Twenty Years Of Dedication To Students

By John W. Garger

Nancy DeSorbo says that if she is to get a flat tire, she wants it to be in Hicksville. "I probably have some people who want to give me a flat tire, but I know that on almost any block I can find a family to help me change it," she said.

That is because for the past 20 years, DeSorbo has worked with students both inside and outside the classroom, work that has benefited both her and Hicksville High School students. When the Hicksville Council of PTAs gather to celebrate the 40th annual Founders Day Dinner, they will be honoring DeSorbo for her role as both a business teacher and student activities adviser, she takes a real interest in the youth of Hicksville. And it shows.

Believing that it is just as important for teachers to interface with students outside the classroom as well as inside, DeSorbo has managed to form a bond with the students that makes her time spent at the high school more than just a job. "I'm blessed," said DeSorbo. "Being so involved with kids, outside as well as inside makes it more than a job, it's like a second home."

DeSorbo came to Hicksville in April of 1973 as a fill-in for a teacher who was taking a maternity leave. Twenty years later she has many fond memories. She immediately became involved with the students outside of the classroom, coaching both JV and varsity cheerleading for 10 years.

Nancy DeSorbo is shown with high school principal Richard Hogan at one of the many student activities that she attends. DeSorbo is the Founder's Day Dinner district honoree.

In 1985, she became the student activities director, coordinating student clubs and activities, working in conjunction with class advisers, and overseeing special events. DeSorbo attributes some of her success to being able to relate to students. She says a sense of humor is necessary, showing the students that she is aware of where they are coming from. She has really bought into the system and is committed to the students in Hicksville. But she doesn't regret it. "Twenty years, it doesn't seem like 20 years. Maybe 10," she said.

An event that she will remember forever is the dance fund raiser that was held for a local girl, Meghan Coutieri, who suffers from spinal bifida. The fund raiser was a success and the girl became the poster child for the March of Dimes. Another memorable fundraiser was held last spring for the Cystinosis Foundation. Although it required DeSorbo to be at the school on a Saturday, she did not mind. "You see kids in a different light when you see them outside the classroom," she said.

There have been many special events throughout the years, including numerous assembly programs, dances, the Partnerships Dinner, and the recently started Senior Citizen Prom. Hicksville's senior class prom and senior class trip always hold special meaning for DeSorbo, because they are the culminating experience in the high school senior year.

DeSorbo also teaches business classes at the high school. In her 20 years she has seen a drastic change in the range of business classes. When she started, shorthand used to be a popular class; now computer literacy classes top the list. As part of her job with the business department, she runs the internship program and coordinates the programs in both the high school and middle school.

DeSorbo has become involved with many aspects of the high school, including serving as a National Honor Society Selection Committee member, adviser to the Student Government, senior class adviser, PTA teacher liaison, and serving on two Middle States Evaluation teams. She continues to keep busy organizing student retreats for Student Government members, serving on the calendar committee, and serving on the Central Budget Lay Committee.

DeSorbo has a BA in business administration, a MS from Long Island University at CW Post, and a Professional Diploma in administrative supervision from St. John's University.

Twin County Hearing To Draw Crowds

By John W. Garger

Hicksville residents are gearing up for a public hearing that could affect their neighborhood for the next 10 years.

Twin County Recycling, Co. is seeking to renew its special use permit to manufacture and refine asphalt at its plant at 449 West John St.

The company has been the target of resident's complaints since it began its operations in 1983. Complaints of odors, smoke, dust, and noise problems are chief among resident's concerns. Last year the town initiated legal action against the plant, but then State Supreme Court Judge Henderson Morrison dismissed the case, ruling that the town did not present expert testimony to establish that a health threat existed in the area.

Residents from the area still feel otherwise, and will present their case to the Oyster Bay Town Board at the Tuesday, March 9 hearing, demanding that Twin County's special use permit not be renewed. Residents have and still complain about residues that form on their cars and houses, and dust in the air that forces them inside their houses during the summer. A situation that any homeowner would judge intolerable.

"We encourage as many residents as possible to be at town hall the night of the hearing," said Eileen Puerta, co-president of the Duffy Park Civic Association. Duffy Park, along with Northwest Civic Association, represent people most affected by the asphalt plant. Both civics have been busy alerting residents of the meeting, collecting signatures on a petition, and planning strategy for the hearing. All local officials have been apprised of the situation, including numerous letters to the town and Nassau County health department.

Duffy Park will hold a planning meeting on Feb. 23, at Old Country Road School, and will post notices of the public hearing along Old County Rd., Duffy Ave., and West John St. Puerta feels that this is not just an isolated problem, but a problem that all of Hicksville should be involved. "I feel like Hicksville is being dumped on," she said.

Twin County does not see it the same way. According to Jack Coffee, an attorney for Twin County, the asphalt plant is working in full compliance with federal, state, and local laws. He would not attribute any problems in surrounding neighborhoods to Twin County operations and said that his client will seek a renewal of the original 10 year special use permit.

The property where the plant is located is zoned 'H' Industrial or light industry. The recycling of asphalt in a light industry zone requires a special use permit. To the north and south of the plant are residential areas that seem to be most affected by the plants operation.

The town board is prepared for a large turnout. Anticipating a long hearing on the Twin County application, the rest of the agenda for the March 9 meeting should be light, according to Councilman Thomas L. Clark. If necessary, the hearing can be continued on a second night.

The meeting will be held in the hearing room of Town Hall East, Audrey Ave., Oyster Bay, beginning at 7 p.m. The first hour of the meeting will be devoted to general public comment on any subject. Starting at 8 p.m., the regular town calendar, including the Twin County hearing, will be called.

NEWSBRIEFS

Youth Council Wants Vendors

The Hicksville Youth Council is looking for vendors to take part in an indoor flea market on April 24 in Levittown Hall in Hicksville. The Youth Council requests that vendors, of new merchandise only, call 822-KIDS. The flea market will run from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Budget Process Under Way

Representatives of the Board of Education and the administration of the Hicksville Public School District recently spent a Saturday touring each of the district's ten school buildings.

Touring is one of the many steps that the Superintendent of Schools and the Board of Education take to ensure that the most educationally sound and cost effective budget will be presented to the taxpayers of Hicksville.

To date, phase one of the district budget plan has been completed. Each of the building budget advisory committees has submitted their budgets for review to the Central Budget Lay Committee. The committee, chaired by Stuart Opdahl, assistant superintendent for business, is comprised of the following community volunteers: Denise Francois, Raymond Manzo, John Mochringer, Laurie Flash, John R. Beutelman, Thomas Lupski, Robert DeFreitas, Maureen Traxler, Nancy DeSorbo, Nancy Callari, Alfred Gutenberg, Jeff Seigel, Mary Carton, and William Kelly.

Residents Meeting On Change Of Zone

Residents from the West Village Green area of Hicksville are holding a meeting on Thurs. March 11 to finalize plans regarding the proposed development of the property on the corner of Newbridge Rd. and Barter Lane.

The meeting, at Levittown Hall at 7:30 p.m., will be in preparation for a hearing before the Oyster Bay Town Board, requested by Herbil Holding Company, which is seeking a change of zone from 'D' residential to 'F' business to construct a retail building. The Town Board meeting is scheduled for March 23 at 7 p.m.

Car pooling to Town Hall will also be arranged at the March 11 meeting. Town Hall is located on Audrey Ave. in Oyster Bay.

Business Expo 1993

The Hicksville Chamber of Commerce has planned to hold its third annual Business Expo on Sat. March 6 at the Broadway Mall from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Last year's Expo was exciting and successful; it showed the community pride felt by those who do business in and around Hicksville.

Since booths are limited and booth locations will be assigned on a first-come, first-served basis, businesses are urged to act now. For additional information contact the Chamber of Commerce office at 931-7170, between noon and 2 p.m. from Monday to Thursday.

String Ensemble Performs For Historical Society

THE ANNUAL Mid-Winter Social Meeting of the Hicksville Historical Society had as welcomed guests the Middle School's String Ensemble. After a delightful musical interlude, the ensemble posed for a picture. The ensemble includes Edward Chu, Elissa Lie, Elias Lie, Paul Tanck, Mimi Park, Kevin Laville, John Park, Ian Rasmussen, Ryan O'Hara, and Nadia Berzins. The director is Peter Tarsoly (right).

Celebrating Twenty Years Of Kicks

Hicksville Americans has been synonymous with soccer over the past 20 years. From a humble beginning, Hicksville Americans Soccer Club proudly celebrates its 20th anniversary Feb. 28 with a reunion-reception.

The reunion-reception is being held on Sunday, Feb. 28 at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Heitz Place in Hicksville. Former players, coaches, and family members, from over the past 20 years, will be attending to reminisce and reunite with old friends.

Soccer had its beginning in Hicksville with the St. Ignatius CYO program founded by Tony Camara in the fall of 1966. Helping Camara teach this new game to Hicksville youths were Peter Collins and Pat McHugh. A few years later, Bill Cresham and Roger Fremgen joined ranks, as the soccer program grew rapidly.

In the early 1970s, the interest in soccer necessitated that a separate organization be formed to help administer the program and fulfill the needs of the youths. In 1973 the Hicksville Americans Soccer Club was formed from the St. Ignatius program.

The first president of the club was Roger Fremgen. He was assisted by Tony Camara, vice president; Bud Brill, treasurer; Tom Cusack, legal advisor; and Rosemarie Fregman, secretary. Serving on the board of directors were A. Murphy, Jack Fletcher, Ginny Smyth, and Bob Frieze. The officers and directors began the club with traveling teams in the Under 10 and Under 12 divisions and an intramural program to teach the less experienced players the basics.

Hicksville Americans secured its first championship in the same year as its founding. The Under 12 boys won the summer league that year, after many tough seasons learning the game. Coaching that team was Pat McHugh and Bill Cresham.

In the next couple of years the club continued to grow, increasing the number of intramural teams, adding age groups, expanding travel teams and the places to where they traveled.

In 1975, Tony and Ann Camara approached Hicksville Americans Club president Peter Collins for permission to start a girls soccer program. They successfully recruited Hicksville girls for the Americans and girls teams from other towns for competition. Barbara Maguire was the first girls commissioner.

