Physical Fitness

Vets Honor Federation

Pictured is Matt Rufrano, member of the Board of Directors of the Nassau County Chapter #82, Vietnam Veterans of America, presenting a Certificate of Appreciation for "Supporting Women Veterans" to Annette Ferrara of Hicksville, President of the Nassau County Federation of Republican Women, at their annual Town of Oyster Bay meeting. "We are delighted to recognize the efforts of the Nassau County Federation of Republican Women," said Matt. "Their Community Service Committee has reached out to the women at the V.A. Hospital in Northport. For this we are extremely grateful."

Celebrate Spring JCC Street Fair

Come to a great outdoor party at the Mid-Island Y Jewish Community Center's Third Annual Street Fair Sunday, May 31, 11 a.m. - 4 p.m., at the JCC, 45 Manetto Hill Road, Plainview.

You can ride on a Ferris Wheel, take a Pony ride, swim in the Sea of Bajls, or walk on the Moonwalk. Have your face painted, spin some art or try your arm at the Basketball throw.

If it's entertainment you crave, dance shows, gymnastic and Karate demonstrations, Melody Mouse and a puppet show will keep you in fun spirits. In addition, the cast from the Mid-Island Y JCC's Young People's Theatre production of "Annie" will present parts of the show.

Besides the fun and games there will be an array of craft and market vendors ... just in time for summer camp, Father's Day or a present for yourself. Choose from handmade jewelry, painted T-shirts, gently used children's books and much more. Great prizes such as Super Nintendo, a Ross Mountain Bike and an AM/FM Radio, plus many others, will be raffled off. Tickets for the rides are $5 for one book of tickets (11 tickets); or $10 for two books (24 tickets). Any child who attends the Street Fair in a little league or soccer league uniform will receive two free tickets with the purchase of each book of tickets.

The raindate is Sunday, June 14. For more information, call 822-3535.

Three hours on Ellis Island will be followed by a trip to the South Street Seaport. The bus will leave the city to return to the library at 4:30 p.m.

The cost of the trip is $27, cash only, and includes the bus, ferry and ticket to Ellis Island. Lunch is not included in the price. There will be no refunds unless the trip is cancelled or if there is someone ready to take your place.

School Budget Decrease Approved For Hicksville

By Maureen Traxler

The Hicksville School administration, under the direction of Superintendent Sal Mugavero, and the Citizens Lay Budget Committee presented to the Board of Education a 1992-93 budget which is lower in dollar amount than the present budget and is expected to lower the tax rate for homeowners. In back-to-back meetings last week, the Board held an open hearing on the budget Wednesday evening and a regular board meeting on Thursday, at which they approved the $50,356,098 spending plan for the next school year.

Superintendent Mugavero said that the proposed budget, a $404,343 decrease from the present budget, is "totally complete, totally inclusive of any expenses we could have." Mr. Mugavero added that the proposed budget brings an estimated tax rate decrease of three cents per $100 assessed valuation. The final tax rate is set by the County in August based on the then current assessed valuation, fund balance and available state aid.

Almost every budget category shows a decrease for the coming year, with the exception of

(a) the Superintendent's Office, up $3,860, which includes the salaries of the Superintendent and a secretary, office supplies and travel on school business;

(b) Capital Funds, up $195,000, which includes building renovations set forth in a five-year plan; and

(c) Undistributed Funds, $1,400,000.

The previous budget did not set aside funds for salary increases not known at the time the budget was adopted. In the 1992-93 budget, funds in the undistributed category are included for salary increases. Superintendent Mugavero emphasized that this money is allocated for the salary increases of ALL district employees, including the anticipated settlements of contractual agreements, and that these increases will not exceed this dollar amount. Any funds unexpended will be used to reduce the tax rate in the 1993-94 school year.

Highlights of the proposed budget include:

Central office staff - the administrative restructuring of staff has led to a decrease in personnel at the upper level. This, in turn, has led to a reduction in clerical positions.

Buildings and ground - Total redistribution of staff and the purchasing of more modern equipment has led to reduced manpower hours.

Insurance costs - competitive bidding has accounted for cutbacks in this area. Mr. Mugavero notes that this item was a direct result of a recommendation made by last year's budget committee.

Instruction - Some downsizing of staff has occurred, accounting for a savings of $1,100,000. The district will also be experiencing close to 40 retirements from the teaching staff this year. Mr. Mugavero points out that the salary range of retirees is approximately $55-60,000. The district is looking to rejuvenate the system with younger teachers whose salaries will be at the $30-35,000 level. In addition, the district plans to cut down on the use of substitute teachers.

In addition to cutting costs, the proposed budget is designed to improve the quality of service. At the offset, no instructional programs have been cut, and Superintendent Mugavero briefly outlined some positive revisions, such as, the addition of a third guidance counselor at the middle school, the addition of a second social worker for the district, purchase of library books to improve stock at all levels, better bus service which has also allowed the district to use buses for some field trips without additional costs, and the addition of an intramural sports program for all grades at the middle school next year.

The proposed budget also includes funds for the lease/purchase of two small 22 passenger vans to reduce the cost of in-district special education transportation. In addition, the district has sought and received 25% reimbursement from the state for renovations to the middle school in preparation for next year's incoming sixth grade.

Trustee Richard Pfaender noted that the estimated reduction in the tax rate is a slim three cents, and that the setting of the tax

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

Mr. Donald Kloenne, one of the contributors to your May 1 "Letters to the Editor" column, requested a public explanation of one of the statements that appeared in my letter printed the previous week. To that end, I am submitting this letter.

I neither stated nor implied that someone other than Mr. Kloenne wrote the letter bearing his signature. I neither stated nor implied that someone compelled him to write the letter. I neither stated nor implied, nor do I believe that Kevin Asher had anything to do with any of this. I apologize if the subtlety of my comments caused anyone to draw such inferences. The point of my one sentence, in which I stated that I was told his and the Asher families were friends, was that when there exists such friendship and amity, there also tends to exist affinity and sympathy for the position taken by those for whom one feels the friendship and amity. Mr. Kloenne's letter of May 1 bears out my major premise; human nature, my minor premise. It is up to the people to draw their own conclusion.

Having clarified that point, I beg the forbearance of your readers to permit me to briefly clarify a few other points, and hopefully draw to a close what has become a rather ugly public debate.

Mrs. Skaee is correct regarding the date of the incorporation of the Concerned Citizens of Hicksville, Inc. However, she is incorrect in her apparent assumption that it is also the date the organization began to operate. As was stated by several contributors two weeks ago, the organization existed as an unincorporated association, under several names, for a number of years. Many other civic associations and other groups like the East Street School Coalition exist as viable, active groups, without choosing to adopt a corporate structure. Notwithstanding that statement, the membership of the CCH decided in March of 1991 to incorporate. The organization changed legal form on that date, nothing else. Mrs. Skaee still gets the "F" in history, but considering her extra work in finding the CCH's articles of incorporation, she gets extra credit, bringing her final grade to a "D". In case anyone is wondering, I resigned the officership with the CCH, which Mrs. Skaee pointed out that I held, the day after I was elected to the Board of Education.

There were many statements in the several letters in your May 1 issue regarding the actions and attitudes of Mrs. Lafferty, Mr. Pfaender, and me, during our tenure on the Board.

I will make one brief response to them all.

No, we three do not always act in unison in our voting patterns. We disagree as much as we agree. Note, for purposes of example, our lack of unanimity on the hiring of Bishop and Evans, the termination of the Teacher Aides, and the proposed closing of Dutch Lane School. One does not need to always agree with a person to respect them.

We were not the only Trustees to disagree with Bishop and Evans to close Lee Avenue. Mrs. Wolf joined us in voting "no" and Mr. Collins abstained. All five had valid reasons for our votes, as, I would like to believe, did Mr. Martillo and Mrs. Rudin, who voted "yes."

Honest disagreement does not equal "not working responsibly or cooperatively" as Mr. Pelligrini stated in his letter. It means that seven people, acting in good faith and voting their conscience, do not agree. In fact, I believe that the deadlock in school closings, while unfortunate for many reasons, showed that all the members of the Board acted in strictest good conscience. None of us would compromise our consciences on so important an issue.

Finally, regarding the issue of which elementary schools should close, if any. Yes, Mrs. Bernardo, Mrs. Skaee, Mrs. Marchione, and Mr. Kloenne, there are valid reasons for keeping East Street School open. One can make a logical argument that each of the elementary schools should remain open. One can also make a logical argument for closing each of the elementary schools.

There was much talk of freedom, democracy and one's right to an opinion in your letters and those of your supporters. Will you not permit me the same right? Can we not agree to disagree, in good faith? There is no personal animus involved here. In fact, and in conclusion, I am not determined to close East Street. I believe that there are four schools that merit examination for the purposes of closure. They are (in alphabetical order): Dutch, East, Fork, and Old Country.

That is September's discussion. Let us all take the next few weeks to work for the one goal we can all agree upon. The passage of our school budget.

Very truly yours,
James M. Black II

To the Editor:

I cannot let Mr. Black's allegations of April 24 go unanswered. In Mr. Black's letter he says that the CCH (Concerned Citizens of Hicksville) has been an organization since 1984. Not true! He incorporated them in March, 1991. There were other organizations before it, groups such as Life, Pride, Best, the Coalition, and even HCBE. Some of these groups had many of the same members. However, none of them had a restricted membership. CCH has! How can any group that has membership restrictions claim to represent All of Hicksville?

The current CCH President and Vice President, as well as four or five other families of CCH, have lawsuits against the district. We are led to believe that they are not a controlling interest in the group. Even if one were naive enough to use their own membership numbers, listed in this paper, I submit that six to seven families represent a block of fifteen to twenty percent. Can that percentage control a group?

Statements were made concerning CCH President Visconti's attendance at board meetings. CCH Vice President Kani implied that he has been involved in many school district activities for many years. I applaud Mr. Visconti's visibility during the past three years. However, until the Izzo case Mr. Visconti was invisible at board meetings.

Does Mr. Visconti influence board members? Several times during every meeting, Trustee Black gets up from the table and holds discussions with Mr. Visconti and others. What do you think they're discussing? Draw your own conclusions. In fact, during a recent board budget study session, when the board had only five members present, Mr. Black left in the middle of the meeting to attend a CCH meeting. Mr. Pfaender remained. Had he left, the meeting would have disbanded lacking a quorum. Is CCH business more important than board business?

Finally, school closings. Last year the community elected three trustees, Lafferty, Pfaender, and Black, who promised to close schools. Couple this with Martillo, Rudin and Wolf who also promised to close a school. The community certainly should have expected a school closing this year. This didn't happen. Why? No school closed because board members are community members and subject to the pressures of the community. The decision to close a school, no matter how much one protests otherwise, cannot be objective. For example:

*Why won't Mrs. Lafferty close Burns? She has said her school serves the northwest section of town and it's the hub of her community.

*Why won't Mr. Pfaender close Woodland? He has said it can't close because the Willet children shouldn't be moved again; they have sacrificed enough.

*Why won't Mr. Black close Woodland? He will echo Mr. Pfaender. If you ask him about Lee Avenue, he will tell you as he did in this paper, "We voted 'No' on Lee Avenue because it was, is, and will always be the wrong school to close." He fails to mention why. He also forgets to mention that he went to Lee Avenue and that his parents live there.

*Mr. Martillo is accused by Mr. Black of being East Street's guardian angel, rendering it untouchable. But Mr. Martillo would point out that his school is in the middle of a residential neighborhood.

*Mrs. Wolf would echo Mr. Martillo's comments about her school, Fork Lane.

*I would tell you Dutch Lane isn't the school to close because its a perimeter school and the hub of my community.

This should tell you why board members cannot make the best decisions when it comes to school closings.

That is why consultants, who have no stake and aren't influenced by vested interests should make the decision. Consultants make recommendations. That's what being a consultant is all about. The Board voted 4 - 3 to have the consultants make the recommendation. The board voted 6 - 1 to hire the consultants. Cost $12,500. Additionally, we spent $45,000 for an engineering report to tell us that our schools are safe and several thousand more for redistricting information.

What did the consultants say? They said close Lee Avenue School or, as an alternative, Old Country Road. Old Country Road was also the choice of our former Superintendent on October 12, 1990. Yet Lafferty, Pfaender, and Black went out on their own and voted not to accept the consultants' recommendation. They decided on Dutch Lane and/or East Street.

Is it any wonder that the candidates for the board this year are from Old Country Road, Lee Avenue, East Street and Dutch Lane? School closings have become the litmus test for school board trustee. What a pity, since there are many more issues that should be addressed.

I will be supporting Jim Martillo and Carol Reden on May 20. I have worked on the board with Jim Martillo for two years. I see a side of him that most of you don't know. His background in criminal justice often makes him appear as an observer rather than a participator. This is not true. He has brought to the board and administration key issues that needed addressing. Mr. Mugavero and his team are finally addressing them. Mr. Martillo was the first to say, three years ago, that we needed cuts in administration. Mr. Mugavero listened and we, as a community, will save over $1-million. Mr. Martillo suggested that we could buy a district van and get state aid reimbursement. He was right. It saved us thousands of dollars. He chaired the Policy and Curriculum Committee his first two years on the board.

I am supporting Carol Reden, a neighbor whom I had seen occasionally at board meetings but never really knew. In her I see a take charge person who knows how to get things done. She answers questions directly. She has a grasp of our community. She graduated from our schools.

Jim Martillo and Carol Reden have already committed themselves to which school they will close. They will follow the consultants' recommendations and vote to close Old Country Road.

When you vote on May 20 I hope you know what school your candidate will close.

Anyone running for the board should tell you what school they'll close. If they tell you they haven't made up their mind yet, they are either lying or haven't done their homework. In either case, do you want them representing you?

