what Europeans have known for generations.

In Italy and France, as well as Spain and Portugal, the mussel has always enjoyed a high status, for cooks there long ago discovered that this wonderful mollusk is plentiful, inexpensive, deliciously sweet and cloaked in a beautiful shiny black shell.

Mussels are naturally occurring in most of the world's oceans, but lately most of what we buy in U.S. markets are farm-raised. Aside from providing a more uniform size, these mussels also have the advantage of arriving in your kitchen cleaner and probably even fresher.

To ready mussels for cooking, soak them for about 30 minutes in lightly salted water if they are particularly dirty. Otherwise, simply scrub them well and scrape off any barnacles or weeds. Use your fingers to pull out the "beard" that usually protrudes from the shell.

Discard any mussels that are open and refuse to close when handled, as well as any that are unusually heavy, since they are probably dead and the shell filled with dirt or sand.

For most recipes, mussels are steamed in a little water, wine or clam juice. They are done as soon as the shells open, which takes only a few minutes.

Mussels can be eaten hot with a little lemon juice or cooking broth to moisten. They can also be cooled in the shell and dolloped with a bit of mayonnaise for a sophisticated hors d'oeuvre or taken out of the shell and tossed in a French-style potato salad as a light main course.

Here we give you two of our favorite recipes.

The first is a delicate and sophisticated soup that needs only a spinach salad and some crusty baguettes to make a whole meal.

The second is a lusty, garlicky sauce tossed with some linguine. Add a romaine salad and Italian bread for a hearty, satisfying supper.

TIPS

• Though there are wide variations in size, there are usually about a dozen mussels to the pound. One pound serves a single person as a main course and two as a first course.

• Buy mussels (or any fish or shellfish) only from a reputable seafood market or respected supermarket and plan to use them within 24 hours of purchase.

MUSSEL STEW

- 2 leeks, white part only, thoroughly washed
- 1 small (about 8 ounces) fennel bulb, chopped
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 4 dozen (about 4 pounds) mussels, scrubbed and de-bearded
- 1½ cups white wine
- 1½ cups bottled clam juice
- ½ cup water
- 1 bay leaf, broken
- 2 cups half-and-half
- 2 tablespoons Pernod or other anise-flavored liqueur (optional)
- 3 tablespoons minced parsley
- Salt and pepper

Yields 4 servings.

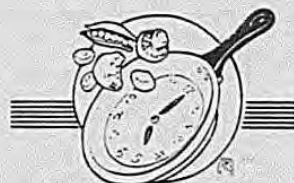

Preparation and cooking time: 30 minutes.

Cut leeks lengthwise into thin strips about 1½ inches long. In 3-quart saucepan, saute leeks and fennel in butter over medium-low heat for 5 to 8 minutes until softened. Add garlic and saute 1 minute. Reserve.

Place mussels, wine, clam juice, water and bay leaf in large pot. Cover and steam over medium-high heat about 5 minutes until shells open. Use tongs to remove mussels from pot, discarding any that have not opened.

Strain cooking broth through coffee filter or several layers of cheesecloth into pan with vegetables. Add half-and-half and simmer, uncovered, 4 minutes. Stir in optional Pernod, parsley and pepper. Taste and add salt, if necessary. Add mussels to pot and heat covered, about 1 minute to reheat mussels.

To serve, divide mussels among 4 large, shallow soup dishes. Ladle broth and vegetables over.

Vegetables and fruit — keys to better health

Susan Foerster can only sigh and shake her head when she sees the expensive TV spot for a high-fat, high-salt snack food — a commercial that has as much appeal as money can buy.

"If only we had that kind of budget to get across the message about fruit and vegetables," said Foerster, a registered dietitian with the state of California.

She is anxious to make people want fruit and vegetables as much as they desire french fries, potato chips, candy bars, soft drinks and even ice cream.

And Foerster and California mean business about the benefits of eating enough vegetables and fruit. The state is conducting a campaign to reduce chronic diseases — including cancer, heart disease, hypertension and diabetes — by improving the diet of Californians. The weapons in the campaign for better health are vegetables and fruits.