Also under Collins, the first Hicksville International Tournament was held. The International Tournament required a lot of effort on behalf of many different people. Charlie Fraittini and Ken Rice chaired the first event and Phil Devlin further developed the event. John Mitchell was recruited to handle boarding arrangements for foreign players.

Other strides in the seventies were the introduction of an all-girl soccer tournament, the beginnings of a "squirrel" division for three, four, and five year olds, and an intramural skills contest.

Being the first extensive soccer program in the area, Hicksville Americas was

Unit Seeks Community Support

The Nassau County Auxiliary Police is holding its 42nd Annual Appeal For Support. The Hicksville Auxiliary Police Unit 312, has sent letters to residents and businesses, asking for contributions.

The Nassau County Auxiliary Police Unit 312 operates under the authority of the New York State Defense Emergency Act and the Nassau County Office of Civil Preparedness. It is an all volunteer non-profit organization.

Auxiliary Police Unit 312 completed 1992 with the addition of two new officers who graduated the Auxiliary Police Academy in December, bring the unit force to 16 members.

The unit was busy in December providing assistance to the Second and Eighth Precincts during the great Nor' Easter storm. Officers maintained various traffic posts, so Nassau County Police could respond to other emergencies.

Resident contributions provide for general operating expenses, such as maintenance of community patrol cars and equipment, and for modern communications, first aid, and emergency equipment.

The Nassau County Auxiliary Police Unit 312 provides patrols that help reduce vandalism of property and burglaries of homes and businesses in the community. They also perform some of the more routine duties of the Nassau County Police, such as traffic and crowd control. By assisting the police in this way, more police are relieved of time consuming details and are able to respond faster to emergency calls.

Check your mail for the appeal letter, Auxiliary Police are prohibited from soliciting door-to-door. If you have not received an appeal call 681-2027.

The Auxiliary Police Unit 312 is also conducting a recruitment drive. To be considered for a position as an auxiliary police officer, applicants must be between 17 and 65, have a clean record, pass a physical examination, and pass the Nassau County Auxiliary Police Academy training. Interested persons should call 681-2027.

Middle School Geography Bee Champion

Hicksville Middle School student Ian Rasmussen, an eighth grader, recently won the school championship of the National Geography Bee. The National Geographic Society sponsors the Geography Bee for students in the fourth through eighth-grades in more than 45,000 schools across the United States, the District of Columbia, and five United States territories, as well as the Department of Defense Dependent Schools around the world. The National Geographic Society has as its mission the increase and diffusion of geographic knowledge. The Geography Bee is intended to excite young people, motivating them to study geography.

Ian will advance to the next level of competition, a written examination. All school winners are eligible to win the national championship and its first prize, a $25,000 college scholarship. Second prize is a $15,000 scholarship, and third prize, a $10,000 scholarship.

The National finals will be held May 25 in Washington, D.C. Alex Trebek, host of Jeopardy, will moderate the National finals which will air as a prime time special on the Public Broadcasting System.

At the school level bee, students answered oral questions on geography. Ian survived a strong challenge from sixth-grader Elias Lie.

VFW Post Elects New Board Of Directors

BY PCC Carmine A. Somma

The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Wm M. Gouse Post 3211, held nominations and elections for its board of directors at its Jan. 11 meeting.

Newly elected board members Shelly Okin, Lester Lehle, Fred Palumbo, Henry Gongolewski, Anthony Ferrara, and Victor Ribando join current board members William Frohnhoefer, Conrad Steers, Carmine Somma, Joe Artale, and Joe Messana. New office positions include Chairman of the Board Shelly Okin, Vice Chairman Joe Artale, Treasurer Lester Lehle, Assistant Treasurer Joe Messana, Secretary Victor Ribando, and Trustees William Frohnhoefer and Anthony Ferrara.

The Post expressed its gratitude to outgoing members of the board of directors Pat Mercurio and George Walden. The services of Board Chairman Vincent Edwards will also be missed as he is also leaving the board. During his tenure in office, he accomplished a great deal, including interior remodeling and other necessary improvements over the past two years. A great deal of time and effort was put forth by Vinnie and the Post appreciates his accomplishments. Good luck, Vinnie.

The Gier-Levitt Post Jewish War Veterans will host the Annual Memorial Day Service and Parade. All veteran's groups, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, fraternal organizations, and clubs that would like to participate should contact Commander Herbert Gresser at 349-7985.

Nassau County has a transportation network for the elderly, sick, and indigent who are unable to get to Northport VA Medical Center for needed medical treatment. The county has a car, but they need volunteers for the transportation program. For more information call the Nassau County Health Department at 420-5200.

The Disabled Veterans also have a Volunteer Transportation Network to Northport. For more information call Mr. Raymond B. Desmond Sr. at 261-4400 ext. 7487.

Contest winners of the Voice of Democracy Contest will be honored on Friday, Feb. 19 at 7:30 p.m. at the Post. Formal invitations were mailed to the student's schools. The chairman of the Voice of Democracy Committee Sr. Commander Larry Colapietro would like to remind all the winners to attend so they can receive their medals, pins, monetary awards, and certificates (all based on their contest placement). The winners may invite their parents, grandparents, and immediate family to share their joy along with the many dignitaries who will be in attendance.

The 58th Anniversary Dinner Dance will take place on Feb. 20 from 8 p.m. to midnight. There will be hot food, music, and an open bar. Suggested donation is $22 per person. Commander Dennis Ladislav is chairing the event.

Pearl Harbor Survivors interested in joining the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association call Mike Montelione at 939-2754. Chaplin Mike Brown reports a speedy recovery to comrades and sisters and their families who have been hospitalized during the past month, including Tom Costa, Ladies Auxiliary President Esther Palladino, Laura Nunziato (wife of Vincent). Sincerest condolences go to the family of Ellen Goodman.

Next Post meeting is Feb. 22. Congratulations to the Post's newest member, Eugene Baldwin, US Navy WWII.

Congratulations to Geraldine and Fred Palumbo on their 49th wedding anniversary and to Anita and Lou Foster, who are celebrating their 51st wedding anniversary.

SCHOOL SHORTS

Free Immunization For Children Under Six

Hicksville Public School children six years old and under will be eligible to receive free immunizations through a grant from the Nassau County Medical Center.

Parents of children six years and under should contact Nassau County Medical Center, tel. 542-2177, Monday through Friday, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to make an appointment.

This valuable service will help protect your child from serious diseases: diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis, polio, measles, mumps and rubella. Children are required, by law, to be vaccinated or they will be unable to attend school.

Kindergarten Registration

Kindergarten registration will be held during the month of March at the Administration Building, Division Avenue, at 6th Street, for children who will be five years of age on or before Dec. 1, 1993.

Children who will attend the following schools in September may be registered from 9 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. during the weeks listed below (it is not necessary to bring the child):

Burns Avenue & Dutch Lane — Week of March 1; East Street & Fork Lane — Week of March 8; Lee Avenue & Old Country Road — Week of March 15; Woodland Avenue — Week of March 22

In order to register their child, parents must bring the child's original birth or baptismal certificate, proof of residency, and a certificate of immunization, signed/stamped by their physician.

Registration forms have been mailed to the parents of eligible children listed on the district census. If you have not received registration forms by mail, or if you have any questions, please contact Barbara Samide, registrar, at tel. 733-6653.

High School To Perform My Fair Lady

The Hicksville Repertory Company of Hicksville High School will present the delightful Lerner and Lowe musical My Fair Lady on March 19 and 20 in the high school auditorium.

My Fair Lady is the romantic story in which speech expert, Henry Higgins, teaches flower girl Eliza Doolittle to speak properly, and then fools English society by passing her off as a lady. This lighthearted romp includes such musical favorites as The Street Where You Live, I've Grown Accustomed to Her Face and Lovely.

Featured in the cast are students Domenick Freda, as Henry Higgins and Lauren Giacobino as Eliza Doolittle. Additional roles are played by Jennifer Corrado, Steven Gansrow, Thomas J. Keevins, and Dana D'Amelio. It is directed by Judith Paseltiner.

Tickets are $6 and may be purchased at the high school. No tickets are necessary for the free senior citizen's performance on Thursday, March 18, at 7 p.m. For information, please call 733-6533.

KIDS PLAY

Winter Means Fun In The Snow

Long Island has had more snow this February than during the rest of the winter. Since everyone is in the snow spirit, here is a winter poem written by Adam Rich of East Hills, a fifth grade student at the Harbor Hill School:

A Snowman Named Snow

There once was a snowman named Snow,
Who was melting terribly low.
The sky was blue,
And he was through,
He soon became H2O.

TO YOUR HEALTH

By RICHARD H. BLAU, M.D.

Gout is a Type of Arthritis

My patients are always surprised to learn that gout is a form of arthritis. Arthritis means joint inflammation, and one cause of inflammation is gout. This type of arthritis results from a build-up of body substances called uric acid. High blood levels of uric acid may not only affect the joints, but other organs in the body, including the kidneys. When uric acid levels become very high, they become deposited in the joints as crystals. These crystals produce the pain of a gouty attack.

Gout, commonly thought of as an aristocrat's disease, can affect anyone. Although men are affected more than women, an estimated one million Americans suffer from this disorder.

Attacks often begin at night, and may only affect one joint, such as the big toe. The involved joint usually turns red, becomes hot, swollen, and very painful. A common error is to take aspirin for the pain. Aspirin in small doses may actually make a gout attack worse.

Since there are over 100 forms of arthritis, a correct diagnosis is very important. Rheumatologists, arthritis experts, will usually remove fluid from the joint and examine it for gout crystals. Once the diagnosis has been confirmed, treatment can be started. Treatment for gout is very simple and effective. Unfortunately, many people with gout suffer unnecessary and painful attacks. Medications can often stop an attack within an hour, and will often prevent future attacks.

Wagner Hosts Death And Grief Seminar

Peppercorn's Restaurant was the location for a special clergy breakfast on Jan. 13 entitled "Complicated Mourning: An Understanding of a Growing Epidemic." The program was very well received. This important educational resource was made available by Vernon C. Wagner Funeral Homes of Hicksville and Plainview.

