Art Work At Railroad

Waste Collection Site Opening In Hicksville

A permanent household pollutant collection STOP facility for Nassau County residents will open September 8, at 170 Cantigue Rock Road, Hicksville.

The purpose is to save tax dollars by reducing the costly waste stream and to protect the quality of our water supply and air by preventing such pollutants from being landfilled, incinerated or entering the aquifer.

The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation has, in conjunction with various townships in Nassau, has sponsored single day household pollutants collection programs during the past several years with heavy residential turnout. To have an effective anti-pollutant environmental program, however, the facility must be available and accessible throughout the year.

The Nassau County STOP facility will be open every Saturday beginning on September 8, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., excluding holidays. Special appointments can be made for individuals who cannot utilize the facility on Saturdays.

STOP facilities provide an outlet for the safe disposal of pollutants and chemicals normally collected in basements and garages. "By establishing this permanent facility, Nassau County is demonstrating its concern for the protection of our precious environment," states Town of Oyster Bay Supervisor Delligatti. "I urge all residents to avail themselves of this new and welcome County service."

Under the County STOP program residents are able to take polluting materials to the site at 170 Cantigue Rock Road, in Hicksville and have them disposed of by a registered, professional disposal company free of charge. Materials which cannot be treated or recycled will be taken off Long Island and disposed of in a licensed regulated landfill. There will be no disposal of the materials on Long Island. The site is designed to serve only residential users and is not open to business or commercial interests who by law must contract for proper disposal.

The Nassau County STOP facility will not accept the following materials:

- Explosives
- Radioactives
- Infectious Wastes
- Tires
- Gas Cylinders, Barbecue Tanks

In addition, accepted materials will be limited to the following:

- Five (5) gallons or Fifty (50) pounds of materials from any given vehicle on any one day;
- Containers which are structurally sound;
- Containers are labeled or contents which are known to the individual.

The responsibility for solid waste disposal rests, by State law, with the individual Towns, Villages and/or Cities. By establishing this permanent STOP center the County will provide assistance to various collection districts and ultimately the residents by protecting the environment and reducing costs.

Residents seeking additional information or directions to the facility may call 997-8962, weekdays from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Fall Pre-School Story Registration

Pre-School Storytime sessions at the Bethpage Public Library (for ages 3½ to 5) will begin on Thursday, October 5, and Friday, October 6, at 10:30 a.m. The weekly programs will include stories, songs, puppet fun, games, films, and much more. Pre-schoolers who are residents of School District No. 21, and who have had their third birthday before April 30, 1989, are welcome to attend.

Tiny Tots Time will begin on Wednesday, October 4, at 10:30 a.m. Each program in this monthly series for parents and very young children (ages 2½ to 3½) will offer stories, puppet fun, games, finger plays, songs, films, and a brief discussion for parents of a variety of materials appropriate for use with this age group. Among requirements for Tiny Tots are residency in School District No. 21, the youngster's second birthday by April 30, 1990, and a parent in attendance at all times.

Please register now in the Children's Room. As participation in both programs is limited, it is a good idea to register as soon as possible.

Saturday Storytime for youngsters in Grades K-3 will begin on Saturday, October 7, at 10:30 a.m. and will include stories, songs, puppetry, films, games, and more. Once a month, as announced in special Children's Room flyers, there will be a "Saturday Surprise Time Craft Program" for the same age group, also at 10:30 a.m. No registration is required, but participation is limited to residents of District No. 21.

Some Openings For Symphony

Paul Rudoff of Hicksville, Music Director of the Gemini Youth Symphony, announces that applications for membership are now being accepted. Programs this season will feature soloists Darel Stärk, award winning violinist; Erik Ralske, Co-Principal Horn with the Houston Symphony; and Steven Masi, pianist, and winner of the Atlanta Symphony Competition. Concertos by Beethoven, Strauss and Mozart are planned.

