Memorial Day Parade Update

The next Memorial Day planning meeting of the Hicksville Combined Veterans Committee will take place on Wednesday, May 8, at 7:30, in the American Legion Clubhouse at 36 West Village Green, on South Newbridge Road. Past commander

John Rizos is chairing this year's parade and memorial services for the host post, Charles Wagner Post 421, American Legion. He asks that all organizations intending to participate in the parade or services to contact him at 433-7429, evenings.

Car Showroom Building Permit

A request for a special use permit in Hicksville will be the subject of a Tuesday, August 6, hearing of the Oyster Bay Town Board, according to Councilman Leonard Kunzig.

"The applicant, Grand Prix Leasing, Ltd., is seeking permission to construct a 10,000 square foot building for use as a car dealership showroom/service center in a "G-1" business District (central business)," Councilman Kunzig said. "The property is located at the intersection of the southerly side of Railroad Avenue and the northerly side of Old Country Road."

The hearing is scheduled for 10 a.m. in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay.

Vacant House Destroyed By Fire

A long time vacant house on Jerusalem Avenue near Alexander Avenue was destroyed during the early morning hours on April 29.

The alarm was received by the Hicksville Fire Dispatcher at 1:51 a.m. and 9 units, 50 members under Chief of Department responded. Upon arrival the dwelling was completely involved and occupied neighboring homes were being showered by burning embers. The fire was quickly knocked down. There were no injuries.

There have been several fires in this house in the last six years, and efforts to contact the owner living overseas have been unsuccessful. The Office of Town Councilman Thomas Clark has made extensive efforts to remove the hazard but the law stipulates the owner must be contacted. As a result of this fire it is believed the Town can take action to finally remove the wreckage.

Hicksville Pumper In Collision

On April 27, the Hicksville Fire Dept. which was on a Mutual Aid Stand By for the Jericho Fire Dept. was responding to a report of a brush fire at 6:34 p.m. on Delaware Ave. in Jericho, N.Y.

Pumper 935 of the Hicksville Fire Dept. was heading south on Route 107 approaching with caution North Marginal Drive, and proceeded into the intersection whereupon an accident took place with another vehicle heading westbound on the Service Road of the L. I. Expressway.

At this time the accident is being investigated by the Nassau County Police Dept., and the Fire District is awaiting the results of the Police Dept.'s findings. A brake test was done at the scene by Nassau County Police Dept., and the said fire department vehicle was released.

The operator of the car involved in the accident was admitted to Nassau County Medical Center.

There were no firefighters injured in this accident.

Fire Dept. officials are compiling information concerning this accident for their own records.

Hicksville School Bd. Sets No Growth Budget

By Maureen Traxler

With barely one month remaining before the voters go to the polls, the Hicksville Board of Education was pressed to come up with a figure for its 1991-92 budget. In the final minutes of its April 24 meeting, the Board unanimously accepted a budget of $49,814,000.

The Board had been following a line-by-line review of the proposed spending plan, but to date had not covered the bulk of the Instructional Code, the code most vulnerable to cuts. Hicksville Council of PTAs President Peggy Theis chided the Board for its foot-dragging on code 2000, which she said, "has a direct impact on the children." She further objected to "the lack of a total budget figure" at the start of the meeting, which was billed as the public budget hearing.

In order to hasten the process, trustee William Bennett by-passed the line-by-line review and initially motioned that the Board accept the figure of $49,600,000 and allow the Superintendent to determine within the confines of the codes the reductions to meet that figure.

"This figure represents no growth in expenditures," over the austerity budget of $49,872,182, noted Mr. Bennett. "(It) would educate our children and give them good programs" ... and "would allow the Board to go before the public and give them a figure they can accept," he added.

But, this attempt failed when other Board members were dissatisfied with the Superintendent's choices for additional cuts. The Board then passed Mr. Bennett's second motion to approve a budget figure for 1991-92 of $49,814,000.

The cuts Dr. Fenton indicated she would make, if requested to reduce the budget further, were: (1) Drivers Education, which she termed "very expensive because of the rate we must pay based on salaries," (2) an elementary elective course; (3) a staff position at the secondary level; (4) $20,000 in new equipment; (5) $11,500 from Section VIII interscholastic sports, a program which has already been curtailed in some areas by BOCES; and (6) eliminate the elementary teaching position in reserve in case there is a class which must be split in the fall. The Board avoided reductions in these areas by approving the $49,814,000 figure.

The major factors which contributed to the Board's success in achieving the $49.8 million figure were the elimination of 35 staff positions (due, in part, to the closing of Willet Avenue School), reduction in supplies and new equipment requests, reductions in Travel & Conference expenses, deferral of a $181,000 payment to the State's Teachers Retirement System, and an estimated lower cost for asbestos abatement in 1991-92, the last year of the district's three-year management plan.

Assistant Superintendent William Hall said it is too early to determine an estimated tax rate since there are certain income variables which have not been pinned down yet, such as the negotiations for a lease of the Willet Avenue School and the adoption of a State budget. The school district is looking at possible drastic reductions in State aid for the 1991-92 school year. On the brighter side, Mr. Hall indicated that over the past five years, the Hicksville community has seen an increase in assessed value which acts to keep the tax rate down.

Board President Carole Wolf made an offer to local organizations to have a Board representative address their memberships on the budget proposal. Any group wishing to have a guest speaker was asked to call Alice Wider, 933-6600, to make arrangements.

Mr. Thomas Farrell, Chairman of the Citizens Budget Advisory Committee, read a letter to the Board in which he outlined suggestions put forth by the committee. Highlights include:

- Review of reserve accounts to justify need of present levels
- Review of workmen's compensation claims
- Aggressive exploration of modifications to salary and benefits in future contract negotiations
- Reductions in the areas being used in existing buildings to reduce energy costs, maintenance costs and related expenses.
- Additional building closings by September 1992, and a re-examination of current capacity numbers for all schools.

Letters to the Editor

To The Community:

The Volunteer Firemen of Hicksville once again request your support in their Annual Fund Drive. In the past you have been most generous and we are looking forward to your support in 1991.

Your Firemen give freely of themselves in all ways and risk their lives in the performance of their duties for which they receive no compensation nor is any expected. These neighbors of yours stand ready each day and night of the year to guard you and your loved ones against the ravages of fire and disaster. In the past year, your Fire Department answered 1344 appeals for aid. Fires accounted for 674 of these calls, while rescue and emergency calls totaled 670. There were 69 malicious false alarms last year.

Your contribution will be used for our Welfare Fund and other necessary expenses not covered by your tax money. For these activities, we depend solely upon your generosity.

Because of increased postal rates and the number of address changes that occur each year, we have addressed the appeal to Resident rather than the individual name. This will in no way interfere with crediting the individual with his or her donation, but will expedite mailing and control.

Please mail your contribution today. Make your check payable to the Hicksville Fire Department. Your donation is tax deductible. Please return your contribution in the envelope provided.

With your help, we will continue to provide the protection that the community of Hicksville needs and deserves.

Respectfully,
1991 Fund Drive Committee

To the Editor:

Life, many years ago, meant "League for Intelligent Financing of Education."

This letter is to the past members of LIFE, and to all the people of Hicksville, who remember Charlie Fetta, and all the hard work he put into trying to keep taxes down, while not sacrificing the education of the children of the district. He had a lot of support from many people of the district and one of his supporters was Mrs. Mary E. Carton.

If Charlie Fetta were still upon this earth, I know he would ask you for your support, as I his wife is doing, in electing to the School Board Mrs. Mary E. Carton for the vacant seat of former School Board Trustee William Bennett.

On May 22 in your local schools please vote for Mary E. Carton Row 1B.

Thanking you all,
Elizabeth (Betty) Fetta

To The Editor:

I Mary E. Carton have filed to be a candidate for election to our school board. As a member of the silent majority, I can no longer be silent. I need help to put forth the thoughts and concerns of you, The Silent Majority of Hicksville. The help I need is your "vote." My platform is simple:

To provide the students of Hicksville with a meaningful education program where all children will be provided with the opportunity to learn to the best of their ability.

To provide this academic opportunity in the most cost effective manner.

To provide for reasonable extra curricula activities that will contribute to the enrichment of the education program.

To provide the Private/Parochial student of the Hicksville School District, the necessary transportation, books, and other tools to assist in their learning, as we have done in the past. Parents of these children are taxpayers, and should receive respect and encouragement.

To provide our teachers with a climate that is based upon respect, so that working in Hicksville will be done willingly. This type of atmosphere will retain some of the best teachers on Long Island, and attract the best in the years to come.

My motto is "establish academic excellence thru fiscal responsibility."

Sincerely,
Mary E. Carton

To the Editor:

I wish to announce my candidacy for the position of Hicksville School Board Trustee.

I have been a resident of Hicksville since 1962. I attended Lee Avenue School, Hicksville Junior High School and graduated Hicksville High School in 1979. I graduated Hofstra University in 1983 with a Bachelor of Arts degree in History. I received my Juris Doctor degree from Hofstra University School of Law in 1986. Currently I am employed as a Corporate Attorney with Gruman Corporation.

My wife Cathy (Hamerschlag) and I have been married 11 months and we own a home on Washington Avenue, in the Woodland Avenue School area.

I have been involved in many different areas of the Hicksville community. I was a member of the School District Reorganization Committee from 1987 to 1988. I was Secretary of the Giese Park Civic Association from 1989 to 1990. I am currently President of St. Paul's Parish Council, Vice Chairman of the Diocesan Regional School Board, an officer in the Knights of Columbus, Council 6802, a member of the Hicksville Republican Club and a member of Concerned Citizens of Hicksville, Inc.

This year's School Board Election is one of the most crucial that Hicksville has ever or will ever face. The Board you elect on May 22 will hire a new Superintendent and negotiate the next contract with the Teachers' Union. It will also face the continuing problems of under-utilized facilities, rising budgets and declining revenues.

Hicksville needs and deserves a Board that cares about this community, and a Board that will be fair to all people of Hicksville. For the last two years the Board has been dominated by people with special interests, and even worse, people with no interest at all. Hicksville is more divided today than at any other time in my memory. This division is a direct result of the weak leadership of the Board. Nothing insures division in a community more than weak leadership.

Hicksville has had enough, of these "Dark Times." It is time for Hicksville to start again. It is time for a Board that will present a budget that is educationally sound, fiscally responsible and economically fair. It is time for a Board that will not cower and cringe before the special interests, no matter how loud or how powerful they may be. It is time for a Board that will make the hard decisions, using the information before it, together with the business experience and common sense of its members. It is time for a Board that will stick by its decisions, not vacillate like weeds in a windstorm. It is time for Hicksville to "Shine" again!

That is why I am asking this community to elect me to the School Board. I have been through Hicksville's schools. I know its strengths and its weaknesses. I am a product of this district. I know how well it can work with the right people leading the way.

No matter what happens in this election, Jim Martillo, Bill Collins and Arlene Rudin will still be on the Board next year. A single person cannot turn the tide and restore credibility, integrity and honor to the Board. Fortunately, I have the great pleasure of running on a ticket with Helen Lafferty and Richard Pfander. Together, as a team, we can begin to rebuild and restructure this district, so that it will work again.

The three of us will work together for a Hicksville of which we can all be proud. We want Hicksville to make headlines for its quality education, not for scandals involving School Board members. So, if you are tired of the vacuum where there used to be leadership and pride, vote for the Team of Lafferty, Pfander and Black. On May 22, VOTE ROW A!