Nationally known clinical thanatologist, Dr. Alan D. Wolfelt, was presenter of the program. Dr. Wolfelt is the director of the Center for Loss and Life Transition in Fort Collins, CO, and is author of numerous publications on the subject of grief.

For more information on this and other workshops, write: Bill Wagner, Wagner Funeral Home, 125 Old Country Rd. Hicksville, NY 11801 or call 935-7100; or write Bridget Hingle, Center for Loss and Life Transition, 3735 Broken Bow Rd., Fort Collins, CO 80526 or call 303-226-6050.

New Location

Healthy Outlook For Jazzercise

Jazzercise, the complete health and fitness center of Hicksville, has fully adjusted to the move from its North Broadway location to its new location at 495 South Broadway in the Hicksville Terrace Shopping Center, and offers great incentives in the new year.

Jazzercise is an intensive aerobic workout. Plus, definitive muscle toning, too. In fact, Jazzercise is a safe, complete health and fitness program. But the best news is that it's loads of fun.

In addition, the benefits of a jazzercise lifestyle will slow aging, strengthen the heart, keep bones strong, lower blood pressure, elevate mood and self-confidence, fight diabetes and cancer, and keep you living longer. Now that's great health insurance.

One of Jazzercise's greatest attributes is its unique and identifiable routine choreography. Anywhere you go, from Australia to Japan, Hawaii to Vermont or Hicksville to Ronkonkoma the Jazzercise routine is the same.

This routine consistency has become a trademark of Jazzercise. Students have come to expect this consistency and welcome the familiarity our program brings when they travel from town to town, class to class.

And know, in addition to international Jazzercise aerobic muscle toning workout, you can enjoy the fun of our Jazzercise classes. Yes, we've incorporated the newness of "stepping" into our famous Jazzercise choreography. So it's easy to follow and never boring. Jazzercise is creative and fun, plus it's an energetic aerobic workout taught by professional instructors.

Also coming soon, the much talked about Jazzercise circuit training; incorporating the use of weights and bands to enhance your workout. For more information on any of these programs call 931-8222.

Selected To ACA

Dr. Christopher J. Perrone, of Gull Rd. in Hicksville, has been selected for membership in the American Chiropractic Association, a national organization representing the majority of licensed practitioners in the United States. The announcement was made by Dr. John C. Pammer, president of the ACA, headquartered in Arlington, VA.

As a member of the ACA, Dr. Perrone joins thousands of fellow doctors of chiropractic, all dedicated to improving America's health-care system and to increasing public awareness of spinal health and chiropractic.

Membership dues support major programs of chiropractic education and research, and provide materials for use in public educations and career guidance.

Dr. Perrone is a graduate of Life Chiropractic College, located in Marietta, GA.

New Business In Town

The opening of the new Mail Boxes Etc. postal center in Hicksville this month is guaranteed to reach a comfort level that will appeal to the needs of today's busy consumers: personal attention, first-rate service, easy access, and a vast array of services.

The new Mail Boxes Etc. facility will be at 19 Hanover Pl., in the Delco Shopping Plaza in Hicksville. Mail Boxes Etc. offers mailbox rentals with MailCheck call-in and package services, fax sending and receiving, metered mail, stamps, office supplies, and photocopying.

The new private postal center will offer area residents and business people the full range of packaging and shipping, business, and communications services that Mail Boxes Etc. is known for and that have made private postal centers so popular across the country. Mail Boxes Etc. uses a number of well-known carriers in addition to the US Postal Services. All Mail Boxes Etc. are UPS authorized shipping outlets.

Brownie Overnighter Teaches 5 Ps

Brownie Troop 3554 from Lee Avenue School in Hicksville had its first overnight this year.

Representing troop 3554 were Karissa Antonacci, Kaitlin Bruckner, Melissa Ezcurra, Carolyn Fitzgerald, Joanne Giordano, Jennifer Gorman, Elise Gramaglia, Emily Gramaglia, Jennifer Knudsen, Monica Leary, Chelsea Riccio, Erin Rogers, Alexis Sedoruk, and Ursula Simicic. The two troop leaders, Mrs. Joanne Giordano and Mrs. Carol Fitzgerald, and mothers Mrs. Joanne Gramaglia and Mrs. Diane Riccio were also along.

The troop stayed at a Girl Scout approved building nearby. Mrs. Donna Leary volunteered to be the emergency mother on standby while the girls enjoyed the overnight.

Overnights for Brownies (first through third grade) may be their first adventure away from home. It is a valuable learning experience in group living, planning, working, and playing with other children are some of the valuable skills that the girls learn.

Brownie Troop 3554 followed the five Ps of outings. They are Planning, Program, Progression, Permission, and Prevention.

Troop leaders do most of the planning for the Brownies when it comes to finding a place, financing the trip, menu preparation, buying food and supplies, determining what equipment is needed (troop and personal), and planning ways that troop overnight volunteer adults can help. At the troop meeting, any skills or instructions needed is explained to the Brownies. They receive some preparation about what to expect on a Girl Scout overnight.

Program includes cooking, dishwashing procedure, garbage disposal, games, songs, activities, etc. Sometimes the Brownies have a part in deciding what they would like to do.

Progression includes some of the Brownies first steps into the out of doors. These steps include progression in the distance from home, cooking, program capability, responsibility and progression in ability to live the Girl Scouts Promise and Law. The less dependable girl becomes more dependable. A probable selfish girl becomes more thoughtful of others. The shy girl becomes less shy and makes new friends.

The fourth P - Permission - reminds the girls that they need permission not only from their parents, but for use of the site. Girls ask permission from leaders and adults when necessary.

Finally there is Prevention. Sites are checked and approved by the Girl Scout organization. Boundaries and rules are set for the girls within their overnight site. They are shown where they can and cannot go. They are prepared by bringing proper clothing and the needed equipment. They practice emergency drills (three blasts of a whistle) for safety and carry a first aid kit with them. The buddy system is always used.

Brownies from Troop 3554 earned their Outdoor Adventurer TRY-IT patch by going on the overnight, playing a relay race called Dress-for-the-Weather, making a bracelet made out of square knots, and learning about safety and the use of a pocket knife.

Good manners for the out of doors was one of the basic skills learned on the overnight. As part of the Girl Scout Law, Girl Scouts are to use resources wisely and be friendly and considerate to others. They also are to leave a place cleaner than when they found it. How to dress for an overnight is another basic outdoor skill. Cooking for yourself and others is a third basic skill.

Recycle, Reduce, and Reuse is a motto used. Girl Scouts create less garbage by bringing their own dishes and utensils, and save water by not washing dishes under running water.

The girls from troop 3554 played as a troop several times during the night. They did the limbo with a stick we usually use for our banner in a parade. They played a group game taught to them earlier in the school year, by Junior Girl Scout Therese Fitzgerald. Saturday morning, after breakfast, it was Chinese Auction time. The troop had a Chinese Auction last year. They enjoyed it so much they wanted to do it again. Everyone brought things to give away. It is said, "One person's junk is another person's treasure." There were a lot of pleased faces when their names were called. When Mrs. Gramaglia won a pile of costume jewelry, her two daughters (who knew their mother would give it to them) ran up in delight to divide it between themselves.

We all had a lot of fun. One Brownie was very happy to find out that she still had another year to go since she was in second grade. She did not want to leave the Brownies so soon. Another Brownie was really prepared - she had her own mess kit. Mrs. Giordano received a big hug from a Brownie before everyone went to sleep. The Brownies enjoyed everything, from mixing and molding the meatballs for the spaghetti dinner, preparing the salad, setting the table, stirring their chocolate milk, making waffles for breakfast, cleaning up, washing and hanging the dishes to dry, rolling out the sleeping bags, having ice cream sundaes for dessert, singing, playing group games, making bracelets, having a relay race, sleeping on the floor, and just about everything.

Overnights are among the favorite things that Brownies do in Girl Scouts. The Brownies in Troop 3554 were absolutely wonderful on the overnight. Their leaders are immensely proud of them. They can't wait till the next time.

The Challenges Of HIV

In the next issue of the Economic Times of Long Island, the cover story addresses the impact of HIV/AIDS in the workplace. It's a subject that, despite ever-present red ribbons and diversified education programs, still causes fear and, as the business publication so terms, "Blurred Vision."

The mere mention of AIDS or HIV can cause some to step back. The thought of working with a person who has HIV/AIDS prompts a range of reactions, from pure sympathy to the demand for separate facilities. Emotions too often overpower common sense and can lead to unnecessarily clouded vision.

As the Economic Times points out, there are avenues available not only to those affected by the disease directly, but also those who must address employees—or employers—with the disease. The first step in addressing the situation is knowledge and more and more companies are offering educational programs to staffers so that the understanding is clear.

Statistics show that sooner or later, we will all have to deal with AIDS, whether it's in the workplace, in the classroom or in our own homes. Unless we know all we can about the disease, we will not be able to make sound judgments.

Keep yourself open to all the information that is available. If you're interested in how AIDS can impact you and your business, look at the Economic Times and other publications that have broached the issue. If you're interested in how your children are learning about the disease, request a copy of your school district's AIDS curriculum. If it's simply general information you're looking for, then consider attending the upcoming seminars sponsored by the Nassau County Chapter of the Red Cross (call 747-3500 for more details).

Miles and miles of red ribbons will do nothing to correct the vision and stop the plague if each and everyone of us doesn't make AIDS education our business.

A Letter from Lulubelle...

...The other night I dreamed that I was Art Buchwald and Erma Bombeck in one body. It was wonderful. Everything I said was scintillating! I could take the most mundane little household happening and turn it into something excruciatingly humorous. I made sage, witty, even pithy, pronouncements on the news of the day. I poked fun at the greats of the world so cleverly that even they had to laugh—the way they laugh at Doonesbury—through twisted lips. I commanded high prices on the lecture circuit and I never played to a house that had even one empty seat. My vocabulary was crammed with the right expression, succinct—in fact, the mot juste. When I was caught at the door with my hair in rags (that's new in case you thought it was old fashioned) and with an egg mask on my face, the meter reader knew that I was researching my next column. And when he noticed that my house had little piles of unread catalogues and brochures, he smiled softly and said, oh that Lulubelle, we all are so anxious to learn what she'll say in her next column about the too-near housekeeper...Can you picture it? Oh, to be Erma Bombeck and Art Buchwald rolled into one—I'd never have to explain again!!