Qualified instrumentalists who wish to apply for openings in the orchestra and in the special woodwind quintet, brass ensemble and string quartet may apply by calling 643-6603, 796-8979, or 735-7570.

Board Plans Austerity After Budget Defeat

By Maureen Traxler

Voting 2617 to 2450, Hicksville residents defeated a second school budget proposal for 1990-91 at the polls on August 29. The defeat means that the district begins the school year on the state imposed austerity budget, putting extracurricular sports in jeopardy and curtailing bus transportation, senior citizen and student field trips, and purchasing of new supplies.

The Board quickly set the evening of September 5, to hold a meeting to discuss how the district will operate under austerity.

Commenting on the results of the revote, Trustee William Bennett said, "This is not good news for the educational community." The Board agreed to request that the voting machines be impounded, pending a recount.

The $51.5 million proposal was a one-and-a-half million dollar decrease from the May 23 proposal. The reductions made by the Board seemed to narrow significantly the gap between the nays and ayes. The May vote saw 5141 residents defeat the budget by 2025 votes. The revote last week saw 5067 residents defeat the budget by only 167 votes.

Superintendent Catherine Fenton cautioned the Board against immediately reporting an adjusted austerity budget figure to the Nassau County Board of Supervisors which sets the tax rate for the coming year. Heeding this advice and taking into consideration that the district has received an extension on the deadline to present a budget figure to the Supervisors, the Board agreed to table a motion to forward the figure which will determine the amount to be raised by taxation for 1990-91. In so doing, the Board left open the door to a closer scrutiny of items covered under austerity.

Declaring the defeat of the budget on the first vote for five years in a row both "monotonous and destructive," resident Donna Martillo requested that the Board commission a survey of residents to determine "how they feel about this school district and changes that could be made."

In order to help turn around the negative vote, several other residents called on the Board to show good faith and make a commitment to the people of the community. To that end, President JoAnn Miltenberg suggested that the Board begin discussion promptly on the controversial closing of schools and "make decisions by December on whether schools will be closed or not." She said that in this way the issue will not be clouded by 1991-92 budget process or the May 1991 elections for Board Trustees.

The Superintendent asked the Board for direction on the placement of the new oil tank at the middle school. The district is replacing tanks in accordance with state and county mandates.

In the spring there was some objection by middle school staff and the PTSA to the placement of the 20,000 gallon tank inside the building in the technology wing. Dr. Fenton said that the only alternative acceptable to the architect and the Department of Health was to place the new tank in the ground as before. This would bring an additional expense to the district of $24,000.

Commenting, "I don't...like it in the building where there are children," Mrs. Rooney led the Board in affirming its direction to place the new tank in the ground. "I prefer to use the middle school for children," added President Miltenberg.

In the Superintendent's report to the Board, Dr. Fenton reassessed class sections and teaching staff for the coming year. Due to lower enrollment than projected, she recommended reduction of ½ Kindergarten sections at Dutch Lane, Old Country Road and Willet Avenue Schools. At Fork Lane School, she recommended adding one section to the fourth grade, since 32 students have been enrolled. These adjustments would mean a reduction in the number of sections for 1990-91 from 107.5 to 107.

The Board approved appointments in teaching staff as follows: Lis Dawber (Woodland Avenue, 4th grade), Frank Mortillaro (Lee Avenue, 5th grade), Nancy Kane (Burns Avenue, 6th grade), Claudia Goodbinder (Fork Lane, 4th grade), George Davison (Lee Avenue, Art) and Maureen Ryan (Fork Lane, 6th grade).