Contrary to the image of California as a land of body-beautiful health fanatics, studies show that residents don't eat nearly enough fruits and vegetables. Californians eat only two to three servings of fruits and vegetables a day and, instead, way too much fats, alcohol and sugar.

A study of Los Angeles dietary habits shows that, in 70 percent of the families involved, 80 percent ate fewer than two servings of fruit a day and 70 percent had fewer than two servings of vegetables. The program encourages Californians to eat at least five servings of fruits and vegetables every day.

Foerster said sobering statistics indicate that many diseases can be related to diet. For example, studies show now that 35 percent of all cancer deaths are believed to be related to diet.

"We think about half of these deaths can be prevented," she added.

Fruits and vegetables help reduce the risk of disease because they are low in fat and are rich sources of vitamin A, vitamin C and fiber.

"Junk food and fast food — that's the competition," the dietitian said. "Convenience is the No. 1 reason people gave for not eating more fruits and vegetables," she added. "We need to show fruits and vegetables as the convenience foods they really are.

"They require little preparation and only need to be washed before eating. You can pull them out of the refrigerator as is, or, if frozen, thaw them in the microwave. They are also available year-round and cheaper than most other foods," Foerster said.

The California program is called "5 a Day for Better Health," referring to five servings. For adults, one serving is ½ cup of fruit, juice or cooked vegetables, 1 cup of leafy vegetables or greens or ¼ cup of dried fruit.

Here are some suggestions from Foerster for adding "five a day."

BREAKFAST

- Drink a glass of juice.
- Add sliced bananas or strawberries to morning cereal.
- Have a bowl of fruit such as melon chunks or peaches.
- Top pancakes with fruit instead of syrup.

LUNCH

- Have a salad or soup that contains vegetables.
- Add zucchini, carrot or celery sticks to a brown-bag lunch.
- Include whole fruit, such as an orange or apple or a couple of plums or kiwis.
- Add lettuce, sprouts and tomato slices to a sandwich.

SNACK

- Nibble on some grapes or raisins.
- Take along some dried fruit such as apricots, prunes or figs.
- Choose a glass of juice as a mid-morning or mid-afternoon pickup.
- Keep cut, raw vegetables in water in the refrigerator for snacks.

DINNER

- Add vegetables to the main dish, such as broccoli to pasta or casseroles.
- Add raw vegetables or fruit to green salad.
- Use fruits as a garnish on main dishes.
- Order an extra side dish of vegetables when eating out in a restaurant.

DESSERT

- Live up a plain dessert with fresh fruit.
- Top frozen yogurt with chunks of pineapple or papaya.
- Add chopped fruit or berries to muffins, cakes or cookies.

The following recipes maximize the potential of vegetables and fruit in a variety of dishes from entree to dessert. They were prepared for this health campaign by a nutritionist for the California state Department of Health Services.

ORIENTAL CHICKEN SALAD

- 3 half chicken breasts, cooked without fat, skinned and shredded
- 4 cups spinach leaves (or lettuce), shredded
- ½ cup water chestnuts (or diced jicama)
- 2 cups red cabbage, shredded

- 1 (11-ounce) can mandarin oranges, drained (reserve juice)
 - ¼ cup toasted sesame seeds
 - ½ cup chopped green onions
- Dressing:
- 2 tablespoons rice vinegar
 - 1 tablespoon mandarin orange juice
 - 2 tablespoons orange juice (or 3 tablespoons mandarin orange juice)
 - 2 teaspoons sesame oil
 - 1 teaspoon sugar
 - 1 teaspoon soy sauce
 - ¼ teaspoon pepper, or to taste

Yields 2 large main-dish salad portions. Per serving: 489 calories, 14 grams fiber, 87 milligrams cholesterol, 425 milligrams sodium.

Toss salad ingredients together. Mix dressing ingredients well and quickly toss into salad.