Yours Lulubelle

Pathetic Strategy

Dave Staton publicly made a commitment to keep the taxpayers informed as to what expense the district must undertake to defend their decision to close the East Street School and the redistricting plan which they put into effect as a result of this closing. When asking if Mr. Staton had any plans to let the taxpayers know how much money the district will have to pay for other pending legal cases (costing our district millions of dollars to be paid by the same taxpayers) he said no, he has no such plans. Why then is Mr. Staton bent on just reporting dollars spent on the East Street petition? A petition which bears no monetary gain for the petitioner? One can only surmise it is because of his vote to close his "second best" choice of schools and to vote on and agree to a redistricting plan that does or does not do the following:

a. It does force approximately 16 children across Woodbury Road (all of whom do not receive a bus) the rest will be forced to attend a school across town.

b. It does not utilize all of our elementary buildings Burns will only be 66% utilized or a little over half utilized, Dutch will still be underutilized if not for the special ed program it houses. How's that for saving money for the taxpayers?

c. It leaves six classrooms in Lee Avenue with 26 and 27 students in each, but in Dutch Lane, in comparative classes, 16 and 17. A nine to ten student difference in all six classes. (Aren't we all paying the same taxes?)

d. It leaves the northeast part of Hicksville with only one school already filled to capacity.

e. It forces Lee Avenue students to be relocated in an unfair fashion—for example, one side of a street will attend one school, the other side of the street will attend another.

f. It will have students from East relocated to Woodland who live closer to Plainview Road and closer to Lee Avenue, and have East Street children living closer to Woodland (those who live near Woodbury Road) be relocated to Lee thus passing each other in different directions to go to their new "neighborhood school."

g. Will this redistricting plan leave us with full time librarians, art teachers, and music teachers in our buildings? Maybe for Lee, but I doubt it for the rest of the children.

h. It will not alleviate singleton classes in Dutch for any extended period of time (only 16 children were moved to Dutch from OCR). By the way, what about those 16 children who will leave a whole school of friends from OCR to go to Dutch by themselves just to temporarily alleviate singleton classes at Dutch?

i. And despite Helen Lafferty's plea at one Board of Ed meeting to protect the taxpayers from the threat of a petition and any legal fees involved: despite the fact Mrs. Lafferty asked and received guidance from the District's attorney who did suggest that the Board indeed redistrict in such a responsible fashion as to balance the minority populations in our elementary buildings at this time, Mr. Staton, along with Mr. Martin, Mr. Pfander, Mr. Black and yes, even Ms. Lafferty ignored all the professional advice given to them from many sources, on this important aspect of redistricting.

No wonder the decision to close East Street and the redistricting plan weighs so heavy on Mr. Staton's mind! Putting aside the fear of a different school building closing, people need to see this plan is not beneficial to all of our elementary children or the taxpayers. Mr. Staton claims that the East Street community would like their building to stay opened at the expense of another. Mr. Staton, any building that closes is at the expense of the other elementary buildings, that's how the board made it. The Board successfully pitted one community against the other and your latest letter to this paper continues this pathetic strategy.

Donna Martillo

Fischetti Resigns; Schmoller Appointed

Catherine Schmoller has been named managing editor of Long Island Community Newspapers (LICN) following the resignation of Nancy Fischetti, announced James Koutsis, publisher and chief executive officer.

Fischetti, who has served as managing editor of the chain for more than two years, is leaving the company to pursue other professional opportunities. During her five-year career with LICN, Fischetti served as editor of the chain's Massapequa, Levittown, Syosset, Jericho and Plainview-Old Bethpage editions.

Schmoller was named managing editor of LICN's Suffolk group of newspapers in November 1991. She started at the Record in 1985 as news and features editor. She has held various editorial posts, including editor of the Port Jefferson Record and The Record in Huntington.

Carol Paquette, editor of The Record South, is being promoted to editor of the three Record newspapers in Brookhaven and Islip: the Port Jefferson Record and the North Shore Record as well as the Record South.

Long Island Community Newspapers is part of Anton Publications, publisher of 24 weekly newspapers, the Economic Times of Long Island, the Nassau and Suffolk Lawyers, the Queens Bar Bulletin and the CSEA Voice.

The seminar is open to high school juniors and seniors. Participants will explore the options for a career in law and meet attorneys practicing in various fields of law. Interested parents and educators are welcome to attend.

The seminar will be held from 7-9 p.m. at the Nassau County Bar Association, 15th and West Streets, Mineola, NY 11501.

Refreshments will be served. For reservations, call 747-4464.

Heart Education Series

The Long Island Heart Council announced that the St. Francis Hospital free education series for heart patients, family members and friends—Helpful Hints for a Healthy Heart—is scheduled to begin Monday March 8.

The program will be held from 7-8 p.m. at the DeMatteis Center for Cardiac Research and Education on Route 25A in Old Brookville.

The first topic to be addressed is "Plan for a Healthy Heart" and will be presented by Chris Tekverk, RN.

For information about the upcoming weekly topics and speakers, call Sue Pelo, RN, program coordinator at 629-2042.

Endometriosis Support

The Endometriosis Resource Center and Support Group at North Shore University Hospital at Glen Cove will hold a meeting March 4 with Rabbi Marc Gelman and Msgr. Thomas Hartmann as guest speakers who will discuss "Endometriosis, A Chronic Illness: Patience, Perseverance and Faith."

Members are encouraged to bring guests to hear these speakers, who have been well-received by the group in past years. This session will be held in the hospital's Pratt Auditorium.

The Endometriosis Resource Center, which is associated with the Greater New York Endometriosis Association, meets monthly from 6-8 p.m. It provides members with a supportive atmosphere and a variety of educational programs at no charge.

Family and friends of persons with endometriosis are encouraged to attend. Pre-registration is required. A reservation can be made by calling the hospital at 676-5000, ext. 2241.

Free HIV Program

The Nassau County Chapter of American Red Cross is inviting the public to a free educational presentation on HIV/AIDS. It will include a screening of the award-winning video "Reasons to Care: The Many Faces of HIV," followed by a discussion of HIV/AIDS.

The discussion will include what HIV/AIDS is, how it can be transmitted, prevention and risk reduction practices. A question and answer period will follow. The goal of the program is to prevent the spread of HIV infection and to help the community respond in reasonable ways.

The program will be held at the Red Cross offices at 268 Old Country Road Feb. 25 from 7-8:30 p.m.

The same program will be held at the same address March 31 from 7-8:30 p.m. and again at 264 Old Country Road on the lower level April 26 from 7-8:30 p.m.

The program is free but donations are welcome. Space is limited. Anyone interested must respond to the Red Cross' Health Services Department by calling 747-3500.

Eating Disorders

"Food and Folks: Codependent Compulsions," a full day conference for eating disorder treatment professionals, will be held March 11 at South Oaks in Amityville.

Judi Hollis, Ph.D., a nationally known eating disorders treatment specialist and author of the book Fat is a Family Affair, will present the conference which will focus on new treatment techniques, the importance of family issues and the role of codependency in the development of a food addiction.

The fee for this conference is $30 which includes lunch. Seating is limited and advanced registration is required. Call 264-4000, ext. 2336 for more information.

Kurt Masur To Conduct

KURT MASUR, music director of the New York Philharmonic, will conduct at a February 27 concert featuring pianist Cecile Ousset at the Tilles Center. Tickets are available at the box office. Call 626-3100.

The New York Philharmonic conducted by music director Kurt Masur appears with pianist Cecile Ousset at Tilles Center on Saturday, Feb. 27 at 8 p.m. The program of works by Saint-Saens and Schubert is highlighted by a premiere performance of Symphony No. 3 by Ellen Taaffe Zwilich, a work commissioned by the New York Philharmonic to commemorate its 1992 150th anniversary.

In addition to Symphony No. 3, the New York Philharmonic performs Saint-Saens' Piano Concerto No. 2 and Schubert's Symphony No. 9.

Founded in 1842, the New York Philharmonic performs 200 concerts each year, most of them at Lincoln Center's Avery Fisher Hall. The Philharmonic, which has performed in 348 cities in 50 countries, had its first United States tour in 1882 and its first European tour in 1920. The New York Philharmonic has a unique collaborative association with Tilles Center, having performed the Center's inaugural concert in 1981 and having appeared in each consecutive Tilles Center season.

Masur, famed as music director of Leipzig's Gewandhaus Orchestra, became music director of the Philharmonic in September, 1991. In his first season with the Philharmonic, Masur conducted 60 concerts. A native of Silesia, he studied at the Music College of Leipzig and made his United States debut with the Cleveland Orchestra in 1974. That same year he led the Gewandhaus in its first tour of this country. Masur, with the Philharmonic, records exclusively on the Teldec label.

Following wins at several of the world's important piano competitions, French-born Cecile Ousset has established an active, successful international concert career, appearing on all five continents. She is a frequent guest artist with major British and French Orchestras. Ousset's television appearances include a BBC-TV profile on her filmed in London and France. Her 1984 United States debut was with the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

Instrumentalist, teacher and composer Ellen Taaffe Zwilich was the first woman to be awarded a doctorate in composition from the Juilliard School. She also made history in 1983 when she became the first woman to win the Pulitzer Prize in music for her composition, Symphony No. 1. Zwilich has received commissions from four of this country's major orchestras: New York, Chicago, Boston and Cleveland. Writing in The New York Times Magazine, music critic Tim Page referred to Zwilich's "exquisitely honed works" that are "always recognizably hers."

The New York Philharmonic's February 27 concert is sponsored by the Pall Corporation of Glen Cove under Tilles Center's Partners in Excellence Program.

For information, call the Tilles Center box office at (516) 626-3100. The box office is open for in-person ticket purchases Tuesday-Saturday, 2-6 p.m.