Dr. Fenton reported that students eligible for transportation would be required to follow the district's new procedure which is that buses will only pick up students at a designated corner and that students will be required to walk to that location. No students will be picked up or dropped off at their homes. She asked that students arrive 10 to 15 minutes before the bus is due, particularly during the first few days

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

On August 26, the Fourth Annual Hicksville Charity Tournament was held at the HBA Field in Hicksville. The tournament was held on the rain date, Sunday, because of the poor weather on Saturday. Use of the rain day caused many problems. Luckily, the problems were overcome at the last minute. For example, Father Hewes had to cancel saying the opening prayer because he had to perform Sunday Mass. Sister Jackie Walsh of Our Lady of Mercy Parish became a Pinch-Hitter and filled in beautifully. Her prayer had so much meaning and she is such a beautiful person. Another rain date cancellation was the Sound of L.I. Drum and Bugle Corp. Everyone was disappointed because they were the center piece of last year's event. Quickly the Hicksville H.S. Band's parents and members were contacted hoping they would bail us out. Everyone wanted to help, but Mr. McRoy claimed he could not get the equipment. Quickly Hart to Hart Productions of 25 Woodbury Road, Hicksville, was contacted. They sent down two D.J.s, Marck C. and Jim V. who really entertained everyone who attended the event. They were a highlight.

HBA's VIPs were present, Buzz Doyle - President, Executive V.P. Jane Senn and 2nd V.P. Jenny Anderson. HBA donated $717, the profit from the concession stand, to the Make-A-Wish Foundation. Ms. Eileen McCarthy from Make-A-Wish was also on hand to lend her support. PAL VIP's were present. Police Officer William Toetsledt was honored for his 17 years of service to PAL. Mr. Joseph Bentrewicz, the President, was honored for his 18 years of service.

Charlotte Anstey the secretary was also present. The C.Y.O. VIP's attending were Gary Lewis, Team Coordinator Joan Famiglietti, Barbara Lewis, the C.Y.O. secretary, was present and given a plaque from the three organizations for her extensive work in helping to organize the tournament. Al Ciaccio, the event coordinator since its beginning in 1987, was given a beautiful plaque from all the organizations for his efforts to organize the event.

Ranbow the Clown and Miss-

Match the Clown entertained everyone. The Nassau County Police Mounted Unit was present to provide security and many of the children petted the horses. The Hicksville Fire Department provided an E.M.S. service. Art and Carol Schmall of Big Apple Printing were honored for donating the printed material to promote the event.

The First Hicksville Hero Award was then presented to the McDonald family, Patti Ann, Concor and Police Officer Steven McDonald. The Second Hicksville Hero Award was presented to Pvt. Paul Joseph Jurgensen, the soldier from Hicksville who took part in the successful invasion of Panama. Unfortunately, Paul was unable to attend because he was again defending our Freedoms in Saudi Arabia. Paul's parents, Joyce and Richard, received the plaque in Paul's behalf. Then the guest of honor, 12 year-old Andre Giannico of the Make-A-Wish Foundation was introduced to the crowd. At that time the community of Hicksville and the Nassau County Police Department saluted our Heroes and Andre. A Police Helicopter swooped down and circled the field with sirens blaring. Everyone was touched. Also present were Ann R. Ocker and Tom Clark, our councilpersons from the Town of Oyster Bay. Mr. Jeff Cohen from Nassau County who represented Tom Gullotta.

Then the 90 ballplayers, coaches and managers were introduced to the crowd. They lined up on the field. Cub Scout Pack 172 led by Cubmaster Kathy Walker and Scouts James O'Donald and Ryan Walker provided our Color Guard. Marie Cinque then beautifully sang our National Anthem. This fine young Lady is a very talented singer. The Guest of Honor, Andre Giannico, threw out the 1st Pitch and the tournament began. The first games were played by C.Y.O. and PAL girls and PAL boys and HBA boys. Advancing were PAL boys and PAL girls. In the finals PAL girls were victorious as were C.Y.O. boys. Both teams received their beautiful team trophies.

Rose and Al Rodriguez received an award from the Make-A-Wish Foundation for their hard work in the concession stand.