If you believe as I do that we should be following the consultants' recommendation, and that Old Country Road should be closed, vote 1A Reden, and SC Martillo on May 20. Then let us get on with the business of education! As we move forward, please remember to vote yes for the budget and the propositions. This year's budget represents a new direction, "No dollar increase; No tax rate increase; and No educational cuts." It's a first!

To the Editor:

In the May 1st edition of the Mid Island Times, a letter was written to me addressing Ms. Spielman's requests about information. Upon sending my letter to the Mid Island Times (their deadline for letters is Tuesday morning), I had received a request by Miss Reden and Mr. Martillo to address our next membership meeting.

When our Executive Board met on Monday evening we made up our agenda and agreed to honor the requests of Miss Reden and Mr. Martillo to speak at our May 6th meeting. The very next morning I submitted the information letter to the Mid Island Times knowing the deadline was that very morning. Unfortunately I assumed that since Miss Reden and Mr. Martillo had requested the invitation, that they would be able to attend, without getting their formal response. As it turned out Miss Reden and Mr. Martillo could not attend the membership meeting because of previous commitments.

Upon reading the information piece in the Mid Island Times on Thursday and only finding out on Wednesday that they were unable to attend, I called Miss Reden to apologize for the mix-up. She accepted the apology and understood the circumstances and requested that if our membership had another meeting that they would like to address the organization.

I do apologize to all for any inconveniences that I have caused.

Sincerely,
Joe Visconti

April Fool's Day At Central Blvd.

To celebrate April Fool's Day, the students in Mrs. Skinner's fifth grade reading group together with students from Ms. Deasy's class dramatized the play "How Wise the Fool." This play is based on one of the theories about how April Fool's Day originated. The story takes place in a small village in eastern Europe many years ago, when some of the people fooled a group of soldiers who wanted to rob them of their possessions. This play includes both humor and audience participation, which makes it both interesting and enlightening.

In Service

Navy Seaman Peter A DeBenedetto of Pickwick Drive, Hicksville, recently returned aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Nassau, homeported in Norfolk, VA, from the NATO multinational exercise "Teamwork 92." Teamwork 92, was designed to improve the professionalism and effectiveness of NATO forces while operating in the realistic environment of the North Atlantic and coastal waters of Norway. This operation included maritime, air, amphibious and field training exercises.

The 1987 graduate of Hicksville High School joined the Navy in July 1991.

Town Building Chief At G.O.P. Club

Commissioner Salvatore B. Pontillo of the Town of Oyster Bay's Department of Planning and Development will be the guest speaker at the Hicksville Republican Club's May General Membership Meeting. The meeting will be held on Friday, May 8, beginning at 8:30 p.m. at the Hicksville V.F.W. Hall, 320 South Broadway, Hicksville.

The Oyster Bay Town Board recently appointed Commissioner Pontillo to head the department after years of serving as its Deputy Commissioner. Commissioner Pontillo will discuss his plans to improve the efficiency of the department, and how the office will increase its services for the community. Mr. Pontillo will also be available to answer any inquiries concerning building, zoning, or planning issues which may be of interest to Hicksville residents.

All Hicksville residents are welcome to attend. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Serious Automobile Accidents In Hicksville

A two car collision between a suspected DWI driver and a van on Jerusalem Avenue at Dante Avenue has left three injured and one, the van driver, in critical condition. The accident was reported on April 8 at 6:40 p.m. Hicksville fire fighters and County police worked to free the trapped female driver. The Levittown Fire Department assisted by transporting two of the injured to the hospital. The van driver was airlifted by police helicopter to North Shore Hospital. County police are investigating. As of April 29, the van driver, a female, was in stable condition. One of the vehicles also caught fire, but it was quickly extinguished by fire fighters.

A two car accident at Plainview Road and Elm Street on April 27 at 7:28 a.m. left three people injured while fire destroyed one vehicle. The intersection is the scene of many accidents and a new traffic signal at East Street has not helped any.

Again, on April 27, at 1:42 p.m., a two car accident left one driver with a head injury and two broken arms. His vehicle struck a commercial van making a left turn. The seriously injured driver had to be extricated by Hicksville fire fighters.

Hicksville Fires

April 17, 7:44 p.m.: April Lane. One Hicksville resident is lucky to have escaped injury when he used gasoline to fire up his BBQ. When the fire flared up, the startled person tossed the burning gas can into his shed. Hicksville fire units arrived minutes later, but the owners had extinguished the fire. Fire Chief Patrick Scanlon reminds all residents to be cautious using a barbecue. Never use gasoline to start a fire in the grill and, if you use propane, check for leaks before you light the fire or you could receive serious burns.

April 23, 11:28 p.m.: 23 Link Lane. A fire believed to have started from an unattended religious candle spread throughout the kitchen area of the Levitt style home and caused moderate damage. Chief Scanlon reported the fire had burned for a period of time before being reported. The fire was reported via 911 by neighbors. First arriving fire fighters (in their private cars) extinguished the fire before the fire apparatus arrived. Fire fighters managed to rescue and revive several animals, including a dog, one cat and one rabbit. The owner, although covered with soot, refused assistance. No smoke detector was present, which would have prevented most of the damage. They are required by N.Y. State Law, which fire fighters hope will one day be enforced. Five thousand people die from mostly preventable fires each year, and that should be good enough for government leaders to enact teeth in the law now on the books.

Once again, Hicksville fire officials, like many others, wish to remind Hicksville residents that Hicksville, as well as most of Nassau County, has its own dispatchers "on duty", and calling them direct is faster than 911, whose operators must transfer to a fire communication office which in turn calls the local fire department.

In Hicksville, to avoid delay for fire, call 931-0026 (Hicksville Fire District only). For the police, call 911. Your county phone book has all the fire departments listed. If you do not have a phone number sticker, which are sent out each year, call (in Hicksville) 933-6444 and stickers will be sent.

Auto Garage

Permit Hearing

A request for a special use permit and/or modification of restrictive covenants in Bethpage will be the subject of a public hearing by the Oyster Bay Town Board on Tuesday, July 7, it was announced this week by Town Councilman Thomas L. Clark.

The Town Board will be considering a request by Anthony Maresca, Vincent Delborello, and Paumanock Development Corporation for a special use permit and/or modification of restrictive covenants in an 'H' industrial (light industry) district to allow for the construction of a public garage, office and retail space for automobile related uses," Councilman Clark said. The property, which is presently improved with a two story structure known as the Linden Tree Restaurant, is located on the east side of Broadway, north of the intersection of South Oyster Bay Road.

The meeting will be held in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Avenue, Oyster Bay, beginning at 10 a.m.

HBA Weekly News Report

Boys Instructional Division

The Yankees, sponsored by the Hicksville Fire Dept. opened up their season on Saturday against the Tigers. The hitting attack was led by Brandon Serralta, Chris Gorman and Kevin Kuck, who each had two hits. Tom Brewer tripled and Matthew Economou doubled. Jeffery Sallustro and Michael Caglione each had a hit and played well in the field for their first game ever played. The team ball was awarded to Chris Gorman, another first gamer for two hits and very fine fielding.

Girls Minor Division

On April 28, this grey team got off with a rip roaring start when Lizzie Rothbard scored the first run. Later in the game, Rosie Zello made a great catch at first base.

A highlight of the game occurred during the 4th inning when Jillian Scinoco's double started a hitting rally that loaded the bases and scored two runs.

We look forward to warmer temperatures for our next game.

Team #2, managed by Janet Aluska and coached by Aurea Zeiders, met up with Team #6 on April 18 after two cancellations due to rain. But rain didn't dampen their spirits when they finally got to play, and play they did. In only four innings they won 18-4, due to excellent pitching by Joanna Cooper and Marie D'Amato. Excellent hitting by Christina Aluska, Stephanie Dorah, Lisa Diaz, Jaimie Kryzynowski, Andrea Stergiopoulos and Elizabeth Weber. Home runs by Marie D'Amato and Kristen Zeiders, and fielding by Lauren Perazzo, Christina Pietzak and Amy Yu. These girls made some great plays and hits during their long awaited delay to play their first game, which was coached by Janet Aluska and Aurea Zeiders. We would like to thank all who helped with our practices with the girls!

Our next game, played on April 22 against team #5 was doubtful because of rain on and off all day. But when we got to the field it was time to play ball and our girls did pretty well. We won by 15-9 over team #5. Again excellent pitching by Joanna Cooper, Marie D'Amato and Kristen Zeiders brought us to victory. We had great hitting and a home run from Kristen too. As well as great hitting by Christina Aluska, Joanna Cooper, Marie D'Amato, Lauren Perazzo, Jaimie Kryzynowski, Andrea Stergiopoulos and Elizabeth Weber. We had good catchers suiting up for each inning by Christina Aluska, Stephanie Doran, Elizabeth Weber and Tracey Vitthum. Good field by Christina Pietzak and Amy Yu. We had a good game despite the heavy fog. Good game girls and coaches and our practice helpers!

Boys Minor Division

On April 18, the Blue Jays met against the Red Sox, managed by Joe Restivo. The Red Sox gave up this game to the Blue Jays by a score of 11-6. They opened their season Saturday using Joe Restivo as starting pitcher, who struck out 6, while giving up 3 runs in his season debut. Michael Benic went 1/2, stole two bases and scored 2 runs. Scott MacDonald, 2/2 with a stolen base, 1 run scored, and 1 RBI. Vincent Patrowicz with a base hit and an RBI. Steven Recher and Gary Bretton each added base hits with 2 stolen bases. Joe Restivo threw out a runner at 2nd base while catching and added a double and 2 RBIs. Leonard DeStefano played strong at shortstop with fine defense.

This time the Red Sox came up against the Cubs with a final score, Red Sox 4, Cubs 10. The game was Gary Bretton's first game as catcher and he did a great defensive job and threw out one runner stealing. He went 2/3, drove in 1 run, scored twice and stole 4 bases. Joe Restivo came in to pitch in the 4th inning striking out 8 Cubs and allowing 3 runs. Joe Leo added two solid hits as did Leonard DeStefano with 3 RBIs and a stolen base. Ryan O'Toole with 3 K's and Michael Benic with a base hit and 2 stolen bases and 1 run scored.

Their third time to the plate the Red Sox played the Yankees, with a final score of Red Sox 5, Yankees 12. Steven Recher had quite a game on this day. After being injured in the 1st inning he came back to hit a double driving in 2 runs. Then with his last at bat in the sixth, crushed a home run to deep left center field. Joseph Mianulli playing tough defense at 2nd base with a double play to his credit, also scored 2 runs and stole 4 bases. Michael Benic did a fine job in his pitching debut holding a strong Yankee team to 5 runs while striking out 3. solid defensive play by James Quinn, Edric Borja, and Gary Bretton in a strong effort for the Red Sox.

Boys Major Division

Yankees Team #6 played the Red Sox, Team #1 April 30 for a close win with a score 3-2 for the Yanks. It was a tight game for pitcher Paul McNamara, who went the distance striking out 12 batters and giving up no earned runs. All year Paul so far, has pitched nine innings and given up only 1 run. Great pitching Paul! Matt Pinelli and Chris Johnson each drove in runs to help win this game. Excellent fielding by the rest of the team prevented the Red Sox from getting ahead to clinch the win for the Yanks. Brad Murphy hit a powerful double and while sliding into 2nd, injured his wrist and needed a cast. He will be out a month and the team misses him. Get well soon, Brad!

On Saturday, May 2, the Yankees met with the Royals, team #5. Matt Pinelli pitched 6 strong innings in his first outing this year and went a powerful 4/4 at bat. This team was on fire with a team batting average of .531 for the entire game. The bats were swinging with John Gessel hitting 2/4, Paul McNamara 2/4, Joey Caruso 2/3, Scott Goodwin 2/3, Big John Zulkofske 3/3, Mark Atlas 1/3, Jake Danzi 1/2 with excellent catching behind the plate.

Great fielding also by Craig Delia and Charlie Bernardo. All this fine effort gave the Yankees the victory against the royals with a score of 14-6. Great ball boys!

The Majors team #4, Mets managed by Harvey Fried and coached by Jim Gilmor, played the Cubs on April 14. The Mets opening game was a victory over the Cubs 11-10. The Mets were led by the slugging of Mike Kinewsky with 5 RBIs and Greg Economou. The fine pitching of Eric Micalizzi and Greg Economou backed up fine hitting. The Cubs never say die left the bats flying and winning runs on base as the game ended.

On April 20, one of the finest pitched games of 2 little league pitchers you'll ever see was played. Ken Broshart of the Mets and John Schiaralli of the Red Sox left the game after 6 innings with the score tied 0-0. Kenny allowed only 2 hits while his counterpart John, allowed only 4. The Red Sox rushed across 2 runs in the extra inning only to have the Mets respond with 3 of their own to seal the victory. The game was highlighted by exceptional fielding. The Mets Mike McGovern made 2 game saving plays to send the game into extra innings. The final score was Mets 3, Red Sox 2.

The Pirates team #2 played the Red Sox team #1 on May 2 for an exciting win for the Pirates. The team and their coach, Joe Koloski, started their season off slowly but now appear to be off and running. Of note during their first three games were fielding plays by Adam Smith, Jamison Lee and Michael Delaney as well as some solid pitching by Michael Kilfoil. In their fourth game, a 3 run homer by Adam Smith followed soon after by Andrew Coppola's homerun, assured a strong lead. Mike Clorciari's incredible throw from the outfield to home plate, caught by catcher Adam Smith, prevented a near score by the Red Sox. Jason Basso displayed some great running ability and Daniel Koloski pitched 3 innings giving up no runs.