A Funny Thing Happened

A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum will be at Plaza Playhouse in Old Bethpage through March 20. The production is directed and choreographed by Fran Harmon. Shows are at 8:30 p.m. on Fridays and Saturdays and 3 p.m. Sundays. The show is a hilarious, zany romp through ancient Rome with deliciously unsavory characters, like a roughish slave, a young master, a beautiful girl and a shrewish wife. All are drawn into the mounting confusion as this side-splitting musical comedy unfolds. Ticket prices are $16 on Fridays, $18 on Saturdays and $15 on Sunday matinees. There is a senior citizen discount of $1.00 on Sundays only. Tickets may be purchased over the phone or in person at the box office between noon and 6 p.m. Tuesdays through Sundays. For more information, call 694-3330.

For more information call Maureen Groves at 822-4930, Madeline Michell at 938-4075, Ann Habersaat at 334-2929, or Peter Collins at 935-0386. Seating is limited to 200 people, so reserve early.

Seniorobics

Men and women over 55 may once again enroll for Seniorobics classes beginning at 10 a.m. on Thursday, Feb. 18, at the Hicksville Public Library. The hour-long classes, led by Ellen Coven, will meet at 2:30 p.m., Thursdays, from Feb. 25 through April 15. Class size is limited to 25. Participants must wear sneakers and have had a physical examination within the last six months. There is a registration fee of $10.

Ave Maria Chapel

The following information was provided by Ave Maria Chapel's 25th-anniversary committee.

Pope John Paul II, by his apostolic letter of July 2, 1988, ordered the return of the traditional Latin Mass "to guarantee respect for the rightful aspirations and feelings, and preserve the spiritual and liturgical traditions of all those Catholic faithful who feel attached to the Latin tradition."

The traditional Latin Roman Catholic Mass is what the Ave Maria Chapel in Westbury has been doing for 25 years.

The date was Sunday, April 14, 1968. Easter Sunday. Some 2,000 people had squeezed into New York City's Hotel New Yorker's largest ballroom, while other hundreds on the sidewalks were being turned away by friendly police and firemen.

And who could blame the lucky ones inside for forgetting that the ballroom had been converted into a temporary church, when they heard of Father Gommara A. DePauw's electrifying announcement that before the end of the summer the Catholic Traditionalist Movement would open its own church on Long Island. At least were the loyal Roman Catholics of metropolitan New York were concerned, the time of the CTM's founder's program of "Have portable altar, will travel" would be over.

And so it was that on June 23, 1968, the third Sunday after Pentecost, a dilapidated former Ukrainian Orthodox church appeared on the scene as a completely renovated and highly attractive little Roman Catholic house of worship, the only one in the world at that time where the traditional Latin Roman Catholic Mass would henceforth be publicly kept alive. Placed under the protection of God's Mother, it would be known as the CTM's headquarters Ave Maria Chapel.

And here it is, 25 years later, 1993. Its chapel, downstairs chapel extension, its other five buildings and its grounds are all in excellent condition, and both regular members and visitors continue to be provided all year round with the best heating, air conditioning, sound and closed circuit television systems available on the market. And all this, while keeping both the Catholic Traditionalist Movement and the Ave Maria Chapel's financial record intact, so as to make it possible for CTM to answer visitors who say how beautiful and well organized things are at Ave Maria: "Beautiful, indeed, and all paid for, besides."

But more important than anything material or financial are the spiritual accomplishments this little chapel has produced. The invisible ones are known only to God and to the persons who experienced them through the true Sacrifice of the Mass, the true sacraments and the true Roman Catholic instructions.

The visible spiritual accomplishments are there, of course, for all to see: The preservation not only of the unchanged traditional Latin Mass, broadcast over radio worldwide each Sunday (in metropolitan New York at 5 a.m. on WEVD, 1050 on the AM dial), but of every other tradition of the Roman Catholic Church as well: Observance of Sunday, and Sunday only, as the Lord's Day; observance of Fridays, Ember days, vigils and fast days, and every holy day and feast day of the traditional calendar; Gregorian chant High Masses and Benedictions; Christmas Midnight Mass, Candlemas, St. Blaise's blessing, Ash Wednesday, Lenten devotions and Stations of the Cross, Palm Sunday Procession and Holy Week services, First Friday and First Saturday Mass and devotions, May procession and Crowning of the Blessed Virgin Mary with scapular dedication of the children, Forty Hours Devotion, Corpus Christi procession, each and every spiritual need of the Roman Catholic faithful abundantly fulfilled "from cradle to grave."

With both young and old having received so many spiritual benefits from this "oasis of Catholic Faith," the church's members thank Almighty God and His Blessed Mother for the privilege of being part of the Catholic Traditionalist Movement's Ave Maria Chapel and all it symbolizes, and ask His continued blessings on our movement and our chapel's future endeavors.

And to Father Gommara A. DePauw, recent golden jubilarian in the priesthood (blessed on that occasion by Pope John Paul II and hailed by Presidents Reagan and Bush), whom God selected to do His work for us, our loyal gratitude and prayerful "Ad multos annos!"

Giuseppe's

Hometown Boy Makes Good

Do you feel like eating homemade Italian food in a tight-knit community on Post Avenue where a trip to Little Italy would prove unnecessary?

Head to Giuseppe's where longtime locals will find owner Giuseppe Iannucci still making dough for pizzas and whipping up tomato sauces, like he did when he was a young boy of 16 at the same establishment.

Giuseppe has come a long way for himself. Having immigrated to Westbury in his teens with his mother, Giuseppe preferred washing dishes, making pizzas... anything to earn money. Despite earning his high school degree over the course of many years through the help of tutors, "school was not my favorite pastime," Giuseppe admits.

Giuseppe's teachers would nod in approval now if they saw the kind of business success Giuseppe has become. Having bought and expanded the once-small pizzeria at 134 Post Ave., Giuseppe also opened the Union Fish Market five years ago, also in Westbury, a small retail business that is run primarily by his mother.

"I'm the prime example for every kid who might immigrate here to America," says Giuseppe. "I proved that it's possible to succeed despite obstacles."

Maintaining the successful pizza take-out business that it had grown to become, Giuseppe's has expanded to include a separate dining room, complete with stained-glass fixtures, captain's chairs, oil paintings on the walls and pretty pink tablecloths where families can feel comfortable having a casual, laid-back dinner.

An extensive menu gives a wide assortment of pasta dishes, beginning at $4.75, complete with salad, or a choice of 20 entrees including veal, chicken, eggplant and sausage dishes. Prices, including servings with spaghetti or linguine, range from $7.25 to $12.95.

Adding to the list are a variety of seafood and special combination dishes, as well as hot and cold heroes to suit everyone's tastes. Portions are plentiful, and the price is right at Giuseppe's. It's worth the trip with the whole family when you're in the neighborhood or passing through, and you want the most for your money.

You'll find no fancy wine lists at this restaurant, nor the dining ambience conducive to intimate talk. Instead, beer and wine are the only alcoholic beverages sold.

Giuseppe's claim to fame is that he introduced the first "hippy rolls" that he invented in 1975, consisting of sausage, ellers at work in their modern, glass-enclosed workshop. Bring in your old jewelry for fashionable restyling and remounting—right before your eyes. The Workshop can provide same-day watch and jewelry repair service on most items. You'll be made to feel welcome by unhurried personal attention from their courteous and competent staff. Diamonds are serviced while you wait.

The Workshop also has a wide election of fine jewelry for men and women on the premises, says Friedman, a director of the Westbury Chamber of Commerce and chairman of the Westbury Business Improvement District committee.

The workshop is open Tuesday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Packaging Plus

The name says it all. Packaging Plus, at 81 Westbury Ave. in Carle Place, is more than a location for those who need supplies for sending of materials.

The company also operates a full moving service and can transport furniture, small items, pictures and paintings. The company also has a van service. A complete business center, Packaging Plus also operates desk space and an answering service.

In the company's core business, owner Sol Ripstein offers packaging, wrapping, shipping, fax services, copying, fulfillment, UPS service, post office boxes, all office services, greeting cards, boxes, packaging peanuts and bubble wrap, office space and services. Free home pickup is also available. Packaging Plus also delivers to colleges.

Even though there is a strong business orientation at Packaging Plus, it always provides that hometown feeling. Service is always friendly and with a smile; there are free homebaked cookies, and the sounds of the golden oldies are always playing in the background.

Packaging Plus is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Saturday from noon to 4 p.m. For more information, call 747-3777.

Parillo's Shoes

Tradition is more than a word at Parillo's Shoes, Inc., located at 234 Post Ave.

The store, founded by Louis Parillo in 1920, has been at the same location since 1926. The store has always prided itself on providing shoes for the whole family, as well as service and fit.

The store features national brands. For children, the brands include Buster Brown, Keds and L.A. Gear. The brands for women include Naturalizer, Keds and L.A. Gear, while the options for men include Dexter, Nunn-Bush, L.A. Gear, Keds and Carolina Work Shoes. There are also slippers by Dear-Foams and Daniel Green, and moccasins by Minnetonka for men, women and children.

Prescription shoes for children by Markell are fitted on doctor's orders. The store also sells shoe polish and shoelaces.

The store's regular hours are Mondays through Thursdays from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Fridays from 9 to 8 and Saturdays from 9 to 5:30. Summer hours are Monday through Friday from 9 to 6, and Saturday from 9 to 5:30. For more information, call 333-0872.

Ristorante Venere

For 13 years, South Westbury's Ristorante Venere has been pleasing customers with their special brand of Italian cuisine.

Hosts Angelo Graziozi and Antonio Cervaiso, feature a full Italian menu with veal, pasta, fish and pizza. The price range for lunch entrees ranges from $3.75 to $17.95, and for dinner, $2 to $8 for appetizers, $6 to $19.50 for entrees, $9 to $12 for pasta and $6 to $10.95 for pastas.

Mondays and Tuesdays from 4:30 to 8 p.m., the restaurant features a hot buffet. Richard Scholers of The New York Times cited "unexpected quality at the buffet table...one of the best buffets on Long Island."

$9.95 per person entitles one to all one can eat. The full menu is also available. Items featured in the buffet include veal and peppers, stuffed shells, mussels Provencale, chicken scappiello and more.

Recommended dishes include cold antipasto, Caesar salad for two, homemade bread, pasta with garlic and oil, clam sauce, carbonara, chicken scapariello, chicken alla Venere, veal sorrentino, veal chops, homemade cheese and cannoli.