Many people played a big part in the day and they should be thanked. Here are just a few. Umpires Jim Gilmor, Jerry Manna, Jerry Weber, Mike Guerriero, Nick Apostolo and Mike Galdo. Twirlers - Lucky Stars Donna Fitzgerald, Kelly Murray, Tara Bier, Loren Cruess.

Jennifer Downes, Maria Scardi, Teresa Saccardi, Hicksville Firemen Steve DeStefano, Cliff Heller and John Evans. Rob Corwin, Mark C and Jim V. from Hart to Hart Productions. T.O.B. employees Natale Louoro, Roger Zimmerman, Dennis Wicks and David Cornell and many others.

It turned out to be a perfect day and everyone was a winner, close to $3000 was raised for the Make-A-Wish Foundation. The Town of Hicksville is very proud. The Tournament Membership

To the Editor:

Reading the results from the school district budget vote and realizing that the resolution regarding extra curricular activities only failed by 167 votes, my heart went out to the children of our community. Common sense tells me they will not be the only ones that will suffer from its failure to pass. As a parent, homeowner, and lifetime resident of Hicksville, I am grateful for the positive and memorable social and educational development that I was privileged to be a participant in. This community and its educational system have offered generous benefits to both my generation and that of my parents. Unfortunately, this rich legacy does not seem to be what we have chosen to offer our children.

The real concern which I would like to express to the citizen's of Hicksville is this: Where was this community when the voting took place? Since only 5,067 ballots were cast, it is obvious that the majority of homeowners didn't bother to express their opinions one way or the other. But we will all live with the results. Can we really afford to be so disinterested in our children's futures as well as our own? This travesty was preceded by the outrage perpetrated on all taxpaying residents when the school board pulled the wool over everyone by authorizing a 33% pay raise for the teachers over the next three years. Can we think of ourselves as victims when we have acquiesced to this kind of leadership. Acquiesced? We voted these representatives into office!

As we watch the results of this kind of misguided leadership take effect, we have little choice but to recognize that it is our own apathy that plays a heavy role in the increase of delinquency and vandalism that is bound to be a part of more children with more time on their hands and less creative and constructive supervision. The loss of the kinds of programs such as sports activities, artistic endeavors and social organizations that help our kids learn to grow up into productive and well integrated adults will take a toll on both our immediate community as well as our national one. And for those of us whose concerns aren't necessarily directed at social aspects, one can't fail to see that our property values are bound to be affected negatively as these other results take hold.

In closing, I would once again like to apologize to our children for being a part of a generation that benefitted richly by being citizens in a community that once believed in the very things we have now failed to guarantee for our children.

Sincerely,
Mark B. Thomas

KITCHEN HINTS

A gelatin mold should be completely filled
Getting it to the refrigerator can be messy.

Here's how to transfer the mold neatly:

1. Place mold on baking pan or pie dish. Fill almost to the top so when unmolding, gelatin won't have far to fall and possibly break.
2. If liquid spills during the move, it's in the pan, not the refrigerator.
3. Before unmolding, dip briefly in hot water.

Grand Parade, Block Party Here

By Maureen Traxler

In this our nation's 100th celebration of the Labor Day holiday, Hicksville's Fire Department continued its traditional parade and drill.

This year's events began with Sunday's parade, where the Hicksville Fire Department hosted divisions from Nassau and Suffolk Counties. The contingents were represented with equipment, bands, flags and color guards. The parade chairman John Menig, Jr., also served as Grand Marshal, and the parade Honorary Grand Marshal was John Fanigan, Sr., both Hicksville Firefighters.

At the end of the parade at the grandstands on East Barclay Street, the firefighters, their families and local residents participated in a huge block party. All sorts of tasty refreshments were on sale, along with carnival style wheels of fortune and a DJ providing lively music from the shelter of the Town of Oyster Bay Mobile Recreation Unit.

On Monday, the firefighters held their annual tournament. First Place winners were the members of the West Hempstead Westerners.

So many residents came out for this gala parade and drill and to pay tribute to these fine men and women, our firefighters, the quintessential volunteers. For it is they who potentially put their lives on the line with the sound of each firebell.