Local Nurse Given Honors

Mary Anne Bollhofer of Hicksville has been selected by her peers for admission to the Long Island Jewish Medical Center Nursing Department center of Excellence Ceremony May 7.

Mary Anne, a four year employee of LIJMC, graduated Magna Cum Laude from Adelphi University in May 1991. She was also inducted into the Alpha Omega Chapter of Sigma Theta Tau, The National Honor Society for Nurses. In April of this year Mary Anne served on Sigmas' Spring Conference Committee - "Pain Across the Lifespan" held at Mercy Medical Center.

Belated congratulations also go out to Captain Joanne Bollhofer who was commissioned by the United States Air Force in the spring of 1991. She is the Chief of Pharmacy at the MacGuire Air Force Base Clinic.

William J. Bollhofer has been accepted to the New York College of Osteopathic Medicine. He is scheduled to begin classes in September 1992. He was also accepted to New York State Col-

BABES Program At Fork Lane

Mrs. Doerler's Kindergarten classes at the Fork Lane School in Hicksville participated in a program entitled "BABES" (Beginning Alcohol and Addictions Basic Education Studies) - Steps to Healthy Living."

The program was coordinated by the school nurse, Mrs. Tenenbaum. It was a primary prevention program designed to give children a lifetime of protection from substance abuse. Mrs. Solomon, the program instructor, used bright, colorful, believable and lovable puppets to carry out the program. The information was presented in a manner designed to give children the ability to better understand how to protect themselves from alcohol and chemical dependency situations.

Erik Kauhaus Honored At Nassau Tech

Erik Kauhaus, a junior at Bethpage High School, was honored at Nassau Technological Center for his outstanding efforts in his Carpentry I class. He was chosen as Student of the Month for March because he surpassed his classmates in production, attitude, study and safety.

His teachers at Bethpage and Nassau Tech are proud of Erik and are sure that he will continue his level of performance in the future.

Hicksville AA Opening Game

The Hicksville Athletic Association's Babe Ruth League is an elite travel team of 11-12 years olds. The team is playing Babe Ruth Leagues in Nassau and is also entered in a Western Suffolk League. This team is managed by Tom Boyle and coached by Ken Englehardt and Larry Soper.

The season opener was on April 15 against the Plainedge Red Sox 12 year olds under the lights at Syosset-Woodbury Park. Tommy Kessler did a superb job pitching only allowing one hit. Batting was strong with Adam Geslak going 3-3 and Tommy Kessler going 2-2. The entire team did an outstanding job.

Our second game was against Kings Park at their home field on April 25. Kevin Soper came in as pitcher and did a great job of keeping some strong hitters in check. Jack Sandler at 3rd made a key play stopping a run from scoring. Nick Schmidt was strong in the outfield. Brian Boyle and Tommy Kessler both went 2-3 batting. Hicksville won 6-5.

On Saturday, May 2, this Hicksville Babe Ruth Team had their first double header. The first game was against the East Northport A's. Tommy Kessler pitched a good game with 12 strikeouts and only giving up 5 hits. Keith Englehardt did an outstanding job as catcher. Hitting was strong with Chris Swier going 3-3, James La Padula 2-2, Matt McLoughlin 2-3, Tommy Kessler 2-3, Kevin Soper 2-3 and Adam Geslak 2-3. Final score 12-0 Hicksville.

The second game of the day was against a strong Kings Park team. Kevin Soper pitching was unyielding with 12 strikeouts. Fielding was super with an impressive double play from pitcher Kevin Soper to first baseman Brian Boyle to third baseman Peter Martin. Josh Strugatz was strong in left field. Chris Cannizzaro did a great job as catcher. The bats were hot with Kevin Soper going 3-3, Keith Englehardt 2-2, Matt McLoughlin 2-3, Adam Geslak 2-3 and James La Padula with a towering homerun.

In Service

Navy Seaman Peter A. DeBenedetto, son of Peter T. and Mary A. DeBenedetto of 59 Pickwick Drive, Hicksville, recently returned aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Nassau, homeported in Norfolk, Virginia, from the NATO multinational exercise Teamwork 92.

Teamwork 92 was designed to improve the professionalism and effectiveness of NATO forces while operating in the realistic environment of the North Atlantic and coastal waters of Norway. This operation included maritime, air, amphibious, and field training exercises.

The 1987 graduate of Hicksville High School joined the Navy in July 1991.

ARE YOU OVERLOOKING LONG ISLAND'S WILDEST NIGHTLIFE?

The black-crowned night heron (Nycticorax nycticorax) is a mostly nocturnal native Long Islander who is highly discriminating. You won't find him at just any watering hole. And for dinner the fish had better be fresh, the ambience unhurried.

You might say the black-crowned night heron is a hard bird to please. But The Nature Conservancy has been working hard for 38 years to provide the night heron and hundreds of other animals and plants the finest accommodations available on Long Island.

We've saved 18,000 acres of ecologically significant land on Long Island alone, from the last 19-acre remnant of the Hempstead Plains to our 2,000-acre

Mashomack Sanctuary on Shelter Island. Nationwide, we've preserved nearly 4 million acres of forest, prairie, desert, island, and mountain. And our international program is fighting to save the world's rapidly vanishing rain forest.

You can help The Nature

Conservancy do its vitally important work. For $15, not much more than the cover charge for one of Long Island's hottest night spots, you can become a member of the Long Island Chapter. You will receive the Long Island Chapter Newsletter and

The Nature Conservancy Magazine to keep you informed of Conservancy activities. As a member of the Long Island Chapter, you can participate in hikes and education programs led by experienced naturalists, and you are welcome to volunteer to take part in Chapter operations.

If you're concerned about Long Island—not just about its native flora and fauna but also about the water we drink, the air we breathe, and the quality of life here—we urge you to give us a hand. Just call (516)367-3225. You can help protect your environment. And you can have a wild time!

APPLICATIONS AVAILABLE FOR AEROSPACE CAMP

Applications are now available for a unique Aerospace Camp for boys and girls entering grades 5, 6 or 7 to be held at the Cradle of Aviation Museum in Garden City during the Summer.

The Camp has been very popular with the youngsters and suggested that parents sign their children up early. The Cradle of Aviation Museum, now in its formative stages, will eventually be the second largest air/space museum in the country.

The following activities will be available to youngsters who enroll in the four-day sessions:

- Air and spacecraft simulations, including hands-on use of a Lunar Lander Simulator and airliner cock-pit simulator.
- Anatomy of life support systems, including a chance to wear an authentic space suit.
- Model rocket building and launching.
- Planetarium sky show.
- Hands-on instruction with selected aircraft from the Museum's collection.

Each camp session will be held from Monday through Thursday, 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and begin on the following dates: July 6, 13, 20, 27; August 3 and 10. The tuition is $135 per session and covers counselor supervision, training

Recalling where our parents time went compared to doing the same tasks today. Monday was laundry day - lite the gas water heater or heat water on kitchen wood/coal stove, while heating they made beds, did dishes, then back to the laundry using the bar of yellow soap or Lux flakes, etc. and the wash board and with strong scrubbing hands did laundry. Then came the hand wringer attached to the wash tubs, hoping no buttons would break or come off. The large laundry basket held the wash to the window pulley line or one or more lines in the yard. While they dried, there was time to get lunch so that the afternoon would be free to fold the dry wash & be heating up the irons on the stove so she could iron. Using a pot holder for the hot handles, or if lucky some irons had a wooden handle that could be detached from one iron base to the spare that was heating. By now, provided no small children, it is time to plan supper for the family, then more dishes. After or during supper the radio with Myrt & Marge or Amos & Andy would be on. While you sat down and relaxed doing some darning or sewing repairs. Nowadays you throw clothes in the washing machine & dryer, free to do anything, unless you forget the fabric softner. Those days you beat small rugs with a carpet beater, larger rugs a carpet sweeper. Now, you use electric vacuum cleaners. So when you think you have no time for yourself think of the time it took years ago. Your soap operas were on radio, you listened & worked, no sit down and watch. Charles Beatty & Son had a different, exclusive idea in the late 1930s' Called it a Flowergram, a fresh flower corsage with greeting card enclosed, gift packaged and mailed in your name. It cost $1.25.

An error under previous photo of Braun's House & Ice House should have read to the right of the Braun house for the then future Bohack Store on the corner of Broadway and Old Country Road.

Colorful Poetry At Lee Avenue

The children in Mrs. Pfizenmayer's second grade class at the Lee Avenue School in Hicksville are making poetry books on colors. Children today are so bombarded with vivid colors that they reacted very imaginatively. After writing their original poems on a variety of different colors, the children used the Magic Slate word processing program to produce very professional looking poems. Poetry is an excellent way for children to express feelings. They have used it as an appreciation of beauty and to record their personal feelings.

Hicksville Firms Get Government Help

Two Hicksville companies have been the recipients of New York State government grants or loans in recent months:

Servo Corporation of America, 111 New South Road, received a $75,000 award from the Dept. of Economic Development for a full productivity assessment. The firm designs, manufactures and markets high-technology electronic equipment and components. Servo employs one hundred fifty workers at its facility. The company will pay the balance of the $287,020 total project cost.

Hicksville Clinical Laboratories, on Frederick Place, received a $720,000 realty loan from the Job Development Authority to consolidate its clinical pathology operation, along with its Anatomical Pathology Division in Syosset, into a facility at 260 Smith Street in Farmingdale.

The project location will be renovated to include eighty percent of its 25,000 square foot area as clinical-laboratory space, and twenty percent is office space. Within three years of project operation, the firm expects to increase employment from forty-nine to eighty-one people.

The financing package of $1.8 million was processed by the Bi-County Development Corp. of Long Island.

National Women's History Month

Mrs. Grib's Third Grade Students at the Fork Lane School in Hicksville celebrated National Women's History Month by writing biographies and reading them to convince the class of each outstanding contribution. Some examples included: Elizabeth Blackwell, the first woman doctor in the United States; Marie Curie, physicist, chemist, and co-discoverer of radium; Amelia Earhart, aviator and first woman to cross the Atlantic Ocean; Helen Keller, internationally famous deaf and blind author and lecturer; Eleanor Roosevelt, humanitarian working on behalf of the underprivileged; Harriet Tubman, abolitionist in the underground railroad; Susan B. Anthony, gave women the right to vote; and Queen Elizabeth II, head of the United Kingdom of Great Britain.

Youth Council To N.Y. Jets

The Hicksville Youth Council has recently received an invitation from the United Way of Long Island to attend New York Jets Youth Day at Hofstra University on Saturday, May 16. The trip will leave the Youth Council at about 11:15 a.m. and should return around 4 p.m. The Jets will conduct a "mini camp" where the young people that attend will meet players and coaches, and experience some drills in various football skills and game preparation techniques. Lunch will be provided by McDonald's restaurants.

The Youth Council has ten spots available to them, and any young person between the ages of twelve to fourteen is eligible to attend. The spots will be given out on a first-come first-serve basis, so come to the Youth Council soon. There will be no cost for this trip and transportation will be provided.

For any further information, call Tom at the Youth Council. The number is 822-KIDS.

East Street

"Lending Library"

The Parent Education Committee of the East Street School PTA (chaired by Resource Room Teacher Ms. Rene Powers) has created a Lending Library for Parents and Teachers.

This library will consist of resource and aid materials (news/magazine articles, pamphlets, books and videos) to help educate and assist parents. Vast topics include helping children with school work, health problems, emotional problems, and nutritional guidance.

Parents may use the library (located in the Nurse's Office) from 9:30 until 10:30 in the mornings, and from 2:30 until 3:30 in the afternoons. The library is also open twenty minutes prior to all East Street PTA meetings. Parents and teachers are invited to use the library free of charge.

Some of the materials are being purchased with PTA funds, but mostly through donations from parents and local bookstores.

East Street PTA President Dorrie Bannardo announced, "I am proud that this committee has found a new way to serve the parents and the children of the East Street School."

Letters

To The Editor:

We are pleased that Joseph Visconti and the Concerned Citizens of Hicksville (CCH) accepted our request to extend an invitation to us to address his organization, CCH.

However, it is highly presumptuous and quite irresponsible of Mr. Visconti and CCH to publicly advertise in a letter to the editor of this paper that we are addressing CCH on May 5, when no person from CCH had even confirmed this with either one of us.

We did send a letter to CCH requesting an opportunity to address its membership. On Tuesday, April 28, after 7:30 p.m., Ed Hebron, the CCH secretary, left messages at our respective homes to inform us of the meeting date for which we were invited to speak. He also said that a letter would be going out (we did not know he meant a letter to the editor). Ed Hebron never spoke to either one of us in order to confirm that date.

By Tuesday evening, we already had commitments for the evening of May 5, and would be unable to attend the CCH meeting on that date. Therefore, we would never have confirmed that date, and would have requested to address CCH at another date. We had contacted Ed Hebron twice the following day after he left his messages, and was notified that May 5, presented a conflict of scheduling for us.

As we have stated above, CCH should have confirmed the date with us prior to publicly advertising. We would appreciate if CCH could arrange an opportunity for us to address CCH at another date.

Sincerely
Carol Reden
James Martillo

P.S. We acknowledge that following the publication of Mr. Visconti's letter concerning the above matter and following the writing of this letter, Mr. Visconti called us in order to apologize on behalf of himself and CCH for their mistake in publicising before confirming. We do appreciate his apology.

To The Editor:

The politicians must be getting nervous. Since I announced my candidacy for the Hicksville Board of Education a few weeks ago the rumors have surfaced distorting my view on school closings. I would therefore like to put the gossip to rest and take this opportunity to restate my position.