Venere received a rating of "very good" by Janet Starkey of The New York Times in her 1991 review, mentioning the restaurant's "touches of affordable luxury" and "uptown touches, downtown prices."

Ristorante Venere, located at 841 Carman Ave., is open Monday through Thursday from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m., Friday and Saturday from 11:30 to 10:30, and Sunday from 4 to 10. For more information, call 333-2332.

Van Cleef Realty

Van Cleef Realty is one of those businesses synonymous with Westbury. The establishment, located at 321 Post Ave. for over 35 years, sells residential real estate throughout Westbury, Carle Place, New Cassel, Hicksville, East Meadow and Bethpage.

Licensed real-estate broker and agent Sybil Condulis has been in real estate more than 20 years and knows the area. The entire staff lives in the community and knows it, and can answer all questions customers have. They give solid service, are courteous and take pride in selling their customers' homes. They can help with marketing homes as well as mortgaging needs.

Hours are by appointment; call Sybil Condulis at 333-6555.

Vito's Prime Meats

Carle Place and Westbury

The word PRIME in the name is not just another word at Vito's Prime Meats, located at 530 Westbury Ave. in Carle Place.

The meat is prime, the poultry is fresh and the veal is American. The best part is you are buying fresh meat cut daily and not packaged and kept for as long as 45 days, like you find in a supermarket.

Vito is concerned that some products contain chemicals and preservatives; that's why Vito carries Pennfield all-natural chickens.

Vito has specialized in quality and service since 1964—a record to be proud of and one that will continue. Customers are the store's most important asset. COome in and see.

Vito's Prime Meats is open Monday through Saturday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. For more information, call 997-6626.

Williamson Paint

Attention, home painting enthusiasts: If you need it, Williamson Paint has it.

The Post Avenue standby, more than 40 years old, specializes in Benjamin Moore and Sapolin paints. It has more than 700 wallpaper books from all manufacturers, and window treatments like Levolor, Bali and Graber blinds at up to 60 percent off. Mini blinds also carry a 60-percent-off discount.

The services—provided by Don, Bill and Al in the paint department and Marion in the decorating department—include a color matching computer to link up with any hue in the world; and a design computer that allows customers to paint the inside or outside of a house on a TV screen before they buy the paint.

Bill, Don and Al have four decades of paint experience and can help customers with any paint-failure problem.

Marion is a qualified decorator and with the help of her computers can solve customers' home decorating problems.

Carpeting is approximately $4 a yard less than the major showrooms on the Island.

In business for more than 40 years at the same location, Williamson Paint is located at the southeast corner of Post and Maple Avenues.

American Vision Centers

Located at 147 Old Country Rd. in Carle Place's Country Glen Center, American Vision Centers' local outlet was rated the outstanding franchise location for the company in 1991 and 1992. A look at the services they provide explains their success.

Open seven days a week, American Vision provides glasses in an hour in most cases, a compartmentalized lab with all work done on the premises, and the largest selection of frames and contact lenses in the mid-Nassau area.

American Vision Centers guarantees to meet or beat any competing price, always with the highest level of professionalism. Residents are invited to come in and greet the store's friendly staff.

The Carle Place franchise is part of the only individually owned network of eyeglass franchises in the country, and the third largest optical network in the country. American Vision was rated in National Franchise magazine as the eighth best run franchise in business, compared to Burger King, McDonald's and Pudge's. The owner is on the premises at all times.

For more information, call 741-6334.

On The Avenue

Carle Place's newest gathering place is On The Avenue, 470 Westbury Ave. The restaurant's cuisine is Italian American, featuring seafood, steaks, chops and pasta. The restaurant features a 15-percent discount weekday evenings from 4 to 6.

The restaurant, located just west of Cherry Lane in the heart of Carle Place, has a dance floor and a separate, enclosed atrium lounge. Entertainment will be featured on weekends.

James Pineau, the former owner of the Brass Monkey on Old Country Road and former chef at Wickers restaurant down the road in Hicksville, is the chef at the new restaurant. Chris and Terence Walsh are the owners, and the interior design—described by Chris in a recent report as "upscale cafe style, sort of Manhattan-ish"—was done by his sister, Ellen.

For more information about On The Avenue, call 338-7273.

C.J. Maples

Great food at great prices is the watchword of C.J. Maples, which will soon celebrate its first year at 242 Maple Ave. in Westbury.

Maples features nightly dinner specials in a turn-of-the-century atmosphere. All the specials are complete dinners that include appetizer, salad, dessert and coffee—for only $9.95.

Tuesdays feature a dozen shrimp, either stuffed with crab meat or scampi style. Wednesday brings one-and-a-quarter-pound stuffed lobster. Thursday features surf and turf, and Friday and Saturday feature prime rib.

C.J. Maples' lunch buffet, offered Tuesday through Friday, features eight hot dishes with a fruit and salad bar and dessert for just $5.95.

The perfect ending to any weekend is C.J. Maples' Sunday brunch buffet—25 favorite lunch and brunch items, including bottomless shrimp and salad bar with endless dessert, pastry and fruit table. It costs only $11.95, including unlimited bloody marys, mimosas and champagne.

Maples has live entertainment in the tap room Wednesday through Saturday. Mac McKay performs on Wednesdays, while Kenny Hendricks performs on Thursdays.

For reservations, call C.J. Maples at 334-7922.

Murder in the Senate, William S. Cohen and Thomas B. Allen, Doubleday, 306 pp., $20.

This is the third mystery novel written by United States Senator William S. Cohen and it is a dandy. The reader doesn't have long to wait for the first murder. By page 18, Senator Julia Bristow has been found dead in her hideaway office under the Senate office building and the book is off at a breakneck pace.

Senator's protagonist is Jeffrey Fitzgerald, the chief of the Capitol Police, and he is one of the few who regards the murder just as a murder and not as it impinges on the Senate's politics. His own political education begins when he discovers that he most not only try to find the killer but protect his investigation from being controlled by three powerful forces: the ambitious Senate majority leader whose presidential aspirations may be riding on an upcoming vote, the FBI, possibly acting at the direction of the President and the corrupt mayor of Washington D.C. who has placed the District's police force at odds with Fitzgerald's.

The reader gets a behind-the scene look at the workings of our Federal government as well as a well-plotted, very well-written mystery. Senator Cohen co-wrote Murder in the Senate with Thomas B. Allen, a former senior book editor for the National Geographic Society.

The Venerable Bead, Richard Condon, St. Martin's Press, 294 pp., $21.95.

Richard Condon, author of more than 20 novels, is one of the funniest satirical novelists writing today and this is surely one of his funniest novels. It is the story of Leila Aluja, an American woman of Iraqi descent and a lawyer. Beginning in the 1970s, Leila joins the government in its top counter-espionage unit. A fabulously beautiful woman, she becomes a film star under the name of Meine Edelfrau. Her mission is to track down a ring of Sino-Albanian spies operating out of Hollywood's biggest talent agency but Leila is undone by love and she marries Josef Shqitonja, head of the ring.

Josef is called back to Albania and Leila goes on to become a partner in one of Washington's biggest lawfirms, representing both the national gun lobby and C.A.N.C.E.R. (Center for American National Cigarette Education and Research. Leila moves on from law to public relations. Eventually she finds herself sailing on the first leg of a world cruise aboard the ocean liner "Eros." Little does Leila know that aboard the ship are all the people who have reason to hate her and who have plans to terminate her existence.

This is a romp of the first order and should make a hilarious movie.

A Lonely Leaf

ALL RIGHT, so it hasn't been the worst winter on record. But, it hasn't been the best either as snow just seems to keep on falling. Many of us are ready for the trees to start budding and for spring to start springing. From the looks of this leaf, we're not the only ones ready for the next season.

Lunch Companion

A woman shares her lunch with a friendly resident at the Bronx Botanical Garden. According to the photographer, Mary Friscia of Huntington Station, this woman eats lunch and communes with the animals almost every day.

If you have a photograph of an animal you'd like to share, send it to People Partners, 135 Liberty Avenue, Mineola, New York, 11501.

Black and white or good quality color photos are welcome. Photographs cannot be returned.

With the cold weather, snow and ice this month, pet owners should be reminded not to leave their pets outside for too long, and to watch for sharp ice and salt, which can cut or irritate pets' paws, and for anti-freeze puddles, which can be deadly if ingested.

Did You Ever Wonder...

This week, many of us got to sleep in Monday (and some even last Friday) thanks to a commemoration of the births of our most esteemed presidents—George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

George Washington, our first president, is remembered for a number of things: crossing the Delaware, his white hair, that cherry tree.

But, what we seem to hear most about, especially traveling around the east coast, is where President Washington slept.

It's a peculiar phenomenon, but it apparently is a big deal to post a sign outside your establishment that George Washington slept, ate or visited at one time or another. But, all this interest in Washington's comings and goings has also prompted some imposters and serious historians have taken great care to prove the charges.

We cannot tell a lie. George Washington did visit here, here being Long Island and it's proven.

He ate breakfast at the home of the Onderdoncks, one of the North Shore's premier families.

The house still stands today, almost 203 years after George stopped in, and, in fact, has been serving meals to many others. It is now called, aptly, the George Washington Manor.

According to the history, Hendrick Onderdonck lived in the house at the corner of what is today Main Street and Old Northern Boulevard in Roslyn from 1752 to about 1801. On April 24, 1790, the President passed through the village, then known as "Hempstead Harbor," on a tour of Long Island during his first term as president.

Washington had slept in Oyster Bay, at the Young residence, the night before and wrote in his journal that he left that community before 7 a.m., passing through Musquetto Cove, as the city of Glen Cove was then known.

"The land passed over today is generally very good," Washington said in his writings.

In all, Washington travelled 42 miles that day, arriving at his Manhattan home, he related, by sundown.

Washington didn't limit his exploration of Long Island to the north shore.

The first president also travelled, very discreetly at the time, to the south shore.

According to historians, Washington was in the area to meet with top secret personnel during the Revolutionary War. Seems Long Island was a strategic location and spies living on the Island were reporting back to the main command any activities of the British in the region.

Washington's visit was to talk to the espionage personnel and to thank them for their important efforts on behalf of the new country.