AUTUMN MEDLEY STEW

- 3 half chicken breasts
- 2 cups water (with 2 packets low-sodium chicken broth, optional)
- 1 yellow onion, cut into strips
- 2 cans stewed tomatoes (15-ounce size approximately)
- 2 raw potatoes, diced
- 2 to 3 medium carrots, sliced into coins
- 1 green bell pepper, seeded and coarsely chopped
- ½ teaspoon black pepper
- 1 teaspoon rosemary
- 1 teaspoon dried Italian seasoning
- 4 cloves garlic, peeled and crushed
- 4 cups cooked rice

Yields 8 servings. Per serving: 214 calories, 4.5 grams fiber, 22 milligrams cholesterol and 215 milligrams sodium.

In large soup kettle, simmer chicken breasts in 2 cups of water (or chicken broth). Add onion to chicken as it simmers. While chicken is cooking, slice vegetables, set aside. When chicken is cooked through, remove and set aside.

To broth in kettle, add tomatoes, potatoes, carrots, peppers and spices. Continue to simmer. Break chicken into chunks, debone and add to stew. Simmer 30 minutes, or until carrots and potatoes are done. Add rice and simmer 10 minutes more.

BROCCOLI QUICHE SQUARES

- 1 pound broccoli (about 2 sections of broccoli), steamed until barely done, then chopped into small pieces
- 4 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 2 ounces part-skim mozzarella cheese, grated
- ¼ cup chopped parsley
- ¼ teaspoon dried oregano
- ¼ teaspoon dried basil
- 1 cup low-fat cottage cheese
- 1 cup ricotta cheese, part-skim
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ cup Italian-style bread crumbs (or other bread crumbs)

Yields about 25 squares. Per serving: 48 calories, 1.1 gram fiber, 26.2 milligrams cholesterol and 122 milligrams sodium.

Whip flour with beaten eggs. Add broccoli and remaining ingredients, except bread crumbs, mixing gently. Coat a 9-inch-square pan with cooking spray. Pour in mixture. Sprinkle bread crumbs on top. Bake in 400 F oven for 35 to 40 minutes, or until done. Cool for a few minutes, then cut into squares.

SWEET POTATOES AND CARROTS A L'ORANGE

- 2 cups thinly sliced sweet potatoes (about 1 large, peeled)
- 1 cup sliced carrots
- ½ cup orange juice
- 1 teaspoon orange peel, grated
- 1 teaspoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon cornstarch
- 1 tablespoon water
- 2 tablespoons slivered almonds or pecan pieces

Yields 4 dinner servings. Per serving: 101 calories, 4 grams fiber, 0 cholesterol, 23 milligrams sodium.

Boil or steam sweet potatoes and carrots until tender. When they are almost done, heat orange juice to boiling in saucepan. Add orange peel and lemon juice. Dissolve cornstarch in 1 tablespoon water and add to orange mixture. Continue to heat, stirring until thickened.

Remove drained vegetables from pan and place in serving dish. Drizzle orange sauce over potatoes and carrots and sprinkle nuts on top.

SUNSHINE SALAD

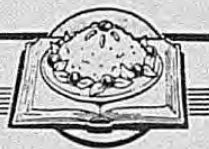

- 5 cups (packed) spinach leaves, washed and dried well
- ½ cup red onion, sliced thin
- ¼ red pepper, sliced
- ¾ to 1 whole cucumber, sliced
- 2 oranges, peeled and chopped into bite-size pieces
- ½ cup of bottled "lite" vinaigrette dressing (about 15 calories per tablespoon or less)

Yields 5 small salad servings. Per serving: 74 calories, 8 grams fiber, 0 cholesterol and 202 milligrams sodium.

Toss all ingredients together in large bowl. Add dressing and toss again. Serve immediately.

Southern ways with vegetables

"Living as they have, so close to the gardens and fields, Southerners have maintained a fondness for vegetables through good times and bad," claims John Egerton in his masterful cookbook, "Southern Food" (Knopf, 1987).

Egerton goes on to admit that "without question the traditional Southern way of cooking most vegetables leans to the heavy; bacon grease and chunks of seasoning meat have been used extensively, and so have some other ingredients now thought to be unhealthy, such as salt, sugar, butter and cream."

After reading such a description, health-conscious vegetarians might well cross Southern recipes right off their culinary maps — but this would be a considerable loss, indeed. Delicious Southern recipes can easily be adapted for the most healthful of diets, and the South has focused on a number of vegetables that might otherwise have gone ignored.