Beth Sholom Men's Club

By Milton F. Mandel

Our new administrative year will open with a flurry of early activity to be listed below. Our new administration, headed by Pres. William Brickner and E.V.P. Stephen Beyer have spent the summer in planning for a good series of programs this year. For our very first event, tickets were available to Temple Beth Sholom M. C. members on a first-come basis, at Flushing Meadows Park, in Queens, on Sunday, September 2, in the middle of the Labor Day weekend. We are informed of a complete sellout for this 1990 U.S. Tennis Open.

Our 2nd event will mark the 34th annual Father-Child softball game at our own Temple Beth Sholom baseball field. At the end of the game, trophies will be awarded to the youngsters participating; please be sure to wear sneakers and bring your own baseball gloves. This is for youngsters 10 and over.

Our 3rd event, meant for each T.B.S. household is the ordering of flower bouquets from the Temple office at MA 1-2288, from M.C. All Temple members may order these beautiful flower arrangements, early enough for prompt delivery just before the start of Rosh Hashanah.

Our 4th September event will be the annual Ushers breakfast when all ushering volunteers will meet their Ushering captains on Sunday a.m. at Temple Beth Sholom, September 16.

We mourn the loss of our personable Past President of Men's Club, Stanley Unger. May his memory be as a blessing for all who knew him.

All the Officers and Board members extend High Holiday greetings to all members of our Men's Club and all members of Temple Beth Sholom in Roslyn Heights.

Right Around Home

By Maureen Traxler

This year, as in the past, the Hicksville Schools Extended Year Program for elementary students did a fine job of stimulating hearts and minds. The purpose of the 6 week program is to provide a continuation of the learning process necessary for the social and academic growth of the students.

The program provides a variety of activities within which the students participate with enthusiasm. Among the enrichment activities this year were: trips to the Dinosaur exhibit at Sands Point, the Vanderbilt Planetarium, Safety Town, Nunley's Amusement Park and bumper bowling. As a special event, students were guests at Dominos Pizza.

Each year as a culminating activity, the students put on a show for the staff, parents and guests. There's singing, reciting, insights into feelings and a demonstration of skills reinforced by the caring staff.

Our Children

Children participate in family wedding concept

By Willard Abraham, Ph.D.

Q. I have been a widow for a few years, and recently met a man (a widower) whom I will marry in the near future.

We have no question about our total devotion to each other, and are grateful for the happiness we have that will help each of us finally accept more completely the tragedies that took our mates from us. Because we are both in our late 30s we hope to have many wonderful years together.

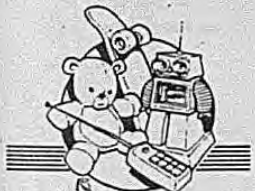

One factor that worries us, however, is the attitude of our children. We each have one preteenager. Neither one talks about this matter, but both are obviously disturbed about what they feel is the potential of being displaced by a new adult in the family.

Can you think of any way to overcome their apparent insecurity? We would appreciate whatever thoughts you can share with us about this problem.

A. An idea came to my attention a few months ago that may be on target for both of you. It sounds like it might be an effective way to help children become dedicated and comfortable members of the new family of which they are such an important part. The wedding ceremony is the vehicle involved.

Each child actively participates in it and receives a special medal and chain. The procedure is referred to as the "Family Medallion concept."

After the man and woman exchange rings and pronounce their matrimonial vows each child is invited to the center of the altar (one at a time) where the medallion is placed around the youngster's neck, with both parents physically and emotionally participating. Both parents pledge their love to each child, accompanying their words that demonstrate their feelings and support with hugs and whatever other symbols of their deep affection come to them warmly and naturally.

Our Children

An interlude like this has already been used by many faiths and denominations. It becomes a brief, integral part of this important event.

On the medallion are three interlocking circles, representing the man, woman, and children.