(Note: These accounts provide only a thumbnail sketch of Long Island's history. We recommend visits to the area's many museums for more information.)

Family Style Dining At La Viola

Unforgettable Italian At North Shore's Rising Star

If you've eaten out lately, you may have noticed a trend toward small, but artistic portions. That's fine if you dine out to please your eyes, but if dining out to you means enjoying palate-pleasing food, then make your next reservation at La Viola.

Located at 41 Jackson Avenue in Syosset, La Viola is family-style Italian dining in friendly, casual elegance. The storefront restaurant boasts a rich decor, complete with healthy flowering plants and stunning marble.

Of course, it is the cuisine that is most impressive, as you'll readily admit as soon as you begin to sample the offerings from La Viola's kitchen.

Giancarlo Costa, formerly of La Golletta in Port Washington, and Lino Viola, from La Viola of Cedarhurst, combine their talents to become one of the best teams on Long Island. In just a short time, La Viola of Syosset has established itself as one of the North Shore's rising stars.

The thing to keep in mind at La Viola is that everything is meant to be shared. The menu points out that the offerings--appetizers, pastas, main courses--are prepared to serve two people. Come to La Viola hungry, because the portions are platter-sized and even with the help of another, you'll find it difficult to clear your plate. You'll find it equally difficult to resist the temptation not to, thanks to the delicious offerings.

Here's a "Cuisine Connection" tip: visit La Viola with friends and family. The more people who share in the experience, the more dishes you can experience.

Now onto the menu:
The appetizers are an appealing array of seafood dishes. Choose from roasted red peppers and anchovies, Caesar salad, seafood salad, fried calamari and baked clams. Each is a treat in itself.

The pastas are beyond description (but, we'll try anyway). Linguine and spaghetti in garlic and oil is prepared to perfection as is the rigatoni alla vodka and linguine in white clam sauce.

As for the main course, there's plenty to choose from and all of it's good. Veal piccata and veal with eggplant, jumbo shrimp marinara, contadina chicken and chicken scarpicello top the list. However, the specials are always imaginative and make visiting La Viola regularly a good idea.

Believe it or not, there's also dessert. As believers in "saving room," we strongly recommend the dessert sampler for a moderate $13. All your favorites--chocolate cake, cheesecakes, tarts and assorted fruits--are in there. Complimentary sweet wine is served with dessert.

La Viola is open Tuesday through Sunday and offers a 10 percent discount for early birds (5-6, Tuesday through Saturday and 4-5 Sunday). The wine list is extensive, with imported and domestic offerings. Call 364-8383 for information.

INFINITI OF MASSAPEQUA

Decisions, Decisions.

The singular opportunity for special value on the quality and luxury of one great automobile certainly calls for a decision. But the choice of two can pose quite a dilemma.

Consider the 1993 Infiniti Q45. Full size luxury combined with its legendary 278 horsepower, 32 valve V8 performance. Or you might choose a 1993 Infiniti J30, the ultimate achievement in a personal luxury car.

Either way - there is the luxury of the Infiniti Total Ownership Experience - Free Service Loaner*, 24 Hour Roadside Assistance and 4 year/60,000 mile warranty.

But as these are limited time leasing opportunities - it's best not to ponder your choice for too much longer.

St. Ignatius CYO Registration

St. Ignatius CYO will be holding a registration day on Feb. 21 at the St. Ignatius Old School cafeteria from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Registration is for baseball, softball, basketball and cheerleading.

Travel teams are also included. Fees are $50 first child or $75 for a family. In addition, each player is given a raffle book worth $10. Tryouts for travel teams will also be held, no additional fee required for travel teams. A late registration will be held on March 7.

St. Ignatius is also pleased to bring Connie Mack into the Hicksville area. Connie Mack is open to all boys, 16 to 19 years old. Tryouts will be held. Any youth interested in playing should contact Gary Lewis, president, at 681-6947 or Audrey Andrews, coordinator at 933-0887.

1993 Registration

Hicksville Baseball Association

Boys and girls, ages six to 15 years of age, interested in playing baseball or softball can register with the Hicksville Baseball Association.

Registration will take place at the Hicksville Public Library on Thursday, Feb. 18 from 6 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

The cost is $65 for the first child and $75 per family. A $20 uniform deposit is required at time of registration by check (made out to HBA) dated July, 1, 1993. The check will be returned at the end of the season when uniforms are returned.

Registration for the Hicksville Baseball Association Babe Ruth Traveling Team will also take place on the above dates. The fee is $75 per player.

The Babe Ruth League is divided into the following divisions: A division, 16-18-year-olds; B division, 16-17-year-olds; C division, 13-15-year-olds; and D division, 13-year-olds. Teams are by tryouts only. Tryout dates will be announced in the future.

For further information contact: Carol Baglieri, player representative, at 681-6144; Jerry Manna, boys president, at 681-1095; or Greg Simonelli, girls president, at 735-6594. HBA has been serving the youth of Hicksville for 41 years.

Hicksville Hockey Skates Into Playoffs

The Hicksville Ice Hockey Club will meet Massapequa in the Town of Oyster Bay High School Hockey League playoffs on Feb. 22 at Bethpage Community Park, at 4 p.m. Second and third round games are scheduled for Feb. 23 and Feb. 25, if necessary.

POLICE REPORT

Burglary Arrest

Det. John Wohltmann of the second squad reports the details of an arrest for Burglary Third Degree in Hicksville at 3:10 p.m. on Feb. 5.

A 24 year old Hicksville male was arrested on North Broadway near the LIRR station, and charged with Burglary Third Degree in connection with a burglary of Tri County Pool Company on Dec. 12 at 11 p.m. The charged allegedly smashed through the front door and removed cash and a camera from the Duffy Ave. business.

He was arraigned in first district court on Feb. 6.

Arrest For Attempted Grand Larceny

At about 4:30 p.m. on Feb. 8, second precinct Police Officer Michael Perna was on patrol in a town parking lot on Duffy Ave. when he heard a noise in the vicinity of a parked 1990 Ford. When he approached the car to investigate, he saw two male subjects fleeing on foot. The officer saw that the vehicle had been broken into and broadcast a notification over his radio.

Police Officer Michael Salvemini, also of the second precinct, was on Old Country Rd. when he observed a male matching the description given in the notification. When the subject saw the officer he again began to flee on foot. After a short foot chase the officer apprehended the subject.

The subject, of Huntington Station, was charged with Attempted Grand Larceny Third Degree, Criminal Mischief Second Degree Possession of Burglars Tools, and Resisting Arrest.

He was arraigned in First District Court on Feb. 9. The second squad is continuing the investigation.

Burglaries

Paradise Pizza, 170 Broadway, was burglarized on Feb. 3 at approximately 1:20 a.m. Entrance was gained by breaking a rear door and side window. Reported missing was US currency.

A Woodbury Rd. residence was broken into on Feb. 7 at 3:50 a.m. Entrance was gained through a window. Damage was reported to a lamp and music box.

Auto Theft

A 1984 Buick Sentry was stolen on Feb. 5, while parked on South Oyster Bay Rd.

A 1986 Buick Regal was stolen on Feb. 7, while parked at a Barter La. residence.

OBITUARY

Reverend Monsignor Reinhardt, 78

Family and friends mourned the loss of Monsignor Marion Justin Reinhardt last week at services held at St. Ignatius Loyola Church, he was 78.

Monsignor Reinhardt, celebrated 50 years in the priesthood in June of 1991. Growing up in Hicksville, the Monsignor attended St. Ignatius Loyola School, where he celebrated his first Mass in 1941. For many years the Monsignor kept residence in Hicksville, until 1984 when he moved to North Bellerose.

The Monsignor was born on Carl St. in Hicksville to Elizabeth (Lauck) and August Reinhardt. For many years the family and then the Monsignor made 163 West Marie Street home. The Monsignor's father was a builder of homes in Hicksville, and the family was prominent in the business community. The Monsignor's nephews still run a couple of local restaurants. The Monsignor went to Cathedral High School in Brooklyn from 1929 to 1933 and then went to Cathedral College. The Monsignor received his baccalaureate degree in theology in 1939, his doctorate in Canon Law in 1949 and was awarded the degree of doctor of civil law in 1963 from St. John's University, where he taught from then until 1990.

For 20 years during the same period, he was presiding judge for the Marriage Tribunal of the Diocese of Brooklyn, while also admitted to practice law before the courts of New York and the US Supreme Court.

He served as assistant chancellor and then as pro-chancellor of the Brooklyn Diocese, two of the highest posts in the church administration, for 12 years, beginning in 1949.

The bidding:
North East South West
1♦ Pass 1♦ Pass
2♦ Pass 2NT Pass
3NT
Opening lead — six of hearts.

East is now at the crossroads of the hand. If he mechanically plays a third heart, declarer romps home with ten tricks. South wins, takes the losing diamond finesse, and that is the end of the trail.

But if East pauses to take stock after trick two, he realizes that a heart continuation is futile. He can tell from the play to the first two tricks that West has the king and South the ace, and he can also tell from the bidding and what he holds in his own hand that South probably has all ten — certainly no less than nine — of the high-card points that are missing. West therefore cannot have an entry card for his hearts if they become established.

East's best move is to shift to a low spade at trick three, hoping to find his partner with the jack or the ten. It is true that in the actual deal South can make the contract by playing the jack on the low spade return, but unless he is blessed with X-ray eyes he is far more likely to let the spade run around to dummy's nine.

From declarer's viewpoint, East is more apt to have K-10-x-x or Q-10-x-x of spades than K-Q-x-x, so the odds favor his playing low on the spade shift. If he does, West wins with the ten, returns a spade, and South goes down one.

Good defense is generally a logical process. There are nearly always sturdy clues to guide the defenders to their most promising method of attack.

Consider this deal where West leads the heart six against three notrump, East winning with the jack. East continues with the queen, on which South plays the ten and West the deuce.

ber of the Boston Red Sox baseball organization, began his business career with Citicorp and is looking forward to his latest venture. In exploring the franchise opportunity at Mail Boxes Etc., Judson said he was impressed with the company's reputation for strong service and customer support.