Take, for example, okra — a "highly nutritious summer vegetable and as Southern as Robert E. Lee" — to quote Camille Glenn in "The Heritage of Southern Cooking" (Workman, 1986). "We adore it, but Northerners have never liked it, and I don't think they ever will. It still divides the Blue and the Gray."

Well, Camille, I beg to differ with you. I'm a Northerner, but I love okra and always have. I feel similar passion for black-eyed peas, which have a marvelous earthy flavor and silken texture known to few folks north of the Mason-Dixon Line.

Southerners have also had a long-held appreciation for bitter greens — including collards, mustard greens and turnip tops. While these can be an acquired taste, they are delicious — and, as a bonus, are not only laden with minerals and vitamins but also are a real bargain at the checkout counter.

The greens may be cooked into a simple but delicious concoction by sauteing the coarsely chopped greens (with rinse water still clinging to them), in olive oil and lots of garlic until tender. Squeeze on a little lemon juice and dust with salt for a memorable dish.

Here are a few other Southern vegetable recipes that caught my eye during a recent jaunt through my cookbook library.

CAMILLE GLENN'S CREOLE OKRA AND TOMATO STEW

- 1½ pounds small okra
- Juice of ½ lemon
- 4 tablespoons butter
- ¼ cup cold water
- 2 medium onions, chopped
- 5 ripe medium tomatoes, peeled and chopped
- ½ bay leaf
- 1 to 2 sprigs fresh thyme or ¼ teaspoon dried (fresh is best)

Salt and freshly ground
black pepper, to taste

Yields 4 servings.

Trim stem ends off okra — carefully, so as not to cut into pod itself. Drop okra into boiling salted water to cover well. Add lemon juice and simmer until just tender, 5 to 6 minutes. Drain at once and set aside.

Melt butter in heavy skillet and add water and onions. Cook over medium-low heat until onions are limp and have absorbed butter, and water has boiled away. Do not allow onions to sizzle or brown. Add tomatoes, bay leaf, thyme and salt and pepper. Raise heat slightly and cook until tomatoes have reduced considerably, about 20 to 30 minutes.

Add okra, lower heat again, and simmer gently for about 5 minutes longer. Taste and adjust salt and pepper if necessary.

OLD STONE INN CORN FRITTERS

- 6 ears tender fresh corn
- 3 eggs, separated
- ¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- Cayenne pepper to taste
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- Oil for deep frying

Yields 4 to 6 servings.

Cut corn from cobs and scrape cobs well to extract milk. You should have 1½ to 2 cups corn. Mash ¼ cup corn pulp with potato masher or in a blender or processor. (This helps to distribute corn flavor and extract some starch.) Return it to rest of corn.

Mix egg yolks with corn. Sift together flour, salt, sugar, cayenne and baking powder. Add to corn and mix well. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry and grainy, and fold them into corn mixture.

Heat fresh oil in deep-fat fryer to about 375 F. Drop batter by tablespoonsful into fat and cook fritters until browned on one side, about 2 minutes. Turn and, when both sides are golden brown, remove with slotted spoon and drain on paper towels. Serve at once.

Enjoy Louisiana taste without fat, cholesterol

"Louisiana Light" by Roy F. Guste Jr.; Norton; $22.50

When I first looked at the jacket of this book, my immediate reaction was, "It can't be done — maybe shouldn't be done."

The reason was that the copy promises "Low-Fat, Low-Calorie, Low-Cholesterol and Low-Salt Cajun and Creole Cookery."

If you take those components out of Louisiana's high-octane cookery, I wondered cynically, what would be left?

Actually, I knew better. After my own conversion experience of a heart attack, I have managed to make sensible modifications in these dishes, which are part of my family heritage.

Guste didn't let matters slide as far as I did before he made the switch. He is the former proprietor of Antoine's, the most famous and oldest restaurant in New Orleans.

"It's no secret that some of Louisiana's culinary representatives are not exactly the picture of health," he writes.

Once past the age of 35, Guste feared that he might be joining their number.