I have lived through this civil war since the first shots were fired. Finally, all the information has been gathered and is available to the community. The Bishop and Evans Demographic Report is public information and both the Engineer's Report and the Applied Data Services Redistricting Report is available for public viewing at the Administration Building. In fact, for a moderate fee, they will make copies of various sections of the reports.

One reason to close a school is economics. This issue can be settled quickly. The minimal savings does not justify the intangible costs to the district both in terms of the children being redistricted and to the harmony of the community as a whole. The estimated savings on the tax rate is approximately $0.04 per $100 current assessed valuation. As a homeowner and taxpayer in Hicksville, I am well aware of the extreme burden of taxes. We must explore every possible area to save money but closing a school is simply not the place.

Many people and organizations have raised technical concerns with the Bishop & Evans Report. Without rehashing old arguments, I will limit my comments here to state that the consultants have underestimated future population trends in this community and therefore have developed artificially low future enrollment projections. Articles in Newsday (3/13/92), Fortune Magazine (2/10/92) and other publications have provided validation for this viewpoint. There are also problems with their methodology in developing adjusted operational capacity.

Applied Data Services was faced with the impossible task of attempting to fit too many students into too few classrooms after closing a school while simultaneously attempting not to violate the neighborhood concept in the Redistricting Report. The computer simulations demonstrate what everyone who studies a map of Hicksville will see. It is impossible to close a school without massive dislocation and movement of students. The student distribution maps developed by Applied Data Services were exercises in Russian Roulette. Children were moved around like chess pieces on a board with no regard to existing neighborhoods, crossing major roads and other major factors.

My proposal is to keep all our elementary schools open, which will serve to maintain the current natural neighborhoods formed by the major roads through Hicksville and will also serve to begin the healing process. Rather than close a school to consolidate, I propose that we utilize the excess space for programs such as a pre-school/day-care/latchkey program in all the elementary schools. This would serve the dual purposes of providing much-needed revenue to the district and providing much-needed services to the parents in our community. This program will also ensure that we do not need to reopen a school in the future should enrollment increase, but merely scale back on these ancillary programs. A special education pre-school program in the excess classrooms in every elementary school, similar to the one currently at Dutch Lane, is another revenue producing alternative that needs exploration and expansion.

Closing an elementary school in this district, especially during the current rise in enrollment, should be a "last choice" admission of failure on the part of the School Board to develop viable and profitable uses for the excess classrooms in each school. The issue of school closing is not a political football to be used to help your friends or set your enemies.

Our prime concern must be the safety, welfare and education of all of our students.

Thank you.

Sincerely
Linda Mirro

To The Editor:

Recently I had the pleasure of taking my 19 third graders to the Gregory Museum. It was a wonderful experience for everyone. The guide, Mrs. MacKay was super. The children learned about rocks and minerals. They examined the jail cell and old-fashioned objects. They were excited about the glowing rocks. They saw a film strip presentation of a volcano erupting. They had a chance to buy gifts at a nominal price in the gift shop.

After we returned to school, we all wrote thank you letters to Mrs. MacKay. The children also drew and wrote stories about their trip. One of the best features of this trip was that it was entirely free. There was no charge for the museum and the bus was free because the museum is in Hicksville.

It is most important for the referendum for this museum to pass for the benefit of Hicksville children and children from other parts of the Island. We can be very proud of this museum!

Sincerely,
Mignon Wallman

To the Editor:

Vote Yes For Museum Proposal

Once again, the Hicksville Gregory Museum - Hicksville Public Schools service contract is being presented a separate proposition for school budget voters. This alliance for education is an innovative 11-year relationship which has existed since July, 1981 with the endorsement of all of our school superintendents and school boards, over the years. The museum service contract is also warmly supported by the Citizens School Budget Advisory Committee, this year.

This educational service contract, entered into by an enlightened school board, has been one of a long series of progressive programs our school district has undertaken. It was designed to assist the Earth Science and Local History Curriculum needs of our students and teachers. The Museum-school educational collaboration was countenanced by their chief counsel for the State Education Department, was endorsed and encouraged by its presence in all of Dr. Catherine Fenton's budgets for 1983-1990, was recently praised by Superintendent Salvatore Mugavero, and has the strong support for continuance by the present Board of Education.

Among the champions of the Gregory Museum - School District service relationship have been many former well-respected school board trustees. They have appreciated the museum's wide assortment of free services to our children, teachers, and families at a bargain price - this coming year $2.00 annual tax per property-owner!

Over many years, much of Hicksville has enjoyed the constructive contributions of Hicksville Gregory Museum: school class guided tours to see the wonders and beauties of geology, the world of fossils and butterflies and moths. Other programs include internships at the museum for Gifted and Talented students; classes and activities oriented toward the needs of Special Education groups; museum-sponsored bus "sight-seeing tours of Hicksville" for many second grade classes, each year; out-reach and in-house slide photo programs on "The Indians of Long Island" for our fourth graders.

Also offered are children's Saturday workshops in nature and science, the popular, motivating Gregory Museum Annual Science Fairs. There is an "open house" at the museum every day, a free service to visiting Hicksville family groups, senior citizens and solitary passerby.

Our local history programs are much appreciated. We have preserved the Old Hicksville Courthouse and its honored place in the National Register of Historic Buildings since 1969. We create books on Hicksville history (three volumes of Hicksville Economic History widely read by all proud Hicksvillites and people far beyond our village). We have thirty slide sets on Hicksville history and life, often shown at our clubs and churches.

The Gregory Museum makes, preserves and relates Hicksville's long, colorful history and, therein, is a value not lost on many of its friends. Whether we boost Hicksville's public image in feature articles in major area newspapers, take a leading part in the Hicksville Historical Society, provide reference material and photographs to enhance the forthcoming Hicksville Fire Department Centennial History or help provide the wonderful pictorial decorations and atmosphere in the headquarters of the Hicksville Water District and the landmark Curtis House, the Museum's volunteer photographer, Edward Bady, and the museum historian constantly try to honor and sustain Hicksville's community pride.

Many knowledgeable people and leaders appreciate the tangible and more subtle aspects of the Hicksville Gregory Museum. They well understand how the museum's continued existence enriches our lives, reputation and our very properties. Culture, educational and spiritual assets do attract and sustain worthy homeowners.

The many friends and supporters of the museum would prefer to see its school service contract as an annual budget line item rather than as a separate proposition. But, until this change occurs, here is the bottom line, friends. $2.00 tax per property owner per year will keep the Gregory Museum alive. Come out everyone and vote for Proposition No. 3 - a continuance of the free museum services to our schools and community. But please vote, also, for Proposition No. 1. The 1992-93 school budget must be passed so Proposition 3 can go into effect.

Richard Evers,
Historian

Gregory Museum

To The Editor:

We are writing this letter to stress to you and to the community how important the Gregory Museum is to us. It provides a very enjoyable and educational place for the older community and the youth of Hicksville. To us, it provides a safe and healthy home away from home and a very special family.

The Museum has given us, as volunteers there, an education not found anywhere else. We have discovered a home in the museum since second grade when we began helping out there.

Now, as ninth grade students at the Hicksville High School, the Museum teaches us much, much more. We've attained public relations skills essential for our futures, by working with adults as well as children, in the gift shop, giving tours and helping at workshops.

The people at the museum have instilled in us their love, compassion and knowledge, not only giving us the self-confidence to strive. We can only attempt to express to you the importance of the museum not only to our families and our community and surrounding communities, but also to keep this wonder, in danger of losing its life, alive.

The Gregory Museum is in danger of losing its funding. It's being held within the school budget Proposition #3. So please, when it comes to voting time, vote YES! Keep the Museum alive!

Sincerely,
Jean Marie Keevins

To the Editor:

The Junior Girl Scout Troop #3117 from Fork Lane Elementary school visited the Hicksville Gregory Museum in April. The girls participated in a workshop about fossils. The Gregory Museum's curator, Mr. Donald Curran, explained to the girls how fossils are formed and how we can learn from them. Under his direction, the girls made their own "fossils" from impression material and plaster of paris.

Later in the day, we all went downstairs for a tour of the old jail as well as a discussion about the process of "goldbeating." There are many old-fashioned and some antique items from the Hicksville area on display in which the girls were quite interested. All these things, and of course the fabulous rock, mineral and butterfly collections, make the Gregory Museum a great asset to our community. Our troop spent a wonderful day there, and we just wanted to let everyone know how many things are there to see and do. It's worth a visit for you too!

Sincerely,
Valerie Krecko

Decreased School Budget Approved For Hicksville

Continued

rate for next year is dependent on some variables that are not under district control.

The Superintendent defended his claim that the district will see a reduced tax rate and asked Mr. Pfaender to "give administration leeway, and we will find the money and keep the budget down."

The superintendent expanded his answer by giving one example of how the administration's imposition of stricter controls and investigation has saved some $630,000 this year. He explained that he directed staff to verify the legality of all new registrations for school this year and they found that 30 students not legally living within the high school and found 35 students attending our high school illegally. Those 65 students have been removed from the Hicksville Public Schools.

The Superintendent made a brief reference to Proposition #3, Support of the Gregory Museum, when he acknowledged "outstanding job (the museum has done) for the people of the community and in the preservation of local history." He noted that the district shares in efforts to make it go forward.

Resident William Kelly, a member of the district-wide budget committee, commended district staff and lay committee members for their hard work. He acknowledged that the education of youngsters came first and that the "integrity" is there to back up this proposed budget.

In addition to unanimously approving the budget of $50,356,098 for the 1992-93 school year, the board discussed a recommendation to accept a bid from Whitsons Food Service for the district's cafeteria program.

The district has been seeking to improve the quality of service in the school cafeterias at the high school and middle school, with the possible expansion of service to the elementary buildings. Whitsons would be solely responsible for the costs of running the program, although the district would be called upon to renovate facilities. Whitsons of Huntington Station offered an extensive program which would guarantee $20,000 to the district, plus 10% of the profits shown in its end-of-year Profit/Loss Statement. If accepted, such a contract would be for one year.

Trustee Pfaender challenged the price list, and questioned if prices seemed out of line for this community. Superintendent Mugavero assured that every item would come before the board for price approval.

The trustees and administration seemed anxious to improve services particularly at the high school where students often spend long hours, attending pre and after school activities, and where there will be a closed campus for grades 9 through 11 next school year. But the trustees were concerned with some details and tabled the item. The Superintendent said that the bid terms are good for 90 days and that the district will revise the Whitsons program and resubmit it to the board at its next regular meeting. The board, in addition, scheduled a work session at 10 p.m. on May 23, following its committee meeting, to discuss the food service contract.

In the Superintendent's report, Mr. Mugavero told the board that in response to parental request, he has directed the preparation of summer reading lists. The lists will be distributed to the elementary youngsters and will be available in the libraries at the middle and high school.

The Superintendent also reported that the high school students will purchase patio furniture from the funds realized through the anti-vandalism program. In the same vein, the board accepted a cash donation of $50 from the Midland Civic Association to offset the district's graffiti program.

Dutch Lane PTS President Peggy Parsekian questioned the district's transportation policy regarding charter bus trips for students, in light of the tragic accident involving middle schoolers from East Meadow. Stewart Opdahl, Superintendent for Business, explained that the district has put into effect a policy to use only bus companies which are regulated by the Interstate Commerce commission, since the ICC carries the most stringent regulations for drivers and vehicles. Mr. Opdahl added that the district has installed a computer program to help verify N.Y. State Department of Transportation certification of buses and Motor Vehicle drivers certification. The point was made by Mr. Opdahl that the district will use New York bus carriers who are under stricter regulation, as opposed to New Jersey carriers who do not fall under the ICC.

The next regular meeting of the Board will be held on the evening of the annual budget vote and election of trustees, Wednesday, May 20, at 8 p.m. in the senior high school.

Hicksville Hawks Soccer Update

By A. Blicker

The Hicksville Hawks traveling soccer team continued their undefeated season, with a 6-0 romp over the East Fishkill Lions, led by an Andre Parris "hat trick," in Fishkill, N.Y., on May 3, in the quarterfinals of the N.Y. State Cup Tournament, proceeding to the semis which will be played on May 30th.

The Hawks totally dominated the game, never being seriously threatened other than by a second half Fishkill penalty shot, which was deftly deflected by superb Hawk goalkeeper Dimitry Drouin. Danny Longo opened the scoring with a header off a Richard Kotschau corner kick. Earl Dennis followed with a goal, assisted by Steven Fox. Parris then scored two, both set up by David Baumritter, giving Hicksville a 4-0 halftime lead. The second half scorers were Parris, assisted by Danny Bell, and Kevin Koehn, set up by a great Earl Dennis run.

On April 25, in the second round of the L.I. Chase Cup Tournament, the Hawks whitewashed the Sachem Trappers, led by the fantastic goaltending of Danny Bell, at the latter's field. Goal scorers were: Steven Fox assisted by Scott McLaughlin, David Baumritter on a Neil Tomlinson assist, and Ralph Schimmenti set up by Fox. On April 26, in L.I. Junior Soccer League play, at Grumman Field, the Hawks played to a 3-3 tie against the Oceanside Navahos, led by two Steven Fox goals, the first set up by Schimmenti and the second by Tommy Basaranlar. Their final tally was Basaranlar, unassisted. The Hawks had a 3-0 lead but the Navahos were not to be denied as they poured in three second half tallies.

In addition to the aforementioned players, strong contributions were made by Mike Longo, Eric Blicker, and Lee Passavia. Congratulations to the Hicksville Hawks players, as well as Coach John Fitzgerald, Assistant Coach Pat McHugh, and Administrator Brian Koehn, for putting together a record of 6 wins, 3 ties, in which they have outscored the opposition 36-6.

THE QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Will the riots in Los Angeles have a backlash against President Bush in the election?