Very truly yours,
James M. Black

To the Editor:

This is in reference to Mr. Bill Bennett's letter published in the Mid-Island Times of April 26.

After having served our community for so many years, it is indeed a pity that Bill has chosen to go out on a sour note. One who doesn't attend school board meetings and happens to read Bill's letter may be led to believe that all our School Board Trustees are incompetent and always wrong when they don't agree with Bill. This just isn't so. When everybody is always wrong, except Bill, then perhaps it is time for the perfect one to reassess his values and thinking and show a little more tolerance and cooperation towards one's fellow-trustees.

As a board-watcher who attends every public meeting of the board, I submit that no trustee works harder than Mrs. Wolf and Rudin at sensibly controlling the expenditures of our school district. In fact, absent Mr. Bennett's constant hampering and embarrassing verbal attacks on fellow-trustees and Budget Advisory Committee all throughout the budget-making process, it is very likely that the proposed budget of $49.8 million (excluding transportation) would have been brought down to about $47 million. It is Mr. Bennett that made the Board ineffective in analyzing the budget submitted by our Superintendent. Sorry Bill, but I was there and I saw it all!

As one who has known Bill for some 20 years and supported him throughout his tenure of many years, I find it regrettable that during his last year as a trustee, his thinking and his words became clouded and no longer in tune with his hard work of the past. Nevertheless, he deserves a great deal of respect and credit for having devoted so much of his time in the service of our community. I know he cares and will continue to care.

I do agree with Bill that Mrs. Helen Lafferty deserves to represent us on our school board. Helen is a no-nonsense person who doesn't just sit by the sidelines and carp. She is articulate and always maintains a sense of dignity. She understands the pulse of our community and would make a fine and impartial school trustee. Please vote for Helen on May 22, annual school district election day.

Sincerely,
Jean Diradourian

To the Editor:

I would like to announce my candidacy for the seat on the Board of Education being vacated by William Bennett who has served this community with distinction for many years. I have decided to run because as taxpayers we are in the midst of a financial crisis that directly affects all of us. For the past several years, the Board majority has not made the necessary difficult decisions to preserve academic excellence and fiscal stability in our community.

I have been a resident of Hicksville for over 30 years. My sons attended public schools and I was active in PTA and community organizations. I am a Past-President of Burns Avenue School PTA and a PTA Honorary Life Member. I am a member of St. Paul the Apostle Church Parish Council and a Eucharistic Minister serving the elderly and home-bound sick. In recent years I have been active in the Northwest Civic Assn. working to curb industries encroaching on residential areas of our town.

I have more than 30 years of business experience and am a licensed real estate broker.

I believe in educational excellence for our children not in keeping open half empty schools. I would rather see fewer schools with first rate academic and fine arts programs than have many schools with mediocre programs. I am opposed to public transportation for private and parochial school children. Child safety is a priority.

If elected, I will do my best to be objective, will listen with respect to everyone speaking before the Board and base my decisions on what is best for the students and what taxpayers can afford to pay. I will treat my opponents with respect and strive for a harmonious and productive relationship with present Board members.

I will work very hard to negotiate a new teacher's contract that reflects the realities of the economy and our ability to pay.

My candidacy is being sponsored by the "Concerned Citizens of Hicksville" and my running mates are Richard Pfander and James Black. I urge you to vote Row A - Lafferty, Pfander, Black. We will bring intelligence, honesty and integrity to the School Board. I truly believe I can make a positive contribution to our community and ask for your support.

Helen M. Lafferty

NOTICE OF ANNUAL
DISTRICT ELECTION
HICKSVILLE UNION FREE
SCHOOL DISTRICT
HICKSVILLE, N. Y.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that pursuant to the resolution of the Board of Education of Hicksville Union Free School District, Hicksville, New York adopted March 27, 1991, the Annual District Election of the qualified voters of this School District will be held on May 22, 1991, between the hours of 10:00 a.m. (D.S.T.) and 10:00 p.m. (D. S. T.) in the seven Election Districts, stated below, for the purpose of voting upon the following propositions(s):

Proposition No. 1
Shall the Budget approved by the Board of Education pursuant to Section 1716, be approved, and a tax on the taxable property of the District in the amount of such Budget, less State and Federal Aid and revenues from other sources be levied?

Proposition No. 2
In the event that the voters approve the school district budget contained at Proposition No. 1 above, shall the sum of Thirty Thousand ($30,000) Dollars be appropriated to the Gregory Museum for educational services associated with its programs and a tax be levied in that amount.

This Proposition is contingent upon the approval of the voters of Proposition No. 1.

PROPOSITION NO. 3
In the event that the school district budget contained at Proposition No. 1 above is approved by the voters, shall the distance that students reside from the school they attend be reduced for the purpose of eligibility for school bus transportation to and from school as provided in the Education Law as follows:

Kindergarten through Grade 3 - those who live more than 1/2 mile from the school, Grades 4 through 6 - those who live more than 3/4 mile from the school, Grades 7 through 8 - those who live more than 1.5 miles from the school, Grades 9 through 12 - those who live more than 2.0 miles from the school, for an additional cost of not to exceed $916,441 Dollars and the school district be empowered to collect the necessary taxes therefor. The enactment of this Proposition is contingent upon the approval by the voters of Proposition No. 1.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that nominating petitions for the office of member of the Board of Education must be filed with the Clerk of the School District no later than thirty (30) days before the Annual Meeting, said date being Monday, April 22, 1991, between the hours of 9:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. A separate petition shall be required to nominate a candidate to each separate office. Each petition shall be directed to the Clerk of the School District, shall be signed by at least 103 qualified voters of the District (the same being two percent (2%) of the number of voters who voted in the previous Annual Meeting) shall state the residence of each signer, the name and residence of the candidate, and describe the specific

Selected To Attend Boys, Girls State

Hicksville High School Juniors John Butt, Timothy Glover, and Colleen Bartley have been selected to attend the Boys' State and Girls' State programs, respectively, the week of June 23 through 29. The programs this year will take place at Alfred University for Boys' State and Russell Sage College for Girls' State.

Boys' State and Girls' State are programs of the American Legion developed from the concept that youth should be offered a better perspective of the practical operation of government. Qualified high school juniors from across the state take part in a practical government course designed to develop a working knowledge of the structure of government. Through this program, the American Legion strives to develop civic leadership and pride in American Citizenship and to arouse a keen interest in the detailed study of our government. Students set-up and partake in their own governmental structure for the week. Physical fitness training for a parade is one of the high points of the program. John Butt is a member of the Band, Jazz Band, Orchestra, International Thespian Society, Modern Music Masters, and the National Honor Society. He enjoys classic fiction, and playing the bassoon and saxophone. John plans on pursuing a career in medicine.

Timothy Glover is a member of the Student Athlete Leadership Program, Varsity Football (Quarterback), Varsity Winter Track, Varsity Lacrosse, National Honor Society, Spanish Honor Society, Junior Prom Committee, and is listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students. He is also on the Board of Directors of the Hicksville Youth Council. Timothy plans on furthering his education in sports medicine and physical therapy.

Colleen Bartley is a member of the Band, Orchestra, Colorguard, Volunteer Club, Key Club, TADA (teens Against Drug Abuse), SADD (Students Against Drunk Driving), Cheerleading, French Club, Peer Counseling, Yearbook, Comets Newspaper, National Honor Society, Woodwind Quintet (oboe), Tri-M, Drama Club, Junior Prom Committee, Supt. Search Committee and the Middle State Committee. She plans to further her education after high school and is considering the reserves.

These students were chosen after being nominated by administrators, guidance counselors and the advanced placement history department staff. They were then screened and interviewed for this honor before the final selections were made.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a resolution was duly adopted by the Board of Commissioners of the Hicksville Fire District, Town of Oyster Bay, County of Nassau, State of New York, on the Twenty-ninth day April 1991 subject to a permissive referendum, as provided for by Sec. 6-G of the General Municipal Law.

An abstract of the resolution is as follows:

The Hicksville Fire District maintains a Capital Reserve Fund under Sec. 6-G of the General Municipal Law in which account there is sufficient funds to accomplish the purpose herein set forth, namely,

One (1) Hazardous Materials Vehicle complete with related warning lights, instruments, radios, and all required equipment to make said vehicle service ready. Included in this resolution is all the legal and clerical fees necessary for purchase of said vehicles and any inspection trips needed.

The resolution further provides that there be transferred from the present Capital Reserve 6-G Fund of the Hicksville Fire District not to exceed Three hundred twenty five thousand dollars ($325,000) and the District Treasurer is authorized to effect such transfer.

The resolution shall not take effect until May 31, 1991 unless in the meanwhile, a permissive referendum as provided for in Sec. 6-G of the General Municipal Law is required to be held.

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE FOR AEROSPACE CAMP

Applications are now available for a unique Aerospace Camp for boys and girls entering grades 5, 6 or 7 to be held at the Cradle of Aviation Museum in Garden City during the Summer.

The Camp has been very popular with the youngsters and suggested that parents sign their children up early. The Cradle of Aviation Museum, now in its formative stages, will eventually be the second largest air/space museum in the country.

The following activities will be available to youngsters who enroll in the four-day sessions:

- *Air and spacecraft simulations, including hands-on use of a Lunar Lander Simulator and airliner cock-pit simulator.
- *Anatomy of life support systems, including a chance to wear an authentic space suit.
- *Model rocket building and launching.
- *Planetarium sky show.
- *Hands-on instruction with selected aircraft from the Museum's collection.

Each camp session will be held from Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and begin on the following dates: July 8, 15, 22, 29, August 5 and 12. The tuition is $125 per session and covers counselor supervision, training

CPR Course For Young Adults

First Aid and CPR for Young Adults on Saturday, June 15, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Hicksville Young Adults 13 to college age, are invited to take this important American Red Cross First Aid and CPR course.

Class size is very limited. It is an eight hour course. Each participant, upon completion of the eight hour instruction and passing the test, will receive a first aid and CPR certificate and a standard first aid book.

This is a $25 fee which is payable upon registration at the Circulation desk of the library.

Gregory M.C. At Symposium

Gardiner Gregory, founder of "The Hicksville Gregory Museum" was the Master of Ceremonies at the Main Mineral Symposium, held on April 20 in Jewett Hall at the University of Maine at Augusta.

The event was co-sponsored by "The Mineralogical and Geological Society" and the "Federation of Maine Mineral and Gem Clubs."

Mr. Gregory is President of the Maine "Downeast Mineral Club" and Honorary Member of "The Kennebec Club" of Winthrop, Maine.

Library Bus Trip

The Hicksville Public Library has tickets available to the 1991 Pulitzer Prize winner Neil Simon's comedy play "Lost In Yonkers." Make your reservations now, at the circulation desk of the library. Tickets cost $56 per person cash only. The bus will leave the library at 5 p.m. on Friday evening, June 7; show time is 8 p.m. Orchestra seating.

PTA Celebrates Teacher Appreciation

All of us remember special teachers from our school days. Perhaps they taught us something extraordinary, or motivated us, or were friends when we needed them. Because they were so special to us, we made sure to let them know how much we appreciated what they gave us.

But if you think very carefully, all of our teachers gave us knowledge that we didn't get from anyone else. Yet we probably never took the time to thank them for what they shared with us.