The person officiating at the marriage ceremony can, of course, personalize it even more by adapting his or her comments directly to the children and two like sewing on buttons, mending clothing rips, and other minor repairs he is acting like a sissy?

My macho husband thinks so, and comes on strong to me and our son against this kind of activity.

Our boy is in Little League, eagerly looks forward to being in the Scouts, and has a lot of male friends. They are a bunch of active, energetic, sports-minded kids.

So let me get back to my question — is sewing a sissy activity? And I guess the bottom line is this: Does it mean he will become a homosexual?

A. Because his involvements seem to be well-balanced, and also because men are among the finest tailors, I don't recognize any such tendencies in what he is doing.

In fact, a lot of us would enjoy having a kid like that around the house.

Museum Begins Fall Workshop

The Hicksville Gregory museum begins its Fall series of children's workshops on Saturday, September 15, with an exploration of the "Many Different Kinds of Leaves."

Naturalist, Rose Davis, who specializes in instructing young children, will explore and explain about the shapes and structures of leaves and of their most important role as food factories. Crayon rubbings, ink prints and sun prints will be used to see the likenesses and differences among leaves. The Workshop is in two sessions; the first from 1-2 p.m. is for ages 4-6, and the second from 2:30-3:30 p.m. is for ages 7-9. The fee for members is $6 and for non-members is $8. Since space is limited, reservations, confirmed with payment, are required and may be made by calling the Museum at 822-7505.

Other workshops to be held during the Fall include among others, "The Ribbon Project," "Glow in the Dark Masks," "Jewelry Making," "Indian Crafts and Games," "Sponge Painting Sweatshirts," and "Dressing up a Teddy Bear." For further information about these and other workshops, please contact the Museum.

ARE YOU OVERLOOKING LONG ISLAND'S WILDEST NIGHTLIFE?

The black-crowned night heron (Nycticorax nycticorax) is a mostly nocturnal native Long Islander who is highly discriminating. You won't find him at just any watering hole. And for dinner the fish had better be fresh, the ambience unhurried.

You might say the black-crowned night heron is a hard bird to please. But The Nature Conservancy has been working hard for 38 years to provide the night heron and hundreds of other animals and plants the finest accommodations available on Long Island.

We've saved 18,000 acres of ecologically significant land on Long Island alone, from the last 19-acre remnant of the Hempstead Plains to our 2,000-acre Mashomack Sanctuary on Shelter Island. Nationwide, we've preserved nearly 4 million acres of forest, prairie, desert, island, and mountain. And our international program is fighting to save the world's rapidly vanishing rain forest. You can help The Nature Conservancy do its vitally important work. For $15, not much more than the cover charge for one of Long Island's hottest night spots, you can become a member of the Long Island Chapter. You will receive the Long Island Chapter Newsletter and

The Nature Conservancy Magazine to keep you informed of Conservancy activities. As a member of the Long Island Chapter, you can participate in hikes and education programs led by experienced naturalists, and you are welcome to volunteer to take part in Chapter operations.

If you're concerned about Long Island—not just about its native flora and fauna but also about the water we drink, the air we breathe, and the quality of life here—we urge you to give us a hand. Just call (516)367-3225. You can help protect your environment. And you can have a wild time!

Home Cancer Care Program

Terminally ill cancer patients who have been treated at North Shore University Hospital at Glen Cove can now avail themselves of a unique program which provides care for them at home.

Through the Don Monti H.O.M.E. (Home Oncology Medical Extension) Van Program a physician, nurse, oncologist, social worker, laboratory technologist, and nutritionist visit patients and their families at home. Making house calls whenever needed, the team provides both medical and psychological assistance. Chemotherapy, pain medication, oxygen, blood transfusions, along with dietary counseling, are all provided when necessary. Emotional support is also offered to family members to help them cope with the demands of having a terminally ill person in the home.