Libya Shouldn't Hold Bombing Suspects

Most callers to Input think that the U.N. should conduct a trial of the suspects in the Pan Am bombing in answer to this question: "Should the U.N. allow Libya to conduct its own trial of the Pan Am bombing suspects?" Here are some of the answers:

SHOULD TURN OVER SUSPECTS

As I understand it evidence has uncovered that two and possibly three Libyan citizens were involved in the bombing of the Pan Am jet which crashed in Scotland. The government of Scotland has asked the U.N. to help in getting the suspects to Scotland for trial but Quadaffy has refused saying that he wants to have any trial in Libya. Many believe the people involved could have had the blessing of the Libyan government and therefore Quadaffy would not have a real trial but simply a way to exonerate the suspects. We should force him to turn over the suspects to Scotland or to a world court. J.F.

WHAT ABOUT SYRIA?

The problem involved is that the U.S. seems to be trying hard to only implicate Libyans for the Pan Am disaster. Many investigators believe that Libya and Syria were involved and that the U.S. is protecting Syria because of its help against Iraq. I think until things are much clearer it is hard to say that Libya should turn over their citizens if Syrians may also have been involved. G.B.

NO CONVICTIONS

The reason Quadaffy is anxious to have a trial for the Libyan Pan Am bombing suspects is because he knows that U.N. sanctions will hurt his oil exports and the economy of the country but he wants to save face. Many think that Quadaffy himself sanctioned the destruction of the Pan Am plane so there is really no possibility that any convictions would come out of a Libyan trial of the saboteurs. N.V.

SHOULD BE FORCED

I think that Libya should be forced to turn over the suspects either to Scotland or to the U.N. This was an international crime in which 205 passengers were murdered. The world cannot allow these little dictators to kill people and get away with it. I believe any well meaning country would turn over suspects for a world trial and Libya should not get away with it. We should press tough sanctions and force Libya to cooperate. If we do not take a world stand we will have more of these things to deal with in the future. K.N.

NO CONCESSIONS

There seems to be no sensible reason Libya should be allowed to defy the world in a catastrophe such as the Pan Am wreck. Many passengers were killed in this explosion and it took place over Scotland. Criminal suspects should be turned over to stand trial and there should be no special concessions for Libya. G.D.

SYRIA ALL RIGHT

Most people know that Libya is implicated in the Lockerbie disaster and many believe that Syria is also implicated. Ever since the war with Iraq we have been taking a soft approach with Syria and I believe this is true in this case as well. Syria is in the Mid East-Israel negotiations and the U.S. seems to be excusing Syria from any wrong doing that it may have been responsible for. I think the whole thing should be brought out in a world court even if the Libyans are tried in absentia. S.B.

WHOLE WORLD

We must take a strong stand in this case. The entire world has to come together under the U.N. The destruction of the Pan Am flight over Scotland defied reason. Those responsible should answer to the entire world and not just Libya. C.V.

FAKE TRIAL

Quadaffy is simply bluffing when he says that he will deal with the Libyans responsible for the Pan Am disaster. He knows that they had the help of his entire government and he is just arranging a hoax and a fake trial. A.C.

WORLD ATTENTION

I've restudied every recent issue of the New York Times in an effort to acquire a current feel for the Pan Am aircraft massacre and tried every angle I could think of to research the catastrophe in the World Almanac under every heading imaginable without success. As far as I can recall, the terrorist explosion of the plane took place over Scotland and involved 205 passengers with the accusatory finger of the world pointing to Libya with its avowed dedication to terrorism. It seems to me that it would be an act of sheer stupidity under the circumstances to permit Libya to conduct its own trial of the bombing suspects. If ever an international criminal case of this kind was made to order for the United Nations, this effort on the part of Muammar al-Qadaffy certainly deserves its attention. P.G.S.

The Polite Society

By Brenda N. Sasso

Can it be? Is it a dream? Good manners, etiquette, kindness, a return to respectful courtesy.

Finally someone had the good sense to stand up for decency and respect. That someone is Reverend Ian Gregory of Newcastle under Lyme, Staffordshire, United Kingdom.

I recently read in a magazine of his "Polite Society" organized in 1986 by him and a small group which were concerned about the increased aggression and discourtesy of our time. Due to this society, England now holds a national day of courtesy on the first Friday of October. They recruit in schools, whose teachers tell us it improves general standards of behavior. (Perhaps, there could be courses taught beginning in Kindergarten here, on table manners, properly answering a phone and through school years, courses in communication skills that don't offend.) The Polite Society also offers simple training courses in courtesy for all who have dealings with the general public. (Department stores, government agencies and businesses everywhere could benefit here).

The Society registers businesses of all kinds that demonstrate conspicuously high standards of customer CARE. (Perhaps with this training in politeness store clerks would bring in more customers). They also offer "courtesy audits" on businesses, tourist areas and others who need to know what kind of "Impression" they are making on customers, visitors and clients. (Many employers train their employees well for business, but lack the skills they need in treating their customers or clients in a courteous manner ... therefore losing at times valuable business for their employers).

The Society demonstrates how considerate behavior on the road reduces road accidents. (Perhaps our American Auto schools and our high school Drivers Ed. programs could take a lesson teaching more courtesy on the road).

The Polite Society aims to promote considerate behavior as: good manners which cost nothing and profits everybody.

In my correspondence with Rev. Gregory, he indicated he would like to begin a campaign in the United States. Needless to say I wrote him again explaining how I would be happy to start the U.S. Chapter of the much needed and longed for "Polite Society."

Until this comes to fruition, I will share with you and I hope you will share with your family members, business associates, students and social groups the following code of courtesy.

The Polite Society is a voluntary association of persons committed to maintaining good manners and courtesy as the basis of everyday behaviour in British society.
Polite Society Code Of Courtesy:

So far as it is within my power I will at all times be courteous to those with whom I have personal dealings. I accept that this includes:

- members of my family
- those whom I consult professionally
- those whom I serve in my profession or business including clients, patients and customers
- other road users
- tradesmen and shop assistants
- bar and restaurant staff

As a member of the Polite Society, I will exercise the maximum self-control in all situations likely to test my patience and temper. I will treat all those subordinate to me and dependant upon me with kindness and consideration.

At the start of each day I will make a resolution to deal with every situation as I meet it with the utmost consideration for other people's feelings.

I will be especially conscious of the need to be courteous to people whose style of life may differ from my own, such as those of a different generation or race.

I will (if male) treat women with special courtesy, observing habits of chivalry towards them.

I will abstain from conduct or language likely to cause embarrassment or offence to those in whose company I am at any time.

I will eschew publications, performances or social events which appear to dwell on unpleasant and vulgar subjects for their own sake and which do nothing to advance our understanding of the human condition.

Even small advances would make the country less expensive to run and its citizens more productive, healthier and happier.

Perhaps in the United States the Polite Society Code of Courtesy would be stated somewhat differently than the British code, but it would be more or less the same.

Can you imagine what it would be like to go on the train with your elderly mother and actually have a teenage boy let your mother take his seat? Can you imagine being greeted warmly by your local store owner? Can you imagine going to a movie and not being disturbed by the discourteous noise of the other moviegoers. Can you imagine going out to a park with your family and not being victimized by extremely loud radios playing all around you? Can you imagine going out anywhere in public today and not have to listen to crude and vulgar language?

Newsday recently had an article stating that American business owners are becoming aware more and more about Etiquette at the Office.

Men and women are struggling with how to treat each other in the workplace, and because of this need there are image consultants now available nationwide. Consultation on corporate courtesies can be pricey. A widely known consultant may charge from $350 a half-day to $2,000 a full day. They state that: "When we had one-career families a lot of mothers taught etiquette at home, now parents have less time to do that." So teach your children at an early age to mind their manners. Good manners have made a comeback. It is now in Vogue to be polite, have charm and class.

On Britain's national courtesy day there are awards presented to a business that demonstrated cheerful and considerate service, as a Courtesy Enterprise Award. They also promote an award titled: "Think of Someone to Thank." Great ideas! Their attention to this area has sparked dentists to have their receptionists take a course in proper behavior in dealing with patients, etc. I believe a similar service to help employees deal with their customers in many areas would be of benefit such as: the travel industries, restaurant help, etc. The list goes on and on. Each participant receiving acknowledgement for being a part of special training in proper business etiquette.

There is obviously so much that could be done to draw attention to the positive benefits of considerate behavior. For one, less stress and a healthier, happier temperament. A mass commitment to the Polite Society Code of Courtesy would do more for the future well being of our citizens, community and nation than any single act of legislation. (Can you imagine a world where people would actually be nice to each other ... it would be heaven on earth!)

The logo for the Polite Society is a sketch of a gentleman tipping his hat, therefore I bid you a courteous 'adieu.

Q. Will you please describe the correct procedure for introducing one couple to another (1) when the couples are approximately the same age, (2) when one couple is older or more distinguished in station than the other? M.J.

A. When the couples are about the same age it doesn't matter whose names are mentioned first. When one couple is older or more distinguished or perhaps guests in your town you introduce the younger couple.

Q. If your guests completely finish their white wine, down to the last drop, isn't it all right to pour red wine into their same glasses? H.B.

A. No. Either have separate clean wineglasses on the table for the red or wash the dirty glasses and bring them back to the table.

Vegetarian View

By Margaret Witz-Peterson

Say "protein" and many persons envision a steak, roast or drumstick. However, a carefully selected diet can be healthful with a minimum of meat, poultry or fish.

Concern about a meatless food plan often centers on the potential lack of protein, or specifically, a deficiency of the amino acids that comprise all protein. The body uses amino acids to produce protein-containing hormones, enzymes, blood and organ cells, bones and muscles for growth, maintenance and repair.

Only 6 to 8 ounces of cooked lean meat will provide the average 125-pound adult female or 150-pound adult male with the amount of protein needed daily. Although many eat this amount in one meal, we really don't need to consume this much because other foods contain protein.

For example, 8 ounces of milk contains 8 grams of protein, a 1/4-cup of low-fat cottage cheese has 14 grams, and a 1/4-cup of potatoes provides around 3 grams.

Less animal protein means less cholesterol because cholesterol comes only from animal products. A minimum-meat diet usually is lower in fat, as long as you don't go overboard with nuts, whole-fat dairy items and full-fat cheeses.

Plant-based proteins have sufficient amounts of some but not all of the amino acids needed for good health. By combining plant-protein sources, you will consume better quality protein because the amino acid gaps in some plants will be filled by the amino acid strengths of other plant foods.

Eating a little animal protein with the plant protein also will improve the protein picture.

To take full nutritional advantage of plant proteins, rely on these two general pairings:

- Any legume (dried bean/peas, peanuts or soybean products) plus any grain, nut or seed product.
- Any grain, legume, nut or seed plus a little milk, yogurt, cheese, eggs, meat, seafood or poultry.

Thus, you might enjoy beans and tortillas, red beans and rice, peanut butter sandwiches, tofu and rice, cereal and milk, spaghetti and meatless tomato sauce with Parmesan cheese, rice pudding, beef stew, macaroni and cheese, stir-fried chicken over noodles, green salad with kidney beans and cheese — the combinations are endless.

Meat lovers might struggle to change their "meating habits," but meat isn't forbidden. Make their transition easier by serving smaller "hunks" of meat. Help them view meat as a condiment or flavoring agent by chopping, cubing, grinding or slicing meat into small pieces and mixing it with vegetables, pasta and/or beans for casseroles, soups, stir-fries or stews.

MEDITERRANEAN LENTIL SALAD

Q. Next month my husband and I will be entertaining out of town business associates. While they are here we expect to take them out one evening for dinner. While price is no problem (because the company will cover our expenses), we are a little nervous about where to take them. It is the first time we will be meeting our guests and we have no idea what their tastes are!

A. When you entertain people you do not know well it is best to choose a "classic" restaurant with French or American cuisine, rather than one which serves more specialized food. Once you select a likely place it might be a good idea to try it once before your guests come if you haven't eaten there lately. That way you would make sure the food and service are satisfactory at the present time. Always remember that restaurants can change!

Old-fashioned buttermilk was the liquid that was left over after cream was churned to make butter.

Today, the buttermilk you buy in the market is generally made from pasteurized skim milk with added lactic bacteria. The milk is left at room temperature to clabber, giving it the characteristic buttermilk flavor and texture. (Cream and flecks of butter may be added.)

Check date on container before purchasing to ensure freshness, and store in refrigerator up to two weeks.

Buttermilk is easier to digest than regular milk and has fewer calories while retaining all the nutrients.

You can still make your own buttermilk at home — without churning butter, either. Here's an easy way, starting with purchased buttermilk:

In a large, clean glass bowl combine ½ cup buttermilk with 4 cups regular milk. Let stand at room temperature 12 to 16 hours. Check occasionally after about 10 hours, and refrigerate when it reaches buttermilk consistency.

If you are out of buttermilk and need a substitute in a hurry, combine 1 tablespoon white vinegar and 1 cup milk. Let stand at room temperature five to 10 minutes to sour.

Easy no-cook recipes with buttermilk:

• Chilled Buttermilk Fruit Soup: Perfect for a special brunch. Peel, seed, and chop a medium cantaloupe. Place in blender container. Add 1 cup canned sliced peaches (drained), ½ cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon sugar, and ¼ teaspoon cinnamon. Blend until almost smooth. Add 1½ cups chilled buttermilk and blend until smooth. Cover and refrigerate until serving time. Serve in small chilled bowls, garnishing with remaining peach slices and fresh mint sprigs, if desired. Yields four to six servings.

• Buttermilk Float: In blender combine 3 cups buttermilk and ½ pint orange or lemon sherbet. Cover and blend until smooth. Pour into four tall glasses; top each with a scoop of remaining sherbet. Sprinkle lightly with ground nutmeg. Yields four floats.