"I began to gain weight and became less able to keep up with my exercise," he notes. "I also became concerned about cholesterol in the fabulous Creole and Cajun foods of New Orleans."

Working with dietitians at the Ochsner Medical Institutions, he has produced versions of the famous local recipes that virtually eliminate fat and the C-word. He's also draconian about salt and sugar.

But it seems to me that he has gone too far, for it is not really necessary to eliminate these evil substances utterly and to the last smidgen. He also errs, I think, in scaling his dishes to two servings, presumably an attempt to keep us from overeating.

His approach is indicated by his version of the New Orleans classic, Red Beans and Rice, which I follow with a comment on how I would do it.

RED BEANS AND RICE

- ½ cup dried red kidney beans
- 2 cups water
- ½ cup chopped onion
- ¼ cup chopped green bell pepper
- ¼ cup chopped green onion
- 1 bay leaf
- ¼ teaspoon thyme
- 1 clove garlic minced
- ¼ teaspoon freshly ground black pepper
- 3 ounces turkey ham, cut into ¼-inch cubes
- 1 cup hot cooked white rice

Yields 2 servings.

Put all ingredients except rice into saucepan and simmer for 1½ hours or until beans are tender and sauce is thick. To serve, spoon ½ cup of rice onto each plate and ladle the red beans and turkey ham over or around rice.

My comment: There is no reason not to use real ham. For flavor, I suggest simmering 1 or 2 pieces of ham hock in water to cover for about an hour. This can be done well ahead. Chill resulting broth and lift off fat. Use this to cook beans. Cut up meat, discarding all fat, and add to beans toward end of cooking.

On procedure, I would suggest bringing beans to boil in water to cover by 1 inch. Boil 2 minutes and let stand an hour. Drain, rinse and return beans to pot with ham hock broth and other ingredients.

Guste also believes in leaving out fat in the cooking of chopped onions and other flavorful vegetables that begins so many Creole and Cajun dishes.

For roux — the browned mixture of fat and flour used as the characteristic thickening and flavoring agent — he again proposes cooking the flour in a dry frying pan.

This pushes abstemiousness rather far, for little harm could come from a modest use of vegetable oil.

Guste's approach to another Louisiana classic left me feeling that I would rather skip it altogether than make do with his denatured version.

PINEAPPLE BREAD PUDDING WITH RUM SAUCE

- 1 egg white
- 1 cup skim milk
- Artificial sweetener to equal 2 teaspoons sugar
- ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 cup stale French bread, broken into ½-inch pieces
- ½ cup chopped ripe pineapple
- ½ teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1 tablespoon raisins
- Rum Sauce:
 - ¼ cup skim milk
 - ½ teaspoon cornstarch
 - 1 tablespoon dark rum
- Artificial sweetener to equal 2 teaspoons sugar

Yields 2 servings.

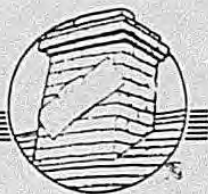

Preheat oven to 350 F. Beat egg white with skim milk, sweetener and cinnamon. Add bread and let soak.

Add pineapple, vanilla and raisins.

Pour into small baking dish. Bake 30 minutes or until knife inserted into center comes out clean.

To make sauce, blend cornstarch with skim milk. Heat, stirring, until it thickens. Add the rum and sweetener.

New product disarms aromas of pets

Q. The previous owners of our house had two cats that were left in the house unattended. As a result, the carpeting and the padding have a very offensive odor from cat urine.

I have removed the carpet and the padding, but I can still smell the odors in the foundation. What should I do to treat the foundation before laying new padding and carpeting? — R.G.C.

A. There is some good news for this common, difficult problem. "Nature's Miracle," manufactured by Pets & People Inc. (5512 Ironwood St., Rancho Palos Verdes, CA 90274) is effective in the treatment of organic odors and stains. It is available at pet stores in pints, quarts or gallon containers. This product can be used for spot treatment on carpets and furniture as well as the entire foundation.

If you have hardwood flooring, you will need to strip off the old finish and apply this solution to the bare wood to neutralize the disagreeable materials that have penetrated the wood. After treatment, you will need to refinish the floors by sanding and applying a new varnish or polyurethane finish.