To appropriately serve the Glen Cove and Oyster Bay Township communities, an administrative office has been opened at North Shore University Hospital at Glen Cove and vans and staff will be made available as needed. Attending physicians from the community hospital will work in conjunction with H.O.M.E. Van staff to assure appropriate treatment is given to patients under their care.

The H.O.M.E. Van Program is supported by funding from the Don Monti Memorial Research Foundation. It was initiated 12 years ago through the Don Monti Division of Oncology at North Shore University Hospital-Cornell University Medical College. There are currently seven vans in use in the program which will serve patients of both hospitals.

Sportsman Courses Offered Free

According to Town Clerk Carl L. Marcellino, in order to better educate sportsmen in the areas of hunting and bowhunting, free clinics addressing these subjects will be offered at various locations within the Town.

The clinics, which include classroom instruction in hunter safety and ethics, are aimed at educating persons who have not yet received licenses in hunting and/or bowhunting.

"Some clinics began in August, while others are being offered throughout the fall, said Marcellino. "All sessions are led by instructors who have been authorized by the New York State Dept. of Environmental Conservation."

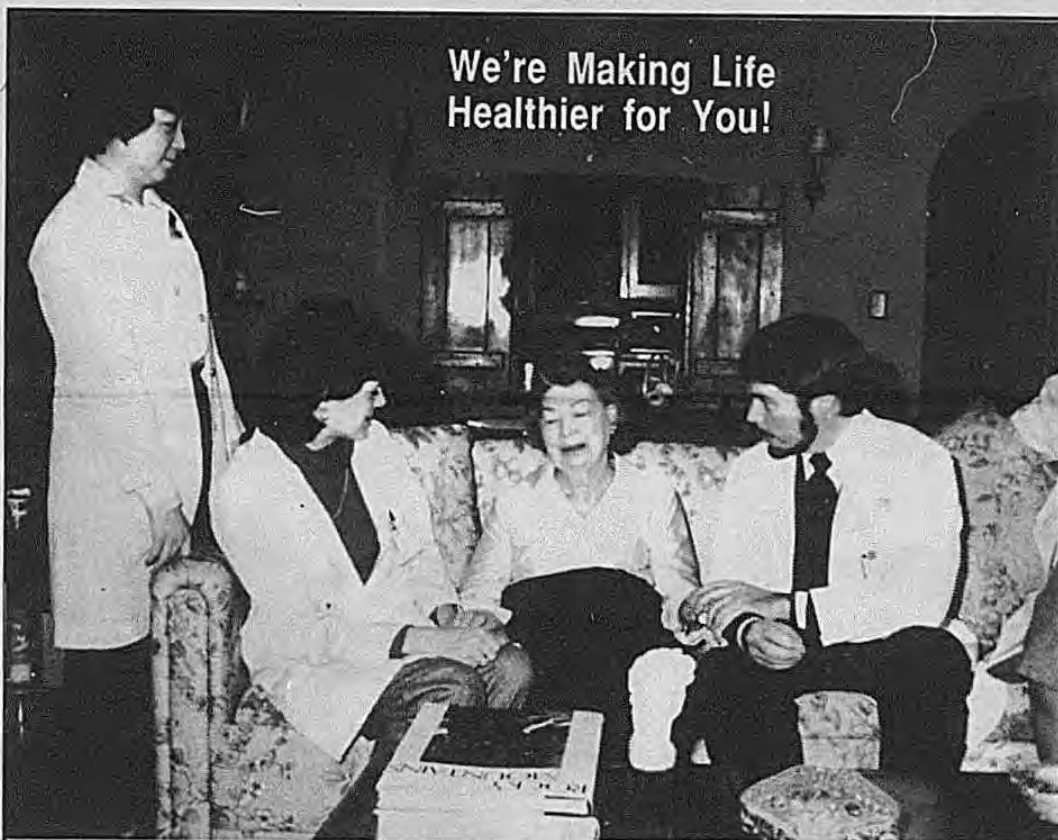

For further information regarding the times, dates and locations of these programs, please contact the Town Clerk's office at 922-5800, ext. 2319.