For all of us who neglected to say "thanks" to our teachers, the National PTA is giving us a chance by sponsoring "Teacher Appreciation Week," May 5-11. On behalf of over 6 million members nationwide, the Hicksville Council of PTAs is reminding everyone to let teachers know how much they mean to students and the community.

A strong, effective system of free public education for children is essential to our democratic society. The role of teachers in this society has never been more important.

Let's focus on the good coming from our schools during "Teacher Appreciation Week." Encourage your children to show their appreciation to their teachers. You can, too. A smile and a "thanks" is all it takes. Join the PTA in celebrating "Teacher Appreciation Week."

Basket Workshop At Library

On Thursday, May 16, at 8 p.m. The Hicksville Public Library will hold a "May Basket" workshop. Register at the library 169 Jerusalem Avenue, Hicksville.

In the workshop you will decorate a basket as fresh as spring itself. The basket trimmed with flowers and ribbon makes a beautiful centerpiece. There is a materials fee of $7.50. Bring to class: Scissors, glue gun, (if you have one) and velverette glue.

From A Local Historian's Scrapbook

A community's history is a-building, day by day. Local events happen each week, and become history the moment after. The month of April, 1991 in Hicksville was no exception, and a local historian was on hand with his 110 Keystone to register the "faces and places" for posterity.

New Director Ladies Aux. VFW

Joan Chwalisz of Hicksville, will take office in August as National Rehabilitation Director for the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Joins other incoming national directors, state presidents and other key leaders at the national planning conference for the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, beginning today at the Hilton Plaza Inn in Kansas City, Mo. Mrs. Chwalisz will make a short presentation outlining new ways to conduct the Rehabilitation program and encouraging the leaders to reach the program goals for 1991-92.

New Officers For Alumni Assn.

The Hicksville High School Alumni Association held its annual meeting on Monday, April 22. At this meeting new officers were elected and installed. The new officers for 1991, are as follows: President, Janice Manaskie; Vice President, Peggy Gill; Treasurer, Dolores Crawford; Correspondent Secretary, Gwen Schaal; Recording Secretary, Tom Manaskie; Membership Secretary, Grace Way. For 3 year terms on the Board of Directors: Conrad Weyer, immediate past president, Jim Fyle, Dorothy and Henry Brengel, Linda Shell, Vicki Vrona and Tom Gill.

The Alumni Association will be sponsoring the 3rd Annual Scholars' Dinner on May 1, at 7 p.m., to be held at the Elks Club on E. Barclay Street. This is one of the ways in which we strive to recognize our outstanding Hicksville students.

The Alumni Association is also expecting to hold a brunch sometime in the Fall. It is in the planning stage presently and promises to be a pleasant way to meet and greet many old friends. Please keep an eye out for further information in the coming months.

Our next meeting will be held on Monday, May 13, at 8 p.m. For information concerning the location and directions to the meeting, please call 796-3407. We our Alumni as possible join us.

Youth Council Board Meeting

The Hicksville Youth Council will hold its monthly Board Meeting on Monday, May 7, at 7:30 p.m. at the Youth Council, 175 West Old Country Road, Hicksville, New York. Everyone welcome!

Mrs. Phoebe Underhill Smith, guest speaker for the April meeting, Hicksville Historical Society, enthralled a larger turnout with reminiscences of her girlhood on a Jericho farm and as a member of the Jericho Quaker Meeting.

At the American Legion Testimonial Dinner at the Astorian Manor for National Commander Robert S. Turner and having a blast are Richard and Cynthia Hochbreuckner, Hicksville Post 421 Commander and Auxiliary President.

Earth Day was observed in part in Hicksville with the Town of Oyster Bay's tree-planting program, enhancing community veterans' monuments, in 1991 at the John F. Kennedy Memorial, dedicated in 1965 to honor specifically Hicksville's war dead, are left to right: Edward Quinn, member of the original Kennedy Memorial fundraising committee; Joyce Jurgensen, Co-Chairperson, Mid-Island Support Group for Operation Desert Shield; Town Councilman Thomas Clark and Past Commander Arlene Howard and Richard Evers of the Hicksville American Legion.

The John F. Kennedy Memorial in the foreground was beautified last week by a Town of Oyster Bay Arbor and Earth Day tree-planting with veterans group members in attendance.

Bill's Towing of Midland Ave., Hicksville lent its truck to the cause of community history Saturday, to transfer the Dr. Elwood Curtis one-time horseblock steppingstone from its former home, the Jolly Swagman Restaurant, to the grounds of the Hicksville Old Courthouse, home of the Gregory Museum.

Sean Carr and Adam Ehrsam of Bill's Towing and the historic memento, Dr. Elwood Curtis' horseblock steppingstone, from the Curtis' one-time home (today's Jolly Swagman Restaurant) being preserved through the efforts of the Gregory Museum Historical Committee.

Hicksville Beats Auburndale 2-0

The Hicksville Minutemen 1977 B travelling soccer team evened their LI Junior Soccer League record at 2 wins, 2 ties, and 2 losses, via a thoroughly dominating 2-0 whitewashing of the Auburndale Navahoos at the latter's field, Saturday, April 27, led by the sensational play of Jorge daSilva at sweeper.

Hicksville, playing minus two starters and their top two subs, had something to prove to themselves, and played with that idea in mind, from the opening to closing whistle of the game, controlling the ball and the game's tempo at the offensive end, midfield, and in the defensive zone. Their constant persistence paid off at the game's 29 minutes mark, as their offensive pressure forced Auburndale to put the ball over the end line, setting up an Anthony Noya corner kick, which went directly to left half Michael Hershkowitz, who had been moved to the center of the pack, as the play unfolded, and he put it past the Auburndale keeper for a 1-0 Hicksville lead. Three minutes later, Brian Rigert, at left wing, gave Doug Garcia, at striker, a perfect lead pass, which he carried in and put past the Auburndale goalkeeper for a 2-0 Minutemen goal.

The Minutemen totally controlled the second half, although the Navahoos, who were "physical" throughout the game, resorted to tactics that more resembled Australian Rules Football rather than soccer. DaSilver, anchoring the defense, ably assisted by Greg Walunas at right fullback; Timmy Dalton at left fullback; Andres Turcios at stopper, and Danny dePinho in goal thwarted all Auburndale charges and made excellent use of the offside trap. Jason Brown at right halfback, Anthony Noya at center half and Mike Hershkowitz at left half back played an aggressive two way game, which thoroughly bottled up the mid-field area. Doug Garcia, at striker and right wing, led the offensive charges, ably assisted by Brian Rigert, Bobby Wagner, and Alcino Silva at wing.

Congratulations to the minutemen who played their best game of the season, as well as to Coach Tony dePinho, Assistant Coach AJ Blicker, and sponsor Seaman & Eisemann for 70 minutes of winning, exciting soccer play.

HBA Weekly News Update

The 1991 season of Hicksville Baseball Association is off to a great start. Here are some of the highlights from a few games that have been played:

The Opening Day game of the Girls Minor Division was highlighted by a game played Tuesday night at the Abe Levitt Complex. The two teams, Kiwanis Club (team #5), managed by Mike Lampert and Plaster Fun Time (team #2), managed by Greg Simonelli, tried to play Saturday after the Opening Day Parade and ceremonies, but were forced to cancel after 2 innings when the rain came.

The game was rescheduled for Tuesday and had all the fanfare and excitement that was washed away Saturday. There were happy players, enthusiastic parents and a great softball game, which ended in a 10-10 tie score.

One of the highlights of the game was a triple play, pulled off by the Kiwanis Club team. With the bases loaded and no one out, Terri Anderson of the Plaster Fun Time team lined to 1st base and Kristen Zeiders caught the ball and doubled the runner off 1st. She then threw to Theresa Lampert who completed the triple play by forcing the girl off of third.

The Kiwanis Club team then made a dramatic comeback to tie the game 10-10 by scoring 5 runs in the 6th and last inning, forcing the game to be called on account of darkness.

Also impressive in her pitching debut for HBA was Gina Simonelli, who pitched 2 scoreless innings in her very first outing as pitcher.

Congratulations to all and may all your games end in a tie.

Boys Instructional Division

The Yankees, sponsored by Westbury Savings & Loan and managed by Joe Restivo, opened their season with a fine game against the hard playing Pirates.

Matthew Restivo playing a solid first base had four base hits as did Billy Cain, David Skelly, Anthony Minervini and Joseph Ahern. Good fielding by Gregory Kravetski, Michael Kalos and Chris Colantropo kept the Yankees in the game throughout.

Two days later, the Yankees came to bat against the Cubs. Michael Recher and his Yankee teammates had a great game on instructional night against the Cubs on Senior Field. Base hits by Eugene Pietzak, Patrick Mullen, Chris Radi and Robbie Hasset helped the Yankees score some big runs. Michael Rechers great defensive plays drew cheers from an enthusiastic crowd.

Boys Minor Division

The first game of the season for the Cubs, managed by Joe Caruso was an exciting one as they came up against the strong Yankees, managed by Cosimo Volpe.

Joey Caruso and Adam Geslak pitched a super game - Joey striking out 7 batters and Adam only giving up one hit and two walks. Outstanding fielding was done by Chris Johnson and Jason Basso. Joe Restivo did a great job as catcher. The whole team pulled together leading the Cubs to a 10-7 victory under the superb management of Joe Caruso... Well done Cubs!!!

Boys Major Division

The Cubs, managed by Tom Logan, started their season off with a victory against the Mets, winning with the score at 9-2.

Mike Logan pitched three good innings, going 2 for 2, and a walk at bat. Marty Hughes was 2 for 2 and a walk and solid at first base. Chris DeStefano was strong behind the plate. Brian Allen came in to finish the game at pitching the closing innings. Tom Morillo made some good defensive plays. The whole team played a well rounded game of baseball our first game of the year. Great Job!!!

WHEREAS, The County Government Law of Nassau County (Chapter 879 of the Laws of 1936 as amended) and the Nassau County Administrative Code (Chapter 272 of the Laws of 1939 and amendments thereto) provide that the assessment roll of the County of Nassau be completed on or before the first day of May in each year, and on the completion thereof the Board of Assessors shall forthwith cause to be published and posted a resolution or notice that the roll has been completed, and designating the places where several portions or copies of the same have been placed on file and where they may be examined by any person during business hours every business day and at least one evening each week until the third Tuesday of May of each year; that on that day, to wit; the third Tuesday of May, the Board of Assessors will meet at the time and the places provided in said resolution and notice, at which any person aggrieved by the assessment may appear and be heard in relation thereto; and

WHEREAS, the Real Property Tax Law (Chapter 957 Laws of 1970) requires that the Board of Assessment Review shall hear and determine complaints in relation to assessments and shall meet to hear complaints on the third Tuesday of May; that on that day, to wit; the third Tuesday of May, the Board of Assessment Review will meet at the time and at the places provided in said resolution and notice, at which any person aggrieved by the assessment may appear and be heard in relation thereto; and

WHEREAS, the assessment roll for the year 1991 upon which taxes will be levied for the year 1992 for the town of Hempstead, the Town of North Hempstead, and the Town of Oyster Bay, the City of Long Beach and the City of Glen Cove, has been prepared by the Board of Assessors of Nassau County and has been completed. Now, therefore be it

RESOLVED, that the assessment roll of the County of Nassau, State of New York, for the year 1991 upon which taxes will be levied in the three towns and two cities within the County of Nassau for the year 1992 has been and is completed; and that a hearing of grievances as to complaints on said assessment roll shall include and be deemed a hearing of grievances in relation to the school district assessment roll, and it is further

RESOLVED, that this resolution and the following notice be published in the official newspaper of the County of Nassau, to wit; the "Newsday."