Buttermilk is also delicious on its own — serve icy cold as a tangy drink — especially good with spicy foods. And buttermilk's natural acidity enhances the leavening action of yeast and baking soda, yielding baked goods with superior texture.

(Recipes in this column are tested in 625- to 700-watt microwave ovens.)

MICRO-TIP OF THE WEEK

If a sauce, soup or pudding recipe contains milk or buttermilk, it's a good idea to use a container double the size of the amount of milk to be microwaved, since it has a tendency to boil over. Check and stir frequently to prevent boilovers!

BUTTERMILK POTATOES FOR 2

- 2 medium potatoes
- ¼ cup buttermilk
- 2 tablespoons reduced-calorie margarine
- 1 (8-ounce) can mushroom stems and pieces, drained
- 1 tablespoon onion flakes
- ¼ teaspoon ground thyme

Yields 2 servings at 130 calories per serving.

Preparation time: 5 to 10 minutes.

Cooking time: 5 minutes.

Oven setting: HIGH (100 percent power); MEDIUM-HIGH (70 percent power).

Wash potatoes, cutting out any dark spots, and pierce several times with a fork. Wrap wet potatoes in plastic wrap. Microwave 5 minutes or until potatoes are soft. Remove plastic wrap from potatoes, and then peel potatoes under cold running water. Rice or mash potatoes into medium-size microwave-safe bowl. Add remaining ingredients and stir to mix. If necessary, cover bowl with plastic wrap and reheat for a minute or so on MEDIUM-HIGH setting.

From "The Diabetic Microwave Cookbook" by Mary Jane Finsand; Sterling Publishing Co., 1989.

TANGY RASPBERRY POPS

- 2 cups cold water, divided
- 1 (0.3-ounce) package sugar-free raspberry gelatin
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1 (12-ounce) bag frozen unsweetened whole raspberries, thawed, or 2 cups fresh raspberries
- 12 paper cups (3 ounces each)
- 12 flat wooden sticks

Yields 1 dozen pops.

Preparation time: 10 to 15 minutes.

Cooking time: 2 to 3 minutes (plus several hours freezing time).

Oven setting: HIGH (100 percent power).

Place 1 cup water in 2-cup glass measure. Microwave 2 to 3 minutes, or until boiling. Place gelatin in large mixing bowl. Stir in boiling water until gelatin is dissolved. Stir in 1 cup cold water, buttermilk and raspberries. Mix well.

Freeze until slightly thickened, about 1 hour, stirring twice. Pour mixture into paper cups; insert wooden sticks. Freeze until firm. Peel off paper cup before eating.

May be frozen up to 2 weeks. Cover with plastic wrap if freezing more than 1 day.

By Willard Abraham, Ph.D.

Dr. Abraham: I recently had a routine visit to our family doctor, but the result was anything but routine. Nothing was the matter with me, but I came away with some material he loaned me that was really upsetting. It sure opened my eyes.

The issue was guns. I want to share some of what it said with teens like me who read your column.

I know this will be controversial, but so be it. The source is the American Academy of Pediatrics, and they sound like a competent professional organization. Here are some of the statements directly from them.

• More male teens are killed by guns than by all natural causes of death (heart disease, cancer, etc.). Easy access to them and a macho attitude are among the main reasons; others are lack of experience, good judgment or self-control.

• A common misconception is that teen homicides are related largely to crime, gang activity or premeditated assault. In fact, the majority of shootings are committed by friends or relatives, usually because of an argument later seen as trivial.

• Firearm deaths among teens have risen 75 percent in the last 20 years.

• A gun in the home is more likely to kill a family member or friend than used to kill an intruder (43 times more likely).

• One out of six pediatricians reported treating a young person for a gun-related injury.

• Handguns were used in 73 percent of teen-age homicides due to firearms and 70 percent of teen-age suicides were due to firearms.

• Our country has 100 times the number of firearm homicides compared with the closest developed country — 3,187 compared with 32 (France). The figures of seven developed countries totaled only about 2 percent of ours.

• About 11 U.S. young people die daily as a result of firearm injuries.

• Texas, California and New York lead in firearm homicides among white males 15 to 24 years old.

The American Academy of Pediatrics has made some major recommendations related to this issue:

• Regulation of handgun ammunition.

• Reduction of "romanticizing" gun use in the popular media, which influences violence and gun use by teens.

• Reduction of the number of privately owned handguns and placing restrictions on ownership of them.

• Identification of high-risk teens (due to alcohol or drugs) and providing them with appropriate counseling and other services.

• Development of community-based coalitions of professionals, parents, schools, police, media and other groups to get involved with education, legislation and other action-oriented approaches.

So what if you don't agree with what I've told you, or don't care, or think it's no problem? I'm embarrassed for us. I think it's an awful state of affairs in our wonderful country. That's why I wrote this letter. — Gun Worried

Gun Worried: You've certainly brought up a key, controversial issue. Now we will see whether other teens have feelings about it, for or against.

Are you listening, teen readers?

Dr. Abraham: Not long ago I read a letter in your column from a young man who was curious about marijuana. I would like to recommend to him, and to all your teen readers, a book I wish I had read earlier.

It's "Chocolate to Morphine: Understanding Mind-Active Drugs" (Houghton-Mifflin Co.) by Andrew Weil, M.D. and Winifred Rosen. This excellent book gives straight facts on what drugs are, what they do and their uses and abuses. It includes historical information and is both entertaining and informative to read.

It is a book I want to encourage others to read. I believe that the best defense against drug abuse is knowledge. — Been There

Been There: Thank you very much for this input.

How sweet it is for colorful pepper

By Linda Susan Dudley

Red bell peppers are hot. Well, not hot actually. Not like fiery red chilies. Hot as in popular or trendy.

In fact, the word pepper can be confusing. Sweet peppers — also called bell peppers — are botanically related to chilies yet are quite different in their usage.

Sweet peppers can be used in large quantities in a dish, such as in stuffed peppers. Paprika is made from dried sweet red peppers. Chillies, on the other hand, are prized for their hot, spicy qualities. The potent ground cayenne pepper is made from dried chillies.

Once considered exotic, sweet red peppers are turning up in supermarkets and restaurants and on home dining tables. Believe it or not, someone has even created a recipe for red bell pepper ice.

Actually, the sweet red pepper is nothing more than the mature stage of the green pepper. It's easy to get them: Leave the green bells on the plant until they turn a rich, bright red. In the process, their taste becomes milder and sweeter.

Another benefit is that the longer time in a sunny field increases the vitamin A in red peppers to about 10 times the amount in the average green pepper. (There's 5,700 units of vitamin A in 3½ ounces of red pepper. The recommended daily allowance is 530 units.)

The red ones are just a little higher in calories — about 51 for a whole red pepper as compared to about 36 calories for a whole green pepper. So they're still a diet-worthy item.

Consumers also can find yellow peppers, purple peppers and brown peppers, which are cultivated for their novel colors, although they taste about the same. (Except the golden yellow ones, originally imported from Holland, which are said to be the sweetest of all the peppers.)

Shoppers pay for the unusual colors, however. Red and other hued peppers are higher priced — sometimes by three or four times as much — as their green cousins.

When shopping, pick firm, smooth, shiny peppers with no pale spots that are heavy for their size. Odd-shaped peppers are fine to eat, just more difficult to use except diced.

Soft, cracked peppers are overripe. Besides being stuffed whole or cut in half length-wise and stuffed, peppers are often cut into rings, julienne slices or diced.

To use fresh peppers (no matter what the color), wash and cut out the stem with sharp knife. Cut in half or remove a slice from the top and remove seeds and inner ribs, which are not eaten.

If you want your stuffed peppers cooked through, parboil them whole first for three minutes and then plunge into cold water to refresh for 5 minutes. Then stuff and bake as usual.

In the raw state, red peppers add color and flavor to crudite trays and salads.

Red peppers also work well in stir-fry dishes. Cook long enough to soften but not so long that pepper strips or dice become limp.

For something different, cut pepper into rings, dip into light batter and deep-fry like onion rings. (A batter of equal parts of beer and flour works well.)

Raw red peppers are enhanced by a vinaigrette dressing and roasted ones by a dressing of olive oil, fresh basil and paper-thin sweet onion slices.

SICILIAN CHICKEN AND PEPPERS WITH SPAGHETTI

- 1 pound raw skinless boneless chicken breast (chicken cutlets)
- 2 onions, diced
- ¾ cup dry white wine
- 16-ounce can tomatoes, crushed
- 8-ounce can plain tomato sauce
- 1 sweet red bell pepper, diced
- 1 (or 2) cloves garlic, minced
- ½ teaspoon red pepper flakes (optional)
- ½ teaspoon dried sage (optional)
- ½ teaspoon thyme (optional)
- Salt to taste
- Pepper to taste
- ½ pound uncooked spaghetti

Yields 8 servings, 210 calories each.

Cut chicken into serving-size pieces. Spray large non-stick skillet generously with cooking spray; heat over moderate flame. Brown chicken on each side; remove from skillet and set aside. Stir onions and wine into skillet; cook and stir until wine evaporates. Add tomatoes, tomato sauce, bell pepper, garlic and seasonings. Cover and simmer for 30 minutes.

Arrange browned chicken on top of sauce mixture. Cover and simmer for 15 minutes more, or until sauce thickens. Meanwhile, cook spaghetti in boiling (salted) water until tender; drain well.

To serve: Place chicken over hot drained spaghetti and spoon on sauce.

This rice dish has a Mexican accent with the addition of the spice cumin. If the amount of scallions is too much for you, just add less.

CUMIN RICE WITH PEPPERS

- 4 bunches scallions, or enough to make about 1½ cups chopped
- 1 each red, yellow and green bell pepper
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 garlic cloves, minced
- 2 cups long-grain rice
- 2 teaspoons cumin
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- ¾ cups chicken broth

Yields 12 servings as a side dish.

Chop scallions. Halve, core, seed and coarsely dice peppers into ¼- to ½-inch pieces. Melt butter in large saucepan. Add onions, peppers and garlic and saute, stirring, for about 4 minutes. Add rice, cumin and oregano. Stir to coat rice well. Pour in chicken broth. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat to very low, cover and cook for 20 minutes or until all liquid is absorbed.

ROASTED PEPPERS WITH OIL

- 2 or more red peppers
- Extra virgin olive oil
- Garlic, minced, to taste
- Salt to taste
- Pepper to taste

Yields 4 servings.

Preheat broiler. Broil peppers on rack about 4 inches from heat, turning them every 5 minutes for 20 to 25 minutes, or until they are blistered and charred.

Enclose peppers in paper bag and let them steam until they are cool enough to handle. Peel them, starting at stem end, and discard seeds, stems and ribs.

Cut peppers into strips, put in serving dish and drizzle on a bit of good olive oil and some chopped garlic, salt and pepper.

Serve at room temperature.

Note: Keeps at least 1 week in refrigerator. Roasted peppers can be frozen if they are peeled. Defrost before using.

FETA AND RED PEPPER SPREAD

- 6 ounces feta cheese, crumbled
- ½ cup coarsely chopped red bell pepper
- 2 tablespoons olive oil

Yields 1 cup.

In food processor, blend feta cheese with bell pepper, scraping down sides until mixture is smooth. With motor running, add oil and blend mixture until smooth. Use spread as filling for cherry tomatoes and celery, a topping for sliced cucumbers, or serve with raw vegetables and crackers.

This is a classic Italian dish. In Bologna, peperonata is served with mixed boiled meats. It's also great with pasta.

PEPERONATA

- 5 medium tomatoes
- 5 sweet bell peppers, green and red or red and yellow
- 2 medium onions, thinly sliced
- ½ cup extra virgin olive oil
- 1 tablespoon tomato paste
- Salt
- Fresh pepper
- ¼ cup red wine vinegar

Yields 3½ to 4 cups or 8 to 10 servings.

Chop tomatoes. Seed and cut peppers into strips. Slice onions thinly.

Heat oil in large, heavy skillet. Add onions and peppers. Saute over medium heat until onions are light gold and peppers have softened, mixing occasionally.

Add tomatoes, tomato paste and salt and fresh pepper. Cover and cook over medium heat 30 to 35 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add vinegar and mix well. Cook, uncovered, 10 minutes longer. Mixture will become thick. Taste and adjust for seasoning. Serve hot or at room temperature.

RIGATONI WITH PEPPERONATA

- 2 cups peperonata (see above)
- 1 pound rigatoni or any large, grooved macaroni
- Freshly ground pepper to taste

Yields 4 to 6 servings.

Prepare peperonata and keep warm. Or, if it was made in advance, reheat over low heat.

Bring large pot of water to boil. Add rigatoni, bring water back to boil and cook rigatoni uncovered until tender but a bit firm to the bite, 8 to 10 minutes. Drain rigatoni and place in warm, deep dish or bowl. Pour peperonata over rigatoni. Season with pepper. Serve immediately.

For those who like uncooked sauces and uncooked peppers, here is a bell pepper salsa that combines both red and green peppers. This salsa isn't spicy, but if you want, you can add some hot red pepper flakes.

RED PEPPER SALSA

- 3 red peppers
- 1 green bell pepper
- 1 small red onion
- 3 plum tomatoes, quartered
- 3 tablespoons fresh lime juice or to taste
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- ¼ teaspoon salt, or to taste
- Tortilla chips as an accompaniment

Yields about 2 cups.

In food processor fitted with steel blade, fine-chop peppers, onion and tomatoes, but do not let them liquefy. You might have to do them in batches.

Transfer mixture to bowl, stir in lime juice, oil and salt, and let salsa stand for 30 minutes. Serve salsa with corn chips as an hors d'oeuvre.