Columnist Speaks At Bethpage Library

The Friends of the Bethpage Public Library is pleased to present Ed Lowe, prize-winning "Newsday" columnist, to be guest speaker at its meeting on Thursday, September 13, at 8 p.m.

Come, and enjoy this delightful "storyteller" in person. Having been born in Brooklyn, raised in Amityville, and having taught English at Lindenhurst Junior High School, he is a true Long Islander and well-qualified for telling stories about Long Islanders.

The Bethpage Public Library, at 47 Powell Avenue, (phone: 931-3907), is two blocks west of exit 8 (Powell Ave.) on the Seaford-Oyster Bay Expressway (Rte. 135). All Welcome...

Home Care

Treating cancer patients means more than hospitalization. It means easing pain, soothing psyches, providing reassurance, and - when the boundaries of medical science have been reached - enabling the patient to spend his remaining time in the most comfortable, natural, and humane setting possible...at home.

Now, the Don Monti H.O.M.E. Van program is available to the patients of North Shore University Hospital at Glen Cove.

A specially equipped van with a physician, oncology nurse, technician - and frequently a social worker and nutritionist - will visit the patient and family in their home as often as medically and psychologically necessary. Whatever is needed - pain medication, blood transfusions, chemotherapy, oxygen - can be administered.

This is just one of the many new services now being introduced at your community hospital...

Flag Keeps Flying

The Hicksville Kiwanis Club flies the flags in Kennedy Park, Hicksville. When Hicksville Kiwanis Past President John Budnick heard that the American flags to be flown at Kennedy Park in Hicksville were at a critically short supply, he took some positive action. He asked the Woodmen Of The World to contribute some flags to the Kiwanis Club.

The Woodmen Of The World Life Insurance Society prides itself in the fact that they give away more American flags than any other group. Their area Manager, Mr. Charles L. Hirsch, FICF, gladly accepted John Budnick's invitation to come to a Kiwanis Club meeting, and bring along some American flags.

when drivers are getting used to their routes. Under austerity, the district will be following state guidelines for eligibility: two miles for students in grades K through 8, three miles for students in the high school. This means that no buses will roll to the high school and elementary school; some middle school and Parochial school students will receive transportation.

Dr. Fenton noted that the district has not been successful in employing monitors for buses, a safeguard requested following the incident of the driver indicted on sex abuse charges. She noted that the district will continue to advertise the position.

The next regular meeting of the Board is scheduled for Wednesday, September 26, at 8:15 p.m., in the conference room of the Administration Building.

Genetic Counseling At Glen Cove Hosp.

A new genetic counseling service at North Shore University Hospital at Glen Cove can help prospective parents understand the risks of giving birth to a baby with a birth defect. Certain couples who are already expecting a baby, and those who are planning to conceive, can benefit from this type of counseling.

"Modern science has provided us with the tools to understand the causes of some of the conditions that are genetically transmitted," said W. Ted Brown, M.D., Ph.D., Chief of Human Genetics. "Our counselors use this information, as well as recently developed laboratory tests, to help couples make informed decisions," he said. Some people are aware that they are in a high-risk category because they have a family member with a hereditary disease or condition. Others are in high-risk categories because of their ethnic backgrounds, or because they have a known medical condition. In recent years, a common factor placing couples at risk has been the increasing age of so many pregnant mothers. All of these groups can benefit from genetic counseling.

In the new program at North Shore University Hospital at Glen Cove, all couples are seen individually by a genetic counselor. Here, a family history is taken, and a determination is made whether or not there is a need for further testing. When testing is indicated, a team of medical geneticists reviews the results, helping the parents make an informed choice.

The introduction of this new genetic counseling program at North Shore University Hospital at Glen Cove is just one of the many steps being taken to turn this community facility into the finest in the region.