Hicksville School Bd. Sets Budget

- A longer planning cycle than the current year-by-year approach, due to the changing makeup of the district.
- The Budget Committee be retained to continue review of budget items and policy.
- Matching funding formula for youth programs with the district making the same contribution as the Town of Oyster Bay and additional funds coming from those that use the program.
- Other recommendations for changes in the business operations of the district.

In general public session, several residents asked for clarification on Propositions 2 and 3 which will appear on the May 22 ballot, and clarification of the Board's discussion of instituting public transportation for secondary level students attending private and parochial schools outside the district.

Mrs. Wolf explained that Proposition 3 (Transportation) would cover daily bus service for in-district students, returning eligibility to the pre-austerity (1989-90) district guidelines: Kindergarten to Grade 3 - 1/2 mile; Grades 4-6 - 3/4 mile; Grades 7-8 - 1 1/2 miles; and Grades 9-12 - 2 miles. She added that the cost of buses for field trips and out-of-district sporting events is contained in the budget (Proposition 1). Therefore, she noted that voter approval for bus transportation to and from school will be reflected by passage of Proposition 3. She emphasized, however, that implementation of Proposition 3 is contingent upon the passage of Proposition 1 (the budget).

Mrs. Wolf assured residents that bus transportation for students attending non-public schools is included in the budget proposal this year. She explained that the Board had been discussing the possibilities of future use of public transportation for secondary level students attending out-of-district schools. No decisions were made and data is still being compiled and explored.

Mr. Bennett interjected that parents are concerned not just about this year's budget, adding, "The parents of students in private and parochial schools pay the school taxes to support public education," and should be given consideration in the future.

In response to a resident's questions regarding Proposition 2 (Expenditure for the Gregory Museum), Mrs. Rosemary Barrow, Trustee of the Gregory, detailed some background. Twenty-five years ago when earth science was introduced into the school curriculum, Gardner Gregory began a collection which he made available to the district. Eventually the collection was too large to house in his home, and he moved it into the Helix Place Courthouse, which had been allowed to go into disrepair by the Town. Local residents and businesses helped repair and rebuild the courthouse.

Several years back the district entered into a service contract with the Gregory Museum whereby the museum does not charge the school district for any services. Hicksville residents are exempt from admission costs; classes receive free tours and demonstrations; and in-service courses are provided by teachers.

Local historian and museum Historical Committee Chairman Dick Evers said that additional information on this issue will be forthcoming for residents in the coming weeks.

Meeting some hesitancy by Mrs. Wolf to disclose the parties with which the Board is negotiating a lease for the Willet Avenue School, several residents pressed for information. They noted that in no way did they wish to hinder the negotiations, but on the other hand, they felt they had a right to know with whom the Board is negotiating. Yielding, Mrs. Wolf revealed that the Board is speaking with North Shore Hospital and Solomon Schechter Day School, two applicants which the Willet Lease Review Committee had recommended for consideration.

In response to the recent tragic accident where a youngster died after being pinned by a gym door, the Board approved repair and renovation of gym partition doors at an estimated amount of $61,250. Dr. Fenton noted that the renovation will include the installation of "lead safe edging," a rubber mechanism seen on many elevator doors where when you touch it, it automatically recedes. "This renovation makes our (safe) doors safer," stated Dr. Fenton.

The next regular meeting of the Board will be on the evening of the annual vote for the budget and trustees, Wednesday, May 22, at 8:15 p.m., in the high school cafeteria.

Minutemen In 4th Round For Cup

The Hicksville Minutemen 1977

B travelling soccer team progressed to the 4th round of the N. Y. State Cup Tournament in their age group, via a 8-0 pasting of Schenectady, New York, at Triangle Field on Sunday, April 28, in a game that featured total domination on the part of the Minutemen.

The defense, which constantly kept the ball moving upfield, was anchored by Danny dePinho in goal in the first half and Bobby Braun in goal in the second, ably assisted by Kenny D'Introno as sweeper, Timmy Dalton at left halfback, Greg Walunas at right fullback and Andres Turcios at stopper. The first half goals were scored by Richard Werchenski on a header off an Anthony Noya corner kick, at the game's 5 minute mark; Coffey off an Anthony Noya setup at the 20 minutes mark; and Werchenski again, off a Coffey feed at the 25 minute mark for a 5-0 halftime

dePinho switched to left wing in the second half and was set up by Coffey one minute into the play. Four minutes later, Coffey again set up dePinho. The Minutemen then did much passing, constantly moving the ball around, for the next 20 minutes at which time Jason Brown set up Noya who put in a line drive from 25 yards out, for an 8-0 lead. All of the defensive players then switched to offense for the game's final 10 minutes. Besides the aforementioned, Bobby Wagner and Brian Rigert played a fine game at wing, striker and halfback. Congratulations to the Minutemen for moving into territory not usually seen by a "B" team, as well as to Coach Tony dePinho, Assistant Coach Al Blicher, and Sponsor Seaman & Eisemann. Good luck next Sunday, in Middletown, N.Y., when the team takes on Walkill!

Input Callers Against Giving Victim's Name

Most callers to Input believe that the names of victims of sex attacks should not be released in answer to this question: "Do you think that media should disclose the names of victims of sex attacks?" Here are some of the answers:

IF VICTIM AGREES

I think that the disclosure should only be if the victim agrees that it should be made. In general there is a stigma associated with rape and other sex crimes. The stigma is unfair because the victim has no say about the crime and society should change. But since society is biased, the next best thing, I believe, is to withhold the victim's name unless the release is asked for by the victim. I think the N.Y. Times went out of its way to give the name and a biography of the person who was a victim. Somehow it seems that the Times may have been trying to help the Kennedy name when it should have simply been reporting the news. G.F.

WON'T STAND UP

Under the First Amendment to the Constitution no law will probably stand up under court attack because the press is allowed to print what it wishes. In the Kennedy-Smith case the name was already printed in British newspapers and NBC also said it was going to give it out. It is possible for the police to hold back the name but if the victim or other sources give the name then it is up to the newspapers to withhold it. This should be by consent of good publications. A law probably would be unconstitutional. J.G.

DOUBLE STANDARD

There was a very odd double standard in the Tawana Brawley case. Her name was given almost from the beginning in newspapers and the Central Park jogger's name was withheld by most newspapers but given in the Amsterdam News. The problem is one that takes more than simply passing a law. It is one where we expect the media to have restraint or risk the wrath of the public. L.G.

SINGLE STANDARD

There are big problems in rape cases. Some reported cases may not be at all what they are reported and in these cases the accused is subject to a great deal of social pressure even though he may not be guilty. The answer may well be that neither the accused nor the victim's name should be given to the press. In this way a single standard is maintained. After conviction the name could be given. Unfortunately to keep the accused name private would mean that there would be a closed trial and this might run into constitutional difficulty because it might lead to suspicion that a fair trial is not being conducted. In a case in Massachusetts a rape case was televised. The accused were convicted. Unfortunately the victim committed suicide some months later. This might indicate that special rules will have to be made and added to the Constitution if need be. G.D.

OUT OF HAND

The Smith case in Palm Beach was all out of hand because it was a Kennedy case and anything that family is connected with is bigtime news. It would have been difficult to keep the name from being known. And when the case came to court it is sure that it would be public information. The only problem I see with the release of names is that if it is done before an indictment it could lead to wrong conclusions by the public. M.F.

NO SENSITIVITY

I believe that legislation is presently under way in Albany to forbid media publication of the names of victims of sex attacks as it is in other states and I agree completely. Actually, there are a couple of angles to this, the first being that there could have been no such attack to start with - the release of the allegation having been made for selfish reasons; and the second, because premature publication of the unproven act would constitute an abrogation of the legal rights of both parties. Character assassination is so easily accomplished and the rewards or penalties are not that readily effected if at all. It surprises me to find that certain members of the media have treated the situation so lightly considering their sensitivity to such action in the light of their highly publicized attitude toward moral and legal responsibility. P.G.S.

PAST ISSUES

NANCY'S BIO

Where there is smoke there is fire. Nancy Reagan's biography proves once again that Reagan was a poor choice as President. I'm a registered Republican and voted for him the first time. A man lies to me just once when he says he will balance the budget and then goes into billions of dollars of debt. I crossed him off my list of trusted politicians. Anyone who doubts the veracity of Nancy Reagan's biography should have watched Bill Moyers' recent program on Channel 13. The Reagans are intellectually dishonest politicians and so is George Bush. Oh for another Jack Wydler. J.S.K.

'Say Cheese'

If your arm is around someone, and you are leaning in towards each other, you are fond of that person. If you are standing next to someone, and there is a space between the two of you, or one is leaning away from the other, it usually means you have a cool relationship with that person. If you feel particularly protective of someone, especially a child, your arms will be wrapped around that person, or they will be sitting in your lap. Just for the fun of it, pull out some of your old photos, or recent ones, and study the relationships you see in them.

One particular occasion poignantly stands out in time for me. It was the celebration of my dad's 75th birthday, and we were planning a surprise party with about a hundred guests. The only one who objected to the party was my dad's older brother who only admitted to being 70, but otherwise there was a great deal of enthusiasm to make the party momentous. I was commissioned as the photographer, and Mom told me to make sure and take loads of pictures, sensing that the older generation might not be around for many more family gatherings. It was a wonderful day, and no one objected to my presence as the official photographer. There were loads of hugs, group shots, and more often than not, Mom was in the middle of most of them. Four days later my mother died suddenly. The jolt was enormous for everyone, especially since she was only 60 years old and seemed to be in good health. It took me a year to develop the pictures I had from the party, and even now, they are the hardest ones for me to enjoy.

Most photographs lend themselves to wanting to be shared. When it is time for me to present a gift to someone, I usually buy a picture frame, then search back in my collection for an appropriate picture to enlarge and include in the frame. Also, when someone is having a landmark birthday or anniversary, I am called upon to provide entertaining old photos. My revenge is sweet when I present blow up pictures of the dumb faces, tongues sticking out, etc.

No one is more embarrassed by my camera than my children. It is definitely not cool to appear at a sporting event or a school function with "The Camera." So I solved that problem very neatly several years ago. I find another parent who has a camera, and offer to trade cameras for the occasion. There is never a problem getting someone else's child to pose, so I take photos of their child, and they take mine!

All the wonderful photographs find their way into frames and on the walls all around our home. Our youngest son particularly enjoys seeing all the family activities he missed by being born so late in the game. When I was making collages of each child for the family room wall, he was the one who insisted we needed one for the dog, so there is a composite of Dusty in our collection as well!

As the years have gone by, our children have been presented with their own camera equipment, and the torch has been passed. Every now and then I hear someone complain that they don't want their picture taken, and it brings back the memories, so I always cooperate. I take off my apron, comb my hair, put on a little lipstick, and always have a smile for whoever needs one.