Garden Talk

By C.Z. Guest

Q. Would you please explain to me what the term "master gardener" implies?

A. It is for city or country gardeners who want to exchange volunteer time for advanced training by Cornell University experts. Applicants should be devoted gardeners with some experience but need not have formal horticultural training.

Cornell Cooperative Extension will provide about 100 hours of training, and master gardeners will, in return, offer 120 hours of their time over a two-year period.

Prospective volunteers should write for more information to: Master Gardener, Cornell Cooperative Extension, 15 E. 26th St., Fifth Floor, New York, NY 10010.

WHAT PLANT WHERE?

When choosing houseplants that will work in your home environment, whatever indoor garden spaces you have, you can find a plant to thrive there!

- Full-sunlight plants: Indicates direct and unobstructed southern exposures. Includes bird of paradise, kalanchoe, passionflower, myrtle, bougainvillea, cactuses, gardenia, gloxinia (large hybrids), hibiscus (Chinese), jasmine, lantana, geranium, chrysanthemum, basil, mint, ginger, sage, thyme to name a few.

- Bright-light plants: Indicates southern exposures that are filtered through curtains, blinds or partially obstructed trees, a building or porch and direct unobstructed western, northern or eastern exposures. Includes devil's ivy, kafir lily, Chinese fan palm, coleus, azalea, cactuses, camellia, chives, cineraria, fern, ivy, (German, English).

- Indirect-light plants: Indicates filtered western, eastern or northern exposures. Includes arrowhead, Norfolk Island pine, German ivy, philodendron, ficus, dumbcane, ferns, orchid, palm, narcissus, primrose.

- Low-light plants: Indicates any exposure that is very obstructed and offers only dim light. Includes Chinese evergreen, mosaic plant, resurrection plant, aspidistra, dracaena, snake plant, pothos.

- Combination-light plants: Indicates those plants that need different lighting during different seasons of the year or at different growing stages, such as amaryllis, spathiphyllum, azalea, crocus.

TIP

Tickle your houseplants clean!

By using an inexpensive feather duster, you can keep houseplants looking their very best (between regular groomings), and it entails little time and effort.

The soft feathers brush away lint and dust film to perfection; in fact, so easily that you can entrust tiny tots to tickle the plants clean.

GARDEN TIPS

Plant placement

Bird of paradise

- Plants that need full sun include bird of paradise, bougainvillea, cacti and chrysanthemums. Herbs, such as basil, mint, ginger, sage and thyme, also should be planted in direct southern exposures.
- Ferns, ivy, azaleas and chives do well in bright light that is filtered through curtains, blinds and trees.
- Keep Norfolk Island pine, philodendron, ficus and orchids in indirect light.
- Low-light plants include Chinese evergreen, dracaena and snake plant.

Our Children

By Willard Abraham, Ph.D.

New recommendations from pediatric experts

Heimlich maneuver. If it's unfamiliar to you, check with your family physician.

- The academy recommends the DTP (diphtheria-tetanus-pertussis) vaccine at 2, 4 and 6 months of age, with booster doses at 18 months and prior to school entry. It also recommends that the vaccine for influenza (Haemophilus influenzae type B) begin at 2 months to help against meningitis, too, and the combined measles/mumps/rubella vaccination at 15 months (and a second one at 11 or 12 years of age or older for those who haven't had measles).

- Smoking by pregnant women and passive smoking when children are around continue to be health threats.

- Alcohol is the drug most often abused by the largest number of children and adolescents. Marijuana is the most common illicit drug chosen by teens.

- The benefits of breast-feeding are so numerous that pediatricians strongly encourage the practice.

- Regular elective cholesterol testing is suggested for children older than 2 years of age for certain youngsters, depending on their family histories.

- Diet, vitamins and physical activity are also among the AAP's health concerns.

The full list of "Issues for a Healthier Future for Children" has been published by the academy. You can obtain material on specific topics by writing to the American Academy of Pediatrics, 141 Northwest Point Blvd., P.O. Box 927, Elk Grove Village, IL 60009-0927. Please enclose a self-addressed, stamped, business-size (No. 10) envelope.

Dear Parents: When a large, respected professional organization devoted to the health, safety and well-being of infants, children, adolescents and young adults comes up with specific recommendations, most parents will (or should) be interested.

The 41,000 pediatricians of the American Academy of Pediatrics recently did that. Here are some of their opinions.

- Most children infected with the AIDS virus should be allowed to attend school and day care with the approval of their physicians. Mandatory screening of children for AIDS should not be undertaken. The nation's schools immediately should initiate AIDS education programs in kindergarten through 12th grade.

- Pediatricians should counsel teens on responsible sexual decision-making, including abstinence, and provide contraceptive services for sexually active patients when requested.

- Because circumcision has potential medical benefits and advantages, as well as inherent disadvantages and risks, the academy recommends that the decision to circumcise is one best made by parents in consultation with their physician.

- The most appropriate way to prevent drug exposure within the uterus is to educate women of childbearing age about the hazards of drugs to fetuses and to encourage drug avoidance.

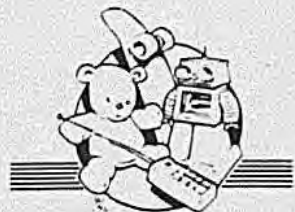

- Student athletes should not be singled out for involuntary screening for abuse of drugs.

- Long-term television viewing is one cause of violent or aggressive behavior in children and also contributes substantially to obesity.

- Legislation is needed in areas of environmental health, family medical leave, immunization, pediatric AIDS and substance abuse.

- General recommendations include having infants and young children always ride in car safety seats (preferably in the back seat and never in a parent's arms) and bicycle helmets on infants and children of all ages.

- Treatment for a choking child, except in infants younger than 1 year old, should consist of the

Rolting finds pain of life's traumas

By Laura Accinelli

Pain isn't exactly the best PR for a procedure designed to help a body feel better.

Yet that's the bad rap that still plagues Roling, even as the counterculture technique and other soft-tissue bodywork wade into the mainstream of holistic, or alternative, medicine.

Used to be, Roling, or structural integration as it once was called, belonged strictly to the Birkenstock set. Along with Gestalt therapy and transcendental meditation, aligning the body with gravity by manipulating connective tissues was a lodestone of the human potential movement.

The idea is that the body's natural state is more akin to the resiliency of a toddler than the inflexibility of an adult. The body is like a plastic — not cement — puzzle of interlocking pieces that come apart sequentially, like a knitted sweater. A pull in the shoulder may affect how the sweater hangs on the hip.

Assuming the mind and body are connected, with the one strongly influencing the other, rigidity in the body corresponds to rigidity in the psyche. On the theory that the body records physical traumas and emotional distress, causing muscles and surrounding tissues to tighten and shorten, the way to a freer, fuller life, it was felt, is to confront and release the knots, or stored traumas.

Today, more and more Americans are turning to unconventional treatments for faster, cheaper relief. Most of these New Age techniques hinge on the mind-body connection. While American doctors generally take a dim view of techniques such as aromatherapy and reflexology, alternative medicine is reportedly a $27 billion-a-year industry. A recent poll conducted by Yankelovich Clancy Shulman found that about 30 percent of the people questioned had tried some sort of alternative therapy.

CHANGING IMAGE

Gaining acceptance, too, are Roling and other methods of manipulating the body's soft tissues.

Modern Rolfers are working to combat their image as latter-day sadists jabbing knuckles under armpits and tugging and shaking organs never felt before. Techniques have become more refined, more subtle. Practitioners are receiving stricter, more standardized training and know more about anatomy, kinesiology, physiology, psychology.

"Roling today is a natural growth and maturation of a process that was started years ago," says Dan Kuchars of the Rolf Institute in Boulder, Colo. "We know more about the body and the mind and how they work. We use more finesse."

For example, to relieve a pain in the lower back, look how the feet meet the ground, the way weight is distributed through the knees and ankles, where the pelvis sits on the legs. Pushing through the birth canal, parental neglect, the stresses of daily life, an overbearing boss, an automobile accident, the weight of gravity — these all influence the way the body is held and carried.

Physical and emotional irritants are like grains of sand in an oyster. The body throws pearl dust over the injury and buries it deeper and deeper, but it's still there.

Yet Roling is not just for athletes, performing artists or people who use their bodies to earn a living. Nor is it just for West and East Coast fringes and flakes.

"Roling first gained acceptance by people into primal scream and other cathartic therapies, so it got on the same train in terms of how it was viewed," says Rolfer Gael Ohlgren of Berkeley, Calif., who in 1968 trained under Dr. Ida P. Rolf, the Rockefeller Institute biochemist who started developing the technique in the 1930s and gave it her name.

A STRONG SENSATION

Rolf studied how the body's structure affected the way it functioned. If an injury could negatively affect what was considered rigid, static and non-malleable material, she believed, there was no reason the body couldn't be worked back in the opposite direction, moving parts back into position, releasing tension and re-balancing the body.

"I think the pain associated with Roling is a cultural misunderstanding," Ohlgren says. "Yes, it's a strong sensation, particularly where you have an injury or stiffness or some problem, but most people say, 'Go for it, get it out of there, I want it out,' and then they go home and say, 'Boy, that was really intense.'"

In the earlier days, practitioners learned directly from Rolf, who died in 1979. Nearly all students were men, because Rolf, who weighed 175 pounds, believed a great deal of strength was needed to move body parts. Women had to weigh at least 145 pounds to qualify for training.

Now about 40 percent of the 450 Rolfers in the United States are women. With another 300 practitioners worldwide, the Rolf Institute in the past few years has opened offices in Germany and Brazil and is expanding into Australia.

Members of Los Angeles' Bella Lewitzky Dance Company are Rolfed. Olympic figure skater Brian Orser attributes his success to Roling. So does major-league baseball pitcher Bret Saberhagen, a two-time Cy Young winner. Olympic medalist Edwin Moses, track-and-field star Lacey Barnes, San Francisco Giant Will Clark and former L.A. Dodger Gary Carter — all Rolfed. When Craig Swan of the New York Mets ended his pitching career, he became a Rolfer.

HELP YOUR HEART RECIPES

This recipe is intended to be part of an overall healthful eating plan that would not include more than 30 percent of daily calories from fat.

Cinnamon Orange Pancakes

Jump-start your day with a hearty and healthful serving of this breakfast dish.

1/4 cup	all-purpose flour	1/4 cup	fresh orange juice
2 Tbsp.	wheat germ		Egg substitute
1 cup	whole-wheat flour		equivalent to 1 egg
2 tsp.	baking powder	1 tsp.	grated fresh orange peel
1 Tbsp.	sugar		Vegetable oil spray*
1 tsp.	ground cinnamon
1 cup	skim milk

In a mixing bowl, combine all dry ingredients and mix until well-blended. In another bowl, combine all liquid ingredients and orange peel. Stir well. Pour liquid ingredients mixture into dry ingredients and stir only until moistened.

Preheat griddle or skillet for pancakes. Spray lightly with vegetable oil. For each pancake, pour 1/4 cup of batter onto griddle or skillet. Turn each pancake when edges are dry and bubbles appear on top. Serve hot.

Makes 6 servings.

* Do not use vegetable oil spray near an open flame or a heat source. Read directions on can before using, and follow directions carefully.

A good time of year for comfort food

This is the time of year when comfort food is required at least once a week. The dark, the chill, the prospect of income taxes and several months before summer rounds the bend, puts us off our feed. Right now nothing tastes quite so good or quite so cheerful as old favorites.

Least old favorites break the back of a new diet, here are some, low in fat, salt and sugar, but still familiar.

Macaroni and Cheese is my refuge, but Rice and Beans or Chili are almost as good. All three are bulky and filling without the guilt of extra calories. And if you have a microwave, these recipes are fast.

RICE AND BEANS

- 1 cup chopped onion (1 small onion or half a large one)
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- 2 teaspoons olive oil
- 1 cup raw rice
- 1 cup low-sodium chicken broth
- 1 cup water (¾ cup for microwave)
- ¼ cup white wine
- Pinch ground cloves
- 1 (16-ounce) can black beans, rinsed and drained
- 3 tablespoons chopped fresh cilantro

Yields 4 servings.

Each has about 315 calories, 3 grams fat, no cholesterol and 190 milligrams sodium.

Saute onion and garlic in oil in saucepan until translucent.

Add rice, water, broth, wine and cloves. Bring to boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer about 20 minutes. Stir in beans, heat through. Stir in cilantro, and serve.

To microwave: Place onion and garlic and oil in large ceramic dish. Cover and cook on high 2 or 3 minutes. Add rice and stir.

Add ¾ cup water, broth, wine and cloves. Cover and cook on high until boiling, 6 minutes. Reduce power to medium and cook until liquid is absorbed, about 15 to 20 minutes. Stir in beans, cover and cook for another minute. Stir in cilantro and serve.

MACARONI AND CHEESE

- 4 ounces macaroni, elbow, shell or ziti
- 2 tablespoons low-sodium margarine
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 cup non-fat milk
- ½ cup shredded low-fat cheddar cheese
- ½ cup whole-wheat bread crumbs
- Pinch paprika
- 2 tablespoons freshly grated Parmesan or other hard, sharp cheese

Yields 4 servings.

Each has 280 calories, 9 grams fat, 13 milligrams cholesterol and 290 milligrams sodium.

Cook macaroni according to package directions and drain. Melt 1 tablespoon of margarine in small saucepan and saute onion until translucent. Add flour and cook, stirring until flour bubbles and looks like a honeycomb. Add milk and cook, stirring until thickened. Stir in cheddar cheese and when it's melted add macaroni. Pour into baking dish.

In a skillet, melt remaining tablespoon of margarine and add bread crumbs. Cook stirring for a minute and then spoon over macaroni. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Place in broiler, about 5 inches from flame and brown for about 2 minutes.