You may find that the wood is stained permanently. A commercial wood bleach used prior to refinishing can be helpful in diminishing the staining. Be sure to follow manufacturer's directions carefully.

If the foundation is concrete, the problem is a little more difficult because of the porous nature of concrete. Saturate the entire area with Nature's Miracle. It sometimes takes up to a week to achieve results. Even though the surface may appear to be dry, it will take longer for the moisture level inside the concrete to dissipate, and odors can remain during this period. It may even take more than one application to correct the problem.

If you still have pets around during this type of treatment, it is best to cover the area with heavy aluminum foil (perforated with holes of ventilation). When the odor is still present, pets are attracted to the area and are inclined to repeat the offense. Placing a dish of food on the foil is an added deterrent, as pets rarely contaminate an area where food is present.

Once the treatment has removed the offensive odors, seal the concrete with a good masonry sealer prior to the installation of new padding and carpeting.

Q. The brick and concrete in our patio area is developing a green film and moss on both the level patio surface and the surrounding walls. The area receives only late-afternoon sun. The problem is particularly bad during winter months.

Do you have any suggestions on what we might do to get rid of the green film and prevent future discoloration? I do not want to damage the surrounding plants and lawn area. — H.F.

A. Copper sulfate, also called bluestone or blue vitriol, can be used to kill moss with a minimum chance of harming grass or garden plants nearby. Sold at feed stores and some nurseries, it is available in a powdered form or crystal form. The powder is the easier to dissolve in water.

Mix 1 pound of the powder with 20 gallons of water. Then spray

this over the mossy area.

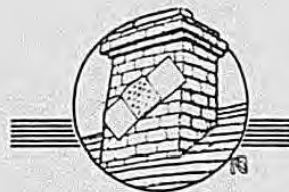

Copper sulfate may look like it is staining the concrete and brick, but the color is hosed off easily.

For protection after the brick and concrete are clean and thoroughly dry, apply a good masonry sealer over the surface.

One of our readers writes:

Regarding oil in driveways, I have found the surest and easiest way to deal with it is to sprinkle the area generously with cat litter. Leave it on for several days. Sweep clean or remove with a good outdoor vacuum.

For me, it has been a sure way to clean the area. And I don't even have a cat. — H.Z.

In the Discovery Section of this Newspaper

NOTICE
HAVE YOU A HIDDEN TALENT that has yet to be discovered in print?

We are looking for articles, not exceeding 3,000 words or less than 1,500 words, on local topics, opinions, ideas, nice places to visit on Long Island, and even fiction. In our magazine section, we will try to "Discover" one new feature length article and writer per week. Each writer will be reimbursed a stipend of $25.00.

If you want to be published and be part of an issue of Discovery, you may submit your article to: Litmor Publications, 81 East Barclay Street, Hicksville, N.Y. 11801.

Mainly for Seniors

By Leonard J. Hansen

Opportunities abound for mature adults

Identify your interests in your mature years and there is probably an opportunity looking for you. There are jobs, businesses and volunteer tasks that may be filled uniquely and effectively by people of experience who want to remain active, productive and contributing.

Here is a selection:

BUSINESSES ARE LOOKING FOR YOU

On May 5, 1990, 1,000 companies will participate in 124 Senior Power Job Fairs produced and hosted by local Days Inns hotels and motels in 35 states.

Days Inns has focused its hiring on recruiting mature adults since 1985, and in 1989 staged its first Senior Power Job Fairs, matching 600 employers in 26 states with more than 5,000 mature adults wanting to return to the work force.

This year, major companies such as McDonald's Restaurants, Adia Personnel Services, Environment Control, Federal Express, Waddell and Reed financial services, Walt Disney World, Kelly Services and Blue Cross/Blue Shield will participate in some or all of the local job fair interviews.

Days Inns has been very successful with its mature adult employees. The company reports that job turnover and absenteeism are less than 1 percent, health costs have not risen, and that mature adult employees have trained easily on computers.

Days Inns also found mature workers to be more courteous, patient and dependable.