By Marilyn Tadross

When I count to three, say, "CHEESE." My hobby as a photographer began on my tenth birthday when I received a Brownie box camera from my parents. It was wonderful to capture on film the expressions of our family and friends on summer outings, at birthday parties, and in our holiday finery. I made a special effort to take pictures of everyone who visited our house. When relatives arrived on special occasions, I would assemble them in size or chronological order on the steps outside our house, and insist on smiles from everyone. Then I would take several extra pictures to insure a perfect finished product. Initially, the cooperation I received was unanimous.

The first hints I had that I was becoming overbearing were verbal ones. "You're annoying, get lost, don't you dare ... get away from me with that camera!" However, the lasting evidence is in the photos. Some of my subjects made stupid faces, some stuck out their tongues (rude), some hid behind the largest person and made devil horns with their fingers on the one in front. Boy, was I angry. As it was, my expenses for film, developing and albums had escalated and these distasteful pictures were a waste. However, in my pursuit of recording history, every snapshot was carefully mounted in my album, corresponding negative taped onto the back, and I filled the pages with notes documenting all the shenanigans.

The resistance of my subjects increased rapidly as my camera equipment became more sophisticated creating the need for me to focus, adjust lighting, and snap on the appropriate lenses. Bless her soul, my mother was the only one who fully cooperated - always. She would take off her apron, comb her hair, put on lipstick and sit majestically in the center of each picture I asked her to take, arms around whoever was next to her, wearing the widest smile she could create.

Thirty years later as I look back at those pictures, I always smile. The memories become alive again, and I search for different things each time I browse through my treasured albums. The emotions and attachments we have to the people in our photos are demonstrated by how we respond to posing in a picture with them.

READER RATINGS

We are grateful for your Reader Rating column in the Discovery section of your papers. We were celebrating a special occasion and hoping for a restaurant that was outstanding. Ristorante Giulia at 570 Middle Neck Road in Great Neck proved to be all that we had hoped for and more. The cuisine is Northern Italian/French. The restaurant is both attractive and restful. The menu was diversified and not the usual run-of-the-mill bill of fare. The warm welcome by the proprietors, the attentive service, and the truly fine food made for a memorable evening. We were aided in our selections by our waiter, and can only say that we experienced a mouth-watering dinner. A word of caution: please leave room for dessert, you will want to try more than one!

We came away utterly delighted in having found such a special restaurant. E.H.

CONSISTENTLY GOOD
The John Peel room in the Island Inn is consistently a good restaurant. We have been there a number of times and have always found the food and decor especially enjoyable.
The menu at the John Peel room includes a complete dinner from appetizer through dessert. We had prime ribs there last Thursday and were particularly happy with the large portion of beef along with the fine ambience of this restaurant, the service was attentive and prompt. As usual we had a good night at the John Peel room.

READER RATINGS

Q. Does a man order for his woman companion?

A. He asks her what she wants, and he orders for her if it makes the ordering more efficient. He should never order anything for her without her expressly having requested it.

Men today who are increasingly aware of the women in their businesses who wish to be treated like colleagues instead of helpless creatures, allow the women at the table to order for themselves.

Q. When you're eating in a coffee shop or at a drugstore counter, what are you supposed to do with the paper containers you use for mustard, sugar, and things like that?

A. It's nice to fold them neatly and deposit them in the sastray, if it's not being used. Otherwise, one may deposit them on the saucer of the coffee cup or under the rim of a plate.

Q. I was always taught that when a man who is not "loaded" takes a woman to a restaurant, his date should order very lightly. Is this true today?

A. Yes, and it's equally true if a woman is footing the bill for a male guest. It's just basic good manners when you're someone's guest to order modestly. If your host insists you have something grander, and says he or she is "going to have the filet of beef" this evening, you as the guest may certainly follow suit.

If the guest orders first, it's nice to go easy, if one doesn't know the personal situation of the host.

Q. It seems every time I go to a certain restaurant with my wife, we're given very poor seats. Either we're put in a draft near the door or else we're seated next to the noisy kitchen. It is too bad because we like the restaurant otherwise. It has a nice cozy atmosphere and the food and service are good. What should we do?

A. One simple solution to your problem would be to request a better situated table when you are making reservations. You might also speak to the owner or headwaiter. If he sees you are frequent customers he will wish to please you.

Q. As a newly hired woman executive with a large store, I will soon be taking male clients to lunch on occasion. What is the best way to handle payment of the check?

A. A credit card would be your best solution. Another possibility would be a charge accounts with a good local restaurant.

The bills could then be presented to your employer.

Q. I have noticed that tips are said to range from 15 to 20 percent of a bill in a restaurant. When you calculate this do you figure in the sales tax.

R.K. A. No you do not generally figure the sales tax in the tip but a great many people now are doubling the sales tax to quickly arrive at the amount of the tip. With the new increased fraction the tip will then closely approximate a 15 percent gratuity.

From scratch or quick: something to stew about

By Desiree Viven

Home-cooked stews: They're comfort food, like a pot of soup or a loaf of home-baked bread. And their one-pot convenience is easy on the cook.

Stews generally take several hours of simmering, but stewing is speedier in the microwave, so it's a convenient dish to cook even after a day at work.

Stewing is an excellent method for cooking less tender cuts of beef, lamb or pork. The meat is tenderized by moist heat as it cooks — whether you stew conventionally or in the microwave.

A tight cover will keep steam in as you microwave, which helps to tenderize meat. For even cooking, cut meat into uniform ½- or 1-inch cubes. Other ingredients should also be cut into uniform sizes and shapes.

Slow cooking also helps tenderize meats. More tender cuts may be microwaved at 100 percent power, but less tender stewing cuts should be microwaved for a longer time at 50 percent, or MEDIUM, setting.

When possible, add salt after a meat dish is cooked, as salt tends to toughen meat. Also, salt sprinkled on the surface of food can distort the microwave pattern, making for uneven distribution of waves. So stir salt into stews toward the end of cooking time, letting it dissolve in liquid.

As stew microwaves, rotate dish and stir occasionally, moving outside portions toward inside. This will help to ensure even cooking.

When converting a conventional recipe for microwave, remember that the microwave version will take from ¼ to ½ of conventional time.

Burgundy Mushroom Stew makes a hearty meal for four. It's unusual among stews in featuring rice instead of potatoes, while fresh mushrooms and a measure of burgundy add flavor and sophistication. It's real stew from scratch — and takes about an hour to cook.

When you want a stew but "from scratch" takes too much time and trouble, microwave a stew using already-cooked meat.

Chicken Vegetable Stew is a tasty way to use up leftover cooked chicken, and it cooks quickly into a nutritious meal for four at HIGH setting.

Another quickie is Easy Leftover Stew. This one combines leftover beef, pork or lamb with traditional stew vegetables in a tomato-gravy sauce.

(Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens.)

MICRO-TIP OF THE WEEK

Don't overseason stews. Microwaving intensifies the flavor of most foods, so use less salt and seasonings than in conventional recipes.

BURGUNDY MUSHROOM STEW

- 1 large onion, chopped
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1½ pounds beef stew meat, cut into ½-inch cubes
- 1 pound fresh mushrooms, cut into thick slices
- 2 large carrots, sliced
- 1 cup diced celery
- ½ cup uncooked rice
- 1 small bay leaf
- ¼ teaspoon crumbled dried thyme
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 3¼ cups beef broth or stock
- ¼ cup burgundy
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Yields 4 servings.

Preparation time: 15 minutes.

Cooking time: 55 minutes to 1 hour, 13 minutes (plus 3 minutes standing time).

Oven setting: HIGH (100 percent power); MEDIUM (50 percent power).

Combine onion and butter in 3-quart microwave-safe casserole. Microwave on HIGH setting 3 to 5 minutes, or until onion is tender, stirring once.

Measure flour into small paper bag; add beef cubes, fold top to close, and shake to coat meat. Add beef to sauteed onion, cover and microwave at HIGH setting 5 to 8 minutes, stirring twice, until meat is no longer pink.

Stir in mushrooms, carrots, celery, rice, bay leaf, thyme and pepper. Add 2 cups of beef broth; stir well. Cover and microwave at HIGH setting until mixture boils, 7 to 10 minutes; stir in wine. Reduce setting to MEDIUM and microwave 40 to 50 minutes longer, stirring several times. Beef and vegetables should be tender. Stir in salt and remaining broth and let stand, covered, 3 minutes before serving. (Reheat, if necessary.)

FOR TEENS

By Willard Abraham, Ph.D.

Dr. Abraham: I love to talk to my boyfriend on the telephone every night, but he never calls me. I'm the only one who does the calling.

I really love him and tell him so, but he never tells me he loves me. Even when I ask him to tell me, he doesn't do it.

Sometimes when I telephone him he isn't home, but he doesn't call me back. I've given him my phone number many times.

He is so secretive about where he has been when he isn't at home.

I'm very sad about him sometimes, but don't know what to do about it.

He is 16 years old, and I'm almost 14. — Betsy, Camden, N.J.

Betsy: You've given me a few facts which tell me you should do some serious thinking about him as a boyfriend. He doesn't really seem to act like one.

He doesn't call you on the phone, he's secretive about where he is and what he is doing when he isn't at home, and there is that difference in age.

I wonder whether he feels you have come on too strong with your phone calls and questions, and whether he is trying to end your relationship but doesn't have the courage to tell you.

You might consider asking him whether he is. Please try not to be too upset if he admits that or tells you with his eyes or manner that he appears ready to move on.

Perhaps you should keep your eyes open in other directions, toward boys who will show their feelings for you and appreciate your interest in them.

You might think about letting them ask questions of you and do some of the calling, too. Wouldn't you like that? I have a feeling that you would.

Dr. Abraham: When sensitivity and understanding were handed out, this guy I'll tell you about must have been way out in space. He doesn't have either of them. He has no respect for me or even for himself.

He is a big shot kind of guy at school. When I met him I thought he was something special, and when he stopped in the hall to talk to me I thought, "Wow!"

Then he drove me toward home from school, and we parked. It was on a quiet road out of town, without a car or a person in sight.

I could tell that he had experience with girls, and he found out that I was new at all this. He whispered stuff, and touched me, and you can guess the rest.

The next day at school he walked by me kind of blindlike. And the same way the next day and the next.

Then I walked right in front of him and stopped him and asked, "What's with you?"

"Nothing," he said, kind of angry, "and with you, either. So get out of my way. I'm busy." He walked away and started talking with another girl.

Get the picture? I did. I sure learned not to be taken in by sweet talk. I don't care how good-looking and important they think they are.

Being hurt once is enough, and so is the crying I've done. — Slow Learner in Maryland

Slow Learner: I'm so sorry you've had this miserable experience.

You're not really so slow, but you did learn something that can help your future life be happier. Others also can learn from your letter. Thanks very much for writing it to me so I can share it with other teens. I know it must have been difficult for you to put these words on paper, and I really admire you.

Dr. Abraham: My father said something kind of funny the other day. He often does, but this had a sort of serious touch to it.

He said, "I wish I had me for a father."

And you know, he has such a good point because I began to think about him as a father, and he is really a neat one.

Maybe he was trying to get me to appreciate him more and to realize that although he's always ready to listen to me about my problems and help solve them, I've never shown any interest or curiosity about his.

I'm going to try harder to see at least a little bit through his eyes as he always tries to look through mine.

Not a bad idea — right? — Julie, Waukegan, Ill.