CHILI

- 2 teaspoons oil
- 1 onion, coarsely chopped
- 2 cloves garlic, minced
- 1 (14 ounce) can low-sodium tomatoes
- 1 (12-ounce) bottle of beer
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 1 teaspoon ground cumin
- 1 teaspoon hot sauce or to taste
- 1 (15-ounce) can pinto beans, rinsed and drained
- 1 (15 or 16 ounce) can kidney beans, rinsed and drained
- 1 green bell pepper, coarsely chopped
- ¼ cup chopped cilantro

Yields 6 to 8 servings.

Each has about 175 calories, 2 grams fat, no cholesterol and 210 milligrams sodium.

Put oil in large saucepan and add onion and garlic. Saute until tender, about 2 minutes. Add tomatoes, beer, chili powder, cumin and hot sauce. Simmer 15 minutes and add beans and green pepper. Simmer another 15 minutes. Sprinkle with cilantro and serve.

To Microwave: Put oil, onion and garlic in deep microwave-safe ceramic bowl. Cover and cook on high 3 minutes. Stir in tomatoes, beer, chili powder, cumin and hot sauce. Cover and cook on high until it boils, about 5 or 6 minutes. Stir, reduce power to medium and cook 12 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add beans and green pepper.

If this mixture seems thin, remove 2 tablespoons of liquid and stir in 2 tablespoon cornstarch. Stir cornstarch mixture into chili, cover and cook on high 2 minutes.

Improving on the biopsy

The standard biopsy generally involves surgery and scarring for the patient, even if the tissue being removed and tested turns out to be benign.

Standard biopsy

1 Area is numbered. Tissue is removed and the wound is stitched. New procedure would not require an incision, only a needle puncture.

2 Tissue is embedded in wax to make it firm for slicing. This step takes about 24 hours.

3 Waxed tissue sample is sliced ultrathin. Pathologist looks for cancerous cells.

Here's How

By Gene Gary.

Q. Do you have any suggestions or recommendations on products for cleaning several large windows that constantly look streaked and stained? We have tried several different types of commercial window cleaners, ammonia full strength, and vinegar with no success.

A. It may be that your window glass is pitted and stained beyond any cleaning treatment. However, here are a few suggestions that might help. The success of these treatments will depend on the source of the problems and the amount of damage done to the window glass.

Most stains created by water condensation are caused by minerals in the water. Sometimes a poultice made by soaking a folded paper towel with white vinegar will work.

Place it over the stained areas on the window and keep in place for a day or so. Be sure and keep the poultice wet. Taping plastic wrap over the poultice can help.

If this fails, try scrubbing the staining with a strong solution of Zud, a heavy-duty cleaner often sold in hardware stores. A paste of Zud and water left on the staining area for several hours can work on particularly stubborn stains.

Sometimes washing with a solution of muriatic acid diluted in water will help remove stubborn staining. Use equal parts of the acid and water (any stronger solution might etch the window glass rather than clean it).

Be extremely careful when preparing and using this solution. Wear rubber gloves, old clothes, goggles. Pour the acid into the water, never the reverse. Use a sponge to wash the windows and thoroughly rinse with clear water.

Be careful not to get any of the acid solution on woodwork or painted siding. To protect the window frames from the acid, rub them with a bar of soap to form a film that can be washed off later.

Both vinegar and muriatic acid work well on staining caused by alkali in the water. If alkali is not involved, one of the newer paint and varnish removers containing methylene chloride can help when dealing with other types of staining.

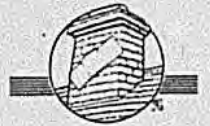

One effective non-traditional cleaner for glass is Brasso, a commercial metal cleaner and polish. Another non-traditional cleaner for windows is "Kit" a liquid car polish. These cleaners will leave a powdery residue, which can be removed with regular glass cleaners and paper towels once you have removed the difficult stains.

If these cleaning methods fail, as a last resort you can remove some of the water stains by buffing the window surface with a rubbing compound. Use an electric buffer and a light to medium liquid rubbing compound such as that made for fiber glass boats (3M company makes on such product).

Be careful not to exert too much pressure in the buffing process. You do not want to break the glass. Careful buffing will often remove very persistent water deposits, although the abrasions in some of the buffing compounds can tend to scratch the glass surface. Minute scratches, however, are often easier to live with than glass that is severely stained.

After you have cleaned the windows it is advisable to apply a protective coating such as Rain-X or Window Maid. These products create a surface where dirt will not adhere as much to the glass. They also are effective in preventing the buildup of water deposits. The protective coatings have to be reapplied periodically.

Decor Score

Q. We have a tiny living room and I don't have a clue about decorating it. There's a large window alcove that takes up almost one whole wall. I've always heard that the sofa should face the window, but there's really no room. What do I do? — L.P.

A. That's a good way to begin a furniture arrangement when you don't have a fireplace as a natural focal point, but the first rule about decorating is, there are no fixed-in-amber rules. Each room is different; each requires a custom solution.

As to yours, the solution might come straight from New York interior designer T. Keller Donovan, who faced much the same quandry in the small sitting room we show here.

Donovan has all but turned the room's back on that window, dressing it to form an attractive background for a clever furniture arrangement that makes the sofa look almost built-in. It's wedged cozily into the alcove, so cozily, in fact, there's no room for the usual end tables. No matter, Donovan's design includes a handy ledge behind the sofa and wall-mounted swivel lamps on each side.

A few other points worth borrowing from this pro:

- Artworks are hung inside the alcove to help frame the seating area.
- Armless slipper chairs offer less cumbersome-looking comfort than ordinary easy chairs with arms.
- Dramatic rug laid on an angle visually pushes the walls apart and makes the small room look more spacious. In this case, it's an arresting faux zebra skin, needlepointed in wool.

Q. We don't have a proper breakfast room in our new house, something I miss badly from the old since I'm a morning person and like for us all to sit down to breakfast together.

A. There are four of us, so I have been setting the dining room table, but it's large and feels so formal. Short of remodeling the kitchen, do you have any ideas? — M.B.

A. Yes, a good one, stolen from internationally known designer Bunny Williams, who advocates two tables in the dining room, dinner-size and a smaller one you can use for more intimate meals, like breakfast. A second table never hurts, either, when you're serving dinner or buffets.

Q. I have one wonderful single canopy bed I inherited from my mother's side of the family. I'd like to use it in the guest room, but I need sleeping space for two. What can I do? — A.L.

A. Consider having the antique bed copied. If you can't find a local furniture craftsman, contact a professional interior designer in your area. They always have secret resources for such projects.

DRAMATIC NICHE — In a tiny sitting area, designer T. Keller Donovan enhances every square inch with a bought-to-fit sofa, light-looking slipper chairs and a dramatic needlepoint zebra rug.

Novenas

HOLY SPIRIT YOU WHO SOLVE all problems, who light all roads, so that I can obtain my goals. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget all evils against me and that in all instances of my life you are with me. I want in this short prayer to thank you for all things and to confirm once again that I never want to be separated from you ever in spite of all material illusions, I wish to be with you in eternal glory. Thank you for your mercy towards me and mine. Say for 3 consecutive days after which the favor requested will be granted even if it appears difficult. This prayer must be published immediately. Thank you Holy Spirit. A.R.C. gcm2

NOVENA TO ST. JUDE Oh Holy St. Jude, Apostle and Martyr, great in virtue and rich in miracles, near kinsman of Jesus Christ, faithful and intercessor of all who invoke your special patronage in time of need, to you I have recourse from the depths of my heart and humbly beg to whom God has given such great power to come to my assistance. Help me in my present and urgent petition. In return I promise to make your name known and cause you to be invoked. St. Jude, pray for us all who invoke your aid. Amen. Say 3 Our Fathers, 3 Hail Marys, 3 Glorias. Say for 9 consecutive days. Publication must be promised. This novena has never been known to fail. Thank you for answering my prayers. P.L. gcm2

ANTIQU OR JUNQUE

By James G. McCollam

An unusual English flower cart

Q. I have acquired an English flower cart — picture enclosed. The wheels have rubber treads in good condition. Please note brass fittings on the large wheel and the lubricating cap. Can you tell me about its age and value?

FLOWER CART

A. Your unusual three-wheel cart was made about 1900 (maker unknown) and would probably sell for $500 to $600 in good condition.

Q. I have a figurine of a woman and a cow with this mark on the bottom. It measures about 10 inches high and 12 inches wide. I would like to know who made it, how old it is and how much it is worth.

A. Your figurine was made by the Dahl-Jensen porcelain factory in Copenhagen, Denmark, about 1930. It would probably sell for $400 to $500 in good condition.

Q. Enclosed is a photo of a doll that I have had for about 30 years. Her name is Hedda-Get-Bedda and her head rotates, providing three different faces. One face has measles, one is awake and one is sleeping.

Please advise if you know anything about her; I am beginning to wonder if I have the only doll like this in existence.

A. Hedda-Get-Bedda dolls were made by the American Doll Co. in Chicago during the early 20th century. The history of multifaced dolls is in "The Collectors' Encyclopedia of Dolls" (Crown). They were made from around 1866 to 1925.

Hedda-Get-Bedda dolls are listed in the "20th Century Doll Book" for $150 in good condition.

Q. Please evaluate my Jiffy three-reel slot machine. It dispenses a gumball for each penny inserted. I bought it from a small restaurant that was going out of business.

A. Slot machines that don't pay off in cash are called "trade stimulators." Yours was made in the late 1930s and would probably sell for $365 to $385 in good condition.

Q. What can you tell me about my Elgin pocket watch No. 32,678,523? It has an 18-karat gold hunting case with fancy engraving. The movement has 17 jewels.

A. Your watch was made in 1930 and would probably sell for $800 to $900 in good condition.

Points on Pets

By R.G. Elmore, D.V.M.

Q. Our dog has a red lump in the corner of her eye most of the time. It is present for a day or two and then disappears for a day or two. What is the most likely cause of this problem?

A. Your dog most likely has the condition commonly called "cherry eye." Unlike humans, dogs have third eyelids which protrude from the inner corners of their eyes. If you observe the dog closely while she is opening or closing her eyes you may be able to see the third eyelids sliding across the eye.

The third eyelid contains glands. Whenever cherry eye occurs, the glandular tissue protrudes beyond the third eyelid as a round, red mass. Occasionally the red mass will disappear for a few days and then reappear. Excessive tearing may be noticed.

Treatment of cherry eye usually involves the use of eye ointments containing steroids or the surgical removal of the swelling. If surgery is required, the lump can be anesthetized with an injection of local anesthetic. The dog usually does not have to be put under general anesthesia. Removal of the lump usually causes the dog very little discomfort.

Aunt Tilly's Corner

Last weekend it was so nice that we decided to go to garage sales and see if we could find any bargains. One lady had lots of things that we didn't really like, but we saw an electric ice cream maker for just a few dollars.

We thought this would be a lot of fun so we bought it. On the way home we stopped and bought cream and ice to make the ice cream with.

We mixed up some vanilla, cream, milk and eggs and put it into a can. Then we put salt and ice in the outside bucket and plugged it in. (The salt makes the ice cream freeze harder.) In a few minutes we had delicious ice cream to eat!

Your friend,
 Aunt Tilly

YOUR SOCIAL SECURITY

SSI payments can vary

Q. What determines how much your Supplemental Security Income payment amount is? I have a friend who just moved to another state and receives a considerably different amount than he had been receiving. — W.K.

A. The SSI program provides a basic federal payment amount that is standard in all states. Amounts can vary according to other income received (for example, earnings and Social Security) and the living arrangement of the recipient (for example, residence in one's own home or household of another or in an institution). Some states add money to the federal payment amount.

Q. I dropped my Medicare Part B medical insurance a few years ago. Is it possible to enroll again? — D.B.

A. You may enroll in the annual general enrollment period that runs from Jan. 1 through March 31. However, your protection is not effective until July 1. The basic monthly premium is $31.80, and there is a 10 percent increase in the premium for every year a person could have been enrolled in Part B but wasn't.

Call Social Security's toll-free number, (800) 772-1213, for additional information or contact your local Social Security office.

Q. How can I make sure my earnings are being credited to me? I work for a large company and there are several people with the same name. — W.J.

A. Employers submit reports each year during January and February on wages paid in the previous year. The report is validated to make sure that names and Social Security numbers match before items are posted to individual records. You should verify the wages posted to your record. Call your Social Security office and request a Personal Earnings and Benefit Estimate Statement.

Q. I know that people getting Social Security disability benefits can work and earn as much as they can without losing benefits for up to nine months. My brother told me that there was some new rule. Please explain.

A. The new rule, which took effect Jan. 1, 1992, provides that a trial work period will be exhausted only after the beneficiary works any nine months during any 60 consecutive months.

For example, if a person works for two months one year, but had to stop and doesn't get back to work again until six years later, the first two months of work won't count toward the trial work period.

The World's Most Beautiful Grandchildren

A recent picture of our "grand" grandchildren, Bobby and Melissa Jordan - ages 3½ and 8 years old. They live at 24 Campbell Avenue, Williston Park with their parents, Ellen and Robby Jordan. We are so very fortunate to have them living in the same town so we can spend lots of time together. Aren't they beautiful? We love them very much.

Their paternal grandmother is Mildred Jordan from Mineola, and we are Marie and Jim Sullivan, 12 Amherst Street, Williston Park.

This little doll is Michael Addison Burke, son of Michael and Mary-Helen Burke of Ronkonkoma. He was born July 3, 1991 and is the happiest little boy I know.

His grandparents are Mrs. Barbara Burke, and Mrs. Helen Rose and the late Edward Rose, all of Garden City.