Roger A. Saunders, president of the American Hotel and Motel Association, agrees and has made the hiring of mature adults a priority recommendation of his organization to its more than 10,000 hotel and motel facilities across the nation.

"Travel and tourism are expanding rapidly in the midst of a labor shortage," states Saunders.

"Much of the work in the hospitality industry is not physically taxing but it is mentally stimulating. No two days are exactly alike. Education and work skills count, along with attention to details and people skills as key essentials."

Saunders, 60, is chairman of the Saunders Hotels Co., owner and operator of three of the finest hotels in Boston — Boston Park Plaza Hotel and Towers, The Lenox and the Copley Square Hotel.

For information on the Senior Power Job Fairs contact your local Days Inn hotel or motel, asking if they are participating in the program.

For information on jobs available in the hospitality industry, Saunders recommends you prepare a resume and letter (including both life and work experience) to the human resources director or manager of hotels and motels in the community where you would like to work.

TELL TALL STORIES

The Hyatt Regency Beaver Creek Hotel, near Vail, Colo., is looking for a genuine storyteller and is willing to pay a regular salary to the person who fills the job.

"We're looking for a man or woman to spin tales of the region and the West — both true and tall — at Hyatt's tallest resort," states hotel general manager Steve Dewire.

This particular Hyatt is a deluxe mountain resort — at the 8,100-foot level of the mountains — seeking a deluxe storyteller to recount hot yarns to children and adult guests evenings around the hotel's 16-foot-diameter campfire.

Letters of interest and applications should be "absolutely truthful and not tell tall tales," and should be sent to Steve Dewire, Hyatt Regency Beaver Creek, P.O. Box 1595, Beaver Creek, CO 81620.

"Age may be a real asset for this job," Dewire emphasizes.

RAND CORP. PREDICTS MATURE JOBS

Major job opportunities — and even demand — for mature adults in the marketplace will increase during the 1990s, according to a report from the prestigious Rand Corp. in the March/April 1990 issue of The Futurist magazine.

Peter Morrison, director of Rand's Population Research Center, predicts a shortage of qualified job applicants, while there will be simultaneously a surplus of unqualified job seekers — especially among minorities who have not completed acceptable levels of education.

"When today's first-graders reach adulthood they will compete within a global labor market and will need intellectual skills and levels of education and literacy never demanded of their predecessors. These shortages of skilled young workers mean that employment opportunities will greatly increase for older people who want to work," states Morrison.

Copies of the March/April issue of the The Futurist are available at $6, sent to World Future Society, 4916 St. Elmo Ave., Bethesda, MD 20814.

START A BUSINESS

Pilot Books has published a new 40-page paperback with recommendations and sources for information on many types of businesses and franchise opportunities.

"Starting a Business After 50" is available for $3.95, plus $1 for postage and handling, from Pilot Books, 103 Cooper St., Babylon, NY 11702.

VOLUNTEERING IN RURAL AREAS

Mature adult volunteers will be sought by the National Council on Aging later this year for the expansion of its Rural Family Friends program.

Family Friends is a concept presently expanding to five West Virginia rural areas, matching volunteers 55 and older with chronically ill and disabled children 12 and younger. To date, Family Friends has matched 600 volunteers to 700 families in eight different areas as a pilot program funded by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation.

Information will be available from Rural Family Friends Program, National Council on the Aging Inc., 600 Maryland Ave S.W., Washington, DC 20024.

Oyster plate was holiday gift

OYSTER PLATE
...Made around turn of century;
worth $125 to $135

Q: I received this lovely oyster plate as a holiday gift. It is marked with a bell and "T.V. — France."

Please tell me whatever you can about it.

A: Your oyster plate was made in Limoges, France, for Tressemanes & Vogt and imported by Vogt & Dose in New York.

It was made around the turn of the century and would probably sell for about $125 to $135.

A: You failed to tell me whether your bowl is made of glass or pottery.

The mark you provided was used on Hull Pottery and Heisey glass. Both were made in the early to mid-20th century. Either would probably sell for less than $100.

It is essential that you provide a picture and a detailed description in order for me to provide a good response.