Judson plans to continue that legacy as he establishes the newest franchise in Hicksville. Judson says he enjoys the one-on-one relationships with people and is looking to cultivate and build good business relationships with the customer base. The Hicksville postal center will be a family affair, Yvonne Judson, Ron's wife, will serve as owner/manager of the Mail Boxes Etc. facility.

The new center will operate from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday. For more information call 939-2660.

able to continue to grow and add new programs for many years. Many youths from surrounding communities would play with the Hicksville Americans Clubs.

"Hicksville Americans have had its share of success at both the regional and national level," said Peter Collins. Hicksville American teams have won National Championships and have sent players to colleges and even the professional levels. The high school teams have also benefited from the wealth of experienced soccer players in Hicksville.

Current Hicksville Americans Soccer

teams continue to be competitive, although as the number of youths in the Hicksville area has declined, so has membership. The quality of its programs continues to be high, and the league is currently conducting a membership drive for the new season.

The club hopes to make the reunion dinner a yearly event, giving members of all ages a chance to gather with friends off the field.

Team Tryouts For Hicksville Athletics

The Hicksville Athletics will be holding team tryouts for the 1993 baseball season at Burns Avenue Elementary School gym from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Feb. 25, Feb. 26, March 4, and March 5.

This year the Athletics are forming two teams. Bill Sullivan and Terry Quinn will coach the 13-14-year-old team. Tryouts are for 11- to 14-year-olds (the child must not be 15 prior to Aug. 31, 1993).

While they play quality baseball during the entire season, a player does not have to be an all-star to try out. He must have the desire to play ball and have a willingness to learn. The teams have planned to attend clinics this year, one of which will be given by the baseball coaches at Dowling College.

The Athletics are part of a new and growing baseball concept in which other towns have recruited their best players, formed teams, and entered a league; in effect playing quality baseball all season. They have established a firm reputation in both Nassau and Suffolk Counties within the National Junior Baseball League.

Last year the Athletics tied for first place as an 11-year-old team, in a 12-year-old division. The Athletics plan on doing just as well this year and will place a greater emphasis on tournament play at the end of the season.

For more information call George Kessler at 433-9071 or Ken Englehardt at 938-5711 for the 11-12-year-olds, or Bill Sullivan at 766-2112 or Terry Quinn at 935-2514 for the 13-14-year-olds.

Hicksville American Soccer Registration

Registration for Hicksville American Soccer Club is going on now. Registration for Squirts (4-7-year-olds), Pee Wees (8-9 year-olds), Bantams (10-14 year-olds), and Travel Teams can be accomplished through the mail.

Membership includes a uniform, trophy at end of season, a skills clinic, and nine weeks of games. Fees are $50 for the first child and $40 for second child. Registration should include child's full name, age, address, and age division. Indicate either small, medium, or large for shorts and shirt size. Registrations can be mailed to: Hicksville American Soccer Club, PO Box 114, Hicksville, NY 11802.

Volunteers are also needed for coaching, fundraising, newsletters, tournaments, committee work, and newspaper writing.

Runners Invited To Aspire 10K

Runner and walkers from Hicksville are cordially invited to participate in the 16th Annual Plainview Long Island Championship 10 Kilometer "Run For Aspire" to be held on the roads of Plainview-Old Bethpage on Saturday morning, April 10. The event is being sponsored by the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club in conjunction with Nationwide Insurance (the Kramberg Agency), the Plainview real estate management firm RGE Inc. and the Town of Oyster Bay.

The Run will begin and finish at H.B. Mattlin Middle School, located on Washington Ave. in Plainview. The starting gun will go off promptly at 9 a.m. on the morning of April 10. There will also be a special 1/2 mile Fun Run for youngsters age 12 and under starting at 8:10 a.m. and a 10-K Racewalk starting at 9:05 a.m.

Hicksville runners and walkers have always been a major factor in the Plainview 10K Run. In the 1992 edition of the Run, Hicksville speedster Don DiDonato was second overall, a scant two seconds behind overall winner Marco Russo, and Hicksville's Ellen Gluf was second woman overall and took top honors in the 25 to 29 age group.

Among the unique features of the Plainview Run are a special post-race drawing for lots of valuable merchandise prizes, with all entrants eligible to win. Also, top quality multi-colored long sleeve T-shirts will be presented to everyone entering the 10-K Run, and special commemorative gifts will go to everyone entering either the 10-K Run or the Fun Run. A free babysitting service will be available during the Run.

There will be special "Clydesdale" divisions for male runners weighing 185 lbs. and over and female runners weighing 140 lbs. and over.

The entire net proceeds of the Run will be donated to ASPIRE, the special program established in conjunction with Memorial Sloan Kettering and The Hospital for Special Surgery to provide prosthesis, intensive physical therapy and rehabilitation for young amputees who are victims of sarcoma (bone cancer) and traumatic amputations. In addition to enjoying a top quality running and racing experience, every runner will have the satisfaction of knowing that his or her entry fee will help promote the physical and emotional fitness of a bunch of youngsters who have suffered the tragedy of amputation.

The Plainview course was professionally laid out by David Katz of Finish Line Promotions, assisted by members of the Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club.

It provides a dramatic combination of demanding hills and level straightaways through some of the most scenic roads in central Long Island—including a mile-and-a-half stretch along Round Swamp Road, past the Old Bethpage Village Restoration.

Time splits will be given at each mile marker and police traffic control will be provided throughout the Run. There will be water stations at the 1-mile mark, at the halfway point, and at 5 miles. The Run is TAC sanctioned and the course has received formal TAC certifications. The Plainview Run started modestly in 1978 with only 125 runners. The number of runners has grown gradually, finally breaking the 650 mark in 1985, the 850 mark in 1986 and 900 in 1989. All indications are that 1993 will be the year that more than 1000 runners participate.

The 1992 Run for ASPIRE was won by Marco Russo of Old Brookville by a scant two seconds over Don Di Donato of Hicksville, while Alissa Henning of Manhattan took first place among the women. Other previous winners include Gerry O'Hara of New Hyde Park, who won the 1991 event, Chris Webber of Sayville, Paul Rustin of New Rochelle, Pat Petersen of Ronkonkoma, Norm Ogilvie of Babylon, two-time champion Kevin Boyle of Wantagh, Mike Timmons of Babylon, Rick Jackofsky of Rocky Point, Bob Giambalvo of Bayville, Don DiDonato of Hicksville, Tom Childers of Westbury and Steve Lubar of Port Washington. Petersen set the course record of 30:27 in winning the 1988 Run, and Angela Hearn of New York City holds the course record of 34:55 for the women, set in 1989.

Run sponsors are hopeful that most of the previous winners will be back this year and anticipate that many other top runners from all over the New York metropolitan area will be on hand to challenge them.

The Plainview Run continues to be generous with trophy awards this year. The top male and female finishers overall will be presented with the ASPIRE Cup. Awards will also be presented to the top five male and top five female finishers in each of thirteen age categories. Special trophies will be awarded to the top male and female wheel-chair athletes, the top "Clydesdale" runners, the top male and female racewalkers, and to each member of the top three male and female open and corporate team. Special recognition will also go to the top finishers among the many amputees who participate.

The entry fee is $10 for those who register in advance and $12 for those who register on the day of the Run. The fee for the Fun Run is $4 pre-registered and $5 day-of-race. For entry forms or for more information, call Plainview-Old Bethpage Road Runners Club President Mike Polansky at 433-0919.

CYO Bounces Into BB Playoffs

3rd/4th Grade Playoffs

Syracuse 51, Virginia 36. Matt Luyster pumped in 12 first half points to propel Syracuse to a 28-18 halftime advantage. Brian Hebron's shooting helped close the gap to 28-26 midway through the third quarter. Scott Bryan's 14 points and Mark Zajkowski's six points provided the second half spark that opened up a 49-30 insurmountable lead for Syracuse. For the game, Scott Bryan finished with 20 points and four assists.

For Virginia, Brian Hebron tossed in 16 points to go along with some nifty passing. Andy Visconti and Stephen Clark contributed six points each and played some hard-nosed defense. Special mention to Syracuse's "Kings of Glass" Brendan Siminic, Vinnie Carroll, and Jimmy Montanna who combined for 27 rebounds.

Fordham 38, Duke 25. Number one seed Fordham survived a close game, up by only two baskets at halftime. Their well balanced offense, led by Danny Rogers with 16 points, Steven Hernandez with 12 points, and Jonathan Young with eight points, sealed the victory. Jonathan Maier and Brendan Donohue played great defensively.

For Duke, Chris Barbino had nine points, Matt Anglin had six points, Jamie Callari and Steve Alvarez each had four points.

Finals

Fordham 26, Syracuse 21. In an exciting, well-played game, Fordham held on to win against a tough Syracuse team. Leading the way was Danny Rogers with 13 points and five assists. Steven Hernandez had 10 points and three blocked shots, Jonathan Maier had two points and 12 rebounds, and Jonathan Young tossed in one free throw and dominated the boards with 12 rebounds. Also contributing defensively were Jared Troise, Mike Fries, Ray Socha, Brendan Donohue, and Mike Albinski.

For Syracuse, Scott Bryan scored 10 points and Matt Luyster had seven. Brendan Siminic and Vinnie Carroll each scored two points. Mark Zajkowski, Eric Smith, Tony Fumagalli, Marco Bruzzi, Stephen Pelle, and Jimmy Montanna should be proud of their overall great play culminating a successful year for all the boys involved in the third and fourth grade league.

All-Star Game.

An entertaining game was played on Wednesday night, Feb. 3. The all-stars from Fordham and Duke teamed up to compete against all-stars from Syracuse and Virginia. Defense was thrown to the wind as the high scorers were allowed to showcase their abilities. Steven Hernandez pumped in 24 points, Scott Bryan scored 23, Danny Rogers added 18. Tom Riccio came up with 8 points, Brian Hebron had six, Matt Luyster and Andrew Visconti each added five points. Congratulations to all the boys who earned a spot on the all-star roster: Tom Foran, Chris Barbino, Steven Alvarez, Jimmy Montanna, Mark Zajkowski, Frank Pesale, Stephen Clark, Jonathan Maier, and Jonathan Young.

Trophy night will be held on Friday, April 16 at St. Ignatius.