Jan. It sounds good to me.

Many of us don't understand until it is too late how little we know about our parents. Perhaps it's because we are often so concerned with our own personal lives and may assume that our parents don't need any help in handling their stresses.

Or maybe we just don't think they have any. But is there anyone immune to pressures, concerns or worries? I doubt it.

Cooking Corner

The secrets of making pasta at home

By Linda Susan Dudley

Although Giuliano Bugialli doesn't wear chef's whites or a high, white pleated toque on his head, this Italian cooking teacher is serious about his mission.

In his classes on pasta making (and other regional Italian dishes), there are no wimpy textbook explanations for him. Instead, flour covers the counter. Flour covers the floor and it even speckles Bugialli's polished black leather loafers.

He shuns fancy electric machines and instead works with his hands and hand-operated kitchen aids. He kneads with both hands, using experienced strokes. It looks like hard work, but it also looks like fun.

There is something relaxed about this sophisticated Italian, himself dusted with flour. And there is something informal about the way he cooks, yet the results are highly complex and refined.

Bugialli knows pasta can be made in a food processor — but not in his classes. And he won't use an electric pasta maker, either, preferring to roll it out by hand. (In his Florence classes, students make pasta every morning — by hand.)

Bugialli also corrects a popular notion that Italians add cheese to every pasta dish they serve.

"Cheese, grated or sliced very thin, is often added to pasta before serving, but it is used much less often than people think.

"Generally, cheese is not used with fish, game or mushroom sauces (there are some exceptions), and rarely in dishes with hot red pepper.

"On many other dishes, cheese should not be sprinkled mindlessly, since they are better without it and they melt into an unappealing sameness," Bugialli continues.

Bugialli is not against Americans using commercial dried pastas. Indeed, one of his cookbooks, the lavishly illustrated "Bugialli on Pasta" (Simon & Schuster), includes recipes for a variety of regional specialties using dried pasta. (He prefers those imported from Italy.)

Bugialli has emerged as the leading exponent of Italian cooking in this country, with a handful of cookbooks to his credit. He has become a trans-Atlantic commuter, dividing his year between cooking schools in his native Florence and New York City. In New York, his classes are held in his town house, where he has two teaching kitchens, including one with a brick oven and fireplace for cooking. He also crosscrosses the United States giving classes.

Here are Bugialli's basic techniques for making fresh pasta. The pasta dough, he says, will go through these stages: First, it will be a thin batter, then a thick batter and, finally, a dough.

- Place flour in a mound on a pasta board or smooth surface such as Italian marble or granite.

- "Whatever you do, don't use Formica," Bugialli scolds. "It doesn't breathe, so the pasta sticks."

- Use a fork to make a well in center of flour.

- Put eggs and other ingredients specified in the recipe, such as flavorings, in the well. (Bugialli uses extra-large eggs; if you don't, add an extra one.)

- With a fork, first mix together the eggs and other ingredients.

- Then begin to incorporate the flour from the inner rim of the well, always incorporating fresh flour from the lower part, pushing it under the dough that is forming to keep it from sticking to the board.

- Don't use your hands to mix ingredients at this point, Bugialli says. Remove pieces of the dough attached to the fork.

- Put the pieces of dough together with your hands.

- Scrape the board with a pastry scraper, gathering together all the unincorporated flour as well as the pieces of dough coated with flour.

- Place this flour with the pieces of dough in a sifter. Resting the sifter on the board and using one hand, "clean" the flour by moving the sifter back and forth.

The globules of dough will remain in the sifter screen and will not filter through. Discard them because, being already coated with flour, they will not integrate into the wet dough and will cause lumps that make holes when the dough is stretched.

- Start kneading the dough, using the palm of the hand and folding the dough over with the other hand, absorbing the leftover flour from the board. Do not sprinkle the flour over the dough.

Continue kneading for about 5 minutes, absorbing the flour until the dough is no longer wet and all but 4 or 5 tablespoons have been incorporated (the remaining flour will be used for second kneading of dough). If you intend to stretch dough by machine, knead for only 2 or 3 minutes. Amount of flour left over will remain about the same.

- A ball of elastic and smooth dough should be the result of kneading the dough for this length of time. You can now do the additional kneading and stretching of the dough either by hand or with a pasta machine.

Bugialli doesn't like electric pasta machines because he says they have plastic rollers "and if average cooks use an electric machine it goes too fast for them and they are in trouble."

After Work Gourmet

By Melanie Barnard
and Brooke Dojny

Spring and lamb have always been synonymous. In days gone by, when people associated the seasons with what was on their table, lamb was naturally teamed with asparagus, mint and other springtime vegetables and herbs.

Of course, in these days of scientific farming and flown-in produce, the usual harbingers of the season are topsy-turvy with South American strawberries in our January markets, and winter citrus filling the July produce bins.

Though we aren't truly sure that it isn't more fun to have to wait until May to savor strawberries and reserve lemon pie as a winter dessert, we are definitely glad that lamb is available year-round, for we do like this versatile meat.

Always on the lookout for quickly cooked cuts of meat, we have long been lamb chop fans. When we are having company or plan a special treat for the family, we invest in pricey, but super-succulent, rib or loin chops.

But we have lately found that the "new" lamb also produces tender and tasty shoulder chops at less than half the price per pound. However, though we look for rib or loin chops that are about 1-inch thick, we find that we like the shoulder chops somewhat thinner.

Since it is still pretty chilly in many parts of the country, the following recipes use the oven broiler to cook the chops, but feel free to apply the same method and timing to a charcoal grill if you wish.

Because of its naturally assertive flavor, all cuts of lamb hold up well to potent sauces, herbs and flavorings.

Fresh Mint Pesto is a zesty variation of an Italian classic sauce usually made with basil. This wonderful sauce is also excellent tossed with pasta or spooned over broiled chicken breasts.

Sun-Dried Tomato Butter combines now widely available sweet/sharp sun-dried tomatoes with the woodiness of rosemary. It is also terrific as a topping for veal chops.

In keeping with the mood of spring, both dishes are lovely accompanied simply by steamed asparagus and boiled little redskin potatoes.

TIPS

- Dried tomatoes in a bag usually are less expensive than oil-packed sun-dried tomatoes, but they must be reconstituted by a brief soaking in boiling water.

- When buying fresh mint, choose with your nose. Really good mint will fairly shout out its fragrance.

BROILED LAMB CHOPS WITH SUN-DRIED TOMATO BUTTER

Sun-dried tomato butter

4 tablespoons softened butter

1 tablespoon finely chopped oil-packed or reconstituted dry-packed, sun-dried tomatoes

1 teaspoon minced shallots

1 teaspoon chopped fresh rosemary or ¼ teaspoon dried

¼ teaspoon lemon juice

¼ teaspoon Dijon mustard

Lamb:

8 rib or loin lamb chops, each about 1-inch thick, and 4 to 6 ounces, or 4 shoulder chops, each about ¼-inch thick, and about 8 ounces

Olive oil

Salt and pepper

Fresh rosemary sprigs (optional garnish)

Yields 8 servings.

Preparation time: 10 minutes.

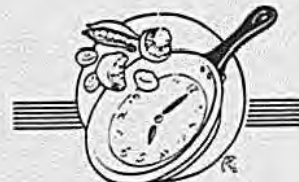

Cooking time: 10 minutes.

To make sun-dried tomato butter, thoroughly mix by hand or in food processor butter, tomatoes, shallots, rosemary, lemon juice and mustard.

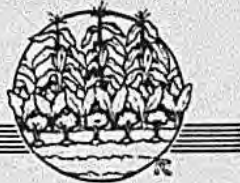

Scrape onto a piece of plastic wrap and shape into a log about 1-inch in diameter. Freeze about 10 minutes, or refrigerate at least 1 hour to firm up. (Can be refrigerated up to 3 days, or frozen up to 1 month.)

To prepare lamb, preheat broiler. Brush both sides of chops lightly with oil, then sprinkle with salt and pepper. Place on rack in shallow pan and broil 4 to 6 inches from heat source for 7 to 10 minutes, turning once, until medium-rare or done to your liking.

Serve hot chops with slice (about ¼-inch thick) of sun-dried tomato butter. If desired, garnish with fresh rosemary sprigs.

Backyard Gardener

By Patrick Denton

Herb flowers to African violets

Today I have some herbal thoughts, a project for children of all ages, and some African violets to share with my gardening friends.

HERB FLOWERS

A superbly elegant addition to any dish prepared with herbs is to garnish the dish with flowers of the same herbs or of one of the herbs.

For example, a salad tossed with a herb vinaigrette made with vinegar, lemon juice and oil, salt, pepper and minced fresh herbs of your choice would take well to a final strewing with flowers from the dominant herb used — rosemary perhaps, or basil, or both. The pink flowers of purple basil are especially eye-catching, and very flavorful.

Eggplant halves brushed with oil and seasoned with a mixture of garlic, thyme, rosemary, oregano, basil and parsley pressed into slits made in the flesh can be baked and served sprinkled with fresh flowers of one of the herbs. Here again, the pink flowers from purple basil plants would be very effective.

A CHILD'S GARDEN

It's fun to watch pumpkins grow. It's even more exciting to watch your very own autographed pumpkin develop.

Here's how to have autographed pumpkins. You'll need a little sterile seeding mix from a garden outlet, and peat pots 4 inches wide — one for each plant.

Soak the peat pots in warm water for a few hours before seeding so that they will be fully saturated with water. Then set them in a watertight tray or dish. Fill the pots to about a half inch from the top with the seeding mix gently firmed down, and water the mix.

Then push two pumpkin seeds on their edges into the mix in each pot, leaving the uppermost edge showing, and cover with a little more of the mix, firmed down lightly over the seeds. Dampen that top layer of soil, and put the pots and their tray inside a plastic bag left partly open. Set in a warm place, the planted seeds will sprout in about a week.

As soon as the seeds sprout, put the containers at a bright window to grow. Keep them watered, and give them a drink of liquid fertilizer once a week. Use a balanced formula such as 20-20-20, mixed at only one-quarter the strength recommended on the label. Within a week after sprouting, choose the better plant in each pot and cut the other one away at the soil line. Pumpkin plants grow fast. They will be ready to transplant outdoors in three or four weeks after the seeds germinate.

Find a sunny, warm place for the plants in the garden. The soil should be quite rich. One year I planted my pumpkins on a finished compost pile that I left about 12 inches high after using the rest of the compost in the garden.

If you don't have a compost pile to use, dig some mushroom or other processed manure into the pumpkin site along with a handful of a balanced granular fertilizer for each plant. Keep the plants watered during dry weather.

Your pumpkin plants will spread quickly, and soon you'll see flowers on the plants. Some of these will develop into little pumpkins.

When the pumpkins are about the size of a softball, take a fat nail or a ballpoint pen and print your name on one of them. Just break through the skin of the pumpkin, and don't push any deeper. Perhaps you'd like to invite your brother or sister, or friends to autograph the other small pumpkins. As they grow larger, so will the names. In the fall you'll have your very own named pumpkin for Halloween.

To be sure your pumpkins will grow to full size, cut off the fuzzy vine tips early in August, or after the plant has set three pumpkins. This will stop the plant from making more growth and flowers, and channel its energies into growing the pumpkins already on the vines.

AFRICAN VIOLET BLOOM

Inadequate levels of light and/or humidity are the two most common causes of lack of bloom in African violets.