Q: This mark is on the bottom of a bowl that is 10 inches in diameter and decorated with flowers and vines.

Can you tell me who made this and what it could be sold for?

Q: I didn't know that Wedgwood made Willow Ware. Now I have run across a dinner plate marked "Wedgwood and Co."

When was it made and what should it sell for?

A: First, this was not made by the famous Josiah Wedgwood that made blue-and-white jasperware; it was made by Podmore, Walker & Co. of Tunstall, England.

Second, Josiah Wedgwood did make Willow Ware in the early 1800s.

Your plate was made in the late 1800s and would probably sell for about $25 (marked "Wedgwood & Co.")

A "real" Wedgwood Willow Ware plate would be more on the order of $75 to $100 (marked just "Wedgwood").

Must I floss my dogs' teeth?

Q: It seems that my veterinarian emphasizes preventive teeth care for my dogs more now than she used to just a few years ago.

Are dental problems more prevalent today? Is it important to brush and floss my dogs' teeth daily?

A: It has been said that dentistry is the fastest growing branch of veterinary medicine today. There is much interest in dentistry for both small animals and large animals — particularly horses.

In a 1988 mail survey conducted by the American Veterinary Medical Association, over 5 percent of 30,000 respondents said that their pets had dental work on their most recent visit to the veterinarian. That is more than twice as many as in 1982.

The greater interest in dental care is probably due to a greater awareness of dental problems and to the greater number of older pets today. Because of other advancements in veterinary medicine, pets are living long enough now to develop dental problems.

The diets of our pets have changed considerably over the years. The wild ancestors of dogs and cats avoided plaque buildup by chewing on rough food and bones. Most dogs and cats today do not eat the same rough materials.

Prevention is the best method to ensure your dogs will always have healthy teeth. Each of your dogs' mouths should be examined by a veterinarian at least once per year. Dogs with serious plaque problems should have their teeth cleaned. This usually requires that the dog be anesthetized.

The teeth of most dogs can be brushed routinely with a toothbrush without much hassle. Your

WHERE DID MY OTHER COCONUT GO?

COLOR THIS ENTIRE CONTEST ENTRY.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

This week many people were sad because Jim Henson, the man who created the characters on "The Muppet Show" and "Sesame Street," died suddenly. This doesn't mean that Big Bird or Kermit or Miss Piggy is gone — they will live on as long as there are people around who know and love them.

Instead, the sad thing is that Mr. Henson probably would have created lots more muppets that we could have gotten to know and who will now never be "born."

Mr. Henson didn't want people to be sad that he died, so instead of wearing black to the memorial services, many people wore Kermit-the-Frog green.

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winners are Stephanie Maslin and Peggy Smith.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

By William M. Acosta

Do I lose SSI if I marry?

Q: I am disabled and receive Supplemental Security Income checks.

If I married a woman who is working full time, would my SSI benefits be affected? — I.P.

A: It is possible. Under the SSI program part of the income and resources of an ineligible spouse is deemed to be available for the eligible spouse.

It is important that you notify the Social Security Administration if you do marry. They will be able to tell you whether your SSI benefit will be affected by this additional income.

Q: Is what I pay into Social Security held in a special account just for me? — J.B.

A: Although your earnings are credited to your individual earnings record, all Social Security tax dollars are pooled and used to pay current beneficiaries.

We are running a surplus and money not being used to pay current benefits is invested in interest-bearing securities issued by the U.S. Treasury.

Q: My wallet containing my Medicare card was stolen recently. How do I get a replacement card? — N.B.

A: All you need to do is to call Social Security and you will be issued a new card by mail. It should arrive in about a month.

Meanwhile, if you need medical services, you can still submit a claim as long as you know your Medicare claim number.

Q: I have been retired and collecting Social Security benefits for several years. I am 70 years old and recently returned to work on a part-time basis.

Social Security taxes are being withheld from my wages. Is this right? — R.H.

A: Yes. All earnings in covered employment are subject to the Social Security tax, even the earnings of a retired person receiving Social Security benefits.

Since you are 70 years old you can receive all of your Social Security benefits, regardless of the amount you earn.