To bloom really well, these plants need more light than is commonly thought. Give African violets bright light short of direct, hot sun.

Increase humidity around the plants by setting the pots on a layer of damp pebbles in a watertight tray or dish. Keep the water level just beneath the top of the pebble layer.

Temperature sometimes plays a role in inhibiting bloom. Steadily overwarm temperatures around 80 degrees Fahrenheit and above are not good for the plants.

Our Children

By Willard Abraham, Ph.D.

Get tough with those slovenly sons

Q. I am a divorced mother who has worked very hard to keep a roof over our heads and food on the table. But if you saw the way my two slovenly big sons (they are 17 and 19 years old) treat me and our house, you would think that I was some dishrag in the garbage.

They never do a bit of work around the house, are sarcastic to me, and don't chip in one cent from their earnings.

I can't tell you the whole story. It is too terrible. But maybe that is enough for you to give me some idea of what to do.

A. Based on what you wrote, I think it is past time for them to begin to pay part of the expenses, help keep the place clean, and cut out the unpleasant remarks to you.

If they don't come through on factors like those, neither a roof nor food should be provided any longer. Nor should clean laundry and other comforts be available to them.

Line up one of your strong relatives or friends to help you move their belongings outside if that becomes necessary, and let them know you are ready with that plan.

It may be difficult for you to toughen up, but it is essential in a situation like this.

Q. I suspect that my little girl is being abused sexually, but please don't ask for any details. I just cannot go into them right now.

All I really want to know is where I can get help and have my name held in confidence. I need help soon, and my little girl needs it even sooner than that.

A. Practically every community of any size has agencies and other resources ready to deal with this problem.

In a news release of the American Academy of Pediatrics dated Nov. 15, 1990, these statements appear, related to this subject: "... Physicians should know in advance what community resources are available. This includes identifying consultants with special expertise in evaluating sexually abused children."

That indicates your own physician as a possible professional starting point for you.

Your local school's nurse probably also has access to competent resources in this area of child abuse.

I hope you will get to one of them very soon, and then immediately take whatever further action seems to be needed.

Q. Our family has been so discouraged about the school program our son has had, but there seems to be some light at the end of the tunnel.

He is 10 years old, and his school has classified him as "learning disabled." He isn't stupid, retarded or anything like that, but he has problems in certain areas such as reading.

What seems to have changed for him is that he has a fine teacher who pays a lot of attention to him and a new computer program that he enjoys. He is now learning at a faster pace than he ever did before, and feels good about himself, too.

The computer work is called "Mattel Foundation Computer Learning Lab Program," and it seems to be especially good for kids like him.

I just thought I should share this happy development with you.

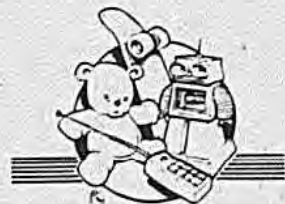

A. Thanks very much for your comments.

The Mattel company seems to be successful in offering this program to many schools around the country, including poor areas where its bilingual emphasis can be effective.

With its emphasis on permitting children to go at their own rate, find out right away how they are doing, and feel no pressure because of their possibly slower performance, it can probably help their self-esteem as well as improve learning skills.

It doesn't take the place of a competent teacher (nothing does), but it perhaps can add a helpful ingredient to the classroom situation. Its individualized approach reminds me of the programmed learning development of the 1960s.

Other parents, as well as teachers and school administrators, might want to check into this plan, material, and equipment. Here is the address: Mattel Foundation, 5150 Rosecrans Ave., Hawthorne, CA 90250.

Fitness Forum

Perhaps this wasn't a gym-dandy idea

By Patricia Dibala

I had pushed my body to the limit. Beads of sweat dripped down my forehead, blurring my vision. The StairMaster and I had become a team. I slowed my steps, wiped my brow and stared at the digital readout that had been adding and multiplying my caloric output.

I looked. I gasped. I prayed. "Please, God, don't let this be one of those talking machines."

Both hands raced for the "clear" button, lest anyone see that my grand total added up to less than a piece of dry white toast.

We're talking 50 lousy calories after climbing 18 flights of stairs.

Why was it that I started all this? Truth is, I haven't worked out at a gym since college, in the days before I thought smoking a cigarette made me look more sophisticated. Why did I willingly sign up and pay money to be reminded that smoking has taken a visible toll on my fitness quotient? In a word, denial.

After a decade of living across the street from an upscale yuppie health club, I finally signed on the dotted line. It was a neighbor's observation that drove me into the sweaty halls of this local torture chamber.

He said: "You have a pretty nice figure for someone who doesn't work at it."

I said, well, nothing. He didn't mention the fact that I smoked, and neither did I.

Meanwhile, back at the gym. I scanned the room filled with electronic gadgetry and spotted a Life Cycle. The way I had it figured, I could work harder if I were sitting down. I sat down, strapped in my feet and plotted my course of action by pushing a couple of buttons. I told the machine my honest weight and requested the "Hill" workout.

What I got was a "San Francisco-hill" workout. What I've got is more of a "Phoenix-hill" kind of body. Don't let anyone tell you a hill by any other name is still a hill.

I crawled off the machine, having added another piece of "dry white toast" to my caloric output total. Dinner was going to be pretty dull. I decided to make a commitment, find a machine and burn off the price of one thin slice of diet cheese. Nah, bread and water would do fine. I wanted to go home.

I limped out of the room and came face-to-face with my biggest challenge. I was on the second floor. Two flights of stairs loomed in front of me. I whirled around the room, my eyes were desperate for the sight of an elevator.

Every muscle in my legs was quivering. In a flash I had decided on a creative decision. Yeah, that was me, I sat down and bounced from one step to the next on my bottom. I told passers-by that this was great for the hips, smiled and slowly worked my way to freedom.

And that's why I don't feel guilty anymore about taking an elevator up three floors to the office. We're talking six or seven lousy calories.

But the guilt about cigarettes, that's another story. The time has come for me to make a life and breath decision.

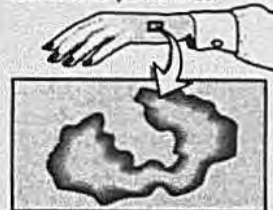

A growing cancer threat

Most cancer rates in the U.S. have stabilized, but malignant melanoma, a serious type of skin cancer, is on the rise. Early treatment is the most effective, so use the "ABCD" method of self-diagnosis.

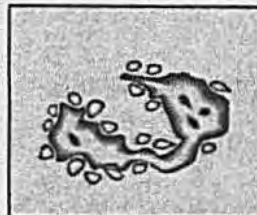

Asymmetry

A mole is irregularly shaped. Melanomas usually appear on the back or lower part of limbs.

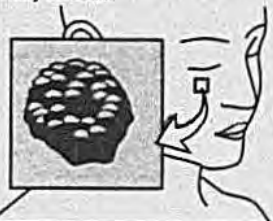

Border

The edges may be ragged, notched or blurred.

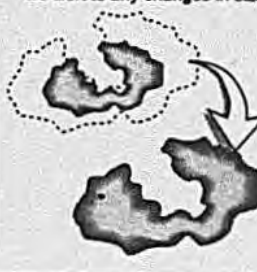

Color

The coloration is uneven. Black, brown and tan are most prevalent - white, red or blue may be seen.

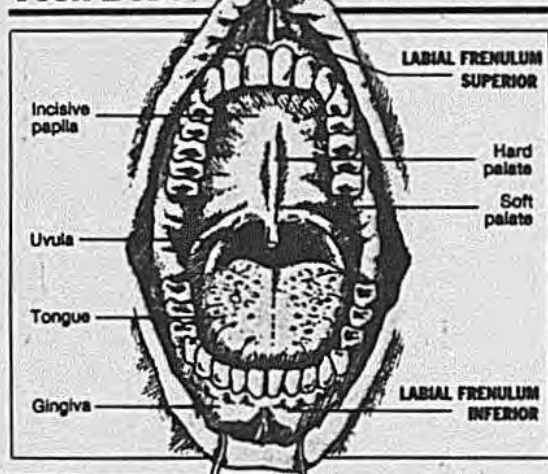

Diameter

Be alert to any changes in size.

THE LABIAL FRENULUMS

WHAT: Ever hear of unbridled passion? Or a horse's harness called a bridle?

The word frenulum (FREN-yoo-lum) is a diminutive form of frenum (FREE-num), which in Latin means bridle. The labial (LAY-bee-uh) frenulums — folds of mucous membrane — are part of your mouth. You can see one by turning your upper lip up and the other by pulling your lower lip down.

WHERE: The superior labial frenulum is centered in the inside of your upper lip. The inferior labial frenulum is in the middle of your inside lower lip.

FUNCTIONS: Because the frenulums act as a kind of bridle or restraint, they attach your inner lips to the gums. This attachment helps keep the lips aligned properly and assists your speech and your ability to chew and move your lips.

The kitchen enameled sink has rust stains

They're only on the surface.

Here's a good bleaching trick:

1. Make a mixture of lemon juice and salt. Use enough salt to make a cloudy solution.
2. Rub stain well; repeat if necessary.
3. If stain is really stubborn, make a paste of lemon juice and baking soda, spread on area and leave overnight.

Surprising desserts in low-fat cookbook

By Kit Saedaker

Ruth Spear, who has written four cookbooks, including the wonderful "Cooking Fish and Shellfish," has just come out with another winner. "Low Fat and Loving It: How to Lower Your Fat Intake and Still Eat the Foods You Love" is more than a cookbook. It's a low-fat eating plan that uses real food, including chili and chocolate desserts.

First the author discusses fats, saturated and unsaturated, gives shopping tips and then shows the reader how to cut down on dietary fat and still eat food generally considered forbidden.

"I can virtually guarantee that if you gradually phase in some of the modifications and changes I suggest," Spear writes, "so that no more than 25 percent of your calories come from fat, you will lose weight. Combine the plan with any moderate but regular exercise (even walking briskly for 45 minutes three times a week) and the weight will stay off."

Even if you aren't interested in a low-fat eating plan, the recipes, especially the desserts, are new and interesting. I've given two below, one for chocolate cake lovers and the other for cheesecake fans.

LOW-FAT LEMON CHEESECAKE

- Non-stick spray
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 1/4 cup finely crushed graham crackers
- 2 cups 1 percent fat cottage cheese
- 1 cup non-fat yogurt
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons all-purpose flour
- 2 eggs, slightly beaten
- 3/4 cup skim milk
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon grated lemon zest

Yields 12 servings. Each serving has about 153 calories, 4 grams fat, 38 milligrams cholesterol and 312 milligrams sodium. For less sodium, use low-sodium margarine.

Preheat oven to 350 F. Spray 9x3-inch springform pan with non-stick spray. Melt margarine, cool and combine in bowl with graham cracker crumbs. Blend with fingers or fork until completely combined. Pat this over bottom of pan and press down slightly. Put pan in freezer for 15 minutes.

Place cottage cheese in food processor and process until smooth, scraping the sides down as needed, about 2 minutes. Add yogurt, sugar and flour and pulse several times at 1-second intervals until blended. Add eggs, 1 at a time, and process 3 seconds each to blend. Add milk, lemon juice and lemon zest, and process several seconds to blend.

Spoon mixture into crust. To avoid air bubbles, do not pour. Pan will be only half-full. Bake in center of oven for 40 to 50 minutes or until toothpick inserted near center comes out clean. Cake will not rise much and top will be moist.

Turn off oven and let cake cool in oven an hour with door ajar. Remove to rack and cool completely. Refrigerate, covered, for several hours. When thoroughly chilled, run sharp knife around edge of cake, loosen, and remove sides of pan.

Wood can be installed over concrete floor

Q. The flooring in our home is a concrete slab laid directly on the ground. I do not like the dampness and coldness of concrete or tile flooring. I prefer the warmth of wood.

I was told that you cannot lay a wood flooring over concrete. Is this true?

A. There are several ways you can install wood flooring on a concrete floor that is on or below grade.

The traditional way is to install a wood flooring over sleepers (2-by-4-foot furring strips glued to the concrete).

There is a newer and simpler floating floor, a hardwood flooring system installed over thick foam padding.

In either case, dampness is more of a problem than cold, if it migrates up through the concrete slab. This shouldn't happen in a properly poured concrete floor where gravel or a vapor barrier is installed under the slab to prevent moisture.

However, in areas with poor drainage, or where the concrete slab has been poured directly on the soil, dampness may be persistent. It is safest to apply an asphalt-emulsion sealer and a layer of 6-mil plastic sheeting (overlapping separate sheets by 12 inches and going up the walls about 6 inches).

If the ceiling height allows, fasten pressure-treated 2-by-4s on edge around the perimeter and on 16-inch centers across the floor, shiming them where necessary to assure a level new floor.

For additional warmth, install fiberglass insulation (fiber-batt insulation, foil side up) between the 2-by-4s, over which you nail 3/4-inch plywood subflooring perpendicular to the sleepers. Using this method, any type of flooring can be installed on the plywood subfloor.

However, there is a new system of putting down a hardwood floor that uses a layer of 3/4-inch thick foam padding under the flooring, and requires no adhesive.

Be sure to use the concrete sealer and 6-mil sheet between the concrete and the foam to block moisture penetration. Then install the foam pad by simply rolling it into position (it does not require adhesive).

Even if the floor has some irregularities, the foam padding will provide enough give to hide faults. Floating floor systems are usually tongue-and-groove planks about 6 to 8 inches wide, 8 feet long, and 3/4-inch thick.

They consist of several laminated layers of wood and are usually designed for very precise tight-fitting installation that does not require gluing or nailing to a subfloor. However, each plank is glued to the adjacent plank with a small amount of wood glue.

There are also parquet flooring systems that can be satisfactorily installed on concrete using a mastic. However, for moisture protection be sure to use the concrete sealer and plastic sheeting.

On any installation of wood flooring, be sure to allow at least a 1/4-inch gap between the floor perimeter and the wall to allow for natural wood expansion and contraction, which varies with the temperature. It is important to follow the details of manufacturer's instructions for both installation and care of your new wood flooring.

Q. Our daughter's bedroom is so large her furniture looks lost. She doesn't mind — there seem to be constant sleep-overs who bring their own sleeping bags so the large floor space is good. But the empty feeling bothers me. Maybe I should change the wallpaper, which is yellow and white stripes, to something busier? — L.J., Wheaton, Ill.

A. You don't have to change all the wallpaper. In fact, you don't have to change it at all: just add a bit of pattern and color right over the wall.

Interior designer Kat Dickelman worked decorative magic with a few yards of elegant fabric when she did over a young girl's bedroom for a designer show house in New Jersey.

She hung the fabric behind the brass bedstead, swagging it from silk flowers that picked up the color in the print ... which, in turn, coordinated with the soft stripe in the wall covering. An overall ribbon-and-floral patterned rug carried forth the theme and made the large room feel cozy and feminine.

Q. I'm thinking of buying a condo in a nice building at a good address in New York City, but the walls in one corner of the living room are in terrible shape. The owner says the leak that caused the problem has been fixed and he will make a concession in the selling price, but what do I do about the walls? I'll be too broke to do any major repair work for at least a year after I make the buy. — M.L., Manhattan

A. Cover the walls in burlap. Its inherently rough texture can hide a multitude of complexion problems at the same time it gives your room more visual interest. Burlap can be applied with ordinary wallpaper paste and painted any color, once it's dry.

You could also consider using muslin or a vinyl wall covering with a husky texture — avoid slick finishes and light, solid colors that will "telegraph" every irregularity in the wall behind them.

FEMINE BEDROOM — Fabric swagged from silk bouquets becomes an imaginative headboard for a little girl's bedroom.

HELGA CROSBY'S BEST BUYS

MOST HOME OWNERS HAVE a vision of what they dream for in their new home. She is 30-ish & is super nutty about her children. He is 50-ish & super nutty about his golf. Mrs. X asked me to find her a home in the 400's where the ultimate expression of love: "compromise" can be achieved. She needs a yard that can handle a swing set for her kids & a putting green. Her father's a gardener & will plant the green as a surprise. Mrs. X is embroidering a 19th hole flag with HER family crest. It is exciting to be in an atmosphere that's charged with anticipation & creativity.

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE
 Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg you to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. St. Jude, pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys, 3 Gloria's. Say for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised. This novena has never been known to fail. Thank you for answering my prayers. C.G. gcmY1

PRAYER TO ST. JUDE
 Most holy apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the Church honors and invokes you universally, as the patron of hopeless cases, of things almost despaired of. Pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Make use I implore you, of that particular privilege given to you, to bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, particularly (Here make your request) and that I may praise God with you and all the elect forever. I promise, O blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favor, to always honor you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you. Amen. R.E.C. wmy1

The Guthersz firm made your fish set

Q. Attached is a picture of a fish set consisting of a platter and eight plates. They are all marked with a wreath and "O. & E.G. — Royal — Austria."

I would appreciate anything you can tell me about the vintage and value and perhaps the name of the maker.

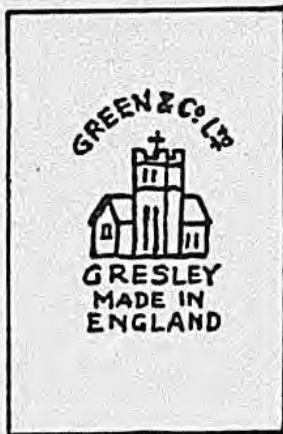

A. Your fish set was made in Altröhlau, Austria, by the firm of Oscar & Edgar Guthersz between 1900 and 1915.

The set would probably sell for about $365 to $385.

Q. I have a pottery bowl that is decorated with flowers. It holds about a quart and had the enclosed mark on the bottom; it looks very old.

Can you tell me anything about its age and value?

A. This mark was used by T.G. Green & Co. from 1930 to the present. Gresley is located near Burton-on-the-Trent in England.

Your bowl should sell for about $25 to $35.

Q. The mark on my cake plate consists of an eagle with "C.T. — Altwasser" underneath. The plate had open handles and is decorated with peacock feathers; it is 11 inches in diameter.

I would appreciate your comments as to origin and value.

A. Your cake plate was made by C. Tielsch & Co. in Altwasser, Germany, during the late 1800s. It would probably sell for about $65 to $75.

Q. The mark on the bottom of my pitcher and bowl set is "Doulton — Lambeth — England." The pitcher is 14 inches tall and bowl is 17 inches in diameter; they are decorated with a blue floral design.

What can you tell me about the vintage and value?

A. Your pitcher and bowl set was made by the Doulton Lambeth Pottery in England during the 1890s. The set would probably sell for about $325 to $335.

The company became known as Royal Doulton in 1901.

Q. My Flow Blue small bowl and saucer is marked "Indian Jar" and "F. & R.P." Can you tell me anything about its origin and value?

A. Your cup (no handles) and saucer were made by F. & R. Pratt in Fenton, England, during the mid-1800s. "Indian Jar" is the name of the pattern.

This cup and saucer would sell for about $125 to $135.

Points on Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. Our 8-year-old male dog has bladder stones. We were not aware that the dog was ill until very recently.

Our veterinarian believes that after putting our dog on a special diet that the stones will dissolve. We are concerned about whether the diet will really cure the problem.

A Bladder stones are a serious condition in dogs. Without appropriate treatment the stones can block urine flow from the urinary bladder. This allows the accumulation of poisonous wastes and eventually leads to death.

Bladder stones vary in size from barely visible to the size of a baseball. The most common bladder stones in dogs are composed of magnesium, ammonium and phosphate. Stones form whenever excess minerals and waste products accumulate in the urinary bladder. These waste products form crystals and eventually stones. The stones often cause irritation of the lining of the bladder.

Signs of bladder stones in dogs include frequent urination, bloody urine, straining during urination, weakness, lethargy, loss of appetite, vomiting and abdominal pain. Most bladder stones are diagnosed in dogs 2 to 10 years of age. Dogs of small breeds are more commonly affected than dogs of large breeds. Bladder stones occur in males and females equally.

Treatment of bladder stones varies with the exact type and size of stones involved. In the past almost all bladder stones were removed surgically. However, today there are prescription diets designed to dissolve bladder stones.

The signs of bladder stones usually disappear in one to two weeks following the start of the prescription diet. The stones are usually completely dissolved in four to 16 weeks. Not all bladder stones respond to a change in diet and surgery is still required in some dogs.

JUNIOR EDITION

Aunt Tilly's Corner

AUNT TILLY

This week we see the first real signs of spring and last Sunday the parade for the returning veterans from Iraq was a big success with thousands of people out welcoming the service people who went to the Desert.

Aunt Tilly sends love and thanks to these fine people and the parade was wonderful.

Your friend,
Aunt Tilly

P.S. This week's coloring contest winner is Dan Moen. Congratulations.

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

Can an alien enroll in Medicare?

By William M. Acosta

Q. I am not eligible for Medicare on the basis of my employment. Will I be able to buy Medicare this year when I reach age 65, even though I am an alien? — B.T.

A. To become entitled you must have attained age 65 and be an alien lawfully admitted for permanent residence who has resided in the United States continuously for the five-year period immediately preceding the month all other requirements are met.

The basic premium for hospital insurance is $177 a month in 1991 and the monthly premium for medical insurance is $29.90 a month in 1991. Contact your Social Security office for complete information.

Q. I understand that I can have limited income and still be eligible for Supplemental Security Income. What is included as income? — C.O.

A. Income includes money you earn from work; money from other sources, such as Social Security, pensions, veterans benefits, friends or relatives; and free food, clothing or shelter.

(Food, clothing or shelter based on need provided by private non-profit agencies do not count as income for the SSI program.)

Call Social Security for additional information.

Q. I do not understand the new 1991 Social Security tax rate. Are there now two different rates for a worker? — P.M.

A. You and your employer each pay 7.65 percent of your gross wages up to the limit of $53,400. (The 7.65 percent represents the combined Social Security tax of 6.2 percent and Medicare tax of 1.45 percent.)

If you make more than $53,400 in 1991, you continue to pay the Medicare portion of the Social Security tax up to a limit of $125,000.

Q. I am working and receiving Social Security benefits.

Besides working more hours, I just received a raise in salary. Therefore, I will probably earn more than I had originally estimated.

Should I report now or wait until the end of the year? — A.W.

A. When you work, you should save records of your earnings, such as pay stubs.

At any time during the year, if you see that your earnings will be different from what you had estimated, you should call us to revise your estimate. This will help keep the amount of your Social Security benefits correct.
